Dunning: It's good to be back home

After cheating death in October tornado, WSC's chief info officer gets back to work

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

John Dunning takes a drink from an oversized neon-green water bottle that sits in the middle of a desk in an office that, after three months away, he is slowly getting reacquainted with.

That he is even here to sit down for an hour-long interview is, to grossly understate the obvious, a miracle – and it feels good for him to be able to sit at his desk.

"It's good to be back at work," he said, two weeks after returning to his duties as chief information officer at Wayne State College. "It's good emotionally, in terms of the good relationships that I have that are around the college. It's a happy reunion with a lot of good things, and it's intellectually stimulating to be back at work solving problems and working with others."

Four months ago, he was fighting for his life in an intensive care unit in Sioux City after being struck by a rolling dumpster during the Oct. 4 tornado that hit the east side of Wayne.

By a horrible twist of chance, Dunning and Mike Anderson were riding home from Sioux City late that Friday afternoon after having flown back from a conference in Chicago. Dunning and Anderson were the first to have their luggage come off the carousel at the airport, and Dunning offered Anderson a ride home.

As it turns out, that offer turned into a life-saving event.

"That was a life-impacting decision because, all things being equal, had Mike not ridden home with me that day I probably would not have survived," Dunning said in looking back at the events of that fateful day when he and Anderson found themselves in the middle of an EF-4 tornado that had estimated winds of more than 170 miles per hour.

Dunning said he remembers certain events that took place before the tornado – the rain that went from a trickle to a torrent in a matter of seconds as they came over the hill by Country Nursery east of town – the hail, followed by the pieces of Grossenburg Implement flying across Highway 35 – the exploding windows in his pickup.

"I remember Michael saying 'We gotta get out of here' and I drove into the ditch and bailed out of the truck when the windows exploded," Dunning said. "It felt like I'd stepped into a sandblaster. The debris was hitting my face, and I remember hitting the grass and wrapping my left arm up around my head."

The next thing he remembers is Anderson, standing over him, saying "Don't move, help is on the way." Dunning said he was completely unaware of his injuries, which were numerous:

- compound fracture of his left tibia and fibia;
- broken left femur;
- two pieces of wood impaled in his right thigh;
- numerous broken ribs;
- collapsed lung;
- broken right shoulder blade;
- broken sixth vertebrae;
- a concussive skull fracture that drove part of his skull into his brain;
- a laceration that cut an artery, causing massive bleeding;
- a partial severing of the radial nerve in his right arm;

John Dunning (center) said it's a slow process getting back to work as chief information officer at Wayne State College, but he's happy to be back on the job. Here he is discussing a technology question with employees Brett Parker (left) and Amanda Rusch.

– more cuts and scrapes than one could count. "I had 38 surgical procedures in 14 days," Dunning said. "I had a lot of debris in my body, so every time I'd go into surgery they'd have to clean out the wounds. Some of the wounds stayed open for two weeks just to get the material out of my body."

Dunning said the only thing he remembered before going into the emergency room in Sioux City was talking with Dr. Mark McCorkindale in the ambulance.

"I've been told that I was awake and verbal and communicative throughout triage at Providence, on the ambulance ride to Sioux City and as they moved me into surgery," he said. "Dr. McCorkindale said that he'd asked if he wanted to sing to me, and they tell me that I asked him what he wanted me to sing. He laughed and told me to just keep breathing."

It would be almost two weeks before Dunning would come out of his coma, but the battle to stay alive was still going on in his mind.

Signs of life

There are definitely signs of life amidst the rubble left behind from last October's tornado that struck Wayne's industrial area on the east edge of town. In the photo above, construction crews are making progress on the frame of what will be Sand Creek Post and Beam's new building. At right, a South Sioux City sign company braves the windy conditions to make progress on the new sign for Grossenburg Implement just off of Highway 35. Once winter gives way to spring, we're sure to see a lot more work going on in the area that was struck by last fall's storm.

Council gets good report on '12-'13 audit

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

Wayne City Council members received a positive report on the financial status of the city during Tuesday's meeting.

Terry Galloway, with Almquist, Maltzahn, Galloway & Luth, P.C., presented information to the city on the fiscal year 2012-2013 audit.

Galloway told the council the "city is in good shape." He noted that the city under-spent approximately $2 million in the general fund compared to what was budgeted.

A number of positive areas in the city budget were highlighted, including the fact that the city has good cash reserves. Also noted were several areas that may need adjustments, including rates for water, sewer and electricity.

In conjunction with an agenda item in regard to the cost of operating an indoor pool, Galloway was asked what the construction of a $2.5 million pool would do to the city's tax asking for debt services. He informed the council that that amount would result in a $16 per person per year increase, but would allow the city to still remain in the 'good' range in that category.

Annexation of property into the northeast quadrant of the city was discussed at length during the meeting.

In recent months, Robert Woehler and Sons, Williams Form Engineering and the Wayne Municipal Airport have requested annexation.

Debated was whether or not to include the land which formerly housed Pacific Coast Feather should be included in the annexation area.

Council member Matt Eischeid made a move to approve the ordinance annexing the area, without including the Pacific Coast property, but the motion failed on a vote of 5-3 with council members Eischeid, Kaki Ley and Jill Brodersen voting in favor of the changes and council members Jon Haase, Cale Giese, Nick Muir, Rod Greve and Jennifer Sievers voting against.

Council member Giese then made a motion to table a vote on the ordinance until after the council's annual retreat, scheduled for this weekend. This motion was approved.

Council members also approved a re-development plan with Mid Plains Grain, LLC.

Owner Breck Giese plans to tear down a number of the grain facilities in three locations in the southeast portion of Wayne and replace them with two new bins with the capacity to hold 305,000 bushels of grain.

Council members listened to a report from Alex Koch, recreation services director, on the costs associated with an indoor pool and the master plan for the Summer Sports Complex.

Koch told the council that he had obtained information indicating that the operating costs for an indoor pool ranged from $7 to $16 per square foot, excluding the costs for salaries and insurance.

He also gave council members a sheet detailing the portions of the Summer Sports Complex that were damaged or destroyed by the Oct. 4 tornado and the amount of insurance money the city will receive for re-building.

He noted that during the re-building, a number of changes are being planned to make the complex safer and to allow those

New business brings new services to Laurel

By KATIE KASL
Of The Herald

If there's one thing Aaron and Katie Christiansen realized they'd need the first time they stepped into an old dentist's building in downtown Laurel, it was imagination.

The place, which would be the future home of the couple's business, AC Chiropractic and Wellness, was completely gutted. There were exposed two-by-fours, no insulation and enough work ahead of them that the Christiansens were compelled to look at each other and ask, "What did we buy?"

This question eventually fell to the way-side once construction started in July 2013, and crews were able to transform the structure into something more habitable.

"It was a complete makeover of the building," Aaron said.

Renovations wrapped up on Dec. 10, and the Christiansens – proving just how ready they were to be up and running – were open for business the following day.

And so far, Aaron said it's working out for the couple. The town of Laurel has embraced his and Katie's practice, and people from throughout the community make a point to come in, grab a handful of business cards off the front desk and hand them out at their own businesses.

"I couldn't ask for anything more," he added. "The support's awesome. (I) can't complain."

He and Katie – who are both from Plainview, so, really, home isn't all that far away – have found a good fit in Laurel.

"We just like the small-town atmo-

Clifford 'Pat' Erwin

Clifford "Pat" Erwin, 87, of Wayne, died Tuesday, Jan. 28, 2014 at Madonna Rehabilitation Hospital in Lincoln.

Services were held Saturday, Feb. 1 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. Sylvia High Karlsson officiated.

Clifford "Pat" Erwin was born Aug. 30, 1926, on a farm near Concord, to John and Lozetta (Monk) Erwin. He was baptized and confirmed at Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord. He graduated from Concord High School and served in the United States Navy from 1946-1948. Clifford "Pat" Erwin married Ruth Ruser on Feb. 26, 1950 at Immanuel Lutheran Church rural Wakefield. They farmed south of Concord for several years before moving into Wayne. Pat was a past member of Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord where he served on the Church Council and a present member of Our Savior Lutheran Church. He enjoyed all sports, but his main interest and frustration was golf.

Survivors include their children, Linda (Kipp) Kruse of Charleston, Ill., Ronda (Ed) Travers of Columbus, Jon (Deanna) Erwin of Elkhorn, Jean (Steve) Suehl of Winside; grandchildren, Colby (Amy) Kruse, Jayda, Londyn, and Ryder; Hilary (Brent) Behrens, Miles and Stella; Chad (Carolyn) Travers, Audrey; Matt (Brittany) Travers; Nathan (Jennifer) Suehl, Payton and Marcella; and Brandon and Lincoln Suehl; Evan (Kayla) Erwin, Joel, Kylie, and Witney Erwin; sisters, Bonnie Sasse of Loveland, Colo. and Norma Backstrom of Wayne; sisters-in-law, Lois (Dale) Krueger of Wayne and Dolores Erwin of Laurel; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Ruth, in 2010; five brothers, and three sisters.

Pallbearers were Colby Kruse, Chad Travers, Hilary Behrens, Matt Travers, Nathan Suehl, Evan Erwin, Brandon Suehl, Joel Erwin, Kylie Erwin and Witney Erwin.

Memorials may be made to the Erwin family for later designation. Burial with military rites was in the Concord Cemetery at Concord. Hasemann Funeral Home of Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Briefly Speaking

Bridge played at Senior Center

AREA — Bridge was played at the Wayne Senior Center on Tuesday, Feb. 4 with 12 ladies attending. Bridge was played at three tables.

Hostess was Anita Faelberth.

Bridge will be played again on Tuesday, Feb. 11. Hostess will be Lucille Peterson. For reservations, call (402) 375-1858 by Sunday, Feb. 9.

Pet of the Week

This week's Pet of the Week at Tenderheart Animal Rescue is Costello, a two-year old male cat who showed up at the rescue with his brother, Abbott, shortly after the shelter opened. Starting out as a scared little boy, he has blossomed into a beautiful mature cat who still plays with the best of them but is happy to have human attention also. He likes to be the dominant cat but has ceded that right to several of the females. Most important is that he gets his share of treats!

For more information or to adopt Costello, call (402) 369-6030.

Rev. Kim Kanitz

The Rev. Kim Kanitz, 57, of Revillo, S.D., died Sunday, Jan. 26, 2014, at his residence.

Memorial services were held Saturday, Feb. 1 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Revillo. The Rev. Iver Possehl officiated and The Rev. Howard O. Shane preached. Burial will be at a later date in Nebraska.

Kim Allen Kanitz was born Nov. 28, 1956, in Manitowoc, Wisc., the son of Gene and Marianne (Wunrow) Kanitz. He graduated from Cedarburg, Wisc. High School in 1975 and from Concordia College in Seward, Neb. in 1979. Kim graduated from Concordia Theological Seminary in Ft. Wayne, Ind. in 2002. He married Grace Brockemeier on Dec. 28, 1979, at Zion St. John Lutheran Church in Wisner. Kim was a second career pastor. Prior to seminary, he worked for NorthStar Services in Wayne, which specializes in enhancing the individual growth of persons with disabilities and/or behavioral disorders. He later was a founding member of a similar agency named Envision-GMR in Norfolk, which began providing services in July 1997. Following seminary, Kim was called as a Vicar to serve the congregations of St. John's Lutheran Church, Revillo, S.D. and Bethlehem Lutheran Church, rural Milbank, S.D. He was ordained and installed as Pastor of the congregations on July 28, 2002. He could be heard on the local radio stations with his radio ministry program. Kim was extremely proud of his family. He enjoyed comic books and science fiction. He was quoted as saying "Heaven on earth — just need a cushy chair and a chilled Mountain Dew...."

Rev. Kim Kanitz is survived by his wife, Grace, of Revillo, S.D.; his two children, Mark of Wayne, and Ruth of Revillo, S.D.; one sister, Kristina (Sal) Palmisano of Sorrento, Fla.; brothers-in-law: Grant Brockemeier of West Point, and Gaylord (Pam) Brockemeier of Wisner; sisters-in-law: Gloria Rardon of Norfolk and Glenda Brockemeier of Columbus; and nieces and nephews.

Honorary pallbearers were the ministers of the Watertown Circuit, South Dakota District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod.

He was preceded in death by his parents and grandparents. Mundwiler Funeral Home of Milbank is in charge of the arrangements. To send an electronic condolence, visit www.mundwilerfuneralhome.net.

Marvin L. Harms

Marvin L. Harms, 90, of the Embers Assisted Living Center in Coleridge, formerly of Hartington, died Wednesday, Jan. 29, 2014 at Park View Haven Nursing Home in Coleridge.

According to his wishes, Marvin donated his body to the Anatomical Board of the State of Nebraska for medical research. A burial service will be held at a later date. Arrangements are under the direction of the Wintz Funeral Home in Hartington.

