For most soldiers, the choice on when to take leave from the military is not an option.

However, for Dan Reinhardt, an active member of the U.S. Army currently serving in Afghanistan, his 15 days of leave was scheduled so he could be in Nebraska for the birth of his son.

Things did not work out completely as planned, as Carter Daniel Reinhardt made his appearance on Feb. 23, before his father's leave was scheduled to begin on March 3.

"I was out flying a mission when I got a text message that my wife Lisa had a C-section and that Carter was born and was healthy," he said.

Reinhardt is now in Nebraska spending time with his wife and new son until his return on March 19. This will be the only time Reinhardt will be home until his one-year tour of duty is completed in November.

The son of Bob and Deb Reinhardt, he is a 2004 graduate of Wayne High School. Following graduation, he attended Wayne State College and Northeast Community College before enlisting in the Army in 2006.

"I attended Warrant Officer School at Ft. Rucker, Ala. and am part of the 10th Mountain Light Infantry Division. I am a licensed pilot, with both military certification and as a commercial helicopter pilot,"

School closer to move to consolidate buildings

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

The Wayne Community Schools is one step closer to consolidating the three school buildings into two after approving plans Monday to move forward with bid documents for the project.

Jon Carlson, with Carlson, West, Povondra Architects, was at Monday's meeting and presented information and drawings on the new construction and renovations to take place at both the Middle and High Schools.

It is anticipated that by the start of the 2012-2013 school year, students in grades kindergarten through sixth grade will attend classes at the current Middle School and students in grades 7-12 will attend classes at the current high school.

Three additional classrooms will be constructed at the middle school, several classrooms will be adapted to become kindergarten rooms and restrooms will be installed for both the new construction and for kindergarten use.

At the high school, a kitchen facility will be constructed, as will a vocal music room, media center and a number of classrooms.

The project includes 27,500 square feet of new construction, as well as renovation at both the middle school and high school. Anticipated cost of the entire project is approximately $4.2 million.

Prior to Carlson's presentation Board of Education President Carolyn Linster told those in attendance, "We want to publicly thank Mr. Carlson and those on the building and design committee for all of the time and input they have had into this project. I see this (approval of the contract documents) as the beginning of where we are going."

Also during Monday's meeting, the Board approved the hiring of Chelsee Marvin as a middle school instructor and Tucker Hight as a special education instructor.

The bid for the school's annual audit was awarded to Michael J. Pommer, CPA.

Gifts to the district included $2,000 from the Pamida Foundation and $200 from the Wayne Basketball Association.

The board listened to reports from the three building principals and Misty Bear, director of special education on activities planned in each of the areas in upcoming weeks.

City Council gives approval to update of building ordinance

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

The amount and the necessity of cash deposits in conjunction with building permits and awarding a low-interest loan with LB840 sales tax funds were debated during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

The city code, in regard to cash deposits connected to building permits, was changed in 2007 as a way to ensure that those involved with building projects obtained the necessary inspections throughout the project. As the ordinance was originally written, city officials had the option of waiving the deposit to certain contractors or building owners who had no violations of the requirements in the previous 12 months.

If all inspections are completed in a timely manner, the deposit is returned after the final inspection of the project.

City planner and inspector Joel Hansen told the council that during the time he has been in his current position, he has had two requests to waive the fee, which he denied, stating he felt the waiver would create the appearance of "playing favorites." He requested the ordinance be re-written to take out the option of waiving the deposit.

B.J. Woehler, representing Robert Woehler and Sons Construction, told the council that the fee "is a burden that doesn't make sense and is like charging a fine ahead of time. It punishes reputable contractors."

Council member Doug Sturm noted that if the inspections are completed and the deposit returned, the money is not spent.

"Where is the cost, if the money is returned. You are not losing money if you get the inspections," Sturm said.

Following debate, the council voted 5-2 to approve the ordinance on first reading. Council members Kathy Berry and Brian Frevert voted against the change.

The ordinance will be read again at the council's next meeting.

In a related item, the council voted to lower the amount of the cash deposits. In the future, a building project of less than $50,000 will require a $100 deposit, and a project over $50,000 will require a $250 permit.

Dr. Dennis Jensen spoke to the council on his request for a $43,019 low-interest loan to DJR LLC/Inet Library for start-up costs for the business.

Dr. Jensen told the council that he had originally started the business in Wayne in 1992, and at one time it employed 144 people. The company was sold in 2002 and later bought back by Dr. Jensen in 2008.

He explained the nature of the business and told the council that he is awaiting contracts to provide services to Nigeria. He anticipates the hiring of 15 people initially for the business and five additional

County board gives nod to new carpet, computer

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

New carpet and an updated computer will soon be found in the county courthouse after the Wayne County Commissioners gave their blessings to those purchases Tuesday.

The board approved the purchase and installation of new carpeting to replace the worn and outdated carpeting in the offices of the county clerk and county treasurer.

County Clerk Deb Finn and County Treasurer Karen McDonald told the board that $10,000 had been budgeted this fiscal year to take care of the carpeting. Both offices and the floors of the vaults in each department can be covered at a cost of just more than $6,000, and the carpet could be laid during the first two weekends in May after the close of business on those respective Fridays.

The board also gave its blessing to the purchase of a new computer to replace a credit card payment system in the county treasurer's office that is outdated and can not be upgraded.

McDonald said the credit card system is used often by taxpayers to take care of motor vehicle licensing payments, as well as property taxes, and is too slow in processing payments. A computer McDonald now uses at her desk will replace the old system, with the new computer going to McDonald's office.

In other action, the board:

- approved a lease agreement for the postage meter at the courthouse, an upgraded system that connects directly to the Internet and allows for easier downloading of postage by the county.

- heard a report from emergency manager Nic Kemintz on an upcoming storm-spotting training event scheduled for Monday, April 4 at 7 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall.

- approved a lodging tax application of $100 for the Carroll Q125 Spring Fling.

- received a memo from the state regarding bridge load posting signs that are needed on several bridges that were sampled at random by the Nebraska Department of Roads. The county approved bid specifications and authorized the solicitation of bids for those signs.

- approved a request to place a utility line in the county road right-of-way near

City Council Meetings

Regular City Council meetings are at held at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at Third and Pearl Streets.

Wayne Green Expo

The Wayne Green Expo is scheduled for Saturday, April 9 in the City Auditorium.

Energy is getting complicated. Coal is a target of EPA because of air quality issues. Oil drilling has been stopped in the Gulf and offshore. Future nuclear power is at risk because of the recent Japan plant failures. Wind power is intermittent when the wind stops blowing. Natural gas has the best future if EPA doesn't begin to restrict fracturing of the underground to release the gas. Future hydropower through dams on U.S. rivers is environmentally prohibited.

We have had the luxury of all these in large, cheap quantities in the past.

Do you have a plan for yourself as our old standbys are slowly being lost or becoming extremely expensive?

This is a complex, critical topic concerning our future standard of living. Are we relying on the federal government to find the answers?

What can we do for ourselves to prepare for the higher energy costs ahead? How can we insulate ourselves from the poor decisions of others and the simple market pressures from competing countries?

The Green Expo will have some ideas for long term sustainability of our resources that can help reduce the impact of the changes that are already on the way.

Join us at the auditorium on April 9 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Humane Society offers spring tips for pet owners

With the first day of Spring officially around the corner, pet owners and pets alike are looking forward to getting outside after a long, cold winter. The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society would like to offer suggestions for outdoor activities and remind all pet owners to keep the safety of their pets in mind with all activities.

With the warmer temperatures, outdoor activities will provide healthy mental and physical stimulation for pets as well as provide health benefits for their owners. Studies show that the top benefits of being a pet owner include lower blood pressure, lower cholesterol levels, happier moods, longer life-span, and a higher survival rate after a serious illness.

The following activities and tips are suggested for you and your pet while enjoying the great outdoors.

Animals can get into trouble in the water just as children can. Never leave your pet unattended near bodies of water and if you have a pool, make sure it is not accessible to your four legged family members. You may wish to consider putting your pet in a life vest if you will be on water. Be sure to take bathroom breaks for your pet.

With all activities, it is important to ensure that your pet's vaccinations are current. Outdoor activities can expose them to viruses and illnesses just as humans are exposed.

Life preserving training to be offered at Wayne State College

A program entitled "Life preserving Training" will be held on Friday, March 25 at Wayne State College.

The event will run from 8:45 a.m.-12 p.m. in the Elkhorn Room of the Student Center. It is open to campus staff, students, mental health practitioners, nurses, social workers, community support agencies, law enforcement, clergy, survivors of suicide and anyone interested in suicide prevention.

Three hours of CEU's will be provided for mental health practitioners, nurses and social workers.

The program opens with QPR Training (Question, Persuade and Refer) Gatekeeper training for suicide prevention. It will be presented by Arnold Remington LMHP, CPC, Program Director of the Targeted Adult Service Coordination in Lincoln.

At 11 a.m. Andres Sandoval will present "Choices."

Sandoval is the Outreach Coordinator at Norfolk Community Health Care Clinic.

He works directly with those in crisis and at risk of suicide on a day to day basis. He also works with law enforcement, providing training and assisting with their response to these individuals and with Region

V and the state of Nebraska on program goals and monitoring of how behavioral health reform is impacting communities

The Targeted Adult Service Program is a collaboration of agencies created as a direct result of LB1083, Behavioral Health Reform. It is designed to work with Law enforcement by providing crisis response teams to help identify resources to divert Emergency Protective Custody Placements. We also provide emergency case management, intensive case management services, bilingual bicultural service coordination and recovery support services.

Following Sandoval's presentation, those in attendance will hear updates from the Northeast Nebraska Coalition for Suicide Prevention and Education, which will be presented by the Coalition members.

The event sponsored by the Department of Health And Human Services, University of Nebraska Public Policy Center, Northeast Nebraska Coalition of Suicide Prevention and Wayne State College. For more information, call (402) 644-7351.

State treasurer looking to return unclaimed property to Nebraskans

In addition to the familiar Andersons and Johnsons and Petersons who populate Nebraska's 93 counties, some other big names are showing up in the 2011 list of unclaimed property owners, to be published in 16 Nebraska newspapers in March and April.

There are institutions of higher learning, major health care centers, banks and insurance companies, public and private entities, and the biggest businesses in the state. As well as hotels, restaurants, doctors' offices, and ordinary citizens. In all, the Unclaimed Property Division of the Nebraska State Treasurer's Office is holding property valued at more than $100 million for more than 350,000 Nebraskans or former Nebraskans.

"One of my priorities as State Treasurer is to return unclaimed property to its rightful owners. I encourage all Nebraskans to look for their names in our newspaper publication or check our website at www.treasurer.org," State Treasurer Don Stenberg said.

Meaghan Aguirre, director of the Unclaimed Property Division, said that unclaimed property could be in the form of stocks, dividends, utility deposits, mutual funds, lost IRAs, matured CDs, and unused gift certificates. The property also could be in the form of court deposits, payroll wages, refunds, commissions, dormant accounts, and safe deposit boxes.

