Wayne State volleyball team earns school's first-ever No. 1 ranking

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Decked out in gray practice T-shirts and black shorts, Monday's Wayne State volleyball practice looked and sounded like a typical afternoon workout session.

But this was something that has never been seen on the campus of Wayne State College before – a practice being conducted by the No. 1 team in the country. A team with such a lofty ranking had never called Rice Auditorium home before Monday afternoon, when the Wildcats moved to the top spot in the newest American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Div. II Top 25 coaches poll.

The Wildcats, who were No. 2 the previous week, received 29 of 32 first place votes in voting conducted by coaches from across the country, thanks to their win over then-No. 1 Minnesota Duluth Friday night. It's the first time that a Wildcat volleyball team has been ranked No. 1, and it's also the first time any of the teams that make up Wayne State athletics were recognized as the No. 1 team in NCAA Div. II.

While the move was expected after Friday's emotional four-set win, even after finding out they had moved up to No. 1, the moment had yet to really sink in for some of the players.

"It's pretty surreal," senior setter Diedra Artz said. "Coming into the season, we didn't think that it would happen right away, and we wanted to work up to that. But to get to that point now is amazing."

At the start of the year, the idea of Wayne State being the top-ranked team in the nation seemed a far-fetched vision. They started the year at No. 17, then dropped two spots even after going 4-0 at a season-opening tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

The following weekend, though, people began to take notice of the Wildcats. They beat three top-10 teams in two days at the Division II Premier Challenge in Denver, Colo., including wins over two teams picked by coaches to finish ahead of the Wildcats in the Northern Sun Conference.

After beating sixth ranked Saint Leo the first day, Wayne State rolled off back-to-back four-set wins over top-ranked and three-time defending national champion Concordia-St. Paul, and 10th-ranked Southwest Minnesota State to win the tournament championship. Suddenly, the Wildcats leaped from No. 19 to No. 7, then moved up to No. 3 after home wins over Winona State and Upper Iowa.

"When I came here my freshman year, we were just cracking the top 25," senior middle blocker Jennifer Hefner said. "It's amazing how much this program has changed, so to be No. 1 now is amazing."

The wins in Colorado helped the Wildcats serve notice, but it also started to make them more the hunted than the hunter role they were accustomed to.

"After we beat those teams in Colorado, we've kind of had a target on our back, but we just have to keep playing," Hefner said. "We're used to playing tough teams all the time in this conference and we know anyone can win, so we have to keep working."

Wayne State beat No. 10 Nebraska-Kearney in a Sept. 21 match at Rice Auditorium, playing in front of the largest crowd in team history. That five-set thriller, along with road wins at Northern State and University of Mary, allowed for a promotion to No. 2.

With thoughts of a potential No. 1 vs. No. 2 matchup on the horizon, Wayne State needed to take care of business at Augustana. Their effective three-game sweep set up Friday's first-

City approves letter of intent for purchase of wind energy

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Wind power could be coming to Wayne soon after the Wayne City Council accepted a letter of intent from a company looking to build two wind turbines west of town.

RENAIS Energy LLC presented the letter of intent for a power purchase agreement that the Council approved on a 7-0 vote Tuesday evening. A final agreement is expected to be presented at the board's Oct. 19 meeting, and construction of two 1-megawatt towers could begin soon after.

Dave Tietgen, a Wayne native who is working with Mike Garvin on the project, said the project would help with energy costs for the community and bring wind energy to Northeast Nebraska.

"We felt this would be a great project for the area, specifically Wayne, and we will probably do more projects as time goes on," Tietgen said after the meeting.

The towers would be built on property one mile west of Wayne and just north of Highway 35 on privately-owned land that would be leased for the project. Tietgen said the company will need to address any zoning changes that need to be made, and he expected those issues to be taken care of in a short amount of time.

Work needs to begin yet this year on the project to take advantage of tax credits that have yet to be extended by President Barack Obama. Tietgen said he hoped construction could begin sometime in November, with the project's projected completion time frame to be sometime in late spring or early summer 2011.

The Council took a second look at its 2010-11 budget and passed an amendment that would provide for a one-percent cost of living increase for all city employees, adding a little more than $38,000 to the budget.

Board members expressed concern at amending the budget, but Councilman Doug Sturm felt it was important to give employees of the city a cost of living raise.

Board member Brian Frevert said he wasn't thrilled with the idea of reopening the budget once it had been passed.

"I think, when we set the budget and go to all that work, I'm under the impression that it's set," he said. "What else is going to be brought up a second or third time?"

Although city finance director Nancy Braden told the council that an option with no increase in the budget was requested by Mayor Lois Shelton, Sturm felt the increase should have been in the budget in the first place.

"I think we did it the wrong way," he said. "I was under the opinion that the money wasn't there (for raises), and then as we started cutting things and found money there, then it was available."

Prevert said he wasn't against giving employees the raises, but didn't think it was right to go back and amend the budget.

Ultimately, the board voted 5-2 to add the cost of living increase, with board members Jon Haase and Kathy Berry voting against the raises.

Among other action before the Council:

- heard updates on construction projects, including the airport runway resurfacing, downtown sidewalk reconstruction and the wastewater and well treatment facility.

- approved ordinances requiring property owners to trim vegetation in the public right-of-way in alleys.

City Council Meetings

Regular City Council meetings are at 5:30 pm on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at Third and Pearl Streets.

What's on the City of Wayne Website?

"Energy Efficiency Programs and Incentives" You can click on this under the "News and announcements" section. It will show you what financial incentives are available if you do energy savings projects at your home and take you to the NPPD Apogee site where you can enter data about your home and evaluate its energy efficiency. What is Happening at the Airport and Waste Water Treatment Plant?

Airport: The long north/south runway had the top of the old asphalt ground off and will have 6 inches of new concrete poured on top next week. The NE/SW runway and taxi ways will have the asphalt removed next spring and replaced with concrete. Right now the only runway open is the grass runway. Total cost is $4.2 million with $170,000 paid by the City of Wayne. Federal and state aviation gas tax funding is paying for the rest.

Waste Water Treatment Plant: The hole has been dug for the 55'x90' Aquarius underground concrete tanks that will process the waste water. Twenty four concrete tanks are being formed up and concrete will be poured to build them before winter. We will continue to use the existing office building and lab with the new plant. There will be some big dirt piles sitting at the site over winter. The rest of the new plant will be completed next summer and operating by August.

Total cost of the new plant and demolition of most of the old plant and lagoon is $7 million with $6,235,000 paid by the city rate payers and $765,000 paid through federal stimulus funding and a $515,000 EPA demonstration grant for the new low energy technology used by the Aquarius system.

Down Town Sidewalk Project?

First, Second and Third Streets down town will have new sidewalks before winter. The total cost of this project is about $600,000 with the building owners paying $25 per foot of frontage and the city cost sharing the remainder.

Phase II Trail?

This project has been taken over by the Nebraska Department of Roads and is expected to be bid out this winter for construction in 2011. Total cost is estimated to be $600,000 with $387,000 paid by the Nebraska Department of Roads Transportation Enhancement Funds, $45,000 paid by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and $25,000 paid by Lower Elkhorn NRD.

October 2010 EnergyWise Tip: LED vs. CFL

As the days of the standard incandescent light bulb grow dimmer, many are faced with the dilemma of what to screw into the socket next.

In late 2007, Congress passed a law to begin the phase-out of incandescent bulbs beginning with the 100-watt in 2012 and ending in 2014 with the 40-watt. All light bulbs must use 25 percent to 30 percent less electricity by 2014. By 2020, bulbs must be 70 percent more efficient than they are today.

While the technology of compact fluorescent lamps (CFLs) has been with us for nearly 35 years, recent improvements in light-emitting diodes (LEDs) have many people considering them as an option for home use.

Before you try to figure out which bulb you want to buy, consider what you want to accomplish with that light. Here are a few points to consider:

Lumens

"Lumens" is the term used to express brightness or how much light a bulb produces. A 40-watt incandescent generates about 450 lumens. Depending on the brand, 9 to 13-watt CFL delivers the same amount of light, while a comparable LED uses 5 watts. When you start considering the ratio of power input to light output, it becomes easy to recognize that CFLs are about three to four times and LEDs are around 10 times more efficient at converting electricity to light than the incandescents. While it is currently difficult and costly to find LEDs to replace higher wattage lamps, more and more options are becoming available every day.

Lifespan

It seems like it was just yesterday that you just replaced that 100-watt bulb in that fixture way up on the ceiling. Considering most 40-watt incandescents are rated for only 1,000 hours of operation, you probably did. Try a CFL next time. To be EnergyStar approved, they must have a rating of 8,000 hours or more. Or for an even longer life lamp, consider LEDs. They are rated for 25,000 to 100,000 hours.

Bulb price

Remember when you could pick up a 4-pack of incandescent bulbs for $1? Well, it might be awhile until you find that good of a bargain on CFLs, many retailers offer them at a cost of less than $2 per lamp. If you are committed to getting an LED, be prepared to spend quite a bit more. The previously discussed LED that is comparable to a 40-watt incandescent will run around $20.

Cost to operate

Electricity is not getting any cheaper. That is why efficiency makes sense. If we compare our choices for the 40-watt incandescent over 50,000 hours (LED lifetime) we get some shocking results. Over this time period, we would have to replace that incandescent 50 times. And at 10 cents per kilowatt-hour, it would cost us $200 to operate. Assuming the CFL is rated at 10,000 hours, we would only replace it five times and pay only $65 for the energy.

Finally, we would see that the LED did not require replacement and used $25 worth of electricity.

Though these four points cover some of the most important considerations on lighting choice, other factors may also weigh on which lamp you ultimately purchase. In the end, whether you go with CFL or LED, either choice puts you a step further towards being EnergyWise.

Broadband Internet Makes Money

Mike Meister

The Internet is no longer a luxury.

High quality, affordable broadband Internet was never given a chance in Nebraska. In 2005 Dave Heineman supported corporate Telecom lobbyists. They gave away near monopolies in urban areas and denied access to rural Nebraska.

Economists are unified on the economic power that the Internet provides. Individual jobs or entire businesses can be run from home saving gas, time, and wear and tear on cars. Businesses save money on utilities. Fewer people need to move out of state to pursue employment opportunities.

We need to rethink the way we do broadband Internet. By the FCC's standards, 33 counties in Nebraska are "unserved" by telecommunications companies. 35% of Nebraska does not have affordable access to the necessary internet quality to run a business from home.

Communities should decide what is important to them, not the accounting department of a global telecom.

Vote Mike Meister for Governor, I will fight for high quality, affordable broadband internet access. Our economic future depends on it.

Paving the way

Construction crews were busy with repaving of Highway 35 west of Wayne last week. The project has been ongoing for the past couple of weeks and should be completed soon, providing a smooth ride between Wayne and the Highway 35/98 intersection.

Wayne High band set to perform in three contests during October

The Pierce Marching Band Contest will be held Saturday, Oct. 9 at Pierce High School. The Wayne High School "Pride of the Blue Devils" Marching Band performs at 4 p.m.

Departure time from Wayne High School to Pierce, is 1 p.m. Buses load at 12:45 p.m. The Blue Devil Drumline then performs on the track after the last band is done performing at 5:15 p.m. The Awards Ceremony will be after the Wayne and Pierce drumlines are done performing.

On Saturday, Oct. 16 the Wayne High band will take part in the Cavalcade of Bands marching competition on Cunningham Field at Wayne State College.

Band students are asked to arrive at the Wayne State parking lot by 4:30 p.m. to prepare for the competition. Wayne High is scheduled to perform at 5:45 p.m.

Other schools taking part in the competition include Elkhorn Valley High School, Ponca Schools, O'Neill High School and South Sioux City High School.

The awards ceremony for this competition is set for 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Oct. 23, the Wayne High Marching Band travels to Lincoln to participate in the NSBA State Marching Contest held at Seacrest Field.

The Blue Devil Marching Band performs at 5:30 p.m. with the Awards Ceremony being held at 6:30. Departure time from the high school is 12:45 p.m. with the buses being loaded at 12:30.

Adult bus sponsors are needed for this trip to and from Lincoln. Anyone who would like to volunteer to be a bus sponsor or having any questions, is asked to call Mr. Weber at the high school or Peg Webster.

Team sees what rollover looks like

The Wellness Team from Providence Medical Center hosted a noon time "Brown Bag" event on Thursday, Sept. 30, which included Trooper Price from the Nebraska State Patrol with his Rollover Simulator presentation.

He demonstrated very vividly the importance of using a seat belt in all vehicles to avoid the higher risk of serious injury when not restrained.

Trooper Price stated "You have a 50 percent greater chance of surviving a motor vehicle accident by simply buckling your seat belt."

The Wellness Team wanted to bring in this display to encourage employees to be safe and consistent role models by their actions with using a seat belt.

"Seeing the simulation of the dummy body being so easily ejected

Wren's Eagle Scout project done in honor of member of 189th

The Eagle Scout project completed by Mason Wren was dedicated Saturday at the Wayne National Guard Armory.

Wren worked to construct a bench in front of the Armory building and dedicated it to Joshua Ford, a member of the 189th Transportation Unit of the Nebraska National Guard, who was killed in Iraq during his tour of duty.

Ford's father, Lonnie, and his wife, Linda, were on hand for the dedication ceremony and told the members of the Guard unit who were on hand that they were all a part of Josh's family.

The construction of the bench was among the final steps Wren must take before earning the Eagle Scout, the highest honor bestowed on a Boy Scout.

Mason is the son of Jon and Kari Wren of Wayne.

Fire Patrol's history in Wayne dates back almost 50 years

In the early 1960's, then Wayne Fire Chief Lee Swinney attended State Fire School and learned of a program being offered in Columbus to promote fire safety to young children.

Nearly 50 years later, the program is still going strong in Wayne, and one of the original teachers is still a part of the program.

"When Lee (Swinney) came back to our department, he asked Clete Sharer and me to start a program here in Wayne like the one offered in Columbus," said Bill Kugler, who continues to take part in the classes.

The three men recently gathered to reminisce about the program and the changes that have taken place during its history.

They noted that, in the beginning, the classes were offered to fifth-grade students in the Wayne and Carroll schools. They were held once a month through the school year, and classes focused on a different fire prevention topic each month.

Currently, the classes are offered to fourth-grade students at Wayne Elementary and St. Mary's Catholic School and are offered each Monday during September and October. The classes traditionally end with a graduation ceremony and picnic lunch, as well as rides on the fire trucks.

Kugler has teamed with Art Barker for a number of years to teach fire knowledge and fire prevention skills to the students. Additionally, members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department take turns with the instruction of the young people.

"If we save even one life through our efforts, it is worth it," Kugler said.

Wayne State College is named Groundwater Guardian site

Wayne State College was recently named a 2010 Groundwater Guardian Green Site by The Groundwater Foundation in recognition of its groundwater and environmental stewardship.

The college earned this exclusive designation based on their current practices related to water use, pesticide and fertilizer management, and pollution prevention. They are the third Green Site within the City of Wayne, joining Bressler Park and the Summer Sports Complex.

Groundwater Guardian Green Sites are places with a lot of green space - like golf courses; ball fields; educational campuses; and residential, recreational, and office parks - that implement groundwater and surface water-friendly practices to maintain the site. To earn the exclusive Groundwater Guardian Green Site designation, site managers complete a simple application that uniformly evaluates and documents their site's groundwater-friendly practices.