Marvin Loyd Harms was born to George and Sophia (Saathoff) Harms on March 30, 1923 in rural Glenville, Neb. After high school graduation, Marvin entered military service in the US Navy on Jan. 26, 1942 and was honorably discharged on Nov. 21, 1947 with the majority of his WWII service in the Pacific Theater. Marvin served aboard the destroyer USS Coghlan (DD-606) during which she earned eight bronze service stars for which Marvin was awarded seven battle stars including Aleutian Islands Operation, Pacific Raids, Gilbert Islands Operation, Marshall Islands Operation, Mariana Islands Operation, Tinian Capture and Occupation, Leyte Operation and Luzon Operation. Perhaps highest among these most notable accomplishments by Marvin and the crew of the USS Coghlan was the fact that they "never lost a man during their time at sea". Entering the Navy as a seaman Marvin attained the rank of Machinist Mate 1ST class and was acting Chief Petty Officer at the time of his discharge. These were Marvin's most memorable years and he often referred to them.

After his military service, Marvin attended the University of Nebraska, Lincoln earning an Associate Degree of Agriculture and then began farming. He married Norma (Christensen) Harms of Pleasant Valley, Neb. on June 4, 1950. To this marriage were born six children. Marvin and Norma farmed near Obert, Wayne and Hartington. In the mid 1950's as a result of a drought, Marvin and Norma moved their family to Long Beach, Calif., where Marvin worked as a machinist for Douglas Aircraft. After returning, they farmed near Wayne and Obert until moving to rural Hartington in 1973. Marvin continued to farm there until 2011 when he entered the Embers Assisted Living Center.

Survivors include his daughter, Michelle (Eldon) Vanderheiden of Laurel and son, Timothy (Debra) Harms of Hartington; seven grandchildren; one brother, Warren Harms of Fairfield.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his wife, Norma, on April 11, 2003, and four sons, Bruce, Mathew, Zachary and Daniel.

More than $11.2 million returned in unclaimed property in 2013 in Nebraska

More than $11.26 million in unclaimed property was returned to Nebraskans and former Nebraskans in 2013, State Treasurer Don Stenberg said. The amount paid out in 2013 increased by more than 66 percent over the amount paid out in 2012 and is the highest amount returned to owners since 2009.

The number of claims paid also increased from 12,159 in 2012 to 18,273 claims paid in 2013, Stenberg said. The largest claim paid in 2013 was $561,000, which was divided among three heirs.

"These are significant increases both in the amount of unclaimed property returned to owners and the number of claims paid," Stenberg said. "This large amount of unclaimed property being returned to owners is the result of my staff's concerted effort to return as much money as possible, as expeditiously as possible."

"In addition, the increase can be attributed to our ongoing efforts to make Nebraskans aware of the unclaimed property program through outreach events,

Betty L. Nichols

Betty L. Nichols, 89, of Omaha, died Wednesday, Jan. 29, 2014.

Memorial services were held Thursday, Feb. 6 at Underwood Hills Presbyterian Church in Omaha.

Betty L. Nichols was born Jan. 15, 1925 on a farm near Wayne, to Ben and Mary (Pein) Nissen. She graduated from Wayne High School. Betty resided in Marshalltown, Iowa, Denver and Ft. Collins, Colo. before moving to Omaha 11 years ago where most recently her home was Skyline Manor. She was a devoted and loving mother, grandmother and great-grandmother.

Survivors include one son, Rodney E. Nichols of Ft. Collins, Colo.; daughters, Nancy Nelson (Bill) of Wheatridge, Colo. and Karen S. Nichols of Omaha; brother, James F. Nissen (Ginger) of Lincoln; and sister, Evelyn (Nissen) Babcock Eipperle (Wayne) of Omaha; grandsons, Travis Nelson (Kaylyn) of Erie, Colo. and Andrew Nelson of Boulder, Colo.; and great-granddaughter, Adalyn May Nelson.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Ben and Mary (Pein) Nissen; husband, Robert Earl Nichols; sisters: Mary Ellen Liken of Salt Lake City, Utah and Bonnie L. Lund of Wayne; and several in-laws.

Memorials may be made to Underwood Hills Presbyterian Church, 851 North 74th Street in Omaha.

Condolences may be made to Jim Nissen, 1555 South 56th Street, Lincoln, Neb. 68506 or Evelyn N. Eipperle, 3240 North 159th Avenue, Omaha, Neb. 68116.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By LOWELL JOHNSON
City Administrator

City Council Meetings

Regular City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at 3rd and Pearl Streets.

The State of the City

Every January the mayor and council receive the results of the annual audit of the city budget, revenues and expenditures for the previous fiscal year. We review cash flow, revenue and expense trends, debt ratios and how Wayne budget items compare per capita to other Nebraska towns our size.

Some interesting facts from this year's audit:

— Real Estate Tax Levy - City Only: moved from .7190 to .4558 in the past 20 years.

— City Government Debt/Valuation Ratio: $1.50 debt/$100 Valuation (rated excellent by audit comparability standards).

— Utility Debt Service/ Utility Cash Reserves.

— Electric fund: $2 million debt/$5 million cash reserves.

— Water Department: $700,000 debt/$1 million cash reserves.

— Waste Water $4.6 million debt/$1 million cash reserves.

— $107 sales tax per capita paid per year in Wayne/ $200 per capita audit average of comparable towns.

— $131 property tax per capita paid per year in Wayne/ $200 per capita average for comparable towns.

— $120 In-Lieu-Of-Tax fees and Occupation Taxes per capita per year in Wayne/ $90 in average of comparable towns.

— $151 state funding per capita received per year in Wayne/ $130 per capita for average of comparable towns in the audit.

— $41 spent per capita per year for Wayne Activity Center/ $30 per capita per year in comparable towns.

— $45 spent per capita per year for Wayne Library/ $35 per capita per year in comparable towns.

— $183 spent per capita per year for Wayne Fire Department and Police/ $230 per capita for comparable towns.

Grant Survey being conducted

In the next two weeks all residences south of Highway 35 and east of Highway 15 in Wayne should receive a survey about potential uses of grant funds for that area of Wayne. Please complete and drop in the Utility Drop Box at City Hall. Thanks.

Wayne State College to host State Science Bowl Competition

Question: From what specific celestial body do meteor showers originate? Answer: Comets. Question: What is the sum of all interior angles, in degrees, in a regular polygon having 100 sides? Answer: 17,640. These are just some of the questions that students may be asked during this year's Nebraska Science Bowl competitions.

Wayne State College will host the 20th Annual Nebraska High School Science Bowl on Saturday, Feb. 8. Teams from schools across Nebraska will participate at the event.

Each team is made up of four students, one alternate and a teacher serving as coach. Teams have to be quick and have a vast knowledge of astronomy, biology, computer science, physics, chemistry, math and earth sciences. Teams compete by answering questions in a round-robin and a double-elimination tournament.

Organizations sponsoring the Nebraska Science Bowl events include: Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District, Lower Platte South Natural Resources District, Nebraska Department of Education, Nebraska Public Power District, Papio-Missouri River Natural Resources District, U.S. Department of Energy, Providence Medical Center in Wayne, RDG Geoscience and Engineering, and Wayne State College.

The opening ceremonies will begin at 9 am, followed by a round robin competition from 9:30 am to 12 noon involving all of the teams split into four divisions. The top four teams in each division will then advance to the double elimination competition, which will begin at 1 p.m. Medals will be awarded to the top 4 teams at each event.

For more information, please call Dr. Todd Young, coordinator, at (402) 375-7471.

Wayne students compete in Science Bowl

Wayne students earned third place on Saturday during the 11th Annual Nebraska Middle School Science Bowl on Feb. 1 at Wayne State College.

Each team is made up of four students, one alternate and a teacher serving as coach. Teams compete by answering questions in a round-robin and a double-elimination tournament.

Team placings included: 1st: Lux

Middle, 2nd: Alice Buffett Magnet, 3rd: Wayne, 4th: Elkhorn Ridge.

Middle school participants included Elkhorn Ridge, McMillan Magnet, Logan Fontenelle, Godrich, Brownell-Talbot, Elkhorn Valley, Mission, Nebraska City, Ainsworth, Schoo, Norris, Lux, Lakeview, Bridgeport, Wayne, Columbus, Shelby-Rising City, Lincoln Lutheran, Alice Buffet, and St. Francis Indian.

Chamber Coffee

As the Wayne Area Economic Development Chamber held their weekly Chamber Coffee in the Carhart Science Building on Jan. 24, Dr. Dave Peitz of Wayne State College shows a science model to Dr. Tammy Evetovich, interim dean of the School of Natural and Social Sciences at Wayne State College.

PBS reporter visits Wayne

Fred de Sam Lazaro, a reporter and anchor for PBS, gave a presentation at the Wayne Public Library Senior Center and Frey Conference Suite at Wayne State College last week. The presentations were sponsored by the Wayne State College President's Council for Diversity and Office of Multicultural Affairs. He is a Senior Distinguished Fellow at the Hendrickson Institute for Ethical Leadership at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota and also serves as the director of the Project for Under-Told Stories, a program that combines international journalism and teaching. He is a reporter for the PBS NewsHour and a regular contributor and substitute anchor for PBS's Religion and Ethics Newsweekly. He has reported from 57 countries over three decades and brings a wealth of experience in domestic reporting, notably in the area of health care.

EnergyWise Tip

Icicles can cause problems

Icicles put the finishing touch on many of Thomas Kinkadee's paintings of nostalgic-looking homes locked in time and surrounded by a winter wonderland.

Perhaps you have quietly passed the time watching an icicle form, becoming longer and longer with each drop that trickles downward. Or maybe as a child, you energetically jumped to pull icicles off the sides of your home to use as a toy sword. Icicles may seem beautiful, magical or picturesque, but they can also signal big troubles for you and your home.

Icicles are the result of "ice dams," which are a buildup of ice on the roof along the overhang or eave. Eaves are the parts of the roof that extend beyond the exterior wall and gutters attach to. Ice dams form when the upper part of the roof is warm enough to melt snow but the eaves and gutters are cold enough to freeze the runoff into icicles. As the ice gets thicker and thicker, it stops water as it comes down the roof, making an ice dam. Eventually, water coming down the roof is backed up enough that it does not refreeze because it continues to be warmed by the house and its attic. Finally, as the water gets deep enough behind the ice dam, it is pushed up under the shingles and into the house causing water damage.

The best way to prevent this from happening is to keep your attic cold in the first place. The majority of heat in the attic comes from heat inside the house leaking into the attic. If your house has big, beautiful icicles, you are probably using way more energy than you need to keep your home warm. So what can you do?

Attic insulation and air sealing

This is the primary way of stopping ice dams. Since most of the heat comes from below the attic, ensure the attic is properly insulated and air sealed. In Nebraska, your attic should have enough insulation to equate to an R38 value. If you are not sure, contact your local hardware store or utility company to learn more. If more insulation is needed, you may qualify for an EnergyWise energy efficiency incentive from your local electric utility to help offset the cost of the additional insulation.

Air leaks transmit a lot of heat into the attic quickly, so they are important to stop as well. Pay particular attention to sealing up and insulating the following major sources of heat in the attic:

- Chimneys;
- Plumbing stacks;
- Recessed lighting from the ceiling below;
- Bathroom and clothes dryer ventilation.

Bathroom and clothes dryer exhausts can be the worst of the four. Not only are they bringing heat into the attic area, some are vented right into the attic. This will bring additional moisture into the cooler area and can lead to problems like rotted roofs and rafters, ruined insulation, moisture inside the walls, mold and peeling paint.

More attic ventilation

Though secondary to insulation, ventilation is also important. No matter how much insulation is in your attic, some heat will still come through. Insulation and sealing only slows down heat transfer. The purpose of attic ventilation is to give that heat somewhere to go. Note that most homes built before 1980 have lousy ventilation. Again, if you are not sure, visit with your utility company, local hardware store or home contractors in the area.

So, Laurel it was.

The arrival of their business brings with it the town's only chiropractic practice. In addition to spinal adjustments, the Christiansens also offer nutritional supplements for weight loss, muscle gain and other uses, as well as ultrasound and electrical stimulation technology.

Aaron explained that, initially, he hadn't planned on pursuing a career in chiropractic care, even though members of his family have always seen a chiropractor.

"I grew up on the farm, and I always thought that that was what I wanted to do," he said.

As a child, Aaron struggled with asthma. When a few treatments with a chiropractor caused it to go away, he thought he'd make a life out of sharing his results with others.

"My family benefited from it," Aaron said. "As time went on, I realized I really wanted to help people and let them experience what I did."

City of Wayne taking part in needs assessment survey

The City of Wayne, in partnership with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District (NENEDD), is conducting a target area needs assessment as part of the City's participation in the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Comprehensive Investment & Stabilization (CIS) program offered through the Nebraska Department of Economic Development.

Anyone living within the city's target area is encouraged to take the survey. The CIS target area consists of those neighborhoods within city limits that are southeast of the intersection of East Seventh Street (Highway 35) and South Main Street. A map of the target area can be viewed at City Hall.

The survey reviews neighborhood needs in the following areas: public facilities, infrastructure, economic development, public services, housing and downtown revitalization. The survey is available in both English and Spanish.

Target area residents are encouraged to complete the survey to help identify potential projects for neighborhood improvements. Such redevelopment projects may address needs pertaining to the following: housing rehabilitation, water distribution, the sanitary sewer system, streets, sidewalk, drainage and public facilities (i.e. tornado shelters).

