It takes 'a whole village' to stop bullying

Smalley to be guest Sunday at Majestic Theater

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

It's been more than two years, but sometimes it seems like yesterday for Kirk Smalley.

Smalley and his wife, Laura, had their world forever shaken when their 11-year-old son, Ty, committed suicide after being bullied for more than two years by a fellow student.

Mr. Smalley has spent almost every day since that tragic moment working to make sure no parent ever has to experience the torture his son went through. He has spoken to more than 618,000 kids in 520 schools as part of the Stand For The Silent organization that was formed in memory of his son.

Still, for the Cambridge, Neb., native who once lived in the Norfolk area and is a life-long Husker fan – the day he and his wife found their dead son is as fresh a memory as if it happened yesterday.

"It's still hard, because it's like you're re-living it every single day and it takes a lot out of you," Smalley said by phone between presentations in Oklahoma last week. "It's fulfilling to know that you're making a difference in the world and helping kids, but it's still hard."

Smalley will be the featured speaker Sunday afternoon at the Majestic Theater, which is offering free showings of the critically-acclaimed documentary, "Bully," with free showings Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m.

Smalley's son had been bullied for more than two years before he retaliated. The school responded by suspending his son, who committed suicide as a result of his experience.

In the aftermath of that tragedy, students in the Upward Bound chapter at Oklahoma State University-Oklahoma City heard of the Smalley's experience and formed Stand For The Silent, a group that promotes standing up to bullies and encouraging a positive environment for school-age kids to grow in. Kirk and his wife have become spokespersons for the group and have traveled all over the world to talk with younger students about their experience.

It's been a learning experience for everybody involved, including the Smalleys.

"These kids are teaching me something new every day, and I've learned so much," Smalley said. "The thing that we are seeing is that the kids, themselves, want to get involved and make it stop."

Being a kid in the 21st century is a whole new world compared to the one Smalley says he grew up in.

"With texting and Facebook and other forms of social media, it's a whole different world out there," he said. "It's the kids' way of communication, and sometimes I think the adults make it tough because they don't remember what it was like. Bullying has changed in this day and age."

The Smalleys have been able to take their message all over the world and have met with President Obama to discuss the issue. They were also invited to Lady Gaga's recent Born This Way Foundation launch and have supported numerous anti-bullying efforts across the country.

Smalley said a lot of the bullying problems seem to happen in the middle school years between sixth and ninth grade. Since those kids' lives don't generally include a lot of outside activities like jobs and sports, the world doesn't seem as big.

Empowering our youth to use kindness

The Wayne Herald FEATURE SERIES

"Younger kids in middle school and junior high, what they see at school is pretty much their world, and if they're abused or ostracized on a daily basis, it crushes their world," he said. "I'm not saying bullying doesn't happen in high school, because we've seen it there and in elementary schools and even daycare. It happens everywhere in our society, and it doesn't matter what size of school you're in or where you're located."

By traveling and speaking with schools and community leaders, Smalley said he's hoping the conversation has built regarding bullying nationwide, adding that it will take a group effort to combat the problem.

"I hope we can get a conversation started between parents and kids and the schools and get the whole community involved," he said. "Parents, students or the school can't do it by themselves. It's going to take a whole village to make it happen."

Wayne City Council approves budget for fiscal year '12-'13

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The Wayne City Council approved a budget that will require a slight bump in landowners' tax bill for the 2012-13 fiscal year.

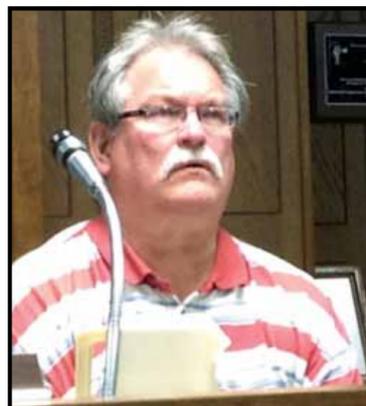

At Tuesday's meeting, the board approved a $28,195,917 budget for the coming fiscal year that will require an increase of 7.7 cents per $1,000 of valuation. An owner of a $100,000 home will pay $452.96 in city taxes during the coming fiscal year, compared to $452.20 last fiscal year, an increase of 76 cents.

Although this year's budget is actually lower than last year's budget of just over $29.6 million, double-digit percentage increases in insurance for the city is one of the main reasons for the slight increase in the tax asking.

The Council decided to allow current First Ward Councilman Doug Sturm to finish out his term, which ends on Nov. 30, even though he has taken a position as a dispatcher for the Wayne Police Department.

City code does not allow for council members to also be city employees, but the board approved an ordinance to allow a councilman to serve out his or her term if he or she accepts a full-time position with the city.

Council members and Mayor Ken Chamberlain all felt the varying natures of the type of job taken and the amount of time remaining in a council member's term in office made it an open-ended procedure that should be considered on a case-by-case basis.

"If there's three years left on somebody's term, that would be one thing. This is kind of a unique situation," Council member Kaki Ley said.

Sturm abstained from voting on the ordinance, which was passed unanimously.

The Council rejected eight separate ordinances. See COUNCIL, Page 3A

County tax asking down for 2012-13

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

The portion of the tax bill used to support Wayne County will be slightly lower for fiscal year 2012-2013, based on the budget approved by the Wayne County Commissioners during their meeting Tuesday.

The total tax asking for the fiscal year is $3,969,838.85, which is an increase of $245,414.99. However, due to an increase in valuation of property in Wayne County, the 2012-2013 tax levy is .33520, a decrease of 1.2 cents per $100 of valuation.

This means the taxes on $100,000 of valuation will be $12 less than during the last fiscal year.

Cash reserves in the General Fund were increased $130,000 and those in the Road Bridge Fund increased by $115,000 to assist with cash flow during the months of March and April.

Prior to the start of Tuesday's meeting, the commissioners, as well as a number of court house employees and several guests were on hand for the swearing in ceremony of Dawn Duffy as the new Wayne County Assessor.

Duffy was appointed to the position to fill the un-expired term of Joyce Reeg, who resigned effective Aug. 1.

Discussion was held during the meeting in regard to the position of weed superintendent for Wayne County.

Commissioners heard from several members of the Weed Board on the need to keep the position full-time.

"The county won't be able to find a quality employee when Marlin (Schuttler) retires if this position is reduced to part-time. I know there are lots of weeds in my neighborhood that need to be taken care of," said Randy Kleensang, a member of the Weed Board.

Kleensang also questioned why the Board of Commissioners was considering this action now, when he felt they had already deter-

Randall and Lorraine Johnson of Wayne stand behind the bench being erected in Lindsay in honor of their son, Christopher, who died in the line of duty as a Platte County Sheriff's Deputy in 2009.

Bench to honor deputy, Wayne native

The family of Christopher Johnson traveled to Lindsay last week to deliver a bench in memory of Christopher.

Christopher, the son of Randall and Lorraine Johnson of Wayne, was a Platte County Sheriff's Deputy. He was killed in an auto accident on Aug. 29, 2009 while responding to a call near Lindsay.

A park bench, made by Bow Creek Metal of Yankton, S.D., and paid for through donations and memorials in Christopher's memory, was donated to the community of Lindsay to thank them for their response at the time of Christopher's accident.

Several members of the Lindsay community were on hand when the Johnsons delivered the bench on Aug. 29, the third anniversary of Christopher's death. They expressed their appreciation to the family for the gift.

The Johnson family, as well as members of the Wayne community have conducted several fund-raisers in memory of Christopher.

Christopher Johnson was a 1993 graduate of Wayne High School and maintained ties to the community. Prior to his death, he had been employed with the Platte County Sheriff's Office for approximately two years.

Finance requests pertaining to removing the limitations of construction of an external building on residential property. Ordinances were considered for all four residential zoning districts in the city, and all were rejected by the Council.

The Council also gave unanimous approval to action that will authorize the city administrator to temporarily pay out police dispatcher vacation leave in the amount over the accrual limit at current wage rates. An employee is limited to 280 hours of vacation leave, and until the dispatchers are at full strength, current dispatchers have been unable to take vacation time. The proposal is similar to what has been done with the city's certified police officers.

The Council also approved the hiring of JEO engineering firm to assist in the removal of sludge from the city's lagoon at a cost of no more than $175,000. The plan is to take out enough sludge to be able to abandon the lagoon at a later time.

