Barry Kennedy, president of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce, was in the meeting room at First National Bank in Wayne Friday morning to speak with local business people during the weekly Chamber Coffee. He said things in Nebraska are getting better, noting Wayne's recent record monthly sales tax receipts as an example.

State Chamber president says things looking up here

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The president of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce said business is better in Nebraska than in other parts of the country. At Friday's Chamber Coffee, Barry Kennedy quoted a story in last week's edition of The Wayne Herald that showed sales tax receipts at an all-time high in Wayne. He said there are signs of similar progress in the state that make things a lot better here than in other parts of the country.

"It's good to be from Nebraska when you compare it to what's going on in California, Michigan, New Jersey or South Carolina," he said. "But we do have some issues, and we have some things to work on."

Kennedy said Wayne's record sales tax revenues from a month ago are a sign that things are starting to turn around, but that's not necessarily translating into more jobs.

"There are some pretty positive attitudes out there, people feeling they're going to have a good year, and I wish I could tell you that's translating into new hires," he said. "But we're not seeing that yet. People are very skeptical about what their costs are going to be if they add employees."

Chief among the concerns are the added health care costs and potential energy costs if cap and trade legislation is passed through Congress.

"People are having a good year, but it's not translating into new hires, but I think that will come."

In Nebraska, the state doesn't compare well with neighboring states when it comes to business tax rates. However, when added to the cost of doing business, Nebraska not only compares favorably in the midwest, but nationally as well.

"Sometimes you get the wrong impression," he said. "Iowa is the only state in the region that has a higher marginal tax rate on individuals and business, but when you look at the cost of doing business — cost of land, wages, unemployment costs — Nebraska is in the top 10 of the nation."

Kennedy said the next session of the Nebraska Legislature will be an important one, and the state's budget woes will be the driving issue throughout the 2011 session.

"The budget will be all-consuming," he said. "State revenues have been pretty flat and even under projections, and you have health care costs increasing, education costs and prison costs continuing to rise, so the budget is going to be the dominating issue."

Kennedy joked about the condition of Highway 15 south of Wayne, adding that the Department of Roads will be limited in what it can do.

"Right now, the Department of Roads probably has the budget to do maintenance only, and they don't have anything beyond that for new construction," he said.

Wayne man ticketed after truck clips school bus

A Wayne truck driver was ticketed Friday after a minor accident with a school bus in southwest Iowa.

According to the Montgomery County Sheriff's Office, Randy John Bird, 55, was driving a 2007 International tractor-trailer south on Highway 71 when he struck a Villisca Community School District bus. The report said the driver's side mirror of Bird's vehicle clipped the right rear corner of the bus, which had 15 children on it at the time of the accident.

The accident occurred while the bus had stopped to pick up a student. No injuries were reported.

Bird, who did not stop at the scene of the accident, was stopped later that day at a rest area south of Sioux City. He was cited for unlawful passing of a stopped school bus and unsafe passing.

New administrator gets comfortable at Careage

Careage Management, LLC, owner of Careage of Wayne, has announced the hiring of Pam Albin as the Administrator of the Wayne facility.

Albin began her duties effective Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Albin comes to Careage with many years of experience in the long-term care profession as a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA), Business Office Manager and most recently, as an Administrator.

Prior to coming to Careage, Albin was the Administrator of the Golden Living Nursing facility in O'Neill. She and her husband, Shawn, live in Plainview with their three children.

Dan Myers, President of Careage Management, LLC, said of the hiring of Albin, "In the six months of operating the Wayne facility, we have made significant progress on many fronts. With Pam now on board, we can really focus on enhancing the care and services provided to the residents even more. We are excited to have someone with Pam's background. Because she is a CNA, she knows all about care giv-

Council approves 2010-11 FY budget

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne City Council approved its budget Tuesday evening, but not before one of its members expressed concern about employee wages.

Doug Sturm said he was troubled by the fact the city was not giving raises to its employees. He wanted the board to consider a 1-2 percent raise in employee salaries for the 2010-11 fiscal year, which would add about $42,000 to the city's budget request for the coming term.

"There comes a point where we cut too much," he told the council. "Our employees have been loyal to us, and we are pretty lucky."

Councilman Kaki Ley said it wasn't an easy decision for the council to make, but said many in the private sector aren't getting raises at the present time. She felt the budget — which requires a tax levy of 45.22 cents per $1,000 of valuation, down from last year's asking of 45.45 cents — should stay as it is for 2010-11.

"We're the only entity that is trimming the fat," she said. "I don't think there's anything wrong with setting an example in these tough times. It's not an easy decision, but I don't think our employees are going to go away."

Sturm said he is worried the city will begin losing some of its better employees.

"If we continue to cut employees and not give raises, we'll get in a position where these people will find other jobs and we'll be in trouble having to re-hire people," he said.

Mayor Lois Shelton said she shared Sturm's concerns about retaining its employees.

"I agree that we need to look at this," she said. "I think we're at the bottom (for lowering the levy) and we need to give serious consideration to raising the levy next year to give (employee) raises."

Sturm said that the council should instruct city administrator Lowell Johnson to reject any future requests for money from outside organizations.

"If we can't give our employees a raise, why should we give $2,000 for fireworks?" he asked. "We might as well tell Mr. Johnson that if an organization comes in asking for

County board '10-'11 budget set at $10.2M

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners will maintain the current status of two positions on its staff, rather than go through with proposed cuts for the 2010-11 budget year.

In approving its budget request of $10,259,457.83, the board decided to hold off on making cuts in positions for veteran services and noxious weed superintendent. The board was considering cutting the hours of the veteran services position and reducing the weed superintendent position from full time to half time, with those cuts taking effect in November.

The board discussed the potential changes with Schuttler during the meeting, and board members said they would consider putting Schuttler to work in other areas during the winter months to keep him on as a full-time employee of the county.

"With maintenance, there should always be something for him to do," board member Dean Burbach said. "I'm sure he'd be willing to work maintenance at the courthouse and help out with snow removal."

Habitat for Humanity continues to make progress on new home

Wayne Area Habitat for Humanity met in August and continued organizing efforts for this summer's project. Work on the new Habitat home in the Western Ridge Subdivision has seen much progress over the summer, thanks to all who volunteered their time and efforts. The group has welcomed the help from local church groups as well as Wayne State College team members. Work will continue with the siding of the structure and interior work in September and more volunteers will be needed to help throughout the fall. Work begins as 9 a.m. each Saturday and help is also most appreciated on weekday afternoons. The Habitat for Humanity group meets the third Thursday of each month at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne at 7 p.m. Those interested in supporting the on-going efforts at this site are encouraged to contact Ann Witkowski at (402) 375-4509. Volunteers may also contact John Witkowski at (402) 518-0650 or Gary French at (402) 375-2736. Those interested may find more information on this group's website at WayneAreaHabitat.org and the organization is on Facebook as well.

Ladies Night Out planned in Wakefield

Ladies Night Out, sponsored by the Wakefield American Legion Auxiliary, will be Wednesday, Sept. 15 at the Wakefield Legion Hall starting at 5 p.m. A lunch consisting of a chicken salad croissant, Asian salad and cream puffs will be served. An opportunity to shop a variety of vendors will be offered until 8 p.m. Door prizes, given by the vendors, will be awarded every half hour. A special informative nail care program will be at 7 p.m. by Andrea Salmon. A $7 donation at the door entitles guests to the meal, door prize opportunities, vendor shopping and nail care tips as well as supports the Wakefield American Legion Auxiliary's programs and projects. Early ticket sales are available at the Little Red Hen theatre, The Gardner Foundation or at the door that evening.

Groundwater Guardian Green Sites in Wayne

Our water in Wayne is groundwater pumped from city wells. The Nebraska Groundwater Association is formed to protect the quality of that groundwater for us and for future generations. Groundwater is recharged from rainwater that soaks in and percolates down through the soil. If excessive amounts of chemicals, fertilizers, fuel or manure are applied or spilled on the ground, the rainwater will carry them down below the root zone of lawns, pas-

Fall harvest weather outlook looks favorable

Standing water this summer has caused problems for corn in the south central and southeast regions of Nebraska, but good conditions in the state's northeastern region may compensate for those other regions, according to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln state climatologist.

Al Dutcher, state climatologist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, said recent dry conditions are helping the western area.

"The corn crop is much more advanced this year than it was last year at this time," Dutcher said.

Dutcher said the crop was so far behind last year it got caught by freezing temperatures in October, followed by a wet period that slowed down harvest activities. Producers still were trying to harvest in December, but some couldn't finish until spring.

Despite water issues this summer, the south central and southeast Nebraska corn crop is close to maturity. Dutcher said a good portion of the crop should be mature the first half of September, and he wouldn't be shocked if producers begin to harvest corn around that time.

"Overall, we have much better conditions this year than last year in regard to harvest weather," Dutcher said. "The only areas of concern are the northern, central Panhandle and northern Sandhills, which were cool during the month of May, but they should get the corn to maturity if a widespread freeze doesn't occur before the average mean freeze date, which is between the Oct. 7-10."

Dutcher said a strong La Nina event is coming, possibly one of the strongest in the past 50 years. In recent events, he said it was a fairly decent harvest period with above normal temps and dryer conditions with intermediate periods of above normal precipitation. He said high pressure would sit and hold for seven to 10 days at a time, giving farmers a long enough stretch to use Mother Nature for natural drying, something Nebraska producers like to do.

This year should not be a problem, he said, for producers who want to use Mother Nature to dry the corn. It looks like there will be above normal precipitation periods, but Dutcher said it doesn't look like there will be long stretches of muddy field conditions.

"A rapid harvest, even with a lot of rainfall, should be here this fall," Dutcher said. "Nothing points to an extended wet pattern."

A bigger concern is water flow for the areas adjacent to the Platte River, upstream of Lake McConaughy. In those adjacent areas, Dutcher said the stream flow is three to four times higher than normal.

The Lake McConaughy reservoir is already at 89.7 percent of its capacity and federal mandates say the reservoir must stay under 90 percent of its total capacity by Oct. 1 through March to minimize damage on the dam. Dutcher said any water coming into the McConaughy reservoir will need to be released.

This should not affect the coming harvest, he said, since there is not a lot of agricultural land within the flood plain. So the concern for the fall is what the Bureau of Reclamation in Wyoming does with Wyoming reservoirs in anticipation of the winter season.

"Decisions need to be made on how to move water around," Dutcher said.

He said water eventually will need to be released downstream to make room for next spring's snow melt. Dutcher said higher flows into McConaughy are very likely for the spring because lower irrigation demand this year has kept the major Wyoming reservoirs exceptionally high for this time of the year. Even with a below normal snow year, he said, there may not be enough storage space in the upstream reservoirs to handle all of the runoff.

"If mountain snows are above normal this winter, I expect stream flow rates entering McConaughy to once again exceed 3 to 4 times normal rates next spring, with above normal flows also likely downstream of McConaughy," Dutcher said.

He said downstream flooding risk will be determined by precipitation during the April through May period. The Platte can handle higher than normal releases from McConaughy as long as runoff from precipitation is not excessive, according to Dutcher. Once spring planted crops and grass begin rapid growth in early June, he said, the flooding risk decreases rapidly as a greater percentage of rainfall goes into the soil instead of running off.