The 2011 list includes names of people and organizations with funds reported to the Unclaimed Property Division during the past year; most entries were only recently added to the list. This year's list includes an estimated 25,000 names and represents almost $20 million in unclaimed property.

Once a year, according to state law, the Unclaimed Property Division publishes the names of people and organizations for whom the state is holding unclaimed property. This year's 28-page publication was published in the Omaha World-Herald, and will be published March 19 in the Norfolk Daily News and March 20 in the Lincoln Journal Star.

Aguirre suggests that readers look for their own names as well as the names of relatives, businesses, and friends in the tabloid publication. The names are listed by last known county of residence. All claims are verified by the Unclaimed Property Division staff. Readers who find their names or the names of their businesses or of deceased relatives should use one of the following methods to file claims:

- Call the Unclaimed Property

Division at (877) 572-9688 toll free outside of Lincoln or (402) 471-8497 in Lincoln. Phone calls are taken between 8 a.m.-5 p.m., weekdays.

- Complete the claim form found inside the front cover of the newspaper tabloid and mail to the State Treasurer's Office, Unclaimed Property Division, 809 Street, Lincoln, Neb. 68508-1390. That form will need to be notarized.

- Check your name on the Nebraska State Treasurer's website at www.treasurer.org. Type your name in the box on the home page, or click on the Search for Unclaimed Property link in the left navigation pane. In many circumstances, owners may be able to file their claims online through the website.

Officers' attorneys receive accusation details from city

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Attorneys for two Wayne police officers who were suspended for a variety of accusations made by the city administrator have received details of the allegations that led to their suspension one month ago.

Chief Lance Webster and Lt. Phil Shear were both placed on paid suspension by city administrator Lowell Johnson on Feb. 17 for a variety of charges, including inappropriate conduct, unauthorized use of city recording equipment, excessive use of city-owned computer and cell phone equipment and fostering a negative environment within the police department.

Details of those accusations were not available, but Lincoln attorney Jerry Pigsley, who is representing the city in this matter, told the Herald late Wednesday afternoon that attorneys for both Webster and Shear received the materials last Tuesday, March 8.

"At this point, it's up to Mr. Shear and Mr. Webster and their attorneys to get in touch with Mr. Johnson as far as when they want to present their side of the story," he said.

Pigsley said it was not known when Johnson would meet with the two suspended officers, but once the meeting is held and Johnson renders a decision, the officers would have 10 calendar days to appeal the decision. If an appeal is filed, the Civil Service Commission would hold a meeting 10-20 days after the appeal is filed to hear all the evidence and provide the final decision to the issue.

"The hearing would be a public meeting, and witnesses and documentation will be presented by both sides and a decision would be made by the Civil Service Commission," Pigsley said.

Until that happens, Pigsley said the city would not comment further on the matter, citing a desire to protect the rights of all individuals involved, as well as the city.

Attempts were made to contact Sean Brennan, Webster's attorney, and Steven Delaney, who is representing Shear, but those attempts were not successful at press time.

UNO decision could send football players to WSC

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

It was an unexpected buzzing of the cell phone that surprised Wayne State football coach Dan McLaughlin.

On the other end was a member of the Nebraska-Omaha football team, calling to ask if McLaughlin had any possible opportunities to play football at Wayne State next fall. The student-athlete called hours after finding out the UNO football and wrestling programs were being cut as part of a cost-cutting move that would allow the school to move to the NCAA Div. I level.

McLaughlin said the move was a shocking one that was going to affect a lot of students and coaches.

"It involves 100 kids and 10 coaches in football, and another 30 wrestlers and three coaches in wrestling," he told a gathering at Tuesday's Catbacker luncheon at The Max. "One of the assistant coaches is one of Scott's (assistant coach Scott McLaughlin) best friends, so it's a really tough deal."

McLaughlin said he got the phone call from the UNO player at around 11 a.m. Sunday.

"We have talked to some kids that have called us," he said after the luncheon. "When, all of a sudden, you don't have an opportunity to play anymore, you have to look at other options."

Some of the players McLaughlin has talked to are kids who he and his staff recruited. Some of the players had ultimately had to choose between UNO and Wayne State and opted for the Mavericks.

"Some of these kids are kids that we've recruited, and ultimately it came down to either us or UNO and they chose UNO, so they are familiar with us," he said.

Word of the sudden move by UNO has exploded nationwide, and McLaughlin said it's like a feeding frenzy as schools look to bring in UNO players looking for a new place to play and finish their college degrees.

"I talked to their director of football operations Sunday, and he said they've had 85 schools from all over the country call, so we're certainly not going to be overrun by UNO students," he said. "These kids are immediately eligible, so there's a lot of interest in these players and whether or not we get any of these kids, I don't know."

"It's a sad situation, though," he added. "I feel for those people. We'll just have to see how it shakes out."

David Seay, an accomplished musician and storyteller from Avoca, Neb., will be featured at the Wayne Optimist Club's Celebration of the Arts, scheduled for March 27 at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The event starts at 3 p.m., and will honor students from the area who make the world a better and brighter place through visual, literary, applied or performing arts.

Each year, two elementary students, two middle or junior high students, and two high school students from 11 area schools are nominated by their principals, with help from fine arts and classroom teachers, to receive this recognition.

Schools participating include Wayne Community Schools, Allen, Emerson-Hubbard, Laurel-Concord/Coleridge, Pender, St.

Mary's Catholic, Wakefield, Winside, Wisner-Pilger and Wisner Zion-St. John Lutheran.

Seay's program, "The Tradition in Traditional Folk Music," combines his passions for music, history and storytelling. His presentation features demonstrations and stories of folk instruments, including the harmonica, penny whistle, Indian flute and other instruments.

The council voted unanimously to approve the low-interest loan and plans to discuss whether additional funding could be granted in the form of a performance-based loan.

Council members unanimously approved a resolution that will award a bid for the purchase of a four-wheel drive cab and chassis truck for the Public Works department.

Garry Poutre, public works superintendent, explained the specifications of the truck and noted that the truck that it will be replacing has served the city since 1977.

"When I look at the cost of the new truck ($92,475), I divide that out for the years of service it will provide. I fully expect the new truck to last as long, or longer, than the old one," Poutre said.

The bid does not include the box or snowplow that will be mounted on the truck. These will be purchased separately, and Poutre noted that the cost for these items could be included in next year's budget.

In other action, the council approved the applications of Kelsey Rewinkel and Chris Jones for membership to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. The two are Wayne State College students.

Acting as the Community Development Agency, the council voted to release a lien on Lot 6 in Western Ridge. The property is owned by Lou Benscoter.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, April 5 at 5:30 p.m.

Daryl Schrunk, elementary principal, told the board that staff at the elementary school continues to work on determining which math textbook series will best fit the district's needs. He said a decision will be made by April 1.

He invited all those in attendance to the Wayne Education Boosters Carnival on Friday, March 25 from 5:30-8 p.m. in the middle school gym.

Bear noted that testing of students continues to take place, and several members of the SPED department have attended workshops in recent weeks.

Rocky Ruhl, middle school principal and athletic director, told the board that spring athletic practices have begun and competition will begin March 17.

Wayne will host the Mid-State Conference Quiz Bowl on Monday, March 28 at the middle school.

During the superintendent's report, Mark Lenihan explained some of the legislative action currently being debated that could affect the Wayne school's funding for the next fiscal year.

He also showed a power point of information on Rachel's Challenge, a program focusing on how the death of one of the students at Columbine High School has had a positive impact on students throughout the country.

Lenihan said that while the program is costly, he would like to find a way to bring it to the students of the Wayne community.

Board member Ken Jorgensen encouraged Lenihan to "go to the business people of the community. I, for one, would be willing to write a check to bring this program to Wayne."

A State of the School address is planned for Monday, March 21 in the high school gym. At this time, the public will be able to learn more about the planned construction/renovation project, as well as learn about other issues relevant to the upcoming school year.

The next regular board meeting will be held Monday, April 11 at 5 p.m. at the high school.

Reinhardt said.

In October of 2008, just after his marriage to Lisa Oberle of Winside, Reinhardt was deployed to Iraq and spent a year there.

He is now based at Ft. Drum in upstate New York. The couple has a home there; however, Lisa has been living with her parents in Winside since Christmas, awaiting the arrival of the couple's baby. She intends to return to New York later this spring.

In Afghanistan, Reinhardt flies an Apache Low Bow (AH64 Delta) helicopter on what he terms "quick reaction missions."

"We respond to troops under fire, provide security for medi vac helicopters and fly on reconnaissance mission, looking for the enemy. We are the security force and our helicopters are very intimidating" he said.

Reinhardt said he works 14-hour shifts, and "some days we do nothing and some days we spend 11 hours in the air. As the weather in Afghanistan gets warmer, the terrorists will go on their springtime offensive and become more active."

The base on which he is stationed is approximately the size of the city of Wayne. It is comprised of U.S. soldiers, civilians from the United States and soldiers from other NATO countries.

Among Reinhardt's responsibilities before being deployed to Afghanistan was packing up the unit's equipment and clothing.

"In July, all the equipment was packed into seaway containers with alarm systems and customs seals on them. While being transported, there was an incident along the Pakistan/Afghanistan border in an area that was not protected. Someone broke open the seals on the containers, removed everything that was inside and sealed them back up."

Reinhardt said he felt responsible for the stolen items, so he contacted family and friends in the Wayne area asking for underwear and T-shirts for those in his unit. The community responded with approximately 20 boxes of clothing, "which were very appreciated."

Reinhardt said it is difficult comparing his deployment in Afghanistan with that of his deployment in Iraq.

"I was in Iraq after the surge of American troops. By that time, the country was fairly calm. In Afghanistan, the country is continuously at war. It is now in the middle of a surge of troops and people are waiting to see what will happen. It seems the people are more difficult to protect," he said.

In addition to spending time with his wife, son and family, Reinhardt's other goals while being in Nebraska include eating lots of food, including fast food from local restaurants.

"Having a 10 1/2-hour time difference makes it difficult to talk to people. While at home I want to do that, as well as enjoy being able to wake up with my wife and my son."

Seniors end with quite a two-year run

Got a lot going on in our little corner of the sports world, so let's get crackin':

While it was a disappointing end to the season, the Wayne State women's basketball team have had a fantastic season in 2010-11, and it's been quite a run for the four seniors who played their last game Saturday in Colorado.

The three four-year seniors — Alyssa Fischbach, Julie Ann Wagner and Mara Hjelle — have been a part of three NCAA tournament teams and had a hand in both tournament wins in the program's history. Renee Wood, who transferred here after her sophomore year, never lost a game at home. The team won an NSIC tourney and regular-season title and went 52-9 during the past two seasons.

While the team's aspirations are much higher — what they've accomplished these last two years is certainly nothing to sneeze at. And while they lick their wounds from Saturday's loss, you can bet this is a program that isn't going to rest on these already-lofty laurels and will be in the mix for a national title next year.

Don't know if you realize this or not, but the Wayne High boys basketball team pulled off a rare double this season.

The Blue Devils beat two teams that went on to win state titles last week at the state boys basketball tournament, and beat them both soundly. Wayne knocked off Norfolk Catholic by 20 points in the district finals, and enjoyed a 41-point blowout of West Point Central Catholic, who won the Class D-1 title, late in the regular season.