The Green Site program began in 2007 to recognize good stewards of groundwater by encouraging managers of highly-managed green spaces to implement, measure, and document their groundwater-friendly practices.

Wayne State College, with an enrollment of nearly 3,600, is located on 128 acres on the north side of Wayne. It includes 22 total buildings, seven of which are residence halls.

Wayne State Arboretum/Landscape Manager Kim Schramm said, "Wayne State College is honored to be named a Groundwater Guardian Green Site and we are proud of our efforts to protect the groundwater of northeast Nebraska."

Potential sites are encouraged to get involved in the Groundwater Guardian Green Site program by downloading the 2010 program application at www.groundwater.org/gg/greensites.html, e-mailing guardian@groundwater.org, or calling (800) 858-4844.

Jaycees' fall craft festival set for Oct. 23-24

The Wayne County Jaycees are working on plans for the fourth annual Fall Craft and Gift Festival.

The festival is slated to take place Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22-23 at the National Guard Armory in Wayne. Hours Friday will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

All area crafters, quilters, artists and home-based businesses are invited to display products during this two-day event. Cost for hosting a display booth is $30 per exhibitor, and tables will be provided upon request.

An admission fee of one canned or boxed food item will be collected at the door. Items will be delivered to the Wayne State College Food Pantry and most needed are canned fruits, meats and soups as well as boxed meals. A $1 admission fee will be charged to those without a food pantry item.

All display fee and admission fee proceeds will be used to support projects hosted by the Jaycees across Wayne County.

Interested exhibitors are asked to contact Festival chairperson Trisha Hansen at (402) 518-0675 to reserve a booth. All display areas will be assigned on a first-come, first-serve basis.

ever matchup in Rice Auditorium of the top two teams in the nation.

Last weekend's wins over No. 2 Duluth and Bemidji State made the promotion to No. 1 a formality confirmed by the AVCA coaches Monday afternoon. But as nice as the move up to the top of the charts is, coach Scott Kneif is quick to point out that a lot of volleyball remains to be played.

"It's pretty exciting, and it's something our program has been working toward the last five or six years," he said. "But it's also the middle of the season and there is a long way to go, so it's an exciting moment for the program."

The No. 1 ranking also adds to what is already an impressive resume for the sixth-year head coach, who has taken the Wildcats to the NCAA tournament each year during his tenure at Wayne State.

Last year, the Wildcats ended the season ranked No. 18, and the 29 wins were the second highest in team history. The team reached the regional semifinals before losing to eventual champion Concordia-St. Paul.

This year, almost all of the players who were a part of that team returned, and the team felt slighted by coaches in the Northern Sun Conference when they were picked to finish fourth.

Certainly, they aren't playing like the fourth best team anywhere right now, and Kneif - who has been sought after at the Div. I level for head and assistant jobs in recent years - said he feels fortunate to have an opportunity to work with this team.

"They work so hard and they really deserve (the No. 1 ranking)," he said. "I've been really fortunate here to have great assistant coaches and great athletes, and I also have a great support staff here. Wayne State is a great place to be, and this is a great time for our program."

And while they took a moment to bask in the glow of being the No. 1 team in NCAA Div. II, they know that the road is still a long one, and they don't have the comfort of being able to rest on their laurels.

"We talk a lot about how we don't get a weekend off in this conference," Artz said. "We've finally got a chance to get a full week of practice in this week and work on some things we needed on, but we know there's some great competition still."

"The challenge for us is to continue to battle against these good teams, so there isn't much time to enjoy (the No. 1 ranking)," Hefner added.

The Wildcats hit the road this weekend for two tough Northern Sun Conference road games. On Friday, they play at No. 16 Minnesota State at 7 p.m., then follow that with a visit to third-ranked Southwest Minnesota State for a 3 p.m. battle Saturday.

"We know that rankings are just rankings, so this weekend isn't going to be any different," Kneif insisted. "Mankato and Southwest are both tough places to play, and it's going to be a tough weekend and we know that. But we're excited about the challenge."

County board sets final tax rates for county at meeting

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners gave their approval Tuesday to the final tax rates for all governing entities within the county.

Half of the 16 entities with tax asking in the county will have higher tax rates for the 2010-11 fiscal year. The biggest jump comes from the Winside school district, whose tax rates are going up more than six cents per $100 of valuation, from just over $1.05 to more than $1.11. All three school districts in Wayne County will have higher tax rates. Wakefield's rises from 1.089910 to $1.108850, while Wayne's moves up by a small fraction of a penny, from $1.186237 to $1.186842.

The county's tax rate is up just under two cents to 35.753 cents. The city of Wayne saw a decrease of two-hundredths of a cent, while the village of Hoskins' rate drops very little, from 49.9973 to 49.9967 cents. Carroll's tax rate moves up by almost five cents to 42.6199 cents per $100 of valuation. In other action, the board: - approved the construction of Timmer dam, located southeast of Beverly Hills Estates, which is south and west of Hoskins. - discussed the continuation of health insurance coverage for children of county employees over the age of 30, which is required by Nebraska law LB551. - approved the development permit and application for the Carroll 2010 Lagoon Expansion project.

Changes are taking place at Wayne Transfer Station

Several changes have taken place in recent weeks with local recycling efforts, while many of the services offered continue as usual.

As of Sept. 1, Gill Hauling of Jackson has been leasing the Transfer Station building from the City of Wayne.

Joe Kvidera serves as Transfer Station manager and is usually at the Transfer Station during the week to accept both garbage and recycled materials, as well as answer questions from customers.

Hours of operation at the station continue as before. They are Monday from 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m.; Friday from 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m.-12 p.m.

Recyclable items accepted at the transfer station include cardboard, steel cans and all plastics except plastic bags, toys and food trays.

Glass bottles are now being accepted at the facility, as is window glass that has been removed from its casing.

"Glass is very hard to recycle and we are working on finding sources that will accept the glass, Kvidera said.

Cardboard and plastics that have been brought to the Transfer Station are shipped to markets in Sioux Falls, S.D., or Omaha. Glass is sent to Sioux Falls.

Kvidera said markets change, but indicated that the recycling market is growing, especially in the Midwest.

He said that the city of Wayne "does a good job of recycling, but more can be done."

During the month of September, he estimated that two 40-cubic yard dumpsters were filled with plastics and steel cans.

The Wayne Boy Scouts continue to collect newspaper and other types of paper and aluminum cans at the Transfer Station location during regular hours of operation.

In addition to recycled materials, Gill Hauling is accepting garbage at the Transfer Station. Rates charged are currently the same as those set by the city of Wayne.

All garbage collected at the Transfer Station is delivered to the landfill in Jackson.

Anyone with questions about recycling or services offered at the Transfer Station is asked to call (402) 375-1856.

Softball on a roll heading into districts

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

After losing an all-state pitcher and several key offensive and defensive cogs from a state runner-up team, it would have been easy for Wayne High softball coach Rob Sweetland to go into rebuilding mode with his program.

But, as the old saying goes, good programs don't rebuild, they just reload – and Wayne High has shown over the years that they are a very good softball program.

Need proof? Take a look at this year's team – a team that started with a humbling 8-0 drilling at the hands of two-time defending Class B champion Blair to kick off the 2010 fall campaign.

It was Wayne's first loss of the season. And, to this point, their only one.

Since that eye-opening defeat, the Blue Devils have rattled off 25 straight wins, a streak that is surprising to the longtime coach.

"I didn't think (Wayne could win 25 in a row), but it's a credit to what these girls have done," he said during practice before this week's C-3 district softball tournament at the Wayne Softball Complex.

"They've worked hard and pulled out a few close games along the way, and all of that builds confidence, so we're looking forward to the second season now," he said.

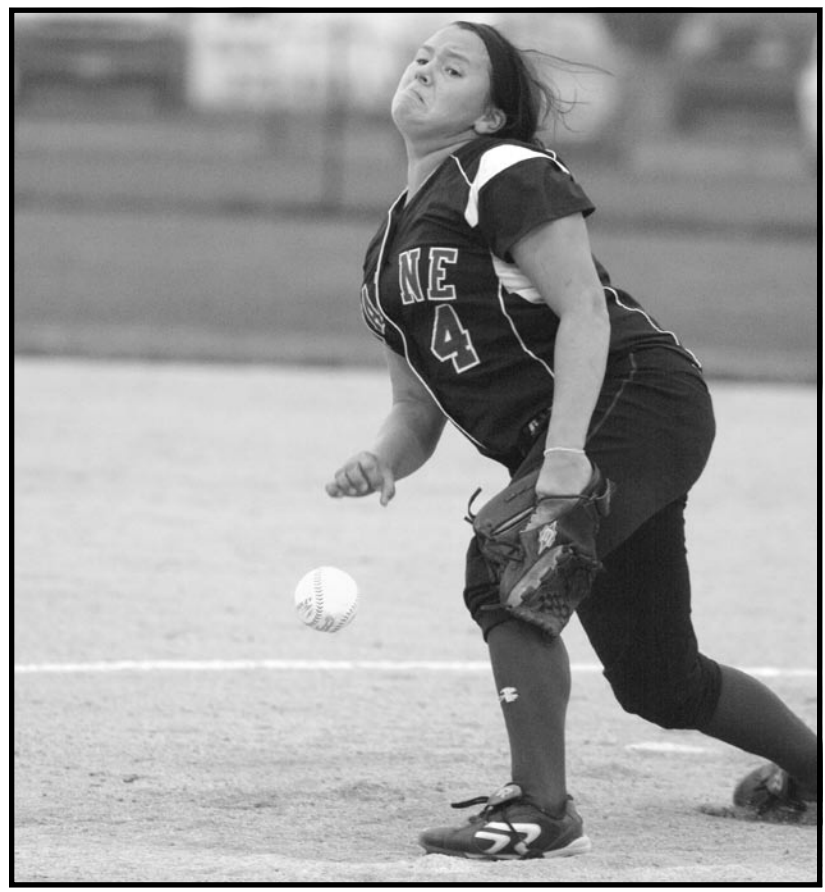

Last year, Cassy Miller was the No. 2 arm on the pitching staff, relieving then-senior starter Shannon Jarvi and getting a few games in of her own. This year, she has been called upon to take over as the staff ace, and she's done so in outstanding fashion.

In 21 games this year, Miller has an outstanding earned run average of 0.68. She has thrown 206 strikeouts in 123 innings pitched, and 16 of her 20 wins have come via shutout.

And when she shuts people out, she has not only kept them from coming home, but has kept them off the basepaths, period.

Heading into district play, Miller has tossed an amazing six no-hitters, one perfect game, and seven one-hit shutouts. She had four no-no's during the final

Junior pitcher Cassy Miller has thrown six no-hitters and a perfect game this year and is a 20-game winner for the Wayne High softball team, which is the top seed for this week's district tournament at the Wayne Softball Complex.

Wildcats playing at high level

What a crazy week it's been in our little corner of the sports world. Let's see if I can make sense of it all:

– Congratulations to the Wayne State volleyball team for achieving something no Wayne State team has done: earning the No. 1 ranking in Div. II.

This volleyball team simply outthrusts, outthinks and outplays anybody and everybody in its path. Even when losing the second set of its four-set win over Minnesota Duluth, at no time did this observer feel a sense of despair running through this team. The Wildcats are a team playing with a confidence level that has not been seen in these parts, at this level, for some time.

This is the second time this season Scott Kneifl's team has knocked the No. 1 team off its perch, and now they get to spend this week (and, we hope, several more after) at the top of the charts. They get a big test this weekend with games at No. 16 Mankato and No. 3 Southwest Minnesota State, a team they have already defeated once this season.

The funny thing about this team is the fact that, at the beginning of the season, coaches in the Northern Sun Conference picked them to finish fourth. With all the talent back from a team that had one of its best seasons ever in 2009, one would think that the coaches would know better than to diss this bunch of young ladies.

– After three disappointing performances, there are some in this community that are ready to write off Wayne High's chances for a spot in the C-1 football playoffs.

The loss to Boone Central was disappointing, and the defeat at Norfolk Catholic was not completely unexpected (although the 55-0 blowout was unsettling). As flat as the team played in Friday's homecoming loss to Battle Creek, it would be easy for some to think that this year's team is not going to make it to the postseason.

The Blue Devils have two very winnable games coming up the next two weeks, starting with Friday's game at Central City. A win over Madison guarantees the Blue Devils no worse than a .500 finish.

The season ends on the road at second-ranked Pierce, and The Bleacher Bum might be the only fan left in town who thinks Wayne can actually beat the Bluejays. At this point, I can't explain why or offer ideas on how the Blue Devils will get it done. Let's just say that I've got a feeling about these young men and what they are capable of doing, and if they take care of business the next two weeks, they might have a little surprise. . . .

– If you haven't been to a Wayne State rugby game yet this season, this Saturday's a great opportunity to see these teams knock heads. Playoff bids are on the line as Wayne State hosts South Dakota State, with the men at 2:30 p.m. and the women at 4 p.m.

Wayne State is going to be a host site for two rounds of the national playoffs next spring. A win for either team will ensure that The House of Pain will provide instant home-field advantage for the Wildcat ruggers. Admission is free, the Huskers are off and the Wildcats football team is on the road. Unless you're heading up to Minnesota to watch the volleyball team, you have no good reason to miss Saturday's doubleheader (unless there's a death in the family, of course).

No. 2 Wildcats knock off No. 1, set team record with 16-0 start

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The top two Div. II volleyball teams in the nation met in Wayne, America, and gave Wayne State fans plenty to cheer about.

Tali Fredrickson led three Wildcats in double figures with 20 kills, and the Wildcats held off a Minnesota Duluth rally in the final set to post a four set-win in a battle between the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the nation Friday at Rice Auditorium.

The rocking crowd of 1,202, the third-largest crowd in team history, watched as a net serve at match point gave the second-ranked Wildcats a 25-17, 23-25, 25-22, 25-21 win over the top-ranked Bulldogs.

