Rubeck's road is hot topic for County board

By JAYCIE WOSLAGER
Of The Herald

Dean Janke came to the board looking for an update on the Rubeck road situation.

County Commissioner James Rabe told Janke that the Sheriff's Department is now involved.

"If they plow that road, they'll be in trouble because that's our road. They have no right to tear that road up. We will leave the road closed sign out and people will go on it at their own risk," said Rabe.

Both the sheriff and Rabe have called the Rubecks about the situation, but they are left with no answer from them.

However, County Commissioner Kelvin Wurdemann thought otherwise.

"The land is the road, so it's not ours; it's theirs. They could get someone for trespassing. I just can't see how we can have the road when it's theirs. They took away our easement," stated Wurdemann.

Rabe hopes that, by harvest time the road, can be left open and he told Janke that he will keep him informed on what will happen with the road.

Emergency manager Nic Kemnitz told the board that he and Sheriff LeRoy Janssen are working on a continuity of operations plan should the courthouse be forced to relocate due to disaster. Various options in Wayne, as well as in the county's villages, were discussed and will be listed as potential sites.

The board approved one application sent in by Cable One. They would like to bury all utility line in county road right-of-way. The board also approved a change to the 4-hour Stop Program curriculum and a county burial application.

"If they plow that road, they'll be in trouble because that's our road. They have no right to tear that road up. We will leave the road closed sign out and people will go on it at their own risk."

— James Rabe
Wayne County Commissioner

The board chose to wait on approving a resolution from the Northeast Nebraska Health Department. This resolution would adopt rules and regulations to prevent the spread of communicable disease.

At their last meeting, Sheriff LeRoy Janssen approached the board that this resolution would have problems with some of the police department protocols. Janssen said he would contact the Northeast Nebraska Health Department and sort out the details with them. Janssen was called and told the board he would like to hold it for the next meeting. However, the resolution was approved by county attorney, Mike Pieper.

The board was notified of completion of a project for milling existing asphaltic concrete overlay of a county road beginning 1.5 miles west and 1.3 miles north of Sholes, extending 1.9 miles southwest to the western edge of Sholes.

County Commissioner Dean Burbach has overseen the project from start to finish.

"It's a lot smoother now and helps with dust control," stated Burbach.

Council approves traffic changes around Wayne Middle School

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

With the start of the school year today and the added construction taking place at Wayne Middle School, residents will have to get used to some new driving patterns around the school.

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, the board approved a resolution establishing one-way and two-way traffic in the city and approved ordinances that restrict parking along Sherman and Douglas streets during two different time periods each day during the school year.

Traffic will run one way going south on School View Drive between Fourth and Fifth streets and east on Fourth Street between School View Drive and Sherman Street. There will be two-way traffic on Fifth Street between Sherman Street and School View Drive.

One-way traffic will also be in place on Douglas Street between Third and Fourth streets going south, and on Sherman Street between Third and Fourth streets traveling north.

The Council sent three ordinances through and waived third readings that amended areas in the southwest quadrant of the city where parking will be prohibited in certain areas at certain times, particularly around the middle school.

The Council also gave its blessing to a new agreement with Wayne State College on the college's use of the city's law enforcement resources, which will include fewer weekly hours at a reduced cost to the college.

Jeff Carstens, Dean of Students at the college, said that budget restraints was the reason why the college wanted to amend the annual agreement, reducing the number of hours from 30 per week to 22. The college will pay the city $30,000, down from $42,000 a year ago.

Sgt. Marlen Chinn of the Wayne Police Department said the officer that will patrol the campus will have a laptop computer Volunteers and officials from Luken Memorials work to remove a wall from the Wayne County Veterans Memorial that had toppled over last week.

Cause of downed Veterans' monument still in question

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

How one of the six 5,000-pound granite tablets at the Wayne County Veterans Memorial was toppled over remains a mystery, according to county officials.

The tablet, and a second tablet that was found to have come loose from its base, were taken back to Luken Memorials in Yankton S.D., for repair work. The second tablet did not have any damage, but was discovered to be loose on its base and was removed for repair work as a precautionary measure.

Damage estimates were not available, although the cost of each tablet, before engraving, was about $5,500. Severe storms with 60 mile-per-hour winds blew through the Wayne area Sunday night, and one of the tablets was found tipped over Monday morning.

Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen said an investigation as to the cause of the toppled-over tablets had yet to result in a determination whether the tablets' toppling was the result of Mother Nature or an act of vandalism. He said the case would remain open pending information received from Luken Memorials on what damage, if any, was found.

A return home for new Wayne postmaster

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Who says you can't go home again?

Beth Pasold has returned to her roots, so to speak, as she was officially installed Tuesday as the new Postmaster at the Wayne Post Office.

With family, friends and community leaders packing the lobby area of the downtown office, Pasold took her oath from Dawn Meyer, manager of Post Office operations, and thanked everybody in attendance for being there on a special day in her life.

With her husband, Jeff, holding the Bible, Pasold took the oath of office and is now looking forward to getting back in touch with the community she grew up in.

"Being from Wayne was definitely a huge reason for me," she said of why she applied for the position after serving as Pilger's postmaster the past seven years. "It's a promotion for me to move to a bigger office, and coming home is a big thing."

Pasold graduated from Wayne High in 1986, and after serving three years in the Army, got her criminal justice degree from Wayne State College in 1993.

Pasold began with the Post Office in 2000, working at the office's processing plant in Norfolk before taking the Pilger job in 2004.

Now that she is in her new position,

Beth Pasold is congratulated by Dawn Meyer, manager of Post Office operations after taking the oath of office as Wayne's new Postmaster. Holding the Bible is Pasold's husband, Jeff.

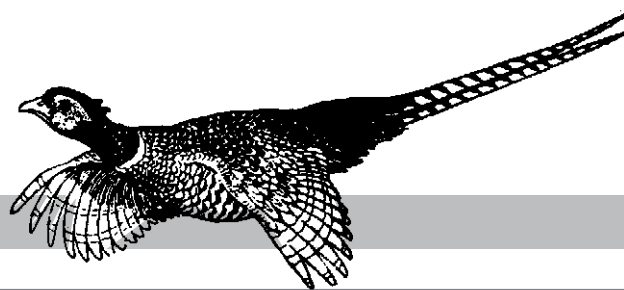

Pasold said she is looking forward to getting to know the people who will be coming in for stamps or to mail letters and packages.

