Health care act to be discussed here Monday

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

Less than a week from now, most of us will be entering into a new dimension when it comes to our health insurance.

The Affordable Care Act takes effect on Oct. 1, and there are already a number of law and how it will affect their health insurance coverage, from what insurance will cover to how much more (or less) it will cost. A program at the Wayne Senior Center that it will bring about.

You see, Schaefer is that guy - the kind who you don't heckle unless you can handle Sinclair/Daylight Donuts is not a quiet being heckled right back. From 6 or 6:10 in the morning (because, as Schaefer reasoned, "sometimes I sleep in") to whenever he decides to call it a day, the place is filled with a mixture of the sugary-sweet scent of the pastry case and banter between his customers.

Some might call it loud, but Schaefer has another word for it.

"That's what we've got here: character,' he said. "You want character, you come here.'

What brought him to Wayne, however, was school; and, while in town, he got a

Clarification on City Council story

In the Sept. 19 story on the meeting of the munity. Wavne City Council, the report of the discussion of the request to amend a section of requirements in areas zoned A-2 (Agricultural Residential District) was unclear.

Lou Benscoter spoke to the council on the fact that the re-zoning would apply to all Planning Commission, said he would like areas of land zoned A-2 and would reduce the size of lots in this zoning area from 2.5 acres to 1.5 acres. theran Church in Laurel with the Rev. William Engebretsen officiating. Visitation will be held Friday, Sept. 27 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel with family present.

Lila Mae (Sherman) Stark was born May 30, 1924, at the home of her parents, Guy and Effie (Rogers) Sherman in Dixon County, Neb. In May, 1943, Lila married Arnim Stark. They farmed in Dixon and Cedar County. She was a home-maker, but later drove a school bus for Laurel-Concord Unified School District for almost two decades. She went to country school for eight years, then to Clark Center High School for two years, graduating from Dixon High School in 1942. She was baptized and confirmed into the Trinity Lutheran Church in Martinsburg in 1944. She later joined the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel when they moved to Cedar County. She was an active member in the LWML. She especially liked being with the group making quilts. She enjoyed being with family, dancing with her husband, playing cards and music; especially big bands, country & western and hymns.

Survivors inlcude her four children: Larry of Laurel, Dennis (Brenda) of Juniata, Kenneth (Janice) of rural Dixon, Kathleen (William) Rudy of Dinuba, Calif., 12 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren; a sister, Velma Bottorff of Ponca, sister-in-law, June Sherman of Vermillion, S.D.; brother-in-law, Gilmer Stark (Mary) of Laurel; and nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Arnim (Shorty) on Jan. 28, 2013, their son Barry (Larry's twin brother), her parents and five brothers, two brothers-in-law and four sisters-in-law.

Honorary pallbearers will be Arnim and Lila's granddaughters and granddaughters-in-law, Audrey Stark, Tara Stark, Kristy Knapp, Danielle Goetsch, Sarah Beckwith, Stacey Stark, Amy Stark, Rachael Rudy, Rebecca Walker and Shelly Richling.

Active pallbearers will be Arnim and Lila's grandsons and grandsonsin-law, Matthew Stark, Barry Stark, Joseph Stark, Guy Stark, Kaleb Rudy, Christopher Goetsch, Matthew Walker, Jase Beckwith, Dag Tor Mo and James Knapp.

Memorials may be made to the family for later designation.

Burial will be in the Laurel Cemetery at Laurel. Hasemann Funeral Home in Laurel is in charge of arrangements.

Pet of the Week

The Pet of the Week at Tenderheart Animal Rescue is Betty, an adult female calico cat. She is very beautiful, her coloring is very dramatic, and she has amazing green eyes. She does not like other dogs or cats, so would have to go to a home with no other pets. She is very independent and doesn't need constant attention. She is spayed, up to date on all shots, wormed and FIV negative.

Expand Your Horizon series planned at Wayne Public Library

Everybody likes to celebrate an anniversary or remember an event that affected their life. The October series of Expand Your Horizon program will focus on three American presidents who made an impact on us or the history of our country. Programs are scheduled for Tuesdays, Oct. 8, 15 and 22. All programs will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Wayne Senior Center. The speakers are all experts in their field and members of the Humanities Council Speakers' Bureau in Nebraska and Iowa.

The series will start on Oct. 8 with a look at Abraham Lincoln, America's Greatest Political Orator, with a program by Fred Nielsen.

Dr. Nielsen earned his Ph.D. at the University of Kansas. A member of the history department at the University of Nebraska at Omaha since 1992, he has taught numerous courses, including environmental history, "The Civil War and Reconstruction," "America in the Sixties" and "American History Viewed Right and Left.

From 2001 to 2006, he was an interviewer on "Talking History," a nationally syndicated radio program. Public speaking was an essential part of Abraham Lincoln's political career. His debates with Stephen Douglas made him a national figure. His speeches as president — especially the Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural Address — helped shape Americans' understanding of their country and chart a path toward reconciliation after the Civil War.

Whether using humor, lawyerlike reason or a Biblically-inspired prose that could verge on poetry, president. 2013 is the 150th Anniversary of the Gettysburg Address.

Darrel W. Draper, a fifth generation Nebraskan, retired Navy officer and University of Nebraska at Omaha graduate, uses his talents as storyteller and actor to educate and entertain. He has performed for national and state government agencies, museums, schools, vouth groups and festivals. He specializes in costumed portrayals of historical figures who played major roles in the events that shaped our state and nation.

His program on Oct. 15 is entitled "Theodore Roosevelt: Rough Rider President.'

Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th President of the United States, is famous for his energetic personality, range of interests and achievements, leadership of the Progressive Movement, model of masculinity and his "cowboy" image. Roosevelt's achievements as a naturalist, explorer, hunter, author and soldier are as much a part of his fame as any office he held as a politician.

This living history presentation delves into Roosevelt's life after his presidency and brings this historical icon to life.

The 50th anniversary of the assassination of John Kennedy will be commemorated this coming November. On Oct. 22, the library will host Bill Sherman from Des Moines, Iowa. In 1963, Mr. Sherman started collecting newspapers published immediately following the assassination of President Kennedy. That collection evolved into an instructional kit, and those materials were converted into PowerPoint presenhe was the nation's most eloquent tations featuring newspaper front pages and cartoons from American retired, he continues to research, and Canadian publications.

This program also includes an audio presentation by Jack Shelley describing how the broadcast media reported the death of JFK and interviews by Lee Kline and with David Belin and Hugh Sidey, who reflect on the JFK assassination.

