Documentary film features Carroll farmer

Carroll farmer David Loberg is featured in a documentary film called "Farmland" that will be shown at the Majestic Theatre in Wayne next weekend.

By KATIE KASL
Of The Herald

For most farmers, the only regular audience they have is one made up of animals – pigs, cows and the occasional bird that flies over.

For David Loberg and the five other 20-something farmers in James Moll's "Farmland," that audience extended first to a group of filmmakers and then, in the past couple weeks, to movie-goers across the nation.

The documentary premiered last week in New York – where Loberg was able to watch it before it makes its Midwest debut – and hits Nebraska next Thursday. Locals can catch it May 1-4 at the Majestic Theatre in downtown Wayne. If you're not in the area on those dates, the documentary is also being shown in Omaha, Bellevue and Lincoln, as well as states all across the nation.

Loberg – who works alongside his sister, Beth; mother, Kris; and wife, Jessica, on a farm near Carroll – said that his involvement in "Farmland" stems back many months ago.

"James Moll approached me fall 2012 and asked me if I wanted to be a part of a film about farming," he explained.

When the movie was just an idea, Moll had multiple farms, all of them scattered across the nation, in mind for shooting. He narrowed it down to six – and Loberg happened to be one of them.

The "Farmland" film crew made six separate trips to his family farm near Carroll during the 2013 crop season. Each trip lasted one or two days and, for someone not used to being followed around by cameras, was quite an experience.

"It was definitely different," Loberg said. "The first trip out was kind of awkward."

He was told to ignore the crew and go about things like he normally did.

Eventually, Loberg got used to his entourage.

"After the second or third trip, you forgot they were there," he said.

Loberg agreed to the experience – and the introduction of a brand new audience to his farm – in hopes of promoting the importance of agriculture and spreading the message of what life in the field really entails. With the release of the film, Loberg is also hoping it will "get people who don't know a farmer an opportunity to meet one."

Michael Foods being sold to Post Holdings

Minnetonka, Minn.-based Michael Foods is being bought by Post Holdings, Inc., according to information on the company's website.

The St. Louis, Mo.-based cereal giant is reportedly buying Michael Foods, which is in the middle of a $33 million expansion of its facility in Wakefield, for $2.45 billion. The transaction is expected to be completed sometime during the second quarter of this year, according to information from Michael Foods.

"This is an exciting time for the entire Michael Foods team and clearly demonstrates the strength of our brands, the value of our deep customer relationships and the dedication of our employees," Jim Dwyer, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Michael Foods, said. "We believe our business will benefit from Post's portfolio management approach and from our continued focus on the breakfast daypart, expanding egg consumption to all dayparts, and delivering convenient meal and snack choices to consumers."

Michael Foods will continue to operate independently, according to Post, with Dwyer and the company's current management team serving in a leadership capacity.

"We are pleased to become part of the Post family, and we look forward to maintaining and growing our leadership position with their support," Dwyer added. "I want to thank GS Capital Partners and Thomas H. Lee Partners for their investment and confidence in our business over the past several years as we worked toward this day."

Bill Stiritz, Post's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, said "This acquisition is exactly what we look for in an investment. We are extremely impressed with the job Jim and his team have done, and we look forward to continuing to build this substantial business with them."

City sales tax receipts continue positive trend

Sales tax receipts for the City of Wayne continued their upward tick, with April's numbers almost $9,000 ahead of the same time one year ago.

According to Nancy Braden, city finance director, receipts for April were $54,323.50, based on February's sales in the city. That is almost a 20 percent jump over last year's numbers of $45,991.79.

It is the fourth consecutive month that the city has seen an increase in city sales tax receipts over the previous year, and the latest numbers have moved the city well ahead of projections for fiscal year 2013-14.

For the year to date, the city has collected $370,633.59, averaging a little under $53,000 per month. By comparison, last year's average monthly collection was just over $51,200.

Glory days at Wayne High

Wayne High alumni descended upon their old stomping grounds this past weekend for the annual alumni basketball tournament. A total of 19 teams participated, and the action was entertaining throughout the weekend. Here in the championship game, Jesse Hill looks for help as he's being guarded by Adam Munter. Watching the play in the back are Lucas Ruwe and Josh Ruwe.

Donations, volunteers help make Nearly New happen in Wakefield

By KATIE KASL
Of The Herald

Rhonda Lorenzen was out with a torn ACL when, while listening to a Christian radio program, the host asked about God-given talents.

She had resigned herself to the talentless – in her mind, there was nothing she could do and do well – when the voice coming across the radio waves said that, surely, there was something she was good at.

Lorenzen gave it some more thought; and then, lo and behold, she had an answer. "I can garage sale with the best of them," Lorenzen told herself.

That was the first hurdle in the formation of Wakefield's Nearly New.

(From left to right) Sharon Fleeer, Rhonda Lorenzen and Linda McCoy are three of the faces customers may see while shopping at Wakefield's Nearly New. "Our mission statement is to provide low-cost items to families in need and to use the proceeds to donate primarily to Christian-based organizations and general Wakefield organizations," Lorenzen said.

Herald nets six awards

The Wayne Herald was honored by the Nebraska Press Association with six awards during the annual Better Newspaper Contest, with award winners announced during the NPA's annual convention in Grand Island April 11-12.

The Herald received a pair of first-place awards in the Class B division, highlighted by a first-place for best special section for "Fourth Of Calamity," the newspaper's special section highlighting the Oct. 4 tornado that struck the Wayne area.

"We're delighted that this special section was tabbed as the best in class," managing editor Michael Carnes said. "This was a unique and unfortunate moment in our community's history. Our entire staff put a tremendous amount of time and effort into creating a special section that would serve as a memory to the community about the Wayne tornado, and we're thrilled that it was chosen as the best special section in our division."

The Herald's other first-place effort came in the sports page category.

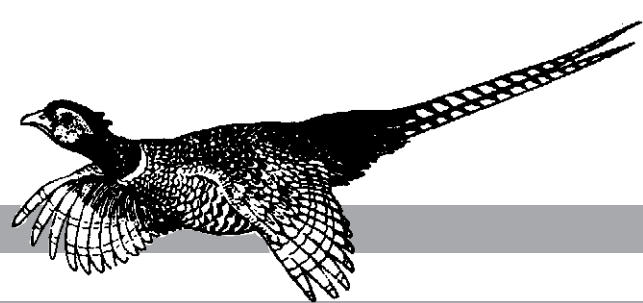

Second-place awards were presented to Michael Carnes for feature photography and his weekly personal column, "Don't Get Me Started." The Wayne Herald also won third-place awards for special section and for its breaking news story on the closing of Pacific Coast Feather.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

City Council Meetings

Regular City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at 3rd and Pearl Streets.

Choices Ahead of Us

Sludge Disposal at the Waste Water Plant: The new Aquarius system has operated well for two seasons and has shown a 90 percent reduction in sludge output as expected. When we built the new treatment plant, we delayed the sludge disposal system till later so we would know how to size it. Our project engineer and treatment plant staff have reviewed 5 options and selected the best two for the mayor and council to consider. Option #1 would be to continue with the same process we use now but reduce the size of the lagoon from 26 acres to 4 acres and pump out liquid sludge to fields every other year. Option #1 has a lower construction cost (about $1.5 million) but higher annual operating costs and some odor from the smaller lagoon. Option #2 would be to let the sludge settle in a smaller tank and then squeeze out the water with a press and haul out the sludge as a solid. This option has a higher capital cost (up to $2 million) but lower annual costs and would eliminate most odor.

Swimming Pool Replacement

The citizens committee has worked with an engineering firm for about two years to develop and recommendation for renovating or replacing the existing swimming pool and bathhouse. The committee recommendation to the city council last December was to build an outdoor pool at the CAC. The decision to build and fund a new pool is now with the mayor and council.

There is still some discussion about the option to build an indoor pool at the CAC and a new proposal, since the tornado, to build an outdoor pool at the Summer Sports Complex site. The mayor and council have selected a design engineer for the pool.

Since a portion of the cost of the pool will need to be borrowed, a public election will be required to approve the bonds. The mayor and council continue to receive input from the Swimming Pool Committee and the Recreation and Leisure Commission and will be asking for input from the public before preparing any ballot questions. We're preparing summaries of the costs and the funding sources for the pool options and will begin distributing this information so you can ask questions and make informed decisions.

New Sirens

The new sirens are in different locations, they are mounted a little higher and they sound different.

They rotate the sound in 360 degrees, making the loudness vary, which makes a single tone tornado siren a little more noticeable in a true emergency. They are radio controlled with battery power backup so they still work in case the power lines into Wayne go down before a tornado gets here.

Fire alarm sirens: The fire siren will still be the same high/low tone and operate in daytime hours.

Tornado siren: This will still be a single high tone siren for three minutes. The police dispatchers set this warning off only when a tornado is sighted within five miles of Wayne or if the weather service radar contacts dispatch and reports a radar sighting that close. We never use an all clear siren. If the tornado siren is sounded a second time, that means a tornado is still on the way and may hit us.

Tornado Shelter: If you don't have a basement, plan ahead with a neighbor who has a basement or travel to the city auditorium at Third and Pearl Streets, which will be unlocked when the tornado sirens go off. Have a plan for shelter and don't wait till the sirens sound to decide.

Scavenger Hunt

WAYNE — Wayne High National Honor Society will hold a scavenger hunt in Wayne on Tuesday evening, April 29 to collect food for the Backpack Program. The items must be single serving and easy to fix for a child without using extra ingredients and only using a microwave. Example of items include: Fruit cups, pudding cups, ramen noodles, Canned pasta (Ravioli, Spaghettios), soups, Easy Mac and cheese, trail mix, cereal bars, meat sticks, jello cups, and items that are single serve and non-perishable. Teams will compete, collecting the most points for items on the list, but will also accept any food item to be donated to the food pantry.

Fundraising recital

AREA — Ben Bruffat and Aaron Von Seggern will present a recital on Saturday, April 26 at 7 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. The trumpet and voice recital will include music the two will share with the people of Italy when they travel with the Wayne State College Music department there in May.

Pet registration

WAYNE — The city of Wayne has announced that all pet registrations for dogs and cats within the city limits must be made between May 1 and May 31, 2014. The cost is $6 per cat or dog and current proof of rabies vaccinations will be needed. Licenses may be obtained at the Wayne Police Department, 24 hours a day. After June 1, the licenses will be considered delinquent and the cost of obtaining the license will be $21.

Lutt

Lutt earns Wayne State Scholarship

Jacob Lutt of Wayne has been awarded a Presidential Scholarship, a full-tuition scholarship, to attend Wayne State College.

Jacob, the son of Steve and Jodi Lutt of Wayne, will graduate from Wayne High School in May 2014.

In high school he has been active in school baseball, football, Legion baseball, band, WINGS Youth group for his church and National Honor Society.

Optimist Club sponsors Celebrating the Arts

Whether the medium is pen and paper, pastel and paint, wood and wire, print and film, audio and digital or instrument and voice, the Wayne Optimist Club has been celebrating with outstanding young artists from northeast Nebraska since 2003.

The club started the Celebration of the Arts, as a youth appreciation project, to honor and recognize students who aren't necessarily the best athletes or brightest scholars, but instead make the world a better and brighter place through visual, literary, applied or performing arts.

This year six Wayne area schools were asked to nominate two elementary students (K-4 or K-6), two middle school or junior high school students (5-8 or 7-8), and two senior high school students (9-12) who excel in any or all art disciplines to be honored at the 11th Annual Celebration of the Arts.

Part of what makes the Celebration of the Arts unique, and not just another awards banquet, is the special art-related program or presentation that is part of the event. From the beginning, the Wayne Optimist Club has maintained a broad definition of "the arts" and has encouraged the area schools involved to also think broadly when nominating students to be honored.

Since the students being recognized may have talents in a visual art like drawing, painting, sculpting, digital video, animation and photography or in a performance art such as band, choir, dance or drama or in a literary art like creative writing and speech or even an applied art such as graphic design, fashion design, interior design, industrial design or the culinary art of cooking or in multiple art disciplines, as is often the case, the Wayne Optimist Club is committed to providing a diverse variety of programs that are inspirational and educational while being entertaining for a wide range of ages.

The families went to the play "Treasure Island" before they went to Our Savior Church for an awards banquet served by the Wayne Optimist Club.

The schools involved in this year's event were Wayne, Wakefield, Allen Consolidated Schools, Emerson Hubbard Community Schools, Pender Public Schools and Wisner - Pilger Public Schools.

For many of the past 11 years, the club has worked with the faculty and students at Wayne State College to provide these presentations but we have also worked with the Nebraska Humanities and Arts Councils.

Going green on Earth Day

In honor of Earth Day, members of the Wayne Green Team collected trash Tuesday afternoon. The group started at the City Auditorium, then walked north along Main Street, before turning east along Highway 35. Involved in the trash walk (from left) were Sandy Brown, Susan Wells, Bonnie Andersen, Lois Shelton and Kathleen Johs.

Service Learning students part of Wayne's Grow an Extra Row project

Wayne State College Business Communications students are finishing up their Service Learning-Project for Wayne's Grow an Extra Row. Grow an Extra Row is a community project that Wayne resident Susan Wells started to promote the donation of fresh produce to local food pantries. Wells not only hopes to bring more produce to those in need, but also to educate the public on the fun of gardening and good nutrition. Wanting to help, the students compiled research from other Grow an Extra Row projects all across the nation. Students in BUS 620 of the MBA program created brochures, newsletters, a grant application, and a logo that may help Wells in reaching her goals. Brad Thies, a senior in CTIS, is also developing a website that will provide information about the Community Garden, the Farmers' Market and the Food Pantry. To assist Susan in raising awareness and funds on campus, Nathan Schreiter coordinated a fundraiser on March 20. The fundraiser promoted the Grow an Extra Row project and got word out around campus. Residence hall advisors also participated in this fundraising event. For $1, a student could pie their favorite R.A. in the face. For $5, they could throw six pies. The turnout was great and Grow an Extra Row was introduced to the students of WSC. Grow an Extra Row is supported by the Wayne State College Service-Learning Project. You can donate your produce by dropping it off at one of the food pantries:

 •The Food Pantry at the Presbyterian Church is open Wednesday-Friday from 8:30-11:30 a.m. during June, July and August. Fresh produce can be dropped off during those hours. Their phone number is 402-375-2669 if you have questions. The address is 216 West Third Street.
 •The First United Methodist Church Food Pantry is open the fourth Saturday morning of each month. Produce can only be dropped off on that day. Their phone number is 402-375-2231, and their address is 516 Main Street.
 Check out the project on Facebook. To get assistance with your nonprofit's communication needs, contact Laura Dendinger, Professor of Business, at (402) 375-7020 or at ladendi@wsc.edu.

