The 2014 edition of the Wayne Area Ecobanquet had a "No Place Like Home" feel to it.

Playing off of Wayne's Oct. 4, 2013 tornado, the programs included the characters from the cinema classic "Wizard of Oz" with the Wayne water tower peeking over the horizon, and the highlight of the evening was undoubtedly the words of one of the characters of Wayne's real-life twister.

John Dunning was seriously injured when a dumpster rolled over him as the tornado rolled through the east end of town, suffering numerous injuries that required 38 surgeries over the course of several weeks before returning home three weeks ago. He was in attendance at Sunday's banquet and offered some stirring thoughts about what it was like to come back home - and what home really means to him after spending three months recovering from his injuries.

His first trip home came during the Thanksgiving holiday, a quick period of time at home where he kept a very low profile.

"When you've spent two months solid with a wonderful nursing staff and without a moment's privacy, sometimes it's nice simply to go home and not to talk to anybody," he said.

"But something interesting happened as we drove through town on the way in," he added. "It didn't feel right. It didn't feel like home. The town felt strange, the house felt nomic Development/Chamber/Main Street strange and it took us probably 3-4 days to get over that. It was disconcerting, because we were expecting to come home and rest and be comforted by being in our home and being in our community, and it didn't feel like that at all. I think that we weren't open to what home was really about.'

After returning home Jan. 10 and taking time to reflect on that first return home, he shared what being home means to him now.

"Home means getting hundreds of cards when you're sick, some of them from the same people, week after week, saying 'We're still thinking about you and still praying for you and can't wait to see you again;'

Home is a parade when you get back to town, and I highly encourage everybody to experience that once in their lives. It's an amazing thing to have happen;

Home is eating home-cooked meals for two solid weeks and never touching your oven;

Home is being surrounded by farmers and faculty, by students and shopkeepers;

Home is 5,000 Republicans, 500 Democrats and 50 people who are fiscally conservative, socially liberal and spiritually aware – and yes, there are 50 of us . . . in the whole state . . . and we all live in Wayne;

Local kids love Lego League

Youth from the Wayne First Lego League participated in the First Lego League competition in South Sioux City High School on Jan. 25.

Wayne had three different teams competing. These teams were the Constructioneers, Team Twisters, and Tech Wizards Incorporated. The purpose of First Lego League (FLL) is to use the FLL Core Values as the cornerstone. They are among the fundamental elements that distinguish FLL from other programs of its kind.

By embracing the Core Values, participants learn that friendly competition and mutual gain are not separate goals, and that helping one another is the foundation of teamwork. There are four different parts to the FLL competition that include presentation in Core Values, Robot Design, Project, and Robot Games.

The Constructioneers won the Core Values Award. Team Twist-

Marston held the position since May 2008, and worked with both the offices in Norfolk and those at the Haskell Ag Lab at Concord.

Dennis "Denny" Bauer and William Kranz have been appointed as co-interim directors for Marston's positions.

Bauer is currently an Extension Educator serving Brown, Rock and Keya Paha counties. He served as the interim director of the NEREC from June of 2007 until Marston's hiring in May of 2008. He has been serving as an associate director of the NEREC for the past several years.

Kranz is an extension irrigation specialist and has been at the Haskell Ag Lab since 1985.

Marston has accepted a position as the CEO of the Red Angus Association of Amera professor of animal science and industry and a beef extension specialist.

Among the accomplishments achieved during Marston's time with the NEREC were the addition of the Community Vitality District Action Team; securing two large federal grants - one dealing with stormwater and the other with alternative energy and the remodeling of the UNL Haskell Ag Lab at Concord.

According to Charles "Chuck" Hibberd, dean and director of UNL Extension, a position search to fill Marston's positions will begin within a month or so, as a search is already underway to fill similar positions at the Panhandle Research and Extension Center in Scottsbluff.

Arrest made in accident

A Wakefield man was arrested on charges of driving under the influence after a twovehicle accident on Highway 35 in Wayne Saturday night.

According to Wayne Police Chief Marlen Chinn, at approximately 9:35 p.m., officers were dispatched to a report of a two-vehicle accident on Highway 35 near the intersection of Providence Road.

A black 1996 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Jakob Thompson, 16, was eastbound on Hwy 35 when it was struck from behind by a 2001 Honda Accord, driven by William Schultz, 59, Wakefield.

Further investigation by authorities led to the arrest of Schultz on charges of driving under the influence. He was taken to the Pierce County Jail, and formal charges are pending by the Wayne County Attornev's Office.