Bill Sherman worked as a publications/public relations specialist for the Iowa State Education Association for more than 35 years. Now write and speak nationally and internationally. His program is entitled "Media Coverage of the Assassination of John F. Kennedy."

Light refreshments will be available each evening. There will be time for questions and answers each session. This series of free programming is open to public.

Ribbon cutting for Angel Acres

The Benscoter family gathered at Wayne's newest development site on Saturday for a ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony. Lou Benscoter spoke following the ribbon cutting, which was done by his grandson, Jaxon. He noted that over a year ago he and his late wife, Gail began plans for the area, located just north of the Sunnyview Park. He said he was very pleased with the way the area has been developed and is anxious to see more houses be built along Memory Lane, Gail's Way and Angel Avenue. The ribbon cutting ceremony was held on what would have been Lou and Gail's wedding anniversary. Following the ribbon cutting, tours of the home located on Providence Road, which is part of the development area, were given.

Wayne banks to Host 'NESTFest'

Families in the Wavne area are invited to NESTFest, a celebration of Nebraska's 529 college savings plans, on Sunday, Oct. 6 from 12:30-3:30 p.m. at the Community Activity Center, 901 W. Seventh Street, in Wayne.

NESTFest is hosted by the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust (NEST), First Nebraska Bank of Wayne, The State National Bank & Trust Company, F&M Bank, and BankFirst. NESTFest is a celebration of Nebraska's 529 college savings plans and an opportunity for families to learn more about how they can save for their children's futures.

The celebration is held annually at locations throughout the state. NESTFests this year also are scheduled for Sept. 28 in Lincoln and Blair.

Free for the whole family, NEST-Fest in Wayne will feature free food and giveaways, face painting by the Wayne Community Theatre, pumpkin decorating, games, and live local entertainment including the Wayne High School cheerleaders and dance team.

"NESTFest is a lively, fun event that gives young families an opportunity to spend time together outdoors and, at the same time, learn more about how to save for college to ensure their children's educational futures. We are expecting a large turnout this year," said Nebraska State Treasurer Don Stenberg, trustee of the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust. "We want families across Nebraska to know about our fine state-sponsored college savings plans that are available to them," Stenberg said.

As part of the NESTFest celebra- director of College Savings Plans tion, NEST is offering each new customer a $25 new account bonus to jump start a college savings plan account. Representatives from NEST will be available to answer questions about the bonus, the NEST plans and saving for college.

"NEST has been recognized by national experts as one of the top college savings plans in the nation," said Deborah Goodkin, managing

Praying around the flag

Students gather around the flagpole at Wayne Elementary Wednesday morning for See You At The Pole day, an event put together by junior high and senior high youth groups at Journey Christian Church. According to Tia Jech, one of the organizers of the event, the event was a chance for students to gather before the start of the school day and pray for their school and community. About 30 kids, parents and school teachers took part in the morning gathering at the elementary school, praying for their fellow students, teachers and community. A similar-size group was noted at Wayne Junior-Senior High School.

Wildcats start fast, cruise to 41-25 victory

Big plays and key turnovers helped Wayne State's football team get into the win column for the first time this season.

Redshirt freshman quarterback Zach Osborn had a big day on Saturday, tossing three touchdowns and running for a fourth as the Wildcats raced to a big lead and cruised to a 41-25 win at Minnesota Crookston, ending a two-game losing streak.

The Wildcats racked up 459 yards in total offense and used some big plays to help a 28-0 start that put the game out of reach early.

After punting on its first possession, the Wildcats scored the next four times they touched the ball, including a big 97-yard scoring pass that came immediately following an interception. Trailing 7-0 after Osborn hit Tyler Hoppes on a short touchdown pass, Crookston had put together a solid touchdown connection for a Wildcat quarterback and receiver since Ed Jochum hit Sonny Jones with a 98-yard pass in 1985 against Midland Lutheran

Less than two minutes after the Osbornto-Stark connection, Cole McDaniel caught a 23-yard pass from Osborn to make it 21-0. Nick Monzu's fumble recovery on the Golden Eagles' next drive then led to a three-yard run by Charlie Davidson, and it was 28-0 midway through the second period.

Crookston closed the deficit to 28-6 at the half. then used a couple of Wayne State turnovers to pull within nine points midway through the fourth quarter. Wayne State responded with a 35-yard scoring run by Davidson with 2:14 to go to close out the scoring and give Wayne State its first win of the season.

Late first-half run dooms Eagles

The Wayne_

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

ALLEN - For most of the first half, you could hardly tell the Allen football team was outmanned and outsized.

The Eagles more than held their own with the bigger, deeper Niobrara/Verdigre Cougars for the first 20 minutes of the first half, but two big plays in the waning moments of the second period helped propel the visitors to a 36-0 shutout Friday at Allen Field.

The Cougars' roster was twice as deep as Allen's and - when comparing the size of both teams' players twice as big. That's usually a recipe for disaster for the smaller team.

And yet, it was the Eagles who seemed to be in control of the game for much of the first half.

"We gave up 50 pounds a man up front, but we were able to move the ball on them and hit them pretty hard," coach Dave Uldrich said.

In the end, though, it was the Cougars who were able to hit where it hurt the hardest – on the scoreboard.

Niobrara/Verdigre scored late in the first period on a 47-yard run by Steven LaPointe, but that was all they could get until the final two minutes of the first half, when two big plays turned a one-score game into a 20-point halftime advantage for the visitors.

Allen's defense - led by senior lineman Austin Connot's 10 tackles - was oh-so-close to having quarterback Mark Vondracek sacked for a big loss on a key first-down play at the Allen 34-yard line; but at the last possible moment, he was able to find Hayden Liska down the far sideline. Liska broke a couple of tackles and turned a sure disaster into a 30-yard pass play that gave the Cougars a first-and-goal at the Allen 4-yard line.

"You've got to finish plays," Uldrich said. "I don't know if we got to him in time or not, but even then, the kid ran the ball down the field, and you have to be able to make the tackle, and we didn't do that."

Cade Kalkowski to make it 14-0 – still a manageable deficit for the host Eagles to overcome.

Friday's action at Allen Field.

That is - until their next possession. After Niobrara/Verdigre forced a three-and-out, the Eagles' Brian Boese punted to LaPointe, who raced 55

Second-half Devils' comeback falls short

By RICHARD RHODEN Of The Herald

The Wayne High Blue Devils is a team that never folds it in, and they proved that again last Friday night at Bob Cunningham field.

