Laurel, Coleridge schools are set to merge

Districts set to sign agreement Feb. 10

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

After almost a decade of sharing everything from administration to sports teams, the Laurel-Concord and Coleridge school districts are ready to join forces on a permanent basis.

A legal notice, published in the Jan. 8 edition of The Laurel Advocate, outlines the plan for the two school districts to formally merge into one unified district beginning with the 2014-15 school year, cre- and we can keep everything the same and move into ating the Laurel-Concord-Coleridge School District. one district, then we would try it."

Members of both districts' school boards are set to meet on Monday, Feb. 10 at 5 p.m. to formally approve the merger.

Superintendent Randall Klooz told The Wayne Herald that the two districts have worked well in a co-operative arrangement for the better part of a decade, and both boards agreed that it was possible for the two districts to come together as one while, at the same time, continuing the use of shared staff and facilities that has been in place for some time.

"Over the last year and a half, we've had a couple of community meetings in both districts, and the finance committee has been working on how we can bring both districts together," Klooz said. "Both boards felt things were working the way it was (in the co-operative), and if that continues to be the case

The marriage of the two districts began about a decade ago when the districts began sharing superintendents, Klooz said. Over the course of time, the two districts began sharing other administrators and teachers, then entered into a co-operative agreement for extracurricular activities in 2010.

"It started with us sharing superintendents and grew out of that and got more advanced," Klooz, who is in his second year as the district superintendent, said. "Four years ago, we started the setup where the middle school was at Coleridge, and Coleridge brought its elementary and high school kids to Laurel, and that will stay the same once the merger is

Board members approved a change in the current school year's calendar that will use Friday, Feb. 21 to make up for a snow day the district used on Monday, Jan. 6.

Lenihan also presented a preliminary draft of the 2014-2015 school calendar. He told the board that there will be a change in the way instructional time is counted, and the district may need to make some adjustments. The tentative date for the start of the 2014-2015 school year is Thursday, Aug. 14 with a full day of school.

Project updates included the fact that the heating, ventilation and air conditioning project and the track project are nearly ready to go out for bids, and it is anticipated that the board could approve those bids at its February meeting. "It is exercise fun exercise, family exercise," Guill, who runs Wakefield Bowl at 311 Main Street.

There, he provides eight lanes to bowl on, black lights to bowl under and, in a room in the basement, more exercise in the form of a roller skating rink that Guill touts as "the

News from Praise Assembly of God Church

Wayne has urged the congregation to be listening to the Lord for His instructions for this new year.

Just as the opening days of January are days to make "New Year's Resolutions" and to make promises and vows about this or that, it is also a time when a church congregation takes time to evaluate where it has been in the previous 12 months and to pray about "what is next." In conversations with church attendees, the pastor has said repeatedly that the church is "not just about us," but it is about reaching the entire Wayne community with the message of the Gospel.

This kind of "call" is to each of the members of the congregation as individuals as well as to a group of believers (the local church). A pastor friend in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan has said it this way: "Vision is not optional ...GO OUT into the highways and along the in our cities and towns that God has Jason.

Rev. Jason Pickering, the pas- hedges, and COMPEL THEM to called us to reach with the eternal tor of Praise Assembly Church in come in, so that MY HOUSE MAY hope that's only found in the Gospel BE FILLED. Luke 14:23. If God isn't satisfied with empty seats in His house, then we shouldn't be either. Finding new ways to reach people who have been robbed of hope and are far from God isn't optional. Lost, hurting and wounded people are counting on you and me (the church) to find a way to get to them. There is far too much at stake to put personal comfort and convenience ahead of someone else's eternal destiny. To do so is nothing short of selfishness. If you don't have a vision for ministry, then hit your knees and seek God's face until vou get one. No spiritual leader has the right to remain vision-less. We don't get to a certain age or stage of ministry where we get to "opt out" when it comes to vision. [Another well-known pastor has said this]: "...it's not about you (or me)." It's about the countless souls of Jesus Christ. People who have ALREADY been reached should be REACHING PEOPLE; and so vision is not an option. In 2014, let's FILL the HOUSE!"

Perhaps that's a call to all of us in Wayne, America who call ourselves "Christians."

