Time capsule opens up old memories from 25 years ago

By JOSHUA STUHL
Of The Herald

In conjunction with the centennial celebration, a 25-year dedication capsule of memories and Wayne State College paraphernalia was unearthed on Friday, Sept. 24.

Moments after the dedication of the rejuvenated commons area and the Wayne State 100th birthday celebration – the finale of the centennial committee's celebratory plans – the time capsule was removed from its resting place and the contents examined.

Marcus Schlichter, college archivist, related that the contents "were remarkably well preserved." The capsule was sealed inside of a burial vault, allowing the contents to age relatively well.

"We didn't want to make a huge fuss about the time capsule, mostly because we were concerned that the contents wouldn't be presentable," Schlichter said.

The capsule, buried on the west side of the Benthack building during the fall semester of 1985, contained T-shirts, photographs, newspapers clippings, and memorial material that commemorated the 75th anniversary of the college. The 25-year span was chosen so that the capsule would be opened during the 100th anniversary of the college.

Phyllis Conner, executive director of Wayne State College's Foundation, related, "a centennial time-capsule is being planned and will be opened in 2060." The contents are, as yet, undecided. Marcus Schlichter, who is also on the new time capsule committee, said that the time capsule will likely include T-shirts, news clippings, commemorative objects and centennial-related objects.

The timing of the capsule's opening was no mere coincidence, Schlichter related.

"The capsule was planned to be opened during the centennial festivities when it was buried. Time capsules allow us to view a moment in the past," much like a photograph, "in this case the capsule reveals what life was like on campus in 1985."

Dean Jacobs, the Student Senate President of 1985, wrote a letter for the time capsule. It was also written for the future generation, the current students, to reflect upon and learn from.

School board opts for consolidation to two buildings

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

Steps were taken by members of the Wayne Community Board of Education during Monday's meeting to consolidate the three Wayne schools into two buildings.

Jay Spearman spoke to the board on the process of issuing Build America Bonds as part of the stimulus package to pay for additions to both the current Middle School and High School buildings.

The board will hold a public hearing at its Monday, Nov. 8 meeting for the purpose of allowing community input on issuing the bonds for approximately $4.5 million to finance the renovation/building project.

Discussion for the proposed consolidation of the buildings came about after a facilities study earlier this year indicated major problems with the elementary school building, including meeting Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements.

The bonds are being issued for a Qualified Capital Purpose Undertaking through the Economic Recovery Act, and the district will be able to realize a savings in interest on the bonds.

It is anticipated that over the 30-year life of the bonds, the cost to property owners will be 5.2 cents per $100 of taxable valuation.

The board will make a final determination on whether or not to proceed with the Build America Bonds following the Nov. 8 public hearing. All paperwork for the bonds needs to be completed before Dec. 31, 2010.

Based on the outcome of the public hearing and the board's final action in regard to the Build America Bonds, the board is considering the consolidation of the school district facilities into two buildings, a K-6 building at the site of the current Middle School and a 7-12 facility at the site of the current high school.

Superintendent Mark Lenihan presented information to the board on the positive

Baseball back at Wayne High

The Wayne Board of Education voted Monday to bring baseball back to its high school athletic program, beginning with the spring of 2011 season.

After considerable debate and comments from nearly all the board members, the vote was 5-1 to re-instate baseball as a two-year provisional program at Wayne High School and revisit the issue at the end of the 2011-12 school year. Board member Rod Garwood cast the vote against the proposal.

Board member Ken Jorgensen said he was in favor of bringing baseball back to the high school and "giving the kids back what was taken away a generation ago."

Baseball was discontinued as a varsity sport in 1983, but community members interested in restarting the program came before the board at its August meeting to request that the sport be brought back.

The Wayne Baseball Association will assist with the program by providing uniforms, the field and other needed materials for the program.

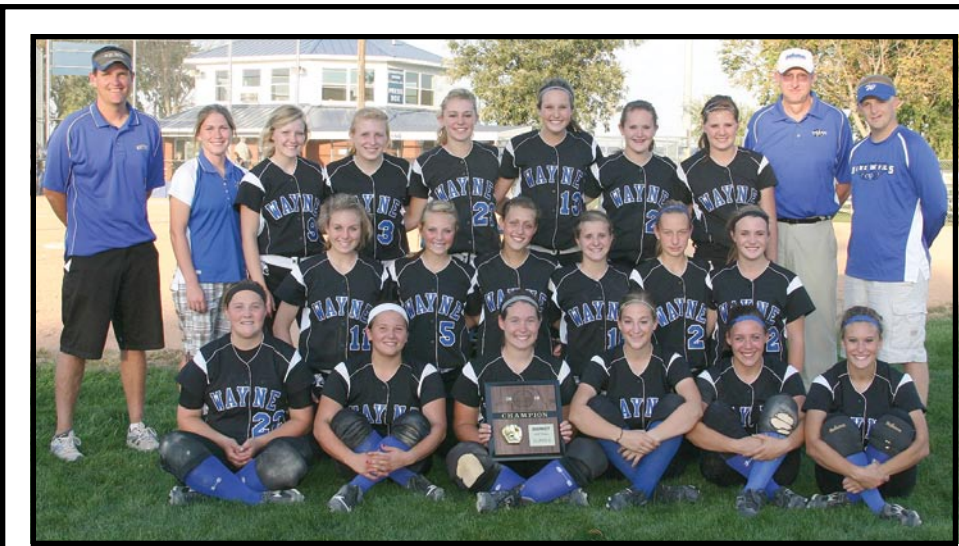

and negative aspects of the consolidation in a PowerPoint presentation.

Daryl Schrunck, elementary school principal, said that as long as the three S's – safety, space and staffing – were adequately addressed, he would be in favor of the consolidation.

During Monday's meeting, the board also heard reports on several new programs and services available to the students at Wayne Community Schools.

PMC initiates joint effort for successful Diversion Program

Created in September of 2009, the Wayne County Diversion Program was designed to work with youth under the age of 21 years, who were charged with a misdemeanor such as MIP/MIC, theft, possession of an illegal substance, trespassing, or other minor crimes.

The program was started by Jill Belt, LMHP, in conjunction with Dr. Benjamin J. Martin, Clinical Director; Mike Pieper, Wayne County Attorney; Lance Webster, Wayne Chief of Police; Leroy Janssen, Wayne County Sheriff; Lori Hartlett, Wayne Probation Officer, Steve Sherer and KimBerly Hansen, Clerk of the Wayne County Court. The program was designed to provide youth with a 'second chance,' have their charges dismissed and possibly defray a loss of scholarships and employment opportunities, and maintain a clean criminal record.

"Once a juvenile is charged with a misdemeanor, he or she is given the opportunity to complete the diversion program if he or she is under the age of 21 years, is a first-time offender, and the charge is not a charge of violence," Belt said.

According to Belt, the maximum time limit for any youth in the diversion program is 90 days. Each participant is expected to complete a drug and alcohol evaluation or class, have a curfew, and be restricted from drug and/or alcohol use. Participants must present good conduct, have no affiliation with gang activity, maintain passing grades and respect the personal property and rights of others.

They are also subject to random drug screens, community service, and a search of personal property. If determined to be necessary, they must complete other multiple classes as well.

The cost of diversion is $250 (non-refundable), court costs of $49 and the costs incurred for additional classes. Those that successfully complete the requirements of diversion are rewarded with the charges in their case being dismissed.

In 12 months this program has served 124 juveniles that have been charged with a misdemeanor in Wayne County. Eight youth failed the program and have had to reappear in court. Most of those participating in the diversion program were charged with Minor in Possession.

If you are interested in this diversion program, please contact Belt, LMHP, CSW, Diversion Program Coordinator, at jbelt@providence-medical.com, or call (402) 375-3800.

City Council Meetings

Regular City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at Third and Pearl Streets.

Wayne Power Plant Cooling Tower Project

In 2009, federal stimulus funding for energy conservation was made available to states and communities for projects that reduce energy usage. Gene Hansen prepared a proposal to replace our old steel outdoor radiators with a new cooling tower that would drain back into an underground tank so the water in the old outside radiators wouldn't have to be heated all winter. The estimated savings in heat costs would be $50,000 per year. The estimated total cost to tear out the old equipment and install the new tower is $600,000.

The council approved Gene's proposal and we submitted the project for a $250,000 federal stimulus funding grant and were approved. The required design and funding paper work is now being prepared by an engineering firm. When that is complete the equipment will be ordered and installed next year.

Sales Tax Capital Projects Budget

When the voters approved the one cent local option sales tax in November 2008, the council reviewed a list of proposed capital projects that the citizens' steering committee prepared and added projects proposed by city departments.

The total cost of all the projects is more than the estimated $4.3 million that the tax is expected to bring in over the 15 year period the voters approved.

This is the second year the city council has prepared a sales tax capital projects budget to determine which of the capital projects they believe would best serve the community.

A review and specific council action to approve this capital projects budget is on the council agenda for next Tuesday's council meeting. When the council approved the city's 2010-2011 operating budget at the hearing in September, this additional capital projects budget was not referenced specifically so we are asking the council to act separately on the capital projects budget.

The budget as proposed generally reflects the thoughts of the original citizens' steering committee. Comments from the public are welcome as this represents financing for some expensive and long term capital projects. This budget does not mean the projects are approved, but it begins setting aside funding to complete projects when the time comes and the council votes to purchase or build them.

A copy of this sales tax capital projects budget is available on the city website at www.wayne.org

All the teachers presented examples of the positive behaviors that have come about since the program's implementation.

