Close call in Boston bombing

Ruhl family just misses finish-line explosions as daughter runs in first Boston Marathon Monday

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

The Ruhl family was just returning to their hotel Monday afternoon after watching a family member compete in the Boston Marathon.

As they walked in, a television in the lobby was tuned into a Boston TV station that was breaking news about the race that Rocky and Sylvia Ruhl's daughter, Regan, had just finished. And they couldn't believe what they were seeing.

"My thought was just 'Wow, this can't happen here," Rocky Ruhl said as he and his family, including son Reggie, watched the aftermath of two bombs that had exploded near the finish line during the annual world-reknown marathon.

Regan Ruhl, a 2007 Wayne High graduate, had qualified for the Boston Marathon after competing last year in the Lincoln Marathon. Needing a time of 3 hours, 35 minutes, to qualify for Boston in her age group, she made it with three minutes to spare.

A claims professional for Berkshire Hatha-Boston Marathon by running 5-6 miles during the week and 10-15 on the weekend. The training was challenging, but she said it was more than worth it once they hit the streets Monday.

"It was pretty sweet," she said by phone Monday evening. "There aren't any spots along the route where people aren't cheering you on. There are some nice colleges that you run by, and kids are cheering and have music playing, so it keeps you encouraged."

With almost 27,000 runners from all over the world competing in the marathon, the Ruhls said it was impossible for them to see each other along the route.

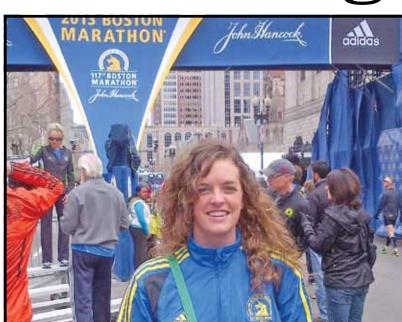

"Seeing those 27,000 runners coming down, you're just in awe of it all," Rocky Ruhl said. "The race is more of a straight line in, and we didn't know the course well enough to move very much. I was at the 24th mile, and Reggie and Sylvia were down closer to the finish.

"I didn't see my family out there," Regan Ruhl way's Homestate company, Ruhl trained for the added. "Everybody had different signs up to show support, but there were just too many people out there. We were constantly surrounded by > Regan Ruhl ran the race in 3 hours, 35 minutes and 31 seconds, placing 9,968th out of 26,839 runners. Among women, she was 2,658th out of 11,606 female competitors.

> "I felt pretty good," she said of her effort. "I was pretty sore out there. It's one of the toughest courses, but I ran pretty well and my time ended up being pretty good for the course and with how many hills there are."

After the race, runners are moved around the block from the finish line to a finishing area, where they can retrieve their bags and meet their families. The Ruhls were reunited there between 30-45 minutes before the explosions and made the short walk back to their hotel.

Upside-down April we're having, eh?

Bo and Emily Armstrong's upsidedown snowman is a perfect illustration of the kind of spring weather we are having in Wayne County and Northeast Nebraska. A hail shower was followed by sleet and freezing drizzle, with a healthy dusting of snow to top it all off late last week. Rumor has it that spring-like conditions are on the horizon, but as unusual as this spring's weather has been lately, local residents will believe the weatherman's prediction when they see it.

Parking?

Wayne residents received a survey card this week about overnight parking on streets. Here's a little background:

In the mid 1960's, at the request of residents in the area around the campus, the Wayne City Council passed an ordinance prohibiting overnight parking on most streets in Wayne. The reasoning at the time was that more students were bringing cars to college and leaving them parked long term along the streets. For residences near the campus, the cars seldom moved from the streets. Guests at homes in the area had few places close to park and snow removal was more complicated in the winter.

In the May 9, 2000 primary election, there was a special election issue on the city ballot to rescind the ban on overnight parking on the streets. Wayne voters did not approve the repeal.

Recently, there have been a number of contacts regarding a revisit of the issue. Since parking in Wayne is a common discussion topic, the mayor asked us to find a sense of the public about overnight parking. We chose the mail return card sent to every residential utility address and will make the results of the informal survey available to the mayor and council and to the public.

Please take a moment and return the card with your opinion.

"I had finished and went through the finishing area and got my medal and my belongings, and we walked back," Regan Ruhl said.

Before walking into their hotel, Mr. Ruhl said he could make out the sounds of sirens, not realizing what had happened just down the street.

"There was a lot of noise going on at the time, and we heard sirens and ambulances as we were getting back to the hotel," he said. "We saw it on the TV and thought they were doing a report from the finish line, and they said that a couple of bombs had exploded."

The first bomb went off in front of a sporting goods store that the Ruhls had visited a day earlier.

"Regan purchased a jacket from that sports store the day before, and we had walked by it a couple of times, so it was really weird to know that you were there before that hap-

Wayne gets Tree City USA honors

Wayne was named a 1021 Tree City USA by the Arbor Day Foundation in honor of its commitment to effective urban forest management.

This is the 22nd year Wayne has earned the national designation. Wayne achieved Tree City USA recognition by meeting the program's four requirements: a tree board or department, a tree-care ordinance, an annual community forestry budget of at least $2 per capita and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the Arbor Day Foundation, in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters.

"Everyone benefits when elected officials, volunteers and committed citizens in communities like Wayne make smart investments in urban forests," said John Rosenow, founder and chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "Trees bring shade to our homes and beauty to our neighborhoods, along with numerous economic, social and environmental benefits."