Anyone who does not have a church home is invited to attend Praise Assembly of God Church, a community of people who believe the Bible; we pray, worship, study and fellowship together in Jesus name (as the Bible says to do).

Mid-week Kidz Praize (for children K-6) and an Adult Bible Study meet on Wednesdays from 6:30-7:40 p.m. The Sunday morning schedule starts with Sunday School for all ages at 9:30 a.m. and Morning Worship at 10:30 a.m..

Guill said he has one league right now that's full of bowlers who just like to have fun. They have some beers. They throw some balls down the alley. Sometimes, their scores get progressively better, and sometimes, they get progressively worse.

"That's what it's about – people coming out and having fun," Guill said. "You don't have to be a good bowler to have fun."

The same could probably be said for skating too – even if you're wobbly on wheels.

Though the rink's been at Wakefield Bowl as long as the alley has, Guill shut it down in 2009. The floor got a re-sanding and a refinishing a few years later, and then he opened it back up this past September.

"It's still not perfect, but it's a heck of a lot better than it was," Guill said.

The rink, he explained, is open from 7-10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday (bring your own skates, and it's a dollar off), while the alley opens for business at 5 p.m.

on every night of the week minus Wednesday and Sunday, when the whole place is closed. (At least to the public – anyone who wants to book a party then can do so.)

Over the years, Guill has prided himself on being a source of family entertainment in a place that – for most - is only a short ride away, and he's thankful for the people who have spent their free time with him in Wakefield.

"Local support of a local business is key to a business," Guill said. "Support is key in a small town. If you can't support what you've got, you aren't going to have it."

To help keep things close to home, Guill has plans for a skate-athon later this month. He's starting the event at 3 p.m. and splitting participants up into two age groups. If a skater stops, falls or knocks someone over, they're out. The last person still rolling at the end of the night gets top honors - a trophy and a Wakefield Bowl freebie for the month of February.

It's the first time he's done something like this, and though he's not sure how it will go, he's hoping it'll be a learning experience for him with a pinch of fun and a dash of exercise thrown in.

The board also listened to a report from Travis Meyer, head of maintenance at the school, on the need to replace the district's tractor and utility tractor used by his department in various ways.

He told the board he has looked into trading in those two pieces of equipment for a skid loader with several attachments, including a skid loader, a pallet fork and angel

Discussion also involved purchasing a mower with the skid loader. The board approved the purchase of the skid loader and encouraged Meyer to do additional research into the cost of the mower.

Wildcats face key road tests

You'll never catch Chris Kielsmeier downplaying a Northern Sun Conference opponent's capabilities and this weekend is no exception.

To say that the 11th ranked Wayne State women's basketball team has a big weekend ahead of itself would be a rather voluptuous understatement. They have a onegame lead in the conference standings heading into this weekend, and it will be key for them to at least get a split on the road this weekend at Concordia-St. Paul and Minnesota

There isn't a lot of room for error at the top right now. At 9-1, the Wildcats hold a one-game lead over Northern State, who knocked off Concordia and Mankato on the road last weekend and will visit Wayne in mid-February. Both Minot State and Minnesota State are a game behind the Wolves, and six more teams are within two games of the Beavers and Mavericks as we reach the halfway point of the conference regular season.

The Wildcats have a chance to avenge their only loss of the season Friday in St. Paul, where the Golden Bears are reeling after being swept at home last weekend by Northern State and MSU Moorhead. Saturday's game will also be a tough one, as the Mavericks were rather rudely humbled by the Wildcats during their visit here before the holidays. Northern plays at Bemidji and Crookston this weekend and could conceivably overtake the Wildcats in the standings if Wayne State goes winless this weekend. This weekend's road trip is also big from a regional standpoint. We're still three weeks away from the first regional rankings for NCAA Div. II, but it's important as we learned from volleyball season – that the Wildcats continue to play well and stay in that upper half of what is shaping up to be a very difficult Central Region. Four teams in the region are ranked in the top 11 in the latest coaches poll, with the Wildcats the lower of the four schools. The MIAA's Emporia State and Central Missouri are ranked third and sixth, while Harding out of the Great American Conference is eighth. The cumulative record of the four ranked teams in the region - a very impressive 58-3, and Central Missouri's two losses are to Emporia State and Harding.