Both wins, oddly enough, avenged losses earlier in the year. Imagine, if you will, Chris Kielsmeier leading the Wayne State women's basketball team to a national title, then getting a phone call just hours after the big win from athletic director Eric Schoh, informing him that the girls basketball program is being eliminated.

That's exactly the phone call received by the wrestling coach at UNO after he led the team to its third straight Div. II national title this past weekend in Kearney. The Mavericks' wrestling program — winners of six of the last eight NCAA Div. II titles — and the football program are being gutted in an effort to move UNO to the Div. I level, where they would play in the Summit League (a conference that features South Dakota, South Dakota State and North Dakota State, among others).

Believe it or not, this controversial move could have an impact here at Wayne State, although none of the programs have to worry about elimination. At least one current UNO football player has contacted Wayne State coach Dan McLaughlin about transferring here, and more could be on the way, depending on how much scholarship money the school has available.

It should be noted, though, that there are more than 100 football players at UNO looking for a new home, and at Tuesday's Catbacker luncheon, McLaughlin said more than 85 schools are going after the currently-homeless players.

Wayne State is taking the classy approach to what has been a classless move by the UNO administration. If only Wayne State was in a position to start a varsity wrestling program — they could inherit an instant national championship-caliber team representing the black and gold.

Speaking of college wrestling, congratulations to Tahner Thiem of the Wayne State club wrestling team, who earned All-American honors at the National Collegiate Wrestling Association's national club tournament last week in Macon, Ga.

Thiem, a former wrestling coach himself and a current mixed martial arts competitor, finished

Slow start kills team's title hopes

DURANGO, Colo. — Wayne State's hopes of making an Elite Eight appearance for the first time in school history came up short.

The third-seeded Wildcats got out of the gate slow in Saturday's semifinal against the second-seeded Metro State Roadrunners, who ran away in the first half and never let the Wildcats get in the game, eliminating Wayne State in a 74-55 outcome that ended the Wildcats' 26-4 season.

Metro State got off to a quick start, making five of their first seven shots from the floor to take a 10-2 lead. After a slow start, Wayne State caught fire and made five of their next six shots to pull within two at 15-13 with 12:00 to play in the first half.

That's as close as Wayne State would get the rest of the night, as the Roadrunners held the Wildcats scoreless for the next 4:19 and built a 24-13 lead, extending it to 20 by halftime.

"For whatever reason, this team has consistently started games really well, and in the entire postseason we didn't start any game well," a disappointed coach Chris Kielsmeier said. "It was disappointing because we have an experienced starting lineup and it was something we were focused on, but we just didn't start well and it's hard to overcome starts like that when you're playing against really good teams."

Metro State shot 57 percent from the field in the first half, and continued their stellar shooting for most of the second half, never allowing Wayne State to get closer than 16 points.

"There's a reason why they're 27-2 and ranked No. 10 in the nation, because they're a really good team, and when you're playing in Colorado against Colorado schools, it's an advantage for them," he said.

Metro State held a 49-29 advantage on the boards, but the rebounding numbers didn't tell the whole story, Kielsmeier said.

"Where we lost it is Metro made plays and executed, and we didn't," he said. "It was very similar to the Winona game (in the NSIC See HOPES, Page 4B

Wayne High baseball set for its comeback season

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

It's been more than a quarter century since high school baseball has been played in Wayne.

Next week, the boys of summer will bring back the old days of spring baseball, as the Wayne High baseball team makes its debut next Tuesday at Fort Calhoun, two days before their home opener against Pender.

A talented roster of 32 players has co-coaches Jeff Zeiss and Kevin Finkey busy getting ready for the school's first season of spring baseball since the mid 1980's, and both coaches are looking forward to the start of the revitalized program.

"It's been really exciting right now," Finkey said while putting athletes through sprint drills. "These guys aren't used to throwing a ball with snow on the ground, but the kids are really looking forward to it.

We've got some amazing numbers and a lot of talent, so I think we have a good program going."

That there are so many kids looking to play high school baseball in Wayne this spring was of no surprise to Zeiss, who serves as the coach of the summer American Legion program.

"When we were making the presentation for baseball to the school board, we knew we'd have 25 or more kids out, and we got a few extra that we weren't expecting," he said. "We'll be able to field both a varsity and JV team this year and we have some talented freshman coming in, so I'm excited about the upcoming season."

The Blue Devils aren't being presented with many favors on their first schedule, as Wayne will face some solid baseball programs that include South Sioux City, Norfolk, Seward and Wahoo/Raymond Central.

Second-half surge eliminates Wayne

By MICHAEL CARNES

LINCOLN — Coming out of the locker room at halftime, Wayne still had hopes of knocking off the No. 1 team in the state tournament.

Grand Island Central Catholic took care of those hopes in the first three minutes of the second half, going on a 10-3 run in the first three minutes of the game to take control and go on to a 58-48 win over the Blue Devils in the first round of the Class C-1 Boys State Basketball Championships Thursday at See SURGE, Page 2B

Brungardt leads WSC All-Americans

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — The Wayne State women's track and field team had four All-American finishers and scored 15 points as a team at the NCAA Div. II Indoor National Track and Field Championships.

The 13th-place finish was the highest ever for a Wayne State track team at an NCAA national tournament, and coach Marlon Brink was thrilled with his kids' performances.

"It was a tremendous weekend, probably the best in school history in terms of what we did at the national meet," he said. "I was really excited for the kids to be able to have that kind of weekend. It's what they've been shooting for all indoor season, and to see that become a reality is great for them."

Nicole Brungardt earned her second All-American finish in as many days Saturday by placing fifth in the 60-meter dash. She entered Saturday's race as the fourth-fastest qualifier with a school-record time of 7.47 seconds in Friday's preliminaries and posted a time of 7.56 seconds in Saturday's finals. On Friday, she also placed fifth in the long jump at 18 feet. See ALL-AMERICANS, Page 3B

"We're Class B in baseball and we'll be playing some schools that will be Class A in the summer, so it's going to be a challenge," Finkey said.

"We're a first-year program, but we're not backing down from anybody," Zeiss added. "I appreciate (Athletic Director Rocky) Ruhl getting us the schedule we've got. There is some tough competition that we'll face that is going to make us better, and we're not going to be intimidated by anybody."

Right now, the hardest part for the coaches has been getting outdoors for practice. The team has yet to step foot on the still-saturated infield and have been working on fielding drills and running in the outfield in preparation for next week's season opener.

"I wish we had two more weeks," Zeiss said. "Usually, we start in April to get ready for the summer, but this is a group of kids that have played a lot of baseball and they know the game. I'm just happy we were able to get some practice done indoors at the Armory, and I can't think John Wren and the staff there enough for letting us practice down there. We were able to get a lot of fundamental things accomplished, and the kids are working hard."

It will be an interesting dynamic in the dugout as well, as Finkey and Zeiss are serving as co-head coaches this season, an arrangement that,

"We have strengths that compliment each other, and he knows the kids well from a baseball standpoint, whereas I know them from seeing them in the weight room at school," Finkey said. "We both have a good feel for what the kids are capable of, and I'm comfortable coaching with Jeff as I have been with anybody."

"It's been awesome working with Kevin," Zeiss added. "We both think a lot alike on a lot of things, and we're both able to do our thing and have a great working relationship. I'm having a lot of fun, and I expect to have a lot more fun."

Finkey said he expects Wayne's first-year program to play more like a group of seasoned spring veterans this season, thanks to the players' past experience and the success they had during the winter sports season.

"I have high expectations for them, and I know coach Zeiss does as well," he said. "With the success carrying over from basketball and wrestling, this isn't going to be like a first year. I think it's something we're going to pick up on right away, and we anticipate we're going to be in every game and play well."

Pitchers sweep NSIC weekly awards

Wayne State's pitching staffs dominated the weekly honors from the Northern Sun Conference this week.

Katie Goetzinger was named the NSIC Softball Pitcher of the Week. She posted a 5-2 record last week with one save and a 0.89 ERA for the Wildcats on their spring trip to Clermont, Fla. The week was highlighted by Goetzinger's third career no-hitter, a 1-0 win over Mansfield (Pa.) on Friday.

Reid Lancaster was selected the conference's Baseball Pitcher of the Week. It's the first time the senior from Norfolk has been honored. He threw a complete-game two-hit shutout, whiffing a career-high 12 batters while allowing one walk in Thursday's 5-0 win over Bellarmine (Ky.) at the Southern Indiana Dunn Hospitality Baseball Tournament in Evansville, Ind.

Pershing Auditorium.

The Crusaders rode the hot hand of Turner Fahey, who scored a game-high 30 points and came to life in the third quarter with a pair of baskets, including a 3-pointer, that sparked the key second-half run.

"We didn't come out and attack defensively, and they came out on fire and we didn't respond well by answering the attack on the offensive end," coach Rocky Ruhl said.

The Blue Devils battled the Crusaders tough throughout the first half. A 3-pointer by Gage Rethwisch tied the game midway through the first period at 5-5, and two free throws by Seth Onderstal made it 7-7 with two minutes left in the period.

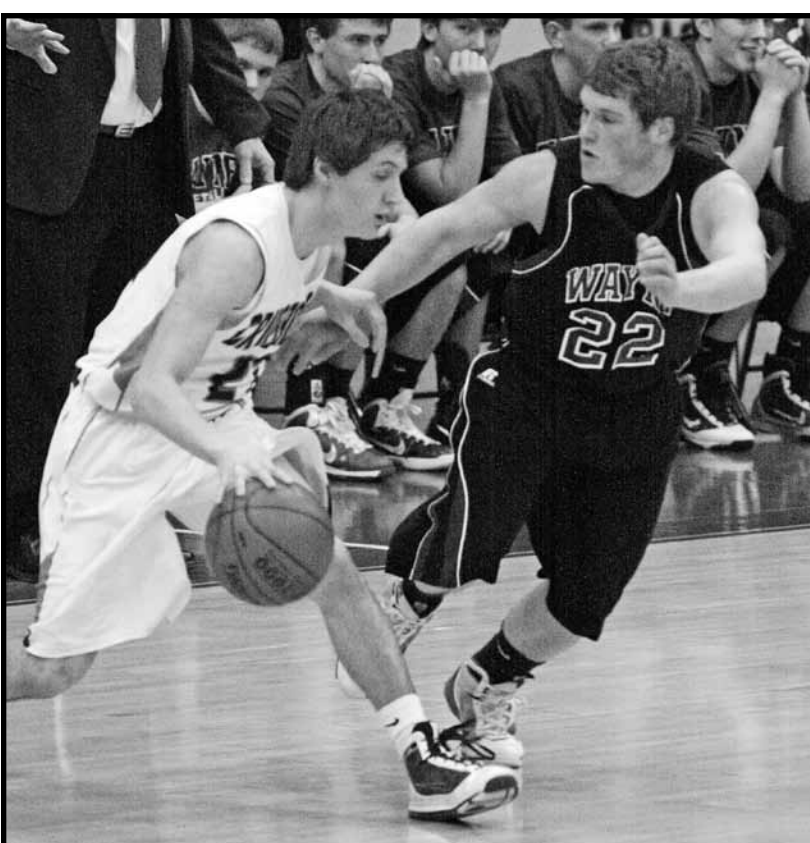

The Crusaders got a break late in the period to take the lead for good. Fahey hit a free throw with 2.3 seconds left, and a loose ball on a missed foul shot gave the Crusaders the ball with less than a second left. The inbound pass was lobbed inside to Patrick Stoltenberg, who hit a quick shot at the buzzer to give GICC a 10-7 lead after one period.

