City sales tax passes $500,000 for fiscal year

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Business in Wayne was pretty good during the past fiscal year. The city's sales tax numbers for the final month of fiscal year 2009-10 continued its upward trend, marking the fifth straight month where sales tax receipts exceeded numbers from the same period of the previous year.

As a result, the city received more than $500,000 in sales tax revenue for the fiscal year, going above and beyond the projected 2 percent increase city officials plan on each year.

September's sales tax numbers, which are based on purchases made during the month of July, showed the city received $42,610.07, an increase of more than $3,700 over the previous year. That brought the city's total for the fiscal year to $521,105.15. The per month average of more than $43,400 was almost $2,000 better than the previous year and just under $900 more than the projected amount the city was expecting at the start of the fiscal year.

City finance director Nancy Braden said that, based on the numbers, it was a good year to do business in Wayne.

"It really hasn't been a bad year in retail. We've had good sales in the community," she said. "Our main retail businesses appeared to be doing well and our local sales are up."

With the national economy still recovering and families in the Midwest feeling some of the after-effects, more people seem to be doing their shopping for traditional items at home, rather than driving 35 miles west to Norfolk or 45 miles east to Sioux City like they might have done in the past.

"I think we have more people shopping in Wayne for the necessities than are going out of town," Braden said.

For the fiscal year, the city saw improved monthly numbers eight out of 12 months, including six of the last seven. During the month of August, the city saw a record total for monthly sales tax revenue, receiving more than $51,100 for sales generated in Wayne during the month of June.

Centennial celebration

Wayne State College admissions director Kevin Halle and his staff Amy Carpenter and Brady Willhite were among the WSC campus community members celebrating 100 years as a state college on Sept. 23-26 during Homecoming weekend. "Remembering the Past and Celebrating the Future" was the theme as classmates, professors and friends gather on campus. The band marched and the centennial birthday celebration included the dedication of the Campus Commons area, the renovated Seymour Heritage Plaza, and Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, which was moved into a newly remodeled area of Conn Library from its old location in Peterson Fine Arts building. The celebration was Sept. 24, in Seymour Heritage Plaza outside Conn Library.

Hospital Foundation purchases Lifelines

Sandra Bartling, hospital foundation director, reports that the Providence Medical Center Foundation recently purchased new Lifelines for the hospital, following this year's Pro-Am Golf Tournament held at the Wayne Country Club in August.

"The proceeds from this year's tournament, together with additional funds from the Evelyn Frevert Estate helped us to buy 30 of the latest, state-of-the-art Lifelines available. Caring individuals such as Evelyn are at the core of the support that the foundation depends on to continue providing support to the hospital. And I can't stress enough how amazed and grateful we are for the loyal sponsorships we receive yearly from area-wide individuals and business people for our Pro-Am fundraiser."

The total cost for the 30 new Lifelines was $18,000.

"At present the hospital is providing Lifelines to over 100 people who live within the service area of Providence Medical Center," said Sharyl Luedtke, supervisor of the PMC Lifeline program.

"With the requests for Lifelines rising, and the fact that the senior population is growing rapidly, we at the foundation felt that it was time to assist the hospital in buying new Lifeline units," said Bartling.

With a Lifeline, one press of the button signals help, instantly . . . 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

Over the past 10 years, the Providence Medical Center Foundation has raised nearly $60,000 for PMC. Established in 1963, the foundation continues to be the way by which people can charitably donate to Providence Medical Center and do their part in keeping a superior hospital 'close to home.' Area-wide leaders make up the foundation's 14-member Board of Directors, and represent the Wayne, Carroll, Laurel, Hartington and Wakefield communities.

Natural gas prices should stay the same

Natural gas customers in the Wayne area got some good news from Black Hills Energy recently.

In a news release Monday, the natural gas company said that customers should expect to pay about the same per-unit price for natural gas this winter as they did last year.

"The view now, based on things like the gas we purchase and gas in storage, is that customers should expect to pay about the same per-unit price as last year," Bob McKeon, senior communications manager for Nebraska, told The Herald.

Black Hills Energy thinks that prices will remain steady during the heating season, due mostly to high storage levels stemming from a sluggish economy and the resulting lack of demand for natural gas for manufacturing. Vast new discoveries of natural gas in the United States also contributes to the good news.

McKeon said the customer's final cost will depend on other factors, such as the weather and other unforeseen circumstances.

"The weather is a major driver in the amount of gas a customer uses, so it's hard to say with absolute certainty how much a customer will pay for natural gas over the course of the winter," he said. "But our

The Norfolk Community Theatre will present "Arsenic and Old Lace" in several productions next week.

Norfolk theater production to feature local talent

The Norfolk Community Theatre will bring a real comedy classic to the Cox Stage. Arsenic and Old Lace, by Joseph Kesselring, will kick off the community theatre's 2010-2011 season, featuring some new faces bringing to life a story that is sure to be familiar to theatre and movie fans alike.

Arsenic and Old Lace will run Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2 at 7:30 p.m.; Oct. 3 at 2 p.m.; and Oct. 7 through the 9 at 7:30 p.m., all in the Cox Theatre at Northeast Community College. Ticket prices are $15 for adults and $10 for students. The community theatre will also bring back the ever-popular Senior Sunday Special, during which audience members age 60 and over will receive a $2 discount off the general admission price.

Arsenic and Old Lace first premiered on Broadway in 1941. Based on a true story involving a woman who murdered her gentlemen boarders, Kesselring took this grim story and turned it into a delightful comedy with two endearing old ladies who, out of the goodness of their hearts, send lonely gentlemen to the Great Beyond by way of their special homemade elderberry wine. The successful film by the same name featured Cary Grant as the befuddled nephew, Mortimer.

The Norfolk Community Theatre is welcoming some new faces in the cast, as well as behind-the-scenes. Playing the roles of Abby and Martha Brewster are Sheila Young of Stanton and Brenda Whalen of Laurel. Young, formerly of Plainview, was last in a community theatre production in 1997 while Whalen is a newcomer to the Cox stage. Others in the cast include Mikey Hokey, Sargent, as Mortimer Brewster; Tyler Wieseler, Wayne, as Teddy Brewster; Hannah Moore, Norfolk, as Elaine Harper; Camden Broderick, Stromsburg, as Jonathan Brewster; Pam Saalfeld, Norfolk, as Dr. Herman Einstein; Tyrel Whalen, Laurel, as Officer O'Hara; Jared Hashberger, West Point, as Lieutenant Rooney; Noah Jones, Wausau, as Dr. Harper; Marie Kubo, Norfolk, as Officer Brophy; Jeff Ingwersen, Brainard, as Officer Klein; Marcus Wilcox, Norfolk, as Mr. Gibbs; and Adam Peterson, Norfolk, as Mr. Witherspoon.

In addition to general admission ticket sales, Norfolk Community Theatre season memberships will be sold before the show and during intermission. This year's season members not only save money on the three-show package but also get special Red Carpet reservation privileges prior to each production.

"As a non-profit organization, our ability to put on these productions year after year depends on our memberships," Saalfeld, who is also on the community theatre board, explained. "We want to thank those individuals who support us through memberships with a little extra-special VIP treatment."

This year, the Norfolk Community Theatre will be using all the free-will donation funds during intermissions to help fund a theatre scholarship to be awarded to a student planning to attend Northeast Community College in 2011-2012 who wishes to be involved in the theatre.

"Those who attend our shows or have helped us backstage know that we really rely on our students to make our shows successful. The Norfolk Community Theatre thought this would be a great way of showing how much we appreciate our students as well as foster their involvement in theatre," Saalfeld said.

Tickets for the Norfolk Community Theatre's production of Arsenic and Old Lace will be available in advance during box office hours, Monday through Friday, from 1 to 4 p.m. or at the door. For reservations, contact the box office at 402-844-7360.

Energy tip - Weatherize your home and use less energy

Properly sealing and insulating your home is a cost-effective way to become more energy efficient.

According to Energy Star, home owners can realize a potential savings of up to 20 percent on heating and cooling costs (or up to 10 percent on their total annual energy bill) by improving the sealing and insulation of a home.

First, help make your house weather tight. Many air leaks and drafts in the home are easy to find because they are easy to feel - like those around windows and doors. Other leaks may take some hunting to find - like holes hidden in attics, basements and crawlspaces. Sealing any of these leaks with caulk, spray foam or weather stripping will have a great impact on improving your comfort and reducing utility bills.

Second, after any home sealing project, have a heating and cooling technician check to make sure your combustion appliances (gas- or oil-fired furnace, water heater and clothes dryer) are venting properly. Improper venting of combustion appliances can pose a health risk.

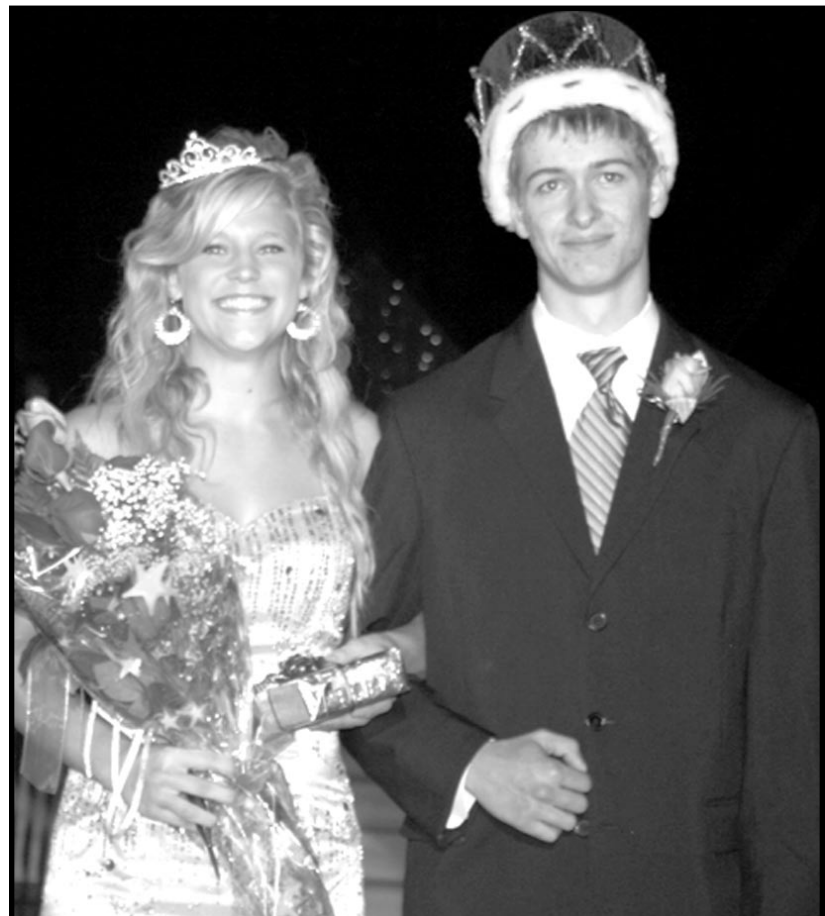

Third, here's a good rule of thumb: Don't scrimp on the insulation. Insulation helps keep your home warm in winter and cool in summer. There are several common types of insulation - fiberglass (in both batt and blown forms), cellulose, rigid foam board and spray foam.

When correctly installed with air sealing, each type of insulation can deliver comfort and lower energy bills throughout the majority of the year.

To get the biggest savings, the easiest place to add insulation is usually the attic. A quick way to see if you need more insulation is to look across your uncovered attic floor. If your insulation is level with or below the attic floor joists, you probably need to add more insulation.

For more information on steps homeowners can take to improve the energy efficiency of their homes, contact your local electric public power utility or visit the Energy Star Home Advisor at www.energy-star.gov/homeadvisor. Lots of useful energy efficiency information is also available at www.nppd.com.

Rotary grant benefits Majestic Theater

The Wayne Rotary Club received a simplified grant from Rotary District 5650 in the amount of $1,815 to purchase a popcorn machine for the Majestic Theater.