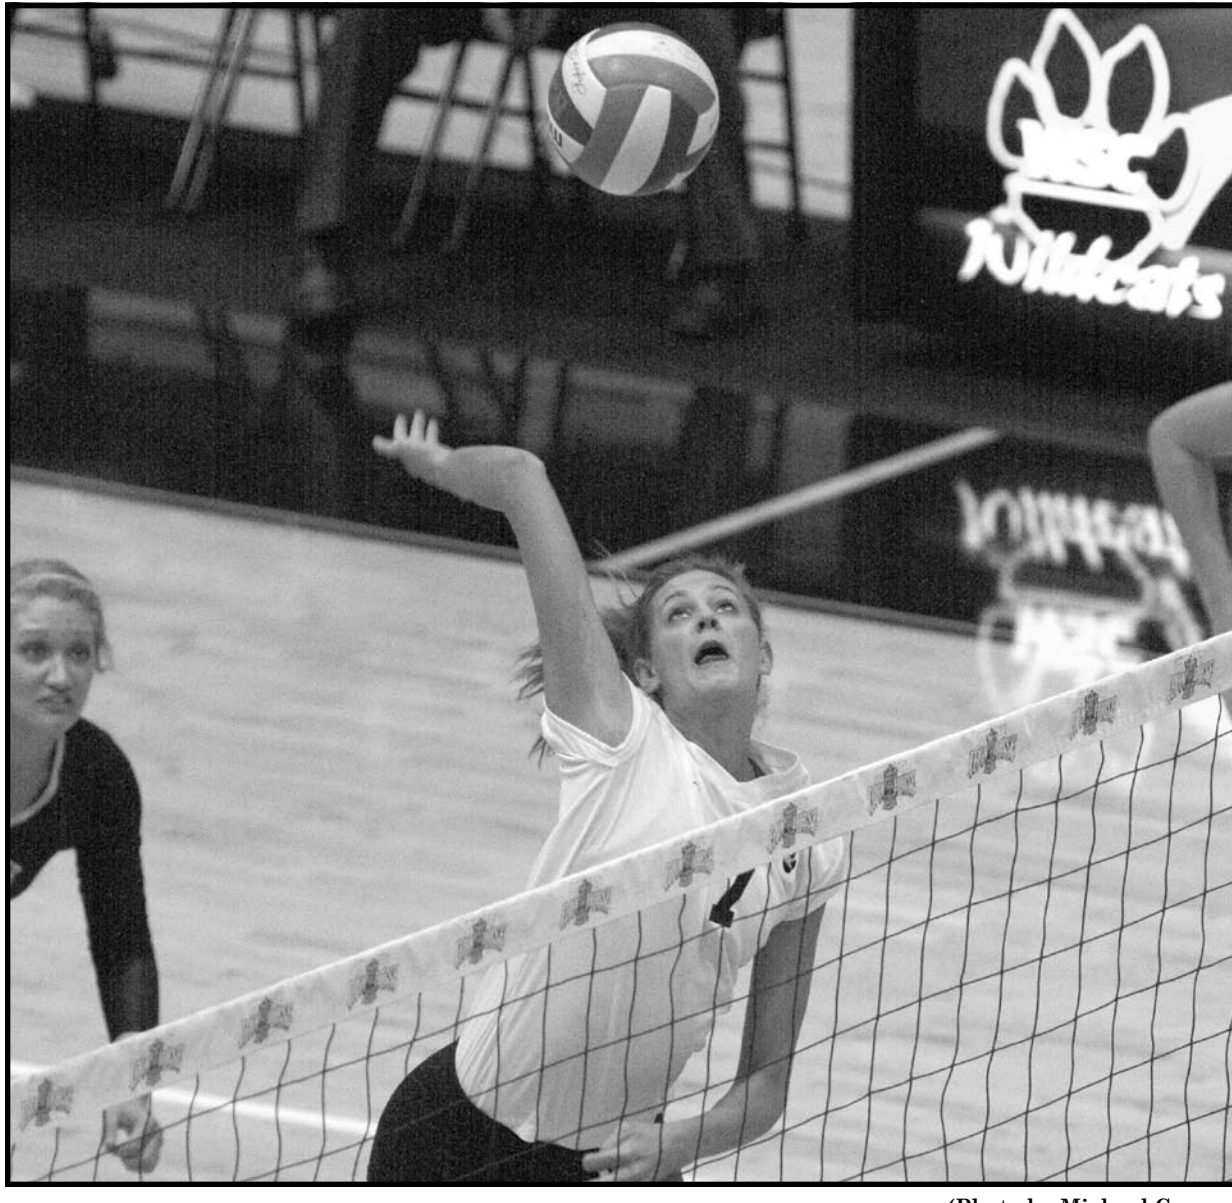

In a night where plenty of emotion fueled a team that has rocketed up the charts, the final outcome was of no surprise to an elated Scott Kneifl.

"Our kids stepped up to the challenge," the Wayne State coach said after his team knocked off a No. 1-ranked team for the second time this season. "I'm not surprised we won, to be honest with you. We have a nice team, and the kids really believe in themselves. We feel like we have a great team, and our players are close on and off the court and they are one when they're out there, and that makes a big difference."

Wayne State jumped out to a nice lead in the first set, led by kills from Mindy Moody and Jennifer Hefner. Tali Fredrickson recorded three kills in a back-and-forth stretch to keep Duluth from getting any closer than six points. Lea Hartigan's kill off a Diedra Artz set gave the Wildcats the first-set win.

Wayne State struggled some in the second set, but managed to get within 24-23 on kills by Artz and Fredrickson before Duluth tied the match on a Brenda Hansen cross-corner kill.

In the third set, both teams went back and forth before Wayne

State broke a 22-22 tie with a pair of Duluth hitting errors and a set-ending ace serve by Artz.

The two teams traded leads four times in the final set. Wayne State trailed 18-15 when Moody came through with a pair of kills and Artz added another to give Wayne State the lead for good at 19-18. Cori Hobbs recorded a kill to get Wayne State to match point, but Kate Lange held off the victory celebration with a kill. Lange's serve went into the net, sending the student section into a celebratory frenzy as they surrounded the players.

Beating the No. 1 team in the country was a moment Mindy Moody was still buzzing over after her team's victory.

"It's a great feeling," she said.

"We always felt we were among the top teams in the nation, and tonight we went out and proved it. We just came out and played our best, and it worked out for us."

Hefner, who had 12 kills and seven blocks in the match, was also excited.

"It's just cloud nine right now,"

Early run turns back Blue Devils

Take away the first nine minutes of Friday's homecoming game, and Wayne played nose-to-nose with No. 8 Battle Creek.

Unfortunately, the first part of the game was a struggle for the Blue Devils, and the visiting Braves took full advantage, racing to a 21-0 lead on their way to spoiling Wayne High's homecoming with a 27-6 defeat.

Coach Rich Rethwisch took the blame for the loss, which started, he said, with his instructions to his captains for the coin flip.

"I told my captains that if we win the toss to defer, and if we lose to take the ball," he said. "We ended up going against the wind, and I didn't talk to them about that option. It was just one of those things I took for granted."

The wind proved to be but a small problem compared to the one Battle Creek was posing. The Braves scored on their first possession, picked off a Gage Rethwisch pass to set up a second score, then added a third to make it 21-0 before the end of the first quarter.

"We gave up that first score, then we're kind of in a position where we pressed and lost our patience," he said. "Gage made a bad read and double-pumped on a quick screen, and the pass got batted up and they picked it off. They gave us a lot of trouble on the right side of our line."

The Blue Devils kept the Braves in check after that disastrous first quarter, allowing only a third-quarter touchdown. Wayne avoided the shutout when freshman quarterback Jalen Barry scored on a four-yard run in the final period.

Despite the team's third straight loss, Rethwisch saw some good things from his team, especially in the receiving corps.

"Trent Beza had a great game for us, and I was very proud of what he accomplished," he said. "(Joey) Lenihan also made some nice catches in traffic. Our offensive line

Blue Devil golfers claim district title, earn state bid

By KEVIN PETERSON

HARTINGTON – The Wayne girls golf team punched a ticket to next week's Class C State Golf Tournament by winning the C-2 District golf tournament Tuesday at the Hartington Golf Club.

The Blue Devils will make their first team trip to state since the 2006 team placed ninth out of 15 teams. That team was led by Jennifer Nolte with Sheree Kathol, Kourtney Schmale, Elizabeth Baier and Maddy Moser.

Wayne coach Josh Johnson watched his squad cruise to the district title in Hartington by 22 strokes over runner-up Crofton, 408-430. Battle Creek also earned a trip to State in the team format with a third place score of 437.

The Blue Devils had three medal winners, which were handed out to the top 10 individual scorers. Junior Brittney Peterson finished fourth with a 95 and will be making her third consecutive trip to state while fellow junior Burgandy Roberts placed eighth with a 101. Taylor Burke, also a junior, finished 10th with a 102. Katlin Potter carded a 110 and Hannah McCorkindale finished with a 122. Wayne fields all juniors in its varsity lineup.

Wakefield finished eighth in the tournament with a 501 and were led by Katelyn Tuttle, who finished with a 110. Victoria Nelson shot a 128, Alison Luhr shot 130, Kayleen Roberts had a 133 and Hannah Paxton

Coach likes team play as Blue Devils sweep triangulars

The Wayne High volleyball team continues to play well after sweeping a pair of triangulars last week.
 On Tuesday, the Blue Devils had no problem with Boone Central and Pierce, beating the host Cardinals 25-8, 25-10 and disposing of the Bluejays 25-15, 25-16.
 In the win over Boone Central, Elisa Robinson and Katie Hoskins each had four kills and Lauren Muren had 11 set assists to lead the way. Rachel Gilliland had four ace serves and Robinson added three, and Muren had four digs. Robinson and Erica Sebade each had two blocks.
 In the Pierce match, Robinson had nine kills and Hoskins added eight, while Sebade had four kills and two blocks. Muren had 18 set assists and Jessica Biermann had four ace serves.
 "The girls played well, and I was pleased that we were able to play at our level and kind of dominate things," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "That doesn't happen often, so it was nice to see us be able to do it."

 Wayne's JV team was successful in both JV matches as well, beating Boone Central (25-21, 25-17) and Pierce (25-11, 25-15).
 On Thursday, Wayne hosted a triangular and swept Madison (25-18, 25-13) and Logan View (25-8, 25-17). Logan View beat Madison 25-13, 25-21 in the other varsity match.
 In the win over Madison, Robinson had seven kills, Hoskins added five, Sebade put down four and Ellie Ehrisman had two. Muren had 15 set assists, and Hoskins led the way with four ace serves. Muren had six digs and Cassie Harm had four digs.
 Against Logan View, Hoskins and Robinson each had six kills, and Muren had 13 set assists and five ace serves. Harm led the team with nine digs.

 three weeks of the season, capped with Monday's 18-0 whitewashing of South Sioux City that saw her strike out eight of the nine hitters she faced.
 "Our pitching has been very good this year, and we've also been pretty solid with our defense," Sweetland said.
 Wayne's defense has been solid, particularly in the infield. Lindsy Frahm and Kristin Carroll brought their experience from last season, and the play of sophomore Megan Hoffart at first base and freshman Jalyn Zeiss at shortstop has given the Blue Devils a solid infield.
 In the outfield, returning all-stater Caitlin Fehringer has been solid, both with her glove and with her bat. She leads the team in homers and RBI's and has been a stabilizing force in the Wayne defense.
 The Blue Devils, who capped the regular season with a sweep of Tekamah-Herman (1-0), Ashland-Greenwood (6-3) and Cozad (3-0) at the Yutan Invitational on Saturday, won't have any surprises waiting for them when district play starts Thursday afternoon. As the top seed in the seven-team tournament, they will get a first-round bye and know they will see some familiar faces as they try to qualify for state.
 "There are no strangers here," Sweetland said. "Everybody knows everybody and it's going to be a battle. Tekamah played us to a one-run game last week, and West Point (Central Catholic) has played us to a one-run and a two-run game. They've given us their best shots and we've come out on top, so that gives us some confidence going in."

 With a 25-game winning streak, the No. 2 ranking in Class C and home-field advantage, the likelihood of Wayne not winning the district title may seem remote. And while they appear to be a lock for a wild card bid to state, Sweetland said they would rather get to state the old-fashioned way.
 "The only way we've ever made it is by winning districts, and we want to keep it that way," Sweetland said.

 she said. "Duluth has some good players out there, but we just played amazing and played together, and it was just an awesome game. We knew they'd do some good things, and it was how we responded to it that made the difference."
 Playing in front of a considerably smaller and more subdued crowd Saturday, the Wildcats set a new school record with their 16th consecutive win, disposing of Bemidji State in three easy sets, 25-14, 25-18, 25-17.

The win, which broke last year's mark of 15 straight wins, saw Wayne State force the Beavers into 10 attack errors in the first set. Wayne State jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the second set and cruised to the easy win, then broke a 13-13 tie with four straight points to put the game away.
 Shelby Schultz led a balanced attack with nine kills, while Fredrickson had eight and Hefner put down six. Hefner also had six blocks, Leigh Connot had 14 digs and Artz had 30 set assists.

 is doing a good job giving us time to throw the ball, and that's pretty neat. But unfortunately we'd like to run it more, because that helps open things up and we're having trouble with that."
 The loss drops Wayne to 2-3 on the season and puts hopes of a playoff spot in jeopardy. Games against two current 0-5 teams (Central City and Madison) and a season-ending finale against nemesis Pierce means the Blue Devils have no wiggle room if they want to extend the season into November.
 "It's going to be tough," he said. "We've done some good things in practice this year, but we haven't been able to transfer what we do in practice into game situations, and it makes it tough on us because people throw us a curve ball and we're not able to hit it."
 Next up is Central City, a team that, on film, concerns Rethwisch. "They look dangerous on film," he said. "They're spunky and move around a lot and there's a lot of activity around the ball. They're physical, so it's going to be a challenge. We need to step up and be physical with them."

Fields earns NSIC honors

Wayne State men's golfer Adam Fields was named NSIC Co-Men's Golfer of the Week after his performance during the fall edition of the NSIC Championships.

Fields shot a tournament-low round of 69 on the first day and is tied for the lead after the first 36 holes of the 90-hole tournament.

Fields is a two-time All-NSIC selection who has played in the NCAA Tournament each of the last two seasons.

Junior high teams do battle

The Wayne junior high football teams battled Schuyler in action recently. The seventh-graders came away with an 18-6 win, while the eighth-graders were outscored 40-30.

In the first game, Wayne came back from a 6-0 deficit to get the win. Malik Knox scored twice, including a 50-yard run, and Colby Kaiser scored on a six-yard run. Dylan Hurlbert led the defense with an interception, while Cole Koenig, Drew Davie, Micah Sprouls, Jorge Vergara, Noah Braun and Schuyler Schweers also played well on defense.

In the second game, Wayne got a pair of touchdowns on long passes from Zach Keating to Brooke Bowers. Ben Hoskins ran for one touchdown and passed for another to Jackson Belt. Defensive leaders were Jackson Blankenau, Brady Ping, Reed Trenhaile and Logan Reinke.

Volleyball C team plays in tourney

The Wayne High volleyball C team played in a tournament in Pierce over the weekend, going 2-2.

Wayne defeated Plainview 21-6, 21-7, lost to Hartington Cedar Catholic 21-18, 21-16 and beat Laurel-Concord/Coleridge 21-6, 21-9. They fell to Randolph in tournament play, 25-22, 25-21.

JV, frosh football winners

The Wayne JV and freshman football teams were victorious in recent action.

Wayne beat Hartington Cedar Catholic 13-6 in a Sept. 27 matchup in Wayne. Demetrius Alexander and Miles Anderson scored touchdowns, while Luke Rethwisch kicked a point-after attempt. Grant Anderson led the receiving effort, while defensive standouts were Tyler

Robinson, Keith Hobza, Chris Rodgers, Jordan Backer and Steven Sherman.

In the freshman game, Wayne held on for a 7-0 win at Battle Creek. Jalen Barry scored the game's only touchdown, with Rethwisch hitting the point-after kick. Rethwisch was the leading receiver, Jose Vergara led the ground attack, and defensive leaders were Trevor Pacena, Brandon Martin, Jacob Lutt and Austin Keiser, who had a punt block.

JV runners at Aquinas Invite

Junior varsity runners on the Wayne High cross country team competed in the Aquinas Invitational on Thursday.

In the boys varsity division, Wayne finished eighth out of 12 teams and were led by Sawyer Jager, who placed 29th with a time of 19:30.