"I need to get out and meet the businesspeople and the residents of the community," she said. "I've been working at the window already and getting to know some people, and I need to get out and promote the post office and I look forward to doing that."

"Think outside the box and do something for the greater good," he told the students. "Make a difference in this world."

Safety important for athletes training in summer heat

In the wake of recent student athlete deaths due to excessive heat, the American Red Cross recommends team officials, coaches and parents take steps to help ensure the safety of their players during extreme heat.

"Keeping athletes safe is crucial," said Shalle Wolff, Executive Director, Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross. "Make sure athletes stay hydrated. Have everyone drink plenty of fluids like water or sports drinks with electrolytes before, during and after activities. Avoid drinks with caffeine or alcohol."

During the hot weather, team practices should be scheduled for early in the day and later in the evening to avoid exposing players to the hottest times of the day. Other steps teams, schools and parents should take to protect their athletes include:

- Allow athletes to get acclimated to the heat by reducing the intensity of practice until they are more accustomed to it.

- Make frequent, longer breaks a regular part of practice. About every 20 minutes stop for fluids and try to keep the athletes in the shade if possible.

- Reduce the amount of heavy equipment—like football pads—athletes wear in extremely hot, humid weather.

- Dress athletes, when appropriate, in net-type jerseys or lightweight, light-colored, cotton T-shirts and shorts.

- Know the signs of heat-related emergencies and monitor athletes closely.

"Knowing the signs of heat-related emergencies and how to help someone who is suffering from the heat is vital," Wolff stressed. "Coaches and parents need to be vigilant in watching for signs of heat-related emergencies. Athletes should inform their coaches, teachers or parents if they are not feeling well."

Heat cramps are muscular pains and spasms that usually occur in the legs or abdomen caused by exposure to high heat and humidity and loss of fluids and electrolytes. Heat cramps are often an early sign that the body is having trouble with the heat. If someone is experiencing heat cramps:

- Get the person to a cooler place and have him or her rest in a comfortable position. Stretching, massaging and icing the affected muscle may help.

- Give a half glass of cool water or a sports drink with electrolytes every 15 minutes. Do not give liquids with alcohol or caffeine in them, as they can make conditions worse.

Heat exhaustion is caused by a combination of exercise induced heat and fluid and electrolyte loss from sweating. Signs of heat exhaustion include cool, moist, pale or flushed skin; heavy sweating; headache; nausea; dizziness; weakness; and exhaustion. To help someone with these symptoms:

- Move the person to a cooler place. Remove or loosen tight clothing. Spray him or her with water or apply cool, wet cloths or towels to the skin. Fan the person. If the person is conscious, give small amounts of cool water or a sports drink with electrolytes to drink. Make sure the person drinks slowly. Watch for changes in his or her condition.
- If the person refuses water, vomits or begins to lose consciousness, call 911 or the local emergency number.

Heat stroke (also known as sunstroke) is a life-threatening condition in which a person's temperature control system stops working and the body is unable to cool itself.

- Signs of heat stroke include those of heat exhaustion and hot, red skin which may be dry or moist; change or loss of consciousness; seizures; vomiting; and high body temperature.

- Heat stroke is life-threatening. Call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number immediately.

- Move the person to a cooler place. Quickly cool the person's body by immersing them up to their neck in cold water if possible. If unable to immerse them, continue rapid cooling by applying bags of ice or cold packs wrapped in a cloth to the wrists, ankles, groin, neck and armpits, spraying with water and/or fanning.

Learn how to prevent and respond to heat-related and other emergencies by taking a First Aid/CPR/AED course. Contact the Northeast Nebraska Community Chapter at (402) 371-0393 or visit redcross.org/training to register.

Sales tax figures are back up for August

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

After last month's unusual dip, sales tax figures are back up this month, according to figures released Tuesday from the city office.

Wayne's city sales tax revenue, based on receipts from the month of June, was $43,896.96. While that is down from last year's then-record amount of $51,113.69, it is up significantly from the $22,563.79 received a month ago.

"City sales tax is back on track," said city finance director Nancy Braden. "It's down from a year ago, however, it's about even with the prior year. Last year was an exceptional year."

Even with the bounce back, Wayne's average monthly city sales tax intake is still below the projected average of $43,395.44. With one month to go in the fiscal year, the city has collected $457,823.81, an average of $41,620.35. Last year, the city received more than $521,000 in local sales tax revenue, averaging more than $43,400 per month.

Construction almost complete, wastewater plan ready to go

$6 million project largest of its kind in United States

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

After several years of discussion, evaluation and consultation and more than a year of construction, the city of Wayne's new wastewater treatment facility is just weeks away from going on-line.

The cost of the project is $6 million, including engineering costs and $1 million less than original estimates. The Wayne plant will be the largest of its kind in the United States.

Starting the week of Sept. 5, we will begin routing wastewater through the new plant. We will do constant testing for some time as it will take several weeks for the system to become fully operational," said Garry Poutre, public works superintendent.

Wastewater will come to the facility from throughout the city and be pumped into what is known as a headworks building. There a series of screens will filter out any in-organic matter greater than one millimeter in diameter.

From that point, the water will be gravity feed into the next portion of the facility, the Aquaris plant.

system is a 90-by-55 foot area, 16 feet deep and contains 15 cells with a cloth-like material on which the bacteria grow.

Air will be pumped into the system constantly as the bacteria need air to survive.

The hold time for the water being treated is 24 hours and at that point Poutre said the water is clean enough to drink.

"As time goes on, the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) standards are becoming more stringent. We need to constantly monitor the water that goes into Logan Creek. This plant will help us meet these requirements," Poutre said.

The project is a two-phase one, according to Poutre. The first is to get the plant on-line. This should be accomplished in the near future and then portions of the current plant will be demolished. Next spring, sidewalks will be poured.