Nearly New

 Armed with the idea for the store, Lorenzen attempted to make it a reality. She tried and tried and tried some more and yet, somehow, couldn't make it work no matter where she went. Lorenzen soon realized she couldn't do this without God's help. Ten minutes later, her phone rang, and the news was good: she now had a building from which to run her shop. That was hurdle number two – and Lorenzen had just cleared it. She said she played no part in starting up the thrift store. With assistance from above, plus the help of volunteers and donors, Wakefield's Nearly New has enjoyed six fruitful years in northeast Nebraska. The business, which is affiliated with the churches in Wakefield, opened on March 1, 2008, and is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, meaning any donations made to it are tax-deductible. "It's a lot of work," Lorenzen said. Every January and June, volunteers perform what they call a complete purge of the store's inventory. Everything gets packed up and cleared out – what isn't sold is donated to the Gospel Mission in Sioux City – and the shop, quite literally, starts all over. During one particular purge, the business received help from 18 girls who belonged to the local high school volleyball team. "That was insane," Lorenzen said with a laugh. "The Gospel Mission guys were complaining that the bags were too heavy for them to pick up." Her volunteers – and she explained that there have been many of them over the years – have ranged in age from 11 or 12 years old to 100 years old. They help with bookkeeping, hanging up clothes and sorting greeting cards into bags so that they can be sold in groups, among many other tasks. And they do so without pay. In fact, 100 percent of the help at Wakefield's Nearly New is volunteered, including Lorenzen's. There are also no consignment sales. All items stocking the store's shelves and racks got there via donations. Lorenzen said the shop will take just about anything. Exceptions include used cosmetics, live plants and animals and also, no husbands, please – unless they're willing to build the community pool, perform updates on the Legion Hall, establish scholarships for high school seniors and help families in times of crisis, whether that means they've lost their home to a fire or are trying to care for a loved one who's been diagnosed with cancer. The business has also made a point of giving the items it receives to those who need them without setting them out on the floor first. As of the end of last year, the store had given more than 3,000 books to the Wakefield library – a feat that wouldn't be possible without those who stop by to drop things off. "We're very fortunate for our donations," Lorenzen said. "People are very generous." But that's only half of what makes Wakefield's Nearly New successful. The other half starts at the entrance to the building. "You have to have the donations coming in the back door and the sales going out the front door," Lorenzen said. Fortunately, in the years it's been open, the thrift store has managed to do just that – and there's nothing "nearly" about it.

Race car promotes Power Drive, School Foundation

A race car traveling approximately 75 miles per hour around the Butler County Speedway track is promoting power drive racing and the Wayne Community Schools Foundation.

Scott Sievers, a 1996 graduate of Wayne High School, has been racing his Sport Modified (B Modified) race car for approximately two years at the track near Rising City. Ironically, the track is owned by another Wayne High grad, Brent Pick. Sievers brought his car, all decked out in Wayne High colors and with Wayne High emblems, to the school recently and met with members of the Wayne High School Power Drive team, their coach, Tony Cantrell, and Wayne Community Schools Foundation Executive Director Lindsay McLaughlin. He spent a considerable amount of time visiting with the Power Drive students, discussing the car and his racing career. Sievers said those who make a donation to the Foundation may have the opportunity to have their names listed on the side of his car. "I would like to encourage both students and parents to get involved in racing," he said. "Races at the Butler County Speedway will be held May 10 and 24, June 28, July 12 and 26 and Aug. 23 and 24. I hope people from this area take time to come to the races." Power Drive racing has been very successful at Wayne High School in recent years. The group races three cars at races throughout the state during the early spring. The team earned a first place with car E39 at the Lincoln Rally, a second place with car A107 and a second place finish with car S22. When the team traveled to Hastings, car E39 finished in first place; car A107 also captured first place, and car S22 came in third. The schedule for the remainder of the season includes a trip to the Cuming County Open in West Point

Firefighters from Wayne, Winside and Laurel Volunteer Fire Departments listen to instructions on how to use the newly acquired bin rescue equipment.

Wayne firefighters receive grain bin rescue equipment donation

The Wayne Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department received life-saving grain bin rescue equipment on April 17, through a donation from Farm Credit Services of America (FCSAmerica). A grain bin rescue exercise was conducted that evening to train firefighters in the use of the specialized equipment. Firefighters and rescue personnel from Winside and Laurel also took part in the training, which was held at the grain elevator on South Windom Street. The Wayne fire department received a 10-panel system, slide hammer and other accessories manufactured by Outstate Data in Elbow, Minn., specifically for grain bin rescues. The equipment will be available not only in the Wayne Volunteer Fire and Rescue service area, but also to surrounding communities that have mutual-aid agreements with Wayne firefighters. Wayne Fire Chief Phil Monahan said his department serves an area with many large elevators. In the past dozen years, volunteer firefighters have responded to about a half dozen grain bin fires. While no entrapments have occurred, his department needs to be equipped for the possibility. The grain bin rescue kit will be stored on the department's ladder truck to ensure rescuers can reach heights of up to 75 feet. "The grain bin kit will be here if we ever need it," Chief Monahan said. FCSAmerica has identified grain bin rescue equipment as a critical need across its four-state area. Grain bin entrapments can happen in a matter of seconds, and far too many end in injury or death because the specialized rescue equipment isn't available at the nearest fire house. "As more farmers add grain bins to their operations, the potential for grain bin entrapment increases," Tyler Ganseboom, a financial officer with FCSAmerica's Norfolk office, said. "It makes me proud to equip volunteer rescuers to save lives." More information on the equipment being delivered to Wayne Fire and Rescue is available at www.outstatedata.com/.

IDEA Tuesdays event Alaskan visitors talk to elementary students is April 29 at WSC

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

The next IDEA Tuesdays at Wayne State College will be in the Gardner Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, April 29 at 6:30 p.m.

Speakers will include Buey Tut, UNO graduate and co-founder of Aqua-Africa. Tut has been a partner with Wayne Rotary Club and WSC professor Barbara Engebretsen on a humanitarian global grant to build wells. He will provide updates on the partnership and progress of the grant work. He also has given testimony before Congress about water issues in Africa.

Courtney Fogle, a Wayne State student and Rotaract member will speak on the Wayne Middle School Book Club. She is an education double major, graduating in May. As president of the Wayne State College Rotaract Club, she organized a Book Club with the sixth graders at Wayne Elementary School. The Book Club read "A Long Walk to Water," the story of Salva Dut, who is partnering with Buey Tut to provide water to the people of South Sudan. Together, they learned about the history and people of South Sudan and the challenges of providing water and sanitation in developing countries.

IDEA Tuesdays is sponsored by the WSC Student Senate and the Office of Multicultural Affairs.

Wayne State College student Peter Mutayoba of Wayne began IDEA Tuesdays, where students, staff and other members of the community come together every other Tuesday to share ideas and talk about different topics.

For more information, please contact Peter Mutayoba at pmutay1@wsc.edu.

Some people travel a long distance to find a new car, and Dan and Shirley Seavey of Seward, Alaska are proof of that.

The couple shopped online and found the car of their dreams at Arnie's Ford in Wayne, Nebraska.

The couple flew to Omaha and were greeted by Ken Kwapnioski of Arnie's. As they drove to Wayne to pick up their car, Kwapnioski learned that the Seaveys have been actively involved in the Iditarod sled dog race in Alaska for many years. Ben Jackson, an Arnie's employee, also was aware of the Seaveys involvement with the Iditarod and the second grade students' interest in the race and helped make the connection between the Alaskan visitors and the students.

Students in second grade at Wayne Elementary School closely follow the 1,000-mile race and use it to learn about Alaska and set reading goals in the classroom.

The Seaveys were able to visit with the second grade students and shared a video about the race, as well as answered a number of questions.

Dan was one of the original members who helped start the Iditarod in 1973. He placed third in that race and fifth in the 1974 one. That race included 34 teams, 22 of which finished.

Information was shared with the students on how the racers work with their dogs to keep them safe during the event. Dan also talked about this year's race and quizzed the students on the racers and dogs involved.

Seward, Alaska residents Dan and Shirley Seavey spoke with second-grade students at Wayne Elementary recently. The Seaveys purchased a new car at Arnie's Ford in Wayne, and Mr. Seavey was one of the people who helped start the famed Iditarod dog sled race, which Wayne Elementary students have been studying.

Dallas Seavey, the Seaveys' grandson, was the winner of this year's race in a record-breaking time. Dallas also won the race in 2012. His father, Mitch, won the race in 2004 and 2013.

Dan told the students at Wayne Elementary that his last race was in 2012 and that two other grandsons have also been a part of the event.

The Seaveys donated a copy Dan's book, "The First Great Race," to the Wayne Elementary School Library. It details Dan's experiences with the Iditarod and talks about how the family moved from Minnesota to Alaska in 1963.

The couple said they have been to Nebraska once before to visit relatives but have not been to the Cornhusker state for approximately 50 years.

After leaving Wayne, the Seaveys drove through Seward, Neb., a sister city to their hometown, on their way to Wayne, Okla. to visit their daughter.

Local students take part in Modern Language Fair

Six students from the Wayne High School Spanish IV class took part in the 38th annual Modern Language Fair at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln on April 10.

The group, consisting of Bryce Sebade, Angie Nelson, Sharlene Sievers, Paige Wacker, Jared Peterson and Nuh-Tayla Olmer, presented a drama (skit) called "El Animal Perfecto" (The Perfect Animal).

Sharlene played the role of a person looking for the perfect pet. After the shopkeeper (Bryce) explains the disadvantages of each pet, he tries to sell her a "piedra domesticada" (pet rock).

The students competed in Level II for students with three to four years of language experience.

The Wayne group competed against students from Mercy, St. Albert, Millard West, Columbus, Crete, Lincoln, Syracuse, Millard North, Lincoln North Star, Omaha South, Palmyra and Lincoln Southwest.

For their efforts, the students received a "Very Good" rating.

Also during the event, Sebade was awarded a 2014 Modern Language Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to students planning to enroll at UN-L and major in French, German or Spanish.

To earn the $1,000 scholarship, Sebade submitted a 300-word essay on the topic "How will a degree in a modern language help me achieve my future goals?" During the Language Fair, he had to read his essay for a panel of two judges and was interviewed by them.

This year's Language Fair involved 1,300 students - the largest turnout ever. Students competed in drama, dance, music, poetry and posters.

In addition to Spanish, competitions were held in French, German, Russian and Japanese.

Barry Lehmkuhl

Trio tabbed for NCA all-star tilts

Three area basketball standouts were selected by the Nebraska Coaches Association for the annual NCA Boys and Girls All-Star games this summer in Lincoln.

Named to this year's all-star games were Wayne High senior Jalen Barry for the boys matchup and area girls Lauren Lehmkuhl of Wakefield and Cameron Eddie of Laurel-Concord/Coleridge.

Barry had a standout career in a Blue Devil uniform, being a part of three state tournament teams and earning all-state honors during his senior season.

For his career, he finished with 1,205 points and 206 career 3-point shots. He hit 44 percent from the floor and 41.5 percent from long range and was also a solid free throw shooter in making 74.5 percent of his charity tosses.

Eddie

Barry also finished with 377 career assists, 124 steals and 230 rebounds while leading the Blue Devils to state three out of four seasons.

Lehmkuhl had a standout career in a Wakefield uniform and capped it off with an amazing senior campaign for the Trojans.

Lehmkuhl set single-game records this season for points (38) and rebounds (28) and averaged 27 points, 16 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 3.2 blocks during the final six games of her high school career. She had 10 games of 20 or more points and four of 20 or more rebounds this past season and set season and career school records in points (465 and 1,371), rebounds (340 and 931), assists (71 and 217) and blocks (72 and 154).

Lehmkuhl hit 48 percent of her shots during her high school career and also holds the school record for career 3-pointers with 179.

Eddie capped her senior season with a solid effort for the Lady Bears. She finished with 408 points, averaging 17.7 points per game, averaged 7.3 rebounds a contest and also averaged 1.8 steals and 2.3 assists per game.

For her career, she scored 937 points and pulled down 405 rebounds for the LCC Lady Bears.

The athletes, graduating seniors, are selected by a committee of NCA member coaches. The coaches who will participate are NCA members selected by their coaching peers. Athletes will be placed on specific teams in June. The 35th annual NCA Girls' Basketball All-Star game will be played at Lincoln North Star High School on Monday, July 22 followed by the 46th annual boys' all-star game.

Wildcats battle for top spot in NSIC

Wayne State started the week in first place in the Northern Sun conference, but fell to two teams trailing them in the league in doubleheader action this past week.

On Wednesday, the Wildcats moved into a first-place tie with 12th-ranked Minnesota State with a 7-2 win over the University of Sioux Falls at the Chapman Complex. The last three innings of the game were played in a driving rain and snow mix, forcing the cancellation of the second game of the scheduled doubleheader.

Sioux Falls led 2-0 early before Wayne State came back with a run in the third on a Kelcie Bormann sacrifice fly, then took the lead for good with three runs in the fifth, highlighted by back-to-back bases loaded walks and an RBI double by Kaiti Williams. Wayne State added three more in the sixth on a Bormann RBI double and a two-run single by Monique Alyea.

Sara Scheffert limited the Cougars to three hits to get her eighth straight win, striking out five. Williams, Megan Hagemann and Sam O'Brien each had two hits.

On Friday, the highly-ranked Mavericks visited Wayne and came away with a doubleheader sweep, winning 3-2 and 8-0.

