Zoning issues get City Council's attention

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

Zoning of property in the city limits and outside city limits was debated at length during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council, which lasted nearly four hours.

Ordinance 2013 was approved on third reading on a 6-2 vote. The ordinance will amend the zoning code in regard to where multi-family dwellings can be located.

Considerable discussion took place on the difference between multi-family dwellings and townhouses. Also mentioned was the density of the different areas of zoning.

Several members of the audience spoke on the item, indicating that newly constructed housing units need to fit into the neighborhood, and all builders should be held to the same rules.

Council members Nick Muir and Jennifer Sievers voted against the passage of the ordinance.

Muir questioned whether the council was moving too fast and requested the issue be tabled for more discussion.

Council members voted to table an ordinance in regard to amending the minimum requirements in an A-2 agricultural residential district.

Lou Bencotter, with Bencotter Development, told the council that the ordinance would affect all areas zoned A-2; and by making lot sizes smaller, they would be more affordable.

Discussion from the audience centered on whether agricultural land should be used for residential use and the majority opposed lowering the size requirement.

Council members listened to a presentation by Lash

Chaffin, an attorney with the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Chaffin explained to council members, many of which have served on the council less than one year, about the council's powers, open meetings laws and conflict of interest.

He told the council that, in his experience, several things make Wayne a unique community.

"Wayne officials view themselves as part of the broader world, and that is not always the case in cities I deal with. Also, in Wayne, there is a different approach to city staff. The staff here communicates with other towns and present themselves well," Chaffin said.

Mayor Ken Chamberlain read two proclamations during the meeting. The first designated Thursday, Sept. 19 as "No Text on Board - Pledge Day," and Mayor Chamberlain encouraged everyone to refrain from texting while driving. The second proclamation designated Monday, Sept. 23 as "Family Day - A Day to Eat Dinner with Your Children" as a way to discourage harmful behaviors among children.

Council members gave their approval to move the renewal date for the city's health and accident insurance from Jan. 1, 2014 to Dec. 1, 2013.

Gary Boehle, with First National Insurance Agency, told the council that the recommendation of insurance companies to their agents was to make this change to allow additional time to deal with changes being discussed as part of the Affordable Care Act.

"There are a lot of things in the insurance industry that are changing everyday and a lot of factors we don't know about," Boehle said.

County OK's new ADA plan

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners voted unanimously on Tuesday to implement its new Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) policy that will put the county to work in fixing potential handicap-related issues around the Wayne County Courthouse and the county's Health and Human Services building in Wayne.

The 18-page policy includes a transition plan with more than 100 to-do handicap-related items that require the county's attention. The fixes listed in the plan must be fixed by 2023.

Some of the items on the list, such as better signage, are low-cost and easily addressed. Others, such as toilets and office walkways, are higher-dollar items that the county must address through the traditional bidding process.

Pun intended - bursting at the seams

By KATIE KASL
Of the Herald

It's possible there's a pun intended when Janet Sievers, owner of The Quilt Shop in Wakefield, says her business is "kind of bursting at the seams."

Or, maybe, it could just be the best way to describe her store overlooking Main Street - a place that is, literally, packed from floor to ceiling.

Opened in 1995, Sievers started The Quilt Shop after years of running a sewing shop out of her home.

"I made everything from blue jeans to wedding dresses," she said.

When her son was a junior in high school, she moved the business to Wakefield, where it's been ever since. Today, 18 years after it came into fruition, the store is still going strong. It sells fabric - in brights, darks and all that falls in between - notions and "everything the quilter needs," Sievers said.

Memorial services will be held Monday, Sept. 23 at 11 a.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. Bob Oleson will officiate. Memorial visitation will be held Monday from 10 a.m. until service time at the church.

Dorothy Mae Aurich was born Dorothy Mae Beyeler on Feb. 20, 1924, at her parents' home in Dixon County. Her father, Fritz Ernest Beyeler, and her mother, Alice Genevieve (Harrison) Beyeler had her baptized on Sept. 24, 1924, at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Maskell. Dorothy joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Carroll, on Aug. 25, 1940, after her parents moved near Carroll to farm. She graduated from Carroll High School in 1941. In 1945, she married Louis Jorgensen, and they had five children. They were divorced in 1962. On Sept. 16, 1967, Dorothy married her soul mate, Arland E. Aurich, at the First Methodist Church in Wayne. They were married for 46 years. For many years, they made their home on a farm southeast of Winside, raising corn, beans, and fat cattle. Dorothy loved being a homemaker, but she also enjoyed her time working as a bookkeeper and accountant at the Wayne Herald for over 25 years, retiring at the same time as her husband, in 1990. Shortly after, they moved to Wayne where Mrs. Aurich continued to work part-time as a personal secretary to Alan Cramer for another 10 years.

The Aurichs transferred membership to St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne in 1972, which eventually combined with Redeemer Lutheran to become Our Savior Lutheran Church. Over the years, Mrs. Aurich was a PTA member and Board President of the Wayne Public School, from which all five of her children graduated. She was also active as President of St. Paul's LCW, a member of Our Savior's Lutheran Church Altar Guild, WELCA, Joy Circle, and Visitation Group, and a participant in various Bridge and Pitch clubs. She loved to make beautiful quilts that she gifted to her children and grandchildren. Over the years, she remained in contact with her best friends from high school and her card-playing friends. She loved going to coffee with the girls until her eyesight prevented her from these excursions. She loved being involved with her church, but she loved her family the most. One of her greatest sources of pride was having attended the high school graduations and weddings of each one of her 13 grandchildren. Although her children live outside of Wayne, and four live outside of Nebraska, they visited her and Arland often. Special memories include making Christmas cookies, trips to Colorado, and traveling the country in 1971 to see four of her five children who were in the military while Dad watched over the farm.

Dorothy is survived by her husband, Arland; her sons, Bruce and Connie Jorgensen of Gold Canyon, Ariz.; Leon and Carolyn Jorgensen of Hot Springs Village, Ark.; her daughters, Sandra Klein of Arvada, Colo., Patricia and Rick Crosier of Beatrice, Deanna and Emery Field of Bozeman, Mont.; her brothers Ken and Dorothy Beyeler of Cody, Wyo., Robert (Bob) and Beverly Beyeler of Yuma, Ariz.; her brother-in-law, Obert Aurich of Beemer, and her sister-in-law, Lorna Wegner of Omaha; 13 grandchildren (Shelly, Randy, RuAnn, Inger, Alicia, Carmen, Theresa, Shannon, Nicole, Josh, Jason, Clint, and Chad, and their spouses, as well as 25 great grandchildren, one great great-grandson (Aaron Thomas Field), and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents and three sisters, Ruth Smith, Fern Kelley and Viola Curry, four brothers-in-law, two sisters-in-law, Joyce Beyeler and Delilah Aurich and one son-in-law, Donald M. Klein.

Seams

Her foray into sewing began long before The Quilt Shop did. Sievers' mother was a sewer, and her daughter would sit there, watching as Mom turned panels of fabric into something to throw on or crawl under.

"By the time I was eight or 10, I was making my own clothes," Sievers explained.

She sewed apparel for her husband and children, and it wasn't until her son's girlfriend asked her to buy him a pair of stonewashed jeans that he knew what it was like to wear an article that was store-bought.

These days, however, Sievers admits that the act of crafting one's own clothing isn't quite what it used to be.

"We have some people who make their own clothes but not so much anymore," she said, adding that aprons and purses are still common creations; but, with the cost of fabric, it's actually cheaper to buy ready-made garments.

Though apparel-sewing has declined, quilting has not. In fact, in 1995, Sievers said there were maybe a handful of quilters in Wakefield. Now, that population has blossomed.

She sees customers from Lincoln and Omaha; her block-of-the-month students commute from Pender, Laurel and Allen; and a woman from Sioux City shows up regularly for classes.

"Quilters travel," Sievers said. "It's a large radius. They come from a long ways."

This is especially true every April, when The Quilt Shop takes part in the Border-to-Border Shop Hop. Sponsored by the Nebraska Independent Fabric Shops (NIFS), an organization that Sievers serves as the president of, the 10-day event encourages quilters to travel from east to west to the various sewing shops located throughout the state.

Though the next Shop Hop is months away, Sievers is currently keeping herself busy with the Tool'n Around Shop Hop, a mini version of the statewide one that involves five stores in northeast Nebraska. This event – plus the one in early spring, as well as the NIFS itself – have introduced Sievers to "a great group of women," and she values knowing other store-owners.

"It's so good to have friends in the business to bounce ideas and problems off of," she said.

Sievers does this with fellow shopkeepers and then, in her own store, gives her customers the same opportunity via the regular classes she offers.

Every week, she hosts three block-of-the-month courses. Quilters come in Saturday before the store opens; and Sievers, standing in front of a board in a back room of the shop, shows them how she wants them to execute the next block of their quilt.

The ladies do most of their sewing at home but show up on Saturday mornings to receive instruction from Sievers and discuss what they've been up to. They socialize with one another, often times lamenting over being busy and not having time to finish their blocks, then vowing to one another to have them done next time.

In addition to classes and quilting supplies – don't forget to check out the sale room in the rear of the store – Sievers offers samples and kits, plus completed quilts available for purchase. She also does custom quilting, in which she'll take the top of someone's quilt and put it all together for them.

When pressed to name her favorite aspect of the business, Sievers hesitates in thought before responding that she's particularly fond of pattern-making and fabric design.

"I really enjoy it," she said. "I really like creating patterns. There's nothing I'd say I really dread."

Though not everyone in her family shares her passion for sewing, Sievers does have three granddaughters who help out around the store; and, if you happen to walk in one day, and there's a six-year-old eagerly helping Grandma snip panels of fabric, don't be surprised.

"I just love it," Sievers said. "It's not work or a job. I have an 18-mile drive, and I love it."