In the boys JV division, Zach Shear placed 15th in a time of 20:33 to help the Wayne squad to an eighth-place finish.

Kennedy Stowater was the only Wayne High girl to compete in the race. She finished 33rd in a time of 24:12.

Nelson sets new school mark, Wildcats roar past Randolph

WINSIDE - For the first 24 minutes, it looked like Randolph and Winside were going to see which team could get to 100.

In the end, the two teams combined for 100 points, but it was the Wildcats who came up on the winning end of the equation, scoring 38 unanswered points in the second half to take a 66-34 win over the Cardinals in a key district matchup.

Randolph took a 34-28 lead into the locker room, but the Wildcats adjusted on defense and gave the Cardinals an overwhelming dose of senior running back Anthony Nelson, who finished with a school-record 324 yards on the ground, breaking the record of 291 yards set by Marcus Stueckrath in 1992.

The Wildcats struggled with Randolph's passing game, so they went to a man-to-man defense and had the line and linebacker key on their quarterback, who did a good job buying time with his scrambling.

Once they figured that out, the put the ball in the hands of Nelson, who finished the night with 324 yards on 33 carries and scored five touchdowns, helping the Wildcats rack up 551 yards in total offense. He also threw a 58-yard halfback pass on the first play from scrimmage to set up Winside's first touchdown of the night.

"It was a big night for him, and he got some help up front," Olander said. "We blocked the ball well and got hats on hats, and we were able to get the job done. We got the ball in Anthony's hands and took care of business."

While the offense rolled, the defense shut Randolph down, limiting them to 63 yards in total offense in the second half.

The 5-0 Wildcats will face a major test this Friday, as they hit the road to take on the top-ranked team in Class D-1, Creighton.

Hartington rolls past Allen

HARTINGTON – Hartington returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown, and it was all downhill from there for the Allen Eagles.

Injuries and turnovers hurt Allen as Hartington raced to a 27-0 halftime lead and pulled away for a 51-14 win over the Eagles, who fell to 2-3 on the season.

Coach Dave Uldrich said the team made some critical mistakes, and with the team already dealing with its share of injuries, those mistakes were magnified.

"Defensively, we played too tentative, and when you compound that with the injuries, we were leaking oil before the game really got going," he said.

Allen got in a quick hole when Chad Miller took the opening kick back for a touchdown. The Eagles fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and while Hartington didn't score then, they added another touchdown late in the first period to take command with a 14-0 lead.

The Eagles never really got things going until midway through the third period. Trailing 39-0, Allen put together a good drive and capitalized when Austin Roeber scored on a five-yard run. The Eagles would get a fourth-quarter score from Cole Stewart, but it wasn't enough to overcome the big start by Hartington.

"We need to come together as a group and determine the right direction we want to go," Uldrich said. "Osmond will offer a huge challenge, and we need to step up and play."

Area cross country teams run at meets

The Winside cross country teams showed improvement Monday at the Newman Grove Invitational.

Coach Jennifer Kesting said she saw some good things from her runners as both the boys and girls teams placed fourth in the six-team meet.

"John ran a stellar race," Kesting said. "He looked focused throughout and put up a good time and led the team. Colin Hansen is improving steadily and seems to have found a little more of his competitive nature."

"Natasha Jensen ran well and continues to separate herself from the team and run her own race and pace," she added. "Tina, Selena, and Monica also ran nice times, but need to push themselves to excel in the field."

On Thursday, the two teams competed in the Plainview Invitational, with the girls finishing second and the boys placing third.

Jensen led the Winside girls with a sixth-place finish, coming home in 17:43. Monica Marino was eighth at 18:00.

In the boys race, John Hansen was sixth and Colin Hansen placed 10th to lead the Winside boys.

Laurel-Concord/Coleridge also competed in the Plainview Invitational. In the girls' race, Katie Jacobsen led the way with a third-place finish of 15:36, and Sammie Camenzind was seventh at 17:48.

On the boys' side, Isaac Haahr led the Bears with a fourth-place time of 19:24.

Winside's cross country teams will have their final pre-district tuneup on Friday when they take part in the Bloomfield Invitational. The Laurel-Concord/Coleridge runners competed in the NENAC meet Tuesday at Plainview and will also be at the Bloomfield Invitational.

Wayne golfers at Scotus Invite

The Wayne High varsity girls golf team competed at the Columbus Scotus Invite last week at Quail Run, the site of this year's State Golf Tournament.

The Blue Devils carded a team score of 399, which placed them fourth behind Boone Central (354), Grand Island Central Catholic (358) and Lincoln Pius (385).

Wayne was led by Taylor Burke with a 13th place score of 95, while Burgandy Roberts and Brittney Peterson each carded 99's and Hannah McCorkindale, 106. Alexis Reinert rounded out the varsity list with a 113.

Bruno, Fredrickson are Nebraska Div. II Players of Week

Wayne State was well represented in the weekly awards as Frederick Bruno and Tali Fredrickson both were named Nebraska NCAA Div. II Players of the Week.

Bruno was selected Special Teams Player of the Week in Frederic Bruno, shown here during earlier action this season, had a 91-yard kickoff return and made amazing one-handed grab for a touchdown during the Wildcats' 38-20 win at Southwest Minnesota State on Saturday.

Wildcats come out early, pound Mustangs 38-20

MARSHALL, Minn. – Coach Dan McLaughlin challenged his Wayne State football team to get off to a good start Saturday.

The Wildcats answered the challenge with an offensive attack that was too balanced for Southwest Minnesota State to contain, and the Wildcats came away with a 38-20 road win over the Mustangs Saturday evening.

McLaughlin said his team had been struggling early in games this season, but they scored on their first two possessions, took a 21-7 first-quarter advantage and never looked back.

"We challenged them before the game that we needed to start better, and they responded with a good long drive on the opening kickoff," he said. "After we stopped them, they went down and did it again. There was a lot of excitement going on there with their, homecoming, and it was good we could take them out of that right away and negate that."

Sophomore Evan Johnson and senior Frederick Bruno combined for five touchdowns on the night to lead the offensive attack. Bruno returned a kickoff 91 yards for a touchdown and caught a pair of scoring passes from Johnson, who added a pair of rushing touchdowns of his own to help the Wildcats improve to 4-1 overall and 3-1 in the NSIC.

Johnson got the Wildcats on the board on their first drive with a one-yard run, then he found Bruno on a five-yard touchdown pass to make it 14-0 midway through the first quarter.

The Mustangs looked to be back in the game when Ryan Ratekin found Warren Matthews on a 41-yard touchdown pass, but Bruno – Wayne State's all-time leader in kickoff returns and kickoff return yards, as well as NCAA Div. II kickoff return yard leader this season – took the ensuing kickoff back for a touchdown to give the Wildcats a 21-7 lead.

"Frederic got some nice blocks from Andrew Bauer, Anthony Hale, Tommy Baker and Vince Patterson that sprung him, and he has such great speed," McLaughlin said. "That was big, because they had got to within 14-7 and were hopping, and that return kind of took the wind out of their sails."

A 33-yard field goal by freshman kicker Nick Bell, who is a perfect 5-for-5 on the season, made it 24-7 at the half and the Wildcats cruised from there.

McLaughlin said Johnson did a good job directing a Wayne State offense that had 200 yards of total offense in the first half and finished with 342 for the game.

"He played really well," he said. "He was really efficient throwing the ball and really executed our offense very well."

Wayne State's defense was stingy in the second half, allowing only 17 rushing yards and six points to the Mustangs offense. A couple of big plays, however, concerned the Wayne State mentor.

"We're giving up big plays, and I don't like that, but they are getting better," he said. "We were really solid and did a good job, and if we can get a little more consistent with some of our younger kids, we'll be really tough."

Bruno made an unbelievable one-handed catch with three Mustang defenders around him to haul in a 22-yard touchdown pass by Johnson in the third quarter.

"He caught the ball in the flat with one hand while being hit by two guys, then he didn't go down and was able to just walk in the end zone," McLaughlin said. "It was one of the most unbelievable plays I've ever seen."

McLaughlin said he's happy with his team's 4-1 record, but pointed to the meat of the schedule that is coming up, starting with Saturday's trip to Bismarck, N.D., to face the University of Mary.

"We'd like to be 5-0, but we could be 0-5, so 4-1 is a good start for this group," he said. "But we have to get better. The tougher part of our schedule is coming up, and we have to get better if we want to continue to win, and I think we will."

Area teams finish with matching 2-1 records at Randolph Quad

Three area teams came away with identical 2-1 records from the Randolph Quadrangular on Saturday. Wayne defeated Wakefield, but lost to Laurel-Concord/Coleridge, while the Lady Bears fell to the Trojans.

The Blue Devils had no problem with Randolph, posting an easy 25-9, 25-19 win. They lost to the Lady Bears in the only three-set match of the day (25-19, 18-25, 25-16), but beat Wakefield, 25-20, 25-22.

In the win over Randolph, Katie Hoskins and Elisa Robinson each had eight kills and Ellie Ehrisman added five. Erica Sebade had three kills and Elle Schramm had three blocks. Laura Muren put up 16 set assists and four digs, and Cassie Harm had four digs.

The Blue Devils and Lady Bears hooked up in a good three-set match. Both teams played well in trading the first two sets, and the Lady Bears were able to take advantage of some mistakes late in the third set to come away with the win.

For Wayne, Hoskins and Robinson each had 10 kills, Ehrisman had five and Sebade had three. Robinson had four blocks, Hoskins had six ace serves, Harm had 13 digs and Muren had 20 set assists.

The Lady Bears got 17 kills from Amy Pritchard to lead the way. Jade Cunningham had 18 set assists, three blocks and three ace serves, Mandy Nelsen added 16 set assists, Ashley Lunz had three ace serves.

Wayne and Wakefield played two tight sets, with the Blue Devils coming out on top. Sebade and Robinson each had four kills, and Hoskins and Muren had three apiece. Muren had 13 set assists, and Robinson had four blocks.

Wakefield was led by Keri Lunz with 11 kills and Katie Weinrich with five. Sydney Rose had 16 assists, and Lauren Lemkuhl had two ace serves.

Wakefield and Laurel-Concord had a tight first set, but the Trojans took control of the match in the second set to finish off the sweep.

Lunz led Wakefield with eight kills and Greve added five. Rose had 16 set assists, Weinrich had three blocks and Lunz had four aces.

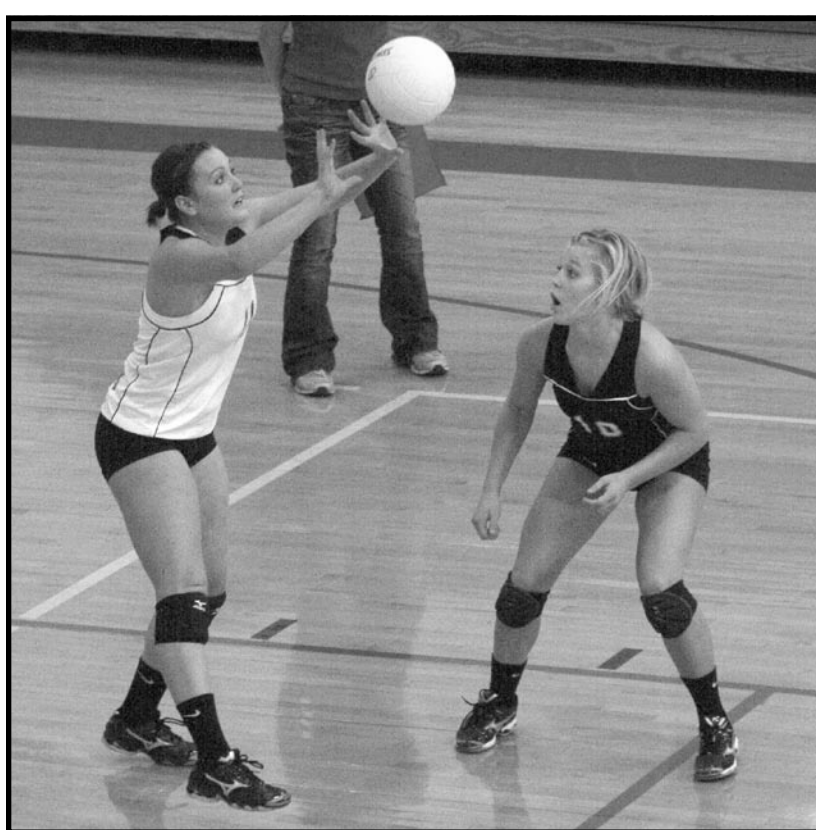

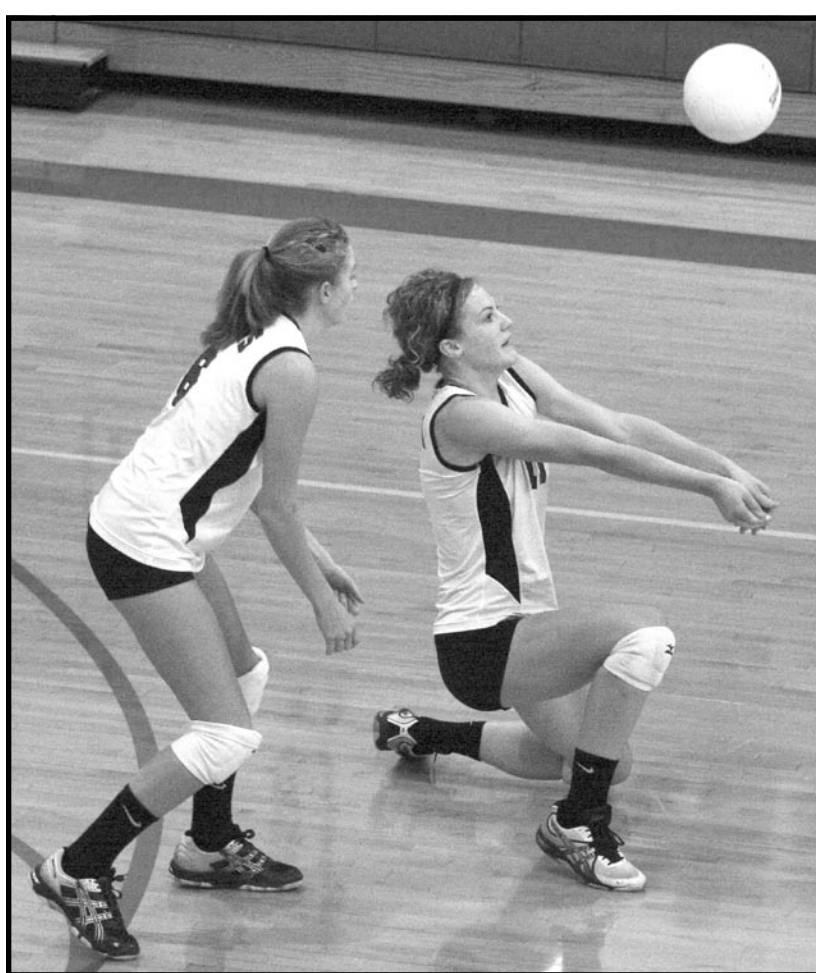

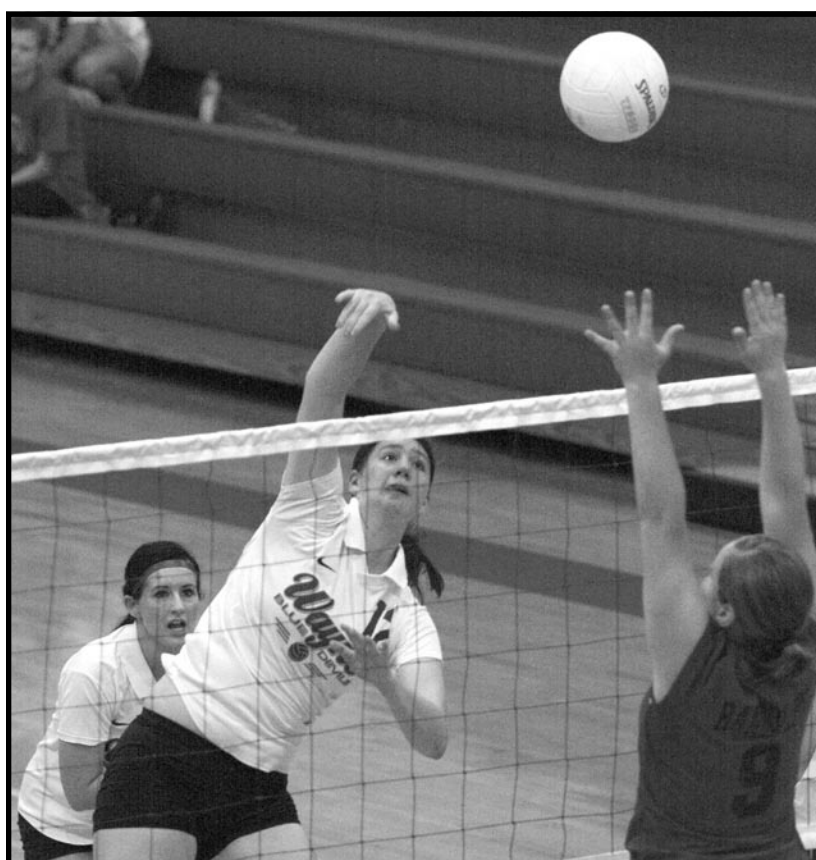

For the Lady Bears, Pritchard had 10 kills and Cunningham added eight to go with 11 set assists.