Cleaner air, improved storm water management, energy savings and increased property values and commercial activity are among the benefits enjoyed by Tree City USA

County board accepts weed super's resignation

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners will be looking for a new weed superintendent after longtime superintendent Marlin Schuttler turned in his resignation earlier 31this month.

The board unanimously accepted Schuttler's resignation during Tuesday's meeting of the county 9board. The one-sentence resignation by Schuttler did not give a specific reason for his deciding to step down, according to board chairman Dean Burbach.

23.96 The board moved to go ahead and advertise for the position, with applications due on Friday, May 3. The board is meeting a day earlier than normal in its first May meeting, and board members expressed optimism that a good list of candidates would be available by the board's scheduled Monday, May 6

As to when a new superintendent will be hired, a lot of it depends on the number of applications that are received by the board.

"If we only get a couple, we can interview them fairly soon, but if we get 40 or 50, we're not going to be able to review them in one or two days," board member Kelvin Wurdeman said. "We'll know how many applicants we have (on May 6) and can then determine when to interview them."

Burbach said that Schuttler has told him that he would stay on until a replacement is named.

Meeting as the county's Board of Equalization, the board decided to hold off until its May 21 meeting a final decision on a tax exemption

The board had originally granted a tax exemption to the group, but that decision was questioned by the Nebraska Department of Revenue, according to county assessor Dawn Duffy. According to the state, a tax exemption can only be granted to a charitable, religious or educational organization, and they questioned whether the city's movie theater falls under those guidelines.

Jeff Morlock, speaking on behalf of the Forward Wayne group, asked the board for an extension so they could further research their status. He noted that several local organizations take care of concession sales and receive profits from those sales for their work.

from Kardell Industrial Park Lift Station to the south end of Pick Industrial Park.

City administrator Lowell Johnson told the council that a hook-up fee will be charged rather than an assessment, as would have been the case had a sewer extension district been created in the area when the work was completed. The fee will be based on the lot frontage and can be paid to the city over a 10-year period with a 4 percent interest rate.

Considerable discussion took place on whether or not to amend the city housing construction loan incentives

At issue was the change from Energy Star requirements in regard to energy efficient building to a Home Energy Rating System (HERS). Several council members requested the agenda item be tabled until further research could be done on the subject.

The incentives available to builders in the community are for both single-family homes and apartment complexes.

Acting as the Community Development Agency, council members moved forward with amendments to the TIF building requirements for the city of Wayne.

All work that is valued at $30,000 or above and assessed to the lot will need to follow TIF bidding requirements. Any work that is done in the city right-of-way is required to follow state statutes in regard to the bid

No action was taken on amending a request from Kelby Herman to purchase two additional lots in the Western Ridge II Subdivision.

An earlier agreement with Herman allowed him to purchase five lots in the subdivision to be eligible for a discount if all are developed and an occupancy permit is obtained within a 30-month time frame.

Council members questioned the need to give a discount to lots priced at $5,000.

Lou Benscoter, with Benscoter Construction, told the council that "he is tired of competing with reduced lot prices. If you are going to give a discount to others, then you should give a discount to me."

After debate, the CDA voted to table the issue until a future meeting.

At the start of the meeting, Mayor Chamberlain read two proclamations. The first designates Friday, April 25 as Arbor Day in Wayne, and the second recognizes the week of May 5-11 as Municipal Clerk's Week.

The final items on Tuesday's agenda included accepting the resignation of Ward 1 Council member Jim Van Delden, and declaring a notice of vacancy in that ward Mayor Chamberlain has 30 days to bring a name to the council for consideration

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, May 7 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

New NSAA playoffs make sense

If you've read this column more than once, you know that The Bleacher Bum is only too willing to criticize, roast and otherwise make light of some of the decisions that are made by the Nebraska School Activities Association.

The school administrators, athletic directors and professionals that make up this governing body of high school athletics has made some real mind-bending moves over the years, prompting some (myself included) to refer to its acronym with the phrase "No Sense At All."

Hang on to your socks, folks – the NSAA has made a decision that is, without a doubt - an outstanding one. (Allow me to pause while you let that last sentence sink in for a minute . . . are we good? OK, moving on . . .)

Last week, the decision was made to reduce the playoff field in Class C-1 and C-2 football from the current 32-team behemoth to a 16-team bracket. That's right the days of 8-0 teams playing PI-NO (playoff in name only) games against 2-6 teams who should have already hung up the shoulder pads, but need to feel good about the lousy season they had by being called a "playoff" team, will be no more after the coming school year.

We will be in the second year of a two-year scheduling cycle for football, so we'll have to deal with the mega-bracket format for one more season. Beginning in the fall of 2014, teams will play nine regularseason games instead of eight, and you'll actually have to win more games than you lose in order to make it to the playoffs.

If the new system was in place last year, 2-7 Wayne would have been nowhere near making the playoffs. In fact, only two teams with 5-3 records (Chadron, a district champion; and Valentine, who would have been the lowest of the six wild cards) would have been in the round of 16.

And, in a related move that amazing enough – also makes sense, the C-1 and C-2 brackets will not be split based on geography. The days of trying to determine whether or not Norfolk Catholic or Pierce will be on the same side or opposite sides of the bracket are done. If Chadron has to travel to Falls City – that's the breaks. (Actually, Chadron would have had to go to Boone Central/Newman Grove, while Falls City would have played at Adams Central in Hastings, so the reward for playing a team at home that travels a long way would have been in play).

The eight-man brackets will still be saddled with the 32-team insane asylum that will leave a lot of sub-.500 teams playing games they need not play, but cutting the playoff field in half for the smaller 11-man schools is a huge, long-overdue step in the right direction.