Grain rescue training

Volunteer Fire fighters from Winside and Carroll spent time on Sept. 14 conducting both a rope rescue class and grain rescue exercise. They were instructed by members of the Nebraska State Fire Marshall's training team. At right, Kyle Skokan volunteered to be the 'victim' in a grain truck who was buried in corn. Fire Chief Don Skokan and John Thies secure a liberty rescue tube around Kyle before removing him from the grain. The firefighters learned the safest way to rescue both a victim who was trapped in grain and victims who may have been trapped at the top of a grain bin.

WSC's annual Art Teachers Fall Conference is Sept. 20-21

The Wayne State College campus community will welcome several hundred professionals and students for the 2013 Nebraska Art Teachers Association Fall Conference, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20-21.

Keynotes, meals, sessions, awards banquet and many activities around campus have been orchestrated to deliver the best possible art education staff development in Nebraska.

Dr. Pearl Hansen of Wayne State College and her students have dedicated countless hours in preparation for this fall conference.

"The Wayne State College NATA Nebraska Art Teachers Association organization will celebrate its 90th year, which makes the art organization older than its national parent organization. With WSC support, we are able to bring you a high caliber conference at a reasonable fee. WiFi is available for conference attendees," Hansen said. "One of the significant things about the conference will be the technology displayed and the community aspects of art. Most technology topics are scheduled for Friday. Community-related events will take priority on Saturday."

The conference will include several banquets, numerous presentations and a special "Black Light in the Black Box" hands-on presentation hosted by WSC art students and instructors Tom Dahlseid and Chris Holton in the Black Box Theater, Lied Center. A collaboration project, participants will use fluorescent paint to create and add to the ongoing installation in the Black Box Theater. All materials are provided. A closing reception will take place in the Black Box Theater on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. Participants will be able to take their creation with them after the closing of the conference.

Another hands-on event from 1-1:50 p.m. on Saturday will include Gelli Arts Gel Printing presented by Dr. Pearl Hansen's Art Method students: Megan Arasmith, Morgan Sjuts and Kristina Backhaus in Fine Arts Room 204. This workshop will introduce you to basic monotyping/printmaking techniques using the Gelli Arts gel printing plates. These monotypes can easily be incorporated in your printmaking, collage, art journaling and mixed media lesson plans. Limited to 20 participants.

Artist/muralist Richard Bohacek (Bo) will be finishing a four level stairwell mural addressing themes in the Math and Sciences. His work starts on the lower level with the Planetarium and progresses to the top level of Carhart Science. Bo will be available to answer any questions about mural making as he works to complete the project.

Monona Rossol, a chemist, artist and industrial hygienist, will present during the conference. She is qualified to provide the formal documented hazard communication (right to know) information required by the federal OSHA or various state occupational agencies. She also trains in personal protective equipment, the classroom training required for respiratory protection, general workplace safety, nonmedical blood borne pathogens, air-quality and ventilation principles.

Todd Behrens, curator of the Sioux City Art Center, will serve as the juror for the 2013 Art Educators Show to be held in conjunction with the NATA 2013 Fall Conference. Behrens received a Bachelor of Arts in Art History and Economics in 1988 from The College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va. In 2009, he became curator at the Sioux City Art Center. He curates or organizes 16-20 one-person and group exhibitions each year and has created a series of exhibitions of work by students in Sioux City schools. He works with the Art Center's Education Department and has designed a variety of new materials to assist school groups and families with children in interacting with the permanent collection.

Lauren Lofgren, Wayne Public Library Director, spoke at last week's Chamber Coffee. The library hosted the event and carried out a Friday the 13th theme throughout the library. Lofgren also spoke on the volume of materials that have been checked out in the past year and the number of patrons using the library.

Zoning

He noted that the cost of insurance policies hasn't been determined yet, and there is a list of items that will have to deal with.

Jacob Stenka is the newest member of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department after his membership was approved at the meeting.

Stenka has served the department for several years in the cadet program and told the council he was one of the first cadets to enter the program.

Council members tabled a resolution which would remove several areas of the city from the blight and standard designation.

Additional time is needed to determine if other areas can be removed at the same time and whether or not the city is able to remove areas on numerous occasions or whether they are limited in the number of times this action can be taken.

Acting as the Community Development Agency, the council approved CDA Resolution 2013-12, which approves a redevelopment contract for Progressive Property Inspections, LLC for a piece of property at Sixth and Windom streets in Wayne. Council members Matt Eischied, Jill Brodersen and Cale Giese voted against moving forward with the request.

Considerable discussion was held on the use of TIF financing for the project and the costs associated with redevelopment of the property. It was noted that this type of financing has been used in other areas of the city for projects that "wouldn't have happened without TIF."

Following a public hearing on the same project, the council voted unanimously to approve the plan presented by Kelby Herman with several conditions that were brought forth by the Architectural Review Committee.

Council members also heard from Marlen Chinn, Chief of Police, on a program which put into place a plan for a community-wide response plan for any attack at any schools or children's facility.

In other action, the council approved a resolution which approves the Problem Resolution Team (PRT) complaint process and a resolution which will rescind resolutions regarding computer and firearm loan policies.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Oct. 1 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

County

Melissa Rabbass, the county's ADA coordinator, presented the final draft of the county's policy to the board for approval, stating that she would need the county's approval of the policy before she could begin work on any of the projects.

One issue that was to be addressed immediately was the placing of handicap signs in the parking lot at the courthouse and the Health and Human Services building. Rabbass said the seven signs that are needed could be created at a cost of about $200.

Items on the to-do list are given one of three priority levels. Among the most immediate items given priority "1" are installation of visual fire alarms in the basement restrooms, removing some of the fixed seating in the court room to make room for wheelchair locations and re-painting parking lines in the parking areas around the courthouse, the latter of which has already been done.

According to the information presented to The Wayne Herald, the county is required to adopt this ADA policy so that it can receive federal road funding that is given to the county through the Nebraska Department of Roads.

In other action before the board:

– heard from County Assessor Dawn Duffy about the office's purchase of two new computers that are needed to handle new software updates the office will be dealing with in the coming months.

– made no decision on a road maintenance agreement in Beverly Hills Estates, which is located on the border of Wayne and Stanton counties. Board members discussed the possibility of entering into an interlocal agreement with Stanton County and the homeowners group.

The county board's next meeting is Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 9 a.m. at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Wildcats up to No. 7 in AVCA coaches poll

The Wayne State volleyball team moved up a spot in the latest AVCA coaches poll after a 4-0 weekend at the CSU-Pueblo Invitational.

Wayne State is No. 7, one of four Northern Sun Conference teams in the top 10 this week. All four NSIC teams moved up in the polls, with Minnesota Duluth replacing Tampa as the No. 1 team in the nation and six-time defending champion Concordia-St. Paul moving from No. 4 to No. 2. Southwest Minnesota State is up four spots to No. 10.

Four other Central Region teams are in this week's poll. Nebraska-Kearney dropped two spots to No. 5, Central Missouri moved up a spot to No. 6, Washburn dropped five spots to No. 11, and Truman is up one spot to No. 14.

Heartbreaker for Devils

Cardinals come from behind to slip past Wayne, 15-14

By RICHARD RHODEN
Of The Herald

Someone had to lose.

Wayne High and South Sioux City squared off with 2-0 records to begin the evening at Bob Cunningham field, and after a hard-nosed, tough-hitting football game, the Blue Devils came up one point short, falling to the Cardinals 15-14.

On a fourth-and-10 from the South Sioux 34-yard line and under a minute to play, Jalen Barry took the snap and rolled right, looking for an open receiver. When things looked bleak, Barry changed direction and headed back toward the Wayne sideline and found what he wanted: an open Brook Bowers, who caught the ball for a touchdown.

As the Blue Devils celebrated, their cheers quickly turned to disbelief, as Wayne was called for an illegal pass and an ineligible receiver downfield, thus handing the win to South Sioux. "Jalen is being Jalen, he's a great athlete," head coach Terry Bear said. "You think he's down, and he's not. Our team kept playing, but they just got out of position a little, and he lost track of where he was on the field."

Wayne got off to a hot start in the first quarter, scoring the first two touchdowns of the game, the first coming on a 27-yard touchdown pass from Barry to Demetrius Alexander, and the next possession, Alexander struck again, this time on a three-yard touchdown scamper.

Even though Wayne stopped scoring, the defense stood tall. It wasn't until late in the second quarter that the Cardinals got onto the board with a 40-yard field goal.

"The defense played hard. We came in with a solid plan; but you know, that's why a football is oblong, not round. Things don't always go your way," Bear said. "It's one of the things we need to learn from."

The second half was when things got controversial.

On a third and twelve from their own 29, Barry connected with Bowers on a 43-yard completion but was called back due to an unsportsmanlike penalty on a block that occurred near midfield.

"I thought it was a good block. I know this year they will be talking about targeting. He made a good block. He didn't do anything intentional; what he did wrong was he stood over the kid, and that drew a lot more attention than if he had just went along with his business," Bear said. "That's a kid who plays aggressive, and I can't knock him for playing hard, but I can knock him for standing over him, and that's not the way Wayne Blue Devils do things."

"He's just being him. He's a teenager; he's going to make mistakes just like we did on offense and defense the whole way around. I still believe in this team, in these kids and our plan, and we're going to stick to it."

Instead of taking the penalty from the spot of the foul, the officials marked the penalty from the previous spot.

Last week 3-3 (.500)
Season 7-4 (.636)

Wayne (2-1) vs. Col. Lakeview (2-1)
Friday, 7 p.m. at Memorial Stadium

Forget the fact that Lakeview has outscored its last two opponents 160-6, because those two opponents aren't in Wayne's neighborhood. Remember, though, that Lakeview almost beat three-time defending champ Norfolk Catholic, so they will score points - just not near as much as recently.