For all of the overall success the team has enjoyed this year, this team has a different feel from the 32-3 team that made the school's first-ever Elite Eight appearance at the Div. II level back in 2012.

The 2012 team seemed to sprint ahead of their opponent in the early going, ride the momentum into halftime, then come right out again with another assault. It was a team that was talented, deep and relentless. Were it not for a mesmerizing full-court press slapped on in the Elite Eight by Bentley, the 2012 team would have cruised to a national championship.

This team seems to be getting a little closer to matching the capabilities of that team but needs to shore some things up, particularly in the paint. The post position, to this point, has been inconsistent when it comes to being an offensive threat inside. The Wildcats have legitimate threats to score and score often from just about any spot on the floor but need to dominate the inside if it's going to be a contender for a national title.

Every game is important for the Wayne State women from here on out as we move into the second half of the season. Short of a meltdown by Emporia State, Central Missouri and Harding, it doesn't appear likely that Wayne State will host the Central Region tournament this year, even if they run the table and sweep the conference regular-season and tournament titles as they did during their magical Elite Eight run two years ago.

The pieces are in place, however, for this team to be able to beat anybody, anywhere at any time.

Girls get past LCC, boys run to victory

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

After three straight losses, the Wayne High girls basketball team needed to change their mojo.

With Class C-2 top 10-ranked Laurel-Concord/Coleridge coming to town Tuesday, the Blue Devils needed to put together a solid team effort to get off that mid-season slide, and they managed to do so in the nick of time.

The Lady Bears chipped away at a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit and actually took the lead in the final minute, but Wayne High was able to hit some key free throws and avoid a last-second opportunity by the visitors to come away with a 44-43 win in the first game of a girlsboys doubleheader at Wayne High

The boys game did not have the time-ticking excitement of the opener, as the Wayne High boys raced out to a 14-point first-quarter lead on their way to a 68-37 win to improve to 12-2 on the season.

The Wayne High girls stumbled into Tuesday's area battle after losing three straight games on the road. Coach Jeff Zeiss said it was important for his team to come out and take control of the game early.

"Laurel is a very athletic team and has a very nice team, so we knew we'd be in for a tough one, and the girls came out and dictated the way it was going to be played," he

The Blue Devils held the Lady Bears without a basket for the first 4 1/2 minutes of the opening period. Ellie Arduser rebounded a shot and scored to make it 6-2.

The duo of Abbie Hix and Victoria Kranz picked up the slack on the outside for the Blue Devils and got hot in the first half. Both hit a pair of 3-pointers, with Hix's shots coming at the end of the first and the start of the second period. Tarah Stegemann added a trifecta of her own, and the Blue Devils were able to build a 25-14 halftime lead.

"They were just hot the whole first half," LCC coach Nate Sims said of the Wayne offensive effort. "I thought we played OK defensively, but they knocked down some tough shots and it took us a while to re-

Zeiss said that Hix and Kranz don't normally fire up a bunch of long-range shots, but the duo combined to account for six of Wayne's eight baskets from beyond the arc.

"It was one of those things where somebody else stepped up," he said. "That's why it's a team game. You always need somebody to step up, and Victoria and Abbie were huge for us tonight.'

Kranz continued to stay warm from beyond the 3-point line in the second half. Her bomb early in the third period gave Wayne High it's biggest lead of the night at 30-16, and she rained down a high-arcing 22-footer that kissed the glass and ripped the net as time expired in the third period, giving Wayne High a 35-25 lead going to the fourth quarter.

"That was one of those things where you just have to work a little harder and get one extra stop and just keep plugging away," Sims

And plug away the Lady Bears

Wayne High led 38-27 early in the fourth quarter when LCC began its rally. Baskets by Audra Corbit and Arduser got the Blue Devils' lead down to seven with 5:37 left, starting a 9-0 run for the Lady Bears. Free throws by Erin Gubbels and Cameron Eddie were followed by Eddie putting back her own miss to make it 38-36 with 3:20 left in the

"We looked like we were tentative and everybody was looking for someone else to take a shot, and I told our seniors to just go out and play and not think so much," Zeiss

The two teams traded single free throws before Corbit rebounded a missed free throw by Eddie and put back the shot to tie the game at 39-39 with 2:03 left.

