Blowing up in Wakefield

Clear skies and calm winds greeted balloon enthusiasts and local residents in Wakefield Sunday morning. The annual Balloon Fest celebration brought about a dozen hot-air balloons to the school, where pilots unloaded their equipment, inflated their balloons and floated west out of town.

Council waiting on deadline extension

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

Whether or not a contractor working on the city's downtown revitalization project has to pay liquidated damages for not meeting a deadline is up in the air.

At Tuesday's Wayne City Council meeting, the board held off on making a decision whether or not to grant a Councilman Doug Sturm expressed frustration with the delays in the project.

"I haven't seen one bid that we've let that seems to come in on time," he said. "I know I sound like a crab, but it seems like we have this with every contractor and I'm getting tired of letting people off the hook."

City administrator Lowell Johnson said the project is being paid for through a grant that stipulates the project must be finished by March 30, 2011. While the city would not have to repay the grant if the project isn't finished, it might affect the city's ability to apply for future grant funding. "That's why we wanted to get it done by Nov. 1, so that the weather would not be a problem," he said, referring to last year's record-setting winter weather. Kabourek said the crews can pour concrete in temperatures as low as 35 degrees, and the long-term forecast appears to be good from a weather standpoint. He said the handicap-accessible ramps can be protected better from winter conditions, and the company's letter said the sidewalks could be completed by Nov. 19, with ramp work done by Dec. 17.

2 meeting to see what progress has been made between now and then.

"I'd like to see what progress they've made by then, and we can get a clearer and more complete accounting of what's been done," he said.

The council voted 7-1 to table the request, with Councilman Ken Chamberlain casting the lone dissenting vote.

Vets spot may be full-time

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

The Wayne County Veterans Service Committee encouraged the Wayne County Commissioners to consider full-time applicants for the Veterans Service Officer position.

During Tuesday's meeting, three members of the committee spent almost two hours discussing the position with the county board, which is expected to be open soon pending the retirement of longtime officer Wayne Denklau, who is expected to announce his retirement due to health considerations.

County board members said they thought Denklau would retire around Nov. 1, and they had originally looked at making the Veterans Service Officer position a part-time position, which would allow the county to keep the position in place while not offering health insurance and paid vacation for the position. County officials said the county would save close to $30,000 by having the position as a part-time positon for 25-29 hours a week.

That idea didn't sit well with Veterans Service Committee members.

"I think somebody who is a little more serious about the position would be more interested in it if it were a full-time position," committee spokesman Jean Nuss said. "Unless it really puts the county in a bind money-wise, you should look at a fulltime position."

Nuss noted that several counties in the surrounding area have full-time Veterans Service Officer positions. Exceptions include Cedar County, which has a part-time officer; and Dixon County, where the county sheriff also serves in that capacity. Madison and Pierce counties share an officer. The idea of sharing a Veterans Service Officer between counties was not one the county board was willing to consider. "I would rather go part-time before consolidating," board member Kelvin Wurdeman said. "If you combine with another county, you're going to force veterans to drive out of the county and I'm totally against that."

request from M.E. Collins Contracting to extend the deadline for finishing the downtown sidewalk project. The Wahoo-based contractor has asked to extend the deadline beyond the original Nov. 1, 2010 date agreed to originally.

Jerry Kabourek, vice president of M.E. Collins, told the board that they had fallen behind on other projects due to the wet spring, and got a late start on the Wayne project as a result. He told the board that two of the three sidewalk crews they employ are working in other locations, and when asked if those crews could be brought in, he said that some of the crews don't do sidewalks as well as the one that is in place.

"I'd rather do it slow and have something you can be proud of," he said. "We've done the hardest part, and the rest of it should go relatively quickly.

Sturm moved to table the request until the council's Nov.

The Council also voted to approve a $125,000 loan from the Wayne revolving loan fund made to Wayne Hospitality Group, a local group of investors looking to build a new hotel in Wayne, into a grant that would be repaid by the group

Wes Blecke, executive director of Wayne Area Economic Development, said the USDA was not going to guarantee a financial package for the hotel project because there was not enough equity in the project due to the fact that USDA reclassified $340,000 in TIF bonds as debt, rather than equity. As a result, the request failed to meet a 20 percent threshold.

Project is a family affair

By CLARA OSTEN Of the Herald

Approximately 10 years ago, Merlin Beiermann of rural Wayne decided he needed to make some type of stand to use during deer hunting season because "I was tired of sitting in a tree and thought there has to be a better way."

Beiermann, with assistance from his family, especially his wife, Pat, has built more than 20 steel hunting blinds since that time.

"I worked for Behlin Manufacturing for 40 years, and during that time was able to purchase scrap steel. I have been able to put that steel to good use when making the blinds," he said.

The standard blind is four feet by eight feet. Several single-person blinds have also been built.

The blinds have been shipped to the Sioux City area, Hartington, Aurora and three have gone into Missouri.

Young hunters experience sport with help of mentoring program

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

A warm sunrise offsets a cool, crisp start to an autumn morning, providing an ideal opportunity for the next generation of hunters to learn about the sport.

And so it was Saturday morning at the Izaak Walton Lake northwest of town, where members of the Logan Creek chapter of Pheasants Forever invited about two dozen area youth for a day of hunting education and the chance to put their knowledge to work out in the field.

Jim Modrell, chapter president, said the program has been in place for more than a decade, and gives area youth an opportunity to experience the great outdoors.

"We've become such an urbanized society and kids don't go out and hunt like they used to," he said. "We're hoping that this is something the kids can enjoy and get away from the TV and the computer and do something that they can do the rest of their lives.

Young hunters between the ages of 12-15 are paired up with an adult mentor, who follows them around throughout the day and encourages them as they get comfortable handling a shotgun in the open field. The kids are eligible to participate in the mentor hunt only after earning their hunter safety card and completing a Nebraska Game and Parks firearms safety course.

The kids and their mentors were broken up into several groups. One group was seen walking in a grassy area near the lake as Russ Hamer, wildlife biologist for the Game and Parks Commission, talked to them about the kind of brush pheasants like to

10/10/10 baby born at Providence Medical Center

A baby boy made his way into the world at a special time that won't come around again soon.

Jacob Schindler was born on Oct. 10, 2010, at Providence Medical Center at 2:07 p.m., to Tim and Jennifer Schindler. He weighed 5 pounds, 12 ounces, and was 20 inches in length. He joins a seven year old sister, Clara, and brother, Matthew, age 2.

"This is my third baby that I have delivered at Providence," said Jennifer. "Everyone made my delivery wonderful. They were helpful and kept me calm. And Dr. Martin is always great. I just couldn't ask for a better doctor," she said.

"The proud parents are very blessed to have three beautiful children, and they will never forget Jacob's special birth date," said Laura Gamble, Director of Nursing at PMC. "Everyone at Providence Medical Center joins the Schindler family in celebrating the birth of baby Jacob."

Dr. Benjamin J. Martin, Pediatric Provider, holding baby Jacob; Karen Kwapniowski, RN; and Jacob's mother, Jennifer Schindler. Other hospital staff attending this family, but not available for photo, were Marcia Spahr, RN and Todd Luedeke, CRNA.

Middle School group helps observe Red Ribbon Week Activities will be taking place Oct. 25-29

The Wayne Middle School FRIENDs Drug Free started by junior high students in 1989 to create posi-Youth Group has announced that the school will be observing Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 25-29.

Red Ribbon Week is the nation's oldest and largest drug prevention program. It originated in 1985, to honor the memory of DEA Special Agent Kiki Camarena, who was kidnapped, brutally tortured and murdered by Mexican drug traffickers while investigating and attempting to stop drug smuggling into the US. Supporters of Red Ribbon Week know that one way to fight drug smuggling is to dry up the demand for illegal drugs by working on drug abuse prevention in our own communities.

The FRIENDs group coordinates a variety of Red Ribbon Week activities to raise awareness and get out the message that "Drug Free is the Way to Be!" There will be theme days in both the elementary and middle school from Oct. 25-29. All students and staff are encouraged to participate.

Monday, Oct. 25 is Shade Out Drugs Day! Wear sunglasses.

Tuesday, Oct. 26 is Stay in the Game - Be Drug Free! Wear favorite team or Blue Devil attire.

Wednesday, Oct. 27 - Use your Head - Don't Do Drugs! Wear crazy hair or hat.

Thursday, Oct. 28 - Drugs are Ridiculous! - Wear crazy outfits.

Friday, Oct. 29 - Wear Red Dav!

On Friday, Oct. 29, FRIENDs will sponsor a dance for grades seven and eight in the Middle School Commons from 6-9 p.m.

FRIENDs is a Drug Free Youth Group that was tive peer pressure for making healthy choices. They chose the name "FRIEND", which is an acronym for Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs. Faculty Advisor for the group is Joan Sudmann, K-8 Counselor.

Members of the 2010-2011 Leadership Team are:

Abbie Hix, President; Tahlia Reynolds, Vice President; Holly Grosz, Treasurer; Kimberly Holt, Secretary; Lexi Sokol, Historian; Anya Roberts, Historian; and McKenna Isom, Maddie Morris, McKenzie Rusk and Andi Schulz.

The FRIENDs group is supported, in part, by the Wayne United Way. FRIENDs has over 70 members. Any seventh or eighth grader can join FRIENDs by signing an annual pledge (also signed by a parent or guardian) that states:

No use of illegal drugs. No illegal use of legal drugs

Illegal drugs are not the only drug abuse issue. This year's national Red Ribbon Week theme is "Be Aware. Don't share. Lock your meds." According to a DEA publication, How Teens Abuse Medicine:

"Despite recent reductions in teen drug use, particularly marijuana, increasing numbers of teens are using prescribed and over-the-counter medications to get high. It's a serious problem that affects all of us.

Many parents don't know enough about this problem, and many teens don't understand the dangers of using these medications to get high."

The first worship service in the new Winside United Methodist Church was held Sunday. Oct. 17. A special ceremony is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 31.

Winside Methodist Church has moved to a brand new location

The Winside United Methodist from 2 to 4 p.m. with a program at Church continues to move forward after celebrating 125 years of Methodism.

