Time to get your 'Cluck' on

Three days of fun are on tap for 31st Wayne Chicken Show

In 1981 a group of people decided to honor the chicken in an unusual way.

That year the Wayne Regional Arts Council planned an event to generate grass roots interest in art by demonstrating that art can exist around everyday objects or situations. This was the beginning of The Chicken Show, which since that time has attracted visitors to the community from all across the United States and several foreign countries.

During the last 31 years, the event has expanded to include Friday evening activities (Henoween) and Sunday (Last Cluck) events.

This year's theme is "Chicken And A Movie" was selected to coincide with the recent re-opening of the Majestic Theater in Wayne.

Organizers have been scratching over ideas for new events, talent and cluck-tibles to make this year's show an egg-ceptional one for young and old alike.

Events will kick off Friday with a Flea Market/Sidewalk Sale from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in downtown Wayne and in the former Antiques on Main building at 207 Main Street.

The weekly Chamber Coffee will be hosted by the Chicken Show Taskforce and will be located in the 200 Block of Main Street.

An open gallery Art Show will be held from 10 a.m.-7 p.m. at Moments Portrait Boutique.

Food, fun and craft vendors will be set up along Main Street beginning at 5 p.m. and children's game will be conducted by the Wayne County Jaycees.

A pie and ice cream social, hosted by Eastern Star Chapter 194 will be held in the North Meeting Room of the City Auditorium. Wine tasting, hosted by Nissen Wine and the Diamond Center/Flowers & Wine will take place at the Diamond Center.

New to this year's festivities is a Chicken Cooking Contest, which will be held at 3 p.m. in the Arnie's parking lot at 119 East Third Street. Awards will be presented at 6:30 p.m.

Again this year, the Cutest Chicklette Contest will be conducted at Arnie's Ford at 4 p.m.

Free chicken crafts and stories will be presented at 5 p.m. at the Wayne Public Library.

Evening street activities get underway at 6 p.m. with the World's Largest Chicken Dance and will be followed by egg roulette, Brad Weiland getting his head shaved as part of the Vet's club challenge, Let's Make

A Deal, the Cement Chicken Auction at 7 p.m. and a hot wing eating contest at 8 p.m.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by "Elvis and Marilyn, Together at Last," on the stage at the corner of Third and Main streets.

The annual Jaycees Fireworks display and a teen dance at Third and Main Streets will finish the Henoween festivities.

Saturday, July 9 begins with a 5K Run/1M Walk and the Wayne Classic Men's USSSA Softball Tournament.

A quilt show will take place throughout the day at the Masonic Lodge, across the street from Bressler Park.

Activities on Saturday at Bressler Park include the Kiwanis Omelet Feed from 7:30-9:30 a.m., live roosting crowing contest, the chicken feed, served by the Wayne Rotary Club and contests such as live chicken flying, best chicken hat, best chicken legs, the National Cluck-Off, hard boiled egg eating contest, rubber chicken chuck, egg toss and egg drop/catch.

During last year's National Cluck-Off a new champion, Larry Pankoke of Lincoln, de-feathered 11-time champion Del Hampton of Fort Smith, Ark.

Arts, crafts, fun and food vendors will be available at the park throughout the day, as will cluck-tible souvenirs.

The Chicken Show Parade begins at 9:30 a.m. at First and Main and travels north on Main Street to 10th Street and then west on 10th Street to Bressler Park.

Entertainment at the park will be provided by Larry Myer from noon to 1 p.m.

Ice cream bars will again be provided by Great Dane Trailers, starting at 12:30 p.m.

A street dance, featuring Larry Myer opening for the Nathan Wade Band will take place in the Riley's/Final Touch Parking Lot on South Main Street.

Last Cluck events on Sunday, July 11 will take place at the Wayne National Guard Armory, due to construction at the Wayne Municipal Airport.

Burgers and brats will be available for purchase from 10 a.m.-12 p.m. Vehicles of all types are invited to enter the Crowing Motors Car Show which will take place from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. Prizes will be awarded on a spectator vote. The Last Cluck Poker Run begins at Armory at 1 p.m., with all hands to be turned in by 1 p.m.

Some of the decorated cement chickens ready for Friday's auction are on display at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Two dozen of the 25-pound chickens were decorated by local residents and chicken enthusiasts.

Decorating chickens becomes a family affair

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Some people will go to great lengths to support a cause.

The Hasemann family went all out this year in support of the Wayne Chicken Show and took on four cement chickens to decorate for Friday's auction on the main stage.

Mary Kay Hasemann said she and her husband, Scott, heard a plea for help from the Chamber of Commerce during their weekly Friday community coffee meeting and decided to get their kids involved in the fun.

"They mentioned there were still 12 chickens left, and we felt it was our duty to help," Mrs. Hasemann said. "I meant to get one, but I didn't want the kids fighting over it, so we got four. They're kind of heavy."

The Chamber of Commerce annually makes 24 of these 25-pound cement chickens available for people to take home and decorate to their heart's content. Assistant director Irene Fletcher said the chickens will be auctioned off on the main stage during the first evening of the 31st annual Wayne Chicken Show.

Three of the Hasemann's four children - Jacen, Laura and Stuart - have spent a lot of time on their chickens.

"I told the kids they could do them however they wanted," Hasemann said. "Carter opted out, so I had to finish one, and Laura has done hers three times, so it's probably a little heavier because of all the coats of paint."

With names like Mickiedoo Swickiedoo and Vincent, the Hasemanns have put as much color into naming their chickens as they have decorating them - all in the name of getting ready for the community's annual weekend festival.

"We enjoy Henoween a lot, and we've got family coming from Arizona and Connecticut, just for the Chicken Show," she said. "It's a great excuse for the family to get together."

The 24 chickens will be auctioned off Friday at 7 p.m. on the main stage, located at Third and Main streets. Randy Bargholz will be the auctioneer.

City Council allows extra hour for alcohol sales during Chicken Show

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

The time when alcoholic beverages can be sold at local bars will be extended for the upcoming weekend only following action taken at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Two local bar owners, Bill Melena of the White Dog Pub and Ken Jorgensen of The Max, told the council that the request is an effort to make more money for their businesses and would be on a trial basis to see what happens.

Currently, the city of Wayne allows the sale of alcohol at local establishments until 1 a.m. This is also the time limit for off-sale of alcohol. The state of Nebraska allows cities to make the decision on whether to allow for the extra hour of sales. A total of 94 towns in Nebraska have voted to allow for the extra hour.

Council member Kaki Ley questioned why the time should be extended and noted that she and several other council members had received calls from constituents against the passage of the ordinance.

Following discussion, the council voted 7-1 to create the ordinance and waived the three readings. Council member Kathy Berry voted against the measure.

The change in time will be effective for this weekend only.

In other action, council members spent a considerable amount of time discussing the merits of fogging the streets and alleys for bug and mosquito control.

Garry Poutre, Public Works Superintendent, said he had surveyed a number of other communities, including the village of Carroll, and approximately one-half of them do provide some type of fogging.

"In Carroll, a person comes in to spray once a week, alternating between spraying and fogging. The cost to the village is approximately $2,500 per year," Poutre said.

He added that the city of Wayne has not done a city-wide fogging in approximately 20 years because at that time the city's equipment for the procedure was not able to be certified.

Council member Ley said she felt that there would "be a lot of people against fogging for environmental and health reasons."

Council member Doug Sturm made a motion, which received unanimous approval to have city staff find out the cost of the equipment necessary to do the fogging and have City Administrator Lowell Johnson check with other cities to determine of the mosquito prevention/protection plans actually work.

Council members gave approval to the creation of a Swimming Pool Renovation/Replacement Committee.

Committee members selected to serve include Jean Loberg, Jodi Pulfer, Jeff Carstens, B.J. Woehler, Mandi Fernau, Karla Jensen, Heather Claussen and Nana Peterson.

During the meeting, Jenny Hammer was selected to be a part of the Wayne Public Library Board.

Budget work sessions will be held Tuesday, July 26 at 5:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Aug. 2 following the regular council meeting. The city's 2011-2012 fiscal year runs from Oct. 1, 2011 to Sept. 30, 2012.

Following an executive session discussion, the council rejected an offer from Phillip Shear in regard to a discrimination complaint involving a pay raise. The issue was filed last fall and Shear had made a proposal for settlement through his attorney.

Suzette Johnson

Suzette K. Johnson, 61, of Belden, died Saturday, July 2, 2011 at Mercy Medical Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

Services were held Thursday, July 7 at United Presbyterian Church in Laurel. The Rev. Charity Potter officiated.

Suzette Kay Johnson was born Jan. 11, 1950 at Omaha, the adopted daughter of Alfred and Anita (Bush) Jugel. She attended Wayne County rural school near Wayne and graduated Laurel High School in 1968, graduated as a Licensed Practical Nurse from Nebraska Christian College in Norfolk and began work at Colonial Manor Nursing Home in Randolph. Suzette married Lowell Johnson on May 15, 1971 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Norfolk. The couple lived in Germany for 1 1/2 years, while her husband was serving in the military. After returning from Germany Suzette was employed at the Wayne Nursing Home, Laurel Care Center and, for the past 33 years, at Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel. She was a member of United Presbyterian Church in Laurel, United Presbyterian Ladies Aid and Belden American Legion Auxiliary. She enjoyed spending time with her grandkids, going to ball games and birthday parties. The couple celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary in May of 2011.

Suzette is survived by her husband, Lowell Johnson, of Belden; two sons, Todd and Jill Johnson of Correctionville, Iowa and Andy and Sara Johnson of North Platte; five grandchildren; three step-sisters, Judy and Eldon Kassebaum of Hebron, Peggy and Ron Eades of Norfolk and Dianna and Jim Crabb of Tilden.

She was preceded in death by her parents and step mother.