The board also approved the purchase of a 2011 Ford Expedition and two 2011 Ford 12-passenger vans. The benefits of these vehicles, as well as the new requirements which allow vans to carry a maximum of 10 passengers and a driver, were discussed.

The Board of Education will next meet in regular session on Monday, Nov. 8 at 5 p.m. at Wayne High School.

The yearlong celebration culminated with the opening of the time capsule and commons christening.

Over a year before the anniversary observance began, a committee made arrangements and prepared not only for celebrations, but also for a centennial book to be published by WDG Communications with the assistance and insight of Professor Emeritus Kent Blaser. The committee also had a video with alumni interviews created and had a logo creation contest.

Blue Devils take district, No. 1 seed

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Going to state is a big deal, no matter what sport you happen to be playing.

Coaching a team into the state tournament is also an outstanding accomplishment, one that never gets old for Wayne High softball coach Rob Sweetland.

After his Blue Devils team finished off a 12-1 dismantling of West Point Central Catholic in the C-3 district finals Friday at the Wayne Softball Complex, the leader of Wayne's eighth district champion in nine seasons said the accomplishment still isn't lost on him.

"I told the coaches after the game that this doesn't get old," he said. "The girls have played great all year and they really deserve it."

He wondered, though, if his players really understood the level of the accomplishment they achieved on an unseasonably-warm fall afternoon on their home field.

"Only six teams out of 40 get to win districts, and it's become kind of expected here," he said. "I wish the kids could realize what kind of accomplishment this really is."

Of course, one could expect his players to miss the meaning after breezing through a district where they gave up just one run in 18 innings while plating 23, more than half coming in the championship game.

The Blue Devils had a rather long wait before the finals, as the Bluejays had to go nine innings before edging Logan View/Scribner-Snyder 2-1. While the wait was a long one – the game started almost an hour behind schedule – it was worth the wait for the top-seeded team.

"We were anxious and wanted to get on the field, but we knew that the longer (WPCC) played, the more energy they were using," Sweetland said. "We'd be ready to go no matter when it started."

Wayne's offense jumped on the Bluejays right away, as Sweetland tried a lineup that was different from the one he had used through much of the season.

who leads the team in home runs with five, batted in the leadoff position and got Wayne's offense going quickly in the first inning with a leadoff single, part of a 2-for-4 day for the junior. She scored on a single by pitcher Cassidy Miller, who later came home on Lindsay Frahm's single.

Wayne added three more runs in the next frame, with Jalyn Zeiss scoring on a wild pitch and Megan Hoffart coming home on a single by Fehringer, who later stole second and scored from there on Emily Leeper's groundout.

The Bluejays, who had been one of six teams in 28 games to score on the Blue Devils, pushed a run across in the third inning on an RBI single by Bethany Stratman.

Wayne followed that up, though, by picking apart the Bluejays defense with five hits, leading to a seven-run effort that helped Wayne end the game early on the 10-run rule.

"They've seen Cassidy a lot, so they were standing in there confident," Sweetland said of the Bluejays' batters. "The run they scored was after a walk and two hits, and with our defense playing as well as they have that's about the only people have been able to score on us."

While a lot of focus has been on the pitching of Miller, who has thrown six no-hitters this season, the defense – which committed no errors in three district games – made some outstanding plays

Devils can still get in

It's a busy week, so here's a few quick snippets of thought:

– Previously, I said that Wayne would need to beat Pierce to get to the playoffs.

Turns out, my math might be wrong.

Friday night's battle with Madison may end up being the game that determines Wayne's postseason fate. A win over the winless Dragons, and the Blue Devils should find themselves in the playoffs.

Using this week's updated playoff point totals, Wayne would be the No. 15 seed in the East bracket, putting them on the road at No. 2 Ashland-Greenwood. Norfolk Catholic may be a possible rematch, as they are the No. 3 seed. There is also the chance Wayne would wind up playing the No. 1 seed, Milford, on the road.

Still, a win over Pierce would be a huge lift for the team. But, first, the Devils must slay the Dragons.

– Conference realignment may be finding its way in this part of the state on the high school level.

Officials from the Mid-State Conference have talked about the possibility of expanding the eight-team conference, and about 10 schools in the area have been contacted to see what interest they might have in joining the conference.

The conference added Wayne after Stanton left for the East Husker Conference in 2001. How the conference looks by the 2011-2012 school year will be interesting to watch.

– Congratulations to the Wayne High cross-country teams, who pulled off their first-ever sweep of Mid-State Conference championships last week.

The boys are going to be a serious contender for a state title next week, and the girls are getting healthy and should be in the top half of the team race at Kearney as well. With girls golf and softball competing at state this week, it's shaping up to be a great fall for Blue Devil athletics.

– I know there was a collective feeling of disappointment among the Wayne State faithful last week after the volleyball team lost its first two games of the season and, obviously, the No. 1 national ranking that they earned last week.

But remember, this is an outstanding volleyball team that is going to make a deep run into the postseason. With the 16-0 start they had, a regional appearance is all but assured for this team. Even more important – while being the No. 1 team in the country is a nice honor at any time of the year, the only time being No. 1 REALLY matters is at the end of the year, and that's the No. 1 this team wants most.

– The words "Play Ball" will be coming a little sooner next spring now that the Wayne Board of Education has voted to add baseball beginning next spring.

It's a great opportunity for those kids who'd like to play baseball in the spring and summer, but I'm concerned about the short-term impact this will have on golf, which has traditionally been a very solid sport in Wayne; and track and field, which has seen an increase in numbers in recent years.

Wayne's future enrollment numbers look good, which may have made for a lesser impact on those two sports than with the current enrollment at the district. While both golf and track will see fewer athletes in the short term, it will open up opportunities for kids who either want to focus on baseball or one of the other sports.

Here are this week's picks. For details, check out the video at www.mywaynews.com:

COLUMBUS – The Wayne girls golf team placed fourth at the Nebraska State Golf Tournament, held Monday and Tuesday at Quail Run in Columbus.

'Cats first road trip as nation's No. 1 not a pleasant one Wayne State's stay at the top of Div. II volleyball was a short one.

The Wildcats suffered a pair of tough road losses to ranked conference foes over the weekend, marking their first and second defeats of the season after a school record-setting 16-0 start.

While the losses were disappointing, Kneifl said the team has everything in perspective, including its ranking.

"A lot of people made a lot out of our being No. 1, and it was a nice honor for the team, but we knew throughout the course of the season that, in this league, it's very tough to go without a loss," he said. "It was as tough a road trip as you could get, but I thought we played really well at times and did some good things."

Before their first road trip as the nation's top-ranked team, the team had to deal with the news that the grandfather of All-American middle blocker Jennifer Hefner had passed away. Hefner went home to be with her family, and the team traveled to Mankato, Minn., not knowing if she would be able to play that weekend.

Hefner's parents made arrangements for her to fly back after spending time with family, arriving less than two hours before Friday's match, a 25-17, 17-25, 35-33, 25-23 loss at No. 16 Minnesota State.

"She flew in about an hour and a half before the game," Kneifl said of his senior leader. "We weren't expecting her to be there on Friday, but her parents found a way to get her there and she did the best she could."

Hefner's situation had an impact on the team, Kneifl said, and they rallied around their teammate.

"Our kids are close and really care about each other, and they felt for Jen," he said. "There are things more important than volleyball, and whatever time Jen needed

Wildcats come from behind, escape Mary with 33-28 win

BISMARCK, N.D. — Frederick Bruno hauled in a 34-yard touchdown reception from quarterback Evan Johnson with :45 left to give Wayne State College a dramatic 33-28 win over University of Mary.

The Wildcats broke a scoreless tie in the second period when Nick Bell booted a 19-yard field goal to give Wayne State a 3-0 lead. The Marauders responded on the ensuing drive when Craig Bagnell found Tyler Steffan on a 65-yard scoring strike, giving the home team a 7-3 that was cut to a single point with Bell's 28-yard field goal late in the half.

Mary scored on the first series of the second half on a 31-yard touchdown run by Bo Cole, but the Wildcats pulled back to within a point on their first series when Johnson and Bruno hooked up on a 20-yard scoring connection to cap an eight-play, 74-yard drive. The Wildcats got the ball back again after a Mary punt and took their first lead of the game on the next series when Johnson found Chris Schultz on a slant route for a 30-yard touchdown pass.

It looked like the Wildcats would put it away on the first play of the fourth quarter when Johnson found Mitch Montgomery on a 51-yard scoring pass, making it 27-14 with 14:50 to go. But Mary rallied, getting a five-yard run by Jamal Lomax and putting together a big time-consuming drive to take a 28-27 lead with 1:46 left on Bagnell's four-yard run.

The Wildcats had one last shot in them, though. Johnson marched the Wildcats down the field, finding Kevin Paulsen on four consecutive passes to get Wayne State to Mary's 34-yard line. On the next play, Johnson found Bruno, who broke several tackles and sprinted down the sideline for the winning touchdown. Mary made one last desperate comeback, but Richard Daniel sacked Bagnell and forced a fumble that was recovered by Kyle Bertelsen to seal the win.

Wayne State finished with 483 yards of total offense, with Johnson throwing for 387 yards on 28-of-37 passing. Paulsen was the top receiver for the Wildcats with 10 grabs for 119 yards.

Wayne State, 5-1 overall and 4-1 in the NSIC is back home Saturday for a 1 p.m. matchup against Concordia-St. Paul.

