The marquee at the Majestic Theater in Wayne shines brightly on a winter's night after the theater opened to a packed house over the weekend. All seats in the theater were full for the free kids' movie, "Despicable Me," and a good crowd turned out for opening night. The theatre is currently showing the just-released movie, "Tron: Legacy" and will be open each day through the end of the year.

County approves salary package for new Vets officer

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners came to terms with their new Veterans Service Officer, who will begin his duties after the first of the year.

The county board unanimously approved a salary and benefits package for Bradley Wieland, who will fill the office that has been vacant since the retirement of longtime officer Wayne Denklaus in late October.

Wieland, 58, is employed with Allen Public Schools and will work at the school until the end of the year. He will be a full-time employee of the county with a base salary of $30,000, which includes vacation, sick leave and holiday. He will not be on the county's health insurance plan, which the county board said was justification for him to bypass the probationary period for his pay.

Wayne County could pick up an extra $300,000 for bridges in the county if the Nebraska Department of Roads follows through on a proposal to clear its inventory of bridge projects.

Board member Kelvin Wurdemann said he was told by a state official that the Department of Roads has been swamped with bridge projects that counties have sent to the state for approval.

"They have enough projects on their books to last them a good 20 years," he said. "A number of those projects have either already been done with local funding or the road systems have changed and the bridges no longer need to be fixed."

Wurdemann said he was told by a state official that Wayne County's list of bridge needs is the second worst in the state. The state is looking at changing its process for bridge construction, distributing funds based on the square footage of deficient bridges.

"The state is trying to clean it up, and they're looking at taking all the projects off the shelf and sending them back to the counties," he said.

Mike Pieper, attorney for the City of Wayne, swears in Jill Brodersen, who was selected by Wayne Mayor Ken Chamberlain as the new Ward Four representative. The seat came open after the election of Stephanie Hansen, who had moved out of town prior to the election and was unable to serve.

Brodersen is sworn in as new Fourth Ward rep

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

The Wayne City Council is now complete, following the approval and swearing in of Jill Brodersen to fill the Fourth Ward position.

Mayor Ken Chamberlain told the council that he had a number of "really good candidates apply for the position."

"Jill has been involved in a lot of volunteer work in the community, often behind the scenes. Her dedication to the city of Wayne is one of the things that makes her stand out as a candidate," Chamberlain said.

The need to fill the seat came about after Stephanie Hansen, who was the winner in the November election, submitted a letter to the mayor indicating she would not be able to fill the position because she has moved out of the state.

In other action, the council approved an increase in electric rates for the city of Wayne.

Garry Poutre, Public Works Superintendent, told the council that the city recently completed its annual review of rates and a 6 percent, across-the-board, rate increase was recommended.

"We are passing on the rate increases we have seen from our wholesale suppliers. The increase is necessary to keep the level of reserves we currently have," Poutre said.

He said that the increase in costs of Mother watches daughters follow in her footsteps as WSC graduates

The three women of the Seneviratne family share an education from Wayne State College.

Asandhi Seneviratne, 55, and her daughters Dulanjalee, 24, and Anjalee, 20, all have degrees from Wayne State College.

Anjalee will be the last and youngest of the three to wear the sash bearing the colors of her homeland Sri Lanka's flag, as she graduated from WSC on Friday in Rice Auditorium. The three will soon return to Kandy, Sri Lanka.

"I plan to follow in my mother's footsteps to become a lawyer after graduate school," Anjalee said. "My mother is my role model. I am very much like my mother. She inspires everything I do. My sister is my tutor. I have always followed her example as well."

One of two international graduates, Anjalee graduated with a bachelor's degree in Computer Information Systems/Web Analyst with Honorable Mention honors based on her cumulative GPA at the end of the semester prior to their semester of graduation. She earned a cumulative grade point average between 3.50 to 3.69.

Her mother, Asandhi, graduated from Wayne State College with a master's degree in education, and has been working with four- and five-year-old children at Rainbow World Preschool in Wayne after doing her clinical work at the Kiddie College on campus. She said she was inspired by Ron Vick Sr., international student advisor at the counseling center, to stay at Wayne State College for her master's degree.

"It was a great success with help from my professors. Wayne State College was like home to me," Ashandi said. "We have become so accustomed to the place that we will miss it. I am so proud of both my daughters," Asandhi said. "I want them to do their best. I have hoped that they realize this is a sacrifice, even though it has been an adventure. We hope to come back again to see the friends that we have made after we return to Sri Lanka."

Both Anjalee and Dulanjalee related that the majority of their experience at Wayne State College has become about the personal relationships they have developed during their years at WSC.

"The faculty and staff at Wayne State College are amazing," Anjalee said. "They want to know you and are open with you. They became family to us. They would notice that our accents were different and would ask if they could help and wanted to know about us, our country and culture."

"I was amazed at how close they were with us. I'm glad to get done in three and a half years," she added. "It feels great, however it is bittersweet as we return to Sri Lanka and will miss Wayne State College and the people here. I became more outgoing here. I worked at the information desk on campus and learned quite a bit about the campus and enjoyed welcoming guests to campus."

The two sisters both served as STRIDE tutors while they were at Wayne State College.

Dulanjalee graduated in 2009 with a bachelor's degree in English writing and lit-

Petersens honored with Alumni award

Wayne State College held winter commencement, Dec. 17, in Rice Auditorium, where Dr. Dwain and Carole Petersen were honored with the Wayne State Foundation Alumni Achievement Award.

Dr. Peterson received a Wayne State Service Award and graduated cum laude with one of the college's first bachelor of music education degrees in 1955. Carole Peterson completed her teaching credential at Wayne State in 1954 and started her teaching career in nearby Pierce.

Dwain and Carole were married in 1955. They accepted teaching positions in Tilden, where Carole was first-grade teacher and Dwain was band director and led the boys' glee club.

Dwain joined the Naval Reserve in 1952. Upon receiving his draft notice in 1956, he and Carole moved to Newport, R.I., where Dwain was commissioned an ensign in the Navy. After aviation training at Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station (NAS) and electronics education at Glenview, Ill., NAS, they transferred to Barbers Point, Territory of Hawaii NAS in 1957.

Dwain served for 2 1/2 years on the Distant Early Warning barrier, flying 100 14-hour missions between Midway Island and Adak, Alaska NAS. Upon release from active duty he remained in the Naval Reserve as an air intelligence officer, serving 28 years and attaining the rank of commander.

Dwain earned a doctorate at the University of Nebraska in educational psychology. The family of five moved to Mankato, Minn., in 1964, where he became an assistant professor at Mankato State University. He served as director of institutional research, director of the Center for Cultural and Behavioral Education, professor and president of the faculty, retiring in 1997.

Carole completed her bachelor's degree in 1974 and master's degree in 1979 in sociology at Mankato. She served as assistant director of the International Student Office at Mankato for 20 years. They have funded endowed scholarships at WSC for music education students and at MSU.

The Petersens have been trustees of the Wayne State Foundation since 2005.

Sandra Emry

Sandra Emry, 73, of Wayne, died Monday, Dec. 20, 2010 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services will be held Wednesday, Dec. 29 at 11 a.m. at First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Carol Jean Stapleton and Chaplain Rosalind Woods will officiate. Visitation will be Tuesday, Dec. 28 from 5 to 8 p.m. at Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne with the family present.

Sandra Jean Emry was born July 10, 1937 at Walthill, to Bernard and Bernice (Hoar) Havekost. She graduated from Hooper High School in 1954 and attended Wayne State College, earning a teaching certificate. She taught country school until marrying Arnold Emry on May 22, 1955 at Hooper. Their first home was in Pilger, and subsequent moves were made to Allen, Newell, Iowa, Vermillion, S.D., then to Wayne for her remaining years. Sandra graduated from Wayne State College in 1991. She was employed by Mines

Jewelry, Sav-Mor Drug and then owned and operated the Near New Shop and later Kid's Closet. Sandra was not only a loving wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, she was an active member of the First United Methodist Church, past Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, giver of produce from her garden and flower beds, surrogate mother to many people, provider of baked goods, cooking and sewing expertise. She taught many classes of crocheting and knitting and also was an expert source of how to get things done.

Survivors include her husband, Arnold; children, Patricia (James) McPherson of Lincoln, Gordon (Robin) Emry of Norfolk, Bradley (Kathleen) Emry of Isle of Palms, S.C. and Shelley (Terry) Gilliland of Wayne; 13 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; sisters Judy Larsen of Hooper, Shirley (Bill) Bauer of Sioux Falls, S.D. and Belva Licht of Omaha; step sister Annette (Ed) Probasco of Scribner; sisters-in-law Barb Havekost of Greenbelt, Md. and Monya Havekost of Columbia, S.C.; numerous nephews and nieces; and long time friend Jean Hemmingsen of Storm Lake, Iowa.

She was preceded in death by her parents, half-brother John Havekost, step-brother, Bernard Klahn and brother-in-law, Delbert Larsen.

Burial will be at a later date. Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne is in charge of arrangements.

Memorials will be directed to the Wayne First United Methodist Church for their youth programs.

Harold Korth, Jr.

Harold Korth, Jr. "Junior", 66, of Randolph, died Sunday Dec. 19, 2010 at his farm near Randolph.

WSC professor becomes president of International Honor Society

On Jan. 1, 2011, Dr. Randy Bertolas, chair of the Department of History, Politics, and Geography and Professor of Geography at Wayne State College, will take office as national President of Gamma Theta Upsilon. Gamma Theta Upsilon (GTU) is the international honor society in geography, established in 1928 and today serving 300 chapters throughout the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Bertolas chartered the Lambda Zeta chapter of GTU at Wayne State College in 2002.

Bertolas was elected as First Vice-President to the GTU National Executive Committee in December of 2008. He serves on the committee with members from Old Dominion University, Oklahoma State University, East Carolina University, and the University of Tennessee.

GTU recognizes superior scholarship in the field of geography, sponsors a visiting geographical scientist program, awards $5,000 in scholarships annually, and publishes the peer-reviewed Geographical Bulletin.

Bertolas grew up on the Iron Range of northern Minnesota. He attended the University of Minnesota-Duluth. Subsequently, he earned graduate degrees in Geography from the University of Vermont in 1982, and from the State University of New York at Buffalo in 1995. A high school instructor and wrestling coach in the 1980s, Bertolas has been teaching geography at Wayne State since 1995.

He has received numerous awards including the Outstanding Professor of the Year Award presented by the WSC Student Senate in 2005 and again in 2009, and the Distinguished Teaching Achievement Award presented by the National Council for Geographic Education in 2006. Bertolas also serves as Coordinator of the Geographic Educators of Nebraska, a grassroots K-12 organization that collaborates with the National Geographic Society and is dedicated to raising the level of geographic literacy in the state.

erature. She teaches Elementary Sinhalese as an adjunct professor at Wayne State College and writes a column for the college newspaper, The Wayne Stater. The family's native language, Sinhalese, is spoken in Sri Lanka. She did her Optional Practical Training and was able to work one year on campus as an international student. She talked with Dr. Alan Bruflat who helped make her teaching assignment on campus a reality.

"I am glad that Dr. Bruflat and other professors on campus had that much trust in me to allow me to teach with them. We could just walk into any professor's office at Wayne State College and talk to them for help. They would also ask us in class to talk about our country and our experiences. They integrated our lives into classes," Dulanjalee said.

While at Wayne State College as a student, Dulanjalee said her involvement in the International Club was among one of her most memorable experiences because of the awareness that the club created for students from other countries who attended Wayne State College.

"As an active member of the International Club, I enjoyed most seeing more and more people come to our International Dinners to try different foods, experience other cultures and customs and watch performances by students from other countries. The club has become well known," Dulanjalee said. "I still attend meetings for the International Club and often see people from different countries here at Wayne State College and each semester they graduate from Wayne State. Organizing things for international dinners was something on a larger scale than what I had accomplished before. Wayne State College was a great place."

Dulanjalee credited Vick with helping them with classes and college life.

"Ron Vick and Karen Granberg from the Wayne State College counseling office were like family," Anjalee said. "Getting to know people at Wayne State College is very easy. It feels like one big family. You don't think of your advisors, rather you think of them as a personal friend. There are so many great opportunities to connect with people on campus. The atmosphere on campus and small classes allow personal attention. You can even go in to meet the president."

"She's a very level-headed person," Dulanjalee said of her sister. "I told her not to be nervous as she graduates. For every member in my family, education has been a priority. Although working on achieving a degree from the start, we did not want to isolate ourselves in our studies and still make it a point to tell others about our country. People often ask where Sri Lanka is located and how we got here. I gave a presentation about my country to a Wayne State College class."

Although she was already an attorney in Sri Lanka, Asandhi Seneviratne earned a master of science degree in education with a focus area of early childhood. She started her program in 2008 and finished this past May.

The Seneviratne family traveled together as a family until Dulanjalee was 5 when they settled in Sri Lanka. Her father, Dushmantha, 55, was a sea captain employed in the merchant navy.

Following commencement, the family will return to Sri Lanka for relaxation, a stay at home with visits and a family wedding.

Hattan new commander at Norfolk

Nebraska State Patrol Lieutenant Paul Hattan has been named the new Commander of Troop B in Norfolk. Hattan replaces Captain Brad Rice, who retired Wednesday.