WISNER - Wayne High's wrestling program came back from the holiday break in pretty good shape.

The Blue Devils put four wrestlers into the finals and stayed in the thick of a tight team race until the end, settling on a third-place finish at Saturday's Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

Although the Blue Devils came up empty-handed in the championship round, Wayne was still able to come away with seven medals and some encouraging words from coach David Wragge.

"It wasn't the ideal way for us to finish, but getting five in the finals is a big step forward," Wragge said. "Everybody stepped up and contributed today, and we had a few matches that could have gone either way, but I was very happy with how we performed."

Wildcat men split home tilts

The Wayne State men maintained its .500 record for the season, splitting a pair of conference home games over the weekend.

On Friday, seniors Jared Bartling and Ryan Rolfzen each scored 15 points to fuel a second half rally. Wayne State outscored Minnesota Crookston 37-22 in the final 20 minutes to post a 65-51 win at Rice Auditorium.

The first half was a back-andforth affair. Ryan Rolfzen hit a pair of 3-pointers to give Wayne State a 21-20 lead with eight minutes to go in the first half, but the Golden Eagles got nine straight points from Brandon Burns to take a 29-28 lead into the locker room.

The tough battle continued until Crookston took its final lead of the game at 45-43 with 10:48 to play, hut Rolfzen hit a layun and Joel Heesch followed with a basket to make it 47-45 with 9:52 to go, and Wavne State never trailed again, finishing the game with an 11-2

The Wakefield boys basketball team reached the finals of the Bob Clough Post-Holiday Tournament but came up short in its hopes for claiming the first-place trophy.

The Trojans opened play at Wakefield High School with a 64-45 win over Emerson-Hubbard in a game that started out like a high-scoring shootout. The two teams combined for 47 first-quarter points, with Wakefield taking a 27-20 lead that they would not relinquish.

The Trojans had three players finish in double figures in the win, with Evan Nicholson and Josh Dolph each scoring 20 points. Anthony Gustafson added 11 points in the victory as the Trojans shot 53 percent from the field.

The Trojans struggled to find the basket in Saturday's championship game, and Homer took advantage to come away with a 52-34 win over Wakefield.

Wakefield was still within striking distance at halftime despite trailing by 12, but could not get their offense on track as they shot only 34 percent from the field. Nicholson led the Trojans with 13 points. while Louis Brambilla added eight.

and scored to give LCC its first lead of the game at 41-39 with 1:39 to go. Arduser and Eddie both hit 1-of-2 in consecutive trips to the foul line to make it 43-39 with under a minute

Stegemann and Ashton Schweers both hit two free throws to tie the game at 43-43. Schweers' score came after a scramble for a loose ball where Sims tried to call time out but couldn't get the referees' attention. On the next possession, a loose ball was picked up by Meagan Backer, who passed to Schweers. She was fouled with 6.7 seconds left and hit one of two, giving LCC a chance to win the game.

Unfortunately for the Lady Bears, they weren't able to get a shot off, as a long pass was mishandled right before the buzzer, giving Wayne High the exciting win.

"We started slow tonight, and you can't start slow against good teams," Sims said. "I was proud of the kids and how we battled, but it was just a little too much, too late."

"I'll be able to sleep a little better tonight, because I hurt when these girls hurt after a loss," Zeiss said. "These types of games will help us down the road when we get to conference and districts. This was definitely a quality win against a good opponent.

Kranz had 13 points, and Schweers added 12 for the winners. Jalyn Zeiss dished out four assists.

novic backed up the efforts of Bartling and Rolfzen with nine points apiece. Aluong, Sredanovic and ty Baurschek each grabbed five rebounds as the Wildcats outrebounded the Golden Eagles 35-29. Bauschek and Sredanovic each had four

It was a different story on Saturday, as Bemidji State jumped on the Wildcats early, building a 17-point halftime lead and pulling away for a 69-46 win to keep the Wildcats at .500 overall (7-7) and 4-6 in NSIC play.

The Beavers jumped out to an early 13-2 lead and Wayne State never got closer than six points after that. Rolfzen's 3-pointer made it 13-7 with 14:25 to go, but back-toback trifectas by the Beavers made it 19-7 and Bemidji State went on to shoot 63 percent in the first half to build the big lead.