The Crusaders took advantage of some Wayne turnovers in the second period and extended their lead to eight points before a trifecta by Rethwisch cut the Crusader advantage to 22-17 as the two teams headed to the locker room.

Fahey got the Crusaders started in the second half with his two baskets, and a 3-pointer by Tyler O'Connor made it 32-20 and forced Ruhl to call a quick time out to try to stop the momentum. Wayne got a basket by Brady Soden and a trey by Jalen Barry to get within nine points, but Fahey hit a basket and two free throws to move the Crusader lead back to 13 points.

Wayne continued to battle, though. They got within six points late in the game, but the Crusaders hit four free throws in the final minute to put the game out of reach.

"It was a two-possession game with a minute left, and we were hoping that if we could get a stop and get a shot and get another steal, then who knows," Ruhl said. "(Fahey) gets a lot of calls because he's so good, but our kids fought hard and we did everything we could to come back."

Onderstal was the lone Blue Devil in double figures with 17 points, while Rethwisch added eight, Keegan Dorcey scored seven and Soden added six.

It was the final game for seniors Onderstal, Dorcey, Justin Anderson and Jacob Zeiss, and Ruhl said he was proud of the leadership they showed, particularly down the stretch.

"When we look back at the conference tournament, where we dropped two straight, we lost both those games in the fourth quarter," Ruhl said. "Instead of staying in the tank, they came back and worked their butts off and got us to state, and they've started a tradition and did an excellent job for us.

"I'm proud of all our guys," he added. "We got a little behind and tried to find a way to come back, and we just couldn't get over the top. But I'm really proud of these guys. We've got a good group of kids coming back, and if we want to be good we've got to keep working to get better."

Logan Creek Pheasants Forever 2011 Wildlife Habitat Program

In conjunction with the USDA general CRP sign-up period beginning March 14th and running through April 15th, Logan Creek Pheasants Forever in Wayne County announces it's open enrollment for the 2011 Wildlife Habitat Program. Opportunities are available for landowners who want to convert or improve portions of their land for wildlife habitat. These opportunities include:

- Adding to Federal / State subsidies
- Providing funds and/or in-kind incentives
- Free grass / forbs / shrub seed
- Enrollment incentives for 2011 CRP sign-up
- Stream buffer establishment
- Pheasant nesting cover establishment
- Customized habitat improvement projects

Projects subject to approval and available funding. Participation in this program is not dependent on hunting access. Projects of all size considered.

All-Americans

 10 3/4 inches to earn All-American honors in that event, and as part of the 1,600-meter relay team that finished eighth, she became the first Wayne State track and field athlete to earn three All-American trophies in one meet.
 "Katie Wilson got two in 2008, so Nicole was the first to qualify in four events and the first to get three All-Americans," Brink said. "Everything she did went well. She set a school record in the 60 and 200. She's a tremendous athlete."
 Brink said he wasn't sure if Brungardt could compete at that high a level after not being involved in track since her high school days at Norfolk Catholic.
 "Having been away from track for three years, I wasn't sure if she would be able to perform at that level, and she actually raised that level," he said. "She has improved beyond where she was in high school, which isn't the easiest thing to do when you've been away from it that long."

 Senior sprinter Christina King started the weekend with a sixth-place finish in the 400-meter dash to earn her first All-American honor. She entered Saturday's finals with the fifth-fastest qualifying time of 55.47 seconds and ran 55.54 seconds in the finals for her sixth-place finish. It was her second-fastest time ever in the event.
 Junior Paige Pollard earned an All-American finish with a sixth-place medal in the 800-meter run. Pollard entered Saturday's final with the third-fastest qualifying time at 2:12.42, a new school record. She ran a time of 2:12.60 in Saturday's final to earn her first NCAA Division II All-American honor.

 "They've both been to nationals before and came away with nothing, so for them to actually reach their goals was satisfying for us to see," he said. "It's one thing to go there, but it's another to leave with some hardware and I was happy for those girls."
 The last event of the day for the Wildcats was the 1,600-meter relay team, placing eighth in a time of 3:51.31 to earn one All-American honors. The quartet of Brungardt, King, Pollard and Erin Klein entered Saturday's finals with the sixth-fastest time in the nation at 3:48.43.

In men's action, junior Ross Bunchek earned All-American honors Friday with a sixth place-finish in the 35-pound weight throw. He is the first Wayne State indoor track and field All-American since Matt Kneifl earned All-American honors in the 55-meter hurdles in 2001.
 Bunchek had a top throw of 65 feet, 4 1/4 inches in the finals on his second throw and fifth throw of the day. He was the lone qualifier for the Wayne State men's team at nationals.
 "Last year, he went to Div. III nationals and came away with nothing, so for him to get All-American honors was great to see," Brink said. "He's really excited for that, and now he's looking forward to the outdoor season."

Baseball goes 3-3 on Indiana road trip

The Wayne State baseball team went 3-3 on its annual road trip to the Southern Indiana Dunn Hospitality Baseball Tournament in Evansville, Ind.
 The team showed improvement from its season-opening series at Kearney, according to coach Brian Disch.
 "Overall, we played much better than we did that first weekend," he said. "Our pitching staff was a major concern, and I felt they responded well and gave us a chance in every game."
 Defending national champion Southern Indiana defeated Wayne State 5-2 Wednesday. The game originally started on Tuesday, but suspended with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning due to rain.
 The Screaming Eagles took the early lead, scoring two runs in the first inning and one more in the second. Wayne State got two runs in the third inning to cut the Southern Indiana lead to 3-2. Michael Samuel and Josh Nielsen had back-to-back singles and Braulio Acosta was hit by the pitch to load the bases with one out. Redshirt freshman centerfielder Luke Farrar singled up the middle to score Samuel and Nielsen.

 Southern Indiana increased their lead to 5-2 in the fifth inning with two runs. Wayne State threatened in the eighth, but were unable to score after leaving two runners in scoring position in the eighth inning.
 Josh Nelsen took the loss, giving up five runs on seven hits with five strikeouts and four walks in five innings. Nielsen went 2-for-4 with a run scored and Farrar had two runs batted in to highlight the offense.
 "It's nice to see we were competitive with the national champions, but right now we need to improve on defense," Disch said. "You can't make two errors in a game against good teams and expect to win."
 Senior pitcher Reid Lancaster came through with a much-needed complete game effort, tossing two-hit shutout to lead Wayne State past Bellarmine (Kent.) 5-0 Wednesday evening.
 Lancaster finished with a career-high 12 strikeouts and gave a tired pitching staff a much-needed night off, Disch said.

 "He pitched well when we needed him to," he said. "When you get to the fifth game of a trip, your bullpen is spent and you've used your starters, so to get a complete game really saved our pitching and gave us some confidence."
 Mike Bisenius and Justin Beranek had RBI singles to get Wayne State all the runs they'd need in the first. They added another run in the fourth when Bisenius, Beranek, and Slade Bolles each singled to load the bases and redshirt freshman C.J. Nolen smacked an RBI single to left, scoring Bisenius. They added two more runs in the fifth to finish the win.
 Bisenius was 3-for-4 on the night with an RBI and a run scored. Beranek and Ritzdorf each added a pair of hits.
 On Friday, Wayne State finished up with a 10-4 win over Illinois Springfield, as Farrar and Bisenius each recorded three hits while junior starter Austen Wisroth worked five strong innings.

Wayne State took the lead for good with a six-run fourth inning. Big hits in the inning included a two-run double by Farrar, an RBI double from Beranek and run-scoring singles by Brett Keim and Bisenius.
 Wisroth worked five innings in the start to earn the win, allowing six hits and two runs with three strikeouts and one walk.
 "Mike is hitting the ball well right now for us, and Luke has been a big kid for us as well," Disch said. "He didn't play much at Kearney, but he got a chance out there and took full advantage of it."
 Wayne State is scheduled to play their home opener Saturday against Bemidji State in a non-conference doubleheader at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex starting at 12 p.m.
 "I hope we can improve defensively," Disch said. "A lot of the errors we're making are plays we can make, and it's something we'll focus on."

Goetzinger no-hitter highlights 7-2 effort

The Wayne State softball team split a pair of games on the final day of their spring trip at the National Training Center Spring Games in Florida.
 Wildcat senior pitcher Katie Goetzinger threw a no-hitter in a 1-0 win over Mansfield (Pa.) and then the Wildcats fell to No. 24 Bloomsburg (Pa.) in the second game of the day 2-0.
 In the first game, Wayne State scored the lone run of the game in the top of the sixth inning. The Wildcats scored the lone run of the game when Hannah Engelkamp singled, advanced to second on a passed ball and went to third on Blaire Kuhl's single. Engelkamp then scored the only run of the game on a passed ball.
 Wayne State had just four hits in the game, but that's all the support Goetzinger would need, as she struck out eight and walked just one batter. Kuhl finished 2-for-3 while Dani Sandel and Engelkamp also had hits.

 In the second game, Bloomsburg second-team All-American Shavaun Fisher outduelled third-team All-American Goetzinger as Bloomsburg posted a 2-0 win. Bloomsburg scored solo runs in the first and seventh innings in the win.
 The Wildcats finished 7-2 during their spring trip down south, and coach Krista Unger said the team showed improvement over their season-opening struggles in Colorado.
 "We played some very good competition and beat a couple of ranked teams," she said. "Katie pitched great, Hannah had a hot bat all week, and we got some good performances offensively. The big thing, though, was that we played solid defense, and that helped make our pitching staff that much better."

 Unger said the team needs some more work defensively, particularly in the infield, but she liked the way her freshman pitchers have thrown, especially early on without Goetzinger in the lineup.
 "They pitched well enough to win out in Colorado, but our defense didn't play as well behind them," she said. "They're getting the hang of it, and I think we'll be OK. There's still some work to do, but I think our freshman pitchers can be great pitchers for us."

Wayne State, 8-7, returns to action on Tuesday, March 22nd when the Wildcats host Nebraska-Kearney in a 2 p.m. doubleheader at the Pete Chapman Softball Complex in Wayne.
 The doubleheader with the Lopers, along with next weekend's matchup at home with Missouri Western, will be a good measuring stick for where the Wildcats stand, Unger said.
 "UNK is always big because it's Kearney, and Missouri Western has kind of had our number lately and are nationally ranked, so we're looking forward to that," she said. "I think we're headed in the right direction."

semifinals), and Metro made their shots and we got some good looks and didn't hit those shots. You can't allow a team to shoot what they shot, and we shoot what we shot, and expect to win the game."