Movie fans in Wayne will have the opportunity to troop back to the theater, and enjoy traditional popcorn and other concession treats by Christmas. That's when the long-closed Twin Theaters will reopen as a community-based movie house.

Stephanie Liska, a project board member, praised community groups like Wayne Rotary Club, for their donations. "We just need a few more contributions like this," she said.

"Hot fresh popcorn is one of the hallmarks of a movie experience," said Vicky Jones, Wayne Rotary club service chairperson who spearheaded the effort to gain a Rotary grant for the crucial piece of theater equipment. She said Rotarian

Reggie Yates, who has been a driving force for Project Majestic and who is known to love fresh popcorn in abundance during a movie, was not a factor in the Rotary grant decision.

"Project Majestic is a worthy community project for a Rotary contribution," said Wayne Club President John Fuelberth. He explained that while Rotary is known world-wide for raising funds for major humanitarian and world health initiatives such as eradication of polio and other childhood diseases, it also makes a strong commitment to local youth services, world understanding and community improvement.

Treat Cart has become ritual for employees, visitors at PMC

The idea of a hospital-wide, monthly 'treat cart' originated with the Providence Wellness Team in 2008. At that time, the Wellness Team decided to take holiday treats around to each department.

The motive was to go around to each department within the hospital and show appreciation and thanks to each of the employees for their dedication and hard work.

The idea took off, and now the Treat Cart has become a monthly ritual.

Some months are simple and basic, while other months find the Treat Cart with a theme and loaded with goodies for employees and folks visiting the hospital.

The September Treat Cart was hosted by the hospital maintenance department. They did something that hadn't been done before . . . they served "smores" in the hospital courtyard.

"The weather was perfect and the smores were delicious," said Wellness Team member Heidi Keller.

The monthly Treat Cart is coordinated by the Providence Wellness Team; however, all the work is done by the department sponsoring the cart.

Area deer may be tested for bovine tuberculosis

LINCOLN – The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission is asking hunters in a portion of northeast Nebraska to participate in an ongoing surveillance effort for bovine tuberculosis (TB) in wild deer.

The surveillance stems from the 2009 discovery of TB in a herd of captive elk and fallow deer in Knox County.

The infected captive herd has since been depopulated, and testing of wild deer living near the pen in 2009 found no TB-positive animals. However, agriculture and wildlife officials recommended further surveillance of deer killed by hunters in the region during the 2010 hunting seasons to help verify that the disease is not present in the wild herd.

The main area of focus will be in Knox and Cedar counties, but hunters in adjacent counties also should inspect harvested deer for any suspicious white or yellow spots in the chest cavity that may indicate TB.

Information about the disease, including pictures of infected deer, may be found on the Game and Parks Web site (http://outdoornebraska.ne.gov/hunting/guides/biggame/deer/pdf/Bovine_Tuberculosis.pdf) and in brochures available at the district Game and Parks office in Norfolk.

Hunters who believe their deer has an indication of TB should notify a conservation officer or district Game and Parks office. It is recommended that hunters wear rubber gloves when field-dressing deer.

Game and Parks will collect lymph node samples for testing from some harvested deer during the November firearm season, Nov. 13-21, in the Missouri Firearm Unit. Samples will be taken at check stations in Creighton, Hartington, Niobrara, and South Yankton, as well as a temporary check station at Lewis and Clark Lake State Recreation Area.

The testing effort is being conducted in collaboration with the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

No. 1 vs. No. 2 here Friday

Duluth, Wayne State move up to top two spots in AVCA poll

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Last week, Wayne State hosted its first-ever matchup of top 10 teams when then-No. 3 Wayne State won a thrilling five-set volleyball match over 10th-ranked Nebraska-Kearney.

On Friday night, the stakes get a little bit higher – as high as it can get in the regular season, in fact.

The latest top 25 poll of the American Volleyball Coaches Association for NCAA Div. II has Minnesota Duluth ranked at No. 1 and Wayne State at No. 2 after both teams continued their unbeaten strings this season.

Both teams moved up a spot after last week's No. 1 team, University of Tampa, lost last week to fall to 10-3 on the season. Both the 14-0 Bulldogs and 14-0 Wildcats are among five undefeated teams in Div. II heading into this week's action.

Wayne State took care of business Tuesday night, sweeping Augustana in three sets to guarantee that Friday's battle will be a battle of the top two unbeaten teams in the nation.

"Augustana came out playing really well that first set, and I was really proud of how the girls rode that first wave of adrenaline and competed hard," coach Scott Kneifl said.

Now, the team can turn its attention to what has been an exciting matchup between two teams that will play Friday's 7 p.m. match at Rice Auditorium with the No. 1 ranking in the nation on the line.

Last year, the Bulldogs and Wildcats split their two matches. Duluth swept the Wildcats at home on Oct. 2, while the Wildcats won a five-set thriller at Rice Auditorium on Nov. 6. This will be the only meeting between the two teams this year, which makes it even more important, Kneifl said.

"This is our only crack at them, so it makes it more exciting and an even more important matchup because it's the only chance we'll get to play them," he said.

Even before it became a 1-vs.-2 scenario, Kneifl said his players have been looking forward to this matchup.

"The kids were circling it on their calendars even before it was 1 vs. 2," he said. "Our programs have had some great matchups the last several years, both here and in Duluth, and I know they've been looking forward to it for a while."

Kneifl said the Bulldogs bring a different

Mindy Moody has been one of the key players for a Wayne State volleyball team that has raced to a 14-0 record and the No. 2 ranking in Div. II. The Wildcats play top-ranked Minnesota Duluth Friday night at 7 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

Battle Creek game a big one for WHS

Here are some random thoughts and observations from our little corner of the world of sports:

– The high school football playoffs don't start for another month, but Friday's homecoming game for Wayne High School will have a playoff vibe to it.

After a lackluster performance at Boone Central and a dreadful outcome at Norfolk Catholic, the Blue Devils are 2-2 and needing to win three of their last four games to make the playoffs.

Because of the scheduling, Wayne won't get into the playoffs at 4-4 like they did last year, when five of the six teams in the district qualified. Three of the four teams on Wayne's schedule are 0-3, and another is 1-4. It's not likely those teams are going to win enough games to elevate themselves to the middle tier in the playoff point hierarchy. Boone Central looked to be a top-tier team until it lost to Ord last week, which makes their descent into the second tier a more likely outcome.

That means Wayne must take care of business with Central City and Madison and beat either Battle Creek or Pierce. This team is capable of beating at least one of the two (The Bleacher Bum is one of a handful residing within our city limits who believes they can beat both), but must get at least three wins to have a shot at the playoffs. Running the table, with wins over current No. 8 Battle Creek and No. 2 Pierce, would lock a trip to the postseason.

I said it at the start of the season, and continue to stand behind my belief, that the Blue Devils have the talent and the coaching to make the playoffs. Friday night will go a long way to determining whether or not they can make it happen.

– I hate to jinx anybody, but if there is a team in our area that looks like a lead-pipe cinch to play in a state tournament right now, it's the Wayne High softball team.

After opening the season with a loss to Blair, the softball team is playing very well. They have not lost since that season-opener, and pitcher Cassy Miller is making a lot of hitters in this part of the state look silly right now.

A lot can happen between now and districts, but this team is playing at a level that could see them making another deep run at state next month.

The Bleacher Bum is hedging his bet, though . . . the hotel room in Hastings is already reserved.

– Wayne State volleyball coach Scott Kneifl unleashed a classic during our weekly chat, saying, "We're taking it one game at a time."

In the literal sense, of course, it's impossible to take several games at once. After all, only two teams can be out on the floor at one time, otherwise you would have chaos.

But the phrase has a more philosophical meaning to it, in that a team shouldn't be thinking about any game but the next one on the schedule. And as Kneifl knows from experience, you don't want to get caught looking ahead in the Northern Sun Conference, and it's highly unlikely you'll catch his focus straying any farther down the schedule than the next game.

The big story for the second-ranked volleyball team is Friday's showdown with top-ranked Minnesota Duluth on Friday at Rice Auditorium. Now that Augie is out of the way, his focus will turn to the ladies from Duluth.

One game at a time, indeed . . .

Here are The Bleacher Bum's picks for this week. Check out the video on www.mywaynews.com for more details:

WSC sprints past Northern

After getting thumped by the No. 2 team in the country, Wayne State got back down to business Saturday and responded with a big homecoming win.

Sophomore quarterback Evan Johnson completed 17-of-24 passes for 253 yards and one touchdown and ran for three more scores in his first college start as Wayne State pulled away in the second half for a 44-20 win over Northern State. It was the sixth consecutive homecoming win for the Wildcats, who are now 3-1 overall and 2-1 in the Northern Sun Conference.

Coach Dan McLaughlin said he was happy with the effort of his sophomore quarterback, who played well throughout the game in helping the Wildcats get back on the winning track.

"Evan did a nice job in his first started and did a good job getting us to do what we wanted to do," he said. "We wanted to give Evan his shot. He had practiced really well and played pretty well at Duluth, so we wanted to give him a shot and see how he handled it, and I thought he responded well."

The Wolves struck first, using a fumble on the first play of the game to get on the board with a 22-yard field goal. Wayne State responded when Johnson scampered 10 yards for a score late in the first period to give the Wildcats a 7-3 advantage.

Northern State got a field goal and a trick play for a touchdown to take a 13-7 lead, but Wayne State scored two touchdowns in the final 2:15 of the first half to take a 21-13 halftime lead, and they never trailed after that.

Johnson scored on a one-yard plunge to give the Wildcats the 14-13 lead, and after the defense forced a three-and-out, Johnson directed the offense down the field again and found Kevin Paulsen on a short slant route that Paulsen turned into a 40-yard touchdown

Physical Wildcats pound host Eagles

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

ALLEN – Winside had racked up a 3-0 record against winless teams in the non-district portion of their schedule, which had some wondering just how good the Wildcats really were.

Friday, they sent out a notice to the rest of the teams in their district – this is a team to be wary of.

The Wildcats punished Allen by converting four Eagle turnovers into touchdowns on their way to a 62-22 win Friday at Allen High School. The win kept the Wildcats unbeaten on the year at 4-0, while dropping Allen to 2-2 in the district debut for both teams.

Winside coach Ryan Olander said those turnovers proved to be a momentum-swing for his team.

"Turnovers and big hits get our defense going and gets us fired up," he said. "We were able to get the ball in some short-yardage situations and take advantage of that."

The turnovers had a direct opposite effect on Dave Uldrich's undersized Eagles, who were outmanned by Winside's physical play.

"Turnovers and penalties and a few missed tackles really hurt us," he said. "We haven't played a really physical team like Winside, but

Rugby teams roll to wins over S. Dakota

The Wayne State men's and women's rugby teams both helped a homecoming crowd of more than 500 go home happy as both teams handled University of South Dakota in a pair of key Great Plains Rugby League matches Saturday.

Playing at "The House of Pain in Wayne," the women ruggers blew out South Dakota early, sprinting to a 56-0 halftime lead and letting the younger players finish out the second half in a 73-10 rout. The men's game was a little more in question, but the hometown team pulled away in the second half for a 34-19 win, avenging last year's two-point loss to USD.

The Wayne State women scored in the game's first minute and cranked out four tries early to jump out to a 24-0 lead. The Wildcat ruggers continued to pour it on, helped by the efforts of Brit Hans and Sam Janssen. Hans found the end zone five times in the first half, and Janssen scored four more tries to help in the blowout, which ran the team's record to 5-0.

Coach Darrin Barner said his team dominated play, possessing the ball on 80 percent of the game and spending more than half that time in USD territory. The Wildcats created plenty of gaps with a solid backline, allowing the Wayne State women to score on a number of long plays.

The men's game lived up to its pregame billing as a tough, physical affair. The Wildcat men held a 17-10 lead at intermission, and were able to stretch the field and take advantage of their speed to pull away in the second half.