Wayne State never got closer than 14 points in the second half, and were led by Aluong's 13 points and a career-high 12 from Sredanovic. Wayne State shot just 33 percent from the field.

The Wildcats go on the road this weekend, traveling to Concordia-St. Paul Friday at 8 p.m. and No. 12 Minnesota State Saturday at 6 p.m.

The Lady Bears had three players in double figures, led by Eddie with 13. Arduser added 12 and had seven rebounds, while Gubbels had 11 points. Corbit led LCC with 10 rebounds and had seven points.

IN THE BOYS GAME, LCC traded shots with the Class C-1 third-ranked Blue Devils, but the hosts went on a 10-run midway through the first period to turn a one-point deficit into a nine-point advantage and were able to build on that for the easy win.

It was a good win for coach Rob Sweetland, who saw his team win their ninth straight game to improve to 12-2 on the season.

"We're playing at a pretty high level right now, which is both fun and challenging as a coach," he said "We have the type of team that can learn some new things and execute them, and it seems whatever we're trying is working right now.

"They're getting good shots and buying in on defense and playing hard, so it's a lot of fun right now," he added.

Wayne took the lead for good three minutes into the game when Jalen Barry hit the first of five 3-pointers in the opening two periods. His hot hand on the outside helped open things up inside for both Ben Hoskins and Trevor Pecena, who has started to make a name for himself on both ends of the floor.

"He's becoming a key piece that nobody notices a whole lot," Sweetland said. "Trevor gets a bunch of rebounds and plays great defense and has that linebacker mentality. If he scores, it's a bonus, but he's doing some other things for us."

The Blue Devils got some solid play off the bench as well from people like Luke Rethwisch and Jack Belt. Both hit baskets in the first half, and Jared Anderson found the basket as well, helping Wayne build a 44-20 halftime lead.

While the Bears were unable to keep up with the Blue Devils, coach T.J. Shiers said his team was able to do some things well and found some areas they can work on during what has been a challenging sched-points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Starbucks and iPods – a bad mix weather extremes we've experienced, I thought it would be wise to do some more reorganizing, recataloguing and other forms of mental regurgitation with this week's edition of the "Bits and Pieces" file:

While Mother Nature tries to get over her schizophrenia with the recent in Omaha the other day at a Starbucks waiting on my coffee order when I realized I was about to experience some, shall we say, gastric discomfort. There were a lot of people waiting to order coffee, and there was a lot of loud music being played, so I figured I'd just time my gastric releases to the beats of the music and help eliminate the "whodunnit" factor. I felt better after a couple of songs, but as I picked up my order, I came to the realization that people were staring at me. That's the last time I listen to my iPod at Starbucks.

- Now THAT'S a filibuster . . . reports from the floor of the Nebraska Legislature the other day noted that Sen. Ernie Chambers, a longtime thorn in the side of anyone who tried to pass legislation he doesn't like, was actually reciting the rosary during a recent session of the state's governing body.

We'll know it's really getting out of control if he closes his comments by repeating our family's prayer at supper – good food, good meat, good God,

- Today's evidence that the world is a much better place because of technology and cheerleaders: the Dallas Cowboys have brought in a new twist in their promotion of the celebrated Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders.

All I can say is that you need to go to YouTube and search for "Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders Hula Hoop" - you can find video of the cheerleaders trying to maneuver a hula hoop that has a GoPro video camera hooked

Pro football cheerleaders, hula hoops and video equipment – what could

- From the "Imagine how many cops show up at a homicide" department - twelve detectives in eight patrol cars descended upon the mansion of alleged entertainer Justin Bieber after reports he was throwing eggs that caused extensive damage to a neighbor's home.

Authorities obtained a search warrant and arrested somebody purporting to be a rapper by the name of Lil Za and also found piles of cocaine in plain view at the so-called singer's home.

Law enforcement officials defended the extensive use of resources in the invasion and search of the Beeb's abode, saying they were erring on the side of safety because they weren't sure what they'd find when they entered the pop diva's house. There was no word as to what exactly they were searching for – maybe evidence of an egg whisk or an omelette recipe – or maybe some musical talent.

during the NFL playoffs.