In other action, the Council:

- approved extending the sale of alcohol for a three-day period, running Sept. 27-29, from 1 a.m. to 2 a.m.
- approved a liquor license for Shopko Stores, replacing the license formerly used by Pamida before the store's name change takes effect.
- approved second reading of an amendment to the municipal code regarding code of decorum.
- approved the sale of two city lots to Kelby Herman.
- authorized the application of assistance from Nebraska Emergency Management Agency for the purpose of replacing the city's emergency civil defense siren.
- restored two-way traffic to Fourth Street between Sherman Street and School View Drive, and School View Drive between Fourth and Fifth streets.
- approved the job description for the new Leisure Services Coordinator position, which will serve as an assistant to the Recreation Services Director in managing the Wayne Community Activity Center.

mined that the position would remain full-time earlier this year.

Following discussion, the commissioners voted to make the Weed Superintendent's position a full-time one from May through October and minimal from November through April, allowing the Weed Board and the Superintendent to determine the number of hours necessary. It was noted that this will allow the person in the position the opportunity to attend continuing education as necessary.

The change, which is effective Jan. 1, 2013, will allow the person in the position five days of vacation, but will no longer provide for health insurance.

The commissioners also received an update from Nic Kemnitz, emergency management director, on the fact that the Wayne Volunteer Department was put on notice to possibly assist with fires in the Chadron area. By Tuesday, the fires had been brought under control enough that assistance from the Wayne department was not necessary.

Kemnitz also provided information on a transmission tower to be installed near the Wayne County Sheriff's Office building and presented quotes on antennas to be installed on the buildings.

KimBerly Hansen, Wayne County Clerk Magistrate, spoke to the commissioners about the need for equipment in her office to allow for the digital imaging of records.

She told the commissioners that a piece of equipment currently being rented by the County Clerk's office could be used in her office until a decision is made on obtaining one for court records.

Commissioners debated the cost of renting such a piece of equipment versus purchasing one and asked Hansen to obtain additional information on such costs.

The commissioners will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at the Wayne County Courthouse.

The Wayne County Museum Friends have launched a new fund-raising campaign to raise money for the museum's exterior painting, including scraping of old paint, replacement of portions of the wood shingle siding and repairs to the decorative trim and porch support columns. Wildcats open 2012 with win

MOORHEAD, Minn. — Season openers and road games have proven to be positives for Wayne State's football team during the Dan McLaughlin era.

The Wildcats won their seventh season opener in eight years under McLaughlin and continued their road-warrior mentality with an easy 49-6 win over MSU Moorhead in the 2012 season opener for both teams Saturday at Alex Nemzek Stadium.

The Wildcats lit up the Dragons for 587 yards in total offense and used several big plays to build a 28-0 halftime lead on their way to the easy win, the Wildcats' 24th road win in 38 games (22-9 in NSIC road games) since McLaughlin took over as head coach.

"I don't know what the answer to that (road success) is, but we'll take it," McLaughlin said.

The Wildcats used a big play of offense to score most of its points, with four scoring plays over 40 yards including two that were over 80 yards in the win.

Nate Most and Adam Stark connected on a pair of long passes to get the Wildcats out to a 14-0 lead in the first period. Their first connection was a 49-yard scoring strike, and on Wayne State's next possession, the duo hooked up with an 83-yard pitch-and-catch.

"They had their safeties down to try and stop the run game, and Adam can run really well so we hit him on a deep post play and he just ran by their corner and Nate threw some great balls to him," McLaughlin said.

Once the Wildcats established their presence in the air, it opened up the ground attack.

"That backed their safeties off, and we were able to do more with our ground game," McLaughlin said.

The Wildcats scored four times on the ground and three through the air. Most and Kevin Paulsen hooked up on a 25-yard pass late in the first half after Nick Pulscher scored on a four-yard run, giving Wayne State a 28-0 lead at the break.

Charlie Davidson and Brian Kent both broke big runs in the second half. Davidson scored on a 43-yard gallop, while Kent did a good job breaking back for an 81-yard run before Kendrick Hester closed out the scoring with a late touchdown run.

"Nick and Charlie both ran the ball well and our offensive line played well," McLaughlin said. "Our defense also played very well and put us in good field position all day, so it was a good all-around effort."

Most was 15-of-21 for 274 yards and three touchdowns to lead an offense that racked up 587 yards in total.

Slow start sinks Devils, 25-6

O'Neill wasted little time taking the wind out of Wayne's sails Friday night.

The Eagles returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown and dominated the first half of play in the Blue Devils' home opener at Wayne State College's Memorial Stadium, taking a 19-0 halftime lead and cruising to a 25-6 win in a battle of unbeaten.

Fans were just getting settled into their seats when Derrick Hostert took the opening kickoff down the right sideline for an 85-yard touchdown to give the visiting Eagles a 6-0 advantage, and that seemed to set the tone for a first half of domination by the visitors.

"Boy, talk about taking the wind out of your sails," coach Terry Bear said. "That play was crucial and it set the tone for the game, and we just couldn't turn the tide."

Wayne's offense spent most of the first half spinning its wheels, offsetting good gains with penalties that kept them from bouncing back from the early O'Neill score.

The Eagles, conversely, took advantage and dominated play at the line of scrimmage, using the arm and legs of quarterback Michael Hedlund to score two second-period touchdowns to take a 19-0 lead.

Hedlund connected on a four-yard pass with Tad Fry to make it 12-0, and the Eagles hurried down the field in the closing minute to score their third touchdown of the game, a spirit-breaking 40-yard scramble by Hedlund, who slipped out of a probable sack in the backfield, reversed course and took off down the far sideline with :18 left in the half.

"They were definitely the more physical team up front," Bear said. "The kids played hard and tried to do what they could to get the momentum back, but we just didn't come out ready to play and that's my fault."

Wayne's defense made an excellent stand after a bad punt snap forced a short kick out of the end zone by Drew Carroll. The Blue Devils were able to recover an O'Neill fumble inside the 10-yard line, stopping an Eagle scoring drive.

The Blue Devils later blocked a punt after an O'Neill touchdown pass was waved off by offensive interference, and the Blue Devils offense finally got rolling early in the fourth quarter.

Junior quarterback Jalen Barry hooked up with Jared Anderson on a nice 17-yard pass early in the fourth quarter, and two plays later, the duo connected again as Anderson outthrustled two O'Neill defenders in the back corner of the end zone for a 17-yard touchdown pass with 9:55 to go.

"We did come together better in the second half and were able to move the ball better offensively," Wayne receiver Jared Anderson tries to stiff-arm O'Neill defender after breaking away from Jacob Emme (12) during the first half of Wayne's 25-6 loss to the Eagles.

Bear said. "Jared and Jalen have played together for a while, so there's some chemistry there and they were able to find each other on that touchdown pass."

Wayne still had faint hopes of a fourth-quarter comeback after the score, but those hopes quickly faded on O'Neill's next drive. Tate Laurs-on took off on a 35-yard run to set up a two-yard plunge by Hedlund with 8:25 to go, giving O'Neill the 19-point win.

The Eagles held a 295-257 advantage in total yards, limiting the Blue Devils to 25 yards on 21 rushing attempts. Barry was 24-of-34 for 232

Bowling set to start in October

The Bleacher Bum has had a lot on his mind lately. Allow me to purge the voluminous thoughts in my head with this run-through of the "Bits and Pieces" file:

— First, there is good news to report on the local bowling front concerning the future of Melodee Lanes.

Work is going on at a feverish pace to have at least eight of the 12 lanes ready by the first part of October. Ric Barner is taking over as the operator of the bowling alley, and I talked with him earlier this week about when the alley would be ready to roll (so to speak).

Barner was refinishing the lanes earlier this week, and he said that if all goes according to plan, things should be ready to go by early next month. It may mean a late start for league bowling in town, but plans are to have bowling leagues at the Wayne bowling alley that would run from this fall to next spring.

— If you checked out the debut of the "Wayne State Coaches Show" on our website last week at mywaynews.com, you no doubt got a lot out of our preview interviews with the Wayne State coaches.

I promise that future editions will not be anywhere near as long as last week's 48-minute epic — with it being the first edition and trying to make sure everything went the way it was supposed to, things ran a little longer than usual. We'll get it down to a more viewer-friendly time frame for future editions.

— I enjoy watching Wayne State play its football games at Memorial Stadium, but I'm beginning to wonder if the Wildcats should play more road games.

The 49-6 win over Moorhead on Saturday marked the 24th win in 38 road games during the McLaughlin era. Wayne State is 22-9 in NSIC games away from the friendly confines of Cunningham Field. Wayne State has a .632 winning percentage away from home, yet carries a 23-19 (.548) record on the home turf.

