The change in the city code will result in the city's requirements matching those of the state and federal election laws.

In other agenda items, Sandy Brown with the Wayne

Green Team, gave an update on activities that have been conducted by the group. She told the council that statistics indicate each person in the U.S. produces 4 1/2 pounds of garbage each day and in Nebraska, 50 percent of the trash that ends

The city will share costs with the county to repair a bridge north of the Wayne Airport, following the passage of a resolution for the interlocal agreement.

Portions of the bridge were damaged in the Oct. 4, 2013 tornado and the county was preparing to replace the bridge when the city annexed a portion of the bridge and surrounding property into the city to allow for future expansion at the airport.

The exact cost and extent of the repair is not known at this time, as additional work may be required on a

County, city to split on bridge repair

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

The Wayne County Commissioners decided Tuesday to go ahead with repair of a bridge that sits on both city and county property and split the cost with the City of Wayne.

The bridge, located on 857th Road just west of 578th Avenue, became a city-county issue when the city annexed the Stan Morris Airport earlier this year. A meeting last week between the city and the county was an opportunity for the two sides to determine whether to repair the bridge or go ahead with initial plans of the county to replace the structure, with the county ultimately approving a resolution to move ahead with plans to repair the bridge and split costs with the county.

The move will save both entities a significant amount of money. With replacement costs estimated at more than $500,000, the repair project is expected to cost about $107,388, according to numbers made available to The Wayne Herald. With FEMA taking care of 87.5 percent of the repair costs, the remaining $16,108.20 will be split evenly between the city and the county, according to county clerk Deb Finn.

The county approved removing the project for the list of bonded bridge projects and replaced it with the Gilliland bridge on 574th avenue, located one-third of a mile south of 854th Road. The interlocal agreement was also approved by the Wayne City Council.

The county also approved an agreement with Pictometry International Corporation that would allow the company to fly over the county and take high-resolution images that could be used in the county and City of Wayne's GIS mapping systems. The mapping system allows the county to use the images as overlays for electrical, gas and water lines, along with locations of bridges, school and fire district boundaries and other map-related setups.

The agreement was expected to be part of an interlocal agreement with the City of Wayne to share costs and images, with the county picking up more than $46,000 of the $56,372.50 cost. The county board unanimously approved the agreement, but the City Council did not take action on the measure Tuesday.

In other action, the board:

approved lodging tax grant applications for the Wayne Booster Club ($1,000), Carroll Volunteer Fire Department ($250) and two for the Winside Q125 committee ($1,000 and $500).

 authorized the payment of $12,000 to Daryl Hahn of Carroll for an undertermined amount of land to purchase right of way space for a bridge project.

 authorized Dean Burbach to sign a Board of Classifications and Standards form for the county's inventory report.

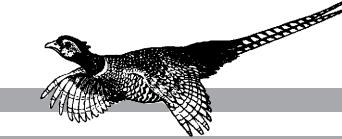

- went over building plans for the weed department shed and county road sheds and authorized solicitation of bids for building shells, with the county building the interior and subcontracting for electrical and plumbing work.

LINCOLN - November's election ballot will include a number of big decisions for Nebraskans. In addition to electing federal, state and local office holders, voters will decide on Nov. 4 whether to increase Nebraska's minimum wage.

The minimum wage increase initiative has been a hotly debated topic among Nebraskans and is separate from a proposed federal increase. The proposed federal increase would raise the hourly wage from $7.25 to $10.10 over two years. The proposed Nebraska increase would raise hourly wages to $9 by January 2016.

Clear-cut answers to questions about the minimum wage proposal are hard to come by, but here are some basics:

Q: How did the question get on the ballot? A: Sen. Jeremy Nordquist of Omaha introduced a bill in January to raise the minimum wage but it failed to win legislative approval. Supporters collected enough voters' signatures to get it on the ballot. The initiative would incrementally move the hourly wage from $7.25 to $9 by January 2016.

Q: What groups are promoting the minimum

A: Nebraskans for Better Wages is the princiole organization pushing for the minimum wage hike. Democratic gubernatorial candidate Chuck Hassebrook and several other individuals and groups have also approved the initiative.

Q: What groups are opposing the minimum

A: Gov. Dave Heineman and GOP gubernatorial candidate Pete Ricketts are among those who have spoken out against the minimum wage initiative. The Nebraska Taxpayers for Freedom also issued an opposition statement.

Q: What does each side say the impact will be on job loss/job creation?

A: Supporters of the initiative say the increase will boost the economy with increased spending and create approximately 400 full-time jobs in Nebraska. Supporters also say that the increase will help bring families above the poverty line. The Nebraska Taxpayers for Freedom argues that a higher minimum wage would mean hour federally, there would be a .06 percent inwork force cuts and reduced hours for workers. crease in unemployment, or about 100,000 jobs. The group argues that retailers will employ machines that could do the job more efficiently than higher paid human employees.

Q: What proportion of Nebraska wage earners are paid just the minimum wage?

A: Nearly one out of six workers in Nebraska earns the minimum wage, according to Nebraskans for Better Wages.

Q: What would be the impact of a minimum wage increase on tipped workers?