Burial was in the Belden Cemetery in Belden. Johnson Funeral Home in Randolph was in charge of arrangements. Online sympathies may be left at www.johnsonfuneralhomes.net

Mosquitoes

Last night's council meeting the council asked us to prepare cost and efficacy information regarding control of adult mosquitoes for discussion at the July 19 city council meeting. We currently spray the grass in the parks and apply larvacide to all known areas of mud or standing water when we find larvae during our regular inspections. The council also asked for comments from the Wayne public and also from other towns that are fogging residential areas to adult mosquitoes.

We will discuss purchase of fogging equipment vs. hiring it done, because the temperature, wind speed and humidity at the time of fogging are critical to the micro sized fog particles drifting to the location of the adult mosquitoes. Call or email with comments or questions.

The mayor and council members are interested in your thoughts about the budget and capital projects as we prepare for the July 26 and Aug. 2 budget meetings.

Questions or comments? Call Lowell Johnson, City Administrator at 375-1733 or email me at cityadmin@cityofwayne.org.

Keeping the peace in temporary quarters

Until flood waters recede and the damage is repaired, many families may be split up and living with relatives or friends, or the whole family may be staying at someone else's home. Such change is a source of potential stress and conflict, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator said.

People can ease the worry and uncertainty by being upfront and direct with each other. Ask whether there are household rules that one will need to follow, said LaDonna Werth, UNL Extension educator in Holt and Boyd counties.

"If he or she doesn't have clear guidelines, it's up to you to ask enough questions so that you know what behavior is expected," Werth said. "If communications wasn't direct the first day, it's not too late. Make a point to talk with the host. It's better to talk about rules and expectations - even if you've already been living there a while - than not to talk about them at all."

Knowing the rules and expectations is especially important when children are involved.

"If you have a child living in your home temporarily, you'll ease that child's frustration by looking at the world through his or her eyes," she said.

Children get frustrated if all the messages they receive are negative, such as "don't run in the house" or "don't bang on the piano."

A different choice of words can turn negative statements into positive statements. "Don't run in the house" becomes "remember, walk inside, run outside."

You can provide a positive "yes" place by rewarding good behavior. If the child comes to lunch with hands washed, say "You washed your hands all by yourself. Washing hands will help you stay healthy. Good job."

Children will more quickly regain a sense of security if some household routines can be established. Determine who sleeps where so children have a sense that they have a place of their own. Return to a regular bedtime for children as soon as possible and establish a bedtime routine such as reading a book or telling a story.

Older children may need a private space to read, think or relax. Maybe a child wants to nestle in a beanbag chair, crawl into a large, open cardboard box or have a personal tent (two chairs covered with a sheet).

A child also will benefit from having a private box, carton or drawer where he or she can store things like a toy, a book or papers. Children may want to make personal labels and attach to boxes to establish ownership.

If a family is moving in with toddlers, be sure to baby-proof your house. Put poisonous household cleaning and maintenance products, medicines and cosmetics out of reach or behind locked doors.

"If there are breakable knick-knacks, put them up or away during the toddler's stay," Werth said. "It's much easier to have the temptation out of sight than to keep constant vigil and repeatedly say 'no, don't touch!'"

More green-collar jobs coming

Nebraska's workforce is well-positioned to meet an expected demand for green-collar jobs in the coming years, according to a new analysis by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Bureau of Business Research.

The report, prepared by UNL for a six-state consortium of labor departments that includes the Nebraska Department of Labor, analyzed the supply and projected the demand for 16 specific green occupations -- from civil and environmental engineers to carpenters, truck drivers and electricians -- in the next two years.

While some workers would need to fine-tune their skills to fill some of the expected demand for emerging green jobs, the report finds, many workers are already employed in green occupations or related occupations.

The report utilized data from the 2010 Nebraska Department of Labor's Green Jobs Survey, which examined the level of green-collar employment at more than 6,000 businesses in the state. At the time of the survey, there were an estimated 30,725 green jobs in Nebraska -- about 3.4 percent of the workforce. Green-collar employees were found in about 13 percent of Nebraska businesses.

SBA, Red Cross educating public on having disaster plans

The U.S. Small Business Administration and the American Red Cross have joined forces to intensify outreach efforts to educate the public about the importance of having a disaster recovery plan in place.

"Given the recent devastation caused by tornadoes and flooding in communities from New England and the Midwest to the Southern states, and the start of the Atlantic Hurricane season, we recognize the importance of helping people learn how to protect themselves," said SBA administrator Karen Mills. "This collaboration with the Red Cross will allow us to draw on each other's resources to make emergency preparedness a way of life for individuals and businesses."

"Studies show that between 15 percent to 40 percent of businesses fail following a natural or man-made disaster," said Gail McGovern, president and CEO of the American Red Cross. "By partnering with the SBA to get more families and businesses prepared for emergencies, we hope to save both lives and livelihoods."

The core of the SBA-Red Cross agreement is a plan to work with SBA District Offices and its resource partners such as SCORE, the Small Business Development Centers and the Women's Business Development Centers to promote and, along with local Red Cross chapters, sponsor preparedness training workshops. The two agencies will also work to increase awareness in the business community about the Red Cross Ready Rating program. Ready Rating (www.readyrating.org) is a free, self-paced, web-based membership program that helps a business measure its ability to deal with emergencies, and gives customized feedback on how to improve those efforts.

Materials on the Ready Rating program and other disaster preparedness tips will be disseminated to the public virtually, and via printed materials.

Recent disasters have served as a reminder for individuals and businesses to make a plan. Disaster preparedness for homes and businesses should include a review of your property insurance to make sure you understand what is and isn't covered. Make backup copies of important documents, and store them at an offsite location. Put together an emergency kit, which contains first-aid supplies, cash, bottled water, non-perishable food, a flashlight and plastic garbage bags.

For more preparedness tips for homes and businesses, visit www.sba.gov/disasterassistance.

Value-added grant applications available

Deputy Agriculture Secretary Kathleen Merrigan has announced that applications are being accepted for grants to provide economic assistance to independent producers, farmer and rancher cooperatives and agricultural producer groups through the Value-Added Producer Grant Program.

"By creating value-added products, farmers and ranchers can expand economic opportunities, create jobs and keep wealth in rural communities," Merrigan said. "These funding opportunities will promote business expansion and entrepreneurship by helping local businesses get access to capital, technical assistance and new markets for their products and services."

For example, Mick and Loretta McDowell, owners of Mileta Vista Winery in St. Paul, applied for a Value Added Producer Grant to assist in marketing their locally produced wine. They had been growing grapes since 2003 and used the grant funds to help them market their product in order to open a winery in central Nebraska. The funds were used to help develop and implement a marketing campaign, purchase the inventory for bottling the wine, and to hire a marketing person. The McDowells provided matching funds for the grant. Since the opening of the winery, over 4,500 new customers from 26 states and five foreign countries have visited the winery. The grant funds helped them become a well recognized area attraction in the St. Paul area.

The application deadline is Aug. 29, 2011. For further details about eligibility rules and application procedures, see the June 28, 2011 edition of the Federal Register. Value-added producer grants may be used for feasibility studies or business plans, working capital for marketing value-added agricultural products and for farm-based renewable energy projects. Eligible applicants include independent producers, farmer and rancher cooperatives, and agricultural producer groups. Value-added products are created when a producer increases the consumer value of an agricultural commodity in the production or processing stage.

'The Drowsy Chaperone' hits the stage July 14-17

Wayne Community Theatre will present the musical comedy "The Drowsy Chaperone" Thursday through Sunday, July 14-17 at the Majestic Theatre in Wayne.

The musical, with music and lyrics by Lisa Lambert and Greg Morrison and book by Bob Martin and Don McKellar, begins when a die-hard musical-theater fan (played by Alan Bruffat) plays his favorite cast album on his turntable, and the musical literally bursts to life in his living room, telling the rambunctious tale of a brazen Broadway starlet (played by Melissa Derechailo) trying to find, and keep, her true love.

"It's a great tribute to all those wonderful 20s-era musicals . . . lots of stylized movement, dance, comedy and fun music," said director Mollie Spieker.

Other cast members include Kyle Mundil, Kate Kietzmann, Andrew Halsey, Zach Halsey, Keith Mundil, Anthony Kochenash, Terri Hypse, Sherie Lundahl, Traci Amend, Aspen Pflanz, Chelsey Milenkovich, Katie Hansen, Matt Johnson, Brett Dorsey, Jennifer Sievers, John Dunning and Gwen Jensen (as The Drowsy Chaperone).

Showtimes will be at 7 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets for the Thursday through Saturday shows are available at State National Bank and First National Bank. Sunday's matinee will have no sold tickets - just a freewill offering to benefit The Majestic Theatre's stage equipment fund.

The show is being sponsored by many businesses in Wayne, as well as the Wayne Tourism Bureau, the Wayne United Way and the Nebraska Arts Council.

County board looks at motor graders, insurance during Tuesday meeting

By JAYCIE WOSLAGER
Of The herald

The Wayne County Commissioners met on Tuesday with several appointments on their agendas.

Steve Muir of First National Agency brought in the county's health insurance renewal information. The county board has a couple of months to look over the information and decide if they're sticking with the same plan or ordering up a new one.

The county board would like to purchase a used motor grader. Two bids were presented. Titan Machinery out of Sioux City, Iowa was the first bid. Nebraska Machinery Company out of Norfolk was the second bid. The county would like to have one with 10-inch multi-piece rims, 14-by-24 tires, four wheel sealed oil disc brakes, multiple oil disc parking brake with transmission neutralizer, and brake line guards. Also, the motor grader must have hydraulic valves with in-cab controls to run snow plow, a 12-foot snow wing, and snow wing mounts, valves, and lights.