Both Wakefield and LCC took care of Randolph in short order. The Trojans beat Randolph 25-13, 25-10, while LCC won 25-12, 25-12.

For Wakefield, Lunz had seven kills and Weinrich added six. Paige Ellis also had three kills. Rose had 14 assists and three ace serves, while Lunz added three ace serves and Greve put up two aces.

In the Lady Bears' win, Pritchard had seven kills, Cunningham added five and Nelsen had three. Cunningham and Nelsen had 11 and nine assists, respectively. Cunningham had two blocks and Nelsen had four ace serves.

Trojans play well in loss to Homer

HOMER — Wakefield held an early lead on Friday, but Homer's ground game proved to be too much in the second half as the Knights downed the Trojans, 34-8.

Wakefield held an 8-7 lead in the second period when Brock Soderberg scored on a seven-yard run and Brendan Nicholson ran in the two-point conversion.

"We got up there in the first half and played pretty well, and I thought we played a good first half overall," coach Mike Clay said. "In the second half, Homer decided to run the ball more right at us. We had done a good job defending their pass, but they just ran it at us and wore us down the second half."

Wakefield's offense had one of its most productive games of the season, racking up 275 yards in total offense. On two occasions, the Trojans drove the ball inside the Homer 10-yard line before the Knights' defense stalled them.

"We ran the ball better, so that was an improvement," Clay said. "I think we took a step forward in this game."

Nicholson led the offense with 88 yards on 22 carries, while Soderberg added 76 yards on 22 tries.

Fields tied for 36-hole lead at NSIC men's tournament

Adam Fields is tied for the individual lead, and the Wayne State men's golf team is in fourth place after the opening 36 holes of the 2010-11 Northern Sun Conference Championships.

The Wildcats shot rounds of 311 and 312 for a 36 hole score of 623 at Troy Burne Golf Course in Hudson, Wis. Minnesota State holds a one stroke lead over St. Cloud State in the team standings, 599-600, with Concordia-St. Paul in third at 621.

Fields is tied for the individual lead after shooting a tournament-low round of 69 on Saturday) and a 74 Sunday for a one-over par 143. He is tied with St. Cloud State's Beau Anderson who shot rounds of 73 and 70.

Other WSC scores include Tyler Thompson, tied for 20th overall at 158; Jake Hirz is tied for 23rd overall at 159; Brett Shively carded a 163 and is tied for 38th; and Tyler DeJong is 40th with a 164. The final 54 holes of the tournament will be played next spring at The Jewel Golf Course in Lake City, Minn.

The Wayne State women's golf team placed eighth with a team score of 776 at the UNO Fall Classic, played Monday and Tuesday at the Pines Country Club in Valley. The Wildcats shot a 375 Monday and followed that with a 401 team score on Tuesday for a 36-hole total of 776. Host UNO won the tournament with a 640.

Wayne State's top finisher was Paige Barry with rounds of 83 and 98 for a 181, good for 35th place overall. Next was Katie Isom at 185 with scores of 88 and 97 to place 39th overall.

Freshman Kristen Schwasinger shot a 194, finishing 42nd overall; Kaylee Faltys came in with a 216 to place 43rd; and Tabitha Evans was 44th with a 226.

The next meet for Wayne State women will be Saturday and Sunday when the Wildcats compete in the first segment of the 2010-11 Northern Sun Conference Championships in St. Paul, Minn.

The next meet for Wayne State College men will be Saturday and Sunday when the Wildcats play at the Colorado Mines Invitational in Denver, Colo.

Allen volleyballers beat Walthill, defeated by B-R

The Allen volleyball team started Thursday's match at Walthill strong, but had to hang on to finish off the Bluejays in straight sets, winning 25-11, 25-23, 25-23.

"This was a hard game," coach Cheryl Greve said. "We started off strong, then just barely pulled off the win."

Bentley Hingst led the Lady Eagles with 16 kills and 16 digs. Brittany Sullivan added 22 digs to lead the team. Hannah Finnegan had 10 ace serves on the night, while Lindsey Jones and Tori Lubberstedt had three aces.

In JV action, Allen beat Walthill 21-18, 21-13. Megan Black led the net attack, while Nikole Stewart had three ace serves and Olivia Schnieders put up two.

On Tuesday, the Lady Eagles battled Bancroft-Rosalie, but came up on the short end of a three-set decision, with Allen losing 25-18, 25-20, 25-17.

"Even though we lost, I felt like our team played hard," Greve said. "We played aggressively and stayed focused, which are things we've been working on. I felt like we made strides forward to being a stronger team."

Hingst led the net attack with nine kills, and Sullivan and Jones each had eight kills. Finnegan led in set assists with 13, while Jones added 12. Hingst had 14 digs and Sullivan had 10 digs and four ace serves.

The Allen girls are scheduled to host Winside in an all-area matchup on Thursday, Oct. 14, but the game will be played in Winside due to construction at Allen's gym.

The Wayne State women's rugby team, shown here in earlier action, shut out Nebraska 17-0 and will play host to South Dakota State in a key Great Plains Conference matchup that will determine who goes to the national playoffs. Action will begin at 2:45 p.m. Saturday at The House of Pain in Wayne.

Wayne State rugby wins, hosts South Dakota State

The Wayne State women's rugby team broke a scoreless first-half deadlock with three tries in the second half to shut out Nebraska 17-0 in action Saturday at the House of Pain.

Early in the second half, Michelle Possnecker took off on a 40-yard run up the right sideline, knocked down a would-be Husker defender, and carried two other defenders with her across the goal line for the first score of the game.

A few minutes later, Brit Hans ran to the wide side of the field, beat a defender to the corner and ran 30 yards for another score. The Wildcats capped the scoring late in the second half on a nice scissors pass in the inside center of the field that left a big hole for Maggie Warrick, who scored on a 15-yard run.

Saturday's fall home finale is a big one, according to coach Darrin Barner. Both teams play South Dakota State, and a Great Plains Conference championship and national playoff spot is on the line for the winners of Saturday's matchups.

There is free admission for Saturday's games, which start at 2:45 p.m. for the men and 4:15 p.m. for the women.

WSC women roundballers ranked No. 14

The Wayne State women's basketball team is ranked No. 14 in the 2010 Women's Basketball Div. II Bulletin preseason top 25 poll.

Third-year coach Chris Kielsmeier's Wildcats return four starters from last season's 26-5 squad that won the 2010 Northern Sun Conference tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Div. II national tournament for the third time in the last five seasons.

Wayne State is the only team from the NSIC that is ranked in the preseason top 25 poll. Augustana and Concordia-St. Paul are among 15 teams listed as others to watch during the 2010-11 season.

Wayne State opens the 2010-11 season on Friday, Nov. 12 at Cal-State Stanislaus in Turlock, Calif. Their first home game is Friday, Dec. 10 against Northern State at 6 p.m. at Rice Auditorium.

LCC drops 42-0 decision to defending C-2 champs

LAUREL – Missed opportunities hurt Laurel-Concord/Coleridge and helped visiting Ponca, and the Indians took advantage on their way to a 42-0 win Friday night.

Coach Terry Bear said his team had some opportunities to cash in and make a game of it, but the Bears couldn't get it done.

"Ponca is a good team, and we had a few missed tackles and weren't able to punch the ball in when we had the opportunities," he said.

The Indians took advantage of their chances. Jesse Walsh scored on a pair of short runs to give the visitors a 13-0 edge, and three touchdowns – including a 65-yard run by Joel Markworth – put the hosts in a 35-0 hole at halftime.

The Bears picked up 207 yards in total offense, highlighted by Kyle Kardell's 4-for-14 passing effort for 98 yards. Austin Roach carried the ball nine times for 56 yards, while Justin Saunders was the leading receiver with two catches for 41 yards.

Defensively, Roach led the team with 11 tackles and Riley Lund added eight tackles.

The Bears take to the road this week to take on Hartington Cedar Catholic, and Bear hopes his team can improve defensively.

"We'll see a different kind of team with Hartington this week, and we'll need to focus on becoming better tacklers," he said.

Wildcat soccer team gets tie, loss in road battles

The Wayne State women's soccer team went 0-1-1 in a weekend conference road trip.

Kelsey Meyer scored a goal and added an assist in the Wildcats' 2-2 tie with Upper Iowa Sunday afternoon. They dropped a 3-0 decision to Winona State on Saturday.

The Wildcats got on the board early in the physical contest as Kelly Lange scored on a header with an assist by Meyer at the 17:05 mark of the first stanza. Upper Iowa tied the game at the 33:33 mark of the first half when Alyssa Petersburg scored on a 10-yard shot off a corner kick, but Wayne State regained the lead when Meyer scored her third goal of the season off a corner kick.

The Peacocks tied the game at the 53:37 mark of the second half when Valeria Ptasinski scored on a corner kick of her own. The teams went into two overtimes, with the Wildcats outshooting the Peacocks 3-2, but neither team could find the net as they walked away with a draw.

Megan Dias led the Wildcats in shots on goal with four on the afternoon. Goalkeeper Emily Walker turned away six shots in the match, two of which came in overtime.

2009 NSIC Offensive Player of the Year Lauren Sturdivant scored two first-half goals to lead Winona State to their win over the Wildcats Saturday. She opened the scoring in the sixth minute with a goal, then added another goal at the 29:04 mark to give the Warriors a 2-0 lead at intermission. The lone goal in the second half came on a penalty kick by Morgan LeFebvre.

Meyer had two shots to lead WSC and Walker was credited with seven saves.

Wayne State 3-3-3 overall and 0-2-3 in the NSIC. They played a non-conference contest at York College and will host Southwest Minnesota State Friday and Minnesota State on Sunday.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

No reason to put up with bullying

It takes no talent to be a bully. You don't need a heart, a soul or a lick of common sense to pull it off.

Basically — all you have to be is a gutless jerk.

I grew up as the target of more bullies than I care to count. Being small in stature and growing up in a community where your name, your athletic prowess and the amount of money you gave to your church seemed to determine where your family stood, I was a pretty easy target. If I had a dollar for every time I was pushed in the hallways, had my books knocked out of my hands or got an older student's class ring square in the back of my head, I'd have the kind of money that would have Warren Buffett seeking my financial wisdom.

And, in comparison to what's going on these days, I actually got off pretty lucky.

Bullying has gone high-tech in the information age. And where I was fortunate to have a strong support system among my family and friends, other kids who are dealing with life's challenges don't seem to think they have it as well.

Recently, there have been reports in the media of kids who were being "outed" on the Internet as homosexuals. Whether they were or not shouldn't matter — but the fact that some bullies secretly videotaped them and posted the videos on YouTube seemed to be too much for them to take. The only way out for them, they determined, was suicide.

There once was a time when I'd hear or read these stories and think to myself, "Well, we live in the Midwest, where people have their head screwed on straight. That sort of thing would never happen in Small Town, U.S.A."

Sadly, I've seen, read and covered far too many stories like this since that time to know that it is as alive and well here as it is across the country. And I would be willing to bet that, right now, there are several kids — at all age levels — in every town in our area that are currently being subjected to the hellish torture at the hands of the town bully.

If you've lived in a community long enough, you know exactly who the bullies are. They're easy to spot. They have little regard for others. They do what they want, when they want, and to whomever they want to do it to. And nobody wants to call them on it, lest they be the next target on that bully's list.

Some of these bullies commit their acts with the full knowledge (and, sometimes, approval) of the adult figures in their lives (I hesitate, as I write this, to call those individuals "parents"). Others somehow get by with their acts of cruelty without the knowledge of their adult supervisors.

And while we have the preconceived idea of what a bully looks like (big, male, mean-looking, etc.), being a bully crosses gender lines with no problem. There are a number of young ladies out there who seem to think it's their world and we're supposed to bow down to them. And as mean and vicious as boys can be physically, girls are even worse socially and mentally.

For those of you who have been bullied, you need to know that suicide is not the way out for this or ANY problem that you might be facing. There are many other avenues — through your family, your church, your school and even the legal system — to deal with this problem. Do not be afraid to talk about it with these people.

There is no reason why we should allow our kids, in this allegedly enlightened civilization we now live in, to grow up having to deal with a bully. And those who have endured this maddening torture need to understand that there are people out there — including those of us who have dealt with the hell you might now be living — who can help.

are our lifeline and if a fence needs to be destroyed to keep a road open, destroy the fence. However if county road crews destroy a pasture fence, when the snow melts the county should be responsible for fixing the fence. As Wayne County landowners our tax contributions cover these kinds of costs. After discussing the matter further with the county, we came to a settlement that covered the costs of repairing the fence.

The need for snow removal is very important, and as landowners and taxpayers we are glad to support the maintenance of county roads. It is also important that everyone, private entity or government, is held to certain standards when it comes to damages to private property.

All about the 'bump and grind'

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — President Jimmy Carter once became infuriated when he read a news story about a heroin kingpin in Harlem who was regarded as virtually untouchable by cops as well as customers.

It was June of 1977. The president personally ordered the feds to nail the guy. And in January of 1978 Mr. Untouchable was sentenced to life without parole. Seven months.