A: According to Nebraskans for Better Wages, the wage increase wouldn't directly affect people who work under a tipped wage. Sen. Danielle Conrad of Lincoln said employees would rely on their customers to cover the gap between the $2.13 hourly tipped wage in order to make the $9. If employees don't meet minimum wage with tips, the cost then falls to the employer to cover the difference, just as the system works now.

Q: Didn't the minimum wage used to be worth a lot more than it is now?

A: Nebraskans for Better Wages says that an average minimum-wage employee who works 40 hours a week makes $15,080 a year, which isn't enough to cover the cost of living today. The organization also says that, had the minimum kept up with inflation, workers would be receiving $10.56 an hour instead of the current $7.25.

Q: What's the relationship between the federal minimum wage and state minimum wages?

A: The federal hourly minimum wage is $7.25. Nineteen states have a minimum wage higher than the federal, and three states are below the federal level. The higher wage, whether state or federal, is the wage that supersedes. So, for the three states lower than the federal level-- Arkansas, Georgia and Wyoming--the federal wage is the one that applies.

Q: How does an increase in the minimum wage ripple through the economy?

A: Supporters of the increase say it will have a positive effect on the economy. They say that to $7.25. Only 8 percent of the managers surthe higher pay will result in increased consumer spending, stimulating the economy and allowing businesses to grow. A Congressional Budget Office report says if the wage were raised to $9 an rent employees.

On the other hand, the report says that 7.6 million workers would see an increase in pay Q: Does a higher minimum wage create disincentives for people to acquire more job skills so they can get higher-paying jobs?

A: Opponents of the initiative, like Gov. Dave Heineman, say that there should be more of an emphasis on job and skill training, not raising the wage. Heineman said giving employees better training and skills will allow them to obtain jobs with higher pay. Other opponents argue that the minimum wage is intended for lowerskilled, entry-level workers and that employers are investing in the minimum-wage workers' de-

Q: What actually happened to job creation/ job losses the last time the minimum wage was

A: When it comes to job creation and job loss stemming from previous minimum wage increases, economists are at odds as to what the impact really was. Some reports say that jobs were lost while others say that there was little impact. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce cites studies that argue that minimum wage increases hurt jobs and small businesses. Nebraskans for Better Wages point to studies that say just

Q: Just how exactly would an employer decide between raising pay for workers and firing people to comply with a higher minimum wage?

A: Studies disagree on exactly how businesses would be affected by a higher minimum wage, but research has explored how some businesses deal with changes. In a Georgia State University study, managers of fast-food restaurants in Georgia and Alabama were surveyed about whether they were taking any steps to offset increased labor costs from July 2007 to July 2009 when the hourly minimum wage was increased veved said they would reduce staff to cover higher labor costs. Thirty-eight percent of managers said they would increase skills training of cur-

Bucks for books

Erin Palu, manager of the Wayne Runza (right) presents a check to Julie Osnes, youth services librarian at Wayne Public Library. The money represents the proceeds from the Great Books for Great Kids promotion conducted by Runza earlier this fall. More than $400 was raised locally and will be used to purchase a variety of materials at the library. Osnes said that this year's amount is the largest in the history of the promotion and thanked the community for its support of the event.

Wayne Public Library will sponsor a Saturday morning "Junk in the Trunk" sale in the parking lot of the Library/ Senior Center on

"Mother Nature promises this date to be one of the last great days of the fall season," said Rita McLean, adult services librarian. "Our plan is to create a venue for people who want to sell items from the trunk of their car."

The event will be held from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. and open to the first 35 cars to reserve a spot. Each seller will be responsible for their car, their treasures (vintage junk),

Set-up will begin at 8 a.m., and all the cars must be in place by 8:45 a.m., when the parking lot will be closed, allowing only foot traffic in the sale area. There is space for 35 cars to set up "shop." Selection for the sale sites for cars will be on a first-come, first-serve basis. All "junk trunks" need to be in the parking lot, saving streetside parking for library patrons.

A trunk of books for sale, and Saturday story time at 10:30 a.m. will be part of the morning's activities inside the library.

Junk Jaunts have become part of the fall season, and sales, such as this, can be characterized as a "green" event in our world of recycling, reusing, and repurposing. The library is always looking for opportunities to be a service to our community.

This as a fun time to turn your junk into someone else's treasure. Cut-off date to reserve a space will be 6 p.m., closing time at the library, on Friday, Oct. 31. If it is raining on the sale date, the sales will be cancelled.

Having somebody like that hanging out with the team certainly doesn't hurt, Wayne High coach Rob Sweetland said.

"She's always had a great calmness about her and she's very positive with the girls," he said. "It's nice having an All-American sitting in your dugout, even though she can't suit up anymore."

Hill's dad, Kevin, is the pitching coach for the Blue Devils, and he would always keep his daughter updated on the team's efforts. She had only seen the team play once at state while she was going to school, and decided this year to come down and see them in person.

She was there for all three games on Thursday and hopes to see the team finish things off Friday and win a state title for the first time since her phenomenal senior season.