Titan Machinery offered a 2003 Case 885B DHP motor grader with 2,600 hours at purchase price of $98,000 and a trade-in of $40,000 or $35,000 without the tires. Nebraska Machinery Company offered a 2004 Caterpillar 140H used motor grader with 3,600 hours at purchase price of $163,662, less trade-in of $50,000.

However, Titan Machinery's motor grader is in Wisconsin or Minnesota, so currently the county can not see what it looks like without any pictures, which were not brought in. Nebraska Machinery Company's motor grader is in Norfolk and the county board can look online on their website to see it. The county board decided to make a decision at the next meeting on July 19.

Jack Beeson met with the county board to discuss a quitclaim deed or easement for Wayne Northeast, BRO-7090(3). When Beeson bought the land in 1988, this strip of land was not on the title. Beeson would prefer to see a temporary easement on his place, rather than a permanent one, and he would also like to buy this piece of land since he already farms it.

The county board decided they need to refer to a county attorney to see who's property it actually is, whether Beeson's or the county, and then figure out if the land should be given back to the landowner.

Beeson also asked the board about impacting a V-ditch along his fence line. Recent rains have deepened the ditch about 10 inches. They approved Beeson's request that he will put a couple of straw bales in there as stabilization.

In other action, the county board:

- approved a one-year plan for Project C-90 (528) for milling the existing surface and putting down gravel.
- approved Chairman James Rabe to sign the NBCS Form 10 for Project C-90 (528).
- approved bid for Sholes Southeast, soft-match bridge replacement of Structure No. C009001015.
- notice of termination of lease for a strip of land used for county road purposes in the SW of S23-T25N-R2.
- approved Virgil Rohlff to be reappointed to a five-year term on Veteran's Service Committee.
- accepted request to maintain Immanuel Reformed Church cemetery.
- approved lodging tax applications for the 24th Annual Vendor Gold Tournament ($150), promotional postcards ($100), and the Wayne County Information Guide ($500).

Council

date for July 19 in regard to a plan to extend city services to an area just west of Wayne on the north side of Highway 35 and proposed annexation of the area.

Garry Poutre also updated the council on the status of construction of the wastewater treatment facility and said, "The contractors are working hard to meet the extension deadline of Sept. 1 that they were given."

Council approved a payment of $620,853.79 to Eriksen Construction Company for a portion of the work that has been completed on the project.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, July 19 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Camp-out
A Girl Scout camp-out was held for Unit 16 at the Wayne Girl Scout cabin, which is located just east of the baseball field. There were 15 girls attending this year's camp, which had the theme of "Camp Memories". The girls did several crafts including scrapbook pages, flower arrangements, decorating and signing of camp T-shirts.

Seniors are riding wave after wins

Who said the summer was lazy or hazy in these parts? Here's a heaping helping of juicy items from the "Bits and Pieces" file:

– Congratulations to Wayne Seniors pitcher Gage Rethwisch for tossing a perfect game Saturday in Central City.

Grand Island U-Save was simply no match for the righthander, who set down 14 of the 21 batters he faced with strikeouts. Mix in a couple of nice defensive stops and a little bit of offense, and the result was a 4-0 perfect that has the Seniors looking good heading into the postseason.

The Seniors were the top seed for this week's Ralph Bishop League tournament and are riding a pretty good wave heading into the crunch time of the season. Playing host to the area tournament in two weeks has Wayne looking like a contender for the state tournament later this month in Central City.

– Speaking of state tournaments, as good as the Seniors have looked, the Juniors are looking even better.

The Juniors have lost just once this season and were headed for the semifinals of the Ralph Bishop League tournament this week, their final tuneup before area tournament play starts next week.

Wayne's younger Legion squad has played pretty well this season. The only major concern coach Jeff Zeiss has right now is this team's tendency to give up runs early in the game. While this team can get away with that against teams like Pierce or Hooper, it will be a lot tougher to come from behind in the area tournament (and state, if they make it that far). If they can flip the switch from the first pitch, this team is going to be very hard to beat in the next few weeks.

– It's not exactly the way they wanted to end the season, but the Dirt Devils 16-under squad performed very well this season.

The oldest of the Wayne softball teams went 2-3 at the 32-team Ringneck Invitational last weekend in Sioux Falls, but the overall body of work this year has been a good one. They finished seventh in the Class A state tournament, playing mostly teams from Omaha and Lincoln that have top-level talent.

This is essentially the team that will represent Wayne High during the upcoming high school softball season. Throw in Cassy Miller – who has been playing select ball in Omaha this summer – and this team has the makings of being a very good softball team this fall.

– We're going to find out right away what kind of potential Wayne State will have in men's basketball this winter.

The Wildcats are playing an exhibition game against the University of Illinois on Nov. 1 in Champaign, Ill. The game was set up by coach Paul Combs, who is good friends with Illinois coach Bruce Weber. Combs' grandfather was the team doctor at Purdue when Weber served as an assistant.

This is the first time Wayne State has played a Div. I team since the 2008-2009 season, when they took on Gonzaga and Northern Iowa. It will be a great tune-up for the Wildcats before they get the season started for real on Nov. 15 against Morningside.

– On Monday, Wakefield's board of education will decide whether or not to offer golf as a sport at the high school.

Wakefield's numbers on the links have been very slim the last few years. Only two boys represented the Trojans during this past spring campaign, and the word on the street is the numbers for the girls team this fall don't look very good, either.

Wakefield has a beautiful golf course, and Wayne has had some success recently at the Wakefield Invitational, which generally serves as the first tournament of the fall season. I'd hate to see the team not get the chance to play this fall.

Seniors roll past Pierce, 10-2

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne Seniors took advantage of an untimely miscue to break open Friday's matchup with Pierce at Hank Overin Field.

A dropped fly ball with two outs in the bottom of the first not only allowed Wayne to get on the board, but extended the inning long enough for Trevor Beza to hit a two-run homer that capped a four-run first inning and helped the locals walk away with a 10-2 win in their final league game of the regular season.

Gage Rethwisch and Tony Sinniger both walked to start the inning and moved into scoring position on a wild pitch. Trent Beza and Alex Onnen both struck out, and it appeared Pierce would get out of the inning when Jacob Zeiss lifted a fly ball to center field.

Unfortunately for Pierce, outfielder Austin Koehlmoos couldn't come up with the catch, allowing Rethwisch and Sinniger to come home. Zeiss was on second when Trevor Beza took a 1-1 offering from Brady Bretschneider over the wall in left field.

"That error was big," coach Jeff Zeiss said after the game. "If you give a good team extra outs, bad things can happen and that came back to haunt them and we were able to capitalize on it."