We all know that the 32-team setup, in classes with only 50-52 schools, is nothing more than a feel-good money-grab round of games where the outcome is all but a forgone conclusion (although, in Wayne's defense, they put up a whale of an effort as a lower seed on the road at Fort Calhoun). Back before the NSAA discovered political correctness, it was a definite honor to make the playoffs in high school football. With only 16 teams in the smaller schools (and eight in Class A), you really had to treat every game as if it had a bearing on your playoff possibilities. In Class A, especially, one loss could literally make or break a season for a team. There were occasions when 8-1 teams failed to reach the "elite eight" in Class A, while 7-2 teams that played tougher schedules made it to the show

That's what playoff football SHOULD be about – the best of the best in each class, battling for a state title. Nothing is accomplished when an undefeated, topranked team has to open its playoffs against a sub-.500 team – especially field team has moved into the top 10 in the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association rankings after a solid showing Saturday at the Concordia Invitational in Seward.

Throwers Carly Fehringer, Lachel Milander and Sara Wells each hit NCAA automatic qualifying marks Saturday to lead the Wildcats, and Fehringer set a new school and NSIC standard in the hammer throw, solidifying her place as the nation's best in that event in Div. II.

Fehringer uncorked the first 200-foot heave in NSIC history, posting an NCAA automatic qualifying mark of 206 feet, 11 inches, to break Lachel Milander's school record - set two weeks ago at the Wildcat Classic - by more than 10 feet. The mark extended her lead as the best thrower in the nation in NCAA Div. II and earned her NSIC Field Athlete of the Week and USTFCCCA Div. II honorable mention athlete of the week honors. The throw was good for fifth-best all time in NCAA Div. II and exceeds the standard for qualifying for the USATF Outdoor Nationals that are scheduled for this summer.

Milander also hit the 200-foot mark in the hammer throw, finishing second at 200 feet, 11 inches. Emily Wells hit an NCAA provisional mark with her fourth-place finish of 180 feet, 7 inches, while Mackenzie Masching was sixth with a provisional throw of 170 feet, 9 inches.

Fehringer also placed fifth in the shot put, finishing behind teammate Sara Wells, who hit an NCAA automatic qualifying mark with her winning toss of 49 feet, 7 inches. Wells also placed third in the dis-

Michael Frericks threw a complete game four-hitter in the opener with 10 strikeouts, while Brandon Lalk went 2-for-3 with three RBI's to lead the Wildcats.

Wayne State trailed 2-0 before scoring three in the third to take the lead for good, highlighted by Brett Keim's two-out, two-run double. They added four more in the fifth, two coming on Lalk's homer, to put the game out of reach.

Keim was 2-for-4 with a double and two RBI's in the win, with C.J. Nolen and Curtis Bussard each adding two singles. Nolen scored The second game saw Wayne

The Wildcats used five hits and three walks in the big inning, highlighted by Michael Herman's two-run single along with an RBI double from Luke Abkes and an RBI single by Mike Servais.

Wayne State had 11 hits in the game. Abkes led a balanced attack at the plate for the Wildcats, going 2-for-3 with a double. Herman finished 2-for-3 with two RBI's, while Mike Servais and Kevin Andersen each went 2-for-3. # Wildcats finish 12th in NSIC

Freshman Blake Bauer shot a final round of 80 while Brad Lanman fired an 81 on Saturday to lead the Wayne State men's golf team in the final segment of the 2012-13 Northern Sun Conference Men's Golf Championship that concluded at Paradise Pointe Outlaw Course in Smithville, Mo.

As a team, the Wildcats were 12th with a 72-hole team score of 1,362, shooting team scores of 339 and 331 over the weekend.

Individually for Wayne State, Bauer was the top Wildcat finisher with a 72-hole total of 332, highlighted by his firstround 79. Lanman was next for the Wildcats at 341, capped by Saturday's round of 81. Garret Kuhl and Colin Preston each posted a four-round score of 366 to round out scoring for Wayne games moved to Omaha Westside High School.

In the opener, Wayne State rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh, helping Tadd Johansen remain unbeaten at 7-0 on the season after the complete-game win.

Wayne State used five hits in the decisive seventh inning to get the win. With one out, Tanner Lancaster singled to center to begin a streak of five straight hits for the Wildcats. Bussard singled through the right side, followed by a Blake Brisson single that scored Lancaster to even the score at 2-2. Kevin Andersen then followed with a tworun single up the middle that scored Bussard and Brisson, and Nolen had the final hit of the inning to cap the rally.

The second game saw a balanced attack, as four different players had two hits apiece, while three Wildcat pitchers teamed up to complete the WSC opened the scoring with two and two outs in the bottom of the runs in the second inning as Keim seventh inning for the walk-off win tripled and scored on Brandon Lalk's RBI single with Lalk later scoring on Bussard's single. UMD scored single runs in the second and fifth innings to tie the score at 2-2.

Wildcat relievers Nick Ragan and Trevor Reeves worked the final three innings after taking over for starter Tom Doran, and Reeves pitched the ninth to earn his second save of the season. Doran moved to 2-3 on the season with the win, working six innings. Bussard was 2-for-3 with two RBI's while Lancaster ended 2-for-3 with a triple and run scored to highlight an 11hit attack. Andersen and Lalk both added two hits. The Bulldogs returned the favor on Monday at Creighton University, sweeping Wayne State by scores of 1-0 and 6-4.

In the opener, Minnesota Duluth scored the only run of the game on a passed ball with the bases loaded State on Saturday and Sunday.