Minnesota State got out to a 3-0 lead after two innings, but the Wildcats battled back to make a game of it with two runs in the fifth. Hagemann scored on a double by Williams, and Williams came home on a Bormann single to make it 3-2.

Wayne State had its chances late. In the bottom of the seventh, Jordan King doubled, and Hagemann lifted a long fly ball to left that just missed clearing the fence. The dramatic out was followed by two more outs to end the game.

Scheffert pitched well in a losing effort, striking out six and allowing six hits and four walks.

The Mavericks used that momentum to carry their way to the sweep. They led 6-0 after three innings and put the game out of reach, touching Bormann for five runs on six hits in two innings of work while limiting the Wildcats to two hits.

Wayne State took out their frustration on Concordia-St. Paul on Saturday, dominating the Golden Bears with a 5-1, 7-0 doubleheader sweep in Wayne.

In the opener, Hagemann and Melanie Alyea each hit homers while Scheffert and Bormann combined to limit the guests to four hits.

Alyea's homer came in the second inning, a solo shot to right, while Hagemann connected on a two-out solo shot in the fourth.

Luke Rethwisch brings a run home for Wayne High during their 3-0 shutout of Platteview on Thursday at Hank Overin Field.

W-W wins one, drops two

The Wayne/Wakefield baseball team got a solid outing on Thursday but came out on the short end of two games to fall below the .500 mark on the season.

The Wayne/Wakefield squad got a solid pitching performance from Alex Conley and took advantage of timely hitting and defensive miscues to post a 3-0 win over Platteview on Thursday at Hank Overin Field in Wayne.

"Offensively, we were able to take advantage of some miscues and were able to manufacture some runs, and I was satisfied with how we were able to get that done," coach Adam Hoffman said of the team's win.

Wayne/Wakefield got its first run in the bottom of the first inning when Dylan Sokol reached on an error and came around to score on a groundout by Luke Rethwisch to give the locals a 1-0 lead.

Wayne/Wakefield picked up two key insurance runs in the sixth. Sokol scored on a sacrifice fly by Rethwisch, and Daniel Gustafson stroked a two-out single to right, scoring Jake Lutt.

That was all starting pitcher Alex Conley would need, as he threw a solid seven-hit shutout, striking out seven and walking three over six innings before Lutt tossed a scoreless seventh for the save.

"We had to bear down defensively in some tough situ-

Track teams do well at Elkhorn

ELKHORN - The Wayne High track and field team posted some solid efforts against Class A and Class B competition Thursday at the Elkhorn Invitational.

The Wayne High girls came away with a fifth-place finish, led by runner-up efforts from seniors Ashton Schweers and Jalyne Zeiss. Schweers took second in the high jump with a best effort of 5 feet, 2 inches, while Zeiss finished second in the 300-meter hurdles at 50.9 seconds.

Meagan Backer had a hand in two third-place finishes. She placed third in the 100-meter dash and joined Zeiss, Tarah Stegemann and Rachel Rauner on the 400-meter relay team that finished third.

Fourth went to Cassie Heier in the triple jump, Marta Pulfer in the 3,200-meter run and Madison Frevert in the 100-meter hurdles. The 1,600-meter relay team of Backer, Angie Nelson, Kiara Hochstein and Heier was fifth, and sixth-place medals went to Frevert in the triple jump, Backer in the 200, Nelson in the 400 and the 3,200-meter relay team of Nelson, Alyssa Schmale, Hochstein and Heier.

On the boys side, Wayne finished eighth out of nine teams and had one runner-up finish. Junior Ben Hoskins took second in the high jump with a best leap of 6-0.

The 1,600-meter relay of Demetrius Alexander, Cornelio Espino, Tyler Pecena and Jackson Belt finished fourth, and Alexander also had a fourth in the 100-meter dash. Colby Keiser was fifth in the discus, while sixth-place efforts were earned by Austin Keiser in the discus and the 400-meter and 3,200-meter relay teams. The 400-meter relay included Alexander, Espino, Pecena and Belt, while the 3,200-meter relay consisted of Nolan Reynolds, Espino, Wyatt Martain and Hoskins.

Numbers show Wildcats among nation's best

Never take a vacation in the middle of the season . . . you wind up with too much stuff to get caught up on when you get back.

Take these tidbits from the "Bits and Pieces" file, for example:

- We've become quite accustomed to seeing the Wayne State women's basketball team have a lot of success on the floor these last few seasons.

You may not be aware of this - but when you put Wayne State's win-loss records up among the nation's best the past five years, they stack up REAL well.

The Wildcats have an 82.7 percent winning percentage over the past five seasons, which puts them third in winning percentage among more than 300 NCAA Div. II schools.

The only two schools ahead of Wayne State - Clayton State out of Georgia and Bentley out of Massachusetts - have both won national titles. Clayton State, with an 87.7 percent winning percentage, won theirs in 2011 while Bentley won this year's title and has an 86.7

From The Bleachers

percent winning percentage. Bentley has won one more game than Clayton State but has played three more.

Looking at the rest of the top 20, Augustana is the only other NSIC team that has had that level of sustained success over the past five years. They check in at 19th with a 72.3 percent winning percentage.

In fact, only Wayne State and Augustana have a winning percentage of 70 percent or better in the NSIC, although the fact that 11 of the 16 schools have an overall winning percentage over the past five years should tell you how top-to-bottom tough the NSIC has become.

More impressive, though, is the fact that the NSIC has only had five teams win 25 or more games in the last five years, and four of those 25-or-better campaigns are owned by the Wildcats (Concordia has two, Augustana and Minnesota State both have one). Throw out the post-Elite Eight rebuilding 17-10 season of a year ago, and Wayne State averages 28 wins a season. They have won 17 more games than second-place Augustana, and only Concordia-St. Paul has won more than 100 games overall in the last five seasons.

Wayne State has half of the 10 conference titles (three regular-season and two tournament), while no other school has more than three (C-SP, two and one). Both Wayne State and Concordia have won five NCAA tournament games in the last five years, three each coming during their respective Elite Eight runs in 2012 and 2014, respectively.

- Oh, by the way . . . for those of you looking to jump on the Wayne State women's basketball bandwagon next year, the Elite Eight is just up the road in Sioux Falls, S.D. Get on the bandwagon now while there are still good seats available (yes, Rice Rowdies, this means you, too).

- While we're on the topic of Wayne State athletics, there's a golden opportunity to get more than your fill of all things Wildcat this weekend in Wayne.

The football team has their annual spring game at Memorial Stadium on Saturday morning, and the soccer team will have its spring scrimmages with Concordia and Nebraska-Kearney going on at the soccer complex. That afternoon, Augustana's baseball team is in town for the first of back-to-back doubleheaders, and there is supposed to be some kind of exhibition volleyball game going on at Rice Auditorium that afternoon as well.

All kidding aside, the volleyball exhibition between Nebraska and Creighton should be a dandy, and proceeds from the event are going to help benefit rebuilding efforts at the Wayne Summer Sports Com-

Wayne State outit Concordia 10-4, with Alyea, King and Bormann each recording two hits. Scheffert got the win, striking out seven and allowing three hits and a walk.

In the nightcap, Williams went over the wall twice and Bormann knocked a grand slam to help Wayne State finish the sweep.

Williams hit a two-run homer in the first inning and added a solo shot in the third to make it 3-0. Bormann's grand slam came in the fourth inning, giving Wayne State the seven-run win.

Wayne State had eight hits to the Bears' four. Scheffert struck out three and walked two in four innings, while Bormann struck out one and allowed one hit and a walk in three innings of relief.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats ran into the hottest team in the NSIC, as Winona State ran its winning streak to 16 games with a 5-1, 3-2 sweep of the Wildcats in Winona, Minn.

Wayne State got on the board in the first inning of the opener when Jordan King singled and scored on a fielder's choice by Bormann. Winona State tied the game in the bottom of the inning, then added two in the third and two in the fifth to go on to the win.

Wayne State had six hits, with Williams and Kylee Simpson each recording a pair of hits. Scheffert took the loss on the mound.

In the finale, Scheffert and Winona State's Hanna Lythberg hooked up in a great pitchers' duel, but the Warriors got an unearned run in the bottom of the ninth to come away with the win.

Wayne got its two runs in the third without recording a hit. A two-out throwing error allowed Lexie Loos and King both to score and make it 2-0.

Winona State scored two in the third to tie the game, and it stayed tied until the ninth when a Wayne State error put the winning run on base, and a single ended the game in favor of the home team.

lowing three runs on nine hits with seven strikeouts and five walks.

The Wildcats are 32-14 overall and 18-6 in the NSIC and will close out the regular season this weekend with doubleheaders at University of Mary on Saturday and Minot State on Sunday.

ations and were able to get out of it, and Alex was just a bulldog on the mound for us," Hoffman said.

Offensively, Wayne/Wakefield had three hits in the game, with Gustafson, Lutt and Jose Sanchez all being credited with base hits.

Wayne/Wakefield came out flat on Monday night against Archbishop Bergan of Fremont, and the visiting Knights took full advantage in a 12-0 shutout over the locals.

Bergan broke the game open in the third inning with four runs, then scored eight runs in the final three innings to post the easy win.

"When you have four errors against a good team like that, they're going to score runs," Hoffman said. "We can't play defense the way we did, and we didn't have any energy and need to come out with that and be ready to play."

Bergan pitcher Adam Drews was masterful on the hill, striking out 13 and walking one while tossing the two-hit shutout. Wayne/Wakefield's only hits came on a Gustafson single in the fifth and a Curtis Moeller single in the sixth.

On Tuesday, the Wayne-Wakefield squad dropped a 10-4 decision at Seward, dropping Wayne to 6-7 on the season.

Wayne got on the board in the first inning when Rethwisch doubled home Moeller, who led off the game with a walk. Seward countered with two runs in each of the first two innings to take a 4-1 advantage.

Wayne-Wakefield made it interesting in the third with a pair of runs. Brook Bowers and Rethwisch Alex Conley threw a shutout for Wayne-Wakefield during Thursday's 3-0 win over Platteview.

"When you have four errors against a good team like that, they're going to score runs. We can't play defense the way we did and we didn't have any energy and need to come out with that and be ready to play."

both singled and came home on a single to right by Lutt, pulling the locals to within a run at 4-3.

That's as close as Wayne-Wakefield would get, however, as Seward was able to get those two runs back in the fourth, then added four in the fifth to put the game out of reach.

Rethwisch was 2-for-4 to lead the locals' five-hit attack. Lutt, Bowers and Sanchez also added hits. Moeller allowed six earned runs on 10 hits in four innings and took the loss.

Wayne/Wakefield will be at Norfolk on Thursday before returning to Wayne Monday to face Columbus.

plex, which was damaged by last fall's tornado. The first serve is at 2 p.m., and if you didn't get tickets beforehand, you're out of luck - the game is sold out.

(Note to Wildcat fans who attend Saturday's game - make note of what the arena looks like with every seat in the house filled up. It should be like that for EVERY home volleyball match next fall . . . and every home basketball game as well.)

- Being named to the Nebraska Coaches Association all-star basketball teams is a pretty big deal in this state, and this area is blessed with THREE standout hoopsters who will be playing this summer in Lincoln.

Wayne High's Jalen Barry, Laurel-Concord/Coleridge's Cameron Eddie and Wakefield's Lauren Lehmkuhl will play in the all-star games this July in Lincoln. Check out the story in this week's paper for more info.

It's been an absolute pleasure watching these three athletes perform the last four years, and it's good to know we'll have one more opportunity to see them lace it up before they move on to their college pursuits.

- Annnnnd finally, kudos also go out to Laurel-Concord/Coleridge track standout Kelsey Dietrich, who bettered her school record in the Krumwiede Invitational recently. She shaved a half-second off her best mark in the 100-meter hurdles with a winning time of 15.4 seconds.

For the record, I've never moved that far that quickly EVER in my life - unless there was a buffet at the finish line.

Ellie Arduser breaks away from the pack to win the 400-meter title and help the LCC girls take the championship trophy at their home meet Tuesday.

Lady Bears win home invite; Allen claims boys team title

LAUREL – Allen's boys and the Laurel-Concord/Coleridge girls came away with the first-place trophies Tuesday at the LCC Invitational at Haskell Stadium.

The Eagles edged out the host Bears by 11 points in a tight boys race, winning three events on the day. The Lady Bears edged out Lutheran High Northeast by nine points, earning a win in the 1,600-meter relay on the final event of the day and picking up eight first-place medals to take the team title.

In the boys competition, the Eagles got a pair of wins from Austin Connot, who won the 400-meter dash and took the 800-meter run as well. He also finished second in the triple jump to account for 28 points for Allen.

Allen's other individual win came in the 110-meter hurdles, where Brian Boese came away with top honors. He also had a second in the 300-meter hurdles and was fourth in the 100 and the long jump.

LCC earned five first-place medals on the day, led by distance runner Aaron Haahr. He dominated the two distance events, winning the 1,600-meter run and the 3,200-meter run.

Brett Haisch and Collin Dirks both had a hand in two wins as well. Both were part of the winning 400-meter relay team with Colton Jansen and Jayden Reifenrath. Haisch won the 300-meter hurdles and Dirks took top honors in the boys high jump.

Winside finished sixth overall and were led by Hayden King, who took runner-up honors in the 110-meter hurdles in a time of 19.6 seconds. Caleb Lienemann medaled in three events, taking a fourth in the shot put and earning sixth-place medals in the discus and the 200-meter dash. Marcus Escalera also was fifth in the triple jump.

On the girls side, LCC was led by a record-setting effort from Kelsey Dietrich, who set a new meet record in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 15.9 seconds. She also won the 300-meter hurdles and joined Sadie Petersen, Cameron Eddie and Ellie Arduser on the winning 1,600-meter relay team.

Petersen won both distance races, finishing the 1,600 in 5:53.0 and the 3,200 in 12:27.2. LCC also got wins from Arduser in the 400, Audra Corbit in the high jump and Bayley Holloway in the pole vault.

For third-place Allen, they were led by Lexi Oswald's win in the 800-meter run and had a number of runner-up finishes, including Courtney Reuter in the 300 hurdles and Gabrielle Sullivan in the high jump and the 3,200-meter relay.