The once familiar church on Vroman Street has now moved to a new location and building on Jones Street. The last service at the church was held on Sunday, Oct. 10, with the congregation sharing their memories of the building, the fellowship, and ministries which had served several families and generations for the past 119 years. Worship Service was held in the new church Sunday, Oct. 17 with Judy Carlson CLM, giving the message, "We Have Landed."

Consecration Sunday will be held on Oct. 31. with the worship service at 10 a.m. A potluck dinner will be at 11:30 am. Chicken will be provided. Those attending are asked to bring a dish to compliment the meal.

An open house is being planned modern standards.

2:30 p.m. with music by CrossFire. Everyone is welcome to attend.

About 10 years ago, the members of the church thought that the building was not meeting the needs of the congregation. The fellowship hall in the basement was too small to serve funeral lunches, Sunday school classes needed more space and the steps were a problem if someone was handicapped and wanted to attend a service.

Church leaders needed to come up with a solution to meet these problems. The group considered adding on an addition to the west side of the building with a ramp being made accessible to the sanctuary.

After getting estimates, the consensus was to purchase land and build a new building which made more sense than trying to repair an old building to bring it up to

On June 5, 2003, a Real Estate transfer was signed by Frances K. Witte for 15 acres of land on the west edge of Winside. This agreement purchased the land for the future site of the new building. The land along Jones Street was re-zoned, platted, and annexed into the village as the Wesley Addition.

Years of planning and patience have gone into the building of this building. Stark Valley United Methodist Church of Plainview closed their doors on May 3, 2009, giving a generous donation of their pews, altar, pulpit, stained glass windows, and other church furnishings in anticipation of the new church building.

A ground breaking service was conducted at the site on Oct. 18 2009. Before the winter set in. the footings were in place and the remaining structure had to wait until spring to start putting up the walls of the church.

Kinney to be guest star in CBS TV program She has performed in two Broadway plays, "August,"

Emily Kinney, a 2002 Wayne High graduate, will be a guest star in the upcoming CBS weekly series, "The Good Wife.'

The episode is titled, "Bad Girl," and is scheduled to air on Tuesday, Nov. 16. Viewers are asked to check local listings to confirm the time.

Since moving to New York City, Kinney has appeared in three TV series: Law and Order, Criminal Intent; The Unusuals; and Gamekillers. Last year, she was cast as a waitress in the movie "It's Complicated," starring Meryl Streep, Steve Martin and Alec Baldwin.

"I'm sure, for some in Wakefield who live in Dixon County, it's closer to drive to Wayne than it is to Ponca," he said. "I know there are some down by Hoskins that go to Stanton rather than Wayne for the same reason.

Whether it's part-time or full-time, the new officer is going to have a lot of work ahead of him or her, as they would have to convert paper files to computer.

"There are a lot of records in there, and it's going to take a lot of time to get that set up," commissioner Jim Rabe said.

Wurdeman said he would rather see the position as a part-time position, which would save the taxpayers money. He asked the committee if they would consider interviewing both part-time and full-time applicants and provide names of the best candidate for each.

"Whoever we appoint, the fact is we're elected by the public to spend their tax dollars wisely, and I don't want to get into a situation where the person starts out full-time and it gets to the point where it's a 10-15 hour a week job and he's sitting there the rest of the time doing nothing," he said.

Nuss said the committee could look at that, but restated the opinion he and other board members at the meeting shared about the position.

passed away recently, was instrumental in the building of all of the blinds.

"Pat was there with me all the time. She helped put in all the bolts, helped with the windows and the painting of the blinds. She did lots of the design work, also," Beiermann said.

Merlin's son, Mark, has also been involved in the building of the blinds.

"This has become a family project and by working together, we have built relationships that we otherwise wouldn't have," Mark said

He noted that he has been able to take his wife and daughters hunting because they can wait in the blinds, and building the blinds has drawn him and his father closer together.

"For the most part, we sell the blinds by word of mouth," Mark said. "We now build the shell and wait until we have a customer to purchase it before completing it. That way, it can be customized the way they want it."

The Beiermanns recently completed a blind that is six feet by eight feet, and able to be used by a handicapped person in a wheelchair.

"I started thinking about this early this spring and talked with my wife and son and they thought it was a good idea, so we began building one," Merlin said.

The handicapped-accessible blind is larger to accommodate a wheel chair, and the back door is on a hinge and drops down to become a ramp to allow accessibility into the blind.

Pat was able to see the nearly completed handicap blind shortly before her death.

The blind is being donated to a Boy Scout Camp near the Missouri River in northeast Nebraska.

The Beiermanns are able to work on the blinds year-round, as they have a heated machine shed and

"As a committee, we would feel more like the veterans were being taken care of if it was a full-time position, and we want to do what's best for veterans," he said.

The county board also gave their final blessing to a project that has taken almost two years to complete.

The board revamped the county's personnel policy, making a number of changes to address such issues as technology, accruing of vacation time and use of sick leave. The county board and other county officials have been working on the manual since the summer of 2009

Effective Jan. 1, 2011, county employees who are separated from employment by the county will forfeit all sick leave they have built up. No unused sick leave will be reimbursed.

In addition, vacation time built up will not exceed five days beyond the annual allotment. For example, a full-time employee who has earned two weeks of vacation, but has only used two days, will start the next employment year with two weeks plus five days. In other action, the board:

Another group could be seen in a field about a mile from the lake, taking target practice with clay pigeons. Down the hill, two young hunters walked in a field with their mentor and their hunting dogs - Henry and Hunter - as they tracked and shot pheasants that had been planted in the Thompson Barnes land, a public hunting area.

"The kids can work on their shooting skills with the clay target shoot, and they also shoot at targets so they can see the kind of pattern that comes out of a shotgun," Modrell said.

Silhouette shooting, dog care, archery and other hunting-related issues are available for the kids during the day-long event, giving them an opportunity to either carry on family hunting traditions, or expose them to the opportunity to take part in hunting for the first time.

"Some of the numbers for the hunters who are out there are down, and we want to give kids who want to have the opportunity to come out," Modrell said.

Boys run away with title, girls qualify in third place

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

ALBION - Wayne High's boys cross country team wanted to send a message to the rest of the Class C teams that they are going to be a team to be reckoned with. Consider the message sent.

The Blue Devils had all four scoring runners finish in the top 10, and Wayne High ran away with the C-2 district title Thursday at Albion Country Club, finishing with 19 points to finish well ahead of runner-up Columbus Scotus.

Quentin Jorgensen, who ran a disciplined race and came home as the district medalist, led Wayne's sextet of runners to a dominating effort, which was especially pleasing to coach Rocky Ruhl.

"Coming into this district and getting four in the top nine is really awesome," he said. "The kids believed in the team plan and ran an awesome race. We stayed back early on and there were four or five guys that we were able to chase down.

Jorgensen, who actually was in the back of the pack early in the race, picked up the pace and worked his way toward the front of the field. By the time he hit the final 200meter stretch, he was all alone and pulling away from runner-up Jake Kment of Logan View to bring home the medalist honor.

"I just wanted to kind of start slow and pick them off as they died off," Jorgensen said of his race. "I wanted to stay relaxed, and when I heard I ran my first mile in 5:37, I knew I had to pick it up.'

"He's our rabbit, and our guys like to feed off him," Ruhl said of the junior. "We ran our first 1,000 about what we practiced, and our first mile was about 10 seconds slow, but we wanted to race that last 1,600 and we were still strong and were able to complete the race the way we wanted to."

 $\operatorname{Zach} \operatorname{Thomsen} \operatorname{and} \operatorname{Seth} \operatorname{Onderstal}$ softball tournament history to, as kept pace with one another finishing ninth to give Wayne 19 points, well ahead of the runner-up Shamrocks, who scored 51. Pierce was the third qualifying team, finishing with 67 points. Even Wayne's two non-scoring runners, Joey Dunklau and Aaron Bernal, finished in the upper third

Series, "go 0-2 and barbecue."

The girls golf team had an interesting two-day run in Columbus. Brittney Peterson has been the team's No. 1 golfer all season, and had the experience of two previous trips to state as an individual player.

And while Peterson has carried the team for much of the year, it was Taylor Burke who picked up the team while its leader battled an uncooperative putter and gave Blue Devil golf followers an idea of what kind of team they will see out on the links next year.

As far as softball goes, last week's one-day cup of coffee in Hastings was not indicative of the kind of team Rob Sweetland coached this year

While several players were back from last year's state runner-up team, this year's team had some question marks going into the year that were quickly answered by some talented play from veterans like Caitlin Fehringer, Cassy Miller and the team's lone senior, Lindsi Frahm. Young stars like Jalyn Zeiss and Victoria Kranz also showed promise for the future.

No matter their final outcomes, both teams had outstanding seasons this year and should be congratulated for their efforts. The really neat thing about each team, though, is the fact that almost all of these young ladies will be back next year. All five golfers are juniors, and Frahm is the only softball player that will be lost to graduation.

It will be interesting to see how each team responds to this year's finish, and how they use those outcomes as inspiration for even greater things in 2011. One thing's for certain – both teams will be exciting ones to watch next fall.

Fluellen taking shot with indoor league

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

If you're a Wayne State football fan and enjoy watching indoor football, you'll have a good reason to root for the Omaha Beef next spring.

The Beef announced Tuesday that they have signed former Wayne State quarterback Silas Fluellen to a free agent contract, bringing his signal-calling talents to one of the traditional power teams in the Indoor Football League. The Beef have made the playoffs 11 straight seasons, and will be adding Fluellen to a team that is expected to contend for a title run in the league in 2011.

For the Bellevue native, joining the Beef will be like going home again

"I had signed with the Billings Outlaws originally, but the team folded so I became a free agent," he said. "I was trying to figure out what was best for me, and the Beef owners called and said they wanted me. It was definitely high on my

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

HASTINGS - With the No. 1 seed and a 28-game winning streak, all systems were go for the Wayne High softball team to blast off on their way to the school's third state championship.