Sophomore Nolan Preston had a pair of impressive long runs, scoring on gallops of 55 and 60 yards. David Synott, a transfer from England, booted an outstanding field goal from 48 yards away midway through the second half that seemed to take the wind out of USD's sails.

Both teams will be back in action on Saturday at The House of Pain in Wayne. The men will taken on Nebraska-Omaha in a 3:30 p.m. matchup, while the 15th-ranked women face Nebraska-Lincoln at 4:30 p.m. Admission is free, with hot dogs and soft drinks provided by Pac N Save.

WHS runners get feel for state course

KEARNEY – The Wayne High boys and girls cross country teams left the UNK Invitational with something of a sour taste in their mouths. Battling dehydration and some on-course bumps and bruises, the Blue Devil runners didn't have their best day in what is a tune-up meet on the same course where the state meet will be held four weeks from now. Coach Rocky Ruhl said the unseasonably-warm temperatures created some problems for some of his runners. "We had a couple of guys get hurt and had some problems with dehydration," he said. "It was one of those hot days, and I think we probably put a lot of pressure on ourselves and didn't react very well." Ruhl said he felt his runners came out a little fast in the first mile, and didn't have enough left at the end. When it was all done, the boys placed sixth out of 18 full teams and the girls were eighth out of 13 teams. The Wayne High boys had two runners finish in the top 20 and placed sixth out of 18 teams. Quentin Jorgensen finished 11th in a time of 17:50.2, and Seth Onderstal was 20th at 18:16.0 to lead the Blue Devil boys. Joe Dunklau finished 39th, Zach Thomsen was 48th, Aaron Bernal finished 49th and Andrew Long placed 54th. "We wanted to get out against some good competition and see some teams we haven't seen yet, and even though we didn't run as well as I would have liked, it was still a good experience on the state course for our teams," Ruhl said. "Our top four was ahead of Gothenburg's top three at the mile mark, and Gothenburg is ranked No. 1 in the state right now. They and Ogallala are going to be the teams to beat." The Wayne High girls finished eighth out of 13 teams, led by Tia Jech's 23rd place finish of 17:37.2. Angie Nelson placed 30th, Megan Stalling was 49th, Emily Nelson took 58th, Martha Mitku was 98th and Kennedy Stowater came in 113th. "Tia ran a great race and ran very well for us," Ruhl said. "Angie hit a hole and twisted her ankle a little bit, but the rest of the girls ran pretty well." The Wayne High cross country teams are back in action with their conference meet next Thursday, Oct. 8, at Rolling Hills Country Club near Wausa.

WSC golfers battle at Praire Shootout

The Wayne State college women's golf opened the 2010 season on a very tough course at the inaugural Prairie Club Shootout, played Sept. 20-21 at the new Prairie Club Golf Course southwest of Valentine. The Wildcats posted a 54-hole team score of 1,188. Dakota Wesleyan edged the University of Sioux Falls 1,090-1,096 for the team title. Wayne State's top golfer was Paige Barry with rounds of 101, 94 and 89 for a 284 for the 54-hole tournament, followed by Katie Isom at 291 after carding rounds of 98, 98 and 95. Other Wayne State finishers included Kristin Schwasinger at 304 (101-103-100) and Kaylee Faltys with a 309 after shooting scores of 109-101-99. The Wayne State men's golf team tied for fifth place in the men's division. The Wildcats tied Dakota Wesleyan with a 54-hole team score of 999. Southwest Baptist of Missouri won the team title with a 951 followed by Nebraska-Kearney in second at 967. Wayne State's top golfer was senior Adam Fields with rounds of 82-80-78 for a 240. Jake Hirz was next at 248 (82-81-85), followed by Tyler DeJong with a 256 (86-89-81), Tyler Thompson at 265 and Heath Hekrdle with a 268. The Wayne State women shot rounds of 383 and 369 Sunday to place 11th with a 752 at the Southwest Minnesota State Mustang Invitational in Marshall, Minn. Barry led Wayne State with rounds a 179 to tie for 56th overall out of 82 golfers. Isom was next with rounds of 95 and 89 for a 184 to finish 66th, Schwasinger shot 191 to tie for 70th, Faltys shot a 198 to tie for 76th, and Tabitha Evans, finished with a 227.

style of play to Wayne than the Wildcats' finesse and ball control style. "They have incredible length at the net and they're very powerful, so it will kind of be a tale of two games where we're more a ball control team and they're a power team that goes up and takes a rip at it," he said. "They're the biggest team we'll play all year." The Wildcats have reached this point in the year by playing at a very high level and getting contributions from several players. With a returning All-American like senior Jennifer Hefner on the floor, having that balance makes it hard for teams to key on the Wildcats' top returning player. "Every team has its great players and some have All-Americans like we have with Jennifer, but at the same time it's the balance that has gotten us to this point," Kneif said. "Jennifer had a great night last night (13 kills vs. Augustana), but in big games teams will key on her and it's up to the others to step up." Players like Tali Fredrickson, Mindy Moody and freshman Cori Hobbs have taken some of the heat off Hefner and made her that much more of a threat. "If teams key on her, we have a couple other players who can have fabulous nights for us, but the thing about Hef is that she's going to get her numbers and she hits for a high percentage and has few errors," Kneif said. There is a lot of buzz around campus, and the community, about Friday's matchup of the top two teams in the nation. Kneif said he and his team are looking forward to the match, but his focus is more on the outcome than the hype of No. 1 vs. No. 2. "A lot is being made about No. 1 vs. No. 2, but right now we're trying to worry about what we can do to come out on top," he said.

sprint to make it 21-13 at halftime. "The defense gave up a couple of big plays, but other than that we really stopped them," McLaughlin said. "The offense moved the ball well and we were pretty efficient, so overall I was pleased with the effort." Johnson scored his third rushing touchdown of the game late in the third quarter to make it 28-13, and a turnover on an interception by Javal Jones led to the Wildcats' next score, a 2-yard run by Eric Meyer.

Northern State closed the gap to two touchdowns at 34-20 with five minutes to go, but a Nick Bell 39-yard field goal and a 35-yard interception return by Jones put the game out of reach. The Wildcats go on the road this week to take on Southwest Minnesota State in a 6 p.m. matchup on Saturday, and McLaughlin is looking for a challenging matchup. "They have probably the best quarterback in the league," he said. "He's a great passer that compares well to (former WSC quarterback) Silas Fluellen, so we'll need to get pressure on him and try to rattle him. We'll need to control the ball ourselves and make sure our offense is efficient and does a good job. We'll have to play well to win, but I think if we do play well we've got a chance."

Wayne High's Drew Carroll (40) tries to bring down Norfolk Catholic's Kory Schaefer during the first half of Thursday's 55-0 Knights win in Norfolk.

Knights drill Devils in 55-0 district loss

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

NORFOLK – Wayne High was hoping to get its mojo back after a lackluster performance on the road at Boone Central the previous week.

What they left Norfolk's Memorial Field with Thursday was a one-sided beating at the hands of the top-ranked team in Class C-1.

Norfolk Catholic scored on their second play from scrimmage and didn't let up for the rest of the first half, stinging Wayne for 41 first-half points on their way to a 55-0 drubbing in the district opener for both teams.

It was the kind of defeat that left coach Rich Rethwisch with very little to say, other than for his team to put this one behind them and get ready for the next game on the schedule.

"We just need to try to keep our focus for down the road and keep our goals in sight, and we've talked a lot about that since this game," he said Monday. "We just have to continue to get better, and we had been doing pretty well until this one. I think our kids will be back and ready to go this week."

The Blue Devils looked to be ready to take on the top-ranked team in the state, but Norfolk Catholic quickly put to rest any thoughts of a game that resembled last year's regular-season finale, when Wayne nearly upset the Knights on their home field.

After a Wayne punt, Norfolk Catholic needed just two plays to find paydirt, as Luke Lyons raced around the left end on a reverse for a 31-yard run to put the Knights up 7-0 with just more than three minutes gone in the first quarter.

The Knights would find the end zone two more times with a strong northwest wind at their backs, scoring on runs by Kory Shaefer and Jordan Bellar to make it 21-0 after one period.

The play that broke Wayne's back came early in the second period on a punt return by Lyons, who broke free from one tackle, hurdled over two more would-be hitters and galloped down the far sideline 83 yards for a 28-0 lead. Two more scores moved the lead to 41-0, and the two teams played under the continuous clock for the entire second half.

"They're an extraordinary team," Rethwisch said of the Knights.

Blue Devil netters go 3-1 at W-P Invite

After a 3-1 effort at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational and an easy straight-set win over West Point-Beemer, it would appear the Wayne High volleyball team is starting to build some mid-season momentum.

A 25-12, 25-15, 25-7 win over West Point-Beemer on Tuesday marked Wayne's fourth win in their last five, taking them to a 9-7 record that has coach Joyce Hoskins feeling pretty good.

"They did play well and everybody had a pretty good night," she said of Tuesday's win. "We're really moving the ball around, so our kills are being spread out and that makes it hard for teams to key on one person. Laura (Muren) is doing good job getting it to different hitters, which makes it hard to defend."

Wayne had a balanced effort in the win over the Cadets, with Katie Hoskins' eight kills and Elisa Robinson's seven kills and six blocks leading the net attack. Ellie Ehrisman had five kills, and Jamie Belt added three. Laura Muren had 16 set assists and three blocks, Hoskins had six ace serves, Rachel Gilliland added five and Cassie Harm led the defense with nine digs. Jessica Biermann had eight digs and Muren and Robinson each added seven.

In JV action, Wayne won in straight sets, 25-18, 25-17, while the freshman team lost in three sets, 25-16, 11-25, 16-14.

On Saturday, the Blue Devils was one of three teams who went 3-1 in the round-robin Wisner-Pilger Invitational. The Blue Devils beat Class D-2 powerhouse Wheeler Central/Chambers in straight sets, lost to Laurel-Concord/Coleridge, but finished with a pair of tough three-set wins over Homer and the host Lady Gators.

Katie Hoskins had 13 kills and Robins added six kills and three blocks in the first-match win over the Renegades, 25-15, 27-25. Ehrisman added four kills, Muren had 21 set assists, and Hoskins and Harm led the defense with 14 and 12 kills, respectively.

Against LCC, the Blue Devils came up on the short end of a 25-17, 25-16 decision. Hoskins and Robinson each had five kills, Muren had 10 set assists and Ehrisman added three kills.

Wayne got back on track with an exciting three-set win over Homer, winning 25-22, 23-25, 25-20. Hoskins had 18 kills, Robinson added 11, Ehrisman put down six and Erica Sebade and Elle Schramm each had two in the three-set thriller. Robinson and Ehrisman each had three blocks, Hoskins had seven ace serves, Muren had 33 set assists and Harm and Hoskins shared honors in the dig department with 11 each.

Wayne closed out the tournament with a thrilling three-set win over the host team, edging Wisner-Pilger 25-16, 16-25, 26-24. Hoskins, Robinson and Ehrisman each had nine kills in the win. Muren had 26 set assists, Robinson had three blocks, Hoskins had five ace serves and Muren and Harm had 12 and 10 digs, respectively.

Wildcats

they hit hard and I think our kids responded well to that. Once we clean up (penalties and turnovers) I think we can be a good football team."

The Eagles took an early lead, taking advantage of an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty to score the game's first points on a 5-yard run by Austin Roeber but Winside came back with an 8-yard run by Forrest Jones. Anthony Nelson's two-point conversion run made it 8-6 early in the first period.

Allen came back with a big run by Coty Reuter, who sprinted 41 yards for a touchdown. Dylan Mahler's reception of a Roeber two-point conversion pass gave Allen a 14-8 edge, but it would be their last points until the end of the game.

Winside answered Allen's second score with the first of Nelson's five touchdowns. His 47-yard run tied the game at 14-14, but two Allen fumbles led to a pair of Wildcat scores – a 4-yard run by Blaine Meyer and a 20-yard score by Nelson – that gave Winside a 26-14 lead after the first period.