Men's basketball gets eight new recruits

Wayne State men's basketball coach Brian Dolan announced the addition of eight players who will join the Wildcat program for the 2014-15 season.

Jordan Cornelius, a 6-foot-7 guard from Sisseton, S.D., averaged 21.4 points, 10.6 rebounds and 4.3 assists per game this past season helping Sisseton to a 19-6 record and a Class A runner-up finish. He was a Class A first-team All-State selection and a Mr. Basketball Finalist in South Dakota. Cornelius ended his high school career with 1,124 points and 547 rebounds, averaging 16.3 points and 7.9 rebounds per game while shooting 82.7 percent from the free throw line.

Trevor Haaland, a 6-foot guard from Osage, Iowa, earned Iowa Class 2A third-team All-State honors from the Iowa Newspaper Association after averaging 21.5 points per game this season. He drained 69 3-pointers and had 125 assists and 55 steals and finished his career with 1,210 points, 443 assists and 182 made 3-pointers. Haaland was a three-time All North Iowa Conference selection.

Adam Moon, a 6-foot-8 forward from O'Neill, was named honorary captain of the Class D-1 All-State teams in the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star and was the Huskerland Prep Player of the Year after averaging 23.4 points and 10.7 rebounds per game this season. He scored a school-record 1,556 points at St. Mary's High School and earned either first-team or second-team All-State honors during his sophomore, junior and senior seasons. Moon led St. Mary's to the Class D-1 state title as a sophomore and a third-place finish during his junior season.

Tyler Nagy, a 5-foot-10 guard from Brookings, S.D., received Class AA First-Team All-State honors as a junior and senior and was the Brookings Register Player of the Year. This season, Nagy averaged 21.4 points, 3.5 assists and 3.1 rebounds per game for the Bobcats and was a finalist for Mr. Basketball in South Dakota. He was also an All-ESD Conference selection the last two seasons and helped Brookings reach the Class AA State Tournament during his sophomore and junior seasons.

Joe Scott, a 5-foot-10 point guard from Davenport, Iowa, transfers to Wayne State after playing the last two seasons at Southeastern Community College in Iowa. This season, Scott averaged 7.6 points and 2.7 assists per game while helping his team to a 25-7 record after averaging 9.0 points per game and shooting 51 percent from the 3-point line in his freshman season. Scott was a high school standout at Davenport West High School where he was a two-time All-Conference selection while scoring 1,015 points with 150 3-pointers.

Trae VandeBerg, a 6-foot-3 guard from Madison, S.D., averaged 17.7 points, 5.3 rebounds and 1.6 assists per game while helping the Bulldogs to a 25-0 record and the Class A state title during his senior season. He was named SDBBCA Class A Boys Player of the Year this year while also being named to the Argus Leader First Five, Class A All-State first team and Dakota XII Conference Most Valuable Player. VandeBerg, who shot 54 percent from the field and 82 percent from the free throw line this season, helped Madison win back-to-back state titles as a junior and senior.

Nathan Wieseler, a 6-foot-8 forward/center from Wynot, will join the Wildcat basketball program and be a redshirt freshman. As a senior in 2012-13, he averaged 13.3 points, 8.3 rebounds and 4.8 blocks per game while helping the Blue Devils to a 25-3 record and the Class D-2 state title. Wieseler was named honorary captain of the Omaha World Herald Class D-2 All-State team during his senior season and was a Class D-2 first-team All-State selection as a junior and senior along with earning All-Lewis and Clark Conference honors both seasons. Wieseler also helped Wynot to a 24-3 record and a third-place finish at state as a junior and a fourth-place finish in Class D-2 as a sophomore.

J.J. Zumbrennen, a 5-foot-11 guard from Elkhorn, averaged 12 points, 1.9 assists and 1.9 steals per game for the 26-1 Storm, who placed third in Class B at this year's state tournament. He made 78 3-pointers this season, shooting 51 percent from the 3-point line and 77 percent at the charity stripe while earning All-Metro Class B second-team and All Eastern Midlands Conference first-team honors this season. Zumbrennen was a three-year letterwinner and two-year captain and also earned Academic All-State and All-Conference honors the last two years.

The eight players join 6-foot-10 center Dovyd Burneika from Klaipeda, Lithuania; 6-foot-3 guard/forward Austin Esters of Bettendorf, Iowa and 6-foot-4 guard Kendall Jacks from Bettendorf, Iowa as members of the 2014-15 recruiting class.

Browning no-hitter highlights road sweep

Sophomore Eric Browning threw a no-hitter to lead Wayne State College to a 4-0 win over Minnesota Crookston Friday afternoon in the first game of a weekend Northern Sun Conference baseball series sweep over the Golden Eagles in Crookston, Minn.

Browning's no-hitter was the sixth in Wayne State baseball history and the third since the 2009 season. He fanned 13 batters in the no-hitter while allowing three walks to improve his season mark to 5-3.

Wayne State took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Michael Herman doubled and scored on a sacrifice bunt by Alex Schleppebach. The Wildcats added three more in the fourth, using two hits and taking advantage of two Crookston errors. Jake Perez opened the inning with an infield single to shortstop and later scored on an Alex Kreft single through the left side. Schleppebach reached on a Crookston error and scored on a sacrifice fly from Aaron Krier for the second run, while the third run scored when Zak Leighton reached on a fielding error to bring home Schleppebach.

Wayne State had six hits in the opener, led by Kreft going 2-for-3 with a pair of singles and RBI. Herman was 2-for-4 including a double and run scored. Curtis Bussard and Perez also singled for the Wildcats in the win.

The second game saw the Wildcats complete the sweep with a 3-1 win. Wayne State took a 1-0 lead in the fifth when freshman Perez doubled and scored on Kevin Andersen's fielder's choice.

They extended that lead 3-0 in the sixth when C.J. Nolen singled and scored on a Herman RBI single, while Herman crossed the plate on a second double by Perez.

Perez had two doubles to go 2-for-4 at the plate with an RBI and run scored to lead the way. Matt Russell worked six shutout innings to earn the win, allowing five hits with three strikeouts and two walks. Reliever Chad Kim pitched two innings and was charged with one run on three hits to go with three strikeouts and one walk, while Zweck worked the ninth inning to earn the save, allowing one hit with two strikeouts.

On Saturday, the Wildcats hit five home runs to complete a weekend sweep of the Golden Eagles with 9-2 and 12-0 wins Saturday afternoon.

The first game saw freshman Chris May go 3-for-3 with three runs scored while junior Dylan McGill struck out nine batters in just four innings of work to give the Wildcats a 9-2 win.

Three-run innings in the second and fourth powered Wayne State. Perez homered in the second inning while May homered in the seventh. RBI singles by Perez and Aaron Molinaro fueled the three-run fourth.

The second game saw Wayne State pound out 17 hits and three home runs while three Wildcat pitchers combined on a four-hit shutout.

Leighton and Herman hit two-run homers in the first inning, and Herman doubled in the third and scored on a Nick McIntee homer for a 7-0 lead after three innings.

Servais went 4-for-4 with a triple, double and two RBIs. Herman was 3-for-5 with a homer, double and three RBIs while Curtis Bussard was 3-for-4 with two doubles and an RBI. Leighton finished 2-for-4 with a homer and double and two RBIs while Jake Bruner added two hits.

Wayne State, 20-17 overall and 13-10 in the NSIC, will host Augustana in a four-game NSIC series on Saturday and Sunday.

Wayne seventh at Blair

BLAIR - The Wayne High boys golf team competed at the Blair Invitational on Tuesday, with the Blue Devils posting a team score of 357 to place seventh of the 17 competing teams.

Blair won the team title with an official meet record of 299.

Wayne was led by Kaje Maly with a seventh-place score of 78. Jalen Barry followed with an 87, and Jared Peterson carded an 89. Zach Keating fired a 103, and Reed Trenhaile finished with a 105, but his score was not included in the team total of play five, score four.

Wayne will take part in the Columbus Scotus Invite on Thursday at Quail Run before hosting the Mid State Conference tournament on Saturday at Wayne Country Club.

Wells named NSIC athlete of the week

Wayne State thrower Emily Wells was announced as the Northern Sun Conference Women's Field Athlete of the Week following her performance at the Prairie Wolf Invite in Lincoln on Friday.

It marks the fourth straight week that a Wildcat thrower has won the honor, and it's the first time this season that Emily Wells has received Women's Field Athlete of the Week honors.

Wells achieved an NCAA automatic qualifying mark in the hammer throw with a second place finish of 187 feet, 9 inches at the Prairie Wolf Invite in Lincoln. The throw currently ranks second in the NSIC, trailing only Wildcat teammate Carly Fehringer, and is the sixth-best throw in NCAA Div. II.

Browning named NSIC Pitcher of the Week

Wayne State sophomore right-hander Eric Browning was named Northern Sun Conference Pitcher of the Week on Monday.

Browning fired the sixth no-hitter in Wayne State history, striking out 13 and allowing just three walks in a 4-0 win over Minnesota Crookston on Friday.

Browning is 5-3 on the season with a 2.58 earned run average. This is his second time this season being named the conference's top pitcher of the week.

Wildcats sign Ewing volleyball star to team

Wayne State volleyball coach Scott Kneifl announced that Riley Funk of Ewing has signed a national letter of intent to attend Wayne State College and join the Wildcat program for the 2014 season.

Funk joins Bree Ackermann of Lincoln, Megan Gebhardt of Norfolk, Erin Gross from Tekamah and Mariah Halvorsen of Wayzata, Minn., as members of the 2014 Wildcat recruiting class.

Riley Funk is a 5-foot-10 outside hitter from Ewing High School, where she was a three-sport standout in volleyball, basketball and track and field. She was a Class D-2 first-team All-State selection last fall as a senior, recording 363 kills, 415 digs, 60 solo blocks and 64 service aces while helping Ewing to a 22-5 record.

Other volleyball honors for Funk include All-Niobrara Valley Conference and Norfolk Daily News first-team three seasons, Lincoln Journal Star Class D-2 first-team All-State two years, Associated Press Class D-2 first-team All-State as a senior and second-team All-State during her junior season.

Funk finished her high school volleyball career with 1,190 kills and a .307 attack percentage, 1,228 digs, 225 blocks and 279 service aces. She also excelled in basketball, where she was named to the Norfolk Daily News Elite Eight and All-Niobrara Valley Conference first-team for two seasons.

WSC women's track 12th in latest rankings

The Wayne State women's outdoor track and field team inched up one spot to No. 12 in the latest U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association NCAA Div. II National Team Computer rankings released Tuesday afternoon.

The Wildcats are also listed in the Central Region rankings for the first time this season at No. 10.

Wayne State received 81.82 points in the national rankings and 139.12 points in the regional rankings. Points are based on NCAA provisional or automatic qualifying marks reached during the season.

LCC girls second at Krumwiede Invitational

HOMER - LCC's girls won four events and took runner-up honors in the Krumwiede Invitational, held April 11 at Homer.

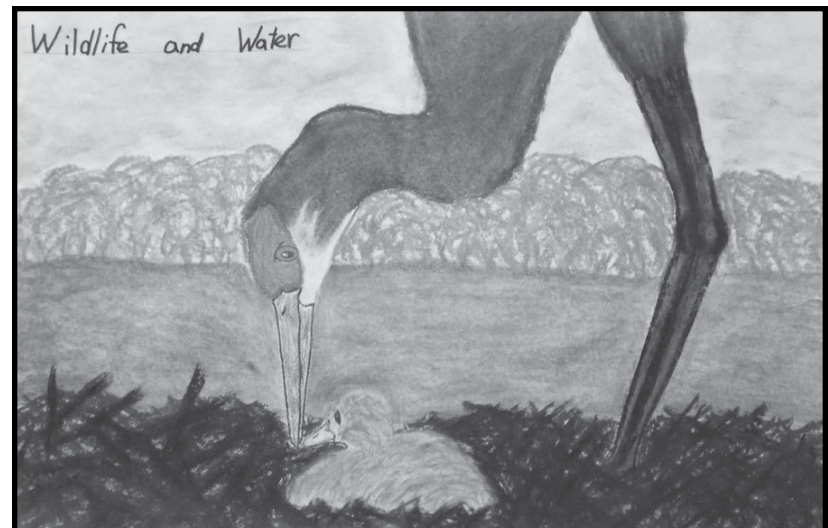

Ellie Arduser and Sadie Petersen both had a hand in two wins for the Lady Bears. Petersen swept the distance events while Arduser won the 200 and joined Cameron Eddie, Kelsey Dietrich and Candice Rastede on the winning 400-meter relay team.

On the boys side, Aaron Haahr made it a clean sweep for LCC in the distance events, winning the 1,600 and 3,200. He recorded the only first-place finishes for the LCC boys, who finished ninth.

Both Allen teams finished sixth in the meet. Lexi Oswald finished second in the 800, and the 3,200-meter relay team finished second to lead the Lady Eagles. Austin Connot was second in the 800, and the 3,200-meter relay finished second to highlight the Allen boys' efforts.

Wayne student is honored

A Wayne fifth-grader was among 14 fourth, fifth and sixth grade students from across Nebraska honored for their art work recently by the Nebraska Wildlife Federation. Fifth-grader Lance Muhs from Wayne Elementary received first-place among fifth graders from across the state for creating a poster for Wildlife Week Nebraska in March. The theme of the art contest was Wildlife and Water and focused on the close connection between water and Nebraska wildlife species. Muhs featured a Sandhill crane and chick in his poster. Muhs's teacher is Dave Wragge. His winning poster was selected from among hundreds submitted from across the state for the Federation's long-running Wildlife Week poster contest. Muhs is a two-time winner, having placed first in the fourth-grade Wildlife Week poster competition last year, with a picture of a raccoon in a tree. The awards were presented at Wild Adventure Day at Pioneers Park Nature Center in Lincoln.

Allen girls edge LCC at Homer Invitational

HOMER - Allen and Laurel-Concord/Coleridge duked it out until the end at the Homer Invitational on Thursday.

