City Council says yes to proposed park for canines

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

Man's best friend and his owner will have a place to congregate following a presentation and action taken at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Jessi Hansen and Cara Woehler, members of the Leadership Wayne Class, presented information on plans to construct a dog park on city-owned property near the Summer Sports Complex in the southeast portion of Wayne.

Hansen told the council her group has plans to do fundraising to get money to purchase and install a fence and other needed equipment for the facility.

She also highlighted a number of rules those using the facility will need to abide by and explained that there would be area in the facility for larger dogs and one for smaller dogs.

"We have a lot of backing for this project and don't want it to be a burden to the city, or an eyesore for the community," Hansen said.

Several council members questioned whether or not the facility would create any liability to the city, how waste would be disposed of and if certain breeds of dogs would not be allowed at the facility.

Following the presentation and discussion, the council voted 7-1 to allow the leadership class to move forward with the project. Council member Jon Haase voted against the plan.

An ordinance that would amend the city code in regard to boarding houses and the definition of family failed to move forward due to the lack of a second on the motion.

The ordinance would have changed the wording in the city code to allow up to six unrelated persons to live in a dwelling if certain conditions, such as the required number of parking stalls, were met.

Council member Doug Sturm said he was not in favor of the change, stating, "we had problems in the past, especially with parking. We (previous councils) worked long and hard to change the ordinance to four and I don't think we should go back."

Council member Brian Frevert said there is a need for more housing, especially for college students, and felt changing the ordinance to allow for six people in a dwelling would help.

Joel Hansen, city planner and zoning administrator, told the council that the Planning Commission brought the changes to the council because they felt the change would open up more housing in the community by allowing more people in one house.

Public hearings were conducted to consider the Planning Commission's recommendation in regard to private recreation.

The issue was brought to the council by Kelby Herman, who wishes to construct a nearly 5,000-square foot building on his property at 1102 West Seventh Street.

Joel Hansen told the council that current language in the city code states that an ac-

Flippin' out over the heat

The hot temperatures experienced in the area during the past few days has helped keep area swimming pools busy with activity. Isaac Reithenrath shows off his best back flip as he takes a cool dip in the pool at Laurel late last week. Temperatures were expected to cool somewhat this weekend, with more seasonable temperatures forecast for next week.

T-shirt sales for the annual Chicken Show festival next month are brisk, according to officials at Wayne Area Economic Development. Shirts can be purchased at the WAED office for the annual festival, which runs July 13-15.

Change a great thing for '12 Chicken Days

Change can be a good thing. In the case of the Wayne Chicken Show, change is a great thing, bringing about new opportunities and sights for those who take part in the annual event.

In addition to the expected change of theme each year, which evolved from last year's "Chicken and a Movie" to this year's "Nightmare on Egg Street," anyone who enters Wayne from the west on Highway 35 will notice a brand-new, high resolution billboard.

"LB840 funded the marketing request by the Chicken Show Committee to promote the Chicken Show with new logos to replace dated and deteriorated signs and banners that used various logos and designs from the past 30 years," Wayne Area Economic Development assistant director Irene Fletcher said. "The granted funds allowed us to use a consistent image/logo to update the billboard and banners that will go across the highway, on the stage and in the park."

On a smaller scale, LB840 has also allowed WAED to purchase new generic Chicken Show shirts to be used this year and in years to come. Unlike the more detailed themed shirts that are new to each show, the generic shirts are yellow and display the Chicken Show Chicken on the front, with the logo on the back.

"For several years, the committee has tossed around the idea of a generic shirt that could be used year-round to promote the Chicken Show," Fletcher said. "It would be given out as a promotional gift and presented to dignitaries visiting Wayne. Also, it could be sold if we ran out of the theme shirts before the following year."

Like the "Nightmare on Egg Street" t-shirts, the generic shirts are available for $15. "Lastly, no one can be prepared for the Chicken Show without an expansive showing of "cluck-tible" items.

"A chicken hat is a must have," WAED office manager Jessi Hansen said. "The office just got in an order of white felt chicken hats with multicolored tail feathers and dangly legs. We will also soon be ordering a new set of hats in various colors like black, pink, purple and blue. Stay tuned and be

Weed board's status is delayed

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners will wait until later this summer before making a final decision on the future of the county weed board.

At Tuesday's meeting, the three-member board opted to set a time to talk with members of the Wayne County Noxious Weed Control Board to determine whether or not their future should be put in the hands of voters in the county. The county board has until Sept. 1 to make a decision on the matter so that it can be put on the Nov. 6 general election ballot.

Presently, the county weed board's main expenses are in salaries for board members, which amounts to $30 per member per meeting. The cost savings would be about $2,000 annually for the county.

Board members discussed whether or not they would be able to take on the extra duties of watching over the weed issues in their respective districts. Board members appeared to be OK with the idea of taking on the added responsibilities, but opted to wait until they can meet with weed board members one final time.

The board also gave the go-ahead for emergency manager Nic Kemnitz to bid out the county's new radios, as vendors will have four sets of specifications to submit bids to so the county can upgrade its analog radios to digital, as is required by the fed-

Area jobless numbers down

Unemployment figures in the area trend lower than the state's average, which is the second lowest in the nation.

According to the latest figures from the Nebraska Department of Labor, unemployment in Nebraska was at 3.9 percent, which is unchanged from the previous month and down one-tenth of a percent from March. One year ago, the average was at about 4.5 percent.

Nebraska's numbers are second nationally, with North Dakota coming in at 3.0 percent as the nation's top state for unemployment numbers. South Dakota is third at 4.3 percent and Iowa is seventh at 5.1 percent. The national average is 8.1 percent, with Nevada the highest at 11.6 percent.

Among area counties, Wayne County's unemployment rate currently sits at 3.3 percent, which is up four-tenths of a percent from last month. Cedar County is at 2.7 percent, up one-tenth of a percent from last month; while Dixon County sits at 4.3 percent, down a tenth from last month and down more than a full point from March's figures.

Other nearby counties, with last month's numbers in parenthesis, include:

- Pierce - 3.0 percent (3.2)
- Madison - 3.6 percent (3.5)
- Stanton - 3.4 percent (3.6)
- Thurston - 7.3 percent (7.4)
- Dakota - 6.0 percent (5.3)
- Cuming - 2.6 percent (2.7)

Sales tax numbers up for seventh straight month

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The latest city sales tax figures for the city of Wayne show an increase over the previous year's numbers for the seventh consecutive month.

June's sales tax figures, which are based off sales made during the month of April, stood at $50,445.25. That's an increase of almost $6,500 from the $43,996.33 generated the same time last fiscal year.

For fiscal year 2011-12, the city has collected $434,433.96, an average of $48,270.44 per month. That is well ahead of last year's average of more than $41,700 per month and almost $5,000 ahead of the record set in fiscal year 2009-10, when the average monthly intake was $43,425.43.

Jean Coan

Mylajeane (Jean) Coan, 79, of Wayne, died Tuesday, June 19, 2012 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services will be held Saturday, June 23 at 10 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. The Rev. Mark Beran and Deacon Pat Gross will officiate. Visitation will be held from 5-8 p.m. on Friday, June 22 at St. Mary's Catholic Church with the family present. A vigil service will begin at 7 p.m. Burial will take place at Calvary Catholic Cemetery in Emerson, following the luncheon.

Mylajeane (Jean) Coan was born to Roy and Blanche Pearson on a farm near Wakefield on Oct. 23, 1932. Jean graduated from Wakefield High School in 1950. She married James Coan at Sacred Heart Rectory in Emerson, on Sept. 18, 1950. They farmed northwest of Emerson prior to moving to Concord in 1952. The couple then moved to Winside for two years before moving to Wayne. Jean worked in a number of local retail stores in Wayne. Jim and Jean co-owned and were the original operators of the Dairy Sweet Drive-In Restaurant in the mid 60's and early 70's. Jean later was employed as the bookkeeper at JM McDonald Clothing Store in Wayne. She spent over 20 years at the State National Bank, retiring as Head Teller in 2003. Post retirement Jean chose to work part time at Chartwells Food Service at Wayne State College. Jean also enjoyed walking all over the city and spending time with her family and her grandchildren.

Survivors include her husband James "Jim"; daughters, Kathy Coan of Omaha, Kaye (Dennis) Morris of Wayne, Joni Dinsmore of Omaha, and her son, Bob (Diane) Coan of Rowlette, Texas; six grandchildren, Nicholas, Adam, and Drew Dinsmore and Max, Quinton and Maddie Morris. Her siblings include Don (Janice) Pearson of Evansville, Wyo., Arlyce (Vic) Carslon of Concord, Jerry Pearson of Kaycee, Wyo. and Harold (Sandy) Pearson of Hawarden, Iowa.

She was preceded in death by her parents and a son-in-law, Alan Dinsmore.

Pallbearers will be Jean and Jim's grandchildren, Nicholas Dinsmore, Adam Dinsmore, Drew Dinsmore, Max Morris, Quinton Morris and Maddie Morris.

Memorials may be made to the family for designation at a later date. Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne is in charge of arrangements.

Makin' Money Camp was Great!

Twenty-two fifth through eighth graders had a great time learning how to be successful entrepreneurs. They came from Belden, Emerson, Laurel, Pender, Thurston and Waterbury to take part in a two-day Makin' Money Camp.

Participants had fun while learning how to develop a business plans, borrow money from a banker and create own their business cards, billboard ads and radio ads. Each camper produced products to sell. Items produced included: brownie mixes, fishing lures, golf counters, scrapbooks and wind chimes which they sold local Pender residents.

As part of the camp, attendees toured or heard from six entrepreneurial businesses in Pender, where the owners shared how they got started, what skills they needed and what they look for in employees. All of the business owners said it has to be something you love doing and that it takes lots of work and long hours to make it a success.

"When we started the camp most the youth didn't think they would be able to start their own business but by the end of the camp several of the youth were talking about potential businesses they could start," stated Jennifer Hansen, UNL Extension Educator.

The Camp was held June 13 - 14 in Pender at the Pender Public Schools. This camp was made possible by the following organizations: UNL Extension, Pender Economic Development, Inc, Pender State Bank, CharterWest National Bank, Northeast Nebraska RC&D and Wayne Area Economic Development, Inc.

Set a goal to take control of diabetes

Managing diabetes can seem overwhelming at times. There are numerous tasks required to keep it under control which can vary depending on your overall health and personal circumstances.

But here is one thing everyone with diabetes needs to focus on: controlling blood glucose. When you improve your diabetes control, you win both now and in the future. With tighter control of blood sugar levels, you are likely to feel better and more energetic. But the long-term effects are even more striking. Major clinical trials have proven that good blood glucose control is the best way to prevent or delay diabetes complications. Even small reductions in blood glucose levels can improve your health.

Good control requires both diligence and willingness to try new strategies. Those affected by diabetes are encouraged to learn new strategies by attending "Control Diabetes for Life" where the Wednesday, June 27 session will focus on "Stay Sunny with Diabetes".

Set a goal to take control of your diabetes. Aim for lower blood glucose levels to feel better now and stay healthy for years to come. The June 27 topics that will be addressed during the two-hour program includes: "Get Fit Now", "Tips for taking Diabetes on Vacation", and "Diabetes and Vitamin D".