Winside kept the momentum going into the end of the first half. Scoring runs by Meyer and Nelson and a safety off a blocked punt increased the Wildcats' advantage to 40-14 at halftime.

"(Nelson) ran the ball really well," Olander said of the senior, who finished with 222 yards on 18 carries. "We had some things blocked well, but he was able to break some tackles and go the distance."

Allen moved the ball well in the second half, but two turnovers were converted into scores by the Wildcats to turn the game into a rout.

Allen's Zach Hansen (18) leads a flock of Eagles as they bring down Winside's Kelby Prince during Friday's matchup in Allen. The visiting Wildcats beat the Eagles 62-22.

30-yard line before an interception led to a six-yard scoring run by Nelson. Allen again drove the ball deep into Winside territory before a fumble at the Winside three-yard line was converted into a 70-yard touchdown run by Nelson.

"When we made those mistakes, things kind of caved in on us a little bit," Uldrich said. "But we were able to walk it down the field on them a couple of times. We just weren't able to take care of the ball."

Michael Lage scored on a four-yard run to cap a 15-play drive late in the fourth quarter for the Wildcats. Allen closed out the scoring in the final minute when a 22-yard pass from Roeber to Reuter set up a one-yard plunge by Finnegan.

Olander said his team didn't play a complete game Friday, as penalties hurt Winside early in the game.

"We've had a couple of games where we've started slow, and we're going to be dangerous when we play the full game," he said. "We're ready and we want more competition, and we're going to get that in the next few weeks as we get into the meat of our district."

For Uldrich, his team will need to learn from its mistakes and battle back as they continue in district play.

"The kids discovered we can move the ball against a good team, and we just need to be able to finish it and get it in the end zone," he said. "We're that close to being a good football team right now."

By KEVIN PETERSON
Of the Herald

The Wayne High girls golf team earned runner-up team honors at the annual Mid-State Conference tournament, held Tuesday afternoon at Wayne Country Club. Josh Johnson's squad fired a 403 to finish well ahead of third-place Battle Creek, who shot a 419. Boone Central kept its grip on the conference trophy with a repeat championship from a year ago with a 362. Norfolk-Catholic placed fourth with a 432 and Hartington Cedar Catholic was fifth at 468. Bears drop 51-13 game at Homer HOMER — Homer jumped on Laurel-Concord/Coleridge in the first half and handed the Bears a 51-13 setback in district football action here Friday.

Homer scored three quick touchdowns to take a 21-0 lead after one period, then used an interception return for a touchdown to fuel a 23-point third period that made it 44-7 at intermission.

"Homer was a very good team, and we struggled to get anything going," coach Terry Bear said. "The kids did a good job sticking together in the second half and finishing the game."

LCC got on the board late in the first half when Beaux Northam caught a 23-yard pass from Kyle Kardell. Kardell would add a second touchdown pass in the fourth quarter when he hooked up with Scott Pippitt on a six-yard scoring strike.

Mitch Heikes led the LCC ground game with 89 yards on 11 carries. The 1-3 Bears host Ponca on Friday, and Bear said his team will be looking forward to playing the defending Class C-2 champions at home.

"Ponca has struggled some this year, and I was quite pleased with how our JV palyed when we beat them earlier this year," he said. "We'll try to feed off that, and we should do very well."

Wakefield netters get three wins

WAKEFIELD — The Wakefield volleyball team is showing signs of improvement after a solid three-game sweep of Ponca on Thursday.

The Trojans played well in the first two sets, then held on in the final set to finish off the sweep, defeating the Indians 25-19, 25-7, 27-25.

Wakefield had a balanced attack at the net, led by Keri Lunz with 12 kills. Katie Weinrich had eight kills and three blocks on the night, while Paige Ellis had four kills and Bailey Echtenkamp put down three.

Weinrich had eight ace serves on the night, while Sydney Rose led the team with 24 set assists and 13 digs. Mercedes Greve added 12 digs, Lunz had 10 and Lauren Lemkuhl had nine.

The Lady Trojans continued their winning ways Tuesday in Wausa, winning both ends of a triangular with two-set sweeps of Wausa (25-14, 25-11) and Hartington (25-23, 25-20).

In the Wausa match, Lunz had 10 kills and six digs, and Weinrich added eight kills and two blocks to lead the net attack. Rose had 18 set assists and Echtenkamp led in serving with four aces.

Against Hartington, Weinrich had six kills and three ace serves and Lunz added five kills and eight digs. Rose put up 13 set assists, and Echtenkamp and Lemkuhl each had seven digs for the 7-9 Trojans.

Wildcat soccer team drops two on the road

Stacy Dally scored a pair of first-half goals to lead Augustana College to a 2-1 win over Wayne State Sunday in Northern Sun Conference women's soccer action at Sioux Falls, S.D. The host Vikings opened the scoring in the 16th minute as Dally slipped a shot past Wildcat goalkeeper Emily Walker from straight on for a 1-0 lead. Dally scored again 14 minutes later on an unassisted goal in the 30th minute to give the hosts a 2-0 Viking advantage. Wayne State got on the scoreboard midway through the second half, as Liz Israelsen scored her fourth goal of the season in the 66th minute to make the score 2-1, but Wayne State would not score again. Augustana outshot Wayne State 15-14. Israelsen notched a game-high five shots for the Wildcats, while Macy Hagen followed with four. Wildcat goalkeeper Emily Walker was credited with seven saves. Wayne State, 3-2-2 overall and 0-1-2 in the NSIC, will be on the road again this weekend, visiting Winona State Saturday at 12 p.m. and Upper Iowa Sunday at 1 p.m.

Second-ranked Wayne State kept its undefeated streak going last weekend with a pair of Northern Sun Conference road triumphs, setting the stage for this weekend's matchup with top-ranked Minnesota Duluth.

Winning two on the road, especially after an emotional five-set win over in-state rival Nebraska-Kearney, was a welcome relief for coach Scott Kneiff.

"Any time you come off of something like that, as a coach you're waiting for something bad to happen, but the kids stuck together and were able to get out there and get a couple of W's this week."

On Saturday, the Wildcats hit a red hot .467 to cruise past the University of Mary 25-15, 25-14, 25-14 in Bismarck, N.D.

"We talked about how we got whooped here a couple of years ago, and we went out and played one of our cleanest games of the year," he said. "If we can play with that kind of efficiency, we're going to be all right."

Jennifer Hefner and Mindy Moody led the way for Wayne State with 10 kills apiece. Tali Fredrickson added eight kills on the afternoon with Lea Hartigan accounting for seven kills. Diedra Artz had 40 set assists in the match to go along with five kills. Leigh Connot led Wayne State with seven digs, while a trio of Wildcats - Fredrickson, Hartigan and McKenna Reagan - each had six digs.

The Wildcats dominated the first set, hitting a sizzling .515 in the first set with 17 kills and no attack errors. Wayne State hit .345 in the second game and used a four-point run to help them take the second set. In the third set, Wayne State used a pair of five point runs to run away with a 25-14 victory. The Wildcats were once again on fire in the third game hitting .533 with only one error.

On Friday, Wayne State dropped the first set to a hot-hitting Northern State team, but rallied to win the next three sets and down the Wolves 14-25, 25-20, 25-19, 25-

"This was a well-fought match and there was very hard play from both sides of the net," coach Cheryl Greve said. "The girls are playing a lot better together, but we're still a young team. We really have the potential for a lot of growth throughout the season."

The Lady Eagles lost to C-2 team Arlington, losing 25-19, 25-22. Jones had five blocks and Hingst had six kills to highlight the Allen effort. Finnegan had six set assists.

In the final match, Allen had no problems sweeping Oakland-Craig, winning 25-11, 25-22. Klug had three ace serves, Hingst and Sullivan each had six kills and Finnegan had seven set assists.

Finnegan had five ace serves, Hingst had four kills and Sullivan had four aces and 10 digs in the win over Ponca. Against Homer, Jones had six assists, Hingst had four kills, and Sullivan had four kills and 11 digs.

As one of the oldest and most common types of arthritis, it is characterized by the breakdown of the joint's cartilage. Cartilage is the part of the joint that cushions the ends of bones. Most commonly affecting middle-aged and older people, osteoarthritis can range from very mild to very severe. It can affect several joints including hands, knees, hips, feet and the back.

Trojans improve, but lose at home

WAKEFIELD — Wakefield played one of its better defensive games of the year, but the offense wasn't able to get anything going as visiting Plainview came away with a 17-0 homecoming win here Friday.

The Trojans held the Pirates to a 22-yard field goal by Teran Boyer in the first quarter and trailed 3-0 at intermission, and coach Mike Clay said he felt his team played one of its better games of the year.

"I thought we played a pretty good first half defensively, and we played well defensively throughout the night," he said. "We got a couple of good drives going on offense, but then we shot ourselves in the foot and that set us back."

Clay said Christian Gallardo and Brock Soderberg played well on offense for the Trojans, while Brendan Nicholson and Justin Dorsey both played well defensively.

Despite the team's 13th straight loss, which dropped them to 0-4 on the season, Clay said the team is continuing to work hard.

"They're realizing that we've played a pretty tough schedule, but the kids are working hard and I think we're improving defensively," he said. "We just need to pick things up offensively to be competitive."

The Trojans play at Homer on Friday.

Where's the Revenue?

Deception. Dave Heineman keeps saying that Nebraska is in good shape because of our 4.8% unemployment rate. Economist Robert Inman has shown that state budget gaps are primarily linked with high unemployment. There should be no reason for a budget gap to exist with low unemployment.

So why do we have a $750 Million budget gap?

The answer is underemployment. Dave Heineman has not created good jobs in Nebraska. Low paying jobs don't add very much to the economy.

He is deceiving all of us. And not just on unemployment.

He says he would have voted against the stimulus, yet he took the money and asked for more. If we didn't need it, we should have been able to use it to create jobs. Instead, it was used to plug holes in the budget.

He had a "low" unemployment rate and $1.7 Billion to create jobs. What has he done with that opportunity?

From 2005-2009, Nebraska had a net loss of 3,650 jobs.

It doesn't make sense to me, and it shouldn't make sense to you either. Vote Mike Meister for Governor and I will create good jobs for Nebraska.

Lady Bears bounce back, go 3-1 at Wisner-Pilger Invite

After losing a tough five-set match to NENAC foe West Holt, the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge volleyball team bounced back for a strong finish, going 3-1 at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

On Thursday, the Lady Bears went back and forth with the Huskies before the hosts came away with the five-set win, winning 28-26, 23-25, 16-25, 25-16, 15-8.

Despite the loss, coach Patti Cunningham said the match put some things in perspective for her team.

"This was a tough loss, as we weren't persistent enough at the end," she said. "There will be moments that are frustrating and times that are great fun, and each player needs to take ownership of making the second far outlast the first."