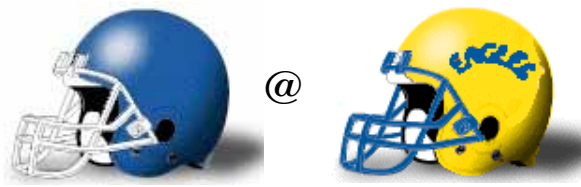

Lakeview 35, Wayne 31

Wakefield (0-2) vs. West Holt (2-0)
Friday, 7 p.m. at Atkinson

Wakefield went to Stanton and played a tough Huskies team straight up until the final seconds of a 3-0 heartbreaker. They'll need the same kind of effort against a very tough West Holt team that has a lot of size up front and some pretty good weapons on offense.

West Holt 27, Wakefield 14

Allen (1-1) vs. Niobrara/Verdigre (2-0)
Friday, 7 p.m. at Allen

Allen bounced back nicely on the road at Omaha Nation and comes back home to face a big, physical Niobrara/Verdigre team that averaged 58 points a game in its first two outings. If Allen can control the ball and avoid turnovers, they could make this close.

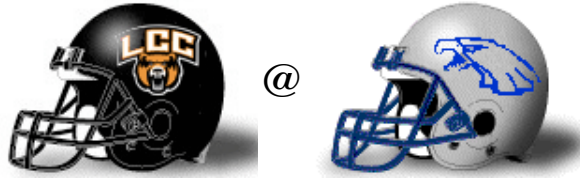

Niobrara/Verdigre 38, Allen 28

Wayne State (0-2) vs. Crookston (0-2)
Saturday, 1 p.m. at Crookston, Minn.

Who'd have thought this one was a must-win situation for the Wildcats? Good thing Wayne State has had Crookston's number of late - Wildcats are 5-0 under Dan McLaughlin and 9-2 in the history of the matchup. If the offense can avoid turnover problems, this will be easy money.

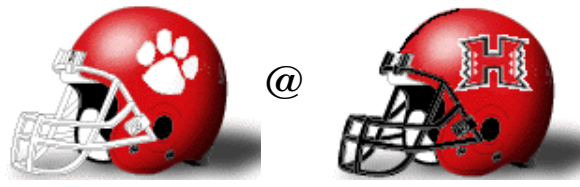

Wayne State 31, Crookston 17

LCC (0-2) vs. Lutheran High NE (2-0)
Friday, 7 p.m. at Norfolk

We said it last week, and we'll say it again - somebody at the NSAA has a problem with LCC. Last week was a ranked Cedar Catholic team, and this week it's a ranked Lutheran High team. Bears have yet to find the end zone in the first two games this year, so here's hoping the offense gets things going.

Lutheran High NE 42, LCC 14

Winside (0-3) vs. Humphrey (1-2)
Friday, 7 p.m. at Humphrey

Winside has taken its lumps the last two weeks and now faces a Bulldogs team that might be looking ahead to its schedule, which includes Lyons-Decatur and road games at Bancroft-Rosalie and cross-city rival Humphrey St. Francis. This might be Winside's best chance at a win, so why not?

Tonev Abraham hauls in a pass for a big gain for Wayne State in Saturday's 34-27 loss to University of Mary.

Five turnovers key in 34-27 home loss

Turnovers proved to be Wayne State's undoing on the new turf at Cunningham Field in Memorial Stadium.

Five Wayne State turnovers were converted into 14 points by University of Mary, and the visiting Marauders used those miscues to come away with a 34-27 Northern Sun Conference win Saturday afternoon in the home debut for the Wildcat football team.

Wayne State's first miscue - a Charlie Davidson fumble that came two plays after a Marauder fumble deep in their own territory - was turned into points when Mary drove down the field and converted on the first of three scoring connections between Craig Bagnell and Nick Jolliffe. Jolliffe's 14-yard touchdown catch gave Mary a 7-0 lead.

Wayne State answered with three straight touchdowns to take a 21-7 lead early in the second period. Tonev Abraham tied the game with an 18-yard catch of a Zach Osborn pass, and three-yard runs by Davidson and Chad Koch in the second period gave Wayne State a two-touchdown advantage.

Mary chipped away at that lead and were within 24-17 at intermission after Jolliffe's second touchdown catch, a 30-yarder from Bagnell, and a 31-yard field goal by Tyler Ryan that came after Tyler Basch's 40-yard field goal for Wayne State.

Wayne State fumbled on its first possession of the second half, and Mary converted that miscue into another score as Bagnell found Jolliffe for the third time on a five-yard

Allen back on track with 59-6 win

MACY - Allen learned its lesson from a season-opening loss to a top-ranked team and applied the lesson well in a 59-6 pasting of Omaha Nation on Friday.

The Eagles scored early on a nine-yard run by Coleman Kneiff, then took over the game after the Chiefs countered the first score with a touchdown of their own.

Kneiff and Brian Boese both scored touchdown runs to help Allen extend its lead to 20-6 after one period, and the duo found paydirt again in the second period to extend the Eagles' lead to 34-6 at the half.

Caleb Thomas scored a pair of third-quarter touchdowns to help Allen take command of the game, and the Eagles closed out the scoring with short scoring runs by Garrett Brentlinger and Tayler Kumm to go on to the 53-point win.

Offensively, the Eagles racked up

399 yards of total offense while the defense limited the Chiefs to 150 total yards.

Individually, Boese had a big night with 216 yards on 17 carries, while Thomas added 72 yards on 13 carries. Both runners scored two touchdowns on the night. Kneiff finished with 22 yards on 10 carries and three scores.

Defensively, Wade Connot led the Eagles with nine total tackles, while Thomas, Austin Connot and Brady Krakau each had eight stops. Myles Flores had seven tackles and recovered a fumble, along with Thomas, Krakau and Boese as Allen forced six Omaha Nation turnovers.

Coach Dave Uldrich said Friday's win is a good learning tool for the Eagles, who face a similar and bigger opponent this week when Niobrara-Verdigre comes to town Friday.

"We did a pretty nice job picking up all the blitzing they brought to us," he said. "It was great to work on because Niobrara-Verdigre uses the same style of attacking defense, and they are big and physical. We'll need to retool again and prepare for

The Blue Devils conceded a safety on the next play on a snap out of the end zone, making the score 14-5.

South Sioux scored three more points in the fourth quarter on a 25-yard field goal, and on its next possession only needed one play, an 80-yard bomb from Jake Schmiedt to Alex Borchers, giving the Cardinals their first lead of the game, 15-14.

Wayne got the ball back and went on a drive that ended on fourth down with the illegal pass, sealing the victory for South Sioux.

With a 2-1 record, Wayne High hosts another top-rated team in Columbus Lakeview this Friday.

"We're going to have a good week of practice, get some kids healthy and get after it," Bear said. "This is going to make us stronger playing in a big game early in the year, and we'll be in big games later in the year, and this will be something we can draw back on as a learning experience."

WSC runners do well in meet

Wayne State had some solid efforts and finished well in cross country action Saturday at the Dakota State Invite in Madison, S.D.

Sophomore Justin Brueggemann placed sixth out of 74 runners to lead the Wayne State men's team to a third-place finish. He placed sixth overall on the 8,000-meter course with a time of 27:03.

Senior Greg Tracy followed in 14th place at 27:22, with freshman Corbin Lehn coming in 27th at 28:16.

The Wayne State College women's team placed fourth out of eight teams and had two runners place in the top 20.

Aryn Smidt, a freshman from West Point, was the top Wildcat finisher, coming in 10th out of 62 runners with a time of 20:40 on the 5,000-meter course. Plattsmouth freshman Andrea DeSimone was next in 19th at 21:17, followed by Laura Camacho in 31st at 22:33.

Wayne State is at the University of Nebraska/Woody Green Invitational in Lincoln on Saturday.

pitch-and-catch to tie the game. Mary took the lead for good later in the period when Elby Pope returned a short punt 35 yards for a touchdown to make it 31-24.

Both teams traded field goals, with Ryan's 39-yard kick giving Mary a seven-point lead. Ryan could have put the game away late, but Wayne State blocked a field goal and were set up at their own 35-yard line for one last chance.

Osborn, who went 13-of-24 for 234 yards for the Wildcats, was banged up on the first play of the final drive and Nate Most came in to relieve the freshman. His second pass attempt was tipped and intercepted by the Marauders, sealing the visitors' victory.

Wayne State held a 381-373 advantage in total yards, highlighted by Davidson's 142 yards on 31 carries. Abraham was Wayne State's leading receiver with 81 yards on four catches.

Defensively, Jeff Van Den Top had nine tackles and Chase Samuel and Austan Pomajzl each had eight. Ben Radel was credited with six tackles and an interception.

Wayne State is on the road this weekend, facing Minnesota Crookston in a 1 p.m. matchup on Saturday.