Providence Medical Center personnel assisted the Wayne Fire Department at the scene. Minor injuries were reported.

Small start was goal for Wakefield business

By KATIE KASL Of The Herald

Sarah Ekberg was starting small when, in 2007, she took $100 and invested it in a booth at the local craft fair.

When her offerings - floral arrangements made from silk flowers and barbed wire - sold and people placed orders for later dates, Ekberg decided her next course of action was to see where it went from there - and "there," as it turned out, would be a basement shop in downtown Wakefield, garnered after Kristin Walsh, a good friend of Ekberg's and owner of The Cutting Edge, called her one day and told her she had space available for rent in the lower level of her salon.

In other words, if Ekberg ever wanted to start her own business, here was her chance.

"When trying to decide what to do, my father-in-law said to me, 'Never let a little thing like money stop you,'" she said. "So I did it. I opened myself up for possible public failure – scary, scary, scary."

Her goal in the beginning was to be cautious with the money she'd invested and to - here it is again - start small. A year and a half passed, and Ekberg decided to offer fresh flowers, a move that meant storing them in small refrigerators in the basement of The Cutting Edge. It was a big leap, but, eventually, an economic development grant came through, something Ekberg was awarded with the help of the City of Wakefield, and she purchased a floral cooler. The addition allowed her to expand her offerings – more storage meant more variety and better quality – but it also left her little underground shop bursting at the seams

This year, the two Wayne JOOI Clubs will use Super Bowl weekend to kick off a series of events designed to raise awareness about hunger issues in our community and help the Wayne Food Pantry to make a difference in the lives of local families. This year's fundraising efforts will start with a soup pot collection on Super Bowl Sunday in many of the local churches followed by a schoolwide Penny War from Feb. 3-14. At the Wayne Elementary School, students in kindergarten through third grade will be collecting pennies, in a contest to see which classroom can collect the most pennies.

Pet of the Week

This week's Pet of the Week at Tenderheart Animal Rescue is Lady, a 3-4 year old Border Collie who wandered to a farm west of Laurel. Her beautiful coat and excellent manners tell us that she was a much loved pet that someone worked with to teach her sit, down and shake. She would be much happier out working as she was meant to be than being confined in a kennel.

Ekberg - who's a native of Alliance and a graduate of Chadron State, where she met her husband, Ryan - can trace her desire to run a business back to her college days. Operating her own place, she reasoned, would give her the flexibility to work and raise a family at the same time. ("A stay-at-home mom with perks" is how she described it.) Interestingly, though, Ekberg didn't really see a floral shop fitting into that equation.

"Mom always came up with crafting and decorating ideas for us to do," she said. "The messier, the better. My dad was my biggest fan and always told me anything was possible if you worked hard."

Today, her parents – along with her husband, provided he's not combing the fields in his combine – pitch in as part of the Lazy Acres delivery crew. Ekberg also gets help from her daughters and mother-inlaw, plus the two part-time employees who work whenever business demands an extra set of hands.

Without their support, Ekberg knows her little piece of Wakefield wouldn't be possible.

"What is the point of having your doors open if no one walks in?' she said. "By coming through my doors, they extend an invitation to their lives - to their graduations, birthdays, wedding proposals, anniversaries and even their weakest moments of sorrow. I never take that invitation for granted and always do my best to make their memories live up to their expectations."

It's not an easy feat, but for this small-town business with a smallscale start, it's another opportunity to blossom.

A platter full of memories for Duwelius

When I set up an interview with an opposing coach who is visiting Wayne State College, I usually speak to them right after the game in the south hallway by the stage – so it was rather unusual for me to discover that I was taking second fiddle to a meal at The Max.

Granted, the sampler platter at Wayne's sports bar is delicious – and you could hardly blame Southwest Minnesota State assistant coach Clare Duwelius for skipping out to take advantage of an opportunity for her parents, Dan and Nell, to pick up the tab and spend some quality time with their daughter.

It was like coming home again for Duwelius, who is in her second year as a graduate assistant for the Mustangs working under former Wayne State assistant coach Allison Kruger, who recruited Duwelius to Wayne State while working for forr head coach Rvun Williams both its boys and girls teams qualify for the Nebraska High School Bowling Federation state tournament next weekend in Lincoln by finishing as runner-up in district competition this past weekend in St. Paul.

They're rolling their way toward a shot at another state title. The Wayne High bowling club saw

The Wayne High boys rode the arm of Brady Ping, who won the district boys singles title with a threegame total of 620, sandwiching a 194 between a pair of 213 games. His effort on the lanes helped Wayne finish with a 2,901 team score, placing second behind district champion Boone Central.