Paper copies will be distributed and collected by Wayne City Staff. Surveys may also be received from and returned to the Wayne City Hall located at 306 Pearl Street.

To access the survey online, please visit www.surveymonkey.com/s/WayneCIS. A Spanish version is also located at es.surveymonkey.com/s/WayneCIS2. Links to the survey can also be accessed via the City's website and Facebook page. The closing date to participate is Friday, Feb. 28.

Town hall meetings will be held March 2014. During these meetings, target area residents will have the opportunity to review survey results and further identify community needs. All meeting information will be available in English and Spanish.

The information provided from survey results and town hall meeting discussions will be included in the Wayne Target Area Needs Assessment/Strategy, a study that will be completed by NENEDD and submitted to the Nebraska Department of Economic Development (NDED). Should NDED approve the needs assessment/strategy, the City of Wayne will be eligible for up to $750,000 in grant funds to make improvements to the target area over a three-year period.

For information pertaining to the Comprehensive Investment & Stabilization (CIS) needs assessment and program, please contact Alyssa Silhacek at (402) 379-1150 or by e-mail at alyssa@nenedd.org.

County approves 1-, 6-year road plans

Wayne County's road and bridge construction crews will be kept busy in 2014 after approval of the county's one- and six-year road plans Tuesday by the Wayne County Commissioners.

A total of 37 roads and bridges are on the county's schedule for 2014. Cost for the scheduled road work is just under $4.4 million, but $4 million of that is connected with nine bonded projects that the county will be undertaking this year.

Terry Gilliland spoke with county board members about one of the projects, a bridge near his property that was closed just last week. County officials noted that survey work on the bridge is complete and they are awaiting approval from the Army Corps of Engineers.

The county board approved two plats that were given the blessing of the Wayne Planning Commission. Approval was given to a 4.7-acre Herman Commercial Subdivision plat that will be located just east of the Wayne East truck stop and is expected to host a future business that is relocating after last year's tornado. A second plat was approved for Angel Estates, a 10.25-acre property located north of Great Dane and 21st Street and Centennial Road.

The county approved a letter that will be afforded to county officials in neighboring Thurston County which states that the county agreed to support the building of a new jail in Pender and would utilize the jail as needed, but there would be no guarantee of that support if it was built outside of the Pender area.

In other action,

– the board approved the request of Deb Allemann-Dannelly, Clerk of District Court, to enter into a two-year lease for new scanning equipment for the office.

– gave the go-ahead to seek bids on repair work for a bridge on 574th Ave. on the south edge of Wayne.

attending activities there to have a better experience.

The cost difference between what has been received from insurance, other donations and planned fundraisers and the costs of the improvements is approximately $200,000.

Both the topic of a swimming pool for the community and the upgrades at the Summer Sports Complex will also be discussed during the council's upcoming retreat.

The council received an update on LB840 activity within the community for the last six months.

Irene Fletcher, representing the Wayne Area Economic Development, presented information on those businesses who have requested and received LB840 funds, including those associated with tornado reconstruction and those businesses that have requested funds for other purposes.

Discussion was held during the meeting on amending the city's wage and salary schedule for city employees and the wage and salary schedule that addresses the wages paid to members of the police department.

Council member Giese questioned the hourly rate paid to employees on certain pay scales, including life-guardians at the city pool.

"I don't see why positions that are easy to fill start out with high wages. I don't think that some of these levels should get a raise," Giese said.

City finance director Nancy Braden presented wage comparison information for cities of comparable size, including those slightly larger and those slightly smaller. She noted that the salaries paid to the city employees are within the range paid by other cities.

Council members approved Ordinance 2014-2 on first reading. The ordinance, which deals with parking restrictions in certain areas of the city, will make the city code and signs already in place match.

Council members agreed to look at specific areas of the city in regard to parking in the future and determine what changes in the city ordinance need to be made.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Feb. 18 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

sphere," Aaron said. "Everyone's real personable, and you can trust them."

Prior to their AC Chiropractic and Wellness days, the Christiansens attended Wayne State – he for three years as a biology and chemistry student and she for four in order to obtain her bachelors in business and finance – before making their way to Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa. There, Aaron earned his doctorate of chiropractic degree, while Katie was schooled in chiropractic technology, which make it possible for her to take and read x-rays and perform physiotherapy on top of her insurance and billing duties within the office.

Following graduation, when it was time to decide what was next for them, Aaron and Katie knew they wanted to be back in Nebraska – preferably in a small town so that they could raise their two daughters, four-year-old Ava and one-year-old Tenlie – and had heard great things about the local school system.

Dunning is happy to be back home

During the final days he was in a coma, Dunning said he was having what he called "horrific" hallucinations – visions of people trying to kill him.

"I thought there was a sniper outside my hospital window," he remembered. "One time, there was a young man who would appear in my room after my wife, Ann, and my mom, Carol, had left, and all I could see was his feet and a weapon laying across his lap, and he was not there with benevolent intent."

Dunning said he was laying there, helpless, in his hospital bed, and all he could do was breathe.

"It gave me something to fight for," he said of the nightmares. "As long as I was breathing, I knew I was alive. No matter what they were doing, even though they didn't exist, if I was breathing, I was OK."

After spending 18 days in Sioux City, Dunning was taken to a long-term acute care center at Madonna's in Lincoln. Aside from a Thanksgiving-weekend trip home, Madonna's rehabilitation center would be his home for the next 2 1/2 months.

He wasn't there a full day when – whether he liked it or not – he was up and on his feet . . . well, one foot, anyway.

"I had two therapists holding me steady, and I stood on my right foot for about 25 seconds, and just to know you're going to be able to stand again was pretty phenomenal," he said. "What was funny was that they came in on my first day to do this, and at that point, I think I had more tubes stuck in me than I had appendages."

Throughout the whole process, the two constants in Dunning's world were his wife and mother, who were by his side from start to finish.

"Family support is an absolute key factor in patient recovery, and I was never without my family," he said. "My wife and my mom were there the whole time, and I had my brothers visit and my sister in Colorado stayed with me for a week. That was a blessing."

Dunning said he also felt the prayers and the well-wishes of friends, co-workers and the Wayne community – that, coupled with the struggle he experienced while going through his post-coma hallucinations, made him realize just what kind of life he had been living . . . and that he wanted that life back.

"It seems odd, but once I got through the hallucinations, the recovery hasn't been much of a struggle because I wanted to live," he said. "I wanted my life back. I knew I had liked it before the tornado, but I didn't realize how rich and beautiful it was until after the tornado."

That thought helped Dunning get through recovery a lot faster than even he had envisioned. The only thing that slowed him up was a week-long battle with strep that delayed his return home by a week or so.

And while he was anxious to return home, he knew it meant leaving behind some wonderful medical people that he had developed close relationships with.

"You build very close relationships with the people who take care of you in that situation, whether it's in acute care or rehab," he said. "You're excited to transition to that next stage, and then you realize you're not going to see these people again who you've come to love and appreciate, both for their skill in healing and for their personality and passion for helping you get better. You just meet these remarkable people, and you realize you're not going to see them after this."

Still, it was good for Dunning to know he was going home. He and his family made a Thanksgiving weekend return home between rehab appointments, but he came home for good on Jan. 10, a little more than three months after the tornado.

Dunning said he found out that something was being planned back in Wayne for his return home, but his wife was quick to make sure he didn't know much.

"I'm an ardent Facebook user, and I saw a post about putting signs up, so I called Ann over to show her, and here she is, sweating bullets because she knows what's going on and is trying to isolate me from the world so I don't get word of this," he said. "I had to promise her I wouldn't get on Facebook the rest of the day, so I had no idea about the parade and that people would show up the way they did. That was just surreal."

When he returned home, he was given a hero's welcome with an impromptu parade through town. People were lined up along Main Street, welcoming Dunning back home, and he was greeted by a warm crowd at Wayne State College.

After a week's recovery at home, he's back at work on a limited schedule, working about 15 hours a week and slowly building his stamina back up to eventually resuming full-time work.

Fatigue is his toughest battle now, which is part of the healing process. And he knows it's something he's not going to be able to hide.

"It's up to me, but I have a lot of people watching me closely, both on and off campus, so I'm not going to be able to fake it very well," he said. "And I don't want to. I'll be taking care of myself and doing my due diligence."

And he's quick to point out what wonderful support he has had during his recovery, from his staff at the office to the friends, family and well-wishers in the community who have said a ton of prayers and helped out in every way imaginable.

"I firmly believe that prayer works, whether or not you're a religious person," he said. "There's an energy that happens when human beings care for one another that's just phenomenal, and a lot of folks helped us out and took care of the house and the dogs, and that really helped Ann and my mom and I to focus on the recovery process and nothing else. With all of that, we just had every blessing and benefit one could imagine."

Dunning survived an EF-4 tornado, multiple attacks on his body and his mind, 38 surgeries and three months of rehabilitation – and he wouldn't trade it for the world.

"It's been an amazing journey and continues to be," he said. "If I could turn back time and go back to Oct. 4 and decide to stop for a burger before coming home, I don't know that I would. I just had no idea that people were this beautiful, and I get to live with that realization for the rest of my life. I'll never forget all the wonderful people who have touched my life since that day."

A silver lining for softball

Normally, cloudy skies aren't the kind of thing softball players and fans enjoy.

But as the old saying goes . . . every cloud has a silver lining. And for softball enthusiasts in Wayne, the silver lining could lead to some interesting changes at the Summer Sports Complex.

As you may have heard, we had a tornado blow through town here last fall. The tornado did a ton of damage on the east end of town, particularly at the softball complex. Drive out there today, and it looks more like a war zone than a place to turn a 4-6-3 double play.

Thanks to the city's insurance and disaster assistance, the opportunity to not only rebuild, but reconfigure the complex and add some much-needed extras to the place, could not be more opportune than it is right now. The city and the local baseball and softball associations have a once-in-a-lifetime chance to make some changes that will improve the facility tremendously and make it a go-to place for more teams and more tournaments in the years to come.

One of the key components of the plan is to put more space in between the four fields, which won't be a small task at all. Moving the fields out to create an 80-foot space will take some time, and as it stands now the plans are to get the two south fields ready for play this spring and summer while the work commences on the other two fields.

One of the fields would be shortened from 280 feet (from home plate) to 200 feet. The northeast field will replace the southwest field as the official home field for the Wayne High softball team, which will be welcome for batters who had to stare into the sun while playing on the southwest field.

Currently, two of the fields have lighting installed, but the plans call for a third field to be lit. The northwest field would be the only field without lights, if the current plan is approved by the Wayne City Council.

With the shorter field on the northeast quadrant, that will create space for a 40-by-120 foot shed that will not only hold equipment for baseball, softball, soccer and rugby, but will also be used for an indoor batting cage. In addition, a playground is planned for that part of the facility, which will allow the little ones to play in an area and not have to worry about errant foul balls.

Another positive about the plans presented is the addition of an additional 10 feet of backstop fencing. This will keep more balls from leaving the field of play and putting unsuspecting fans on the other side of the field at risk of getting cold-cooked by a foul ball (and, if you've ever been struck by an errant softball, you can attest to the fact that those balls are ANYTHING but soft).

According to figures from Tuesday's City Council meeting, the city has a little more than $350,000 in insurance money to work with, and with current and projected donations yet to come, there will be about $415,000 to work with, leaving an additional $213,000 to come up with to replace everything from fencing and lighting to scoreboards and irrigation.

These proposed changes, if approved, would also create some new travel considerations for those attending games there. The dirt road that comes off of Tomar Drive on the north edge of the complex would be closed, and a road would be built that would run between the rugby buildings and the two fields on the west side of the rugby complex. This would force the shift of those fields a few yards westward, and if the city is willing to work with the Wayne State Rugby Club, that shouldn't be too bad of a deal for everybody involved.

Laurel-Concord/Coleridge's Audra Corbit gets a big step inside as she is guarded by Emily Puls of Wakefield during their matchup on Thursday in Laurel. Watching the play is Wakefield's Whitney Echtenkamp.

One-on-one battles help Wakefield girls, LCC boys

Chamberlain vs. Russell.

Larry vs. Magic.

Kobe vs. Lebron.

OK, so Thursday's girls basketball matchup between Laurel-Concord/Coleridge and Wakefield didn't have the star power of some of those legendary NBA matchups, but it did feature quite a showdown between two of the top scorers in the area.

The Wakefield girls got a school-record 38 points and 13 rebounds from senior Lauren Lehmkuhl, which offset the 25-point effort from the Lady Bears Cameron Eddie, to help the Trojans come away with an impressive win over the host LCC girls, 57-48.

It was one of those games where fans got to sit back and watch two of the area's best girls basketball players engage in a little head-to-head battle where, it seemed, neither was able to miss a shot.

Lehmkuhl was hot from the outside, hitting five 3-pointers and scoring several key points down the stretch, both from the field and at the foul line, to help Wakefield come away with the impressive road win.

Eddie, meanwhile, was solid in driving to the basket and made the most of her free throw opportunities, making 9-of-11 from the charity stripe.

In between, the two teams battled throughout the night. Wakefield led by seven after one period, but LCC was able to chip away at the lead

Wayne fourth, LCC fifth at Plainview

PLAINVIEW – Wayne and Laurel-Concord/Coleridge both finished in the top five out of 15 teams at Saturday's Plainview Invitational.