President Carter had it easy. He only had to deal with murderous thugs who could be arrested and punished for specific crimes.

High school principals in some cities are having less luck with kids who enjoy a form of dancing called grinding. It doesn't leave too very much to the imagination. Enough said?

Disclaimer by a hellion of a 1967 high school graduate: Never could I have imagined writing a column about behavioral issues at high school dances, barring incidents of gun play; or perhaps mob violence along the lines of lynching an algebra teacher.

To me it proved America was run by an idiotocracy (a word of my own invention) when newspapers printed stories in the early 1960s about whether the twist, the ultimate dance for people who really, truly, can't dance, was an affront to decency. Lincoln newspapers wrote about whether authorities at the University of Nebraska would allow it! And then came forecasts of western society's imminent collapse because of guys letting their hair grow; unmarried women taking the pill; and the mini-skirt and pot and interracial dating ... on and on.

It was natural enough, and still is, that young people would look at the oldsters' reactions and say: "Drives ya' crazy don't it? Gooooood!"

A woman who taught in Indiana in the early 1980s said that, when chaperoning a homecoming or prom dance, the goal was to ensure the kiddies didn't consume drugs or have sex inside the building.

That was the first time, as Guy Clark said in another context, that I was "wonderin' what it's comin' to and how it got this far!"

In recent days kids in some high schools — lots of them, in fact — ignored adults who approached them, one-on-one, and told them to dance to a different rhythm, so to speak.

My favorite (if that's the word) example was reported from Ralston High School. When administrators tried to intervene the kids were in "complete defiance," and the majority of them kept on grinding. A classic example of: "Drives ya' crazy don't it? Gooooood!"

The homecoming dance was shut down an hour early. And a back-to-school dance had been shut down earlier this year after kids ignored warnings about the bump and grind thing.

Lincoln High Schools are reported to have banned "grinding" as of, say, now. Some high schools around the state have reported incidents in line with the Ralston experience.

The interesting thing: Society can't keep firearms or drugs out of the hands of high-school kids, anywhere. Society for decades reduced academic standards in order to avoid social/political upheaval on one scale or another. We changed the rules for doing business so that the law of jungle seems like Marquis of Queensbury comportment in comparison. The social contract, if not in tatters, is certainly worn.

The conflict over teenagers rubbing their bodies together at school obviously reflects society's wish to maintain elements of civility in our everyday world. Young people have forever challenged social standards, and the form of their challenges, directly or indirectly, usually reflects the reality of the world outside the classroom . . . who'd a thought that "The times they are a'changing" would become a cliché.

Attending college part of P-16 Initiative

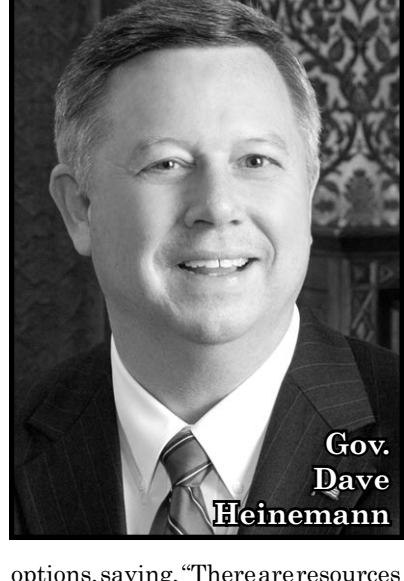

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

The leaders of the Nebraska P-16 Initiative are promoting the value of a college campus visit as a way to encourage Nebraska students to attend college. I chair the P-16 Initiative and my co-chairs are J.B. Milliken, President of the University of Nebraska; Commissioner of Education, Dr. Roger Breed; state Senator Greg Adams, Chairman of the Education Committee; and Liz Koop, President and CEO of EducationQuest Foundation.

President Milliken pointed to statistics noting, "Young adults in the U.S. used to be the best educated in the world; now we have slipped from No. 1 to No. 12 in the ranking of adults between ages 25 and 34 with a college degree. Our nation and our state need to do better to offer our young people the best chance for success and to be competitive in a global economy."

Liz Koop added, "Taking a visit to a college campus is a vital first-step for Nebraska high school students in their pursuit of education beyond high school. That is why we have developed a new campaign called "Go.Visit.College!" This campaign encourages Nebraska's high schools and colleges to work together to coordinate group and individual campus visits."

Sen. Adams encouraged students and parents to look for funding options, saying, "There are resources available to students. The idea of not being able to afford college should not stop anyone from going. There are grants, scholarships, and a host of possibilities available. A high school guidance counselor is a great place to start asking questions."

Commissioner Breed pointed to a study by the U.S. Census Bureau stating, "All of the jobs added to the United States economy since 1970 have been jobs that require education beyond a high school diploma."

College and university visits are an important part of the college planning process. Students report that college visits have a significant influence on them as they consider where to go to college. Our message is that visiting a college campus is a vital activity for high school juniors and seniors.

Campus visits provide an opportunity to explore academic programs, to talk with students and professors, and to tour residence halls, classrooms and research facilities. Visits provide an opportunity to experience what a college or university has to offer and can help students find the right fit for them.

Campus visits can be especially important for students who don't think they are a good fit for college, or students whose parents may not have gone to college. Many students report changing their perception once they've seen a campus up close and in person.

This effort is about encouraging more of our high school graduates to attend college. We want to move Nebraska into the Top 10 college-going state. The most recent statistics from the National Center for Educational Statistics rank Nebraska 19th in the nation, with 64.5 percent of our high school graduates going on to college. It is above the national average, but short of the top 10. We can do better.

Earning a college degree benefits students. It benefits Nebraska companies looking to hire qualified workers, and it benefits the communities across our state as we work to recruit the advanced and specialized companies that offer quality, higher-paying jobs.

If you're a junior or senior, you should be preparing for ACT and SAT exams, talking with your parents and counselors about the colleges that interest you. You should make plans to visit a college in person. Nebraska is home to an outstanding range of higher educational institutions. Whether you visit as part of a school group or plan an individual tour with family or friends, colleges and universities welcome high school students for visits year round.

College fairs are a great way to get started and identify places of interest. This month, college fairs will be held in Lincoln, Omaha and western Nebraska.

More information on college planning is available at www.knowhow2gonebraska.org.

By providing students with opportunities to go visit college, we are preparing them to take the next all-important step in their education. Thank you to the schools that take the initiative by planning campus visits for juniors and seniors.

Responding to snow fence story

As owners of AWS Frahm Incorporated, we would like to respond to the story in The Wayne Herald (Aug. 19) concerning damages to our fence during last winter's snow removal and County Commissioner Wurdemann's comments about us not caring about our neighbors.

Over a quarter mile of fence line on our cattle pasture was destroyed by last year's winter snow removal process. The damage to the fence was extensive enough that we could not pasture cattle on the land until the fence was replaced. If it had been fence on cropland, we would not have said anything.

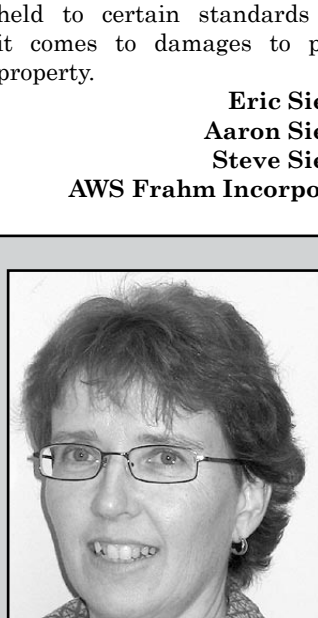

We understand that road maintenance during winter is a major priority and sometimes impacts adjacent land. Of course roads must be kept open. Roads are our lifeline and if a fence needs to be destroyed to keep a road open, destroy the fence. However if county road crews destroy a pasture fence, when the snow melts the county should be responsible for fixing the fence. As Wayne County landowners our tax contributions cover these kinds of costs. After discussing the matter further with the county, we came to a settlement that covered the costs of repairing the fence.

The need for snow removal is very important, and as landowners and taxpayers we are glad to support the maintenance of county roads. It is also important that everyone, private entity or government, is held to certain standards when it comes to damages to private property.

Wayne State names School of Natural and Social Sciences Students of the Year

Wayne State College HHPS faculty recently announced the 2010-2011 recipients of "Major of the Year" in Sport Management (Brandon Foote of Wayne), Exercise Science (Rochelle Reinke of Neligh), Applied Human and Sport Physiology (Evan Janssen of Randolph), and K-12 Physical Education (Lindsey Hofpar of Ulysses).

Senior Brandon Foote, sport management major of the year, has been on the dean's list, involved as recreational youth coach in the Wayne Community, and will intern for the University of Nebraska - Lincoln to complete his coursework in sport management.

"Brandon has all of the traits necessary to be a leader in the sport management field. The work he completes within the classroom setting is superb, he readily gets involved with various practical sport experiences outside of the classroom setting, and he possesses a polite yet hard-working demeanor that commands respect and admiration from his peers," Dr. Cameron Geisert, assistant professor of sport management said.

Foote is the son of Brian and Tammy Foote of Wayne.

Rochelle Reinke, exercise science major of the year and Spanish minor at Wayne State College. Dr. Donovan Conley, professor in Exercise Science stated that "Rochelle is reflective in her thought and she is a very hard working, conscientious student". Rochelle is a member of the Rugby team, listed on the dean's list, is a student senator, and participates in the Peer Education Network. She is the daughter of Eldean and Bonnie Reinke of Neligh.

Evan Janssen of Randolph is the ## Home weatherization saves energy

Air leaks resulting from a home that's not adequately weatherized are responsible for the greatest loss of a home's heated or cooled inside air, according to Dan Mechtenberg, Black Hills Energy vice president of gas operations for Nebraska.

"Energy consumption can be reduced through proper home weatherization," Mechtenberg said. "And helping customers use energy wisely is a priority for Black Hills Energy. Many measures are simple to do, and most homes can be weatherized for approximately $100."

Black Hills Energy's weatherization program assists selected customers who are unable to weatherize their own homes and also shares information about measures that customers can take to make their homes more energy efficient. Here are several no- or low-cost weatherization measures homeowners can undertake to reduce their energy use this winter season. Additional energy-saving tips are available at www.bhehowto.com.

Dial down and layer up.
• Turn down your thermostat to 68 degrees or lower, or install a programmable thermostat. Depending on what you set your thermostat at and for how long, you could save 8 percent of your home's heating energy consumption during the heating season.

• You may need to keep the thermostat set higher than 68 degrees for health reasons or if a baby or elderly person is in the house.

Maintain your heating system.
• Have your heating system serviced regularly, so that it runs properly and efficiently.

• Seal ducts where there may be air leakages.

• Change or clean furnace filters every month.

Seal the inside of the home.
• Put plastic on windows and caulk and seal air leaks around attic doors.

• Install foam gaskets behind outlet covers and switchplates. Foam gaskets prevent air from leaking through wall outlets.*

• Only install foam gaskets if you know how to do so safely. Otherwise, ask a qualified electrician for assisstance.

Reduce water heater temperature setting.

• Set the water heater temperature as low as possible, but follow manufacturer recommendations for specific appliances.

• Insulate water heaters that are 10 years old and older, and hot water pipes.
Reduce hot water use.

• Install low-flow (two-gallons-per-minute or less) showerheads and faucet aerators.

• Take showers, not baths.

• Repair leaking faucets and water lines.

• Wash full loads of laundry and use cold water.

• Wash full loads of dishes. Select the energy-saver cycle, or simply open the dishwasher door once the cycle is complete to let the dishes air dry.

Let the sunshine in.

• Open the shades and curtains to allow sunlight to warm the inside of your home. Close them at night to help keep warm air in your home. Clear space

• Clean air registers, baseboard heaters and radiators. Make sure they are not blocked by furniture, carpeting, drapes or other items.
Fireplaces

• Close your damper when the fireplace is not in use.

Minimize exhaust

• Turn off exhaust fans within 20 minutes after cooking or showering.

• Use kitchen and bathroom exhaust fans appropriately, as they blow warm air out of your house.

• Take advantage of moisture from cooking and bathing, which helps humidify the house and make it more comfortable.
Get the whole family involved.

• Have a house meeting to discuss the various ways you can save energy.

• Remind each other of the recommended heating temperatures.

• Turn off lights and electronics when they aren't needed.

• Review your heating bills together and see how much you've saved by comparing last year's consumption to this year's.

Viaero Wireless launches new National Plans

Viaero Wireless launched new Nationwide Plans with carry over minutes. Viaero also introduced new affordable messaging and data plans, and reduced prices on its Nationwide Unlimited plans.

"Our customers want minutes that last," said Frank DiRico, president and CEO of Viaero Wireless. "With our new Nationwide Plans with carry over minutes, Viaero subscribers can accumulate minutes that don't expire after 30 days. Instead, unused minutes will be credited to customer accounts for later use."

DiRico added that, "since we introduced Android™ phones to complement our BlackBerry® product line, we've seen smart phone sales skyrocket. To help our customers truly enjoy these new handsets, we are offering unlimited local data packages for only $14.95 a month. When combined with our low-price Nationwide Plans with carry over minutes or Nationwide MyGroup plans, Viaero's data packages are the best value around."

Nationwide Plans with carry over minutes

Subscribers selecting Viaero's Nationwide Plans with carry over minutes will accumulate unused minutes from a given billing cycle and pool them with unused minutes from previous billing cycles. Accumulated minutes older than 12 months will expire.

Messaging and Data Packages

Viaero's new messaging packages will allow customers to send text, pictures, and video messages for as little as $5.95 month for an introductory rate. For only $14.95 per month, Viaero customers can send unlimited messaging nationwide. Viaero will also offer unlimited nationwide messaging and unlimited local data packages for just $24.95 per month on shared accounts.

About Viaero Wireless

Viaero Wireless is a GSM provider headquartered in Fort Morgan, Colo. with retail locations in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming.

Norfolk theater production to feature local talent

The Norfolk Community Theatre will bring Arsenic and Old Lace, by Joseph Kesselring to stage to kick off the community theatre's 2010-2011 season, featuring some new faces bringing to life a story that is sure to be familiar to theatre and movie fans alike.

Arsenic and Old Lace will run Oct. 7 through the 9 at 7:30 p.m., in the Cox Theatre at Northeast Community College. Ticket prices are $15 for adults and $10 for students.

Arsenic and Old Lace first premiered on Broadway in 1941. Based on a true story involving a woman who murdered her gentlemen boarders, Kesselring took this grim story and turned it into a delightful comedy with two endearing old ladies who, out of the goodness of their hearts, send lonely gentlemen to the Great Beyond by way of their special homemade elderberry wine. The successful film by the same name featured Cary Grant as the befuddled nephew, Mortimer.

The Norfolk Community Theatre is welcoming some new faces in the cast, as well as behind-the-scenes. Playing the role Martha Brewster is Brenda Whalen of Laurel. Whalen is a newcomer to the Cox stage.

Other local actors in the cast include Tyler Wieseler of Wayne, as Teddy Brewster and Tyrel Whalen of Laurel, as Officer O'Hara.

In addition to general admission ticket sales, Norfolk Community Theatre season memberships will be sold before the show and during intermission. This year's season members not only save money the three-show package but also get special Red Carpet reservation privileges prior to each production.