The Wayne girls also finished as district runners-up, finishing 304 pins behind champion North Bend. They were led by Nicole Craft, who bowled a 494 over three games. Each team bowled three regular games, where four bowlers throw their own game; and five Baker games, where four bowlers combine for one game. The total pins in those eight games determined the final team scoring.

There were a lot of good times for Duwelius during her days as a Wildcat, memories that are still fresh - both in her mind and the minds of Wildcat fans who still remember the 22-footer she buried at the buzzer to beat Augustana 62-59 and give Wayne State the 2012 Northern Sun Conference tournament championship.

That championship team made it to the Elite Eight, winning regionals right here in Rice Auditorium. And, even two years later, it feels good for Duwelius to come back – even if she's on the opposing team's bench.

"That first time last year, it felt very strange to be sitting on the other bench, but you get used to it after a while," she said. "I remember when I came here last year, the first thing I did was to look at the (regional championship) banner. It was the first time I'd been back since it had been hung and there were a lot of special memories that are attached to that banner."

Duwelius was a key component to that team, which rode the wave of success to the school's first-ever Elite Eight appearance in any sport since joining NCAA Div. II. She was one of five seniors that helped lead Wayne State to a 32-3 record and helped carry a No. 1 ranking into the Elite Eight tournament.

The Wildcats went more than three full seasons without a home loss during her career. She was an NSIC All-Conference first-team selection as a senior, averaging 10.3 points per game and leading the team in a number of categories, including 3-points made (83), attempted (182) and percentage (45.6 percent), as well as minutes played (1,080 out of 1,405 minutes for the season) and steals (58).

Early pins key win for Winside on mat

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

WINSIDE - It was hard to tell if Tuesday's cross-county matchup be- se (Vergara) wrestled well for us, tween Wayne and Wakefield was a and Gage Schultz had a very good wrestling dual or a heads-up game of no-limit Texas Hold 'Em poker.

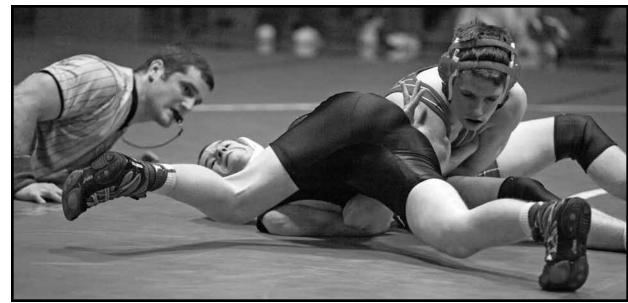

A lot of moving around was taking place in front of the scorer's table as the two coaches – Wayne's David Wragge and Winside's Paul Sok - made adjustments to their lineups that made for an entertain-High School

The host Wildcats came away with a 45-29 victory over the Blue

Devils, and both coaches said they were pleased with how their kids wrestled.

"I thought Mike (Cliff) and Jomatch," Wragge said. "We had a number of younger guys who were stepping in for us and may have wrestled their first varsity matches tonight with some injuries we've had, so we kind of had to piece things together."

"Things worked out well for us ing evening of wrestling at Winside tonight and I think everybody got their money's worth," Sok added. "It was a fun dual and you saw a bunch of young kids out there."

The gamesmanship between the two coaches started early when Wragge moved Demetrius Alexander up to 195 pounds to make way for freshman Devan Henschke, who wrestled his first varsity match.

Henschke was pinned late in the first period by Gage Main, but Alexander didn't waste any time returning the favor, sticking Caleb Dwinell in 21 seconds to tie the dual at 6-6.

Some moving and jostling took place again at 220 pounds that saw both team's usual 220-pounders bump up to heavyweight. That allowed Winside to move their regular heavyweight, Zane Jensen, down to take on another freshman, Wayne's Mikey Reyes.

The 220-pound battle turned out to be an entertaining one. Both wrestlers escaped nearfall situations, and Reyes was trailing when he tried a lateral drop. The move didn't work out well, as he slipped and fell to his back, allowing Jensen to catch him midway through the third period for the pin.

"Zane has gotten in shape and actually weighs less than 220, so he's been wrestling against those big boys at heavyweight and we thought if we'd get a chance to wrestle somebody his size, we'd juggle things around," Sok said.

That move by Wayne at 220 allowed Winside to bump Lienemann up to 285 to face Kody Frahm, who also makes his home in the 220-pound weight class.