Hattan, 45, graduated from the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy in 1988, and served in the Field Services Division, Police Service Dog Division, Investigative Services Division and Division Commander for Internal Affairs. Prior to accepting his appointment to Captain Troop B-Norfolk, Hattan was the Lieutenant in charge of the Executive Protection and Capitol Security details.

"I am extremely pleased to be able to promote Paul to the Command of Troop B," said Col. Bryan Tuma, superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "He is a proven leader who brings a wealth of management experience to his new position."

Hattan was honorably discharged from the United States Marine Corp in 1988 and is a graduate of the 231st Session of the FBI National Academy at Quantico, Va. He will assume his role as Captain at the new year.

Save to Win!

The start of a new year begins the start of the new Nebraska college savings plans—the NEST Direct and NEST Advisor Plans. To celebrate, we're offering drawings to help new and existing beneficiaries get closer to their college savings goals.

New Plan, New Year Drawing

Anyone who contributes $529 or more to a NEST Direct or NEST Advisor Plan account between 12/20/2010 and 12/31/2010 will be automatically entered into a drawing to receive $529 added to their existing or new account. Winners will be randomly selected.

New Plan, Newborn Drawing

Beneficiaries born on 12/20/2010, whose primary residence is Nebraska, will be eligible to receive $529 into their existing or new NEST Direct or NEST Advisor Plan account. Accounts must be opened by 2/1/2011. Winners will be randomly selected.

Start your year and savings off right by visiting www.NEST529.com for the official rules.

Eligibility Requirements:

Participation is open only to individual, legal residents of the 50 U.S. States and the District of Columbia who have reached the age of majority in the jurisdiction within which they reside as of the date of entry. Void where prohibited or restricted by law. Employees of the Sponsor, the Nebraska State Treasurer, the Nebraska Educational Savings Plan Trust, the Nebraska Investment Counsel, Upromise Investments, Inc., and any other FINRA member, and each of their respective parents, related, subsidiary and affiliated companies, officers, directors, agents, and representatives (collectively "Releasees"), and each of their immediate family members (spouse, parents, children and siblings, and their respective spouses, regardless where they live) and individuals living in the same households of the above, whether or not related, are not eligible to enter or win a prize. Each entrant, by participating in the Drawing, agrees to be bound by these Official Rules and Sponsor's decisions. The Drawing is subject to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations.

The NEST Direct and NEST Advisor Plans are sponsored by the State of Nebraska and administered by the Nebraska State Treasurer. The NEST Direct and NEST Advisor Plans offer a series of investment portfolios within the Nebraska Educational Savings Plan Trust, which offers other investment portfolios not affiliated with the NEST Direct or NEST Advisor Plan. The NEST Direct and NEST Advisor Plans are intended to operate as qualified tuition programs to be used only to save for qualified higher education expenses, pursuant to Section 529 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

An investor should consider the Plans' investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. The Program Disclosure Statements at www.NEST529Direct.com (NEST Direct Plan) or www.NEST529Advisor.com (NEST Advisor Plan), which contain more information, should be read carefully before investing.

Investors should consider before investing whether their or their beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits that are only available for investments in such state's qualified tuition program and should consult their tax advisor, attorney and/or other advisor regarding their specific legal, investment or tax situation.

This material is provided for general and educational purposes only, and is not intended to provide legal, tax or investment advice, or for use to avoid penalties that may be imposed under U.S. federal tax laws. This material is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any securities. Any offer to sell units within the Plans may only be made by the Program Disclosure Statement and Participation Agreement relating to the Plan.

Participation in the Plans do not guarantee that contributions and the investment return on contributions, if any, will be adequate to cover tuition and other higher education expenses, or that a beneficiary will be admitted to or permitted to continue to attend an eligible educational institution.

Investments in the NEST Direct and NEST Advisor Plans are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency; are not deposits or other obligations of any depository institution. Investments are not guaranteed or insured by the State of Nebraska, the Nebraska State Treasurer, the Nebraska Investment Council or First National Bank of Omaha or its authorized agents or their affiliates, nor the Sponsor or its affiliates, and are subject to investment risks, including the loss of principal amount invested.

Laurel family welcomes baby in middle of blizzard

While northeast Nebraska was experiencing blizzard conditions recently, Jason and Valerie Hangman, who live south of Laurel, were expecting their first child when Valerie (a registered nurse at Providence Medical Center) started going into labor.

The Cedar County Sheriff's Office was called, which set off a series of events that included the Nebraska Department of Roads attempting to clear Highway 15 for them. Paramedics were quickly organized in Laurel, as well as Laurel firefighters. Battling the drifts and severe whiteouts, everyone arrived at Providence Medical Center early Saturday evening.

Around 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 12, Kyler Dean came into the world weighing 8 pounds, 4 ounces.

"I've worked at Providence Medical Center for 10 years, and when I arrived at the hospital and saw my co-workers, I knew that everything was going to be alright," Mrs. Hangman said. "When I arrived, I felt like I was at my second home with my family. I was a little concerned about an unexpected C-section since that wasn't the plan, but I knew that I was in good hands with my fellow nursing staff, Dr. Lindau and Dr. Martin." Mrs. Hangman said she appreciated the efforts of those involved in her child's birth, including the hospital, Laurel Rescue Unit, the Department of Roads and her family.

Wayne County has more than 50 bridges in varying needs of repair right now, Wurdemann said. If the new plan is approved, the county could receive an additional $300,000 in state funding to aid in bridge repair.

Counties generally pay 15 percent of the total cost of bridge projects. They get 80 percent of funding from federal programs, with the state chipping in 5 percent. The county also has soft match credit that it can use to help with bridge costs.

In other action, the county board: - approved Delores Felt of Wakefield and Terry Gilliland of Wayne as new members to the Wayne County Extension Board.

- approved lodging tax applications for two Wayne Jaycees projects and the March Madness and Sweet 16 rugby tournaments.

- reappointed Paul Dangberg to the Northeast Nebraska Resource, Conservation and Development board.

New artistic opportunities are available at Moments Boutique

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

Uncork and Create, Lil Rembrandt and Kids Mini Camps are new services being offered by Natalie Endicott at Moments Boutique.

Uncork and Create is targeted toward adults in the community. Those under 18 years of age need to be accompanied by an adult.

"Uncork and Create is a one-night, start-to-finish, painting class. I supply everything for the painting: aprons, easels, paint and brushes. Those attending the class bring in their favorite beverage and spend an evening with friends or family," Endicott said.

The class can cater to birthday parties, office parties, "Girls Night" and family events. A minimum of six people are required to conduct a class, and during the class, all those taking part paint the same picture, Natalie said.

After the class is completed, the participants pose for a photo with their paintings and compare them.

Classes are also offered the second Thursday of each month to create an American Barn Quilt on canvas.

The classes are held the second Thursday of each month, from 5:30-7:30 p.m., with the participants painting a different quilt block each month. Classes will be offered between Christmas and New Year's Day and a schedule is being set up for the next several months.

Lil Rembrandt is a six-week course for those children pre-kindergarten and older.

"Every class features a different artist, a different medium and different techniques. At the end of class, the 'artists' have a gallery opening show for family and friends to see what the children have created.

Classes are limited to 12 students and last 75 minutes each week.

"They make a great winter activity. Hopefully people in the community will enjoy them," shesaid.

Those interested in any of these opportunities are encouraged to contact Moments Portrait Boutique to sign up and pay for the classes to reserve a spot. Gift cards are available for those wishing to offer the class as a gift.

Prior to locating in Wayne several years ago, Endicott conducted private art classes in Georgia, where this type of service is very popular. She is pleased to provide this service locally.

wholesale electricity the city incurred last year were absorbed by the city.

Council members also approved and waived the three readings on two ordinances during Tuesday's meeting.

One ordinance abandons side yard utility easements on two lots in Fairway Estates Subdivision. The property owner is planning to build a home on the two lots and easements will not be necessary.

The second ordinance amends the Wayne City Code in regard to building codes. The city will be under the guidelines of the 2006 IRC code, rather than the 2009 code. This change will prevent home builders from having to install a fire sprinkler system. The 2006 code is also the code currently in use by the city of Norfolk, with which the City of Wayne has an interlocal agreement for specific project inspections.

Kim Schultz, with Northeast Nebraska Public Health District (NNPHD), spoke to the council on a memorandum of understanding between the city and NNPHD in regard to use of the Wayne Fire Hall as a distribution site in case of a mass dispensing event in Wayne County.

Wayne High School would be used as the actual dispensing site in the event it become necessary to immunize a large population within 48 hours.

Following her presentation, the council voted unanimously to approve the request.

Council members approved the recommendation from the LB840 Economic Development Advisory Committee to grant $10,000 to Wayne Area Economic Development (WAED). The money will be used to market and promote the city of Wayne, especially the move toward green energy in the community.

Irene Fletcher, with WAED, told the council that this is the second year for the request, and that a special dollar amount was requested each year, rather than a percentage, as is sometimes granted. This is an allowable use of the funds generated from the city's 1 percent city sales tax.

Council members also approved the naming of the two phases of the Wayne Trail. The first phase will become the Will Wiseman Trail, and the second phase will be the Leila Maynard Trail.

As a council member, Wiseman was instrumental in bringing the trail to Wayne. Maynard was a Wayne resident who endured hardships as a part of the U.S. military during World War II, including being captured by the Japanese.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Jan. 4 at 5:30 p.m.

Bowl picks are off to rough start

We're off to a 1-3 start with the bowl picks (Next year, I just leave well enough alone at season's end). Since it's Christmas, I figured I'd give you a great holiday gift and offer up my picks for the remaining bowls that will be played Jan. 1-10.

Enjoy the time with family and have a Merry Christmas. Here we go:

Ticket City Bowl

Northwestern (7-5) vs. Texas Tech (7-5): This would be a lot more entertaining if Mike Leach were still coaching: Texas Tech 34-24.

Outback Bowl

Florida (7-5) vs. Penn State (7-5): Who'd have guessed that Urban Meyer would be half Joe Paterno's age and would have retired before Paterno? Paterno will croak in the middle of a game sometime between now and 2027. I just know it: Florida 34-28.

Capitol One Bowl

Alabama (9-3) vs. Michigan State (11-1): Lou Saban takes on one of his old teams. Watch out for the fake field goal: Michigan State 31-28.

Gator Bowl

Mississippi State (8-4) vs. Michigan (7-5): OK, so we've picked one Big Ten team to beat an SEC team. Let's not get carried away: Mississippi State 27-21.

Rose Bowl

Wisconsin (11-1) vs. TCU (12-0): Wisconsin averaged 67 points in its final three games. The problem, though, is that the three teams they beat couldn't carry the shoelaces of TCU's defense. Here's one for the little people: TCU 27-17.

Fiesta Bowl

Connecticut (8-4) vs. Oklahoma (11-2): Tostitos shouldn't be the sponsor of this sleeper. It should be called the 5-Hour Energy Siesta Bowl: Oklahoma 52-17.

Orange Bowl

Stanford (11-1) vs. Virginia Tech (11-2): Of all the post-New Year bowls, the only one more entertaining than this will be the ANC (Alleged National Championship) game: Stanford 41-38.

Sugar Bowl

Ohio State (11-1) vs. Arkansas (10-2): I'm making this pick knowing Ohio State's past history against SEC teams in January bowl games. Believe me when I tell you that I'm completely sober and aware of all my faculties when I say: Ohio State 34-28.

GoDaddy.com Bowl

Middle Tennessee (6-6) vs. Miami Ohio (9-4): I did some checking, and nobody-cares-about-this-game.com is still available for anybody who wants to promote this game: Miami 27-21.

Cotton Bowl

LSU (10-2) vs. Texas A&M (9-3): I wonder what are the odds A&M will get the same crew that worked their win over Nebraska. If they do, this one would be in the bag: LSU 27-21.

Compass Bowl

Pittsburgh (7-5) vs. Kentucky (6-6): An appropriate name for a bowl game featuring two teams that got lost this season: Kentucky 34-27.

Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl

Nevada (12-1) vs. Boston College (7-5): Disrespect the Wolf Pack at your own risk, as Boise State found out the hard way: Nevada 41-21.

BSCS

Oregon (12-0) vs. Auburn (13-0): If these two teams play up to their seasonal offensive averages, you will see more than 1,000 yards of total offense and more than 90 combined points on the scoreboard. Last one with the ball wins: Oregon 49-42.

Wayne's Caitlin Fehringer battles Rachel Schulz of Wisner-Pilger for a loose ball underneath during the Blue Devils' win over the Lady Gators Friday in Wisner.

Wayne teams tackle Gators

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

WISNER – The Wayne High girls did it with defense, while an offensive surge was the Blue Devil boys' calling card in a Friday basketball sweep at Wisner-Pilger.

The Blue Devil girls got a school record-tying seven steals from Caitlin Fehringer and held the host Gators scoreless for the first nine minutes of the game to earn a 47-31 win in a potential subdistrict matchup at the Wisner-Pilger High gymnasium.

The boys, meanwhile, needed a third-quarter rally to hold off a hot-shooting Gators quintet in the evening finale, earning a 65-58 triumph.

Girls coach Nate Wall said his team did a lot of work on defense in the days leading up to Friday's game, and that worked paid off as Wisner-Pilger was held without a point for the first 9:10 of the game.

"We worked very hard in practice, and the girls did a good job of getting the denials on (the Gators') cuts and getting to the ball and crashing the boards," he said. "It was probably the best job of rebounding we've done all year."