Their hopes came crashing down, though, as the Blue Devils were ousted in two games to bring their season to a quick and surprising close in the Class C State Softball Championships.

The Blue Devils were caught in a pitcher's duel in Wednesday's opening-round matchup with eighthseeded Cass County Central, dropping a 2-1 decision in eight innings. The Blue Devils appeared to have things figured out in an elimination game that evening against Ashland-Greenwood, only to see the Bluejays light up the Blue Devils for six runs in the fourth inning, eliminating Wayne with a 7-4 decision.

It was a finish that left coach Rob Sweetland trying to find the words to describe the disappointing end of the season.

"There are a lot of teams that would take 28-3 and a trip to state, but these kids have high expectations and I feel for them, because they worked really hard to get here," he said. "We talked about coming down here and playing well, and we just didn't do that."

Wayne High and Cass County Central opened the tournament with an outstanding pitching performance coming from each dugout.

The Blue Devils' ace, Cassy Miller, put out a fine performance, striking out 15 batters and scattering five hits. She gave up an unearned run in the first inning on a wild pitch, then got out of a couple of big jams, including a bases-loaded situation in the seventh.

The eighth-seeded Crush did Miller one better, though, as Taylor Mohler mowed down 18 Blue Devils and limited Wayne's high-scoring offense to a pair of hits, allowing Cass County Central to pull off the firstround upset with a 2-1, eight-inning victory.

"We couldn't figure her out," Sweetland said of the Crush pitcher, who struck out 10 of the first 12 batters she faced. "Our goal was to put the ball in play and make their defense do the work, and the kids didn't do that enough."

Cass County led 1-0 until the fifth inning, when list, because it's home and a lot of friends and family are there."

Fluellen, who has spent this past season serving as Wayne High's quarterback coach, certainly made a lot of friends in the recordkeeping department at Wayne State College, all but rewriting the record books during his four years as the Wildcats' starting quarterback.

During Fluellen's career, he set records for career passing yards (10,355), total yards (11,760), completions (780), attempts (1,358) and touchdowns (75). He threw for a career-best 469 yards against Winona State in 2008, and his 3,030 yards and 25 touchdown passes during his senior year in 2009 are in the top three in team history. He is also one of a select few quarterbacks in NCAA history to have accounted for more than 10,000 yards in passing and total offense. He also holds several Northern Sun Conference career marks and led the conference in total offense and passing yards per game during his senior year.

He said he was hoping to get on the roster with the new Omaha Nighthawks of the United Football League, but came back to Wayne to finish his final semester of classroom work toward his degree in education.

"The Nighthawks said they liked what they saw of me on film and said I played more like D.J. Shockley of the Atlanta Falcons," he said. "It didn't pan out, but now I'll get the opportunity to get some experience at the pro level and it will be a good opportunity for them to keep tabs on me while I'm with the Beef."

In the meantime, he said he's enjoyed the experience of seeing football from a different side while working under Wayne High head coach Rich Rethwisch.

"It's been nice to be out with the kids and gets me some experience with coaching," he said. "It's been interesting helping to implement an offense for high school kids that's a little more complex, and it's been a great experience to see it from that side of things.'

With the Indoor Football League playing a March-to-July schedule, Fluellen said he will get his classroom work done and delay the student-teaching element that he'll need to finish his college degree. He said his faith will lead him through his football and education plans.

"I know the time for me to play football is now, so I'm going to go play and then come back when I know I'm done with football and do my student teaching and get my degree," he said. "With God's will, I'm hoping all goes well this spring and I can find a way to get on with a team next fall. I try to walk by faith instead of by sight, because you don't know what tomorrow's going to bring for you."

For the second time in three years, the Wayne State men's golf team captured the Nebraska Intercollegiate Golf Tournament. The Wildcats edged Hastings College by one stroke, 611-612, to win this year's tournament. Individually, Adam Fields was the top finisher for WSC shooting a 147 to place third overall. Other Wayne State scores included Jake Hirz at 155, Brett Shively came in at 158, Tyler Thompson at 159 and Tyler DeJong at 159. Lindsi Frahm got the only ball hit out of the infield with a leadoff double into the gap in left center. Kristin Carroll followed with a line-drive infield single off Mohler's glove, and Victoria Kranz executed a perfect suicide squeeze to tie the game at 1-1.

It would stay that way until the eighth, when Mohler led off the inning with a double in the gap, scoring Katie Vice, who started the inning at second with the international tie-breaker rule in effect. Wayne didn't have an answer in the bottom of the eighth, falling into the losers' bracket.

Wayne appeared to have swung its way out of its tournamentopening funk, jumping on Ashland-Greenwood early and building a 3-1 lead.

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first when Caitlin Fehringer led off with a double and scored on a Bluejay error. Miller, who reached on a fielder's choice that scored Fehringer, later came home on a wild pitch go give Wayne the two-run lead.

Dramatic comeback seals playoff trip

It's not often that a team can commit five turnovers and still win a football game.

Even more rare is the opportunity to finish off a comeback on the game's final play.

The Wayne High football team accomplished both rare events, and kept their playoff hopes alive, with a heart-stopping 23-22 win over Madison Friday at Wayne State College's Memorial Stadium.

The Blue Devils scored 12 points in the final five minutes over a Madison team whose talent and physical style belied their winless record. By winning Friday's game, the Blue Devils have virtually assured themselves a second straight trip to the Class C-1 playoffs, regardless of the outcome of Thursday's regular-season finale at Pierce.

The Blue Devils dug themselves a deep hole early in the game, as special teams and turnovers allowed the visiting Dragons to race to an early 16-0 lead.

"We've talked about it all year, and it's been something we've battled," coach Rich Rethwisch said. "I haven't been able to figure out what it is with this team that we don't take advantage of opportunities early and have to battle back."

A long kickoff return led to the Dragons' first points on a 39-yard field goal. A turnover resulted in a 40-yard run by Ricardo Avila, and another late first-period score gave Madison its biggest lead of the night.

Wayne got its offense in gear in the second period and appeared to have the momentum in its favor when Gage Rethwisch threw a 15-yard touchdown pass to Justin Anderson and converted a late 22yard field goal to make it 16-11 at intermission.

The Blue Devil coach said he thought about going for another touchdown before the half, but knowing they would get the ball to start the second half, he felt it more important to get the easy three points and keep the momentum on their side of the field.

"We had a nice drive going and wanted to try to get something at the end (of the half), because we knew we'd get the ball to start the second half and if we score there, we go up 17-16 and we'd go from there," he said.

Unfortunately, the Blue Devils fumbled again, one of four on the night to go with an interception. Madison eventually scored midway through the fourth quarter and appeared to be in position to pull off the upset and end Wayne's postseason hopes.

The Blue Devils had other ideas, though. Rethwisch – who set school records for completions (30), attempts (46) and yards passing (371) – marched the home team down the field and hit Trent Beza on a nice 26-yard pass to bring Wayne within five points. Wayne tried to cut the lead to three with a two-point conversion using a play that they would call on again later. Rethwisch rolled to his right on a bootleg and saw Beza in the corner of the end zone, but Beza couldn't hang on to the two-point conversion pass.

Wayne drove again and looked to be in position to score, but a controversial fumble call when Beza – who was injured and lost for the season on the play – was tackled deep in Madison territory gave the ball to the Dragons with just over two minutes left. Wayne's defense forced a punt, and the Blue Devils started near midfield with :47 left. Wayne marched down the field, and Rethwisch connected with Anderson on a pass down to the Madison 3-yard line with :03 left in the game. Wayne raced to the line of scrimmage and Rethwisch grounded the ball to stop the clock with :02 left, then went to the same bootleg play used during the failed two-point conversion. This time, the junior quarterback called his own number, beat the Madison defense to the corner of the end zone and scored the decisive points with no time left on the clock.

"We thought about giving it to Jake (Zeiss) in that situation, but three yards is tough to get at that point," Rethwisch said of the gamewinning play. "We had the ball on the left hash, so that left a lot of room to run on that right side and Gage saw that and had an option to run or throw."

The Blue Devils finished with 447 yards in total offense, but the final score was the statistic the Wayne High coach was most proud of.

"We needed to win to get in the playoffs, and I'm very proud of the way the kids handled the situation," he said. "We made some mistakes that hurt us, but we did the things we needed to do on that last drive to make (the win) possible."

for the Class C title after finishing a close third last year.

"I think we have a different team than the one that ran at Kearney earlier in the season," Ruhl said. "Being out there helped these kids and helped them understand what they need to do out there, and they went out and ran the kind of race they need to run."

The Wayne High girls also qualified for state, edging out Norfolk Catholic for the third and final team qualifying spot. Wayne, with 63 points, joined district champion Columbus Scotus (35) and Boone Central (58) as qualifying teams from the district.

While the boys have used their experience, the Wayne High girls have ridden the legs of its two newest members, Tia Jech and Angie Nelson, to this week's state meet.

Jech, who played softball last year, led the team with a ninthplace finish while Nelson, a freshman, finished 13th. Veteran Megan Stalling, who is getting back to form after being saddled with injuries earlier in the year, finished 17th and Emily Nelson placed 24th for the Blue Devils. Dulce Torres finished 36th and Martha Mitiku, who has also battled injuries and ran on a bum ankle Thursday, placed 54th.

"We knew coming in that we were going to be in the mix with Boone Central, Pierce, Norfolk Catholic and O'Neill, and it was great to get the girls in to state," Ruhl said. "Tia and Angie really stepped up and did a good job. It's their first year in cross country and they've really learned a lot, and hopefully that will allow them to become stronger runners next year."

Ruhl said, though, that there is still this year to finish up, and he's optimistic both teams can finish in the upper half of the 12-team field at Friday's state meet at the Kearney Country Club.

"The boys have a chance to win it all, and the girls finished in the top five last year and want to try to improve on that," he said. "It's a pretty big goal, but I think the girls have the capability to get up there."

Wayne High's volleyball team got a big win Thursday, going on the road to defeat Battle Creek in four sets, 22-25, 26-24, 25-16, 27-25.

Coach Joyce Hoskins said her team overcame some talented play on the other side of the net to get a key conference win and improve to 17-8 on the season.