Taking into consideration that the four toughest games on the schedule are home games, and the only road game of significant concern (based on past history) is Concordia-St. Paul, it should be interesting to see how this season plays out for the Wildcats.

— This week is the week where Wayne High's football team gets to play its "extra" game, as they travel to South Sioux City to take on the Class B Cardinals.

I don't know about you, but I'm not crazy with the idea of the Blue Devils being the only team in Class C1 to play a ninth game. From what I've been hearing, though, this is the precursor to some changes in the way the NSAA runs 11-man football. If what I'm hearing is correct, the 2014-15 cycle will be the first with nine-game schedules for C1 and C2, with a 16-team playoff set at the end of the season.

This can't happen soon enough. We've spent a lot of ink in this space talking about the joke that is the 32-team playoff format for classes C and D. When 2-6 and 3-5 teams can call themselves playoff teams (and an 0-8 team that was one play away from qualifying as a 1-7 team can be one that just missed out, as Madison did two years ago), it's obvious that the playoff system needs to be changed.

Yes, teams that finish 7-2 and 6-3 are going to be left out of a 16-team format — but there are going to be "deserving" teams left out of any format. Teams that go .500 or below should not be able to call themselves a "playoff" team, and hopefully that is something we won't have to worry about after this latest two-year cycle of football games.

— This week's winner of the "It can't possibly get any tougher than that" award goes to the Allen football team. After playing a Howells-Dodge program that won a combined 15 state titles before their merger, I don't think any of the GOLDEN, Colo. — The 12th ranked Wayne State volleyball team opened the season by winning three of four games in the Oredigger Classic.

"Going 3-1 was a nice thing," coach Scott Kneiff said. "We have a lot of young players and we did struggle a little bit against Tarleton, but we were able to come back 3-1 and I feel pretty good about how we started, but we still have a lot to work on."

Wayne State opened the 2012 season Friday with 3-0 sweeps over Dallas Baptist (25-22, 25-18, 25-18) and Colorado Mesa (25-17, 25-21, 25-14).

In the first match, freshman Lauren Sieckmann paced the Wildcat hitting attack with 21 kills and a stellar .462 hitting percentage in her Wildcat debut, while junior Cori Hobbs contributed 10 kills. Hobbs and redshirt freshman libero Courtney Van-Groningen had 10 digs apiece, while redshirt freshman setter Leisa McClintock was credited with 36 set assists and had four of Wayne State's five service aces.

"She's a great player and she's transitioning from a setter to an attacker, and she played very well," Kneiff said of the Nebraska transfer.

The Wildcats used a balanced attack in the win over Mesa, as Hobbs and Sieckmann each recorded double-doubles. Hobbs had 11 kills and 16 digs, while Sieckmann added 10 kills and 14 digs. Senior rightside hitter Melanie Placke contributed 10 kills in the win. McClintock was credited with 28 set assists while VanGroningen added 14 digs.

"Courtney's a great defender and can do a lot for us, and her serve receive was very good this weekend," Kneiff said.

On Saturday, Tarleton State forced the Wildcats into 35 attack errors while holding the Wildcats to a .007 hitting percentage in a 25-13, 25-17, 21-25, 25-20 win. Placke was the lone Wildcat to reach double digits in kills with 10. VanGroningen had 16 digs.

Wildcats sandwich triangular wins around 0-3 tournament

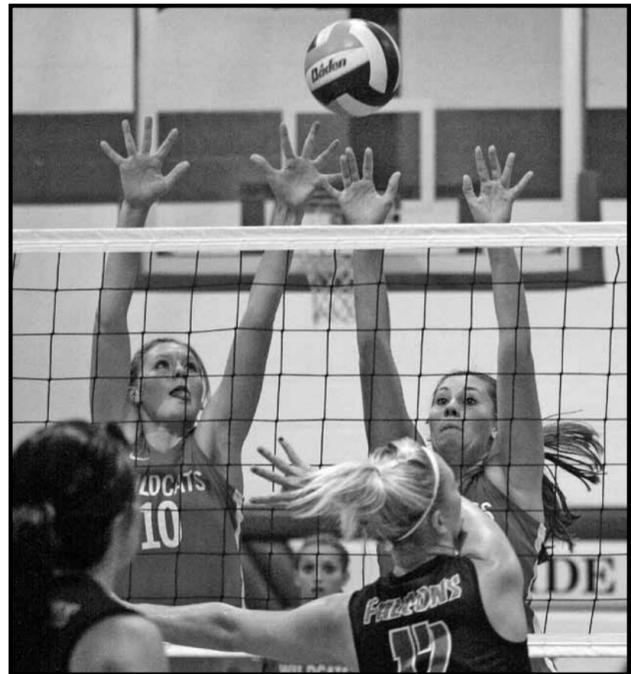

It was an up-and-down week for the Winside volleyball team, as they swept a season-opening triangular at home before stumbling in a road quadrangular over the weekend.

On Thursday, the Wildcats opened with a home sweep of a triangular with Elkhorn Valley and Wausa, beating the Falcons, 25-19, 25-15, and disposing of the Vikings, 25-8, 25-21. Wausa beat Elkhorn Valley in the third game of the night, 25-17, 15-25, 25-23.

In the opener, Winside got a balanced attack at the net, led by senior Nazya Thies, who had eight kills and six blocks. Dana Doffin had five kills and three blocks, Brittany Janke recorded three kills and two blocks and Carly Thies had four kills and a block. Shannon Gray had 10 set assists and Jayd Roberts recorded eight, while Morgan Jensen had 10 digs and Bridget Gray recorded eight.

Against Wausa, Nazya Thies had 10 kills and two blocks, Carly Thies had three kills, and Janke and Bridget Gray each had two kills. Shannon Gray had 12 assists and four ace serves, and Jayd Roberts put up six assists. Morgan Jensen had nine digs and Bridget Gray added five.

Wayne State will be in action again next Saturday as the Wildcats host NSIC newcomer Minot State in their 1 p.m. home opener.
"Minot's defense is pretty good, and they're a well-coached team," McLaughlin said. "They have a freshman quarterback who is big and can throw the ball well, and their defense is pretty solid, so we've got our work cut out for us."

Allen doesn't give up in loss to No. 1 Jaguars

HOWELLS - In the 1960's, the Green Bay Packers' power sweep was the play everybody knew was coming, but few knew how to stop.
Allen coach Dave Uldrich knew the top-ranked Howells-Dodge Jaguars would be running a similar kind of play, and while they made every effort to slow it down, the Jaguars still made the most of the play with several big touchdowns early in a 56-20 win in the season opener for both teams.

And while the Eagles weren't able to stop the Jaguars' bread-and-butter play, it wasn't due to lack of effort.
"As advertised, their toss sweep play was unstoppable," Uldrich said. "We sent people at the flanks all night and just couldn't stop it."
Uldrich praised his team's effort, however, as they played hard despite the 44-point halftime deficit.

with Katie Hughes adding 12. McClintock handed out 26 set assists, and Alex Armes had four service aces in the contest.
Wayne State rebounded, as Hobbs had 12 kills and Sieckmann added 10 in a 25-14, 29-27, 25-19 win over St. Joseph's of Indiana. The Wildcats hit .280 in the contest while holding St. Joseph's of Indiana to a .086 attack percentage, forcing 22 attack errors in the win.

Hobbs and Sieckmann led the Wildcats in hitting while Alex Armes added eight kills and no errors for a solid .667 attack percentage. Sieckmann led Wayne State in digs with 10 while McClintock had 31 set assists and two service aces.

Wayne State returns to action Friday and Saturday, Sept. 7-8, when the Wildcats play at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs Tournament.

"Our kids played without fear and played with reckless abandon on defense," he said. "We played very hard and never had any drops in intensity."

The Eagles showed some promise on the offensive side of the ball, gaining 21 first downs to Howells-Dodge's 14 and cranking out 275 yards in total offense on the night.
"We weren't in awe of them. We could have hung a couple of touchdowns in the first half, but we just didn't make the plays," he said.

Allen did get on the scoreboard late in the third quarter when Austin Connot caught an 11-yard pass from Zach Crom. Caleb Thomas and Cole Stewart both added fourth-quarter touchdown runs to make the final score a little more respectable.
Brian Boese led the Allen ground attack with 62 yards on 16 carries, and Austin Connot caught eight balls for 93 yards and a touchdown to highlight the Eagles' offensive effort. Stewart and Thomas each had eight tackles to lead the Allen defense.
The Eagles play host to Omaha Nation for homecoming on Friday, and Uldrich is hopeful the team will bounce back in their home debut.
"We'll regroup and clean up some things and put ourselves in position to play well in front of our hometown crowd this week," he said.