In the end, the Lady Eagles had just enough to outscore the Lady Bears, taking first place by three points after finishing as runner-up to LCC in the final event of the day, the 1,600-meter relay.

"The coaches challenged the athletes to 'go gray' and challenge their physical limits and do things that benefited the team first, and we had over 20 personal bests," coach Dave Uldrich said of the Allen girls' efforts. "Our athletes accepted being challenged and responded with a tremendous output."

The Lady Eagles won the meet despite not coming home with a single first-place effort, medaling in 13 events and finishing with 19 medals on the day.

Allen had seven runner-up finishes on the day. Kaylen Smith was second in the 400, Lexi Oswald took second in the 800, Gabby Sullivan was second in the high jump, Kaylee Stapleton tied for second in the long jump, Lindsey Jones was second in the triple jump, and the 1,600-meter and 3,200-meter relay teams were runners-up.

The LCC girls performed very well despite the runner-up team finish, winning seven events. Kelsey Dietrich swept the hurdle events, Sadie Petersen was first in the 3,200, Audra Corbit won the high jump, Ellie Arduser won the triple jump, and LCC won the 400-meter and 1,600-meter relays.

On the boys side, Allen finished third, and LCC was fifth overall, with each team coming away with some first-place hardware.

Allen's two winners on the day were Austin Connot, who won the 400-meter run and also had thirds in the 800 and triple jump, and Brian Boese in the 110-meter hurdles.

LCC's wins came in the 300-meter hurdles with Brett Haisch and in the 1,600-meter relay.

Emergency Medical Services (EMS) is an exciting and very rewarding way to serve your community. We, as EMS providers, get to help people who are sick or injured, search for missing people and respond to car crashes and fire calls. We help out at football games and the county fairs. We do blood pressure checks at the Senior Citizen Center and help educate the elementary school students about 9-1-1 and the ambulance, as well as help out with the farm safety day.

If you have ever thought you'd like to help your community by becoming a part of the EMS system, please contact one of the listed responders. Our community is in dire need of recruiting more individuals to help those in need. I can't imagine how devastating it would be if a child or adult was in need of help and there was no one to respond. Please consider joining your local EMS by taking an EMR or EMT class!

Your community needs YOU!

Elderfest attendees gathered outside the Wayne City Auditorium early Thursday morning.

Mike and Julie Couch of Norfolk provided musical entertainment to Elderfest attendees. The duo sang a number of classic country songs, as well as several gospel songs.

A quilt was available Thursday for visitors of Elderfest to sign on their way into the City Auditorium.

Audience members enjoyed the variety of music and dance performances as part of the afternoon's festivities.

Rich Patton was one of the performers who treated Elderfest attendees to musical entertainment throughout the day.

Diane Peterson (center) was presented the Elderfest Quilt from 10 years ago by committee members Cinda Brudigam and Mick Kemp. Peterson was instrumental in getting Elderfest started and was a part of the committee for a number of years.

Elderfest Committee member Sandy Bartling poses with Garru Trapp of Nashville, Tenn., who traveled to Wayne to be a part of this year's Elderfest.

Ray Petersen's accordion music is always a popular part of the Elderfest.

Brownie ala mode capped off the afternoon's activities at this year's Elderfest.

Dancers show off their line-dancing skills Thursday afternoon in the City Auditorium.

Dr. James Lindau, Brenda Nissen and Alan Bruflat have been part of the entertainment at Elderfest for a number of years.

Elderfest attendees sign up for a number of door prizes provided by local and area businesses.

Visitors to last week's Elderfest enjoy a line-dancing demonstration as part of Thursday afternoon's festivities.

The morning activities included displays by a large number of businesses and coffee and rolls.

Elderfest Committee member Dennis Lipp (with his back to the camera) visits with the staff of Herman Chiropractic.

A highlight of each year's Elderfest is the chance for attendees to visit with friends, old and new.

day morning, April 19, for the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Allen Community Club and organized by LaDonna Miles who, with her daughters and other assistants, had filled dozens of plastic eggs with candy and hidden them in the park earlier that morning. Everyone lined up along the edge of the park in anticipation of the 10:30 start. Children, in addition to finding eggs, also had fun meeting the Easter Bunny and playing on all the new playground equipment just installed last week.

Finders of the four golden eggs who won the big Easter baskets were Kaylee Boysen, Christian Fahrenholz, Steven Sullivan, and Steven Cooks.

Senior Tea

The Senior Tea will be held at the First Lutheran Church on Friday, May 2 at 10 a.m. This will be the class of 2014's last day of school. Graduation is Saturday, May 10.

FFA Banquet

The annual FFA banquet will be held on Friday, May 2 at 6 p.m. Those planning to attend can purchase a ticket from an FFA member or contact the school. For more information, contact Billy Chase at the school.

Kindergarten Roundup

Kindergarten Roundup will be held on Friday, April 25 at the Allen School from 1-3 p.m. If you have a child that will be five years old before July 31 and have not enrolled, please contact the school at 635-2484.

The current list of students for the 2014-2015 school years includes: Chaz Adair, Atlee Anderson, Tucker Anderson, Grace Ankeny, Ethin Graves, Caleb Ketelsen, Blake Kneifl, Celestin Martell, Rebecka McNear, Jude Ridenour, Danielle Suber, and Estevan Torres.

Senior Center

The Allen Senior Center is again serving meals at the Senior Center, instead of the Daycare building. A special thanks to everyone who helped them move to the daycare and back to the Senior Center building again.

Athletic Awards Night

The Athletic Awards Night will be held on Monday, April 28 at the Allen gym at 6:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend as Allen athletes are recognized for their athletics.

The Kindergarten through fourth grade Spring Concert will be on Thursday, May 1 at 7 p.m. at the Allen Gym. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Allen Named Tree City USA

Allen was named a 2013 Tree City USA by the Arbor Day Foundation in honor of its commitment to effective urban forest management. This is the 21st year the community has received this designation. Allen achieved Tree City USA recognition by meeting the program's four requirements which are a tree board or department, a tree-care ordinance, an annual community forestry budget of at least $2 per person, and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

District Music Contest

The District Music Contest will be held on Friday, April 25 at Wayne State College.

The Allen Music department will have many groups and soloists performing that day. For the schedule, please contact Melissa at the school.

State Science Meet Qualifiers

The following students qualified to attend the UNMC State Science meet in Omaha on June 5-7. Briana Hingst, Desi Martell, Blake McCorkindale, Kiara Monteith, Jacob Williams and Levi Woodward.

Allen Update

Please send Kathy Boswell your alumni class news, name and address changes, and death notices for publication in the next Allen Update as soon as possible. The next all-school reunion will be July 3-5, 2015, but we want to send a newsletter as soon as we can get it written.

Horticulture ID Contest

The Northeast Nebraska Master Gardeners will be hosting a Youth Horticulture ID Contest at their Plant Fair, Saturday, April 26.

The contest will be held at NECC Chuck Pohlman Ag Complex, Norfolk and begins at 11 a.m. with awards given at 12:30 p.m. This is a great way for youth to learn about horticulture. All youth, ages 8-18 (before Jan. 1, 2014) are encouraged to participate. Participation is free but all participants must pre-register by April 18 by contacting the UNL Extension office in Madison County (402) 370-4040. Prizes will be given for first, second, and third place finishers in each of the three age brackets. Contestants will be required to sight ID horticultural plants to the accepted common name. The list of possible plants and study guides are available at madison.unl.edu/theplantfair. If you have any questions, contact (402) 370-4040.

Allen students take part in Regional Science Fair

Students from Allen Consolidated Schools attended the Nebraska Junior Academy of Sciences Regional Science Fair at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

On April 11, Morgan Bathke and Sean O'Keefe presented their science projects at the Nebraska Junior Academy of Sciences state meet at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln. Morgan and Sean were in prestigious company as they were two of only 20 projects selected from across the state to present at the Nebraska Junior Academy of Science State Science Fair.

The title of Morgan's project is "Are Vitamins D & E declared mutagenic by the Ames Test?" The title of Sean's project is "The Effects of Antibiotics on E. coli."

At the state science fair Sean won two awards – The Metric System, the award given to the project that had the best use of the metric system, and The Health Service Award, the award given to the project that best serves the health science industry.

Trisha Kinnaman Walk in Pender

The seventh annual Trisha Kinnaman Wellness Walk will be held Sunday, May 4 at the Pender City Park, at 1 p.m. The walk will be held, rain or shine.

There is a $10 entry fee that includes a T-shirt. Those taking part may sign up the day of the walk.

The event is a one-mile walk to remember Trisha, a physical therapist at the Pender Community Hospital for 12 years. While at the hospital, Trisha was very active in promoting health and wellness. She helped organize and lead many wellness activities on a regular basis. She died in car accident in January of 2008.

A memorial balloon release will set the day off. A one-mile walk will follow. After the walk, food and beverages will be served.

Those who pre-register in time will be able to receive and wear the t-shirt the day of the walk.

For more information or to register, call Mary Tonjes at the Pender hospital at (402) 385-4026.

Pierce Honor Band

On April 5, a total of 29 students in grades 6-8 represented Wayne Community Schools at the annual Pierce Honor Band. Students spent the day rehearsing challenging music with other area individuals and presented a public concert in the late afternoon. Those taking part were selected by preparing and submitting an audition. Over 400 local students auditioned for the honor band. Those Wayne students taking part included (front) Ky Kenny, Maysn Dorey, Hannah Leonard, Alyssa Chinn, Kelsey Heggemeyer, Octavia Pugh, (second row) Sam Perry, Terran Sievers, Jonah Brodersen, Kate Schultz, Kaleb Anderson, Miranda Fehringer, Halie Chinn, Stuart Hasemann, (third row) Megan Keiser, Jenna Trenhaile, Grace Heithold, Symphony Jareske, Annie Kniesche, Sarah Wibben, Callie Brown, (back) Maddy Stenka, Liz Junck, Sam Bruckner, Kaden Kniefl, Jamie Gamble, Breanna Kallhoff, Daniel Maxson and Jack Osnes.

Don't get me started

Already tired of mudslinging ads

It's less than three weeks before the May primaries, and I'm already sick and tired of the various state political races that are becoming more an exercise in mudslinging than an actual race for public office.

If you've ever wondered why I have such a lack of respect for the Republican and Democrat parties, take a look at some of the political ads that seem to be flooding our TV sets and, in some cases, even certain websites we frequent.

The campaign for the U.S. Senate seat that is being vacated by Mike Johanns is turning into a full-fledged finger-pointing match between the top two candidates, Ben Sasse and Shane Osborn. The game these two seem to be playing is a rousing battle of "He's got more Washington mud on him than I do."

Both candidates appear to be spending more time telling us what a "Washington Insider" the other guy is than telling us what HE will do if we vote for him this November.

Of course, BOTH candidates appear to have rather significant ties with the yahoos in D.C. that most Americans absolutely can't stand. Sasse worked in the administration of President George W. Bush, and Sasse's campaign has been running ads claiming Osborn to be financially supported by pro-Obamacare lobbyists in Washington.

Both candidates claim they are raising money from in-state groups, but both have received significant contributions from organizations outside the state.

And then we have the governor's race, which is becoming more an exercise in frustration with every new negative ad that finds its way to the airwaves and/or the Internet.

Two outside advocacy organizations are pumping significant advertising dollars into an effort to make sure current Attorney General Jon Bruning doesn't become the Republicans' nominee for Governor of Nebraska. The American Future Fund and Citizens for a Sound Government has put more than $1.1 million in advertising into the race, according to a story in the Omaha World-Herald, bashing Bruning.

The advocacy groups, whose names spark very dubious opinions about who is supporting these organizations in the first place, are part of an effort on behalf of all the candidates to pump advertising into our TV sets, radio stations and various print and Internet entities to encourage us to vote for – or against – a particular candidate. Tallying up figures in the World-Herald, the top three candidates for governor, based on TV advertising alone, comes to almost $1.8 million.

And the ads, more and more, have nothing to do with the candidate who is running the ads, but instead target one (or more) opponent and try to paint that opposing candidate in a negative light.

A wise man once told me that if somebody is spending all their time trying to tell you how bad the other guy is, and spending less of it telling you what they will actually do that is different from the other guy – you should probably ask yourself just how good a candidate that guy is in the first place.

In the 2012 election, I received a mailing from a candidate for public office that I was strongly leaning toward for that November election. I was really on the fence with the two candidates running for that particular office, but ultimately decided to vote for the candidate who was the target of the negative ad – not because I didn't believe anything in the negative ad, but that this candidate chose to take what had been a pleasant and friendly campaign and turn it into a negative campaign.

Of course, right now the Democrats running for Senate and Governor are sitting back and having a good laugh about this, thinking that the Republicans are going to, for lack of a better phrase, eat their young as the candidates continue this pathetic display of dirty politics . . . knowing full well that, the day after the May 13 primaries, the survivors in the Republican races will turn their guns on them (and with the ongoing catastrophe that is Obamacare serving as fodder, don't think that this won't start rolling out within 24 hours of the primaries).

Great . . . that means another 5 1/2 months of mudslinging, finger-pointing and dubious accusations. The Republican survivors and the perpetual-underdog Democrats will start pumping in more advertising dollars to tell us how bad the other side is.

I'd segue to a discussion on why I've stopped voting for EITHER party and why people who want REAL change in Washington and/or Lincoln would follow suit – but then you'd ignore all those TV ads that your favorite party is paying for, and we wouldn't want the GOP and the Democrats to not get the biggest bang for their advertising buck, now would we?

On a related note, we'll have interviews with the four candidates for Wayne County Sheriff in next week's edition of The Wayne Herald.

This race is the only contested race in the May 13 primary in the county, and the winner of this race will – barring some strange event like a write-in candidate, since Democrats in Wayne County seem disinterested in running for any county office – be the man who takes over for Sheriff LeRoy Janssen, who is stepping down after more than three decades as the county's top cop.

We will also have interviews this fall with candidates for the city and county races. Regardless of your party affiliation or personal beliefs, make sure that you get to the polls on Tuesday, May 13 and vote. Remember – if you don't vote, your voice won't be heard.