The Blue Devils got out to a 15-0 lead to start the game. Wisner-Pilger finally got its offense in order and went on an 8-2 run after that to get within nine points, but that was as close as they would get the rest of the evening in spite of what was something of a lackluster result on offense for the Wayne girls.

"The effort was there, but I was frustrated the shots didn't go in," Wall said. "It would have been nice to finish it off early, but overall I was pleased with our effort."

Fehringer's thievery was part of a season-best 22 steals for the Wayne girls, who forced 26 Gator turnovers in the win.

Offensively, the Blue Devil girls had good balance, led by junior center Katie Hoskins with 11 points. Marissa Fallesen had seven, See WAYNE, Page 2B

Wildcats medal 10, finish second at SSC

SOUTH SIOUX CITY – Winside earned a second-place finish in the nine-team South Sioux City Invitational, a meet that included four Nebraska Class A mat squads, as well as teams from Iowa and South Dakota.

Ethan Thies (145) and Forrest Jones (152) led the Wildcat effort with individual titles in their respective weight classes, as the Wildcats placed seven of their 10 wrestlers in championship finals matches.

Thies and Jones wasted little time during the tournament, as each pinned their way through the meet. Thies spent a total of 2:36 on the mat while Jones took a bit longer, registering three pins in 4:30.

The Wildcats earned nine medals on the day, with Zach Brokaw (160), Coltin Brokaw (171), Sage Schwedhelm (189), Anthony Nelson (215) and David DeCock (285) all garnishing silver medals in the championship round. Brady Wurdemann (103) finished in third place and Levi Lange (130) earned a fourth-place medal for Winside. Dylan Pesek (135) also wrestled for the Wildcats but did not place.

The Brokaw brothers – Zach and Coltin – faced two of the best wrestlers in Nebraska in their finals matches, with Zach facing two-time defending Class A champion Chase White and Coltin meeting Class A top rated Logan Molina. Both Lincoln High School wrestlers are rated nationally in their respective weight classes.

In dual action Thursday, the Wildcats were outscored by host Stanton, 40-30.

Coltin Brokaw won the only match on the night for the Wildcats, pinning Jeb Nordby late in the first period in their 171-pound bout.

The Wildcats are off until they host their own meet, the Winside Invitational, on Saturday, Jan. 8.

No. 10 Wildcats leading the way after road sweep

A 9-1 overall record, an unblemished 6-0 mark in conference play, all alone at the top of the conference standings – not a bad Christmas present for Wayne State women's basketball coach Chris Kielsmeier.

The Wildcats assumed sole control of first place in the Northern Sun Conference after a weekend road sweep of MSU Moorhead (75-54) and Minnesota Crookston (79-60), and the third-year Wayne State coach couldn't be much happier with where his team stands heading into the holiday break.

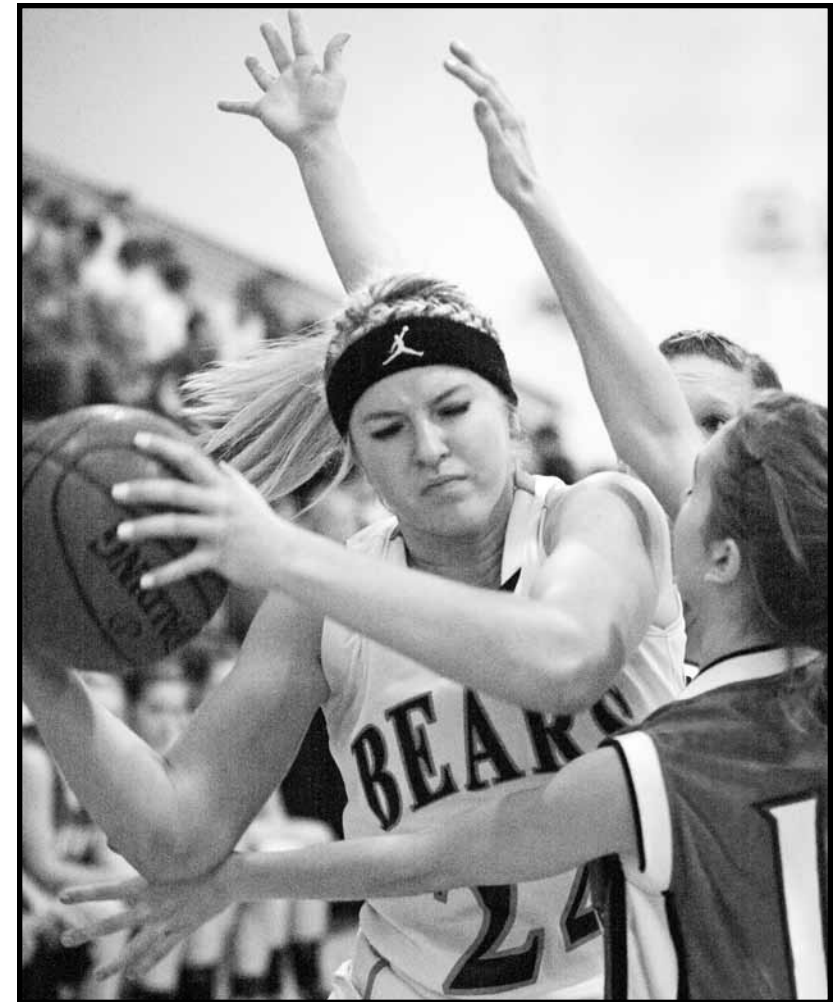

"We're 6-0 (in the NSIC) and in first, so I've got no complaints," he said after his team finished off its third straight weekend sweep in conference play and second on the road. "We're playing really well right now, and now we have a chance to take a break and enjoy the holidays before we come back motivated to keep getting better."

On Friday, Ashley Arlen had a game-high 24 points to lead the Wildcats to a 75-54 win at MSU Moorhead in a battle of what was the two remaining undefeated teams in the conference. The Wildcats got off to an 18-7 lead early in the first half and never led by fewer than eight points the rest of the way.

Kielsmeier said the team came out and played a solid defensive decision.

LAUREL – The first time at home proved to be a good one for the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge girls Thursday, while the boys' comeback effort was thwarted in the closing seconds.

The Lady Bears pulled away in the second half with a focused effort to hand Randolph a 71-58 setback at the Laurel-Concord High gymnasium, but the boys saw their comeback from an eight-point deficit thwarted on a late basket by Randolph's Clint Lackas in a 39-37

The Lady Bears stumbled their way through the first half, yet carried a 31-25 lead into the locker room at intermission.

"The effort was there, but our focus was a little off and we looked to be out of sync the first half," coach Nate Sims said. "I thought we came out and played much better and played more of our game in the second half."

Wayne teams split games on the road before holidays

The Wayne boys and girls basketball teams were both on opposite ends of road splits in their final games before the holiday break.

On Saturday, the Wayne girls were on the winning side of the ledger with a 56-46 decision at O'Neill, while the boys came up on the short side of a 62-52 result against the host Eagles.

On Tuesday, it was the boys who came home with a win, as they dominated Columbus Scotus in a 75-51 win, while the girls were held down by a tough Shamrocks defense in a 50-37 outcome.

The boys reversed the girls' results, dropping a 62-52 decision at O'Neill on Saturday and dominating Columbus Scotus in a 75-51 win on Tuesday.

The host Eagles took Wayne out of its game plan and forced the Blue Devils to play out of system for much of the night.

"We didn't execute our offense," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "We weren't patient and O'Neill's aggressive play made us play fast."

Seth Onderstal had 12 points and Jalen Barry scored 11 points to lead the way, while Justin Anderson added 10 and Jacob Zeiss and Gage Rethwisch each had six.

Wayne's fortunes were reversed in a big way Tuesday, as the Blue Devils shut down the Shamrocks' leading scorer, limiting Brady Vancura to just six points, four coming in the fourth quarter.

The Blue Devils hit 8-of-20 from 3-point range in the win, led by Zeiss' six trifectas that were part of his game-high 19 points. Rethwisch added 14, Onderstal put in 12 and Anderson scored nine for the 5-1 Blue Devils.

In girls' action, the Wayne girls struggled defensively in the first half, but came out of the locker room focused and shut down the Lady Eagles in the second half.

"We played a poor first half defensively, but the last 12 minutes we really put the clamps to them," coach Nate Wall said.

With starters Katie Hoskins and Caitlin Fehringer battling foul troubles, Wall said his bench came through with a very good effort, highlighted by the play of Marissa Fallesen and Kristin Carroll.

"Our bench came up huge," he said. "Kristin and Marissa had the best games of their careers, Ashton Schweers hit two huge shots in the first half, and Sydney Harris gave us some huge minutes late in the game. This was a total team effort for us."

Fehringer led the team with 12 points, while Fallesen and Carroll each had 10 points to lead the way.

It was a different story on Tuesday night, as Columbus Scotus' defense held down the Blue Devils early on and withstood several second-half rallies by the Wayne girls.

"Scotus made some nice adjustments to our press and controlled the tempo and really put on a clinic on how to play defense," Wall said.

Fallesen and Hoskins each had 10 for the 5-2 Blue Devils, while Fehringer added eight.

"I think it's been a successful December for us," Wall said of his team heading into the break. "We haven't played a complete game yet, but I don't think anybody has. We've got to get a lot better, but I'm really proud of the team that I have and I wouldn't trade them for anyone."

while Fehringer, Jaly Zeiss and Meagan Backer each had six and Cassie Harm put in five.

"Teams are really doubling and tripling Katie, and our guards are starting to knock down some shots," Wall said. "We're going to need that balance to go somewhere."

The boys looked like they were going to the races early on, as the two teams seemed intent on trading 3-point bombs for much of the first half.

The Blue Devils and Gators combined for seven treys in the opening period, but two late baskets inside by Keegan Dorcey were what staked Wayne to a 20-19 first-quarter edge. The Gators flipped that one-point lead by halftime and led by as many as seven points before the Blue Devils started their comeback.

While Wayne's foursome of seniors Jacob Zeiss and Seth Onderstal, junior Gage Rethwisch and freshman Jalen Barry were lighting it up from outside – they combined for 10 scores from 3-point range – it was a nifty no-look from Zeiss to Brady Soden that spurred a 12-0 run by the Blue Devils, turning a 43-39 deficit into a 51-43 advantage that they never lost.

"There are things you don't see in the boxscore like that which are sometimes more important than how much somebody scores," coach Rocky Ruhl said of Zeiss' pass, one of four assists on the night for the senior guard, who was limited to just three points. "Jacob did a good job of finding another way to get things done for us, and I was happy with how the kids adjusted and found a way to come back."

Wisner-Pilger was hot from the outside, led by 17 points apiece from Spencer Schaulis and Mason McCain, and they were able to cut the Wayne lead to a single point in the fourth quarter before the Blue Devils were able to put the game out of reach with free throws by Rethwisch – who had a game-high 20 points – Onderstal and Soden.

"Wisner was on their game and they took us to the limit, and I'm proud of the way the kids hung around and stuck with it," Ruhl said.

game against the Dragons.

"We came out really sharp defensively and made it difficult for them to score," he said. "Offensively, we got our inside game going, which freed up the outside and we played really well overall and did enough to win the game."

Kielsmeier challenged his team to contain the Dragon's Angie Jetvig, who he called one of the conference's top players.

"We had talked about how she was, statistically, probably the best player in the conference, and Ashley was motivated by that and wanted to go out and prove her ability, and she played her best game of the season," Kielsmeier said of his junior forward, who was 8-of-12 from the floor, including a 3-for-4 effort from long range, to outscore the Dragons' leading scorer.

Moorhead got as close as 48-40 with 14:28 to go in the second half after the Wildcats had built a 41-26 halftime edge. Wayne State responded with back-to-back 3-pointers by Renee Wood and a triple from Arlen to put the game out of reach, and Wayne State's defense held the host Dragons to 35 percent shooting from the floor, including a dreadful 1-of-18 from 3-point range.

Mara Hjelle added 15 points in the win, while Alyssa Fischbach had nine points and a team-best 10 rebounds.

"Fisch was just being Fisch," Kielsmeier said. "She just gave us another hard-working performance and did it on both ends of the floor."

On Saturday, the Wildcats put it to Crookston in the first half, taking a 43-25 halftime lead, and did an excellent job at the free throw line, making 25-of-32 shots from the charity stripe.

"We talk a lot about getting to the line more often than our opponents, but once you get there you have to make them, and I thought the entire team shot the ball well," Kielsmeier said. "That was a huge key to the game."

Another key was Wayne State's defense, which kept the Golden Eagles scoreless for a 15-minute stretch from midway through the first half to the first 4:46 of the second half.

"That was some of the best defense we've played all year," Kielsmeier said. "Our defense was outstanding in that stretch and that was some of the best basketball we've played."

The Wildcats went on a 28-0 run during that stretch, building a 30-point lead. Crookston made a late run to get within 12 before the Wildcats closed the door on any further comeback.

Hjelle had a huge night overall, leading four Wildcats in double figures with 15 points and grabbing an amazing 19 rebounds, accounting for almost half of Wayne State's 39 caroms on the night. Arlen added 14 points, Alisha Brown put in 13 points and Fischbach added 11 points.

Wayne State is off until New Year's Day, when they host Concordia-St. Paul and St. Cloud State in a Saturday-Sunday weekend matchup at Rice Auditorium. Kielsmeier said he hopes his team can come back from the holiday break ready to solidify its position as the leader in the conference.