The Wayne High girls golf team earned seven medals between their varsity and JV teams and the varsity easily won the Stanton Invite on Friday.

The Blue Devil varsity had no trouble taking top honors, shooting a team score of 454 to win by 69 strokes.

Gray finishes first at Wisner

BEEMER – Winside runner Mackenzie Gray came home with first-place honors to highlight the area effort at Thursday's Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

Gray ran the course in 17:25.5 to take top honors, one of three area girls to finish in the top 10.

"Mackenzie ran a great race," coach Jennifer Kesting said. "She looked graceful as she approached the hill and pushed up it towards the finish."

LCC's Aaron Haahr was also a top-ten finisher, placing third in the boys race. His brother, Adam, finished 12th in the race.

"I was worried about the heat and with some of the inexperience we had, but both teams fought through and performed really well," coach Megan Virgil said. "After running in such tough conditions, I'm excited to see how they can compete during more conducive cross country weather."

Senior Colin Hansen led the Winside boys with an 18th place finish, battling through some illness to run well in the extreme heat.

"He's been battling flu-like symptoms and a persistent cough, and we're looking forward to getting him healthy and being able to give his full effort," Kesting said. "I was very pleased with our efforts."

Other seven teams on their schedule are going to be anywhere near as intimidating.

Interesting note about the Howells half of that new merged program – did you know that Wakefield has a hand in the Bobcats' historical run of success? In the 2000's, Howells' playoff record is an amazing 150-3, and one of those losses came against Wakefield in the semifinals in 2006. Wakefield went on to win the first of two state titles that year.

Howells' other losses came in the 2007 playoffs (their last year in 11-man), and in last year's championship game. For those of you scoring at home, that's nine state titles and 10 championship games.

After facing that history-overloaded program, those upcoming games against Omaha Nation and Niobrara/Verdigre don't sound so bad, do they?

– How tough will the Div. II Central Region volleyball tournament be this November? The first regular-season coaches poll should tell you all you need to know.

Wayne State is ranked 12th in this week's poll, and if regional seedings were based on those rankings, the Wildcats would be the SEVENTH seed in the tournament.

The Central Region now includes the MIAA and Great American Conference (the RMAC was moved to the Southwest Region), and teams from those three regions occupy eight of the top 13 spots in the latest rankings, including six of the top seven.

Nebraska-Kearney moved from the RMAC to the MIAA this year, and the only non-Central team in the top seven is the University of Tampa, who is tied with Southwest Minnesota State at No. 3.

The Wildcats will play four of the top six teams in the nation this season, so it should be interesting to see just how much of a Murderer's Row the Central Region ends up being come tournament time.

– Somebody was crazy enough to ask me who I think will play for the "national title" in college football. After watching the first weekend of games, I will be shocked if the "championship" game doesn't feature Alabama and the winner of the USC-Oregon matchup. And God help the powers that be in college football if the USC-Oregon loser wins the rematch in the conference championship game.

– And, since nobody is crazy enough to ask who I think will be in the Super Bowl, I'll say it anyway: Packers vs. Ravens, with Green Bay to win 31-21.

yards. Wayne also hurt its efforts with 11 penalties on the game.

The Blue Devils go back on the road this week to face South Sioux City in a 7 p.m. matchup. The undefeated Cardinals like to air the ball out, and Bear is hoping his team will be able to bounce back and have a better outing this week.

"It's one game, and we'll learn from this and bounce back," he said. "Last week, we went out and had fun, and we didn't have fun tonight."

Winside comeback falls short in 52-24 loss

BANCROFT – Winside made a game of it against top 10-rated Bancroft-Rosalie, but the Panthers put the game away in the fourth quarter to post a 52-24 win over the Wildcats Friday evening.

The Wildcats almost dug themselves out of a 22-point hole, pulling within a touchdown early in the fourth quarter on the strength of two touchdown runs by Caleb Lienemann and Dylan Tweedy.

“We need to learn how to start and finish games, but we played really well in the middle two quarters,” coach Ben Wiehn said.

The Wildcats made some offensive adjustments after last week’s season-opening loss to Scribner-Snyder, and the changes seemed to pay off.

The Panthers scored on a pair of Caleb Hansen runs and an interception return to take a 22-0 lead, but Winside cut the lead to 10 at the half on a 15-yard run by Lienemann and a four-yard score by Tweedy.

Bancroft-Rosalie got the lead back up to 18 on a Carsten Tietz touchdown run, but Tweedy hit the end zone from 42 yards away in the third quarter and Lienemann found paydirt early in the fourth on a 22-yard run to make it 30-24.

“We made some adjustments and tried to load up on one side, and the kids really bought into it and we got some confidence and were able to spring some big plays,” Wiehn said. “Caleb saw something on that last touchdown and was able to break a big run for us.”

After that, the Panthers took advantage of a long kickoff return and a turnover to put the game out of reach.

“They scored after a big return, and then we fumbled and they scored again and it was just a domino effect,” Wiehn said. “We kept battling, but just weren’t able to get it done.”

Lienemann finished with 106 yards on 23 carries and Tweedy added 81 yards on 14 tries to lead the Winside offensive attack. Lienemann and Gage Main each had nine total tackles, Tweedy added eight and Brian Gruenke made seven stops.

Winside will look for its first win Friday at Lyons-Decatur.

Wakefield wins Silver bracket at NE Classic

The Wakefield volleyball team is off to a fast start this season after sweeping three matches to win the Silver bracket at the Northeast Nebraska Classic.

The Trojans went 4-1 in tournament play, getting a split in their pool on Thursday before posting wins over Wayne, Allen and Wisner-Pilger to take first-place honors in their round-robin bracket on Saturday.

Wakefield opened with a 25-21, 25-6 loss to Lutheran High Northeast. Emily Puls led the way at the net with five kills, while Lauren Lehmkuhl added four kills and five digs. Sydney Rose had eight set assists and four digs, while Whitney Echtenkamp and Tianna Gnat each had two digs.

Wakefield bounced back to beat Oakland-Craig, winning 25-11, 25-10. Lehmkuhl had 13 kills and two blocks to lead the net effort. McKenzie Rusk added five kills and Rose had four kills and a team-high 20 assists. Puls had three assists and two blocks, Echtenkamp had 10 digs and Lehmkuhl added eight digs and three ace serves.

On Saturday, Wakefield took care of Wayne in straight sets, winning 25-14, 25-18. Lehmkuhl had six kills, two blocks and a team-best 11 digs in the win. Emily Puls added three kills and a team-high four blocks, Tianna Gnat had eight digs and Sydney Rose had eight assists and four kills.

Wakefield also took care of Allen in straight sets, winning 25-21, 25-16. Lehmkuhl had 13 kills and two blocks to lead the net attack. Rose had 17 assists and four aces and Gnat had 17 digs, while Echtenkamp added nine.

In their final match of the day, Wakefield beat Wisner-Pilger in a five-set thriller, 25-22, 25-27, 25-12. Lehmkuhl had 21 kills and 11 digs, Gnat had six kills and 10 digs, Puls had five kills and McKenzie Rusk added four. Echtenkamp had 12 digs and Lehmkuhl added 11, while Rose put up 32 set assists and had eight ace serves.

Wakefield will play host to their own tournament on Thursday and Saturday at Wakefield High School.

Lady Bears split first two matches of season

The Laurel-Concord/Coleridge volleyball team had a balanced attack and opened the 2012 season with a four-set win over Randolph Thursday in Laurel, winning 25-19, 25-23, 18-25, 25-21.

“The team played hard and worked through all kinds of situations,” coach Patti Cunningham said. “It was a fun win, as many players stepped up and made big-time plays.”

The Lady Bears got good all-around play from Kiley Thompson, who finished with 10 kills, a team-high five ace serves and six digs. Erin Gubbels led the attack at the net with 11 kills, while Audra Corbit had five kills and four blocks and Ellie Arduser added five kills and a team-leading eight digs.

Cameron Eddie directed the offense well, recording 31 set assists.

Kelsey Dietrich had three kills and two digs, while Brittany Wolfram had three digs and two ace serves.

On Tuesday, the Lady Bears fell in straight sets at home to Stanton, losing 25-19, 25-17, 26-24. Corbit had eight kills and eight blocks to lead the net attack, while Thompson added four kills and Gubbels and Arduser each had three kills. Arduser had seven digs and Eddie had 17 assists for the 1-1 Lady Bears.