Wayne sweeps home invite titles

The skies may have been cloudy at the Wayne Country Club on Tuesday afternoon, but one thing was clear - Wayne High's cross country teams were dominant. The hosts of the Blue Devil Invitational made sure the championship plaques didn't leave town at the end of the day, as both the boys and girls teams came away with solid performances that netted first-place finishes on the back nine of Wayne's golf course. "It's been a while since both teams have won the Wayne Invitational, and it was our goal to win our meet today," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "It was a tribute to the kids and the way they ran today. I was really proud of them." Norfolk Catholic's fourth scoring runner actually came home before Wayne's, but the Blue Devils' top three runners finished in the top five, leaving them more than enough room to bring in Molly Burbach as the fourth scoring runner, with her 12th place finish giving Wayne a 17-25 win over the Knights. "We know that our fourth and fifth runners are getting better, and we have to be consistent with those front three, and Molly and Mandy (Stabler) are going to come through and do well for us," Ruhl said. Wayne's top two runners, Marta Pulfer and Cassie Heier, kept close to one another for much of the race before Pulfer pulled away down the stretch to finish in second, six seconds ahead of her teammate. Angie Nelson came through with a solid fifth-place finish, with Burbach, Stabler (13th) and Marissa Munsel (15th) all finishing the day with individual medals. Laurel-Concord/Coleridge junior Sadie Petersen ran very well in dominating the girls race, coming in 16 seconds ahead of Pulfer. Petersen finished with an impressive 5,000-meter time of 21:23. "She's been on a roll lately and ran really well against a strong field, and she was really pleased with her time," coach Scott Petersen said. Like LCC, Winside had just one runner in the girls race, as Breanna Lemke-Elznic finished 24th with a time of 25:31. "Breanna looked like a good runner today and did a good job striding out and improving her time," coach Jennifer Kesting said. As it was in the girls' race, the first-place medal in the boys race was taken by a non-scoring runner in Pierce's Myles Sudbeck, but Wayne and Laurel-Concord/Coleridge both packed most of their scoring runners in the upper half of the race to make for an interesting team race, won by the Blue Devils, 28-35. Wayne junior Ben Hoskins was runner-up to Sudbeck by 23 seconds, holding off a late charge by Bears sophomore Aaron Haahr. Jordan Jensen was ninth; and Haahr's older brother, Adam, finished 11th for the Bears, but Wayne was able to claim the team title with a great group run. Jared Peterson finished eighth, and Wayne's other four varsity runners came home in a block to take the last four individual medals, with Luke Pulfer taking 12th, Bryce Sebade 13th, Cole Leonard 14th and Nolan Reynolds 15th. "We're getting a lot closer to running in a group, and that's what we want," Ruhl said. "You need to get that pack running, and if you can pack it at the front, you'll score well. I was happy with the way the boys ran in a pack today." The Bears didn't fare too bad themselves, placing all four runners in the top 20, capped by Ethan Gubels' 19th place finish. "I think the boys did really well," Petersen said of the LCC effort. "They're improving every week and getting stronger, and I was very happy with how they performed." Winside brought up the rear among the six scoring boys team, led by a 29-30 finish by Taylor Anson and Sean Mann. "I think Sean and Taylor are getting better," Kesting said. "This is the first year of running for both of them, and they're still learning how to pace themselves, but I think they'll get better as the season moves along." Tuesday's double wins for the Wayne team are a nice feather in the cap as they settle into a more consistent routine for the rest of the season. "It's time to get back into training," Ruhl said. "We've had a lot of meets lately, but I feel good about where we're at; and when we get into that mindset where we get a lot of training in, we're going to improve more. I'm happy with where we're at, and I hope we can keep getting better." See WAYNE INVITE, Page 6B

Blue Devil netters win Boone Central Invite

Even after a disappointing straight-set loss to Mid State Conference foe Guardian Angels Central Catholic, Wayne High volleyball coach Traci Krusemark said she doesn't have a lot to complain about with her team.

It would be hard to be grumpy about an 8-2 start, which included a first-place effort in the Boone Central Invitational on Saturday in Albion. The Blue Devils beat Columbus Lakeview, Schuyler and Crofton to cap a solid day at the net.

"We've had a great start to the year, so it's hard to complain about it," she said. "We just have to keep getting better."

The Blue Devils stumbled in only one set in their three-match run to the tournament title Saturday, letting a big lead get away in the second set against Lakeview before rebounding for a 25-11, 24-26, 25-19 win.

"We came out really strong that first set against Lakeview and had a chance to put them away in two, but we let up a little in that second set," Krusemark said. "The girls were able to pull it together and beat a quality team, and the wins over Schuyler and Crofton were quality wins as well."

Krusemark said the key to the team's success on Saturday was at the net, as they frustrated opposing hitters with a tandem of blockers.

"We blocked very well most of the day," Krusemark said. "We have four girls who are 5-foot-10 or taller, so we have some good height that should help us be a force at the net."

In the win over Lakeview, Ashton Schweers had 16 kills, and Lexi Sokol had 14, while Emma Evetovich had a pair of blocks to go with her 25 assists. Meagan Backer led the team with 25 digs, while Sokol added 21, and Sarah Stegemann picked up 18. Paige Wacker had 14 kills and seven blocks, and Madison Frevert contributed five kills. Peyton Roach and Jaci Jenkins had 12 and 10 digs, respectively.

In the semifinals, Wayne made quick work of Schuyler for the second time in a week, sweeping the Warriors 25-9, 25-22. Sokol had nine kills, Schweers had three ace serves, and Frevert added five kills. Backer and Roach each had nine digs, and Evetovich had 22 assists.

In the finals, Wayne handled Crofton in two sets, 25-16, 25-21. Wacker and Schweers each had seven kills for the Blue Devils, while Sokol added six, and Frevert had four. Evetovich had 25 assists, Frevert had a pair of blocks, and Schweers led a balanced defensive effort with eight digs.

Things didn't go well for the Wayne High volleyball team on Tuesday, as Guardian Angels Central Catholic swept the Blue Devils, 26-24, 25-23, 25-15.

"We didn't pass well, and you can't do a lot when you don't pass well," Krusemark said. "GACC had some tough servers and did a good job keeping us on our toes, and we just couldn't get it together."

Frevert had eight kills, and Sokol and Schweers each added seven. Backer and Schweers shared dig honors with 15 apiece.

In JV action, the Bluejays were 25-19, 25-17 winners, while the Wayne "C" team claimed a 25-18, 25-18 triumph.

The Blue Devils are back in action Tuesday as they host Norfolk Catholic.

Kelsey Engstrom goes up against the Augustana goalkeeper to try and win the ball in Sunday's matchup at the Wayne State soccer complex. The Vikings won the match, 4-1.

Soccer team still seeking first victory

The Wayne State women's soccer team is still looking for its first win after a pair of defeats last week.

On Thursday, the Wildcats put together a solid defensive performance but came up short in a 1-0 loss at Missouri Western.

The Griffons scored the game's only goal early in the second half on a 10-yard shot from Ashley Juravich. Wayne State had a chance to take the lead late in the first half, but a shot by Macy Hagen hit the crossbar and was sent away by the Missouri Western defense.

Missouri Western outshot Wayne State 29-9 in the match. Josie Brown had three shots, and Hagen added two. Kylie Comba made 13 saves in goal for the Wildcats.

Wayne State played Augustana even for most of the first half in the Wildcats' NSIC opener Sunday at the Wayne State soccer complex, but a three-goal barrage in the final 10 minutes of the first half proved to be too much as the Vikings posted a 4-1 win.

Annie Thoresen had a hat trick for Augustana, scoring twice in the first half and getting her third in the 62nd minute of the second half. Wayne State avoided a shut-out when Hagen scored her second goal of the year on a pass from Josie Brown with two minutes left in the match.

Augustana outshot Wayne State 16-7 in the contest. Comba made six saves in goal for the 0-4 (0-1 NSIC) Wildcats.

Wayne State has a pair of conference home matches this weekend. They face Northern State on Saturday and MSU Moorhead on Sunday. Both matches start at 1 p.m. at the Wayne State soccer complex.

Allen wins back-to-back volleyball triangulars

The Allen Lady Eagles made quick work of Bloomfield and Wausau in a home volleyball triangular Thursday evening.

The Lady Eagles served at a 96 percent efficiency rating on their way to a straight-set win over the Queen Bees, 25-11, 25-13. Allen had 14 ace serves in the match, four coming from Sammy Sullivan and three each from Lindsey Jones and Lindsey Sullivan. Courtney Reuter led the team with six kills, while Jones and the Sullivans each had three.

Allen dominated Wausau in their second match of the evening, taking care of the Lady Vikings in two sets, 25-8, 25-23. Jones recorded seven kills in the contest, Reuter added four kills, and Gabby Sullivan put down three blocks.

Allen continued its hot streak on Tuesday night, collecting two more victories over Winnebago and Ponca.

The Eagles made quick work of Winnebago, winning in straight sets 25-16 and 25-8. Jones led the team with 14 kills, while Lindsey Sullivan recorded 23 kills.

The match with Ponca was not as easy, however, as it was decided in three sets. Allen dropped the first set 16-25 but powered back to win the last two sets 25-15 and 25-14.

"We were very happy to come out of this triangular with two wins," head coach Cheryl Greve said. "Ponca is a strong team and is well-coached. Our girls really had to get their focus back."

Jones came up big for the Eagles with 12 of the team's 31 kills, while Lindsey Sullivan added 19 of the 21 set assists.

NORFOLK – The Wayne High girls finished second, and the boys placed sixth Friday at the Norfolk Catholic Invitational, held at Skyview Lake.

Cassie Pulfer was third, with Mara Pulfer right behind in fourth. Angie Nelson finished 14th, while Molly Burbach was the fourth scoring runner with a 21st place finish.

On the boys side, Ben Hoskins was the only medalist for Wayne, finishing fourth. Other scoring runners were Jared Peterson (27th), Luke Pulfer (32nd) and Bryce Sebade (33rd).

Late field goal sinks Wakefield in Stanton loss

STANTON – For almost 48 minutes, Wakefield's defense withstood every Stanton challenge and came away unscathed.

Unfortunately, the Mustangs were able to kick a 27-yard field goal in the final seconds to break a scoreless tie and escape the Stanton County Fairgrounds with a 3-0 win over the Trojans in a non-district matchup Friday that dropped the Trojans to 0-2 on the season.

"I'm happy with the way we played," coach Mike Hassler said. "As a team, we saw a big jump in execution from the first game to the second. We had our chances and just didn't capitalize on them, and that's part of the growing process."

The Trojans moved the ball well for much of the night but proved to be their own worst enemy with some drive-killing mistakes.