A ferocious second half comeback by the Wayne High Blue Devils came up just short as they suffered their second loss of the season to Class C-1 ranked Columbus Lakeview 20-14, dropping their record to 2-2.

Lakeview attempted a 37-yard field goal early in the third quarter that was no good, the only scoring opportunity for either team in the third period.

The fourth quarter was where the Blue Devils caught fire.

On a fourth-and-11 from the Viking Wayne High football coach 42, Jalen Barry's pass was caught by Payton Janke and converted the fourth down by the length of a football. Demetrius Alexander finished the drive with a four-yard touchdown run to get the Blue Devils on the board.

the half, but those big plays were the difference," Uldrich said. "If we could have cleaned those plays up, with as hard as we hit them tonight, I thought we should've been OK."

Allen's best drive of the evening came late in the third period after the Cougars had built their lead to what would be the final score.

Caleb Thomas converted a key fourth-down play on the final snap of the third quarter to keep the drive alive. Cole Stewart pounded out an eight-yard gain on the first play of the fourth quarter to help Allen get as close as the Niobrara/ Verdigre 20-yard line before the drive stalled, and the Cougars took over. Allen got inside the Cougars' 30 on its final possession but could not find the end zone.

Stewart led the Allen attack with 51 yards on 15 carries, while Thomas added 39 yards on 10 tries, and Boese had 27 in 11 attempts. Wade Connot and Myles Flores each had nine tackles on the night to complement Austin Connot's 10 stops.

LCC volleyball fifth at Stanton

Laurel-Concord/Coleridge volleyball team collected a fifthplace finish in the Stanton Tournament on Saturday.

In the first match with Battle Creek, LCC came out sluggish and lost to the Bravettes in straight sets, 25-23 and 25-15.

Taylor Pigg led the team with nine set assists, while Cameron Eddie recorded eight. Ellie Arduser was able to score five kills and five

"We were hesitant and out of sync, thus, making costly mistakes," coach Patti Cunningham said of the team's effort.

The second match of the day saw the Bears make easy work of Elkhorn Valley, winning both sets 25-15 and 25-15.

Erin Gubbels led the team with more consistent in all areas of the six kills, while Arduser recorded five kills and five digs. Eddie scored 10 set assists along with six digs from Candice Rastede.

"We played more aggressively and maintained a comfortable lead over the opponent," Cunningham said.

LCC finished the day with a straight set victory over West Point/ Beemer with scores of 25-18 and 25-

Gubbels again led the team with six kills, while Eddie racked up a total of 18 set assists. Arduser accumulated a team-high 10 kills along with five kills.

"This was a good finish to the seven digs.

day," Cunningham said. "We were game, and the athletes were determined to win." On Tuesday, the Lady Bears dropped a 25-19, 25-7, 25-20 decision at Crofton, falling to 7-5 on the season.

"Crofton is a good attacking team, and unfortunately, we were also our own worst enemy," Cunningham said. "We'd gain momentum, but then make an unforced error, such as a missed serve or an untouched ball, due to limited talk on the court."

Dietrich had five kills, and Eddie had three kills and nine assists for LCC. Arduser recorded a team-best

Wayne golfers fourth at Albion

It was a successful week on the links for the Wayne High girls golf team, as they won a triangular and quadrangular and shot well in tournament action.

On Thursday, the Blue Devils shot 209 and won a quadrangular with Pierce, Hartington Cedar Catholic and Laurel-Concord/ Coleridge. The Blue Devils finished five shots ahead of Pierce, while Cedar Catholic shot 263. LCC did not field a full team.

Leading the way for Wayne was medalist Holly Grosz with a 49. Other scorers were Marissa Wiese with a 52, Cassidy Wiese shot 53, Cienna Stegemann had a 55 and Emma Loberg shot 57.

Wayne JV scores included Anna Loberg (54), Bailey Bentjen (59), Varya Roberts (62), Ashlyn Pecena (66), Abby Cudaback (70), Emma Osnes (77) and Jewel Kneifl (89).

Softballers post 13-0 shutout

The Wayne High softball team continued its stingy ways defensively, improving to 14-4 and posting its fifth consecutive shutout in a 13-0 pasting of Madison on the road Thursday.

Victoria Kranz got the party started in the first inning with a single to left, scoring Jalyn Zeiss, who opened the inning with a single. Abbie Hix scored on a wild pitch. and Kranz came home on a Danica Schaefer single to make it 3-0.

Later in the inning, Nicole Craft scored on a wild pitch, and Rylee Bessmer knocked a two-out double to center, scoring Schaefer and Lauren Gilliland.

Wayne plated two more in the second when Craft had an RBI groundout, and Schaefer brought Hix home with a single. They tacked on five more in the third, highlighted by Craft's two-run homer and a two-run triple by Kranz, to end the game on the 12-run mercy rule after three innings.

Freshman Hannah Belt made good on the pitching end of things for the Blue Devils, allowing one hit and one walk while striking out seven in three innings of work.

Offensively, Zeiss, Hix, Kranz, Craft and Kiera Hochstein each had two hits, while Kranz and Craft each had three RBI's, Schaefer and Bessmer had two apiece, and Zeiss added an RBL

On Saturday, the Blue Devils shot a 430 and posted a fourth-place finish in the Boone Central Invitational in Albion. Wavne finished 42 shots behind Boone Central in the 10-team tournament.

Individually, Cassidy Wiese was the lone medalist for Wayne, finishing 15th with a 105. Marissa Wiese Holly Grosz had a 119.

On Tuesday, the Blue Devils played well in a triangular with Columbus Lakeview and Stanton, finishing with a 211 compared to Lakeview's 227 and Stanton's 277. Cassidy Wiese shot 52, while Stegemann, Marissa Wiese and Emma Loberg all had rounds of 53.

Other scores included Roberts also shot 105, Kaitlyn McAllister (58), Grosz (59), Bentjen (64), Anshot 108, Stegemann had a 112, and na Loberg (67), Pecena (67), Osnes (68), Cudaback (69) and Kneifl (70).

Wildcat rugby posts dominating efforts

Wayne State's rugby teams home matches over the weekend.

The defending national-champion Wayne State women's team improved to 7-0 on the season with a blowout win over Benedictine College, 76-10, in action at the Wayne Rugby Park. The Wayne State men had a similar pointspread in their win over Northwest Missouri State, posting a 66-0 triumph to move to 7-1 on the season.