“Inconsistent play and lack of confidence were disruptions throughout the evening,” Cunningham said. “We understand that we played in spurts, made too many self-induced errors and were missing that play-to-win mentality.”

The Lady Bears are back in action Thursday and Saturday at the Wakefield Invitational.

Bears get off to fast start, but Battle Creek rolls to 54-14 victory BATTLE CREEK – Laurel-Concord/Coleridge got off to a flying start Friday before Battle Creek brought the Bears’ attack to a screeching halt.

The Bears scored on two touchdown passes early in the game before the host Braves ran off 54 unanswered points to claim a 54-14 win in the season opener for both teams at Battle Creek High School.

Justin Saunders caught a pair of touchdown passes, one from Nathan Schmitt for 53 yards and another by quarterback Kyle Kardell from 21 yards out, to give the Bears a quick 14-0 advantage.

The Braves bounced back quickly, however, thanks to a pair of long touchdown runs. That momentum carried over with two more runs and a 62-yard punt return by Nate Gray, who accounted for four Battle Creek scores on the night, to give the hosts a 34-14 halftime lead.

The Bears had 297 yards in total offense. Kardell was 12-of-28 for 156 yards in the passing department.

Saunders accounted for 171 yards in total offense, with 68 coming on seven carries and 103 yards on six catches. Austin Roach had 31 yards rushing and 28 yards receiving.

Defensively, Mitch Hartman led the LCC defense with 5.5 tackles, Roach added five and Kardell and Ethan Hirschman each had four. Hartman and Chayce Hirschman each accounted for a quarterback sack.

The Bears will host Hartington Cedar Catholic in their home opener on Friday.

WSC soccer starts 0-2

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. – The Wayne State women’s soccer team got off to an 0-2 start after taking part in the Drury University Tournament over the weekend.

Kelsey Salzman scored in the 86th minute to give Missouri S&T a 1-0 win over Wayne State Friday evening in a game played in heavy rain due to Tropical Storm Isaac.

“We played some great soccer this weekend against a quality team,” coach Molly Grisham said. “We didn’t want to give up that goal late, but we played well and were able to see where some of our strengths and weaknesses are.”

The Wildcats outshot Missouri S&T 5-4 in the first half and 3-2 in the second half for an 8-6 edge in the contest, but the Miners had a 4-1 advantage in corner kicks and scored with just over 3:30 left in the contest when Salzman found the back of the net.

Mallory Hoyt and Kelly Voigt each had two shots to lead the Wildcats offensively while freshman goalkeeper Courtney True was credited with one save while allowing one goal in her collegiate debut.

Host Drury University scored goals within five minutes of each other just before and after halftime as the host Panthers went on to defeat Wayne State 3-0 on Sunday afternoon.

Drury got on the board in the 17th minute when Jennifer Wright looped a 35-yard shot over the hands of True for a 1-0 Panther lead. Kara Steiner blasted a 10-yard shot into the back of the net just before halftime, and Drury added another goal early in the second half to go on to the win.

“They are just a very good team and were just very deliberate, and we were eventually able to settle down,” she said. “We saw some gaps in our back line that we’ll need to adjust with the larger fields, but we started four new players and a freshman goalie in the back, so all things considered I thought we did well.”

McKenna Adams had five shots and one shot on goal for WSC while Makenzie Evans and Macy Hagen were each credited with shots on goal for the Wildcats. True was credited with two saves.

Wayne State will be at home Thursday, facing Northwest Missouri State in a 5 p.m. contest at the Wayne State Soccer Complex.

Basketball goes 0-2 on Canadian trip

The Wayne State men's basketball team played two exhibition games in Winnipeg, Canada over the Labor Day weekend, losing a pair of close games.

"Our trip to Winnipeg was very beneficial for our entire program.

The teams we played were extremely competitive and were gracious hosts throughout the weekend," coach Paul Combs said. "Our student-athletes were able to spend some quality time together in a unique city setting and experience the diverse culture Winnipeg and the surrounding areas had to offer. We will use these experiences on a daily basis as we prepare for the upcoming 2012-13 season."

Wayne lost to University of Manitoba 92-88, led by Derrell Williams with 24 points and nine rebounds. Ben Galemme added 15 points, four assists and four steals, and Ayron Worthington had 17 points. Ty Bauschek scored 16 points.

Against University of Winnipeg, Wayne State lost a close one, 67-66, missing a last-second tip-in at the buzzer. Williams led with 23 points and 10 rebounds, Galemme added nine, Bauschek put in eight and LaTroy Wright added six.

Returning starters Adol Aluongo and Amry Shelby didn't play on the trip, due to injuries.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

A chance for us to stop bullying

In almost 30 years as a journalist, I've had the opportunity to cover a wide range of stories, from state championship sports teams to hotly-contested political elections. I've written stories about people of all shapes, sizes and ages, telling stories of comebacks and heartaches, triumphs and tragedies, and life and death.

There is one story, however, that I hope I never have to write — the story of a child being bullied to the point of committing suicide.

I was on the wrong end of a bully's wrath during my youth. The days of being intimidated by a kid who, like me, played trumpet in the band and was so desperate to be first-chair in the band that he threatened physical violence if I beat him in tryouts are still fresh in my mind, even 30 years after that first day of torture.

I grew up being hounded by this loser until he graduated a year ahead of me. From being punched in the hallways to the threats that were made in band, basketball practice and on bus trips to football games and band competitions, every day walking into the school building was my hell on earth.

My parents tried to deal with the issue as best they could, but were met with resistance by school officials who didn't seem too concerned with my plight and determined that it was just "boys being boys." The physical wounds I received have long since healed, but the memory remains. And that is something that, I think, a lot of people — including some school administrators — can't seem to grasp when it comes to the pain bullies inflict on their targets.

It isn't just the immediate things that happen at the point of attack, but the memory and the damage they inflict that, in some cases, leads a young person to believe that there is no way to deal with the issue other than to kill himself.

Kirk Smalley, who will make an appearance at Sunday's showing of "Bully" at the Majestic Theatre, experiences that hell on a daily basis through the death of his son, Ty. Ty took his own life at age 11 after experiencing the torture of a bully's wrath. Kirk has traveled all over the world after tragically burying his own child and — as we talked last Thursday in our interview for this week's paper — has talked with more than 618,000 kids and made presentations at more than 500 schools. He recounts the events that led to his son's suicide, reliving the moment every day in hopes that other kids and their families won't have to go through what he and his family have had to deal with — and continue to battle — day after day.

It's a battle no parent should ever have to face, but it is a battle that can be won — if we, as a community, are willing to stand up to the bullies and make them realize that their behavior is not allowed to continue.

That discipline has to start at home — and that's where a lot of the battles are being lost. Some parents are either unwilling or incapable of providing the discipline their child needs to understand that fear, intimidation and physical assault are not allowable methods for interacting with fellow students and people in the community. Either they use similar tactics in their lives — tactics that their children will ultimately emulate — or they simply refuse to see the harm their children are causing to others.

Schools shouldn't have to be the place where that discipline is installed, but school teachers and administrators certainly must further the cause and make sure our school buildings are safe from those who would use fear and physical violence — and quickly and properly punish those who engage in such activities. Those adult influences in a child's life go a long way toward what kind of person they become, and pretending it doesn't exist or allowing such activities to take place within a school classroom, hallway or any other space on school grounds, will do nothing to make the problem go away.

I'm happy to say that I've been part of a wonderful group of people in this community who have worked to help make this weekend's movie and discussion series possible. People like Majestic Theater director Melanie Loggins, Wayne Public Schools superintendent Mark Lenihan, Stand For The Silent adult sponsor Pam Henderson, Wayne Rotary Club president Elise Hepworth, middle school counselor Joan Sudmann and others have worked hard over the past couple of months to put this weekend's schedule together. People in the community have given their time and financial gifts to help make it possible for the theater to show "Bully" as a free movie this weekend, with shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday night and Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

After each showing of the movie, there will be an opportunity to discuss the issue on a local level. Speakers and moderators are scheduled to be on hand at the theater to facilitate a discussion about what's going on locally and what we, as a community, can do to make sure none of our children here have to experience the hell of a bully's wrath.

Smalley will be on hand Sunday afternoon for the 2 p.m. showing, and this weekend should be a great opportunity for us, as a community, to stand up as a collective group and inform the bullies of this area that their actions will no longer stand.