The Blue Devils finished fourth overall and ended the day with seven medalists, led by runner-up finishes from Mike Cliff (138) and Logan Reinke (152).

Cliff nearly pinned Chase Osborne of Battle Creek in the first period and held a 7-1 lead before Osborne, one of the top wrestlers in Class C, stormed back for an 11-7 win in the 138-pound championship.

At 152 pounds, Reinke ran into a solid foe in Plainview's Tony Steinkraus, who took control early and pinned Reinke midway through the final period.

Gage Schultz was a third-place medalist for the Blue Devils, taking consolation honors at 106 pounds.

Fourth-place medals were earned by Cornelio Espino (126), Demetrius Alexander (182), Schuyler Schweers (195) and Kody Frahm (220). Jose Vergara was fifth at 160 pounds.

For the Bears, it was a fifth-place finish with seven medalists, including a head-to-head bout between teammates.

The Bears' lone finalist was Brett Haisch, who finished as the runner-up at 182 pounds after a 10-4 loss to Tyson Boling of the host Pirates.

Third-place medals were earned by Drew Lunz at 145 and Chris Heydon at 160 pounds. Billy Barelman took fourth-place honors at 170, while Ethan Hirschman was fourth at heavyweight.

Ben Barelman was fifth at 195, and Chayce Hirschman beat teammate Nolan Casey on a match limit

Wildcats grab two road wins

Lead by one in NSIC race

Wayne State's women moved up a spot to No. 8 in the Div. II poll after winning a pair of tough road games over the weekend.

On Friday, Ashton Yossi racked up a game-high 21 points and Wayne State held off a late St. Cloud State rally to come away with a 75-67 win and post the school's 10th 20-win season in school history.

Wayne State had to battle from behind early, turning a four-point deficit into a 35-33 halftime lead on the strength of a pair of 3-pointers by Yossi.

St. Cloud State got the lead back early in the second half, but Wayne State took control with a 14-2 run that gave them a 53-44 advantage with 12:34 to go. St. Cloud got the deficit down to three points, but another 3-pointer by Yossi helped keep the home team from getting back into the game and the Wildcats went on to the eight-point win.

Five Wildcats finished in double figures, including Ellen Hansen, who had a double-double with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Jordan Spencer added 13 points, Addy Roller put in 12 and Millie Niggeling scored 11.

Wayne High's Angie Nelson passes around the defense of Pierce's Jacy Bretschneider during the Blue Devils' 35-28 win in Mid State Conference tournament action Monday.

Blue Devils upset Pierce in tourney

The Wayne High girls posted the only upset of the opening round in the girls bracket of the Mid State Conference tournament on Monday night.

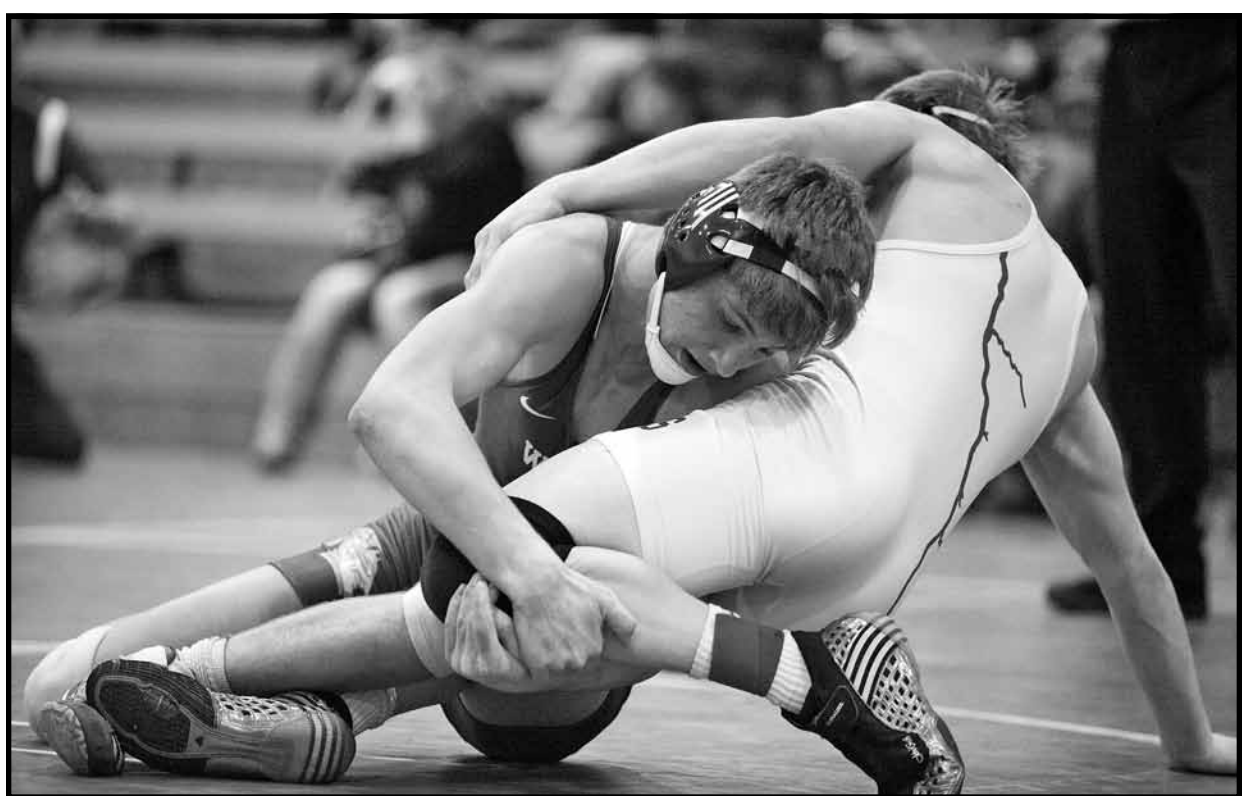

Using a solid defense and some good outside shooting, the sixth-seeded Blue Devils knocked the third-seeded Bluejays into the consolation bracket with a 35-28 victory at Norfolk Catholic High School. The win moved Wayne into Thursday's semifinals against Crofton at 7:45 p.m. at Northeast Community College.

Wayne jumped out to a nice lead early behind the 3-point shooting of senior Jalyn Zeiss, who hit five shots from long range and finished with a game-high 19 points. Four of her trifectas came in the first half as Wayne held a 16-14 advantage.

It was a defensive battle throughout the evening, and Wayne was able to get some key free throws from Meagan Backer and Abbie Hix down the stretch to help avenge

Wayne State men drop two NSIC games on the road

Wayne State's men struggled to get going on the road this past weekend, dropping a pair of road games in Northern Sun Conference action.

On Friday, St. Cloud State sank nine first-half 3-pointers while building a commanding 46-19 lead as the Huskies cruised to a 90-63 win.

The host Huskies never trailed, jumping out to early 8-0 and 13-2 leads in the first 2:30 of the game. With St. Cloud State leading 23-8, the Huskies put the game out of reach by scoring 17 straight points while holding Wayne State without a basket for 7:35 to build a 40-10 lead before the first half ended with St. Cloud State leading 46-19.

Ty Bauschek led Wayne State, scoring 19 of his game-high 21 points in the second half. It was the fourth 20-point game this season for Bauschek, who ended the night 8-of-15 from the field with three 3-pointers.

Adol Aluong added 14 points for the Wildcats followed by senior center Jared Bartling with 11 and Ryan Rolfzen 10.

On Saturday, Minnesota Duluth shot 65 percent from the field in the second half to outscore Wayne State 50-30 and come away for a 76-53 win, dropping Wayne State to 8-12 overall and 5-11 in league play.

The Bulldogs took a 20-9 lead at the midway point of the first half, but Wayne State came back and went on a 12-0 run over the next 6:42 and took a 21-20 lead on Ryan Rolfzen's 3-pointer with 3:10 to play before halftime. Minnesota Duluth finished the half scoring six of the final eight points to take a 26-23 lead at intermission.

Wayne State opened the second half with a Jared Bartling layup to pull within one at 26-25, but that's as close as the Wildcats would get as Duluth went on an 11-2 run to take a 37-27 lead and the Bulldogs used tremendous shooting in the second half to pull away for the win. Bartling scored 13 points to lead Wayne State followed by Rolfzen with 10.

The Wildcats return home this weekend to Rice Auditorium, hosting Upper Iowa Friday at 8 p.m. and No. 25 Winona State Saturday in a 6 p.m. contest.

Wildcat grapplers eight at Ainsworth

AINSWORTH – The competition was tough as the Winside wrestlers managed an eighth-place finish out of 11 teams at Saturday's Ainsworth Invitational.

The Wildcats brought home just two medalists, but coach Paul Sok said the Winside wrestlers got more than their money's worth.

"We had a rough day Saturday," he said. "I don't believe that I have ever seen such a butt-kicking finals round. Every match from fourth to first was go-go-go. Overall, it was a super, physical meet and we got caught on our heels in a few matches. For the most part, I think it was a valuable learning experience with two weeks before districts."

Second-ranked Caleb Lieneman, who has been on quite the impressive pinning streak of late, had to go the full six minutes with two of the top wrestlers in the state, but showed why he's one of the kids to beat in Class D at 220 pounds by finishing the meet with a 7-0 shutout of Zach Oliver from Shelton/Kenesaw.

"Caleb had an outstanding meet," Sok said. "He wrestled two rated wrestlers each in C and D and proved that he can go six minutes with the big boys – twice."

Marcos Escalera bounced back from a controversial loss in the semifinals to earn third-place honors at 132 pounds. Sok said three other Wildcats came within a match of making the top four in their weight class.

The Wildcats close out the regular season on Friday at the Clearwater Invitational.

Wildcats

From Page 1B to overcome their own troubles and get the win to improve to 21-2 overall and 14-2 in the Northern Sun Conference.

Wayne State got three straight treys from Roller, Kara Powell and Michaela Barry to break an 11-11 tie. After Duluth closed to within a point, Wayne State took a 16-4 run into the locker room and had a 44-31 advantage.

Duluth got within a single point with 7:48 to go, but treys by Niggelling and Yossi fueled a 15-2 run to put the game out of reach.

Spencer led a balanced attack with 16 points. Roller added 12 and Yossi and Powell each had 11.

Wayne State will be home the next two weekends. They host Upper Iowa on Friday and Winona State on Saturday.

The Summer Sports Complex has evolved over the years primarily through the work of a lot of dedicated and persistent volunteer help. The city, which hasn't put a lot of taxpayer dollars into the complex over the years, is getting one whale of a return on its insurance investment that it can use to turn that complex into one of the best four-field facilities in the state. Doing so would not only benefit the local baseball and softball teams, but would be a welcome economic boost for the state and regional summer tournaments it could play host to in the future.

A lot of hard work at the Summer Sports Complex was blown away by last October's tornado. Here's hoping the powers that be in our community see the opportunity that it has to not only bring the complex back, but bring it back bigger and better than before.

Helping Zeiss in scoring was Ashton Schweers, who finished with eight points. Backer, Hix, Victoria Kranz and Tarah Stegemann each had two.

In pre-tournament action Thursday, Wayne High held on for a 38-32 win at West Point-Beemer in another defensive matchup.

Wayne High held the Cadets to a single free throw in the final period after West Point-Beemer had cut Wayne's nine-point first-quarter advantage down to two heading into the final period.

Schweers led the Blue Devils with 14 points, Zeiss added 12, Angie Nelson had six, Backer scored four and Hix had two.

Allen nets first win over Winside in L&C

WALTHILL - With both teams looking for their first win, something had to give. Allen and Winside have both struggled on the basketball court this season, so when the two met up in the play-in bracket of the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament, it was guaranteed that somebody would come away with their first win of the season Friday night.

In the end, it was the Eagles and their depth that was too much for Winside to handle, as Allen was sparked by a 19-5 second-quarter run that helped them to a 49-22 win over the Wildcats at Walthill High School.

Both teams played solid defense early on, but Allen found its rhythm in the second period and carried a 27-9 lead into the locker room at the half. They added to their lead after the break and advanced into the round of 16 in the conference tournament. The Eagles got a game-high 17 points from Brian Boese, while Austin Connot added 10 points. Also scoring for Allen were Tayler Kumm with nine, Coleman Kneiff with seven, Myles Flores and S.T. O'Keefe with two each and Austin Crom and Austin Klug with one point each.

Cody Frederick led the Wildcats with seven points while Bryce Meis added six. Brook Carlson put in five, Keith Mundil had two and Jadon Wagner and Marlowe Kampa each had a free throw.

Trojans fall in L&C

It was one-and-done for the Wakefield boys in the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament, as the Trojans dropped an opening-round matchup Monday at Wynot.

The Trojans took Homer to overtime, but the seventh-seeded Knights were able to come out on top over No. 10 Wakefield, as Homer claimed a 51-44 victory.

It was a defensive battle for much of the night. Wakefield led by two at the break, but Homer came back to take a five-point lead after three periods before Wakefield rallied to force the extra period. In the overtime frame, Homer outscored Wakefield 11-4 to advance to Thursday's quarterfinal round against second-seeded Wynot.