"We needed to move Kody up to move Mikey in, and then we had to weights. "Our upper weights are a little banged up, so we had to do some adjusting."

Lienemann came away with a late first-period pin against Frahm, and that win helped open the door for the Wildcats.

Sean Mann won at 106 pounds with a 13-7 decision over Gage Schultz, hanging on for a 13-7 decision that was a much closer match than the score indicates. Winside and Wayne split the final six matches of the evening. Marcos Escalera, Kevin Ross and Sam Wolfe all came away with pins for the Wildcats, while Logan Reinke and Jose Vergara got pins and Mike Cliff won by technical fall for the Blue Devils.

"They've had a good season. They finished second in the conference, and I see no reason that can't continue the high form they've had all season," Baker said. "They should be right in there with the top teams in Class C."

In addition to the team competition, bowlers will compete in singles action. Bakers aid Wayne has four bowlers who could be in the mix for singles titles at next week's state tournament.

"She recruited me to come to Wayne State and was a big reason why I came here," Duwelius said. "After I got my degree, I was trying to do some networking and reached out to her, and she offered me this spot. It was special how it worked out and I'm glad I got it."

It's been an adjustment for the Des Moines, Iowa native from being a player to coaching young women just a few years younger than she is, but she's happy to have the opportunity to coach.

"It's awesome to still be involved in the support while I'm working on my Masters degree," she said. "I don't know if I will be a coach longterm, but it's been an awesome experience and I've met a lot of great girls, and it's also brought me back to Wayne State a couple of times."

Wayne State men fall at buzzer to Southwest, lose to Sioux Falls It was a heartbreaking weekend Wayne State trailed 56-51 with for the Wayne State men's basketball team last week, as they ran out fort to come back, tying the game of time Friday and ran out of gas as Bauschek hit a trey with :50 let on Saturday to drop a pair of NSIC matchups at Rice Auditorium.

On Friday, Southwest Minnesota State beat the buzzer with a gamewinning shot to hand the Wildcats a 58-56 defeat.

The game was tied at 56-56 when Adol Aluong hit two free throws with :21 left, but the Mustangs got an 18-footer from Nick Smith as time expired to give the visitors the come-from-behind win.

The two teams battled for much of the first half. Southwest Minnesota State built a seven-point lead at 24-17 midway through the first period, but the Wildcats wiped that lead off the board with a 7-0 run, including a pair of Aluong layups and a 3-pointer by Ryan Rolfzen to tie the game at 24-24 with 5:17 to go in the half.

Southwest again took the lead. but Aluong scored and Ty Bauschek hit a 3-pointer to give Wayne State its first lead at 30-28, and the Wildcats would eventually take a 33-30 lead into the locker room at intermission.

The game stayed close throughout the second half, but Wayne State was able to build a lead behind a pair of 3-pointers from Kenny Finco and led by as many as seven points early in the second half.

That's when Wayne State's offense went cold. The Wildcats missed three front ends of one-andone situations, and the Mustangs slowly crept back in the game, tak-

Aluong led the Wildcats with 21 points while Bauschek added 18 in the losing effort. Rolfzen, who was moved to the post position after some injuries late in the week, had nine rebounds and Heesch had eight assists and three steals.

Still stinging from Friday's defeat and playing with only eight players for the second consecutive game, the Wildcats didn't have an answer for Sioux Falls, and a furious second-half rally fell short as the Cougars came away with a 95-83 win on Saturday.

The Wildcats led early, but Sioux Falls was white hot from the field, hitting 58.8 percent of their shots and going 14-of-19 from the floor in the second half, a 73.7-percent clip.

Wayne State trailed by as many as 30 points with 9:49 to go, but they mounted a fast and furious rally to get the lead down to single digits. Heesch's layup with 1:26 to go made it 90-81, but that's as close as the Wildcats would get as they fell to 8-10 overall and 5-9 in NSIC play.

Rolfzen led the Wildcats with 21 points while Aluong had 20, Heesch scored 15 and Bauschek added 13. Rolfzen led the team with seven rebounds.

"We played well and played hard on defense, but we took too many quick shots and didn't have very good shot selection, and hopefully that was a learning experience for us to try and come out and execute. I think we'll get refocused and play a little better this next week.'

The bracket shapes up well for the 14-3 Blue Devils, as they have beaten Crofton and O'Neill this season. But Sweetland was quick to point out that there are no guarantees in the Mid State Conference tournament, especially with the way this year's bracket is set up.