Participants will receive recipes for diabetic appropriate foods. Team-teaching the program will be Stacie Petersen, B.S.R.N. & Certified Diabetes Educator; Deborah Wilcox, R.D., L.M.N.T., of Franciscan Care Services in West Point and Debra E. Schroeder, UNL Extension Educator in Cuming County.

The program will be offered on Wednesday, June 27, from 1:30-4 p.m. at Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department in Wayne.

"Control Diabetes for Life" is a joint project of University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension and Franciscan Care Services of West Point. The program is offered free-of-charge. "Control Diabetes for Life" will help participants learn to control diabetes and prolong the onset of complications from the disease.

Participants are asked to pre-register for "Control Diabetes for Life" by calling UNL Extension in Wayne County at (402) 375-3310. Please register by Monday, June 25, so the proper number of handouts may be prepared. Nebraska School Food Service Association has approved this session for two hours of continuing education credits for food service staff for attending.

USD awards degrees at spring commencement

The University of South Dakota awarded degrees to more than 1,250 candidates at the 125th Spring Commencement on Saturday, May 5 during a ceremony at the DakotaDome.

Among those receiving degrees were Emily LaRae Koester of Laurel, Bachelor of Science in Education, Elementary Education, Special Education and Amanda Marie Brenner, Master of Professional Accountancy; Samantha Rae Dunklau, Bachelor of Business Administration, Human Resource Management; Justine Marie Carroll, Bachelor of Science in Education, Elementary Education; Staci Elizabeth Daum, Bachelor of Science in Education, Elementary Education, all of Wayne.

Rodney R. Parry, M.D., former dean of the University of South Dakota Sanford School of Medicine, delivered the keynote address, "Life." A native of Canistota, S.D., Parry became the 13th dean of the medical school in 2004. He retired as dean of the Sanford School of Medicine last June, however, remained dean on an interim basis until April 1, 2012. Parry was a member of the medical school faculty for 36 years and also served as president of the South Dakota State Medical Association in 1998. In 2008, he was presented with the South Dakota State Medical Association Presidential Award and from 1986 to 2000 Parry served as the director of the USD Cystic Fibrosis Center. He was also chair, Medical School Section, American Medical Association from 2007-2008. Parry received an undergraduate degree in pharmacy at South Dakota State University in 1965 and a B.S. in medicine from USD in 1967. He earned his M.D. from the University of Wisconsin in 1969.

In addition to Parry's address, USD's 125th Spring Commencement included a performance by the USD Chamber Singers, "O Day Full of Grace," and the conferring of degrees by Regent Patrick Weber and USD President James W. Abbott. Distinguished faculty from the 2011-12 academic year were also recognized, including recipients of the Belbas-Larson Awards for Excellence in Teaching; the Richard and Sharon Cutler Awards in Liberal Arts; the John Wesley Jackson Memorial Award presented to the outstanding professor of law; and the Knutson Distinguished Professor Award presented by the College of Fine Arts.

Cameron Muhs displays his original drawing encased in the award.

Winside student honor by Nebraska Wildlife Federation

Winside Elementary fifth-grader Cameron Muhs was recently honored by the Nebraska Wildlife Federation for his hand drawn poster. Cameron received a second place award in the fifth grade statewide competition.

The theme was Nebraska's EXTRAordinary Wildlife. Categories included 12-by-18 inch poster, 8 1/2 by 11 inch poster, and photography. The competition is open to Nebraska students in grades 4-6.

Cameron attended the annual Nebraska Wildlife Federation meeting at Spring Creek Prairie Audubon Center in Denton. Award recipients observed the annual board meeting, ate lunch with board members, and enjoyed a hike and scavenger hunt on Spring Creek's 808 acre prairie grassland. Trained staff members showed the participants how to build a butterfly habitat.

Iowa Lakes Community College spring honors list released

Valerie Newhouse, President of Iowa Lakes Community College in Esterville, Iowa, has released the spring honors list of full-time students (12 credits or more) who have demonstrated academic excellence by earning a grade-point average of 3.25 or higher.

Among those named to the list was Isaac Haahr of Laurel.

Spring semester students who have achieved a 3.25 grade-point average or better are recognized by inclusion on the dean's list. Those with a 4.0 average are on the President's list.

Senior class donation

The Wayne High School senior class has donated left over class funds of approximately $1,000 to the school. Plans are to have the money go toward lettering to be put on the building identifying it as "Wayne Jr./Sr. High School." This will be done following the completion of the construction project at the school. Class officers for the 2012 senior class include, Jordan Backer, president; Hannah McCorkindale, treasurer; Luke Trenhaile, secretary; Brittney Peterson, vice-president; and Quentin Jorgensen, Student Council representative.

Simpson wins NEST essay contest

Earlier this year, State Treasurer Don Stenberg announced a scholarship open to seventh and eighth grade students.

The Nebraska Educational Savings Plan Trust (NEST) 2012 essay contest, "Why I Want to Go to College" was conducted and winners were selected from each of Nebraska's three U.S. Congressional districts and from entries from outside Nebraska. First-place winners received $1,000 each toward a Nebraska College Savings plan.

A total of 679 entries were received. Initial judging was done by students and faculty in the College of Education at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and final selections were made by Stenberg.

Among those named as winners in this year's contest was Andrew Simpson of Wayne, a home-schooled seventh grader.

Simpson's essay states, in part, "As an American and a Nebraskan, I believe that both our country and our state's heritage is a history of its people striving to improve themselves through work and learning - Even in our great state of Nebraska, the early settlers built colleges and universities, the most well-known being the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. I believe that college is a present day way to improve ourselves and our lives."

Simpson said he was surprised and pleased when he learned he was a winner in the contest. He strongly encourages others his age to submit an essay for next year's contest.

"It's a fun way to practice writing and to earn scholarship money for college. By starting now, the push for college money and scholarship funds is diminished. I would suggest and encourage the NEST essay contest for all seventh and eighth graders," Andrew said.

Andrew is the son of Jeff and Colleen Simpson of Wayne.

'Not Gone Yet' set for July 8

Everyone in the community is encouraged to mark their calendars for the next "5th Sunday Music Event" to be held on July 8 at the Oaks Senior Living Community in Wayne, beginning at 7 p.m.

The event for July is called "Not Gone Yet!" This is the third in a series of mid-summer musicals featuring the senior adults of the Wayne community. In this program, the youngest participant is 63 and the oldest is 92 years of age.

"Not Gone Yet" is an honest, tender and humorous look at growing older, with an emphasis on keeping a positive (but realistic) outlook on life and the changes that confront every one of us at some point. The program consists of poems, songs, skits and other readings.

The Oaks, located at 1500 Vintage Hill Drive in Wayne was the site of "Not Gone Yet 2" and they have again offered to allow the event to take place in their main dining room that evening.

Everyone is encouraged to attend. Anyone who is over 55 and would like to participate, the remaining practices are listed below (along with the rehearsal site). Remember: you don't have to sing a solo (unless you want to); you don't have to read alone (unless you want to); and you don't even have to stand up during the program (unless it's not a physical problem for you).

For more information, contact Phil Pfaltzgraff at wayneamericaworships@yahoo.com.

The rehearsal schedule is as follows:

June 22: 12:40 p.m. at the Senior Center;

June 28: 1:15 p.m. at the Oaks;

June 29: 11:40 a.m. and 12:40 p.m. at the Senior Center;

July 2: 1:15 p.m. at the Oaks;

July 3: 11:40 a.m. and 12:40 p.m. at the Senior Center;

July 5: 1:15 p.m. at The Oaks;

July 6: 11:40 a.m. and 12:40 p.m. at the Senior Center.

eral government.

Bids on the new radio equipment will be opened at the board's Aug. 7 meeting, and it is expected they will act on the purchase of up to 60 new radios for the county's vehicles to meet the January 2013 federal deadline.

The board also heard from Sheriff LeRoy Janssen about concerns that had been raised regarding the county's providing resources for fires at private residences in the county.

County crews have been on the scene at two or three fires recently, and county equipment was used to assist in efforts to put out the fires. Concerns had been raised that private contractors, not the county, should have been called in for those efforts.

Janssen told the board that the county has signed cooperative agreements with all emergency responder groups within the county. This is the result of a Presidential directive that came after the Sept. 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, requiring all jurisdictions receiving federal disaster assistance and Homeland Security money to participate in these agreements.

Since 2004, the county and Northeast Nebraska Homeland Security have received more than $1 million from the federal government, and that money includes requirements that responders be trained in National Incident Management System (NIMS) procedures. Wayne County road crew members have taken initial training to work within that system.

The county's Local Emergency Operations Plan requires the county to support local response efforts as needed. If an incident becomes large enough, state officials can come in to assist, and NIMS-certified private contractors would also be used.

"Fire suppression is considered a qualified response action as has been done in the past, and will continue if requested through the Wayne County Office of Emergency Management," Janssen said, adding that anyone with questions may contact him or county emergency manager Nic Kemnitz at the sheriff's office.

In other action, the Board:

- discussed Rubeck Road with

Linda Kirsch, daughter of Leroy Rubeck. Concerns about where the property line is in relation to the road were discussed between she and the board. The board decided they will need to acquire survey records from the Nebraska State Depository to determine the exact location of 848 Road between 568 and 569 Avenue. Those records will help determine where the right of way is and whether the county has easement.

- awarded a bid of $55,279.72 to B's Enterprises of Norfolk for culvert projects in District 1 and District 3.

- approved a resolution on a design exception on a road project southeast of Winside that will reduce the speed on the curve to 35 miles per hour. The Board of Classification and Standards has a minimum design standard of 40 miles per hour on that type of rural collector road.

- approved an interlocal agreement with Dixon County on culvert replacement on a project on the county line. The counties will split preliminary engineering and materials cost, with Wayne County picking up the tab for construction costs.

- approved a solicitation of bids for paving of the road running east of Wakefield along the golf course. Bids will be opened at the Aug. 7 meeting.

- approved an interest payment of $2,965 on 2002 and 2005 general obligation bonds.

- submitted a proposal to the Nebraska State Patrol setting out guidelines for use of space at the courthouse. The State Patrol is looking for space in the area where the sheriff's office used to be in the southeast corner of the courthouse.

- approved special permits by the Ag Society for the sale and consumption of alcohol during the Wayne County Fair later this summer.

- approved resolutions authorizing board members to work beyond their commissioner duties at a rate of $8 per hour, not to exceed $3,000 in a fiscal year.

- approved a modified construction and operating permit for Temme Agribusiness, Inc.

The county board's next meeting is Tuesday, July 3, at 9 a.m. at the county courthouse.

Bikers passing through

Nearly 300 bicyclists passed through and stopped in Wayne on Wednesday as part of the 25th annual Tour de Nebraska Bike Ride. Above, a line of bikes indicated the cyclists had stopped at The Max in Wayne for lunch and a break. At right, Vern Kelderman of Kirkville, Iowa, posed with The Chicken during his stop in Wayne. Kelderman said although he has ridden in a number of other bike rides, this was his first Nebraska ride and said "it is a good way to fight old age." The cyclists encountered rain as they traveled from Madison to Wayne. Plans called for the group to spend the night in Wakefield before starting day two of the trip. The five-day event will end in Madison on Sunday, June 24.

cessory building can take up no more than seven percent of a property, but caps that square footage at 4,000 square foot.