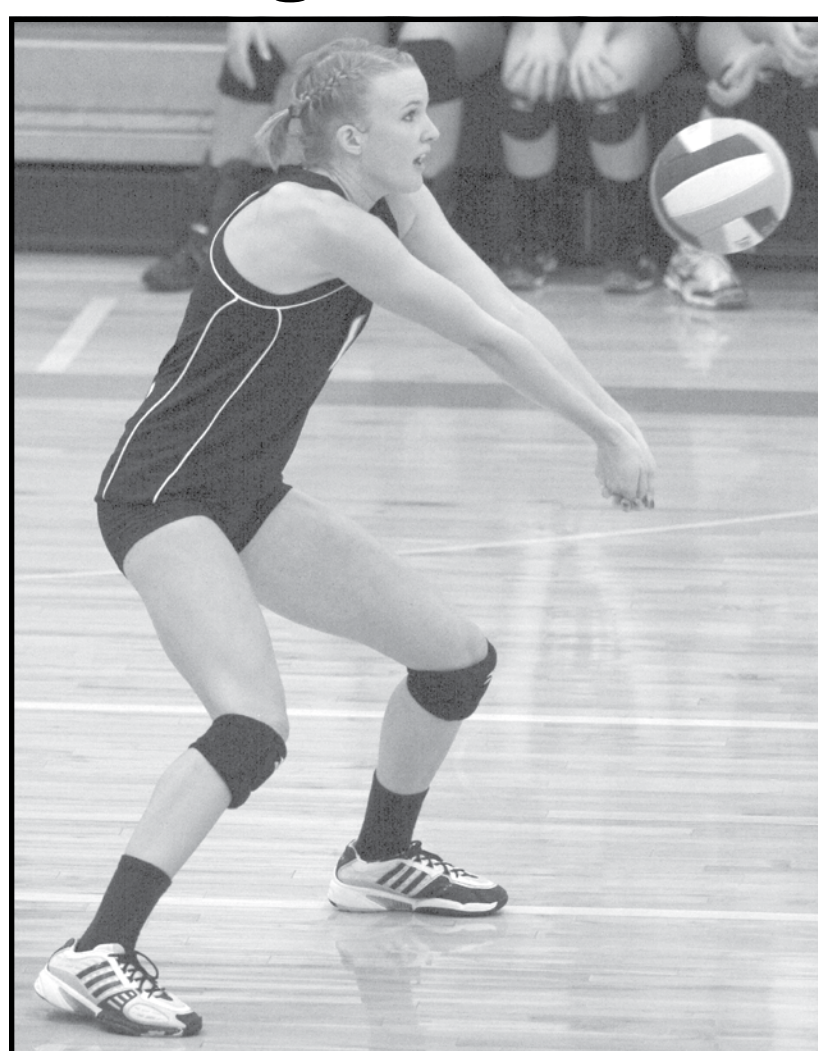

Amy Pritchard led three Lady Bears in double figures with 21 kills, while Jade Cunningham had 15 and Mandy Nelsen added 11. Cunningham and Nelson had 28 and 20 set assists, respectively, and both were solid on defense with four and five blocks. Audrey Kastrup had three ace serves and a team-high 13 digs, while Cunningham picked up 10 digs.

On Saturday, the LCC squad beat Pierce, Wayne and Homer and lost to the host Lady Gators to finish among three teams that went 3-1 at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

LCC swept Pierce (25-13, 25-19) and Wayne (25-18, 25-16) before losing to the host team (25-11, 25-13). They finished off the tournament with a sweep of the Lady Knights, winning 25-16, 25-19.

"Three of the four teams in the gold bracket went 2-1, so it was rewarding to see the girls perform well," Cunningham said.

LCC took advantage of several Pierce errors to win the first match easily. Pritchard had five kills and Cunningham had four. Cunningham had six set assists and Nelsen added five, while Kastrup had seven digs.

In the win over Wayne, LCC had a balanced net attack, with Pritchard recording six, Cunningham adding four, Taylor Linn putting down three and Nelsen and Kiley Thompson adding two apiece.

Pritchard, Cunningham and Nelsen each had four kills to highlight what was a tough effort against the host team. Cunningham had eight assists and three digs, while Kastrup added three digs.

In the final match, Pritchard had 13 kills, Cunningham added seven and Nelsen put down six. Cunningham had 15 set assists and five digs, Kastrup added eight digs and Pritchard had five.

On Tuesday, the Lady Bears made quick work of visiting Pierce, posting a 25-15, 25-13, 25-19 victory. Pritchard led the way at the net with 15 kills, Cunningham had 10 kills and 17 assists, while Nelsen had 13 assists.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

The influence of a teacher

One of the most influential people in a person's life is a teacher.

I'm sure each of us, at some point in our lives, has been influenced by somebody who came into their lives as an educator.

Three people influenced me through this connection, and their influence is still felt in my world more than a quarter-century later.

One of my influences was Marty Hingst, who joined the staff at Milford High School as a business teacher and football coach when I was in eighth grade.

When I got to high school, I was hoping to be able to play football. Unfortunately, my size (or lack thereof) was cause for concern with the family doctor, who recommended to my parents that I not play football.

Of course, my passion for sports was more than I could stand. One day, I asked Hingst if there was something I could do to be a part of the team, and he handed me a clipboard with a stat chart on it. "Keep track of the stats during the game and let me know how we did when we're done," he told me.

It wound up being the start of what has now become a three-decade tradition for me, walking sidelines on Friday nights taking stats at football games. In fact, the basic stat sheet that he gave me that night is one I still use to this day (with some modifications).

But what I remember most about Hingst is his enthusiasm for sports. I don't know too many coaches who look forward to a practice or a game the way he does. It was infectious, even during those seasons where the Milford Eagles didn't fare so well.

Another high school teacher who had a high sense of passion was my band instructor, Brian Anderson. He came to Milford during my senior year in high school and recognized the talent I had for playing the trumpet.

Anderson worked hard to get the most out of our band, and when I thought it was time for me to mail in the last semester and cruise into graduation, he sat me down one day and informed me he was docking me one letter grade because I wasn't giving the kind of effort I was capable of. I was stunned, because I had never received anything less than an "A" in band. He taught me that you have to bring your "A" game every day and give the best you've got, and it's a lesson I'm reminded of often, even 25 years after the last time I picked up a trumpet and played "Hail Varsity" and "Star Spangled Banner" from memory.

The third teacher that inspired me was my college journalism instructor, Maureen Gobel. She came into my life at a very interesting crossroads in my world. I was entering adulthood, dealing with family problems at home (my parents divorced my freshman year in college), and the college I was attending was about to be shut down.

My years with her direct influence were huge in my development as a journalist. During my first year, I got to witness a firsthand account of a perverted political process, where a college board made certain demands of a community to keep its college open, then voted to close the college even after the community not only met the demands, but far exceeded them.

The next year, the campuses in Fairbury and Beatrice were merged, and I had the unique honor of being the first editor at the college paper at the merged institutions. I took a no-holds-barred approach to pointing out the mismanagement and incompetence being displayed by the college administration. During my year as editor, the newspaper was threatened on three separate occasions, during a public board meeting, with closure by the college board due to the "negative" coverage the administration and board was receiving (and let me tell you . . . there were some real sharp tacks on this board).

Gobel's job could have been at risk, since she was the paper's advisor. She never wavered, though — she stood behind my work from day one. On the days when I wasn't sure I could handle the stress that was being thrown at me by the gutless administrators and other teachers (who were using other students as pawns to threaten and intimidate me), she encouraged me and told me never to back down when the truth is on your side. Although we were a community college publication, I probably experienced more in my two years on the staff or our newspaper than I could have anywhere else at that time in my life.

To this day, something will happen during the course of my day where I will catch myself thinking about one of these three influences in my life. These people have no doubt had similar influences on the lives of other individuals, but the mark they left on my life is one I will always cherish.

Does federal stimulus affect us?

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — What do you think the result would be if every Nebraskan who is registered to vote were polled on the arithmetic of the federal stimulus package as it applies to them?

Forget philosophical and partisan interpretations. This poll would involve only numbers; mostly numbers with dollar signs in front of them.

The poll could consist of two lists:

"Here is a list of state government's spending and taxing options based on use of the next round of federal stimulus dollars and programs associated with it."

"Here is a list of state government's spending and taxing options based on the state's rejection of the next round of federal stimulus dollars and programs associated with it."

If people could see what the stimulus money would mean to their pocketbooks, would they be for it or against it?

It would be interesting because Nebraskans' policy positions have never been based solely on purely economic interests. Example: President George W. Bush carried Nebraska solidly in two elections. Consider that agriculture is Nebraska's economic backbone. Bush was upfront and pretty much plain spoken about his desire to greatly reduce or erase all manner of agricultural subsidies, but nowhere did he do better than in the agriculture-dependent 3rd Congressional District.

State Agencies Speculate On

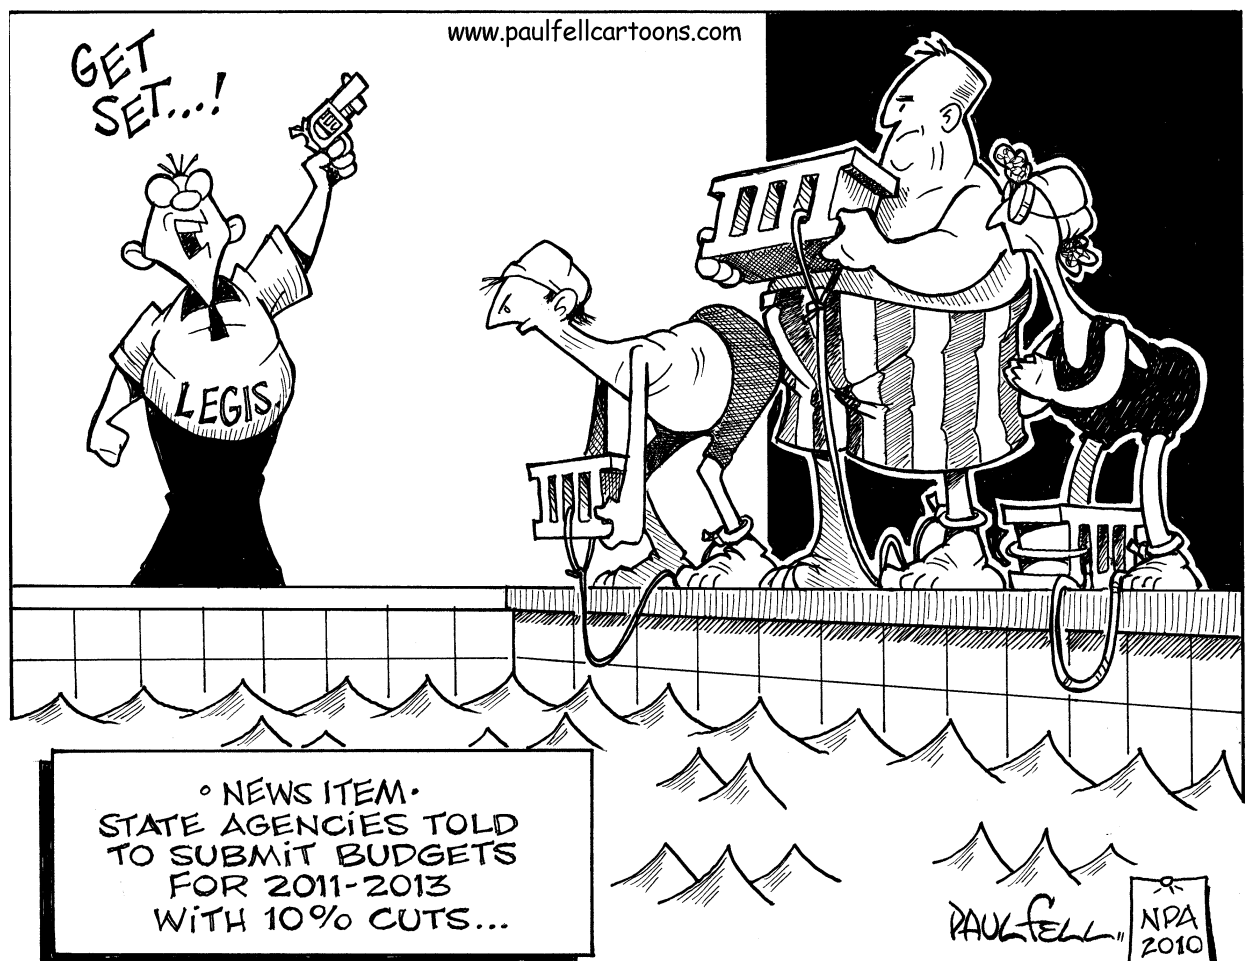

Nebraska Advantage helping business

By GOV. DAVE HEINEMANN
Governor of Nebraska

I want to share an update on an initiative that has been an outstanding asset to our business development efforts in the last few years. I worked with the Legislature to develop the Nebraska Advantage in 2005. It was the first comprehensive update to Nebraska's business incentives program since the 1980's.

Since taking effect in 2006, we have received applications from 227 companies looking to expand or locate in our state. Those projects are expected to inject $5.5 billion in capital investments and create nearly 18,000 new, full-time jobs across our state.

