Rocky Ruhl, activities director at Wayne High School, presented the board with numbers indicating how many boys are out for the sport and a cost analysis for the sport.

He indicated that the school has, and will continue to co-op with the Wayne Baseball Association to share some of the costs involved with the sport. He also noted the positive aspects of the sport, including the fact that two of the Wayne High School baseball players have signed letters of intent to play baseball on the college Board member Ken Jorgensen said he felt offering the sport at the high school level was "as important for the community as it is for the kids. Also, keeping a kid busy keeps them out of trouble. They learn a lot more than just baseball when they are out for the sport."

Adam Hoffman, head coach for the team, told the board that the group has done a number of fundraisers to generate additional funds for the program and will "continue to do whatever we have to do. We plan to represent Wavne the best we can."

Hoffman noted that there are a number of younger players who will move up to high school level in years to come and providing baseball at the school "will give them the opportunity to do something they enjoy."

Steve Lutt, president of the Wayne Baseball Association, spoke to the board on the recent re-organization of the board. It now includes 11 members with repre-"I don't think we have had the sport long enough to sentatives of all the teams. The city of Wayne offers

"I am excited about what this board has accomplished and we are interested in working with the school. The kids are enjoying themselves and getting to play. I played on the Wayne High School baseball team when I was a freshman in high school, during its last vear of existence and am excited to see that it is back."

Following the vote by the board to continue offering the sport, board president Carolyn Linster said, "The board would like to thank the Baseball Association for all that they have done, and a special thanks to Jeff and Jackie Zeiss for all they have done."

In other action, the board approved Thursday, May 17 as the last day of school for the 2011-2012 school year. School will be dismissed at noon that day.

Superintendent Mark Lenihan told the board that due to a number of factors, including the fact that the district has had no snow days and the school day has been extended by 10 minutes, the students have at- day, May 14 at 5 p.m. at the High School.

tended classes considerably more than the state-recommended time.

During a facilities report, Travis Meyer, head of maintenance at the school, reported that during this week's meeting with the construction contractors, discussion was centered on the wrap-up phases of construction. He noted that painting is taking place in several rooms in the junior high addition, sprinkler systems have been installed in one-half of the high school and work is already beginning on what will be the kindergarten restrooms at the current Middle School. The Wayne Education Boosters presented the district with a check for $12,000 during the Honor Coffee. The money represents the proceeds from a number of fundraisers conducted by students and parents this year. The money will assist with the purchase of playground equipment to be installed at the new Wayne Elementary School location this summer.

Funny guy returns to Wayne

Pat Janssen left Wayne five years ago after graduating from Wayne State and working for over a year as the sports and news director at KTCH. This week, he will return to the area to showcase his work in a new career field.

Janssen, now a professional comedian, will perform two shows in northeast Nebraska alongside friend and fellow come-

Janssen and Tickle will present a standup show at The Max in downtown Wayne on Friday at 10:30 p.m. The two will also perform their hit live show, "Pretending to be on TV" at the Coleridge Community Building on Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Tickets for the Friday show can be purchased at the door. Saturday tickets, which must be purchased in advance by calling (402) 640-3447, include a dinner.

Janssen, a 2006 Wayne State alumnus, took over the reins as the sports and news director at KTCH in the spring of 2005. He left KTCH to pursue a broadcasting and media relations internship with the Winston-Salem Warthogs, a minor league affiliate of the Chicago White Sox.

"I went from making a living at KTCH to pulling in $100 a month with the Warthogs." Janssen said. "It was tough, but I had it in my mind that I was going to be the next big sports broadcaster.

That thought was short-lived, however. married, choosing instead to work in athginia Commonwealth University and the what I really wanted to do.'

While living in Pennsylvania, Janssen commuted to New York on weekends to perform at comedy clubs. Last year, Janssen and his wife, Winside-native Emma Burris-Janssen, chose to take the pursuit of their dreams one step further. Burris-Janssen elected to pursue a PhD in English, while Janssen would take his talents to New York

"Emma was admitted to the University of New Hampshire, while I was heading to New York," Janssen said. "It has been tough at times, but I spend a lot of my time up there with her. Sometimes it's nice to be able to get away from the city.'

"Emma's support of what I do has meant so much," Janssen said of his wife. "Without her support, I simply wouldn't be able to do what I'm doing. She has my back, and she knows that I have hers.

Janssen also spends a lot of his time on the road with Tickle. The two have been performing stand-up together for nearly three vears.

"Glen is not only one of my favorite comedians to perform with; he is one of my favorite comics, period. I really respect his unique take on things, and I absolutely love working with him. He's talented, smart, and a heck of a writer."

The pair's biggest project to date has been Pretending to be on TV," which the two have been producing since September. Sateast Nebraskans a chance to witness the comedy duo's unique live show. "Pretend-

Council debates sewer change order

By CLARA OSTEN Of the Herald

More than a half an hour was spent debating a change order for a sewer project in the Benscoter Addition of Wayne during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Coun-

The item was tabled at the council's April 3 meeting to allow time for the project engineer to evaluate the additional costs.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson said the original project was put on hold at the city's request, while funding for the hotel project was completed. This, and the fact that when the project moved forward, an resulted in a considerable increase in the cost of the project.

Lou Benscoter, with Benscoter Construction, the contractor for the project, told the council that after the project was put on hold, other projects were undertaken by his firm and when the city was ready to begin the project again, the short deadline required that he hire a subcontractor to complete it on time.

"I don't want to blame anyone for what has happened. Mistakes were made, but I just want to move on. I am trying to get along (with the city). I feel I was doing what

Not once, but at least three times in the last month vandals have cut barb wire fences on property owned by Jack and Bev Beeson northeast of Wavne.

The Beesons first noticed fences cut on March 13 when their cattle were found out on the county road.

At that time fences were cut in at least three spots along the same fence. An electric fencer was stolen, as was some copper wiring.

"It looked like someone wanted our cattle to get out," Jack said. "After we found the first spot (where the wire was cut), we found wire cut in two more spots about a half mile north of the first spot. There were no tracks anywhere."

After contacting the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, the area was patrolled for several days, but no other incidents were discovered.

When the Beesons were returning home from church on March 25, they took a different route to their home. At that time they found that two more barb wire gates had been cut. These were not cut during the first incident.

On April 4, wire was cut in two more locations and again there were no tracks to give law enforcement any leads.

Machine shed ablaze

Firefighters from Winside, Carroll, Hoskins and Wayne battled a machine shed fire Friday evening southeast of Winside. Shortly after 7 p.m. Winside Volunteer Fire Department was called to the Steve Heinemann residence, where a machine shed was engulfed in flames. By the time they arrived on scene, the roof of the building had collapsed. They were assisted by Carroll, Hoskins and Wayne departments, as well as the Wayne County Sheriff's Office. According to Winside Fire Chief Don Skokan, the cause of the blaze is still under investigation but appears to be accidental in nature. The machine shed and its contents were a total loss. Skokan praised the work of all those involved in fighting the blaze. No one was injured in the incident.

D — community service Development;

E — promote Education for all

"Our first undertaking is modernizing our village park. We are looking at updating the park equipment, shelter and replacing bathrooms," said Jaeger, president of the group.

The group will kick off the new organization at the Winside Public School's Elementary Spring Concert on Monday, April 30.

"We would like to get equipment for children under the age of six years and some for those seven years and older. We will have pictures of some sample playground equipment and would like to get the opinions of some of the children," Jaeger said.

The children will be able to vote on pieces of equipment that will be displayed at the school. Prices will also be included to allow community members an idea of the amount needed to be raised.

The P.R.I.D.E. organization's first fundraiser will be selling cases of 20-ounce Pepsi products and Gaterade for $25 and cases of water for $15. These will allow supporters the opportunity to stocks their shelves

Wayne State students show artistic skills for Service-Learning Project

Three Wayne State College students from the Art and Design Department at Wayne State College will unveil their artwork during a public reception on Thursday, April 26 from 6-to-8 p.m. at the office of Tom Hansen, C.P.A. in downtown Wavne.