Senior center Mara Hjelle led Wayne State with a game-high 24 points, going 12 of 23 from the field in her final game in a Wildcat uniform. Junior forward Ashley Arlen also reached double digits with 12 points. Cassandra Bratton scored 20 points to pace Metro State, followed by Alyssa Benson with 12 points and Jasmine Cervantes with 10.

The Wildcats won an NCAA tournament game for only the second time in school history on Friday, shooting 62 percent from the field in the second half and rallying from a six-point deficit in the final six minutes a 78-73 victory over Colorado Christian.

"I was extremely proud of our players," Kielsmeier said of the win over the Cougars. "It was one of the nearest games I've ever experienced, because our players fought the entire night. Christian was playing really well, and we found a way to get it done."

As they did Saturday, the Wildcats got off to a slow start and trailed 13-5 before Ellen Hansen and Julie Ann Wagner came off the bench to give the Wildcats a lift. Wagner hit a pair of 3-pointers and Hansen added a basket to give Wayne State a 21-20 advantage with less than six minutes to go in the half.

Colorado Christian came back to take a one-point lead at the half, and after Arlen hit a trey and Hjelle found the basket, Wayne State took a 36-32 lead. Colorado Christian responded with a 13-4 run to take a seven-point advantage, but Wayne State came back and tied the game at 47-47 on an Alisha Brown basket with 12:15 to go.

It was a game of runs after that. Colorado Christian went on a six-point surge, but the Wildcats battled back and tied the game at 64-64 on a 3-pointer by Claire Duwelius with 3:58 left. That fueled the Wildcats' rally, as Wayne State scored on three straight possessions after the Cougars took their final lead at 66-64. Arlen hit a three and a basket, Hjelle added another jumper and Duwelius hit a 15-footer from the right corner with :21 left to seal the deal. Alyssa Fischbach put the game out of reach with two free throws after a steal with 5.7 seconds to go.

"We made a great run to end the game, and it was one of the biggest wins in the history of the school," Kielsmeier said. "We needed to get that one to get over the hump, and once we did I thought we'd settle in and play well."

Arlen, the Northern Sun Conference Player of the Year who was also named the Central Region Player of the Year, scored a game-high 21 points. Fischbach added 12 points while Duwelius and Hjelle scored 11 points apiece.

It was the final game for seniors Hjelle, Fischbach, Wagner and Renee Wood, and Kielsmeier said he was disappointed those seniors couldn't have ended the season on a higher note.

"There are a lot of reasons why this is disappointing, but we wanted them to experience more because they're such a committed, focused and determined group of seniors," he said. "What they did in their four years, I would think, is the best four-year run of any group of seniors in this program. They are responsible for the only two NCAA wins in the program's history, they were in the NCAA's three of four years and they were 52-9 the last two years, which has to be one of the best two-year runs in Div. II.

"They put it all out there and gave the program everything they possibly could give, and they're great people and are going to make wonderful things happen in this world," he added. "I really want this group to be remembered for what they did and what they accomplished, and not where they fell short."

Kielsmeier said he's very optimistic the team can make another strong run at a national title.

"We've got a ton of talent back and a lot of players that played a lot of minutes for us," he said. "We have some young players with a lot of talent that need experience, and we have some freshmen coming in that will have a chance to contribute right away."

"We'll have a great team next year and have a chance to go after a national championship again next year," he added. "We need to work to close that gap between where we are now and what we need to do to win a national championship."

Arlen is regional

Player of the Year

Wayne State junior Ashley Arlen was named Daktronics All-Central Region Player of the Year.

It's the second straight season that Arlen has been selected to the All-Region first team. She was joined by senior center Mara Hjelle, who received second-team honors.

Arlen was named the Northern Sun Conference Player of the Year. She averaged 16.4 points and 8.6 rebounds per game this season, ranking third in the NSIC in scoring and second in rebounding while also ranking eighth in blocked shots per game (1.04).

WHS weight room

to be open soon

The Wayne High weight room will be open starting Monday, March 21, from 6:45-7:45 a.m. for in-season athletes until school concludes in May. Those not in spring sports will lift after school from 3:45-5 p.m.

Programs for each athlete will be available from Tim Fertig, Wayne High weight coordinator.

Carroll man wins

three national titles

Randall Olson of Carroll teamed up with runners from Colorado, Georgia, and New York to win three national championships in the USA Masters National Indoor Track and Field Championships recently.

Sports Shorts

Olson anchored the 800-meter relay as they set a new American record for non-club teams. He ran the 2nd leg of the 1,600- and 3,200-meter relays.

Olson is now preparing for the world championships, which will be held in Sacramento, Calif., in July. He will be running for Team USA and will be competing against 212 other countries and some 12,000 athletes as they challenge each other for the Gold Medal.

Wayne sixth girls third at tourney

The Wayne sixth-grade girls finished third at a tournament in Grand Island recently, going 2-1 in their bracket with wins over Hastings STC (27-13) and Waverly (23-18) and a 17-12 loss to Beatrice.

In the win over Hastings, Morgan Keating had nine, Allison Echtenkamp scored eight, Melinda Longe had five, Shanda Lambert and Gabbi Lutt both had two and Hanna Belt scored one.

In the loss to Beatrice, Keating led with six, Longe had five and Lambert scored one.

Against Waverly, Keating led with seven, Longe and Echtenkamp each had five, Belt had four and Kourtney Keller scored two.

Lindsay is NAIA All-American

Erik Lindsay, a 2007 graduate of Pierce High School and a senior at Briar Cliff University, earned All-American status at the NAIA National Indoor Track Meet.

Lindsay ran a school record time of 8.11 in the finals of the 60-meter hurdles, which gave him a fifth-place finish. This was the fourth time Erik has qualified for the national meet and his first All-American honor.

Lindsay is the son of Al and Jane Lindsay of Pierce and the grandson of Larry and Jeanne Lindsay of Wayne.

Don't get me started

Oh, the irony in Iowa

Since we'll be feelin' green in the morning - here's a St. Patty's Day purging of the "Bits and Pieces" file:

- Found in the "Oh, the irony" folder: officials of a now-closed center for problem gambling in Iowa are having trouble explaining an audit that found more than $114,000 in improper spending, including an extra $38,000 being paid out to the center's director.

Included in the audit were $29,000 in improper travel allowances, more than $4,800 in vacation payouts and unsupported purchases on the center's credit card totaling more than $41,000.

Draw your own conclusions, but that must've been one heck of a weekend in Vegas.

- My pick for the "Dumb Criminal of the Week" goes to the guy in Norfolk who was busted for driving under the influence.

Generally, most DUI busts come somewhere on the road. This guy, though, made the officers' work much easier by being tagged in the parking lot - at the Norfolk Police Division.

The man's downfall came when he stopped by to file a complaint about a woman, who also happened to be in the station's lobby at the time. The two argued and officers separated the pair.

The man left and was backing his vehicle out of his parking stall when he was stopped by officers, who detected the smell of alcohol on his breath. He was arrested for DUI, no proof of insurance and no valid operator's license.

Letters

Kudos for Progress edition

I love the "Now Showing" special edition published as a supplement to The Wayne Herald. In 50-100 years from now, it will provide some great finds for someone searching for history of what will then be more of the colorful past of Wayne, America.

For the past couple of years, I have been assembling some of the stories from the past, mostly for my own interest and to put information in one place for easy reference.

With all the interest in our new and improved theater, I couldn't help noticing on Page 16 the ad for the Gay Theatre, reprinted from the 1984 special edition celebrating Wayne's 100th anniversary.

The picture of the theatre was incorrectly dated 1937. The movie on the marquee is "Stallion Road," starring Ronald Reagan. That movie was produced in 1947 and played at the Gay Dec. 14-16, 1947. In that same photo, note the streetlights that were replaced by the city in 1950. They were very similar to our new streetlights on Main Street. Martin Ringer sold his insurance business in 1955, and the barber at the time was a man named Orrie Birdsall. The Lone Star Ranger was shown in April of 1930.

Along with that ad is an ad for a movie starring Fatty Arbuckle in "Brewster's Millions" from 1921. An interesting story just on its own. Actually, this movie - and others with Arbuckle - were never shown in Wayne and were banned in many theaters across the country. Fatty was involved in a murder plus scandal in San Francisco that ended his career. Elmer Gailey, the owner of the Chrystal at the time, cancelled all the movies that had anything to do with Arbuckle. The Chrystal was renamed the Co-Ed about 1941, and the last movie advertised at the Co-Ed, that I have found to date, was in 1953, a double feature: "Rex, King of the Wild Horses" and "The Harlem Globetrotters."

In the picture of the Co-Ed theatre, the marquee says "closed for the season," probably because the Dude Ranch Drive-In was open for the summer in 1952.

The interesting part to me is that so much information can be gleaned from just one top of the page display. From my point of view, this is a tribute to The Wayne Herald over the years, and the historical information that our local newspaper provides. This new issue will provide a great historical record in the future.

LINCOLN - Goodbye Arizona. Hello Utah!

The controversial bill that would have had Nebraska adopt an Arizona-type law to crack down on illegal immigrants has been shelved by the Judiciary Committee. That's that, at least for 2011.

The committee is instead looking at a law passed by the Utah Legislature. It would ask the feds for permission to issue work permits to illegal aliens. To qualify, those in the country illegally would have to survive a background check, pay a fee, and show proof that they have health insurance.

The view from here: Are you serious? How many people who are in the country illegally have health insurance? For that matter, how many American citizens don't have private health insurance?

In the face of the continuing controversy over illegal immigration the Judiciary Committee decided that what's needed is a study.

Stay tuned for 2012 and the next installment.

Local Governments

Lose State Aid

The Legislature has enacted Gov. Dave Heineman's plan to eliminate $44 million in state aid to cities, counties and natural resources districts over the next two fiscal years.

The locals virtually begged lawmakers and Heineman not to do it. The aid was initially established to compensate the locals for some of the tax revenue they lost when the state gave away much of their tax base via tax breaks to business.

Abortion Puts

Nebraska In The Spotlight

Legislative Update Legislative session is at halfway point

The Legislature is halfway through its annual legislative session, and we will soon finish all committee hearings. Nebraska's unicameral system requires a hearing for every bill introduced. We are just finishing the 698 hearings, and will soon begin all day debate on bills that have been advanced from the various committees.

Senators and committees were asked to choose priority bills, which are the bills designated as the most important of all those introduced. There are approximately one hundred priority bills selected every year: each senator selects one bill (49); each standing committee picks two bills (28); and the Speaker of the Legislature selects 25 additional bills. This year, I introduced one bill (LB508), which will be heard before the Judiciary Committee next week. Since my bill has not been heard yet, I decided to select another bill that I believe to be very important.

My 2011 priority bill is LB521, a pro-life bill introduced by Sen. Tony Fulton of Lincoln, which would prevent abortion providers from absently administering chemical abortions through use of webcams. Planned Parenthood currently uses webcams in sixteen Iowa satellite facilities to perform chemically induced abortions.