The Bulldogs had four hits while the Wildcats were only able to notch two, both by Brisson.

Both starting pitchers went the distance, as the Wildcats' Eric Schwieger suffered the loss, but struck out 10 in a losing effort.

Game two saw the Bulldogs score five runs in the bottom of the third inning to take the lead for good. Wavne State would cut into that deficit in the top of the fourth when Herman tripled to right center and scored on a Lancaster single. Bussard added a two-run single in the sixth, but it wasn't enough as the Bulldogs completed the Monday sweep. Herman went 4-for-4 in a losing effort.

Wayne State is 20-10 overall and 12-4 in NSIC action. They are on the road this weekend to face Northern if the two teams played earlier in the season and the better team blew the other team out.

Beginning in 2014, we will get that at all 11-man levels of high school football (and, hopefully, eight-man ball won't have to endure the bloated format much past 2015). Nebraska's football postseason will be a true best-of-the-best, survival-of-the-fittest format where the best teams in the state will battle for a state title.

While there have been a few upsets under the 32-team format over the years (two years ago, top-ranked Norfolk Catholic had to come from behind in the fourth quarter to win in the first round against a No. 16 seed), the oversized playoff format has been an embarrassment to Nebraska high school sports for far too long. It is good to see the NSAA has finally seen the joke for what it is and has made the sensible decision to cut the playoff field in half for Class C-1 and Class C-2.

Now, about this decision to extend the girls cross country runs from 4,000 to 5,000 meters to match the boys' races . . .

Time to get gardens ready for spring

The time has come to get vegeta- deners can test the moisture in also key to healthy vegetables. Too ble gardens ready for planting, and their soil with spades, screwdrivers, the ongoing drought could mean rebar or other similar items. Insert throughout the garden can result in more work to prepare soil.

Thorough and even soil moisture could make all the difference in a successful garden. University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator David Lott recommends testing the soil and maximizing water transport to ensure that the soil will yield healthy crops.

"When we think of vegetable crops, we have critical periods that we have to have adequate moisture," he said. "So we have to be thinking about a two to three week period before harvest and then right

This time is critical for plant and vegetable crop development and maturity, Lott said. If the soil moisture is inadequate, produce may not develop correctly or uniformly. Expected size, uniformity and taste may not be achieved. In some cases, inadequate moisture can lead to the drop of blossoms and early develop-the item into the soil and mark the level at which it hits dry soil. If the ground is moisturized at a minimum of six inches deep, it should be ready for planting. Lott said that moisture at levels as deep as one foot would be even better in most "People think they'll just let the water run everywhere for a few minutes and they're good," Lott said. "But the big thing is infiltration level."

Before making any changes, gar-

Lott said it is crucial to get moisture moving through garden soils, particularly following a year as dry as 2012. Sandy soils or clay do not transport water efficiently, so gardeners should incorporate some organic matter such as compost or decomposed hay or straw with a spade or potato fork. In clay soils, adding this material will break up the soil's density and increase drainage. It will also increase the water holding capacity of sandy soils.

Consistent and even watering is much variation in soil moisture disease like blossom end rot in tomatoes. Refer to NebGuide G1752, "Blossom End Rot in Tomatoes," available at a local UNL Extension office or online at ianrpubs.unl.edu/ sendIt/g1752.pdf, for more information on preventing this disease. For soil that is sufficiently saturated, mulch or row covers can cut down on weed pressure and moisture loss. Gardeners should also pay attention to the spacing of their plants.

"Wayne Rotary Club will be applying for a Future Visions Global Grant, worth at least $30,000 and up to $200,000. We already have generous support from two local agri-business corporation-foundations of $20,000 and up to $10,000 to match whatever we can raise. We are challenging Rotarians and friends to raise at least $10,000. This would bring our club contributions to $40,000, which could potentially bring our matched grant for building wells in Sudan to $80,000. Dare we dream? Perhaps $100,000 is within reach," Engebretsen said.

"This partnership is genuinely a two-way street. As Rotarians, we are making the most of our resources to support the people of South Sudan in the sustainable development of their nation. # NOTICE OF VACANCY

There is hereby created a vacancy in the office of Councilmember in Ward One. This position will be filled by mayoral appointment with Council approval of a current resident of Ward One of the City of Wayne. The unexpired term will end in December, 2014. Any resident interested in being appointed to fill that vacancy should contact the Mayor's office at (402) 375-1733.

City of Wayne, Nebraska

NOTICE

The Wayne Public Works Department wants to remind all residents that blowing lawn mower clippings into the street is prohibited and is a violation of City Code, Section 58-94. These grass clippings and other such debris left on the street will travel to the storm sewer inlet and can block them. The blocking of the inlets can cause local flooding from storm water accumulation.

Because the water from the storm sewers runs into Logan Creek, the grass clippings can negatively affect the creek with the chemical content in the grass from lawns that have been fertilized and treated with weed killer.

When mowing, please mow the first few rounds so that the grass blows in towards the lawn and when finished, sweep up the grass that has been thrown into the street.

We thank you for your cooperation during this mowing season. Garry Poutre, Supt. of Public Works & Utilities

GENERAL NOTICE

YOU ARE REQUIRED TO CONTROL NOXIOUS WEEDS ON YOUR PROPERTY

It shall be the duty of each owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any lot, tract or parcel of land in the city to cut and remove from such lot, tract, or parcel of land, together with half of the abutting streets or alleys, all weeds and other rank growth of vegetation 12 inches in height or greater. Such weeds and other rank growth of vegetation shall be cut as close to the ground level as possible and shall be maintained as close to the ground level as possible throughout the period of May 1 to October 15 of each year. Growing or permitting the growing of weeds or other rank growth of vegetation in violation of this subsection is a nuisance and is prohibited.