Joelle Herman, who with her husband, Kelby, plan to build a private recreation structure on their property, told the council that the building will "not affect the area negatively and most people, even those in Western Ridge, won't even be able to see much of the building."

Council members approved the change in the ordinance language, but did not approve allowing for these types of facilities in R-1 and R-2 (Residential) Zoning districts. They did, however, approve the Planning Commission's recommendation to have the structures allowed in R-3 residential areas.

The council also approved action requesting a 60-day extension from the Department of Economic Development (DED) office in regard to a determination on whether or not the city has correctly used and documented the use of Community Development Block Grant funds.

City finance director Nancy Braden told the council that DED is looking into all cities' use of the funds and could request that the city return the $338,000 currently on hand and $595,000 currently loaned to a number of businesses in the community.

In other action, Mayor Ken Chamberlain appointed Sharon Braun to the Planning Commission and re-appointed Dennis Lipp to the Library Board.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, July 3 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Wayne State's word getting around 'O'

The Bleacher Bum is going on the 10-day "needing some time away from the dugout" list. However, before I go, here's a few tidbits to ponder:

— Our esteemed publisher (and fill-in sports editor while I'm on the aforementioned list) Kevin Peterson related a story to me the other day that was worth sharing.

Older sports fans might remember the name Larry Station. He was an outstanding athlete from the Omaha area who rejected a chance to walk on at Nebraska and accepted a full-ride scholarship to play football at Iowa, where he was an All-American linebacker and went on to play in the NFL for a short time.

His daughter was golfing in the Optimists state tournament at Wayne Country Club on Monday, and Peterson had a chance to chat with Station during the course of the day's activities, finding out some rather interesting information about the talk of the sports scene in Omaha.

It seems there's quite a buzz going on in "The Big O" about what's going on here at Wayne State College. Mr. Station has a standing invitation from our publisher to come back sometime and take a tour of the place, so don't be surprised if one of the state's living sports legends doesn't make it back to town sometime in the near future.

Wonder if he's looking for a job? Wayne State is looking for an athletic director, I hear.

—Speaking of the WSC AD search, a committee of local leaders in the community will help Wayne State President Curt Frye in the process of hiring Eric Schoh's replacement.

The committee will have to work fast if they hope to meet Frye's desire to have someone in place by the start of the fall sports season. It's hard to believe, but we're just six weeks away from the start of fall camps.

—As a follow-up to my column two weeks ago about parents setting an example for their kids (which has generated numerous, much-appreciated comments), I found a sign on Facebook that may, or may not, be posted on a dugout at a city ball field somewhere on the planet (I say may not, because it looks suspiciously like a Photoshop kind of deal, but it still hits a home run).

The sign says:

Please Remember

- 1) These are kids
- 2) This is a game
- 3) The coaches volunteer
- 4) The umpires are human
- 5) You do not play for the Cardinals

If I ever decide to run for public office, and am successful in the election, my first executive order will be to make sure this sign appears on every ballpark within my jurisdiction (which, if comments about the aforementioned column are any indication, might make me an early favorite for the White House in 2016).

From The Bleachers

Michael Carnes

— My daughter and I started a new Father's Day tradition this past week, which involved sweating profusely with 20,000 other baseball fans at the College World Series.

Of course, since the Huskers aren't in the big show, that means she and I both have to pick a team to follow. She decided to root for Arkansas, even if it meant chanting "Soooooie Pig!" after every Arkansas run. As for me, I stuck with the two-time defending champions from South Carolina, because it's easier to jump on a bandwagon (and we missed Kent State hanging on to beat Florida, so it was my only other option).

Sadly, for me, the Razorbacks edged the Gamecocks, 2-1. At this writing, South Carolina will have to beat Kent State and then beat Arkansas twice to get to the finals for the third straight year.

It was hilarious, though, watching my daughter chant "Soooooie Pig!" Such is the price you must pay for rooting for a hairy pound of bacon.

— This week's indication that I may not be cut out for being part of an athlete's entourage: recently I succumbed to the intense heat and humidity while completing the difficult task of watching my nephew play in a youth golf tournament.

One wouldn't think that taking a leisurely stroll around the front nine on a sunny summer day would be that hard on a body. However, after the awards were handed out (my nephew, John Canham, won first place in his age division that day, making me a very proud uncle), yours truly was overcome and found himself getting an impromptu tour of the ER at the hospital in Columbus.

And so there is a lesson to be learned — either stay hydrated, or be happy with hole-by-hole text updates from your sister as her son tries to hit that 10-foot birdie putt for the big trophy.

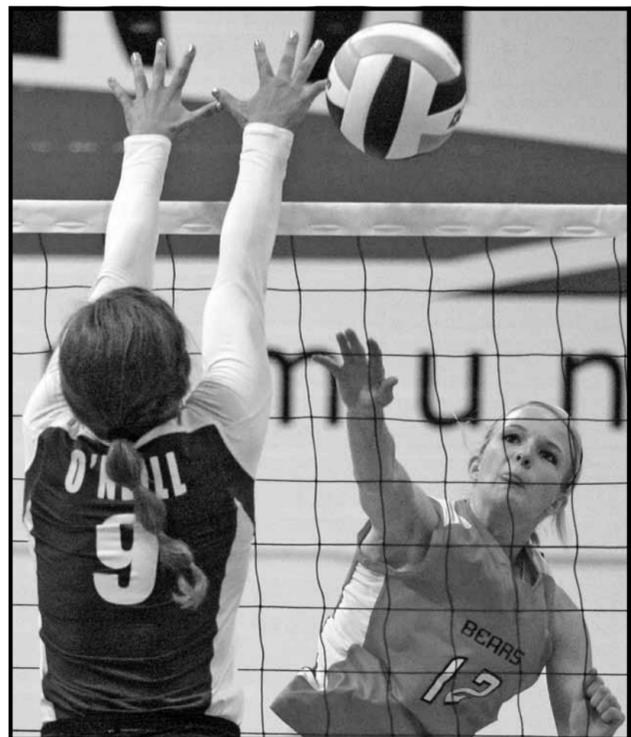

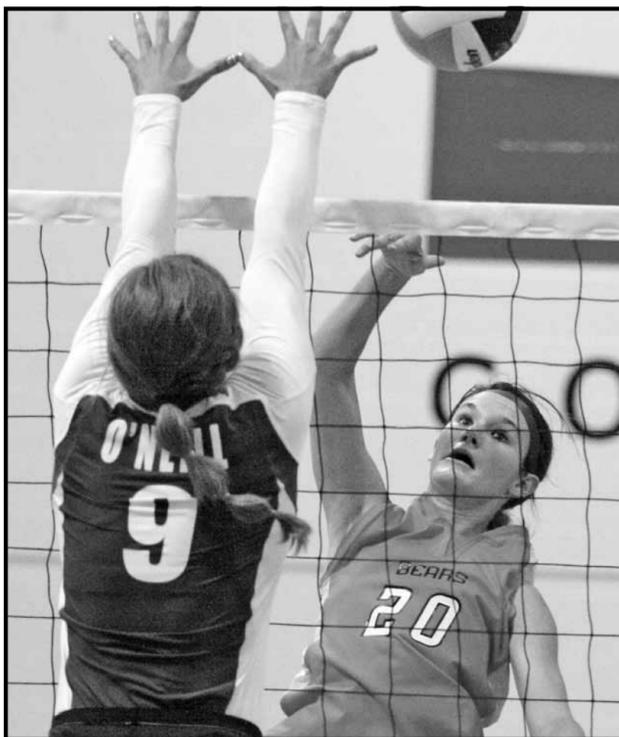

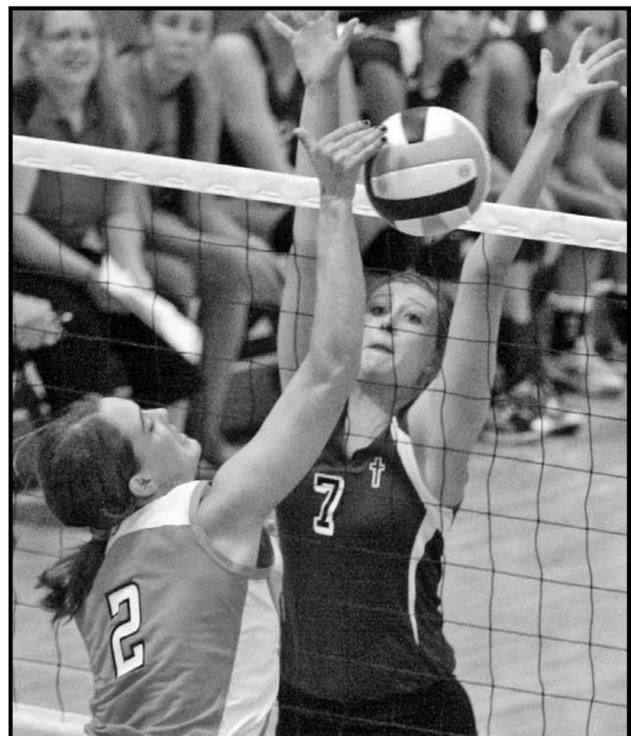

Next time, I'll bring more water.

— A couple of quick thoughts from some of the national sports headlines:

a) Roger Clemens was only found not guilty of lying to Congress. Whether or not he used steroids is something that will remain a question mark throughout the rest of his life, and it's a truth he must live with, for better or worse.

I find it interesting that he had a "second life" after his talents began to deteriorate in the mid 90's, only

Area All-Stars lead in win

Four area athletes helped lead the Light All-Stars to a 25-17, 21-25, 25-15, 22-25, 18-16 win over the Dark team in the Northeast Nebraska All-Star game Friday at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. (Clockwise from top left) Wayne's Katie Hoskins and Laurel-Concord/Coleridge standouts Jade Cunningham, Amy Pritchard and Mandy Nelson all contributed to the winning effort. Coaching the Light All-Star team were two area coaches, Patti Cunningham of LCC and recently-retired Wayne High coach Joyce Hoskins.

Optimum Optimists

Doniphan's Danielle Lemek and Omaha's Zach Taylor were crowned state champions at the Optimist State Golf Tournament held at Wayne Country Club on Monday afternoon. Lemek, a four-time all-class state champion in high school, fired a three-under par 33 on the front nine before shooting a 40 on the back for a one-over par 73. Taylor fired a 40 on the front nine before posting a one-under par 35 on the back for a 75. The two winners are Florida bound to compete in the national Optimist Tournament at the end of July. Pictured with the winners is Mike Varley, tournament director and a member of the Wayne Optimist Club.

14-under Devils second in district

The Wayne Dirt Devils 14-under softball team earned runner-up honors at districts and earned a trip to the state tournament next month.

The Devils battled through the losers bracket to reach the championship game, where they lost for the second time in as many tries to Tekamah-Herman Gold, which came away as district champions.

"We got silver at districts in West Point, and after losing in the second game, the girls battled all the way back," coach Alesha Finkey said. "The girls had some very big bats this weekend that kept us alive in the tournament, and Hannah Belt pitched a tough seven games this weekend."

Wayne opened the tournament Friday with a 4-1 win over Fremont, scoring three times in the first inning on their way to the opening-round win.