Because Planned Parenthood of the Heartland serves residents in both Nebraska and Iowa, there is a concern that webcam abortions will become available in Nebraska, too. I am a very strong believer in the right to life, and want to do all I can while serving as a state senator to stop abortions in this state. This bill is a step in the right direction, and I am hopeful that it will pass this year. The bill received a public hearing on March 9, and will be discussed by the Judiciary Committee soon.

One bill that was debated on the legislative floor this week is LB419. The bill is Sen. Dave Pankonin's of Louisville's priority bill, which would increase the Nebraska Game districts should be able to deal with whatever problems they face due to receiving fewer state and federal dollars this year.

A check of headlines from around the state indicates many, perhaps most, are dealing with it in part by reducing the number of teachers and staff.

School districts benefited the last few years from enormous sums of money sent to the states through the federal stimulus program. The states knew those federal dollars would only last for a specific period. Some, like Nebraska, used the money to balance state budgets by passing some of the federal dollars on to school districts - thus reducing the amount of actual state dollars spent for that purpose.

And there you have it.

Go ahead and feed the baby
Nebraska recently joined the overwhelming majority of states in which it is specifically legal for a mother to breastfeed a child in public.

The law says a woman may breastfeed a child "in any public or private location where the mother is otherwise authorized to be."

Legislative Update

By Dave Bloomfield
State Senator, District 17

and Park Commission's annual park entry permit fees. Annual permits would increase to $25 from $20, and daily and duplicate park permits would go to $5, up from the current $4 fee. All of these increases are 25 percent increases. The bill advanced to Select File (second round) by a vote of 29-4. I was one of the four who voted against the bill. At a time where we are asked to tighten our budgets and cut programs, I cannot support this increase.

A 25 percent increase is a significant increase, especially considering the fact that fees increased five years ago. (That is a four percent annual increase.) A representative from the Game and Parks Commission has said that if the fee increase does not pass this year, some state parks may have to be closed. If we cannot maintain the state parks we have, perhaps we should stop spending money to acquire more land that the state cannot afford to take care of. Perhaps there are parcels of land that could be sold back to private owners either for development or other use. Returning some of this property to private owners could also return it to the tax rolls. There are some real questions in my mind as to how once irrigated farmland has been converted to a weed patch for wildlife. I don't believe the public ownership of real estate is in Nebraska's best interest - especially if we can't take care of what we already have.

I would like to congratulate the Homer Girls Basketball Team for winning the C-2 state girls championship game last week. The ladies played in excellent games during the tournaments, and were able to successfully bring home the championship trophy. The victory is even sweeter knowing that it is the first time in school history that the Homer girls won the championship game. I also want to congratulate the South Sioux City boys and the Wayne boys teams for earning their way to the state tournaments this week. Good luck to all.

Change sometimes difficult to embrace

Well, the state basketball tournaments are over, and the post-season college tournaments begin on Wednesday. The excitement begins!

I can tell I'm getting older by the way - I no longer embrace change! Lately, I've had to realize my wallet was in bad shape and I should be thinking about getting a different one. The Vermont Country Catalog had a neat one, with free shipping, so I ordered it. Of course, when you order from a catalog, you don't actually see it.

I can't say I'm disappointed in it, but it's different! And it's so stiff; my cards come out with tugs, and I'm having trouble keeping the checkbook in it. The cash/coin containers are totally separate, and require a zipper, and I still open the other side first; until I realize they aren't there!

It's really a nuisance, and the Big Farmer was even sympathizing with me the other day, saying he doesn't like breaking in a new one, either. Which explains his lack of enthusiasm when we give him one for Christmas.

My purse is big and heavy and I've realized I don't use most of the stuff in it when I have it along, so have been just carrying my wallet most days.

On Sunday, we were sleepy from the time change, and hungry for fried chicken. Lazily, I drove to the grocery store deli instead of frying one myself. Before I left the store, I bought a cup of Caribou coffee and sat down to drink some of it. Then, balancing the Styrofoam containers and the coffee. I made it to the car. I was halfway home when I realized I had left the wallet!

By: Pat Meierhenry

Boy, that was a fast trip back. The barista smiled and said it was at Customer Service, and it was. Thank goodness for honest people. The last time I did that was about 10 years ago, in the parking lot of Menard's. There, some honest souls took it inside, too.

I get a kick out of Caribou coffee; besides the fact that it's tasty, it has some cute marketing. Their slogan is: life is short, stay awake for it. Lately, their cups have been printed with "things we stay awake for", as sent in by customers.

My cup contains things like: A goodnight text, Being walked by my dog, Running through the sprinkler, Long nights under greasy cars, Playing peek-a-boo with my son, Summers on Lake Minnetonka, and Swan Lake performed by a 7 year old in a pink tutu! Now, aren't those cute?

I have to admit, the coffee and the chicken did not keep me awake! We had to take naps to compensate for the short night! Wonder what excuse I can use next week?

Members of the Conference Championship speech team included (front) seniors Tara Bjorklund, mascot: Hubert, Victoria Nelson, Ryan Conyers and Henry Ventura, (middle) Kristyna Muller (manager), Hannah Paxton, Valeria Perz, Darien Gustafson and assistant coach Jenna McAfee, (back) Brenda Gallardo, Lauren Barge, Sydney Rose, Samantha Bierbower, Tianna Gnat, Torie Allemann, Mercedes Greve and AnnaLeigh Miner. Create strategies to build rural communities

Many rural communities in Nebraska continue to face depopulation. Though communities may continue to get smaller as years pass by, they can develop solutions to attract new residents and thrive.

The first step in the process is to find out why people move to or leave a community.

Communities can conduct their own research. Simple surveys distributed to new residents can provide a wealth of information. Another tactic is to bring small groups of new residents together and ask questions about their relocation process, such as "How did you find this community? Was it what you expected? What one thing helped make your move easier?" Answers to these basic questions can help the communities better market themselves to potential new residents

When people are looking to relocate, they often get the first impression of the community through a local website. Families often look at different community sites to try and find one that fits their wants and needs. By doing a quick search online, families wanting to relocate can see which communities look like a good match and which ones don't. Unfortunately, many community sites don't give enough information or the right kind of information to potential new residents.

It is very important for rural communities across the country, and especially in Nebraska, to get noticed and not bypassed in this initial screening process. The way to avoid being overlooked is to find out what information potential new residents want and by having a marketing strategy that incorporates these wants. If people do find relevant location information and they like what they see, they will be more likely to search further to find out more about the community.

Kim Bearnes

There is potential for rural communities in Nebraska to become more involved as they work together on marketing not only their individual community, but their region. Families looking to relocate value good schools, a nice downtown or Main Street feel, good community infrastructure and an agricultural base. The challenge for Nebraskans may be to do a better job of letting potential residents know the good communities are in rural Nebraska.

Navarro — Bargholz

Christina Beth Navarro and Dustin Paul Bargholz, both of Wayne, have announced their plans for an April 30, 2011 wedding at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The bride-to-be is a 2007 graduate of Wayne High School and a December 2010 graduate of Wayne State College, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Human Service Counseling and minor in Criminal Justice. She is presently employed as direct support staff/med aide at NorthStar Services and as client advocate at Haven House, both in Wayne.

Her fiancé is a 2006 graduate of Wayne High School and May 2008 graduate of Northeast Community College in Norfolk where he earned an Associate of Applied Science degree in Electronics Engineering Technology. He is employed as a networking and copier technician at Western Office Technologies in Norfolk.

5 Tips to get your home ready for selling this spring.

Spring is in the air and you are thinking about selling your home. Now is the time to spruce up your home and make it stand out on the market!

1. Curb appeal: This is your first impression, create an inviting front. Pick up any debris or clutter in the yard, trim bushes, and touch up paint if needed. Also clear sidewalks and be sure buyers can read the house number.

2. Clean, Clean, Clean: A house that shines will sell faster than a house that needs attention. Buyers can look past many things, but when a house is in need of a good cleaning, the price goes down. Your efforts in this area are directly related to the selling price and days on the market.

3. Tackle the Clutter: Less is more when it comes to getting your home ready to show. Buyers want to come in and see possibilities, but they can't do that with a ton of personal items staring at them. Pack up anything that isn't essential including: newspapers, personal photos, magazines, toys, and other little items.

4. Fix the small things: Buyers notice leaky faucets, holes in drywall, and door knobs that don't work properly. They may think where there is one problem, there are more. Fixing these items now can alleviate doubt later.

5. Unattach yourself from the house: The less emotionally attached you are to the house, the easier selling can be. Tell yourself it is time to let someone else enjoy the home and move forward. Visualize yourself in your new home!

Grace Ladies Aid holds March meeting

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid met March 9. First Vice President Kimberly Hansen called the meeting to order. Second Vice President Ellen Heinemann began with prayer.

Mrs. Heinemann conducted a memorial in honor of Marion Baier using John 11: 17-27 and in honor of Dorothy Meyer using John 14: 1-6. The memorial closed by singing "Abide With Me."

Roll call was answered by 18 members, Pastor Lilienkamp and guest, Lanora Sorensen. The minutes of the February meeting were read and approved as read.

A thank you note and a donation was read from the Dorothy Meyer family and a memorial card with a donation was read from Gary and Yvonne (Krallman) Manning given in memory of Marion Baier. A card of thanks and a donation was read from the Marion Baier family.

The Ladies Aid also received an invitation to a brunch and program on Saturday, April 9, at 9:30 a.m. at Zion Lutheran Church in Pierce. Featured speaker will be Lynette Brown of Oxford, presenting "Grandma's Apron Drawer," a nostalgic and humorous program with a message of strength, courage, and love of women from the past. There is a $6 cost which includes brunch and the program. To reserve a seat, call the church office at (402) 329-4313. Guests are encouraged to wear their favorite aprons.

Treasurer's report was read. It will be filed for financial review. LaVon reported that a $10 memorial was given each in honor of Marion Baier and Dorothy Meyer.

Committees:
Sewing: The ladies reported due to the inclement weather they were unable to sew on Feb. 24. The next sewing day will be March 24.

Kitchen: Barb Greve reported she did some cleaning in the kitchen.

Visiting: Joann Temme reported sending many cards and did some visiting. The new committee will be Ruth Victor and LaVon Biermann.

Funeral: Rhonda Sebade reported having severed three funerals. The new committee is made up of Rhonda Sebade, Betty Wittig, Cindy Echtenkamp and Bea Kinslow.

Seminary Student: A letter with photos was received from the Vogel family. Ben Vogel will be placed in a congregation on May 4 and will graduate on May 21. Esther Hansen will write this month.

New Business: Guest Day will be Wednesday, May 11 with a 9 a.m. brunch. Invitations and speakers were discussed. It was decided that Kimberly Hansen would contact Orphan Grain Train and invite them to speak about their work in Haiti. A guest list was agreed on. Invitations will go out as soon as everything is finalized.

A graduation gift for Vicar Vogel was brought up. It was tabled until April. Mites were collected and mite calendars handed out.

The birthday song was sung for Arlene Nelson and Pastor Lilienkamp. Each received a birthday cupcake.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 13 with Esther Brader and Phyllis Nolte hosting.

Pastor Lilienkamp gave a Bible study entitled "Taking a Stand to Kneel about Prayer." The group closed the meeting with The Lord's Prayer and the Table Prayer. Lunch was served by LaVon Biermann.