Evan Nicholson led the Trojans with 22 points, while Anthony Gustafson had seven, Brodie Mackling scored six, Luis Brambilla had five and Josh Dolph scored four.

One-On-One

From Page 1B and take a two-point edge going into the final quarter.

Wakefield was solid down the stretch and got to the free throw line often in the closing minutes. That helped the Trojans, as they made good on 21-of-27 foul shots on the night to come away with the nine-point win.

McKenzie Rusk added eight points and 10 rebounds to the Wakefield effort. Whitney Echtenkamp scored seven and Emily Puls put in four points.

For the Lady Bears, Eddie was followed by Audra Corbit, who scored 16 points and had 10 rebounds. Erin Gubbels had four and Ellie Arduser put in three.

The boys matchup between the two area rivals was also entertaining from start to finish, but it would be the host Bears that would come away with the impressive win, posting a 64-53 triumph over the Trojans.

It's been a rough go for the LCC boys this season, as they won for just the fourth time all year, using a good defensive effort and shooting more than 60 percent from the field in getting the win.

LCC trailed 15-14 after one period, but turned it around and took a two-point halftime lead, then made several key plays down the stretch to come away with the win.

The Bears had three players in double figures, led by Dillan Wolfgram's 19 points. Brant Eddie added 13 points and Jackson Metheny put in 12 for the winners. Also scoring were Jordan Jansen with nine, Mitch Klooz with five, Jayden Reifenrath with four and Calvin Casey with two.

The Trojans' Evan Nicholson joined the 1,000-point club in Thursday's losing effort. His late 3-pointer at the close of the first half took him over the magic mark and was part of a game-high 20 points

Lady Bears reach semis in L&C tourney

Last year, the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge Lady Bears won the last NENAC conference title.

This year, they are a win away from going back-to-back in two different conferences.

On Saturday, The Lady Bears jumped on the visiting Queen Bees early, racing to a 20-6 first-quarter lead on their way to an easy 60-32 triumph at Laurel.

LCC was dominant from the start and had three players in double figures. Cameron Eddie led the way with 20 points while Ellie Arduser and Audra Corbit each had 14.

Eddie led the Lady Bears with 12 rebounds and four assists while Erin Gubbels grabbed eight boards and four steals.

On Tuesday, the Lady Bears' defense was too much for Plainview to handle in the quarterfinals at Bloomfield, as LCC posted an easy 48-29 win over the Pirates.

LCC used an 18-2 second-quarter run to take a 32-10 halftime lead and put the game out of reach early to move into Friday's semifinals against second-seeded Wynot.

Eddie was the only Lady Bear in double figures, finishing with 18 points. Brittany Wolfgram added nine points while Corbit had nine points and nine rebounds.

LCC, 13-5 faces Wynot Friday at 7:45 p.m. at Hartington High School. The winner advances to the conference finals on Monday.

Winside boys fall at Hartington

Winside's boys went on the road Thursday in their final tune-up before conference tournament play and dropped a 70-15 decision at Hartington.

The host Wildcats got out to a 21-0 lead after one period and were able to outscore their guests from there, keeping the Wildcats winless on the season.

Wayne High boys win tourney opener

The Wayne High boys basketball team opened the Mid State Conference tournament as the top seed and had no problem living up to their pre-tournament placing.

The Blue Devils racked up 25 points in the opening eight minutes and finished with three players in double figures on their way to an easy 63-41 win over Guardian Angels Central Catholic Tuesday at Norfolk Catholic.

The win improved the Blue Devils record to 16-3 on the season and put them into Friday's semifinals against Crofton, a 58-51 winner over O'Neill.

The Blue Devils led from start to finish in racking up the easy win over the Bluejays. They were led by Ben Hoskins, who had another double-double with 16 points and 12 rebounds, along with five blocked shots.

Jalen Barry shared high-scoring honors with Hoskins, as both had 16 points. Luke Rethwisch came off the bench and played well, finishing with 13 points.

Jared Anderson added seven points, Kaje Mally had five points and four assists, Zach Keating scored four and Trevor Pecena had two for the Blue Devils.

In non-conference action Thursday, the Blue Devils outlasted West Point-Beemer, coming away with a 52-50 win at West Point.

Hoskins led the way with a game-high 20 points, while Anderson put in 16 and Mally had seven.

Carly Fehringer (left) and Adam Hochstein both competed well for Wayne State during last weekend's action at the Minnesota State Open.

Wildcats get three firsts at Minnesota meet

Carly Fehringer and Sara Wells each recorded first place finishes to highlight the Wayne State effort at the Minnesota State in Mankato, Minnesota.

Fehringer, a senior from Wayne, recorded a first-place finish in the weight throw with a season-best and NCAA provisional mark of 63 feet, 8 3/4 inches, a throw that now ranks fourth in NCAA Div. II in the event. She also finished third in the shot put with a top mark of 45 feet, 0 1/4 inches.

Sara Wells earned another first-place finish in the shot put with a winning mark of 48 feet, 4 1/4 inches.

Jessi Pongratz reached an NCAA provisional mark with a fourth-place finish in the shot put at 44 feet, 10 1/4 inches while Michaela Dendinger took eighth in the shot put at 41-3.

Four other Wildcats also placed in the weight throw with Emily Wells taking sixth (55-3 1/2), Kyndra Sturm seventh (54-5 1/4), Jessi Pongratz (51-5) and Michaela Dendinger (51-0) finishing ninth and 10th, respectively.

Other top finishers for the Wayne State women included Alexis Guhl taking fifth in the 60-meter hurdles (9.30) and Megan Svitak recorded a 10th place finish in the pentathlon with 3,009 points.

The Wayne State men were led by a first-place finish from the 1,600-meter relay team. The quartet of Michael King, Jared Balady, Derek Lahm and Zach Thomsen crossed the line first with a time of 3:24.61 to record Wayne State's lone first place finish of the weekend.

In the weight throw, sophomores Bryan Dunn and Ryan Messerschmidt earned top 10 finishes, with Dunn taking fifth at 51 feet, 10 1/2 inches and Messerschmidt coming in 10th place at 48 feet, 6 1/4 inches. Joe Warth earned an eighth place finish in the shot put at 46 feet, 10 1/4 inches.

Wayne junior Zach Thomsen was fifth in the 800-meter run (1:55.80) while junior Jared Balady also finished fifth in the 600-meter run (1:24.71). Corbin Marksmeier and Nick Schmit also placed in the 600, as Marksmeier was eighth at 1:25.52 and Schmit came in 10th with a time of 1:26.49. Marksmeier also finished 10th in the 60-meter hurdles (8.88) while Schmit was 10th in the 1,000-meter run in 2:44.95.

Adam Hochstein came in seventh in the mile run (4:34.22), Derek Lahm was 10th in the triple jump (43-10) and senior Garang Lual was 10th in the 3,000-meter run (9:17.76).

The men's distance medley relay team of Thomsen, Mickey Doerr, Balady and Hochstein finished fifth with a time of 11:06.01.

Wayne State will compete in a pair of meets this weekend. A select number of athletes will take part in the Husker Invite in Lincoln on Friday and Saturday, while a majority of the team will head to Crete on Saturday for the Doane College/Fred Biele Track and Field Classic, starting at 11 a.m.

Wayne Residents:

your opinion is needed

The City of Wayne, in partnership with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District (NENEDD), is conducting a target area needs assessment as part of the City's participation in the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Comprehensive Investment & Stabilization (CIS) program offered through the Nebraska Department of Economic Development. Anyone living within the CIS Target Area (see map) are encouraged to take the survey.

CIS Target Area residents are encouraged to complete a survey to help identify potential projects in their neighborhood which may include:

- housing rehabilitation
- water distribution
- sanitary sewer system
- street improvements
- storm sewer improvements
- public facility improvements (i.e. tornado shelters)
- drainage improvements
- redevelopment projects

City Staff will distribute and collect hard copies of the survey to and from residents in the target area. Hard copies are also available at City Hall located at 306 Pearl Street. Completed surveys may also be returned to City Hall.

To access the survey, visit:
<https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/WayneCIS>.

A Spanish version is also located at <https://es.surveymonkey.com/s/WayneCIS2>.

Survey closing date extended to February 28, 2014.

Town Hall meetings to review survey results and identify potential projects will be held in March 2014. Further meeting information will be provided at a later date.

For information pertaining to the Comprehensive Investment & Stabilization (CIS) needs assessment and program, please contact Alyssa Silhacek at 402-379-1150 or by email at alysa@nenedd.org.

Allen teams fall at E-H

Allen's girls and boys both came up on the short end of a pre-tournament matchup Thursday at Emerson-Hubbard.

The Lady Eagles got into a high-scoring matchup with the Lady Pirates, but the hosts clamped down on the Allen girls in the third quarter, and that proved to be the difference in a 65-53 triumph.

Lindsey Sullivan scored 22 points to lead the Lady Eagles, while Gabby Sullivan added 13, Lindsey Jones put in nine, Lexi Oswald had six, Kerri Goodman scored two and Kaylen Smith had a free throw.

In the boys matchup, Emerson-

Hubbard was able to pull away in the second half and earned a 62-37 win over the Allen boys.

Brian Boese and Coleman Kneiff each had 17 points for the Allen boys in the losing effort.

Two in 1,000-point club

Evan Nicholson (right) joined the 1,000-point club with classmate Lauren Lehmkuhl during Thursday's game at Laurel-Concord/Coleridge. Lehmkuhl reached the 1,000-point mark earlier this season.

Lady Eagles fall to Ponca

The Allen Lady Eagles dropped their opening-round matchup in the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament and also fell in consolation action.

On Saturday, Ponca hit the Lady Eagles early and often, keeping the pressure up and coming away with a 69-31 win in a matchup of the fifth and 12th seeds at Emerson. Lindsey Sullivan and Gabby Sullivan each had eight points and Lindsey Jones added five for the Allen girls.

In consolation action, Allen and Winnebago locked up in a high-scoring affair, but the Indians came away with an 84-54 win.

Lindsey Sullivan led the Lady Eagles with 13 points, while Jones added 11.

Trojans fall in quarters

The Wakefield girls reached the quarterfinals of the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament before falling to the top-seeded team in the bracket on Tuesday.

On Saturday, the Trojans posted a 73-65 overtime win over Winnebago at Homer High School in a battle of the No. 9 Trojans and No. 8 Indians.

Wakefield came from behind in the fourth quarter to get the game to the extra session. They trailed by eight but were able to tie the game at 58-58 and outscored the Indians 15-7 in the extra frame.

Lauren Lehmkuhl had a game-high 37 points to go along with 22 rebounds for the Trojans. McKenzie Rusk added 15 points and Emily Puls put in 11. Also scoring were Tianna Gnat with six and Whitney Echtenkamp with four.

The Trojans didn't have an answer for Homer's full-court attack in Tuesday's quarterfinal round at Homer, as the top-seeded Knights ran away with a 73-43 triumph.

Lehmkuhl was the only Trojan in double figures, finishing with 13 points. Rusk added eight, Danicka Dorsey had five and Gnat had four.

The Trojans return to action Tuesday when they host Winnebago.

Wildcats win consolation

The Winside girls ran into a tough first-round matchup in the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament on Saturday, falling to second-seeded Wynot, 63-19.

Jayd Roberts and Halle Brogren each had five points to lead the Winside girls. Morgan Jensen put in three points.

In consolation action on Tuesday, the Wildcats got their second win of the season, outlasting Walthill by a 53-47 count. Winside trailed at the half, but outscored the Blujays 34-25 in the second half to claim the win. Jensen and Kelly Tweedy each had 13 points for the Winside girls, while Ellie Jaeger added nine, Roberts had six, Brogren scored four and Alyssa Thies had two.

In non-league action Thursday, Winside dropped a 51-24 decision at Hartington.

Sports Shorts

Zeiss named to all-star softball team

Wayne High senior softball standout Jalyn Zeiss was selected to play next summer in the Nebraska Coaches Association all-star game in Lincoln.

The four-year starting shortstop for the Blue Devils earned all-state honors and helped the team to a runner-up finish earlier this school year. She will play her college softball at Wayne State College.

The all-star game is set for Wednesday, July 23 at University of Nebraska's Bowlin Stadium.

Wildcats move up to No. 8 in polls

The Wayne State women's basketball team moved up one spot to No. 8 in the latest USA Today Div. II top 25 coaches poll.

The Wildcats are 21-2 and lead the Northern Sun conference. They are one of seven teams in the Central Region ranked in the current top 25.

Also ranked out of the Central Region are No. 6 Harding, No. 7 Emporia State, No. 13 Central Missouri, No. 22 Northern State, No. 23 Minnesota State and No. 25 Fort Hays State.

Fehringer earns NSIC weekly nod

Wayne State senior thrower Carly Fehringer was named the Northern Sun Conference Indoor Women's Field Athlete of the Week.

It's the second straight week that a Wildcat thrower received the award after junior thrower Sara Wells was last week's recipient.

Fehringer, a graduate of Wayne High School, won the weight throw at the Minnesota State Open with an NCAA provisional mark of 63 feet, 8 3/4 inches, which now ranks fourth in NCAA Div. II. She also finished third in the shot put with a top throw of 45 feet, 0 1/4 inches, a mark that now ranks 11th in NCAA Div. II.