This year, the Norfolk Community Theatre will be using all the free-will donation funds during intermissions to help fund a theatre scholarship to be awarded to a student planning to attend Northeast Community College in 2011-2012 who wishes to be involved in the theatre.

Tickets for the Norfolk Community Theatre's production of Arsenic and Old Lace will be available in advance during box office hours, Monday through Friday, from 1 to 4 p.m. or at the door. For reservations, contact the box office at 402-844-7360.

LeRoy and Marian Simpson Outstanding HHPS Student named

Wayne State College HHPS faculty announced that Chris Miller is the 2009-2010 recipient for the LeRoy and Marian Simpson Outstanding HHPS Student.

"Chris has exemplified the standards of excellence to which we challenge all our students. With a perpetual smile, and admirable work ethic, he has successfully tackled two majors and will make a difference as a K-12 HPE teacher. Chris would make Doc Simpson proud," Dr. Barbara Engebretsen (HHPS professor) said.

Miller is a double major in Physical Education and Exercise Science along with a coaching endorsement. He is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM), the Northland Chapter of ACSM, and the Nebraska Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance. He is the SHAPE Club advertisement representative, is involved in intramural applied human and sport physiology major of the year at Wayne State College.

"Evan is an intelligent and dependable young man. His work is always exceptional. Evan is a positive role model for other students in the AHSP major and on the WSC campus," said Dr. Kris Hinnerichs, assistant professor of AHSP. Janssen is the vice president for Phi Kappa Phi and the Blue Key Honor Society and co-president of the Pre-Physical Therapy Club. He is a member of SHAPE Club, the Northland American College of Sports Medicine, and the Alpha Lambda Delta Honor Society.

He is the son of Larry and Jane Janssen of Randolph.

Lindsey Hofpar of Ulysses is the physical education major of the year at Wayne State College. "Hofpar is a very intelligent individual who projects a positive attitude toward teaching health and physical education. She will be a positive role model and educator for many years to come," Dr. Kevin Hill, associate professor of physical education said. She is a senior resident assistant at WSC, a member of the Northeast Nebraska Teaching Academy, a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and played soccer at WSC in 2009.

She is the daughter of Dave and Sharyl Hofpar of Ulysses.

sports, is involved with the Catholic Newman Center, and is a Knights of Columbus third degree member.

In addition, for the past two years he has been the assistant boy's basketball coach at Allen Public Schools. Chris also spends a lot of his time working as an event staff worker at WSC athletic events and as a desk worker/supervisor in the recreation center.

Chris is the son of Jerry and Karen Miller of Osceola.

The Outstanding HHPS Student Award is a scholarship established by LeRoy and Marian Simpson.

LeRoy "Doc" Simpson was the head track coach and PE professor in the department of HHPS (originally called HPLS) at WSC for 29 years. Marian was an adjunct instructor for the department for many years teaching dance and swimming. The faculty and staff of HHPS are thankful for their service and support of the students.

Goldenrod Hills selects 'Employee of the Year'

Goldenrod Hills Community Action, Inc. held its Annual All-Staff meeting for its 150 employees on Sept. 24 at the Life Long Learning Center in Norfolk.

The Board of Directors announced the "Employee of the Year" award. Board Chairperson Pat Gross presented Erika Fink, Head Start Education Specialist with the award. Erika's office is located at the Wayne Head Start Center.

Peers at Goldenrod Hills nominated Erika because "she is hard-working, a mentor, a coach, and trustworthy."

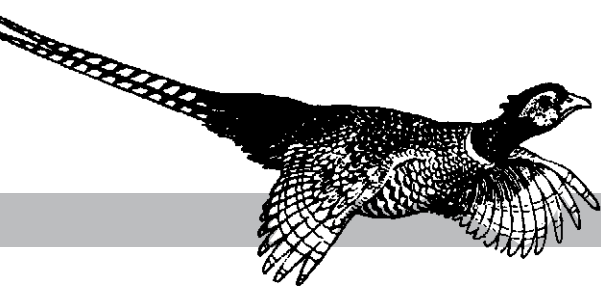

One staff member said, "She is a dedicated employee and follows the passion she has for people, learning and life as she helps staff learn, grow and do the best they can in their job. She inspires us all with her dedication and contribution and therefore is well deserving of GHCA's 'Employee of the Year' award."

Progress update

Winside Public School held Parent-Teacher Conferences last week. Fifth grade teacher Mrs. Susan Mohr met with Steve and Lori Brogren, parents of Halle Brogren, during the conferences.

Serve meat safely

Cooking meat until it is as tough as a hockey puck will ensure it is done, but this is unnecessary. Follow these simple guidelines for consumers and meat can be safely cooked and delicious.

Raw meat that will not be used within a few days should be frozen for long-term storage. The best place to defrost meat is in the refrigerator. Place all meat on the bottom shelf so that dripping juices will not contaminate other food.

Do not leave meat out on the counter to defrost. Raw meat left out for more than two hours should be discarded, even if it smells or looks safe. Some bacteria, such as staphylococcus, produce toxins not destroyed by high cooking temperatures. On days with temperatures above 90 degrees Fahrenheit, perishable food should not be left out for more than an hour. Bacteria multiply rapidly between temperatures of 40 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit. One bacterium can double in 20 minutes, meaning one bacteria left at room temperature can become more than 2 million bacteria after only seven hours.

Ruth Vonderohe
Extension Educator

Raw meat and poultry does not need to be washed, and washing them actually increases the risk of causing cross contamination by spreading bacteria to ready-to-eat foods, kitchen utensil and counter surfaces.

When cooking meat, make sure it reaches the right internal temperatures to ensure all dangerous bacteria have been killed. Just because food looks, smells and tastes OK does not mean it has been cooked to the proper temperature. One in four hamburgers turn brown before they have reached a safe internal temperature.

The only way to ensure dishes have been cooked to a proper internal temperature is to use a food thermometer. Chicken, turkey and ground poultry must be cooked to 165 degrees Fahrenheit; pork, egg dishes, hamburger and ground meats to 160 degrees; and beef, lamb and veal steaks and roasts to 145 degrees.

According to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, most seafood should be cooked to an internal temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit, but there are additional ways to determine if seafood is safely done.

Allow fin fish to stand for three to four minutes to let them finish cooking. Then slip a sharp knife point into the flesh, pull it aside and make sure the meat edges are opaque and the centers are translucent with flakes starting to separate. Shrimp, lobster and crab should have red shells and pearly, opaque meat. Scallops should be milky white or opaque and firm. Clams, mussels and oysters are ready to eat when their shells open. Always discard ones with shells that have not opened.

At-risk groups should avoid seafood with high mercury content. Pregnant women, nursing mothers, children, older adults and people who are immunocompromised should avoid eating shark, swordfish, King Mackerel and tilefish. They could still eat up to 12 ounces, or two average meals, of low-mercury seafood a week. The five most commonly eaten low-mercury seafood are shrimp, light canned tuna, salmon, pollock and catfish. When eating local fish or other seafood with uncertain mercury contents, eat only 6 ounces, or one average meal, a week.

These at risk groups also should be cautious when eating deli meats and frankfurters. Always reheat these meats to steaming hot temperatures to decrease the risk of listeriosis.

Minerva Club hosts Sandhills writer

Minerva Club met Sept. 27 at the Wayne Senior Center with a no-hostess luncheon and meeting.

Ten members and one guest answered roll call by telling their favorite book genre or time period. President MaryAnn DeNaeyer began the meeting with several humorous readings.

Minutes were read and approved. Donna Hansen, treasurer, presented the treasurer's report. Dues of $5 per member were paid by those present. A donation of $25 will be made to the Library/Senior Center landscaping project as agreed upon at the May 10, 2010 meeting.

Historian Hollis Frese read the minutes from Sept. 22, 1975 where it was reported the Minerva Club and Acme Club combined efforts to purchase a bench with a plaque for outside the City Hall. The bench is still in place today. The 1975-76 program theme was the U.S.A. A photo of Minerva Club in 1914 was shared by Donna Hansen.

In old business, Donna Hansen and Arlene Ostendorf will select a book in memory of Margaret Anderson to be placed in the Wayne Public Library.

The birthday song was sung for Fauneil Bennett, Donna Hansen, Marilyn Wallin and Lois Youngerman.

President DeNaeyer introduced Lyn Messersmith as the guest speaker. Ms Messersmith is a third generation rancher in the Nebraska Sandhills, a freelance writer and newspaper columnist. Lyn talked about women who played a part in history and the opening of the West. She spoke about well-known Sacajawea; Clara Brown, a black slave; Ann Elisa Young, a Brigham Young wife; and Baby Doe Taylor also known as Elizabeth McCourt. After giving members fascinating facts about each person, she recited poems she had written about each one, giving us feeling for that character and the time period.

Lyn generously gave Minerva members copies of the books she has written, including The Heart's Compass, My Sister Mariah, Downwind From the Smoke, Ground Tied and CDs that accompany these books.

The next meeting of Minerva Club will be Monday, Oct. 11 at the home of MaryAnn DeNaeyer at 2 p.m.

Activities continue at Praise Assembly of God Church

On Sunday morning, Oct. 10, the Adult Sunday School class at Praise Assembly of God (taught by Phil Pfaltzgraf) will continue its consideration of Psalm 126 (from the "Songs of Ascents": Psalms 120-134 in the Bible). This week's themes deal with the subject of "Where is God in the midst of captivity?" and also "The Nevertheless Principle." The class meets at 9:30 a.m. in the Fireside Room of the church.

The morning worship service starts at 10:30 a.m. in the Sanctuary with Praise and Worship. During each service at Praise Assembly, there is always time given for prayer for needs of people who are present as well as to listen to what the Lord wants to say to those who are gathered for worship.

Praise Assembly of God Church is a "Pentecostal Church"; and the services are marked by the moving of the Holy Spirit described in the Bible in 1 Corinthians chapters 12 through 14.

Rev. David Stitt, pastor of Praise Assembly, is continuing his series from the book of Nehemiah in the Bible. This week will be sermon #7 in his series on "Rebuilding the Walls."

Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. is a service of worship, teaching, and prayer for healing.

Sunday morning and evening on Oct. 17, Praise Assembly of God will be the host site for some guests from the Assembly of God Church in Grand Island. In both the morning and evening services, these guests will be doing some teaching in the area of the "Gifts of the Holy Spirit." At noon there will be a fellowship meal at the church.

Praise Assembly of God Church is located at 1000 East 10th Street, in Wayne.

Winside Legion Auxiliary to meet

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary of Winside will meet on Monday, Oct. 11 at 5:30 p.m. at the Winside Legion Post.

Pro-life supporters held signs and spent an hour in silent prayer at the corner of Seventh and Main Streets in Wayne. Similar events are held each year throughout the nation on the first Sunday of October.

Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation and Scholarship Ball announces page honorees

The Ak-Sar-Ben Coronation and Scholarship Ball Committee has announced the names of the Pages of the Royal Court for the 2010 Coronation and Scholarship Ball titled "Any Dream Will Do" scheduled for Saturday, October 9, 2010 at the Qwest Center Omaha.

Among those serves as pages is Katherine Paige Christensen, daughter of Bobbi and Phillip

Katherine Christensen

Christensen of Bennington. and granddaughter of Monica and William Loberg of Carroll.

A tradition of the Heartland since 1895, the mission of the Coronation and Scholarship Ball is to promote, recognize and celebrate volunteerism, philanthropy, education, and civic pride. All proceeds raised benefit the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Scholarship Fund.

Eagles auxiliary plans several events

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary met Oct. 4 with Past President Cheryl Henschke presiding over the meeting.

A thank you note was received from the Red Cross for the donation.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) Poker Run was a huge success and thanks were extended to all who attended.

Winners of the MDA Poker Run were Larry Lueders, Vince Hattig and Sandra Gathje. They each donated their winnings back to MDA.

Cheryl reported on the upcoming Watkins Party to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 26 from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Wayne Eagles Club. Products will be available for customers to take home that night. Anyone wishing to purchase Watkins can pick up a form at the club or by calling Cheryl Henschke at (402) 833-5168 and leave a message if there is no answer. Proceeds go toward the Humanitarian Projects.

Cec Vandersnick told the group of the Hunter's Breakfast that will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 30 - 31. Anyone wishing to donate toward the breakfast is asked to contact Cec or the Eagles Club.

There will be a joint meeting following the regular meeting on Monday, Oct. 18.

Members are reminded that meetings now begin at 7 p.m.

Serving at the meeting was Amber Johnson.

Nebraska Association of Teachers of Mathematics Fall Conference

The Nebraska Association of Teachers of Mathematics held its fall conference at the Holiday Inn in Kearney, on Sept. 20. The conference was preceded by a pre-conference on Sept. 19, focusing on Algebraic Thinking.

Monday's conference entitled "The Beauty of Mathematics" began with a welcome from NATM president Kristin Pfabe of Nebraska Wesleyan University. Recognition was given to outgoing board members and special awards were given. Luncheon speaker for the conference was Dr. Michael Starbird, of The University of Texas at Austin, and co-author of the book, The Heart of Mathematics.

Robert Sweetland, a teacher at Wayne State College, presented at the conference. His presentation, "Collaboration for Student and Professional Development" organized interested professional educators to participate in sharing instructional plans and teaching results during the upcoming school year.

The conference was attended by over 200 teachers and pre-service teachers from across the state.

Destination Wayne! service project planned for this week

This Sunday, Oct. 10, at 3 p.m. the Journey Christian Church College Group will be sponsoring a special service project in Wayne America.

College students, high school students, and many adults in the congregation will meet at the church at 3 p.m. They will pray together, and then we will be heading out to Wayne, America looking for places to serve. They will be keeping their eyes open for opportunities to serve those who live in the community. So don't be surprised if someone knocks on your door Sunday afternoon between 3 and 6 p.m. to ask if there is anyway they can serve you.

It can be raking your yard, helping clean something at your house, helping with a project or something as simple as just sitting down and sharing a visit with you if you like.

"This Sunday from 3 to 6 the destination is Wayne America, the projects will be found out as we get into the community looking to serve in anyway needed," said Justin Raulston, Minister of Involvement at Journey Christian Church.

ALLEN HIGH T-SHIRTS

The Girl's Athletic program is selling Allen High School t-shirts. The royal blue or black t-shirts with metallic AHS printed down the side. Youth sizes are available. If you are interested please stop at the school office to view the two styles and sign up to order. Orders will be taken until Oct. 8.

LABELS FOR EDUCATION

Campbell's Labels for Education program has supported schools across the country by providing in exchange for proof of purchase from Campbell products. This year, they are focusing on supporting the arts, athletics and academic programs.

You can help Allen earn free merchandise such as computers, audio/visual equipment, physical education equipment, reference books, musical instruments or even a mini-van, by just collecting the Campbell UPCs and sending them to the school.

Joy Bock is the Allen coordinator for the program. This year's goal for the school is 1000 points and they are asking for the community to help.

ALLEN BOOK CLUB

The Allen Book Club is reading mystery stories in October. Stop by the Senior Center and pick up an Ellery Queen mystery magazine or report on one of your favorite mysteries at the Oct. 16 meeting.

Troupe members of R.E.S.P.E.C.T. 2 worked with Wayne Elementary students on the subject of bullying.