Poutre anticipates an open house type event to be held for the new facility sometime this fall.

Frevert joins staff at 1st Realty in Wayne

Brian Frevert, a life-long resident of Wayne, recently became a sales person with 1st Realty in Wayne.

Frevert received his real estate license after attending Larabee School of Real Estate and began his employment with 1st Realty early this month.

"I have always talked about selling real estate, but never did anything about it. Before I began taking the classes to get my license, I talked with Anne Nolte (owner of 1st Realty) to see if there was room for me in this business. When I found out there was, I decided to move forward," Frevert said.

Frevert said he is available to sell any type of real estate and is not limited to sales in Wayne; but instead, is willing to get involved in sales anywhere in northeast Nebraska.

Frevert is a member of the Nebraska and National Realtors Association.

"I have been in sales all my life, including with my own business and auto sales. I have also had an interest in real estate and when this opportunity presented itself, I took advantage of it," he said.

"With Brian's longtime ties to the community and extensive sales background, we at 1st Realty are excited to have him with us," Nolte said.

Frevert

Frevert said he has already begun to make contacts with those who may be interested in selling their property and will continue to make contacts in the coming weeks.

"I am thrilled to be with 1st Realty. I have known Anne and her family for many years. I am anxious to work with people in the community to help meet their real estate needs," he said.

Frevert's family includes his wife, Shelley; daughters Brandy, who lives in Washington, Iowa, and Brittney of San Antonio, Texas; son Brad of Lincoln and three grandchildren.

Frevert can be reached by calling (402) 375-1477 or (402) 369-4540.

Topp to be Grand Marshal at State Fair

The Nebraska State Fair has announced the Grand Marshals for the 2011 State Fair to be held in Grand Island Aug. 26-Sept. 5.

According to board president Jana Kruger, "We're very pleased to announce those individuals selected to serve as the Grand Marshals for the Nebraska State Fair Parade. Each one has been an integral part of their own county fairs, and we want to showcase their talents with special recognition."

Those selected as Grand Marshals include Mick Topp of Winside, who will be the Grand Marshal on Sunday, Aug. 28. Topp was nominated by the Wayne County Fair Board, where he has served for the past 37 years.

During that time, he was instrumental in constructing an announcer stand, building and repairing the bleachers and keeping the plumbing in order. This is his last year on the fair board, but he plans to watch his grandchildren show their 4-H projects. Topp will lead the parade at 6 p.m. on Aug. 28.

According to Kruger, "nominations for Grand Marshal were received from across the state and were open to individuals who are outstanding volunteers in their own county fairs."

"These individuals have shown their counties, and now the State of Nebraska, the true spirit of volunteerism and leadership." Kruger said.

Mick Topp and his wife, Sue, received the Kilroy Award at this year's Wayne County Fair. The award is presented annually to someone or a group who has made outstanding contributions to the fair. Making the presentation were Shelli Keiser and David Jaeger, members of the Wayne County Agricultural Society.

The Nebraska State Fair runs from Friday, Aug. 26 through Monday, Sept. 5 at Fonner Park in Grand Island. The 11-day fair features more than 500 vendor booths, livestock shows, agricultural equipment and numerous exhibitors.

Council

"With the laptop, he can stay on campus and use it to do reports that he can put into the system," he said. The college currently employs three full-time and one part-time person for security, but Carstens said the local law enforcement helps provide 24-hour-a-day, 7-day-a-week coverage on campus.

Councilman Jim VanDelden expressed concern about reports of vandalism occurring at residences across the street from the campus. Carstens said the college has put forth several efforts to educate students on "being good neighbors."

"We communicate with incoming students and returning students about being good neighbors, and the police department communicates with students about gatherings and how to avoid having the police show up."

The Wayne City Council's next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 6 at 5:30 p.m. in the council chambers, located at 306 N. Pearl Street.

Don't be upset about losing Bubba

Hey, if it's August, it must be time to talk some football. Here's a few things I was thinking about while missing the second half of my Seattle Seahawks' comeback preseason win over San Diego for the GOP debate:

—Any fan of the Nebraska football team who is bitter, disappointed or otherwise has their Big Red boxers in a bunch of Bubba Starling's signing a $7.5 million contract to play with the Kansas City Royals — please go turn your sports fan card in now.

I really can't believe there are sports fans out there who are upset that Starling, a two-sport standout from the Kansas City area, chose to play baseball for his favorite big-league team over playing college football for his favorite college football team.

How tough of a decision is this? First off, the kid is blessed to have the tools to play two sports he is absolutely passionate about (and damn good at). Second, he not only gets a scholarship to play one of those sports at his favorite school, but gets drafted in the first round by his favorite pro sports team, both opportunities he has dreamed of since he was a child.

On the one hand, he can play college football (and baseball) and get a free education. On the other hand, he can get paid millions to play near his hometown and position himself for a great future outside of the game.

Granted, the Huskers lose a potential outstanding talent at quarterback. But there is always the possibility that this thing with the Royals doesn't work out, and he is still young enough to come back and play college football.

Pay the man his money — and wish him the best of luck in his opportunity. If you want to be one of those jerk fans that bad-mouths kids whose personal dreams don't match up with your fanaticism, do us all a favor — become a Texas fan.

— Are you one step away from a mental meltdown over researching for your fantasy NFL draft?

I gotta tell ya — my head has been swimming with all of the free agent signings, trades and untested rookies that are flooding the NFL landscape.

I'm set up to play in three fantasy leagues online this year, and have tried to select leagues with drafts that fall as late in the preseason as possible. I just hope I don't do something really crazy, like accidentally taking a kicker in the first round.

— I guess we're going to find out rather quickly what kind of a season

Wayne native Sam Kurpgewit hands the ball off to Kellen Wells during the Nebraska Lawdawgs' 77-12 win over the Iowa Eagles at Wayne Elementary School Saturday. Wells rushed for over 200 yards for the 8-2 Lawdawgs.

Late start is no problem, Lawdawgs roll to 77-12 win

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The last time the Nebraska Lawdawgs played a game at Wayne Elementary School, they were the visitors.