Wayne State students Dani Bice of Cherokee, Iowa; Tyson Koehn of Pierce and Michelle Olsem of Dundee, Minn. have been working on a Service-Learning Project throughout the spring semester and are ready to unveil their work to the public.

Their work includes two murals - a portrait of a Medal of Honor awardee who served in WWII and an aerial view of a farmstead south of Wayne. Tom Hansen of Tom Hansen, C.P.A commissioned the work as part of a Service-Learning project at Wayne State College. The students were eager to have an opportunity to work in the community and in a different type of classroom space.

Coordination and supervision came from art professor Marlene Mueller who provided a Special Projects class so that the students could receive college credit. Tuition was covered by the client and a Service-Learning grant paid for materials.

During the opening reception at the Tom Hansen, C.P.A. office the students will make a presentation about the murals at 6:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served. The event is free and open to the public.

"All parties from the college wish to thank Mr. Hansen for his support of this important educational opportunity for the students. Institutional funding provides support for Service-Learning at Wayne State College," Professor Mueller said.

Tanner Schopke and Laura Anderson are now taking graphic design. Here they are posing with Jacob Slobodnik, who spoke to the class about the wall graphic project.

New wall graphic to show school's history

As part of the exciting new addition to the Wayne Junior and Senior High School, a 40 foot-by-9 foot es from both Wayne and Carroll Sewer wall graphic showcasing the history of the Wayne school system will be included in the new entryway.

Working closely with the architect, Carlson West Povondra Architects, the Wayne High School graphic design class is looking for images representing a wide array of years dating back to 1869, the start of Wayne schools. The images could range from historic buildings, to championship teams, to classroom images, to homecomings, etc. "Our goal is to capture the essence of the Wayne school system through the years. The challenge will be to find images from the early years, so dust off those old photo books and look for your chance to be a part of the new Wayne Junior and Senior High School," said Amy Jackson, graphics design teacher at 1500.

Wayne High School.

"We would love to have imagschools. Having the school in Carroll is an important part of our community history," Jackson added.

Along with each photo, please include the date and a brief description which will be included as part of the timeline. The deadline to drop images off is Friday, May 4. Please include a self-addressed stamped envelope for return of photos. The success of the timeline depends on images from the community.

Images can be dropped off at the Wavne High School office c/o Mrs. Jackson, or mailed to Carlson West Povondra Architects c/o Jake Slobodnik, 5060 Dodge Street, Omaha, Neb. 68132 or e-mailed to Jslobodnik@cwparchitects.com.

Wayne State rugger Kellen Wells takes off for the try zone during the second half of Wayne State's 44-7 win over Texas-Dallas in the NSCRO West Regional semifinals.

Rugby's title hopes fall short in regional

Wayne State's hopes for its first appearance in rugby's version of the Final Four were blown away by a stiff spring breeze and a tough California varsity squad.

The Wildcat Rugby club squad reached the finals of the West Regional of the National Small College Rugby Organization's Div. III tournament Sunday at Wayne Rugby Park, but the Wayne State squad didn't have enough firepower to overcome a physical team from California-Maritime, as the Keelhaulers pulled away in the second half for a 29-12 win, ending the Wildcats' 18-2 season one match short of a trip to the national

While the final outcome was not what coach Darrin Barner had hoped for, he praised his team's effort in "The two best teams in the United States met here today," he said. "Cal-Maritime is a full varsity program going up against our club team, which put us at a dis-

I'm proud of how the guys fought hard all the way to

Before the match, Barner said it would be important for Wayne State to take advantage of its quick back line and offset the power of the Keelhaulers' scrum. Unfortunately, the visitors wasted little time in establishing their dominance in the game with its solid scrum, which was able to push the action 20-30 yards upfield several times throughout the match, putting the California team in position to dominate play at Wayne State's end of the pitch. "Their scrum, for sure, was tough in the first half,"

Barner said. "We weren't going to win too many of those on offense. Their backs are very strong and big and they had the better offensive line and had the ball on offense more, which made it tough for us to score."

The Keelhaulers scored a pair of tries in the first 30 minutes of the game, but the Wildcats had a glimmer

Taking for granted what outsiders like about our region

Sometimes, you don't realize just how good you've got it until you see it through somebody else's eyes.

This past weekend, the Wayne State Rugby Club played host to the West Regional finals of the National Small College Rugby Organization's Div. III tournament. And while hopes for a first-ever trip to rugby's version of the Final Four were dashed in Sunday's championship game by California-Maritime. the opportunity to experience some of what makes Northeast Nebraska the wonderful area that it is was something that was warmly received by at least one out-of-town

I had the pleasure of joining some of the Wayne State ruggers as they hosted the team from Puget South University out of Washington. Part of Sunday's post-tournament enjoyment was a trip to Bob's Bar in Martinsburg (where the french fries are piled so high and the cheeseburgers are so big it's worth the drive from anywhere), and I got to ride up with NSCRO organizer Stephen Cohen and UPS coach Tobin Ropes, who marveled at scenery that we, as Nebraskans, take for granted.

Whether it was the yet-to-beplanted farmland, driving through small towns like Allen or Wakefield or the "UFO" out back of Euni's Palace in Dixon, the UPS coach took great delight in the kind of scenery we have to offer here in this little corner of the world (and, as the picture of the UPS team in front of the UFO shows, they obviously had a lot of fun during their stay here in Wavne, America).

Another thing he noted was the friendly nature of the people and the hospitality. Again, this is something that we probably take for

Dan McLaughlin is looking for a few good men.

Last year, Cyle Schultz suffered a season-ending broken hip on the third play of the game, forcing backups Nate Most and Evan Johnson to split duties for most of the season. Most eventually played in every game, completing 50.2 percent of his passes for 1,455 yards and 12 touchdowns.

State's sharpshooters gather for meet in Wayne

Of The Herald

A steady hand and a sharp eye were in high demand this past weekend at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

Some of the top young shooters from all over the state invaded Wayne Saturday and Sunday for the 2012 Nebraska State 4-H BB Gun and Air Rifle Championships. The Wayne Sharpshooters hosted the tournament for the third time in eight years, with more than 130 kids from all over the state trying their sharpshooting skills in BB gun and air rifle competition.

The event is a two-part competition that not only tests the kids' skills, but their knowledge of gun safety, according to Darin Greunke, match director for the state meet. Before the shooting competition, kids are given a written exam on

"The written exam is probably tougher on the kids than the shooting," he said. "Shooting is something they can do every day, but they probably don't want to be studying for a test every day."

Gun safety is something that every kid should learn, Greunke said, and the competition is a great opportunity for kids to compete and learn more about how to conduct themselves around guns, no matter

"It's really a lifetime skill," he said. "Firearm safety is a skill everybody should know, and it's something they'll use the rest of their lives. And the competition is someminds set, they can go on to compete in college or even in international or Olympic competition.

Competitors have 10 minutes to fire 10 shots in a variety of positions. In BB gun competition, shooters go after 10 targets while in a standing, sitting, kneeling or prone position. In air rifle competition, shooters shoot from the standing, kneeling and prone positions.

Once the round is finished, the competitors' targets are scored. Wayne's team won the state title this year, with Andrew Simpson, James Simpson, David Greunke, Hunter Van Houten and Kate Schultz earning a trip to nationals this summer in Arkansas.

Last year, it was Schultz and Johnson who were set to split duties until the former went down in the first offensive series against Nebraska-Kearney, and McMenamin hopes either one of the two, or newcomers Brian Kent or University of San Diego transfer Brody Rohach assert themselves as the go-to guy under center by the start of fall practices this August.

granted, because it's such a part of our day-to-day lifestyle here that it doesn't seem like that big of a deal.

Ropes was more than complimentary with the hospitality he and his players experienced during their stay here, and he said he hopes Wayne hosts regionals again

Wayne State's rugby program has done an amazing job of building itself up to the point where it is considered one of the top collegiate club programs in the nation.

Coaches from other teams across the country that I've run into marvel at the facilities the program calls its home base. Wayne Rugby Park is unquestionably one of the better small-town rugby facilities in the Midwest, and it's no longer surprising, to this reporter, to hear people from across the country who visit here - whether it's during regionals or the annual March Madness and Mayhem rugby tournament - say what a great facility it

Here's the even more amazing part – this club has developed with the institution it represents, which is both impressive and frustrating.