"I was so proud of them," she said. "The first set, I think we were a little awestruck because (Battle Creek's) Michaela Barry and Shelby Dahm are very good players, but then we came back and started playing well, and when we were down 14-8 in the second I think the girls decided that we could compete with them."

The Blue Devils got a key momentum swing late in the first set, tying the match at 24-24. Rachel Gilliland came up with a couple of tough serves to help the Blue Devils tie the match, and that momentum carried them through to the big win.

Katie Hoskins led the attack with 24 kills and four ace serves, while Elisa Robinson added 20 and two blocks. Laura Muren had 49 set assists and 19 digs, while Robinson added 14 digs, Cassie Harm put up nine digs and Hoskins and Erica Sebade had eight digs.

The Blue Devils close out the regular season Friday with a triangular at Hartington Cedar Catholic, then competes in Mid-State Conference tournament action Monday at Norfolk Catholic, looking at a rematch with Battle Creek in the opening round at 5:30 p.m. may apply based on type and number of receivers. Katie Jacobsen (left) of Laurel-Concord/Coleridge qualified for her fourth state cross country meet. She'll have a chance to win a fourth medal at state this week. Winside's John Hansen just missed out on a trip to state, finishing 18th.

Two to state for LCC; Winside heartbroken

 Laurel-Concord/ WAUSA Coleridge will have two individuals going to the state cross country meet, while Winside's hopes for qualifying for state came up short in the D-3 district meet Thursday.

Katie Jacobsen won the girls race and will have a chance to be a fourtime medalist at Friday's State Cross Country Championships in Kearney. She won the race at the Rolling Hills Country Club in a time of 15:24, winning by a comfortable margin of 15 seconds.

She will be joined by classmate Isaac Haahr, who qualified in the boys race with a 13th place time of 18:22 to earn his third trip to state.

"It's a fitting close to their cross country careers," coach Megan Meyer said. "Both have had solid season for us and placed in nearly every meet. Katie's had a prolific career and will be going for the fourth time, and this is Isaac's third trip to Kearney."

The Winside runners had a couple of kids get close to qualifying, but were not able to finish among the 15 individual qualifiers in each race.

On the boys' side, John Hansen was very close to making the field, finishing 18th overall. On the girls' side, Natasha Jensen led the Wildcat girls with a 26th place finish.

Coach Jennifer Kesting said she was proud of her kids' efforts, especially that of Hansen.

"It was heartbreaking," she said. "I haven't had a runner put it all on the line like that in years. John left nothing behind, but unfortunately it wasn't enough to earn him a trip to Kearney. Hopefully, it's enough to motivate him to put in longer summer runs next year and truly dedicate himself to the goal of making it to state. He ran with a lot of heart, and I'm very proud of him."

Kesting said several other runners, including Colin Hansen, Alex Davis, Selena Finn and Monica Marino, ran solid races for underclassmen and she is looking forward to next season.

After suffering their first loss of the year to Minnesota State two weeks ago, Wayne State was looking for payback.

Senior All-American middle hitter Jennifer Hefner knocked down 17 kills and had six blocks to power third-ranked Wayne State to a four-set win over No. 14 Minnesota State Tuesday evening at Rice Auditorium, winning 25-17, 25-20, 22-25, 25-17.

The win avenged an earlier loss to the Mavericks in Mankato when Minnesota State handed then-No. 1 Wayne State - now 19-2 overall and 10-2 in the NSIC - its first loss of the season on Friday, Oct. 8. And that loss was fuel to the fire, coach Scott Kneifl said.

"Our loss to this team was the motivation coming in," he said after the match. "We felt we were the better team, and we came in tonight and took them out of their game, and our kids stayed disciplined and did some good things.'

The Wildcats jumped out to a quick 9-0 lead in the first set and held Minnesota State to a .000 hitting percentage, forcing eight errors in the opening set. The second set was a lot tighter, but Wayne State turned a 10-9 deficit into a 17-11 lead and cruised to the two-set advantage.

Minnesota State had 17 kills in the third set to avoid the sweep, forcing a fourth set. Wayne State trailed 5-0 in the fourth set, but battled back to tie the match at 9-9 and took the lead for good when Shelby Schultz got back-to-back kills and Mindy Moody and Tali Fredrickson combined on a block.

"I thought we played well at times tonight, and it was good to be home," Kneifl said. "The girls did some good things tonight and battled back, and I was really proud of their effort."

Hefner hit at a .395 clip with her 17 kills and just two errors in 38 attacks. Fredrickson added 10 kills while Moody, Cori Hobbs and Schultz each accounted for seven kills. Freshman McKenna Reagan had 20 digs and four aces, while Fredrickson finished with 18 digs for her third straight double-double. Leigh Connot accounted for 17 digs and Diedra Artz had 42 assists.

Hefner had a match-high 14 kills and no attack errors to lead the Wildcats to a sweep over Minnesota, Crookston on Friday, winning 25-17, 25-21, 25-18.

The Wildcats hit .354 in the match and had a 48-33 advantage in kills over the Golden Eagles. Fredrickson added 12 kills with 11 digs for her seventh double-double of the season. Connot added 11 digs while Artz had 40 set assists and nine digs.

On Saturday, Wayne State rallied for a four-set win at MSU Moorhead, winning 22-25, 25-20, 25-20 and 25-22.

Hefner led a balanced attack with 16 kills and a team-high five blocks. Schultz finished with a career-high 13 kills and four blocks, while Hobbs had 11 kills. Fredrickson had her second straight double-double with 10 kills and 19 digs. Freshman McKenna Reagan notched a teamhigh 25 digs, with Connot adding 16 and Nicole Brungardt 13. Artz had 55 assists and 11 digs.

Winside sweeps Allen to highlight winning week

The Winside volleyball team continued their winning ways last week, sweeping Allen on Thursday and taking first place at the Hartington Invitational.

On Thursday, the Wildcats and Eagles hooked up at Winside High School, and Winside came away with a 25-16, 25-17, 25-20 triumph.

The Eagles had to battle from behind in the first two sets, but got out to a 14-5 lead in the third set before Winside rallied behind the net play of Shelby Lienemann and Erin Gray, who led the team with 13 and 10 kills, respectively. Jerae Doffin added seven kills. Bridget Gray had 20 set assists and Shannon Gray added six.

Winside served well in the game, coming away with 18 aces in the match. Lienemann led the team with seven aces, while Audrey Roberts had five, Gray had four and Nazya Thies added two.

Defensively, Roberts led the team with 18 digs, while Erin Gray had 12 and Lienemann put up 11.

For Allen, Bentley Hingst led the team with six kills and 21 digs. Vanessa Klug had three kills and six digs, Lindsey Jones had five blocks and six assists, Megan Black had three blocks, Hannah Finnegan had seven assists and four kills, Brittany Sullivan had 19 digs and Nikole Stewart had eight digs.

On Saturday, Winside took care of Bancroft-Rosalie (25-15, 25-18) and Wynot (25-22, 26-24) to win the Hartington tournament.

"The girls came out strong, passed and hit well, and just executed things well from the beginning," coach Teresa Watters said. "I think the girls were looking forward to this tournament and went out and played their game well.'

On Tuesday, the Wildcats took care of Hartington in four sets, winning 25-20, 16-25, 25-18, 25-21. Lienemann and Erin Gray each had 13 kills, Doffin added seven and Roberts had five for the 19-5 Wildcats. Bridget Gray had 31 assists, Thies had four ace serves, Lienemann had 14 digs, Roberts added 11 and Thies and Erin Gray each had eight.

Winside is the No. 2 seed for next week's Lewis and Clark Conference tournament, and will host Bloomfield, Hartington and Allen in the first two rounds of the tournament Monday. The Wildcats will take on Bloomfield at 5 p.m. while Hartington, the No. 7 seed, meets Allen at 6 p.m. The two winners will meet at 7 p.m.

"I think we're sitting good for conference," Watters said. "This is something we'd set out as a goal at the beginning of the year.

Trojans' rack up 300 yards in 35-14 defeat

Trojans had their best offensive night of the season with more than 300 yards of total offense, but it wasn't enough as Hartington Cedar Catholic pulled away in the second half for a 35-14 win.

Brendan Nicholson had a huge night for the 0-7 Trojans, racking up 227 yards on 27 carries. He scored on a 71-yard run in the second quarter, and after Dusty Sherer's two-point conversion run, the visiting Trojans trailed the host Trojans 14-8 at intermission.

"We moved the ball very well and got into the red zone a couple of times," coach Mike Clay said. "We had a few turnovers that hurt us, but we were in it throughout the first half and the offense played pretty well."

The Wakefield defense had a

HARTINGTON - The Wakefield hard time stopping Hartington CC's Frank Herbolsheimer in the second half, though. He scored on three touchdown runs in the second half to put the game away for the host team.

"We had trouble stopping them down the stretch and kind of got wore down," Clay said. "We're giving away some size and people just line up and take it to us the second half, but the kids are playing hard."

Wakefield closes out the regular season at home against Laurel-Concord/Coleridge, and Clay said his team will be challenged by a young, talented team.

"They've got an athletic team with some good speed and an athletic quarterback," he said. "It's going to be tough, but we're going to give it a shot."

Randolph pulls away for victory over Allen

RANDOLPH Untimely problems helped Randolph pull away in the second half, handing Allen a 50-20 defeat in district football action here Friday.

The Eagles had a chance to score early in the game, but were unable to hang on to the ball and came away empty-handed. Randolph also had its troubles, but took advantage of an interference penalty on fourth down to help set up their first score of the night.

Randolph scored twice late in the first half to take a 22-0 lead at the half, then took advantage of a surprise by Allen that backfired. The Eagles attempted an onside kick to start the second half, but the ball failed to travel the required 10 yards. Randolph scored on the first play after that and never looked back.

Randolph got on the board late in the third period when Austin Roeber found Dylan Mahler for a 15-yard scoring pass. Roeber called his own number on a three-yard run in the fourth and Brandon Sullivan scored on a 38-yard gallop.