"These are huge games, because you want to maintain your place in the standings when you're in first place, and we need to concentrate on playing great basketball and taking care of business," he said. "The neat thing about being in first is that you don't have to worry about anybody else, because if you continue to win, you'll still be in first."

Mandy Nelson and Audrey Kastrup to extend their lead to nine points. That fueled a 10-0 run, with Nelson adding a pair of baskets at the end of the rally, to make it a 45-32 game and the Lady Cardinals never got closer than 10 points after that.

"Our energy and focus just picked up and we played together more," Sims said of the third-quarter rally. "We also did a good job on the boards in the third quarter. (Kirsten) Fink had a bunch of rebounds in the first half and we talked about getting her off the boards. The girls did an outstanding job of that and we attacked the basket a lot better."

The Lady Bears also overcame some early foul troubles with a solid bench, with players like Haley Hefner, Dani Lynn Huss and Chelsey Wolfram stepping in and making contributions.

"We have a number of people who can come in off the bench and give us some quality minutes," Sims said. "We got in some foul trouble the first half and were able to fight through it with our bench."

That opened things up for three Lady Bears to finish in double figures, led by Jade Cunningham's 22 points. Nelson added 19 and Kastrup put in 11 points.

The LCC boys had troubles dealing with a persistent 1-3-1 zone defense that the Cardinals used to contest every pass and shot. The Bears' defense was pretty salty in its own right, but it was tough for coach Shannon Benson's team to get any consistent play on the offensive end.

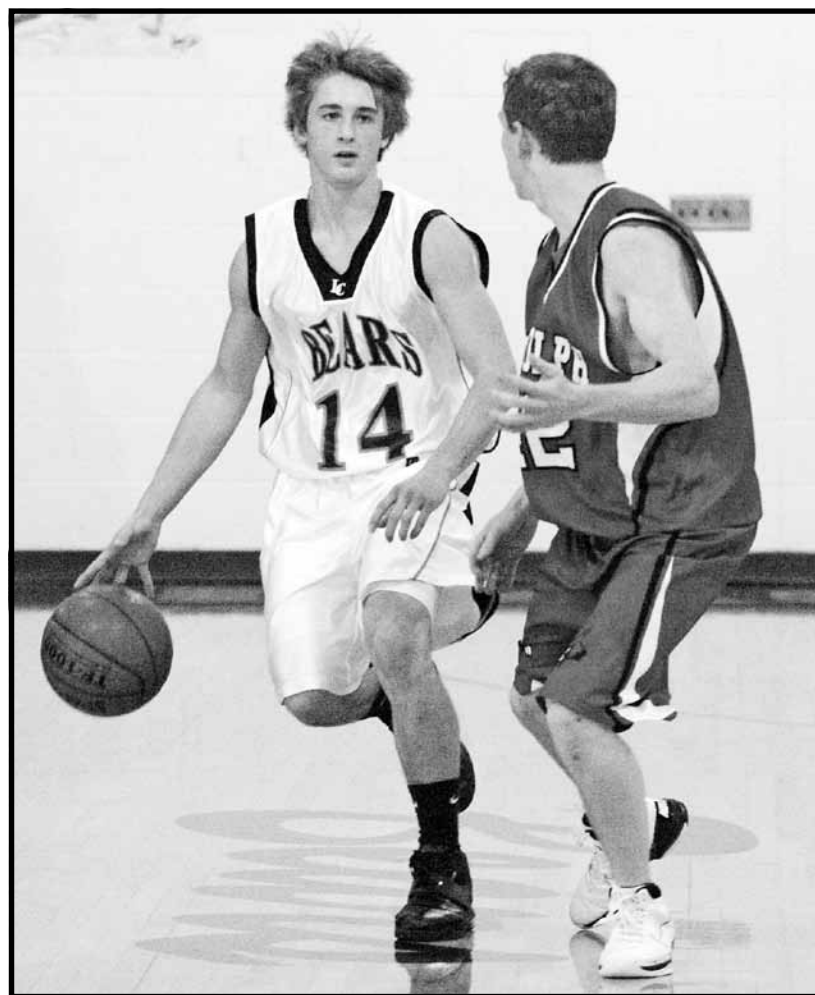

"We knew we'd see that 1-3-1, which they run better than anybody, and we tried to execute and did a good job attacking the rim, but we couldn't get the shots to fall," he said.

The Bears held a 10-7 lead after one quarter, but Randolph rebounded and got a late 3-pointer by Lackas to take a 19-18 lead into the locker room.

The Bears tied the game early in the second half on a trey by Kyle Kardell, and tied the game again at 23-23 on a basket by Michael Olesen before the Cardinals' defense clamped down on the Bears, holding them scoreless for a six-minute stretch before Matthew Maxon ended the drought at the free throw line.

"It's so hard to simulate what they do on defense, because they're really tall and go non-stop," Benson said. "They trapped the corners at times, then the wings and the high post, and really did a good job keeping us off balance."

The Bears' defense was tough as well, and that allowed them to battle back from an eight-point deficit in the final corner, tying the game at 37-37 with 1:15 to go on a 3-pointer from deep in the far corner by Olesen.

Randolph called time out with :39 left to set up the game-winning play, which saw Lackas drive by a defender on the baseline and bank a short shot home with :02 left. The Bears called time out to set up a final shot, but a desperation 30-footer missed the mark.

"I'm really proud of the kids,"

Benson said. "they played really hard on defense and kept it close and gutted it out."

Olesen led the Bears with 12 points, while Maxon added 11, Scott Pippitt put in eight and Kardell scored six.

On Friday night, The Lady Bears dominated Plainview and blew the game wide open in the fourth quarter for a 73-29 victory, while the LCC boys withstood a fourth-quarter comeback to post a 46-41 win over the Pirates.

Nelson tied a school record with a game-high 31 points in the one-sided win for the girls, which LCC put well out of reach with a 26-4 fourth-quarter run to improve to 3-1 on the season. Kastrup had eight points, Cunningham added seven and Kiley Thompson put in six.

Olesen had 15 points to lead three Bears in double figures as they picked up their first win. Kardell added 13 and Maxon put in 10.

Wildcat men get split on the road

One play was all that stood between Wayne State's men's basketball team and a much-needed perfect weekend on the road.

A late opportunity to steal one on the road Saturday fell short, leaving the Wildcat men to settled for a split in Northern Sun Conference action, beating MSU Moorhead (73-66) while losing at Minnesota Crookston (55-54).

The weekend put the Wildcats at 7-3 overall and in a three-way tie for seventh in the NSIC heading into the holiday break.

"We were pleased to beat a good Moorhead team on the road, and obviously we're disappointed with Saturday because we didn't play consistent," coach Paul Comb said. "We'll have a couple of weeks to think about this loss, and hopefully we can come back with two pivotal games at home the first of the year."

On Friday, Brad Starken was white hot from outside, hitting four straight 3-point shots in a two-minute stretch to help the Wildcats to their 14th straight win over the Dragons, dating back to the 2003 season.

"His shooting was a pivotal part of the game, and he really had a good weekend and shot the ball extremely well. He's playing with a lot of confidence," Combs said of Starken, who scored 15 points as one of four Wildcats who finished in double figures.

Wayne State led for most of the first half before the Dragons put on a late run to take a 33-32 halftime lead. Wayne State scored the first six points of the second half before the Dragons rallied, setting the stage for Starken's run of bombs from outside that turned a three-point deficit into a seven-point lead. Moorhead got within three points on three different occasions, but could never overtake the visiting Wildcats.

Jason Jensen led four Wildcats in double figures with 19 points, while Amry Shelby and Derrell Williams each had 14. As a team, the Wildcats were solid at the free throw line, hitting 16-of-19 from the charity stripe.

"Down the stretch, we made enough plays and shot free throws at a high rate to close out the game," Combs said. "Starken's shooting was pivotal, and Jason Jensen made a couple of big plays at the end of the first half to give us a lift."

On Saturday, the Wildcats had to battle back, but nearly erased an 11-point second-half deficit before having their hearts broken on the game's final play.

Shelby hit a pair of free throws and Elijah Miller forced a turnover that led to a basket by Shelby to tie the game at 54-54 with :58 left in regulation. The Golden Eagles made a free throw with :22 left, giving the Wildcats a chance to win the game with a final shot.

Shelby drove the lane and ran into a jump ball situation, giving the ball to the hosts. Wayne State forced a turnover on a steal by Miller to give the Wildcats one final shot with 2.2 seconds left, but the Golden Eagles forced a turnover on the inbounds pass to seal the win.

"We made a heck of a run and showed a lot of pride down the stretch, but it wasn't one of our better outings," Combs said. "Crookston came out and played probably their best game of the year, but we still had three cracks at it and weren't able to connect."

Shelby led a balanced attack with 13 points, while Starken added 12 and Ben Tasa put in 11 points and a team-best eight rebounds.

Wayne State is off until a New Year's weekend matchup with Concordia-St. Paul on Jan. 1 and St. Cloud State on Jan. 2.

"The time off will be huge for us, because we have some guys banged up that will help physically," Combs said. "It will also give us a chance to recharge our batteries and come back fresh. These next two will be pivotal for us, and we're looking forward to getting a lot of community support with our (Wayne Herald) fan appreciation day on Jan. 1."

Wayne medals four at Platteview Invitational

SPRINGFIELD - Half of Wayne High's varsity wrestlers competed in the varsity division of the Platteview Invitational on Friday, and four came away with medals for their efforts.

Coach Anthony Lawrence said he thought his kids performed well in the tournament, earning a second, a third and two fourths on the evening.

"We could have had five medals, but we couldn't quite get Drew (Loberg) through," he said. "Overall, though, I thought the kids wrestled pretty well for us. They faced some pretty tough competition these first few weeks, so it was good to see the four medals for the tournament."

Riley McManus was the only Blue Devil to reach the finals, losing a close 3-2 decision to Taylor McAllister of Plattsmouth in the 152-pound championship. Roman Roberts won the consolation title at 125 pounds, picking up a pin over C.J. Snodgrass of Louisville.

In other consolation action, Aaron Bernal lost a 3-1 decision at 140 pounds to earn a fourth-place medal, while Malcolm Martin came through for his first medal of the year, taking fourth after a close loss in the 171-pound consolation finals.

Lawrence said he decided to place a number of wrestlers who have wrestled varsity in the early going in the JV bracket. He said several of his younger wrestlers had faced some pretty tough competition in the early going, so he put some of those kids in the JV tournament to give them more experience.

"Some of these kids would have had to go up against a No. 1 or No. 2 seed in the varsity tournament, and it's hard to get any kind of experience that way," he said. "They've wrestled some pretty tough kids the first couple of weeks, and a number of these kids are first-year and freshman wrestlers who need a little more experience. They're going to be part of the program the next few years."

The Wayne High wrestlers are off until the Wisner-Pilger Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 8.

Winside boys drop two tilts

The Winside boys basketball team continued its search for a victory after dropping a pair of road contests last week.

On Saturday, the Wildcats traveled to Humphrey to take on a solid Bulldogs squad, and the hosts jumped out to a big lead early en route to a 71-49 victory.

Blaine Meyer had 17 points, Tanner Woslager put in 13 and Michael Lage had 11 in a losing effort.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats matched up with Emerson-Hubbard in a battle of teams looking for their first win, and the host Pirates had a big first half that carried them to a 64-40 win.

John Hansen and Ricky Wright each had eight points, while Meyer chipped in six for Winside.

Wakefield wrestlers take second

The Wakefield wrestlers went into the holiday season on a good note after a dual win over Elkhorn Valley and a runner-up finish at the Osmond Invitational over the weekend.

On Thursday, the Trojans got a pin from Jesus Olvera and wins by Jacob Nelson and Devon Anderson to outscore the Falcons 30-24. Wakefield also had three opens from Elkhorn Valley on their way to the dual victory.

(171) extended his unbeaten string to 10 matches and led four Trojans to the top of the medal stand as Wakefield posted its highest team placing in three years with a second-place finish in the nine-team Osmond Invitational.

“Overall I was very impressed with the way the guys wrestled,” coach Travis Volk said. “It was the first time we’ve had four individual champions and it was our highest place since 2007. It was a great way to finish off the pre-holiday part of the season.”

The Trojans came home with a total of 10 medals, with some of the JV wrestlers competing as part of the Team JV unit that included JV wrestlers from each of the competing schools.

Joining Nicholson as first-place medalists at Osmond were Christian Gallardo (112), Danny VanderVeen (140) and Jacob Nelson (152). Devin Anderson earned a third-place medal, and Jacob Newton (119) and Steve Sarmiento (215) both came away with surprise finishes for the Trojans, as each came away with fourth-place medals.

Also medaling were Irvin Ramirez (112) and Alex Calderon (125). Ramirez was part of the Team JV unit, while Calderon was fourth.

The Wakefield grapplers return to action Saturday, Jan. 8 at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

Wildcats fall in home battle, lose on the road at Humphrey

The Winside girls basketball team dropped a pair of games last week to head into the holiday break with a 1-7 mark.

On Saturday, the Wildcats' 66-39 loss at Humphrey didn't indicate the team's quality of play, coach Tara Groene said.

“Even though the score didn't show it, we played with a lot of intensity in that game, and I was hoping that would carry over into the Emerson-Hubbard game,” she said.