New business

Kelby Herman, owner of Progressive Property Inspections, explained the services offered by his businesses. He explained the financial benefits of having a home inspected and the energy that can be saved with changes after the inspections. Herman hosted last week's Chamber Coffee at First National Bank.

New play toys

The city of Wayne recently installed several new pieces of playground equipment at East Park, near Hank Overin Field. Earlier this year several members of the Leadership Wayne class indicated that assisting with the project would fit into their goals from the class. They assisted with the installing of the Rock Wall and bongo pads. These are designed for children ages five and older. A piece of playground equipment for younger children was also installed on the western edge of the park. Additional equipment will be placed in the park in the future.

Wayne State College rises in U.S. News and World Report College Rankings

Wayne State welcomes the latest U.S. News and World Report college rankings, which ranked the college 88th among Midwest universities. The college was ranked 92nd in last year's edition. Wayne State also is ranked 33rd among the public colleges in this year's report.

"These things don't happen by themselves," said Curt Frye, interim president of Wayne State. "It's a combination of hard work and a commitment to providing a quality education at one of the most affordable prices in the region. We have seen a steady climb in the U.S. News report during the past 10 years and we expect to continue to rise. We know rankings don't define us, but we are heartened to receive recognition for our devotion to keeping classes small, alumni engaged and students on track to finish their degrees."

A look at the numbers used to calculate the rankings reveals several areas of excellence at the college. Of the 142 universities in the college's 12-state region, only 18 had a higher rate of alumni giving rate (16 percent of WSC alumni give). The Wayne State Foundation continues to reach our graduates and engender a sense of appreciation for the outstanding education they received at the college. That gratitude often translates into gifts that further the mission of the college. The foundation plays a pivotal role in ensuring that students have access to the resources they need to afford college.

The college's graduation rate and freshmen retention rate (49 percent and 69 percent respectively) were on par with schools ranked much higher than Wayne State. The college takes great pride in noting these retention/graduation rates given that Wayne State has a 100 percent acceptance rate versus a rate that plunges as low as 41 percent among the universities with higher ranking.

Students frequently put class size at the top of their reasons for college choice. The report noted that 42 percent of Wayne State's classes have less than 20 students, compared to 45 percent for Creighton University, which was ranked first overall among Midwestern universities.

Of the 142 colleges and universities in the Midwest rankings, only 41 joined Wayne State with having one percent or less of classes of more than 50 students.

"The new crop of students, our enthusiastic returning students and continued recognition of the college's efforts to provide a quality, affordable education have Wayne State off to a great start during the college's Centennial celebration," Frye said.

Awaiting the spirits

Steve Gross, left, and Lou Wiltse visit the graves of several of Wiltse's relatives in preparation for the fourth Spirit Walk, scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 12 at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. The walk begins at 2 p.m. and runs until 4. This year's "spirits" include those who immigrated to this area from Europe. The majority of the spirits will be portrayed by ancestors of those who came to this country in the 1800's. For more information, contact Steve Gross at (402) 375-4245 or Lou Wiltse at (402) 375-1555.

LifeServe Blood center issues urgent call for donors

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank, a subsidiary of LifeServe Blood Center, is issuing an urgent call to donors with types O Negative and B Negative blood to donate as soon as possible.

"We have seen a marked decrease in donations during the past couple of weeks," said Heather Marree, Director of Recruitment at LifeServe Blood Center. "We typically keep a five day supply of all blood types in our inventory, but a steady decline in donations has left us with less than a two day supply for some blood types. We are appealing to individuals with type O Negative and B Negative blood in particular to step forward at this time to make a life-saving blood donation."

Donors are encouraged to schedule a blood donation appointment as soon as possible at a donor center or mobile blood drive location. To schedule an appointment, call 1-800-798-4208 or visit www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank joined operations with The Blood Center of Iowa in April, 2010 to become LifeServe Blood Center.

As one of the 15th largest blood centers in the country, LifeServe Blood Center provides blood and blood products to more than 90 hospitals located across Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. LifeServe is committed to providing premier service to volunteer blood donors and access to a safe, quality blood supply for hospitals and patients. Eligible blood donors must be at least 16 years old, should weigh at least 110 pounds and should be in general good health. For more information about blood donation or to schedule an appointment to donate blood, call 1-800-798-4208 or visit www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

Local drives through the month of September include:

Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 15-16 at Wayne State College Student Center in Wayne from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Thursday, Sept. 23 at the Wayne Fire Department, 510 Tomar Drive in Wayne from 8:30 am - 3 p.m.

Library to host book signing

Wayne Public Library is hosting a book signing with local author Rachelle McCalla on Tuesday, Sept. 14, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the library, the same day the book is released.

"Out on a Limb" is the third book in McCalla's Survival Instinct series.

Published by Steeple Hill, Out on a Limb tells the story of Elise McAlister and Henry "Cutch" McCutcheon as they face danger and the chance of love renewed. Copies of the book will be available at the signing. For more information, contact the library at 375-3135.

Wayne sophomore class begins sales of butter braids

This year's Wayne High School Sophomore Class is off and running. The class will sell Butter Braid items, frozen pastry dough, to make money for later activities including their junior prom and colored pictures in their senior yearbook. The pastries come in a variety of flavors including cherry, apple, cinnamon, etc., and they will also sell caramel rolls.

Sales began on Tuesday, Sept. 7 and conclude on Tuesday, Sept. 21. The Butter Braids will be delivered on Oct. 6.

The sophomores are led by the following officers: President Hannah Gamble; Vice President Martha Mitiku; Student Council Representative Ramsey Jorgensen; Homecoming Decorations Manager Kennedy Stowater; Secretary Megan Hoffart; and Treasurer Rachel Waddington.

Their sponsor is Mrs. Sylvia Ruhl.

Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton (left) and Joel Hansen, inspector/planner/street superintendent for the City of Wayne, display the plaques presented to the city by the Nebraska Groundwater Foundation designating Bressler Park and the sports complex as Groundwater Green Sites.

Two Wayne parks designated with groundwater citations

Bressler Park and the Summer Sports Complex, both located in Wayne, were recently named 2010 Groundwater Guardian Green Sites by The Groundwater Foundation in recognition of their groundwater and environmental stewardship. They earned this exclusive designation based on its current practices related to water use, pesticide and fertilizer management, and pollution prevention.

Groundwater Guardian Green Sites are essentially places with a lot of green space — like golf courses; ball fields; educational campuses; and residential, recreational, and office parks — that implement groundwater and surface water-friendly practices to maintain the site.

Bressler Park and the Summer Sports Complex are both used for community activities within the city of Wayne. Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton said, "We are pleased that two of our City facilities have been approved for this Green Site designation by The Groundwater Foundation. Protecting groundwater is one of the most important things we can do for the future and there are many factors that impact that process. The City will continue to improve our environmental practices and work with The Groundwater Foundation to educate our residents on the importance of these practices."

Potential sites are encouraged to get involved in the Groundwater Guardian Green Site program by downloading the 2010 program application at www.groundwater.org/gg/greensites.html.

Armed Services Day taking place at Wayne State Sept. 11

The Wayne State athletic department will hold Armed Services Appreciation Day on Saturday, Sept. 11, in conjunction with the Wildcats' football home opener against Minnesota Crookston.

The 1 p.m. game at Bob Cunningham Field in Wayne, is a perfect opportunity to recognize current and past military personnel for their service to our country.

The 189th Transportation Company from Wayne and Norfolk, including approximately 150 service men and women, will attend the game. There will also be veterans from the Norfolk Veterans Home attending the game, five of which are Wayne State College alumni. Members of the 189th will also present the colors for the national anthem before the game, have a representative for the coin toss and display an Army vehicle in the stadium for fans.

Other special features planned for the game include the spelling of U.S. in new chair-back bleacher seats in the center section of Cunningham Field in honor of our U.S. military personnel, and the stadium will be decorated with 75-100 United States flags thanks to the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

For ticket information on the game, call the Wayne State athletic department at (402) 375-7520.

— are dealing with health issues, and the board decided to wait until both had a chance to deal with their situations before making the changes.

"After hearing both sides, I feel we need to wait until (Marlin) has surgery," board member Kelvin Wurdeman said. "With him and Wayne, we're kind of in the same boat. I don't know if he'll be able to do the job (after surgery), but I don't want to put the county in a predicament."

The board added a penny to its tax asking for the coming fiscal year, raising the rate from 33.8236 cents to 35.7530 cents. The county's total tax asking for the 2010-11 fiscal year will be $3,617,870.24. Most of the additional funds will be used to address infrastructure issues in the county.

Wurdeman said the county currently has six bridges that have been closed by the state because of their unsafe standing, and more bridges could be closed in the coming months.

"The state is inspecting more," Wurdeman said, noting that almost one-fourth of the county's 226 bridges are in fracture-critical condition. "We could see more (bridges) closed in the next 6-8 months."

In other action, the board:

- accepted the resignation of roads superintendent Elizabeth Carlson.
- authorized board chairman

Jim Rabe to sign right-of-way easements for a bridge project on the Wayne-Stanton county line.

— appointed Wurdeman as the county board's liaison to the Nebraska Department of Roads.

— approved the Title VI Nondiscrimination agreement.

— approved an application to place a utility line in the county road right of way four miles east and 1 1/2 miles south of Wayne near the Richard Long residence.

Huskers get tough Big 10 scheduling

Well, Husker fans – you wanted a tougher conference football schedule, and you got it.

The Big 10 Conference announced its new divisional alignments for football starting in 2011, and the Huskers have themselves an interesting set of new teams to battle on the gridiron.

Nebraska is joined by Minnesota, Michigan, Michigan State, Northwestern and Iowa in the new 12-team conference, making it one of the more intriguing divisions of a conference in all of college football.

Even more interesting is how the Big 10 is keeping certain rivalries intact, such as the Michigan-Ohio State game. The conference has selected six matchups as permanent inter-conference battles (Nebraska's is against Penn State) that will be locked in as a part of the schedule setup each year.

Getting Penn State for a guaranteed inter-conference game is interesting enough. Nebraska, however, got a real headknocker of a setup for their non-divisional games, as they will play at Wisconsin and host Ohio State.

Whoa . . . talk about your debuts. Not to worry, though – the Huskers will more than hold their own in the Big 10 next year. The one thing about the new conference is that there is a lot more parity from top to bottom, and the weak sisters beat up on the big brothers a little more often (can you remember the last time Baylor beat one of the top teams in the Big 12? Or Iowa State? Yeah, me neither.)

For now, though, we have to live with one more year in the Big 12. Not having layoffs against Kansas State or Colorado every year is going to take some getting used to . . .

After the first week (6-4), The Bleacher Bum is going to make a promise to his readers: no more "heart" picks.

Two of my losses last week were picks that were made with the heart, instead of the head. Purdue and Colorado State let me down with losses to Notre Dame and Colorado, respectively.