> "They're a very resilient and great-hitting team and they're really fun to watch," Hill said. "Hannah (Belt) is doing great. I talked to her a little about some things and she's really good at making adjustments. It would be so much fun to see them win it."

the Wayne Elementary School was debated at length during Tuesday's meeting, with numerous opinions being shared.

Council member Matt Eischied said "A four-way stop will not help. People will be upset. I think we are over-reacting.'

Mayor Ken Chamberlain said, currently, three of the corners are being manned by school staff and a Wayne police officer each morning. He said he felt stop signs would be more cost effective.

Street every morning to drop off her children at school, said "I agree with Matt (Eschied). This is not where the accidents are happening."

Wayne Police Chief Marlen Chinn said he often directs traffic in the morning and since he began doing this, "the students have gone from not talking to me at all to giving me high fives and talking to me. It has definitely been a positive for our department. We are no longer 'scary policemen."

Council members and Mayor Council member Jennifer Siev- Chamberlain plan to contact school ers, who said she travels on Douglas officials to discuss the situation and determine a course of action that will make the area as safe as possible for the students.

Council members also saw a demonstration of the new GIS mapping system that the city will be using. Brian Kesting and Joel Hansen explained the new system and the benefits to the city and those who use the information.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Nov. 4 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Not a good bet, but a good finish

I'm not one to promote gambling on high school sports, but when the just-completed softball season started two months ago, how much would you have been willing to bet me that the Wayne High softball team would win 30 games and a conference title, be the top seed at state and finish third in Class C?

Would you have bet $10? $100? $1,000? The car, the house and your spouse's 401K?

Looking back to the beginning of the season, it was hard to believe that this year's team would actually accomplish each of those goals this

It's not that these girls aren't talented. Certainly, with all of them having played in the Dirt Devils summer program, they are certainly capable softball players. Add that to the history of the Blue Devil softball program, and a winning record and a deep run in districts was almost a certainty.

But when you look at the starting lineup this year and compare it to last year, it's like Wayne High had started an expansion team. Five of the nine starters were brand new faces to the starting lineup, including three freshmen. Of the four returning players, three were in different positions from the previous year. The only constant from last year to this year was in the pitcher's circle with sophomore Hannah Belt.

Three freshmen, four sophomores (two starters and one who didn't play softball last season), one junior and one senior? That's not the usual formula of success for a team that accomplished what this team did this season.

Of course, we knew that Abbie leading big hitters from last year, would contribute at the plate. But who would have guessed we'd also see the long ball from Kortney Keller – who didn't play last year – and Ashten Gibson, who doesn't look like a power hitter, but sure swings a bat like one?

Then you throw in the contributions of some of the freshmen, like Jenna Trenhaile, Kennedy Maly and Jamie Gamble. All three are softball-savvy young players who grew into their positions this year and have Wayne High softball fans looking forward to what these three contribute to the future of the softball program.

Add to that the experience of sophomores like starter Kiara Hochstein and reserves Taylor Gamble (who battled through a variety of illness-related issues to contribute off the bench), Rylee Bessmer, Sierra Scardino and Jacqueline Sherman, and you have the makings of a softball program that isn't going to have to use the term "rebuilding year" for some time to come.

It seems funny to call Schaefer a grizzled veteran, since she still has a year left, but she and Hix provided some outstanding leadership that is expected of upperclassmen. And while we're talking about senior leadership, we can't forget about Maddie Morris, who was a part-time starter and came up with some huge hits during the Blue Devils' state tournament run this past week.

This year's team, which had a lot of unknowns and question marks heading into the season, put together an outstanding campaign by going 30-8 and finishing third in Class C. Of their eight losses, seven are to teams who made the state tournament. Taking those seven defeats into account, one came at the hands of Blair, who finished fourth in Class B; another came to the eventual Class B champion (Elkhorn) and the other five were at the hands of their arch rivals – and Class C champion - Guardian Angels Cen-

Wayne girls take C-3 title, Hoskins 12th

You can't be anything but optimistic about your team's chances for a state title after a finish like the Wayne High girls' came up with in the C-3 district cross country meet Thursday at the Wayne Country

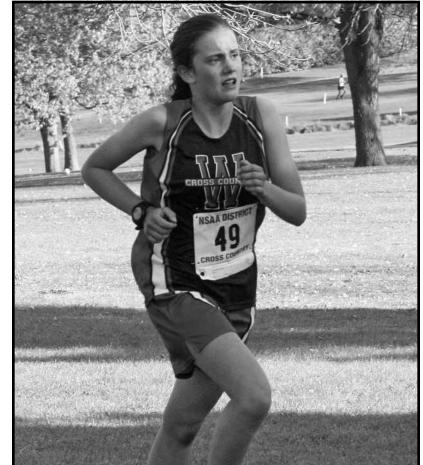

Running on their home course, the Blue Devils went 1-2-3 and added an 18th place finish to offset Boone Central/Newman Grove's five-medal finish to give Wayne the district title and the inside track in what should be a tight team race at this week's state meet in Kearney.

HASTINGS – When the 2014 fall softball season started, coach Rob Sweetland wasn't sure his young Wayne High softball team would have what it takes to be in the hunt for a state title.