Following Wayne in fifth place was Doniphan-Trumbull at 803 followed by Wood River (812), Valentine (815), Omaha Brownell-Talbot (841), Crofton (843), Chadron (849), Tri County (854), Fullerton (858), Battle Creek (874), Lincoln Lutheran (926) and Kimball (928).

Doniphan-Trumbull's Danielle Lemek set a new Nebraska high school girls golf state tournament record with a 36-hole, 2-under par 142. That record is all-class, marking the first time a girl has shot under par for the tournament at a state meet.

Wayne did not have a medal winner in the top 15. During day one action, Taylor Burke led the way with a 95 while Katlin Potter carded a 96 and Brittney Peterson, 98. Burgandy Roberts finished the round at 105 and Hannah McCorkindale shot a 110.

In final round action for the Blue Devils Tuesday, Peterson led the way with a 95 while Burke carded a 96. Potter finished at 104 and McCorkindale 107, while Roberts tallied a 111. There were 96 girls taking part in this year's state tournament.

"I am very pleased with our results," coach Josh Johnson said. "I was hoping there was a chance we could break the 800 mark, and we did. The wind was tough but the girls hung in there. Everyone contributed to the team's success."

Wayne returns its entire team in 2011, as all five girls are juniors.

Lady Bears sweep Elkhorn Valley

The Laurel-Concord/Coleridge volleyball team improved to 18-6 on the season with a three-game sweep of Elkhorn Valley, winning 25-18, 25-21, 25-20.

Coach Patti Cunningham said Tuesday's win was an important one for her team, which is trying to position itself for a high seed in defense of its NENAC tournament title.

"This was an important win for us because of the conference standings," she said. "Elkhorn Valley played great defense, which made us work hard. It was rewarding to see us work to finish out all three sets."

Amy Pritchard had a big night at the net, leading the team with 16 kills. She also had six digs on defense.

Jade Cunningham added 13 kills and 21 set assists, along with three blocks, four aces and seven digs. Mandy Nelsen had 15 assists, seven kills and five digs; Audrey Kastrup led the defense with 16 digs and Leanna Gubbels had two kills and two assists.

behind her, including an amazing dive by Zeiss on a ground ball deep in the hole. The freshman shortstop snared the ball, jumped up and threw out the leadoff batter in the fourth inning.

"That play and Kristin going to her backhand a couple of times, those were great plays," Sweetland said. "Little things like that are what help win championships, and we just need to keep playing that way."

The Blue Devils finished the district final with 11 hits, including two each by Fehringer, Miller, Frahm and Victoria Kranz. Fehringer scored three times, while Miller and Zeiss both plated twice.

Wayne opened the tournament Thursday with a pair of easy wins, shutting out Tekemah-Herman 4-0 and blanking Logan View/Scribner-Snyder 7-0.

In the first game, Miller threw a one-hit shutout, striking out 13. Hoffart had three hits and Fehringer added a pair of hits.

In the second game, Miller struck out 10 and scattered two hits to get Wayne into the district finals. Frahm and Leeper each had two-run singles for the Blue Devils, who picked up their 21st shutout in 28 wins this season.

Emily Leeper lays down a bunt for Wayne during district play. The Blue Devils have the top seed for this week's Class C State Softball Championships in Hastings.

Frahm — who will be going to state for the fourth time — feels this year's team has the tools to win it all after coming up one game short in a runner-up finish to Friend.

"We have a really strong defense, and our offense is pretty solid," she said. "I have a lot of faith in this team. It's one of the teams I've enjoyed the most, and the girls know what coach expects and we push each other in practice."

Wayne goes into the tournament as the top seed, but Sweetland knows it's still a matter of winning four games to claim the school's third state title.

"The seeding is just a number, and we still have to go in and try to win four games," he said. "If we play clean and play great defense, I think we have a chance."

"Our girls are getting more confident and understanding situations better, and I think we have all the ingredients we need to put it together over three days," he added.

Blue Devils get sweep of Crofton

Coach Joyce Hoskins said the Wayne High volleyball team played up to its capabilities Thursday night as they made quick work of visiting Crofton in the team's final home game of the season.

Using a balanced net attack and solid defense, the Blue Devils improved to 16-8 on the season with a 25-18, 25-21, 25-15 win over the visiting Warriors.

"I thought we went out and played at our level," Hoskins said of the team's win. "I think we're a very well-balanced hitting team right now, and that makes it hard to defend."

The Blue Devils showed good balance at the net, both offensively and defensively. Elisa Robinson had 13 kills, Katie Hoskins had eight, Ellie Ehrisman put down seven and Erica Sebade added three. Defensively, Hoskins had five blocks, Elle Schramm put down three and Sebade had two.

Hoskins had six ace serves and Robinson and Rachel Gilliland each had three. In the digs department, Cassie Harm led the way with 11 digs and Hoskins added 10.

"Cassie has really done a nice job for us at libero," Hoskins said. "She really passes the ball well and gets us into our system and helps get the offense going. She's really become more consistent for us, and makes it a lot easier for our setters and hitters."

Wayne sweeps Mid-State cross country titles

WAUSA — For the first time since joining the Mid-State Conference, Wayne High swept the conference titles in boys and girls cross country.

It was the boys' first title since claiming top honors during their first year in the conference in 2001, while the girls were Mid-State champions for the first time in the school's 10-year association. And nobody was happier about the achievement than coach Rocky Ruhl.

"It hasn't happened for quite a few years, so it was a thrill for both teams to accomplish it at the same time," he said. "I was happy with how the kids ran. They came through and followed our game plan and did what they needed to do to come out on top."

The Blue Devil boys dominated the conference field at Rolling Hills Country Club and placed all four scoring runners in the top six to finish with 14 points, well ahead of runner-up Boone Central and defending conference champion Norfolk Catholic. They were led by Quentin Jorgensen, who was the boys medalist with a time of 17:08.

"Going into the meet, we were concerned because we didn't run as well as we had wanted at the UNK meet," Ruhl said. "We had a race plan, and I thought the kids followed that plan and had an excellent meet and competed well. I thought we ran one of our best meets as a team."

Zach Thomsen (third), Seth Onderstal (fourth) and Jacob Pulfer (sixth) all finished in the top 10 for the Blue Devils, while Andy Bernal was 10th and Joe Dunklau placed 13th.

The Wayne girls edged Boone Central by four points, 35-39, and had three runners in the top 10. Angie Nelson (fifth) and Tia Jech (seventh) led the way, while Megan Stalling continued to come back from earlier injuries and posted a 10th-place finish.

"Megan did a good job taking 50 seconds off her last time, so she made some great strides that are going to make us tougher as a team and run in a tighter pack," Ruhl said. "Martha is also starting to get back to more of midseason form and getting to where she can compete, and that's going to make us tough."

Emily Nelson placed 13th in conference, Dolce Torres was 25th and Mitiku finished 27th.

THURSDAY'S MEET ALSO served as the Bloomfield Invitational, and the Blue Devils were runaway winners there as well, finishing 39 points ahead of runner-up Pierce. The Wayne girls finished third behind Crofton and Lindsay Holy Family/Newman Grove.

Runners from Laurel-Concord/Coleridge and Winside both competed in the Bloomfield portion of the meet, getting their final competition in before this week's district meet back at Rolling Hills Country Club.

Katie Jacobsen was the lone area runner to medal, coming home with a third-place medal for her time of 15:44.

"Katie looked fierce finishing behind some tough competition," coach Megan Meyer said. "I can see her finishing first or second at districts this week."

Meyer felt her runners all competed well in the final tune-up before districts.

"Bloomfield is one of our toughest meets that we compete in, and I felt that we competed well with the Class C schools," she said. "Sammie (Camenzind) has been improving her times, and if she continues to improve she has an opportunity to make it to state. Isaac (Haahr) just missed making it to state by one spot last year, so hopefully that will fuel his fire and he can make it this year."

Winside's boys and girls finished ninth and 11th, respectively, and coach Jennifer Kesting felt her runners continued to show improvement heading into this week's district competition.

"Natasha (Jensen) ran a good race, and I'm very hopeful for her at districts," she said. "If she can just let go and run hard, she will do really well at districts. Monica (Marino) continues to improve, and I was very proud of how Selena (Finn) and Tina (Nelson) ran their races, and Bianca (Marino) continues to finish better."

"John (Hansen) has been our leader all year, and Colin (Hansen) is right behind him and put in a stellar performance. Alex (Davis) ran his best all season and was in really good form, and David (Greunke) has taken five minutes off his time from the beginning of the season," she added.

District action is this Thursday, with the top three teams and top 15 runners qualifying for next week's state meet in Kearney.

Ruhl feels both Wayne teams should qualify for state, but will be facing some tough competition in their meet at Albion.

"On paper, both teams should qualify for state, but we have to run the race to make that happen," he said. "There are some teams that are right in there with us, so they'll be some good competition and they'll be out to get us."

Blue Devils end three-game skid, 35-6

CENTRAL CITY – The Wayne High football team was in need of a big road win to keep its playoff hopes alive, and that's precisely what it got Friday.

The Blue Devils scored on the first possession of the night, utilized several big plays and ran away from host Central City for a 35-6 win that put Wayne back at .500 and kept their hopes of a second straight postseason bid alive heading into Friday's home finale against district foe Madison.

The Blue Devils' offense, which had struggled in three straight losses, seemed to get some of its mojo back as it finished the night with 380 yards in total offense.

"Everybody had a good night, and we really kind of mixed things up," coach Rich Rethwisch said.