Redistricting will be tough sell

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

A bill that would provide a Nebraska antidote to a 200-year-old political practice died quietly on the floor of the Nebraska Legislature this year. Ever since Massachusetts Governor Elbridge Gerry sought political advantage for his cronies in 1812, the word "gerrymander" has crept into partisan politics every time there is a census taken. The nonpartisan Nebraska Unicameral is not immune to the practice and some lawmakers have been trying to find a fix for years.

This year's measure was LB976 offered by General Affairs Committee Chairman Sen. Russ Karpisek of Wilber, who wanted his colleagues to create an Independent Redistricting Advisory Commission to take over the task that will be required by the 2021 census. The bill made it to the second round of floor debate in the waning days of the 103rd Legislature Second Session where it was filibustered by a group of Republican senators in the officially non-partisan Legislature. The vote on a motion to break the filibuster was 27-22, six votes short of the 33 needed and the bill stalled – the kiss of death with little time left in the session.

Each Nebraska legislative district represents about 35,000 of the state's voters. In the process of setting those electoral districts, gerrymandering is a practice that attempts to establish a political advantage for a particular party or group by manipulating the boundaries to create partisan advantaged districts. The word first appeared in the Boston Gazette on March 26, 1812, and was in reaction to a redrawing of Massachusetts state election districts under then-governor Gerry. When mapped, one of the districts was said to resemble the shape of a salamander. An accompanying cartoon and the fact that Gerry's move cost him his seat may have served to solidify the term in American politics.

But Nebraska had its own Gerrymandering that resulted in a state Supreme Court opinion and a special session of the Nebraska Legislature in August 1992, back when State Senator Gerry Conway of Northeast Nebraska was chair of the Government Committee and facing a difficult election challenge. Speculation was that he influenced the redistricting process to make for an easier win in his district. In the process, Madison County – which had long been just one district -- was split into two districts. That triggered a lawsuit that made it to the state's high court and resulted in a special legislative session to fix it.

Conway lost his northeast Nebraska District 17 seat in the November election. One of the Madison County residents who sued was elected in the newly re-drawn 19th District and two people who were going to run in the district that was created from part of Madison County and then disappeared after the court-ordered special session also filed lawsuits that were dismissed.

The court-ordered special session on redistricting went down to the wire with proponents looking for enough votes (33) to enact the emergency clause so then-Governor Ben Nelson could sign the bill into law in time for the November election, but six senators were absent. That required Conway to file a motion to "compel attendance," for the first time in 15 years. The motion passed at 5:15 p.m., and legislative staffers and the State Patrol scrambled to locate the six.

The session resumed after three senators – Dan Lynch and Brad Ashford of Omaha and Emil Beyer of Gretna – returned to the chambers. Ashford was found at his Omaha law office. Beyer, a caterer, was working at the Sarpy County Fair in Springfield. Lynch was contacted after he completed a round of golf at a Lincoln country club. Sen. Carol Pirsch of Omaha was not located. Sen. Rex Haberman of Imperial, who had driven as far as North Platte, and Sen. Lowell Johnson of Fremont, who was found in his hometown, were asked to stand by.

It took extreme measures to straighten out that re-districting fiasco 22 years ago. In this year's debate on the topic, Omaha Sen. Bob Krist called redistricting "a disease. It's a disease when partisanship can pull things in different directions and decide at their own convenience to move things around," Krist said.

Karpisek's bill called for an independent six-member commission to be appointed to do the job. The Legislature would still have final say on approval of the redistricting plan.

Sounds like a good idea. But making it work in a climate of intense partisanship – even in an officially non-partisan body – would, at the very least, take a miracle.

Governor: good year for state taxpayers

Dear Fellow Nebraskans,

It's been a very good year for Nebraska taxpayers. One of the most important accomplishments of the recently concluded 2014 Legislative Session was providing more than $412 million of tax relief to Nebraskans over the next five years.

We've indexed Nebraska's individual income tax brackets for inflation. We've begun the process of exempting social security income and military retirement income from taxation. We have helped farmers and ranchers by eliminating the sales tax on repair parts for ag machinery and equipment.

We've expanded Nebraska's homestead exemption program so that more Nebraskans will qualify. We've provided homeowners, farmers, ranchers and small businesses additional direct property tax relief by increasing the Property Tax

Gov.
Dave Heineman

Credit Program by $25 million and we need to do even more in the future.

We've addressed the water sustainability issue with noteworthy legislation that preserves our water supply for generations to come. This legislation is aimed at planning for future water use in our state, especially in preparing for water shortages, addressing water quality and planning flood control issues. Preserving and managing our water resources is important to Nebraskans, especially those who work in our number one industry – agriculture.

We will be working with the Council of State Governments to develop a pathway to a long-term prison strategy. We prioritized future education funding by rejecting Obamacare's Medicaid expansion program.

Over the years, working with the Legislature, we've made a lot of progress on numerous issues. We've focused on education and jobs. We've passed statewide education assessments. We are focused on academic achievement and academic improvement. Student test results are improving.

Nebraska now has a top ten college going rate and we have the second highest high school graduation rate in America at 88.5 percent. We've created a better environment for the private sector to grow jobs and look at the results.

Nebraska is on the move and we want to maintain that economic momentum. Nebraska is fifth in soybean production, third in producing corn, the second leading ethanol producer, first in pinto beans and popcorn production and Nebraska is now the number one cattle feeding state in America.

Nebraska is a leader in the insurance, telecommunications, food processing and transportation industries. Nebraska has the second lowest unemployment rate in America. Last month, Nebraska won the Governor's Cup for being the number one state in America for the most economic development projects on a per capita basis during 2013.

Nebraska has real economic momentum and we can do even better in the future.

Winside Q125 Weekend fundraising events scheduled for June 20-22

Area residents are being asked to mark their calendars for June 20-22 for a fun-filled weekend in Winside.

It will begin with a pitch tournament in the Winside Legion Post Friday evening at 6 p.m. (advance registration required at Jensen's AK Cafe).

Saturday morning, June 21 will include a 7:30 a.m. 5K fun run/walk for adults followed by a kids fun run. Check in/registration begins at 7 a.m. at the Winside ball park on east main. Check out the Q125 face book page for more information or contact Sheila (Jon) Jaeger or Amber (Justin) Bargstadt by phone.

A road rally will be held after the 5K, there will be water fights, bounce house for kids in the park, a community rummage sale, a BBQ in the park by the NE Nebraska cattle men's association in the afternoon, and wine tasting by Jim's Fine Wines and Spirits.

Sunday, June 22 will include a horseshoe tournament with grilled hot dogs and hamburgers by US

Cellular of Wayne.

These are fundraising events for Winside's June 2015 celebration. Organizers encourage everyone to "Come out and spend the weekend, a day, or pick your favorite events and help support next years big events."

Winside Chili cook-off winners announced

The recent Winside Q125 soup supper and chili cook off fund raiser was a deemed a success, with the committee raising $700 toward their $50,000 goal for the 2015 June celebration.

Nine pots of chili were entered for the chili cook off, with Pete Wylie winning first place for the hottest; Dirk Jaeger for the medium/mild category and Bob Bowers for the people's choice winner.

Each won a cash a prize, which they donated back to the Q125 fund raiser. The next fund raising events will be held June 20, 21-and 22.

Winside High School Alumni Banquet set for May 24

This year's Winside Alumni Banquet will be held on Saturday May 24 in the Winside auditorium, beginning at 5 p.m. with a cash bar and the banquet at 6:30 p.m.

It will be catered by USA Steak Buffet this year.

All graduating classed ending with a "4" will be honored; however, everyone is welcome to attend.

Advance tickets can be purchased at a $5 savings and can be purchased at Winside State Bank, Jensen's AK Cafe, or the Winside Store.

Members of the Q125 history book committee will be available with information and forms for book pre-sales during the banquet.

This year's alumni committee members are Teri Bowers, Arlin Kittle, Leah Marotz, Kate Falk, Dan Morris, and Michael Jaeger.

Wayne State to display Student Art Exhibition

The Wayne State College Department of Art and Design will present its next art gallery show, the Juried Student Exhibition, from Monday, April 28 until Friday, Aug. 29 in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building.

An opening and reception for the juried show will be held on Monday, April 28 from 5 to 6 p.m. at the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery. Student work accepted for the show will be announced on April 24.

The Juried Student Exhibition is a selection of original student artwork exhibited in the gallery during the summer months, from the end of the spring semester through the beginning of the fall semester. The artwork submitted by WSC students is judged and selected for display by the WSC art and design faculty.

For more information, please contact Laura Burtwistle at (402) 375-7359 or visit www.wsc.edu/schools/ahu/artd/nordstrand_gallery.

RC&D to host document shredding events

Thursday and Friday, May 8 and 9, the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council will be hosting six shredding events for sensitive documents.

These are being held to assist citizens in disposing of confidential files safely, reducing the potential for identity theft, and to support recycling.

Locations and host sites for these shredding events are: Thursday, May 8 at the Public Library, Orchard, 8-10 a.m., Midwest Bank, Creighton, 10:45 a.m.-12: 45 p.m., and Midwest Bank, Plainview, 1:30-3:30 p.m.; Friday, May 9 at the Lewis and Clark NRD office in Hartington, 8-10 a.m., at the Ponca Cop, 11a.m.-1 p.m., and the Wayne County Courthouse, north parking lot, 2-4 p.m.

Security Shredding of Laurel will be the contractor. On-site their truck will pulverizer all material and then take it back to their facility where it will be baled and shipped directly to a paper mill for recycling. This small business has been serving the needs of the area since 2003. Security Shredding guarantees that confidential information stays that way.

The types of material appropriate to shred include Financial Records, Maps and Blueprints, Payroll Records, Personnel Files, Inventory Lists, Legal Documents, Confidential Correspondence, Cancelled Checks, Customer Lists, Account/Records/Ledgers, Fax Records, Information on Competitors, Invoices, Computer Printouts, Price Lists, and Medical Records, Newspapers, cardboard and magazines are not accepted. These events are for sensitive documents only.

There will be a suggested donation for shredding depending on the amount of material brought in. For more information about this effort or any of the RC&D's programs and services please contact the office at (402) 582-4866 or email northeast-rcd@plvwtelco.net.

Youth camping experiences available School Lunches

Have you thought about a camping experience for your child this summer? The 4-H Camping experience can happen at two different 4-H camping locations in Nebraska. The goal of Nebraska 4-H Camp is to allow youth a place to discover, learn, and grow. Youth do not have to be a member of 4-H to attend a Nebraska 4-H Camp. At Nebraska 4-H Camps and Centers, they believe strongly in promoting the mission of Nebraska 4-H, which encourages all young people to reach their full potential, by working and learning in partnership with caring adults.

The Nebraska 4-H Camps are located in the beauty of the Nebraska National Forest (Halsey) and Schramm State Park (Grenta). The Nebraska 4-H Camping staff is able to do what they do best: provide a life-changing summer experience for all youth. 4-H is education for life and focuses on helping young people experience the science in the everyday lives, grow leadership and citizenship skills, explore future career opportunities, and make healthier decisions.

The Nebraska 4-H Camps are American Camp Association (ACA) accredited, meaning that they care enough to undergo a thorough review of over 300 standards related to operations, staffing, and emergency management. Nebraska Camp staff recruit an experienced and caring staff that receive training in First Aid and CPR training, water safety, camping skills, and positive youth development training. No matter which 4-H Camp your child goes to, camp is a great place to meet new friends, try something for the first time, and build cherished memories.

To register online, go to 4h.unl.edu/camp. If you are interested in picking up a registration to mail in, you can stop by any local extension office to pick one up. There are numerous camps offered with various focuses throughout the summer, you will find one that is right for your child.

Minvera Club elects officers

Minerva Club met at the Senior Center April 14. The 13 members present shared their grandfathers' names for roll call.

President Connie Webber opened the meeting with a short piece on Time: Days and Deeds, and a poem by Emily Dickinson.

Historian Hollis Frese shared information from the Wayne County History Book about the Wightman family and the Museum, along with some of the early Minerva Club members. The Ley family ran a German store in Wayne before starting up a banking business.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Joyce Mitchell, President; Phyllis Rahn, Vice President; Marian Clark, Secretary;

Donna Hansen, Treasurer; Hollis Frese, Historian. Lois Youngerman and Connie Webber were re-appointed to the courtesy committee. The committee for the May meeting presented several options with members voting to travel to the Wil-lows near Pierce.

Connie Webber presented an overview of the 1990's decade, listing some memorable events such as The Hubbell Space Telescope taken into space; Bill Clinton elected president; the O.J. Simpson trial; the Oklahoma City Bombing; Dolly the sheep was cloned; Mother Teresa was awarded the Nobel Prize. At the end of the decade, in 1999, the Euro currency was launched and the Columbine School Shooting took place.

Twila Lindsay will host the Monday, April 28 meeting.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid meets April 9

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met April 9 at The Oaks.

President Rhonda Sebade welcomed Pastor Feldmann, 18 members and two guests (Margaret Nelson and Bonnie Sandahl). President Sebade called the meeting to order and the LWML pledge was read in unison.

Vice-President Ellen Heine-mann gave a devotional "Showers of Grace" based on Titus 3:4-8a. No matter whether all is peaceful and the sun is shining or we are in the midst of the storm and it is dark, God's grace is sufficient. God has gifted us with the lifesaving faith of knowing without a doubt Jesus paid the cost of our sin: Easter's resurrection proved that the work of our salvation is finished!

Secretary Louise Green read the minutes of the March meeting, which were approved as read. Correspondence included a request for quilts for Camp Luther's Quilt Auction and the announcement of the birth of August Matthew Janke to our seminarian student, Ryan and his wife, Dani.

Treasurer Fauneil Bennett presented the treasurer's report, which was approved. This month's mission grant story was about Lutheran Special Education Ministries; the devotion was read and verses from Almighty God, Your Word is Cast were sung accompanied by Bev Hansen on the piano. Mites were collected and President Sebade announced that $14,000 was needed by convention to pay for this year's grants.

Committee Reports:
Mission Service: Mary Janke reported that the Jelly Bean prayer (with jelly beans) would be given to the Confirmants this week. Questioning will be Wednesday, April 23, after which the Secret Pals will be revealed. Confirmation is Sunday, April 27 during the 10:30 a.m. service.