With eight new faces on defense including three starters from last year's state runner-up team in new positions - the thought that the Blue Devils would come up one game short of repeating last year's run to the finals seemed a little far-

However, after losing to Guardian Angels Central Catholic for the second time in the Class C State Softball Championships to bow out of the tournament Friday morning, Sweetland said the team's thirdplace finish was a pretty nice finish for a team that grew up considerably in two short months.

"It's one of my most fulfilling seasons as a coach with all the youth we have," he said after his team's 9-4 loss to the Bluejays, who went on to win the Class C state title. "I

Wild comeback falls short, 52-48

What could have been one of the wildest comebacks in Wayne State history fell short in the final sec-

Wayne State trailed by 28 points at halftime and made an amazing second-half comeback, only to see Augustana come away with some last-second heroics to steal a thrilling 52-48 outcome Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

After a scoreless first quarter, the two competing quarterbacks Wayne State's Zach Osborn and Augustana's Trey Heid – put on a passing clinic for the ages.

First it was Heid, who tied an NCAA Div. II record by throwing five touchdown passes in the second period. Two of those scores came off Wayne State turnovers and helped the Vikings sprint into the locker room with a 35-7 halftime advan-

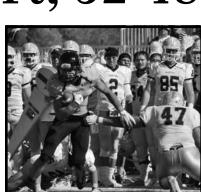

The Vikings scored first on a 20-yard pass from Heid to Matt Gerry. Wayne State answered with a six-yard scoring run by Chad Koch, but it was all Augustana after that as Heid threw four more touchdown passes, two each to Matt Heller and Charlie Hayes.

The first Heid-to-Heller hookup was a controversial one, as it appeared to everyone - with the exception of the officials – that Heller pushed a Wayne State defender with two hands before clearing himself to receive Heid's 23-yard score. The second, which followed a Wayne State fumble, saw Heller all alone after a Wildcat defender tripped and fell during pursuit, giving the Vikings a 21-7 lead.

Heid then hooked up on pass plays of 23 and 15 yards to Charlie Hayes, and a missed Wayne State field goal led the Vikings to a 35-7 halftime lead that looked to be all but wrapped up at intermission.

Enter Osborn, who had a huge second half and got some help from defense and special teams to mount the amazing comeback. Osborn first found Adam Stark on a 38-yard pass play to cut the deficit to 35-13. Wayne State's special teams then followed when Nick Roth blocked a punt and recovered it in the end zone, giving Wayne State new life as they trailed 35-20. After an Augustana field goal, the Wildcats struck again when Roth caught an 18-yard pass from Osborn to make it 38-27 going to the fourth quarter.

Augustana caught a break early in the fourth quarter when Dajon Newell fumbled near the Wildcat goal line. The ball was recovered by Hayes to give Augustana a 45-27 lead, but Wayne State wasn't done

Osborn made his third passing touchdown of the day count on a 17-yard connection with Marcel Dunson to cut the deficit to 45-34, and the defense came up big on the next Augustana possession when Chase Samuel forced a fumble that was picked up by Abram Walker. Walker rumbled in from six yards out to make it 45-40 with 8:21 to go.

After Augustana pinned Wayne State at its own 1-yard line on a punt with less than four minutes to go, the Wildcats put together an amazing 99-yard drive that helped complete the comeback.

The big play in the drive was on fourth-and-10 from the Vikings 42-yard line. Osborn found Stark for 33 yards to give Wayne State a first-and-goal. Two plays later, Koch found the end zone for his second score of the night, and Osborn hit Joe Trouba for a two-point conversion pass to give Wayne State a 48-45 lead with 1:12 to go.

That was just enough time for the Vikings to steal victory from the 30 games, but it's a credit to these girls and how hard they've worked in the offseason and this season."

After starting the tournament Wednesday morning with an emphatic 11-2 win over Central City, the Blue Devils faced their conference and district nemesis for the seventh time in 15 days, and a rough first inning seemed to pave the way for how things would go between Wayne and Guardian Angels Central Catholic in the tournament.

In a game that many experts would decide one half of the finals field, GACC took advantage of eight Wayne errors and nine walks by Hannah Belt to move on in the winner's bracket with a 13-5 win over the Blue Devils, dropping Wayne into the elimination bracket where they would need to keep winning in order to keep playing.

Wayne's defense came unraveled early and never really recovered. Belt gave up just three hits in the game, all of them home runs that came after Wayne had committed errors on defense.

"Nothing went right. It was really hard to watch," Wayne coach Rob Sweetland said after the game. "You feel bad because it was a game the girls really wanted bad, and we made an error early and if we make that play, it's probably a totally different ball game. That first error seemed to rattle everybody.'

The Wayne bats showed signs of life in the second-round defeat. Maddie Morris had an RBI double, scoring Jamie Gamble; and she and Jenna Trenhaile scored on basesloaded walks to highlight a threerun inning that got the Blue Devils within two runs of the Bluejays at Wayne didn't have an answer for GACC's big bats, particularly Lauren Wobken, who hit a pair of home runs in the Thursday win, including a two-run shot in the second that gave GACC a 7-3 lead. Wobken had a monster tournament, finishing with four home runs, 17 RBI's and a .562 tournament batting average.