The Wayne State women's team will play on homecoming weekend this Saturday, facing Kansas State in a 3:45 p.m. matchup at the Wayne Rugby Park. Coach Darrin Barner said Saturday's matchup with the Wildcats will be "a real slobberknocker."

"It will be a great challenge and dominated their opponents in a measuring stick playing a Div. program like Kansas State," Τ he said. "We've had a number of close games with them over the years, and I expect the same this Saturday.'

> Wayne State is sitting two of its better backfield players due to injuries and filling those positions with younger players. Barner said he hopes the younger players will help inspire the team to rise above the injuries and play well against Kansas State on Saturday.

> The Wayne State men's team was scheduled to play at Cunningham Field in Memorial Stadium on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. against South Dakota State.

After slow start, Blue Devils knock off Norfolk Catholic got out of the gate slow but bounced back for a solid four-set win over conference rival Norfolk Catholic on Tuesdav

Wayne High stumbled in the first set against the Knights at Wayne High School, but were able to right the ship and dominate after that, posting a 13-25, 25-18, 25-18, 25-16 win over Norfolk Catholic.

"We just couldn't get anything going the first set," coach Traci Krusemark said. "It seemed every ball we touched was an error, but I was proud of how the girls came back and picked up the pace a little bit."

Madison Frevert added nine kills, Paige Wacker had seven, and Alyssa Schmale put down six for the Wildcats. Meagan Backer led the team with 15 digs, Schweers had 12 and Frevert picked up eight.

In JV play, Wayne was a 25-18, 25-23 winner, while Norfolk Catholic took the "C" game in three sets, 25-21, 22-25, 15-11.

Wayne High is ranked in the top 10 in the Lincoln Journal Star this week, but Krusemark said there is still room for improvement.

"We're struggling a bit like we did against Guardian Angels and Norfolk Catholic and haven't played our best ball, but I think we have a lot of leaders on the team who want to win, so we'll come back around," she said. "A win is a win against Nor-

HUMPHREY - Even with low numbers, the Winside Wildcats can still put up a fight.

After surrendering 20 points in the first quarter, Winside was only outscored eight points the rest of the way, losing to Humphrey 68-40.

Gage Main scored on a 40-yard touchdown run, while Heesacker matched him on the next possession with a 65-yard run of his own. Marcus Escalera threw a 23-yard touchdown pass to Bryce Meis.

Escalera threw another touchdown pass to Zach Jones from 45 yards out, but Humphrey scored as time expired in the half.

Escalera answered an early Humphrey score with his own threeyard run in the third period. Caleb Lieneman scored for the Wildcats on the ground with a 37-yard run and scored the final touchdown of the game with a 40-yard run. Humphrey 68, Winside 40

Makenzie Evans gets ready to take a penalty kick for the Wildcats. She scored on the play to give Wayne State a 1-0 win over MSU Moorhead on Sunday.

Penalty kick gives WSC soccer its first win of 2013

The Wayne State women's soccer team put one in the win column on Sunday, using a penalty kick to record their first victory of the season.

The Wildcats rode a penalty kick of Makenzie Evans to a 1-0 win over MSU Moorhead in action Sunday at the Wayne State soccer complex, ending a five-game losing streak for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats came out and played aggressive from the start on Sunday, recording 13 of the team's 20 shots in the first half; but it was a defensive miscue by the Dragons that would give Wayne State an opportunity to cash in on a victory.

Moorhead was called for a hand ball in the penalty box, giving Evans the chance to break the scoreless tie. Her shot beat the goalkeeper to the lower right corner of the net, giving the Wildcats a 1-0 lead that they would not relinquish.

The Wildcat defense was solid on Sunday, and freshman goalkeeper Kylie Comba got her first career win in goal for the Wildcats, making six saves Offensively, Macy Hagen led the Wildcats with six shots, while Evans had three, including her first goal of the season.

A slow start on Saturday could not be overcome by the Wildcats, as Northern State got out to a big lead couldn't take advantage of the opportunities that came up.

"Missed opportunities and untimely mistakes pretty much sums it up," a disappointed coach Mike Hassler said. "West Holt was, hands down, the best team we've played so far this year, and we stood with them for three quarters and had our chances to take the lead, but, in the end, too many mistakes an missed chances caught up with us."

The Trojans were unable to get anything going with their run game and were forced to throw the ball more than Hassler was hoping.

"We need to be able to run the ball, and to do that, we need to be more physical off the ball," he said. "When you have to depend on the pass as much as we did Friday night, it makes you one-dimensional

"Every week, the offense seems to gel a little more, and we are finding out what some of our strengths are. We definitely plan to try to take advantage of those in the upcoming weeks.'

Offensively, Wakefield was limited to 23 vards on 25 carries. Evan Nicholson was 17-of-32 for 179 vards and connected with Anthony Victor on an 8-yard pass for the Trojans' only score of the night. Victor finished with 81 yards on seven receptions, while Alex Conley had 48 yards on four catches, Josh Dolph Wakefield picked up 51 yards on three receptions, and Anthony Gustafson had 13 yards on four catches.

$3 million gift to help to support ag research at University of Neb.

A generous gift of more than $3 Nebraska with potential to take wheat breeding and cropping systems research to a new level of innovation not seen since the early days of plant genetics.

Marvin H. Stumpf III of Grant, Neb., has made the gift to the University of Nebraska Foundation to establish the Stumpf Family Research and Development Fund to support agricultural research and university extension services. The contribution includes a $1 million outright gift and donation of 640 acres of land in Perkins County, located in southwest Nebraska, with an appraised market value of more than $2 million.

"This gift is about honoring my family and our Nebraska heritage," Stumpf said. "This state has meant so much to generations of my family, and it's a privilege to give back in a way that will further agricultural research and service well into the future.'

Ronnie Green. University of Nebraska vice president and Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources Harlan vice chancellor, said Stumpf's rich and active legacy will live on through these gifts, providing researchers, faculty and students the opportunity to make new discoveries on his land.

"We are excited about the addi- farm into a successful enterprise in million provides the University of tional opportunities this donation Perkins County, where Stumpf concreates for the wheat industry in tinues to live and work. The family's Nebraska and even more excited about the future impact our partnership will have on our state region and world, since as much as 50 percent of Nebraska's wheat is annually exported to international markets," Green said. "The wheat industry is big business in Nebraska, with between 65 and 75 million bushels grown each year.'