So, with that said, this week's picks are coming right from the space between my ears (insert joke about the Bum's already-questionable intelligence here):

North Bend at Wayne – The spread offense should go nuts against a below-average North Bend squad: Blue Devils 42, Tigers 17.

Allen at Walthill – Just the thing any team needs to get over a season-opening loss – having Walthill as the next game on the schedule: Eagles 40, Bluejays 20.

Neligh-Oakdale at LCC – After getting their bells rung last week, the Bears face a fellow NENAC foe at home. The Bears should bounce back: Bears 20, Warriors 14.

Wakefield at Crofton – The Trojans take on a loaded Crofton team that is ranked No. 2 in C-2. This could be a tough night at the office: Warriors 42, Trojans 14.

Scrib-Sny. at Winside – Winside's defense showed some toughness last week, but will need to turn it up a notch against Scribner-Snyder: Wildcats 34, Trojans 30.

Minnesota Crookston at Wayne State – The Wildcats have had a week off after the big win over Nebraska-Kearney and will be ready to rock against Crookston. The Wildcats don't disappoint in this season opener: Wildcats 41, Crookston 21.

Idaho at Nebraska – The Vandals will test the Huskers' defense, which got less than glowing reviews from coach Bo Pelini after Saturday's 49-10 win over Western Kentucky. Fortunately, the Idaho defense isn't all that stout, so it should be an easy Husker win: Huskers 56, Idaho 17.

Miami (Fla.) at Ohio State – I'm not a big fan of Big 10 teams, but I like the Pryor kid at quarterback for the Buckeyes: Ohio State 28, Miami 24.

West Point-Beemer's Kasey Persson finds the going tough as he gets gang-tackled by Wayne defenders Dominic Reinke (55), Jacob Zeiss (15) and Joey Lenihan. The Blue Devils pounded the visiting Cadets in a 41-6 season-opening win Friday.

Wayne's offensive fireworks too much for visiting Cadets

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Wayne scored on the first play of the season Friday night, and it didn't get any better for the visiting West Point-Beemer Cadets.

Gage Rethwisch hooked up with Keegan Dorcey, and the senior broke a couple of tackles and took it to the house on a 63-yard season-opening play, sparking the Blue Devils to an easy 41-6 win at Wayne State College's Cunningham Field in the 2010 opener for the Wayne gridders.

"The neat thing was seeing Keegan making people miss on that screen pass and going 63 yards the first play," coach Rich Rethwisch said. "Kids like him who are 6-foot-3 don't go down easy."

In fact, two of Rethwisch's first three passes went for touchdowns in the opening period. He hooked up with Jacob Zeiss, who went 52 yards for a second score to give the Blue Devils a 14-0 advantage just four minutes into the contest.

The Blue Devils would score through the air two more times, with Dorcey catching a 22-yard pass and Justin Anderson taking one in from 21 yards out, as the Blue Devils racked up 338 yards of total offense in the first half and took a 28-0 lead into the locker room.

"We had great balance tonight, and having four kids catching touchdown passes was really nice to see," Rethwisch said of his team's offense, which finished the night with 473 yards in total offense.

Wakefield volleyball team finishes third in Northeast Classic

The Wakefield volleyball team found its way into the gold pool at the Northeast Nebraska Volleyball Classic and came away with a third-place finish in a very tough pool.

"We had some new girls in different positions, and for them to come out and get in the gold division was great," coach Megan Nixon said. "Those first few games, you find out what you do well and what you need to improve on, so it was a good way for us to start out."

Wakefield found themselves in a very even pool Thursday at Wisner-Pilger High School, meeting up with West Point Central Catholic and Scribner-Snyder. All three matches in the pool went the full three sets, with each team coming away with a victory.

Wakefield lost to West Point Central Catholic 25-17, 16-25, 26-24, but after the Bluejays lost to Scribner-Snyder, it paved the way for the Trojans to reach the championship pool with a good enough win. Their 25-20, 19-25, 25-18 win over Scribner-Snyder gave Wakefield the tie-breaker based on most points scored, sending them to Jacob Zeiss (15) gets a block from Alex Onnen (65) to pick up yards for a Blue Devils offense that racked up more than 470 yards in total offense.

"The offensive line did a great job tonight, and we can play a little power football or spread it out and now the kids are starting to get it. And we've got some great kids."

Wayne's defense was solid for most of the night, save for the opening drive of the second half when the Cadets marched 68 yards in 12 plays, averting the shutout with a one-yard plunge by Kasey Persson.

"We were solid (defensively), but we talked about not having a letdown in the second half and letting people back in it," Rethwisch said. "We did a lot of arm tackling during that drive, and Poz (defensive coordinator Randy Pospishil) and (assistant coach Brendan) Dorcey kind of got after those kids a little bit and they responded."

The Blue Devil offense responded as well, going 65 yards in five plays on the next drive, with Rethwisch hitting Trent Beza on a 34-yard pass for his fifth touchdown pass of the night. The junior signal-caller would finish the night 18-of-23 for 368 yards.

Many of the Blue Devils' receivers got in on the act Friday. Five different receivers caught passes, with Zeiss hauling in five for 92 yards to lead the way. All five had big-play catches, including a 44-yard grab by Joey Lenihan that set

Wildcat netters off to 4-0 start

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – The Wayne State volleyball team opened the 2010 season Friday with a perfect 4-0 weekend at the Rockhurst Volleyball Classic.

On Friday, the Wildcats swept Shepherd University of West Virginia 25-19, 25-22 and 25-12. Later in the day, they held Urbana University of Ohio to a hitting percentage of .043 in cruising to a 25-17, 25-13 and 25-14 win.

In the first match, junior outside hitter Tali Fredrickson led a balanced hitting attack with nine kills, followed by eight from senior middle hitter Jennifer Hefner. Senior setter Diedra Artz and senior Lea Hartigan each added five kills. Artz was credited with 26 set assists while junior libero Leigh Connot had a team-high 13 digs and two service aces. As a team, WSC hit .354, compared to .154 for Shepherd. The Wildcats had 39 kills and just 10 hitting errors.

Against Urbana, Hefner had a match-high 11 kills, and Fredrickson and Mindy Moody each had six kills for the Wildcats, who hit .214 as a team. Artz handed out 27 set assists, while Fredrickson and Connot shared team-high honors in digs with eight apiece. Wayne State had 13 service aces in the win, with Fredrickson notching five and Nicole Brungardt adding four.

On Saturday, Wayne State took care of Tiffin of Ohio in another straight-set win, 25-14, 27-25, 25-20, then swept Rockhurst 25-15, 25-16 and 25-13.

In Saturday's first match, Moody recorded a match-high 16 kills to power the Wildcats. She hit .467 in the match with just two errors in 30 total attacks. Her 16 kills was one shy of a career high.

Hefner added 13 kills and a .423 hitting percentage with just two errors in 26 total attacks. Artz had a double-double with 38 set assists and 13 digs to go with three aces. Connot also had 13 digs for the Wildcats.

Anthony Nelson follows the block of quarterback Michael Lage (2) and Kelby Prince for big yards in Winside's 47-6 win over Emerson-Hubbard Saturday night.

Winside defense solid in 47-6 victory

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

WINSIDE – If Saturday's season opener was any indicator, the Winside football team could easily be known as the "Bruise Brothers."

The Wildcats pummeled and pounded visiting Emerson-Hubbard in a rematch of last year's state football playoff, and Winside's defense held the visiting Pirates to negative yards rushing to post a 47-6 win at Winside High School.

Emerson-Hubbard could not get anything going offensively the entire night. The only point in the game where they were able to move the ball came on a three-play series in the third quarter where they completed three straight passes for their only touchdown of the night.

Other than that, it was all Winside, all the time.

"We came out and played hard," coach Ryan Olander said. "Defensively, we played really well and hit hard. Offensively, I thought we executed and stayed with our base stuff and did what I hoped we could do."

What the Wildcats did was run the ball early and often at a beaten-up Pirates team. Kelby Prince and Zach Brokaw both found the end zone twice, and Anthony Nelson up Wayne's final touchdown, a six-yard run by Luke Trenhaile.

Defensively, the Blue Devils limited West Point-Beemer to 149 yards in total offense, 68 of those coming on the Cadets' lone scoring drive.

The 1-0 Blue Devils are back home Friday to take on 0-2 North Bend, who comes in with losses to Arlington and Douglas County West.

"They run some veer and they'll bring a lot of people at us, so I think we'll see some corner blitzes and stuff we'll need to work on," Rethwisch said. "We'll try to match up and counter some of what they will throw at us, so we've got some work to do."

Emerson-Hubbard's Chace Morgan is pursued by Winside's Sage Schwedhelm (50), Colton Brokaw (81) and Jaret Harmer (35) during Saturday's 47-6 Wildcat win.

 ran in a score and threw for another on a halfback pass to give Winside a 35-0 halftime lead that was never challenged.

Both teams turned the ball over twice before Winside scored its first touchdown off a Brokaw interception. Prince scored on a one-yard run midway through the period to make it 7-0.

The Wildcats broke the game open late in the period after a Pirate punt pinned Winside deep in its own territory. On the first play of the drive, Prince slipped through the line and sprinted 78 yards for a score. Michael Lage threw to Brokaw for the two-point conversion pass to make it 15-0 after one period.

Nelson scored on a 22-yard run after a short punt by the Pirates to make it 21-0, and Winside kept building on the lead later in the period. Brokaw scored on a nine-yard run, and Nelson took a pitch and found Brokaw open for a 50-yard scoring strike to give the Wildcats the big lead at halftime.

Emerson-Hubbard spent much of the night in negative figures in total offense, breaking into the positive numbers in the third period when they finally abandoned the run game and went to the air, completing three straight passes before Dillion Riemann caught a 10-yard pass from Adam Drieling late in the third period.

Prince scored his third touchdown of the night prior to the Emerson-Hubbard score, and Blaine Meyer closed out the scoring with a short run early in the fourth period as Winside finished with a 369-88 advantage in total offense.

"I didn't think we'd be that dominant the first game out, but we played to our assignments and it worked out really well," Olander said. "We played aggressive and didn't let up in the second half."

Winside will face a tough matchup this week at home against Scribner-Snyder, a team that let a 26-0 halftime lead to Pender get away in a 50-46 defeat.

"They put some points on the board, so we're going to have a really good test with our defense," Olander said.

WSC runners finish strong at Concordia

SEWARD – Both the Wayne State men's and women's cross country teams finished in the top four of their respective divisions during the Concordia Open Saturday.

Sophomore Ky'Lee Engelken and senior Meghan Schneider each posted top 10 finishes to lead the Wayne State women to a third-place finish. Host Concordia won the team title with 30 points, edging second-place Morningside's 35, with the Wildcats coming in third place with 82 points.

Individually for Wayne State, Engelken was sixth out of 66 runners in a time of 20:05 on the 5,000-meter course. Schneider was right behind in 10th place at 20:21.

Other Wayne State finishers included Skyler Lippman, 25th at 21:35; Holli Erickson, 30th at 21:55; Melissa McIntosh, 35th in 22:15; Tausha Lee, 40th at 22:35; and Tatiana DeLosSantos, 41st with a time of 22:40.