Wayne was limited to four hits in the loss to GACC, including singles by Abbie Hix, Ashten Gibson and Trenhaile. Only five of the 12 runs given up by Belt in four innings of work were earned.

Wayne avoided elimination immediately following the loss to the Bluejays, jumping on second-seeded Gothenburg with two runs in the second and third innings, then getting four more in th sixth to help them move on with a 9-2 win over the Swedes.

"It was good for them to see that the world," Sweetland said. "I was hits and no walks. worried because I knew Gothenburg was a good team, and that delay kind of helped loosen us up and come together and relax a little bit."

Soccer women earn first conference win

Wayne State finally cracked the ond goal of the season, to give the win column in conference women's soccer action this past week, getting a late goal to beat Concordia-St. Paul for their first NSIC win of the 2014 season.

Senior forward McKenna Adams scored on a header off a corner kick with 1:06 remaining to give Wayne State a thrilling 3-2 win at Concordia-St. Paul Sunday afternoon. It was the first league win for the Wildcats.

Despite being outshot 8-4 in the first half, the Wildcats made the most of their four shots by scoring two goals for a 2-0 advantage at intermission. Alex Mathers found the back of the net at the 23:16 mark for her first goal of the season with an assist by Mallory Hoyt, and Wayne State scored again in the 14 minutes later when freshman Suenly Galves scored on a pass from Hoyt on a free kick to give the Wildcats

That lead disappeared quickly in the second half as Concordia-St. Paul scored two goals just 30 seconds apart in the 51st minute to even the score at 2-2. It would remain that way until the 88th minute, when Adams pushed a header off a Mallory Hoyt corner kick with just 1:06 left in the contest, her sec-

Wildcats the late victory.

Hoyt had two shots and assisted on all three goals to lead a balanced Wildcat effort offensively. Kylie Comba earned the win in net for the Wildcats, credited with four saves while allowing two goals.

The win came one day after a 7-0 humbling at the hands of topranked Minnesota State. The nation's top team racked up five second-half goals on their way to an easy shutout of the Wildcats in Mankato, Minn.

Minnesota State scored their first goal of the match in the 10th minute, courtesy of an unassisted goal by Kiana Nickel. Jessica Bowe added another first half goal in the 25th minute off of an assist from Rebecca

In the second half, the Mavericks peppered the Wildcat goal with shots and racked up five goals to finish off the blowout win. Minnesota State outshot Wayne State on the

No. 1 Cardinals too much for Blue Devils

Playing two of the top three fortable lead going into intermisteams in the state in consecutive sion. weeks was too much to handle for the Wayne High football team, as they dropped a 41-0 decision to topranked Boone Central/Newman through the third on a two-yard Grove in district action Friday at Memorial Stadium.

The Blue Devils were still reeling from last week's loss to thirdranked Norfolk Catholic as the Cardinals pulled into town for a district matchup. The Cardinals will be facing the Knights for a district title this week, and they got ready for that matchup by rolling up 490 yards in total offense against the Drew Davie led the ground game Blue Devil defense.

The Cardinals put up half of their scores in the opening period, scoring on the ground and on defense.

Boone Central opened with a 32-yard run by Wyatt Mazour on their opening drive to make it 6-0, then made it 14-0 on their next drive with an 11-yard run by Joseph Brugger and a two-point conversion

The Cardinal defense then stepped up on Wayne's next drive, intercepting a Zach Keating pass and returning it for a touchdown to make it 20-0 after one period.

The Cardinals added to their lead to make it 34-0 at intermission. Mazour hit Travis Kennedy for a 77-yard scoring strike, then called his own number on a 78-yard run midway through the period to put the Cardinals in front with a comWayne's defense slowed Boone Central down some in the second half. Mazour scored midway run, and that was all the visitors would need to come away with the easy win, dropping Wayne to 3-5 on the season.

Keating was 6-of-18 for 99 yards and was picked off four times by the Cardinal defense. Jack Belt caught three passes for 18 yards while Brook Bowers made two receptions for 50 yards for the Blue Devils. with 46 yards on 15 carries.

Defensively, Davie had 5.5 tackles, Cole Koenig had five and Bowers had four to lead the Blue Devils. Lucas Longe picked up 3.5 stops and Jordan Cliff had three. Reed Trenhaile had a quarterback sack and Jayse Munsell picked off a Boone Central pass.

The Blue Devils will close out the 2014 season at home on Friday, facing West Point-Beemer in a 7 p.m. clash at Memorial Stadium.

Allen running back Brian Boese had a big night for the Eagles in their 47-16 win over Winside.

Allen playoff hopes alive after 47-16 win day if they were going to entertain any thoughts of making the eight-

The Eagles got that much-needed mark in the win column, thanks to a big effort from running back Brian Boese, who helped the Eagles crank out almost 500 yards in total offense on their way to a 47-16 homecoming win over Winside in district action

"It was a very good effort by the team," Allen coach Dave Uldrich said of his team's win, which improved their record to 4-3 on the year and moved them into good position for the final 32-team field in Class D-2. "After the flat effort last week, we were in need of finding our identity again, and we did.

Friday at Allen Field.