Allen, 2-5 overall and 0-4 in district play, closes out the regular season Friday in the Dakota Dome, taking on top-ranked Creighton.

Crofton scores early, often in 68-8 win over LCC

LAUREL Second-ranked Crofton scored four touchdowns in a three-minute span of the first quarter and cruised to a 68-8 win over Laurel-Concord/Coleridge in district football action here Friday.

The Warriors took advantage of a couple of early turnovers and made quick work in converting those Bear miscues into points. Still, in spite of the one-sided outcome, coach Terry Beair was proud of his team's effort.

"We played hard and I'm proud of the kids for sticking together. Crofton is a very good team," he said.

The Bears were able to avoid the shutout in the final minute when Kyle Kardell found Justin Saunders on a nine-yard scoring pass. Austin Roach ran in the twopoint conversion for the game's final points.

Defensively, Roach led the team with 24 total tackles, while Mitch Heikes had 12 stops.

The Bears close out the season on the road at Wakefield, as the two area teams will meet in a 7 p.m. matchup at Graves Park in Wakefield.

Osmond pulls away, beats Winside 56-12 Friday

OSMOND – After winning their first five games to start the season, the Winside football team has hit a couple of ruts in the road.

One week removed from a shutout loss at top-ranked Creighton, the Wildcats were run off the road in the second half by a solid Osmond team, as the Tigers broke open a close game in the second half to record a 56-12 win.

The Wildcats struck first on a 44-yard touchdown run by Anthony Nelson, and held a 12-10 lead in the second period when Blaine Meyer found Ethan Thies on a 55-yard touchdown pass.

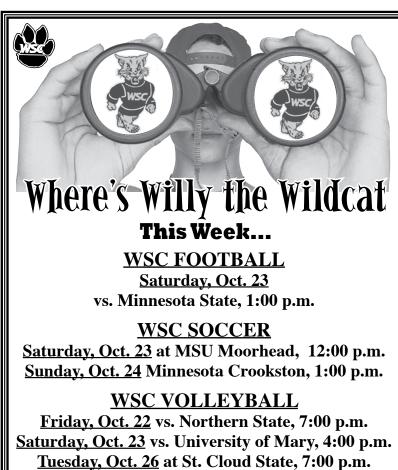

The Tigers came back, though, scoring a pair of touchdowns to take a 24-12 lead at the break, then returned the second-half kickoff back for a touchdown to put the momentum squarely on their shoulders.

Winside had troubles with penalties in the second half. Late in the third quarter, one series included a personal foul, an unsportsmanlike conduct and two offsides penalties. That set up another Osmond score, and the Wildcats couldn't recover.

The Wildcats' offense was held to 265 yards in total offense, with Nelson's 81 yards on 17 carries leading the way. Meyer added 43 yards on five carries, and Kelby Prince gained 40 yards on 14 tries. Winside converted just 2-of-10 passing for 55 yards and threw four interceptions. Winside, 5-2 overall and 2-2 in district play closes out the regular season at home Friday against Hartington. The Wildcats will then move on to the postseason, as they have secured a trip to the Class D-1 playoffs.

Wildcats win 2-1, upset NSIC leader

Macy Hagen scored her first goal of the season midway through the second half to help the Wayne State upset Northern Sun Conference leader Bemidji State 2-1 Saturday afternoon at the Wayne State soccer complex

The visiting Beavers got on the board first, with a goal by Ashlee Ellefsen in the eighth minute that slipped by the Wildcats' goalkeeper. Wayne State responded 12 minutes later when Tiffani Kellerman trickled a shot past the Bemidji State goalkeeper to tie the match.

Each team had chances to break the the tie in the second half, but Hagen broke the tie at the 63:09 mark when she put a shot in from 15 yards out off a corner kick. The Wildcats defense was strong in the closing minutes, allowing one shot in the last 10 minutes to pick up their first conference win of the season.

Emily Walker was solid in goal for Wayne State, turning away four shots and shutting down the Beavers' chances on corner kicks with two blocks off crossing passes. On Sunday, Wayne State fell to Minnesota Duluth 3-1, moving Wayne State's record to 5-5-4 overall and 1-4-4 in the conference.

The Wildcats got on the board first when Kellerman scored her second goal of the season off of a crossing pass by Megan Dias. Duluth responded with two goals in the first half and never trailed after that Wayne State will be on the road next weekend, visiting MSU Moorhead Saturday at 12 p.m., and Minnesota, Crookston Sunday at 1 p.m.

Concordia edges Wildcats

Concordia-St. Paul's offense did a good enough job controlling the clock and managed to steal a 17-14 win over the Wayne State Wildcats in NSIC action Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Redshirt freshman quarterback James Peterson threw for 328 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Golden Bears to the win, dropping Wayne State to 5-2 overall and 4-2 in the Northern Sun Conference.

"It was pretty simple. They game-planned us and did a nice job finding a couple of things that worked for them offensively," coach Dan McLaughlin said of Saturday's game. "They shut down what we do best offensively, and their kids were well-prepared and played well."

The Golden Bears seemed to make the most of their possessions, and while they had almost a 12minute advantage in time of possession, McLaughlin said that is a misleading statistic.

"Having said that, they shut us down offensively and we couldn't get anything done, especially on the ground. Our defense got tired because our offense wasn't on the field that much," he said

The Wildcats put together their first score in the second period when Nick Pulscher bowled over on a two-yard run to cap an eight-play, 53-yard drive to give Wayne State a 7-0 lead.

Wildcat penalties helped the visitors tie things up late in the first half, with Peterson hitting Calvin Simon on a five-yard strike.

A field goal gave the visitors their first lead at 10-7, but Wayne State came back later in the third period with a 15-play, 70-yard drive that was capped by Evan Johnson's oneyard quarterback keeper, making it 14 - 10.

The Golden Bears missed a field goal early in the fourth, but got another chance and scored on a 17yard pass with 8:00 left. They left it up to the defense from there, and a late interception sealed the deal and gave the visitors the win.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes Managing Editor

OMG! Kids are too busy texting to talk to adults

And now, a few random comments, observations and other padding of my words-per-column stats with this week's purging of the "Bits and Pieces" file:

- OMG! WTH? IDBI!

Are you having trouble communicating with your kids these days? Recent research indicates that you and your children aren't even speaking the same language anymore.

A recent Nielsen study found that the average teenager sends more than 3,300 texts per month, an average of about six per waking Teenage girls are especially busy with their fingers and personal devices, sending an average of 4,050 per month. By comparison, young adults age 18-24 send an average of 1,630 per month.

And the study also found that teenagers think it's easier to clickclick-click their conversations than to actually use their verbal skills (which, like, are, like, diminishing by the, like, minute). More than 1 in 5 teenagers believe it's easier to carry on a text conversation with their friends than to actually dial them up on the phone.

I texted this information to my daughter and told her I was shutting off our cell phone accounts. Her response: @#$%&#@!!!

I'm not sure what that translates to in real English, but it doesn't look good.

-I'm not a morning person (as the ladies in the office will attest), but on those rare occasions when work requires a pre-dawn wake-up call, you want to make sure it's for something that's worth the early I got it Sunday morning in Wakefield during the annual Balloon Fest. About a dozen hotair balloons were put together and lifted off from a playground behind the local school building, and it was quite the colorful display rising into the air. As remarkable as it is watching these vehicles float through the air, it's even more interesting watching these pilots put their crafts together. If you've never seen a balloon go from storage to liftoff, it's an exercise in patience and meticulous work to make sure everything is ready for a safe liftoff (and, we hope, a landing). - I've been blessed to have had my parents around all my life, and both are still alive and kicking as this column is being written (of course, Dad just turned 65 and mom hits the big day next spring, so it's not like they're really old fogeys).

94. A few days later, the easy-going dad we knew as "Mr. C," Tom Bosley passed away at the age of 83.

- If you're one of those loony birds that thinks the end of the world is near, you might want to rethink those doomsday plans.

If you've heard of the Mayan apocalypse, you know that the world is supposed to end on Dec. 21, 2012. A recent critique of the Mayan calendar in a textbook called "Calendars and Years II: Astronomy and Time in the Ancient and Medieval World," opines that the conversions of dates from the Mayan calendar to the modern calendar may be off by anywhere between 50 and 100 years.

While the book doesn't provide a definition as to when the end of the world WILL happen, it would appear that, for now, we're going to make it through the next two Christmas holidays.

No mention is made as to the impact a second Obama presidency I'm sure, in the case of people like Glenn Beck and Rush Limbaugh, a repeat of this regime would sure seem like Armageddon.

- Speaking of the leader of our going to make an appearance on the cable TV show "Mythbusters." No word if it has anything to do with his birth certificate, his religious affiliation or his ability to hit the open jumper in the White House Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Capitol View Enough with the admiral talk

By ED HOWARD Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

Herald

LINCOLN - Herewith is a sincere message and appeal to politicians of all parties and philosophies currently haunting Nebraska.

Do the world, the whole world, a favor. Don't let election year nonsense do anything to scuttle or otherwise put the Great Navy of the State of Nebraska in jeopardy.

Election years guarantee offenses against civility. The worst are just intellectual paunch manure, oozing from the imaginations of people whose mothers ought to have washed their brains out with

A political operative took a shot at Republican Gov. Dave Heineman after learning that a dictator somewhere, not quite the equal of Vlad the Impaler, became an Admiral in the Great Navy. And the criticism was intended to be taken seriously!

The nonpartisan view from here: That's enough! Stop it!

Do vou know how one becomes an admiral in this mythical navy? One asks. That's all. Put in a request to be an admiral and that's pretty much it. You can arrange for your mom back in Ohio, or your infant grandchild, or the guy from Toledo vou meet at next year's Ohio State game, to become an admiral. You go to the governor's office and fill out a form. It's an honorary thing that has literally touched ports of call throughout the world. It's a fun thing.