It shall be unlawful for any owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any premises described in subsection (a) of this section to allow to grow or to maintain any weeds or other rank growth of vegetation 12 inches in height or greater so as to be injurious to the public health, declared to be noxious by the state, conducive to fires or combustion, or creating a nuisance

The Superintendent of Public Works & Utilities shall cause to be published in a legal newspaper of general circulation throughout the city a general notice to owners, agents, occupants or persons in possession, charge or control of real estate within the city to cut and remove weeds and other rank growth of vegetation from such premises. The notice shall specify that the weeds and other rank growth of vegetation shall be cut as close to the ground level as possible throughout the period of May 1 to October 15.

The Supt. of Public Works & Utilities is authorized and empowered to notify, in writing, the owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any such lot, place or area within the city to cut, destroy and remove any such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthful growths, or other noxious matter, found growing, lying or located on such property. Such notice shall be by United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to such owner, agent, occupant or person at his last known address, or shall be served personally Upon the failure, neglect or refusal of any such owner, agent, occupant or person in possession so notified to cut, destroy and remove such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthful growths, or other noxious matter, growing, lying or located upon such property, within five days after personal service of the written notice provided for in subsection (d) of this section or within seven days after the mailing date of such notice, the public works superintendent is authorized and empowered to pay for the cutting, destroying and removal of such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthful growths or other noxious matter, or to order the removal by the city. The cost of any such cutting, destroying or removing shall be at the expense of the owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of such property. If the costs of cutting, destroying or removing weeds and other rank growth of vegetation and costs of removing any refuse, debris or other obstructions to permit such cutting are unpaid for two months, the city clerk shall certify to the county treasurer the amount of such expense; and such expense shall become a lien on the property upon which the removal measures were taken as a special assessment levied on the date of such measures. The county treasurer shall add such expense to and it shall become and form a part of the taxes on such land and shall bear interest at the same rate as taxes. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit satisfaction of the obligation imposed by this section in whole or in part by tax foreclosure. The expense may be collected by suit instituted for the purpose as a debt due the city or by any other or additional remedy otherwise available. Amounts collected under this section shall be paid over to the City Treasurer.

Week of the Young Child

Young children deserve the best we can give them.

Week of the Young Child, April 14–20, is a time to recognize the needs of young children and thank the adults involved in their education and care. This is a time to reach out and thank parents, teachers, caregivers and other adults as they play important roles in the lives of young children. Do your part to support the licensed childcare and preschool organizations in your area, as well as educational opportunities that support parents. Week of the Young Child is a time to celebrate their efforts.

Children are born ready and eager to learn. The goal of school readiness is to support ALL children entering kindergarten with the skills. knowledge, health and attitude to be successful lifelong learners. "Ready children" have families and caregivers who support learning in the early years. "Ready schools" seek to meet the individual needs of every age-eligible child, regardless of their abilities. Children in Nebraska are entitled to a free and public education the year they turn five on or before July 31.

How can we help children be ready for school?

- Promote healthy habits through a balanced diet and plenty of activ-

- Encourage social and emotional well-being by helping children learn how to take care of their own needs, play with others, learn to share and cooperate, express emotions and especially how to control their own behaviors and reactions.

- Helping them learn to pay attention, make choices and follow di-

- Support literacy by reading and talking to your child every day about words you see and do, practice writing and drawing and listening to the sounds in words.

– You can also help your child by working on a task until it is done so they get to experience this in a playful, fun way.

- Seek community resources if you have a question about a child's development, birth to age five, as early intervention is critical to help children progress on the path to school success.

Good early experiences for our youngest children are critical to our future. Children need a strong early learning foundation to succeed in school and in life. For more information, check out these websites:

Michael Carnes' thoughts on chickens in "Don't Get Me Started" (April 11) . . . well, it got ME started. Most times I agree with your thinking; however, with this article I believe you simply didn't do any homework.

I'll condense some facts from Pacricia Foreman, the author of "City Chicks." She states there are seven main concerns that surface when the topic of city chicks is discussed:

- Chickens carry diseases communicable to humans. The truth is that small flocks have literally no risk of avian flu transmission to humans. The 2006 Grain Report states, "When it comes to bird Statehouse Correspondent flu, diverse small-scale poultry is the solution, not the problem."

- Chickens are too noisy. Laying hens, at their loudest, have about the same decibel level as human conversation (60-70 decibels). Hens are so quiet that there have been cases of family flocks being kept for years without the next door neighbors knowing it. Many urban codes ban roosters. The noise level of a pre-dawn heralding of a rooster cross is about the same as a barking dog (90 decibels). But there are ways to keep roosters quiet, and many folks regard crowing as a pleasant sound.

- Chickens cause waste and odor. A 40-pound dog generates more solid waste than 10 chickens. The advantage to chicken poop is that is can be used as valuable, high-nitrogen fertilizer. Unlike dog or cat poop, chicken poop can be combined with yard waste and leaves that fall from the trees to create compost. Just as valuable, about 40 percent of the chicken manure is organic, making fertile, healthy top-

 Chickens attract predators, pests and rodents. Predators and rodents are already living in urban areas. Wild bird feeders, pet food, gardens, fish ponds, bird baths and trash waiting to be collected all attract raccoons, foxes, rodents and flies. Indeed, chickens are part of the solution to pesky problems. Chickens are voracious carnivores and will seek out and eat just about anything that moves, including ticks, fleas, mosquitoes, grasshoppers, stink bugs, slugs and even mice, baby rats and small snakes.