"Untimely mistakes just killed us all night," Hassler said. "I thought we moved the ball pretty well for just getting Josh Dolph back two weeks ago and shuffling some guys around in the line. This offense has been running plays together for less than two weeks, and they came out and moved the ball down the field. But when you have untimely penalties that put you in third-and-long situations, you're going to struggle, and we need to get that cleaned up."

Stanton had a slight advantage in total yards, putting out 191 yards to Wakefield's 145. Wakefield's defense did a good job limiting Stanton in third-down situations but couldn't counter with an offensive attack that would put points on the scoreboard.

"I couldn't be more proud of the boys' defensive effort," Hassler said. "They stood toe-to-toe with Stanton all night and made them earn every yard. I saw the defense I thought we could have coming into the season. Our pursuit to the ball and gang tackling was excellent, and if you can do those things, you can overcome a lot of mistakes."

Offensively, Josh Dolph led the Trojans with 56 yards on 12 carries, while Alex Conley had 36 yards in four attempts, and Levi Nelson had 33 yards in seven tries.

Stanton's defense frustrated quarterback Evan Nicholson, who completed just 2-of-9 passes for 12 yards.

The Trojans host West Holt on Friday at Graves Park, and Hassler is hoping the team can bounce back from the tough loss.

"The real test will be how we bounce back," he said. "The boys sold out on Friday and came up short, and when you leave everything on the field and don't come away with a win, the real test is how you bounce back the next week. It doesn't get easier with West Holt, and we have to play our best game of the year, hands down. I like my chances with this group of boys, and I think we might surprise a few people."

Wayne girls golfers fourth at Pierce Invite

The Wayne High girls golf team tied for fourth with a 426 at the Pierce Invitational on Saturday.

"The girls played well, and I am happy with our progress thus far," coach Josh Johnson said.

Emma Loberg had the low round for Wayne with a 105, while Verea Roberts shot 106, Marissa Wiese shot 107, Cienna Stegemann had a 108, and Kaitlyn McAllister had a 113.

Host Trojan netters finish as runner-up Wildcats suffer 58-28 loss

The Wakefield volleyball team showed what it's capable of this past weekend in its own tournament, making it all the way to the finals before falling to Lutheran High Northeast 25-21 and 25-16.

The Trojans began the tournament Thursday with victories over Winside 25-12 and 25-15, along with a win over Hartington Cedar Catholic 25-19 and 25-19.

In the win over Winside, Lauren Lehmkuhl recorded a team-high 14 kills along with seven digs while Savannah Nelson added 18 assists. Whitney Echtenkamp racked up 11 of Wakefield's 39 digs.

In the following matchup, it was much of the same for Wakefield, as Nelson scored 23 set assists while Lehmkuhl added 16 kills. Emily Puls led in digs with eight while Echtenkamp and Tianna Gnat each grabbed seven.

Wakefield continued its winning ways on Saturday, grabbing victories over Pierce 25-17 and 25-20 along with a win over Stanton in the semifinals 25-15 and 25-20, before falling in the finals to Lutheran High Northeast.

In the win over Pierce, Lehmkuhl was a dig short of a double-double, snagging 10 kills and nine digs, while Nelson added 17 assists. Echtenkamp was able to lead the team in digs with 11.

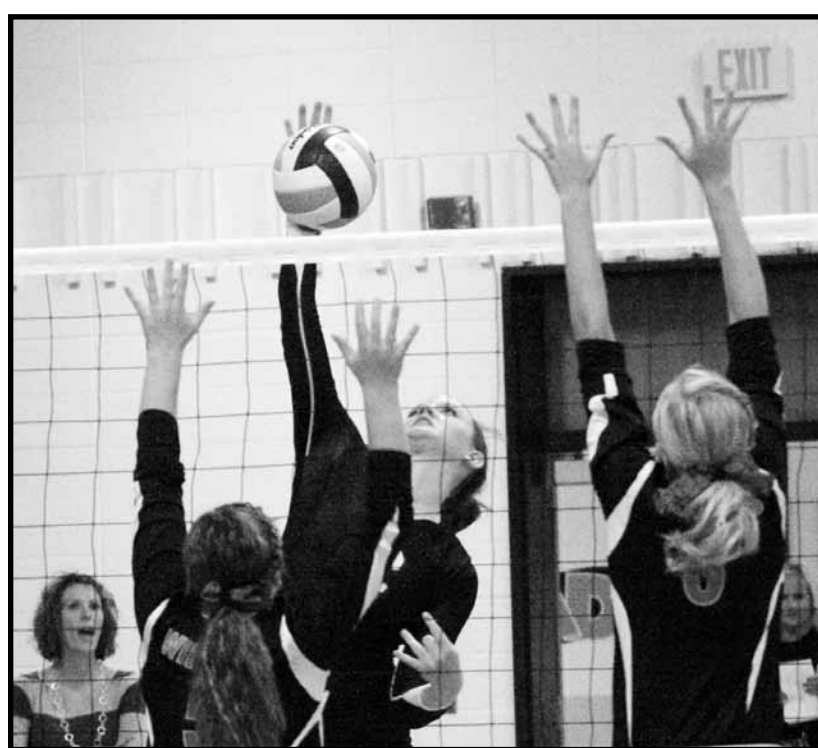

In the semifinal victory over Stanton, Lehmkuhl was able to record a double-double with 13 kills and 10 digs, while Nelson pitched in with 21 assists.

In the loss to Lutheran High Northeast in the finals, Lehmkuhl led the team with 11 kills and tied with Nelson and Echtenkamp with six digs, while Nelson also added 17 set assists.

Wakefield got back on the winning side of the ledger Tuesday with a sweep of a triangular at home.

Wakefield had no problems with Bancroft-Rosalie, posting a 25-12, 25-9 victory. Lehmkuhl had 13 kills and Rusk added three. Nelson had 14 set assists.

Wakefield also posted a straight-set win over Howells-Dodge, winning 25-11, 25-10. Lehmkuhl had 13 kills, Gnat added four and Puls had three. Nelson had 14 assists and Echtenkamp had three ace serves

Bears fall on road, 34-0

HARTINGTON - A hard second quarter proved to be the downfall of the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge football team, as they fell on the road at Hartington Cedar Catholic, 34-0.

The Trojans broke the game open with three touchdowns in the second period, including one in the final seconds of the first half to build a 28-0 advantage.

The Trojans dominated the LCC offense, limiting them to just 68 yards. LCC could not get anything going on the ground, as they were limited to five net yards rushing in 29 attempts.

Quarterback Dillan Wolfgram was frustrated by the Trojan defense for much of the night. He completed just 3-of-10 passes for 63 yards and was intercepted once, and was held to minus-31 yards rushing on nine tries.

Cody Wilson did catch a 61-yard pass to highlight the Bears' offensive effort, while Brett Haisch led the ground attack with 29 yards on nine carries.

Defensively, Haisch had 18 total tackles and Wolfgram added 13 tackles. Calvin Casey added 5.5 tackles and Jackson Metheny had 3.5 stops.

The 0-2 Bears are back in action on Friday, playing at Lutheran High Northeast in Norfolk.

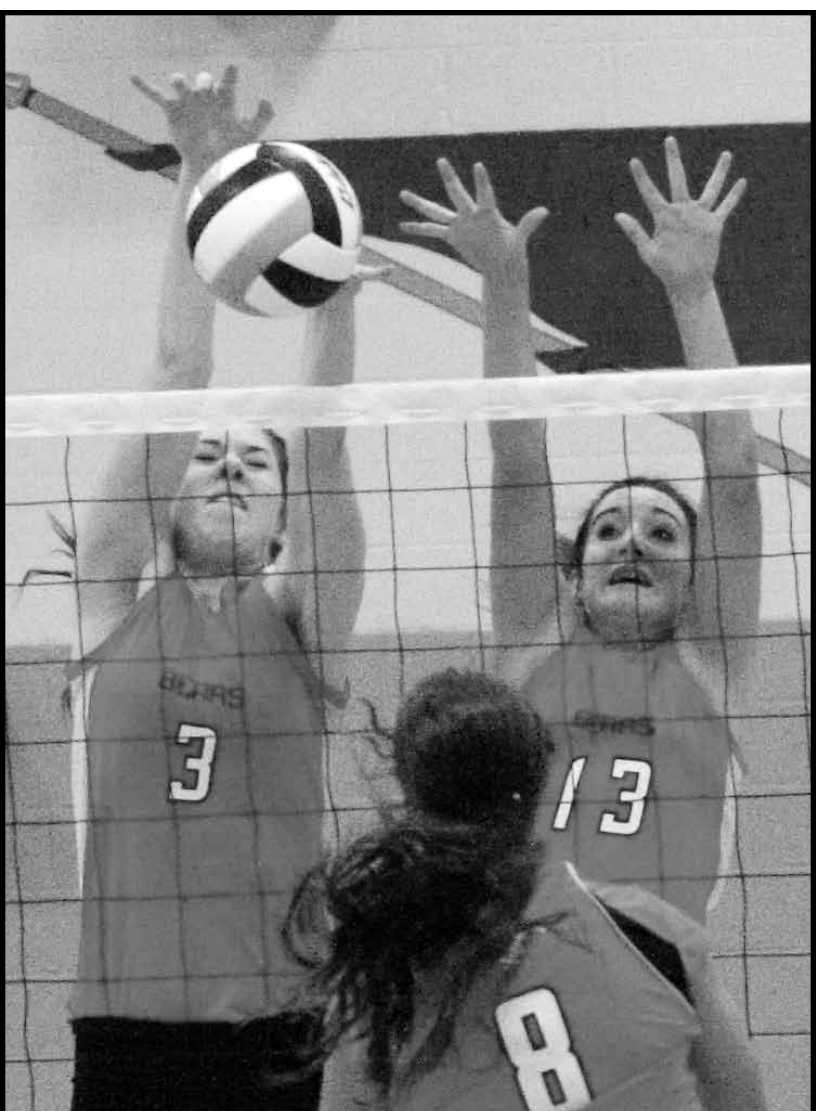

Area athletes help NECC volleyball team

Two area athletes playing volleyball for Northeast Community College helped contribute to the Lady Hawks' efforts in recent matches.