The Blue Devils scored on their opening possession, finishing it off with a 21-yard scoring strike from Gage Rethwisch to Justin Anderson.

Senior Jacob Zeiss scored back-to-back touchdowns in the first half, including a four-yard run late in the first period and a nifty 26-yard scamper later in the first half to give the Blue Devils a 21-6 halftime lead.

"Jake had a great night overall," Rethwisch said. "He ran very hard for us, scored a couple of touchdowns, had over 100 yards receiving and had 16 tackles. That's a busy night."

The Blue Devils continued to attack in the second half. Luke Trenhaile found the end zone on a 15-yard run, and Rethwisch connected for his second touchdown of the night in the fourth quarter with a 13-yard score to Trent Beza.

Rethwisch said the offense did a good job attacking Central City's blitzing defense.

"The offensive line played pretty well and did well on the trap, and they came at us pretty hard and did a lot of shooting and we guessed right a couple of times and had a couple of game-breakers," he said.

The Blue Devils face a must-win situation Friday at home against the 0-6 Dragons, who come to Wayne after nearly upsetting undefeated Battle Creek, losing 28-21.

"They're really a scrappy bunch and are very physical, and they'll really get after us, so we're going to need a good week of practice," Rethwisch said. "They run the ball hard and come right at people, and we're going to have to shore that up and really battle inside. If we can hit like we did Friday, I think we'll do well."

Allen netters win one at Wisner-Pilger tourney

Allen lost three tough sets to Hartington in volleyball action Thursday, then came back from a couple of tough losses to get a win in the Wisner-Pilger Invitational on Saturday.

On Thursday, the Lady Eagles played Hartington close, but were swept in three sets, losing 25-20, 25-20, 25-22.

"Our girls are making improvements, but we need to find a way over the top," coach Cheryl Greve said.

Bentley Hingst had five kills, 23 digs and two ace serves to lead the Lady Eagles. Megan Black had three blocks and Brittany Sullivan led the team with six kills. Hannah Finnegan had 13 assists.

Allen defeated Hartington in JV and "C" team action. The JV team won 21-14, 21-19, while the "C" team won 11-15, 15-6, 15-3.

The Lady Eagles were handled easily by the host Gators in the first tournament game Saturday, losing 25-10, 25-5. They fell to Neligh-Oakdale in three sets, 25-22, 9-25, 25-10, but came back to beat West Point-Beemer, 10-25, 25-18, 25-17.

"We had been struggling all day with consistency, and finally (in the West Point match) the girls picked their heads up and refused to lose," Greve said.

Lindsey Jones had a good game in the loss to Neligh, recording eight assists, six digs, five blocks and four ace serves. Hingst and Sullivan each had five kills and Finnegan had six set assists. Vanessa Klug had six digs.

Against West Point, Hingst and Sullivan each had four kills, and Finnegan and Jones each added three. Both Jones and Megan Black had four blocks, while Hingst had six digs and Sullivan and Jones had five each. Finnegan and Jones each had seven assists.

Wildcat golfers in ninth after fall NSIC tourney

The Wayne State women's golf team improved 24 shots Sunday during the second round of the fall portion of the 2010-11 Northern Sun Conference Women's Golf Championship, played last weekend at the Hillcrest Golf Course in St. Paul, Minn.

The Wildcats are in ninth place following the first portion of the conference meet with a team score of 758. The final 36 holes of the NSIC Championship will be played next spring at the Brandon Golf Course in Brandon, S.D.

Augustana leads the way in the team standings after 36 holes with a team score of 615, 46 strokes ahead of second place Concordia-St. Paul.

Wayne State's top scorer after the first segment is Valentine junior Katie Isom, shooting rounds of 90 and 84 for a 174 to tie for 33rd overall. Next is Paige Barry at 187 after shooting rounds of 101 and 86 to sit in 50th place overall.

Other Wayne State scores include Kristen Schwasinger with 190 in 52nd place, Kaylee Faltys shot a 207 and sits in 60th place, and Tabitha Evans came in with a 217 and is 61st place overall.

Wildcats

and the Wildcats never got closer than three points in the first set as Minnesota State pounded out 19 kills. Wayne State came back strong in the second set and used 16 kills with just two attack errors to hit .280 and even the match.

The third set was pivotal, as the Wildcats held a 24-22 lead after a Tali Fredrickson kill and were one point away from a 2-1 match lead. But the Mavericks took advantage of a pair of Wildcat errors, then traded points back and forth before back-to-back kills gave the Mavericks the match lead. They never trailed in the fourth set, and while the Wildcats battled back to tie the fourth set at 22-22, Minnesota State was able to close out the match and hand Wayne State its first loss of the year.

Hefner had 16 kills for the Wildcats, followed by Mindy Moody with 12 and Fredrickson with 10. Libero Leigh Connot had 31 digs, while Fredrickson added 27. Diedra Artz dished out 46 set assists.

On Saturday, third-ranked Southwest Minnesota State avenged an earlier loss to the Wildcats by coming back to post a five set win, 20-25, 25-23, 19-25, 25-19 and 15-7.

Winside's offense shut down by No. 1 Bulldogs

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

CREIGHTON – There is never a good time for a football team to have a letdown.

The worst possible time for one, though, might be when you are playing the top-ranked team in the state on their home field.

Winside came out flat Friday night, and the host Creighton Bulldogs took full advantage, shutting down the Wildcats' high-octane offense and coming away with a 36-0 win in a key district matchup that puts Creighton in prime position to earn a district championship and an automatic bid into the state playoffs.

Coach Ryan Olander said Friday's effort was frustrating for everybody involved on the Winside end of the field.

"We didn't have a good week of practice this week and had a lack of focus, and it showed tonight," he said. "We didn't play well tonight, and we have to get things shored up for Osmond next week."

The Bulldogs scored on their first possession, with Dexter Tyler's one-yard plunge breaking the ice early. Tyler would score two more times in the first half, including a 69-yard gallop after the Wildcats had pinned Creighton deep in their own territory, to build a 20-0 halftime lead.

Winside, meanwhile, could not get anything going on offense. The Wildcats went three-and-out on each of their first three possessions, and Creighton's defense keyed on the Wildcats' workhorse, senior Anthony Nelson, who had already rushed for more than 1,100 yards and 20 touchdowns this season.

The Bulldogs frustrated the senior back, who was kept out of the end zone and limited to 88 yards on 24 carries.

"We were all frustrated," Olander said. "They came out with something we hadn't seen on film and weren't ready for it tonight. We have to be able to put the ball in the end zone, and we weren't able to do that."

Ethan Thies and Forrest Jones each had 11 total tackles for the 5-1 Wildcats, who travel to Osmond Friday for another key district matchup.

Wayne State's Darian Mochizuki makes a defensive stop for the Wildcats in Sunday's 3-0 loss to Minnesota State.

Wildcat soccer team drops two at home

Wayne State's women's soccer team continued to struggle in conference play, dropping a pair of home matches over the weekend.

On Sunday, the Wildcats fell to Minnesota State 3-0 at the Wayne State soccer complex.

Minnesota State got on the board in the 32nd minute when Brittany Henry scored from eight yards out. Two minutes later, Henry made it 2-0 when she knocked in a header off the corner kick by Cassie Weik. Jessie Audas scored in the 77th minute to close out the scoring.

The Mavericks outshot Wayne State 22-6 in the match. Wayne State's goalkeeper Emily Walker was solid in between the pipes for the Wildcats, making nine saves in the match, including eight saves in the opening half. Wayne State was led offensively by Macy Hagen, who had two shots on goal.

On Friday, the Wildcats settled for a 1-1 draw against Southwest Minnesota State.

The Wildcats outshot the Mustangs 32-10 in the contest, and tied the match in the 57th minute when Alexa Romek got her first collegiate goal on a header off a corner kick. The Wildcats were the aggressor in the second half, outshooting the Mustangs 14-3, and had several scoring chances, including a great opportunity with less than four minutes to regulation. Wildcat senior Megan Dias got free on a breakaway, but her shot bounced off the right post, denying Wayne State the go-ahead goal.

Wayne State outshot SMSU 7-4 in overtime and had three corner kicks, but neither team could break the tie. Wayne State outshot SMSU 32-10, and Walker had three saves in the game.

Wayne State used a first half goal by Dias, her team-leading eighth goal of the season, to lift the Wildcats in a 1-0 win over York College in non-conference action Wednesday afternoon in York. Dias who snuck the ball past the York College goalkeeper off an assist from Norfolk freshman Kayli Hopper late in the first half for the game's only goal. Walker recorded her second shutout of the season between the pipes for the Wildcats.

Wayne State, 4-4-4 overall and 0-3-4 in the NSIC, will play their final two home games of the season this weekend, hosting Bemidji State Saturday at 11 a.m. and Minnesota Duluth Sunday at 1 p.m.

Trojans split triangular

Wakefield's volleyball team came out of a tournament at West Point Central Catholic with a fourth-place finish, but showed they can hang with one of the better teams in the area after a tough three-set loss to Wisner-Pilger.

Coach Megan Nixon felt her team played the Gators even during the first two sets and into the third set before a few breakdowns allowed Wisner-Pilger to come away with a 25-22, 21-25, 25-15 win.

"The first couple of sets against Wisner were pretty good and we played them pretty even," she said. "We were able to read their hitters pretty well and got quite a few digs off them, which gave us some momentum."

Wakefield was caught in a couple of rotation errors in the third set, which took the coach by surprise.