No doubt you have heard the story of how Darrin Barner, who was working for an airline in Texas when he started the program here 11 years ago, would fly redeyes from Dallas to Omaha, drive to Wayne for practices and games, then make the return trip back to Texas on a regular basis. Eventually, he found his way back home to this area, and has continued to pour his time, energy and money into making this club the success that it is.

Women's rugby is one of the as part of its satisfying a pending Title IX investigation that started a little more than a year ago. It would be a long overdue reward for all the hard work and dedication that has gone into it - not only on Barner's part, but through the passion and efforts of those players and community supporters who have embraced this sport and helped make Wayne State rugby one of the nation's best.

Realizing that times are tight financially, it still would be nice to see the club rewarded for its efforts with a little support from the college it passionately represents. How odd it would be, in this reporter's opinion, if this program would someday win a national title, yet not get any financial support from the school whose colors it proudly adorns.

Recently, The Wayne Herald had a short story on Wayne State athletic director Eric Schoh and his interest in a similar job at Winona

Schoh interviewed for the job late last week, and if you read the story online at winonadailynews.com, you'll get an idea for just how much he'd like to be offered the deal.

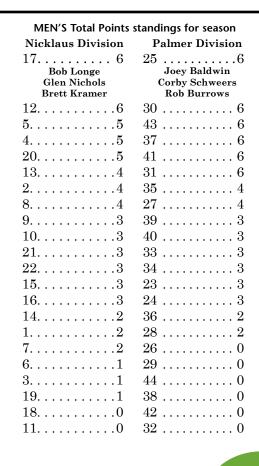

It might be a little disappointing for Wayne State fans to read about how much, and how long, Schoh has wanted the Winona position. Consider, though, that Schoh is from that part of Minnesota - his familv lives less than a half-hour away from the Winona campus - so while the move might seem a lateral one, it would be an opportunity for him to be closer to family (and that, as this reporter can attest from personal experience, is something you

It may be toward the middle of May before we know of Schoh's fate and whether he will remain in charge at Wayne State or be on the move back home. While I certainly don't begrudge someone the opportunity to go home again, losing Schoh would be a disappointment for those of us who have had an opportunity to see Wayne State's athletic department grow and improve under his leadership.

Brodersen earns golf medals during busy week on the links

The Wayne boys golf team competed in a trio of events in the past week with the varsity taking part at the Albion Invite last Saturday before competing in the Blair Invite on Tuesday. The JV squad competed at the Laurel Varsity Invite on April 12.

The Albion meet was cut short to just a nine-hole event with severe weather in the area. Seventy golfers competed in the 14-team field with Wayne placing fourth in the team standings with a 174. O'Neill captured top honors with a 156 while Battle Creek earned runner-up honors with a 166 followed by Columbus Lakeview at 169. Norfolk JV's placed behind Wayne with a 175 while Ord finished sixth with a 182. The rest of the field in order of finish included Norfolk Catholic, Boone Central, Schuyler, Humphrey St. Francis, Fullerton, Twin River, Spalding and Boone Central JV.

Wayne had two golfers place in the top 15 including Ezra Brodersen in seventh and Sean Gansebom in ninth, with each carding a 40. Kaje Maly followed with a 44 while Jared Peterson scored a 50 and Max Morris, 53. There were five scores in the 30's including Clint Kracl of Schuyler with a medal winning score of 36. Cody Belzer of O'Neill was second at 37 while Nate Gotschall of O'Neill, Brad Lanman of Battle Creek and Sam Morse of Lakeview each had 39's.

Tuesday in Blair, the Blue Devils placed sixth in a very strong field of teams, including several they will see later at districts.

"Blair is the host for this year's districts, so it was good that we got a chance to play it early like this," coach Dave Hix said. "We finished with a 353, so we know we have some work to do."

Brodersen led the Blue Devils with an 81, which was good for 14th place. Maly followed with an 84 while Gansebom carded a 91. Tyler Schoh finished with a 97 and Eric Schoh tallied a 99.

The host team Blair, won the team title by one stroke over Omaha Skutt with a 318. Both teams are in Wayne's district later this spring. Gretna finished with a team score of 330 and Elkhorn fired a 331, and they both are also in the Blue Devils dis-

Last Thursday in Laurel, the JV team carded a 206 in a weather-shortened invite which reduced the meet to a hole-hole event. Peterson led the Blue Devils with a 48 while Morris carded a 51. Ryan Grosz fired a 53 and Andrew Pulfer rounded out the scoring with a 54. Drew Holland also competed for Wayne and finished with a 55.

Hartington Cedar Catholic won the meet with a 168, followed by Plainview at 172. The host Bears were third at 181, as they edged Pierce by a single shot. Wayne was 11th. Medalist honors went to Cedar's Eric Kruse with a 39. There were more than 80

Wayne will have just one golfer compete at the Mid-States conference meet on Saturday at Eldorado Hills in Norfolk in Eric Schoh. The rest of the team will be in Kansas City for a field trip with the band and chorus. The Columbus Lakeview invite follows next Thursday, with the Oakland and Pierce invites on Saturday, April 28.

faced some quality upper-level competion at the Elkhorn Invitational on Thursday, running against some strong Class A and B competition.

The boys had some solid performances, according to coach Dale Hochstein, with several finishing just out of the points.

Wayne's only scoring came in a third-place finish in the 3,200-meter relay, with Sawyer Jager, Ben Hoskins, Tyler Ellis, and Quentin Jorgensen teaming up for a medal; and a sixth-place finish in the 400-meter relay, with Payton Janke, Jared Anderson, Jose Vergara, and Demetrius Alexander leading

On the girls side, the Blue Devils finished fifth overall with 52 points, as Marissa Fallesen and Caitlin Fehringer both medaled in multiple Fehringer finished first in the 100-meter hurdles and was runnerup in the 300 hurdles. She also ran on the 400- and 1,600-meter relay teams that finished sixth and fifth, respectively

Fallesen had a good day in field events, taking runner-up honors in the long jump and fifth in the triple jump. She was also on the 400-meter relay team with Fehringer, Jalvn Zeiss and McKenna Frevert.

Angie Nelson placed in three events, scoring fifth-place finishes in both the 1,600 and 3,200 and joining Megan Stalling, Emily Leeper and Kristin Carrol on the 3.200-meter relay team that finished third.

Stalling and Carroll were both medalists in two relays. They joined Nelson and Emily Leeper on the 3,200-meter relay, and were teamed up with Fehringer and Sydney Harris in the 1,600-meter relay.

Ashton Schweers took home a first-place finish in the high jump, and Cassie Heier was sixth in the triple jump to account for the remainder of the Wayne High points.

On Saturday, Wayne competed in the Wisner-Pilger Lions Club meet in Wisner. Stormy weather forced an early finish to the meet, with Wayne's boys taking first and the girls finishing second.

The boys got firsts from Alexander, Jager and Jorgensen in individual events. Alexander won the 100, Jager took the 400 and Jorgensen won the 1,600. The 3,200-meter relay team of Jager, Jorgensen, Hoskins and Ellis also took top honors to help Wayne edge out Battle Creek by two points.

Jared Anderson medaled in both hurdle events, Hoskins took sixth in the high jump, Austin Keiser was sixth in the shot put, and the 400-meter relay of Anderson, Alexander, Payton Janke and Jose Vergara finished third. On the girls side, Wayne was five points behind David City Aguinas when the meet was halted and the Blue Devils had five first-place showings.

Fehringer once again swept hurdle events and joined Heier, Fallesen and Zeiss on the winning 400-meter relay. Stalling won the 800 and joined Carroll, Nelson

"We've been pretty busy lately with a lot of meets," he said after Tuesday's event at Haskell Field. "We had three meets in the last week with the Wayne State Invite and Homer, so we haven't had a lot of practice time. We need to rest some kids and work on some things, and it will be nice to have some time before the next meet to get some practices in."