The Wayne State men opened the 2010 season placing fourth. The Wildcats finished with 100 points in the team standings, trailing host Concordia University, who won the team title with 34 points. Following Concordia University in the team standings were Concordia Alumni with 47 points and Morningside was third with 78 points.

Redshirt freshman Garang Lual was the top finisher for Wayne State, finishing 10th overall on the four-mile course with a time of 21:42. Matt Seiler came in 16th place at 22:24, and Lee Anderson finished in 21st place at 22:40.

Other Wayne State finishers included Jason Schaafl, 33rd place in 23:17; David Poots was 39th place at 23:28; Greg Tracy took 42nd place at 23:36; and Nathan Boggess was 44th overall in 23:40. Senior York Thomas did not compete in the race due to an injury, and another senior, John Kern, ran unattached and was ninth out of 83 runners with a time of 21:41.

Wayne State's next meet is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18 at the Woody Green Invitational hosted by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Turnovers hurt Allen in homecoming loss

ALLEN – Taking care of the ball is important in a close football game, as the Allen Eagles found out the hard way in a 30-8 loss to Newcastle on Friday.

The Eagles had several good chances to score a season-opening win, but six lost fumbles proved to be the team's undoing in their homecoming game.

"They took care of the ball just a little better than us," coach Dave Uldrich said. "That was the difference. We had five or six chances in their territory, but got absolutely no points due to turnovers or penalties. We had chances to score points if we take care of business."

Newcastle scored a pair of touchdowns in the first half to take a 16-0 lead at intermission. Dylan Whelchel caught both passes from Kyle Mohr, scoring on connections from 18 and 50 yards out.

Trailing 24-0 in the fourth, Allen finally found paydirt when Austin Roeber scored on a nine-yard run. He found Dylan Mahler for the two-point conversion to pull the Eagles within 16 points with 9:37 to go, but Newcastle returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown to put the game out of reach.

Uldrich said his team was starting six new players on both sides of the ball, and the team learned the importance of taking care of the ball in this game.

"We have a very inexperienced group of kids, but I saw some very competitive play from them."

Soccer team erupts in 5-2 win Saturday

The Wayne State women's soccer team scored five first-half goals in a 5-2 rout of Concordia-Seward at the Wayne State soccer complex Saturday afternoon.

Wayne State took control of the game early, as Liz Israelsen scored her first goal as a Wildcat at the 7:24 mark, burying a feed from Tiffani Kellerman right under the crossbar. Wayne State added another goal less than a minute later, as senior Mikayla Comba scored her first goal of the season off of a corner kick by Kelsey Meyer.

The Bulldogs battled back in the middle of the first half, adding two goals of their own. But the Wildcats then went on an offensive charge of their own, as senior Stephanie Bright scored off of another corner kick by Meyer to give Wayne State a 3-2 advantage at the 23:09 mark of the first half. Then senior Megan Dias took control of the game, scoring two straight goals to end the first half. Both of Dias' goals were unassisted, as the senior used her speed to go around Bulldog defenders and slip two shots past Concordia-Seward keeper Ariel Harris.

The Wildcats got defensive in the second half controlling play in the Bulldogs half of the field and only allowing one Concordia-Seward shot in the stanza to walk away with a 5-2 victory.

Wayne State had 30 shots in the match with 19 coming in the first half and 11 in the second half. The Wildcats also held the advantage on corner kicks as WSC had four to the Bulldogs one. Senior Emily Walker turned away three shots in net for Wayne State.

Wayne State, 1-1, will be on the road this weekend, visiting Iowa Wesleyan Saturday and Waldorf College Sunday.

Area runners make debut at W-P Invite

BEEMER – Area runners competed in the season-opening Wisner-Pilger Invitational, held Thursday at Indian Hills Golf Club.

Wayne's JV boys team finished fourth in the team race for Class B and Class C teams, placing all four of its scoring runners in the top 15.

"We wanted the JV boys to compete and give them a chance to see how we could do against some of the other teams, and I thought our kids did a good job and their times were where we needed to be," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "Getting fourth with the guys we had over there was a good experience."

Riley McManus led the Wayne boys with an eighth-place finish, while Andrew Long placed 11th, Sawyer Jager was 13th and Roman Roberts was 15th. Nick Junck finished just outside of the top 15, coming in 17th place.

In Class D action, the Winside boys and girls teams competed, with the girls finishing sixth and the boys placing eighth in the 12-team meet. Natasha Jensen was the top Winside girl, finishing 15th overall, while John Hansen placed 12th to lead the Winside boys.

"John performed really well and pushed hard enough to place," coach Jennifer Kesting said. "There is a definite seriousness in him this year that was lacking last year, and state is his goal and he's using his talent and time in an effort to get there. Natasha also ran a good race and doesn't seem to be holding back any of her energy."

Laurel-Concord/Coleridge had three runners finish in the top 15 in the Class D race. In the girls competition, Katie Jacobsen posted a fourth-place finish, while Sammie Camenzind placed ninth. Isaac Haahr led the LCC boys with a ninth-place finish.

Wildcats move up to No. 22

Despite being idle last weekend, the Wayne State football team moved up three spots to No. 22 in the latest American Football Coaches Association Div. II Top 25 coaches poll.

Wayne State is one of four Northern Sun Conference teams in the latest rankings. Minnesota Duluth is No. 2, Minnesota State-Mankato is No. 18, and Winona State is No. 19 in the latest poll.

Engelken earns NSIC award

Ky'Lee Engelken of Wayne State was selected as the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference Women's Cross Country Athlete of the Week following her performance over the weekend at the Concordia Open in Seward.

It's the first time in her career that Engelken has been named NSIC Athlete of the Week in cross country.

A sophomore from Pawnee City, Engelken finished sixth overall out of 66 runners at last Saturday's season-opening Concordia Open in Seward with a time of 20:05 on the very challenging 5,000-meter course. The event featured a tough field that included NAIA nationally ranked teams from Concordia University and Morningside College.

WSC volleyball down two spots

Despite going 4-0 at the Rockhurst Volleyball Classic over the weekend, winning all four matches in 3-0 sweeps, the Wayne State volleyball team fell two spots to No. 19 in the first regular-season American Volleyball Coaches Association Div. II Top 25 coaches poll.

Wayne State is one of five Northern Sun Conference teams in this week's rankings. Three-time defending national champion Concordia, St. Paul is No. 1 in the rankings, while Minnesota Duluth is fifth, Southwest Minnesota State is 10th and Minnesota State is 17th.

Miller's 18 K's lead softballers in 6-0 shutout

COLUMBUS – After a week off, the Wayne High softball team got back on the winning track with a commanding 6-0 triumph over Columbus Lakeview on Tuesday.

The Blue Devils got a tremendous pitching performance from junior Cassy Miller, who threw a two-hit shutout and recorded a career-best 18 strikeouts. She helped her cause at the plate, going 2-for-3 with two RBI's.

Megan Hoffart had a two-run single, and Lindsy Frahm and Kristin Carroll also stroked RBI hits. Caitlin Fehringer singled, walked and scored two runs.

The Blue Devils, 9-1, host Tekamah-Herman on Thursday and play in the Omaha Mercy Invitational on Saturday.

Winside netters get off to 6-1 start

Winside's volleyball team got the 2010 season off on the right foot, winning six of seven games during the first week of action.

The Wildcats swept a triangular at Dodge on Thursday, then went 2-1 in a quadrangular at Lindsay Holy Family.

Winside beat Wausa 25-15, 25-21, then needed three sets to take care of the host Pirates 25-27, 25-21, 25-21 to sweep Thursday's triangular.

"The girls came out strong and did a very nice job," coach Teresa Watters said. "We had some first-game jitters (vs. Wausa), but the girls were able to overcome that and work together. We're still looking for the right combination."

In the win over Wausa, Audrey Roberts led a balanced net attack with five kills, while Jerree Doffin added four kills and two blocks. Shelby Lienemann had three kills and a team-leading 14 digs. Jayd Roberts had six set assists while Bridget Gray and Audrey Roberts each had five.

Watters said that having three setters to work with gives her team some additional flexibility.

"They worked out pretty well," she said. "They've been working hard at that position, and we had to find a setter this year and all three of them have been working hard for us. It's a work in progress at this time."

In the win over Dodge, Erin Gray had 10 kills and two blocks and Doffin added 10 kills and four blocks to lead the Winside attack. Audrey Roberts had 12 set assists, Jayd Roberts added 10 and Bridget Gray put up nine. Shelby Lienemann had 37 digs to highlight the defensive effort.

On Saturday, Winside opened the Lindsay Holy Family Quadrangular with a 25-22, 25-17 win over Hartington. They dropped a 25-23, 25-22 decision to Howells, but came back to dominate the host Bulldogs 25-17, 25-23.

"We had a few too many errors against Howells, but for the most part our passing and defense was outstanding (at Lindsay)," Watters said. "The girls did very well with their passing and I was pleased for the most part. This is a great group of girls and they've worked so hard and want to improve their game."

Against Hartington, Doffin had nine kills to lead a balanced attack, while Audrey Roberts had seven assists and Jayd Roberts added five. In the Howells match, Erin Gray's six kills led the way while Doffin and Audrey Roberts had five each. Roberts had eight set assists and Doffin had three blocks. In the Holy Family win, Lienemann had eight kills, Erin Gray added seven, Doffin had six kills and seven blocks and Audrey Roberts had five kills. Bridget Gray had 20 set assists in the win.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats swept a triangular at home, beating Walthill (25-12, 25-7) and Bancroft-Rosalie (25-19, 25-19).

Against Walthill, Doffin and Lienemann each had five kills and Audrey Roberts and Erin Gray added three apiece. Bridget Gray had nine set assists. Erin Gray had five ace serves, while Nazya Thies added four.

In the second match, Lienemann had eight kills and Doffin, Audrey Roberts and Erin Gray each added six kills. Doffin had five blocks and Bridget Gray had 16 set assists.

Bears run into tough team in 48-0 defeat

NORFOLK — It was a rough opening night for the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge Bears.

LCC was run over by a tough Lutheran High Northeast squad that racked up 453 yards in total offense on their way to a 48-0 win Friday night.

Coach Terry Bear said he saw the Eagles play Ponca prior to his team meeting them in LCC's season opener, and he knew his team was in for a challenging matchup.

"We saw them the week before, and they put some things together," he said. "They could make some noise in the postseason if things go well. They were physical, and we weren't as prepared to play as I had thought we would be. We had some mistake on offense and defense."

The Bears picked up 246 yards in total offense with new quarterback, sophomore Kyle Kardell, at the controls. Kardell was 10-of-18 for 96 yards, with Beaux Northam picking up four receptions for 42 yards before going down with a concussion.

LCC committed three turnovers in the first half, which the Eagles took advantage of in taking a big lead at the half.

"As a sophomore, we expect that Kyle will make some mistakes, but he made some nice passes and put a nice drive together in the first half," Bear said. "He made some good decisions, but he's going to go through some growing pains. He throws the ball well, which bodes well for the future."

The Bears also lost center Austin Gothier to a broken rib. Bear expects Gothier and Northam to both be out for Friday's homecoming game against Neligh-Oakdale.