Archie Clutter, dean of the Agricultural Research Division at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said, "UNL's robust wheat and cropping-systems research programs will grow even stronger with the help of this generous gift from the Stumpf family. This Perkins County location will add important representation of high-plains, semiarid production to the UNL system of integrated research and allow accelerated progress in the development and application of new plant science biotechnologies.'

A Nebraska native. Stumpf worked for the U.S. Postal Service in Denver and received a degree from Metropolitan State Univer- the University of Nebraska's cursity in Denver. use of dryland cropping techniques, combined with organic farming experience, are the tangible results of their willingness to experiment with new ideas while using the land to its fullest potential.

In making this gift to the university, Stumpf said he wishes to honor the legacy of his family, including his late wife, Pearl Stumpf; his grandparents, Henry J. and Margaret Stumpf; his parents Henry J. and Darlene Stumpf; and his wife's late husband, Sam Peterson.

"The Stumpf family devoted their lives to acquiring and improving their land through the use of good farm management practices," Green said. "Their desire to honor the hard work and sacrifices of their family members by using the property for the benefit of the citizens of Nebraska and the United States is commendable.'

Mice looking for place to get warm With the weather getting colder, to inspect the house for these open- had mice for a while because mice now is the time homeowners start to see more mice in their homes, said Stephen Vantassel, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln program coordinator for the Internet Center for Wildlife Damage Management.

The main reason that mice come into homes this time of year is to get warm, Vantassel said.

"Small animals spend a lot of energy trying to keep themselves warm," he said. "They are desperately looking for a warmer place to reduce their caloric needs."

All mice need to enter a home is a hole that measures three-eighths

Bird feeders should be monitored so that food does not spill out of them and attract mice.

Vantassel said there are ways to tell if mice are in your home before seeing them. Because mice live in the walls of homes, people might be able to hear their vocalizations or may notice pets scratching at the walls.

"If you are seeing a mouse in the of an inch or larger. It is important in the kitchen, chances are you've rpubs.unl.edu/sendit/g1105.pdf.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes Managing Editor

Any easy answers to dumb questions?

I'm not the world's smartest guy - although there are times when I like o think that I am.

Still, there are some things going on in this world that don't make a bit of sense to me, leaving me with no choice but to ask questions that, to me, seem like dumb ones.

For example:

- The Obama regime is calling its attempt at reforming our nation's health care system the Affordable Care Act. "Obamacare," as it has come to be known in the common American lexicon, is supposed to provide more health care coverage to more people and is supposed to cost less than what is currently in place.

I'm a single, non-smoking male who is slightly overweight and can count the number of visits to the doctor for anything other than a routine physical on one hand. I've made one emergency room visit in my adult life. Under my current plan, my yearly health insurance premium runs about $160 a month, or a little more than $1,900 per year.

Recently, I made contact with my insurance carrier to see what my new monthly premium would be. You can imagine just how far my eyes shot out of their sockets when I got the new number – more than $280 a month, or about $3,400 for next year.

King Barack and his merry men (and women) in Congress were telling me I'd pay LESS for my insurance – so if somebody can explain to me how an increase of more than 70 percent on the previous year's policy is actually saving me money, I'd really appreciate it.

- Why do violent criminals get "good time" while they are serving their sentences in prison?

Recently, a prisoner in the Nebraska State Penitentiary who was doing a 21-year sentence for murder was released on "good time" – and then allegedly killed four people within 10 days of his release from prison.

When a prisoner is sentenced in the state of Nebraska, his time in prison is nowhere near the actual time he serves. If District Judge Mark Johnson were to sentence a criminal to 10 years in prison, that prisoner will be eli- out of the national polls, a rare ocgible for release in five years, thanks to Nebraska's "good time" rule that gives a prisoner one day of credit for every day he serves in prison.

Prison officials use the threat of taking "good time" away as a deterrent to keep prisoners in line, and it's pretty obvious that not following through on the threat is not having the intended result. The prisoner who went on the shooting rampage in Omaha recently was disciplined eight times, including an aggravated assault on a corrections officer – and lost a grand total of 18 months of "good time" credit.

An old friend of mine who was a corrections officer in one of the state Ben Sasse of Fremont and former facilities said that overcrowding in the prison is becoming a problem. I'm state treasurer Shane Osborn in vices of pre-paid political consulall in favor of the humane treatment of people – even those who commit that race. The Democrats are still tants. violent crimes against others - but it would seem to me that the most vioent of prisoners aren't going to be affected by the threat of losing "good

Capitol View Common threads in Nebraska

A colleague once said that Nebraska football is what happens between sessions of the Legislature. Note that I didn't distinguish college football. Perhaps some of that and a lot of political football as well. With the opening of Lincoln's new sports and entertainment venue -The Pinnacle Bank Arena – there are a number of common threads adding to the entertainment that football and politics have to offer.

Let's start with the entertainment. Michael Buble, a young performer who has brought big band classic songs to a new generation, was the opening act at the Pinnacle Bank Arena in Lincoln. He introduced football to the occasion when he recognized Jack Hoffman - the popular Nebraska poster child for pediatric brain cancer awareness and showed the now viral and ever popular video of Jack making a touchdown on the Tom Osborne Field at Memorial Stadium during the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers Spring Game. He followed that with his rendition of "Try a Little Tenderness," a song written in the early part of the last Century by Irving King and popularized years later by soul singer Otis ("Sittin' on the Dock of the Bay") Redding.

Buble's performance came the night before the UCLA Bruins refused to show any tenderness to the Cornhuskers - who could've used a couple Team Jack touchdowns in the second half – and succeeded in knocking the struggling Huskers currence in the past 40-plus years.

Meanwhile, Pinnacle Bank Chairman Sid Dinsdale was busy tossing his hat into the Republican primary race for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Mike Johanns. Dinsdale joins Omaha attorney Bart McLeay, Midland College President has 71 branches in Nebraska.

Speaking of banks, Falls City businessman Charles Herbster appears to have gone a long way toward bank-rolling the gubernatorial hopes of state Sen. Beau McCoy of Elkhorn, one of five Republicans seeking the nomination. Herbster, who ended his own short-lived campaign, poured about $860,000 in cash and campaign resources into McCoy's campaign.

Herbster, a southeast Nebraska cattleman who also owns a manufacturing company in Kansas City. pulled out of the race to help his wife recover from complications with surgery. His donation included $594,000 in campaign cash and $265,000 in assets such as the ser-

The donation likely sets a record and is legal under the rules and regulations of the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission.