Capitol View

Stop me if you've heard this...

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

On a day when the big news from the Nebraska State Fair was a record-breaking number of classic tractors in a parade, a long-awaited debate between two U.S. Senate candidates seemed a bit anti-climactic.

Former Nebraska Governor and U.S. Sen. Bob Kerrey, a Democrat, squared off with State Senator Deb Fischer, a Republican, in a 90-minute main event before an estimated 2,000 people in the Heartland Events Center on the fairgrounds in Grand Island. Almost immediately after both sides had declared victory, debate about the number of remaining debates — if there are any — resumed. The Kerrey camp wanted seven. The Fischer folks have agreed in principle to perhaps two more.

The two former Lincoln residents — Kerrey graduated from Northeast High School and Fischer from Southeast — might as well have engaged in a discussion about whether the Northeast Rockets or the Southeast Knights would win the next head-to-head inner-city football game, for all the things that weren't said... but you knew somebody had them on the tip of their tongue.

Kerrey appeared to be following the playbook of predecessor Governors — turned — U.S. Senators, Jim Exon and Ben Nelson, by touting a Centrist stance. The late Exon and Nelson are both Democrats who were recognized for their middle-of-the-road ability to make things happen — both at the statehouse and in Washington.

"We're not going to be able to get this done unless we move to the middle," Kerrey said. He promised to cross party lines and be a challenge to the Democratic leadership and an annoyance to the Republicans.

Fischer planted her feet firmly as a conservative touting less government involvement and no tax increases.

Kerrey spoke in favor of health care reforms and financial reforms adopted by Congress after discovery of unregulated practices on Wall Street. Fischer said she would vote to repeal Obamacare as well as financial reform laws she says are hurting community banks.

In brief questioning by reporters, someone asked if Kerrey's absence from Nebraska for the last 10 years made him a Carpetbagger. He said there was no name-calling the first time he left the state and returned to a hero's welcome as a decorated and disabled veteran of the Vietnam conflict. Fischer avoided being dragged into the fray by acknowledging only that Kerrey is the Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate seat from Nebraska.

Did we mention that Fair officials assembled 1,140 tractors for the parade to set a new world's record?

Drought puts water issues at forefront

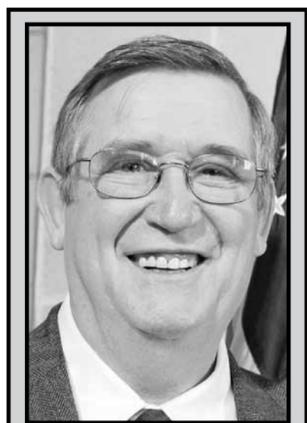

I want to give all of you an update on the status of my administrative assistant, Beverly Neel, who broke her ankle almost five weeks ago.

Beverly went back to the doctor this week and her break is healing nicely. She is starting physical therapy this week, and is hopeful that she will be able to use a walking boot in three weeks. Our thoughts and prayers continue to be with Beverly while she recovers.

Due to the extended drought, water issues have come to the forefront this year, numerous questions have been asked regarding who has the authority to oversee and manage these issues or concerns. Ultimately, while the legislature has, in the past, made laws and set parameters addressing water issues, a majority of the authority to carry out water management lays with our Natural Resource Districts (NRD).

Our area of the state has been blessed for years in the sense that we have not been forced to deal with controversial water issues that have plagued other parts of our state. Throughout the state, areas that are deemed to be fully appropriated, or over-appropriated, in the amount of irrigation allowed, have been required to implement Integrated Management Plans to protect this precious liquid resource. The Lower Elkhorn and the Papio-Missouri resource districts serve Legislative District 17. Neither are required to have one of these plans, but both are starting the process to develop Voluntary Integrated Management Plans to better address water concerns. It is important to understand that this is a lengthy process and both the Lower Elkhorn and the Papio-Missouri NRDs are in the very early stages. Both are looking to develop plans that will manage the water in their districts as well as work with other districts to better manage the basin as a whole.

The Lower Elkhorn NRD is planning on it taking at least three, and possibly up to five years, to develop and implement the plan they come up with. They are also looking at developing and modifying rules and regulations this winter to help address immediate concerns. Adjusting rules and regulations this winter could better position the district to handle water management issues, if next year is anything like this year has been. They have already decided that they will not allow any new irrigated acres in 2013 because of the drastic decline in groundwater seen this year. The Lower Elkhorn NRD will be holding meetings this winter to get input from the public on what issues need to be addressed. I would encourage you, the public, to take part in these meetings and share your ideas and frustrations with the folks who will make these decisions.

The Papio-Missouri NRD is taking another route; they have decided to hire a firm to help guide them through the process of developing a plan. Presently, they have interviewed and selected a firm to work with and are working on an agreement with them. Once the firm is hired, they too will start the process of developing a plan to address the needs of their district.

This year has been difficult for those with irrigation wells and domestic wells alike due to the extreme drought. It may not seem like much is being done to prevent these issues from occurring again, but both the Lower Elkhorn and Papio-Missouri NRDs are trying to look to the future. This will more than likely mean changes in future years and change is not always easy or welcome but there are times when it is necessary. We need to be open to reasonable changes that will help protect the future of our water supply. It is no great secret that I do not always agree with the actions of our NRD boards, but that is where the authority seems to lay on this important issue. It is vital, particularly if you have a private well of any kind, that you, as a citizen of Nebraska, be involved in this process. Make your feelings known to the NRD Boards (not just your neighbor). You are, in the end, the ones who regulate the regulators.

As always, if we can be of any assistance, contact our office at (402) 471-2716 or e-mail dbloomfield@leg.ne.gov.

Social-emotional skills must be taught Engagements

Children go to school to learn, but parents and caregivers should be teaching their children social-emotional skills long before the kids get to pre-school. Social-emotional skills are skills that help children know how to behave in social settings and how to express and handle emotion.

For children to succeed in school, children need to know how to follow directions. To learn this skill, start with something simple like "Take your plate and put it in the dishwasher." Repetition helps with learning instruction. Another example is playing a game because they must follow the rules.

Children must also know how to pay attention in a classroom. Reading a book or performing one activity for extended periods of time helps children gradually increase their attention span. As children are expanding their attention span, adults may have to help children. For example, adults could show children many different ways of stacking blocks and encourage them as they play with the blocks.

Another crucial skill is knowing

Kim Bearnes

how to share and take turns, which helps them be considerate of others. Parents and caregivers must guide children through this process so that children understand the importance of sharing. Instead of saying, "We need to share," and grabbing a toy away from the child, adults need to explain why they must share and set a good example by doing it themselves.

Children must also learn how to solve problems with words instead of getting angry. A child who screams and yells does not know how to express his or her emotion in a healthy way. Instead of immediately scolding children for losing their temper, ask them what they could have done instead of getting angry. Then have them practice the right behavior.

For younger children, learning can be done with praise. Children need about five positive interactions to every negative interaction to keep on learning. Do not just scold them for doing wrong; praise them for doing something right. However, if a child has a negative behavior, such as biting or kicking, he or she will need 13 positive interactions for every negative interaction to change that behavior.

At the core of teaching children social-emotional skills is parents and caregivers building relationships with their children. Adults build relationships with children by spending time with them and paying attention to them. Talk and listen to your child and get to know his or her likes and dislikes. Laugh and joke with them. Give them chances to make decisions, such as which shirt they want to wear to school, to help them understand the importance of making their own decisions.

Parents and caregivers should keep in mind that children need time to learn, so adults must provide patient reminders and explanations repeatedly over a period of time. Adults must also consistently model good and healthy behavior for the children.

In the end, children cannot be expected to behave like adults because they are still kids. What is important is that they learn age-appropriate social-emotional skills that help them make friends, work well with others and succeed in school.

Titus focus of Praise Assembly messages

The congregation at Praise Assembly of God at 1000 East 10th Street is enjoying a series of messages from the book of Titus.

Rev. Jason Pickering is preaching this sermon series and discussing how the Lord uses individuals in His plan - and also how the Lord moves in churches as He accomplishes His will in communities. A core principle in this process is that we, as individual believers, continually give ourselves to God as living sacrifices. God can then use us as partners with Him in his loving work in the lives of people.

The community is encouraged to visit Praise Assembly this weekend. A time of fellowship and coffee always precedes Sunday School at 9:15 a.m. and the classes for all ages begin at 9:30 a.m. Cindy Staub teaches the children and the adult class meets in Room 3. This class has been considering the subject "How We Got the Bible" for the past few weeks.