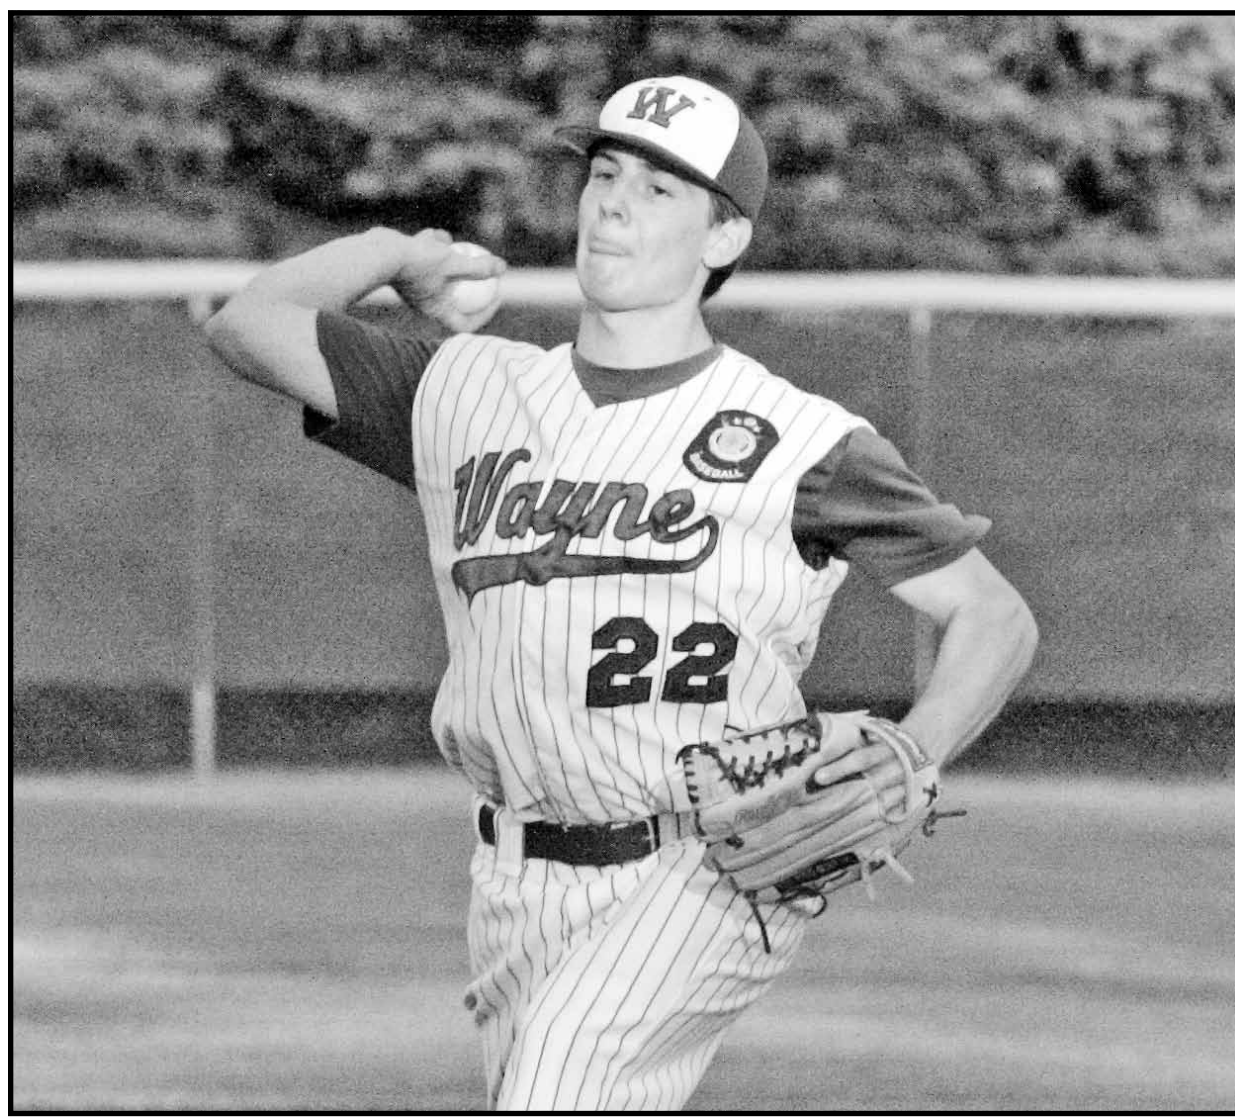

Wayne added another run in the fourth on an RBI triple by Rethwisch, scoring Miles Anderson. Pierce touched Trent Beza for a pair of runs in the fifth, but Wayne came back with two in the fifth and three more in the sixth – highlighted by a two-run single by Onnen – to end the game on the eight-run rule.

Wayne had just three hits in the game, but took advantage of seven Pierce errors to improve to 16-3 overall and a perfect 12-0 in Ralph Bishop League play.

"We beat them 17-2 earlier in the year, but they didn't have their whole team then and this is a better one than what we saw earlier," Zeiss said. "They've got quality athletes over there, and I was pleased with our kids' effort."

Gage Rethwisch tossed a perfect game for the Wayne Seniors during a wood bat tournament Saturday in Central City. He struck out 14 of the 21 batters he faced in the game.

Rethwisch K's 14 in perfect

CENTRAL CITY – It was the perfect ending to a day's worth of baseball for the Wayne American Legion Seniors.

Gage Rethwisch pitched the ultimate game, retiring all 21 batters he faced to finish off a perfect game in Wayne's 4-0 win over Grand Island U-Save in the second game of the Wood Bat Classic in Central City on Saturday.

Rethwisch was in control from start to finish. He went to ball three just twice in the game, including the leadoff batter in the seventh inning. He finished the game with an impressive 14 strikeouts to help the Juniors improve to 18-3 heading into this week's Ralph Bishop League tournament.

"Gage pitched tremendously," coach Jeff Zeiss said. "He had them off balance the entire game, and I can't remember being involved in a perfect game as a coach. It was awesome."

Wayne scored three runs in the second to give Rethwisch all the offensive support he would need. Two of the runs came on a Tony Sinniger single, and Joey Lenihan also had a run-scoring base hit. Frank Bernal had two hits, including a double, to lead Wayne's eight-hit attack.

Rethwisch's masterpiece capped a 2-for-2 day for the Wayne Seniors, as they opened the classic with a 10-4 win over the hosts from Central City.

Wayne took command of the game early, scoring six runs in the first inning. Central City scored all their runs in the fourth to cut an eight-run Wayne lead in half, but Wayne added two more in the seventh to put the game out of reach.

Sinniger had three hits to lead Wayne's 12-hit attack, while Zeiss and Mason Wren each added two hits. Sinniger, Rethwisch and Bernal each scored two runs in the win.

Juniors explode for 15 in an inning

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The hits just kept coming.

And coming.

And coming.

The Wayne American Legion Juniors sent 21 batters to the plate in the second inning, taking advantage of seven hits and two errors to blow out Pierce 19-2 in their final tune-up before league and area tournaments to close out the regular season.

And while an inning that saw every player in the lineup come home at least once and featured one player getting three hits in an inning, coach Jeff Zeiss was disappointed with how the game started.

"I know we're 16-1, but I was a little disappointed in how we've come out at the start the last few times," he said. "I was a little disappointed with how we've given up runs early, and we can't do that. We have to make those plays so our pitchers aren't throwing another 15-20 pitches. We need to have fresh arms, and if we can take care of that, we can be in control."

The visitors jumped on Bradley Longe for a pair of runs in the first inning, but wasted no time making up for the early deficit.

After leadoff walks to Drew Carroll and Danny Melena, Longe and Jordan Backer had back-to-back singles to score both runners and tie the game at 2-2.

Then the Wayne Juniors got on a roll. By the time Carroll ended the inning by hitting into a fielder's choice, Pierce had gone through three pitchers and the locals stuck the visitors for 15 runs on seven hits.

Luke Rethwisch, who led off the barrage with a single, had three hits in the inning. He singled home a run on his second trip to the plate, then lashed an RBI double into right-center to make it a 3-for-3 inning.

Corey Doorlag had a bases-clearing triple after a bases-loaded walk by Melena and a fielder's choice by Brady Soden brought home runs during Wayne's first time through the lineup. Eight of the first nine batters eventually came home, while seven of nine scored on the team's second time through the lineup.

Melena finished with two hits and scored four runs, while Carroll and Longe each scored three times. Ten of the 12 Wayne batters had at least one hit in the game.

On Wednesday, June 29, the Juniors made quick work of visiting Hooper, spotting the visitors two runs before scoring eight in the second on their way to a 12-2, four-inning victory.

Doorlag picked up the win on the mound, allowing three hits while striking out seven. Carroll and Tyler Robinson each had two hits, and Carroll, Longe, Backer and Grant Anderson each scored two runs. Doorlag had three RBIs, while Carroll and Robinson each had two.

The Juniors opened Ralph Bishop League tournament play Tuesday at Wakefield, and the top-seeded team from Wayne advanced to the semifinals with a 10-0 win over the hosts at Eaton Field.

Wayne broke a scoreless tie with three runs in the third inning, then added four more in the fourth to put the game out of reach. Carroll threw

Devils go 2-3 at tourney

SIoux FALLS – The Wayne Dirt Devils 16-under softball team closed out the summer campaign with a 2-3 effort at the 32-team Ringneck Invitational over the weekend.

Big innings proved to be the Devils' undoing in all three of their losses. Coach Doug Carroll said the team played well overall, but giving up the big inning proved to be the team's downfall in their three losses.

In pool play, Wayne went 1-2, opening with a 10-0 win over the Shakopee (Minn.) Stelth. They dropped a 5-2 decision to the Kansas City Skinkers and lost a 6-3 decision to Chippewa Valley, Wisc.

In their lone win, Wayne scored six runs in the fourth inning to break a scoreless tie. Jalyn Zeiss had a two-run double, and Hannah Gamble followed with a three-run homer to highlight Wayne's big inning. Victoria Kranz had a two-run single in the sixth to help Wayne put the game away on the eight-run rule. Kristin Carroll pitched well in the win, allowing six hits while striking out five.

In the second game, Kranz had an RBI single and Caitlin Fehringer hit a solo homer in the sixth, but a three-run fifth inning by the Kansas City club proved to be the difference in the game. Emily Leeper had two hits in the game to lead the Wayne offense.

Against Chippewa Valley, Wayne led 2-1 in the fourth before their opponents took advantage of some defensive miscues to score two runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth. Fehringer tripled and scored on Kranz's single in the first, while Gamble doubled and scored in the fourth on a Courtney Davie single. Fehringer added a solo homer in the seventh to cap her 3-for-3 effort in the loss.

Moving into the silver bracket, Wayne advanced to the quarterfinals with a 6-2 win over the Minnesota Wildfire before being eliminated by the Elkhorn (Neb.) Slammers, 6-3.

In the first game Sunday, Wayne got three runs in the first inning to take control of the game early. Zeiss doubled and scored on Fehringer's double. She later came home on a single by Gamble, who later scored on a hit by Leeper.

Wayne added another run in the fifth, and back-to-back RBI hits by Fehringer and Kranz gave Carroll the insurance she would need to finish out the win in the circle. She struck out five and allowed no hits.

Wayne had a 2-0 lead on Elkhorn in the second, as Carroll had an RBI groundout and Zeiss had an RBI double. Three errors in the third inning helped Elkhorn score six runs, and Wayne couldn't get back in the game after that. Fehringer was 3-for-4 with a double in the losing effort, while Davie had two hits.

Wayne State men to battle Illinois

Wayne State College men's basketball coach Paul Combs announced today that the Wildcats will face the University of Illinois in an exhibition game on Tuesday, Nov. 1 in Champaign, Ill.

This will be the first Div. I exhibition game for the Wildcats since the 2008-09 season, when Wayne State played at Gonzaga and Northern Iowa.

"We are extremely grateful to coach (Bruce) Weber and his staff for this opportunity," Combs said. "It will be an extremely valuable experience for our young team to play in one of the great venues (Assembly Hall) in all of college basketball."

Illinois was 20-14 last season and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament before falling to No. 2 Kansas. The Fighting Illini is coached by Bruce Weber, who is 193-86 in his eight seasons as head coach at Illinois.

Weber is a native of Milwaukee, Wisc., and has Div. I coaching experience at Western Kentucky and Purdue as an assistant and was head coach at Southern Illinois from 1998-2003 before taking the head job at Illinois.

Weber is a long time family friend of Combs, whose grandfather was team doctor at Purdue when Weber was coaching there.

Wayne State men's basketball coach Paul Combs recently announced the addition of Jonathan (Jonny) Rice of Naperville, Ill. to the 2011 Wildcat recruiting class.

"Jonny Rice is a huge addition to our program both on and off the court," Combs said. "He brings a winner's mentality and a work ethic that will be very contagious throughout our Wildcat family."