McCoy and Herbster met each other several years ago at a Nebraska Cattlemen event. Both men are strong Christians who describe themselves as men of faith. McCoy entered the race as soon as Herbster dropped out, but he said he had no idea that Herbster would eventually transfer all of his campaign dollars into his account. McCoy said he believed that Herbster couldn't return the funds to the original donors - mostly Herbster and his company.

Accountability head Frank Daley said Nebraska law does provide that option, but there is nothing wrong with Herbster's decision to donate it to another campaign.

In an era where candidates have been known to contribute large amounts of their own cash to run, it appears that the Herbster-Mc-Coy connection has raised that bar again.

Expect some ribbing from Sen. Ernie Chambers when the gaggle of senators who would be governor McCoy and Sens. Tom Carlson of Holdrege, Annette Dubas of Fullerton and Charlie Janssen of Fremont - return to the Legislature in January. One could likely expect Common Cause and their champion, Sen. Bill Avery of Lincoln, to take another shot at changing campaign finance laws as well.

Throw in the highly contested primary in May and Nebraskans will have something to do between football seasons.

looking for a candidate. Pinnacle time" because, in all honesty, they don't know any other way to deal with life than through violent behavior.

Rather than giving violent offenders "good time" in an effort to ease the overcrowding problem – the Nebraska Legislature should change the rules and give "good time" only to those non-violent offenders who might respond more favorably to the concept of getting along with others while behind bars – but if somebody has a better idea than that, I'd be happy to hear it.

- There is a common thread to most of the recent mass shootings that have taken place in America.

Whether it's a public school or a military base, many of the people who were shot and killed by psychotic, mentally-disturbed gunmen were unarmed. Additionally, not only were they unarmed, but they were not allowed to be in possession of a firearm while in the building they were shot and killed in.

I don't know about you - but if I'm somebody that wants to shoot up a facility full of people, I want to make sure that the individuals in that building aren't packing a weapon of their own. I've never had need, interest or desire in shooting up a room full of people, but I would like to think my odds of success are much better if the bullets are only flying in one direction.

If somebody could explain to me how all this anti-gun legislation is going to make Americans safer from all this unthinkable and disgusting violence that has taken place in shopping malls, schools and military bases in recent years, I'd be happy to listen – although I think it would make more sense to provide better mental health services to individuals who obviously need it and make sure those individuals don't have such easy access to these weapons. (It would also be nice if the mainstream media could provide honest and accurate coverage when these events happen, but I might be asking too much there.)

- And, finally, I'd like an answer to this question: After several decades of corrupt and incompetent leadership from Republican and Democrat politicians, isn't it time we find some real "change to believe in" and stop electing candidates from these two parties to represent us in Washington?

If somebody can explain to me how voting (R) or (D) in the 2014 and 2016 elections would somehow make what goes on in Congress and the White House different and be better for us than what is taking place today . I'm ALL ears.

New Park Equipment

The Allen Community Club met Sept. 16 at the Allen fire hall.

President Dean Chase called the meeting to order. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Because of the generosity of many people and businesses, the Allen Community Club has almost raised enough money for the playground equipment. Any donations may still be made directly at the bank.

A discussion involved the possibility of purchasing a unit currently sitting on the company's dock for $18,000 below cost with twice as many pieces of equipment as what the playground committee originally chose. The motion carried to take advantage of the special playground package. After the unit is shipped to Allen, work days will be scheduled to take out the present park equipment, ready the surface, and install the new equipment. Everyone is needed to help with the installation. Look for further information on the work days.

The success of the fireworks stand was also discussed and it was decided to do this project again next year with shorter hours.

Gloria Oberg reported that the Great Nebraska Tractor Ride will be going through Allen in the afternoon of June 13, 2014. The Dixon County Museum will be open and the Allen Community Club will serve pie and ice cream. More details will be worked out later.

HELPING YOUR KIDS FORM HEALTHY EATING HABITS

Every day you see another headline about the obesity epidemic in kids. One of the latest studies shows that obese children face not only long-term risks, but also more immediate ones. They're more likely to have problems such as asthma, learning disabilities, and attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder (AD/HD).

Yet kids (and adults) are surrounded—on television, on billboards, and online —by messages beckoning them to eat sugary, high-fat, often empty-calorie foods. It can feel like an uphill battle to get kids to make healthier choices—especially as they're heading back to school, and out of earshot. Sure, you aren't going to win all the battles. But you can have a huge impact. Here are a few important reminders:

1. Control the flow. What are you bringing into the house (and what kinds of habits are you modeling)? Remember, you have some control over this until your kid is old enough to shop solo. For now, you have veto power. If you keep the junk out, it can't go in.²

2. Look at labels. Of course, stocking up on healthy foods means you also need to check labels.² You might be surprised at what you find. That tub of nonfat flavored yogurt you think is so healthy might be chockfull of sugar-containing even more than the kids' cereal you long ago shunned.

3. Go for staying power. Go for whole-grain breads, tortillas, pretzels, or cereals. Mix almond butter and celery, apples, or bananas. Try something new once in a while to broaden your kid's tastes. Maybe roasted soy nuts will be a hit. Or, sweet red peppers dipped in hummus. You'll never know unless you give it a try.²

4. Make it easy. Keep a bowl of fruit on the counter or string cheese or bags of lowsugar, whole-grain cereal within reach. Just don't make eating too easy. In other words, restrict it to the kitchen or dining area. That can go a long way toward limiting mindless snacking in front of the TV or computer screen.²

5. Watch the sugar. Oh, yes, I know. That's a tough one. Maybe even your sweet tooth gets its way more often than not. But sugar may do more than add extra pounds or cause tooth decay. New evidence links large amounts of sugar-separate from other factors—to the diabetes epidemic.³

If you do nothing else, nix the sweetened drinks. That includes sodas as well as fruit, energy, and sports drinks. Children who drink them not only consume more calories. They are also more likely to eat unhealthy foods.⁴ Keep milk and water on hand, instead of fruit juice and sweetened drinks or flavored milk or drinkable yogurt.³

Along with these five healthy habits, don't forget an insurance policy for your kids: vitamins. When you come into the store, I can advise you about this.

ganizations, schools, and community coalitions solve critical challenges in the lives of young people.

Search Institute focuses on deepening understanding and working with partners to improve the lives of young people in three critical areas:

Developmental Assets www.search-institute.org/research/developmental-assets, Search Institute framework of strengths and supports, which has become the most widely recognized and most frequently cited approach to positive youth development in the world.