Sierra Scardino doubled and scored a run, Kortney Keller singled and scored a run, and Emily Matthes and Hannah Belt both scored runs. Belt pitched five innings, striking out 11 and allowing two hits.

On Saturday, the Devils dropped their first game to the Tekamah Gold team, losing a 4-2 decision. Tekamah scored twice in the first inning and made that two-run advantage hold up to drop Wayne into bracket game with a 10-0 shutout of the Blair Bombers, as Belt threw a one-hit shutout and struck nine batters. Belt and Danica Schaefer each scored two runs, Matthes had two hits and two runs, and Keller

Wayne survived their first losers

Wildcats pick up former Husker netter

Wayne State volleyball coach Scott Kneif got an unexpected pickup Tuesday evening, as Nebraska volleyball player Lauren Sieckmann will transfer to Wayne State. The word came in a news release from Nebraska volleyball coach John Cook, who announced her transfer before she played a regular-season match for the Huskers. Sieckmann is a 5-foot-11 setter who finished her high school volleyball at Elkhorn South, transferring there from Omaha Marian for her senior season so she could graduate early and enroll at Nebraska in the winter semester. She played for the Huskers as a reserve during the spring exhibition and was looking to be a back-up setter to returning two-year starter Lauren Cook. In a release from the school, Sieckmann expressed a desire to focus on being a hitter, and would be a welcome addition to a Wayne State program that graduated several key hitters from last year's 23-8 team that reached the NCAA Div. II national tournament for the seventh consecutive season.

Sieckmann was a two-time Super-State setter and was a MaxPreps preseason first-team All-American her senior year at Elkhorn South High School. She was a part of Omaha Marian's 2009 Class A state championship team and was named the top sophomore in the country by PrepVolleyball.com. While at Marian, Sieckmann was part of a program that went 112-16. Sieckmann is the daughter of former PGA tour professional Tom Sieckmann and his wife, Deb. She chose Nebraska over national powerhouse teams such as Illinois, Texas and Iowa State.

Pitching helps Juniors in recent wins

The Wayne Juniors got back to the .500 mark for the season after posting a couple of wins last week. The Juniors rode the solid pitching of Grant Anderson and Jacob Lutt to a 2-1 win over Pender at Hank Overin Field last week. Anderson went six innings and struck out six, and Lutt got the win in relief, working the final two innings and striking out three. Curtis Moeller scored the game-winning run in the bottom of the eighth. Anderson singled, and an over throw by the third baseman allowed Moeller to come home with the winning run. Anderson had two hits in the game, while Lutt, Kaje Maly and Dylan Sokol all had hits. On Thursday, the Juniors made it two in a row for the week with a 6-3 win at Hartington. Moeller went six innings on the hill, striking out five to get the win. Lutt worked an inning of relief to get the save. Offensively, Moeller helped his cause with an RBI triple, scoring a run. Maly, Lutt, Wyatt Biggerstaff and Caden Korth also had hits, and Korth drove in two runs. Monday night, the Juniors jumped on Wisner for five runs in the first inning and finished them off in short order, winning on the 10-run rule with a 14-4 win at Hank Overin Field. Moeller's ground-rule double was the only hit in the five-run first inning, as Wisner's pitching struggled to find the strike zone. Anderson pitched well and got the win for the Juniors. The 6-6 Juniors are at Battle Creek Friday, host Waterloo-Valley Saturday and play a doubleheader at Columbus on Sunday.

12-under Devils finish 0-2 in district tourney

The Wayne Dirt Devils 12-under team had a challenging week last week, dropping a close decision in league play and losing two tough games in district play at Ashland. On Monday, the Devils got into a high-scoring battle with West Point on the road, and the home team came away with an 11-10 win over the Wayne squad. Ashten Gibson led the offensive effort with a 2-for-3 performance, while Annie Kniesche doubled and Meghan Battles added a hit. Katelyn Grone had two strikeouts and allowed four hits and seven walks in the circle for the Wayne team. Over the weekend, the Wayne girls battled more than opposing teams in district play at Ashland. Wet weather and poor field conditions made for some on-the-fly adjustments the team had to make to compete in the tournament. Wayne came up short in both games in district play Saturday, losing to Ntesite by a 7-5 count and dropping a 7-5 decision to the Blair Flames. In the first game, Taylor Gamble was 2-for-3 with a triple, Kiara Hochstein and Jamie Gamble each had two hits and Abby Ankeny added a single. Ashten Gibson gave up five hits and four walks while striking out one in the first game. A number of runs were given up due to dead balls because of the lack of a backstop on their makeshift field. In the second game, Wayne came back from a 4-2 deficit to move the game to the international tie-breaker for extra-innings play. Gibson was 2-for-3 with a triple, Kennedy Maly was 2-for-3, Kniesche doubled and Hochstein, Gamble and Jacque Sherman each had singles. Gibson struck out six and gave up eight hits and a walk in the losing effort.

From Page 1B and Rylee Bessmer both had two hits and scored once. Craft and Natalie Muren both had a hit and scored a run in the win. Wayne continued to play well and eliminated Dakota City West in the next round, posting an 11-0 win. Wayne broke the game open with an eight-run fourth inning to advance in the tournament. Bessmer and Morris each had two hits, and Morris and Courtney Melena each scored two runs. Belt, Schaefer, Keller, Craft and Scardino all had a hit and scored a run, and Belt struck out six and allowed two hits. Wayne continued to advance in the losers bracket with a 2-0 win over Fremont, breaking a scoreless tie with two runs in the top of the seventh inning to survive and advance. Belt threw a two-hit shutout, striking out nine and walking two in the win. Muren had the game-winning hit with a two-run single, and Craft added a triple. Wayne won a high-scoring battle with Tekamah-Herman Purple to reach the championship game, hanging on for an 11-7 victory. Wayne scored four in the second and four more in the fourth, then held off a Purple comeback effort to reach the championship game. Keller had a big game at the plate with three hits, including a triple. Muren added two hits, Schaefer singled and scored twice and Craft doubled and scored. Belt, Bessmer, Morris and Melena also had hits. Belt pitched well in the win, walking one and allowing eight hits while striking out 10. Wayne seemed to run out of gas in their final game against Tekamah Gold, as their opponent broke open a close game with three in the fourth and two more in the fifth to break a 4-4 tie. Schaefer, Keller, Murren and Scardino all scored runs, and Schaefer, Muren, Belt, Bessmer and Morris each had a hit. Belt struck out six and allowed nine hits and three walks in the circle. The Dirt Devils were scheduled to return to action at Tekamah on Wednesday.

Nikki Fertig slides home to score a run for the 10-under Dirt Devils in recent action.

Devils 10-under team heads to state in July

The Wayne Dirt Devils 10-under softball team qualified for state tournament play after going 2-2 in district play over the weekend in Scribner.

On Saturday, the Devils kicked off tournament play with a 5-1 win over the Blair Flash. Wayne scored two in the first and three in the second to take control of the game early, which was completed after three innings due to rain.

Sidney Biggerstaff was 2-for-2, and Maysn Dorey, Avianna Doring, Tori Kniesche and Erin O'Reilly each added hits. Kniesche struck out eight in three innings of work in the circle.

In the second game, Wayne dropped a 4-1 decision despite a 15-strikeout effort by Kniesche. Bennington got an early 2-0 lead and held the Devils in check, with Dorey and Doring getting hits.

Wayne stayed alive in the tournament with a 5-3 win over the Elkhorn Red Slammers. The game was tied 3-3 going into the fifth inning, but the Devils scored twice and held off Elkhorn's last effort to post the win.

Doring was 2-for-3 at the plate and five other players had hits in the game. Kniesche got the win in the circle, striking out 11.

Wayne dropped a heartbreaker to the Blair Bruins to bow out of the tournament, losing a 3-2 decision. Blair scored three in the bottom of the sixth as time expired to win the game.

O'Reilly had a two-run double in the sixth to give Wayne a 2-0 lead. Kniesche, Biggerstaff and Elyssa Tuttle also had hits.

The 2-2 finish qualified the Dirt Devils for the Class C state tournament in Hastings, July 20-22.

Hoskins named to select team

Ben Hoskins of Wayne is a part of the 2012 Nebraska Select 15-under boys basketball team that will compete in a number of tournaments throughout the midwest this summer.

The team will compete in the IM

Bball Summer Showcase in Ames Iowa, July 11-13, and the King James Summer Showcase in Chicago, Ill., July 13-15. They are also scheduled to compete in tournaments in Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Seniors get offense in gear in recent wins

The Wayne Seniors improved to 11-3 on the year with three high-scoring wins over Pierce, Hartington and Wisner.

On Wednesday, the Seniors traveled to Pierce and jumped on the hosts early, scoring eight runs in the first three innings on their way to an easy 12-4 win.

The Wayne Seniors broke the game open with four runs in the second inning, as five players had at least two hits apiece on the night.

Frank Bernal led the offensive attack with three hits, two RBI's and two runs scored. Drew Carroll, Joey Lenihan, Tony Sinniger and Gage Rethwisch each had two hits. Carroll scored three times and Rethwisch and Miles Anderson each scored twice. Carroll, Lenihan and Brad Longe all had two RBI's.

Trent Beza pitched well in the win for Wayne, scattering two hits and six walks while striking out six in five innings. Carroll came on in relief to work the final two innings.

On Thursday, the Wayne Seniors broke a close game open late to post a 12-2 win at Hartington.

The visitors held a 3-1 lead going into the fifth inning, but scored four in the fifth and five more in the sixth to pull away with the win.

Carroll had four RBI's on the night. Anderson and Danny Melena both had two hits. Melena scored three times and had two RBI's, while Longe, Bernal and Rethwisch all scored two runs apiece.

On the mound, Sinniger went the distance for Wayne, allowing four hits and a pair of walks while striking out five.

Wayne's hot bats continued on Monday night, as the Seniors pounded out 11 hits and overcame an early disadvantage to handle Wisner at Hank Overin Field, 14-3.

Sommerfeld honor to be presented at Albion game

The Marty Sommerfeld Award will be handed out between games during next week's Juniors-Seniors doubleheader with Albion.

The award is given out to the top Juniors and Seniors players in honor of the late Marty Sommerfeld, and the award is based on team involvement, play and leadership. Sommerfeld was a longtime fan of Wayne sports activities.

The Thursday, June 28 festivities will begin with the Juniors game at 5:45 p.m., with the awards ceremony preceding the 8 p.m. Seniors game at Hank Overin Field.

Wisner led 2-0 after one inning, but it was all Wayne after that. The hosts tied the game in the second, then countered Wisner's last run with three in the bottom of the third to take the lead for good. Wayne broke the game open with a seven-run frame in the fourth.

Anderson, Sinniger, Bernal and Melina all had two hits. Melena had four RBI's, Bernal had three and Longe finished with two. Beza scored three runs, while Anderson, Carroll, Lenihan and Bernal all came home twice.

Corey Doorlag got the win on the mound, scattering seven hits and three walks while striking out six in five innings.

Wayne hosts Chadron here Thursday. They play at Battle Creek Friday, host Waterloo-Valley on Saturday and Pierce on Monday.

Former Wildcat Bisenius signs on with Explorers

Former Wayne State outfielder Mike Bisenius has signed a contract with the Sioux City Explorers of the American Association.