The Lady Bears easily outdistanced runner-up Pender in the seven-school competition, finishing the day with seven first-place efforts and medalists in all but three

The Lady Bears had a good allaround performance, even if there was a hiccup or two along the way.

One surprise was in the triple senior teammate and triple jump specialist Amy Pritchard, who failed to qualify for the finals in the event after dominating in the long jump.

"Amy had a tremendous day in the long jump today, and I think she might have been a little excited afterward because she scratched on all three jumps in the prelims of the triple jump," Sims said. "It was still a good day for her, though. She jumped over 17 feet in the long jump for the first time, so it was a good day."

It was also a good day for Allen senior Olivia Schneiders, who continued to position herself as one of the top distance runners in Class D by winning four first-place medals for the third consecutive meet. She dominated the 800, 1,600 and 3,200 and ran the anchor leg on the Lady Eagles' winning 3,200-relay team.

"This is the third straight meet where she's had four firsts, so she's been a great leader for us," Allen girls coach Denise Hingst said. Winside's girls also scored well in the meet, getting nine points in the discus with Shelby Lienemann placing second and Taryn Guinn finishing sixth. Jayd Roberts also medaled in multiple events, while Nazya Thies scored in the triple jump and 400-meter run for the Wildcats.

'We had some good throws out of Shelby with a personal best in the discus, Taryn did well in the discus, Jayd ran well in the hurdles and Sam Siebrandt and Carly Schwager both ran well for us also," coach Mark Tonniges said. "We ran against some good Class C competition, and Allen has a good team overall as well, so we were pleased with our efforts."

On the boys side of the ledger, all three area schools came away with at least one first-place performance.

The Bears, who finished second in the team race, won five events on the day. Mitch Heikes had a hand in four of the wins, winning both sprint events and running legs on the winning 400 and 1,600-meter relay teams. Justin Saunders also had three firsts, winning the 400 place medal in the 800 with Kyle Finnegan taking top honors. He also ran a leg on the winning 3,200-meter relay and was runner-up in the 1,600. It highlighted a good day for the Eagle boys, who got some scoring performances in places coach Dave Uldrich wasn't expecting.

"The last two meets, we scored 80 and 62 points, and from where we started the year we've come a long way," he said. "Every kid on the team has lettered as of today. I thought the kids performed well.'

Winside's only first-place medal came from senior John Hansen, who ran away with top honors in the 3,200-meter run. The Wildcats got a surprise medal from Blaine Meyer, who placed sixth in the 200 to go with his third-place finish in the shot put.

Frank Bernal had an RBI single to highlight a five-hit attack for the Blue Devils. Gage Rethwisch threw the ball well in a no-decision outing, scattering three walks and five hits while striking out four. Tony Sinniger took the hard-luck loss, allowing just one hit in more than an inning of relief.

Wayne's offense finally broke out of its skid on Friday, as the Blue Devils erupted for seven runs in the sixth inning to break a 4-4 tie and hand Norfolk an 11-4 defeat at Norfolk's Memorial Field.

Wayne jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first, but Norfolk battled back and made it a 4-3 game before the Blue Devils' big inning put the game out of reach.

Carroll had a big game in the win, going 4-for-4 and scoring two runs. Soden had two hits, including a double, and had two RBI's. Corev Doorlag helped his own cause with a bases-clearing triple in the big sixth inning. He went all the way on the mound, allowing five hits and a walk while striking out seven in seven innings of work.

The Blue Devils improved to 5-6 on Monday by beating Freemont High/Archbishop Bergan 8-7 in Fremont.

Carroll got the win on the mound, pitching three strong innings in relief of Soden. Sinniger led the team offensivily, going 3-for-3 with a pair of RBI's. Bernal went 3-for-4 and

Wildcat softballers go 3-of-4 on weekend road trip

Wavne State softball coach Krista Wood was hoping the Wildcats would bring home four wins from last weekend's road trip, but had to settle for three.

The Wildcats split at MSU Moorhead Saturday (6-0, 0-6) and swept Minnesota Crookston (11-3, 8-0) on Sunday to improve to 25-19 overall and 11-11 in the NSIC. And while winning 3-of-4 is good, Wood was hoping for a little better.

"We needed to come out and win all four games, and we came out flat the second game against Moorhead and couldn't string any hits together," she said. "We need to come out more consistent every day. We should have gone 4-0 this weekend."

The Wildcats got off to a fast start in the opener Saturday, scoring three runs in the first inning on just one hit while taking advantage of five walks by MSU Moorhead starting pitcher Brandi Howell.

Wayne State took a 5-0 lead in the third when Jordan King and Brittany Greenwood scored on a Megan Hagemann triple to center field. The Wildcats added an insurance run in the seventh when Dani Sandel reached on a Dragon fielding error and later scored when Kaiti Williams reached on another

Hagemann went 3-for-4 with three RBI's to lead the Wildcats at

"She hit the ball well for us," Wood said. "She had one hit that hit the top of the fence and fell back in, but she's really coming along hitting and getting better for us."

Freshman starter Kelcie Bormann (5-4) pitched six shutout innings to get the win, allowing just four hits with two strikeouts and no walks. Sophomore Jordan Harris pitched a perfect seventh inning to preserve the shutout. The second game saw the Wildcats go just 1-for-14 with runners in scoring position while leaving nine runners

"We had opportunities all game and had runners on, and we just couldn't get the hit," Wood said.

The Dragons scored three runs in the third inning, added one more in the fourth and two in the sixth for the 6-0 win. Wayne State had the leadoff batter reach base four of the seven innings in the contest. but could not take advantage of the opportunity.

Kassie Nurton was 3-for-3 at the plate with a double and two singles in the losing effort, while Kaiti Williams was 2-for-3 with a double and single. Sara Scheffert (10-8) suffered the pitching loss for the runs scored while Bormann and Harris fired complete-game wins to lead Wayne State to a sweep of Crookston.

The Wildcats overcame an early 3-1 deficit and scored seven runs in the final two innings to pull away in

"We talked after that first inning about playing our game and not playing down to their level, and the team started plugging away at the plate and we played Wildcats softball the rest of the day after that," Wood said.

Wayne State tied the score at 3-3 in the top of the second on RBI singles from Jordan King and Sandel.

A Williams solo homer to lead off the third inning put Wayne State in front for good at 4-3.

The Wildcats then scored four runs in the fifth, with Bormann blasting a solo homer to lead off the inning followed by a big two-run single from King to highlight the inning. Wayne State added three insurance runs in the sixth inning. with Brittany Greenwood's two-run single the big hit in the frame.

The Wildcats had a season-high 16 hits in the win as Greenwood, Hagemann and King each produced three hits, while Sandel and Williams accounted for two hits apiece. "We moved (Sandel) to the leadoff spot and tried to switch around the order a bit, and she had a great day and we'll probably keep her there the rest of the season," Wood said.

Bormann improved to 6-4 on the season with a complete-game win. She allowed three runs on seven hits over six innings with two strikeouts and three walks.

The second game saw Harris throw a three-hit shutout while Sandel homered, tripled and had three RBI's

Wayne State took a 3-0 lead in the third when Vicki Nielsen blasted a two-run homer, followed by an RBI single by Greenwood after Bormann doubled. Wayne State added four more in the fifth inning on just two hits, a Hagemann single and a three-run homer by Sandel.

Harris pitched her first shutout of the season, improving to 6-5 with the three-hit shutout. She struck out four and walked two in recording her fourth complete game of the

Last Wednesday, Wayne State split a doubleheader with Upper Iowa, as the Peacocks took game one 1-0 and the Wildcats avenged the loss with a 6-4 victory in game two.

Upper Iowa broke into the scoring column with the lone run of the first game coming in the top of the sixth inning when Rachel Anello hit a home run to center field. Jenna Hermsen went six strong innings for the Peacocks in game one as she shutout the Wildcats with four strikeouts and only allowed four hits.

Harris suffered the loss in game she pitched five innings.

one and dropped to 5-5 on the season after pitching three innings in relief while allowing one run on

In game two, Upper Iowa jumped out to an 3-0 lead through the first 4 1/2 innings until Wayne State scored one run in the bottom of the fourth inning on a Nielsen solo homer to straight away center field.