- Developmental Relationships www.search institute.org/what-we-study/developmental-relationships, those relationships that help young people attain the psychological and social skills eeded for success in education and in life.

 Developmental Communities www.search institute.org/what-we-study/communities, a focus on creating contexts and settings that attend to young people's developmental needs and are aligned for collective impact.

The Developmental Assets is the part of the Search Institute that I refer to in working with youth. The 40 Developmental Assets are used as building blocks of healthy development. The assets are tools that youth use to grow up responsible, healthy, and caring. Teaching responsibility, learning to live a healthy lifestyle and caring for those around us are also goals that 4-H possesses.

The Search Institute has identified building blocks of healthy development. The Search institute has a lists of 20 External Assets for a child and 20 Internal assets important in a healthy life. The External Assets include the categories of Support, Empowerment, Boundaries and Expectations, and Constructive Use of Time. The Internal Assets Include the Categories of Commitment to Learning, Positive Values, Social Competencies, and Positive Identity.

The External Asset for Support include:

Family support: Family life provides high levels of love and support.

Positive Family Communication: This includes the young person and her and his parents communicating positively and the young person willing to seek advice and counsel from parents

Caring Neighborhood: The young person experiences caring neighbors.

Caring School Climate: School provides a caring, encouraging environment.

Parent Involvement in Schooling: Parents are actively involved in helping the young person succeed in school.

The External Asset of Empowerment include:

Community Values Youth: The young persons perceive that adults in the community value youth.

Youth as Resources: Young people are given useful roles in the community.

Service to Others: Young people serve in the community on hour or more per week Safety: Young people feel safe at home, school, and in the neighborhood.

The External Asset Category of Boundaries and Expectations include:

Herald

Family Boundaries: Family has clear rules and consequences and monitor the young person's whereabouts School Boundaries: School provides clear ules and consequences. Neighborhood Boundaries: Neighbors take responsibility for monitoring young people's be-Adult Role Models: Parents and other adults nodel positive, responsible behavior. Positive Peer Influence: Young person's best friends model responsible behavior

High Expectations: Both parents and teachers encourage the young person to do well.

The Final External Asset Category is Constructive Use of Time, Assets under this area includes:

Creative Activities: Young person spends ee or more hours per week in lesson or practice in music, theater, or other arts.

Youth Programs: Young person spends three or more hours per week in sports, clubs, or organizations at school and or in the com munity.

Religious Community: Young person spends one or more hours per week in activities in a religious institution.

Time at Home: Young person is out with friends with nothing special to do two or few nights per week

I will discuss the Internal Assets of the 40 Developmental Assets© in my next column. The categories of the Internal Assets are Commitment to Learning, Positive Values, Social Competencies, and Positive Identity.

Paul Conger

Praise Assembly to host revial here Oct. 6-9

Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne has announced that Sunday through Wednesday, Oct. 6-9 they will be conducting revival services with Evangelist Paul Conger The church is located at 1000 E. 10th St., next to the Angel Acres addition. Service times will be at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday morning, 6:30 p.m. on Sunday evening at 7 p.m. nightly through Wednesday. Nursery will be provided. Paul Conger has been a full-time evangelist for over 20 years.

He has ministered on every inhabited continent of the world, which includes 55 countries. He has also authored several books.

Conger started an organization called "First Love Ministries" in 1990. He has helped rescue over 350 girls under the age of eight years from a life of abuse and or prostitution.

First Love Ministries now has four girls homes in India. The group has helped over 900 students go to Bible College in India and Peru.

First Love Ministries has helped build over 100 churches around the world and covers over 150 pastors around the world. First Love Ministries started a Bible Institute in Peru in 2011 and it now has over 700 students.

Anyone desiring to learn more about Paul is encouraged to visit his web page, www.firstloveministries. com or ask to be his friend on Facebook under Paul Conger. Paul gives all glory to God and gladly obeys whatever God asks him to do.

Blessing the harvest

On Sunday, Sept. 22, Our Savior Lutheran Church offered a Harvest Blessing for the upcoming area harvest. Pastor Bob Oleson and members of the congregation lifted prayers of thanksgiving for the richness of the soil and crops that will be gathered and prayers for protection and safety of the laborers gathering the crops.

College of Ag open house set for Oct. 19

High school and transfer students can learn about the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at the Experience the Power of Red Open House on Oct. 19.

The open house, held on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus, gives students the chance to hear about the college's 29 academic programs and two pre-professional programs, said Laura Frey, UNL college relations director. They can also meet current UNL faculty, staff and students.

The open house will begin at 9 a.m. with refreshments and a browsing session, when students can get a brief introduction to each department in the college. Following a welcome at 10 a.m., students and parents will attend academic sessions that offer more in-depth information about each academic program.

For more information or to register, visit casnr.unl.edu/openhouse.

A note to all 'potty mouths'

To all the "potty mouths" of the world:

I have news for you. The word you describe as a "bomb" no longer shocks. It's been overused to a point of saturation.

I saw a delightful movie last week called Quartet. It was directed by Dustin Hoffman and filmed in a British home for retired musicians. I used to think I wanted to live in a home for retired nurses. (My young nurse friends have assured me they don't want to work there; can't imagine why.) Now, I've decided I want to reside in a facility like the one in the movie.

There were all kinds of classical music. Many of the actors were actually retired from operas and orchestras, all rather high class. The one jarring moment occurred when the gracious leading lady used the "bomb." In that context, it was a shock. And an unnecessary one, in my opinion.

not encounter any coaches who swore. Even my brother, a sailor for 21 years, did not use profanity around us.

But my kids heard it all. In those lay low for awhile. No words were When I was in high school, I did decades between my teen years and needed.

theirs, it became "standard operating procedure." And it wasn't just my kids: I heard it from the opposing coaches, also.

I can assure you Coach Bo was coached in the same fashion. In my book, it's verbal abuse. But, sadly, it's common; much too common. It reflects the general coarsening of society that has been happening in my lifetime.

Having said that, it's hard for me to see that language from a man who has T.O. for a mentor and Ron Brown as a peer. Doesn't anything rub off?

Of course, the person who recorded the tirade and then released it two years later is simply a weasel.