On Saturday, the Lawdawgs were able to take the field as the home team, but had to wait for the visitors to show up, as the Iowa Eagles encountered road construction on their journey into Wayne.

The late start only delayed the inevitable, as the focused Lawdawgs pounded the outmanned Iowa Eagles in the first half, racking up 61 points in the first 30 minutes and running away with a 77-12 win in Alliance Football League action.

The 30-minute delay did nothing to slow down the Lawdawgs' offense. Wayne native Sam Kurpgewit opened the scoring with a 9-yard touchdown run, threw two more touchdown passes and caught another from Chuck Wright to help the Lawdawgs light up the scoreboard in the first half.

Kurpgewit's 51-yard touchdown catch early in the second period caught early in the second period, so it took us a little bit defensively, but we were able to get after it and I was happy with our performance overall," he said.

The Lawdawgs were particularly dominating in the ground game. The Nebraska offense churned out 342 yards on 48 carries, led by the outstanding effort of Kellen Wells, whose 230 yards on 26 carries was more than the entire offensive output of the visiting Eagles.

"Kellen's a great back and the offensive line has worked very hard at communicating and talking with each other," Taylor said. "Kellen hits the hole so hard, so if these guys can keep working like that he's going to get through there."

Wells scored five touchdowns in the game, with four coming on the ground. He credited the work of the big guys up front in helping him easily eclipse the 200-yard barrier.

"A lot of it was the offensive line," he said. "I got some nice holes and had some linemen to follow downfield and got some blocks from them."

The Lawdawgs' defense gave up two big plays that went for touchdowns in the first half, but they were particularly stingy after that, allowing the Eagles only one first down the rest of the game and crushing their ground game, which averaged almost a negative-4 yards per carry.

"We might have been dominating defensively, but we know that some of the mistakes we made are going to be taken advantage of by a better team and we need to take care of those," Taylor said. "Holding them to negative rushing yards was great. It was a pretty good defensive performance."

The win moved the Lawdawgs to 8-2 on the season and gave them an opportunity to celebrate a division championship on the field. They actually secured the division title in a forfeit a week earlier, but Taylor said the guys wanted to "win" the title on the field.

"We were able to get a win on the field and really celebrate that

Softballers loaded with experience, headed to Class B

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

If you saw the Wayne High softball team play last year, this year's team might look like a rerun.

Eight of the nine starters from last year's 28-3 squad are back for the Blue Devils in 2011, and coach Rob Sweetland is optimistic about his team's chances of repeating the kind of success they had in 2010.

"We have 11 kids who have varsity experience, so we should be real comfortable and confident with the experience we have back," he said.

Leading the charge will be a trio of senior standouts who have the tools to carry the Blue Devils far this season.

Pitcher Cassie Miller was 23-3 last year with a 0.80 earned run average, and Sweetland will rely on her rocket right arm to carry the Blue Devils in the pitcher's circle.

"Cassy will do the majority of the pitching this year," Sweetland said. "She's got really good control of all her pitches, along with a fastball, and has control off all of them. Her velocity is up, and she can throw any pitch for strikes and really frustrate batters."

The Blue Devils also have senior anchors in the infield and outfield. Second baseman Kristin Carroll — who can also step in and pitch if Sweetland wants to rest Miller — batted .329 last season and is a solid player on both sides of the ball. Caitlin Fehringer led the team with 41 runs scored and 37 RBI and batted .456. Her intensity and leadership in the outfield, along with her solid bat, will make her a key element in the team's success.

The infield will be solid behind Miller, with junior Megan Hoffart at first base, sophomore Jalyn Zeiss at shortstop and sophomore Victoria Kranz behind the plate. Courtney Davie's solid bat may make her the lead candidate to take over at third base, although McKenna Gibson could also see time at the hot corner.

"Courtney and McKenna have both worked there some, and Megan can play there as well," Sweetland said. "Courtney had a really good summer hitting, and it would be nice to have her pop behind Caitlin and Cassy in the middle of the lineup."

Other returning starters this year include junior outfielder Hannah

Softball tourney set for Saturday

Wayne High School will host its annual softball tournament on Saturday at the Wayne Softball Complex.

Eight teams will compete in a the bracket-style tournament, with three games guaranteed for every team.

Wayne will face North Bend in their first game at 10 a.m. Second-round games are at 12 p.m., with final games at 2 p.m.

The schedule is as follows:

10 a.m. — Wayne vs. North Bend, Wisner-Pilger vs. Lutheran High NE, Tekamah-Herman vs. West Point-Beemer, Twin River vs. Pierce.

12 p.m. — Wayne/North Bend winner vs. W-P/LHNE winner, T-H/WP-B winner vs. Twin River/Pierce winner, Wayne/North Bend loser vs. W-P/LHNE loser, T-H/WP-B loser vs. Twin River/Pierce loser

2 p.m. — Championship, third place, fifth place and seventh place games

Gamble, designated player Emily Leeper and junior Sydney Harris. All three showed their abilities as young starters last year, and that experience will make Wayne a tough team to beat this season.

"We have all those starters back, but we've had some competition with some of our younger players as well that are right there and could step in, so it's not like our starters aren't getting pushed," Sweetland said.

The Blue Devils will have a little tougher road to travel if they want to get back to Hastings for the state tournament, as Wayne was moved up to Class B this season, putting them in the same district as three-time defending state champion Blair.

The Blue Devils get to see the Bears tonight (Thursday) in the season opener, and Sweetland said the game will be a good test for his team.

"Blair lost some key players, but they're very well-coached and talented and we'll need to be ready," he said. "Hopefully, this first game we can build up some confidence and come back in six weeks and see where we're at. We've competed well against Class B teams and beat Omaha Skutt last year, so we know we can do it."

"But having eight starters back doesn't guarantee that trip to Hastings. We've still got a lot of work to do."

it's going to be for the Wayne State football team.

Last week's American Football Coaches Association Div. II rankings has Nebraska-Kearney and defending national champion Minnesota-Duluth both ranked in the top 25 in the preseason.