- Property values will decrease. There is not one single documented case that we know of.

 Coops are ugly. Micro-flock coop designs can be totally charming, upscale and even whimsical. Examples can be found at mypetchicken.com.

- What will neighbors think? You can't control what anyone thinks, much less your neighbor. Once logical folks gain more experience with the advantages and charms of chickens, most prejudice and fear evaporates, especially when you share some of those fresh, heart-healthy, good-for-you eggs from your family flock.

ers, are biomass recyclers and can divert tons of organic matter from the trash collection and landfills.

Chickens will eat just about all kitchen "waste." They love people out of the municipal trash collection

I have driven down the streets of Wayne with a skunk running in the gutter. I find that much more disturbing than waiting for the "chick-

And now . . . the filibuster

By J.L. SCHMIDT

The Nebraska Press Association

Sixty percent of the allotted time for the legislative session has elapsed and lawmakers are talking about talking too much.

Veteran lawmaker Ernie Chambers has launched three filibusters (talking an issue to death) and promised others. Sen. Scott Lautenbaugh of Omaha recently burned 45 minutes of time explaining to his colleagues why they need to get the lead out - and then apologized for taking that much time. Speaker of the Legislature Greg Adams of York adjusted the daily schedule to include early to late evening floor debate much sooner than speakers have in the past.

As of the end of Day 55 (April 5) of the 90-day session, lawmakers had passed and the governor signed 72 bills. Another 36 have been killed, seven withdrawn. Seven measures are awaiting the third and final round before approval. Senators, committees and the Speaker have tabbed 104 bills as priorities. In regular years, those priority measures would have been the fodder for the rest of the session, which must also see the drafting and approval of a two-year budget document.

But, Lautenbaugh pointed out, this isn't a regular year. His Omaha colleague Bob Krist complained that this has been the slowest session of the five he has experienced. Lobbyists and observers of the process agree. Some say it's the return of the 75-year-old Chambers who sat out his mandatory four years as the result of term limits. So far this session, he has prolonged debate on measures dealing with: betting on historic horse races, using work camp prisoners as volunteers with non-profit agencies, and a proposed study of Nebraska taxes.

The National Conference of State Legislatures in Denver says filibusters are rare in state for NCSL. "Most have limited ses- one to two (including Chambers). sion lengths, so you cannot afford to have truly unlimited debate."

Chambers can do a one-man filibuster by "clever use" of the rules – moving to reconsider a previous motion or amendment or bracket the bill. Each move allows Chambers to speak three times, each time for five minutes. Avery says there are all kinds of rules you can use to delay, and people have to yield you time, and you have to be able to do it without a bathroom break.

Back in 1992, the Legislature adopted Senate Rule 7.10, which allows for motions for cloture (to end debate) to be approved by a twothirds majority (33 votes), so long as the speaker decides the bill has gotten a "full and fair debate."

That used to be a tool that favored Republicans who once held 33 seats

ers admit that Chambers plays the Senator Bill Avery of Lincoln said rules book like a piano. But repeated attempts to lower the number of votes necessary for cloture have failed and the body still allows unlimited amendments and therefore allows individual lawmakers to wield a lot of influence. Erickson said it's up to lawmakers and the speaker to enforce the rules and limit filibusters. She admits that the traditional attitude in the onehouse Legislature appears to favor maximizing free and open debate.

> In Ernie's absence, the most recent filibuster was last year on an expanded gambling issue.

Interestingly, other lawmakers have used the filibuster to make a point. In the 80's, Omaha Senator Marge Higgins launched a prelunch filibuster on an idea that Legislatures - except Nebraska's. in the officially non-partisan Uni- would help her cause of nursing Filibusters can be cut off with a cameral. Likewise, Sen. Lorraine Langford of Kearney launched a filibuster during the dinner hour toward the end of the session in an attempt to stop a funding bill that would provide for completion of the murals on the 18th floor of the Capitol. Most of her colleagues adjourned to the Senate Lounge to dine on lobbyistprovided dinner fare while Langford raged on about the Tri-Lateral Commission and her desire to remove the United Nations from United States soil. The bill ultimately advanced.

Senator Jennie Roback of Columbus staged a similar dinner-hour filibuster on a bill dealing with women's rights and read to her colleagues from a book while many of them also excused themselves for dinner or a card game in the secondfloor offices of a then-popular longtime Omaha Senator, not Cham-

Alabama (2012) that said the sentencing of juveniles, no matter how serious or heinous the crime, to a mandatory sentence of life without the possibility of parole was a violation of the Eighth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. This bill saw several amendments, and the debate was lively and sometimes heated. After amendments calling for a minimum sentence of 30 years, 60 years and one suggesting a mandatory minimum sentence of 25 years, all of which failed, the parties involved finally agreed on a 40-years-tolife sentence. With a 40-years-tolife sentence, the convicted juvenile would serve at least 20 years. I was in favor of the 60-years-tolife, which would have meant that those convicted would have served at least 30 years. I can, however, live with the 40-years-to-life. This was the first round of debate, and I suspect there will be much more discussion on this bill when it comes back on Select File.

Another bill we spent a considerable amount of time discussing and one that could affect everyone was LB362, introduced by Sen. Bill Avery of Lincoln. LB362 seeks to eliminate the park permit and fee that is currently required for entry into our state parks ($5 daily, $25 annually). LB362, if enacted, would place a $7 registration fee on most motor vehicles to replace the park permit fees. The theory, according to those who support the plan, is that this would be providing greater access to our state parks for the residents of our state while also increasing the revenue coming in to the Game and Parks Commission for maintaining and updating our parks.