Sewing: Esther Brader stated that six quilts were finished on March 20. Material was sorted in preparation for the basement renovation. The next "tying" session will be after Easter. Quilts will be donated to the Camp Luther Auction as well as some Christmas home-made pillows.

Kitchen: The small (unused) refrigerator will be kept at least until the basement is done in case it would be needed.

Gifts: No report.

Historian: Esther Baker had no report.

Visiting: Louise Green reported that visits had been made to those at Careage; some at The Oaks; some in-home; and one hospitalized member. Rhonda had sent several cards. The new committee will be Ruth Victor and Betty Wittig.

Seminary Student: Louise Green will write this month to Ryan. It was decided to send a monetary gift in honor of Baby August's birth.

Old Business: The Spring Workshop will be Tuesday, April 29 at Hope South Sioux. Anyone wishing to ride together should meet at the church west parking lot at 8 a.m.

Guest Day: Invitations have been sent to all the churches in Wayne and our the other Ladies' groups. The date is Wednesday, May 14 at 2 p.m. Kelly Jacobs will be our speaker, talking about her mission trip to Kenya and how she saw God at work there. Gal. 3:28b "For you are all one in Christ Jesus."

District Convention: Birthday Cake Kits will be made up for both Haven House and Wayne Head Start. Wayne zone is to bring generic birthday cards (boy/girl appropriate) and new boxes of birthday candles. Collection baskets and lists for Haven House for the Spring Workshop are available at both church doors. The group will continue to collect after April 29 for giving at the District Convention. Girls ages 12-19 are invited to come to convention for free. The only cost is for meals. Young girls are encouraged to get acquainted with LWML.

The birthday song was sung for Bernita Sherbahn on the 14th; Leoma Baker, 90 years old on the 20th and Phyllis Nolte on the 30th.

The next meeting: will be Guest Day in the church basement on Wednesday, May 14 with Ellen, Louise and Rhonda serving.

Pastor Feldmann led the Bible study about the events from the Friday before Palm Sunday through Easter Sunday. After raising Lazarus, Jesus had departed from Bethany but on Friday He returned to spend time with His friends. This is when Mary anointed Jesus. On Saturday He no doubt celebrated the Sabbath with His friends. On Sunday, Jesus rode into Jerusalem to the triumphant Hosanna's. He went to the temple and then returned to Bethany.

The following day, He returned to the temple and drove out the money changers and overthrew their tables. Tuesday was a day of controversy and parables: in Jerusalem Jesus avoided traps set by the priests and then on the Mount of Olives He taught in parables about the Temple's destruction and future events including His own return.

Wednesday was probably a day of rest or teaching.

Passover was celebrated in the upper room with the institution of the Eucharist and preparation of His death. The night took Him to the Garden of Gethsemane for a time of prayer and agony. Then came betrayal by Judas, arrest and interrogation by Annas, the former High Priest. On Friday after false trials, denial, condemnation, beatings and mockery, Jesus was required to carry His cross to Golgotha where He was crucified with two other prisoners. Before the beginning of the Sabbath at 6 p.m., He was placed in the tomb where His body lay for the Sabbath.

Early on Sunday morning the women found the stone rolled away from the tomb and an angel told them Jesus was alive. Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene in the garden, to Peter, to two disciples on the road to Emmaus and later that day to all the disciples but Thomas. His resurrection was established in fact.

The meeting ended with the Lord's Prayer and the Table Prayer. Dessert was served by Bev Hansen.

Oh, my God! She's 50 years old — and still loves horses. One on left is 50 - one on right is four. Belated Happy Birthday! Love your husband & kids

Good Friday remembrance
 Community members gathered at the corner of Seventh and Main Streets and walked to Calvary Bible Evangelical Church Friday to commemorate the last hours of Jesus' life. The annual event is sponsored by the Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers.

Resurrection Sunday celebrated at Praise

Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne celebrated "Resurrection Sunday" this past weekend by having a morning Brunch, prepared by the men of the church. The congregation moved from the fellowship hall to the sanctuary for the celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

One of the things that marks the contemporary Christian Church is that most churches meet on Sunday mornings in honor of the resurrection of Jesus.

During the service, the "Annual Whosoever Will Can Join and Sing" Easter Choir" sang the offertory, combining men and women and a few kids in a multi-generational ensemble.

In his Easter Sunday message, Rev. Jason Pickering used portions of 1st Corinthians 15 as his primary texts, focusing on "There is Something About God that Brings Hope!" Living in a world that propagates and teaches exactly the opposite of scripture (trying to get us to focus on things we can see, feel, taste, see, and hear) it is sometimes difficult to shut out those contrary voices and hear the Word of God for what it is: the Word of God. We need to cling to this Truth.

Even if one of us is a "doubting Thomas" (someone who must see in order to believe) or someone on the road to Emmaus (someone who does not recognize the Lord, even if He is near), the Lord still speaks His truth to us in our hearts and minds as we pray, as we read the Bible, and as we listen to preaching and teaching.

In the verses of 1 Corinthians 15, Paul tells us five things that are consequences if Jesus did NOT rise from the dead:

1. Paul says that our preaching is in vain (verse 14).
2. Paul says that faith itself is in vain.
3. Paul says that the apostles would all be false witnesses (verse 16).
4. We would all still be dead because of the consequences of sin that cannot and has not been forgiven.
5. Those who have died have actually died eternally without God (verses 18-19).

However, Jesus declared (Revelation 11:18) that "I am He Who was dead and is alive." In the gospels we read that the disciples touched the body of Jesus; we read that Jesus ate food in front of his followers AFTER He had risen from the dead.

The first 100 years after the resurrection when the Christians were dispersed, all who testified were bearing witness of what they had 1) seen personally or 2) had been told by those who had personally seen Jesus. And when Jesus returns (as predicted in scripture), we also will recognize Him. And now we have a merciful and faithful high priest (Jesus) interceding for us in heaven. This is so important because "God wants to use us as the megaphones of His Truth," Pastor Jason told the Sunday morning congregation. "Mercy is when Jesus says, 'I took your place.'"

Coming soon at Praise Assembly of God Church, Rev. Mike Peterson, evangelist with a healing ministry will present program nightly at 7 p.m., Sunday through Wednesday, May 4-7.

Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic will be closed all day Wednesday, April 30 to transition from Mercy to Faith Regional.

Sharp Shooters 4-H Club competes at State

Fourteen members of the Sharp Shooters 4-H Club of Wayne County competed in the Nebraska state 4-H BB Gun and Air Rifle Championships held in Beatrice on March 22-23. Members of 4-H from 23 Nebraska counties vied for medals in individual and team races.

Sharp Shooter members competing included Austin and Grant Arens, sons of Kelly and Jenny Arens of Laurel, Connor, Landon and Trevin Boysen, sons of Scott and Kim Boysen of Laurel, Aubrie Edwards, daughter of Justin and Robbin Edwards of Winside, Joshua Greunke, son of Darin and Staci Greunke of Winside, Cameron Muhs, son of Brock and Jamie Muhs of Carroll, Sam Perry, son of Ted and Angie Perry of Wayne, Zach Schenk, son of Bill and Stacy Schenk of Wayne, Kate Schultz, daughter of Kim Schultz of Wayne, Andrew and James Simpson, sons of Jeff and Colleen Simpson of Wayne, and Hunter Van Houten, son of Dereck and Candace Van Houten of Winside.

In Saturday's BB Gun Match, shooters shot 40 targets for score. 10 each in the prone, standing, sitting and kneeling positions. Each shooter also took a written test covering firearm safety and the rules of the match. The Sharp Shooters team #1, consisting of Austin, Josh, Cameron, Sam and James finished in 2nd place behind Grant County. Team 2 made up of Connor, Landon, Trevin, Kate and Hunter placed 9th out of the 16 team field. Earning individual medals were Josh Greunke- 100 percent on the test, Austin Arens- top prone, and 4th place overall in the 13-15 yr old division.

"With the high quality of shooters there, the kids did really well," said Darin Greunke, Leader.

Sunday's competition had both sporter air rifle and precision air rifle matches running concurrently. Sporter air rifle consisted of a three position, 20 shots per position in prone, standing and kneeling. The air rifles used must be under $500 in value and the kids cannot wear special jackets or pants. In precision air rifle, all shooting is done from the standing position, with 40 shots fired for score. The equipment and air rifles used are of Olympic quality.

Earning medals for the Sharp Shooters in both sporter and precision classes was James Simpson, capturing golds in both. James also won top standing and kneeling medals in his sporter class. The team consisting of Andrew and James Simpson, Austin and Josh placed fourth out of nine teams.

"I am proud of how the kids performed at State. We are looking forward to next year." Darin Greunke said.

For more information on the Sharp Shooters 4-H Club and the 4-H shooting sports program contact Darin Greunke at (402) 286-4895 or the local extension office.

AN UPDATE FROM DAVE

The sun's out, but the the wind's blowing. They put up 70 feet of the long roof sheets yesterday. They're 150 ft. long, so we really need a calm day when they do this. There is probably about 30 more ft. and we will be done with that and the roofing will go a lot faster.

They are actually starting to pour the concrete floor this week also. Yesterday, they poured probably 1/3 of the Parts and Sales area, and they're getting ready to pour the Mezanine level in our Tool room. A lot of concrete work will be done in the next week, maybe two. Things are taking shape. It looks better every time I go in there.

We hope to be able to use the Shop area by the end of May. It won't be finished, but I think we'll be able to use it. It will take longer to finish the rest. I don't anticipate moving anything in until the middle of June.

We're almost to the end of getting planters ready to go. We have a drill yet to go. I know some people are in the field planting. We're doing service calls. It didn't snow as much in some areas as others so some people are going. I anticipate people to be going around here soon. We will be starting extended hours soon. There will be guys around when you need help next week. Our actual hours will be the same, but we will have people on call if they are needed. Sundays we will be there from 10 am to 3 pm.

We're still operating out of all the different places. You can still bring whatever you need to us to work on, and we'll take it to where we need to work on it.

We will have the net wrap for baling hay on hand, but if someone needs a big order, we will pick it up at a different location and bring it to them. For a small order, will have enough on hand.

Sharing thoughts on Easter activities

Call me old fashioned, many people have; I prefer the word, traditional. BUT, I found the juxtaposition of a bunch of pot heads in a public area in Denver smoking weed in the same paper as celebrations of Easter a little hard to take!

It seems that the date 4/20 has something to do with the movement to legalize the stuff, and they observed that date in the state that legalized the purchase this year. Some folks even flew in from Hawaii! That is mind boggling, and I mean that in a natural way, not the way that happens with ingesting marijuana.

There was a full-page ad from Hobby Lobby about the crucifixion and the resurrection, a half page from Scheels on the same subject. There was a photo of Pope Francis washing the feet of elderly and disabled in a care facility. Easter lilies were banked at the front of our worship area. The brass choir really belted it out. As usual, all in the congregation who had ever sung the Hallelujah chorus were invited to come up and sing with us. I messed up in the usual places, but there were so many voices, no one noticed.

In the e-mail last night came a young woman singing Easter lyrics to Leonard Cohen's composition,

By: Pat Meierhenry

Hallelujah. I had read an editorial last year wishing for Christian lyrics to this song, and here they are; you can Google them.

And all the while, there are a bunch of fools in Colorado smoking pot! There have already been deaths involving marijuana cookies. I have a hunch this law will come back to bite our neighbors to the west. And meanwhile, also, our law enforcement in the Panhandle is having to deal with all the illegal transportation.

Tomorrow, I'm scheduled to present my talk on Humor downtown at the big Methodist church for their ladies group. As you can imagine, after 40 years, I pretty well have the jokes down pat. And the only thing worse than a poor joke is the poor telling.

Hence, when I wrote about the one I heard in Murdock at the Joy of Music night, I was embarrassed to see I goofed on the punch line. You know, the one about the three ministers who got together to sponsor a revival. When it was all over, one was bragging about four new members, the second actually had gained six. The third, the Baptist guy, was supposed to say they got rid of 10 trouble makers. BUT, I wrote they only lost six. This meant the joke was not very funny.

Plus, things like this always make me wonder where my brain is? My friend, Mary, and I had coffee and a scone at Panera today and agreed that this stuff is getting to be all too common. Nothing to do but laugh about it, and that's what I intend to do. I'm even going to laugh about those crazy people who don't know how to observe Easter; it's their loss!

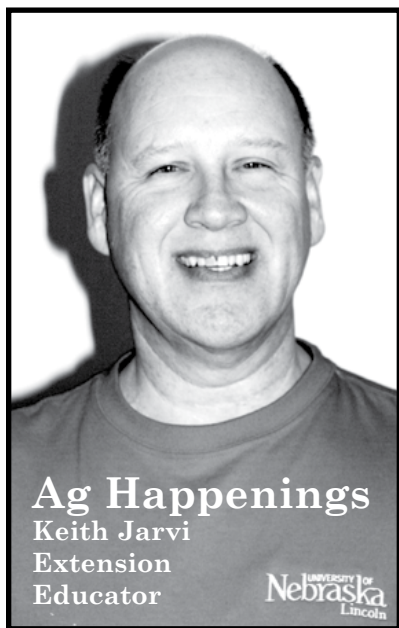

Patience required while planting

It's finally time to start working on our lawn, gardens, and in our crop fields.

Well, the forecast for the next 7-10 days indicates that we will still have below normal temperatures. You all know what that means. When the weather does warm up and dry out, farmers are going to feel rushed, and there is going to be a lot of farm equipment out in the fields and on the road so we all need to be extra aware when driving, whether it be a car or a piece of farm machinery.

Patience will be very important for the next few weeks. Farm equipment is getting bigger all the time and takes up a lot of space on the highway and roads. Make sure when you come up on a tractor and planter that you have plenty of time and space to go around it. Maybe leave a few minutes earlier for work than normal. Drive defensively; farmers tend to work extra hours during planting and fatigue is often a factor in farm accidents. We like to advise farmers to get the rest they need to be alert, but I think you all know that that doesn't always happen. So once again, please, everyone be aware of our planting situation and drive defensively.