The Lopers, Wayne State's season-opening opponent, is ranked No. 16 in the AFCA poll while the Bulldogs start the year right where they finished last season - as the nation's team to beat.

Our website, mywaynews.com, broke the news last week that Wayne State College's season opener against UNK will be broadcast live on the Nebraska ETV network on Thursday, Sept. 1.

This isn't the first time the Wildcats have appeared on ETV. Sports information director Mike Grosz couldn't remember the exact year, but remembers during the Dennis Wagner era when the Wildcats and Lopers played a game on ETV at Kearney. To his knowledge, this is the first time Wayne State has had a home game in any sport broadcast on ETV.

Word on the street is that it may not be the only game on ETV this coming school year. Don't be surprised if a volleyball or basketball game is also shown on Nebraska's educational channel this season.

Brungardt was a two-time NSIC champion in the outdoor season, winning the 100 meter dash and long jump. She maintained a cumulative 3.777 GPA majoring in middle school education/health and physical education.

King earned All-American honors in two events during her final year of eligibility. She was sixth in the 400-meter dash and ran the third leg on the eighth place 1,600-meter relay team at nationals. King carried a 3.871 GPA majoring in education.

Pollard captured All-American honors in two events during the indoor season. She set a new school record in 800-meter dash, placing sixth at nationals, while also running the anchor leg on the 1,600-meter relay team. Pollard sat out the outdoor season as a redshirt and recorded a 3.76 GPA majoring in exercise science.

Life Insurance Facts

A recent study published by THE LIFE INSURANCE MARKETING RESEARCH ASSOCIATION, called LIMRA found that "individual ownership of life insurance is at fifty year low," only forty-four percent of American households own life insurance. Why is this important? Two of three households say they would struggle financially if the primary wage earner would die. Let me review your life insurance needs and make sure you or your spouse and kids won't struggle financially due to the loss of a wage earner.

Can being a moron be called a felony?

Just in time for back to school – another top-notch purging of the “Bits and Pieces” file:

– Now THIS is a guy that knows how to beat Omaha’s rush-hour traffic: a Bennington man in a group of motorcycle riders decided to lead the Nebraska State Patrol on a 32-mile chase through the Omaha metro area recently.

By the time he reached West Dodge Road, the biker was being clocked at – brace yourselves – 158 miles per hour in a 55-mph zone.

In addition to speeding, the guy was ticketed for driving an unregistered motorcycle and having a fake license plate. Sadly, there are no laws on the books in this state for a charge he would easily be found guilty of after a stunt like this – being a felony moron.

– I’m beginning to think the “AC” in ACLU stands for Amazingly Clueless after reading this story.

The Delaware chapter of the ACLU has filed a lawsuit preventing the state from evicting three sex offenders who live in a safe house that happens to be located less than 500 feet from a daycare center.

The executive director of the Delaware ACLU said the evictions are “very unfair and very rushed by the city.”

I’ve got a better idea – let’s move the sex offenders to the homes of those working for the ACLU. In return for a place of residence, they can babysit the children of those working for the ACLU.

– Well, whaddya know – now here’s an idea that I could’ve gone for back when I was in high school.

Recently, Nebraska officials and Gov. Dave Heineman announced plans to build a virtual state high school that would allow students to take advanced courses or catch up on required classes via computer.

The state will use $8.5 million of state lottery proceeds (What? They’re actually using lottery money for what it was originally intended for?) and create a website where students, teachers and parents can find options for online education. It will like up with the University of Nebraska’s Independent Study High School and include online instruction coordinated by the Educational Service Unit Coordinating Council.

The ISHS currently has 100 high school online courses, but students have to pay for tuition, fees and books.

This is a great idea, but it leaves one burning question – who does an online high school student ask out for Homecoming?

– Can you imagine Wayne Country Club’s PGA pro, Troy Harder, kicking Tiger Woods’ butt on the golf course?

Don’t get me wrong – people in positions like Harder are very handy with a 4-iron (compared to me, who looks like John Kruk trying to hit a moth with a jumprope). But it’s hard to imagine a local PGA pro being able to match shots with a guy who is considered the greatest golfer of the modern era.

Recently, however, a club professional from a course in Ohio actually shot a better round of golf than Woods at the recent PGA Championship.

Bob Sowards, a club pro who had only played 27 holes of golf this year prior to the tournament, actually finished the first round eight shots ahead of Woods, coming in with a 1-under par 69.

Now to put this in perspective – Woods is playing nowhere near the level that he was a few years ago when he was winning major titles every other week. In fact, ol’ Tiger might have a tough time hanging with just about anybody on the links right now with the problems he’s dealing with.

It’s hard watching an athlete, one that was once so dominating at the game he played, be reduced to an also-ran whose game is nowhere near the standards anyone would expect from the guy. The fall from grace aside – right now, Tiger Woods is nowhere near the player he was even before his ill-timed off-course issues.

Of course – he’d look a lot more like the old Tiger if he just added me to his foursome.

– And finally . . . this just in from the “Those Wacky Lost Prepubescent Years” department: A new Barbie doll is coming out that guys my age might actually have an interest in.

The new Barbie doll is being created to benefit cancer research, and it’s being made in the likeness of the late actress, Farrah Fawcett, from her 1976 poster that graced the walls of just about every teenage boy’s bedroom on the planet (with the exception of mine, which had KISS posters and a giant photo of Billy Sims fumbling late in the 1978 Nebraska-Oklahoma game – and, yes, I was a strange child growing up).

Fawcett died two years ago from cancer, and Mattel is creating the new doll in her memory, with funds going to her foundation for cancer research.

The Barbie dolls are nice for the girls, but I know a few guys who would be more than willing buy the poster to help the cause.

OK, I know one . . .

Watch where you park this fall

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN – This falls under news you can use from the Capital city, most especially if you venture there for the Nebraska football experience.

In the City of Lincoln you might or might not be able to find a ducat for a Saturday dustup at Memorial Stadium.

Park in the wrong place for any length of time, however, and the Lincoln Police Department will give you a ticket. But it won’t get you into the game.