In the morning worship service that begins at 10:30 a.m., there is always a time of Praise and Worship, some time for prayer for individuals with needs, and a message from Rev. Jason Pickering.

The Sunday evening gathering is called "Life-Point". It is a one-hour service that opens with a time of worship and a teaching on the subject of "Prayer". The service concludes with a time of corporate prayer. Prayer is the backbone of any ministry and the congregation not only uses the time on Sunday evening to pray, but also has a time for "Open Come-and-Go Prayer" at the church on Saturday evenings.

The Wednesday evening Adult Bible Study is a series entitled "Let's Trust the Bible". It is centered on a literal interpretation of the Bible, with specific attention to the account of the Creation and the Flood in the book of Genesis. This Study starts at 7 p.m.

Watch The Wayne Herald for a special announcement about the "Kids' Ministry" that is beginning soon on Wednesday evenings at Praise Assembly of God.

All those without a church home are encouraged to come and visit.

BISPHOSPHONATE THERAPY AND THE ORAL CAVITY

What are bisphosphonates?
 Bisphosphonates are a class of drugs that are used to prevent bone loss and weakening. Some of these drugs can be taken by mouth, while others must be given intravenously at a hospital or clinic. Are there side effects to my mouth from taking these drugs?

Yes, there is an important but rare side effect you should know about. Less than five years ago, doctors began reporting cases of individuals having difficulty healing after undergoing tooth extraction or other invasive dental procedures, a phenomenon called osteonecrosis of the jaw. The only common factor in these patients was that they were taking bisphosphonate drugs. As a result, most doctors agree that there is an association between osteonecrosis of the jaw and bisphosphonates.

What can I do to avoid this condition if I am taking bisphosphonates?
 You should discuss with your dentist ways to minimize the risk of needing invasive procedures (extractions and oral surgery).

Frequent professional cleanings, attention to home care, and careful observation of any changes in your mouth are a good start. It is best to attempt to preserve teeth, rather than extract them. The best scenario is one where dental work is planned and executed before therapy with bisphosphonates is started.

Should I stop taking my bisphosphonates before dental procedures?
 No. Not without the advice or instruction by your physician. These drugs have been shown to be stored within the bones and slowly released over time. It is believed that, even when not taking the medications, the drugs can persist in the bone. There is no evidence that stopping the medication will reduce the risk of developing osteonecrosis of the jaw.

Beef is theme for Husker Harvest Days

"Strengthening the State of Beef" is the theme for University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources' exhibits at this year's Husker Harvest Days show near Grand Island. The show is Sept. 11-13.

The old Nebraska saying of "More cattle than people" holds true in many ways: On average, there are 2.3 million head of cattle on feed in Nebraska and more than 5 million cattle are fed and marketed here each year. It is the state's single largest industry.

"One out of every five steaks produced in the U.S. is from Nebraska, so Nebraska has a well-deserved reputation as 'The Beef State,'" said Ronnie Green, NU vice president and IANR Harlan vice chancellor.

"UNL and IANR are working to strengthen that industry both here and nationally through research and education focused on beef nutrition, breeding improvements, resource stewardship, animal care, food safety and producer profitability," he said.

This is the fifth year that IANR teaching, research and extension exhibits at Husker Harvest Days focus on a specific area of importance that is relevant to all Nebraskans, and visitors to the Husker Red exhibit building on the south side of the showground at Lot 321 will see lots of ways IANR and UNL Extension are working to strengthen the state's beef industry.

Key exhibit areas focus on the economic impacts of beef in Nebraska, the state's single largest industry with a $12.1 billion annual economic impact; UNL's global leadership in beef breeding practices; reproduction and proper management of prenatal nutrition to improve calf health and lifelong performance of the animal; and innovative pasture and forage management to improve herd performance and profitability while sustaining the health and value of grasslands and rangelands.

Others examine stewardship and animal care, food safety and feedlot nutrition.

"Nutrition is part of Nebraska's unique combination of cattle, corn and ethanol production that attracts millions of cattle from other states to be fed out prior to harvest. Our research on distillers grains, a co-product of ethanol production, is helping improve cattle performance, while adding value to our state's corn production," Green said.

Outreach education also will be prominent within the exhibits.

"We provide a wide range of education and management information for cattle producers and much of this uses a systems approach to help producers adopt a holistic perspective that integrates cattle, natural resources, range and economics into their decision-making," Green said.

The Husker building's central information booth will help answer questions on a variety of extension and research-related topics, provide copies of helpful NebGuides and direct those needing further help to extension experts in their area.

The Husker building is also the place to learn about the latest opportunities for students at UNL's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, and at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis. College representatives are available throughout the show to answer questions from potential students. Those interested in the Nebraska LEAD (Leadership Education Action Development) program also can visit with a LEAD representative.

New this year, a large tent just east of the Husker building will be filled with information on careers and career activities and provide samples of some of the latest cuts of beef. UNL Extension's mobile beef lab will be located there too, along with IANR's Market Journal team.

IANR has been part of Husker Harvest Days since the first show in 1978.

"We hope people stop to see us each year," Green said. "To see what's new, and to tell us what they think, and what they see as Nebraska's main challenges and concerns. As the people's land-grant university, our focus is always on how we can best be at work for Nebraska."

Wayne-Dixon Thrivent Chapter set to meet

Wayne-Dixon County Chapter No. 30268, Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, will meet on Saturday, Sept. 8 at 12 p.m. at Tacos & More in Wayne.

This meeting is open to all benefit and associate members as well as anyone interested in learning what Thrivent has to offer for life and health insurance and investment opportunities.

Wayne-Dixon County Chapter No. 30268 of Thrivent Financial for Lutherans will hold its annual meeting at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne on Sunday, Oct. 28 with a catered meal at 5 p.m. and business meeting at 6 p.m. Thrivent Financial representatives will be on hand to answer questions. There are a lot of changes coming to the Thrivent organization and this would be a good time to learn what those may be.

One change foreseen is including anyone who may not be of the Lutheran faith, but is a Christian. By addressing this matter, those members who are not Lutherans will be given the opportunity to designate their Thrivent Choice Dollars to organizations connected to their own Christian faith.

Any changes are subject to the vote of members and may not occur until 2013.

In 2011 alone, an exceedingly large amount of Thrivent Choice Dollars went undesignated by members and could not be carried over to the 2012 programs.

This annual meeting will make every attempt to explain the Thrivent Choice Dollars program so anyone having the opportunity to designate where the dollars may be applied, will have a better understanding. The Thrivent Choice Dollars are not funds taken from benefit members investments, etc., but rather funds the National organization makes available in order to keep their tax exempt status.

This meeting is open to all benefit and associate members of Thrivent as well as anyone who is interested in knowing what Thrivent Financial has to offer.

Letters have been sent to all ten sister congregations of the Chapter. Please contact Beverly Neel, Chapter Records Director at (402) 369-0152 if you plan to attend the annual meeting.

streets in Lincoln.

The former secretaries participating are Nebraska's U.S. Sen. Mike Johanns, Nebraska native Clayton Yeutter, John Block and Dan Glickman.

Scholarship donation

Jim Bauerly, general manager of Pepsi Cola of Siouxsland presented a check for $1,045 to complete the $10,000 endowment of a Pepsi scholarship with the Wayne State Foundation. Pepsi has just recently been awarded a contract with Wayne State to provide beverage and vending service for the next seven years. The scholarship gift was above and beyond the contract. As part of the contract, Pepsi will also be providing a one-time payment to the college of $120,000. That amount, in combination with other funds, is being used to air condition the Rec Center. Design of the Rec Center project will begin soon, with completion expected next summer. From left are: Kevin Armstrong, Wayne State Foundation director of planned giving, Jim Bauerly, Curt Frye, Wayne State College President, and Jean Dale, vice president for administration and finance at Wayne State College.

Praying for a miracle for good friends

The Big Farmer has been following the convention, in between Royals baseball games. I used to do that, but I just cannot get excited about them anymore; they are so scripted. BTW, Alex had a home run tonight; now, that's exciting!

Of course, Mike will soon have a smorgasbord of football and volleyball games to keep him entertained. And doesn't Nebraska's volleyball team look exciting? They had us worried in that game with UCLA, but pulled it out in the fifth set.

Five weeks ago tonight, our friend, Jim Krajicek, came home from work at Chief Industries in Grand Island complaining of a headache. Soon, his speech was unintelligible, and his wife, Theresa, called 911. At St. Francis Hospital that evening, a neurosurgeon from Laurel, Dr. Anderson, took him to surgery and stopped a bleed and removed a clot. There followed tense days in the ICU, and the establishment of a Caring Bridge website.