"We had some out-of-rotation calls that we haven't had all year, so we had some breakdowns in a couple of places," she said. "We were able to battle back, but we didn't have quite enough."

Keri Lunz had 14 kills and Katie Weinrich added eight in the losing effort. Bailey Echtenkamp had 15 digs, Lunz added 14, Weinrich had nine and Lauren Lemkuhl picked up seven. Sydney Rose had 28 assists and six digs.

In their 25-23, 25-14 loss to the host Bluejays in the consolation game, Nixon said the team's communication broke down and made it difficult to hang with the host team.

"We weren't able to get things going, and when the communication breaks down everything else kind of struggles and it's hard to get any momentum," she said.

The Trojans were led by Weinrich with eight kills and Lunz with seven. Rose had 18 assists and Lunz and Lemkuhl had 15 and 10 digs, respectively.

On Tuesday, the Trojans split in a triangular at Emerson-Hubbard, losing to Lutheran High Northeast (25-7, 25-22) while beating the host Pirates (25-18, 25-15).

In the first match, Lunz had seven kills to lead the nat attack. Rose had 15 assistss, Weinrich had two blocks and Lemkuhl had eight digs.

In the nightcap, Lunz had seven kills and two blocks, Weinrich had three ace serves, Rose had 17 assists and Echtenkamp had 10 digs to move Wakefield's record to 10-13.

Coach sees improvement in 42-8 defeat

WAKEFIELD—Wakefield showed signs of progress Friday night, but didn't have enough for a punishing Ponca ground game as the visiting Indians came away with a 42-8 win Friday night.

Coach Mike Clay said his team showed improvement in Friday's loss, and were it not for a couple of ill-timed penalties, might have made things a little more interesting against the defending Class C-2 champions.

"We played a pretty decent first half," he said. "We came down the field, down 21-0, and got a touchdown, but it was called back on a holding penalty. After that, we had another holding penalty and weren't able to convert, and that hurt us."

The Trojans came out of the halftime and scored on its first possession of the second half, with Dusty Sherer hauling in a six-yard scoring strike from Brock Soderberg. He also caught a two-point conversion pass from Evan Nicholson to pull the Trojans within 21-8.

Ponca turned to a tough ground game in the second half, and their size proved to be too much for the 0-6 Trojans down the stretch.

"If we'd have had that first (touchdown), we could have hung around, but after that they just lined up and physically ran it down our throat," Clay said.

The Trojans finished with 227 yards in total offense, highlighted by 88 yards on the ground from Soderberg and 40 more from Brendan Nicholson.

Wakefield goes back on the road this week to take on Hartington Cedar Catholic, and Clay is optimistic his team can continue improving and possibly end the season on the right note.

"We have two chances left with Laurel and Cedar, so we'll see how things go," he said. "Size-wise, I think they're more in our range than some of these teams we've seen like Ponca. Our kids have kept a pretty good attitude and have been working hard throughout, and hopefully we can play our best ball these last two weeks."

WSC cross country runs well at Briar Cliff meet

McCOOK LAKE, S.D. - Wayne State's men's cross country team finished a season-best third place at the Briar Cliff Invitational Saturday at the Adams Nature Preserve.

The Wildcats had 98 points, trailing only team champion Concordia-Seward (51 points) and Black Hills State (89 points) in the 15-team meet. They had three runners finish in the top 25, led by senior John Kern, who placed sixth out of 182 runners with a time of 25:34 on the 8,000-meter course. Redshirt freshman Garang Lual followed in 17th place at 26:06, with senior York Thomas coming in 23rd at 26:17.

Other Wayne State finishers included senior Lee Anderson, 28th in 26:31; Matt Seiler, 36th in 26:51; Jason Schaaf, 49th in 27:19; Greg Tracy, 80th in 28:15 and Nathan Boggess, 87th in 28:39.

Sophomore Ky'Lee Engelken was the top Wayne State finisher for the women, coming in 12th place to lead the Wayne State team to an eighth-place finish out of 16 teams with 216 points. Concordia-Seward topped Black Hills State in the team standings 42-81.

Engelken had a time of 18:35 on the 5,000-meter course. Meghan Schneider was next for the Wildcats in 27th place at 19:04. Skyler Lippman took 55th place in a time of 19:56, Holli Erickson placed 99th in 21:23, Tatiana DeLosSantos was 107th at 21:45 and Tausha Lee finished 119th in a time of 22:02.

Wayne State's next meet is Saturday, Oct. 23 at the Mount Marty Invitational.

Osmond rolls Allen, 65-14

ALLEN - Osmond came to Allen looking to bounce back from a tough loss to No. 1-ranked Creighton the previous week.

And bounce they did. The visiting Tigers jumped on the Eagles for four touchdowns in the game's first seven minutes, raced to a 41-point halftime lead and never looked back, handing the Eagles a 65-14 defeat Friday.

The loss was a frustrating one for coach Dave Uldrich, who saw his team fall to 2-4 on the season.

"It was over early, and the reserves played the entire second half with the hopes we can heal up the walking wounded and be ready for next week," he said. "It's frustrating to be in this position, but we'll work on getting our game back and be ready for the challenge at Randolph."

Osmond scored on a pair of touchdown runs, then broke the game open with a 47-yard punt return to make it 20-0 with just 4 1/2 minute gone in the first quarter. By the time Allen broke the ice with Austin Roeber's four-yard run in the final minute of the first half, Osmond had a 49-8 halftime lead and the game was never in doubt after that.

Allen scored another touchdown in the fourth quarter when reserve Zach Crom found paydirt on a nine-yard run. It was one of the few bright spots for the Allen offense, which was held to under 100 yards in total offense by a tough, opportunistic Osmond defense.

Special teams also hurt the Eagles, as Osmond scored on a punt return and a blocked punt, as well as picking up a safety.

Coty Reuter and D.J. Kennelly led the Allen defense with 10 tackles apiece. Kennelly also recovered a fumble for the Eagles.

Bears come up short on the road

HARTINGTON — Laurel-Concord/Coleridge played well, but a late turnover proved too costly as the Bears dropped a 20-6 decision at Hartington Cedar Catholic on Friday night.

Coach Terry Bear was very happy with his team's performance, even though the loss dropped them to 1-5 for the season.

"The score didn't represent the way we played," he said. "We played really well, but our defense was out on the field quite a bit, and the percentages don't work in your favor when you're on defense all the time."

Bear said the Bears went with a 6-1 defense that confused the host Trojans for much of the game.

"We had a 6-1 defense and put Austin Roach in the middle and went with six on the line, and we were doing fairly well with it," he said. "The defense played outstanding and did a really nice job."

The defense was solid, led by Roach's 18 total tackles, 10 of them unassisted. Justin Saunders had 12 tackles, including nine unassisted; and Scott Pippitt came through with 10 total tackles.

The Bears trailed 7-0 at halftime, but got within a point early in the third quarter when Pippitt hauled in a 43-yard touchdown pass from Kyle Kardell.

The Bears trailed 14-6 in the fourth quarter and had a chance to potentially tie the game, but a late fumble deep in their own territory proved costly. The Trojans scored on a short run late in the game to put it out of reach.

Things don't get any easier for the Bears this week, as they play host to second-ranked Crofton on Friday night. It's a game Bear knows will be a challenge for his team, especially coming off a tough loss.

"You always like to have a win before a tough game, and (Crofton) are doing a great job up there," he said. "We're going to come into this one and try to be a spoiler, and if we can go out and play some hard-nosed football, maybe we can get some momentum going for us in the offseason."

Winside wins in triangular

Winside's volleyball team had a long layoff between games recently, and it showed in a three-set loss at Wynot.

The Wildcats came out and didn't play their game, and as a result were on the short end of a 25-23, 25-21, 25-23 loss to the Bluejays on Thursday.

"It didn't help any having two weeks off, and we didn't quite execute like we wanted to with our passing and covering our hitters," coach Teresa Watters said.

Erin Gray had nine kills and Shelby Lienemann and Jerae Doffin each had seven kills in the losing effort. Doffin had four blocks and three ace serves, Lienemann had four aces and 10 digs, Gray had 12 digs and Bridget Gray had 24 set assists.

Governor must protect the state, not run for Senate

Would you marry your wife because she had a good-looking sister? (Or marry your husband because he had a hunk for a boyfriend?)

How about buying a small house across the street from the one you think is the most spacious in the neighborhood?

More and more every day, it's becoming obvious that the guy who wants to be our governor for four more years isn't really interested in being the governor until 2014. He appears more interested in being our next representative in the U.S. Senate.

For some time now, Gov. Dave Heineman has gone from acting like a wannabe governor to a wannabe Senator. He spends more time posturing for the seat currently held by Ben Nelson than he does handling the responsibilities that a governor should be handling.

The latest case of Heineman's coveting another man's job has to do with a pipeline that a Canadian company wants to build over the Ogallala Aquifer in western Nebraska, an area of underground water that is used by almost every citizen in the state of Nebraska.

TransCanada wants to build a pipeline over one of the biggest underground sources of water in the United States in an effort to move oil from Canada to Texas. And they are stopping at nothing, including threats of eminent domain, to get the land they need in Nebraska.

With the recent disaster in the Gulf of Mexico, one would think the leader of our state would be sensitive to the potential for a similar environmental and economic calamity that would take place if this pipeline were built over an aquifer that serves such a significant portion of the Midwest, including most of his home state.

And yet, Heineman seems intent on doing nothing.

Why? Certainly, he can't be concerned about his re-election plans. He's a Republican in an overwhelmingly-Republican state running against a late-coming, under-funded Democrat.