As he calls plays in the shotgun, Denver Broncos quarterback Peyton Manning will occassionally shout "Omaha! Omaha!" while going through

As of this writing, nobody has been able to figure out precisely what the use of Nebraska's biggest city has to do with the play being called, whether he's calling an audible or is trying to tell everybody where he plans to spend the off-season after the Patriots beat the Broncos in the AFC Championship game this weekend. (Yeah, that's right – I'm calling it right now. My Seattle Seahawks will play New England in the Super Bowl. Plenty of good seats available on the Seahawks' bandwagon . . . jump on before it's

- From the "Crazy stuff you find late at night on the internet" department: the Fox News website recently had a slideshow of certain entertainment celebrities who hold some rather odd (and you won't come across a bigger understatement than that) beliefs.

For example, pop star Ke$ha (who, coincidentally, is in rehab right now), believes she lives in a house haunted by spirits who, shall we say, enjoy engaging in romantic interludes with her while she sleeps.

Actress Fran Drescher believes she and her ex-husband were once abducted by aliens who implanted electronic tracking chips, pointing to matching scars the two have.

Actress Shirley McClaine reportedly believed the lies of her ex-husband, who told her that he was the clone of an astronaut named Paul and conned her into paying him $60,000 a month for his clone's "space travel expens-

And mercurial Guns 'N Roses singer Axl Rose has said he will never play a concert in a town that begins with the letter "M," believing that letter is actually cursed. This means you won't ever see the band perform in Memphis, Milwaukee, Miami, Minneapolis or in the Nebraska towns of Macy, Magnet, Malmo or Martinsburg. - Annnnnd finally, today's evidence that people in Hollywood don't operate on the same level of intelligence as the rest of us: actor Sean Penn recently held a charity event and auctioned off a sculpture that was to be made out of 65 discarded firearms owned by the "Fast Times at Ridgemont High" star. He was encouraged to discard his firearms by his girlfriend, actress Charlize Theron.

I wonder what Mr. Hand would think of that.

Lawmakers mourn a colleague

By J.L. SCHMIDT Statehouse Correspondent Nebraska Press Association

Catching up on a few things.

Lawmakers mourned the loss of former colleague Jennie Robak, who was struck and killed by a car in a grocery store parking lot in Lincoln. The 81-year-old Robak represented the Columbus area from 1989 to 2003. The feisty Democrat was the mother of six children, including former Lieutenant Governor Kim Robak who presided over the Legislature for six years while her mother was a state senator.

Jennie Robak was interested in - From the "Why I don't venture out in public often" department: I was mental health issues, said former state Sen. DiAnna Schimek of Lincoln. Schimek remembered Robak as somebody you could count on. She had a good heart, cared about issues and was a happy person, she said. The two women were elected in the same class and began serving

Veteran lawmaker Ernie Chambers has long listed his occupation as "Defender of the Downtrodden." This year he is stepping forward as the defender of the Mountain Lion. The big cats are native to Nebraska but were wiped out by early settlers and essentially vanished after 1890. The next sighting wasn't until 1991 in Sioux County, in the upper northwest corner of the Panhandle. Wildlife experts say the cats have a breeding population of about 22 to-

Chambers is offering a bill to repeal the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's authority to set a hunting season on mountain lions and has also vowed to fight every bill and issue in which the commission has a stake. He said the people who go after the cats are killers, not hunters, because they use dogs to chase the animals until they are exhausted and easy prey. That's not hunting, he said, that's slaughter. He has vowed to avenge the deaths of two young male cats that were ing the Republican nomination for Ridge Indian Reservation in South shot and killed during January's hunting season. The two hunters, who won their permits in a lottery, said the senator is entitled to his opinion. Unbeknownst to them, killing a mountain lion is likely easier than killing Chamber's passion for

Speaking of Chambers, he has another colleague running for higher office to pick on. State Sen. Amanda McGill of Lincoln is running for the Democratic nomination to be state Auditor. Current Auditor Mike Foley, a former state senator, is one of six people in the hunt for the Republican nomination for Governor. Sen. Pete Pirsch of Omaha is seek-the Auditor seat. McGill and Pirsch are both term-limited in the Legislature. The race marks the first time in 16 years that the incumbent auditor hasn't sought another term. Third District Representative

Adrian Smith of Gering has competition for the Republican nomination from retired Army Col. Tom Brewer. The 55-year-old veteran was recently told by the Army that he could no longer be active duty because of his many wounds. He said running for, and serving in Congress, would allow him to continue giving back to the country.