Allen goes 0-5 at Classic

The Allen girls volleyball team found the going tough in their first tournament of the 2010 season, as they went 0-5 in the Northeast Nebraska Classic.

On Thursday, the Lady Eagles found themselves in a very tough bracket at Wisner-Pilger High School, facing Wisner-Pilger and Fremont Bergan.

In their first match, the Lady Eagles played Fremont Bergan tough, but came up on the short end of a 25-11, 25-19 decision. In their second match, they lost to Wisner-Pilger, 25-18, 25-13.

The Lady Eagles moved into the bronze pool, where they faced Pender, West Point Central Catholic and Oakland-Craig.

Allen lost to Pender 25-20, 25-12, dropped a 25-15, 25-18 decision to West Point Central Catholic, and went three sets with Oakland-Craig before losing 17-25, 25-21, 25-18.

Individual statistics for the Allen girls were not available at press deadline.

Writers Workshop scheduled for September

Novel writing will be the focus at the annual Pen Pointers workshop to be held Saturday, Sept. 25 at the United Methodist Church of Christ in Wisner.

Pen Pointers, a workshop for writers, is sponsored by Elkhorn Valley Arts Unlimited, a local organization dedicated to promoting the arts in Wisner, Beemer and Pilger. Presenters at this year's workshop will be Mary Connealy of Decatur and Jonis Agee of Lincoln, who will give morning and afternoon presentations. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and the workshop will conclude around 3 p.m.

Mary Connealy writes romantic comedy with cowboys, including the Christy Award nominated Calico Canyon and Gingham Mountain. She is the author of the Lassoed in Texas series, the Montana Marriages series and the new series, Sophie's Daughters. Book #1 is Doctor in Petticoats. Other releases include Black Hills Blessing, a 3-in-1 collection of sweet contemporary romances, and Nosy in Nebraska, a 3-in-1 collection of cozy romantic mysteries set in small town Nebraska.

Jonis Agee was born in Omaha and grew up in Nebraska and Missouri, places where many of her stories and novels are set. She was educated at the University of Iowa (BA) and the State University of New York at Binghamton (MA, PhD). She is Adele Hall professor of English at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, where she teaches creative writing and twentieth-century fiction. She is the author of five novels, five collections of short fiction and two books of poetry. Her most recent release is The River Wife, a historical novel.

Those interested in attending are asked to register by Monday, Sept. 20. Published authors are welcome to sell their books at the workshop.

For more information or to register, contact Ina Glaubius at (402) 529-6469 or LaRayne Topp at (402) 529-6310. The registration fee will include lunch.

The United Methodist Church of Christ is a handicapped accessible facility.

'Big Boy'

This nearly three pound Big Boy tomato lived up to its name. It was grown by Sharon Gustafson of Wakefield and given to her mother, Helen Beckman, who is shown here holding the tomato. Beckman said there were other tomatoes on the same plant, although none as big as this one. She said that she was going to share her bounty with friends at a potluck dinner.

Wayne State College to host Constitution Day

Matthew Pinsker of Dickinson College will present "Lincoln's Emancipation and the Role of International Law" at 3:30 p.m. and "Abraham Lincoln and Presidential War Powers" at 7 p.m. in Connell Hall for Constitution Day on the Wayne State College campus on Thursday, Sept. 16.

Pinsker is the Brian Pohanka Chair of Civil War History at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Penn. He earned a bachelor's degree from Harvard College and a doctorate from Oxford University. A Lincoln scholar who has published widely on the 16th president's role in the Civil War, Pinsker is best known for his book, "Lincoln's Sanctuary: Abraham Lincoln and the Soldier's Home" (Oxford University Press, 2003), a study of how the president used his summer retreat north of the White House to work through policy and personnel decisions during the nation's greatest crisis.

Educational institutions receiving federal funds from the U.S. Department of Education are required by federal statute to implement an educational program pertaining to the United States Constitution, on a date designated by statute as Constitution Day and Citizenship Day ("Constitution Day"). The day commemorates the Sept. 17, 1787, signing of the Constitution.

Wayne State College Student Senate joins a number of other local sponsors to host "Wayne Welcome Weekend" with entertainment Johnny Holm from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 10 in Godfather's parking lot in downtown Wayne. There is no admission charge.

"The Wayne State College Student Senate is proud to join with community members for this effort. We've enjoyed planning an inclusive event that brings the community and college together for an entertaining evening," said Cale Giese of the Wayne State Student Senate.

Other sponsors include the City of Wayne, Wilson Trailers, Godfathers Pizza, Max and White Dog, and the Wayne Area Economic Development group.

The Johnny Holm band offers a unique entertainment show that is dedicated to the fans as they do most of the entertaining. A majority of the show is impromptu and moves with speed and changes direction according to the crowd. The band rocks and thunders along for three to four hours, almost non-stop from the first song to the last laugh. The band plays in most of the United States but most performance dates are in the Midwest area.

For more information contact the Wayne State College Student Senate at ssenate@willy.wsc.edu.

Small Business

The dream of owning a business is lies at the heart of the economic power of Nebraska. We should be looking to create opportunities for all those that want to start their own business. It's time we focused on the small-town bookstore and not the books of global corporations.

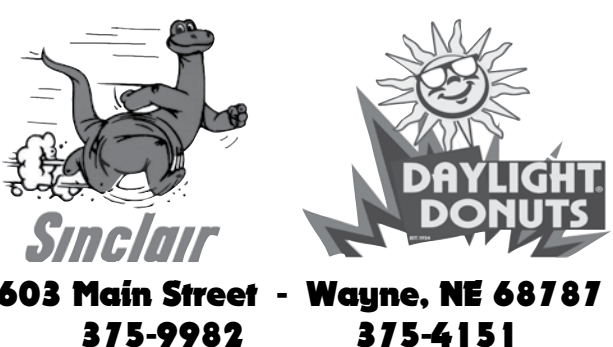

Small businesses keep communities alive. The greediness of Wall Street has forced many small businesses in Nebraska to close. We must build these foundations again.

Small businesses are dependable businesses, not only in service, but in employment as well. Major corporations can leave the state at a moment's notice, with little notification and zero remorse. If it moves their stock price up one point, you better believe they are going to shut down their Nebraska office and move to China.

I want to see Nebraska businesses thrive again. Local business means local jobs.

Vote Mike Meister for governor, and I will focus on the businesses that really matter to Nebraska.

Help Clinic offers services to community

The Help Clinic at Wayne State College is offering counseling for community members at no cost. These graduate students in Counseling are supervised by faculty members Dr. Keith Willis and Joni Irlmeier. Anyone with questions about the counseling services can call Dr. Willis at 402-375-7210.

The following are brief biographies of this semester's counselors. Staciyn Nauman has a Bachelor's degree in Human Service Counseling and is close to finishing her Master's degree in Counseling. She has been married for three years and enjoys her work as a family support worker with Good Life Counseling and Support for the past 1 1/2 years.

Kara Allen is a graduate student at WSC working on the MSE in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. She earned a B.A. in Psychology with a minor in Criminal Justice. She has worked at Good Life Counseling as a visitation/family support specialist and at Boys and Girls Home as a service coordinator.

John Dohrman is starting his fourth year as a guidance counselor at Rock County Public Schools located in Bassett, Nebraska. He is currently working on his Master's degree in School Counseling. Prior to his current position, he worked as a head teacher for 15 years at Saint Joseph Elementary School in Atkinson.

Amanda Reimers is a fourth grade teacher at Winside Elementary School. She holds her Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education with an ESL endorsement. She is currently working towards her Master's degree in K-12 School Counseling.

Ron Vick, Jr. is a graduate student in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. He is working towards licensure as a Mental Health Practitioner and an Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor. He is a certified family development specialist and has worked with poverty stricken clients.

Rhonda Oestreich has a B.S. in Human Service Counseling from Wayne State College. She is completing the M.S.E. in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. She holds a provisional license as a Drug and Alcohol Abuse Counselor and works for the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska as a Youth Prevention Specialist/Substance Abuse Counselor.

Nick O'Brien graduated from the University of Nebraska at Kearney in 2005 with a B.S. in Criminal Justice. Following graduation, Nick worked in a residential treatment facility for the state of Iowa from July 2005 through November 2006 at which time he accepted a position as a juvenile probation officer for the state of Nebraska. Nick left Omaha in May 2007 when he accepted his current position as a probation officer for the Iowa Department of Corrections. He is currently pursuing the Master's degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling at WSC.

Jason Craig is in his second year as a high school guidance counselor at South Sioux City High School in South Sioux City. He taught Spanish and ESL classes seven years prior to entering the counseling field. He holds two Bachelor of Science degrees from the University of South Dakota and a Master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction from Wayne State College. Jason is currently working towards a second Master's Degree in Secondary School Counseling also from Wayne State College.

Ryan Vondrak is a guidance counselor at Harney Elementary in South Sioux City. He has a Bachelor's degree from the University of South Dakota and also obtained a Master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction from WSC. He currently has 25 credits completed toward his Master's degree in School Counseling at Wayne State College. Ryan also has three years teaching experience in elementary schools and this is his second year as a guidance counselor. He also has three years of experience working as a residential counselor at Boys and Girls Home of Nebraska working with clients with sexual, behavioral, and mental health issues.

Rita Drieling graduated from Briar Cliff University and has taught at Emerson-Hubbard Community Schools for the past 20 years. She has taught a variety of grades and technology classes at the elementary level. She has been the elementary guidance counselor for the past two years. Beginning in the 2010-2011 school year she took the position as Preschool-12 guidance counselor for the E-H district. Rita will graduate in May 2011 from Wayne State College with a K-6 School Counseling degree.

Nicole M. Konrady began her education at College of St. Mary, in Omaha, as a psychology major and completed my undergraduate degree in Human Service

Highway 15 is pathetic road into community

The first thing a resident from out of town notices about a community is something they experience well before they reach the city limits.

The highways that connect Wayne with the rest of the state of Nebraska are the arteries that bring dollars and bodies to town. And, quite frankly, the highways going to and from Wayne, America, can be summed up in a single word: Pathetic.

If you've been on Highway 15 traveling south out of Wayne, you'll know exactly what I'm talking about. Get about 2-3 miles south of the city limits, and you'll begin wondering if you have wandered into a farmer's field. Your vehicle's suspension gets quite the workout for about 6-8 miles between Wayne and the Wayne-Stanton county line.

Highway 35 heading west out of Wayne is better, but not by much. Dodging potholes and decaying patch jobs would make for a fun counting game to play with the kids ("Hey, Johnny . . . see how many potholes we can hit between the radio station and the intersection of Highway 35 and 98. Can you count that high yet?")

The State of Nebraska is responsible for taking care of these particular highways, yet you have to wonder if the Department of Roads even has these highways on its map, let alone its one- and/or six-year road plans.

Highway 15 is so bad south of the Winside turnoff, you actually have to slow down in some places to avoid sending your car's transmission into orbit. I wouldn't say that highway is awful, but the county road between Highway 15 and Winside is actually safer to drive at 60 miles and hour than Highway 15 is at 45. Ideally, the reverse would be true.