Could it have something to do with the $2,500 contribution he received from TransCanada for his re-election campaign? (A contribution he has since returned.)

Or could it be that he's just cruising through this election cycle, keeping his name in the public eye with an easy re-election bid, and would rather pass responsibility of this issue on to Nelson so he can bash him with it in his pre-election campaign ads in 2012?

Heineman believes that the proposed pipeline falls under federal regulation and is, therefore, out of his jurisdiction.

Hogwash.

The pipeline is running within the borders of our state. Regardless of whether or not the pipeline itself is under federal regulation, it is still up to the leader of the state to make sure the state's best interests are protected, much the same as it must be in dealing with King Obama's health plan, which Heineman can't seem to stop whining about the plan's impact on the state's Medicaid program.

But Heineman doesn't seem to be concerned about a pipeline out in the Sandhills. It's too far away from his big-money interests in Lincoln and Omaha for him to give a crap about. "It's not my problem," he seems to think. "Let ol' Ben handle it and I'll beat him over the head with it when I run for Senate."

Well, Mr. Governor, when that pipeline starts leaking dirty oil into the state's largest water resource, at what point will you decide that it's no longer just a federal issue? When the state's economic and natural resources are polluted by this pipeline being laid by a company you seemed to have no problem accepting a campaign contribution from, it will be far too late for you to have gotten off the bus of your quasi-campaign for the U.S. Senate to do something meaningful about.

I'm not at all interested in voting for somebody who isn't interested in committing his full effort to protecting the interests of the entire state of Nebraska. I'm not interested in voting for such a person for any position, whether it's governor, U.S. Senator or Wayne County's assistant dog catcher, if that individual seems more interested in coveting a higher office than the one he's asking us to elect him to.

You're the governor of Nebraska, Mr. Heineman. It's long past time you start acting like a governor, instead of a wannabe member of Congress. Either do your job, or stand down and leave it to somebody willing to protect and represent Nebraska's best interests.

Plenty for Legislature to discuss

LINCOLN — Illegal immigration. The 2011 Legislature.

Yes. The latter will talk about the former.

No. Nothing significant is likely to be enacted.

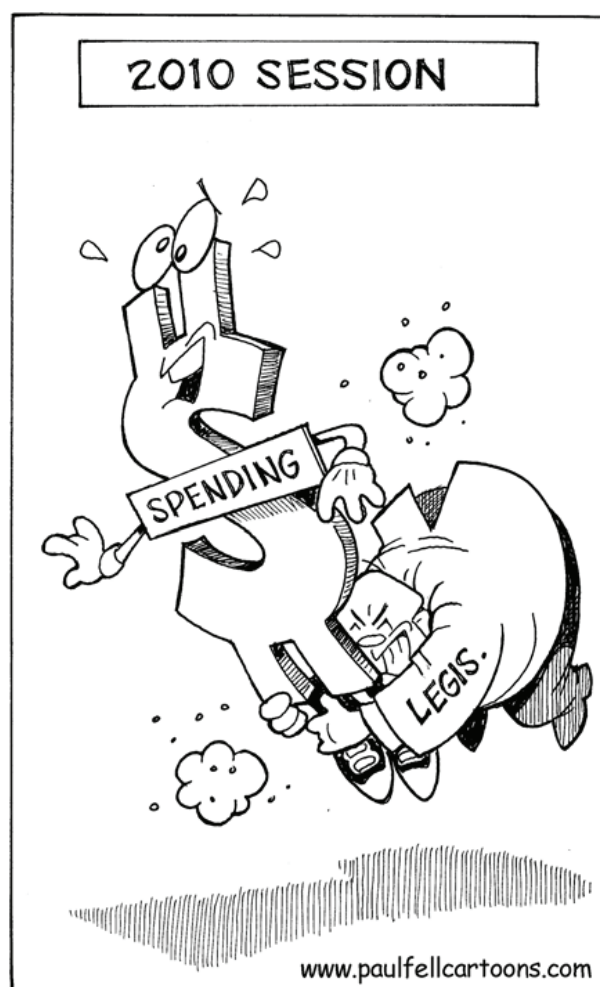

Relax. The same is true in virtually every state.

To flustered, frustrated voters who want Nebraska lawmakers to somehow do something that will make those in the state illegally go away, rest assured: legislators would like to do it.

Fact: They can't.

Be of good cheer, however, if you're among those who want state government to be economically efficient. Until federal courts have ruled on the constitutional validity of the so-called Arizona law it would be a waste of money to enact a state statute and then try to enforce it. Let Arizona and local governments in other states bear the burden of those expensive court procedures. Proceed only after the U.S. Supreme Court provides what everyone hopes will be a clear explanation of what states can and cannot do in dealing with illegals. Meanwhile, just hope that any high court ruling is, in fact, very clear. Ambiguity would only lead to even more attempts at the state to deal with the issue, and thus to even more expensive litigation.

Gov. Dave Heineman recently predicted that every state's legislature will consider get-tough immigration measures in 2011, with little being accomplished other than an airing of the frustration and perceived wishes of each state's electorate. Heineman cited the practical realities facing the states, acknowledging that the ultimate leadership roll resides with those in Washington D.C.

The view from here: Those whose position is that the law's the law and must be enforced should make a list of ways the government could or should deal with the issue. How, for example, could the government round up illegal immigrants en masse and ship them to their countries of origin? Try to envision such a scenario.

It seems most likely that illegal immigration has effectively taken its place among the nation's other perennial campaign issues: guns, gays and abortion.

Legislative budget

The Legislature's Executive Board recently completed a study of its own budget and how individual senators, and the Unicameral as a whole, could reduce annual spending. A lot of things are on the table, including cuts in senatorial staff and offices that compile a lot of information and handle much internal business for lawmakers.

Count plenty of lobbyists among those who wouldn't mind seeing lawmakers having to rely more on them for information about specific issues. There is a difference between a lobbyist's "research," a Google search and information gathered by those who work directly for lawmakers and the Legislature.

Rural stimulus dollars

The state's Rural Development Office, a USDA agency, recently noted the federal economic stimulus program had poured more than $193 million into Nebraska for rural projects.

Maxine Moul, director of the agency, said the stimulus program has achieved a central goal. "It has saved jobs. It has created jobs," she said.

Farmers are eager for this harvest

The fall harvest season is in full swing and Nebraska's farm families are putting in long hours to bring in what is expected to be record and near-record crops for many commodities.

I had an opportunity to visit with many producers recently when I spent a day last month at Husker Harvest Days. The event is a tradition for many Nebraska farmers and ranchers. It attracts producers and exhibitors from across the country.

Periodic rains this season have helped crops to be prosperous with a much-reduced need for irrigation. The outlook for an above-average yield, coupled with decent prices, led to optimism by many Husker Harvest Days participants I spoke with.

Farmers are eager to be in the fields as reports have predicted the potential for record yields for both corn and soybeans. Good growing conditions across much of the state this year have benefitted corn and soybeans in particular. Both crops have matured ahead of last year, which has allowed farmers to get into the fields earlier than last fall when cool, wet weather made for a complicated harvest.

Western Nebraska producers are busy bringing in dry bean and sugar beet crops, winter wheat is being seeded, and ranchers are preparing to pull cattle in off pastures, moving spring calves to backgrounding or feedlot locations.

Harvest time is a good reminder of how important the success of Nebraska farmers and ranchers is to our state. A recent study of Nebraska's growing industries highlighted the fact that our strong agriculture industry has helped maintain a relatively stable and positive outlook for the Nebraska economy, buffering many communities from feeling the full impact of the national economic slowdown. The outlook is not as bright in other parts of the country where agriculture plays a lesser role.

Strong demand for Nebraska's agricultural exports has contributed to our stability. As economies around the globe improve, demand for agricultural exports is expected to remain strong. Asian countries are among the key growth areas and Nebraska is well-positioned for continued growth in several markets. In August, Agriculture

Director Greg Ibach returned from a trade mission to Taiwan and Hong Kong with an agreement for sales of $436 to $516 million of Nebraska grain commodities over the next two years.

A recent report by Battelle further emphasizes the critical role of our farmers and ranchers to the Nebraska economy. The report noted our diverse economy with at least 12 industries positioned for growth. Some of those industries include: renewable energy, transportation-warehousing and logistics companies, hospitality and tourism, food processors, research and development, and the biosciences. Each of these sectors has a connection to Nebraska agriculture and is the reason that one in three Nebraska jobs is tied to the work of our farmers and ranchers.

Fall harvest is the culmination of months of hard work for our farmers and ranchers. Their work is critical to our state's ongoing economic development and progress.

Letters to the Editor

Kudos to Council

I want to thank the Wayne mayor and City Council for their consideration of the proposed Wayne Wind Garden project that will, when constructed, provide tens of thousands of carbon-free energy to the city for no more cost than the current wholesale power. Wayne is blessed with a strong wind resource and this project begins to harness that energy at a time when other energy sources are increasing in cost.

The most gratifying thing is that it is happening in my hometown. I have spent the better part of forty years working in about all corners of the country and everywhere that I would go, I would hope that people would be as kind and competent as the place that I came from. More often than not, I would be sorely disappointed. Working with specialists at universities and economic development organization around the Texas, Wisconsin and Iowa, I had a good feel for emerging technologies like wind, solar and fuel cells but I kept looking for a place where people embraced new technology as long as it proved itself and "penciled out". It is a bit ironic and, I think, fitting, that the place that I was looking for all those long years turns out to be the place that I came from, Wayne. A place where hard work and good business keep financial derivatives and Ponzi schemes at check.