Joy Circle meets at Our Savior Lutheran Church

Our Savior Lutheran Church Women of ELCA Joy Circle met March 9 with Dorothy Wert opening the meeting with a few announcements and then she proceeded with the program for the afternoon.

She noted that Spring Gathering will be at Emerson with St. Paul's and St. Luke Lutheran Church hosting the event. It will be Saturday, April 16 and Pastor deFreese will be the Bible Study leader and Marci Broyhill will be the entertaining performer. Registration needs to be in by April 6. Tangible offering will be for Welcome House WSC Ministries of paper goods to be bought to church during the rest of the month of March and April.

Birthday greetings for Marian Baker and Arlene Ostendorf and wedding wishes were for Les and Elaine Menke were recognized.

Thirteen participants and five presenters went from station to station for the message of the cross. Presenters were Dorothy Wert, Virginia Backstrom, Karen VanDelden, Sue Olson and Phyllis Rahn.

The afternoon closed with a lunch served by Elaine Menke and Dorothy Wert.

The next Joy meeting will be Wednesday, April 13 making greeting cards and leaders will be Erna Karel and Dorothy Aurich. Hostesses will be Margaret Korn and Donella Johnson.

Charity Circle will be serving a Lenten Supper on Wednesday, March 30 with leaders being Joanie Baier, Debbie Bargholz and Kim Dunklau.

Tabitha Circle will meet Monday, April 25 and hostess will be Carolyn Vakoc and leader Kathy Johnson. Note the change of time to 7 p.m. Rebekah Circle will meet in April and leader will be Evie Schock and hostess Dorrine Liedman. Rachel Circle will meet Monday, April 4 at the Oaks at 1:30 p.m. with Rodella Wacker the leader.

Doris Martoz

Card shower requested for Doris Marotz

Doris Marotz of Norfolk will celebrate her 85th birthday on Thursday, March 17. A card shower has been requested in her honor.

Her family includes Kevin and Donna Marotz and Kurt Marotz, all of Hoskins. She has six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Cards may be sent to the honoree at 600 East Benjamin Avenue, Norfolk, Neb. 68701.

ages at 9:30 a.m.

The adult class is taught by Phil Pfaltzgraff and is an ongoing study and discovery of the truths in the Songs of Ascents; currently the class is studying Psalm 130 and learning that God hears when we cry to Him.

The morning worship service in the sanctuary at 10:30 a.m. opens with a time of praise and worship and the preaching of the church pastor, Rev. Joshua Potter. Pastor Potter and his wife Melissa drive from Sioux City each week.

Pastor Potter is in a series of messages entitled "Be Our Guest" and is teaching from the premise that "everyone is welcome!" There is always time for prayer for the needs of people in each of the services.

At 4 p.m. the Yeshua Ministries has their afternoon worship, featuring preaching by Sam Torres and also worship and children's ministry lead by Holly Torres. This service features worship and teaching in Spanish.

At 6:30 p.m. the evening service begins with Ernest Bratcher (Allen High School Senior) and Zach Fuoss (NE Community College student) leading the praise and worship. Sherry Pfaltzgraff will be teaching the evening Bible Study. The youth group will meet following the congregational singing.

The mid-week men's Bible Study will be held on Wednesday at 7 p.m. and the women's Bible Study on Friday at 7 p.m.

"Remember that you are always welcome at Praise Assembly of God Church (1000 East 10th Street) here in Wayne," said Pastor Potter.

Ericksons to observe 60th anniversary

Keith and Fern Erickson of Wayne will observe their 60th wedding anniversary on Friday, March 25.

Keith Erickson and Fern Piwenzky were married March 25, 1951 at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. The couple has four children, Denis and Tom Tiedgen of Lincoln, Vicki and Mark Carlson of Omaha, Pastor Michael and Jerri Erickson of Pampa, Texas and Scott and Brenda Erickson of Seward. They also have eight grandchildren and twin great-granddaughters.

A card shower is being requested by their family in their honor. Cards may be sent to them at 86393 575th Avenue, Wayne, Neb. 68787-8021.

Mr. and Mrs. Deck

Card shower requested

Myron (Mike) and Lou Deck will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on Friday, March 25.

A card shower in their honor has been requested by their family.

The couple were married March 25, 1951 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Stanton.

Their family includes Doug and Beth Deck, Scott and Nancy Deck and Hugh (Skip) Deck, all of Hoskins. They have six grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Cards may be sent to the couple at P.O. Box 178, Hoskins, Neb. 68740.

Wanted ... Church news

The Wayne Herald would like to print information and schedules from area churches.

All information submitted to the Herald by Monday at 5 p.m. (delivered to the Herald office) or emailed by 8 a.m. on Tuesday will be included in that week's edition of the paper.

Articles may be mailed to P.O. Box 70, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or emailed to clara@wayneherald.com

The Herald thanks its readers and area ministers for their cooperation in our effort to keep informed on the happenings at various churches.

Delores Lehman

Open house planned for Delores Lehman

An open house will be held Saturday, March 26 to honor Delores Lehman on her 90th birthday.

The event will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield.

Hosting the celebration will be her children, Ruth and Marlin Beckmann of Pender, Jan and Bruce Schut of Scribner and Mary Sebade of Frontenac, Kan. She also has seven grandchildren.

Her husband, Elmer, is deceased. The honoree requests no gifts, please.

Cards may be sent to the honoree at P.O. Box 114, Wakefield, Neb. 68784.

Siouxland Gardean Show, other events taking place in March

The Siouxland Garden Show is coming up soon and we don't want you to miss it. The show will be at the Marina Center in South Sioux City on Friday and Saturday March 18-19.

Over 50 exhibitors will showcase innovative products and services, 12 education seminars will be presented by regional experts and 18 "how to" sessions will be held. Topics include "Gardening For and With All Five Senses" by Martha Stewart Living Magazine Garden Expert Stacey Hirvela; "Growing Orchids at Home" by Barbara Andrewjeski; "Straw Bale Gardening" by Joel Karsten; "Organic Food Gardening" by Jan Riggenschick; and many others. There are plenty of activities for all ages.

This meeting is co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska Extension and Iowa State University Extension. It only costs $5 per person or $9 for a 2 day pass. Kids 12 and under are admitted free. Check the website at www.extension.iastate.edu/woodbury/news/gardenshow.htm for more information.

next Monday, March 21 at the City Auditorium in Hartington. The chemigation training will start at 1:30 p.m. This session lasts approximately 2 1/2 to 3 hours, and will certify you for the next four years. Unlike the pesticide applicator trainings, there is no fee for this training session. However, you will need to pass an exam at the end of the training.

Next Friday, March 25, we will be holding a "Marketing in the Middle" workshop at the Haskell Ag Lab in Concord. This program assists the producer in preparing his/her marketing plan through examination of marketing strategies, use of crop marketing contracts such as cash, futures, and HTAs, farm vs. commercial storage options, and basis. The program then examines crop expense outlook and projected gross margin levels as they affect farm net revenue and profitability. Producers will then be introduced to several marketing plan strategies and technical trading tools designed to take emotion out of the decision making process. This meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. and lasts about 2 1/2 hours. The cost is $10 for materials. Please pre-register at (402) 584-2234 before next Thursday. If we do not have enough registrations we will cancel the meeting.

Last, but not least, there is a beginning beekeeping workshop on Saturday, March 26, also at the Haskell Ag Lab. This workshop runs from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Registration fee for the workshop is $30 per person plus $10 each for additional family members. Registration includes lunch, refreshments, and a workbook for new beekeepers. Preregistration is required. Contact Jeri Cunningham, University of Nebraska Department of Entomology, at (402) 472-8678 or e-mail jjcunningham1@unl.edu.

4-H Ambassadors program begins, offering opportunities for college students

Nebraska 4-H Youth Development has established a new program, 4-H Ambassadors, for college students with previous 4-H experience to develop skills necessary for life after college.

The first ever Nebraska 4-H Ambassadors were selected earlier this year. They are:

- Amanda Keys of Elsmere, a freshman agribusiness major;

- Amanda Schutz of Arapahoe, a junior agricultural journalism major;

- Megan Loberg of Carroll, a junior family and consumer science education;

- Eric Miller of Lyons, a freshman agribusiness and animal science major;

- Dustin Renken of Bertrand, a freshman animal science major.

The foundation sent applications throughout the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's campus. Nearly 25 students applied, 10 were interviewed and these five individuals were selected.

"We look at these ambassadors as strong leaders and spokespersons for the 4-H organization statewide," said Stuart Shepherd, director of the Nebraska 4-H Foundation. "While we benefit from their leadership, we want to help them get ready for life after college and be successful in their career choices."

Keys said this is her way to give back to 4-H.

"We've grown and learned throughout the 4-H program," she said. "There are lots of ways to build leadership and responsibility, but this is our way because we are passionate about the 4-H program."

One area of focus for the program is to help those students build their resumes, interview skills, leadership, communication and organization skills, according to Shepherd. The other purpose is for the students to be advocates for Nebraska 4-H.

Schutz said that is one of the reasons she applied.

"I don't think I would be where I'm at today without 4-H," Schutz said. "For me, this is a way for me to share what 4-H has done for me and a way I can promote the program."

Molly Trausch, adviser for the 4-H ambassadors, said the program gives students the opportunity to build relationships with business professionals, legislators and youth across Nebraska while advocating for 4-H.

The ambassadors also will go to events such as the 4-H and FFA Golf Classic, Charity Shoot, Trail Ride, 4-H Camps and the Nebraska State Fair to host a 4-H alumni reunion. They will also serve as youth advisers on the Nebraska 4-H Foundation's board of trustees. Five more students will be added to the group in October, after new applications are distributed again on UNL's campus and interviews are held in September.

"I'm looking forward to working with our team," said Schutz. "I'm excited to see how we can be involved in the youth, what we can accomplish for the 4-H program and to share the message of 4-H with businesses."

4-H is part of UNL Extension in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The recently-selected 4-H Ambassadors include (front) Amanda Keys, Megan Loberg, Amanda Schutz (back) Eric Miller and Dustin Renken.

ADMINISTRATORS COFFEE

The public is invited to Coffee & Doughnuts on Wednesday, March 23. All are invited to visit with the teachers, administrators from 7:15-8:15 a.m. This will be a great opportunity to for everyone to socialize and be a part of the great school community.

RASTEDE SCHOLARSHIP

Sophomore and junior undergraduate college students who are graduates of Allen Consolidated Schools are encouraged to apply for the Alvin G. and Anita D. Rastede Scholarship available through the Allen School Foundation. To apply for this $2,000 scholarship, applicants must answer these five questions and send to Allen School Foundation, P.O. Box 190, Allen, Neb. 68710.

Questions: 1. What is your college grade classification and GPA? 2. What is your major and/or minor field(s) or study and career goals? 3. In what on campus activities/work and organizations are you involved? 4. In what off campus activities/work and organizations are you involved? 5. How will this scholarship be beneficial to you and why are you deserving of it?