The Peacocks would tack on one run in the top of the fifth, but Wayne State erupted for four runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to take a 5-4 lead. Kristen Martinson hit a sacrifice fly to center field to score Greenwood, Aeriell Earleywine singled through the right side and Sandel notched a double to right center that scored two runs.

Wayne State would add to their lead in the bottom of the sixth when Hagemann doubled down the left field line to score Williams, and Harris closed out the game to record her first save of the season.

Hagemann went a perfect 3-for-3 at the dish with one RBI, while Earleywine, Sandel, Nielsen and Williams each recorded one hit for the Wildcats.Sara Scheffert improved to 10-7 on the season after

While they were in Aberdeen, S.D., though, the Wildcats made the most of it, getting five innings of one-hit pitching from Tom Doran in the opener and some much-needed help out of the bullpen to highlight a 5-2, 5-4 sweep of the Wolves Saturday afternoon.

"We got a really good starting performance from Tom (Doran) in the first game, and we had to battle back from behind to get the win in the second game and that was good to see," coach Brian Disch said.

Wayne State could only get half nius. Jake Ritzdorf reached on a fielder's choice and later scored on a passed ball, with the other run coming on a Brett Keim RBI single that scored C.J. Nolen, who reached base on a walk.

"We got some clutch hits to get us the lead for good, and we were able to go to Jared (Barth) to preserve the win and he was a workhorse for us," Disch said. "It was good to see some good performances out of the bullpen.'

Northern State put two runs on the board in the sixth off reliever Trevor Reeves, but Barth came in and shut down the Wolves to seal the win. Parsons was 2-for-3 with a pair of doubles and three RBI's. Keim finished 2-for-2 with an RBI while Acosta was 2-for-4.

The second game saw Parsons and C.J. Nolen each hit home runs while Keim was 2-for-3 with the game-winning RBI as the Wildcats completed the sweep.

Northern State scored single runs in the second and third innings for a 2-0 lead, but Wayne State answered with solo runs in the third and fourth to tie the score at 2-2. Ritzdorf had an RBI single

The Wildcats took a 4-2 lead in the sixth thanks to solo homers by Parsons and Nolen, but Northern State knotted the score at 4-4 in the bottom of the sixth with two runs. In the eighth, Parsons was hit by the pitch to lead off the inning followed by walks to Nolen and Michael Frericks to load the bases. Keim then produced a sacrifice fly to right field that scored Parsons for the eventual game-winning run.

Luke Abkes hit a solo homer in the third to get Wayne State on the board in the opener. Minnesota State would respond with one run in the bottom of the fifth inning and another run in the bottom of the sixth inning to take a 2-1 lead into the seventh inning.

Ritzdorf led off the seventh with a double and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Beranek then drove in Ritzdorf with a double of his own and tied the score at 2-2. Later in the inning, Nolen stepped to the plate with the bases loaded and drew a walk to bring in Beranek for the go ahead score and a 3-2 lead.

But Minnesota State would answer Wayne State with two runs of their own in the bottom of the seventh to take a 4-3 victory.

In the second game, Minnesota States Tyler Ockuly outdueled Wayne State's Tadd Johansen on the mound. The lone run of the game was scored in the fourth inning by MSU at Pat Dockendorf was hit by the pitch, advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on a Ben Kincaid single to left. Wildcats set NCAA marks at S.C. Relays

State women's track and field team recorded three NCAA provisional qualifying marks and two new school records at the rain-shortened Sioux City Relays held Friday and Saturday.

"This is always one of the highlights on our schedule, and we came out and performed well there," coach Marlon Brink said.

Sophomore thrower Emily Wells set a new school record and reached an NCAA provisional mark in the hammer throw placing second with a top throw of 181 feet, 1 inch, bettering her old mark of 176 feet, 6 inches, set two weeks ago at the Wildcat Classic.

Wayne sophomore Carly Fehringer also hit an NCAA provisional mark in the same event, placing third with a mark of 177 feet, 6 inches. The other NCAA provisional mark was reached by Paige Pol-

"Looking at the national rankings, Paige is sixth in the hurdles, Emily is ninth and Carly 10th in the hammer throw, and Carly is seventh in the shot put, so we have some girls who are pretty high up in the rankings," Brink said. "Nicole Brungardt is also running well and just missed the provisional in the 100, but she's ahead of where she was last year and we think we can get her to nationals as well."

The other new school record was set by the 800-meter relay team of Brungardt, Stephanie Baumgart, Samantha Garrison and Pollard, who placed fourth with a time of 1:44.76, breaking the previous school record of 1:45.0 set by Kim Pohlman, Kandy Schott, Marian Borgmann and Kelley Peterson in the 1983 season.

"That's been on the books for quite a while, and the girls were excited to get a shot at that and finish with a new school record,"

Brink said. Brungardt posted a pair of first place finishes, winning the 100-meter dash (11.97) and the long jump

"She has a shot at getting in the 100, 200 and long jump and is performing pretty well in those events," Brink said. "I'm really hoping her marks continue to im-

Fehringer added a second-place finish in the shot put while Rebecca Davenport was fourth in the 400-meter hurdles, Brianne Hofstetter fifth in the triple jump and Sara Wells fifth in the shot put.

The Wildcat men were led by senior thrower Ross Bunchek, who captured first place in the hammer throw with a top mark of 208 feet.

"Ross is undefeated so far this outdoor season, but he was kind of disappointed with his mark," Brink said. "He fouled his first two throws, so he had to struggle to get to the finals, but that happens sometimes. He's at the point where he's going for some big marks, and sometimes you gamble and those things happen." Senior Alex Timperley was third in the 100-meter dash and sixth in the triple jump. Matt Peter was second in the shot put with Brad Wright coming in fifth.

Lady Bears first at Homer Invitational

Coleridge girls track team won their multiple medals. second meet in three days, braving wet and windy conditions Thursday to take the Homer Invitational.

The Lady Bears scored 164 points to easily outdistance the host Knights for top honors, winning nine of 16 events on the day. Allen's girls won four events and finished fourth in the seven-team meet.

The Lady Bears dominated the field events, scoring in all five events. Amy Pritchard led a 1-2 finish in the triple jump, with teammate Kiley Thompson finishing second. The pair also went first and fourth in the long jump.

The Lady Bears had another 1-2 finish in the high jump, with Erika Hochstein and Audra Corbit doing the deed for LCC.

On the track, Ellie Arduser had a hand in four first-place finishes for the Lady Bears, winning the 100 and 200 and running on the winning 400 and 1,600-meter relay squads. She joined Thompson, Sammie Camenzind and Mandy Nelson on the winning sprint relay, then teamed up with Camenzind, Hochstein and Kelsey Dietrich to win the 1,600 relay to cap the day.

Dietrich was also a double winner for the Lady Bears, taking firstplace marks in both hurdle events.

For Allen, senior Olivia Schneiders once again dominated the distance events. She won the 800, 1,600 and 3,200 and anchored the winning 3,200-meter relay for Allen, joining Vanessa Klug, Lindsey Jones and Candice Rastede.

LCC's boys finished fourth and Allen was fifth in the boys competition. The Bears finished with 75 points, just 28 behind winner Ponca. Allen was right behind the Bears with 62.5 points.

The Bears won the 1,600-meter relay, with the team of Kyle Kardell, Mitch Heikes, Tyler Schindler and Justin Saunders taking top honors in a time of 3:49.0. All four relay runners were also successful on

Hjelle leads Finnish team to league title

Former Wayne State women's basketball standout Mara Hjelle completed her first season with the Hyvinkaan Ponteva Koris of the Finnish Women's Basketball Association, helping her team win the championship.

The White Bear Lake, Minn. native helped Hy-Po Koris to a 15-3 regular season record, good for second place in the 10-team league. Her team advanced to a bestof-five playoff series, beating the Helmi Capitals 3-1 to set up a championship series against Turun Riento. Hjelle's team then went on to sweep the championship series in three games by scores of 77-58, 62-40 and 69-56.