Baseball, softball teams picked high in NSIC preseason

The Wayne State baseball and softball teams have both been picked for upper-half finishes among Northern Sun Conference coaches in their preseason polls.

The Wayne State baseball team was picked to finish fourth in the conference, trailing Minnesota State, St. Cloud State and Augustana. The Wildcats are tied with Winona State in the 15-team poll, which includes all the NSIC schools except MSU Moorhead. First baseman C.J. Nolen and pitcher Eric Browning are the players to watch for the Wildcats, who open the season Saturday, Feb. 22 against Minot State in a non-conference doubleheader at Pittsburg, Kan.

Wayne State's softball team is picked to finish seventh in the NSIC race this spring. Minnesota State and Winona State share the top spot in the 16-team survey, followed by Augustana, Minnesota Duluth, Minot State and Concordia-St. Paul. First baseman Kaiti Williams and pitcher Sara Scheffert are the players to watch for the Wildcats, who kick off the season Feb. 21 at the Kelly Laas Memorial Dome Invite in St. Cloud, Minn., against in-state rival Nebraska-Kearney.

Schwieger signs with California team

Former Wayne State pitcher Eric Schwieger has signed a contract with the Sonoma Stompers of the independent Pacific Association in California.

Schwieger, a 6-foot-8 210-pound lefthander, is currently pitching in the California Winter Instructional League for the Palm Desert Coyotes. As of Tuesday, Schwieger had made four appearances and four starts and has a 0-1 record with a 6.75 ERA working 12 innings with 13 strikeouts and no walks.

Following his work with the Palm Desert Coyotes, Schwieger will move on and pitch this summer for the Sonoma Stompers from June through August in the Pacific Association.

In 2013, Schwieger posted a hard-luck 2-5 record and a 3.18 ERA with two complete games for Wayne State as a senior. He led the Wildcats in strikeouts with 68 while working 62.1 innings and had three straight outings with 10 strikeouts while allowing just 11 walks during the season.

In his four years at Wayne State, Schwieger recorded a 14-10 record.

Ryan Rolfzen earns academic honors

Ryan Rolfzen of Wayne State College was named to the Capital One Academic All-District VII Men's Basketball First Team.

Rolfzen, a 6-foot-7 senior forward, maintains a 3.99 grade-point average majoring in exercise science in the classroom. On the court, he currently ranks third on the Wildcat team in scoring at 9.9 points a game and leads the club in 3-point field goals made with 32. He is shooting 41 percent from the field and 77.8 percent from the free throw line and ranks 13th in the NSIC in 3-point field goals made per game at 1.78.

The Capital One Academic All-District Men's Basketball Teams are selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) to recognize the nation's top student athletes for their combined performances athletically and in the classroom. First-team Academic All-District honorees advance to the Capital One Academic All-America Team ballot where first-, second- and third-team All-America honorees will be selected later this month.

Lehmkuhl sets new school marks

Wakefield senior Lauren Lehmkuhl became the school's all-time leading scorer in basketball history this past week.

In back-to-back games, she cracked the 30-point barrier to move past the record of 1,268 points set in 1993 by Lisa Blecke. With her school-record 38-point game against LCC and a 37-point effort against Winnebago on Monday, she stands at 1,284 points.

JV girls post 34-30 road victory

The Wayne High JV girls basketball team posted a 34-30 win over West Point-Beemer in action Thursday.

Danica Schaefer led the 8-8 Blue Devils with nine points while Allison Echtenkamp added seven. Also scoring were Lindy Sandoz with five, Mandy Stabler with three and Brenna Vovos, Morgan Keating and Peyton Roach with two apiece.

Wakefield wrestlers in NSWCA rankings

Two Wakefield wrestlers are noted in the latest Class C rankings from the Nebraska Scholastic Wrestling Coaches Association.

Brothers Caleb and Cody Thomas are both listed in the rankings. Caleb is the top-ranked wrestler at 160 pounds, while Cody is ranked fifth at 170 pounds.

Eighth-grade boys win three of four

The Wayne eighth-grade boys basketball team won three of four games in recent action.

In a 49-32 home win over Hartington CC, Hunter Jorgensen led the way with 25 points, while Jack Evetovich had eight. Ryan Jaixen led the team in rebounds.

In a 30-22 loss to Bancroft-Rosalie, Jaixen, Mason Lee and Brennan O'Reilly were the top players.

Wayne won their own four-team tournament, beating Pierce (43-40) and Battle Creek (36-22). Against Pierce, Evetovich had 13 and Jorgensen had nine. In the finals against Battle Creek, Jorgensen and Jaixen were the leading players.

Name omitted in bowling story

In last week's edition of The Wayne Herald, a name was omitted from the story on the Wayne High bowling club teams.

Ronnie Forney is also a member of the boys team. His name was not included in the story, and we apologize for the omission.

WIC and Immunization clinic to be held in Wayne

Northeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership (NENCAP), formerly known as Goldenrod Hills Community Action will hold the Wayne WIC and Immunization Clinic on Wednesday, Feb. 19.

The clinic hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the United Methodist Church located at 516 N Main Street in Wayne.

For an appointment or for more information regarding the WIC or Immunization programs, call (402) 385-6300.

NENCAP's WIC Program provides nutrition education and supplemental foods to income eligible pregnant, breast-feeding or postpartum women, infants, and children to age five years.

NENCAP's Immunization Program provides childhood immunizations to VFC eligible children. Immunizations are needed at ages 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, & 12-15 months. School required immunizations are needed prior to entry into kindergarten (ages 4-6) and 7th grade. Lead screening is also available by appointment only to children ages 12 months to 5 years of age.

Each child should be accompanied by the parent or guardian. Past immunization records are required. Proxy forms are needed when a parent or legal guardian is unable to accompany the child to clinic. Proxy forms may be obtained by contacting the Pender office at (402) 385-6300. A suggested donation of $39 per child would be appreciated to help defray administrative costs. If a child only receives one immunization, then the suggested donation is $19.50. No one will be denied immunizations for inability to make a donation. This project is supported in part by Federal Immunization Program Funds awarded to Northeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services.

Adult vaccine (MMR, Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Tdap, Pneumovax, TB testing) is available to the public for a mandatory fee at all immunization clinics to anyone 19 years or older. These fees cover the cost of the vaccine. Call the Pender office at (402) 385-6300 for more information.

NENCAP's Home Visitation Program offers services to families who are expecting or have children up to the age of 9 years. Information is available for those interested at the WIC and Immunization Clinic. This program provides free one-on-one education and resource to families and children in Northeast Nebraska in order to ensure and strengthen their well being.

Northeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership (NENCAP), headquartered in Pender, is one of nine Community Action Agencies in Nebraska. NENCAP manages several different programs as determined by identified needs of residents in the 14 county service area. The Agency serves over 10,000 clients a year due to successful outreach efforts. Northeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership (NENCAP) programs include the Commodity Supplemental Food Program; Family Services; Immunization; Weatherization; Head Start; Women, Infants, and Children Nutrition; Early Intervention Services Coordination; Operation Great Start and Operation Building Blocks. The agency serves Knox, Antelope, Pierce, Madison, Stanton, Cuming, Thurston, Dakota, Burt, Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Washington and Dodge counties. For more information on NENCAP programs, call (800) 445-2505.

Carbon monoxide is a killer

Michael wasn't exactly sure why he felt so bad. He thought he had the flu or food poisoning. He was nauseated, vomiting, dizzy and tired. His head was pounding. He called the Nebraska Regional Poison Center and was diagnosed with carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning at his local hospital.

Michael is one of the lucky ones. Every year more than 400 Americans die from unintentional CO poisoning and 20,000 are seen in emergency rooms, while another 4,000 are hospitalized.

The Centers for Disease Control ranked Nebraska as the state with the highest reliable mortality rate from carbon monoxide. In 2013, the Nebraska Regional Poison Center received 310 calls on carbon monoxide - an increase from the year before. But this figure is misleading because carbon monoxide poisoning is always under-reported. It is imperative that the citizens of Nebraska understand the dangers, the symptoms and how to prevent poisoning from carbon monoxide.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include sleepiness, headache, dizziness, blurred vision, nausea, shortness of breath and convulsions. The first step in treating carbon monoxide poisoning is getting the victim to fresh air. Then seek medical attention immediately.

Carbon monoxide is a gas produced when fuels burn incompletely. It has no color, taste or smell.

The major causes of carbon monoxide poisoning include:

- Using heating equipment that is in poor repair;
- Lack of ventilation in a car;
- Using a charcoal grill indoors;
- Using unvented space heaters.

The Poison Center offers the following suggestions to help prevent carbon monoxide poisoning:

- Inspect all fuel-burning equipment yearly.
- Vent fuel-burning heaters to the outside.
- Do not use a gas range or an oven for heating a room.
- Never use a charcoal grill or hibachi inside.
- Install carbon monoxide alarms on every level of your home.
- Never leave a car running in an attached garage, even with the garage door open.
- Have the vehicle muffler and tailpipes checked regularly.

The carbon monoxide death rate is highest among people greater than 65 years of age. Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning resemble those associated with other health conditions that are common among the elderly, especially in the winter.

The Nebraska Regional Poison Center offers tips on carbon monoxide poisoning prevention as a free community service. If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning or if you have any questions, contact the Nebraska Regional Poison Center toll-free at (800) 222-1222.

Northeast Community College conducts ceremony for veterinary technology students

A ceremony was held recently in Norfolk for the students enrolled in the Northeast Community College veterinary technology program.

Members of the Class of 2014 received the veterinary technician's pin. Members of the Class of 2015 were awarded a monogrammed white coat to mark their formal acceptance.

Dr. Mike Cooper, DVM and program director, opened the ceremony followed by comments from Corinne Morris, dean of agriculture, math and science at Northeast. Veterinary Technician Instructor Josh Schlote, LVT, administered the Vet Tech's oath to the Classes of 2014 and 2015. Dr. Amanda Hafer, veterinary technician instructor, spoke on how to keep a good sense of humor during her talk, "Laughter is the BEST Medicine."

Cooper said the importance of veterinary technicians became quite obvious at the recent winter meeting of the Nebraska Veterinary Association in Lincoln.

"This past year, the Nebraska Veterinary Association opened its membership for the first time to licensed veterinary technicians. The technicians will have a representative on the board and plans are in place to expand technician education at the winter and summer meetings. It just shows how important (veterinary) technicians have become."

Those who received their white coats at the ceremony included:

Amelia Allington, Ashland; Tara Beranek, Cedar Bluffs; Prudence Biermann, Wisner; Nicole Cargill, Scotia; Candice Hansen, Waterbury; Katelyn Hart, Hershey; Tina Lange, Crofton, Amanda Linstrom, Columbus; Alison Luhr, Wakefield; Andrea McMurray, Barneston; Jodi Prothman, West Point; Nathan Reisinger, Grand Island; and Tara Svenson, Norfolk.

Out-of-state students who received their coats included: Rebekah Frederick, Yankton,

These sophomore students were pinned during the ceremony: Aubrey Birkel, LaVista; Nicole Bowers, Randolph; Ashley Gibbons, Sutherland; Jenna Guenther, Crofton; Erika Harms, Fremont; Bethany Kethcart, Stanton; Keshia Lackas, Randolph; Sydney Lowe, Blair; Holli Nelson, Plainview; Loren Peterson, West Point; Alexandria Pottorff, Grand Island; Mollie Schieffer, Fordyce; Kristy Topil, Rising City; and Brooke Wemhoff, Norfolk.

One out-of-state student also received a pin: Jessa Moser, Baltic, S.D.

For more information on the Northeast Community College vet tech program, contact Dr. Cooper at (402) 844-7190.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

(Photo by Joel Janeczek)

Three of happy guys in the pub after the Seattle Seahawks ended 38 years of frustration and won Super Bowl XLVIII - me, Adam Dobbins and Matt Ley.

Long-suffering fans enjoy victory

I've been a pro and college sports fan for as long as I can remember. Many of you are fans of the Nebraska Cornhuskers or Iowa Hawkeyes. For some, the allegiances fall on other college institutions. Many of you also fans of baseball teams like the New York Yankees, basketball teams like the Los Angeles Lakers or NFL teams like the Green Bay Packers or Pittsburgh Steelers.

How your devotion to those teams got started is your story - this, however, is the story of some long-suffering fans of an NFL franchise that, on Sunday, finally won a Super Bowl.

My interest in the Seattle Seahawks started when the team joined the NFL as an expansion franchise in 1976. At that particular time in my life, I was bouncing back and forth between the Washington Redskins and the New Orleans Saints. The Redskins were a pretty good team at that time - although they had this incredible ability to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory every time they played the Dallas Cowboys - while the Saints' only claim to fame at the time were quarterback Archie Manning, a kicker with half a foot who kicked a then-NFL record 63-yard field goal, and the fact that the Saints were, to put it in rather kind terms, dreadfully awful.