A 6-foot-3, 200-pounder, was a repeat first-team All-Central Region selection after posting a .314 batting average this season with 10 homers and 44 RBI's. He led the Wildcats in home runs, runs scored (45), total bases (104) and walks (32). Bisenius finished the season tied for third in the NSIC in home runs, tied for fourth in walks, tied for fifth in triples (3), seventh in slugging percentage (.605), tied for ninth in RBI's and total bases (104) and 10th in runs scored.

Bisenius earned first-team All-NSIC honors for a second straight season and received his first NSIC

Gold Glove honor after making just two errors from his right field position this season. He was also named to the NCBWA (National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association) All-Central Region Second Team this season.

Last season, Bisenius was a Rawlings/ABCA third-team All-American after hitting .401 with eight homers and 48 RBI's while leading the NSIC in on-base percentage (.483). He had 20 multi-hit games and hit .450 (27 for 60) with runners in scoring position during his junior season.

Bisenius finished his Wildcat career ranked third in career home runs (33), total bases (392), doubles (52) and at bats (660) while ranking fourth in career hits with 223.

Brady Borner named to NSIC Hall of Fame

Former Wayne State baseball standout Brady Borner is one of eight individuals who will be inducted into the 2012 Northern Sun Conference Hall of Fame.

The induction ceremony will be held Wednesday, July 11 at the Best Western Kelly Inn in St. Cloud, Minn., during the NSIC's 13th annual Summer Kickoff event, with a social hour starting at 6 p.m. followed by the ceremony at 7 p.m.

Borner is considered one of the best pitchers to wear a Wayne State uniform. The Chaska, Minn., native had a stellar four-year career with the Wildcats from 1998-2001, posting a 30-11 record with a career 2.64 ERA. In 316 2/3 innings pitched, Borner had 366 career strikeouts and 13 career shutouts. He is the school's all-time leader in wins, shutouts, strikeouts and innings pitched and his 13 shutouts are the second-most in NCAA Div. II history.

18-under Devils split with Impact, drop two to Golden Girls

The Wayne Dirt Devils 18-under softball team dropped three of four games last week, splitting a twinbill with one Norfolk team and dropping two games to another.

On Tuesday, the Devils split with the Norfolk Impact, losing the opener 7-5 and taking the nightcap 12-0 in three innings.

In the first game, Emily Leeper was 2-for-3 with a pair of doubles and Megan Hoffart added a single to lead the offensive effort. McKenna Gibson took the loss, striking out four and allowing six hits.

In the nightcap, Kristin Carroll threw a three-hitter and got plenty of offensive support. Caitlin Fehringer was 3-for-3 with a pair of doubles, Victoria Kranz was a home run short of hitting for the cycle as she had a single, double and triple; Emily Leeper was 2-for-3 with a double, Alexis Owens was 2-for-2 and Abbie Hix hit a home run.

On Thursday, the Devils dropped a pair to the Norfolk Golden Girls, losing 5-4 and 5-0.

In the first game, Kendall Gamble was 3-for-3 and Fehringer added two hits, including a double. Gibson took the loss, striking out three and allowing five hits and two walks.

In the nightcap, Kendall Gamble struck out five, walked four and gave up six hits in the losing effort. Fehringer had two hits in the game.

Didgets get 13-1 win

The Wayne Didgets Blue team improved to 5-5 on the year with a 13-1 win over West Point.

The Wayne squad scored in every inning to win on the 10-run rule. They put up four in the first and four more in the fourth to come away with the easy win.

Jacob Sherman homered and drove in two runs, and Kallan Herman had an RBI double to lead the Didgets. Isaac Braun had two hits and scored two runs, Cole Hobza scored twice, and Tay Guill, Jacob Kneiff, Tyrus Eischeid, Shea Sweetland, Alex Echtenkamp, Sam Perry and Drew Buck all scored runs.

Tay Guill went the distance on the mound for the Didget Blue team, striking out 10 batters.

Don't get me started

Instead of a fine for foul language, how about soap?

I need a few days away from the office. Before I head to the basement for some much-needed R&R, here's some more goofy stuff from the "Bits and Pieces" file:

— From the "Those (censored) people are (blankety-blank) with my (woowoo) First Amendment rights" department: The people of Middleborough Mass., recently voted to approve the police chief's proposal to impose a $20 fine on certain criminal elements who make their presence felt within the community.

These are terrible people that the police chief is going after — he's looking to fine those who commit the inglorious act of uttering a profanity in public.

According to an Associated Press story, the law is intended to crack down on loud, profanity-laden language used by teenagers and other young people in the downtown area and public parks.

I don't know about you, but when I was a kid, dropping one of the magic four-letter words got me a mouth full of soap and an attention-grabbing paddle on the backside. Maybe they should fine the parents and have some bars of Dial soap on hand (the gold-colored bars were especially nasty tasting, as I recall).

— This came in from the "When the 'Yo' mama's so fat . . ." jokes stop working" department: Two Detroit-area men got into a public gun battle after an argument broke out between the two at a neighborhood gathering.

What could cause these two men to draw weapons on one another? It's all so simple, really — they were arguing over which one made Kool-Aid better.

Two innocent bystanders were wounded in the shootout. No word as to whether or not the gunmen were cited for anything beyond weapons charges — unfortunately, you can't charge people with felony stupidity.

— Here's why it's always good to preview your videos before showing them to the general public: a high school graduation ceremony in Denmark took an interesting twist when, during the video featuring pictures of the newly-decorated high school graduates was running, a clip of one of the students having sex with another woman was shown.

The school isn't going to do anything about the Don Juan in the Class of 2012, but they sure would like to file charges against those who shot and edited the video.

— From the "And you aren't allowed to operate a weed whacker while under the influence of crack, either" department: A man in Wisconsin was recently arrested for driving under influence after he was seen on the streets driving — wait for it — a lawn mower.

Police pulled the man over in a Walgreen's parking lot and found his blood alcohol level to be more than two times the legal limit.

The man, who was charged for the fourth time with DWI, claims he didn't know you couldn't drive a lawnmower in the street.

— This comes right out of "Revenge Of The Nerds" — Washington Nationals pitcher Stephen Strasburg recently had a rough outing on the mound, and manager Davey Johnson discovered why his ace had an off day.

Johnson blamed the poor outing on the fact that analgesic ointment — also known as Ben-Gay — had somehow gone from his pitching shoulder to his, shall we say, athletic supporter.

It was a damp day on the day of Strasburg's, ahem, situation, so an argument can be made for the combination of humidity, sweat and gravity getting the job done. A more palpable excuse could center around a teammate's proclivity for a good practical joke, but nobody in the clubhouse seems to be fessing up.

— Speaking of not fessing up, there was this little item out of Brazil, where a pair of women's panties had mysteriously fallen out of a legislator's briefcase on the floor of their Congress.

A group of five legislators was rushing to vote on a bill when one of them apparently discarded the aforementioned red-and-white panties. They were discreetly picked up by security guards and turned into the chamber's lost and found office.

— A Dallas, Texas City Councilman would definitely get my vote.

Recently, the councilman asked the Dallas-area rapid transit system to crack down on young men who insist on wearing saggy pants in public.

The offending fashionista wannabes claim that this is the style kids are wearing these days, and they see no problem exposing their underwear in public. The councilman is putting together a "sagging summit" later this month and bringing in Deion Sanders to help pull those pants back up, figuratively speaking.

If only those fashion-conscious youngsters knew how stupid their style made them look to those of us who pull our pants ALL the way up.

— Annnnd finally, a personal request for this lady to show up the next time the dishes in my sink are piled higher than the faucet: a woman in Ohio was arrested and charged with criminal trespassing.

This woman is not your usual crash-and-dash criminal, though. Instead of stealing peoples' stuff — she tidies it up for them. The "cleaning fairy" broke into some area homes and took care of some of the house chores, including vacuuming and taking out the trash.

Now that's my kinda woman.

Education taking a back seat

By J.L. SCHMIDT

The Nebraska Press Association

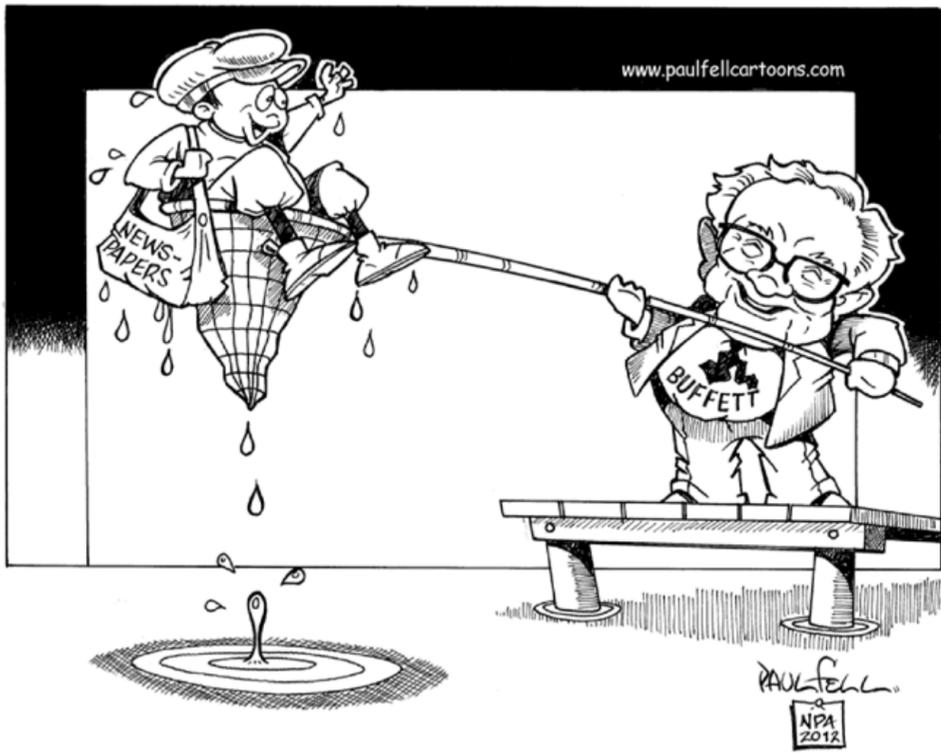

LINCOLN — In Fourteen Hundred and 92, Columbus sailed the ocean blue. Chances are pretty good that you may have used that little rhyme as you prepped for a social studies test in a Nebraska school during your childhood.

Names and dates, once deemed as important as knowing the circumstances surrounding a particular historical event, are losing popularity in the classroom. The rote memory of facts is becoming passé as the Nebraska Department of Education revises its social studies standards for the first time in decades.

The early draft of the new standards directs teachers who teach to expose students instead to broad concepts and analytical skills. Teachers are encouraged to go beyond the textbook and look at newspaper editorials and personal correspondence from the people involved in events.

"It's involving kids in the process of history," says Nebraska Wesleyan University assistant history professor Kevin Bowers. He directs a grant-funded historical studies program that has helped more than 150 Lincoln Public Schools teachers earn master's degrees.

Teachers are learning that multiple perspectives are important. Students need to explore the impacts of documents and events by determining people groups that would have been affected the most and the least. It's creating problems that students can work through in the classroom, says LPS social studies curriculum specialist Randy Ernst.