One scholarship will be given and must be used during the 2011-2012 college year for undergraduate studies. The recipient will be notified by April 30 and he/she (or a representative) will be required to attend the May 14, 2011, graduation ceremony for formal recognition.

WILMES SCHOLARSHIP

Last summer, the community of Allen lost a teacher, mentor and friend in Mr. Tom Wilmes. For over 35 years, Tom helped to shape his students through teaching industrial arts and agricultural education. He had a unique way of connecting with all the students.

In an effort to help future students reach their full potential, a committee has been formed to start a scholarship fund in honor of Mr. Wilmes. This scholarship will be awarded annually to one student at graduation. All students showing an interest in agriculture or the industrial arts along with scholastic achievements and strong ties to FFA will be considered. The committee asks that anyone interested in helping to contribute to the "Tom Wilmes Memorial Scholarship Fund" send their contributions to Allen Consolidated School, PO Box 40, Allen, Neb. 68710 - Attn: Wilmes Scholarship Fund.

If you have any questions you may contact Kathy Boswell, Allen Alumni Director.

NINE PATCH QUILT CLUB

Nine Patch Quilt Club met at the Fire Hall on March 5 for a work day and business meeting. Eight members were present. Most of the morning was spent sewing blocks into a quilt top. The completed quilt is to be donated to the Senior Center for their yearly fundraiser.

Discussion at the meeting included changing the 2012 award at the Dixon County Fair to a quilt incorporating nine patch instead of the current quilted item with appliqué.

Upcoming events include the Nebraska Shop Hop, March 31 to April 10; Sioux City Quilt Show in September; and Quilt-a-Fair in Sac City, Iowa, Sept. 24 and 25. Shop Hop on Wheels will be Sept 17-18.

Information is available at The Quilt Shop in Wakefield. Several members displayed current projects for Show and Tell.

The next meeting will be Monday, April 4 at the Senior Center at 7 p.m. Visitors and new members are always welcome. For further information contact Sharon Brentlinger, President, or Jean Morgan, Secretary.

ALLEN ALUMNI REUNION

All graduates of Allen Consolidated Schools will be receiving an invitation soon to attend this summer's reunion. The festivities will begin on Friday evening, July 1 with a "Social" at the Fire Hall. The banquet will be held Saturday evening with special recognition given to the 50-year classes of 1950 and 1951 and all attending veterans.

Memorial fireworks will follow at the Isom-Hill Athletic Field. The Allen United Methodist Church plans to honor veterans at its church service on Sunday, July 4, followed by a free-will donation meal in the church parking lot. All activities are open to the public.

LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary Floyed Gleason Unit 131 met March 14 with 10 members present.

President Megan Kumm called the meeting to order, followed by the Chaplain leading a prayer. Secretary's report was given and accepted. Roll call was "What signs of spring have you noticed?" Treasurer's report was given and approved. A newsletter was read from Department President Charleen. She gave members tips for interviewing Girls State Candidates. Members made some suggestions on how to create interest in Girls State in 2012. The District 3 convention will be at Laurel on Saturday, March 19 starting at 8:30 a.m.

March is community service month. Members told about different kinds of community service they have been involved in.

Unicameral updates were read that pertain to the Legion. LB284 would require protesters to be 500 ft. back at funerals. LB318-321 concerns the Homestead Exemption cutback. LB 115 relates to Veteran's Aid Income funds.

Auxiliary dues remain the same - $4 for juniors and $16 for adults. There are 85 members to date.

The group has been asked to turn in ink cartridges and cell phones to raise funds for soldiers.

Everyone has been asked to help with the pancake breakfast on Sunday, March 27. Three baskets of groceries will be raffled off and cookbooks will be offered for sale. Linda McDonald and Donna Schroeder will serve in April.

A decorated cake was served along with pot luck to celebrate the Legion's birthday. The chaplain closed with prayer.

HUNTER EDUCATION CLASS

Hunter Education Class will be held on April 12, 14, 19 and 21 from 7-10 p.m. at the Martinsburg Community Hall (the old school house.) Students must be 12 years or older and must attend all four sessions. For more info call one of the following: Monte Roeber, (402) 635-2334; Doug Smith, office (402) 635-2129 or home (402) 945-2833; Charlie Mahler, (402) 945-2951; or Bob Kumm, (402) 635-2052

Broadband forum scheduled in Northeast region on March 23

A meeting, scheduled in Norfolk, on March 23, 1 to 4 p.m. at the Lifelong Learning Center will focus on specific needs and strategies for increasing broadband adoption and utilization of broadband to strengthen economic development and maintain quality of life.

During the session, survey results and broadband mapping data will be discussed as well. The Lifelong Learning Center is located at 601 East Benjamin Avenue.

"Broadband can be a powerful tool in advancing Nebraska's urban and rural economy. Increased adoption of broadband will maintain an educated workforce, create new opportunities for existing business, and assist in attracting new employment opportunities to the state. Broadband availability and adoption is essential to the future of Nebraska", states Nebraska Public Service Commissioner Jerry Vap.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in engaging in the conversation about broadband adoption and utilization. Your input is critical to the development of a regional plan.

Public Service Commissioner Rod Johnson believes that "Broadband is a powerful tool that will be critical in preserving the rural economy, in attracting new employers, in growing existing business, and in maintaining a qualified, educated workforce."

The Broadband Forums are part of the federal broadband mapping project funded by the U.S. Department of Commerce's National Telecommunications and Information Administration, whose goal is to increase broadband access and use. The grant was awarded to the Nebraska Public Service Commission, which has worked with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Nebraska Information Technology Commission's Community Council, Nebraska Department of Economic Development and the AIM Institute.

According to Tim Schram, Public Service Commissioner - "Broadband is vital to our economic future and global competitiveness, and is a key component to achieving our education, healthcare, energy, and public safety goals."

For more information on the Northeast Broadband Forum, contact Carroll Welte, University of Nebraska Extension Educator at cwelte1@unl.edu or (402) 374-2929.

Amber Lutt earns degree

More than 200 candidates completed their degree requirements at the University of South Dakota in Vermillion this past summer. Amber Rae Lutt, daughter of Mike Rhonda Lutt of Wayne, was one of the candidates.

Amber graduated Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and minors in Spanish and Disaster Response. She is currently employed by Little Angels Preschool in Aurora, Colo. and will be attending graduate school at the University of LaVerne, Calif. this fall.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Ostendorf and Duane Lutt, all of Wayne; and Cheryl Holliday of Orchard.

Pigg named to Dean's List

Jessica Pigg of Laurel, a junior majoring in Education and Human Science, nutrition, pre pharmacy, was named to the Dean's List at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln for the fall 2010 semester.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must have been enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student had to maintain a GPA of 3.75 or higher on a 4.0 grading scale.

Jessica is the daughter of Kent and Bernita Pigg of Laurel.

Katie Stoltenberg

Stoltenberg named to President's List

Katie Stoltenberg of Carroll, a freshman nursing student, has been named to the Bryan LGH College of Health Services President's list for the fall 2010 term.

The President's list is composed of students who were taking 12 credit hours or more and received a 4.0 grade point average (GPA).

Katie is the daughter of Verlyn and Holly Stoltenberg of Carroll and a graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School.

BryanLCH College of Health Sciences offers a Master of Science in nurse anesthesia degree, Bachelor and Associate of Science degrees with majors in general sonography and cardiovascular technology. Three areas of specialization in cardiovascular technology offered are: adult cardiac sonography, vascular sonography and invasive cardiovascular technology.

Optimist Club participates in cancer campaign

The International Childhood Cancer Campaign (CCC) was created to meet the needs of young people with cancer.

Many people are unaware of how devastating childhood cancer can be to young people and their families in North America alone. Cancer is the number one disease killing children today, killing more children than asthma, diabetes, cystic fibrosis and AIDS combined. One in every 330 U.S. citizens develops cancer before the age of 20.

Each year the Wayne Optimist Club helps a childhood cancer recipient from this area. Throughout the year, residents will see CCC containers in various businesses in Wayne.

Optimist International has been supporting this project by matching funds from the local Optimist Club annually. This fund began in 2001 to provide support to children with cancer as well as the patient's families, health care providers and childhood cancer research.

"We appreciate the many businesses that have allowed us to display these containers. We say thank you also to the many people who have donated money in these containers. It is now time for us to make use of these dollars. We are now looking for a recipient in need," said Lynette Krie, a member of the Optimist Club who is assisting with this project.

Any young family who has a child who is presently going through treatments and is in need of financial assistance, transportation, medical and or meals is asked to contact the club. The contact person for Wayne Optimist Club is Lynette Krie (402) 375-8828.

Nominations now being accepted for 2012 One Book One Nebraska Book Selection

The Nebraska Center for the Book (NCB) invites recommendations for the 2012 One Book One Nebraska book selection.

The Nebraska Center for the Book will consider books written by a Nebraska author (living or dead/with current or former residence in the state), or that have a Nebraska theme or setting. Books should have a broad appeal to readers across Nebraska and lend well to group book discussion. Books may be fiction, non-fiction, biography, memoir, or poetry. They must be in print and readily available. The Center for the Book strongly suggests that anyone who nominates a text should have read it.

Book recommendations should be sent via e-mail www.nlc.state.ne.us/scripts/mail/mail2staff.asp?ready by June 15, 2011. Recommendations may also be sent via the U.S. Postal Service to The Nebraska Center for the Book One Book One Nebraska, c/o Nebraska Library Commission Reference Services, 1200 N Street, Suite 120, Lincoln, Neb. 68508-2023.

The Nebraska Center for the Book will announce the 2012 One Book One Nebraska choice at the Fall Nebraska Center for the Book Celebration, which will include a 2011 One Book One Nebraska Program, Jane Pope Geske Award and Nebraska Book Awards Ceremony, and NCB Annual Meeting.

For information about One Book One Nebraska, including current and previous book selections, see centerforthebook.nebraska.gov/programs/onebook_archive/2011.html or join us on <http://www.facebook.com/#!/NebraskaBookFestival>

The Nebraska Center for the Book, Nebraska Humanities Council, Nebraska Library Association, Nebraska Library Commission, and other statewide organizations sponsor One Book One Nebraska to demonstrate how books and reading connect people across time and place. In 2011, Nebraska communities will come together through literature in community-wide reading programs to explore Local Wonders: Seasons in the Bohemian Alps, a non-fiction work by one of Nebraska's best-loved authors — Nebraska's own Ted Kooser, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in Poetry and U.S. Poet Laureate (2004-2006).

The Nebraska Center for the Book, a coalition of individuals and organizations, is housed at the Nebraska Library Commission and brings together the state's readers, writers, booksellers, librarians, publishers, printers, educators, and scholars to build the community of the book, supporting programs to celebrate and stimulate public interest in books, reading, and the written word. The Nebraska Center for the Book is supported by the Nebraska Library Commission.

As the state library agency, the Nebraska Library Commission is an advocate for the library and information needs of all Nebraskans. The mission of the Library Commission is statewide promotion, development, and coordination of library and information services, bringing together people and information.

The most up-to-date news releases from the Nebraska Library Commission are always available on the Library Commission website, www.nlc.state.ne.us, search on News Releases.