A run-of-the-mill parking ticket will still cost $10. Until this year, the fine remained at $10, regardless of how long the scofflaw took to pay it.

No more. If you don’t take care of that parking violation within seven days, the cost goes to $25.

This is of potential import to visitors, since it’s well known that many upstream Nebraskans are inclined to go home, take a parking ticket out of their Big Red jacket, and say: “Remind me to pay that thing.”

If the Huskers lost, the dialogue might change to: “Remind me to pay that (expletive deleted) thing.”

Then there is the matter of having one’s vehicle towed.

The plan is for the city to tack on a new $50 fee whenever a vehicle is towed by the police, or even if the tow is ordered by one of Lincoln’s ever-present traffic control officers. The new $50 charge is in addition to the $49.53 it already costs to recover the impounded vehicle.

With a total cost just short of $100, which certainly could be put to better use than padding Lincoln’s coffers, the entire thing is a consumption devoutly to be avoided. For that kind of money, you could get a decent ticket to the Ohio State game, just trolling the scalpers near Barry’s bar.

REASONS TO PARK YOUR CAR ILLEGALLY DURING HUSKER HOME GAMES:

1. YOU HAVE SEASON TICKETS.
2. YOU WANTED TO BE CLOSE TO THE STADIUM.
3. YOU DIDN'T WANT TO PAY FOR PARKING.
4. YOU SAY YOU KNOW TOM OSBORNE.
5. YOU'RE FROM OUT OF TOWN.

REASONS THAT WORK:

Your right to know

You’re familiar with the legal notices published in your local newspaper. Lots of important stuff is contained therein.

Here’s a suggestion. Maybe it would be a good idea if Nebraska statutes required publication of certain information about our Representatives and Senators in Washington.

The view from here: It would be a good idea for every state.

The information could be published under a standing headline. Something like: “What they said, and what they did.”

Let’s say a politician who inhabits the Potomac neighborhood sets up a loud, public cry and condemnation of a federal program – and then is found trying to milk it for the purpose of serving pork to the folks back home.

Or even better, if the politico acquires the goods from a program previously condemned for public consumption, and then makes a point of ballyhooing the acquired booty to impress constituents.

It should be an entirely nonpartisan deal. No reference to anyone’s party affiliation. Example:

Legal Notice

Rep. I.M. Loudengross, Jan. 1 – “I stand four-square against funding the Fulltime Odd Jobs program!”

Rep. I.M. Loudengross, Oct. 1 – “I am glad to stand here and say that four square blocks of this area will be dedicated to training my constituents for jobs that are odd!”

The notices would be paid for with a Congressional appropriation.

We would then look forward to the day when a Representative or Senator would declare – “It’s true that the published legal notice shows, quite accurately, that I said one thing; and then proceeded quite blatantly to do the opposite. Let me assure you this was not hypocrisy. It was, instead, an effort on my part to, uh, support the Fourth Amendment the people’s right to know by making sure the program is adequately funded by personally participating!”

Smile. But don’t laugh. Stranger stuff has happened.

Legislative Update

Another area hero lost while serving

It is with a heavy heart that I begin this column in memory of one of our heroes. That is the first line of last week’s column, and unfortunately, it is true again this week.

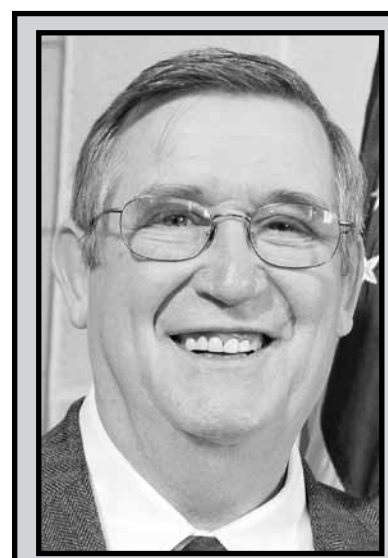

We have lost another hero this week from District 17 who was serving his country. U.S. Navy SEAL John Douangdara, 26, from South Sioux City, died along with 37 others when their Chinook helicopter was shot down during an operation in the Tangi Valley in Afghanistan. Master at Arms, Class I John Douangdara was a lead dog handler for the elite military unit.

John was a 2003 graduate of South Sioux City High School. His family immigrated to America 31 years ago from Laos and became part of the fabric of the cloth that is The United States of America. One of John’s siblings is quoted to have said, “We are proud Johnny fought for the country that embraced our family and gave us the opportunity to reach for the American dream.”

I would like to extend my sincere sympathy to John’s parents, siblings, other family members and friends. We are thankful for John Douangdara’s service to his Country, and pray for his family and the families of the other 37 lost in this terrible incident. Among the 38 lost in this incident were eight Afghans and 30 Americans, three of whom had direct ties to Nebraska. Another payment has been made on the terrible price of freedom!

Last week, I attended the visitation and burial for Sgt. Joshua

Legislative Update
By Dave Bloomfield
State Senator, District 17

Mann of Winside, Nebraska. The service at the cemetery was as expected, very emotional. I was so proud to watch the State Patrol, the Patriot Guard riders, the American Legion Riders and members from several communities and the numerous cars bringing family, friends, and perfect strangers, to honor a fallen hero. We are a fortunate country to have so many young men and women who are willing to serve in our military and too often make the ultimate sacrifice to keep our country free and safe.

It is also good that we have so many who understand and appreciate the price that has been paid in the past, that is being borne now and will be demanded in the future. I think it was Abraham Lincoln who said something to the effect, “I am often driven to my knees by the sheer knowledge that there is nowhere else to go.” It is my hope that we keep all of our service men and women in our daily prayers, and thank them for their service when we see them in our communities.

Cookie break

Wayne Head Start students take a "Cookie Break" with the Black Hills Energy workers. Black Hills Energy is working on gas lines in front of the Head Start building. Last week a sewer line was accidentally cut and caused Head Start to close for two days. The children made cookies for the workers to let them know there were no hard feelings and to thank them for all their hard work in repairing the sewer line.

A card shower has been requested by her family in honor of this occasion.