Brewer is a member of the Oglala Sioux tribe and grew up on the Pine Dakota. He has lived in Murdock, which is part of the 1st District, for more than a decade. He said he is moving to Gordon in the Third District where he has owned a home for many years. Hey, Tom Osborne did it with a cabin at Lake McConaughy and a boyhood home in Hastings.

The challenger admits that Smith has the advantage of name recognition and a sizeable campaign fund but says he still has a clear agenda for Congress, if by chance he gets elected. Brewer says he wants to focus on veteran's issues, stop the run away budget and stop terrorism in

The second session of the 103rd Legislature is underway and, as expected, it has been a busy few

With two days of bill introduction behind us, 117 bills have been introduced. We expected to see several bills introduced dealing with a variety of taxes, and we have not been disappointed. There are proposals out there that would reduce the property tax for agricultural land, reduce income taxes for certain brackets, as well as certain exemptions from income tax. It is safe to say that we will have plenty to keep us busy during the short, 60-

Nebraska customers can save money, energy with new light incentive

Columbus, NE - On Jan. 1, 2014, Nebraska Public Power District

and its wholesale customer utilities began offering incentives to residential electric customers for the purchase and installation of lightemitting diode (LED) bulbs. At the start of this new 2014 year, final provisions of the 2007

Energy Policy Act began phasing out the standard, 60-watt, incandescent light bulb. Production and importation of the 100-watt and 75-watt standard incandescent lamps have already been closed out over the past two years under the same policy. Fortunately, customers have an excellent alternative. City of Wayne Electric utilities will provide customers with a $5 account credit for each 60, 75, or 100-watt LED equivalent to the standard bulb they buy, with up to 10 credits available per residential account this year. Customers can purchase these LED lamps wherever they desire, but the package must be identified as ENERGY STAR® quali-

The Environmental Protection Agency's ENERGY STAR program encourages installation of LED lamps that use 75 to 80 percent less energy than equivalent incandescent light bulbs and have a rated life that is 25 to 50 times longer. LEDs do not contain mercury, which eliminates some disposal concerns.

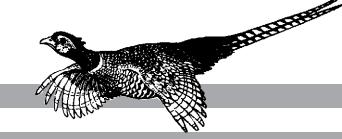

LED lamps offer additional advantages over compact fluorescent lamps (CFLs), which have long been touted as energy-efficient alternatives to standard light bulbs. LEDs illuminate instantly when their power switch is turned on. Their light output is not diminished in cold weather. In fact, LEDs last longer in cold areas. LEDs offer a variety of color temperatures that allow customers to match the appearance of standard incandescent bulbs or the bright white of most office environments. Many LED lamps are dimmable, but customers should confirm this prior to purchase, as manufacturers are required to indicate whether they are or not on the packaging.

NPPD and its wholesale customer utilities are contributing approximately $100,000 toward this campaign which will run through the end of December 2014. To receive the incentive, customers submit a completed program application along with a copy of their sales receipt to their local electric utility. A brochure containing the program's application form is available on NPPD's website, www.nppd.com, under "Saving Energy" and "For Your Home."

Always there when you need us, NPPD's mission is to safely generate and deliver reliable, low-cost, sustainable energy and provide outstanding customer service. Working in partnership with the state's rural public power districts, cooperatives and municipalities, NPPD helps serve an estimated 600,000 Nebraskans in 86 of the state's 93 counties with retail or wholesale electric power and energy-related products and services. For more information about NPPD visit www.nppd.com.

Starting a new year

Fishers of Kids Preschool started the New Year on Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 7 - 8 with friends, fun and Christian fellowship. Students were eager to journal about their Christmas toys and experiences as they recounted the Christmas story. The story of Christ continued into His early years with His visit to the temple when Jesus was 12 years old. The first week back was a celebration of Snowmen and students created edible snowmen Students are also studying the letter "Dd," which brings out the drums, dancing and one dollar bills along with stories of George Washington. Students and staff are all looking forward to an exciting month back as they prepare for Lutheran Schools Week Jan. 26-Feb. 1. Above, the four-five year old group poses for a photo during a recent class.