The Eagles jumped on Boese's back as he ran wild on the Winside defense. His 272 yards on 23 carries included four touchdown runs, and his 280 vards in total offense was almost double the entire output of the Wildcats, who finished the night with 150 yards in total offense.

Boese scored two of his four touchdowns in the opening period, scoring on runs of 25 and 37 yards to help the Eagles build a 13-0 lead.

Caleb Thomas scored on a short run to make it 19-0 before the Wildcats got on the board through the air. Marcus Escalera found Zach Morris on a 14-yard touchdown pass midway through the period, and the two also connected on the two-point conversion to get Winside within 11 at 19-8 with 5:01 to go in the half.

It didn't take long for Allen to respond, as Boese took off on a 65-yard gallop for his third score of the game. He would add his fourth of the night late in the half after Thomas scored his second of the game, giving Allen a 39-8 halftime

The Eagles struck through the

ALLEN - Allen needed a win Friair midway through the third when Tayler Kumm found Wade Connot for a 59-yard scoring strike. Winside would get that score back midway through the fourth quarter Wayne State received five firstwhen Escalera called his own number on a six-yard run.

Kumm was 3-of-6 for 80 yards through the air for the Eagles, with Connot catching two passes for 72 yards. Caleb Thomas led the Allen defense with 15 tackles while Cody Thomas had eight.

For Winside, Escalera was 4-of-9 for 24 yards, with Morris his top receiver at three catches for 15 yards. Hayden King led the ground attack for the Wildcats with 83 yards on 16 carries. Defensively, Cory Shoff had 8.5 tackles, King had eight and Morris had seven to lead the 1-6

The win puts Allen in a good position to make the 32-team Class D-2 playoffs, and they can solidify their position Friday with a win at Bancroft-Rosalie.

"This was a game that will go a long way for next week," Uldrich said. "That game may or may not determine whether or not we get in, so we'll have to be prepared to give them our best effort and see what happens."

The Wildcats will close out the regular season at home Friday against Emerson-Hubbard. Allen 47, Winside 16

Fun 'pops' up at Wakefield Balloon Festival

Mackenzie Rewinkel and her mom, Ashley, were among those taking part in the parade on Saturday morning.

Members of the Wakefield Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts carried the flags to lead off this year's parade.

No parade is complete without bikes, balloons and candy and this year's Kiddie Parade was no exception.

Car enthusiasts of all ages check out the vehicles that were a part of this year's Car Show.

A number of vendors had items for sale up and down Main Street Saturday morning as part of this year's Street Fair.

A large number of Girl Scouts took part in the parade, handing out candy to all those came out to watch the event.

Saturday was a perfect day for the balloons to take off and enjoy a trip north into Dixon County, but windy conditions cancelled Sunday's planned launches.

Cub Scout popcorn was a hit at the Balloon Days, as the Scouts handed out popcorn during the parade and then had a display set up outside the Little Red Hen Theatre.

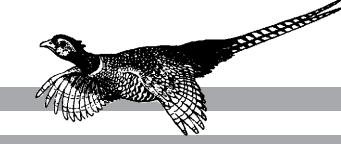

Jaxon Benscoter, Saul Hansen and Ryker Jensen had a circus theme entry, with the younger boys as a lion and an elephant in a cage.

LWML Fall Rally is held in Winside

Oct. 14 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside.

The theme for this year's rally was "I Am the Vine, You are the Branches." John 15:5.

A hymn sing was led by Pastor Goodman of St. Paul's in Winside. He also led the opening devotion entitled "How are we doing?" Our culture judges us on our financial success, our popularity, and our general status. Have we lost Jesus? Are working to be something that we are not supposed to be? The 10 commandments are our guide. We can do nothing to make ourselves "worthy". Christ did it all and by faith alone we will keep Him close to us. He already promised He would never leave us. We received Him when we were baptized. Nothing can take us out of His hand.

Winside LWML President LaDaisey Janke welcomed everyone.

Pastor Michael Awe from Immanuel Lutheran Church in Tilden gave the Bible study on John 15:5, "I Am the Vine, you are the branches." The Bible is all intentional or planned. Everything in the Bible has already taken place in Genesis and our church year is built on the cycle of the Bible. In Genesis 2:4, creation establishes our relationship with God.

Satan was made before us and was good, but fell after the end of creation. Satan only existed in the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil. After sin occurred Adam and Eve had to leave the garden so that they did not stay and abide in sin. Now sin was released into the world and

In Num. 17:8 The Messiah is the Branch. In Isaiah 4:2, God's cutting off is to cut away from our lives those branches which are bad. The new grafting will be with Jesus and we will know Him because everything else will be dead. The disciples knew the prophecies, the imageries and the name. Vine and I Am - abide in Me and I in you. Both are attached and both benefit in a symbiotic relationship. We are created in His image and we have an intimate connection. John 15:12-13 says, "Greater love hath no man – Bear the fruit of that Vine." All these things were said in the upper room on Maunday Thursday. There was the washing of feet; a sacra-

All of it connects to creation. "I Am, take eat, this is My Body and Blood." By Christ's death and resurrection we are united in death and a resurrection like His. In Col.1:5-6 the Gospel is bearing fruit and This is through the power of the Ho-

Vice President Mason reminded the ladies that the 2015 LWML National Convention will be held in Des Moines, Iowa. Our Zone delegate will be from First Trinity, Altona. There was no other district report information at this time due to Janice Anderson's absence. The Link Up packets will be passed out at the District Board Retreat at Niobrara, Oct. 24-25.