Individually, Hjelle had a stellar season, leading HyPo Koris and the league in both scoring (18.3) and rebounding (16.7). The next closest rebounder to Hjelle in the league averaged 9.4 per contest. In the three games of the championship series, Hjelle had 19 points and 21 rebounds, 17 points and 21 rebounds and 23 points and 11 rebounds.

During her four years at Wayne State from 2007-11, Hjelle helped > the Wildcats to three NCAA Tournament appearances. She was a firstteam All-NSIC selection as a junior and senior while also being named to the NSIC All-Defensive Team both seasons.

As a senior in 2010-11, Hjelle averaged 13.6 points and 7.5 rebounds per game, shooting 48.5 percent from the field helping Wayne State to a 26-4 record and the 2010-11 NSIC regular season title. She finished her Wildcat career ranking seventh in scoring with 1,334 points, fourth in rebounds (829), fourth in blocked shots (99) and seventh in steals with 155.

School bullying impacts our youth

School bullying affects children every day. It can be a physical act such as pushing someone down on the playground. It can also be a verbal assault, such as yelling mean things to another student. School bullying can affect the victims greatly. Their grades can suffer, and they can become depressed or even suicidal.

People become bullies for a variety of reasons. They could have a bad home life. Their parents could have given them the example that violence is the answer. They could have been bullied themselves and are seeking revenge.

Luckily, there are things that adults can do to fix this situation. Parents need to have good communication with their children, if a bullying problem arises at school, the child feels comfortable coming to talk to them. They need to make sure that violence is not tolerated by setting a good example. Teachers should keep an eye on the students to make sure that they have a safe learning environment.

As a future teacher, I will be entrusted to make sure that no student experiences a physical, verbal, or emotional attack. Schools need to have a zero tolerance policy in place to make it clear that bullying will not be tolerated. Strict consequences need to be in place to deter bullies from acting out.

children that everything will be OK, and that they always have a safe place to come talk and someone is always on their side. Parents also have the ability to use the Internet as a resource. The Ophelia Project is a non-profit organization that parents can access to learn more about the causes of bullying and how they can help their child. Parents should never feel alone in this situation. With research and support, teachers and parents can combat this issue and provide an enjoyable school experience for their children.

Opposed to LB357

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Today, I want to discuss with you the Nebraska Legislature's proposal to increase the sales tax rate. Here are the facts. LB357 would increase the sales tax by a half-cent on Nebraska citizens. In Omaha, and 85 other cities, that would be a 33% increase in the local sales tax rate.

Local governments should be controlling their spending instead of increasing taxes. They should balance their budget without raising taxes,

I am against increasing taxes and that is why I vetoed LB357. I am asking state senators to sustain my veto and stand against a sales tax

Increasing taxes will have detrimental effects on our entire state and reverse progress that we have worked hard to make over the last seven years. Increasing the sales tax will make Ainsworth, Albion, Alliance, Bellevue, Blair, Columbus, Cozad, Crete, Fremont, Gering, Grand Island, Gretna, Hastings, Kearney, LaVista, Lexington, Lincoln, McCook, Norfolk, North Platte, Omaha, Scottsbluff, Valentine, York, other Nebraska cities, and the State of Nebraska less competitive for jobs. This sales tax increase would not only be on the working men and women of Omaha and other cities, but every Nebraskan who shops in these cities.

Nebraska has made significant economic progress and I don't want to take a step backwards. When I assumed the office of Governor in January 2005, we had just experienced some very tough economic times in our state. Taxes were too high, too many young people were leaving the state, and Nebraska wasn't competitive nationally or globally for jobs.

I worked with the business leadership of this state to dramatically alter Nebraska's economic position. We modernized our economic incentive programs, the Nebraska Advantage, and it has been incredibly has had 289 businesses decide to ex- voice heard.

We have also worked hard to give Nebraskans well-deserved tax relief. In 2007, we passed the largest tax relief package in Nebraska's history. We wisely built up our cash reserve. We controlled the growth of state spending and we passed balanced budgets without raising taxes. Even though we have made good progress, we still have more work to Nebraska is economically stronger than most states, but many Nebraska families struggle from paycheck to paycheck. This sales tax increase will hurt them and it will be a step backwards for our state and the significant progress we have made.

day from this week until next week. This was done so that the Legislature will have all of the bills already passed this year back from Governor Heineman. (The governor has five calendar days, not counting Sundays, to decide what action to take on bills that have been passed by the Legislature. A governor can: (1) sign the bill, (2) veto the bill, or (3) let the bill become law without a signature.) By the time session reconvenes next week, state senators will know which bills have become toed is LB357. This bill would allow an increase of the city sales tax by a half-cent if approved by the voters of that city. I voted against this bill because it is a state authorized increase in sales taxes imposed on people who may not even live in the city where the taxes are collected.

Legislative Update By Dave Bloomfield State Senator, District 17

Those who live outside of the city are not allowed to vote for or against the increase. Thirty senators voted for this bill, and that is the number needed to override the Governor's veto. I will continue to oppose this bill. Hopefully, we can convince at least one more Senator not to vote for increased taxes. Somewhere, sometime, city, county and state officials have to understand that we as citizens have already been taxed more than enough.

The third bill that has been promised a veto by Governor Heineman is LB599. This bill would provide prenatal care for the unborn children of low-income mothers, including illegal immigrants, who are not eligible for coverage under Medicaid. I have received many e-mails and phone calls on this bill, which remains the most controversial of the session. Some people support the bill because they see it as a prolife bill. Others support the bill because they believe the state could potentially save money by providing medical care for possible future Nebraska citizens (anchor babies). These good hearted people claim to be operating under the illusion that we would be treating only the unborn baby and not the mother who may be here illegally. Many Nebraskans oppose LB599 because they see it as tax dollars needlessly and unwisely being spent.

I have opposed LB599 because the State of Nebraska does not now and is not required to provide care to this group of women. Various churches and charities have stepped up and assisted pregnant women who fall into this category. I believe these private entities will continue to assist these women particularly if LB599 does not become law. No state which borders Nebraska provides this type of care for people who are not in the state legally. I don't think we should allow Nebraska to become a "magnet" for illegal aliens by joining the shortlist of mostly liberal states that force taxpayers to provide this service. I fully expect to lose some support from some "right to life" constituents over this issue, but as I have told you in the past, while you may not always agree with me. I will do my best to let you know where I stand, and why.

Once again, I ask for your prayers as the Legislature decides these issues. I guess no one ever told me that it would always be easy.

Wakefield Depot Museum Re-Opening is April 28

By BRAD KURTENBACH The Wakefield Republican

Over a matter of just a few years, and the help of countless volunteers, the historic Chicago and Northwestern railroad depot in Wakefield has come to life. A Grand Re-Opening will be taking place on Saturday, April 28. The public is invited to attend from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Eight model trains are now running and cover the scales from N to G (Garden), although HO-scale has been the most modeled in the freight room. The simulator room is just about done and hopefully will be operating by the Open House. The simulator will allow folks to feel like they are actually experiencing a train ride

While at the depot, take in some of Lefty Olson's memorabilia, more of Wakefield's history and especially, CNW railroad history, thanks in large part to Harold Tell.

Supporters of the Depot Museum have been invited to tour the depot from 3-5 p.m. and enjoy dinner fol-

All tour-goers can visit Graves Museum on Saturday from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Besides having one of the largest wrench collections in the Midwest, courtesy of Russell Marshall, they have just received a vintage player piano. The museum has been given several dozen rolls of music for the piano. There are many antiques on display there as well.

Come and visit the Depot Museum and see how Harold Tell's DREAM HAS COME TRUE.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid School Lunches discusses upcoming events the April 11 meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid to order. The LWML Pledge was spoken in unison. We also read the April Devotion, regarding the Crow Ministry Pastor Lilienkamp gave the Bible study, The Reason "Because". We love God "Because" He first loved us and demonstrates His infinite love

Mites were collected.

Roll call was answered by Pastor Lilienkamp and 20 members.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as read. The Treasurer's report was given and will be filed for financial review.