Rice comes to Wayne State after playing the last three seasons as Div. I Belmont University in Nashville, Tenn., and will have one season of eligibility with the Wildcats. The 6-foot-1, 165-pound guard appeared in 20 games during the 2008-09 and 2009-10 seasons. As a redshirt freshman in 2008-09, Rice averaged 2.8 points per game while shooting 48 percent from the field and 46 percent from the three-point line.

In high school, Rice was a standout at Waubonsie Valley in Aurora, Ill., where he averaged 18 points per game in his senior season. As a junior, he accounted for 17 points per game at Neuqua Valley High School leading the team with a 23-8 record and a regional title, and was ranked as one of the top high school prospects in the state of Illinois from the class of 2007.

inning and survived a rocky fourth inning to get the win, striking out eight and allowing eight hits and one walk.

"Trent gets into trouble on occasion, but he made the quality pitch when he needed to and the kids played good defense behind him," Zeiss said.

On June 29, Wayne exploded for eight runs in the fourth inning and ended the game on the 10-run rule with a 10-0 shutout of Hooper at Hank Overin Field.

Jacob Zeiss had a pair of doubles and drove in two runs to highlight Wayne's seven-hit effort. Frank Bernal had a two-run triple in the big fourth inning, and Alex Onnen also had two RBI's in the inning. Rethwisch struck out six and allowed one hit and one walk in the four-inning game.

In other action, the Dirt Devils split a doubleheader last week against the Norfolk Impact 18-under squad, taking the first game 10-4 before losing the nightcap 11-8 at Norfolk.

In the first game, Wayne overcame a two-run deficit by scoring four runs in the third inning. They tacked on two more in the fourth and fifth innings to pull away with the win.

"We did a great job of starting out the top of the first with a couple of runs, and we got ourselves out of a number of defensive jams on defense," coach Kiley Peterson said.

Alexis Owens and Fehringer both had run-scoring singles in the third inning. Fehringer had the key blow in the fifth, as her two-run double scored Owens and Amanda Hurlbert. She later came home on an RBI single by McKenna Gibson.

Owens and Kristin Carroll each had two hits in the game to lead the Wayne offense. Carroll went the distance, striking out two and scattering four hits and four walks.

In the nightcap, the two teams traded leads several times before Norfolk scored five runs in the extra inning after the teams played to a 6-6 tie in five innings, due to the time limit.

"It was a very back-and-forth game, and we allowed those five runs in the last inning and couldn't make up the deficit," Peterson said.

Davie and Megan Hoffart had RBI singles in the third inning for Wayne, and an RBI single by Zeiss and an RBI double by Hannah Gamble gave Wayne its last lead at 6-5. Leeper's RBI double keyed Wayne's comeback effort in the sixth, but it wasn't enough as Norfolk held on for the win.

Zeiss had three hits and scored three runs in the losing effort, while Gamble had three hits and two RBI's. Gibson pitched well in a losing effort, allowing eight hits and four walks.

The 16-under Dirt Devils finished the season with a 27-9 record.

a three-hit shutout and helped his cause offensively with two hits and two RBI's. Melena had two hits and three RBI's for the 17-1 Juniors.

Wayne will play Pierce in the semifinals of the league tournament Friday at 5 p.m. at Hank Overin Field. Win or lose, Wayne will play Sunday in either the consolation game at 12 p.m. or in the championship game at 5 p.m.

12-under falls to Emerson 14's

The Wayne Dirt Devils 12-under softball team lost a heartbreaker to the Emerson 14-under squad last week, dropping a 6-5 decision.

Wayne scored a pair of runs in the fourth inning to erase a 1-0 deficit. Jamie Gamble and Danica Schaefer both came home with runs to get the locals on the scoreboard.

Wayne added two more runs in the sixth as Kortney Keller and Schaefer both scored, then added another run in the seventh when Schaefer scored on a bases-loaded walk.

Emerson came back in their final at bat, however, plating five runs to come away with the victory.

The Dirt Devils competed in the Class C state tournament over the weekend in Lincoln. Scores and highlights were not turned in at press time.

Pugliese named men's assistant coach

Wayne State men's basketball coach Paul Combs has announced the hiring of John Pugliese as assistant basketball coach for the Wildcats. Pugliese began his duties Friday, July 1.

"Coach Pugliese and his wife Billy have instantly made our program better in all facets," remarked Combs. "John is a tireless worker and a great teacher of young people. He is a rising star in the coaching profession."

Pugliese comes to Wayne State with coaching experience at the NCAA Div. I and III levels, and most recently served as head boys basketball coach and associate athletic director at Brentwood School in California for the last two seasons.

Prior to that, Pugliese was an assistant coach at Div. I Wagner College in Staten Island, N.Y. from 2006-2009, where he helped Wagner to a 23-8 record in the 2007-08 season, the most wins in school history. Pugliese also served as a student assistant coach with Combs at Wisconsin-Platteville from 2004-06.

He earned his bachelor's degree in 2006 from Wisconsin-Platteville in physical education.

A Lions business meeting was scheduled for July 5 at Tacos & More meeting room.

Rural Nebraskans Plugged In, Engaged Online

The digital divide in rural Nebraska has narrowed significantly and appears to be more socio-economic than technological at this point, according to results from the 2011 Nebraska Rural Poll.

The 16th annual University of Nebraska-Lincoln poll, taken last March and April, found that 91 percent of rural Nebraskans own a cell phone, though how they use that technology varies significantly among demographic groups. Three-quarters of respondents use the Internet or email from home; 18 percent said they had no access at home.

The digital divide refers to the gap between individuals, households, businesses and geographic areas in their access to communications technologies such as cell phones and Internet. Federal and state agencies have made it a priority in the last decade to shrink that gap, in large part through technological advances.

While technology gains and public programs have helped close the gap, other factors now may be more important, said Bradley Lubben, UNL public policy specialist who's part of the Rural Poll team.

"The digital divide is more about demographics and socio-economics than it is about technology," Lubben said. That's important for policy-makers to know, he added, because it means additional efforts to bridge the divide that are based solely on technology are unlikely to close the gap further.

Of those demographic and socio-economic factors, the Rural Poll showed that generally speaking, women are more plugged into Internet and cell phone technology. Randy Cantrell, rural sociologist with the Nebraska Rural Initiative, said women in rural Nebraska tend to be better educated, more socially engaged and more frequent shoppers than men. Also, not surprisingly, younger people, more educated people and people with higher household incomes were most likely to use the Internet and use their cell phones for activities other than voice calls, according to the poll.

Rural Poll surveys were mailed to about 6,400 randomly selected households in Nebraska's 84 non-metropolitan counties. Results are based on 2,490 responses.

Rural Nebraskans have fully embraced modern communications technology as a must-have, not a luxury, Lubben said. Of the 91 percent of poll respondents who own cell phones, 30 percent use them for voice calls only, 39 percent use messaging services in addition to voice calls and 31 percent also use them to access the Internet.

As for the Internet, 80 percent of rural Nebraskans use it to research products or services; 78 percent for information related to hobbies and projects; 74 percent for health or medical information; 72 percent to purchase products; 60 percent to watch video on a video-sharing site; and 55 percent for social networking.

According to the poll, 62 percent of rural Nebraskans have positive attitudes about the Internet's usefulness in taking formal courses to further their education or careers, and 77 percent say researching health information online can help people better manage their health. However, they retain a healthy skepticism, too, with 39 percent agreeing the quality of information found online is questionable. Twenty-one percent disagreed with that statement, and 40 percent had no opinion.

Most rural Nebraskans also have positive opinions about shopping online. Sixty-five percent said the Internet is the best place to buy hard-to-find items, and 72 percent said it's convenient. As with education and health information, though, the poll found rural Nebraskans had some concerns. But Cantrell pointed out that even among frequent online shoppers, there are concerns.

NEST on the Farm Scholarship Contest entries sought

First National Bank of Omaha (FNBO) and Nebraska State Treasurer Don Stenberg announced today a scholarship contest for the children of Nebraska farmers.

Three winners will each receive a $5,000 NEST (Nebraska Educational Savings Trust) scholarship sponsored by First National Bank of Omaha.

"First National Bank of Omaha has been committed to the communities of Nebraska and the agricultural industry for over 150 years," said David Cota, Senior Managing Director, First National Bank of Omaha. "We are proud to offer the farming families across Nebraska the opportunity to get a head start on saving for college through this scholarship contest."

"As the cost of higher education continues to rise, we are committed to making it easier and more affordable for families to save for college," said Nebraska State Treasurer Don Stenberg. "Offering scholarship opportunities such as this is just one example of that commitment."

The contest runs through Aug. 5, 2011. Each contestant must write and submit an essay describing how growing up as part of a farming family impacts his or her goals for higher education. The typed essay must be no more than 750 words and may be submitted by one of two ways:

Emailing to NEST@fnni.com no later than 11:59 p.m. Aug. 5, 2011. The subject line should read: NEST on the Farm Scholarship, or Mailing it to First National Bank of Omaha, ATTN: NEST on the Farm Scholarship 1620 Dodge Street., Stop 1105, Omaha, Neb. 68197 (postmarked no later than Aug. 5, 2011).

All entries will be divided into three age groups: 7-9 years of age; 10-11 years of age; and 12-13 years of age and the winners will be announced at the Nebraska State Fair in Grand Island on Saturday, Sept. 3. Additional qualifications include:

The children must live on a farm or a parent or guardian must work on a Nebraska farm.

Locals attend State Fire School in Grand Island

About 1,625 people from Nebraska and several other states attended the 74th Annual Nebraska State Fire School May 20-22 in Grand Island.

The event was offered by the Nebraska State Volunteer Firefighters Association in cooperation with the State Fire Marshals Training Division, Heartland Events Center/Fonner Park and Central Community College-Grand Island.