Offering was collected. Pastoral Counselor William Engebretson, from Immanuel, Laurel, gave the prayer for lunch. Lunch was served by the ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Winside.

After lunch, we enjoyed a presentation by Susan Leffler from Orphan Grain Train. OGT started in 1992 when Rev. Ray S. Wilke and Mr. Clayton Andrews founded this ministry after Rev. Wilke visited Latvia and Russia and saw the need for spiritual and humanitarian aid in the former Soviet Union.

This vision blossomed into a ministry and a movement which has sent more than 2,380 semi-loads of supplies to needy people here at home and around the world. She added, "I am very pleased to provide our customers with precision tech support on data management software programs. We have had very strong interest from customers adopting the E4 software. It helps them manage and understand the many crop production activities under way on their operations. By providing our customers with support, we are helping them better manage risks, know their inputs and contribute to their profitability. That's always our goal."

Pasture monitoring workshop planned University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Extension educators Jay Jenkins and Bethany Johnston will conduct an information meeting on Thursday, Oct. 30 to assist in setting up a monitoring system for pastures. The event will begin at the Pierce

NRCS Office at 1 p.m. Those attending are encouraged to wear appropriate clothing, as most of the program will be conducted outdoors. Monitoring grasslands provides valuable information, but many fear it will be time consuming and the information difficult to collect It doesn't have to be that way. Monitoring can be as easy as picking a location and taking some pictures. Jenkins and Johnston will show you how to set up a monitoring system to fit your pastures.

Learn why to monitor, where to monitor, how to photo-monitor, and what type of monitoring you should consider. Cost of the program is $10 per person. Pre-register at Pierce County Extension Office by calling (402) 329-4821.

Lots of tears shed this week

I completely missed the game on Saturday eve because I was in the Blank Theater on the Simpson college campus in Indianola, Iowa, for a production of Carousel.

When Randa decided on this college, we didn't realize how many trips it would take if we want to see and hear her perform! It's four hours from Lincoln, and sometimes, she is not in the matinee. So, on Saturday, I drove to Ashland and got in Kay's Toyota and let her drive.

It was well worth it, even though we had to stay in Des Moines and drive four hours back on Sunday. There was a full orchestra, and stylish costumes, real carousel horses, gorgeous singing, and of course, tears when the male lead dies and they all sing "You'll Never Walk Alone." Randa had the part of Carrie, who marries Mr. Snow and has nine children!

Thankfully, Allan kept us informed about the score via text. We also had friends in Branson, watching Jonah, and he said they almost had play by plays, there were so many in the group with iphones and Finally, I watched a short clip about the North Platte canteen sent by a neighbor. I'd seen it before, and I've read the book, but it still made me cry. And it made me so proud. That was an unbelievable accomplishment, in days of rationing of sugar and gas. They met EV-ERY train, for four and a half years. Now, if you want a little more nostalgia and fun memories, check out "Come a Runnin', Boys" by the Killigans, which is a song that preceded "There Is No Place Like Nebraska," and has been revived by this group. There are some great football clips. After all, it's the season! And it's half over already. It seems in Nebraska, there is spring ball, and summer wait, and fall football, and winter wait.

Free trees available to Pilger homeowners from Black Hills Energy and Arbor Day Foundation

Black Hills Energy is distributing free trees to its customers in Pilger in partnership with the Arbor Day Foundation's Energy-Saving Trees program. Energy-Saving Trees helps homeowners conserve energy and reduce energy bills by planting trees in strategic locations.

The Arbor Day Foundation and Black Hills Energy are working together to help Pilger residents replace trees lost in last summer's devastating tornadoes. The tornadoes destroyed more than 60 homes, two dozen commercial buildings and a church, resulting in losses of nearly $15 million.

Beginning today, Black Hills Energy customers who live in Pilger can reserve one free tree at www.arborday.org/blackhillsenergypilger. Customers will have access to an online tool that estimates the annual energy savings from planting trees in the most strategic locations surrounding their homes. The trees offered include Bur Oak, Swamp White Oak, Northern Catalpa, Water Birch and Ser-

The program will end Nov. 1 or when all trees have been reserved. The 5- to 6-foot-tall trees will be planted for the customer at their home by Black Hills Energy employees during a mid-November planting event.

Trees can be assets to a community when properly planted and maintained. They help to improve the visual appeal of a neighborhood or shopping district, increase property values, reduce home cooling costs, remove air pollutants and provide wildlife habitat.

The Energy-Saving Trees online tool was created by the Arbor Day Foundation and the Davey Institute, a division of Davey Tree Expert Co., and uses peer-reviewed scientific research from the U.S. Forest Service's i-Tree software to calculate estimated benefits. In addition to providing approximate energy savings, the tool also estimates other tree-provided benefits, including cleaner air, reduced carbon dioxide emissions and improved storm water management.