The Nebraska Navy was launched in 1931 by a lieutenant governor. It was a sort of prank. Eventually, would have on the end of the world. though, governors began handing them out to friends, and to friends of friends and pretty soon, the Nebraska Navy was afloat. You can find Nebraska admirals on every continent, I've been told. nation, there's a report out that he's Admiralships hang behind a lot of bars in towns where Nebraska has played bowl games, and just plain games. They have gone to American presidents and the Queen of England, and to actors and tourists and . . . every freaking body

The further nonpartisan view from here: That slap at Heineman was a low, cheap, lousy, childish, dumb-as-a-post thing to do. If someone had laid the same lame rap on a Bob Kerrey (Democrat) Kay Orr (Republican) Ben Nelson (Democrat) or Charlie Thone, the analysis here would have been the same: What a crock of low-grade malevolence.

The Lincoln Journal-Star (Lincoln is apparently the Nebraska Navy's home port) recently noted: Each admiral's commission comes with a certificate emblazoned with a picture of a covered wagon on a sandbar in a river, the state seal and bearded men rising from the sea. It charges "all officers, seamen, tadpoles and goldfish under your command to be obedient to your orders as admiral." And admirals are supposed to tell people that Nebraska is a fine and dandy place with fine and dandy people. That's it.

Why is this subject worthy your attention? Because, in America's venomous political climate, someone, or some group, could actually be so down and dirty and mean spirited as to make the Nebraska Navy into yet another ugly non-issue, with nothing to fuel it but ugliness.

Any governor confronted with Heineman's situation might benefit, in the spirit of the best of American politics, by responding to his critic by sending him/her ... a certificate making them an admiral in the Great Nebraska Navy! If the recipient is already an admiral. tell them: "Good. Now you're a twostar admiral!"

Thought to share with the governor: Quick. Make your current opponent an admiral. Bring Rush and Rachel into the Nebraska Navy. Commission the pope and Billy Graham. Just don't use the fleet to open fire on anyone. It's a peacetime Navy.

with autism another student with developmental challenges. In both meetings, the parents were clearly dedicated and committed to their child's learning. Equally impressive was the professionalism and commitment of the educators working with these two students. It was clear to me that the teachers were working very hard on behalf of their students. In the coming weeks I plan to attend parent-teacher conferences in Harvard, Chadron, Falls City and Elkhorn. I believe in the value of parentteacher conferences. My wife, a former elementary school teacher and principal, and I are strong believers in parental engagement. We believe that good teachers involved a young fourth grader combined with strong parental involvement leads to goo because we have seen firsthand the difference it can make. Sally and I were fortunate to be raised by parents who believed strongly in the value of education. It helped us to set priorities as we were growing up and later on as parents raising our own son. The belief that parents play a key role in student learning is something Sally brought to the schools and classrooms where she taught for more than 30 years. If your son or daughter's school has a parent-teacher conference in the coming weeks, please attend. Your presence is a very meaningful symbol of the value and importance of a good education.

unidentified dimwit who thought the month of October. One of the it was a good idea to confront most important things we can do Nebraska wide receiver Niles Paul in the parking lot after the Huskers' 20-13 loss to Texas and tell him, in so many words, that he choked. The kid feels bad enough as it is, and one of our so-called fans decides he needs to add to Paul's frustration.

Then, in the blue corner, is the nutjob who rushed on to the field at Yankee Stadium the other night, allegedly with the intent to do harm to New York Yankees' third basemanAlexRodriguez.Rodriguez' crime? He has been dating too many white women, most notably actress Cameron Diaz.

I don't know about you, but I think the guy in the blue corner gets it – especially considering he was carrying photos of Diaz, Rodriguez and Osama bin Laden, who he calls his "master."

- And, finally, from the "Too Nutty To Be Anything But True" department: Mel Gibson, the crazy, drunk-driving actor who once was one of Hollywood's top box-office draws, is set to make a cameo appearance in an upcoming movie. Fittingly, he will be seen in the sequel to a recent comedy smash, titled "The Hangover 2."

want to encourage - OK, I'm not sure which fan is to attend their children's parenthold parent-teacher conferences In the red corner, we have the early the fall, typically during for our children is to attend these meetings.

> They provide an opportunity to meet teachers and administrators, to ask questions and to hear about how each child interacts in the classroom is an opportunity to gain valuable feedback about the development of individual students. Most importantly, it sends a powerful message about how much we as parents care about the education of our sons and daughters.

Education is more important than ever before. A high school education is no longer sufficient to prepare students for success in the workforce. Today, students need at least two years of college, and preferably four years of higher education, in order to obtain a good paying job.

That's why parent-teacher conferences are so important. From elementary school through high school, parents need to know how their sons and daughters are doing every step of the way. The best way to get that feedback is through a discussion with their teachers.

I shared with many of the parents and teacher groups I've visited with this year that if they invite me to one of their conferences, I will attend if my schedule permits. And so far this month. I have had the opportunity to be part of two parent-teacher conferences.

The conferences I attended

Bruckner to participate in Honor Choir

Sam Bruckner, son of Brian and Traci Bruckner of Wayne, was recently selected for participation in the 25th annual Opus Honor Choir Festival.

Sam was one of over 3,400 students who were nominated by their directors for 720 positions in the four Opus Honor Choirs.

He is a member of the Siouxland Youth Chorus (SYC), which is comprised of vocally talented students in grades 3-8 from Sioux City and the surrounding tri-state area. SYC is under the direction of Dr. Shirley Neugebauer-Luebke.

Guest conductors of the Opus choirs include Marlene DePriest, fifth and sixth Grade Elementary Honor Choir; Tom Gerking, seventh and eighth Grade Boys Honor Choir; Heidi Schwery, seventh and eighth Grade Girls Honor Choir; and Duane Philgreen, ninth Grade Mixed Honor Choir.

The 2010 Opus Honor Choirs will perform at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 18, in C.Y. Stephens Auditorium, Iowa State Center in Ames, Iowa. The Opus Honor Choir Festival is under the auspices of the Iowa Choral Directors Association, Inc.

On November 11, the Wayne Herald will publish a special feature to pay tribute to our Veterans. These men and women have given their time, effort and sometimes even their lives to serve our country.

Mail or bring in a short biography and photo of your special veteran before November 8. Please include $18 per biography to help cover printing costs. Each photo should be labeled on the back with the veteran's name, your name, address and phone number. Also include a self-addressed stamped envelope and we will return your photos to you.

Winterize landscape equipment

As you prepare your lawn mower should be filled one-fourth full with and other tools for winter storage, don't forget to winterize your sprayers and fertilizer spreader.

Smooth, dependable pesticide application next summer depends largely on the care and maintenance that sprayers and spreaders receive over the winter. Since the "pest season" is about over for this year, this is a good time to winter-

ize your equipment. Compressed air sprayer tanks

Wendy Vawser talked about Buyer's Agents. This week ... What a Seller's Agent does and how they benefit you.

What a Seller's Agent is supposed to do is sell your home! This is an agent you contract with who works just for you and looks after only your interests.

Ways a Seller's Agent can help you:

- Help you choose the best listing price for your house.
- Develop a marketing strategy to sell your house quickly and efficiently.
- Pre-qualify buyers so that you don't waste your time with "lookers".
- Write purchase agreements that benefit you, the seller.
- Coordinate all the paperwork and follow up on details.

So both Seller's Agents and Buyer's Agents are necessary. How do you find good ones? Look for agents who cooperate with other agents to make sure you get the mild dishwashing solution. Shake the sealed tank to loosen any spray residues. Pressurize the tank and spray out the water. Drain the tank upside down until thoroughly dry. Once dry, place a few drops of oil into the top of the pump cylinder. Pump the cylinder several times to coat the cylinder and valves with an oil film. Reassemble the sprayer before storing.

Nozzle tips and screens should be removed and cleaned with soapy water. Clogged nozzle tips should be cleaned with a sliver of wood or other soft object, not with wire. An old toothbrush, properly labeled as being meant for pesticide use and stored with the sprayer, works very well to clean spray residue and other deposits from nozzles. Store nozzle tips and screens in diesel fuel or kerosene to prevent corrosion

Fertilizer spreaders are used not only to apply fertilizers, but also granular insecticides and herbicides. Thoroughly clean the spreader of all materials. Apply oil to the bottom of the hopper and all moving parts. Store the spreader with the shutter or gate fully open.

home of Mary Ann DeNaeyer. Eight vals still take place today because members and one guest, Ansleigh of the Polish influence. Grassmeyer, were present.

Members answered roll call by telling how they would spend a fifth Friday, a fifth Saturday, or a fifth Sunday since October, 2010 has all three and this will not happen again for 853 years.

President Mary Ann DeNaeyer opened the meeting by reading humorous questions and answers ning at noon with Hollis Frese as about retirement and "What Is Friendship.'

Minutes were read and approved. No report was given due to the absence of the treasurer. Historian Hollis Frese, read from the October 1975 minutes; these minutes revealed discussion about Minerva decorating one half of Swan's window to observe the United States Bicentennial in 1976.

There was no old or new business.

The birthday song was sung for Hallie Sherry and Phyllis Rahn. Members signed to birthday card to be sent to Norma Koeber.

In keeping with the yearly theme of Calendar Kaleidoscope, Ms DeNaeyer presented a program about Polish-American History Month. Immigrants from Poland began coming to the United States and settling where glass, pitch and tar were abundant. Most were artesian and served as indentured servants.

Because of the Polish skills, the first furnace was put in an American factory to make glass and these glass products became the first exports. Indentured servants were not allowed to vote so stopped working and this set the tone as the

Leather and Lace dance cancelled

Leather and Lace danced to a local and national caller Jerry Junck on Oct. 8.

Forty-three participants enjoyed the evening and then were treated to salads following the dance which were provided by club members.

Dan Svitak won the free pass. Split the pot went to Dwain Hydell, Denise Jacobson and Connie Kirkpatrick.

Members were encouraged to get the banner back from Laurel Town Twirlers on Oct. 17. Members and surrounding area dancers are asked to note that the club will not meet Friday, Oct. 22 as scheduled because of illness of the caller.

The next scheduled dance will be Friday, Nov. 12 with Ken Marks calling. It will be a Veterans Day dance. Members are reminded to bring snacks for the evening.