Participants were able to take classes on agricultural emergency and extrication principles, basic pump operations, emergency vehicle operations, fire investigation, foam operations, forcible entry techniques, initial company operations, introduction to fire-fighting, rope rescue techniques, rural water supply and practical hydraulics, railroad hazardous materials, terrorism awareness, thermal imaging cameras, vehicle extrication, wildland fires, 21st century leadership and other topics. Mobile live burn simulators also were held.

The following individuals completed at least nine hours out of the 12 hours of classroom training offered at the school:

Jacob Davis, David Loberg, Jeff Paustian, Collin Prince, Kelyn Roberts and Mark Wieseler, all of Carroll;

Matt Conley, Brian Lamb, Brock Soderberg and Dean Ulrich, all of Wakefield;

Brian Belt, Christopher Jones, Jennie Lunz, Cory Moeller, Phillip Monahan, Shawn Percy, Kelsey Rewinkel, Nick Vanhorn, Brooks Widner, Joshua Widner and Brandon Ziska, all of Wayne; Aaron Becker, Donald Nelson, Ryan Prince, Donald Skokan and Kyle Skokan, all of Winside.

Winners will need to provide proof of age, proof of living on a farm and/or proof that a parent or guardian works on a Nebraska farm.

The children must have a valid social security number and a Nebraska residential street address.

The children must fall within their respective age groups on the day the award is announced.

The scholarship will be awarded to the child and deposited into an account owned by the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust, held on behalf of the winner. Winnings and earnings, if any, can only be used to pay for qualified higher education expenses at an eligible educational institution, which includes colleges, universities, community colleges and technical schools throughout the United States and some abroad. The winnings do not have to be used at a Nebraska school.

If the child cannot use the scholarship, the money will be forfeited.

Wayne educators take graduate class to help their students

Five Wayne Community Schools teachers recently completed a WSC graduate class entitled "What Educators Need to Know about Business/Industry."

The purpose of the class is to make educators aware of the opportunities in the world of work, especially ones available right here in northeast Nebraska. This knowledge will be shared with students who are looking at potential career opportunities.

Insight into what area employers are looking for in future employees can help teachers prepare students for the future. Some of the topics included educational requirements for different positions, skills needed, helpful aptitudes, benefits available, necessary attitudes, as well as communication and interviewing tips. The class also included touring 17 different businesses in Norfolk.

A cluckin' good time guaranteed

If you're from out of town, I'd like to welcome you to beautiful Wayne, America for the 31st annual Wayne Chicken Show.

This is my second weekend of fowlness, and if this year is anything like last year's weekend of egg-citing events, it should be a great three days of fun and frivolity (and that's no yoke).

Last year, I was amazed by the all the chicken apparel that was on display. From chicken hats to tattoos of cute little chicks painted on a baby's face, you literally can't take two steps without being overcome by these fine-feathered fowl.

The activities get started Friday, and one of the highlights is the gathering in the middle of the street for what could best be described as mass chaos to see who can do the best version of chicken dance. With the song blaring away, people of all ages get their rooster groove on and shake their tail feathers.

There's the big parade on Saturday, but the highlight of the day is undoubtedly the National Cluck-Off competition in Bressler Park. It's an opportunity for people of all ages to do their best chicken impressions, and suffice it to say that some take this event a little more serious than others.

Last year's competition was won by a man who said he was inspired by the memory of the chickens on his grandparents' farm when he was younger. Talk about being "cooped" up - this guy sounded, acted and looked like a real chicken.

OK... now that I've put all the cheesy chicken-related cliches to rest, I hope you enjoy the 31st annual Wayne Chicken Show. It's three days of good times, from the hard-boiled egg-eating competition to the annual auction of cement chickens decorated by local residents.

I guarantee you - you'll cluck yourself silly this weekend.

Capitol View Fischer gets into Senate race

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN - Deb Fischer did it. The two-term lawmaker / rancher from Valentine joined the race for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Several Nebraska governors - Jim Exon, Bob Kerrey, incumbents Ben Nelson and Mike Johanns - have won Senate elections. State senators? Can't recall any.

Leading GOP candidates already in the Nebraska GOP contest are State Treasurer Don Stenberg and Attorney General Jon Bruning.

All three must be encouraged by recent news from the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. The DNCC says that if it doesn't reach fundraising goals it won't provide money to some campaigns, including that of U.S. Sen. Ben Nelson, the Nebraska incumbent.

Welfare Watchdogs

Nebraska's Department of Health and Human Services remains No. 1 in the nation when it comes to policing the federal food stamp program, now known as SNAP.

In fiscal 2010 the state had a zero rate of error in denying food stamps to those who weren't qualified for them.

That effort earned Nebraska bonus from the feds, in excess of $300,000.

Flooding and Football

It's easy to understand the national and international attention draw by Nebraska's two nuclear power plants as they ward off flooding on the Missouri River.

From Japan to Germany and around the globe, the citizenry has grown leery and weary of problems and potential problems associated with nuclear generation of electricity.

A central element of coverage and commentary has centered on the credibility of the federal government - via the Army Corps of Engineers - in keeping the public informed on the status of things at the Fort Calhoun nuclear power plant and the Cooper Nuclear Station.

The situation is remindful, to some, of the famous admonition from the late Robert Novak, who was among the most conservative of conservative national columnists: "Always love your country. Never trust your government."

Some observers have always viewed Novak's advice as absolutely sage. Others have seen it as reflective of a somewhat too cynical view.

The view from here: To paraphrase Ronald Reagan, "Verify before you trust!"

Will it matter?

In some states, Democratic candidates for the House and Senate are expected to enumerate and laud the projects, programs and jobs that resulted from the economic stimulus package pushed by President Obama and approved by Congress.

After all, lots of incumbents from both political parties took lots of bows, in person, when those things took effect in their territory. In Nebraska, the federal funds were used largely to balance the state's budget, and thus saving Nebraskans from higher state tax rates.

In Nebraska, however, it might appear the stimulus in general had such negative political connotations among the electorate that it couldn't serve as a political plus.

Letters

Kudos to woman on her journey

On this 4th of July a woman who exemplifies the true meaning of independence is on my mind.

Norma Fleisher, pushing 85 years old, is driving her old white sedan to every one of 93 county seats in the state to dialogue with ordinary citizens about the death penalty. For the past 12 years she has sat every Monday outside the Capitol with a fellow Nebraskans Against the Death Penalty member holding Abolish the Death Penalty signs. That logo is also on her navy blue and red t-shirts and on her car's front doors in her present odyssey. Otherwise she travels with zero publicity which is just fine with her. She's in this for the long haul of her convictions, not for the proverbial 15 minutes of fame.

It's not ego that drives Norma. It's a passion for doing the right thing in her golden years, not with off-putting stridency but with a relaxed style and lots of humor, much of it self-deprecating. She said of her Methodist church in Lincoln, "Everyone in it is an activist of some kind. I felt like I was doing nothing in comparison." When I asked her how her family views her activities, she said "they've learned to put up with my craziness." That craziness includes 19 years of prison ministry which the good Lord saw fit to lead me to instead of sending me to Africa on mission work. Of this trip she added, "I think perhaps an 84 year-old great-great-grandmother driving a 19-year-old Toyota stick shift, might arouse some interest, if only to see someone that nutty."

Norma has already stopped in Wayne, the second day of her journey, which began on June 15. You may have caught sight of her sitting under a tree at the Farmers Market, and later at the Dairy Queen. She gives no lectures, just sits quietly, waiting for someone to come up and talk one-on-one. Though some people have avoided eye contact and others have swiftly changed the subject when the death penalty came up, she says that no one has been outwardly rude. In fact, she's surprised at just how kind may have been, from helping her up steep stairs to picking up something she dropped when it was hard to manage her cane and the extra stuff.

When Norma's trip is complete (and I have no doubt it will be, barring her car breaking down), she will have driven at least 3,200 miles, not including detours and backtracking she takes in stride, having learned that going with the flow is far less tiring than resisting it. You can follow her all the way at www.nadp.net, where the schedule she set up herself appears. She is also paying her own way. She's roughly half way done now and still going strong. This first leg ends July 10 when she takes a break at her Lincoln home before forging out again on July 20, her mission to be accomplished on Aug. 2. Here's to Norma's courage, compassion, and independence! How brightly they sparkle.

Bonnie Andersen

Flooding situation is being monitored

I apologize for not getting a newsletter out last week. This will happen from time to time, and I will try to let you know why either before or after it happens. This time, I wasn't home, so it didn't happen.

Gavins Point Dam continues to release 160,000 cubic feet per second (cfs) of water, which is 10,000 cfs more than the previously announced maximum amount of water to be released from this location. Levees have been breached in Iowa, and much damage has been done all along the length of the Missouri River and its tributaries. The flooding of 2011 is devastating, and continues to damage or destroy ever increasing amounts of property. The worse part is that not only property is being affected, too many people's lives are affected, too many jobs are lost. While it is true that people show their best at times of crises, too much it seems is being asked of too many. There is still a nagging question, did this really have to happen, or could it have been prevented or at least reduced?

Last week, I spent four days in Washington D.C. I was able to meet at different times, with all members of our congressional delegation. I met with Senators Mike Johanns and Ben Nelson, as well as Congressmen Jeff Fortenberry and Adrian Smith, who each now represent parts of District 17; and also Lee Terry, who represents mostly the Omaha area. I asked all five questions about the U.S. Corps of Engineers, especially concerning the timing of the release of the water. We discussed the habitat for certain birds and fish versus the well-being of people. All are focused on the flooding, and the damages caused to our Nebraska residents and communities. No one wants to lay blame until ALL the facts are in and that is as it should be. There are a lot of questions that need answers. All of your delegates in D.C. assure me that they intend to ask and get answers to those questions. Only time will tell.