The cold hard truth, I believe, is that this would simply be another erty tax rolls. At the very least, fee increase on those who own and I think Game and Parks should operate motor vehicles. Nebraska is rethink acquiring any new addialready one of the most expensive states in the nation in which to license a vehicle. Another fee is not acceptable. I appreciate and value our state parks and understand that, like everyone else, Game and Parks has not been getting everything they want over the last few years. Our parks should be funded primarily by those who use them. Those who choose to utilize the parks should not get a free ride on the backs of people who must have a car but can not afford to, or choose not go to the parks.

Needless to say, I have, do and will continue to oppose this idea. Perhaps it is time to look at management techniques, or maybe it is time for Game and Parks to consider looking at some of the properties they own and decide if there is some that could be sold, possibly putting that ground back on the prop-See UPDATE, Page 8B

Couples and families can build stronger and more satisfying relationships by practicing these characteristics of strong families:

 Appreciation and affection for each other. Genuinely felt, and expressed regularly.

 Commitment to the family. Work and other priorities are not allowed to take too much time away from family interaction. The family is highly valued by its members, and individuals are faithful to each Positive communication. Family members enjoy talking with each other and listening to each other.

- Enjoyable time together. Similarly, family members like to be with each other and spend a considerable amount of time enjoying each other's company. They are good friends.

- Spiritual well-being. Family members share a sense of hope, optimism, faith, safety and happiness together. Their home is a sanctuary and their relationships bring them comfort. Spiritual well-being can be seen as the caring center within each individual that promotes sharing, love and compassion.

- The ability to manage stress and crisis effectively. Strong families are not immune to troubles in life, but they know how to work through hard times together rather than exploding and blaming each other when difficulties arise.

Minerva Club meets

met April 8 at the Senior Center with Lois Youngerman as hostess.

Vice President Joyce Mitchell opened the meeting with these helpful tips: Berries rinsed with one part vinegar to 10 parts water will stay fresh much longer; Eating chocolate will help stop a cough. She also shared some light readings including Grandma's Wisdom.

Ten members named their favorite flower for roll call.

Minutes of the March 25 meeting were read and approved. There was no treasurer's report. Historian Hollis Frese read from minutes of the Nov. 5, 1917 club meeting. They reported making towels for the Red Cross. Each member was assessed 50 cents and $11.50 was collected for candy and fruit cake to be sent to soldiers. A bill of $7 was allowed for delegate expense to attend the 20th annual conference in Omaha.

Old Business

– Mary Ann Denaeyer reported the purchase of a book "Collecting, Rocks, Gems and Minerals". It will be donated to the library in memorv of Lila Brown, a Minerva Club member who recently passed away.

- Plans for the Tuesday, May 14 club outing were discussed and a time change approved. Members will meet at Our Savior Church parking lot at 10:30 a.m. to car pool. This will allow travel time for an 11:30 a.m. meal at Bancroft. Drivers who volunteered are Twyla, Joyce and Hollis.

New Business

- The club voted to donate $25 to the Senior Center coffee fund. .

Spring Festival held for area square dancers

The Square and Round Dance Northeast Federation Spring Festival was held April 5th at the Carroll City Auditorium.

The surprise and welcome caller for the evening was Jerry Junck a national caller from Wayne. There were 53 dancers that came from 7 clubs. Clubs represented were Single Wheelers, Plus Spinners and 49'rs from Norfolk, Harold Squares from Columbus, Town Twirlers from Laurel, Leather and Lace from Wayne Co., and Spairs and Pairs from Sioux Falls South Dakota.

Those holding lucky numbers received free passes from clubs represented for the evening. There were also four split the pot winners. The theme for the evening was "Patchwork of Friends.

An added attraction as well as a fund raiser for the Federation was a silent auction of the Federation quilt which represented all the clubs of the Federation and three patch work throws. The Federation quilt was made by Mary Christensen and Jeanne Henery. The three patch work throws were made by Candace Schrag Bauermeister. There was also a display table of items that club members contributed to be auctioned off. The traveling banner went to Laurel Town

Outstanding Altar Servers

The Serra Club of Omaha and the Norfolk area Serra Club annuallly sponsor Altar Server Awards for the Archdiocese of Omaha. Area altar servers were recognized for their service to their local parish at a Mass at St. Leo's Church in Snyder on April 13. Members of St. Mary's Church in Wayne who were recognized pose with Fr. Mark Beran. They include (left) Emily Claussen, Garret Reynolds, Lucas Longe, Nolan Reynolds and Kiara Hochstein. Not pictured but recognized also was Benjamin Klein.

Concord Awana Club holds Grand Prix

The Concord Awana Clubs held Oswald. Clubbers received ribbons their annual Awana Grand Prix on April 7 at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord.

Twenty-two boys and girls, grades 3-6, participated in the car race.

Awards were as follows: Design first place, Jaclyn Kempf; second place, Makayla Forsberg; third place, Faith Junck. Speed – First Place, Brogan Jones; second place, Elizabeth Lipp; third place, Lukas and trophies.

Participants drew their initial car design on a plain block of wood in late February. Cars were cut out and clubbers finished them off with paint and/or other detailing mid-March. Volunteers attached the wheels and also made sure that each car weighed exactly 5 ounces.

The Grand Prix began at 2 p.m. with the welcome and a brief message from Pastor Todd Thelen. Boy Scout Pack 124 from Norfolk set up the track and manned it. Approximately 75 children, parents, grandparents, and Awana personnel were in attendance.