"It's too bad the four games couldn't be played at different times, because those will all be games to enjoy watching," he said. "Crofton

Capitol View Change needed to 'good time' law Sticks, stones – no broken bones

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Recently, Attorney General Jon Bruning, Omaha State Senator Scott Lautenbaugh and I announced our support requiring inmates convicted of the most violent crimes in our state to earn a reduction in a prison sentence rather than receive it automatically. The law would change Nebraska's "good time" law to a system of "earned time."

Public safety is a top priority. Recent events have led to discussions about the sentencing of our most violent inmates, including current practices and laws regarding sentencing and the length of time an inmate is in Nebraska's correctional system.

Many Nebraskans are unaware of the automatic sentence reductions. They believe that when a court sentences someone to 20 years that means the person would serve 20 years, not 10 years, which is the reality under current law. The citizens of Nebraska are demanding and expecting action to end the policy of violent criminals automatically receiving "good time."

Under current law, when a violent criminal has been sentenced for his or her crimes, the length of his or her sentence is automatically cut in half the moment they enter a Nebraska corrections facility because of the current "good time" law. That needs to change, and it needs to change during this legislative session.

Last month, I approved a change to our good time rules and regulations that allows the Department of Correctional Services to take twice as much "good time" away when a prisoner assaults a corrections guard or another inmate or engages in other inappropriate behavior. That's all that I can do administratively, and now it's up to the Nebraska Legislature to reform the "good time" law.

We need to eliminate automatic 'good time" credit for the most violent inmates. The public safety of our citizens should be priority number one and that should start with violent criminals being required to earn any reduction in their sen-

Attorney General Bruning and I have worked together over the last few months to study this issue. Senator Lautenbaugh introduced Legislative Bill 832 which will eliminate automatic sentence reductions for the most violent offenders. Instead of "good time" we are offering the idea of "earned time."

Senators Charlie Janssen of Fremont, Tyson Larson of O'Neill, Beau McCoy of Omaha, John Murante of Gretna and Ken Schilz of Ogallala are co-sponsoring this legislation.

The legislative proposal for earned time requires inmates convicted of the most violent crimes in our state to earn a reduction in a sentence as opposed to the current law where a sentence is automatically halved when the inmate is sentenced. The proposed legislation would only apply to inmates who commit the most violent crimes, including murder, manslaughter, first degree assault, kidnapping, sexual assault, robbery, and other serious and violent offenses committed after the effective date of the bill.

Under the proposal, "earned time" is calculated on a month-tomonth basis with certain requirements that could allow an inmate to effectively halve their sentence with earn time if the inmate behaves appropriately and is actively following Legislative Update their personalized program plan.

Nine days in and there's already name-calling being thrown backand-forth between the executive and legislative branches. Typical behavior in the short session of the nation's only unicameral, but typically reserved for the final days when last ditch tactics often elicit such emotions.

Lawmakers are supposed to adjourn the 103rd session for good on April 17, three months from now. There will be a mess left behind as a number of measures - some of which lingered from the first year of the two-year session – go unpassed. Some might not even get a debate before the full Legislature.

Governor Dave Heinemann delivered what will be his last State of the State address and, as expected, talked about: cutting taxes; rejecting a proposed expansion of Medicaid; and replacing the "good time" regulations in the state prison system with something called "earned time." That topic came up this summer in the aftermath of four murders in Omaha allegedly committed by a recently released inmate named Nikko Jenkins. Heinemann said Jenkins' release - due to good time – is proof that the system is flawed and dangerous.

State Ombudsman Marshall Lux, whose office investigates problems in the prison system, discovered that despite a number of red flags, Jenkins was denied much-needed mental health intervention during his incarceration. Lux also commented that the existing good time system was a necessary tool for management of inmates.

His comments about Lux -- whom the Legislature has reaffirmed for office at least six times -- incensed several senators to the point where they took the floor a day before Heineman's big speech to call a few names of their own. Not unexpectedly, Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha said the Governor was stupid and simpleminded and quacking like a lame duck. The Wayne Herald editorial staff writes all headlines.

Sometimes it is really frustrating involved in "neighborhood watch" trying to represent the interests of the people of Nebraska in this legislative body.

We have important things to do during this 60 day session, things like tax reform, prison reform and school funding. We cannot seem to get to any of these or other important issues.

What we can do is spend two and one half days debating the sale of novelty cigarette lighters. We seem to be perfectly capable of spending hour after hour talking about amber lights on vehicles used by people programs. It seems there is plenty of time to spend discussing manure spills on the streets surrounding the meat packing industry in Omaha.