The Legislature's Health Committee held a briefing on June 23 with representatives of the National Conference of State Legislatures. The meeting focused on ways for states to provide health related services to their citizens in the most economical ways possible. The Health Committee was told about other states' efforts to privatize services with

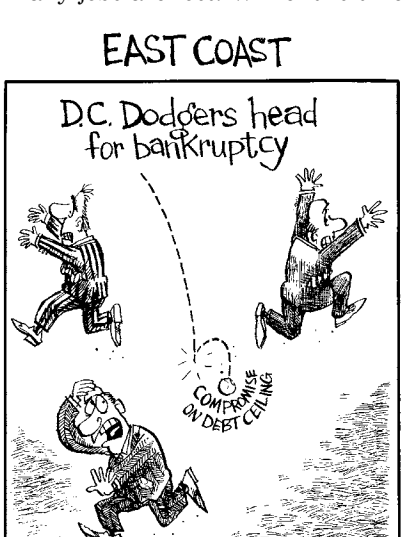

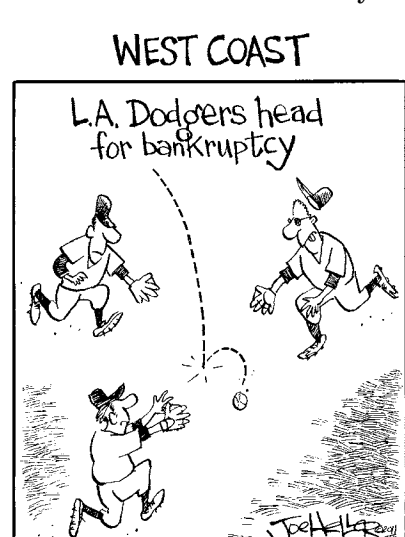

Legislative Update
By Dave Bloomfield
State Senator, District 17

private, for-profit entities, as well as establishing performance-based contracts with community entities. Nebraska has recently decided to work with private, for-profit entities to deliver some of the services formerly provided by the state. There are many areas of concern when handing over these responsibilities other entities, such as cost, privacy issues, and staffing. The purpose of the meeting was to inform Nebraska legislators of problems other states have experienced while going through this process in hopes that Nebraska can avoid some of the same issues in the future. I was unable to attend this meeting, however Linda Schmidt, our Legislative aide did attend. Linda has a good understanding (better than mine) how all this works and will advise me accordingly. Our goal in this area is to render the best possible aide to those truly in need of it at the least possible cost to the taxpayer.

My staff also attended a meeting in York, Nebraska, on June 28 concerning a resolution I introduced for study this interim. The Iowa/Nebraska Equipment Dealers Association held a legislative meeting in York, Nebraska, and one of the issues discussed was LR322. This study resolution will examine issues relating to the operation of the Nebraska Tractor Testing Laboratory. This resolution calls for the Agriculture Committee to tour the Nebraska Tractor Testing Lab, and conduct a detailed study of the issues that may place Nebraska equipment dealers at an economic disadvantage compared to their competitors in neighboring states. Representatives of this Association have asked to be present during the Ag Committee's tour, and be allowed to share their concerns with the state senators in attendance. I will provide more information about LR322 and this event when details have been arranged.

As we celebrate our freedom this week, remember those who stand guard over it. Keep our fighting men and women in your prayers. Fly the flag if you can.

Reduce lawn mowing accident risks

Mowing the grass may seem a harmless chore, but accidents that occur while a lawnmower is in use are expected to prompt as many as 60,000 visits to hospital emergency rooms this year. As many as one-fourth of the accidents (15,000) are expected to be serious injuries to the hands and feet.

Children can be particularly vulnerable. They can be injured when they run up to a lawnmower, slip and slide underneath it; run behind it, or ride on it. They also can be injured while playing in a yard where a parent or older brother or sister is mowing the grass.

Injuries from power mowers can be far more serious than an occasional cut suffered from once-standard rotary push mowers. That doesn't mean, however, that power mowers can't be operated safely. Here are a few safety tips:

– Make arrangements for children and pets to stay inside and/or well away from the area that is to be mowed.

– Pick up and dispose of yard debris before mowing. Injuries can result from seemingly harmless debris (a twig that may have dropped from a tree or small rock washed into a lawn from a nearby garden area) can be sucked into the rotary motion of the mower blade and propelled much like a military missile. Such accidents can chip house paint, break windows, and also injure innocent bystanders.

– Wear sturdy shoes or boots with non-slip soles when mowing.

– Plan to mow only the grass. For example, using a lawnmower as a weed chopper may propel debris. Using a lawnmower as a trimmer also can be problematic, particularly when using a larger mower to trim a narrow edge, like curbside edging near a street.

– Turn off a lawnmower and allow the blade to come to a complete stop before trying to remove clogged grass or other debris.

– Mow hilly or uneven areas and garden or other edges with added caution, such as tripping and falling into a mower or slipping on a hill and allowing a mower to roll

Angela Abts
Dakota County Extension Office

– Keep mower in tip-top shape.

– Store gas, oil and other mowing supplies in appropriate containers away from children and pets. Storing them away from the house (in a garage or garden shed) also can help reduce the risk of fire damage to the home.

– Replenish gas and oil in a well-ventilated, non-grassy area.

– Say "no" to requests for rides on lawnmowers or garden tractors.

Maintaining a lawn need not be dangerous. Common sense and a little caution can help reduce risks that may occur during yard and garden care. For more information, please contact the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Office in your local county or visit the website at www.extension.unl.edu.

3 times when you need a survey before selling a property?

1. When it is not clear where the property line is on the ground. Before you sell property you always want to have a very clear property line. This can avoid future disputes with other property owners. Surveys identify the actual corners of the property thereby eliminating misunderstandings down the road.

2. When you are dividing land and plan to sell off a portion such as acreages. Many lending institutions will require a survey to verify the boundaries for a mortgage. This protects their interest in the property by having known boundaries.

3. When you think there might be an encroachment. Encroachments are any buildings, fences or objects that cross property lines from one property to another. This issue can be very hard to solve if you already have a purchase agreement in place. The time to find out this information is before you list the property.

While these are not the only reasons to have a survey completed, they are very important. Having a survey done sooner rather than later can save you money, time and stress.

Supporting the cause

While they did not have an "official team," members of the local Red Hat Society made monetary contributions to this year's Wayne County Relay For Life event. They were also in attendance at the event, walking a number of laps around the Wayne State College track and taking part in various ways. Sporting shirts announcing "Big or Small, let's save them all" were (front) Margie Osbahr, Connie Kirkpatrick, Merna Jones, JoAnn Benshoof, (back) Donna Lundin, Sharon Puckett, Ruby DenHerder, Sharon Fleer, Gail Harrison and Darlene Roberts.

Mission work

Recently members of the Our Savior Lutheran Church Mission team went to Spirit Lake, Iowa to work at an ELCA Lakeside youth camp. Seven youth and 14 adults spent their time working on projects that included replacing windows, cutting down three trees for camp site wood, repairing cabin screens, gutting out a building and sorting good items, disposing of old items, repairing the building for storage, mowing, trimming, weeding to working in the camp kitchen. Each evening there was a devotion time. Fishing, swimming and skating as well as camp fire time concluded the day. One afternoon was spent doing a free time experience at the Lake Side Park near by and an evening out to eat in Spirit Lake. Those taking part in the mission trip included (front) Phyllis Rahn Darrel Rahn Cheryl Roberts, Megan Stalling, John Hansen, Rowan Wiltse, (middle) Connie Roberts, June Baier, Twila Wiltse, Nancy Jo Powers, Garret Heikes, Dillon Wieland, Zach Gemelke, Ryan Grosz. (back) Byron Heier, Ray Novak, Barb Stenwall, Lou Wiltse, Tanya Heikes, Kim Dunklau and Natalie Sieler.

Bible Study keys Praise agenda

The "Week at Praise Assembly" begins this evening (Thursday) with the Mid-Week Bible Study held in the Fireside Room at the church at 7 p.m. The guest teacher for this week is Colleen Heinemann.

On Saturday at 7 p.m., also in the Fireside room, there is an "Hour of Prayer" meeting. It is an opportunity for members of the community to gather together and intercede for needs of the area. Organizers remind those in attendance "God hears and answers prayer!"

Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. is the Sunday School hour. On July 10, Tim Hansen of Laurel will be the guest teacher for the class. During the morning worship service at 10:30 a.m., Praise and Worship will be led by Ernest Bratcher (a 2011 graduate from Allen High School, and incoming Wayne State freshman). Ernest will also sing a vocal solo for the offertory in this service.

Two weeks ago, Pastor Dennis Preston began a sermon/teaching series on the book of Romans in the New Testament. He will continue this series in the Sunday morning and evening 6:30 p.m. services this weekend. His topic will be "The Heart of the Gospel"; and he will use Romans 1:16-17 as his text.

The first "Church Hall" meeting on Sunday, July 3 was "a great time of fellowship over lunch and in discussion and prayer as the congregation met together for a look at the past year - and joined in expectation to look ahead to the coming days."

Praise Assembly of God Church is located at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne. All are invited to join in the gatherings for worship, fellowship, prayer and instruction.

Taking part in the ordination ceremony were, (from left) Rev. Tim Steckling, St. Paul Lutheran Church, Winside; Timothy Gierke, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Fremont; Willie Bertrand, Immanuel, Wakefield, and St. Paul Lutheran Church, Concord; Rickey Jacob, Jesus our Savior Lutheran Outreach, Winnebago; Rev. Bill Engebretsen, Immanuel Lutheran Church, Laurel; Rev. Michael Feldmann, Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne; Rev. Gary Werling, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Gretna; Richard Snow, St. John Lutheran Church, Battle Creek; Rev. Terry Kenitz, Trinity Lutheran Church, Martinsburg; Rev. Carl Lilienkamp, Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne; Rev. Herb Biermann, (not visible); Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne; and Rev. Randy Knuth, Hope Lutheran Church, South Sioux City.