Refreshments were served following the event.

IMPORTANCE OF DENTAL RADIOGRAPHS (X-RAYS)

about potential risks from too much exposure to radiation, x-rays are a necessary when performed following the standard guidelines for radiology. Radiographs allow dentists to see and interpret signs of disease or potential problems in the teeth that are not visible through direct observation. X-rays are used to discover abscesses (pus-pockets), cysts and tumors. They help dentists locate impacted, un-erupted or extra teeth and determine congenitally missing teeth. Radiographs demonstrate the presence or degree of periodontal (gum) disease, and help to pinpoint the location and severity of cavities. Foregoing x-rays could result in an inaccurate diagnosis or incomplete treatment. Usually, patients will be given a series of x-rays that serve as a frame of reference for future changes. The time frame between x-rays, the type of x-rays and number of follow-up x-rays will be determined by your dentist's

While some patients may be concerned taken into account with young children. At Bright Smiles Family Dental we have a digital x-ray system in place which means part of the dental health process and are safe that there is less radiation and Dr. Braun is able to more accurately diagnose decay and other conditions. In turn this means fewer x-rays are needed and we can enlarge, and focus in on certain parts of the x-ray. We can also send these x-rays to specialists and other offices should the need arise which eliminates taking them again. Prior to taking an x-ray a lead apron is placed on our patients, a thyroid collar is used for children's x-rays and any of our adult patients may use it should they choose to. Our staff has had the required training to take adequate and accurate x-rays and will take every precaution to keep you safe.

Schuttler attends weed control education classes

Marlin Schuttler, Wayne County Weed Superintendent recently attended the Nebraska Weed Control Association's Spring Training Seminar at Central Community College in Hastings

Topics presented on Tuesday included ATV Safety & Demonstrations by Sharry Nielsen and Bob Meduna; Workplace Safety by Tim Baxter; Eastern Red Cedar Invasion by Shelly Taylor; Healthy Grassland Community by Nadine Bishop; Importance of Surfactants During Drought by Ted Bethell; Weed ID by NDA Staff and Public Relations Articles by Rod Stolcpart.

Wednesday's topics included Chemical Content by Scott Flynn; EC 130 Discussion by Bruce Rumsey; Federal Noxious Weeds by Mike Reed; One Pot Method by Nate Jacobsen; Pesticide Violations by Tim Creger; Driftwatch by Craig Romary; Sericea Lespedeza by Scott Marsh; NPDES Permits by Travis Porter and Calibration by Rob Schultz and Marty Craig.

As with every NWCA training, superintendents are required to answer morning and afternoon roll call, take and pass an exam to obtain the credit hours needed. There are two remaining opportunities for continuing education for 2013. Fall training will be Nov. 5-6 in Hastings where recertification training will be held for all attendees. This training will allow the weed superintendent to renew their commercial applicator's license. The final opportunity is the Nebraska Association of County Officials Conference in Omaha, Dec. 11-13.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

The City of Wayne is accepting bids to demolish and remove the structure located at 111 Fairground Avenue. The entire structure shall be removed including the floor and the footings. The sewer connection must be properly capped on site. The water service shall be disconnected at the water main which lies under paving at the north edge of Fairground Avenue. Contractor will be responsible to remove and replace existing concrete in that area at a depth of 6 inches with 47B mix. The winning bidder will retain all salvage rights for any of the building materials. The building must be removed within 30 days of receiving notice to proceed from the City of Wayne. Bids may be submitted to the City Clerk's Office at 306 Pearl Street, Wayne, NE no later than 2:00 P.M. on Friday, May 3, 2013.

The successful bidder shall supply a performance and maintenance bond executed by a corporate surety licensed in the State of Nebraska in an amount equal to 100 percent of the contract price as part of his contract, and provide a certificate of insurance as contractor and from any subcontractors in the amount of $1 million, with the City of Wayne being indemnified and listed as an additional insured.

No bid may be withdrawn within a period of sixty (60) days after the date fixed for bid opening.

The City of Wayne reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive informalities in bids submitted and to accept whichever bid that is in the best interest of the City, at its sole discretion

No person of the City of Wayne shall, on the ground of race, color or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 15th day of April, 2013.

WINSIDE BOARD OF EDUCATION PROCEEDINGS

The Winside Board of Education met for a Regular Meeting at 6:37 PM on Friday, April 12, 2013 in the library. The meeting had been postponed from April 10, 2013 due to inclement weather. Baord members present were Scott Watters, Carmie Marotz, Jenni Topp, John Thies, John Mangels, and Laurie

President Scott Watters called the meeting to order, pointed out the Open Meeting Act posted in the meeting room and welcomed the guests (Chuck Peter, Pam Greunke, Stacie Greunke, Kalob Shively, Susan Mohr, Trevor Hartmann, Melissa Lemke-Elznic, Karol Stubbs, and Eliene Loetscher).

John Thies reported to the Board that several patrons had voiced interest in opening the weight room to the public and suggested that the matter be investigated and considered at a later date.

Motion by Thies, second by Topp to approve the minutes of the Regular Meeting held March 11, 2013 with the exception that the total General Fund expenditures were $258,797.99 instead of the $222,987.85, reported incorrectly due to an oversight. Ayes-Lienemann, Watters, Marotz, Topp, Thies, and Mangels. Nays-none

Motion by Thies, second by Mangels to approve the claims totaling $255,253.92 from the General Fund, $11,166.82 from the Building Fund, $10,000.00 from the Depreciation Fund, and the March Financial Report.