The opportunities of economic development that connects with a strong farm economy are starting to emerge. I am involved with the retrofitting of the Electrolux applicant plant in Webster City, Iowa that will be the home of the first all-electric car and light truck plant in the United States. That plant will start to develop its supplier network through the upper Midwest starting in 2011. The candidate will be required to produce their parts under carbon-free energy conditions at or below today's electricity prices. Wayne is positioning itself for such opportunities. But the opportunities don't stop there. The Chinese electric battery

Wayne State College Planetarium to show 'Astronaut' Oct. 17-Nov. 21

Wayne State College's Fred G. Dale Planetarium will present "Astronaut" from Oct. 17 to Nov. 21. All shows are at 3:30 p.m. on Sundays. The show will answer, "What does it take to become an astronaut?" "Astronaut," the latest immersive planetarium show takes the audience from Earth into space ... and beyond. Viewers will experience a rocket launch from inside the body of an astronaut and explore the amazing worlds of inner and outer space, from floating around the International Space Station to maneuvering through microscopic regions of the human body. The show demonstrates the perils that lurk in space as subject "Chad," serves as test astronaut to everything that space has to throw at him. The renovated Wayne State College planetarium includes:

 • a high-definition projection system putting 3 million pixels on the 30-foot dome and
 • Astronomy software with a database of 500 million stars that can move backward and forward through time +/- 100,000 years. The system allows an audience to look at space from any location in the solar system; allows the audience viewers to fly through space; and has an extensive educational library of astronomical images and movies for K-college class use. The planetarium can be used as a learning environment with a surround-sound system. The planetarium has 10 full-dome shows for adults and children. Combining bee assists injured farmer

Friends and neighbors of the Scott and Jill Junck family recently turned out in force to help the injured Randolph man with the soybean harvest. Junck was injured in late August in a farm-related accident. The 10 combines, three semis, two straight trucks and six grain carts averaged 60 acres an hour and were able to complete the task in about six hours. The Junck family was very appreciative of the efforts. "When tragedy strikes all of you are here. Your support, prayers, time and hard work cannot be repaid," said Jill Junck.

 and vehicle company that Warren Buffet just invested $250 million in is likely to set their manufacturing in the upper Midwest in the next 2-3 years. The turbine companies that will be placing units all across Nebraska and the Dakotas need primary manufacturing sites and a supplier network. Supplementing coal-based energy with renewable is just a good idea as the generation costs reach parity and that is exactly what we have set out to prove with this project. We will bring the investment, the engineering and the technology. Wayne city management is bringing the vision and the will. The wind range is starting to move from Iowa west. Farmers, business people, bankers and energy manager in

Wayne fully understand what is happening and they are positioning the region to take advantage of the opportunities. None of this would even be possible except for the support of the mayor, city council and their staff, the farmers who consider allowing wind turbines to be set on their property, the economic development professionals in Wayne and the public power districts. I want to thank the Nebraska Public Power District for their advice and support. I especially want to thank Mark Schults of the Northeast Public Power District (NNPPD). Having worked as a consultant for the Electric Power Research Institute and such energy companies like Reliant in Houston and the Southern Companies in Atlanta, I have some idea of how complex the energy industry can be and how difficult it is to get new ideas considered. Mark Schults has been more helpful, insightful, professional and competent than any energy executive I have ever worked with. The NNPPD is a very valuable asset to the region. Both Dave Tietgen and I thank everyone for the intelligence, commitment and hard work that has come together to advance this project. We thank those who have given us good advice whether it was in the council chamber or at Vel's or the Sinclair coffee groups.

Close to Home

This column is the first in a series that will benefit anyone getting ready to sell or buy real estate. 'Close to home' refers to being a part of or near to something that has great importance to oneself. I feel very 'close to home' in my career and would like to share some information to help you in your next move. So let's get to this week's topic.

What is a Buyer's Agent and what can a Buyer's Agent do for you?

A Buyer's Agent works specifically for you when you're purchasing a home. Don't all real estate agents look after the buyer? Actually, no, they don't. Any agent who has a home listed with them is a Seller's Agent, and they are obligated only to the seller.

A Buyer's Agent will:

- Draw up your purchase agreement so that it benefits and protects you.
- Help evaluate the market and guide you in making your offer.
- Recommend professional services such as home inspection.
- Coordinate closing issues.

Also did you know that a Buyer's Agent is free? The fee is usually paid by the seller. Buyer's agents have become a growing trend in our industry as people realize that they need an agent that is confidential and loyal to them.

I would like to hear what real estate topics you want to know more about. Email your requests to me at: Wendy@mwlc.net.

Diabetes awareness helps with prevention, treatment

In the United States, 23.6 million children and adults have diabetes. Of people age 20 and older, 1.6 million new cases of diabetes are diagnosed every year.

Diabetes is a group of diseases characterized by high blood glucose levels as result from defects in the body's ability to produce and use insulin, the hormone needed to produce energy from sugar, starches and other food.

There are three common types of diabetes: type 1, type 2 and Gestational diabetes. There is also Pre-Diabetes, a common precursor to type 2 diabetes.

Type 1, when the body doesn't produce insulin, usually appears in children and young adults, but 5 to 10 percent of those with diabetes have this type. Symptoms include:

- frequent urination
- unusual thirst
- extreme hunger
- unusual weight loss
- extreme fatigue and irritability

Some ways to manage type 1 diabetes are by taking insulin, exercising and maintaining a healthy weight, eating healthy foods and monitoring blood sugar.

The most common type of diabetes is type 2, when the body doesn't produce enough insulin so the cells ignore the insulin and glucose builds up in the blood instead of entering cells. Millions of Americans are diagnosed with this type, and many more don't know they are at high risk of getting type 2 Diabetes. Here are type 2 symptoms:

- any type 1 symptoms;
- frequent or recurring skin, gum or bladder infections;
- blurred vision;
- slow healing cuts and bruises;
- tingling or numbness in the hands or feet.

However, people with type 2 diabetes often have no symptoms. In order to manage type 2 diabetes, monitor blood sugar, eat healthy, exercise regularly and possibly take diabetes medication or have insulin therapy.

Gestational diabetes is when the pancreas works overtime to produce insulin, but the insulin doesn't lower blood glucose levels. This type can be diagnosed 28 weeks into pregnancy or later, but that doesn't mean a woman had diabetes before she conceived, nor does it mean she will have it after.

When a woman has gestational diabetes, extra blood glucose is sent through the placenta and gives the baby high blood glucose levels. The baby's pancreas makes extra insulin and stores the extra energy as fat, which can lead to macrosomia or "fat" baby. Treatments include keeping blood glucose levels equal to those of pregnant women without gestational diabetes, having special meal plans, scheduling physical activity, testing blood glucose daily and injecting insulin daily. These treatments help lower the risk of C-sections that large babies may require.

Fifty-seven million people have pre-diabetes, when the blood glucose levels are higher than normal, but not high enough to be diagnosed as diabetes. It is a serious medical condition that may cause some long-term damage to the body, especially to the heart and circulatory system, but it can be treated. Most people have pre-diabetes before they develop type 2. Doctors can use tests to determine if someone has pre-diabetes. Tests include:

- Fasting Plasma Glucose test;
 - Oral Glucose Tolerance test.
- Blood glucose levels are then measured after tests to determine whether the person has a normal metabolism, pre-diabetes or diabetes.

The Diabetes Prevention Program's studies have shown people with pre-diabetes can prevent type 2 diabetes by changing eating habits and increasing physical activity. Studies show 150 minutes of physical activity per week helped prevent or delay type 2. Also, by making changes in eating habits, people lost 10 to 20 pounds. Making these changes may return blood glucose levels to normal ranges. Also, studies showed some medications delayed the onset of diabetes, but diet and exercise worked better.

In 2006, diabetes was the seventh leading cause of death. Those with diabetes are prone to heart disease, stroke, high blood pressure, blindness, kidney disease, neuropathy and amputation. Prevent diabetes by making healthy food choices and exercising regularly.

Eat lots of fruits, vegetables, whole grain foods, lean meats and non-fat dairy. Use liquid oils for cooking, cut back on high calorie snack foods and desserts and watch portion sizes. Smaller portions are better. Visualizing the plate, half should be filled with fruits and veggies, a quarter should be filled with whole grains and the other quarter should be meat.

Adults should exercise a minimum of 30 minutes most days, doing anything that increases the heart rate and causes a light sweat. This can be walking, gardening, doing yard work or cleaning the house. Children and teens should aim for 60 minutes or more daily or on most days.

CROP Walk raises funds to curb hunger

The Wayne Community CROP Hunger Walk was held on Oct. 10 "to show our love and active concern for neighbors in need near and far."

Organizers noted that the day was blessed with "wonderful sunshine and support from the community for the walkers." The participants raised funds to change the world in real and measurable ways - providing seeds and tools so that people can grow their own food; digging wells that will bring clean water to villages; helping communities and families rebuild after disaster. Whether it's responding to devastating floods across the central U.S. or the Gulf Coast, or helping a village in Tanzania or Guatemala grow food, CROP Hunger Walks are making a difference. The letters CROP stand for Communities Responding to Overcome Poverty. CROP Hunger Walks help global neighbors in need through self-help development programs, refugee assistance, advocacy, and disaster relief. It's important to note that 25 percent of what is raised will help the local food pantry and the Wayne Ministerial Association in their important work here in Wayne.