Speaking of safety, we will be having tractor safety training here at the Haskell Ag Lab on May 28 and 29. Federal law prohibits youth under 16 years of age from working on a farm other than their parents.

Ag Happenings

Certification through the course grants an exemption to the law allowing 14- and 15-year-olds to drive a tractor and do field work with mechanized equipment.

Alfalfa should be greening up in most areas. At least those plants that survived the winter. Alfalfa usually comes through the winter in pretty good shape in our area, so rarely do I worry much about it. And I hope we will avoid serious losses this year.

But some fields went into winter in weakened shape because of the dry summer. And, the lack of snow cover this winter could have permitted cold injury. Or more likely, it enabled cold, dry winter winds to dry out and kill some exposed plants.

Evaluate your own stands early this spring. Older, dryland fields that have fewer than 30 new shoots per square foot coming from two or three plants may need to be rotated soon to a different crop and new fields planted to alfalfa. Very productive sites, such as irrigated and sub-irrigated fields, should have at least 40 shoots per square foot from 4-6 plants. Anything less is a strong candidate for rotation. We tend to lose about one tenth of a ton in yield potential for every shoot below these numbers.

Check for these densities in several areas of your fields when the early shoots are 4-6 inches tall. Since some shoots begin growing later than others, stands with enough plants but slightly low shoot density may be alright, especially if shoot height and distribution is fairly uniform. But, if plant density is low, or shoot growth is not uniform, yields probably will be lowered.

Check your alfalfa stands as growth begins. Then you will still have time to make any needed changes in your cropping plans.

This Arbor Day, follow these tips for planting new seedling trees

Arbor Day — a day to remind us of the beauty and usefulness of trees and oftentimes a day to plant a new tree — is April 25 in Nebraska.

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension/Nebraska Forest Service forester Dennis Adams says each year more than 1 million tree and shrub seedlings are planted in Nebraska.

These trees are used for windbreaks, wildlife habitat, watershed protection, wood products and other conservation purposes. Conservation tree and shrub seedlings are typically small, bare-root, 1 to 2 years old, and about 12 inches tall.

The best season to plant conservation trees in Nebraska is spring, from about mid-March after the frost is out of the ground, until about mid-May, when it often starts to become hot and dry, which is what makes Arbor Day the perfect time to plant a tree, Adams said.

If planting a seedling this year, ideally it should be planted the same day it is received from the nursery, Adams said.

"However, oftentimes, weather and busy schedules postpone planting," he said. "The best conditions for planting are cool, humid, cloudy days. However, if planting has to be done when it is hot and/or windy, planting in early morning or evening provides the best conditions for handling seedlings."

Care should begin as soon as the seedlings are received from the nursery. The box, bag, or other shipping container should be opened and the seedlings inspected.

If the seedlings are in good condition, plant them as soon as possible. Always keep the seedlings moist and cool during storage, transport and planting. Never allow the roots to dry or overheat. Although tree roots need moisture to survive, they also need air. Don't store seedlings in a bucket of water. If seedlings can't be planted the same day, a cold storage unit or home refrigerator, which maintains a temperature of 34 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit, is ideal for maintaining dormancy of the seedlings.

Since most people do not have access to a walk-in cooler or don't want to store tree seedlings next to the leftovers in the home refrigerator, the next best place to temporarily store seedlings is in a cool, shaded location, like a cellar or basement, that doesn't experience temperature extremes.

If seedlings are to be planted in less than seven to 10 days, leave them in the shipping box. Don't allow them to freeze or overheat. Check the seedlings daily and keep the roots moist, but allow for drainage of excess water. If seedlings must be stored for more than seven to 10 days, and cold storage is not available, the last resort may be to "heel in" seedlings in the ground. Heeling-in involves temporarily planting seedlings in a v-shaped trench in a cool, shaded location until they can be transplanted.

When it is time to plant seedlings, they should be protected from wind and sun during transport and at the planting site. Before planting, make sure the roots and tops are not damaged and keep the roots moist.

During actual planting it is critical to protect the roots from drying. Even less than a minute of exposure can kill fragile roots. During planting it is OK to carry small quantities of seedlings in a bucket of water, but don't keep the roots in water for more than an hour.

Good site/soil preparation should occur well in advance, preferably the fall before planting. Mellow, friable soil is the best condition to plant seedlings into.

Regardless of whether seedlings are hand planted in a planting hole or machine planted in a furrow, the seedlings should be planted at the same depth, or slightly deeper, than they grew in the nursery. Planting too shallow or too deep may drastically affect survival. To prevent future problems, the planting hole or furrow should be deep enough to accommodate the root system without J-rooting.

Lastly, firm the soil around the seedling to prevent air pockets. It is always beneficial to water seedlings after planting to settle the soil and create a moist soil environment for the new roots.

CARROLL VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Carroll, Nebraska
April 9, 2014

Board of Trustees for the Village of Carroll met in regular session on the above date with the following members present: Mark Tietz, Michael Staub, Diana Davis, and Kirby Hall. Board member Scott Hurlbert was absent. Also present were Dale Bohac, JEO Consulting Group, Jesse Milligan, maintenance, Jamie Muhs, Village clerk, Clayton Bratcher, and several Village of Carroll residents.

Mark Tietz, Chairperson, opened the meeting and pointed out the open meetings act.

Motion was made by Diana Davis and seconded by Michael Staub to approve the minutes of the March 12th meeting. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Bills presented were as follows: Jamie Muhs, salary, 400.00; Jamie Muhs, Office supplies, 137.51; George Ellyson, salary, 25.00; Irene Inman, salary, 58.00; Jesse Milligan, salary, 450.00; Adam Junk, salary, 559.28; Adam Junk, mileage, 259.34; Waste Connections of NE., sanitation, 2261.68; Northeast NPPD, 928.13; Eastern Nebraska Telephone, E911, 165.77; Eastern Nebraska Telephone, lagoon, 41.87; American Broadband, 103.11; Farmer's State Bank, loan, 334.40; Nebraska Public Health Environmental Lab., water, 15.00; City of Wayne, 126.67; Wayne Herald, 84.38; Kevin Davis (snow removal, 250.00; Post Office (postage), 98.00; One Call Concepts, 3.00; Nebraska Dept of Revenue, 308.94; Wayne County Clerk, police quarterly, 1374.00; Farmer's State bank, loan, 4892.61; Carroll Fire Department, 350.00; IRS 941 Quarterly, 741.75; Appera, 83.79

Motion was made by Kirby Hall and seconded by Diana Davis to approve payment of bills as presented. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

The Board discussed the use of the Community Hall with members of the Women's Club, the American Legion, and the Ladies Auxiliary about monthly meetings. The members of each organization agreed to help with fundraising events for any maintenance that must be done to the Community Hall. A fundraising event may be planned for help in constructing a new roof for the Community Hall. The Board thanked the members of the organizations for attending the meeting and offering their help in the upkeep. A motion was made by Diana Davis and seconded by Michael Staub to allow community meetings and fundraising events for building maintenance to be exempt from monthly fees. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Clayton Bratcher approached the Board due to his running for the office of Wayne County Sheriff. He asked the Board if there were concerns he could address to make communications between the Village of Carroll and the Sheriff's office better, should he be elected.

Dale Bohac, JEO Consulting Group, addressed the Board with progress of building a new water tower for the Village. The site of the existing water tower was inspected by Rich Koenig of the State of Nebraska. There were several violations close to the site that will require the Village to find a new location for the well. Dale received bids for a geographical survey of the site. A motion was made by Kirby Hall and seconded by Michael Staub to approve the bid by CTS for a geographical survey of his site. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Dale also received bids to drill a test hole for the well design. A motion was made by Michael Staub and seconded by Kirby Hall to accept the bid submitted by Sargent drilling for the drilling of a test hole. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

The Board was required by the State of Nebraska to make a decision to put the Village on permanent chlorination for the water distribution system. The Village would need JEO to submit drawings and specs for the chlorination feed system within 30 days. A motion was made by Diana Davis and seconded by Kirby Hall to voluntarily put the water distribution system on permanent chlorination. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Chairperson Mark Tietz has been in contact with Vicki Sherman from the USDA Rural Development concerning an Earth Day event for the Village of Carroll. Diana Davis will partner with the Wayne Community Schools to hold a poster contest in honor of Earth Day. The theme for the poster will be "Wonders of Water," and will be open to children in the Wayne Elementary School.

Two winners will be chosen from the two categories, Kindergarten through 3rd grade and 4th through 6th grade. The winners will be transported to Carroll to help the Board and officials of the USDA Rural Development plant a tree or shrub by the Community Hall.

A motion was made by Kirby Hall and seconded by Diana Davis to return the Auditorium deposit for a March 30th event. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried.

The Board would like to thank Northeast Nebraska Public Power for a donation made to the Carroll Fire Department.

A letter of thanks was read to the Board from the Wayne County 4H Sharp Shooters Club for the use of the Auditorium for practice. The Sharp Shooters also contributed $100 for the use of the Auditorium. The Board thanked the Club for the contribution.

Outstanding utility bills were discussed. It was decided that collection letters would be sent out with a shut off date of April 23th, 2014.

A motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Diana Davis and seconded by Kirby Hall. Roll call vote. Aye-4. Nay-0. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9:36 p.m.

Next regular meeting is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. at the Community Hall on May 14th, 2014.

Wayne, Nebraska April 15, 2014 The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:15 a.m. on Tuesday, April 15, 2014 in the upstairs meeting room of the Courthouse.

Roll call was answered by Chairman Burbach, Members Larson and Rabe, and Clerk Finn. Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on April 3, 2014.

A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted in the meeting room and accessible to the public. The agenda was approved. The minutes of the April 1, 2014, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

Phil Lorenzen of D.A. Davidson & Co. told the board that interest rates on their proposed bond issuance have dropped a ½ point. The board anticipates opening bids on three culvert projects and four bridge projects in May. Lorenzen was authorized to proceed with the paperwork for a 2.5 million-highway allocation bond with a repayment period of 12 years. Road improvement districts will be created for the issuance of the remaining bonds.

Sheriff Janssen received notification that the State Patrol would not be accepting the county's offer to use the basement of the court services building as an office. There were issues with the county needing access to the storage areas in the basement. As a result, the board decided against continuing with the painting project for the proposed office area of the basement. Culvert bids were opened for Project C-90(581) located between 860 and 861 Rd on 560 Ave; Project C-90(601), located between 848 and 849 Rd on 565 Ave; and Project C-90(602), located between 850 and 851 Rd on 564 Ave. Motion by Rabe, second by Larson to accept the bid of $67,698.90 submitted by B's Enterprises. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

Right-of-Way Application #14-04.01, submitted by Pierce Telephone Company, to place fiber optic cable between 558 and 560 Ave on 857 Rd, was approved on motion by Rabe, second by Larson. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

Right-of-Way Application #14-04.02, submitted by American Broadband, to run fiber optic cable along Chiefs Way to Grossenbrog Implement was approved on motion by Larson, second by Rabe. Roll call vote: Larson-aye, Rabe-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

Right-of-way Application #14-04.03, submitted by Douglas P. Nelson, for Keith Fiscus to run power to a pivot east and south of 855 Rd and 572 Ave, was approved on motion by Larson, second by Rabe. Roll call vote: Larson-aye, Rabe-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

Participation in HRRR-STWD (128) C.N. 00913, a grant program for bridge & culvert object markers is no longer available. The county can submit an application to the High Risk Rural Roads Committee for consideration. Additional information regarding an application for flexible project object markers and breakaway posts will be sought.

Motion by Rabe, second by Larson, to recommend to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission that the application for John P. Williams to serve as manager for the Wayne County Agricultural Society's liquor license IK-093293 be approved. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried.

An on-site monitoring visit and equipment inventory survey for the State Homeland Security Grant/Emergency Management Performance Grant was conducted by NEMA on April 9, 2014. The county needs to have an annual written performance review of the Emergency Manager on file. Two examples of forms that can be used were received.

ESU grants to update links with NECC

Educational Service Units (ESUs) in Northeast and North Central Nebraska have been awarded a grant to further their distance learning capabilities.

USDA Rural Development Nebraska State Director Maxine Moul visited Neligh recently to present officials of ESU No. 8 a certificate recognizing the $287,442 grant to upgrade its distance learning equipment between 30 schools and Northeast Community College. It is part of $1.2 million in funding awarded to several ESUs in the state.

Moul said the grant will allow students to be able to take advance placement classes, dual credit classes, and job skills training. "It is essential to expand distance learning so as to expand education to our students. It is with great pleasure Rural Development is able to assist in the ESU's distance learning efforts," she said. "The ability of this particular grant to help students in these ESUs gain college credit through Northeast Community College is another wonderful advantage of distance learning. It's great to see how this opens the world to our children."

"ESU No. 8 is honored and humbled to receive this grant. This will be a benefit to all districts involved and Northeast Community College," said Bill Mowinkel, ESU No. 8 administrator. "We applaud the efforts of our own Molly Aschoff and Mary Gurney in the preparation and submission of this grant application. Thanks also goes out to USDA Rural Development in recognizing the need to extend and expand educational opportunities to rural Northeast Nebraska."

Aschoff, who serves as the distance learning coordinator for ESU No. 8, said this grant will also reach schools in ESU No. 17, which includes schools in Ainsworth, Bassett, Cody-Kilgore, Springview and Valentine, as well as Knox County schools served by ESU No. 1. "We have students here in Neligh taking classes through the Manhattan School of Music in New York City. We also had 11 local Vietnam veterans here send a program out to our schools this past fall on Veterans Day."

Aschoff said distance learning technology has also allowed everyone from local day care providers to dental hygienists get their service and continuing education hours. "The equipment is not only for our schools, we reach out to our communities a well. There are no longer boundaries thanks to distance learning," she said.

"We appreciate the work of the staff of ESU No. 8 in successfully obtaining this grant," said Dr. Michael Chipps, president of Northeast, who was also on hand for Moul's presentation. "This is really a wonderful opportunity for us to grow and expand our operations with the schools you serve. Thank you for including us in the great work you continue to do."