Anyone wishing more information about learning to dance is asked to contact club President Vernon Bauermeister at 833-8270 or Darrel and Phyllis Rahn at 375-1667. Arrangements may be made to have Leather and Lace club members take those receiving lessons to Norfolk.

Their family includes three children, Dennis and Deb Oberg of Norfolk. Deborah and Joe Braden of Tulsa, Okla. and Nancy and Wayne Bressler of Idaho Falls, Idaho and four grandchildren.

Harold Luther Oberg and Patricia Mildred Larsen were married Oct. 28, 1950 at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield.

Nancy Jo Powers gave the devotion "Sow the Seed World Wide!" from the book of Luke 10:1-18. She then gave a book review on the book "The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind" By Milliam Kamkwamba and Bryan Mealer. It was about an African Boy from Malawi Africa who was 14 years old and who wanted to make a windmill, but didn't have any education.

The program closed with the Lords Prayer.

Evie Schock and Rodella Wacker were hostess for the day.

Joy Circle will meet again on Wednesday, Nov. 10 with Lois Youngerman in charge of the program and devotion. Hostesses will be Arlene Ostendorf and Phyllis Rahn.

'Geography of the Paranormal' to be presented at Wayne State

Dr. Charles Gritzner of South Dakota State University will present "Geography of the Paranormal" in the WSC Gardner Hall Auditorium at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 27

Dr. Gritzner pioneered the study of paranormal phenomena in American geography. He will discuss his own research that employs fundamental geographic methods to scientifically explain the "unexplained." Specific topics to be covered will include crop circles, UFOs, Chupacabras, and Dr. Gritzner's current research interest, ghost/ spook lights.

There is no admission, refreshments will be served, and the public is encouraged to attend.

The presentation is sponsored by Gamma Theta Upsilon, the geography honor society.

The Barn is located three miles east and one-half mile south of Wayne.

This year's theme is "Light the Night with Jesus."

The event will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. and a meal will be provided. It will include hay rides, crafts, games, laser tag, apple launching and more.

For more information, contact Journey Christian Church at (402) 375-4743.

teaching series

On Sunday, Oct. 24, Phil Pfaltzgraff will continue the Sunday School teaching series in the "Song of Ascents." The class is studying Psalm 126. This Psalm particularly deals with the various "captivities" that Israel went through in her history. On the 24th, Phil will specifically teach about the "Nevertheless" principle, in which the grace of God is extended to people "in spite of" sin and error. Sunday School class starts at 9:30 a.m.

At 10:30 a.m. in the sanctuary, Pastor David Stitt will continue his series on "Rebuilding the Walls", taken from the book of Nehemiah in the Old Testament of the Bible. In his sermon on the 24th, Pastor David will be teaching from Chapter 8 of Nehemiah.

In the evening service, the pastor will continue in the series entitled "Developing a World View".

Praise Assembly of God Church is located at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne, just east of Providence Road.

MILITARY CARE KITS

The Allen Post Office announces holiday military mailing dates for free Military Care Kits make shipping a snap. Ensuring care packages arrive in time for the holiday season is a priority for friends and family members of military personnel serving around the world.

To help get packages on their way, the U.S. Postal Service offers a discount on its largest Priority Mail Flat Rate Box.

The recommended mailing date for the most economical postage to overseas military destinations, including Iraq and Afghanistan, is Nov. 12. The Postal Service continues to show support to those serving in the armed forces by offering free Military Care Kits, designed specifically for military families sending packages overseas.

The mailing kits can be ordered by phone calling 1-800-610-8734 and asking for the Military Care Kit. Each kit includes two "America Supports You" large Priority Mail Flat Rate boxes, four medium-sized Priority Mail Flat Rate Boxes, six Priority Mail labels, one rolls of Priority Mail tape and six customs forms with envelopes.

CORNHUSKING CONTEST

The 2010 Nebraska hand cornhusking contest was held in Central City on Oct. 9.

Representing Allen in the competition were Alvin Christensen, Marcia Rastede, Whitney Smith, and Joy Smith.

Alvin won second in the 20 minute Senior Men category by picking 216 pounds of corn. Marcia won first in the Women's Open class with 190.91 pounds for a 20 minute pick. Since Whitney and Joy had never competed before, they picked in the novice class, and Whitney won second place with a 15 minute pick of 89.80 pounds. Joy came in ninth and picked 65.69 pounds of corn. All four plan to attend national competition in Oakley, Kansas, where Alvin and Marcia will compete.

Have you witnessed a Cornhusker in action? The day is a step-back in time when farmers picked the husks of corn off the stalk one by one . . . before mechanized cornpickers replaced hand-huskers in 1941. The contest sat dormant for 30 years, until the contest was revived in 1971 with Oakley hosting the National Contest.

Nine Midwestern states including Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas now host their Firehall from 4-7 p.m. own state cornhusking contest each HALLOWEEN PARADE fall, keeping closely with the rules and styles of the events held in the 20's, 30's and up until World War II, with the exception of husking times (which have been reduced from 80 minutes to 10, 20 or 30 minutes depending on the class). Teams of horses pulling wagons run along-side the huskers for them to toss the husked ears of corn into as they race the clock. It truly gives you a glimpse of agriculture before the invention of high production farm implements, when the back breaking work was done by hand, one husk at a time. (www.cornhusking.com)

Representing Allen in the Cornhusking Competition in Central City were Alvin Christensen, Marcia Rastede, Whitney Smith, and Joy Smith. With Alvin's second place and Marcia's first place wins, they will now by competing at Nationals in Oakley, Kan.

MORE beautiful fall weather! Such a treat, after the hot, sticky summer and the nasty weather last year. The weather man is predicting 33 tonight, which will be a change.

How about that football team? All I ask is for a little consistency. And a few less dropped passes. It seems to be every other game; Washington was sparkly, SDSU was pathetic, we went to Manhattan and dazzled, and last Saturday, we let those darned Longhorns stick it to us again!

I have to admit, I didn't even see any of it. I was across the street, at East High, watching the LPS band competition. And I enjoyed every minute of it. I sat by old friend Becky Fundum Marshall, and her mother, Lorna. Her Collin is a trumpeter for Southeast, the band that played in the bowl game last year because UNL's didn't make it. And we agreed we would never be able to decide; they ALL looked good! They got a 1, as did Seward High, where Alex is the section leader of the drum section, so we were both happy.

Our grandchildren keep entertaining us. The weekend before, Dani won the Punt, Pass, and Kick state contest at Nebraska Wesleyan. Jacey's volleyball team got second at a tournament in Fremont, after winning one in Battle Creek; and won the Pierce tournament this Saturday. We got to watch a Lutheran High Northeast JV football game in Norfolk one night, and a third grade Y game the following weekend. The JVs have only lost one game, and so have the third graders. Jaxson tells me he's a lineman, and it takes two guys to bring him down!

Tonight, it was down the road to Norris High for the fall choir concert. The seventh graders wear red T shirts and black slacks and sing their hearts out for Mr. Hansmeyer. That was Danica's group. And she had curls! Courtesy of her big sis.

And that big sis opened her show choir's set with a solo that blew us away! And, as usual, that group sang and danced and gestured until we wanted to get up and dance with them. The second song was Not Too Far From Here, which is a real thought provoker. And the last, I'm Going to Live Until I Die, I don't think I had heard for years! And they really made us believe them.

That choral director is a very talented man, and the kids love him. What a gift! He helps with a choir that meets on Sundays at the Berean church that is made up of students from twenty-two churches in the area. They go on a week's tour in the summer, and end with a "home" concert here in Lincoln. Randa has been privileged to enjoy this for two years, also. These kids are very fortunate to have opportunities to develop their talents, in which ever area their hearts take them; sports, music, and academics. And we are blessed to be able to at least be in the audience some of the time, cheering them on!

Leaf color should be extra vibrant this fall

Sunny days and cool nights mean ments. This allows the yellow colors it's shaping up to be a good fall for of the carotene and xanthophyll leaf color.

While shorter day length, not increase the rate of photosynthesis frost or cold temperatures, is the and result in excess sugars to pronain reason trees lose their leaves each fall, the sunny days and cold nights are helping to give leaves the best color for fall, said Dennis Adams, forester in the Nebraska Forest Service at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Ample summer moisture in many parts of the state also is helping make leaves more vibrant. Heavy spring and summer rains also made for ample acorns on some oaks, especially the pin oak.

to stand out. Bright, sunny days

Fall Lawn Tips

Well, it's getting cooler and the leaves are falling. Raking leaves is not my preferred recreational activity but it needs to be done. Also, the lawn care season is winding down, but has not ended. Important lawn care tasks for the next couple of weeks includes a final fertilization, continued mowing as needed, removal of tree leaves, and draining the irrigation system after watering in the last fertilizer application.

The last fertilization of the season is recommended to be about the time of the last mowing, in our area usually in late October. It is an important application for promoting root and rhizome growth in still warm soils, and for spring green-up to help avoid applying fertilizer early in spring when soil temperatures are too cold.

A myth about the last fertilization is that fertilizer high in phosphorous and potassium is needed. This is not the case. With few exceptions, soils in Nebraska have adequate levels of phosphorous and potassium. With this application, nitrogen is still the nutrient most needed. A fertilizer with an analysis such as 25-5-5 would be best to use. And a product where at least 50 percent of the nitrogen is from a slow release source, such as IBDU or sulfur coated urea, is best.

Extension Educator and fescue down to two and one-half inches, it is now preferred to keep the same height, about three inches, all year. This will maximize rooting and increase stress tolerance of turfgrass.

Do not sweep or blow tree leaves or grass clippings into the street where rainfall and snow melt will carry them to storm drains and then directly to receiving waters. Do not dump yard waste on stream banks or anywhere they can be washed into surface water. For healthy lawns and water, remove tree leaves from lawns and street curbs on a regular basis. Leaves can be raked, mowed, or sucked up with a leaf blower/vacuum. They can be saved in plastic bags if a source of carbon, brown plant material, will be needed for compost piles during next year's growing season. Tree leaves can be mowed and left on the lawn if a sharp mower blade that finely chops the leaves is used. The rule of thumb is if the unmowed leaf layer is one inch or less thick, it's okay to mow and not bag leaves. After mowing, the mowed leaf layer should not be thick enough to mat and suffocate grass

All applications of lawn fertilizer need to be watered in. This moves nitrogen into the soil for roots to take up and decreases the risk of fertilizer running off lawns during heavier rain storms or along with snow melt. During winter, when soils are frozen, snow melt runs off lawns into the street, down storm drains and into surface water.