Praise Assembly of God schedules weekend activities

Sunday, Oct. 17 at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne is a special day as the congregation will be hosting guests from the Assembly of God Church in Grand Island.

A total of 14 individuals will be coming to teach, lead in worship, and help in ministry on the subject of "The Gifts of the Spirit" in the 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. services at the church. For anyone who has ever wondered what makes the Pentecostal church distinctive, this would be a strategic Sunday to visit Praise Assembly of God. The Rev. David Stitt will be teaching the Sunday School Class in a continuing series entitled "Developing a World View." Pastor David and his wife, Dee, have worked in churches in pastoral and teaching roles overseas on the "mission field" and they have a unique insight into cultures other than our own. A pot luck meal will be held at the church for the noon meal on Sunday, Oct. 17. All are welcome to attend.

College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources plans open house

Prospective and transfer students can learn more about the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources during the Experience the Power of Red Open House on Saturday, Nov. 6.

The open house from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. at the Nebraska East Union on UNL's East Campus will allow students to meet with UNL faculty and staff, experience campus and learn about the college's 28 programs of study and two pre-professional programs, said Laura Frey, CASNR college relations director.

"Students will be able to explore career opportunities, meet current students and register for a scholarship and other prizes," Frey said. "It is a great opportunity to see what the college is all about and connect with other future students."

The open house begins at 9 a.m. with a browsing session that allows guests to visit department displays to learn more about the college's programs of study. A welcome and overview will start at 10 a.m., followed by academic and parent sessions until 12:45 p.m. The open house wraps up with lunch and a scholarship drawing. Optional tours begin at 2 p.m.

Academic interest areas featured at the Experience the Power of Red Open House include: agribusiness/agricultural economics; agricultural education/agricultural journalism/hospitality, restaurant and tourism management; agronomy; animal science; applied science; biochemistry; food science and technology; food technology for companion animals; forensic science; grazing livestock systems; horticulture; insect science; mechanized systems management/agricultural engineering/biological systems engineering; natural resources; PGA golf management; plant biology; plant protection sciences; turfgrass and landscape management; and veterinary science.

Preregistration for the open house is due Nov. 1. For more information or to register, visit the Web at <http://casnr.unl.edu/openhouse>, or call (800) 742-8800, ext. 2541.

Grace Evening Circle notes anniversary

Grace Evening Circle, in observance of their 50th anniversary, hosted the Orphan Grain Train Fish Boil on Oct. 3 at noon at Grace Lutheran Church.

That day also marked National LWML Sunday.

Grace LWML Evening Circle was chartered in March of 1960 to meet in the evenings when fathers could be home with children, as the "Grace Ladies Aid" ladies met in the afternoons, as they still do.

Grace LWML Evening Circle still has four charter members who were part of the original group 50 years ago. They include Valores Mordhorst, Carol Rethwisch, Marilyn Rethwisch and Bonnie Sandahl.

Current president Jan Casey introduced present members and Historian/Scrapbook Chairman Carol Rethwisch gave a short history of the past 50 years of Grace LWML Evening Circle and the many Missions projects they have aided.

LWML is Lutheran Women's Missionary League of the Missouri Lutheran Synod serving many district and national projects in the mission field.

Presently Grace Evening Circle has 12 members and one honorary member. In the early years of its existence the group had 30 to 40 members.

Present officers include Jan Casey, president; Lorraine Johnson, vice president; Lanora Sorensen, secretary; Lee Larsen, treasurer;

Verna Mae Baier, Missions; Carol Rethwisch, historian; Bonnie Sandahl, Christian Growth and Valores Mordhorst, social.

Everyone is wearing pink

Well, I think the whole world turns pink in October! Even the Sunday comics were in pink, with several breast cancer ribbons in strategic places. It's amazing to me what the Susan B. Komen organization has accomplished. Tabitha is again sponsoring a team in the walk on Sunday, so I hope this good weather holds.

Volleyball teams wear pink, coaches wear pink shirts, yogurt comes in pink containers. It's all for a good cause, so let's join the club

However, this weekend, it's Red Out Around the World! If you haven't checked out this website, I encourage you to do so. It started as: Wear Red, Be Loud, Beat Texas. Of course, TO didn't allow the last two words to stick around, but we all know what we are thinking, don't we???

Fans from around the world are checking in, and there is a continuous scroll at the bottom of the screen that shows the numbers. For instance, we have over fifty fans in Germany, and only one in Antigua! Where is Antigua, anyway? Every day, the World Herald prints the shape of a country in red and puts a number inside for the number of fans who have responded.

Then, there are responses they are writing; about how hard it is to be a fan in Texas, for instance! I was in a Nebraska Sports store on Saturday, and there was a red shirt that said on the back, "your mother dresses you in burnt orange!" I think that must be child abuse.

By: Pat Meierhenry

Of course, there are a bunch in Iraq and Afghanistan, but would you believe in Iran? It's like watching the parade of nations at the Olympics! As the old saying goes, "It's hard to be humble when you are from Nebraska!"

We've made two trips to the northeast part of the state in the last week, and the combines are roaring all across the fields on either side of highways 81 and 15. Of course, the dust is blowing, too, but last year at this time, we had over an inch of snow on the ground. When I hear some of the yields, and then check out the prices, I wonder how these farmers are going to spend all their money?

I'm guessing they are going to pay for the $300,000 machines! And that was without the heads. It boggles the mind. But they don't even have to steer the darned things; how do they keep awake? I know I climbed up in one a couple of years ago; not something I would want to do very many times in one day.

I'm just praying for a safe harvest, and a place to store all the grain. It's definitely been a year to remember. And to be thankful for. Remember, "wear red, be loud!"

Try a compost pile

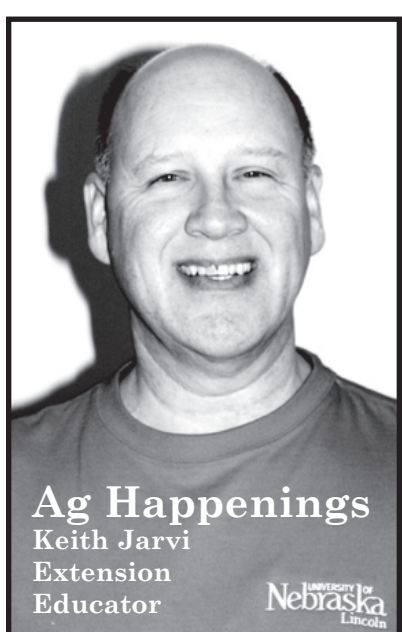

Here's some advice on starting a compost pile for your garden from Extension Educator Sarah Browning.

Leaves are falling and homeowners will be cleaning their yards by raking leaves and getting rid of other organic materials. One way to clean up the yard and help the environment is to turn those materials into compost by making a compost pile.

Compost piles have several benefits. Adding compost to a garden with heavy clay soil can help improve water movement and drainage in that soil. Compost also will add nutrients and nitrogen that can assist in plant growth. For a garden with sandy soil, compost helps improve the water holding capacity of that soil, which also makes it beneficial for plant growth.

Good items for composting include grass clippings, tree leaves, kitchen waste, sawdust, chipped up woody branches and shredded newspapers. Items that aren't great for composting include plants that have had disease or insect problems, pet waste and certain kitchen items, such as leftover meat or fish, bones, butter, cheese, mayonnaise, milk and oil. Those kitchen items can create wildlife problems if opossums or raccoons decide to dig through the compost piles.

Creating a compost pile is simple. First, place four to six inches of coarse, chopped brush or branches on the soil. This allows air to circulate under the pile. Then add three to four inches of green, low carbon materials, like grass clippings, on top. Next add another layer of four to six inches of brown, high carbon organic material, like tree leaves. Add an inch of soil on top, which adds bacteria that will start the decomposition process, above the organic materials.

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

Also make sure the layers are damp by getting out a hose and wetting the layers when constructing the pile. Mix the pile and follow with additional layers of green and brown materials until the pile reaches three to five feet in height. The pile will heat up quickly within a couple of days and should reach the goal temperature of 140 to 150 degrees. In the fall, steam should come off the top of a very actively decomposing compost pile.

The time it takes for a pile to compost depends on how actively the pile is managed. Piles typically heat up and then begin to cool down. Mix the pile up again when it starts to cool in order to help the bacteria get going and heat the pile up again. Actively turning the pile about once every two weeks should mean the pile composts in as little as three or four months. However, just adding new materials on top of the pile and not mixing it could mean composting takes up to a year.

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on two issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 2. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines each issue, explaining its purpose.

Amendment 1

Voters have a chance to allow the use of state and federal funds for local economic and industrial development projects, and to take some of the burden for those projects off their local property taxes and other levies.

If adopted at the general election, Proposed Amendment Number 1 would change the state constitution so the Legislature could give that option to voters in cities and villages. Lawmakers voted 47-0 to put the choice to a statewide vote. It was endorsed by the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

The constitution currently requires such projects to be financed only with money generated by local taxes.

Amendment 2

The size of state government will be reduced if voters adopt Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 2 at the November general election. The measure would eliminate the office of State Treasurer as of Jan. 8, 2015. The Treasurer's office now costs taxpayers $26.5 million. The Treasurer receives an annual salary of $117,000.

Proponents of the change note the Legislature would assign the current duties of the Treasurer's office to other state agencies. Critics contend it would be better to continue the practice of electing a State Treasurer.

The Treasurer's office has three duties: It receives and disburses most money that comes into state government; manages unclaimed property; and administers the child support enforcement and college savings programs.