The horrible condition of Highway 15 was the source of a little jocularly on the part of Barry Kennedy, the president of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce. He was in Wayne Friday to speak at the Chamber Coffee at First National Bank, and he cracked a joke about the state of Highway 15: "I've always wanted to come back to Wayne in the worst way, and I felt I've accomplished that this morning," he said. "I came in on Highway 15 . . . that has to about be the worst way."

Those at the coffee laughed, at his remark (including this reporter), but it's no laughing matter – or shouldn't be – to those wanting to attract people to Wayne, whether it's to shop, build a new business or bring more people to town.

The safety factor of the highway is also severely compromised right now. Recently there was an accident involving a semi along that stretch of road. Fortunately, it was a single-vehicle mishap and nobody was killed or seriously injured. But with as many ruts, potholes and bumps as there are in that stretch of highway, the question is not will a fatality caused by the bad road conditions take place so much as when will it take place?

The good news is that resurfacing of that dangerous stretch of Highway 15 is on the state's to-do list in its six-year road plan. Unfortunately, items that are on any entity's six-year road plan could stay there for several years – beyond the six – before work begins on the project. There is nothing in the works for the eight miles of Highway 35 west of Wayne, although some work is scheduled on the highway near Winside and Hoskins.

The bottom line, though, is that something needs to be done on Highway 15 immediately. It is wrong for this community to have a major stretch of infrastructure in the absolutely horrible shape Highway 15 is in at this time. Local and county leaders should put pressure on those representing us in Lincoln to make sure the Department of Roads has Highway 15 south of Wayne as a priority item for the 2010-11 fiscal year.

Anything less than a quality repair or replacement of that stretch of highway is completely unacceptable.

Capitol View Nelson-Heineman battle looms

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN – A few months ago this column noted that business is business when it comes to one government entity looking to score big-time shekels from another government entity.

It had to do with the state Department of Education reclassifying some schools as underachieving, the better to glom onto some federal loot.

Comes now the State of Nebraska with a gaggle of other states that have filed suit, seeking to have President Obama's healthcare program declared unconstitutional.

Recall, if you will, that Republican Gov. Dave Heineman also has knocked federal stimulus funds in the past, but didn't hesitate to accept them for use in balancing the state's budget.

Guess what? Nebraska is among the states that are part of the current lawsuit – while simultaneously claiming subsidies for covering retired state government employees.

Look for U.S. Sen. Ben Nelson, a Democrat facing a possible re-election challenge from Heineman in 2012, to accuse Heineman of inconsistency, or worse.

Heineman Knocked For Urging Schools To Oppose Health Care

Gov. Dave Heineman has told organizations connected with public schools that if they don't oppose the federal health care plan, they can expect to take a cut in state education funding.

"If you sit silently by, I am going to assume that your lack of action is tacit support for increased Medicaid funding and the like reduction in funding for education," Heineman wrote. It was a shotgun approach, sent to associations representing teachers, school boards and administrators. "... The future of education funding is at stake."

Yes. It's the same federal law under which Nebraska is seeking the aforementioned subsidies.

Education officials know that if state aid to local school districts is reduced it can mean higher local property taxes and/or reductions in education programs.

Heineman previously explained his position on the federal stimulus money, which included about $1 billion for Nebraska. He said he was against the program, but since Congress allocated the money there was no sense in turning it down. He has also said the Medicaid program could eventually cost Nebraska millions in additional spending, something that Nelson says is untrue.

Anne Boyle, Grand Dame of the Democratic Party and candidate for lieutenant governor, blasted Heineman for allegedly blackmailing the school officials. "It's absolutely blackmail" and children will suffer if it succeeds, she said.

Boyle Takes One For The Team

Boyle, 67, called upon the Democrat's initial gubernatorial candidate, Mark Lakers, to withdraw from the race after screwing up campaign financing reports in a big way. Lakers withdrew, leaving the Democrats in an even weaker position, if that's possible, in challenging Heineman. Heineman's job approval is and has been very, very high.

Boyle, a three-term member of the state's Public Service Commission, agreed to take the No. 2 spot on the Democratic ticket. She clearly decided to take a November beanball for the team.

Although Heineman is an overwhelming favorite, count on him campaigning with a fervor equal to NU Coach Bo Pelini laying down the law to sports writers.

Some years ago I described Heineman as talented, tough, intelligent and all Republican. He still is.

Doing business with Japan is important

On September 12 and 13, I will be leading a delegation from Nebraska to the 42nd Annual Midwest U.S. Japan Association Conference in Detroit. The delegation will be made up of Nebraska business and economic development representatives who are interested in developing or expanding trade and investment opportunities in Japan.

The conference, Powering the Future: Transformation and Growth Strategies, will feature Japanese and U.S. business experts and economic specialists. The annual meeting typically attracts approximately 300 top industry and government officials, including internationally-known speakers from the United States and Japan.

Comprised of ten member states, including Nebraska, the Midwest U.S. - Japan Association is focused on increasing awareness of how Japan's markets and resources can showcase the Midwest as America's most dynamic and inviting business environment. The association is dedicated to educating Japan about direct foreign investment opportunities in Midwest states.

A growing segment of Nebraska's economy consists of international trade and investment. International trade generates in excess of 56,000 jobs in the state and more than $6 billion in new money each year. More than 300 companies in Nebraska are foreign-owned with total employment approaching 20,000 workers. Approximately 30 percent of Nebraska's small businesses export which is well above the national eight to nine percent average.

Nebraska and Japan enjoy a strong relationship. In 2009, Nebraska exported $416 million worth of goods to Japan, up 4.5 percent from 2008, demonstrating that even during the most challenging of economic times, the partnership between Nebraska and Japan remains strong.

We are honored to have more than 30 Japanese-owned businesses located in our state.

Our oldest and most recognizable investment is the Kawasaki Motor Manufacturing plant in Lincoln, which has more than 30 years of success in Nebraska. This facility is just one symbol of what has been a mutually beneficial relationship between Japan and the State of Nebraska.

The State of Nebraska opened the Nebraska Center in Tokyo in 2006. This office has been very successful at developing new opportunities with Japan and is headed by Koji Nagasaka. He will be attending the Midwest U.S.-Japan Association meeting along with a delegation of Japanese business leaders. They will also attend the annual Passport to Nebraska Weekend in Lincoln on September 10 and 11.

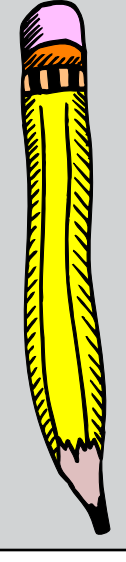

I look forward to this year's conference and our continuing efforts to expand the relationship with Japan to grow our economy and create more jobs in Nebraska.

Employees of the Wayne Dairy Queen were at Wayne High School to hand out Dilly Bars® to all the students and staff.

Community businesses help provide treats

Steve and Lori Avery, owners of the Dairy Queen in Wayne, Donna Hawley, Executive Director of The Oaks Senior Living Community, and the Wayne Community Schools joined forces last week to recognize students and staff at Wayne Community Schools.

Mark Hanson, Wayne High School Principal, said "It is easy to hear or read stories about all of the 'bad' in education. It is time we recognize the 'good.' We have an outstanding staff, dedicated students and great support from parents and the community."

The Wayne School District has posted very good standardized test scores, attendance is very good and the graduation rates are nearly 100 percent each year.

Hanson stated that nearly 1,000 ice cream treated provided to staff and students at all three schools are a "small token of our appreciation for the good things that are going on at the Wayne Community Schools."

"We truly appreciate the support of the Dairy Queen and for their support and recognition of our students and staff. Special thanks to John Gradwohl and Opal Carlson, residents of The Oaks Senior Living Community, for helping us celebrate by handing out treats," Hanson said.

MOPS group starting new chapters in Stanton

MOPS (Mothers of Preschoolers) and a new charter - MOMSnext (Mothers of kids first grade and up) - will be starting soon in Stanton. These two groups will be having their kick off meeting for the new year on Tuesday, Sept. 14 from 9 to 11:15 a.m. and will meet on the second Tuesday of every month through the month of May. The groups will meet at the Evangelical Free church located at 500 8th Street in Stanton.

At each meeting, moms will enjoy a chance to socialize over brunch and a hot cup of coffee. Each meeting will feature a speaker or DVD presentation, crafts, door prizes, and small group discussion. This allows members to share their experiences, learn from one another, and support each other through the journey of motherhood. MOPS and MOMSnext is a place for women to build friendships and have fun with other moms. Childcare is provided on site at no charge.

The theme for MOPS and MOMSnext this year is "Momology:

The Art and Science of Mothering". Mothering is both art and science. It combines all of who we are to shape healthy, resilient kids. Mothering is so complex it requires both sides of our brain—not to mention our hands and feet, eyes and ears, mouth and unfortunately, sometimes even our noses. Intertwined with the scientific, mothering requires an artistry that shades with our personality, colors with our unique gifts, and blends past and current experiences. Come join us to learn more about the art and science of mothering.

Anyone interested in visiting MOPS and MOMSnext, join us at our first meeting on Sept. 14 at 9 a.m. MOPS and MOMSnext is a national organization that is non-denominational and Christ-centered. There is a membership fee, but you may visit two meetings before committing to the group. For questions, please contact Gretchen Hupp at 439-2965 or Sheila Jenkinson at 439-2736. We would love to see you there.

Year not over for 4-H'ers

Now that school is back in session, I bet many of you thought that the 4-H year was over once the County Fair was done. Well, that's not true at all for 4-H members and their families. There are still many activities for members to participate in during the fall.

For the past two weekends 4-H'ers from across the state have been taking part in the 141st Nebraska State Fair at its new home in Grand Island.

We had many 4-H members who participated in the events and activities during the Nebraska State Fair. These events included livestock shows, fashion review, speech, and public service announcement and presentation contests. Many youth also had their projects exhibited in the exhibit hall.

Now that the State Fair is over 4-H members will be working on their 4-H Career Portfolios which is the 4-H program's record books. These record books will compile all that the members learned and did for this year into one location.

I know that this is not every 4-H'ers favorite part of the program but by completing their 4-H Career Portfolios, they will be eligible for awards and honors. Not only that, but they will have a completed record of everything they have done in the 4-H program.

Some of our members will also be participating in the Norfolk Beef Expo held on Sunday, Sept. 12 in Norfolk and Ak-Sar-Ben which will be held in Omaha on Sept. 23-26 and, of course, National 4-H Week is Oct. 3 - 9.

Let's congratulate our 4-Hers for a job well done at the Nebraska State Fair and wish them luck with the rest of their 2010 activities.

Briefly Speaking

Summer Bridge played at Senior Center

AREA — Summer Bridge was played at the Wayne Senior Center on Tuesday, Sept. 7 with 16 people attending. Bridge was played at four tables.

Hostesses were Gena Puls and Lois Jech. Hostesses next week will be Lorraine Johnson and Kathy Johnson. For reservations, call (402) 375-2864.

Women's Club to host scholarship recipients

WAYNE — The Wayne Women's Club will meet Friday, Sept. 10 at noon at First Presbyterian Church for a potluck lunch. Special guests will be the Wayne High School scholarship recipients, Amanda Schmale and Avie Veldekamp, and their mothers.