On Oct. 13 the Winside Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department held a Dedication Ceremony for a new projection and audio system at the Winside Fire Hall. This new system was donated by the family of Don "Frieda" Nelson in his memory. Nelson was a member of the Winside Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department, where he served as a firefighter and EMT from 1974 to his passing in April of 2014 (nearly 40 years). During his membership, he held such offices as President, Assistant Fire Chief and Fire Chief. During the dedication ceremony, "Frieda's" wife Donna was also presented with a Firefighter's Blanket in memory of her husband. Here she and members of her family display the blanket and a plaque that will be on display in the fire hall with information about the donation.

Sophomores take part in Career Day at WSC

Northeast Nebraska Career Day, coordinated by University of Nebraska-Linclon Extension and hosted by Wayne State College, was held Oct. 14.

AHEC (Area Health Education Center) of Norfolk also coordinates all of the Health Sciences professionals who take part in the event. There were 35 northeast Nebraska high schools with 975 sophomore students who participated in this day long career exploration activity.

The students were able to participate in three career sessions throughout the day. These were taught by 96 presenters who shared their experiences in their career

The career sessions were taught by community professionals from across northeast Nebraska including Wayne State College faculty, Northeast Community College, Southeast Community College, and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, private industry and professionals representing 16 different career ar-

Students also participated in an additional two sessions in which they learned about skills such a preparing for college, learning about how involvement in high school activities can help prepare you for college, and how to begin building a career portfolio.

Students were welcomed to campus by Jeff Carstens, Dean of Students at Wayne State College. This year's Keynote speaker was Ms. Maile Boeder, Director of the Aurora Leadership Center.

I didn't know becoming 90 could be so great! A Huge Thank You to everyone for the cards, gifts, flowers and all who could attend my Open House on Sept. 25. To my relatives and godchildren, who came for the Sept. 27 party, thank you for coming from across the United States. The telephone calls I received from great-nephew Tanner from Japan was a thrilling surprise.

Thank you to my children, Mark and Diane, for all your help and to my neighbors, niece, former neighbors and granddaughters. May the Lord bless each and everyone.

October 14, 2014 The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in special session at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 14, 2014, in the north meeting room of the Wayne City Auditorium.

absent. Also in attendance: Representing Wayne County: Road/Bridge Project Manager Mark Casey, and Jeff Wagner of Mainelli Wagner & Associates. Representing the City of Wayne: Mayor Ken Chamberlain; Councilmembers Jill Brodersen,

Rod Greve, Nick Muir, and Jennifer Sievers; Nancy Braden, Joel Hansen, Lowell Johnson, and Betty McGuire Representing the Wayne Airport Authority: Chairman Mitch Nissen and Member Todd Luedtke, Nancy Braden, and Brian Nelson. Members of the public: Jack Beeson, Carl Johnson & family, Duane and Rod Lutt, Brian

Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on October 2, 2014. Current copies of the Open Meetings Act were on the tables in the meeting room and Burbach-aye; motion carried This meeting was called to discuss future plans for Bridge C009011620. This bridge located on 857th Rd between Sections 5 and 8 -T26N-R4E, was damaged in the October 4, 2013 tornado and had been scheduled for replacement by the county. The project was ready to bid when it was discovered that the City of Wayne owned the east half of the bridge. This was a result of their annexing the airport property east of the Logan creek.

The following points were discussed by those in attendance:

Motion by Larson, second by Burbach to approve the agenda. Roll call vote: Larson-aye, Continuing with replacement of the bridge - This would improve the traffic flow around the city. The bridge would be built to meet the needs of loaded semi-trucks and wide farm equipment. The estimated cost was $570,000. The county had the total cost included in their bonded bridge projects, the city did not have anything budgeted for the project.

Repairing the bridge - To qualify as a FEMA project the bridge must be returned to pretornado condition, including a weight-limit of 22 tons. The projected cost was $96,891. FEMA would pay 87.5% of actual costs if the project guidelines are followed and no additional improvements were made. Repairing the bridge would allow the road to be traveled by passenger vehicles but would not accommodate loaded semi-trucks and wide farm equipment. The life expectancy of the bridge would depend on the amount Closure of the bridge and the road - This would continue to be an inconvenience to those living, farming or driving in that area. But, if the airport runway was extended in the future the road and bridge would be closed anyway, it was just a matter of timing.

Airport growth - The airport is necessary not only to keep current business, but also to recruit new business. It is anticipated that the north-south runway will need to be lengthened in the next 5-10 years to permit larger and/or heavier planes to take-off. They are fielding more calls regarding storage and buying fuel, especially since the Sioux City airport did not rebuild from the damage incurred in June. The county spent $28,650 for engineering costs for replacement of the bridge. If the decision is to repair rather than replace the bridge, would the City split the engineering costs already incurred? At the close of discussion a motion was made by Larson to repair Bridge C009011620 in accordance with the scope of the FEMA project, and for the county and the city split all costs exceeding FEMA's reimbursement. Burbach seconded the motion; there was no further discussion. Roll call vote: Larson-aye, Burbach-aye; motion carried