These numbers take on added

Impact Of Spending Cuts

The Legislature has received estimates and guesstimates from state agencies on what they might do if their budgets were cut by 10 percent across the board.

The guesstimate from here is that, since business is business, the effect on the state's business would reflect the same things that happen in the private sector when spending reductions reflect hard times: The consumer won't be offered as much, and getting it could take more time.

There are commonplace ironies whenever a government agency — especially one that deals often and directly with the public — takes a big budget hit. Virtually everyone thinks government could be cheaper and more efficient. The irony is that when efficiency is reflected in budget cutting, it can mean taxpayers will be on hold — waiting on the phone or waiting for action — for longer periods. The former sometimes leads to people complaining that if state agencies were more efficient people wouldn't have to wait so long to get the information or action they want.

McConaughy Excluded From New Alcohol Policy

The ban on alcohol at Lake McConaughy in western Nebraska will remain in place under a new policy announced by Gov. Dave Heineman. Alcohol consumption, subject to a list of conditions, will be allowed at other state parks.

significance when viewed in the context of a new report on growing an innovation economy in Nebraska. The report identified 12 industries that are strong or emerging strengths for our state. Many of the Nebraska Advantage projects involve companies within these industries.

Thirty-three companies in the bio-medical or renewable fuel sectors have submitted a Nebraska Advantage application. These projects are expected to invest $2.9 billion and create 2,000 jobs. One example is a company based in Plattsmouth that was successful in licensing technology developed at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. Vireo Resources is an example of how research that starts out in a lab can become products for commercial enterprises. The result is a new biotechnology company that has created jobs in a small community.

There are 56 companies in the telecommunications and other business services category, with the potential of creating nearly 6,000 jobs. WebEquity Solutions provides on-demand lending software for banks and other lenders. It is an example of a new business that was encouraged to locate in Nebraska and moved its corporate headquarters to Omaha last year.

Manufacturers and other processing companies are responsible for 108 of the Nebraska Advantage applications that have been submitted to date and are expected to create 4,800 jobs; many in the rural parts of our state. Smeal Fire Apparatus Co. in Snyder is a family-owned business known as a premier manufacturer of aerial ladders, platform aerials and pumpers for customers throughout the U.S. and Canada. This company employs approximately 300 people in rural Nebraska. It was among the first to apply for Nebraska Advantage incentives as part of an expansion planned in Neligh.

Commercial Resins of Sidney, Timber Creek Homes in Stratton, C.J. Foods Inc. in Pawnee City, and Royal Plastics in Minden are all examples of companies based in rural areas that are growing in our state. Their products are produced in Nebraska and shipped across the country and around the world. Their growth and that of other transportation, warehousing and logistics companies is contributing to an emerging strength for Nebraska's economy.

Financial services and insurance companies are another industry that is growing with the opportunities created by Nebraska Advantage. Xpansion, LLC, in Kearney is a software developer and testing firm for financial clients and other high-end technology companies. Xpansion and the 30 companies in this sector are creating more than 5,000 new jobs.

By expanding in Nebraska, each of these has companies created job opportunities for recent Nebraska college graduates and other young workers. In some cases, they have created opportunities for former Nebraskans to return to our state. We are expanding our business recruitment efforts to data center projects and companies that sell or deliver cloud-computing services and products via other electronic platforms in an effort to create more of these opportunities for young professionals and future graduates.

More information on the incentives that are part of the package and Nebraska's competitive advantages are available online at www.NebraskaAdvantage.biz.

Our goal in creating the Nebraska Advantage was to make our state the preferred location for starting and growing successful businesses. The progress of the past four years has put Nebraska on the right track.

Northeast plans second AG conference for women

Because last year's attendance was beyond expectations, Northeast Community College has scheduled another one-day conference for women in agriculture.

The conference, AG-ceptional Women, is Friday, Nov. 19, from 8 a.m. until 5:40 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the Northeast campus in Norfolk. Advance registration is through Nov. 10 with a cost of $25. Registration after Nov. 10 is $40. Those interested are encouraged to register early as last year's inaugural conference filled quickly.

Conference Director is Corinne Morris, associate dean of agriculture, health and science at Northeast. She is being assisted by Ag Instructor Bonnie Schulz, Office Assistant Kathy Neidig, and several committee members from Norfolk and surrounding communities.

"No matter what their role, women in agriculture can fulfill it with more confidence and knowledge after attending this one-day conference at Northeast Community College in Norfolk," Morris said.

She also said this second conference is designed to help farm wives, country gals, and agribusiness women empower themselves to meet the challenges of the diverse agriculture industry. "Last year's conference set precedence by providing a networking venue where women in agriculture gained knowledge and confidence in their decision making, as well as enjoyed just an overall 'feel-good' experience."

"We have done our best to make this year's event even better," she said.

She said this conference is ideal for women who want to learn more about farm/ranch management, woman landowners, women involved in day-to-day business and family decisions, and women involved in other facets of agribusiness.

"We hope to help women meet their goals," Morris said. "Some women may have a goal of management/ownership, some may wish to build their knowledge of specific agricultural topics, others may want to improve their communication skills, and still others may wish to return to college," Morris continued. "We want to provide the information they need to be successful."

Registration and a continental breakfast with cinnamon rolls, compliments of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association, are scheduled for 8-9 a.m. Following a welcome at 9, Pat McGill, founder and president of McGill Speaking and Training Resources, will present the keynote address at 9:30. McGill's presentation, "Who Am I? Who Are You? Who Are We Together?" will reflect on living a life of purpose and help guests learn more about themselves so they can understand that the differences between them are gifts to their family, their farm, and their communities.

During the day-long event, women can choose to attend four, 50-minute break-out sessions from a total of 27 different presentations. Break-out session facilitators include sales and marketing trainers, UNL extension educators, image consultants and trainers, insurance professionals, record-keeping consultants, zoning administrators, commodities brokers, accountants, and more.

Final keynote speaker Juli Burney, Lincoln, will take a humorous look at agricultural life when she closes out the conference.

Honors program at UNK sets 30-year record; new members announced

The Honors Program at the University of Nebraska at Kearney has set a 30-year record this fall with 166 freshmen members, according to Dr. Gary Davis, UNK Honors Program director.

"Last year, we had 145 freshmen in the Honors Program, and before that, we had averaged 135 honors freshmen per year," Dr. Davis said. "This group of 166 students is the largest freshmen class since the program began in 1980." Dr. Davis attributed the increase, in part, to establishing the newly renovated Men's Hall, which houses both men and women, into an Honors Program residence, as well as the efforts of UNK Admissions counselors.

"We have outstanding Admissions counselors who are just wonderful about talking proudly about the Honors Program," he said. "And our current Honors Program members are also key to building the program."

Membership in the group is competitive. According to Dr. Davis, incoming freshmen must have a composite ACT score of 26, be in the top 25 percent of their senior class, complete an application form, submit two letters of recommendations, provide a list of high school activities and complete a 300-500 word essay on a topic.

"There are many benefits to being an honors student," Dr. Davis said. "Honors students have two advisers - an academic adviser and an honors adviser. They get to register early for classes, and there is a great esprit de corps among other honors students as well as leadership from the Honors Student Advisory Board." The new freshmen class joins the more than 550 current UNK honors students.

The 2010 UNK freshmen honors student list includes a number of local students. They include:

Brianna Johnson of Laurel and Jordan Barry, Cory Foote, Shannon Jarvi and Hannah Mitiku, all of Wayne.

Wayne Korth, Wolves Den Leader, works with Cub Scout Recruits and current scouts as they earn their flag football belt loops.

Cub Scouts hold recruitment activity

Achievement, sports, outdoors, family heritage . . . these are just a few of the terms learned by the cub scouts of Pack 174 Wayne at the annual Cub Scout Recruitment day activities held at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

Both current scouts and new scouts participated in flag football, a nature hike, and a family heritage time with their parents. The scouts had the opportunity to achieve three belt loop awards while spending time with their fellow scouts and parents and sharing good times and snacks.

Wayne Korth worked with the scouts, teaching them the rules and the basic skills of football and organizing a flag football game.

Cub Master Tami Worner and Assistant Cub Master Greg Worner led the scouts on a nature hike of the area. The scouts talked about the bluebird houses in Wayne and their participation in monitoring those houses for new bluebirds. They also collected plant specimens to discuss when they returned from the hike.

In addition, scouts and their parents discussed such things about their families as favorite traditions and what country their family immigrated from. Finally, scouts and families designed a three generation family tree.

Concluding the afternoon, the scouts picked up their popcorn for the annual October popcorn sale which kicks-off on Saturday, Oct. 2. Wayne scouts from Pack 174 will be canvassing the area selling popcorn. One-third of the money raised from the sale of the popcorn stays with Pack 174, one-third goes to support local day camps through the Mid-America Council and the remainder of the proceeds is used by the National BSA to pay for the popcorn, advertising, and other expenses.

Checks should be made payable to Pack 174. Call Cub Master Tami Worner at (402) 375-4809 for either information on joining cub scouts or for purchasing popcorn.

Northeast Board approves 2010-2011 budgets

The Northeast Community College Board of Governors has approved the institution's 2010-2011 budgets following a budget hearing on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

According to Lynne Koski, vice president of administrative services at Northeast Community College, the total levy for 2010-2011 is $9,985.0. Koski said the owner of a home in Northeast's 20-county service area with a taxable value of $100,000 would pay $98.50 per year to support Northeast Community College, compared to $93.54 last year.

The 2009-2010 tax levy for Northeast's 20-county district was $0.9354.

The Board approved four different budgets for fiscal 2010-2011 at its meeting. The General Operating Budget was set at $34,934,094, Capital Improvement Budget at $4,115,751, ADA/Hazardous Material Budget at $26,679, and Other Funds Budget at $37,867,376.

Koski said the total for all budgets for 2010-2011 is $76,943,900, compared to $84,242,327 last year. She noted that funding for these budgets comes from property taxes, student tuition and fees, state aid, and other sources.

"As anticipated, the large decrease in our total budget came in the Other Funds budget. That budget has a $6,835,081 decrease from last year," she said.

Funds from the Other Funds budget are restricted, non-tax-supported dollars that come from the capital campaigns for new building projects and proceeds from revenue bonds issued by the Facilities Corporation. In the past year, Northeast Community College has opened the College Welcome Center built with revenue bonds issued by the Facilities Corporation, to be repaid with student fees, the J. Paul and Eleanor McIntosh College of Nursing, financed with an $11.9 million capital campaign, and the Industrial Training Building in South Sioux City. Approximately 50 percent of the funds for the Industrial Training Building project were federal funds from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Economic Development Administration.

The College Center of South Sioux City will open this winter. A portion of the cost of that project was also raised in a capital campaign.

"With the completion of these construction projects," Koski said, "our Other Funds budget shows a sizeable decrease for 2010-2011."

Koski said that the minimal levy increase of $0.00496, coupled with the increase in valuations, equates to the approximate $2 million increase in tax asking over last year's budget. "This year, we will be asking our taxpayers for an additional $290,461 for our General Operating Budget with the remainder of that budget increase coming from tuition and fees and other sources," she said.

"The General Operating Budget pays for the day-to-day operational expenses of this college," she said. "Keeping the taxpayer in mind, we feel that that $290,461 increase is a barebones request when one considers the size of this institution, the size of its staff, increased academic programming, and different requests in the annual budgeting process."

She also noted that the additional tax asking of $1,690,630 is for the capital improvement budget.

"With our 20-county property valuations and Northeast's ability to levy not more than $0.1000 for capital construction, it takes approximately four years to amass enough funds for a new construction project," she said. "Future construction needs are considered in our budgeting process too."

"Writing this year's budget was a challenge," said Northeast Community College President Dr.

Bill R. Path. "We continue with uncertainties as the Nebraska community college chief executive officers re-write a funding formula draft that must be submitted to the Legislature by Dec. 1. We are working with many unknowns and it is imperative to us that we develop a budget that will meet our needs without asking too much of our taxpayers."