When the Seahawks and Tampa Bay came into the league, I was intrigued at the thought of getting in on the ground floor of one of the new teams. I made my decision the way most intelligent people determine their allegiances to football teams - I chose Seattle's blue-and-green uniform combination over that God-awful, orange-and-red concoction the Tampa Bay team started out with.

And so, the journey began. Fast forward to Sunday - when Seattle played Denver in the Super Bowl. All the "experts" and naysayers said Seattle didn't have a chance against that high-powered Denver offense and Peyton Manning. He's the greatest quarterback of all time, some were saying.

I found a Seahawks-friendly party and enjoyed the game with Adam Dobbins and Matt Ley, both of whom are fellow long-suffering and devoted fans of the Legion of Boom. As the game progressed and Seattle jumped out to a big early lead, we were high-fiving and whooping it up, much to the dismay of those in the room who were cheering for the Broncos.

Seattle got out to a 22-0 halftime lead, and we kept asking one another if we were actually witnessing something that was really happening. "Is this for real?" Adam asked after yet another Seahawks defensive stand.

When Percy Harvin returned the second-half kickoff for a touchdown, we yelled and screamed the Seahawks kick returner to the end zone and jumped up and down and hugged each other like we'd won the lottery. We were expecting to have to settle in for a long, down-to-the-wire game, and there was out team absolutely KILLING the team everybody said was going to win the Super Bowl.

Final score - Seahawks 43, Broncos 8. I've found a kinship here in Wayne with people like Adam and Matt (and, yes, we did celebrate our team's win long into the night, as you can see above). To say that we are still on Cloud Nine, enjoying our team's one-sided beatdown of that vaunted Denver offense would be like saying the Pacific Ocean is a little damp.

I've been a fan of other pro sports teams at different points in my life, but none of those teams ever won championships and my interest in them has disappeared over the years. That's not the case with the Seahawks, though - I've suffered through the years of having horrible quarterbacks, incompetent general managers and horrible ownership and remained true to the team. Good things come to those who wait - and for those of us who have lived through almost four decades of "Wait until next year" statements, that wait is finally over.

I've got 38 years of pent-up frustration to unload between now and the start of next season, and fans of the Denver Broncos who were pointing and laughing at my devotion to the Seattle Seahawks have been put on notice: the Seattle Seahawks ARE the Super Bowl champions, and after that five-touchdown beatdown on Sunday, there's nothing left to say but this: GO SEAHAWKS!!!

Capitol View

Sticks and stones being thrown

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Nine days in and there's already name-calling being thrown back-and-forth between the executive and legislative branches. Typical behavior in the short session of the nation's only unicameral, but typically reserved for the final days when last ditch tactics often elicit such emotions.

Lawmakers are supposed to adjourn the 103rd session for good on April 17, three months from now. There will be a mess left behind as a number of measures - some of which lingered from the first year of the two-year session - go unpassed. Some might not even get a debate before the full Legislature.

Governor Dave Heinemann delivered what will be his last State of the State address and, as expected, talked about: cutting taxes; rejecting a proposed expansion of Medicaid; and replacing the "good time" regulations in the state prison system with something called "earned time." That topic came up this summer in the aftermath of four murders in Omaha allegedly committed by a recently released inmate named Nikko Jenkins. Heinemann said Jenkins' release - due to good time - is proof that the system is flawed and dangerous.

State Ombudsman Marshall Lux, whose office investigates problems in the prison system, discovered that despite a number of red flags, Jenkins was denied much-needed mental health intervention during his incarceration. Lux also commented that the existing good time system was a necessary tool for management of inmates.

That rankled Heinemann who said that Lux was "soft on crime." He called the current practice flawed and dangerous and intimated that any senators who support good time were in the same boat as the man who has been in the Nebraska Ombudsman's office for 35 years.

His comments about Lux -- whom the Legislature has reaffirmed for office at least six times -- incensed several senators to the point where they took the floor a day before Heinemann's big speech to call a few names of their own. Omaha Sen. Steve Lathrop said the comments were "stupid." Judiciary Committee Chairman Sen. Brad Ashford of Omaha called on Heinemann to ratchet down the rhetoric. He added that the comments about Lux were wrong and noted that the Judiciary Committee has been trying to get to the root of the problem while the governor's office has refused to talk

"in any meaningful way."

Not unexpectedly, Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha said the Governor was stupid and simple-minded and quacking like a lame duck. Chambers also took a shot at Omaha Sen. Scott Lautenbaugh for introducing Heinemann's "earned time" bill. Chambers also criticized prison officials for keeping Jenkins in solitary confinement for two years because he was hard to handle instead of seeking a civil commitment for mental health care.

Let's hope that cooler heads can prevail on this serious issue and that the governor and lawmakers can see the value of the present system with some modification. As one who had a family member serve three years and one month in the prison system, I am of the opinion that "good time" is a valuable incentive for a number of inmates.

The state has already cut back on the availability of education for inmates and my family member had to wait almost a year to get into much needed substance abuse treatment, which did have a big impact. We have to stop filing these people away like animals in cages and try evaluation and rehabilitation as alternatives. Give good time a tweak and keep it as an incentive. And replace name-calling with respect.

Legislative Update

Will action be taken on taxes in 2014?

After last session, I think most people were skeptical that the Legislature would take any meaningful action regarding taxes.

While taking action on property and income tax still remains a question, last Friday we did deal with one important issue - we got one step closer to exempting sales tax on agricultural machine repairs and parts.

LB96, introduced by Sen. Annette Dubas of Fullerton, advanced from General File with a vote of 44-0. This is very important for our communities, especially those on or near the border with other states. Nebraska is currently one of only eight states that charge sales tax on agricultural parts and repairs. Of our neighboring states, Wyoming is the only one to charge a sales tax.

This is not just an issue for the agriculture industry; it is an economic issue that affects the state as a whole. Our implement dealers need this in order to remain competitive, especially those that are on our borders. LB96 is back on the agenda and should be heard on Select File yet this week and I do not foresee it being held up.

This is one of three steps that I felt we needed to take to address meaningful tax reform this year. The remaining two are property tax relief and some adjustment to the income tax brackets. I still do not think that people in Nebraska who may make well under $30,000 per year should be paying at the highest tax rate in the state. Time will tell, but I am optimistic that at some point this year we will address these issues.

Go Make a Difference

Students at St. Mary's Elementary School in Wayne kicked off Catholic Schools Week by being a part of the Jan. 26 Mass at the church. Here they are shown singing a song, encouraging all to "Go Make a Difference" in the world.

Schools encouraged to sign up for NEST Scholars

State Treasurer Don Stenberg urged high school students in Grand Island, Kearney, and Columbus and across Nebraska to take part in the 2014 Personal Finance Challenge competition sponsored by the Nebraska Council on Economic Education. A total of $14,000 in prizes will be awarded to the winners from the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust (NEST), a division of the State Treasurer's Office.

Treasurer Stenberg is Trustee of NEST, the state-sponsored 529 college savings program, which takes its name from Section 529 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. The prizes consist of a scholarship contribution, ranging from $500 to $2,000, to a NEST college savings plan for each of the members of the top three teams in Nebraska.

This is the second year that the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust has provided college savings accounts for the Finance Challenge winners.

To prepare for the statewide competition in April, Treasurer Stenberg encouraged Nebraska high schools to take advantage of a new online financial educational program developed by EverFi, an educational technology company in Washington, D.C., and offered free of charge to schools and students by the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust and, in some instances, by local banks.

The EverFi program is available to Nebraska high schools and students through the State Treasurer's website at www.treasurer.org. The program is called Nebraska NEST Financial Scholars for Students.

The regional live Finance Challenge competitions will take place April 19 in Lincoln, Omaha, and Kearney after students have completed individual online tests. The winning team will advance to the national competition May 2 in St. Louis, Mo. The top team in Nebraska last year was from Johnson-Brock High School.

To find out more about the competition and how to enter, teachers and students will find details at www.financechallenge.org. Click on Nebraska in the U.S. map or select Nebraska from the dropdown menu. Click on The Rules on the left navigational panel.

The EverFi web-based curriculum available through Nebraska NEST Financial Scholars helps students learn critical life skills regarding personal finance and money management, focusing on college savings, credit cards, credit scores, insurance, interest rates, mortgages, and stocks. The course is offered in 10 modules and can be completed in about eight hours. Students who finish the program receive certificates and badges they can post to their favorite social media platforms and refer to on applications for college and for employment.

NEST is a tax-advantaged 529 college savings plan and provides four plans to help make saving for college simple and affordable: NEST Direct College Savings Plan, the NEST Advisor College Savings Plan, the TD Ameritrade 529 College Savings Plan, and the State Farm College Savings Plan. The Nebraska State Treasurer serves as the Program Trustee.

News from Praise Assembly of God Church

A Bit of Light

Praise Assembly of God Church of Wayne has an exciting Sunday coming up.

Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. for all ages and Morning worship at 10:30 a.m. start the morning. The bi-monthly "Cafe 2:42" (congregational dinner together) will be held over the noon hour followed by the "Annual Church Hall Meeting", with Rev. Kevin Roach from River Hills Assembly of God Church in Sioux City, Iowa officiating.

Pastor Jason Pickering, pastor of Praise Assembly, has been preaching a sermon series on "The Ministry of the Church" in recent weeks. And this past Sunday morning his thoughts were focused on the subject of "How to Discover My Ministry."

Among his key points were the following: 1) Dedicate my body. This instruction is found in scripture in Romans 12:1. The writer of the book of Romans gives the instruction to present our bodies to the Lord - and Paul (the author of this book) says that this is "acceptable to God and is our spiritual service of worship." What an amazing thing to realize that God wants YOU and ME to serve Him.

2) We must eliminate competing distractions (from Romans 12:2. Paul speaks of the "world" as wanting to squeeze us into its mold. But his instruction to believers is to NOT allow this to happen; instead we are to allow ourselves to be transformed by a renewal of our minds. We shut out distractions and anything that would attempt to derail us from serving the Lord.

3) In Romans 12:3 we are instructed to "evaluate our strengths", both an internal and external process. We need to be honest and admit weakness as well as strengths. Some things we do well - and others we do not. Our obligation as followers of Christ is to say "yes" to Him; and in the process of doing that, God graciously uses us to serve Him.

4) We need to cooperate with other believers. Romans 12:4-5 states the obvious: every "body" has many parts, many members; and in the Church (capital "C") there are many "members". In this arrangement every member is a "minister", and has a "unique ministry", and everyone is "important", and every member is a part of the others.

5) Our gifts of ministry are put to use when we make ourselves available to God - and to the people around us in the local fellowship gatherings where we worship.

It's an exciting - and humbling - thing to serve the Living God. A worship leader has written these words: "I give myself away so You can use me." (William MacDowell) Praise Assembly is a family-oriented church, intent on faithful worship, Bible-centered preaching, warm fellowship, and gracious service.

Women of Winside's St. Paul Church gather

Winside St. Paul Ladies Aid and LWML met Jan. 8 with a 12:30 p.m. New Year's luncheon. There were 11 members, Pastor Goodman and two guests, Sandra Brudigan and DeLana Marotz, present.

At 1:30 p.m., President Daisy Janke called the meeting to order and welcomed guests. The group recited the LWML Pledge.

President Janke had a reading titled "A Year is Like a Loaf of Bread." The group sang the song "Lord Jesus be Present."

President Janke read thank you letters from LuAnna and Marlin Westerhaus, Emma Willers, Gerty Johnson, Pastor Goodman and family. A Christmas card was also received from Trista Jaeger.

Pat Janke reported on visiting the shut-ins in December. LaJeane Marotz will visit the shut-ins in January.

Bev Voss reported that 23 Christmas baskets were packed and delivered in December.

Lorraine Prince gave the Advent supper report.

Get well cards were sent to Don Nelson, Travis Koll and Gertrude Vahlkamp.

Roll call was taken and the birthday song was sung for Daisy Janke. Pastor closed the meeting with a short Bible Student and The Lord's Prayer.

Hostess for the February meeting will be Daisy Janke and Esther Carlson.

Kearney to host two-day Women in Agriculture Conference later this month

Nebraska women will learn how to care and plan for their farms and ranches, their communities, their families and themselves at the 29th Women in Agriculture Conference, the longest-running women's conference of its kind in the country, Feb. 20-21 at the Kearney Holiday Inn.

The theme of this year's conference is "Women: Making the Critical Difference," and it features a variety of workshops, "funshops" and speakers, including Jolene Brown and Chuck Hibberd, UNL Extension dean.

Brown will be the keynote speaker Thursday morning with her talk, "It's a Jungle Out There! Blazing New Trails for Agriculture." Hibberd will be the featured luncheon speaker as he presents "100 Years of Extension!" The nation is celebrating the 100 anniversary of the Smith-Lever Act in 2014.

On Friday, the morning keynote will be UNL Extension Educators Connie Hancock, Jenny Nixon and Cheryl Burkhart-Kriesel, who will speak about "All for the Love of Food." This will look at why more people seem to be talking about food and where it comes from and how this impacts the agriculture industry on both a domestic and global level.

The conference will conclude with lunch on Friday and capstone speaker Terri "Jo" Bek, professor of animal science at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture. She will present "Pass it on" which will discuss passing on not only land to the next generation but an attitude as well.