On Tuesday, Sept. 10, the Lady Hawks too fifth-ranked Central Community College of Columbus to four sets before losing on the road, 25-22, 29-27, 22-25, 25-18. Winside native Nazya Thies led Northeast with 17 kills and two blocks, while Allen alum Brittany Sullivan anchored the back row with 20 digs and two ace serves.

The following night, the team went back on the road and dropped a three-set decision at Iowa Central Community College in Fort Dodge, Iowa, losing 25-22, 25-23, 25-20. Thies led the Northeast effort with 17 kills, 15 digs and one block.

On Tuesday, the Lady Hawks battled Iowa Western Community College on the road in Council Bluffs, Iowa, but were defeated in four sets, 25-23, 20-25, 25-7, 25-8. Thies led the 10-8 Lady Hawks with 12 kills.

Lady Bears struggle at Wakefield Invite

The Laurel-Concord/Coleridge volleyball team participated in the Wakefield tournament this past week, collecting a 1-4 mark.

In their two matches last Thursday, the Lady Bears weren't able to come away victorious, losing to Stanton 25-20 and 25-12, as well as to Lutheran High Northeast by 25-19 and 25-10 scores.

In the Stanton match, Audra Corbit and Ellie Arduser teamed up for 10 kills, 5 apiece, while Cameron Eddie racked up 12 set assists.

The match with LHNE was much of the same, as the Bears weren't able to collect a set win. Kelsey Dietrich led the team with six kills while Eddie added 14 set assists. Candice Rastede contributed eight digs and Eddie had seven of her own.

"Confidence and good performance are inseparable," coach Patti Cunningham said. "We must work to eliminate the self-destructing errors we make collectively as a team."

Saturday, the Lady Bears faced more stiff competition, dropping a three-set match to Lyons-Decatur 25-15, 21-25 and 25-19, along with a win over Winside 25-20 and 25-6, and concluding the tournament by losing to Pierce 29-27 and 25-12.

Dietrich recorded a double-double against Lyons-Decatur with 10 blocks and 10 digs, while Eddie contributed 27 assists. Kaci Groene led with 13 digs.

In the victory over Winside, Eddie paced the team with 13 assists, while Corbit and Arduser each had four kills.

In the match with Pierce, Dietrich led the Bears with seven kills along with four digs, while Eddie contributed 13 assists.

"A big aspect missing in our play is sustainability," Cunningham said. "If we're struggling in one area, then so far it leads to mental mistakes in another. We must strive for that competitive nature within that allows us to find a way to remain aggressive without making play-ending errors."

and Lieneman added nine. Kevin Ross had 5.5 stops.

Winside goes on the road Friday to face Humphrey.

Don't get me started

No free rides for state, fed hopefuls

It may seem hard to believe, but another political campaign "season" is almost upon us.

Already, the political parties formerly known as the Republicans and the Democrats are beginning to line up their candidates for the major political seats, including occupancy of the governor's mansion and seats in the House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate.

As has become customary, the candidates are already out on the campaign trail, shaking hands with would-be voters, making personal appearances and doing whatever they can to get their name out in front of the voting public. Most media entities in the state are willing to make a reporter available to "interview" a candidate, who will then take up that reporter's time with the usual gobbley-gook about why he or she is the best candidate, what's wrong with things going on in Lincoln or Washington, etc., etc., etc.

And while these political campaigns seem to have no problem making their candidates "available" for all this free media coverage, a different tune comes up on their jukeboxes when it comes time to buy advertising in those same small-town newspapers. Suddenly, they don't seem to be so thrilled with having to PAY for advertising they can get for free by having their candidates do an "interview" on their running for public office.

Since my arrival at The Wayne Herald, we have taken a rather unique approach when it comes to candidates for the statewide and federal public offices — they actually have to BUY advertising in our newspaper before a member of our editorial staff will do any kind of interview with them.

In more than 30 years in the newspaper business, I've discovered a rather interesting trend when it comes to people running for public office at the state or federal level — they and their parties think nothing of spending money on advertising that is broadcast on regional TV and radio stations and don't seem to have a problem putting healthy-sized ads in daily newspapers across the state.

But to buy an ad in a regional publication such as The Wayne Herald? Pish posh, they'll say . . . but we'll be HAPPY to have our candidate of such high esteem sit down with your reporter and allow them to do an interview, at no cost to our campaign, and give you a feature story for your front page.

While we will take pictures of candidates who make a campaign stop in Wayne or a neighboring community and run a simple outline on their visit, we are not about to waste our valuable time and resources giving the candidates for Governor, House of Representatives, the U.S. Senate or any statewide seat any kind of free publicity for them to state their case for public office. The two major political parties know how the media machine works, and they seem to think they can spend their money on the big media outlets, all while using the small-town media as their free advertising mechanism — and that's not going to happen here.

If you've read this column before, you know of my personal disdain for the two major political parties, and it would be easy for you to assume that my perceived lack of respect for the Republican and Democrat parties is fueling our policy to not give free advertising to these candidates.

The fact of the matter is that we, as a small-town business that relies on advertising to keep our doors open, are not going to get into the business of giving high-profile candidates for state and federal public offices any kind of free publicity. In fact, ANY candidate for public office — including those running for local or county offices — would need to do some kind of paid advertising before we would interview them about their candidacy for public office. Fortunately, our local and county candidates are always good about doing some advertising with The Wayne Herald and Morning Shopper because they know both of our publications will reach the vast majority of the voters here in Wayne and throughout Wayne County, as well as our readers in Cedar and Dixon counties.

And while we're not going to budge on the interview policy, if a candidate for office is making a public appearance somewhere in our coverage area, we think it is newsworthy enough to take a photo and provide some basic information about his or her appearance in our area. We have had photos of a number of candidates who have visited the area in recent issues, including this week's photo of Sen. Beau McCoy, who is running for governor and made an appearance at Friday's Chamber Coffee at the Wayne City Library.

When we do our pre-election coverage, we will contact those candidates and ask them to answer some basic questions that we'll use for pre-campaign stories that will run in this newspaper in the weeks leading up to the next elections. We also consider that to be different, as we will be asking specific questions of each candidate for the various offices, regardless of whether or not they have advertised with us.

Our commitment to covering the local and area news scene is one we take very seriously here at The Wayne Herald, and we will continue to cover the news that is important to the people of this area. We will not, however, have our editorial staff's valuable time and energy wasted on free publicity-seeking politicians, regardless of their party affiliation or the position they seek.

Capitol View

More names on election list

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

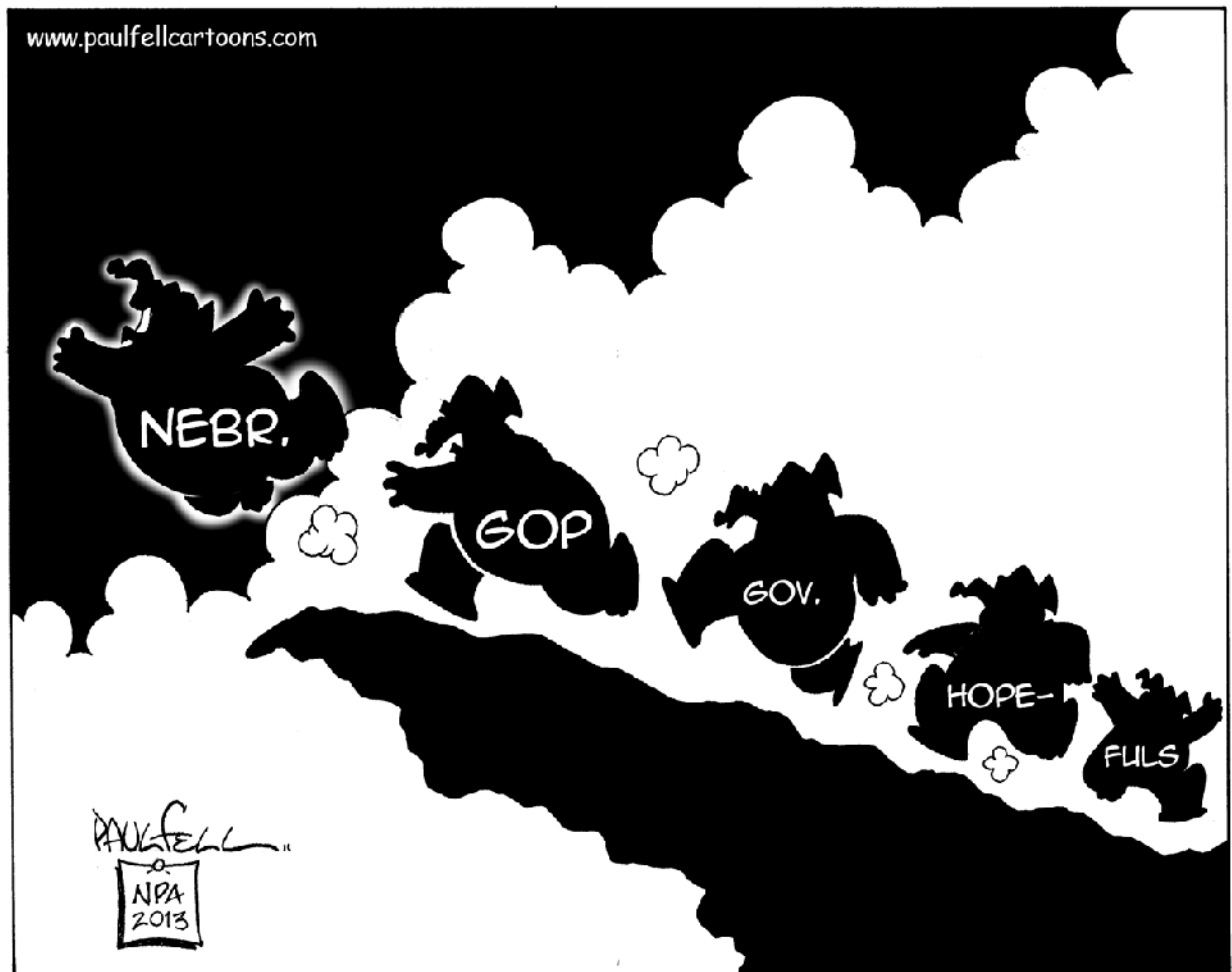

Remember a few weeks ago when I told you how to make an election-tracking chart for the 2014 primary election? Well, you're going to have to add a few more names to the Republican gubernatorial hopefuls.