"The budget writing process at Northeast is perhaps one of the most difficult things we do all year," he continued. "Unfortunately, after many meetings and countless discussions, we have to turn down millions in funding requests from our faculty and staff for the upcoming year. These are not frivolous requests . . . they are all reasonable requests but many millions get turned down every year."

"We do that because of our concern for our students and taxpayers," he said. "We want Northeast Community College to be the very best it can be without putting too great a financial strain on the students and taxpayers. It is a fine line we walk but we feel we offer an excellent education at a very reasonable cost to both our students and taxpayers."

Larry Poessnecker of Atkinson, chairperson of the Board of Governors, said he and the Board are always concerned about increasing property taxes. "I have said this before and will say it again: As a Board, we take very seriously our role to be responsible custodians of public funds," he said. "We know the financial uncertainties that our constituents face. Whether they are farmers or ranchers or business people on Main Street, everyone is concerned about rising taxes."

"I continue to believe, however," he said, "that the authors of this budget have done their very best to keep requests of our taxpayers to a bare minimum."

Fall workshop scheduled for educational office professionals

The Nebraska Educational Office Professionals Association (NEOPA) and the Nebraska Department of Education Office Professionals Association (NDEOPA) are hosting the 2010 NEOPA Fall Workshop on Oct. 21-23 in Lincoln, Nebraska at the Holiday Inn-Downtown.

Professional growth is not only important when keeping yourself marketable, but it is also important to your employer. The conference kicks off with networking activities Thursday evening, Oct. 21, from 6:30-8:30 p.m. "Not Position" will be presented by the keynote speaker, Dr. Douglas Christensen on Friday, Oct. 22.

the Finance Committee, concurred with Poessnecker. "The Board always finds it a challenging balancing act not to place too great a burden on our students. I, too, am confident that this budget was written with a keen eye toward the student and taxpayer," he said. "With that ever in mind, we take a close look at our expenses every year and craft a budget that will ask for a nominal funding increase from the taxpayer as we maintain our standards of excellence for our students."

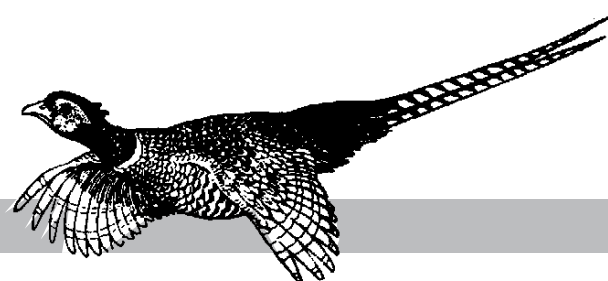

The afternoon offers presentations on Communication, Leadership in the Workplace, and Conflict. Speakers include Ann Masters, Rev. Dr. Jesse Foster, and Eleanor Kirkland. Lunch is included.

An added feature this year, to the first 15 interested workshop goers, is the opportunity to attend concurrent sessions on "Squeezing Lemons to Make Lemonade: Becoming a Sweet Presenter" by Jolene Palmer. This opportunity will begin after the keynote presentation on Oct. 22 and continue through Saturday, Oct. 23.

Busy families can still share healthy dinners

As the school year starts up again, parents will be picking one kid up from daycare only to drop another off at football practice, and in between they are expected to keep everyone happy and healthy by serving a delicious meal. When everyone is on the go, how can families sit down and enjoy a meal together?

One secret is to prepare a "first course" the night before for the family to eat while the main course is cooking.

This could be a salad or just vegetables with low-fat dip. Whole fruits and raw vegetables are great snacks for keeping hunger at bay without spoiling appetites. Unlike cookies and chips, these healthy foods cannot be quickly eaten in one or two bites. Family members will spend more time chewing and less time filling up on junk food. Low-fat or non-fat yogurt, pieces of cheese and a glass of milk help fulfill the daily dairy requirement and can keep families satisfied while dinner is cooking.

Having everyone help with dinner is another great strategy. Not only will family members be spending time together, but children's minds will be kept off their hungry stomachs and dinner will be ready sooner. Some preparation time also can be eliminated by setting the dinner table in the morning.

For days that are going to be especially busy, parents can prepare a quick meal, like a ready-to-heat casserole, the night before. Add a salad, bread and milk and families can quickly sit down for a full meal. Even if this meal lasts only a few minutes, at least everyone will be eating healthy and spending time together.

Cookbooks at the library and the Internet are full of ideas for quick meal recipes. If a family likes certain recipes, they can follow the example of many food service institutions and set up a meal cycle. Maybe a family can repeat meals about every 10 days. Knowing what will be cooked can help eliminate preparation time. Switching meal days and adding in new recipes can change up the menu and keep meals from getting boring. And while eating healthy is important, don't be afraid to make Friday family pizza night.

St. Mary's to host animal blessing

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne will conduct a St. Francis Animal Blessing on Monday, Oct. 4 from 7 to 8 p.m.

The blessing will take place on the front steps of St. Mary's Church, located at 412 East 8th Street in Wayne.

The ceremony is open to everyone. It will include several Scripture readings, prayers, and an opportunity for individual animals to be blessed.

Everyone in the community is invited to bring animals to be blessed or attend to pray for God's creatures.

Those attending may bring lawn chairs to sit on if they wish.

Saint Francis of Assisi (Sept. 26, 1181 - Oct. 3, 1226) was a Roman Catholic friar and the founder of the Order of Friars Minor, more commonly known as the Franciscans.

He is known as the patron saint of animals, birds, and the environment, and it is customary for Catholic churches to hold ceremonies honoring animals around his feast day of Oct. 4.

Praise Assembly of God Church announces weekend schedule

On Sunday, Oct. 3, Sunday School (9:30 AM) at Praise Assembly will continue in the series from the "Songs of Ascents" (Psalms 120-134). Phil Pfaltzgraff (WSC Accompanist) and the class are in the midst of a study on Psalm 126, focusing on the issue of "captivity and deliverance". This is an ongoing study of these short chapters in the book of Psalms.

At 10:30 a.m. in the sanctuary, the morning worship service begins with praise and worship. Rev. David Stitt of Hastings will be preaching, now in his sixth week in a sermon series from the book of Nehemiah. This is an extremely valuable study and deals with a number of subjects including: leadership qualities, working with opposition, maintaining personal focus in the midst of frustration, and the rebuilding of walls which have been torn down in our lives.

As always, there is prayer time for individuals who have needs.

Because this is the first week of the month, the congregation will also be celebrating Communion in the morning service.

At 5 p.m. Sunday evening, the "Advisory Team" meets in its every-other-week training session with the Assembly of God presbyter, the Rev. Mark Rose of Norfolk.

The 6:30 p.m. service is designated as a teaching and prayer service, with an emphasis on praying for the sick and needy. Feel free to stop in and allow the Lord to bring His healing to your lives.

Praise Assembly of God Church is located at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne.

Corn growers recognize Dickey for service on national board

Nebraskan Bob Dickey's term as chairman of the National Corn Growers Association comes to an end September 30 - ending a seven-year run on the grassroots organization's board, where he served as president last year and vice president two years ago.

"I believe everyone should support and work to improve the industry in which he or she is making a living," said Dickey, a farmer from Laurel. "Serving on the NCGA board has been a very rewarding experience and I have many fond memories."

The Nebraska Corn Board and Nebraska Corn Growers Association said they appreciate Dickey's efforts and long history of working on behalf of farmers both in Nebraska and across the country.

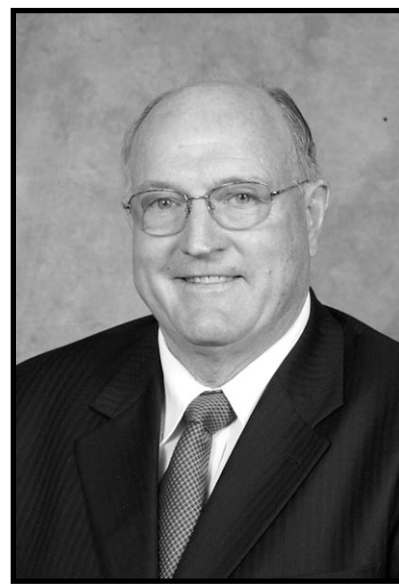

"Being involved in a national organization takes a great deal of time and commitment and we appreciate Bob's tireless efforts on behalf of farmers in Nebraska and across the country," said Alan Tiemann, chairman of the Nebraska Corn Board. "While Bob's time on NCGA's board is ending, he will continue to serve the farmers as part of the Nebraska Corn Board."

Brandon Hunnicutt, president of the Nebraska Corn Growers Association, said Dickey provided important leadership during his time on NCGA's board. "We want to thank Bob and all farmers who volunteer to help their state and national organizations," he said. "Their leadership is what keeps our industry moving forward and ensures that the positive work we do on the farm is recognized in Washington and elsewhere."

Dickey said the strong working relationship between state associations and NCGA brings strength in numbers. He noted that NCGA and state grower associations together serve more than 300,000 corn producers.

"NCGA is a premier grassroots organization whose mission is to create and increase opportunities for corn growers. It is gratifying to know that while we as farmers are working hard, NCGA is working hard to promote and protect corn growers interest," Dickey said.

In addition to his service with NCGA, Dickey previously served in leadership roles with the U.S.

Bob Dickey

Grains Council, including as chairman of the organization. In fact, he is one of only two people to have served as chairman of both the NCGA and the Council.

Dickey previously served as a state senator in the Nebraska Legislature, and is a member of the Nebraska Cattlemen's Association, Nebraska Pork Producers Association, Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation and the American Legion. He is active in church, school and community affairs and is a past member of the Laurel-Concord School Board. He and his wife, Mary, are the parents of three children.

The Nebraska Corn Board is a self-help program, funded and managed by Nebraska corn farmers. Producers invest in the program at a rate of 1/4 of a cent per bushel of corn sold. Nebraska corn checkoff funds are invested in programs of market development, research and education. For more, go to www.NebraskaCorn.org.

The Nebraska Corn Growers Association is a grassroots commodity organization that works to enhance the profitability of corn producers. Now in its 37th year of service to its members, NeCGA has more than 2,000 dues paying members in Nebraska. NeCGA is affiliated with the NCGA, which has more than 35,000 dues paying members nationwide. More information can be found at www.NeCGA.org.

Weeks packed with activities

Today is the Big Farmer's 80th birthday, which we celebrated ten days ago. He has a double cousin in Oregon and they have been reminiscing about life that long ago. One of the things they both remember is the making of sorghum syrup at Apex farm. There was a big iron pot which sat on an outdoor fire and the sorghum was cooked in it. Mike also remembers that his grandfather, who lived in Hoskins with his aunt Elsie, would sometimes walk to their place, a total of five miles, and that he always had lemon drops in his pants pocket. Stan says grandpa walked to their house at Stanton, too, and that would have been twelve miles!

If we could have packed any more into the last two weeks, I don't think I would have survived. I made a large apple crisp for the Habitat volunteers, and a big batch of taverns. Then, Mary Anna went to lunch with friends and I went to the Student Union to give blood. They had a huge blood drive on campus for Homecoming week, and the students really turned out. They were giving red shirts away that said "I bleed Husker Red."

We both headed to Old Chicago about 4 p.m., where BryanLGH alumni meet once a month for socialization. Mary Anna left on Wednesday morning, and it seemed very quiet here. On Thursday morning, we usually go to the old folk's Bible study at church, picking up my 94 year old mom on the way. That afternoon, I was at the Aldrich house and did not have any guests, which was a blessing because I enjoyed the solitude and got a bunch of thank you notes written.

And that night, it was off to Norris HS to watch the Wizard of Oz. Randa did not get the coveted part of Dorothy, but she did have a great singing part, and her dad came up from Kansas City to watch. He had been the scarecrow twenty plus years ago. This version actually had folks flying! It was great!