Unfortunately, the Wildcats were never able to get anything going at home Monday night, as visiting Emerson-Hubbard took a 22-9 halftime lead and never looked back in a 45-25 win over the Winside girls.

The Pirates' Brittni Bormann hit three of her five 3-pointers on the night in the second quarter to help the Pirates get going offensively. Winside, meanwhile, didn't play at the same level of intensity as they had on Saturday, Groene said.

“We struggled, both offensively and defensively,” she said. “We didn't play with the same intensity as we did on Saturday. Hopefully, we can get back to practice after the break and fix things and get back on the right track.”

In the loss to Humphrey, Megan Leicy led the Wildcats with 12 points, while Nazya Thies and Audrey Roberts each added eight points. Roberts led the Wildcats in the loss to the Pirates with 12 points, while Shelby Lienemann added six points.

The Winside girls return to action next week during the Randolph Holiday Tournament, taking on Plainview on Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

Wakefield teams both struggling on losing skids

The boys and girls basketball teams at Wakefield are both struggling after entering the holidays on duplicate three-game losing streaks.

In boys' action, the Trojans struggled down the stretch against Stanton on Friday, allowing the visiting Mustangs to come away with a 55-42 victory.

Wakefield was in the game going into the final period, but was held to six points in the final period as their comeback effort fell short. Brock Soderberg led the Trojans with 18 points and Hugo Ortiz added 11.

On Saturday, Hartington's defense frustrated Wakefield for much of the first half, limiting the Trojans to three first-half points en route to a 35-19 triumph.

Ortiz led the Trojans with 12 points in the losing effort.

On Tuesday, the Trojans hit the road and were defeated by a tall and physical Osmond team, as the Tigers posted a 50-20 win.

In girls' play, Stanton posted a second-half comeback to outlast the Wakefield girls 41-37.

Wakefield held a 24-18 halftime edge, but scored just 13 points in the second half.

Katie Lunz had 17 points and 12 rebounds, while Lauren Lehmkuhl pulled down nine boards. Mercedes Greve had five points, while Shelby Lierman added five points. Sydney Rose had four, while Lehmkuhl and Katelyn Tuttle each had three.

On Saturday, the Trojans lost a close one to Hartington at home, dropping a 46-43 decision. Wakefield led by a single point at intermission, but Hartington came back and was able to hold off the Trojans in the fourth quarter.

Lunz had 17 points and 15 rebounds in the losing effort, while Tuttle had six points and eight rebounds. Lehmkuhl added eight points.

On Tuesday, host Osmond blew the game open in the middle two periods to post a 46-33 win over the Trojans.

Lunz led a balanced attack with nine points, while Lehmkuhl added eight and Tuttle put in seven.

Lady Eagles fall short in games

The Allen girls nearly came away with their first win of the season before falling to 0-6 heading into the holiday break.

On Monday, the Lady Eagles led Lyons-Decatur at the half, but couldn't hang on as they dropped a 31-25 decision at Allen High School.

Allen held a 14-13 advantage at the half, but couldn't hit their free throws down the stretch as they were held to 11 second-half points. Allen shot 9-of-26 from the foul line in the losing effort.

Freshman Lindsey Jones led the way with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Brittany Sullivan added five points, while Olivia Schneiders dished out four assists.

On Friday, Newcastle ran out to a 31-11 halftime lead and cruised to a 52-23 win over the Lady Eagles.

Hannah Finnegan led a balanced scoring attack with six points for the Lady Eagles, while Schneiders, Jones and Sammy Sullivan each had four points. Jones led the defense with eight rebounds.

The Allen girls return to action Dec. 28-29, as they take part in the Verdigre Holiday Tournament.

Allen boys drop two at home

The Allen boys basketball team is still looking for its first win of the season after a pair of tough home losses last week.

On Friday, the Eagles were the victims of a 34-point third-quarter by visiting Newcastle, as the Red Raiders ran away with a 76-44 win.

The Eagles were within striking distance at halftime, trailing 31-23. The Red Raiders came out of the locker room on fire, outscoring the Eagles 34-10 in the third quarter.

Brandon Sullivan had the hot hand for Allen in a losing effort, finishing with 19 points. Jacob Stewart had eight, Anthony Kennelly had seven and D.J. Kennelly led the defense with eight steals.

On Monday, the third quarter once again proved to be Allen's downfall, as Lyons-Decatur outscored the Eagles 19-4 after intermission en route to a 63-36 win.

Allen trailed 38-23 at the half, but still had a chance to make a comeback before the Cougars pulled away in the second half.

Stewart had 11 points and Zach Crom added 10 for the 0-5 Eagles. Stewart led the team with nine rebounds, while Brandon Sullivan dished out three assists.

Allen is back in action next week at the Verdigre Holiday Tournament.

Wayne State College students lend a hand to Cedar County Historical Museum

Wayne State College business students of Managerial Communications and Business Communications recently completed a project for the Cedar County Historical Museum. Located in Hartington, Neb., the museum is located in what was once a residential home and is filled with treasures from Nebraskan history. An additional structure was added in 1995 and showcases antique machinery and horse drawn buggies. The museum is also home to Hartington's first fire engine and a restored Model T.

To complete the project the business students met with Cedar County Historical Society President Karen Bonneau to develop a publicity and communication plan for the museum. Students produced a website, a database of all items in the collection, a logo, a brochure, a newsletter, several grant applications, letterhead, and many fundraising campaign ideas to be used to fund museum activities.

The address for the new website is: cedarcountymuseum.org/ There is a special page on the site where county members can sign up for a year's membership for only $5.

"It has been wonderful to see the energy that the students brought to their work on this project. Hopefully, their work will service the Society for a long time," said Dr. Laura Dendinger, Associate Professor of Business at WSC. The WSC Service-Learning Program supported the program. Institutional funding provides support for Service-Learning at Wayne State College.

The project was supported by the Wayne State College Service-Learning project. For further information on how to get assistance with your nonprofit's communication needs contact Dr. Laura Dendinger at (402) 375-7020. For more information about the Cedar County Historical Museum, please visit cedarcountymuseum.org/

WSC to offer real estate sales & brokerage pre-licensing course

Wayne State College has expanded its real estate pre-licensing course offerings to now include BUS 396 Real Estate Sales & Brokerage, a new course to be offered for three semester credit hours during the Spring 2011 semester.

The course will meet three days a week (Monday-Wednesday-Friday) from noon - 12:50 p.m. beginning Monday, Jan. 10, 2011. A second pre-licensing course, BUS 327 Principles of Real Estate, is offered each Fall. Both courses are taught by Dr. Patricia Arneson, a licensed real estate broker who is also an experienced real estate instructor approved by the Nebraska Real Estate Commission.

Course materials and content will focus specifically on sales and marketing strategies for residential properties, as well as what pre-licensors need to know about Nebraska real estate statutes and regulations relating to agency law and the License Act.

The course is open to any WSC students as well as those in the general public interested in licensure. Nebraska Real Estate license law requires pre-licensors to complete 60 hours (6 undergraduate credit hours) to meet educational licensing requirements. Both BUS 327 and BUS 396 will satisfy that requirement.

Course pre-registration is required. To register, please call (402) 375-7239 or stop by the Office of Records and Registration in Hahn Administration Building on the Wayne State campus. Registration deadline is Monday, Jan. 10, which is the first day of class. Questions about the course itself can be directed to Dr. Arneson at 402-375-7255.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

What we need for Christmas is most important

What do you want for Christmas? It's a question I dread every December.

Ask anybody else what they want for Christmas, and the list is potentially limitless (especially if the person you inquire is under the age of 21 – and God help you and your American Express card on that group): toys, clothes, books, DVD's, electronic devices, yadda yadda yadda.

Here's my problem – I want nothing.

I realize that might come as a shock to some of you. After all, I am but a humble newspaper editor. There are very few millionaires in my particular line of work, so it's not like I've got everything in the world that one might think a divorced, 40-something guy like me might have.

You'd think that I'd want a new car, or a 60-inch projection TV with an awesome surround sound system. Or a new iPad or iPhone. Maybe new furniture or a trip to Hawaii.

Pressed for an answer by mother recently, I literally spent 2-3 minutes (which is about 2-3 minutes I will never get back) going through my house and taking a visual inventory of things. I finally gave her a rather short list of things I certainly could use, like a couple of pairs of jeans or some new dishes.

The question that should be asked is this: What do you need?

Of course, that answer is simple – I need to be happy. And what I need can't be found in the latest gadgets, the hottest fashions or the newest and fastest modes of transportation.

It's not something you can buy at Wal-Mart. You can't go on Ebay and make a bid on it. There isn't a mall, superstore, megaplex or convenience store on this planet that has what I need this holiday season.

The wants that we have in life may bring us temporary moments of joy. There's nothing like opening a box with a DVD we've been wanting to see or that sweatshirt with your favorite team's logo staring at you in bright colors. (I'm a big KISS fan, so you can imagine the smile on my face when I opened the box with the KISS DVD board game at the Carnes' family Christmas party last weekend.)

But these things are just that – things. They may help us get lost in a moment, but they can't bring us true happiness – which is what we need, not only at Christmas, but in every day of our lives.

Here's the bottom line, folks – I'm about as happy as I've ever been in my life.

I live in a wonderful community right here in Wayne, America. I work at a great newspaper, for an outstanding boss, and with a great staff. I have built (and continue to build) great professional and personal relationships with people in this area.

I own my own home. I have a wonderful daughter who is working her way through college to become a holder of minds as a school teacher. I have a wonderful family, an awesome (if not a little off-center) group of friends.

I have been blessed with numerous opportunities over the years – personally and professionally – that have helped shape who I am today. These are the things that I truly need, and they are much more important than any wants that I could possibly think of hoping to find under the tree on Christmas Day.

My one desire this Christmas is that you enjoy a level of happiness that leaves you wanting nothing else. Whatever it takes – whether it's family, a closer relationship with God, spending more time with family – I hope that you can find the things you really need to achieve true happiness in your life.

We may want a lot of things to come out of our packages when Santa comes down our chimneys. But if you've got all the things that you need to make you happy – those are the most important things you could possibly ask for.

Have a Merry Christmas and a happy life.

Christmas a time for memories

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN – It is easier for those of us whose children are grown, but it nonetheless feels good to say that when it comes to Christmas gifts, I don't give anyone anything that needs to be plugged in.

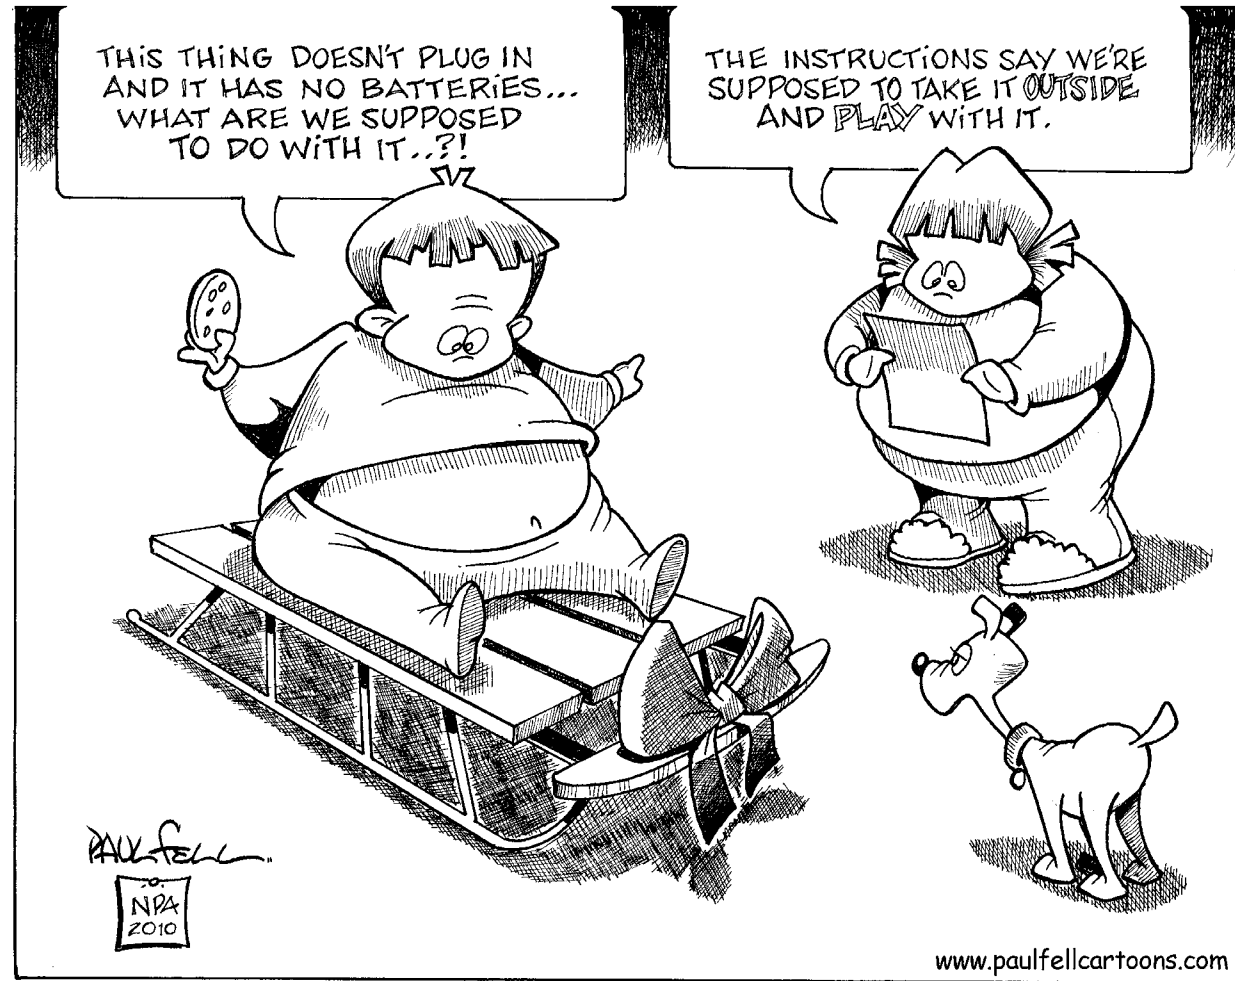

It probably has to do with romantic and romanticized notions of long ago Christmases. So long ago that even we Baby Boomers only recall them through magazines we read as kids, and books we have read since, and from stories and more stories told by our elders.