When fertilizing, do not forget to sweep granules that fall onto sidewalks and driveways. Sweep them into a dust pan and place them on the lawn where they will be watered into the lawn and not washed off of pavement into surface water. Do not sweep them into the street.

When mowing the lawn in late fall, it is not necessary to lower the height. While the height of bluegrass can gradually be taken down to as low at one and one-half inches

Any type of tree leaves can be used for mulching, composting or tilling into gardens. According to research, leaves from different tree species decompose at different rates but the end product, compost, is the same.

While weather does play a role, leaves really change colors because of chemical changes that take place in the leaves.

There are pigments in leaves all the time. Adams said.

Green is dominant during the growing season. As the season progresses, leaves deteriorate and some of the other pigments, such as carotene or xanthophyll for yellows and oranges and anthocyanins for the reds and purples, start to dominate.

duce anthocyanins or red pigments Warm, rainy autumns generally produce dull colors.

He said leaf change does vary from year to year.

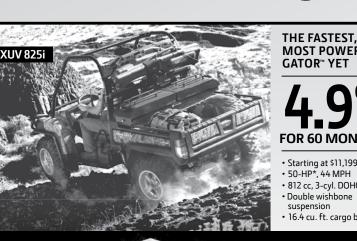

Often, the fall frost is credited with leaf color change, but frost actually deserves little credit. In addition, freezing temperatures may kill leaf tissues and prevent any colors from forming, Adams said.

Leaf color change varies by species. Ash trees started turning yellow in September. However, oaks won't start to really turn until late October and November.

It also depends on the area of the state and the weather there this summer, he said.

Adams said early yellow leaf color is typical for cottonwood, green ash and honey locust. He said some hard maples also are starting to turn right now, including sugar maple, which often exhibits brilliant red and orange foliage. He said peak Adams said cool nights slow down time for leaf color change will be

> Investment vs. Cost: The Future of Nebraska

I believe in fiscal responsibility, local control and that state government should be Mike Meister there to offer helping а hand, not tell you what to do. If you believe like I do, I would appreciate vour vote on November 2. Over the course of the last several weeks I have written several columns that have been critical of the record of Dave Heineman. While critical of his record, they have not been negative or personal. They are simply the facts. When you review these columns a stark contrast becomes apparent, Dave sees everything as a cost where I see investment.

Please let me explain. I want to share with you my vision for Nebraska... I see a Nebraska agricultural sector that leads the world in livestock, grain and other commodities, making our producers realize the potential they have always known was there.

I see Nebraska as the energy broker of the future, where we are creating, shipping and brokering energy transfers to the extent that we export our income tax burden to other states like Texas and Wyoming do now.

Paid for by Meister for Governor Kevin Sylvester, Treasurer 614 E. 27th St. St. C, Scottsbluff, NE 4 BEDROOM Doublewide. Will move to your land. We can move quickly. Pregualify 785-862-0321.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on two issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 2. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines each issue, explaining its purpose.

LEGAL NOTICE OF A MEASURE To amend Article XIII, section 2:

Amendment 1

Voters have a chance to allow the use of state and federal funds for local economic and industrial development projects, and to take some of the burden for those projects off their local property taxes and other levies.

If adopted at the general election. Proposed Amendment Number 1 would change the state constitution so the Legislature could give that option to voters in cities and villages. Lawmakers voted 47-0 to put the choice to a statewide vote. It was endorsed by the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

The constitution currently requires such projects to be financed only with money generated by local taxes.

Amendment 2

The size of state government will be reduced if voters adopt Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 2 at the November general election. The measure would eliminate the office of State Treasurer as of Jan. 8, 2015. The Treasurer's office now costs taxpavers $26.5 million. The Treasurer receives an annual salary of $117,000.

Proponents of the change note the Legislature would assign the current duties of the Treasurer's office to other state agencies. Critics contend it would be better to continue the practice of electing a State Treasurer.

The Treasurer's office has three duties: It receives and disburses most money that comes into state government; manages unclaimed property; and administers the child support enforcement and college savings programs.

Approval for hiring of Carlson West Povondra Architects for facility planning and construction project of additional school facilities to accommodate a K-6th/7th-12th grade configuration. - Motion by Nelson, second by Consoli to approve the hiring of Carlson West Povondra Architects for the oversight and engineering of facility planning and future construction projects. Motion carried.

- FRANK BARREN

Baseball as a school activity- Motion by Jorgensen, second by Consoli to approve the reinstatement of baseball as a school sponsored activity. This recommendation is for a two year provisional program that will be assessed at the end of the 2011-2012 school year to determine the viability of baseball as a long-term athletic sponsored program.

Discussion: Mr. Garwood thought it would not be wise to add another activity at this time due to cuts in State Aide. He is not in favor of adding another activity, but will support it if the Board votes baseball in. Mr. Jorgensen is all in favor of reinstating baseball. He doesn't know why it was taken away a decade ago. Mr. Evetovich stated that if we add another boy's activity, we have to have another activity for girls. Motion carried.

BALLOT TITLE AND TEXT OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS PROPOSED BY THE ONE HUN-DRED FIRST LEGISLATURE

Also included is a Statement of Explanation in Italics Prepared by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council for the Amendments Proposed by the Legislature

PROPOSED BY THE 2010 LEGISLATURE PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

A vote FOR this amendment will authorize the Legislature to permit municipalities to fund economic or industrial development projects or programs from additional fund sources, subject to a vote of a majority of the registered voters of such municipality voting upon the question. Fund sources may include property taxes, local option sales tax, or any other general tax levied by the municipality or generated from municipally owned utilities or grants, donations, or state and federal funds received by the municipality.

A vote AGAINST this amendment will not authorize the Legislature to permit municipalities to fund economic or industrial development projects or programs from additional fund sources.

A constitutional amendment to change the powers of municipalities relating to fund sources for economic or industrial development.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE ONE HUNDRED FIRST LEGISLA-TURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2010 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

provision in the Constitution, the Legislature may authorize any county or incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by manufacturing or industrial enterprises and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. The Legislature may also authorize such county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by enterprises as determined by law if such property is located in blighted areas as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraving the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued. Any real or personal property acquired, owned, developed, or used by any such county, city, or village pursuant to this section shall be subject to taxation to the same extent as private property during the time it is leased to or held by private interests, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of the Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the governmental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue therefrom and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Constitution, the Legislature may also authorize any incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to appropriate from local sources of revenue such funds as may be deemed necessary for an economic or industrial development project or program subject to approval by a vote of a majority of the registered voters of such city or village voting upon the question. For purposes of this provision, funds from local sources of revenue shall mean funds raised from general taxes levied by the city or village and shall not include any funds received by the city or village which are derived from state or federal sources. Subject to such vote, funds may be derived from property tax, local option sales tax, or any other general tax levied by the city

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

A constitutional amenment to change the powers of municipalities relating to fund sources for economic or industrial development. For Against.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 2

THE MEMBERS OF THE ONE HUNDRED FIRST LEGISLA-TURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION,

RESOLVE THAT: Section 1. At the general election in November 2010 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection: To amend Article IV, sections 1 and 3:

IV-1 The executive officers of the state shall be the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts, State Treasurer, Attorney General, and the heads of such other executive departments as set forth herein or as may be established by law. The Legislature may provide for the placing of the above named officers as heads over such departments of government as it may by law establish. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, at the general election held in November 1974, and in each alternate even-numbered vear thereafter, for a term of four years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Each candidate for Governor shall select a person to be the candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the general election ballot. In the general election one vote shall be cast jointly for the candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor. The Governor shall be ineligible to the office of Governor for four years next after the expiration of two consecutive terms for which he or she was elected. The records, books, and papers of all executive officers shall be kept at the seat of government. Executive officers shall reside within the State of Nebraska during their respective terms of office. Officers in the executive department of the state shall perform such duties as may be provided by law.

The heads of all executive departments established by law, other than those to be elected as provided herein, shall be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of a majority of all members elected to the Legislature, but officers so appointed may be removed by the Governor. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution, the heads of the various executive or civil departments shall have power to appoint and remove all subordinate employees in their respective departments.

IV-3 The treasurer shall be ineligible to the office of treasurer, for two years next after the expiration of two consecutive terms for which he was elected.

The term of office of the State Treasurer elected at the general election at which this constitutional amendment passes shall end on January 8, 2015, at which time the office shall be abolished.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

A constitutional amendment to abolish the office of the State Treasurer on January 8, 2015. For Build America Bonds - Authorization to preceed on Build America Bonds for facility planning. - Motion by Garwood, second by Nelson to proceed forward and authorize use of Build America Bonds for future options. Mr. Dahl read the Resolution of Wavne County School District #17 in the State of Nebraska to express its Intent to issue Build America Bonds. There will be a Public Hearing on November 8, 2010 at 5:00 pm. to discuss the bonds. Motion carried.

Future Consolidation of school district facilities to accommodate a K-6th/7th-12th grade configuration- Motion by Evetovich, second by Jorgensen to approve the consolidation of district grade configuration to two buildings, with necessary additions to the middle school and high school buildings that will accommodate K-6th/7th-12th grade configuration. Mr. Evetovich asked the building principals their opinion of the grade configuration. Mr. Hanson stated that he felt that 7-12 was a good fit, as he was principal in another district and this was how the students were split. Mr. Schrunk thought it was good and restated what he said at the special work session on the 26th of September. The "3 Key S's" Safety, Space and Staffing - these are the first main concerns. Mr. Ruhl states K-6th will be a good split, as the 5th and 6th grade already have the same schedule structure as the present elementary school, and the 7th and 8th grades have a period schedule like the high school. Mrs. Beair thought from a SPED point of view it was fantastic! Motion