We will at some point get to the "heavy lifting," but it is too bad that we cannot move on some of the important things now instead of jamming them all together and being forced to hurry through them as the end of session nears. Sometimes I fear that tactics that have so paralyzed our government at the federal level may have to a lesser degree slipped into our state government.

Erotunnel completed the tunnel on time and the tunnel was officially opened one year later than originally planned by British Queen Elizabeth II and French President Francios Mitterand in a ceremony held in Calaio on May 6, 1994. The Queen traveled through the tunnel to Calais on a Eurostar train, which stopped nose to nose with the train that carried President Mitterand from Paris. Following the ceremony, President Mitterand and the Queen travelled on Le Shuttle to a similar ceremony in Folkstone. A full public service did not start for several months.

The Channel Tunnel Rail Link, now called High Speed I, runs 69 miles from St. Pancras railway station in London to the Channel Tunnel portal at Folkestone in Kent. It cost 5.8 billion. On Sept. 16, 2003 Prime Minister Tony Blair opened the first section of High Speed I from Folkestone to North Kent. On Nov. 6, 2007 the Queen officially opened High Speed I and St. Pancras International Station, replacing the original slower link to Waterloo International railway station. On High Speed I train traveling at speeds up to 186 mph., the journey from London to Paris takes 2 hours, 15 minutes and London to Brussels takes 1 hour, 51 minutes.

In 1994 the American Society of Civil Engineers elected the Channel Tunnel as one of the seven modern wonders of the world.

News from Praise Assembly of God Church

A bit of Light

Wednesday "Kidz Praize" and Adult Bible Study from 6:30-7:40 p.m. each week and on Sunday mornings there is a 9:30 a.m. Sunday School class for all ages; morning worship begins at 10:30 a.m. in the sanctuary. This Sunday evening, Feb. 2 at 4:50 p.m. there will be a "Super Bowl Party" at the home of Merlin and Colleen Heinemann. Everyone is invited to join for the fun and fellowship - and that followed (literally it means "attesting miracles" that verified the preaching as being the Truth).

Among his key points, the Pastor left the listeners with these things to remember:

1) Ephesians 2:10: We are the workmanship of God, made in His image, and created for a ministry of good works:

2) 2 Timothy 1:9: We have each been saved for the purpose of ministry (a non-serving Christian is not what God wants us to be).

3) There is not an end to ministry; we will never retire from this call; Galatians 1:15-16: we have been called out of darkness to serve

4) 1 Peter 4:10: Each of us has ceived the power of God to fulfill a particular task.

Albin, Executive Director of Nebraska Right to Life, Greg Schleppenbach, State Director of the Bishops Pastoral Plan for Pro-Life Activities, Peggy McGinty, a sidewalk counselor from Sioux City; and Nebraska District 17 State Senator Dave Bloomfield.

"One String, One Voice" will provide musical selections.

Mother Teresa said: "Abortion is the greatest destroyer of love and peace. Any country that accepts abortion is not teaching its people to love, but to use any violence to get what they want."

Wanted ... Church news

The Wayne Herald would like to print information and schedules from area churches.

All information submitted to the Herald by Monday at 5 p.m. (delivered to the Herald office) or emailed by 8 a.m. on Tuesday will be included in that week's edition of the paper.

Articles can be mailed to P.O. Box 70, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or emailed to clara@ wayneherald.com

The Herald thanks its readers and area ministers for their cooperation in our effort to keep informed on the happenings at various churches.

'Devotions" will be at halftime. This past Sunday morning, Rev.

Jason Pickering (pastor of the church) continued in his "Ministry Series" with a message entitled "Me Lord? or "Me Lord!" The purpose of the sermon was to answer the question "Why am I here on this earth?" - especially as it applies to the issue of "discipleship" and being "called by God to serve Him."

Pastor Pickering reminded the congregation that the Church (capital "C") has been equipped with the power of God to equip people to do the work that God has planned for it. Each local church (lower case "c") and its members (all believers in the Lord) have specific ministry opportunities and tasks to accomplish as we walk through a dark and dismal world that desperately needs to have the hope of Christ.

According to the pastor: "Wherever God has placed us: right there He has a specific purpose for us." In the book of Thessalonians, Paul reminded the readers that when the Word was preached (part of the ministry call), there were miracles

5) In the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18-20), we have been given the authority to minister on behalf of Jesus

6) We have also been commanded to minister, to serve as Jesus did.