Tens of millions among us can remember being told that, most especially during the Great Depression, getting an orange for Christmas was a deal of the very big variety. (No matter what anyone might suggest or insist, however, there was nothing whatsoever romantic about the Depression, whether at Christmas or any other time.)

Books and music and clothing and fishing equipment and shotguns and art and wine and food are my favorite gifts – whether to give or receive. For me they will always seem more personal than electronics.

Seasonal annoyances and pleasures, especially during the holidays, are obviously very personal matters of taste and tradition. I've never viewed "normal" as anything but an optional setting on a washing machine; but I do have my list of favorite Christmas things.

The best noise Christmas has to offer is the sound of children laughing, and making those noises which are unique unto them while tearing through wrapping paper, whooping, giggling and getting tangled in ribbons while letting go with the occasional "Oh, boy!" The second-best sound of Christmas is the memory of those noises.

Still, at about 4 p.m. "Dinner is on the table!" gives the kiddies' cacophony close competition.

One's favorite holiday sounds can shift a tad over the years. There comes a time when "I'll be home for Christmas, dad!" is more important than all the White Christmases ever hoped for, and all the joyous carols ever heard.

The view from here concerning holiday annoyances no doubt reflects decades of Christmas week press releases. A particular pain and proposal:

Any and every politician whose annual holiday blather goes beyond succinctly wishing the constituency a Merry Christmas, happy holidays and a joyous New Year should be summarily recalled. And they should be tied to a chair in a small room and forced to watch Santa Claus Conquers the Martians all day, every day, or until Rachel Maddow asks Rush Limbaugh to meet her under the mistletoe.

A Personal Wish

You have my every best wish for a Merry Christmas, and a good year ahead. And remember that, at this time of year, you should always try to make a child laugh. And try not to make anyone cry.

Gearing up for inaugural celebrations

Dear Fellow Nebraskans,

Sally and I recently announced our preliminary plans for the 2011 Inauguration. I want to extend a personal invitation to all Nebraskans to be part of our Inaugural celebrations.

For this inauguration, we are creating the opportunity for more Nebraskans to take part in the celebration by holding four Inaugural events in Scottsbluff-Gering, Grand Island, Lincoln, and Omaha in early January.

The 2011 Inaugural Gala Celebration presents an opportunity to commemorate the special relationship we share as Nebraskans. The theme "Celebrate Nebraska" pays homage to the exceptional and distinctive qualities found throughout our state.

Expanding the Inaugural festivities provides an opportunity to capture the spirit of Nebraska from border to border. The celebration begins with an Inaugural Gala Breakfast on the morning of Friday, Jan. 7, at the Gering Civic Center starting at 7:30 a.m. MT, followed by an Inaugural Gala Luncheon at the Heartland Event Center in Grand Island at 11:30 a.m. CT.

Inaugural Gala Dinners will be held in Lincoln on Friday and in Omaha on Saturday. The Lincoln dinner will begin with a reception at the Nebraska Club from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. with dinner beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Cornhusker Marriott. The Omaha dinner will be at the Qwest Center with the inaugural program beginning at 7 p.m. CT. In another first, both of the evening events will be black-tie optional.

Regardless of which event participants chose to attend, some aspects of the Inaugural program will remain constant. The Nebraska National Guard is involved in coordinating the Inaugural events and with an Army Color Guard presenting the colors at each location. We will be recognizing elected and appointed state officials during each event.

However, each event will feature unique performances from a number of talented individuals and music groups from across the state. Arrangements are still being confirmed but I'd like to share the details on some of the performers who have accepted invitations to be part of the festivities.

The Inaugural Breakfast in Scottsbluff-Gering will feature Darla Hegggen of Scottsbluff singing the National Anthem and the Rev. Lauren Eckdahl of Gering delivering an invocation. The morning will include performances by the Western Nebraska Community College (WNCC) Collegiate Chorale, the Scottsbluff High School Choralaires, and the Gering High School Harmony. Emceeding the program will be Kevin Mooney, News Director for local radio station KNEB.

The Inaugural Luncheon in Grand Island will feature the Grand Island Central Catholic Blue Rhapsody Singers performing the National Anthem, along with performances by the Hastings College VoiceWorks and other central Nebraska music groups. The event will be emceed by Ken Rahjes, News Director for local radio station KRNV.

The Lincoln Inaugural Dinner will feature performances by the 43rd Army Band Brass Quintet and the Lincoln Boys Cantare Choir. The event will be emceed by Coby Mach, radio personality for local radio station KLIN.

The Omaha Inaugural Dinner will feature performances by the 43rd Army Band, the WNCC Collegiate Chorale, the Norfolk Royal Pride, and the Fremont Chamber Choir. Father Don Hock of Omaha will give the invocation and the event will be emceed by Jim Rose, radio personality for local radio station KFAB.

Tickets for Inaugural Gala events are still available and can be purchased online at www.celebratenebraska2011.com.

Sally and I, along with Lt. Governor Rick and Connie Sheehy, look forward to greeting Nebraskans as we begin this second term of service. It will be an opportunity to express our gratitude for the support and the friendship we have received from the people of this great state.

Nursing Home Administrator Authors Book

Nursing Home Administrator/consultant social worker, Dr. Shirley Ann Kraemer of Laurel, NE has authored a book on her thirty-three year career in nursing homes throughout the Midwest. Dr. Kraemer writes boldly with compassion concerning the need for change. Kraemer does not shy away from the controversial.

Kraemer compliments, chastises, and challenges the nursing home industry, the staff, family and society as she writes, "all have abrogated their responsibilities in the care of the elderly who reside in nursing homes". Nursing homes were never a good thing as the industry bowed to government controls and massive regulations to the point the elders have suffered. Compliance with paper work has destroyed compassionate care", says Kraemer. Kraemer addresses each nursing home department, families, religious and community organizations, volunteers, hospice and the hidden elder abuses in her book:

Do You Really Know What Goes on in Nursing Homes? An Insider Tells All

Each Chapter offers new and innovative therapies to not only alleviate the nursing shortage, but also to create an environment of wellness for each elder. Kraemer received her BS and MS. Ed at Wayne State College, Wayne, NE. Dr. Kraemer holds a Ph.D. in philosophy, a masters in counseling, a bachelors in divinity, is a massage therapist and a certified hypnotherapist. Kraemer is also a certified guardian/conservator for the elderly. Kraemer resides in Laurel where she offers natural health therapies in her private home. Dr. Kraemer's book, published by Vantage Press, New York, can be obtained through Borders, Barnes and Noble, Amazon, or through your local book stores.

SWITCH & SAVE

Installing CFLs means Nebraskans are saving energy and money—and that's helping create a brighter future for everyone.

- CFLs can save an average of $30 or more in energy costs over their lifetime.
- They use 75% less energy than their common light bulb equivalents and last up to 10-times longer.
- CFLs produce 90% less heat than incandescent bulbs.
- They are most cost-effective when used at least 2-3 hours per day.
- CFLs can be recycled. Check in your area for recycling options.

Wimmer is one of two commencement speakers

Jessica Micheal Wimmer, daughter of Mark and Melissa Wimmer of Norfolk, is one of two students who delivered the commencement address to fellow graduates at Wayne State College on Dec. 17. She majored in biology and minored in environmental studies.

Wimmer served as the vice president of the college's Habitat for Humanity chapter, vice president of the Biology Club and president of the wildlife Club in 2009-10. She was a member of the Wayne State Honors Program and the Cardinal Key Women's National Honor Society.

She was employed through a National Science Foundation grant to do research with Dr. Barbara Hayford, Wayne State associate professor of Life Sciences, in Mongolia during the summers of 2009 and 2010. She also served as a research assistant for the Museum of Natural History at Wayne State College from September 2008 to May 2010.

Wimmer has presented findings of her research at the Nebraska Pine Ridge and Mongolia at meetings of the Nebraska Wildlife Society, the North American Benthological Society in New Mexico, and for her honor's research and senior research projects.

Her career plans include obtaining a master's degree at the University of Kansas and her Ph.D. in aquatic ecology.

Take the ravel out of travel

Winter weather has arrived and families are traveling to special holiday gatherings with lots of time in the car. Planning ahead and setting basic ground rules for car travel can ease the frazzled nerves of families traveling with children during the holiday season. Adults must remember that although they may enjoy sleeping or looking at scenery, these activities may not appeal to young passengers. Also plan on the trip taking longer since children need frequent bathroom and exercise breaks. Here are some helpful hints to help cut down on traveling stress with several low-cost ideas for the whole family to enjoy.

• To entertain infants and toddlers, try attaching soft toys with no hard points to the child's car seat. An activity pillow with stuffed animals or squeak toys attached to it will occupy the child without constant attention from parents.

Angela Abts

• Car travel kits for preschool-aged children provide a wide variety of activities within reach of the child. A shoe organizer filled with books, crayons, toys, or other activities and hung from the back of the front seat serves as an easy-to-reach car kit. If the child is in a booster car seat, provide a lap board to write on.

• Elementary school children can play travel games such as identifying out-of-state and out-of-country license plates. As children get older, they can assist with itinerary planning, navigation, and book keeping for gas and food spending. Children with a map of their own can follow the course of the roads. Mapping out the progress of the trip may even reduce the number of times children ask "Are we there yet?" Books related to the destination or sites along the way may also interest children.

• Older children can keep a journal of the trip. Spaces can be left in the journal to fill in with photographs taken by the children with their own cameras, maybe disposable ones. Projects such as a journal take the pressure off parents to entertain children, but parents should not force children to participate in a project if the child does not want to.

• Snacks, travel games, and books can be distributed as special treats throughout the trip. Don't forget to have activities for the child to do on the way home as well. Supplying children with a variety of activities will make the miles fly by for parents and children alike.

For more information about children and youth development needs, please contact the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Office in your local county or visit the website at www.extension.unl.edu.

Can you imagine a day when Real Estate Agents work together on properties to benefit both the seller and buyer? How great would that be!

At Christmas time I feel especially drawn to the spirit of cooperation within the Real Estate market. Maybe it's the holiday songs on the radio, or maybe it's just the season. I believe that with cooperation and a little Christmas spirit we can accomplish great things.

While we may have a long way to go towards achieving the scenario above, we can still work on co-operating to make the process a little better for everyone involved. Cooperation builds an atmosphere of trust and creates better service for buyers and sellers.

In this spirit, Midwest Land will cooperate with all area Real Estate agents. This will allow both buyers and sellers to see better results and together we can achieve a stronger Real Estate market for Wayne.

I wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and look forward to a Happy New Year! May 2011 bring you everything you are hoping for.

Keep the requests for future articles coming! Requests can be emailed to: Wendy@mwlc.net.

Immunization clinic planned for Wayne

Goldenrod Hills Community Action will hold the Wayne Immunization Clinic on Tuesday, January 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at United Methodist Church, 516 N Main Street, Wayne. For an appointment please call (402) 529-3513.

GHCA's Health Services Program will provide lead screening to children 12 months to 5 years of age at the Immunization Clinics for a fee of $10. Children may get lead poisoning from paint of homes built before 1978, tap water, food, pottery, dirt, dust and even from the air we breathe. Elevated blood levels can cause irreversible damage to the brain and nervous system; it can harm the kidneys and digestive system; and because lead reduces the ability for the body to produce red blood cells, it can cause anemia.

Children with elevated blood levels of 10 or higher may suffer dulled hearing, stunted growth, reduced eye-hand coordination, behavioral problems and delayed learning skills.

The Immunization Clinic is open to the public, and there are no income guidelines. Each child should be accompanied by the parent or guardian. Past immunization records are required. Proxy forms are needed when a parent or legal guardian is unable to accompany the child to clinic. Proxy forms may be obtained by contacting the Wisner office at (402) 529-3513.

A suggested donation of $20 per child would be appreciated to help defray administrative costs. If a child only receives one immunization, then the suggested donation is $13.50. No one will be denied immunizations for inability to make a donation. Immunizations are needed at ages: 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, 12-15 months, and 4-6 years.

This project is supported in part by Federal Immunization Program Funds awarded to Goldenrod Hills Community Action by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action, in conjunction with the Nebraska Health & Human Services Vaccines for Children Program, offers Menaetra (meningitis) for 11-18 year olds, Tdap (tetanus with pertussis) for 8-10 year olds, Hepatitis A for 12 months to 18 year olds, RotaTeq (rotavirus) for infants, and Gardasil for VFC eligible 11-18 year olds, as well as other recommended childhood vaccines. The Influenza vaccine is now available for children 6 months to 18 years.