"Research shows us over and over that kids remember better when they process it more deeply," Ernst said. He admits that giving teachers the freedom to do just that does come with a cost. With social studies instruction time already severely challenged by the need to teach for high stakes reading and math tests, the question in creating new standards is: What do you include and what do you leave out? Nebraska's social studies standards were last revised in the 1990s. Ernst believes the urgent need for revision is to allow teachers to teach the skills students need to be able to evaluate sources in an information-saturated world.

Bowers says good teaching and good standards are a combination of content and skills. They are not totally separate but are "inextricably intertwined." Thus, there is still room for names, dates and facts.

Meghan McNeal, an LPS elementary teacher who is currently enrolled in the Wesleyan master's program, likes the challenge. "We are learning to teach students to think like historians and to be able to fit the facts together and know why they go together," she said.

Attending area ribbon-cutting events

First, let me apologize for not having a "newsletter" last week. As I mentioned before, that will happen from time to time.

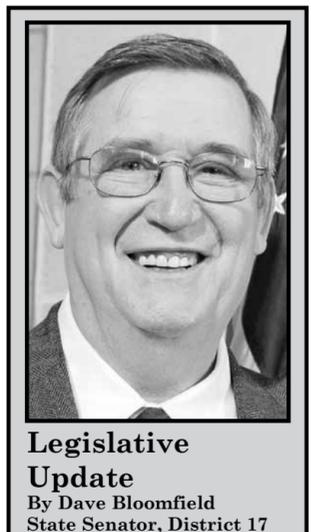

A dedication and ribbon cutting ceremony was held on Sunday, June 3, at the John Douangdara Memorial War Dog Park at the site of the Siouxland Freedom Park in South Sioux City. I was honored to participate in this event and to share a few words. Master at Arms Class I John Douangdara gave his life in Afghanistan on August 6, 2011, as a lead dog handler for his Unit, the Elite Team 6 of the Navy SEALs.

Monday, June 4, I was in Lincoln to meet with Monty Fredrickson, Director, Nebraska Department of Roads, and Andrew Cunningham, Manager, Highway Government Affairs Division, to discuss several issues related to the bridges and roads in District 17. Director Fredrickson will be providing follow-up data to some of the issues discussed and they may be shared in future newsletters.

Judi Gaiashkibos, Executive Director, Nebraska Commission on Indian Affairs, and staff member, Rachael Strong, were in the office discussing LR578, an interim study on the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA). The interim study will be a joint effort of the Health and Human Services (HHS) Committee and the State-Tribal Relations Committee. I am a member of both Committees. We will share efforts toward having a hearing scheduled at Macy (probably this fall). We will continue to share event dates and locations as they become available to us.

Tuesday, June 5, I attended the ribbon cutting ceremony at the new Cobblestone Inn in Wayne, a result of economic development and community involvement efforts. Governor Dave Heineman was guest speaker at this event.

Part of the reason there was no "newsletter" last week was because I was in Texas attending a family wedding. While there I had the opportunity to enjoy a "Texas" steak and learned once again, there is no place like Nebraska. I was able to attend the Nebraska Cattleman's steak dinner in Pender on June 10. The steak served in Pender was not only much more tender, but also had a better flavor. Texas may be bigger, but they have a lot to learn from Nebraska beef producers.

Our office held a fact-finding meeting on Wednesday, June 13, with Jack Daniel, Drinking Water and Environmental Health; and Joe Acerno, Deputy Medical Officer, both from the Division of Public Health; Bryson Bartels, Legislative Coordinator, for CEO Kerry Winterer, Department of Health & Human Services (DHHS); Carla Felix, Government Relations, Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and Marty Link, Acting Water Division Administrator, DEQ, on potential of contamination of irrigation wells from runoff water. This all deals with some drainage issues in Thurston County, south and east of Wakefield. There will be more to come on this issue as we learn the facts behind the drainage problem.

Senator Mike Johanns has introduced an amendment to the Federal farm bill that would ban the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) from using aerial surveillance to inspect or to record images of agricultural operations, but would still allow the use of traditional on-site inspections. I fully support Senator Johanns' efforts in this matter. It seems that "big brother" is not content to just look over our shoulders any more, now through EPA, they want to spy on us from the air. Encroachment of government into any aspect of our lives needs to be resisted at all levels. The idea of drones flying over our homes certainly does not appeal to me.

Continue to contact our office at dbloomfield@leg.ne.gov or call (402) 471-2716. We do appreciate hearing from you.

2012 Laurel Ag Days

The lifeguards from the Laurel pool kept unsuspecting souls on the parade route on their toes with their long-range squirt guns.

Ryleigh Specht of Laurel waves to her mom as she gets a ride on the horse with Mike Finn of Hilltop Ponies guiding the pony.

A horse-drawn carriage sponsored by Security National Bank brought up the rear during Saturday's parade.

Smiles were plentiful as area kids enjoyed the blow-up rides in the city park Saturday afternoon.

The Hansen family reunion took on a special significance as they celebrated a century in America with this float.

The old and young weren't limited to those watching the parade, as a variety of recent and older-era tractors made their way.

Fisher Carson lets a shot fly in the inflatable sports gallery in the city park Saturday afternoon.

Candy was flying from many of the floats in Saturday's parade, including this one promoting the Dixon County Fair later this summer.

A number of fire trucks from around the area made their way along the parade route.

If there was an award for most creative way to catch candy thrown from parade floats, these kids would have won. Kylie Kempf, Cody Kempf and Austin Kempf made good use of their umbrellas during the parade.

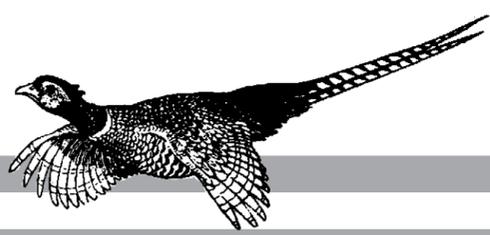

The food was delicious and plentiful as area families gathered for an afternoon picnic in the park that included games, rides and music.

Kids along the parade route had plenty of opportunities to satisfy their sweet tooth, including these kids getting ready to chase candy thrown from the Providence Physical Therapy entry in the parade.

Plenty of healthy cooking options using fresh herbs

Whether you plant them or pick them up at the grocery store or farmers' market, adding fresh herbs is a quick way to transform ordinary meals into extraordinary meals.

Besides helping flavor foods when cutting back on salt, fat and sugar, herbs may offer additional benefits of their own. Researchers are finding many culinary herbs (both fresh and dried) have antioxidants that may help protect against such diseases as cancer and heart disease.

Take some thyme (pun intended!) to cook with fresh herbs. Here are some tips to help you enjoy the flavor and health benefits of fresh herbs in your cooking.

When Substituting Fresh Herbs for Dried Herbs

A general guideline when using fresh herbs in a recipe is to use three times as much as you would use of a dried herb. When substituting, you'll often be more successful substituting fresh herbs for dried herbs, rather than the other way around. For example, think potato salad with fresh vs. dried parsley!

When to Pick or Purchase Herbs

Purchase herbs close to the time you plan to use them. When growing herbs in your own garden the ideal time for picking is in the morning after the dew has dried but before the sun gets hot. This helps ensure the best flavor and storage quality.

How to Store Fresh Herbs

Fresh herbs can be stored in an open or a perforated plastic bag in your refrigerator crisper drawer for a few days. If you don't have access to commercial perforated bags, use a sharp object to make several small holes in a regular plastic bag.

Sandy Preston
Dixon County

If you have more herbs than you can eat, enjoy herbal bouquets throughout your house. You can use either single herbs, combinations of herbs or you can use the herbs as greenery mixed in with other flowers. To help preserve the aroma and color of your herb bouquets, place them out of direct sunlight.

How to Wash Herbs

Wash herbs when you are ready to use them. Wash smaller amounts of herbs thoroughly under running water. Shake off moisture or spin dry in a salad spinner. Pat off any remaining moisture with clean paper towels.

If you're washing a larger amount of herbs at one time, treat them as you would salad greens. Place in a clean sink or deep bowl filled with cold water and swish around. Lift from the water and transfer to another bowl so dirt and grit remain in the water. Pour out the water and repeat the washing process in clean water until dirt and grit are gone and the water is clear.

Annual herbs can be harvested down to about four inches tall and they still will regrow for use later in the season. For perennial herbs, don't take off more than a third of the plant at any given time.

How to Prepare Herbs

For most recipes, unless otherwise directed, mince herbs into tiny pieces. Chop with a chef's knife on a cutting board or snip with a kitchen scissors. To speed cutting with a scissors, cut herbs coarsely into a small bowl or cup and snip back and forth with your scissors. Some recipes may direct you to cut large leaves, such as basil into thin strips. An easy way to do this is to stack several leaves (about 3 to 5), roll into a tight roll, then cut into thin (1/16 to 1/8 inch) strips with a sharp knife.

While some recipes call for a sprig or sprigs of herbs, normally the part of the herb you harvest will be the leaves. For herbs with sturdier stems, such as marjoram, oregano, rosemary, sage and thyme, you can strip off the leaves by running your fingers down the stem from top to bottom. With small-leaved plants such as thyme, you can use both leaves and stems for cooking early in the season. Later in the season, as the stems become tougher, use just the leaves. For herbs with tender stems, such as parsley and cilantro, it's OK if you snip some of the stem in with the leaves when you're cutting these herbs.

Be careful if using a food processor to cut herbs – it's easy to turn them to a paste rather than tiny pieces.

When to Add Herbs

Unlike dried herbs, fresh herbs are usually added toward the end in cooked dishes to preserve their flavor. Add the more delicate herbs – basil, chives, cilantro, dill leaves, parsley, marjoram and mint – a minute or two before the end of cooking or sprinkle them on the food before it's served. The less delicate herbs, such as dill seeds, oregano, rosemary, tarragon and thyme, can be added about the last 20 minutes of cooking. Obviously, for some foods, such as breads, batters, etc., you'll need to add herbs at the beginning of the cooking process.

Fresh herbs can be added to refrigerated cold foods several hours before serving. Allow time (at least a couple of hours, if possible) for cold foods with herbs to chill helps the flavors to blend.

Freezing Herbs

Several books and articles on herbs recommend freezing as an easy way to preserve herbs.

Recommendations vary on the best way to freeze herbs, how long frozen herbs will maintain a satisfactory flavor and which herbs will freeze well. Be aware that when herbs are frozen, they become limp, lose their color and are best used in cooked foods. The most conservative guidelines for how long herbs will maintain their quality frozen range from two to six months. Here are three possible ways to freeze herbs:

1) The easiest method and one recommended on the National Center for Home Food Preservation Web site www.uga.edu/nchfp/how/freeze/herbs.html states: "Wash, drain and pat dry with paper towels. Wrap a few sprigs or leaves in freezer wrap and place in a freezer bag. Seal and freeze. These can be chopped and used in cooked dishes. These usually are not suitable for garnish, as the frozen product becomes limp when it thaws."

2) Another method recommends washing herbs, cutting them into tiny pieces and then filling the sections of an ice cube tray about half full with herbs. Cover herbs with cold water and freeze until solid. Transfer frozen cubes to a freezer bag and squish out as much air as possible. Drop them into soups, stews and sauces as needed. Be aware herbs may stain plastic ice cube trays.