Vice-President Ellen Heinemann gave a devotional "White as Snow" based on Is. 1:18b: "Though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red as crimson, they shall be like wool." She commented on how even a neglected garden is beautiful with a new fallen snow; just as our ugly sins God will cover "Cleanse me with hyssop, and I will be clean; wash me, and I will be whiter than snow." – Psalm President Sebade welcomed Pastor Lilienkamp, 18 members and two guests, Catherine Cook and Bonnie Sandahl. Minutes of the December meeting and Christmas observance luncheon were read and approved. Many thank you notes were read for quilt donations and Christmas cookie plate treats.

A thank you from our Seminary student Ryan Janke, and his wife, Dani was read as well as their January newsletter. Treasurer Fauneil Bennett presented the 2013 annual Financial Report which was ap-loans are now available to certain private, nonprofit organizations (PNPs) in Greeley County following the amendment to President Obama's Nov. 26, 2013, major disaster declaration for Public Assistance (PA) as a result of severe storms, winter storms, tornadoes and flooding that occurred October 2 - 6, 2013, announced Jeanne Hulit, Acting Administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA). PNPs that provide essential services of a governmental nature are eligible for assistance.

SBA disaster assistance is now available in the Nebraska counties of Adams, Dawes, Dixon, Greeley, Howard, Sheridan, Sherman, Sioux, Thurston and Wayne.

"PNP organizations should contact Jodie Fawl, Public Information Officer, Nebraska Emergency Management Agency, at (402) 471-7428 or via e-mail at jodie.fawl@nebraska.gov to obtain information about local briefings.

At the briefings, PNP representatives will need to provide information about their organization," said Alfred E. Judd, Director of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center-West. FEMA will use that information to determine if the PNP provides an "essential governmental service" and is a "critical facility" as defined by law. If so, FEMA may provide the PNP with a Public Assistance grant for their eligible costs. If not, FEMA may refer the PNP to SBA for disaster loan assis-

SBA may lend PNPs up to $2 million to repair or replace damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory, and other business assets. SBA can also lend additional funds to help with the cost of making improvements that protect, prevent or minimize the same type of disaster damage from occurring in the future.

For certain private, nonprofit organizations of any size, SBA also offers Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) to help meet working

Deadline to apply for Conservation Stewardship

Program to be extended until early February

According to NRCS State Conservationist Craig Derickson, the CSP is a popular program in Nebraska.

"Nebraska farmers and ranchers are good stewards of the land. The Conservation Stewardship Program is a good fit for Nebraska producers. It rewards the good conservation actions they've already taken and helps provide incentives to make further improvements to their operations. These actions help make Nebraska's agricultural land more productive and sustainable over the long run, which benefits all Nebraskans," Derickson said.

The program emphasizes conservation performance - producers earn higher payments for higher performance. In CSP, producers install conservation enhancements to make positive changes in soil quality, soil erosion, water quality, water quantity, air quality, plant ing the NRCS website www.nrcs. resources, animal resources and en-

A new free app "The Winter Survival Kit" smartphone app can be as critical as a physical winter survival kit if you find yourself stuck or stranded in severe winter weather conditions.

Winter Survival Kit will help you find your current location, call 911, notify your friends and family, calculate how long you can run your engine to keep warm and stay safe from carbon monoxide poisoning.

The app's "gas calculator" will help you estimate how long you can run your engine on your remaining fuel. Winter Survival Kit will alert you every 30 minutes to remind you to periodically turn off your engine and to check your exhaust pipe for snow buildup. These alerts are critical in helping you avoid deadly carbon monoxide poisoning.

You can use the Winter Survival Kit app to store important phone and policy numbers for insurance or roadside assistance. You also can designate emergency contacts you want to alert when you become stranded

Winter Survival Kit also provides information on how to put together a physical winter survival kit and prepare your vehicle for winter driving, and how to stay safe when stranded in a winter storm.

The app is available for free on Google Play and the iTunes App Store. The app was developed by North Dakota State University Extension and Myriad Devices, and funded with USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture Smith-Lever Special Needs grants.