Adult vaccine (MMR, Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Tdap, TB testing) is available to the public for a mandatory fee at all immunization clinics to anyone 19 years or older. These fees cover the cost of the vaccine. Call the Wisner office at (402) 529-3513 for more information.

Operation Great Start (OGS) information will be available at the Immunization Clinic this program provides education and resources to expecting mothers and mothers with children up to 12 months old. OGS works to provide services to families and children in North East Nebraska to ensure and strengthen their well being.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action (GHCA), headquartered in Wisner, NE, is one of nine Community Action Agencies in Nebraska. GHCA manages several different programs as determined by identified needs of residents in the 14 county service area. The Agency serves over 10,000 clients a year due to successful outreach efforts. Goldenrod Hills Community Action (GHCA) programs include the Commodity Supplemental Food Program; Family Services; Immunization; Weatherization; Head Start; Women, Infants, and Children Nutrition; Early Intervention Services Coordination; Operation Great Start and Operation Building Blocks. The agency serves Knox, Antelope, Pierce, Madison, Stanton, Cuming, Thurston, Dakota, Burt, Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Washington and Dodge counties. For more information on GHCA programs, call 1-800-445-2505.

HOLIDAYS HAVE YOU STRESSED OUT?

Learn more about how stress can affect your life and body with HERMAN CHIROPRACTIC quick facts!!

There are 3 types of stress that impact health. Physical stress can occur as the result of a car accident, falling, improper posture, or birth trauma. Emotional stress can be the result of significant emotional trauma or the inability to adapt to stressful situations. Chemical trauma can result from the use of prescription drugs, poor nutrition, or environmental toxins.

More headaches can result from the body rerouting blood flow to other parts of the body due to stress.

Chronic stress decreases the body's immune system's response to infection leading to illness.

Tranquilizers, anti-depressants, and anti-anxiety medications account for 25% of all prescriptions written in the U.S. each year.

The American Medical Association notes that stress is the cause of 80%-85% of all human illness and disease.

Stress can lead to nerve irritation. By correcting misaligned vertebrae, chiropractic care removes nerve interference letting the body heal itself and boosting its immune system to keep you happy and healthy for the holidays.

Twelve tips to a happy, healthy holiday season

As we celebrate the holidays and the new year, Dr. Joann Schaefer, the state's Chief Medical Officer, and Director of Public Health for the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, encourages Nebraskans to stay safe and healthy by following these 12 holiday health tips:

"Get vaccinated. Vaccinations help prevent disease and save lives. Don't forget to get your flu vaccine."

"Wash your hands often. Frequent handwashing is one of the best ways to prevent the spread of germs."

"Stay warm. Exposure to cold temperatures can cause serious or life-threatening health problems, especially for babies and older adults."

"Manage stress. The holidays don't need to take a toll on your health. Keep an eye out for over-spending and over-commitment."

"Don't drink and drive. If you choose to drink while attending parties, designate a driver who will get you home to your family safely."

"Buckle up. Wear a seat belt every time you drive or ride in a car and always put your child in a safety seat."

"Be smoke-free. Live a healthier life and lower your risk for disease by not smoking and avoiding secondhand smoke."

"Get a checkup. Exams and screenings help find problems early when they may be easier to treat."

"Watch the kids. Keep an eye on the kiddos when they're eating and playing. Children are at high risk for injuries that can lead to tragedies."

"Prevent injuries. Injuries from falls and fires often happen around the holidays. Practice fire safety and use ladders safely."

"Handle and prepare food safely. Wash hands often, keep raw meat separate, cook foods to the proper temperature and put those leftovers in the fridge right away."

"Eat healthy. What to my wondering eyes should appear? If it's a table full of mouthwatering treats, try to limit your portion sizes and substitute fresh fruit for some of those sweets."

First Trinity Altona women celebrate Christmas

First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Altona met at Careage of Wayne at noon on Dec. 17 for the annual Christmas celebration.

A potluck dinner was served, followed by devotions led by the Rev. Ohlman, based on the Dec. 12 gospel lesson.

Pearl Youngmeyer presided at the business meeting. The LWML Pledge was recited as the mite box offering was taken.

It was announced that several quilts and a large quantity of bed jackets were taken to Orphan Grain Train in November.

Gifts of $25 each will be given to Rev. Ohlman; Jesus, Our Savior Lutheran, Winnebago; Haiti Lutheran Mission Society and a pastor's wife in the Norfolk area who has been diagnosed with cancer.

A monetary gift was received from Pearl Youngmeyer for serving Les' funeral. A Christmas quiz was passed out to all.

Following the meeting, a gift exchange was held. In addition to the members and the Rev. Ohlman, seven guests were present.

Pearl Youngmeyer will host the January meeting at her home.

Lions Club learns of 'Opening Eyes'

The Wayne Lions Club met recently for a dinner at Tacos & More.

Dr. Larry Magnuson, Lisa Niemann, Sonja Hansen and Melia Hefti were guests. They had the privilege of volunteering at the Special Olympics that was held in Lincoln last summer. The guests worked with the Lions 'Opening Eyes' project. Dr. Magnuson gave an introduction on the beginning of the Opening Eyes project. Also, he shared statistics such as the fact that 564 pair of eyeglasses were dispensed during the convention. Comments made "it is truly a rewarding experience to assist in an athlete's vision." Greece will host the Special Olympics in 2011.

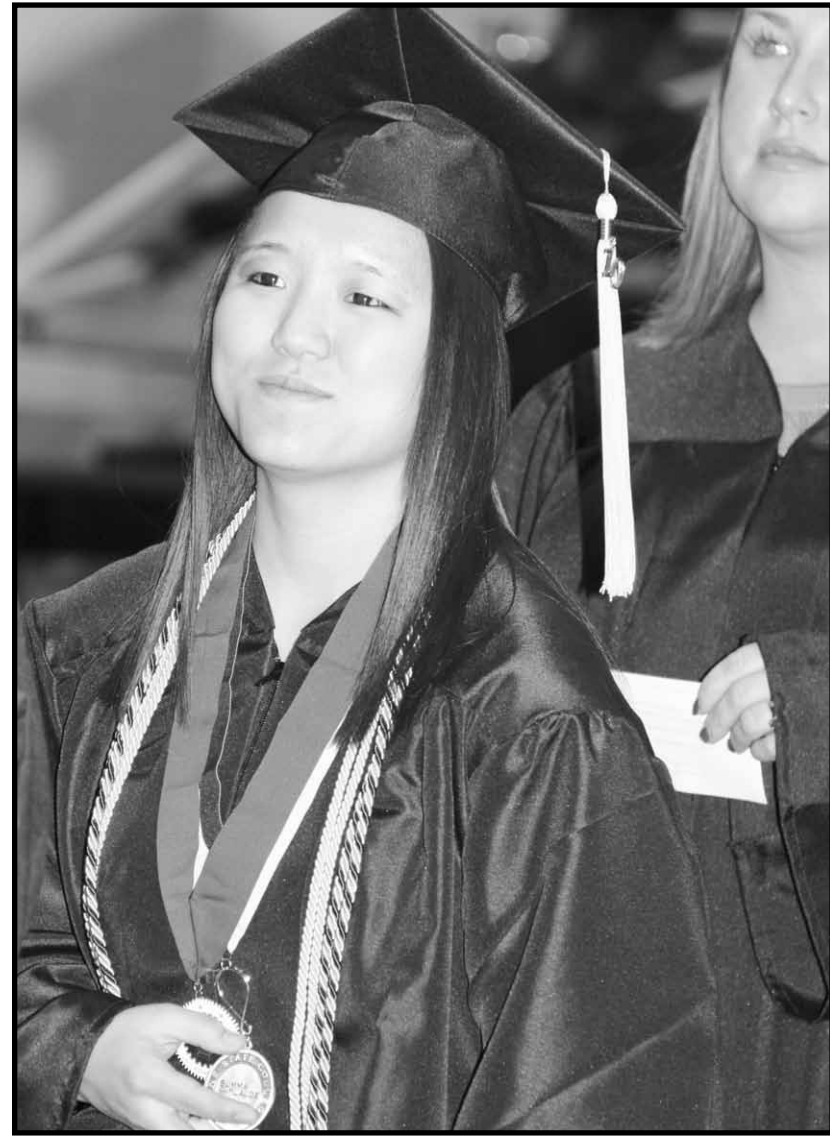

The Lions Christmas gathering was scheduled for Dec. 7. Donations of nonperishable food will be collected for the Wayne food pantry. An appreciation in coordinating items that are being brought; for example, tuna helper along with a can of tuna. A Wayne Careage resident, and a Goldenrod Hills youth will be remembered with gifts from the club as holiday spirits brighten 'to serve' in the community.

A thank you card made by 14 participants for the Lions Peace Poster contest was viewed. The contest age level is 11-13 youth, to enter the event. Daniel Greenwald's poster has been submitted for judging at the Lions Fall Rally held in Hastings.

The club hosted a zone meeting recently with Laurel and Norfolk Lions members attending. First Vice President, Lion Rood from Elkhorn also attended. Rood had much input, advice and praise for all the Lions activities and events that are held in district 38-0.

The Wayne Lions Club will be celebrating their 50th anniversary on Aug. 27, 2011 with a dinner at Genos. More details will be released later by the anniversary committee.

Skylar Osovski delivered a commencement address at last week's WSC graduation.

Wayne State College commencement speaker delivers address

Skylar Osovski, daughter of Ronald and JoAnn Osovski of Nebraska City, was one of two students who delivered commencement addresses to fellow graduates at Wayne State. She majored in mass communication/journalism.

Osovski's activities at Wayne State included intramurals, Minorities in Accordance Coming Together, and membership in Lambda Pi Eta Communications Honor Society and Phi Kappa Phi Academic Honor Society.

While at Wayne State she served as editor in chief, photographer, copy editor, campus classifieds editor and sports editor of The Wayne Stater student newspaper; sports director and on-air personality for KWSC-FM Wayne 91.9 The Cat; assistant news editor for the Norfolk Daily News; sports and news reporter for Wayne Radio stations KCTY 104.9FM and KTCH-AM 1590; news and sports writer for the Northeast Nebraska News Company, which includes the Cedar County News, Coleridge Blade, Laurel Advocate, Osmond Republican, Randolph Times and Wausa Gazette; and staff writer for GateHouse Media under the Hamburg Reporter, Nebraska City News-Press and Syracuse Journal-Democrat.

Osovski earned multiple awards for her work with student media, including several Nebraska Collegiate Media Association Golden Leaf Awards, most notably Newspaper of the Year for The Wayne Stater and Station of the Year for 91.9 The Cat. Individually, she took first place for Best Sports Story, Newspaper Series, Remote Broadcast and Public Service Announcement Series.

Her career plans include continuing to work in the media by serving as an employee with the Norfolk Daily News.

TAX-FREE INCOME FOR YOUR RETIREMENT

Tax-free income is the best gift you can give yourself at retirement. Converting to a Roth IRA from a traditional IRA allows for tax-free accumulation as well as tax-free withdrawals in retirement — which means you don't have to worry as much about what income tax rates will be in the future.

There are tax considerations and other factors that determine whether converting to a Roth IRA is right for you. And changes set for 2010 will eliminate the $100,000 modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) limit, which means anyone can convert to a Roth IRA.

Call today to schedule an appointment to learn more. We'll discuss your retirement goals to help determine if a Roth IRA makes sense for you.

Wind energy program at Northeast generates interest

With very little publicity, the new wind energy program at Northeast Community College in Norfolk has generated greater-than-expected interest by both prospective students and the industry.

Launched in the spring of 2009, the one-year, 41-credit-hour diploma program attracted more students than originally anticipated and class sizes were expanded. The program was launched with an $86,000 Wal-Mart Workforce Economic Opportunity Initiative and the American Association of Community Colleges Center for Workforce and Economic Development.

Northeast President Dr. Bill R. Path, while extremely proud of the one-year diploma program, said the college needs to do more to provide qualified, entry-level employees for this rapidly-growing industry. Currently, there are wind farms near Bloomfield, Ainsworth, Kimball, Valley, and Lincoln. The wind farm near Petersburg will open in the fall.

"Unfortunately, we have not been able to fully address needs of the wind energy industry because of resources," he said. "With a demonstrable need for well-trained personnel, this industry is begging for qualified employees."

Dr. Path said the college aggressively pursues funding from several different sources for new initiatives like the wind energy technology program. "We seek grants from the federal and state government, corporations and foundations," he said. "Without the assistance of Wal-Mart, we would not have been able to launch the diploma wind energy program when we did."

Northeast was also the recipient of a $74,858 Perkins Innovation Grant, federal Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006 funds administered through the Nebraska Department of Education, grant number VO48A199927. The monies were used to sponsor a Train the Trainer camp for high school teachers and another Green Energy camp last May for high school students interested in a career in renewable energy.

"We do not pursue grants for ourselves," he continued. "We solicit these funds to meet a viable demand and help both our students and communities in our 20-county service area," he said. "Rural revitalization is a new component of our 2010-2015 Strategic Plan. These wind farms can do a great deal for economic development at the local level."

Northeast had 20 students enrolled in the wind energy technology program in December. Another 14 are registered for the spring semester. The program was developed by a Wind Advisory Committee which recommended appropriate courses and curriculum.