Close to Home

How do you know how much house you can afford?

You will need 3 things:

- 1) The mortgage amount.
- 2) The mortgage length.
- 3) Your interest rate.

For example, using a $100,000 mortgage, a 4% fixed interest rate and a 30 year mortgage; the monthly mortgage factor would be 4.78. Then multiply the amount (in thousands) by the factor:

$$(100 \times 4.78 = $478)$$

You can expect your monthly mortgage payment to be about $478. This excludes PMI insurance which your lender may require if you do not have a 20% down payment.

Your buyer's agent or lender can be a great help in this area. The lender will have a mortgage factor table and will be able to advise you on what interest rate you qualify for.

This is a general guideline to help buyers understand how much house they can afford. Please see myself or your buyer's agent for specifics about homes in which you are interested.

Correction

Last week's article from St. Paul's Ladies Aid and LWML of Winside indicated that the group will not sponsor Ryan Janke as he enters the seminary.

In fact, the group will now sponsor Janke.

Tension Headaches Got You Bothered?

It's the rare person who doesn't experience an occasional headache. But if you're plagued by frequent tension headaches, you might think there has got to be something you can do beyond regularly reaching into your medicine cabinet.

Sure, pain relievers can work wonders. And, I'm here to steer you to some good options. But fortunately there are a lot of other things you can try to prevent headaches or to nip them in the bud once they've begun. Relaxation and stress management are key.

As is often the case, prevention - whether for headaches or other ailments - takes you back to the basics, to common-sense self-care. For example, you can ease muscle tension with a hot bath or shower, warm compress, or heating pad set on low. Some people also find that it helps to apply ice wrapped in a cloth to sore neck and shoulder muscles.

Here are a few other pointers: • Make sure you drink enough water and don't skip meals. Breakfast offers a big bonus here. A diet rich in whole grains, fruits, and vegetables gives you more energy. And with more energy, you're better able to manage stress. • Exercise to release pain-blocking signals to your brain. Start new exercise regimens slowly, though. Going too fast or too hard can trigger certain types of headaches. • Get in the habit of relaxing before bedtime and go to bed at the same time each night. Remember that certain medications - including headache meds - can interfere with sleep. • Go easy on the caffeine. Heavy caffeine use can prompt headaches and irritability. • Kick the "nic stick." As if you needed another health reason to quit smoking, right? Well, here are two more: Cigarettes also can trigger headaches and interfere with your liver's ability to break down headache medications. • Need more ideas? I'm right here!

Nothing herein constitutes medical advice, diagnosis or treatment, or is a substitute for professional advice. You should always seek the advice of your physician or other medical professional if you have questions or concerns about a medical condition.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid holds June meeting

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid met June 13.

President Rhonda Sebade called the meeting to order and welcomed a guest, Darlene Sieh. Darlene has given many pieced quilt tops to the sewing group to tie and give to the needy.

The LWML Pledge was recited in unison.

Ellen Heinemann gave opening devotions based on Proverbs 17:22. The group then read the LWML June devotion. Mites were collected.

Roll call was answered by Pastor Lilienkamp and 15 members.

Pastor Lilienkamp presented the Bible Study, "Living on the Edge: Each Day as God's Emissary".

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as read. The Treasurer's report was given and filed for financial review.

Treasurer LaVon Biermann then read a letter of thanks from the group's past Seminary Student, Nathan Misch, for his graduation gift and our support. He will be the new pastor at Lord of Life Lutheran Church in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Other correspondence included a "thank you" from Ray and Verdelle Reeg for the plant given for their 65th wedding anniversary.

Sewing: The ladies met and tied five quilts. Eight baby quilts were made and given to Ellen Heinemann for her granddaughter's mission trip. Ruth Victor displayed three pillow case dresses she had made. Notification will be made if the group will sew on June 28.

Visiting: Elinor Jensen reported many cards were sent and how members of the group enjoyed their visits to The Oaks and Careage.

Gifts: A potted plant was given to Melv Meyer in honor of she and Leon's 60th wedding anniversary.

Funeral: The committee reported serving 82 at the Gene Helgren funeral.

Old business: The group voted to pay the Guest Day expenses.

New business: Members voted to support Ryan Janke of Winside, as our Seminary Student next fall.

President Sebade reminded the group of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Nebraska North District Convention June 29 and 30. Faunei Bennett and Mary Janke are delegates, and Rhonda Sebade is the alternate.

The group voted to cover expenses for Sarah Hansen, the Young Women's Representative.

Approval was given to give $50 each to Mission Grants, Church Worker Scholarships, and Lutheran High.

The birthday song was sung for Mary Janke and Verdelle Reeg, with Melv Meyer presenting a cup cake to the birthday girls.

Hostesses for the July 11 meeting will be Melv Meyer and Faunei Bennett.

The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and the table prayer.

Fortnight for Freedom to be celebrated locally

Emerson Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Pender St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, and Wayne St. Mary's Catholic Church parishioners will take an active part in the "Fortnight for Freedom" June 21-July 4.

Emerson and Pender parishioners will pray daily a "Litany for Liberty," while Wayne parishioners will join their pastor, Fr. Mark Beran for prayer from 7:30-8:30 p.m. each evening at St. Mary's Church for the two week period.

"Fortnight for Freedom" is a national call by the U.S. Bishops for all people of good will to support religious freedom by joining in prayer, education, and action - a "great hymn of prayer for our country" - beginning on the vigil of the Feasts of St. John Fisher and St. Thomas More and ending on Independence Day.

The focus of this occasion is to raise awareness of and encourage action to combat the growing threats to religious freedom in the United States. Daily prayer, fasting, attendance at a fortnight event, and reading the educational resources at fortnight4freedom.org are a few of the numerous activities suggested.

The Archdiocese of Omaha will hold a kick-off rally on Saturday, June 23 beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Omaha's Memorial Park with prayer and speakers, followed by a procession to St. Margaret Mary Church for adoration, and concluding with Benediction at 11:30 a.m. Archbishop George Lucas will be in attendance.

The Diocese of Sioux City will kick off events with the celebration of a noon Mass by Bishop Walker Nickless at the Cathedral of the Epiphany on Thursday, June 21.

On Sunday, June 24, Trinity Heights in Sioux City will host a program of educational talks, prayer, and refreshments at 7 p.m. in the Marian Center. During the two-week fortnight period, the Divine Mercy Chaplet will be prayed each day at 3 p.m. in the Chapel at Trinity Heights.

Winside Trinity Lutheran Women gather June 14

There were five members and PMA Glenn Kietzmann who answered roll call at hte June 14 meeting of the WELCA of Trinity Lutheran Church in Winside.

Vice President Irene Fork opened the meeting with several readings entitled "God Will Point the Way" and "You Say - God Says."

PMA Kietzmann led the Bible Study taken from Mark 4:26-34.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

It was noted that the new altar cloths have been received.

New sanctuary lighting was discussed, using memorial money. It was noted that flyers with four different council-picked choices will be placed in the pews during the summer with the congregation helping select one design by fall.

A birthday card from Greta Grubbs was signed by all in attendance.

The meeting closed with al saying The Lord's Prayer.

The next meeting will Thursday, July 12.

Lunch was served by Mary Ann Soden.

Altona women hold June 8 meeting at Wisner Care Center

First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Altona met June 8 at the Wisner Care Center.

The lesson, "Sheep go To Heaven," (Matthew 25), taken from the Lutheran Women's Quarterly, was given by Darlene Bowers. Prayer was led by Clara Heinemann. Following the lesson, "The Lord's My Shepherd," was sung by all.

Darlene Bowers presided at the business meeting. The LWML Pledge was recited as the mite box offering was taken. The minutes of the previous meeting and treasurer's report was approved.

A thank you was read from LC-

MS World Relief and Human Care for the $50 donation.

The District LWML Convention will be held in Norfolk June 29-30. A $30 donation will be given for offerings, as well as "Gifts from the Heart."

The birthday song was sung for Julie Stuthman and the Table Prayer, "Feed Thy Children, God Most Holy," was sung.

Verona Koehlmoos was a guest. Hostess was Clara Heinemann.

The next meeting will be held at Careage of Wayne with the date to be announced.

Joy Circle of Our Savior Lutheran Church meets

Our Savior Lutheran Women of ELCA Joy circle met June 13 in the church social room with 15 members present.

President Dorothy Wert opened the meeting with announcements. She noted that the group will not have Guest Day in July as originally planned. The Social room will be in a renovation stage. There will be no meetings in the social room in July or August. The group will again resume meeting in September.

The quilting ladies shared pictures of their quilts that have been sent to Camp Carol Joy Holling for the Auction in August. Elaine Draghu's birthday was recognized. There will be no quilting until further notice.

Lois Youngerman then gave the devotions and prayer from Colossians 3:12-17. The women enjoyed the program "Daisies Tell" written by Lois. Each petal represented had a Bible verse and poem that related to the thought on the petal. There were petals of thankfulness, goodness, friendliness, love, humility, and kindness. The group sang familiar songs that went with each thought. The program closed with the song He's Got the Whole World

In His Hands." The women helping were Thelma Moeler, Gloria Lesseberg, Donella Johnson, Bonnie Stanley and Phyllis Rahn. Evie Schock and Dorothy Wert served lunch which followed the theme Daisies Tell.

The next meeting will be September 12 with Cara Jensen, the church youth director, who will share information about the National Youth Gathering and her seminary decision. Hostesses will be Viola Meyer and Dorothy Wert.

Little League Champs

The Allen boys 9-under and 10-under Pee Wee baseball teams played in the NE Nebraska Baseball League tournament last weekend in Ponca.

The 9-under Pee Wee team ended the weekend undefeated, taking home the Champion first place medals. They were also the League regular season champs. The 10-under Pee Wee team won fourth place.

The NE Nebraska league coaches voted on All-Stars players throughout the season. Allen team members selected were: Brock Floyd and Lukas Oswald from the 9-U team; and Noah Carr and Josh Grone from 10-U team.

These teams play again this weekend at the Mid Summer Classic in Wakefield. The 9-U first game is Friday at 7 p.m. The 10-U first game is Friday at 6 p.m. For the updated bracket on line, go to www.wakefieldbaseball.org.

Anyone who doesn't fit into the age groups is asked to consider volunteering. For more information contact Pastor Sarah Ruch at (402) 584-2467 or email her at pastorsarahruch@gmail.com.

Saturday Night at the Museum

The Dixon County Museum will be having their first "Saturday Night at the Museum" program on Saturday, June 30 at 7 p.m. at the museum in Allen. They will have the privilege of Jean Jensen telling the story of her grandfather, Doctor James P. Graham's life, who was a Doctor in Allen starting in 1905 and stayed 35 years. Jean is wondering how many babies he delivered might still be alive. She is! Doctor Graham lived in the first house west of the bank. She would love to hear from you if you are a part of this elite group, delivered by Doctor Graham. Everyone is invited to come and make her welcome.

Daycare/Preschool Information

The community of Allen is looking for any community members and parents who would like to be involved and help the daycare and preschool reopen. Organizers don't want any children to leave this community; this could have an impact on school enrollment down the road.