I can't help wondering what happens in the Pelini household when the kids misbehave? The Meierhenry kids knew that when the Big Farmer threw his cap on the ground in exasperation, they had better Livestock Market Report)

Suggestions offered for storing grain

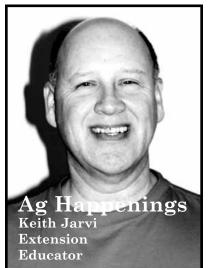

With harvest rapidly approaching, now is the time to prepare grain bins and harvesting equipment to help ensure that grain going into storage will remain in good condition. Don't wait until the middle of harvest to discover that a bin foundation is severely cracked, or find even later that insects from grain that was left in the combine last fall have severely infested a bin of new grain.

Proper bin and equipment preparation is a key to preserving stored grain quality.

Remove all traces of old grain from combines, truck beds, grain carts, augers, and any other equipment used for harvesting, transporting, and handling grain. Even small amounts of moldy or insectinfested grain left in equipment can contaminate a bin of new grain.

Adjust combines according to the manufacturer's specifications to minimize grain damage and to maximize removal of fines and other foreign material. Equip combines with a straw spreader or chopper to avoid leaving windrows of residue that can interfere with subsequent tillage and/or planting operations. Particularly when harvesting sovbeans or small grains with a header greater than about 20 feet, a chaff spreader may also be needed for more uniform residue distribution. Be sure that all guards and shields are in place and in good working order. Check the bin site, and remove any items or debris that would interfere with safe, unobstructed movement around the bin. Remove any spilled grain and mow the site to reduce the chances of insect or rodent infestation. If necessary, regrade the site so that water readily drains away from bin foundations. Inspect bins and foundations for structural problems. Uneven settlement of foundations can cause gaps between the foundation and bottom edge of the bin. This can result in grain spills and provide entry points for water, insects, and rodents. If perforated floors are used, a gap between the foundation and bin will allow air that would normally be forced through the grain to escape from the bin. Small gaps can usually be filled with a high quality caulking compound. If deterioration is extensive, the mastic seal may need to be replaced. Be sure all anchor bolts are tight and not damaged. Inspect the bin roof and sides, inside and out, for leaks, loose or sheared bolts, rust or other corrosion, etc. Check the roof vents and access hatch, and caulk any cracks where they meet the roof. Be sure the access ladder is complete and securely fastened to the bin. Repair or replace any deteriorated components Wiring for fans and other electrical components should be inspected for corrosion and cracked, frayed, or broken insulation. Exposed wiring should be run through waterproof, dust-tight conduit. Avoid kinking the conduit, and make sure all connections are secure.

and ducts for corrosion and damage. Remove any accumulated dust and dirt that will reduce the operating efficiency. Be sure that all connections are tight. Ensure that the bins are clean. Remove any old grain with brooms and vacuum cleaners. Never put new grain on top of old. Also, clean bins not being used for storage this year to keep insects from migrating to other bins.

It is generally impossible to thoroughly clean under perforated drying floors, although by removing the drying fan, and using a grain vacuum much of the accumulated debris can be removed. The bin should then be fumigated with chloropicrin. (Chloropicrin is a Restricted Use Pesticide and requires gas monitoring devices and respirator protection.)

If long term storage (over 10 months) is anticipated, consider treating the cleaned bin with protective insecticides at least two weeks before adding any grain. Apply the spray to the point of runoff to as many interior surfaces as possible, especially joints, seams, cracks, ledges, and corners. Also spray outside the bin at the foundation and near doors, vents, ducts, and fans.

Check fans, heaters, transitions, that quality is maintained

Tempo, malathion, Diacon, Storicide, or Centynal can be used for treating bin surfaces. Methoxychlor and Tempo should not be applied directly to the grain. As with all pesticides, read and follow product label instructions for handling, dilution, mixing, and application directions. Do not add grain to the bin until the walls have dried thoroughly. NOTE: Do not spray bins where soybeans will be stored. Stored soybeans rarely experience insect problems and few insecticides are labeled for use on soybeans.

Stored grain represents a major investment. Precautions taken before grain is put into the bin can pay dividends later by helping to assure

"LIVE AND FARM BETTER ELECTRICALLY"

Right in my own backyard

A Celebration of Nebraska's Natural Wonders

Enjoy an autumn evening on Saturday, Oct. 5 after the Husker game and celebrate nature.

Families and nature lovers are invited to explore the great outdoors along the scenic Fontenelle Forest boardwalk as Nebraska Master Naturalists lead you on an exciting naturalist adventure with raptors, frogs, plants, birds, and more! While you're here, get a sample of what Nebraska has to offer and learn about the many opportunities in your own backyard! You'll even get a peek at the Green Revolution exhibit, on display inside the Fontenelle Forest Nature Center.

"We're going to pack more "nature" into one beautiful and enjoyable place than you can imagine. Want to get the kids away from video games and smart phones for a while?" asked Nebraska Master Naturalist Program Coordinator Annabel Le Major. "Here's your chance!"

Come explore along with our friends from Branched Oak Farms, The Grain Place, Woggworks Kayaking, Shepherd's Dairy, Wild Bird Habitat Store, Tree House Adventure at Arbor Day Farm, Nebraska Sustainable Agriculture Society, The Nature Conservancy, Glacier Creek Preserve, Calamus Outfitters, Nebraska Nature Network, Nebraska Outdoor U!, Climate Masters of Nebraska, Papio Missouri Natural Resource District, Prairie Plains Resource Institute, Crafty Hands Boutique, Spring Creek Prairie, Pioneers Park, and more.

HyVee Grocery will be catering food along with samples to taste from local growers.

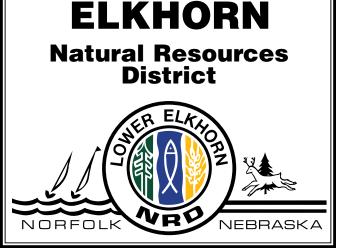

This Master Naturalist event is Saturday, Oct. 5th from 5 to 8 p.m., rain or shine. The cost is $15 for adults with children under 12 admitted free. All registration fees support the Nebraska Master Naturalist Certification Program. To register for this event and to find out more about your Nebraska Master Naturalists, or to make a donation please visit NATURALIST.unl.edu or call (402) 472-8689.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free I'm following the path God laid for me, I took His hand when I heard Him call I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day To laugh, to love, to work or play. Tasks left undone must stay that way. I found that place at the close of day.

If my parting has left a void Then fill it with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss. Ah yes, these things, I too, will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow. I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow. My life's been full, I savored much. Good friends, good times. A loved one's touch.

Perhaps my time seemed all too brief; Don't lengthen it now with undue grief. Lift up your heart and share with me God wanted me now, He set me free.