Two weeks ago tomorrow, Jim

By: Pat Meierhenry

was transferred to Madonna Rehab Hospital here in Lincoln. I've always said they work miracles there. Well, we definitely need a miracle. Jim has not waked up yet. He has all the proper reflexes, and sometimes, we see a smile. Occasionally, an eye will open and try to focus. But most of the time, he just lays in bed or sits in a special wheelchair.

If you've been reading The Farmer's Wife for a few years, you know that the Krajiceks were our good neighbors on the farm, right across the road. Jim was in high school with Sue and Jon. He followed his big brothers to Peru State and played football for the Bobcats. He met and married a lovely girl who was also a PSC graduate. They have five children.

Jim is 48 years old. His specialty is environment. That's his job. But his real specialty is making friends. You meet him, you are a friend. I have been amazed at the messages on the Bridge; there are thousands! Old friends from high school and college have been coming out of the wood work. If his recovery depended on prayers alone, he would be out of the hospital by now.

As you can imagine, we are trying hard to wait on God's timing. I read in a biography of John Wooden that his wife had a heart attack during a hip replacement surgery and was in a coma for three months. Then, she woke up. Please include Jim Krajicek in your prayers; that he will be restored to health, if it is God's will. Thank you.

Corn producers need to be award of aflatoxin and insurance and insurance coverage

The following information has been compiled by Extension Educator Tim Lemmons out of the Northeast Research and Extension Center in Norfolk.

Crop producers are or will be receiving notices from their crop insurance agents and the RMA concerning levels of aflatoxin in harvested grain. During drought, the potential for aflatoxin increases, thus putting the producer's insurance policy at risk. The guidelines from the RMA concerning aflatoxin levels and insurance coverage are as follows (from RMA website):

The impact of high levels of aflatoxin varies from a discount in price to the requirement to destroying the grain. If you think your insured crop has aflatoxin, contact your crop insurance agent before you harvest the grain; put the grain in storage; or deliver it for sale. Your insurance provider will: take samples for testing; and submit them to an approved aflatoxin testing facility.

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi

Because aflatoxin can worsen in storage, aflatoxin losses are only insurable if: the grain is tested at an approved testing facility before being moved into commercial or on-farm storage; or your insurance provider asks you to leave representative sample areas of the un-harvested crop for taking samples for testing.

Losses not covered under the crop insurance policy include: losses due to increases in the aflatoxin level while in farm storage, losses that cannot be determined because proper testing was not completed.

Testing facilities meeting the criteria below can be considered "approved testing facilities" for crop insurance.

1. A certified facility must be able to perform quantitative tests on grain, itemizing results in parts per million (ppm) and parts per billion (ppb). Test kits used must be certified by the Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration (www.gipsa.usda.gov/fgis/svcpro.html).

2. The facility must be a recognized commercial, government, or university testing lab that uses industry-recognized sample sizes, equipment, and procedures for testing aflatoxin.

3. The facility must be a disinterested testing facility. The facility must not be involved in buying or selling the type of grain that is being tested.

The compensation for infected grain runs on a sliding scale; however, corn that is contaminated at levels greater than 20 ppb (parts per billion) may not be sold for interstate commerce. It may be fed to livestock – so long as FDA guidelines on blending are followed. Any grain at 300 ppb or greater must be destroyed.

Ag Secretary Vilsack extends Emergency Grazing to assist ranchers impacted by summer drought Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has announced a two-month extension for emergency grazing on Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acres, freeing up forage and feed for ranchers as they look to recover from this challenging time. This flexibility for ranchers marks the latest action by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to provide assistance to producers impacted by the drought, which has included opening CRP and other conservation acres to emergency haying and grazing.

To assist producers, USDA is permitting farmers and ranchers in drought stricken states that have been approved for emergency grazing to extend grazing on CRP land through Nov. 30, 2012, without incurring an additional CRP rental payment reduction. The period normally allowed for emergency grazing lasts through Sept. 30. The extension applies to general CRP practices. New grazing requests should be submitted to Farm Service Agency (FSA) field offices indicating the acreage to be grazed. USDA's continuing efforts to add feed to the marketplace benefits all livestock producers, including dairy, during this drought.

The extension of emergency grazing on CRP acres does not apply to the following environmentally sensitive practices: CP8A-Grass Waterway-Non-Easement; CP23-Wetland Restoration; CP23A-Wetland Restoration-Non-Floodplain; CP27-Farmable Wetlands Pilot Wetland; CP28-Farmable Wetlands Pilot Buffer; CP37-Duck Nesting Habitat; and CP41-FWP Flooded Prairie Wetlands.

Wayne State Explorers Club hosts Dean Jacobs

The Wayne State College Explorers Club presents "All Things Amazon," a presentation by Dean Jacobs, Wayne State College 2011 Alumni of the Year, in the Student Center, Frey Conference Suite on Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 4 p.m.

His presentation highlights discoveries and challenges of a six-month journey exploring the Amazon River of South America from source to mouth.

Since 2001, Dean Jacobs has spent four and half years traversing across the globe exploring over 51 countries on a low budget adventure, propelled by a desire to understand the world we share.

Jacobs was born in Wahoo. After living on a farm, his family moved to Fremont. He graduated from Wayne State College, earning a degree in biology, with minors in earth science and art. After graduating, he worked in the administration of Wayne State College as the assistant to the president, before moving on to Purina Mills. Eventually, this path led him to Pfizer Pharmaceuticals where he was employed in sales/marketing for 10 years.

After a great deal of soul searching, Jacobs left the security of corporate America, and decided to pursue other dreams. This was the beginning of a process that would lead to a travelling adventure that would span 22 months and cover 28 countries.

Jacobs recently completed a six-month journey of exploring the Amazon River and rain forest of South America.

For more information, visit www.deanjacobs.org or contact: Dean Jacobs by cell phone, (402) 719-7083 or e-mail dean@deanjacobs.org or for more information, please call (402) 375-7325.

Historical Society
As soon as the first settlers arrived in Dixon County, it became necessary to establish local boundaries to minimize the danger of conflicting property lines.

The first survey was made in 1857 under federal government contract. The Survey established township boundaries. Later the townships were subdivided into sections and quarter corners and sixteenth corners were laid out as the necessary arose. Early surveys were made under different conditions. The equipment was hard to move over the rough uninhabited country.

The equipment was quite different from that used today. A chain 66 ft. long, which consisted of 100 links each 7.92 inches long, was the principal instrument used. Much of the inaccuracy of early day land measurement could be attributed to the wear on the links of the chain as it was dragged through sand, dust and mud from one place to another.

1948-49 blizzard is subject of Neihardt program on Sept. 16

On Sunday, Sept. 16 at 2 p.m., writer Marita Placek of Lynch, Nebraska will present a program on the "Great Plains Blizzard of 1948-49."

From November 1948 through January 1949, Nebraska experienced over 1,700 telephone poles downed, numerous trains stranded, and thousands of cattle smothered in one of the worst winters on record, rivaling the great 1880 storms.

According to the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources: "During the winter of 1948-1949, parts of the State had received more than 100 inches of snow. The Wau-sa/Bloomfield area received a total of 90 inches. One area in Antelope County had drifts that reached over 35 feet and didn't melt until June." The U.S. Air Force ran many emergency hay-lifts and other runs of food and fuel supplies.

While the snow made it a miserable winter, the spring of 1949 brought widespread flooding and further devastation. It was a rough year all around.

Using slides and display of photographs and artifacts, freelance writer Marita Placek will present personal stories and anecdotes. Placek writes for the Norfolk Daily News, several weekly small town newspapers, and the Lynch News on KBRX radio. She contributes to the magazine Living Here on local history and people from northeast Nebraska and South Dakota.

The Blizzard of 1948-49 appeared first as an article in Living Here. Another recent story, on John Neihardt, appeared in the 2011 Fall issue. Her most recent project is a book entitled, "Legends and Lore of the Outlaw Trail," an area which is part of the Highway 12 Scenic Byway.

She and her husband Willard volunteer at the Lynn Theatre in Lynch as part of a group who keep the theater open with affordable ticket prices. They live on a farm near Lynch.

The Neihardt State Historic Site is located at 306 W. Elm Street, in Bancroft. The program begins at 2 p.m., followed by a reception. The event is free and open to the public. For more information contact (888) 777-4667 or e-mail neihardt@gpcom.net.