7) Ephesians 4:11-12 reminds us that we are to be prepared to minister.

8) In his vivid illustration of the various functions of parts of the body, Paul tells us (1 Corinthians 12:27) that each person in the "Body of Christ" is important.

9) We are each accountable for ministry (Romans 14:12).

10) Colossians 3:23-24 assures a faithful servant of God that we will each be rewarded for ministry.

It is good to know that each of us is important to the Lord and to His specific plan. That means that God has a specific calling for us individually - and as churches - here in Wayne, America to fulfill His amazing plan to see people's lives changed and the Gospel spread.

Wednesday, Feb. 5: Morning walking, 8:30 a.m.; Quilting and Cards, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.; FROG Exercises, 9:15 a.m.; Pool, 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.; Ray Petersen on the accordion, 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.; John Schmitt, Services for the "Visually Impaired," 12:45 p.m.; Birthday cake and party, 3 p.m.

Winside Schools one of many organizations to receive grant from Fontanelle Hybrids

VerNeal Martoz of Winside recently presented Winside Public School with a $5,000 grant to be used for a new sound system in gymnasium.

The F.O.C.U.S. grant is an opportunity for Fontanelle Hybrids Stalkholder Dealers to support and help their local communities. The program, Fontanelle Offering Community Understanding support (F.O.C.U.S.) provides funding for local projects and programs that will benefit communities where Fontanelle Hybrids customers and dealers live and serve. Fontanelle has a sales footprint that includes Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Colorado and surrounding states.

"We are a company built on serving the needs of local farmers, and we believe it's important to give back in kin for the support we've received over the years," Marotz said. Winside Public School is one of 70 organizations being presented with a grant from Fontanelle Hybrids for the 2013 year. The focus of these special grants is to fund projects and programs that will benefit entire communities. This year, fontanelle Hybrids is giving away almost $250,000 in donations.

The Winside Public School was nominated for this grant by Marotz.

The Fontanelle Hybrids FOCUS Grant program was established in 2010 and over the last three years, 214 grants have been given to local community organizations, totaling $700.000

AN UPDATE FROM DAVE

Dave Olson - "We are continuing our regular routine"

Concrete work continues on the building project. It's been difficult with the weather to get the stem wall up, but they should have it completed soon. Steel is scheduled to be here and soon you will be able to see the walls go up.

Parts and service are fully functional. The parts trailers have all been moved to the Providence Road location, so all parts are located there. Kevin has ordered in spring pre-season planter parts and they are available.

Service shop is at the old location. You can reach them by calling 402-833-0088 or Kurt Daum on his cell phone at 402-369-1607.

The fence is up around the lot, with gates at both entrances. The lot is filling up with new and used equipment to be sold. If you want to look at the equipment, stop at the shop and Kurt will call a salesman to come help you.

We are still planning to have clinics for AMS, planters and tractors. This year we will be doing it a little different by having power point presentations.

I would like to remind everyone of our Managing Cropping Challenges meeting coming up this Friday.

This meeting will differ from the Crop Production Clinics by providing additional information on locally important topics. Topics include: Resistance Management - Make it Work on Your Farm; The Role of Soil Health in profitable Crop Production; Spray Droplet Sizes; Making the Most of Your Fertilizer Dollars; and an Ag Policy Update.

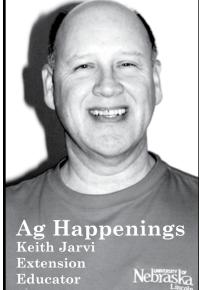

This meeting will be held in South Sioux City on Jan. 31 at the Goodwill Campground across from the Martin Air Field and last from 8:45 a.m.-3 p.m. (a little longer if you are going to be recertified for your private pesticide applicator's license).

There will be a fee for the meeting, which includes a lunch. A charge of $20 will be for attendees who do not need their private pesticide certification licenses renewed. If you want to renew your private certification at this meeting there will be an additional $25 charge ($45 total for the meeting) which is a $5 reduction from the usual charge of $30 for pesticide safety training. It's too late to pre-register but walk-ins are welcome.

Private Pesticide Applicator Certification begins next week with meetings in Dakota City on Monday Feb. 3 at the USDA Service Center and the Haskell Ag Lab at Concord on Thursday, Feb. 6. There will be two meetings at each site, at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. These meetings are good for both recertification and initial certification. If you are recertifying pleas bring your bar coded letter from the state to make it easier for everyone. These private pesticide certification meetings cost $30.