The college is working on expansion of its one-year diploma program (that includes a 480-hour cooperative internship) to a two-year associate of applied science degree program. The expansion will require additional funds from sources such as a requested federal appropriation and other corporate and foundation sources.

"These funds are necessary to develop our associate's degree program," said Lyle Kathol, dean of applied technology. He said that, if successful in soliciting funds, he would like to purchase a Micon 600 wind turbine to enhance student lab training. He said students would study climbing and rescue procedures, electrical wiring, electronic control systems, data acquisitions, and mechanical maintenance and repair in the Micon 600.

"As budgets shrink, we must look elsewhere besides our 20-county area and state for funding," Dr.

Path said. "We must explore other sources and continue our active pursuit of them. We often understate our appreciation for grants from the federal and state governments, corporations, and foundations. But without those gifts, we could not possibly do what we do... prepare our students to be contributing, successful citizens after they leave our institution and return home to their communities."

Fremont Corn Expo offers growers solutions

The Fremont Corn Expo Jan. 5 will provide producers and agribusiness professionals ideas and strategies to remain competitive in the corn industry.

Registration for the free event begins at 8 a.m. with breakfast and a chance to view exhibits. The expo, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the main arena at Christensen Field, is designed for growers, crop consultants, agronomists, seed crop representatives and others looking to improve corn production, marketing and utilization. Lunch also will be served to participants.

The expo highlights topics identified by corn growers as important to their farming operations.

Featured speaker Art Barnaby, Kansas State University ag economist, will address Reducing Risk - Increasing Your Odds for Success.

Other program presentations include: Nitrogen Know How - Products and Practices, Richard Ferguson, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension soil fertility specialist; Trouble Shooting Grain Storage and Handling Issues, Tom Dorn, UNL Extension educator; Politics and Energy: Keys to Nebraska's Future, Neil Moseman, Moseman and Associates; and Today's Land Market - What to Make of It, Bruce Johnson, UNL agricultural economist.

"The Fremont Corn Expo is a great opportunity for producers to fine-tune their production and marketing practices going into the 2011 growing season," said Dave

Varner, UNL Extension educator. "Participants will leave the expo with information that they can use immediately and long-term."

A special nitrogen and irrigation management certification training will be conducted for Lower Platte North Natural Resources District producers immediately following the expo at 3 p.m.

For more information contact Varner at (402) 727-2775 or dvarner1@unl.edu.

The program flier is available at <http://dodge.unl.edu>. Exhibitor space is available.

The Fremont Corn Expo is sponsored by UNL Extension, Colfax-Dodge County Corn Growers, Nebraska Corn Growers Association, Nebraska Corn Board, Fremont Area Chamber Agricultural Business Council, Dodge County Farm Bureau and area agribusinesses.

Deadline approaching to apply for conservation program

Farm, ranch and forest land operators have until Jan. 7, 2011, to apply for the Conservation Stewardship Program.

The current sign up for the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) will end Jan. 7. The Natural Resources Conservation Service administers CSP and is reminding operators to apply soon.

The Conservation Stewardship Program is a voluntary conservation program designed to encourage agricultural and forestry producers to adopt additional conservation practices and improve, maintain and manage existing ones. In return for their stewardship, producers will receive a payment.

CSP pays participants for conservation performance - the higher the performance, the higher the payment. Producers get credit for conservation measures they have already implemented and for new measures they agree to add.

CSP is offered statewide through a continuous sign-up, with announced cut-off dates for ranking and funding applications. The program provides many conservation benefits including improvement of water and soil quality, wildlife habitat enhancement and adoption of conservation practices that address the effects of climate change.

Producers are encouraged to apply for CSP at their local Natural Resources Conservation Service office. Eligible land includes cropland, grassland, prairie, improved pastureland, non-industrial private forestland, and agricultural land under the jurisdiction of an Indian tribe. Additional assistance is available to beginning or socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers.

A CSP self-screening checklist is available to help producers determine if CSP is suitable for their operation. The checklist highlights basic information about CSP eligibility requirements, contract obligations and potential payments. It is available from local Natural Resources Conservation Service offices or online at http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/programs/new_csp/csp.html.

Christmas activities produce warm feeling

You know what? Our annual Christmas letter is still at the print shop, and I don't have one envelope addressed! I'm getting slower every year. But it counts if they go out before the 25th, right?

I guess we've been too busy with Christmas events; certainly, that was the case this weekend. Randa was in the "ensemble" for Annie at the Lincoln Community Playhouse, and they had to add extra performances because it continued to be sold out. We were fortunate to snag a couple of tickets for the Saturday matinee. The little gal who played the lead stole the show, but everyone was great, especially Oliver Warbucks. And our granddaughter had a solo in which she appeared much more mature than we can believe!

On Sunday, we drove out to Manley for Christmas at Leon's. I knew that Kevin Colbert, the artistic director there, is a genius, but I had not known about the musical skills of his buddy, Mick Kovar. Mick is on a local radio station, and writes jingles for ads.

The story goes that the two couples went to a football game three years ago and stopped at Kovars for drinks. Someone suggested they write a Christmas play, and after six drinks, it sounded like a great idea! Mick, in fact, wrote two songs that next week, and they stayed in the finished product.

That finished product was produced this month, and it, too, was sold out. They had an extra incentive as a fund raiser, and for extra bucks, you could eat dinner on the stage ahead of the show, served by the cast. Well, you know me, if it saves me cooking, we go for it!

The food was good, but the play was outstanding! I really didn't know what to expect, but we certainly had our money's worth. The idea of a busload (or trainload) of people stranded somewhere for Christmas Eve is not a new one, but this one had a lot of cute twists.

Leon was the original inn keeper two thousand years ago, and he's been trying to get it right ever since. Harold's Angels, which sounded a lot like Charlie's, tried to help him out. There was a couple with a teenager with an attitude, a freshman in college going home for the first time since school started; an out of work country song writer, and a middle age couple going to Chicago for an assessment for what appeared to be early Alzheimer's. That produced one of the most memorable songs, Will I Remember You?

All in all, it gave us hearty laughs, a few tears, and that warm feeling you want for this time of year. Hope yours is happy, and "God bless us, everyone!"

Advice offered on bird feeding

If you're like me you enjoy feeding birds during the winter. When feeding birds during winter, bird watching can be done from the warmth of the home. Hopefully this will increase interest and encourage outdoor bird watching during the warmer months. Here is some information from Extension Educators Kelly Feehan and Barb Ogg.

plastic-coated wire, are used to hold chunks of suet. Woodpeckers and nuthatches are fond of suet.

There are many kinds of bird seed, but some are much better than others for attracting birds. For general purposes, a mixture of equal parts sunflower seed, millet and cracked corn is an excellent seed mix. There are also specialty bird seed products for attracting specific birds. These mixes are readily available at local stores.

Some seeds are common in bird feed mixes, but are not especially good for attracting birds. Avoid seed mixes with high proportions of milo, wheat, oats, rice and rapeseed. Birds won't eat most of these undesirable seeds making the bargain price not such a great deal.

Baked wild bird seed may also be available at retail centers. While baked seed may seem a bit odd in the birdseed aisle, the reason some manufacturers now bake bird seed is to kill weed seeds.

Research from Oregon State University found the seed from ten common brands of bird feed contained weed seeds. In a study, they found up to thirty weed species, such as bindweed, velvetleaf, and ragweed, sprouted under bird feeders. These weeds can then spread to nearby fields and gardens.

If baked bird seed cannot be found, use a tray under bird feeders to help keep seeds off of the ground. Selecting bird foods that won't sprout, such as sunflower hearts and plain suet cakes, is another option.

In spring and through summer, be sure to weed the area beneath feeders often to kill weed seedlings and prevent weeds developing seed or sending out rhizomes or sprouts which also produce new plants.

Common winter birds likely to visit feeders in Nebraska include chickadees, blue jays, cardinals, goldfinches, dark eyed juncos, tree sparrows, mourning doves and several kinds of woodpeckers.

Place bird feeding stations where they are protected from strong winter winds. Locations where trees and shrubs are growing nearby are good, especially if the plants are evergreens. Plants provide protective cover and perching sites.

Use different types of feeders to increase the chance of attracting a variety of birds. Each type of feeder attracts certain birds. For instance, goldfinches are easier to attract if fed niger thistle seed in a plexiglass tube feeder.

Farm Bureau members attend convention

Donald Liedman, Dwaine Junck and Bill Claybaugh, all of Carroll, were Wayne County Farm Bureau's delegates to the 2010 Nebraska Farm Bureau Convention Dec. 6-7 in Kearney.

Other county members attending the convention were Dorrine Liedman of Carroll and Malinda Villwok of Randolph.

Nebraska Farm Bureau President Keith Olesen called on both lawmakers and Farm Bureau members to take action on issues that affect the future and profitability of agriculture. These include the next farm bill, trade, federal estate taxes, overregulation of farming by the federal government, the decline in state revenues, the need to value ag land differently and public perceptions about food production and animal care.

"If we are going to have a future in agriculture for farmers and ranchers, we will need to be generous with our time and our money to address issues. We must give of ourselves. We must give of our resources," he said.

Washington state logger and activist Bruce Vincent presented a similar message. Farmers and ranchers must act to save their way of life, he said.

"Urban people vacation in rural America and fall in love with the things we love," then seek to protect 'the last, best places' But their vision for rural American often doesn't include a role for the people who live there," he said.

He urged farmers and ranchers to build relationships with urban consumers and be leaders rather than merely fighters in working to resolve issues.

During their business session, the Farm Bureau delegates expressed support for a safety net in the new farm bill to protect farmers from catastrophic occurrences; strongly

Northeast, income tax school to offer online tax preparation class

Northeast Community College and the Income Tax School will offer a new online educational program soon.

Because experienced tax preparation professionals are in high demand, this program, INCOME TAX PREPARATION, will provide the training needed for a new full- or part-time job. Registrants can take the online, self-paced, beginner courses that will offer plenty of instructor support. Those in the tax preparation business can take a variety of continuing education, online courses that are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The Allen Junior Class is selling magnet and decals to raise funds for the 2011 Jr./Sr. Prom. They have several to choose from ranging from the Husker "N" Decal to an Eagle to a volleyball, basketball or football with your child's name on it. If interested, please contact a member of the Junior Class or call the school.

QUILT RAFFLE WINNER

Mary Lou Koester would like to say "Thanks!" for the quilt she won at the basketball game. Her name was drawn for the blue and gold quilt that had been on display at the bank. She is trying to narrow down where the quilt came from, as the tag inside the quilt says — Wemhoff with a date of 1998. The quilt raffle funds went the Allen Girls Athletic Department.

NEW CHEERLEADERS

After Cheerleader tryouts on Saturday, new list of new cheerleaders added to the squad are: Kaylee Gill, Mollie Bertrand, and Courtney Surber.

They will be joining Leah Armour, Christina Gregerson, Samantha Kumm and Amber Benstead. There will be tryouts again in May, as they'd like to have a squad of 10 for next year.

A CLUB TOURNAMENT

The "A" Club Boys 9th & 10th grade Basketball tourney will be held on Jan. 8 and Jan. 15 at the Allen Gym.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF INTENT TO MODIFY PERMIT #NE0203807 FOR CITY OF WAYNE SOLID WASTE TRANSFER STATION
Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality
1200 N Street, Suite 400, The Atrium
P.O. Box 98922
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-892

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Title 132 - Integrated Solid Waste Management Regulations, Chapter 2, section 011, that the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) is proposing to modify the permit issued to the City of Wayne, PO Box 8, Wayne, NE to modify their solid waste transfer station in accordance with Title 132, the Integrated Solid Waste Management Act and Nebraska Environmental Protection Act (Reissue 1999, Cum. Supp. 2006). The permit dates will not change. NDEQ has received a request to modify the permit from the City of Wayne Solid Waste Transfer Station at the site generally described as the NE ¼ SW ¼ NW ¼, Section 18, Township 26 North, Range 4 East of the 6th Principal Meridian, Wayne County, Nebraska.

The modification is to change the operator from City of Wayne to Gill Hauling, Inc., and other modifications to include: a)EPA phone number notification changed to 1-800-223-0425, b)vector control responsibility transferred to Gill Hauling, Inc., c)days of operation to exclude Tuesday (Monday, Friday and Saturday only), d)update the equipment listing.

Based on review of the modified permit application and the current compliance status of the City of Wayne Solid Waste Transfer Station, NDEQ proposes to approve the modification of this solid waste permit. Persons may comment upon the proposed permit modification, or may request a hearing by writing to David Haldeman, Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality, Suite 400, The Atrium, 1200 N Street, P.O. Box 98922, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-8922 by January 21, 2011. A request for a hearing shall clearly state the specific issues proposed to be raised at such hearing. After the public comment period and any public hearing, the Director shall make a final decision. The applicant and other interested persons shall be notified of the decision.

Copies of the draft permit, legal notice and administrative record are available at the City of Wayne Public Library, 410 N Pearl St., Ste A, Wayne, NE, at the Norfolk office of the NDEQ, 214 N 7th, Ste 4, Norfolk, NE, and at the Lincoln office of the NDEQ, 1200 N Street, Suite 400, The Atrium, Lincoln, NE between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. weekdays. Please notify the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality if alternate formats of material are needed by January 7, 2011. Contact telephone number is (402) 471-2186.