Feldmann ordained at Grace Lutheran

Candidate Michael W. Feldmann was ordained in the Office of the Holy Ministry in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, and was also installed as associate pastor at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on June 26.

Pastor Richard Snow, the First Vice-President of the Nebraska District of the LCMS, officiated the ordination and installation with area pastors participating by laying on of hands and speaking blessings. The Grace Lutheran Adult Choir and Hand bell choir provided special music.

Following the service, a lunch reception was hosted for Michael and Jessica. The Feldmanns moved to Wayne from St. Louis, Mo., where Michael graduated from Concordia Seminary. He served his vicarage year at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Gretna and Jessica Church in Fremont as a Deaconess.

Area 4-H'ers work to identify various plants as host Donald Liedman looks on.

Plant identification contest held

The annual 4-H and Master Gardener plant identification contest was held at the Donald and Dorrine Liedman home June 22. After gloomy weather most of the day, the evening turned out to be ideal for the contest.

The 4-H youth had 34 plants to identify by multiple choice and the Master Gardeners had 22 with no help as far as multiple choice.

Sisters Rachel and Stephanie Sorensen from Pierce County, tied with answering 32 out of 34 correct and had to identify a plant as a tie breaker. Rachel came out victorious. Third place went to Wayne County 4-Her, Grace Heithold. All three were presented with a plant as their prize.

Marjorie Jansen of Norfolk won the Master Gardener division. She also gave a demonstration on preparing flowers for showing at the County Fair.

Refreshments were served following the contest. A special thank you was extended to Donald and Dorrine Liedman for hosting this event.

Marjorie Jansen demonstrates how to properly prepare flowers for county fair competition.

Wayne to host brand input meeting July 12

Nebraska Cattlemen will discuss brand inspection, brand recording and brand investigation at an upcoming Nebraska Cattlemen Brand Input meeting.

This meeting will be held Tuesday, July 12 in the Community Room at the Wayne Community Activity Center in Wayne. The brand input meeting will begin at 1 p.m., and all cattle producers and interested individuals are invited to attend.

"We realize that Wayne is out of the brand inspection area, but it is important to facilitate input from all producers. We have heard from some producers that brand inspection should be statewide" said Michael Kelsey, Nebraska Cattlemen Executive vice president.

"It is critical for Nebraska beef producers to hear all sides of this issue by sharing their ideas and listening to the ideas of others," said Kelsey. "Nebraska Cattlemen is happy to help facilitate this important discussion."

Additional brand meetings will be held throughout the state in the months to come. Nebraska is a state that is split – the west side of the state has brand inspection, while the east side does not. Those who raise cattle or are involved with the industry are invited to come share their thoughts on this topic.

At the 2010 Nebraska Cattlemen Convention, the membership directed the organization to gather data about brand inspection and hold informational meetings to educate and listen to producers about this issue. At each of the meetings, input from producers will be recorded. Nebraska Cattlemen appreciates the Nebraska Brand Committee's involvement in these meetings.

For more information, call Melody Benjamin at (308) 760-6464.

Master Naturalist Program to conduct training this summer

The Nebraska Master Naturalist Program gives participants the chance to learn hands-on about the state's natural resources, network with other naturalists across the state and participate in volunteer and training opportunities.

Nebraska Master Naturalist Certification Training in and around Grand Island and Kearney will run from July 13 through Sept. 3, meeting Saturdays, 8:30-5 p.m., and Wednesdays, either 12-4 p.m. or 5-9 p.m. It costs $200 per person. Master naturalists must be at least 19 years of age. Sessions are held throughout the Grand Island and Kearney area in locations such as Rowe Sanctuary and the Nebraska Nature and Visitors Center.

The training, led by various experts, covers Nebraska's ecosystems, plants and animals, conservation biology and more.

Master Naturalists are landowners, teachers, professionals, guides, college students, parents and retirees. Anyone with an interest in leading education programs, exploring new career opportunities, conducting breeding bird surveys, mentoring hunters and anglers, volunteering in parks and zoos, or teaching their family about the outdoors would find it useful.

For more information or to submit an application, visit the Nebraska Master Naturalist Web site, follow the organization on Facebook, or join its mailing list. For more information, contact the program coordinator at (402) 472-8689.

Week is full of emotional activities

With this heat index, we definitely know it's summer! And it's been one of those emotional weeks I alluded to last week. Besides all that was going on, the car was in the shop and it turned out to be expensive! Woe is me, except that I remind myself I'm not being flooded.

Cousin Judeen of Church Road, just west of the Farm House, had just finished remodeling her farm house; the last room was the kitchen. She has wonderful taste and access to the best in restoration. Last Saturday night, they were struck by lightning. She says she thought it was the end of the world! And they only hope it can be salvaged.

So, a car is nothing! As long as it has four wheels, air conditioning, and starts, right? We have it loaded to head to LaCrosse for a cousin reunion this weekend. But I promised Clara on Wednesday to have this in by Friday.

This was the week we presented a united front to my mom and moved her to an assisted living facility. Of course, it was difficult, for her and for us. As I have mentioned, she does not have the insight to recognize how much she has declined. My brother flew in from South Carolina and on Tuesday, Two Men and a Truck took the bedroom set, the couch, the lift chair and the hutch to the facility. After they unloaded, we drove her there.

She alternates between lucidity and confusion. She literally directed the movers as to what she wanted to take, but then could not understand why her furniture was in this apartment. She finds things to laugh about, but tells us what bad children we are to do this to her.

We are all just relieved to know that she is safe, and that as her care needs escalate, the facility is prepared to meet them. Already, two square meals and activities have helped her to sleep better at night. We know it's the for the best, and we can leave town for four days with the assurance that she will be cared for.

The Gamecocks won the CWS handily, and the fireworks stands are open for business today. I'm not looking forward to the drive in holiday traffic, but plan to take it easy. We are just glad the Interstate is open across that river! So, happy Fourth, and take time to remember just what it is we are observing. In God we trust!! Semper fi.

Counties eligible for USDA emergency loans

Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director, Dan Steinkruger, announced that family farmers in four Nebraska counties are eligible to apply for low interest Emergency (EM) loans due to physical and production losses caused by flooding that occurred on March 11, 2011, and continuing. Those counties are: Boyd, Cedar, Dixon, and Knox.

These four Nebraska counties became eligible for this assistance because they are contiguous to the six South Dakota counties that were declared a Presidential Major Disaster on June 29 by President Obama due to this disaster.

Emergency loan applications are available and must be submitted through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical or production loss (at least a 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster in these counties.

To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical or production loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA. The low interest loans may cover up to 100 percent of their actual production or physical losses, to a maximum amount of $500,000. The loan applicants must show ability to repay the loan and the loan must be adequately secured.

FSA loans for production losses may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to refinance certain debts. FSA loans for physical losses may be used to repair or replace the property that was damaged or lost. The current interest rate for the EM loans is 3.75 percent. The deadline for submitting applications is Feb. 29, 2012.

In addition to the Emergency (EM) Loan Program, the FSA has other Direct and Guaranteed Farm Operating and Farm Ownership Loan Programs, which can be considered in assisting farmers to recover from their losses. Additional information about FSA Farm Loan Programs is available at www.fsa.usda.gov/dafl.

Treatment not always needed

It is time for my annual corn fungicide article. As corn growth continues to progress, some producers will consider applying fungicides near tasseling time.

Fungicide use in corn has increased dramatically over the last few years, with many chemical companies promising enhanced yields due to "plant health" even if no noticeable disease is present.

One common selling point chemical companies use over and over is that with the prices as high as they are, you need to "protect" yield from possible diseases. Also in the last couple of years, hail events have pounded some Nebraska corn fields. Along with heavy rains and high humidity, many will question whether a foliar fungicide should be applied to protect the remaining injured foliage from infection by pathogens.

Research from Midwest universities shows that the most benefit from fungicide applications to corn comes when diseases are actually present, which makes sense.

Many of the diseases favored by wounding from hail are not controlled with foliar fungicides, such as those caused by bacteria, (especially Goss's wilt and blight), common smut, and stalk rots. Furthermore, foliar diseases that can be managed with foliar fungicides, such as gray leaf spot and southern rust, do not require wounds for infection. The development of some of these diseases following a hail event might more likely be attributed to the rain and increased relative humidity accompanying the storm rather than the hail itself.

Educator

Profitable returns from the use of fungicide are hard to predict. How do you know if applying a fungicide will make you money?

First, be wary of non-replicated plot results. If you divide a field in equal halves, one half is going to yield more than the other simply due to chance variability of the soil types and other factors involved. That means 50 percent of the time the treated area will "beat" the untreated area and vice versa. Remember that to be profitable, you must make up the cost of the product and the application, which even at current prices will require at least a four bushel increase. In University tests this happens only from 20 to 60 percent of the time depending on the plot conditions when there is little disease pressure.

Your greatest chance of return on investment is if you have a majority of these factors:

1. Disease is present.
2. Weather conditions favor disease reproduction.
3. You have a susceptible variety.
4. You have corn on corn.
5. The field has a high yield potential.
6. There is heavy residue which may harbor disease organisms.
7. The corn in irrigated which raises the humidity levels.
8. A history of disease, particularly grey leaf spot.

If you want to try out the use of fungicides on your farm try to put in at least three strips of treated and untreated areas and take yield results in the fall. It takes more work but you will have a higher confidence in the results. Fungicides work well in preventing yield loss from diseases, but try to determine whether or not they are really needed. Always carefully read the label to understand pre-harvest intervals and potential negative effects like stunted ears.