On Friday eve, I headed to Seward for the football game. It seemed a bit strange without Thomas on the field, but I was there for the band's halftime show, and the drum line performance, which features Alex.

And on Saturday, I tailgated with friends from Randolph and went to that football game. Lackluster was the correct word. And our seats were way up in the old part of the west stadium, with many steps and ramps. It was a good view, but we didn't like what we saw!

We made it to the late service on Sunday, out to lunch with the Randolph folks, and then Mike napped while I did the diabetes walk at Holmes Lake. Last night, Ann called to say we have a new great nephew, Brandon, who is our nephew David's baby. He could have waited one more day, and shared his birthday with his great uncle Mike!

Every week is Farm Safety Week

Well, it looks like the crop's ready to harvest. The crops are all physiologically mature except possibly some small areas that were replanted after the early rains. After a little bit of end row work and tuning up the combines, on Monday many area farmers decided to get out and get serious about harvest.

Last week was Farm Safety Week but now that harvest is under way both farmers and other drivers need to be especially aware of farm vehicles on our roads. Farm equipment keeps getting bigger, and takes up more space on our area highways and roads. As you come up on a piece of farm machinery, give yourself enough time and space to get around it safely.

Farming ranks behind mining with the second highest number of disabling and fatal incidents annually. This harvest season, farmers should also remember to follow basic safety rules which could save lives.

We all know that farmers often will work for many hours, long into the night during harvest. While it is important to get in the crops, most farming accidents happen in the evening. Workers need to remember to rest, eat and take all needed medications so that they are alert and do not make simple mistakes that could have horrible consequences.

Working late also can have consequences because the sun sets sooner in the fall and darkness only increases the danger. Some of the most dangerous locations are on public roads. Use lighting, reflectors and slow-moving vehicle signs when driving farm equipment on the road. Warning flashers should be used whenever a machine is operating or being driven on rural roads both day and night.

Machine operators should always be aware of their surroundings and have a spotter when backing up, but these precautions are even more important at night. Always alert people where harvesting equipment will be used and avoid altering field harvesting plans without notifying others.

Reading and following manufacturers' operation and maintenance recommendations also is important. Always lower the combine header to the ground, turn off the engine and remove the keys before performing any service to the machine. Never clear clogged equipment with the machine running. Always use approved support devices when working beneath headers or truck beds to ensure they will not accidentally fall down. If machines must be serviced in the field, take the time to clear debris and dust from all steps and platforms and wear shoes with solid, slip-resistant tread.

Whether you are driving a farm vehicle or are a regular motorist, use your signal lights to give plenty of warning about your intentions, always drive defensively and anticipate what may happen, especially at this time of the year.

Wayne, Nebraska
September 21, 2010

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:15 a.m. on Tuesday, September 21, 2010 in the upstairs conference room of the Courthouse.

Roll call was answered by Chairman Rabe, Members Wurdeman and Burbach, and Clerk Finn.

Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on September 9, 2010.

A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted in the meeting room and accessible to the public.

The agenda was approved.
The minutes of the September 7, 2010, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

To be eligible for Federal-aid transportation project funds the county must have a full-time public employee on staff that has completed training to serve as a Responsible Charge (RC). Wayne County does not currently have an RC on staff. The City of Wayne is willing to provide the services of Joel Hansen as RC until the county has someone trained.

Motion by Wurdeman, second by Burbach, to approve the Interlocal Agreement stating the City of Wayne agrees to provide the services of an employee to act as a RC to Wayne County. Roll call vote: Wurdeman-aye, Burbach-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

Motion by Burbach, second by Wurdeman, to approve Resolution No. 10-23. Roll call vote: Wurdeman-aye, Burbach-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

Resolution No. 10-23: WHEREAS, the City of Wayne has a full-time public employee on staff, who is fully qualified and has time and interest in serving as "Responsible Charge"; and

WHEREAS, Wayne County has requested to enter into the Nebraska Local Public Agency Interlocal Cooperation Act Agreement with the City of Wayne for the services of a qualified "Responsible Charge" (RC) for Federal-Aid projects; and

WHEREAS, the City of Wayne and Wayne County have agreed on the terms and conditions of said Interlocal Cooperative Agreement as submitted.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners that James Rabe is hereby authorized to sign on behalf of Wayne County, the Receiving Public Entity, the Nebraska Local Public Agency Interlocal Cooperation Act Agreement for Federal-Aid projects.

Motion by Wurdeman, second by Burbach to approve Resolution No. 10-24. Roll call vote: Wurdeman-aye, Burbach-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

Resolution No. 10-24: Whereas: the City of Wayne has a full-time public full-time public employee on staff, or has obtained the services of a full-time public employee (an interlocal cooperation agreement, if applicable, is attached) who is fully qualified and has the time and interest in serving as a "Responsible Charge" (RC) for this project. The designated RC will be in day-to-day responsible charge of all aspects of the project, from planning through post-construction activities, with the express purpose of doing all things necessary for the project to remain eligible for federal-aid transportation project funding; and

Whereas: the RC will ensure that, at a minimum, (1) the project receives independent and careful development, supervision and inspection, (2) the project is constructed in compliance with the plans and specifications, (3) all aspects of the project, from planning through construction activities, including all environmental commitments, remain eligible for federal funding, and (4) decisions made and actions taken for the project have adequate supporting documentation filed in an organized fashion.

For purposes of this resolution, the following definitions will apply:
Fully qualified means a person who has satisfactorily completed all applicable Nebraska Department of Roads (NDOR) training courses and who has met the other requirements necessary to be included on the NDOR list of qualified Local Public Agency (LPA) RCs.

Full-time public employee means a public employee who meets all the requirements and is afforded all the benefits of full-time employees as that phrase is applied to other employees of the employing public entity. A person is not a full-time public employee if that person provides outside private consulting services, or is employed by any private entity, unless that person can prove to NDOR in advance, that employee's non-public employment is in a field unrelated to any aspect of the project for which federal aid is sought.

Public employee means a person who is employed solely by a county, a municipality, a political subdivision; a Native American tribe; a school district; another entity that is either designated by statute as public or quasi-public; or an entity included on the list of entities determined by the NDOR, and approved by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), as fulfilling public or quasi-public functions.

Responsible charge means the public employee who is fully empowered by the LPA and has actual day-to-day working knowledge and responsibility for all decisions related to all aspects of the federal-aid project from planning through construction project activities, including all environmental commitments. The RC is the day-to-day project manager, and the LPA's point-of-contact for the project. Responsible charge does not mean merely delegating the various tasks; it means active day-to-day involvement in identifying issues, investigating options, working directly with stakeholders, making decisions, and actively monitoring project construction. It is understood that the RC may delegate or contract certain technical tasks associated with the project so long as the RC actively manages and represents the owner's interests in the delegated technical tasks.

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved: by Wayne County that Joel Hansen is hereby designated as Responsible Charge (RC) for pre-construction and construction phases, in accordance with the Project Program Agreement previously executed the NDOR LPA Guidelines Manual for Federal-aid Projects, and all Federal, State and local laws, rules, regulations, policies and guidelines for the Federal-aid transportation projects.

Wayne County assures and agrees that:

- 1) It has authorized and fully empowered the RC to be in day-to-day responsible charge of the subject federal-aid project; this does not mean merely supervising, overseeing or delegating the various tasks, it means active day-to-day involvement in the project including identifying issues, investigating options, working directly with stakeholders, and decision-making.
- 2) The RC is a full-time public employee.
- 3) The RC is fully qualified and has successfully completed required training to serve as a RC.
- 4) It will allow the RC to spend all time reasonably necessary to properly discharge all duties associated with the project, including ensuring that all aspects of the project, from planning through post-construction activities, remain eligible for federal-aid highway project funding.
- 5) It will not assign other duties to the RC that would affect his or her ability to properly carry out the duties set out in this agreement.
- 6) It will provide necessary office space, materials and administrative support for the RC.
- 7) It will cooperate with, support and not unreasonably interfere with the day-to-day control of the RC concerning the acts necessary for making the project eligible for federal funding.
- 8) It will take all necessary actions and make its best good faith efforts to comply and assist the RC in complying with all federal and state requirements and policies applicable to federal-aid transportation projects, including, but not limited to, all applicable requirements of 23 CFR 635.105.
- 9) It will take all necessary actions and make its best good faith efforts to ensure that the RC's work on the project would be deemed to meet the same standards that the Nebraska Department of Roads must meet under 23 CFR 635.105.
- 10) It will comply with the conflict-of-interest requirements of 23 CFR 1.33.
- 11) It will notify NDOR immediately in the event the designated RC(s) will no longer be assigned to the project. A supplemental agreement designating a replacement RC may be required by NDOR.
- 12) It is ultimately responsible for complying with all federal and state requirements and policies applicable to federal-aid highway projects. This includes meeting all post-construction environmental commitments. The LPA understands that failure to meet any eligibility requirements for federal funding may result in the loss of all Federal funding for the project. In the event that the acts or omissions of RC, the LPA or its agents or representatives result in a finding that a project is ineligible for Federal funding, the LPA will be required to repay NDOR some or all previously paid Federal funds and any costs or expenses NDOR has incurred for the project, including but not limited to, those costs for the RC.

Wayne County understands that the following are the duties of the RC:

- a) Serve as the LPA's contact for issues or inquiries for Federal-aid projects assigned by the LPA;

- b) Ensure that all applicable Federal, State and local laws, rules, regulations, policies and guidelines are followed during the development and construction of the project;
- c) Know and follow the NDOR LPA Guidelines Manual for Federal-aid Projects;
- d) Have active day-to-day involvement in identifying issues, investigating options, working directly with stakeholders, and decision-making;
- e) Ensure that the project plans and specifications are sealed, signed and dated by a professional engineer licensed in the State of Nebraska, and that estimates have been prepared and the construction has been observed by a professional engineer licensed in the State of Nebraska or a person under the direct supervision of a professional engineer licensed in the State of Nebraska (reference Neb. Rev. Stat. § 81-3445);
- f) Competently manage and coordinate the project day-to-day operations, including all project-related decisions, on behalf of the LPA, which includes the LPA's governing body, staff and any extended staff dedicated to the project such as consulting engineers;
- g) Ensure that project documents are thoroughly checked, reviewed and have had quality control measures applied, prior to submitting to NDOR and/or FHWA;
- h) Monitor the progress and schedule of the project and be responsible for ensuring that the project is completed on time in accordance with established milestone dates;
- i) Properly serve as the owner's representative, and to visit the project site during construction on a frequency commensurate with the magnitude and complexity of the project;
- j) Ensure that proper construction management processes have been developed and implemented for the project;
- k) Serve as a steward of the public funds, i.e. ensure that the public gets what it is paying for;
- l) Attend all required training including the annual workshop; and
- m) Fulfill continuing education requirements as specified in the NDOR LPA Guidelines Manual for Federal-aid Projects. ##

Jan Hammer holds her Advanced Communicator Bronze Award from Toastmasters International.

Advanced Communication Awards earned by local Toastmasters

Jan Hammer and Cyndi Hanson both received their Advanced Toastmaster Bronze Awards from Toastmasters International in September. The award is given after completion of two Advanced Communication and Leadership Program manuals.

Jan Hammer, an employee of Pender Community Hospital, was surprised and pleased to see her supervisor posted the letter he received from Toastmasters International stating she had received her Advanced Communication Bronze Award. Jan said, "I've been getting lots of questions about the Toastmaster program."

Toastmasters offers a proven - and enjoyable - way to practice and master communication and leadership skills. The public is welcome to observe local Toastmasters in action at Tacos & More in Wayne at 7 a.m. on the first and third Thursday mornings of the month and at noon on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Wayne Toastmasters is also sponsoring "The Leadership Toolbox" on Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5 p.m. through Oct. 28. The session on Sept. 30 features "Effective Performance Evaluation," presented by Cyndi Hanson. The session on October 7 covers "Customer Satisfaction," led by Nancy Schultz. For more information, contact Darrell Miller at 375-4698.