She has four children, Donald Meyer of Quimby, Iowa; Glendon Meyer of Pender; Kathleen Baker of Lincoln and DeLloyd Meyer, Jr. of Omaha. She also has 11 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Calendar is still a very busy one for 4-H families

It may be August and school events and sports practices are starting up, but the 4-H calendar of events is not over for 4-H families.

Many Northeast Nebraska youth are still working diligently to prepare projects for their county fair, and for some, are even preparing their projects for the Nebraska State Fair.

My memories of 4-H as a youngster are near and dear to me, I participated in everything from cooking and sewing to beef and swine contests, even rodeo. The thrill and pride of completing a project and remembering how a "judge" told you: "you did a good job on that project," still remain in the back of my mind.

My grandparents, parents, my kids, their spouses, and my husband's family have all been active in the 4-H program. I actually met my husband at a four-state 4-H convention in Kansas City at the American Royal.

While I could go on and on about the details of what 4-H means in my life, I want to tell you a little bit about why 4-H should be in your life.

4-H Youth Make More Healthy Choices

According to "The 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development 2009 Summary of Findings", 4-Hers - regardless of their background, socio-economic status, race, and gender - thrive through the health/safety education and experiences they receive through 4-H programming. In fact, young people in 4-H are: 1) 56 percent more likely to spend more hours exercising or being physically active, 2) Shown to have had significantly lower drug, alcohol and cigarette use than their peers.

Kim Bearnes Extension Educator

4-H'ers Excel in School and the Sciences

The advantages of 4-H participation also include higher educational achievement and higher motivation for future education. Young people in 4-H: 1) Report better grades, higher levels of academic competence, and an elevated level of engagement at school, 2) Are nearly two times more likely to plan to go to college, 3) Are more likely to pursue future courses or a career in science, engineering, or computer technology.

The study also finds that girls in 4-H are more than twice as likely to participate in science, engineering, or computer technology programs than their peers.

Young people in 4-H Are Committed to Improving Their Communities

A notable trend of the study indicates that 4-H youth are three times more likely to actively contribute to their communities when compared with youth who do not participate in 4-H.

I serve as the Science, Engineering and Technology Nebraska State Fair Superintendent and I am really looking forward to seeing just what our talented "2011 Crop of Nebraska 4-Hers" will produce for the Nebraska State Fair. I cannot tell you what is coming into my department because we are still competing in many county fairs around Nebraska, but I will tell you that you will be impressed at what our 4-H Youth can accomplish.

I hope you will take the time to visit not only those county fairs that are still in full swing this August, but also put on your calendar the Nebraska State Fair. It will be a lasting and positive experience for your family. Young or old, 4-H has something for everyone. I look forward to another great experience in Grand Island at the State Fair. I hope to see you there.

What is a MLS? MLS stands for Multiple Listing Service. This is an organization of member firms who agree to share their listings with one another. They do this to increase the visibility for their listed properties and secure a buyer more quickly than they could individually.

Most MLS's list all their properties on a 3rd party neutral website. This allows buyers to look at one website and see all of the area properties for sale.

Also most MLS organizations have formal rules that all members must honor to ensure the fair treatment of all members and their listed properties.

The benefits of an MLS extend to both buyers and sellers. For buyers, it is simply the ease of finding that perfect property. For sellers, it is that homes sell more quickly because of greater exposure. For both there is no additional cost for the MLS advantage. We will discuss more benefits in our next column.

At Midwest Land we believe an MLS will benefit the Wayne community. However, Wayne presently does not have a MLS. Therefore, I would love to hear what you, the readers, have to say about an MLS. Have you heard of an MLS? Would you like to see one started in our community? I look forward to your comments on this subject. Please feel free to call me at 402-375-3385 or email me

Yeshua Ministries assists with 'Splish, Splash' Kids Crusade in Clearwater

Yeshua Ministries splashed over to Clearwater on Aug. 8-10, to help THE CLUB(Christ's Love Unites Brethren), a bi-lingual church pastored by Pastor Mike and Bev Blank.

Splish Splash Kids Crusade was held in the city park, featuring puppets, Yeshie the chicken, water games, and more water stories from the Bible! It was a huge success with over 50 children attending, most of whom have never gone to church before, but were eager to learn about Jesus.

This coming Sunday, Aug. 21, Pastor Mike Blank and his congregation will be joining Yeshua Ministries in Wayne at the Presbyterian Church for combined services beginning at 2 p.m. with Pastor Mike preaching. A meal will follow the service in the fellowship hall.

Everyone in the community are welcome to come and join congregation members.

THANKS!!

The Wayne County Fair Board would like to thank all the volunteers, vendors and anyone who helped make this year's Fair a huge success.

Thanks for attending!

Old photos bring back memories

It's Sunday, the 14th, and the World Herald says it's Senior Citizen's day, and we acted like a couple of senior citizens; just sat around and read the paper, took naps, and had Valentino's pizza for supper. It's nice to be lazy sometimes. Besides, I have to work tomorrow, so I'm saving my energy!

My sis has been heading up the cleaning out and organizing of our mother's house; I've made a few trips to recycling and Goodwill; wrapped some dishes and goblets, etc., packed some books, but she's the one who has really dug in. It's made us both more aware than ever of the stuff we need to get rid of in our own homes.

We are both mired in photos! You know, when a person lives 95 years, has three children, and nine grandchildren, and a bunch of great grandkids, you can accumulate a lot of pictures. Plus, there is a box of really old ones, and albums of trips she was fortunate to make. For instance, when my brother was stationed in Spain, she and her sister, June, the one who just died, went over and had a good time there. Plus, there are more of the two of them deep sea fishing when they went to Virginia for the commissioning of one of the submarines he served on.

I gave a bunch to my cousin, Lyn, two weeks ago, when we were at the 90th birthday of our Godmother, Florence. They were of her parents' wedding, baby photos of her and her brother, graduation pictures, and all that. In those days, we had to give framed copies to all our relatives, and they sat on the top of the piano until the next bunch came along.