Dakota City will have a recertification date for commercial/noncommercial applicators in categories 00 (general standards), 04 (ornamental and turf pest control), and 07 (right-of-way) on Thursday, Feb. 20 at the USDA Service Center. This meeting will begin at 9 a.m. It is highly recommended that you preregister on-line for this as the walk in registration is higher. Go to pested.unl.edu to register for this meeting.

The thrill of victory, the agony of defeat; Google says that phrase comes from that old show "Wide World of Sports," remember it? We are now into the hard part of the basketball season, and we are experiencing both emotions, frequently.

At the December 17th Council meeting, the Council approved a motion to award a contract to Big Rivers Electric Corporation to supply wholesale electric power at a 10% discount from the Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) blended rate to Wayne from January 1, 2019, to December 31, 2026, i was approved by the City Council before December 31, 2013. After that date, the Big Rivers' 10% discount was based on the NPPE Generation Station Rate, which historically has been approximately 3% higher. Todo Hegwer, the City's RFP negotiator, stated that the total discount for Wayne would be 13% if the Council approved the Big Rivers contract at the December 17th Council meeting and only 10% if approved after that date. City Attorney Miller determined that the actual total discount would mathematically be 12.75% instead of 13% if the spread between NPPD rates is exactly 3%. Using the 13-year projected electric rates presented to the Council, the .25% mathematical difference would mean about $300,000 less savings over the life of the Wayne-Big Rivers' contract. The actual difference between the NPPD Blend Rate and Generation Station Rate is set by NPPD rate calculations and not guaranteed to be 3%. The City would be saving ten percent off of a rate that could be up to 3% lower. The concern by the City Attorney was that this information was not presented clearly to the Council at the meeting and may have made a material difference in the Councilmembers deliberation and vote on the contract. After further discussion, no action was taken on the matter, and the contract with Big Rivers Electric Corporation that was approved at the December 17, 2013, meeting stood as approved. Discussion took place regarding proposed amendments to sections o Wayne Municipal Code pertaining to parking restrictions. Joel Hansen, Stree Superintendent, presented a map of Wayne showing the parking ordinances that are now in place and the proposed new parking ordinance changes on streets that are new or haven't been acted upon in the past He reviewed each quadrant of the city Councilmember Muir introduced Ordinance 2014-2 and moved for approval. The agenda was approved.

The minutes of the January 7, 2014, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

UNL Educator Amy Topp reported she would be replacing the battery back-up units in the extension office

Sheriff LeRoy Janssen told the board that Thurston County is again considering building a new jail. In the past Janssen has given Thurston County a letter stating his intent to house an average of 5 prisoners per day at the regular daily rate in their facility. Janssen will not be giving Thurston County a letter of intent since he will be retiring as Wayne County Sheriff before the jail is built, however, he encouraged the commissioners to continue using the Thurston County facility.

Emergency Manager Nic Kemnitz told the board that the level of internet necessary for the Paraclete box can now be made available at its current location, the NET tower. The county was considering moving the Paraclete box to Wayne and locating a tower on top of Bowen Hall to receive the level of internet service and elevation needed for communications between local emergency response agencies. Pierce Broadband Networks is willing to place a line at the tower with a download speed of 8 mbps, and an upload speed of 2 mbps, without charging an installation fee, if a two-year contract at $75.00 per month is signed. This would allow the Paraclete box to function properly and save the expense of relocating it. Motion by Rabe, second by Larson to authorize signing a 2-year contract with Piece Broadband Networks. Roll call vote: Rabe-ave, Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

Replacement of the spraying equipment used by the Noxious Weed Department was discussed with Weed Superintendent Doug Deck, and Weed Board members Richard Woslager, Randy Kleensang, Louis Lutt and Lynn Junck. Deck reported working with Dixon County Weed Department and a representative of Benco to design a replacement system. Specifications for the system have been written; quotes will be obtained and submitted to the insurance company.

No decisions have been made on a building for the weed department. The City of Wayne has offered temporary space to park the pickup and sprayer unit. The used oil trailer will be stored at the road maintenance yard in Wayne. Some chemicals will be stored, the rest will be purchased as needed.

The Nebraska Department of Roads requires the county to name an individual to sign road and bridge reports in the absence of a County Highway Superintendent. Motion by Larson, second by Rabe to authorize Chairman Dean Burbach to sign in place of the County Highway Superintendent. Roll call vote: Larson-aye., Rabe-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

As per the recommendation of the Lodging Tax Committee, motion by Rabe, second by Larson to approve a $1,500 grant application for the Wayne Rugby Tournament. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.