Committee Reports Mission Service: Joann Temme thanked the Ladies Aid Pen Pals for supporting the Confirmands. Sewing: Esther Brader reported nine ladies tied six large quilts and

They will donate two large quilts and one small one to the Jaraske

Benefit and one small one to the Cooper DeWitt benefit. Kitchen: Barb Greve reported all the salt and pepper shakers had been cleaned.

Gifts: President Sebade presented a potted plant to Verdelle Reeg in honor of their 65th wedding anniversary and a gift to Ardene Nelson who has been a member of the Aid for 60 years (since 1952).

Visiting: The new committee is Elinor Jensen and Melvy Meyer. Student: Esther

President Rhonda Sebade called Brader read a letter from Nathan Misch, the group's Seminary Student. He will graduate and receive chicken, lettuce, tomatoes, cheese, cara call May 1. Kay Denker will write this month. The group voted to send a $120 graduation gift to Nathan. Pastor Lilienkamp suggested the group sponsor Ryan Janke of Winside who will be going to the Seminary next year.

Correspondence: A thank you note was read from Leoma Baker, and a letter from LCMC World Re-

President Sebade reminded the group of the Spring Workshop to be held Tuesday, April 24 in Winside, with registration starting at 8:30 a.m. Those planning to attend should meet at the church at 8:15 a.m. for car pooling.

President Sebade asked for delegates for the District Convention to be held June 29 and 30 at Lutheran High Northeast in Norfolk. Fauneil Bennett volunteered and Mary Janke will let her know. Mrs. Sebade will put a note in the bulletin for a Young Women's Representative.

Hostesses for the Wednesday, May 9 Anniversary/Guest Day will be LaVon Biermann, Rhonda Sebade, and Kay Denker. The Aid will sponsor The Lutheran Hour on Sunday, July 8 for the anniversary.

The birthday song was sung for Bernita Sherbahn, Leoma Baker, and Phyllis Nolte.

The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and the table prayer. Bev Hansen and Ardene Nelson

Guest preacher to visit Praise Assembly Church

On Sunday, April 22 Praise Assembly of God Church will welcome a guest preacher to the pulpit. Rev. Jason Pickering and his family will be visiting the church this weekend.

The church hosts Sunday School for all ages at 9:30 a.m., following the weekly fellowship time that includes homemade cookies, bagels, cream cheese, bananas and coffee. The morning worship service with guest Rev. Pickering begins with Praise and Worship at 10:30 a.m.

The church will host a noon "Fellowship Dinner" that will be followed by a congregational meeting.

There will be no Sunday evening Bible Study at Praise Assembly this

Trinity Lutheran's WELCA discusses future events

Church of Winside met on Thursday, April 12.

President Kathy Jensen opened the meeting with a reading taken from the Chaplin's Corner that was written by the Rev. Roger Wolfe.

For the Bible Study, all those in attendance randomly opened the Bible to a Bible verse, which was read and discussed.

There were four members who answered roll call. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

The WELCA was asked to provide bars for the closing Vacation Bible School program. VBS will be held May 29-June 1 in conjunction

The WELCA of Trinity Lutheran with the Methodist Church. The program this year will be held at Trinity Lutheran.

Penticost is May 27 this year, and ladies will be serving refreshments after church in honor of Pentecost on that Sunday.

New altar cloths were discussed and catalogs were looked through. Several designs were available and the final choice will be left to the committee to choose. Memorial

Our Savior Women conduct April meeting

Our Savior Lutheran Women of ELCA Joy circle met April 11 in the social room with 15 women present.

Dorothy Wert began the meeting with announcements, noting that quilting will meet April 12 and sewing April 26. Visitation will be April

Ruth Grone Maier was recognized for her birthday and anniversary. Wert then began the program for the day by reading the visitation prayer which the women use each month when they go out to visit. She also read a thank you from the family of Winnie Craft, who recently passed away. It was directed to the women who do visitation and send out cards monthly which seemed to be appropriate for the day considering we were making the many cards used for this project. Wert then guided the card making process. The meeting closed with a lunch served by Gena Puls and Elaine Menke.

The next circle meeting will be Wednesday, May 9, with Darrel and Phyllis Rahn sharing their trip to Tanzania. Hostess for the day will be Ruth Grone Maier and Phyllis Rahn will have devotions.

5th Sunday set for April 29

*Sunday afternoon, April 29 at 3 p.m. will be the next "5th Sunday Music Event." hosted by Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

This gathering will be called 'Come Together and Worship" and will be a one-hour blended worship service involving church musicians from around the community. The service will include hymn singing (accompanied on the organ by OS-LC organist, Mark Kannitz), music by the OSLC choir, the WSC Chorale, the OSLC handbell choir, as well as more contemporary music and a worship team, including Concord Evangelical Free pastor, Rev. Todd Thelen, drummer.

Special music during the service will be sung by Sherie Lundahl, Katie Hansen, and Dr. Elise Hepworth (WSC Voice Teacher). Narrators for the service will include Yvonne Hansen as well as several pastors in the community.

Individuals who are interested in being in a "worship choir" are invited to meet at Our Savior Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

COLD SORES (fever blisters) ARE OFTEN CONFUSED WITH CANKER SORES (apthous ulcers)

They are quite different, however. -Cold sores are found outside the mouth usually on the lips but may appear on the chin, nostrils, or cheek.

-They begin as a red blister, burst and crust The cycle takes 7-14 days to heal.

-Cold sores are caused by the herpes simplex virus but certain factors activate their outbreak, particularly stress, colds, fevers and/or sunburn.

-They are contagious and are transmitted by skin-to-skin contact. The virus is dormant most of the time and is carried by almost everyone. Treatment of cold sores include, applying prescription based or over-thecounter ointments or antivirus medication. A special dental laser can be used to gently seal the sore and if caught in time no cold sore will form at all. The first stage of the sore, where the tingling, prickly sensation is occurring is the only time to treat it with the laser at our office. It is the perfect solution when the stress of a special occasion might bring about the outbreak of a

-Canker sores are found inside the mouth on the gums, cheeks, tongue or floor of the They cannot be transmitted from one individual to another. -Canker sores begin as small red circular swellings that usually break within a day, after which they become white.

-They last 8-10 days and can be very painful to the touch. Their cause has yet to be discovered, but they appear to break out from trauma or foods such as citrus and tomatoes. Canker sores are usually relieved with mild pain medication and medicated ointments. They can also be treated with the laser at our office. We gently seal the sore like we would a cold sore and in a few days it is completely healed.

Weather more unusual than normal

When I said we needed rain, I did not mean all at once! We had a total of 3 inches on Saturday.

However, we are thankful rain was all we got; no hail, no wind, no tornado. It was amazing to see Thurman, Iowa, on national news this evening. Thurman is a very small town across the river from Nebraska City, and I don't think they have ever been on NBC before.

And, in Nebraska City, the Kimmel Orchards took a hit. And further north, on Highway 50, there was a house destroyed in Cook. This used to be my territory; I've been there many times. At least, there were no fatalities, as in Oklahoma.

It does seem to me that there is more unusual weather, but maybe it's my age. I do know it was difficult to get to sleep Saturday evening with the weather sirens howling. I guess my mistake was in waiting too long to go to bed; this morning, at Curves, most of the gals reported they had slept through them.

I spent two days downtown at the Embassy Suites last week, at the annual End of Life Conference. I volunteer for Nebraska Hospice there, in what is called the Marketplace. The national office sends huge boxes of books that are tremendous resources, and we sell them to attendees. On Tuesday, the first day, registration was 280, so you know there was a crowd.

I did sneak away to sit in on a couple of breakout sessions. One that got my attention was by Mourning Hope staff. I was aware of this organization; its executive director is Carly Runestad, Mrs. Kurt Runestad, and we had visited at a health fair where we were both displaying. Our hospice team had used the house for one of our team stress relief meetings. Their mission is to assist young people who are grieving. As their founder told us, when a child loses a parent; often, they do not know another child who has had the same loss.