Former Wayne residents to note 50th anniversary

Former Wayne residents Larry and Vernice Wacker will observe their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Sept. 18 at Gloria Lutheran Church, 1322 31st Avenue in Greeley, Colo.

The event reception will be hosted by their family, including Todd and Nikkie Wacker of Littleton, Colo. and Colette and Gary Tossie of Greeley, Colo. They have three grandchildren and two great-grandsons.

Larry Wacker and Vernice Vahlkamp were married Sept. 18, 1960 at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. They were born and raised in the Wayne area and both graduated from Wayne High School in 1958. After graduation, Vernice was employed at NW Bell and then transferred to Mountain Bell in Denver, Colo. Later she was employed in the banking industry for 22 years in Denver and Greeley, Colo. Larry was employed by Safeway Stores, Inc. in Wayne after graduating. He moved to Denver in early 1960 and transferred with Safeway. After 40 years with the company, he retired in 1999 as District Manager of the Greeley District.

Since their retirement, the couple has enjoyed RV camping, traveling and spending winters in Arizona.

The honorees request no gifts. Cards may be sent to the couple at 4614 West 21st Street Circle, Greeley, Colo. 80634.

Leather and Lace to begin new dance season

Leather and Lace will begin their 2010-11 square dance year on Friday, Sept. 10 with Darwin Barker calling.

The dance will begin at 7:30 at the Wayne City Auditorium. Bruce and Kathy Fiscus and Jim and Barb Stout will be the lunch hosts for the evening with Cinda Brudigum in charge of the refreshments.

Any one interested in lessons for the fall should contact the club president Vernon Bauermeister at (402) 833-8270 or Darrel or Phyllis Rahn at (402) 375-1667 for more information.

Spectators are always welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Meierhenry Meierhenrys to note 50th anniversary

Mike and Pat Meierhenry of Lincoln have invited friends and relatives to a reception in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary and Mike's 80th birthday.

The event will be held Saturday, Sept. 18 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Abel Nebraska Room at Eugene T. Mahoney State Park, 28500 West Park Highway.

Their family includes Sue and Monte Bainter of Seward, Jon and Katie Meierhenry of Kansas City, Kan., Kay and Allan Wasserman of Ashland and Ann and Max Kant of Norfolk. They also have seven grandchildren.

Mike Meierhenry and Pat Staehr were married Sept. 18, 1960 in Lincoln.

The couple lived in Wayne County for many years before moving to Murdock where they operated a Bed & Breakfast. They moved to Lincoln several years ago.

The honorees request no gifts, but would instead enjoy a donation to a favorite charity in their name.

Cards may be sent to the couple at 1000 Teton Court, Lincoln, Neb. 68510.

Mr. and Mrs. Meierhenry

New minister to be installed at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield

The members of Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield recently extended a call to Pastor Darwin Garton to assume pastoral duties of the congregation.

Pastor Darwin accepted and will be installed during worship on Saturday, Sept. 11 and Sunday, Sept. 12. A potluck meal will follow the Sunday worship service.

Pastor Garton and his wife, Vicki, were married Oct. 29, 1976 in Lincoln. They have three grown children and four grandchildren.

Pastor Darwin is a third career pastor, having worked for 17 years in the steel fabrication and design business before working 20 years as a design engineer for a rotational molding plastics company that specializes in transportation and storage tanks for farm and industrial chemicals.

Pastor Darwin began serving as a TEEM Vicar in November of 2004 and was ordained after completing his seminary training and other requirements on Oct. 17, 2008. He is now beginning training to become a Spiritual Director through the Institute of Spiritual Direction through the Nebraska Synod of the ELCA.

Vicki was in training as a Licensed Practical Nurse before the couple married. After marriage, she worked for several years as a nurse and in-home babysitting. When Pastor Darwin was laid off from his steel fabrication position, she began a new career as a purchasing agent for the Nebraska Department of Roads and then State Purchasing where she worked temporarily for 22 years until retiring in 2005. Most recently she has done some part-time work in home care of the elderly as an employee of Home Instead.

Both Pastor Darwin and Vicki have been active in their home church in Lincoln, serving through the years in a wide variety of positions of leadership and service. Both have served as Stephen Ministers and served as co-chairs of the Youth and Family ministry committee as well as members of other committees and on the Church Council.

Pastor Darwin enjoys oil painting, model trains, hunting, fishing, grandkids, Facebook, movies, TV, music and riding his stationary bike. Vicki enjoys fishing, music, grandkids, Facebook, reading, movies, TV and computer games.

Both feel a strong call to ministry and are excited to be joining the community of Wakefield and Salem Lutheran Church.

First Trinity at Altona plans schedule changes

A time change will take place on Sunday, Sept. 12 at First Trinity Lutheran Church of Altona.

Sunday School for ages three through 8th grade (or older) will take place at 9:45 a.m. Divine worship will be at 11 a.m. and Holy Communion will be the first, third and fifth Sundays of each month.

These times will be in effect until September 2011.

Midweek classes for fifth through eighth graders will be held on Wednesdays at 5:45 p.m. at First Trinity Lutheran Church. These classes will begin Sept. 15.

All children of Sunday School age are invited and encouraged to attend Sunday School. Visitors are also welcome.

Wayne State College to host Constitution Day

Matthew Pinsker of Dickinson College will present "Lincoln's Emancipation and the Role of International Law" at 3:30 p.m. and "Abraham Lincoln and Presidential War Powers" at 7 p.m. in Connell Hall for Constitution Day on the Wayne State College campus on Thursday, Sept. 16.

Pinsker is the Brian Pohanka Chair of Civil War History at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Penn. He earned a bachelor's degree from Harvard College and a doctorate from Oxford University. A Lincoln scholar who has published widely on the 16th president's role in the Civil War, Pinsker is best known for his book, "Lincoln's Sanctuary: Abraham Lincoln and the Soldier's Home" (Oxford University Press, 2003), a study of how the president used his summer retreat north of the White House to work through policy and personnel decisions during the nation's greatest crisis.

Educational institutions receiving federal funds from the U.S. Department of Education are required by federal statute to implement an educational program pertaining to the United States Constitution, on a date designated by statute as Constitution Day and Citizenship Day ("Constitution Day"). The day commemorates the Sept. 17, 1787, signing of the Constitution.

Exhibits focus on 'Shaping the Future of Food' at September's Husker Harvest Days

Like many of us, a lot of University of Nebraska-Lincoln scientists are thinking about food, day-in, day-out, all the time. The difference is that their focus is helping to shape the future of food, both locally and internationally.

"The University of Nebraska is an unquestioned international force in food research that is benefitting the global community, and NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources has been a driving force behind that continuing research," according to NU Vice President and IANR Harlan Vice Chancellor Ronnie Green.

IANR's role in "Shaping the Future of Food" will be the focus of a series of exhibits at the annual Husker Harvest Days show in Grand Island Sept. 14-16.

The all-new show focus and themed exhibits mark the third year that UNL Extension experts and Agricultural Research Division scientists will concentrate their Husker Harvest Days exhibits and presentations into a well defined topical area of current interest and concern to Nebraskans. This theme-based exhibiting approach debuted in 2008 with "Water" and continued last year with "Crops for the Future."

"IANR has worked hand-in-hand with agribusiness and producers to make Nebraska a global leader in agriculture and food research through groundbreaking, imaginative thinking and unmatched in-the-field extension education," Green said. "We want to use Husker Harvest Days as a venue for showing Nebraskans how what we do in our labs, classrooms and Extension programming will help make their farms, their businesses, their lives better."

This year's displays focus on some innovative but sometimes little known research currently being conducted by IANR faculty and staff.

One is the Gut Function Initiative, aimed at discovering how each of us processes nutrients differently.

Show goes also will be exposed to the emerging field of nutrigenomics, or how nutrients affect gene expression and health. Part of that research is focused on how Nebraska crops could help fight disease and improve immunity.

"Functional foods" is a display on matching your diet with your DNA to target individual health and disease prevention. Another exhibit focuses on UNL's international leadership in food allergy research.

Still more exhibits look into growing opportunities for Nebraska farmers and ranchers to diversify with local foods, the near limitless possibilities of improving meat products, food safety and food entrepreneurship and development with the help of UNL's Food Processing Center.

Next door to the familiar Husker Red exhibit building will be the equally Husker Red Mobile Diagnostics Lab with its state-of-the-art tools and information for early detection of potential threats to plant health and yield.

Additionally, a central information booth will help answer questions on a variety of extension and research-related topics, provide copies of helpful NebGuides and direct those needing help to Extension experts in their local area.

Extension also will be promoting its new food website, food.unl.edu

Also on display at Husker Harvest Days will be the high definition television Market Journal remote production van that supports Market Journal programming.

There will be plenty for potential students and their families to see, as well. They will be able to explore a full range of enrollment options and find information on courses of study through the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, School of Natural Resources and Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis, among others. The successful Nebraska Leadership Education/Action Development program also will be on the show.

IANR has been part of Husker Harvest Days since the first show in 1978. Its Husker Harvest Days show themes will continue to change to reflect areas of concern and focus for the state's producers, agribusinesses and natural resources concerns, every year or every other year, Green said.

UNL's familiar Husker Red exhibit building is on the south side of the showground at Lot 321.

Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation and Scholarship Ball announces page honorees

The Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation and Scholarship Ball Committee has announced the names of the Pages of the Royal Court for the 2010 Coronation and Scholarship Ball titled "Any Dream Will Do" scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 9 at the Qwest Center Omaha.

Among those serving as pages this year will be Noell Skye Hinsley, daughter of Sarah and Dr. David Hinsley of Omaha. The family has been chosen by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben to be honored for excellent volunteer commitment in the community.

Noell is the granddaughter of Carter (Cap) and Nana Peterson and Donna and the late Robert Hinsley of Omaha and the great granddaughter of Lillian Peterson of New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

A tradition of the Heartland since 1895, the mission of the Coronation and Scholarship Ball is to promote, recognize and celebrate volunteerism, philanthropy, education, and civic pride. All proceeds raised benefit the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Scholarship Fund.

The Royal Court is comprised of Princesses, Heartland Princesses, Escorts, Heartland Escorts, Standard Bearers and Pages from the region and reigned over by a King and Queen who remain a mystery until the actual coronation ceremony. A Page is a child in elementary school whose family has actively contributed to their community in Nebraska or western Iowa.

Morris L. Anderson is RC&D featured artist Wood Carver

The featured artist for the month of September at the RC&D Office in Plainview is wood carver Morris L. Anderson, a retired Professor Emeritus of Wayne State College.

Morris retired in 1994 from teaching and now spends his free time in his basement studio carving whimsical figures, crucifixes and more. He uses basswood to create the whimsical figures which capture the imagination and bring a smile to all who see them. He belongs to the Coleridge Carvers, a group of carvers who meet once a week to promote the joy of carving and pass along new ideas and techniques that can be applied to the work in progress.

Visitors are welcome to stop in the RC&D office located at 702 E. Park Ave (Hwy 20) in Plainview at anytime to see what we have on exhibit.