R.E.S.P.E.C.T.2 assemblies held at Wayne schools

Wayne Elementary and Middle Schools featured assemblies by R.E.S.P.E.C.T.2 (Relationship Empowerment for Students, Parents, Educators & Community Through Theatre) on September 29th.

R.E.S.P.E.C.T.2 is a research-based, nonprofit organization that travels to schools and organizations across Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Texas performing plays about violence prevention. They performed previously at Wayne Community Schools in 2006.

Founded in 2001 by child psychologist Dr. Patricia Newman, the troupe has performed over 1,700 plays for over 250,000 students. For more information about R.E.S.P.E.C.T.2, please visit their website, www.respect2all.org.

Grades K - 3 viewed a program titled, "Stop and Think" and grades 4 - 6 saw "Spelling it Out." In both of these programs, actors interacted with students throughout the plays, to educate them about how to identify bullying behaviors and healthy strategies they can use if they are being bullied, or if they see bullying.

"Stop and Think" also addressed emotional regulation; how to "stop and think" when they are feeling intense emotions. Students really enjoyed the programs. They were impressed with the acting and thought the programs were "awesome!"

One student commented that "everyone was GLUED to it." A teacher shared that "ALL my students loved it and learned something from it." Several teachers and parents noted that students remembered and were using the "Stop, Think, How can I help?" strategy that they learned from the play.

Mrs. Pickinpaugh asked her sixth grade students for comments about the play. Here are a few of their quotes. From Will A., Tanner D. and Adam B.: "A whole bunch of people should stand up to the bully, and then the bully will not be so strong." From Tucker and Grayson: "If you are a bystander, distract the target and ask him or her to play a game with you." From Seth Miller: "Mr. Ruhl's Rule - Do what is right."

"Choices," the play presented to Grades 7 and 8, focused on bullying, teen dating violence and alcohol.

The program was introduced by Abbie Hix (FRIENDS President), Tahlia Reynolds (FRIENDS Vice President.) and other members of the FRIENDS Drug Free Youth Group Leadership Team.

The FRIENDS group, which is supported by Wayne United Way, provided part of the funding for the program.

The actors interacted with students to educate them on how to identify situations in which they may feel peer pressure, and demonstrated healthy strategies they can use if they feel pressured to engage in unhealthy behaviors. The actor-educators provided excellent handouts, which are being used for follow up discussion in elementary guidance classes and middle school 212 Time.

"These programs are part of a pro-active approach at Wayne Community Schools to promote a school environment of respect, and to prevent bullying," comments K - 8 Counselor, Joan Sudmann. "In the elementary school, we have Character Connections and in the middle school, we have '212'. The objective is to set a high standard for respectful student behavior and empower students to do the right thing."

'Finishing Grassfed Beef in a Perfect Fashion' seminar set for Norfolk

The Grassfed Exchange and Knox County NE Extension office have organized a seminar based on feedback from the first Grassfed Exchange seminar in February of this year.

This seminar will focus on the specifics of finishing cattle on grass. Attendees will receive hands-on training and teaching from a power packed speaker lineup that consists of well respected producers and scientists in the grassfed industry.

The event will be held at the Northeast Community College Ag Complex in Norfolk, Nebraska, a premier indoor facility. Livestock pens will be available to display and for private treaty grassfed genetics. Attendees will be able to meet producers from around the country, as well see quality grassfed cattle, in person. At the last seminar, The Grassfed Exchange reported attendees from Canada, Mexico and 22 of the 48 states. This seminar will be a similar crowd.

For this seminar, The Grassfed Exchange is bringing in some of the best known scientists, producers and professionals in the grassfed industry. Some of the speakers include:

Anibal Pordomingo, Ph.D.,

Argentinean Agronomist; Doug Gunnink, Owner, Gunnink Forage Institute and former Ag. Extension agent;

Allen Williams, Ph.D., PAS, Founding Partner/Vice President/ The Jacob Alliance, LLC.

The seminar will also include a grassfed beef banquet prepared by Scott Pampuch, a chef who specializes in grassfed beef and local food. Along with grassfed beef, the menu will include vegetables purchased from local farmers in the Norfolk area.

Registration is still available. For more information, visit: www.grassfedexchange.com

The Grassfed Exchange purposes to promote grass-fed beef for the social good of the US, including land, consumers and communities. They also exist to educate both consumers and producers, specifically by promoting the exchange of ideas and developing strategies to increase the value of the grass-fed industry. They also desire to improve genetics for the grass-fed industry, by exchanging proven genetics, while improving the skills of the grass-fed producers through education and the sharing of knowledge.

Days filled with fall activities

It's Sunday evening, and I'm getting sleepy. But I have to work in the morning, and then we hope to go to Norfolk and catch a Lutheran High Northeast JV football game. Luckily, our other grandchildren are all within 45" drive time, but those three in Norfolk take us a little longer!

We have been staying at the Holiday Inn Express because Mike can't do the stairs at Ann's and we have had the pleasure of reconnecting with one of my students from Randolph in the "school nurse" days. It's fun having a familiar name across that desk, or answering the phone when we call to reserve.

Speaking of "handicap access", we were at the annual post-polio reunion this afternoon. It is held at the Field Club in Omaha, which must be the oldest golf course and club house in that city. There are photos on the walls of celebrities, including Bobby Jones.

The food is always delicious, and a couple of guys named Tom and Wes entertain with songs from the 70s, which suit us all just fine. Today, it was Tom and Jana, and they started their set with John Denver, which was all the better for us.

A friend named Julie brought her keyboard to our celebration and we requested a lot of Denver, some Kenny Rogers, and the Carpenters. She complied, but we were so busy meeting and greeting, we didn't always get to enjoy it!

I attended another outdoor wedding last Friday, and it was absolutely beautiful! This weather has us being glad we live in Nebraska again. There was no wind, and the chairs were all set up under big old trees at Hillcrest Country Club, another old club. There were big pink and white balls suspended from the trees, along with white lights. The music was keyboard, violin, cello, and guitar. The bride looks like she could be Barbara Streisand's daughter, so was very photogenic. Best of all, Duncan, our former associate pastor, made the trip back to perform the ceremony, so I got to visit with him.

When we read the Wayne paper lately, we really do wish we were closer; I would love to see that WSC volleyball team; they are knocking everyone out of the race! And it looks like Winside has a good volleyball team, plus a decent football team. The kids who are playing are the offspring of friends of our kids; it doesn't seem possible! I guess if our grandkids are going to high school, those kids must be, too. The last twenty years have gone by in a flash. It always makes us appreciate the time we get to spend with friends and family all the more.

Anyway, out come the jeans and sweatshirts, and let's hope the real Husker football team shows up on Thursday. The volleyball gals always seem to lose one set, but they pull it out. Go Big Red!!!

Livestock Market Report

The Nebraska Livestock Market conducted a fat cattle sale on Friday.

The market was 50¢ lower on steers and heifers and steady on cows. There were 435 head sold.

Strictly choice fed steers, $93 to $94.50. Good and choice steers, $91 to $93. Medium and good steers, $89 to $91. Standard steers, $78 to $82. Strictly choice fed heifers, $92.50 to $94.20. Good and choice heifers, $90 to $92.50. Medium and good heifers, $88 to $90. Standard heifers, $65 to $75.

Beef cows, $50 to $55. Utility cows, $54 to $59. Canner and cutters, $45 to $52. Bologna bulls, $63 to $69.75.

Northeast livestock judging team scores success at Ak-Sar-Ben

Several members of the Northeast Community College Livestock Judging Team brought home awards from the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Judging Contest, held in conjunction with the River City Roundup and Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Exposition in Omaha.

According to Livestock Judging Team Coach Mike Roeber, the contestants placed five classes of cattle, three classes of swine, three classes of sheep, and one class of goats. The contestants also presented eight sets of oral reasons for the contest.

In the Junior College Freshmen Division, Tyler Hansen, a diesel technology - truck major from Laurel, received trophies for placing first in beef judging, third in swine judging, and fifth in placings. The team of Hansen, Morgan Kobs, and transfer major from Blair; Amber Koehn, pre-professional/veterinary major from Clarkson; Tyler Steffen, diversified agriculture major from Crofton, and Stephanie Weinrich, ag transfer major from Wakefield, was awarded a silver platter for finishing second in beef judging, swine judging, sheep and goat judging, oral reasons, and overall.

Other members of the livestock judging team include freshmen Rachel Steffen, animal science major from Crofton; Garrett Neiburg, agronomy major from Blair, and Loren Peterson, ag transfer major from West Point, and sophomores Joslyn Foxhoven, elementary education major from Crofton; Nate Hanson, ag transfer major from Wayne; Justin Nollette, ag transfer major from Nenzel, and Casey Sheets, pre-professional/veterinary major from Sargent.

The sheep sale was held Saturday at the Nebraska Livestock Market.

The market was steady on all classes. There were 143 head sold.

Fat lambs, 130 to 150 lbs., $132 to $138.

Feeder lambs, 40 to 100 lbs., $110 to $140.

Ewes: Good, $60 to $80; medium, $35 to $60; slaughter, $25 to $35.

The dairy cattle sale was held at the Nebraska Livestock Market on Saturday. The market was lower on the 19 head sold.

Crossbred baby calves, $100 to $200; holstein baby calves, $40 to $75.

The feeder pig sale was held Saturday at the Nebraska Livestock Market on Saturday.

The market was lower on the 26 head sold.

20 to 30 lbs., $10 to $15, lower.

Butcher hogs were sold at the Nebraska Livestock Market on Saturday.

Prices were $2 lower on butchers and $7 to $8 lower on sows. There were 100 head sold.

U.S. 1's + 2's, 230 to 260 lbs., $54 to $55; 2's + 3's, 230 to 260 lbs., $53 to $54. 2's + 3's, 260 to 280 lbs., $52.50 to $54; 2's + 3's, 280 to 300 lbs., $50 to $52.50; 3's + 4's, 300 lbs. +, $45 to $50.

Sows — 350 to 500 lbs., $45 to $50. 500 to 650 lbs., $50 to $54.

Boars — $18 to $31.

Champion hog showmen

Alyssa Schmale and Nate Hanson, both of Wayne County, took home honors from the Nebraska State Fair Pig Futurity Show. The 14th annual show was held in conjunction with the Nebraska State Fair. The event was held Sept. 3 in Grand Island. Alyssa won Intermediate showmanship honors, earning her a plaque and a jacket. Nate won his class, as well as having the overall reserve champion gilt. His gilt weighed 286 pounds. He took home a cash prize, plaque and a jacket. Hyatt Frobose judged the contest. He is currently a coach for the judging team at Kansas State.

Home invaders common this time of year

Let's visit a little bit about crickets, lady beetles and other critters that become pests by entering houses in the fall.

Crickets are a critical part of our ecosystem. They feed on a lot of different plants, decaying organic matter and even other dead insects. They are also a valuable food source for other animals such as spiders, birds, and snakes. Millipedes are thin, hard shelled worm-like arthropods with many legs. They feed on organic matter and are efficient recyclers of plant material.

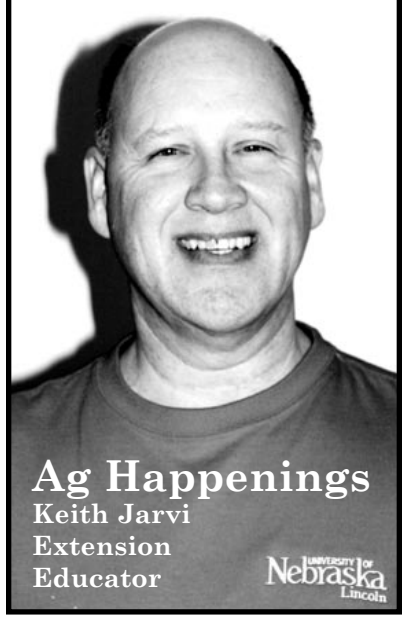

The next most common invader is the Asian lady beetle, which are beneficial for much of the year since they feed on soybean aphids and other harmful insects.

However, at this time of the year, these critters begin to enter buildings to overwinter, and if you happen to have a cricket sneak into your house and start chirping in the middle of the night it can drive you crazy.

Asian lady beetles will congregate in large numbers and if you have a nice overwintering site, they will enter by the hundreds or even thousands. They have a disagreeable odor and can stain areas when you crush them. The good news for 2010 is that soybean aphid numbers were low which will in turn limit the number of lady beetles this fall. Millipedes are less annoying but still will enter your house and dry up into a hard shell for you to clean up.

Any cool snap near freezing will begin to drive these bugs into looking for better quarters, so now is the time to prepare for these annoyances.

Look for any gaps in windows, doors, cracks in foundations, and any other openings which will give easy access. Fill the gaps with foam sealant or any other method that will prevent entry. Outside, if you

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension
Educator

have heavy mulch, boards, and wood piles around the foundation, these make excellent hiding places and areas where these critters can stage up for a home invasion. Remove these hiding areas if you can.

An insecticide "barrier" may be created by spraying the exterior of structures along the foundation with a wide band of about 4-5 feet. Spray about 2 feet up into the foundation as well. Make sure you spray the product to the point where you can see the material running down the foundation to give you extra residual. Keep pets and children away from the area until the surface dries.

You can purchase these barrier insecticides at your local hardware store. Many of the so-called "Home Defense" type products are good choices for a barrier spray. The active ingredients in these products are usually synthetic pyrethroids like cyfluthrin and bifenthrin. Look for these names in small print on the label. If you have ornamental beds and lawns adjacent to the foundation it may be advisable to spray those as well.

One last comment; these products don't last for one year like the advertisements may say. Depending on weather conditions, you may have to spray every two to three weeks until we get a hard freeze.

Good luck on the "home front".

PROCEEDINGS WAYNE BOARD OF EDUCATION SPECIAL MEETING

September 26, 2010
The special meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at the Wayne Middle School, Wayne, NE on Sunday, September 26, 2010 at 6:00 p.m. Notice of the meeting and place of agenda was published in the Wayne Herald. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited. A copy of the Nebraska Open Meetings Act was displayed for the public to read.

The following board members answered roll call: Mrs. Wendy Consoli, Mr. Mark Evetovich, Mr. Rod Garwood, Mr. Ken Jorgensen, Dr. Carolyn Linster, and Dr. Jeryl Nelson, also present Attorney, Mr. Kyle Dahl.

Adoption of Agenda:
Motion by Nelson, second by Garwood to approve the agenda as presented. Motion carried. Roll call vote: Nelson, yes; Garwood, yes; Consoli, yes; Evetovich, yes; Jorgensen, yes; Linster, yes.

Board Work Session:
Tour of Middle School
Discussion of District Facilities and Building Options- The Board discussed different options such as additions to both the Middle School and High School. The Board also needed to decide whether to have the Middle School K-Sor K-6. Grades 7 and 8 would be moved to the High School. Both schools would need additions to the building, which would approximately cost around $4.1 million. This money would come from the Build America Bonds. No decisions were made. They would like to hear more input from teachers and parents.

Adjournment:
Motion by Nelson, second by Consoli to adjourn the Special Board of Education meeting at 8:02 p.m. Motion carried. Roll call vote: Garwood, yes; Consoli, yes; Evetovich, yes; Jorgensen, yes; Linster, yes; Nelson, yes.

The next regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be held on Monday, October 11, 2010 at 5:00 p.m. at Wayne High School.