State Auditor Mike Foley has made it official — he wants to be the Republican nominee. The father of six, who served a few years as the state Senator from Lincoln's mostly Catholic and pro-life 29th District, has given up a sure-thing run for another term as auditor to go after the top elected state job. He made a name for himself in the non-partisan Unicameral introducing five anti-abortion bills during his tenure.

As auditor, Foley hasn't been afraid to tackle the University of Nebraska system and the burgeoning mass of, some say out-of-control, bureaucracy known as the Department of Health and Human Services. He has brought light to the fact that millions in available federal dollars have been left on the table by inattentive department employees. Some have even lost their jobs as a result of his audits and public announcement of same.

There's no doubt that he would appeal to the fiscal conservatives. Some fear he may cut too much. Likewise, in a primary field already crowded with term-limited seated state senators, Foley can be seen as a front-runner. Or at least he was for a couple days until a familiar face, absent the oft-disparaged red stocking cap, emerged as yet another Republican gubernatorial hopeful. Yes, that millionaire Pete Ricketts.

The 49-year-old financial whiz-kid — OK, his dad started Ameritrade — who is also part owner of the Chicago Cubs baseball team decided not to go after the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by former Lincoln Mayor, governor and U.S. Ag Secretary Mike Johanns. Ricketts failed miserably in his attempt to unseat incumbent Democrat Ben Nelson a few years ago and apparently learned an important lesson — you can't buy an election.

This time around he promises there will be no red stocking cap, used in a senate race commercial in which his mom told him to be sure to wear his cap, and he says he won't use massive amounts of his own cash. It will be interesting to watch Ricketts re-invent himself as he tries to identify with the mass of Nebraska voters who have no idea what it's like to have a lot of money. Hopefully, he'll be able to craft a campaign platform as well. A Foley-Ricketts contest with some others in the background will be interesting.

Stay tuned. There are rumors that others may be inclined to jump in the already crowded race.

Meanwhile, incumbent Governor

Dave Heineman has raised some eyebrows with comments in support of Douglas County prosecutors seeking the death penalty in a high-profile murder spree. That has also brought out State Senator Ernie Chambers, the leading opponent of the death penalty, who has played the race card in his criticism of the current situation.

At issue is the arrest of Nikko Jenkins, a 26-year-old Omaha black man who was recently released from prison under the state's good time laws and now faces charges for the deaths of four Omaha people. Chambers said he was troubled because the police investigation into the matter intensified only after a white woman was identified as the fourth victim. A black man and two Hispanic men were the other three victims. He questioned why investigators didn't appear to be more aggressively seeking the person who purchased the ammunition used in those killings until after Andrea Kruger, a white woman, was killed on Aug. 21. Omaha Police said the department gives utmost attention to investigating every homicide. Chambers said authorities apply a different standard when the victim is white.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Sen. Brad Ashford of Omaha said the Jenkins' case has also opened up the debate about good time in which a prisoner has his sentence reduced by a day for every day he serves if he hasn't violated prison policies. Jenkins has been in the criminal justice system since he was 17 and was released early because of good time. Lawmakers may revisit the issue next session.

Legislative Update

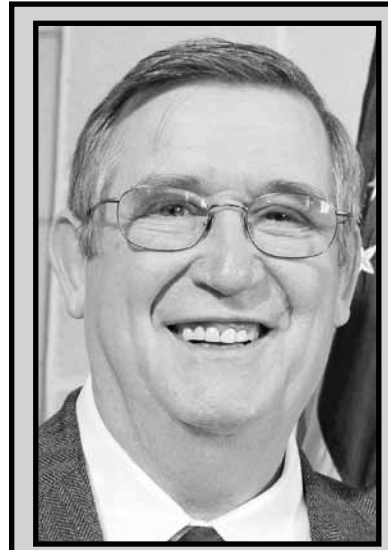

Opportunity to be a part of the process

Now that the kids are back in school, I would like to bring your attention to an opportunity for the youth who call District 17 their home.

Every year, legislative pages are selected in the fall to work for the upcoming legislative session, beginning the following January. Pages work in the center of the action on the floor of the Legislature and in committee sessions. As a legislative page, you will respond to senators' request lights on the legislative floor, run errands, deliver messages, photocopy materials, assist the presiding officer, set up and staff committee hearings and perform other duties as assigned.

Pages must be high school graduates who are currently enrolled in a Nebraska college or trade school with a minimum grade-point average of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale. They must be able to work 20 hours a week during session, and it is preferred that they work the same four-hour shift each day. The legislative session will begin Jan. 8, 2014, and will go through April of 2014. This is a paid position with first-year pages earning $9.68 per hour and second-year pages earning $10.07 per hour. In addition, a page may also be able to receive credit hours through their college. This is a great opportunity to learn about the legislative process here in Nebraska and make a few dollars to help with school expenses. Jessica, my legislative aide, once served as a page; she can explain the process better than I can.

Applications are available from my office in Lincoln: Sen. Dave Bloomfield, State Capitol - District 17, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, Neb., 68509-4604 or from the Clerk of the Legislature's Office, Room 2018, State Capitol, 1445 K Street, Lincoln, Neb., 68509. If you are interested in becoming a legislative page or have any questions, I encourage you to contact my office. I would be happy to submit a letter of recommendation for any eligible student from District 17. This year, applications are due by 5 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 30, 2013.

As always, if we can be of any assistance, contact our office at (402) 471-2716 or e-mail dbloomfield@leg.ne.gov.

Special visitor

Winside Preschooler Ashten Janssen brought his bucket calf, Dorito, to school for sharing time. Dorito demonstrated how she got her name by happily munching on Doritos while refusing to eat leafy grass. Here Ashten and his father, Marcus, take care of Dorito during her visit to the school.

Praise Assembly of God Church begins new preaching series

Phil Pfaltzgraph opened the Sept. 15 service at Praise Assembly of God Church with worship and singing.

The congregation was introduced to a missions project called "Operation Christmas Child" in partnership with Journey Christian Church and Calvary Bible Church. It is a mission designed to reach kids across the world with a shoe box filled with goodies and the message of God's love. It is a tangible way to share God's love for kids all around the world.

Pastor Jason Pickering started a new preaching series on the book of First John. He emphasized four points that covered the first four verses of chapter one.

1) The "Word of Life" is Jesus, which was "from the beginning," John 1:1. The "Word," was "real, in the flesh" which is an obvious reference to Jesus. He was "heard," "seen with our eyes," "looked upon," and "handled." John is pointing out that we too can experience Jesus in a real way by trusting the "Word of God" and accepting Him into our life by faith.

2) "The Word of Life" declares that there is eternal life, made possible by Jesus coming to Earth in the flesh and overcoming death and the grave. His resurrection proves that we, too, can have eternal life through Jesus.

3) The "Word of Life" makes it possible to fellowship with other believers, because our fellowship first starts with God. 4) "Fullness of joy" comes only when we are in fellowship with the Father and Son. Jesus came to give us "abundant life" John 10:10.

"This joy cannot be manufactured by the created, which is you and I," Pickering said. "This joy can only come from the creator. All other joy is temporary. People have the tendency to trust in themselves, trying to get everything right and perfect for their own course of life which leads to a weary heart and soul.

"There are people who also attend church and do not trust in the "life giver" and can have this kind of trouble as well. Their soul becomes weary and is in need of peace and contentment, because the world can never provide for their kind of "life," Pickering added. Complete "joy" can only be made full in an individual that trusts the one who gives eternal life. Peace and contentment are good things that come from complete joy when thinking about our eternity in fellowship with Jesus. God is pursuing us, are we pursuing Him?

"If you do not have a church home, we would like to invite you to Praise Assembly of God invites you to visit. We are located at 1000 E. 10th St., next to the new Angel Acres Addition," Pickering said.

Sunday morning worship starts at 10:30 a.m. The church will be having revival services Monday through Wednesday, Oct. 6-9. More details to be announced as the date approaches.