For more information about this project or other projects contact the RC&D office at 402-582-4866.

Free water testing offered at Husker Harvest Days

Nebraskans with private water wells can have their drinking water tested for nitrates during Husker Harvest Days in Grand Island on Sept. 14, 15, and 16.

Public water systems are routinely tested for nitrates, but private wells should be tested as well.

To find out the nitrate level in the water they drink, well owners can bring a cup-size sample of water in a clean bottle to the Natural Resources Tent at the northeast end of the Husker Harvest grounds on Tuesday and Wednesday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., and on Thursday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. There is no charge for the test, and they can get the results while they wait.

Samples can also be dropped off at the front information desk in the University of Nebraska Exhibit Building. Results from these samples can be picked up at the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services' Nitrate Screening Booth in the Natural Resources Tent approximately one hour from the time they are dropped off.

Nitrates are a concern for infants under six months of age and pregnant women, as well as anyone who has a weakened immune system. High levels of nitrates interfere with the blood's ability to carry oxygen and can cause "blue baby" syndrome.

Livestock, especially cattle, are also susceptible to nitrate poisoning, resulting in lower milk production and loss of calves.

The testing is sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services Division of Public Health. For more information contact the Water Well Standards Program at (402) 471-0546.

September includes many milestones

All of a sudden, September is here and we know who our starting quarterback is! Just as I couldn't believe the number of words dedicated to going into the Big Ten, I couldn't believe how many sports writers worried about this. I still like Zac, and I was tickled to hear the crowd's applause when he finally went in.

However, the Big Farmer watched the game on a big screen at a friend's church and he says Martinez looked pretty good. We shall see.

I've spent Labor Day reading newspapers. I didn't get into them over the weekend because I was cleaning, and yesterday, Mom gave me some Lincoln papers to go with the Omaha ones that were accumulating here. There were some interesting stories;

The Cat in the Hat is fifty years old, and came about over a $50 bet that said Dr. Seuss (Theodore Giesell) couldn't write a children's book using only fifty words. He did, and it even rhymed! I had all the original books on tape, read by me, so that Sue and Jon could listen and I didn't have to constantly repeat. Then, I made the mistake of loaning the books and the tape to someone whose child was a slow reader, and I never got them back!

I think they would be worth money today.

Thomas the Tank Engine is 65 years old! And I had never heard of him until our Thomas came along.

Tony Danza is a teacher, at age

59, and his classroom will be featured in a reality TV show. What next? These midlife career changes intrigue me. The Lincoln paper a few weeks ago featured an UNL professor who left teaching to get a nursing degree and is now working in a dialysis unit. I also read a book called Critical Care written by a former English prof at Tufts who went back to school and became a nurse. Me? I think I'd like to teach at a university. "The grass is always greener".

We are gearing up to observe both a golden wedding anniversary and Mike's eightieth birthday, the first on the 18th and the latter on the 28th; he wants it known that he was married before he was thirty!

Our pastor always asks couples who observe this milestone what the secret is. I'm going to tell him that for the first twenty years, whoever filed for divorce had to take the kids! After that, when we thought about it, we couldn't afford it! So, we just stuck it out, and now, we are having trouble believing it.

We had supper guests last night from Hermosa, SD. He was a fraternity brother whose wedding I sang for and whose first son was born at Lincoln General when I was in obstetrics. So, they are special to me, as are so many people whose lives have touched mine, and ours. observe these milestones. What a blessing to be privileged to

UNL Agronomy and Horticulture Department celebrates 100 years

The Department of Agronomy and Horticulture at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will celebrate its centennial Sept. 18 with the rededication of Keim Hall, tours, displays, a barbecue lunch and panel discussions on future issues.

"The Department of Agronomy and Horticulture is celebrating a century of innovation and education in support of Nebraska's agriculture enterprise," said Mark Lagrimini, agronomy and horticulture department head. "We will recognize the historic figures who have transformed agriculture into the state's economic engine and look into the future of agriculture in the nation's economy and the role in which the department will play in the next transformation focusing on profitability and sustainability."

The celebration will begin at 9 a.m. in the Great Plains Room at the Nebraska East Union on UNL's East Campus with a reunion of departmental clubs and other groups along with tours of the newly remodeled, LEED-certified Keim Hall. Coffee and rolls will be available.

A 10 a.m. panel discussion will cover topics related to breeding and genetics, soil and water conservation, biofuels, plant biology and nutrition and sustainable landscapes.

Displays, including a history time line of the department, also will be featured throughout the day.

A barbecue lunch at noon will follow the panel discussion, and additional tours of East Campus, City Campus, demonstration plots and other displays will be continued afterward. The celebration will adjourn with displays and additional tours if needed. All activities begin at the Nebraska East Union on UNL's East Campus.

Dignitaries and UNL administrators also are scheduled to attend.

In addition to the above schedule, the rededication of Keim Hall will be at 3 p.m. on the south side of the building Sept. 17 as part of the centennial celebration. An alumni banquet that evening will start at 6:30 p.m. For more information about the banquet, call Kathy Schindler at (402) 472-1508.

A centennial scholarship also has been made available in honor of the celebration for current agronomy and horticulture students.

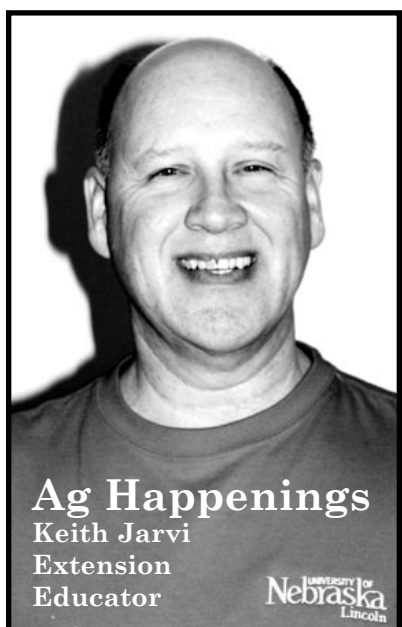

For more information about the scholarship or the celebration, visit the agronomy and horticulture department's centennial website at <http://www.agronomy.unl.edu/newhome/centennial.html>.

VeraSun bankruptcy could involve farmers

Some area farmers may have received or will receive letters saying they have to pay money into the VeraSun bankruptcy case. Most area farmers will not, but it is a good case study on what happens in situations like this.

David Aiken, Ag Law Specialist from UNL agrees with an analysis by Iowa State's Roger McEowen. The full analysis can be found at the ISU Center for Ag Law and Taxation website at www.calt.iastate.edu.

The important point is that if a letter is received, the farmers need to contact an attorney. If they don't they will very likely be sued by the bankruptcy trustee (the lawyer who administers the bankruptcy case under the supervision of the bankruptcy judge) and be made a part of the bankruptcy case in another state, possibly Delaware. Farmers may want to go in on a lawyer together, which is probably OK. But anyone receiving one of these demand letters needs to contact a lawyer ASAP! If they don't they will be in more trouble than they potentially are now.

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

Unfortunately, in this instance, the suppliers of corn to VeraSun who did nothing wrong are being asked to provide information to the trustee to establish their defenses to potential preference actions. Some will have strong defenses that the trustee will acknowledge when provided with the data and, thus, the trustee will cease further inquiry. Some will have partial defenses that may provide room for negotiation of lower settlements with the trustee. But, some suppliers may not have a defense to the claim of preference by the trustee. Good record keeping is the key.

Potential preference defendants should contact an attorney familiar with bankruptcy to help them assess their defenses and to properly organize the response to the trustee's demands. If no reply is made to the trustee, litigation will most probably ensue. If sufficient organized information is provided to the trustee, the potential preference defendant stands the best chance of avoiding the expense and inconvenience of litigation. Contacting a bankruptcy attorney will also help the potential preference defendant determine whether settling with the trustee makes sense.

Remember, trustees frequently accept less depending upon the circumstances of each case.

UNL Extension Board - Wayne County meeting planned

The UNL Extension Board - Wayne County will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 14 at the Extension Office in the courthouse meeting room in Wayne. The 7:30 p.m. meeting is open to the public. An agenda is available at the Extension Office at 510 Pearl Street, Suite C, in Wayne.

Something you're born to do

Everybody has something that they do best. It's something you're born to do. Farming is like that. It's not easy and it's not for everybody.

Some years right at the very last minute a storm comes through, takes a would be bumper crop and flattens it like a pancake. It takes courage to face those odds every year. You have to believe in agriculture to do that.

We believe in it, too. Ag banking...it's what we do best. If you're in agriculture, we would like to be your bank.

EXCHANGE STUDENT VISIT

Brigitte Hoven (Soerensen) Calmar, a Denmark foreign exchange student during the 1988-1989 school year at Allen, recently made a return trip to visit her host parents Darlene and Truman Fahrenholz.

Her family is on a 10 week tour of the United States and made a special trip to return to Allen to visit the Fahrenholz's. Darlene gave them a tour of Allen and the new school. Brigitte also got to see former classmates and teachers. Brigitte lives in Copenhagen Denmark and is a Physiotherapist. She is married to Jasper Calmar and has two children - Ellen, 8, and Anna, 4.

SWAP MEET

The Annual Fall Love-A-Lop Swap meet will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 - 12 at Mike & Val Isom's. The swap meet opens to the public around 8 a.m. each

ALLEN BOOK CLUB

Allen Book Club is reading "Enslaved by Ducks" by Bob Tarte. It's a humorous story about animals. When urban couple Bob and Linda move to rural Michigan, they begin collecting birds and animals. Soon it is difficult to tell who owns whom.

Books will be available at the Senior Center. Discussion is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 14 at 2 p.m. at the Center. Although we call it a book club, we invite everyone to read with us.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY NEWS

The Dixon County Historical Society and the RC&D are planning a cemetery tour of northern Dixon County on Oct. 2. Look for more detailed information in the upcoming weeks.

HUNTER EDUCATION

Hunter Education Class will start Tuesday, Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. in Martinsburg at the community hall. Students must be 12 years or older and must attend all 4 sessions starting on the 14th, 16th, 21st, and 23rd. For more information contact Monte Roeber 635-2334, Doug Smith Office 635-2129 Home 945-2833, Charley Mahler 945-2951 or Bob Kumm 635-2552.

LABELS FOR EDUCATION

Campbell's Labels for Education program has supported schools across the country by providing in exchange for proof of purchase from Campbell products. This year, they are focusing on supporting the Arts, Athletics and Academic programs.

You can help Allen earn free merchandise such as computers, audio/visual equipment, physical education equipment, reference books, musical instruments or even a mini-van, by just collecting the Campbell UPCs and sending them to the school.

Joy Bock is the Allen coordinator for the program. This year's goal for the school is 1000 points and they are asking for the community to help.

QUILT FUNDRAISER

There will be several quilts on display at the first three home football games. The quilts will be awarded by the highest bidder over the three game span. There will also be one special quilt raffled off and the winner will be drawn at Thanksgiving Break.

DANCE TEAM

The Allen Dance Team has t-shirts on sale. Please contact a Dance Team member by Sept. 10 if you are interested in purchasing.