Tonight, I have some for my cousin, Barb, whose father was a brother to mine, and to aunt Florence. Uncle Alwin was handsome, he had a mustache that made him look just like a movie star. And Barb, his daughter, looks just like Jane Fonda, honest! She is getting these pictures; maybe her kids would like to have them.

Here is one labeled Susie Tiekens, all in white, including white gloves. She was the little sister who went to live with an aunt and uncle when my great-grandmother died, leaving six children.

Susie's real name was Mathilde, but we never knew that. She was born on the Fourth of July, and lived to be 100. She never married, but worked in orphanages and nursing homes, and retired in York, where she was known for her eccentricities. This picture shows a very pretty young woman, and I have a quilt she made that is professionally done. I guess the likeness needs to stay with the quilt, and maybe one of my kids will appreciate it.

Somehow, I have also ended up with a bunch of pictures from the Big Farmer's family, too. Just as we are doing, the kids cleaned out the house and found more than they needed, and I inherited them. There is a big one of the whole Fred Meierhenry family, all 11 kids, with Reuben, the baby, all in white, and the rest all in suits, looking very somber. You weren't supposed to smile for the photographer in the early 1900s. It was very serious business. As you might imagine, Amelia, the mother of this tribe, looks very serious, indeed!

Anyway, my first goal is to get these things labeled, and then to return some to those who might want them. I know for sure we have taken way too many pictures. It's interesting to note how my cameras have changed with the years; the ones I took sixty years ago are just plain not very good. And the colored ones are fading.

Mom has always had 8-by-10's of the three of us; Jim calls them her angels because we are all in white; he in his Naval officer's garb, and Mary and me in our nursing graduation uniforms. I guess we may as well hang them in her apartment; they've been hanging in her home for over 50 years. We can worry about what to do with them another day!

Welcome rains benefit soybeans

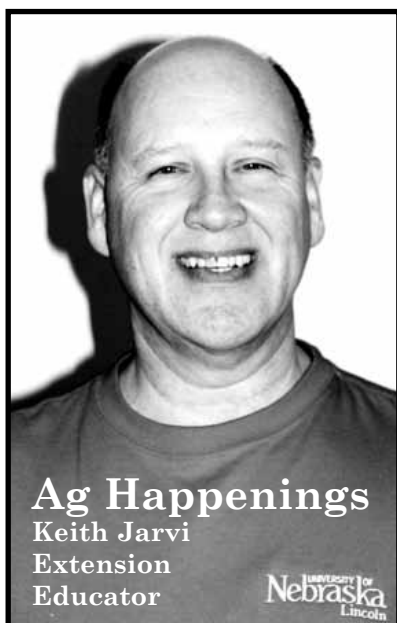

Crop conditions were slowly (or rapidly, depending on whom you talked to) deteriorating and some more wide general rain really is going to be very welcome, especially for the soybeans.

Soybean aphid populations have been increasing over the past couple of weeks; growers who have kept a close eye on their fields have been able to make good decisions. This has been a "normal" year for aphids, peaking in mid-to late August, with some fields at treatment threshold and some below.

Speaking of soybean aphids, in an age when farming continues to go high tech, it was only a matter of time before scouting for soybean aphids went digital.

That means you won't have to make use of paper sheets or keep track of your writing utensil in the field.

Two recent offerings from UNL provide that opportunity. The first is Aphid Speed Scout. It is an application or app for the iPad, iPhone, and iPod Touch. The second is the spreadsheet EC1582: Soybean

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension
Educator

Aphid Speed Scouting Spreadsheet. Both are available free of charge.

Any mobile device that is capable of running an Excel spreadsheet can make use of the spreadsheet. That means you keep track of what is going on with soybean aphids in your fields on your smart phone or tablet. The spreadsheet and app will allow for infield decisions to be made for soybean aphid management.

Both the spreadsheet and app utilize the speed scouting method for determining whether soybean aphids have reached the treatment threshold of 250 aphids per plant. Scouting this way relies on the number of "infested" plants rather than estimating the number of aphids on each plant. Plants are considered "infested" if there are 40 or more aphids on the plant.

When using the spreadsheet or app they will let you know whether you need to "Re-sample in 7-10 days," "Re-sample in 3-4 days," "Sample 5 more plants," or "Treat, confirm in 3-4 days."

The spreadsheet EC1582: Soybean Aphid Speed Scouting Spreadsheet can be downloaded at: www.ianrpubs.unl.edu/send/it/ec1582.html. The app Aphid Speed Scout for iPad, iPhone, and iPod Touch can be found at: //itunes.apple.com/us/app/aphid-speed-scout/id454600279?mt=8.

FCA assisting producers along river

"The Nebraska Farm Service Agency (FSA) is implementing the ECP to assist producers in rehabilitating farmland and conservation facilities damaged by the Missouri River flooding," according to Dan Steinkruger, State Executive Director of the Nebraska Farm Service Agency.

The following counties have been approved for the ECP to help in assisting producers to rehabilitate farmland and conservation facilities damaged by the flooding: Boyd, Burt, Cass, Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Douglas, Knox, Nemaha, Otoe, Richardson, Sarpy, Thurston and Washington.

Producers can file applications for the ECP at their local FSA office from Sept. 1, 2011 through Oct. 31, 2011. The ECP is available to provide cost share assistance to agricultural producers who have suffered severe damage to their farmland as a result of a natural disaster and the damage is of such magnitude that it would be too costly to rehabilitate without federal assistance.

Producers may be eligible to receive 75 percent of the eligible cost of restoration not to exceed $200,000 per natural disaster occurrence. Eligible practices include Debris Removal, Grading, Shaping, Re-leveling or similar Measures, Restoring Permanent Fences, Restoring Conservation Structures, and Field Windbreaks and Farmstead Shelterbelts.

ECP application approvals are subject to the availability of funds and will depend on future dollars when determining full application approval.

For producer's land to be eligible, the disaster must create new conservation problems that, if untreated, would impair or endanger the land and affect its productive capacity. Conservation problems that existed prior to the applicable disaster are ineligible for ECP assistance.

More information on ECP and other disaster assistance programs is available at any FSA office and online at: disaster.fsa.usda.gov.