Anyone who is interested is asked to contact Doug/Greta Kraemer, Keith/Callie Anderson or Greg/Abby Rastede. They would appreciate any help or if you know of anyone interested in working at the daycare/preschool please contact one of us.

Conservation Reserve Program evolving

Dan Steinkruger, State Director for USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) announced that the 2012 general signup resulted in 104,298 acres enrolled into the 10-year CRP starting on Oct. 1.

Steinkruger stated "we are excited to enroll or re-enroll over 100,000 acres into this critical conservation and environmental program in Nebraska; however, the CRP program is downsizing in Nebraska and nationally."

Nebraska has a little more than 201,000 acres coming out of CRP on Oct. 1, 2012. With the recent signup there will be a net loss of 100,000 acres of CRP across the state. These acres are being returned to crop production or for grazing. This reduction will leave about 900,000 acres in CRP in Nebraska, down from peak enrollment of over 1.34 million acres in 2007.

"For more than 25 years, CRP has protected natural resources in Nebraska while providing economic and environmental benefits to rural communities through the state," said Steinkruger. "The newly accepted CRP offers will continue the CRP legacy by improving water and air quality, increasing wildlife habitat and preventing soil erosion."

All CRP signup 43 offers were evaluated and ranked using the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) that consists of the following five environmental factors plus cost: wildlife enhancement, water quality, soil erosion, enduring benefits and air quality. The national average rental rate per acre for this signup is $51.24.

Nationwide, USDA accepted enrollment of 3.9 million acres bringing the total program enrollment to 29.6 million acres.

Landowners enrolled in CRP receive annual rental payments and cost-share assistance to establish long-term, resource conserving covers on eligible farmland. Accepted contracts will become effective Oct. 1.

"The change in CRP acreage in Nebraska and nationally is driven by the economics of higher commodity and livestock prices," noted Steinkruger. "With economic changes impacting CRP it is important that landowners and farmers evaluate enrolling small acreages and/or special CRP practices so that we can continue the environmental, wildlife and outdoor economic activity benefits of CRP across the state."

For more information about the Conservation Reserve Program, contact the local FSA office or visit <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/crp>.

We should eat more beef

We are still getting a daily paper here in Lincoln; it happens to be the Omaha World Herald. But, we exchange with some neighbors who enjoy the sports news in the Omaha paper and take the Lincoln Journal. There is a columnist in the Lincoln paper whom I enjoy reading named Cindy Lange Kubik. She often does human interest stuff; but sometimes just shares her opinions, with which I don't always agree, but it's fun hearing them.

This week, she talks about her Dad, since it was Father's Day on Sunday, and about buying a grill, but needing her Dad's advice on it. She goes on to say that "nobody buys steak anymore, but that they will be enjoying veggie burgers!"

Huh? Veggie burgers instead of steak? That is some kind of travesty. Now, I'm well aware that steak has gotten very high priced. We had some for supper tonight and it was $5.39 a pound. But the two pieces, about 4 ounces each, came to $3 something.

We were getting protein, vitamins, amino acids, and something I read about called satiety. For the price, it's a bargain! There was a little notice in one of those papers we read every day that talked about a BOLD study at Pennsylvania State.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

BOLD is an acronym for Beef in an Optimal Lean Diet. It proved that lean beef not only tastes good, but it plays an important role in a heart-healthy diet. The beef in this study actually improved cholesterol levels. The researchers stated that lean beef provides 10 essential nutrients in about 150 calories; I'd say that's a bargain.

At our Curves site, they are currently pushing their powdered protein drink. I've had a few swallows, and it's very good. Not as good as Carnation Instant Breakfast, but good. Today, we were getting the hard sell as we worked out. It was all about how we need protein to build lean muscle, which, of course, is what we all are trying to accomplish there.

But I didn't buy any of it, and went right to the grocery store to buy steak! We don't have it every day, of course, but we have it often. We also have lots of hamburger, courtesy of MK Feedlot, and there is still a package of ham loaf, courtesy of John at Hy-Vee West in Norfolk. There is even a turkey waiting for an occasion with lots of hungry folks, courtesy of our local grocery, for buying a bunch of items in a certain time period.

I'm pretty sure it's not the meat we eat that is keeping us "pleasingly plump!" And I'm also pretty sure it's not what is affecting our cholesterol levels. So, eat more beef!

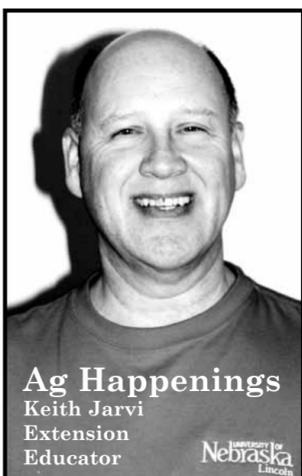

Our Dad made out pretty well, with the meat loaf dinner from Granite City, accompanied by garlic mashed potatoes. In fact, he had the other half of it for lunch today! Hope you had a great Dad's day, and enjoyed those Kansas City baseball games as they swept the Cardinals! Let's let it rain!!

Chigger Awareness Week proclaimed

A call from a grossed-out, scratched to near bleeding co-worker has inspired me to make this week Chigger Awareness Week! Actually, I don't know if there is such a thing but if you have ever been bitten by chiggers it rates right up there with sunburn as one of the most unpleasant summer experiences you can have.

Beware of chiggers! Every year we get lots of phone calls from people who get chigger bites when gardening, spending time in their backyard, camping, or watching fireworks. In Nebraska, chiggers are most active in June and July. Bites seem to peak around the 4th of July when people spend more time outdoors, but like everything else they are early this year.

Chiggers are actually immature mites, and are closely related to spiders and ticks. They are tiny, nearly invisible creatures, but they pack a large punch in the itch department. Some people think that chiggers burrow into the skin but they attach just like ticks. The reason the bites itch so intensely is that the saliva from its needle like mouthparts forms a feeding tube (stylostome) by dissolving cells around the bite area. In other words, the critters are forming a straw-like structure to suck up your liquefied body cells. Your body will react by attacking this structure and slowly absorbing it, but the process takes up to a week, and during this time the accompanying allergic reaction causes swelling and itching that can be nearly unbearable to many people. Often the bite occurs in an area where a tight band of clothing like a belt or underwear elastic prevents them from moving further as they crawl around looking for a tender feeding site. A common "cure" of putting fingernail polish over the bite area will not kill the chigger and is not recommended.

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi

Lincoln

Sadistic "experts" tell people not to scratch the itch because that will make it worse, but good luck with that advice! A good over the counter anti-itch cream/disinfectant combo will give some temporary relief, along with prevention of a secondary infection from too much scratching.

Here are some other suggestions that offer some protection from chiggers:

Stay out of areas where chiggers are likely to be present including woodlots, pastures, roadside ditches, or other areas with tall grasses and weeds. I will never do a high-way trash pickup in June or July ever again! Chiggers are especially common in moist low-lying areas, but they found me when I was watering fruit trees in my dry brome grass lot.

Wear loose-fitting clothing and avoid sitting or reclining on the ground when camping, picnicking, or working outdoors. Apply a repellent (DEET works) to shoes, socks, and trousers before entering chigger-infested areas. As soon as possible after returning from a chiggers-infested area, take a hot shower using plenty of soap and water. This will kill or dislodge many of the chiggers. Then launder clothing prior to re-wearing.

Where chiggers are a problem in landscapes, keep lawns and shrubbery well-maintained, especially in areas adjacent to dwellings. Chiggers can also be reduced by treating turf with insecticidal sprays. A liquid treatment of bifenthrin, a common insecticide, will help. Follow all label directions.

Scholarship support reaches record at UNK business college

Scholarship support for students in the University of Nebraska at Kearney College of Business and Technology has set an all-time record, according to Dr. Timothy Burkink, CBT dean.

Among those awarded scholarships were Halsey Lutt of Wakefield, who received the Schmitz Family Scholarship valued at $928; Kelly Gentrup of Wayne who received the Nebraska Bankers Association Scholarship valued at $1,000 and John Murray, also of Wayne, who was awarded the Win-Wholesale Inc. Scholarship, valued at $500.

"Thanks to the generosity of many donors," Burkink said, "the Col-

THANK YOU

Northstar Services would like to thank all the volunteers and donors who have supported our events this spring. Thanks to you we had a successful food drive for the Wayne County Food Pantry and also had a wonderful day at the Northstar friends and family picnic. Without all of you these events would not have been possible. A special thanks to Tim at Sinclair for his help in putting on the food drive!

ON BEHALF of the Margaret Krie Family we would like to express our sincere gratitude to Pastor Katie Russell for the beautiful service, Scott Hasemann and his staff, the ladies who served lunch and the ladies from Immanuel Lutheran Church of Coleridge and the United Lutheran Church of Laurel for providing food for the lunch. Also thank you to all who brought food, sent cards, gave memorials and your comforting words at the time of our loss. God's Blessings. Mary Margaret and Don Brockman, Marlene and Bill Evans, Connie and Kenny Arens, Doug and Lynette Krie, Marcy and Mark Heap and Families.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE INDIVIDUAL NPDES PERMIT
Department of Environmental Quality
Water Quality Division
Lincoln, Nebraska

The Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (Department) is issuing notice to provide an opportunity for any interested person to submit written comments, objections, and/or hearing requests concerning the issuance of a National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit to the following concentrated animal feeding operation.

The Public Notice period will run from June 21, 2012 through July 23, 2012.

Doug Temme
Temme Agribusiness, Inc.
57468 859th Road
Wayne, NE 68787

The Department proposes to issue a National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit to the operation located in the NE 1/4, Section 35, Township 27N, Range 03E, Wayne County, Nebraska to prevent discharges. The permit issuance would be for a period of up to five years, and would restrict pollutant discharges to comply with the requirements of Department regulations. The application includes a detailed nutrient management plan from which permit terms have been identified. (See Fact Sheet).

The draft permit, nutrient management plan, fact sheet and other public information are available for review and copying between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. (CT), weekdays, excluding holidays at the Department's Office, Suite 400, The Atrium, 1200 N Street, Lincoln, Nebraska, 68509-8922; Telephone (402) 471-2186; FAX: (402) 471-2909; or E-Mail: ndeq.records@nebraska.gov. Please notify the Department if alternate formats of materials are needed. TDD users please call 711 and ask the relay operator to call us at (402) 471-2186. Please include the above name and legal description of the animal feeding operation.

All comments received during the public comment period will be considered in the final decision on issuance of an individual National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit. A request for a public hearing must be submitted in writing, and must state the nature of the issues proposed to be raised at a hearing. A determination to hold a hearing will be based on factual environmental or regulatory considerations. All public comments and requests for hearings may be submitted in writing to: Amy Dorenbach, Agriculture Section, Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality, P.O. Box 98922, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-8922.

5 Good Reasons Why It Pays To Shop Locally

- 1 Your local merchants usually have the same merchandise as their big city counterparts, but maintain a lower overhead. These savings get passed on to you in the form of lower prices.
- 2 Gas, tolls and parking, may make that out-of-town bargain more than you bargained for.
- 3 Shopping locally makes returns and exchanges easier.
- 4 You'll save time and avoid large crowds.
- 5 Every dollar you spend in your hometown goes back into your local economy to help fund schools, roads, and other services where YOU live — not in some other town.