Celebrating 60 years of education

A special Mass was held at St. Mary's Catholic Church on Sept. 15, commemorating the 60th anniversary of the opening of St. Mary's Elementary School. The event recognized those who worked to build the school, those who have served the school in many ways and those who have received an education at the school. Among the events connected to the celebration was the presentation of a flag (above) by Vona Sharer and her sons, Mike and Tim. The flag had been placed on the casket of Clete Sharer, an 86-year member of St. Mary's Church, who died last year. Clete and Vona have been active supporters of the school for many years. Accepting the flag were Denny Lutt and Fr. Mark Beran. (below) St. Mary's Elementary students sang a song about their faith during Sunday's Mass.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid holds September meeting

President Rhonda Sebade called the Sept. 11 meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML to order. She welcomed Pastor Lilienkamp, guests, Leota Swansen, Clara Heinemann, Lanora Sorensen and Cyril Hansen and 18 members. The LWML Pledge was spoken in unison. Vice President Ellen Heinemann gave an opening devotion, entitled Patriot Day, comparing our lives to the many past happenings in the world, causing us to feel helpless and weak. Quoting Psalm 27, she reminded us that God is the stronghold of our life, and we should not be afraid. She closed with prayer. The minutes of the July and August meetings were read and approved as read. Correspondence read included

'thank you's' from Phyllis Nolte, Pastor Mike and Jessica, Kris Hineicks and Betty Wittig, and a letter from Ryan and Dani Janke, a picture card from the Bobby's, a former Seminary Student, now Pastor in Bloomfield. The treasurer's report was given and filed for financial review. President Sebade stated a grant from the Pittsburgh LWML Convention will provide many copies of Luther's Small Catechism and Child's Garden of Bible Stories for Southeast Asians, so they may come to know and love Jesus. "Jesus Loves Me" was sung in closing. Committee reports were as follows: Mission Service: Mary Janke said there are six confirmands this year. Volunteers chose students to mentor.

Sewing: Esther Brader said they will meet Sept. 26 to tie quilts. Visiting: Many cards were sent and visiting was done at The Oaks and Careage, as reported by Joann Temme. Seminary Student: Melvy Meyer will write Ryan Janke. Old business: President Sebade reminded members of the LWML Retreat on Saturday, Sept. 21, at St. John's Lutheran Church in Pilger. Guest speaker will be Kay Kreklau. New business: The group voted to send $140 to Ryan and Dani Janke as a 'thank you' for Ryan sharing his Seminary experiences at the August brunch. It was suggested that the Aid could use a full size refrigerator in the kitchenette. President Sebade will contact Diane Hefti to bring it before Mission Council.

NEST on the Farm

Madyson Sievers with her parents, Scott and Beth Sievers, of Wayne pose with Madyson's NEST on the Farm award in the Nebraska Farmer tent at Husker Harvest Days. Madyson received a runner-up certificate from Nebraska State Treasurer Don Stenberg during Husker Harvest Days. In her winning essay, Madyson wrote, "When I look out my window I see fields of green, cows, tracts, and wild animals such as deer, skunks, raccoons, turkeys and coyotes," she wrote. "Growing up on a farm has taught me responsibility and hard work at a young age." Nebraska State Treasurer Stenberg and First National Bank of Omaha recently announced the winners of the third annual "NEST on the Farm" scholarship contest. Three first-place winners each received a $3,500 contribution to a NEST Direct College Savings Plan while three runners-up each received a $1,000 contribution to a NEST Direct College Savings Plan.

Wayne native earns honor for hard work, honesty

When I learn of someone who has been successful due to hard work and honesty, I like to toot their horn a bit. When I find they are from Wayne County, I like to toot it a bit more loudly.

My newest neighbor is originally from Wayne County. I became aware of her when I met her daughter at Curves. The daughter is just naturally friendly, and over time, with conversation before, during, and after the circuit, I learned that Fritz Temme is her uncle.

Which made her related to a lot of folks!

It seems that her mom, Caroline, hosts a Temme family dinner once a month to gather members of the family in and around Lincoln, including any attending college here. Since Fritz and Joann were going to be here at the latest one, I was invited to come for dessert. (Since there were four pies, they really needed me!)

The youngest Temme of the eight siblings was seated at my left. He had a sweet smile, his name was Roland, and I knew I had seen that name somewhere before. We tried making the connection, but didn't get it figured out that evening.

Later, I opened the latest issue of the Lutheran Family Services newsletter and realized where I had seen his name. I had skimmed this issue earlier and put it aside to read. It seems that Roland Temme was to be honored at a banquet for his work with refugees resettled by LFS.

This morning, the World-Herald featured Roland Temme on the front page! He is the owner of TM-CO here in Lincoln, employs 200 people, and 30 of them have been refugees. It is a totally heartwarming story, and I'm so proud to know him.

By: Pat Meierhenry

I was struck by the story. This is a farm boy from northeast Nebraska who came to the U, interrupted college to serve in the military, and played French horn in the Army band in Japan. (Of course, with two French horn players in our family, I was tickled about that.) There, he learned that folks can communicate even when they don't understand each other's language. He also experienced the culture shock that goes with living in a different country.

He came home with an appreciation for those differences, and when given the opportunity to start his own business, determined to hire only those folks who are willing to work hard and show up!! (My interpretation.) Of course, if you have spent years in a refugee camp and someone gives you a job that will enable you to have your own home or apartment, it would make sense that you would be willing to work hard.

But his story is an inspiring one because he says his employees are the heart of the company's success. His kids say he taught them about hard work and making your own way. It's refreshing to hear those old maxims repeated. And better still to have them rewarded with the award he received last night. We should all be proud of him!

September means ReTree Nebraska Week

Many people don't know that fall is a great time to plant trees in Nebraska. Fall's cooler temperatures and reduced humidity make it less stressful for newly planted trees to establish themselves before winter arrives.

If you weren't able to celebrate Arbor Day with a tree planting, now's your chance! Join the celebration of fall tree planting by planting a tree in your community or your home landscape during ReTree Nebraska Week, which is always the last full week of September.

If you are having a hard time choosing a tree to plant, go to the Nebraska Forest Service site re-treenebraska.unl.edu for descriptions of trees and planting information. Better yet, go to a local arboretum to see what the trees look like in a landscape. The arboretum at the Haskell Ag Lab east of Concord has dozens of trees and a self-guided tour available. sites are in Wayne (at Wayne State College), Pender, South Sioux City, Norfolk, Pierce and Stanton. Trees have unique combinations of sizes, shapes, leaf shapes, bark patterns, colors, shade canopy among other traits so seeing them in person is a tremendous help. It's hard to pick a favorite tree since so many factors come in to play. Choose a tree that's right for you and your situation.

My favorite full-sized trees with a full shade canopy are lindens, Norway maple, and a wide variety of oaks. If you want to let some light in to your lawn, I really like the Kentucky coffeetree and black locust.

Local Wayne forester Steve Rasmussen says "Coffeetree is a relatively unknown and under-utilized native eastern Nebraska tree with almost no insect disease problems; and the rough bark, thick seed pods, stout trigs and stiff branch angles make it a great winter silhouette and 'character' tree".

I also like river birch. There are many, many others.

I'm not mentioning conifers because it is usually better to plant them in the spring, although you can plant them in the fall, as well. Remember to plant the tree at the right depth, mulch, and water (don't overwater). For more planting tips, contact the Nebraska Forest Service or the website. If you'll be planting a tree in your home landscape, please report your planting to re-treenebraska.com so we can count it toward the goal of 1 million trees by 2017.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me, for no I'm free I'm following the path God laid for me, I took His hand when I heard Him call I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day To laugh, to love, to work or play. Tasks left undone must stay that way. I found that place at the close of day.

If my parting has left a void Then fill it with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss. Ah yes, these things, I too, will miss. Be not burdened with times of sorrow. I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow. My life's been full, I savored much. Good friends, good times. A loved one's touch.

Perhaps my time seemed all too brief; Don't lengthen it now with undue grief. Lift up your heart and share with me God wanted me now, He set me free.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY & HEALTH WEEK

Safety essential when visiting a farm

The nursery rhyme does not state, “Old MacDonald had a farm and on this farm there was a bunch of dangerous things.” But maybe it should?

Farmers perform an essential service, providing food and other products that consumers commonly take for granted. The inner workings of a farm are something to treat with respect. Most of the families who live and work on a farm understand the potential hazards of such an environment. However, individuals visiting a farm may be unaware of these dangers.

Understanding farm safety helps keep everyone safe.

According to the organization Kids Health, the age groups at greatest risk for injury on farms are children ages 3 to 4 and teenagers ages 13 to 14. Most injuries can be prevented, though, with a little education and precautionary measures.

Machinery

There are many different forms of machinery on a farm to help keep it working efficiently. These items can pose serious safety risks. Although tractors are the type of farm equipment that causes the most injuries, some adults still think it is safe to allow children to ride along.

Injuries that may result from farm machinery include pinching of clothing or parts of the body, where a person may become trapped in the gears or components of equipment; cuts from equipment that shears crops; bruising or cuts from projectiles thrown by mowers or other field equipment; and crushing or trapping injuries from machinery that falls or tips over.

Animals

Part of the excitement of visiting a farm is seeing and petting the animals. Although many animals may be docile and domesticated, they can still be unpredictable. Animals that are startled by yelling or loud noises also may become restless and dangerous.

Children should understand that animals may unintentionally cause injuries. It may be in a horse’s defense mechanism to kick when it is scared. To avoid such injuries, never approach animals from behind.

Also, when baby animals are present, a female may be protective of her brood and go on the defensive.

Another inadvertent injury that may occur is from bacteria or viruses from the animals. Animal feces may contain bacteria, and there may be other microorganisms on the animals themselves. It is a smart idea to always wash your hands after handling a farm animal to prevent the spread of disease.

Here are some other precautions that can be taken when visiting a farm.

- Don’t allow children to wander around unsupervised.
- Rides on farm equipment should be discouraged.
- Before starting machinery, operators should locate children and other guests and clear them from the work area.
- Don’t allow children near machinery.
- Children under the age of 16 should not be allowed to operate any farm vehicles.
- Watch for hand tools or other equipment, and keep children away from them.
- Do not touch animals unless a farm worker allows it. Then follow his or her instructions.
- Don’t provoke farm animals or attempt to startle them.
- Supervise children around ponds, feeding troughs or manure lagoons. It only takes a few inches of water to pose a drowning risk.

Farms are interesting places to visit, especially for children. Safety should always be a priority when visiting a farm.