In between speakers, conference-goers can choose from more than 30 workshops spread over five sessions during the event. Topics include crop and livestock marketing, financial planning, farm bill updates, crop and forage insurance, agronomy, beef nutrition, business readiness and an opportunity for livestock producers to obtain Nebraska Quality Beef Certification.

Thursday evening includes funshops for apps, slow-cooker meals and yoga.

Thursday's evening program will be provided by Gayle Becwar, magician.

Those interested can register online at go.unl.edu/womeninagriculture or call (402) 472-1772 or (800) 328-2851. A completed registration form can also be mailed to UNL Event and Conference Planning, 7 Ag Communications Building, Lincoln NE 68583-0918. For more detailed information about Women in Ag, visit wia.unl.edu.

Early-bird registration fee is $100 for those registering by Feb. 7. Beginning Feb. 8, the fee is $120. Fee includes workshop materials, registration and meals.

The conference is sponsored by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension and the Department of Agricultural Economics as well as Farm Credit Services, Reinke Irrigation, Nebraska Farm Bureau and USDA Risk Management Agency.

No-Till, Cover Crops and Grazing Workshop to be held in February

The No-Till, Cover Crops, and Planned Grazing Educational Workshop will be held Wednesday, Feb. 12 from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m., at the Lifelong Learning Center located on the campus of Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

This workshop will provide the opportunity for producers to hear and ask questions about various aspects of their farming and livestock operations.

The featured speaker will be Gabe Brown of Bismarck, N.D. Brown has been practicing continuous no-till crop farming, cover crops, and livestock grazing on 5,000 acres near Bismarck since 1993.

Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) No-till Specialist Dan Gillespie said, "Gabe Brown will be a great addition to our agenda this year. We are looking forward to the workshop and we hope that many of our area producers can attend and learn about some of our ideas for the future."

Workshop topics will include: Holistic Regeneration of our Lands; No-till and Diversity of Crop Types; Cover Crops - the Next Level in Continuous No-till; Soil Biology; Producing Human Nutrition; and Designing a Cover Crop Mix to Address your Resource Concerns.

The educational workshop is free to the public. Those attending are encouraged bring other interested producers with them. Please RSVP for the meal by Friday, Feb. 7. Lunch will be provided by the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District (LENRD). To RSVP, or if you have any questions, please call your local NRCS office or call the LENRD at (402) 371-7313. This workshop is sponsored by the Natural Resources Conservation Service, and the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District.

Broadband Initiative to sponsor series of technology fairs in March, April

A series of Broadband Technology Fairs is scheduled across the state in March and early April.

The theme highlights "The Power of Business - What's Next" as experts will focus on how businesses can adapt and use online applications successfully in their operations. The events are part of the Broadband Initiative that is expanding efforts to help businesses across the state harness the power of broadband technology for successful operations.

"We need to focus on the Power of Business - entrepreneurs everywhere need to understand how broadband and technology applications can help them be more efficient and potentially reach a new audience," said Connie Hancock, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator. "These technology fairs are a hands-on approach to learning about online tools and how to protect our business information as well as our customers."

The sessions will offer the latest information on broadband technology tools and techniques with experts from UNL and the Nebraska Public Service Commission.

Featured presenters will discuss remote video for security and monitoring, cloud technology, information security and mobile technology.

Attendance is free and the approximately three-hour fairs are open to all.

"We are focusing on providing information that will be valuable and immediately useful to small businesses and entrepreneurs," Hancock said.

One of "The Power of Business - What's Next" Broadband Technology Fairs are set for Tuesday, March 25 in Norfolk. Time and location will be posted at broadband.nebraska.gov.

These events are part of the Nebraska Broadband Initiative. This Broadband Mapping and Planning Initiative is funded through a grant to the Nebraska Public Service Commission by the U.S. Department of Commerce's National Telecommunications and Information Administration and aims to increase broadband adoption and use. Project partners include the University of Nebraska, Nebraska Department of Economic Development, Nebraska Information Technology Commission, Nebraska Public Service Commission, and the AIM Institute.

College music department to host Honor Choir Feb. 7

The Wayne State College Department of Music will host 230 students from 26 schools in Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota for the annual WSC Honor Choir on Friday, Feb. 7.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the Peterson Fine Arts Building, and students will rehearse throughout the day with Dr. Elise Hepworth, director of the Honor Choir.

A concert featuring the WSC Concert Choir and Honor Choir will take place at 4 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre. The performance will include pieces by Lee Dengler, Moses Hogan, Jim Papoulis and Andre Thomas.

Cost of admission to the concert is $1 and is open to the public.

Emerald Ash Borer update presented

Emerald ash borer (EAB) is very likely the next insect to cause community landscape trees to die. This borer has been in the news long enough tree owners are asking if they should be treating ash trees. Emerald ash borer has not yet been found in Nebraska. It was most recently confirmed 80 miles east of Plattsmouth in Iowa. It was confirmed in Boulder, Colo., last September. These news reports may tempt homeowners to treat valuable ash trees.

However, the recommendation of the Nebraska Forest Service and UNL Extension is to wait to begin treatment until emerald ash borer is known to be within 15 miles of a tree. According to the Nebraska Forest Service, treating trees beyond 15 miles will likely provide little or no benefit to the tree but will result in unnecessary environmental exposure to pesticides.

If you have an ash tree, be aware state and federal agencies are monitoring EAB infestations and will provide updates when it is found in Nebraska. Information about EAB and about when and how to treat ash trees can be monitored on the Nebraska Forest Service website. Visit www.nfs.unl.edu/EAB.asp.

It can take up to five years for this borer to kill a tree, so once found, it is possible it has been in a state for at least a few years. However, unlike pine wilt killing Scotch pine where the tree must be treated prior to the nematode infesting the tree, ash

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension
Educator

trees that are already infested with EAB are still treatable and can be saved if the damage is not too severe.

Instead of making pesticide applications likely to be of little benefit, become more informed to help make decisions about EAB. If you have an ash tree, decide if you are willing to treat the tree on an annual basis or if you will replace the tree. Valuable trees, such as those providing shade for a home and are in good condition, may be worth the cost of annual treatment. Now is the time to become familiar with treatment options and check into cost. The Nebraska Forest Service has a guide that lists current options.

At that same time, be aware some communities could make it mandatory that infested ash trees be removed. This has occurred in other states where EAB has killed large numbers of ash trees.

Trees with health or structural issues or those not planted in key locations, may best be replaced rather than treated annually. For example, if a tree has branch dieback, sparse foliage, conks (mushrooms) on the trunk or branches, or severe trunk injuries, it is probably not worth the expense of treating.

If you are planting a new tree this spring, avoid ash trees. Most types of ash are susceptible to EAB. If you know you will not treat an ash tree once it is infested, do you have space on your property to plant another tree now to take over the landscape function if the ash tree dies?

When Dutch elm disease killed American Elms, many of these trees were replaced with green ash. This created another monoculture susceptible to pests. We could now lose a large percentage of these trees. Let's not make the same mistake twice. Select trees for diversity. A few readily available large trees to plant are honeylocust, American linden, Norway maple, Miyabe maple, hybrid elms and white oak. If you wish to think (plant) outside the box, consider Kentucky coffeetree, shagbark and bitternut hickory, silver linden and horse chestnut.

Thanks to Kelly Feehan for this information.

Master Gardener training scheduled

Are you interested in becoming a Master Gardener?

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension will be having a Master Gardener training starting on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk. There will be a total of six training sessions on Tuesday evenings from Feb. 11 through March 25 (excluding March 18), 6:30-9 p.m.

The Master Gardener program is for individuals who want to learn more about gardening and horticulture and share their knowledge with others. Those wishing to become Master Gardeners will need to pay a onetime initial training fee of $100. The fee includes The Master Gardener Handbook.

Those attending training sessions without intending to become a Master Gardener do not need to pay the initial training fee. For non-Master Gardeners, there will be a charge of $5 per person for each training session attended. All six training sessions can be attended for $25.

For more information, please contact the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension offices in Madison County (402) 370-4040 or Wayne County (402) 375-3310.

Session topics include:

Feb. 11: Integrated Pest Management Options in Landscapes, Wayne Ohnesorg.

Feb. 18: Disease Identification of Herbaceous Landscape Plants, Amy Timmerman.

Feb. 25: Turfgrass Care and Management, Zac Reicher.

March 4: Pollinators in the Landscape and "Pollinator Friendly" Plant Material, Natalia Bjorklund.

March 11: Plant Propagation Concepts and Tomato Grafting, Nicole Stoner and David Lott.

March 25: Landscape Weed Identification and Herbicide Update, Lowell Sandell.

Afternoon includes eating, reminiscing and laughing

Regarding the football game on Sunday, I guess it's safe to say that defense does win games. I sat at lunch with a bunch of ladies last Tuesday who were obviously football savvy and we sort of congratulated ourselves on knowing enough to impress folks from out of state. Many visitors at the B&B commented that they had never been in a state with so many women knowledgeable about the game and I told them it's called self defense!

One friend does not follow in that mold; she does not care about any football, let alone Husker. She entertained us with the story of the Band Day a few years ago when she took her grand daughter downtown to hear the bands. There was a whole group of older men in red jackets who were using canes and not walking very steadily. She learned later these were all former Nebraska players, invited to the game!

Our lunch was at the Ferguson House near the Capitol. It's historical, and belongs to the state, but is available for things like we were attending. This was a Roaring 20s day. Sue McClain, who collects vintage clothing and stores them in a huge two story warehouse in Beatrice, brought clothing from that era.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

She kept saying that girls wanted to look like boys in those days, though she never did explain why. I personally think it had to do with equality, and the fact that they were getting the vote, and stuff like that.

Anyway, they must have all been very thin. The style, of course, was the chemise, straight up and down. Some of us remember that coming around again in the fifties. The fabrics were sheer, and there was a lot of embroidery. She also brought the cloche hats, and we all thought of Zelda Fitzgerald.

She talked a lot about their learning to drive their Tin Lizzies and learning to smoke, which was a very big deal. That's no longer such a big deal, is it? But it was a sign of emancipation, I guess.

We were then treated to a lunch that came out of the Good Housekeeping cookbook of that era, prepared by students from UNL. Actually, most of the recipes are foods I'm still making: meat balls and hot chicken salad, Waldorf salad, and tapioca pudding. But the surprise of the day was orange Jello with carrots and pineapple!

When our kids were growing up, whenever there was a potluck, Grandma Meierhenry brought this salad. They really didn't like it very much, probably because of the carrots, but it was ubiquitous. They even mentioned it at a reunion a couple of years ago.

All in all, it was a fun afternoon for reminiscing, eating, and laughing. We really have come a long way, baby, and some of it has been okay!

Thank you to my family and friends for their many acts of kindness during my hospital stay and since returning home. Also thank you to Dr. McCorkindale, Dr. Recob and the hospital staff for the wonderful care I received. Thanks to Pastor Goodman for his visits and a special thanks to Ken and Shirley for bringing my dog "Moe" for a much appreciated visit. Wayne is so fortunate to have a wonderful hospital with a caring, compassionate staff.

Christensen, Pfaltzgraff to present concerts

Dr. Linda Christensen and Philip Pfaltzgraff will present a one-hour concert of duo-piano music entitled "Dr. C and Mr. P: Dance Music - and Other Stuff" on Tuesday, Feb. 11. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Auditorium on the Wayne State College campus.

Their duet program will open with a set of six compositions written by Joan Trimble, a 20th century composer from Northern Ireland. The duo-pianists were privileged to be invited to be "presenters" of these selections at the "First International Conference on Irish Music and Musicians" held in Durham, England, in the summer of 2010.

"Rapsodie des Pyrenees" (by Eugenie Rocherolle), Pas de deux (from a set of "Souvenirs" by Samuel Barber) and Libertango (by Astor Piazzolla) will also be played on this recital. The final large piece on the program is a set of "Three Waltzes" by the duo-piano team of "Anderson and Roe". These three songs are from movie/musicals of Walt Disney.

Dr. Christensen teaches applied piano, group piano, and music technology. She holds a BA from Weber State University, an MM in Piano Performance and Pedagogy from Southern Methodist University, and a Ph.D. in Music Education/Piano Pedagogy from the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Christensen is President of the Nebraska Music Teachers Association and serves on committees for MTNA and the National Conference on Keyboard Pedagogy. She has given many presentations and workshops, including presentations for the Group Piano/Piano Pedagogy Forum, MTNA, the College Music Society, World Piano Teachers Association, and the Hawaii International Conference on Arts & Humanities, as well as many others.

Mr. Pfaltzgraff is in his sixth year as the staff accompanist at Wayne State College. "Mr. P" teaches piano lessons, one section of "Topics in Music", plays the piano for all of the choral ensembles on campus (one of which he also conducts), performs with the biennial campus-wide musical theatre production, and accompanies all student and faculty soloists in recitals.

The duo have been presenting a program of duo-piano music at Wayne State since 2009.

Markets Change. Are You Prepared?

When you stop and look back at what's happened in the markets, it's easy to realize how quickly things can change. That's why we should schedule some time to discuss how the market can impact your financial goals. We can also conduct a free portfolio review to help you decide if you should make changes to your investments and whether you're on track to reach your goals.