This organization can put that child in contact with other children who have sustained such a loss, and better still, they can help the child do what we call "grief work". Sometimes, it is known as "processing the grief." If adults have difficulty with this task, imagine how hard it must be for a child. Often, they have not experienced the loss of any other significant person until this

One statistic that was quoted really caught my attention: of all inmates on death row, 85 percent have experienced a major loss, usually that of a parent, as a child. Someone in the audience added that this is true of gang members, also. A special education teacher once told me that many incarcerated people have learning disabilities.

Anyway, if learning to deal with grief is that important, it behooves us to pay attention. Mourning Hope uses all kinds of therapy to assist children in this important work. They also do out-state training, since, of course, not everyone can travel to them. They own a modest bungalow style house in northeast Lincoln, and in just a few years, they have helped many, many fami-

I am always impressed at this conference with the people who are working hard to help us all in these important life transitions. On Tuesday evening, at the annual banquet, we honored the volunteers who are so important in hospice work. I'm gratified to see that we are finally covering almost all of the state. Bringing hospice to some of the rural areas is a tremendous job, and requires some real dedication from some of the nurses and social workers involved.

If you know someone involved in this task, take a minute to tell them they are appreciated. They don't do it for appreciation, or for money, but because they so believe in its value. In the thirty years since hospice began in Nebraska, we have made important strides. Rest assured, we will keep on, keeping on!

Suggestions offered for proper tree planting this spring

As spring arrives, the planting season gets underway. When planting trees and shrubs, spring is the second best time of year; second only to fall, with its long period of moderate temperatures allowing more time for root development before the plant is tested by a hot Nebraska summer.

Gardeners wanting to plant trees and shrubs this spring have a window of time from approximately April 1 through June 30 when soil is workable and temperatures are favorable for new plant establishment. Avoid planting trees and shrubs in the middle of summer, from July 1 through Aug. 20, when conditions are very hot and dry.

Most trees and shrubs bought by local homeowners are container plants. Container plants have a longer window of time when they can be successfully planted. That time approximately is from late April through the end of June. Be careful with plants that have been protected in a greenhouse when planting them outside before the last spring frost date. Providing protection may be necessary if heavy frost is predicted to avoid leaf damage. To minimize stress on the plants, try to plant on a calm or cloudy day, and keep the plants moist during the planting process.

With wood plants, like trees and shrubs, it is best to plant them directly into the native soil, without hole any deeper or loosen the soil any soil amendments. New roots will tend to stay within the area of amended soil instead of spreading out and providing good support for the tree. Eliminating soil amendments actually results in a more extensive root system.

one of the most important consider- avoid "glazing" from the back of the ations is making sure it is planted shovel that can make it difficult for at the correct depth. Roots need ox- the root to penetrate through the ygen from soil to properly grow. If a plant is planted too deep, the root system doesn't develop as well because it doesn't receive enough oxygen. As a result, the plant can be stunted, have low vigor and be more susceptible to insects and diseases throughout its life.

To determine the proper planting depth, find the first main root at the top of the root system and plant it just below the soil surface. If the plant is in a container, remove it from the container, then pull the soil away from the top of the rootball until the first root or the "root flare" is located. The root flare can be found on all trees at the base of the trunk where the trunk widens before differentiating into the root system. When planted properly, the tree's root flare should be visible at the soil surface after planting. When ready to plant, don't dig the at the bottom of the planting hole any more than necessary. If the soil is too loose, it will settle after the plant has been in the ground for awhile, causing the plant to sink. Dig a shallow, wide hole and loosened soil around the sides. Rough-When planting any tree or shrub, ing up the edges of the hole will soil as the tree begins to grow.

Remove any burlap, ropes, strapping materials, plastic containers, wire baskets, plant tags or any other type of labeling attached to the plant before putting the plant in the planting hole. Once the proper planting depth has been checked, backfill with soil, gently firming the soil around the base of the roots. When the hole is filled, apply water and soak the planting hole, allowing water to eliminate any remaining air pockets. Finally, apply a two to three inch layer of organic mulch, such as wood chips.

Staking trees is not recommended unless the plant is in a very high wind location. Also, don't fertilize new trees and plants for the first two to three years after planting. The same goes for pruning and shaping. Limit pruning to broken branches only during the first few

Baseball Review- Mr. Ruhl gave review of baseball to the Board. There are presently 23 players out for baseball and 27 teams in Class-B baseball. With baseball there has been a decrease in participation in boys track and golf. Most boys are out for two to three sports during the school year. There are a few boys that this is the only activity they participate in during the school year. There are plenty of extracurricular activities for our students to participate in. Mr. Ruhl stated that transportation is a major cost things are going well, and he sees no reason to eliminate the program. He recommends the Board approve baseball as an extra- curricular activity sponsored by the district. Steve Lutt, president of the Wayne Baseball Association, spoke. The Association presently works with bovs the ages 9-18. The last time Wayne High School had baseball was in 1984, and Steve was on that team. He would like to see the Board continue this sport. Mr. Hoffman the coach stated that the group has done a number of fundraisers to generate additional funds for the program and will "continue to do whatever we have to do. We plan to represent Wayne the best we can." Motion by Garwood, second by Jorgensen to take up Item VIII.B. earlier in the agenda Motion carried.

Mr. Lenihan Technology Bond- Vote in May Board Meeting- Mr. Lenihan stated there are presently sixteen schools that have agreed to the Technology Bond Cooperative. They would like to split the sixteen groups in pods of four. D.A Davidson will send notifications and compliances for the May Board meeting. Lawn Care- Mr. Lenihan stated that he took bids for lawn care and plans to go with Green Thumb out of Norfolk. There is a copy of the bid in the Board packet. Budget Projections-Mr. Lenihan handed out a Preliminary 2012-13 Budget Projection and explained his projections for the new budget. Check for Learning (C4L)-Mr. Lenihan stated that The Check for Learning System (C4L) will be made accessible to all Nebraska school districts, using the C4L software system, the same software used for the state NeSA tests. The Nebraska Department of Education will train teachers in the subject area of reading mathematics, and science. GNSA Update- Mr. Lenihan has attended the GNSA meeting in Lincoln. He says he thinks it would be beneficial for the school not to renew the GNSA membership; he feels Wayne Community Schools would benefit more from having membership in NRCSA.

stated the last day of school for students will be May 17, 2012. That will give students 177 davs and teachers will attend school until May 18, 2012, giving teachers 185 contract days. Board Committees Foundation and Community Relations-Ken Jorgensen, Rod Garwood, Carolyn

Introducing Dr. Thomas d'Amato

When a surgeon has been perfecting his specialty for 22 years, you know your heart is in good hands.

Thomas d'Amato, MD, PhD, FACS, combines his passion for medicine with the precision gained from years of military service when caring for each patient. As a board certified cardiothoracic surgeon, he is able to offer his patients a full spectrum of adult cardiac, thoracic and vascular procedures.

After receiving his Ph.D. in biological sciences he went on to complete his medical degree, residencies in general and cardiothoracic surgery, and a fellowship in Advanced Minimally Invasive Thoracic Surgery.

Since graduating medical school 22 years ago, Dr. d'Amato has enhanced his surgical skills through the many positions he has held in both the clinical and academic realms.

Dr. d'Amato began his military service with the United States Navy in 1992 and continues to serve in the US Naval Reserves.

Dr. d'Amato moves from Youngstown, Ohio and enjoys spending time with his family and caring for his horses.

Finch says, "many of us can remember long hours of outdoor play as children and remember with fond memories the joy of nature exploration, that sense of wonder and discovery in nature based play, as well as learning more about others and ourselves. Children are the same, but our culture has changed in recent years! This kind of "nature play" is now an endangered part of American Childhood. We can help to bring it back for our children and Center: UNL Extension: (contact those that we are responsible for. Awareness is the first step. It will take involving families and communities to change this for our kids. Did you know that American children spend 27 percent of their time

Restoring and strengthening the tionally known speaker and leader with electronic media these days? Current research tells us that in practice, children need at least 2 hours of exercise daily in structured and unstructured outdoor play. We believe that frequent, unstructured childhood play in natural settings is a crucial stage in the development of life-long conservation values -and thus helps lead to adult conservation behaviors."
