City will protest NPPD rate increase

3.6 percent rate hike target of Oct. 8 hearing

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

The city of Wayne will be among almost a dozen cities and regional public utilities who will have a bone to pick with Nebraska Public Power District next week.

Wayne and Wakefield city officials will be at a hearing next Thursday, Oct. 8 in Columbus to file their objections to a proposed increase in rate charges by NPPD that, according to officials representing those entities, is unfair.

The City of Wayne has a contract with NPPD that runs through 2022, Wayne City Administrator Lowell Johnson told The Wayne Herald, but NPPD is trying to force its customers into signing a new 20-year contract

"We don't think there's a legitimate reason (for the increase). Our contract is clear, and state statutes are clear that they have to charge the same rates to everybody."

— Lowell Johnson

and will charge those who refuse to sign a higher rate than those who do sign by the end of 2015.

"If we don't sign by the end of December, even though we're still on the old contract, they're going to charge us 3.6 percent more," Johnson said. "Nowhere in the contract does it say they can do that."

NPPD announced its proposed rate increases for 2016 about a month ago, asking for a six-tenths of a percent increase for those entities who agree to a new 20-year contract with the public power body, and a 3.6

percent increase for those entities who do not sign a new deal.

Currently, the City of Wayne buys about $4 million in electricity from NPPD, but is phasing the utility out of its buying pool in favor of Kentucky-based Big Rivers Electric Corporation. The city gave NPPD notice in 2013, well ahead of the five-year window required for the city to give NPPD notice of its intention to terminate its deal with the utility in 2022.

Under the proposed rate increase, by not signing a new agreement, the city would pay about $120,000 more for electricity than it is currently paying.

"I don't know what our future use will be, but based on what we're paying now, that would be a 3 percent increase for ratepayers here, and NPPD has raised their rates about 68 percent since 2002," Johnson said.

Johnson questioned NPPD's motives for making the two-tiered rate increase, adding that NPPD's current rates exceed market rates, and have done so since 2008.

"We don't think there's a legitimate reason (for the increase)," he said. "Our contract is clear, and state statutes are clear that they have to charge the same rates to everybody."

Other media reports indicate that NPPD's rate increases are being made to help the public utility take care of projected costs of retiree health care, which Johnson questioned.

"We believe they've manufactured this issue about unfunded health costs for their employees," he said. "Even though our contract ends in 2022 and we're following the terms of that contract, they're trying to make us prepay for that stuff."

City officials will be at the Riverside Inn in Columbus next Thursday to issue their objections to the rate plan before the NPPD board. If the board decides to go ahead with the proposed rate increase, Johnson said the City of Wayne will join the cities of Wakefield and South Sioux City, along with Wayne-based Northeast Nebraska Public Power, in filing a lawsuit against NPPD. Several other cities and power municipalities may also join in the lawsuit.

New city recreation director comes to Wayne from state pen

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

New Wayne Community Activity Center and city recreation services director Bryce Meyer has been to prison.

But it's not what you think.

Meyer came to Wayne earlier this summer to take over the job of overseeing the city's recreation services after spending four years in the Nebraska State Penitentiary, but he wasn't there serving out a sentence.

Meyer was the recreation director for the Lincoln-based prison facility for four years before a friend tipped him off about the vacancy here in Wayne.

"A friend from Norfolk told me about this job, and I thought it would be a great opportunity," he said. "I'd been wanting to get out of the criminal justice system and branch off into a bigger role, and this has been a great opportunity."

The Lawton, Iowa native graduated with a degree in health fitness management from Buena Vista University, and a bridesmaid at his brother's wedding told him about the position at the state prison, which involved getting prisoners into athletic and other creative activities to pass the time while they were behind bars.

From all the major sports to events like kickball, indoor floor hockey, bocce ball and table and card games, Meyer had to work with a wide range of personalities during his four-year stint in Lincoln.

"It was definitely an eye-opening experience," he said. "It's difficult to deal with (prisoners) in that setting. They give you a hard time and are always on you and if they don't get what they want then it all breaks loose, so you really had to work to keep them in line."

Now that he's in Wayne, the atmosphere is much different and he has been able to focus on getting some things updated at the Community Activity Center and put together ideas for new programs that could be offered at the Wayne facility.

"We've been finishing up football and youth volleyball, and we're looking at trying some new things like having Bingo once a month," he said.

Meyer said he is also looking at putting together a walking club that can walk around the indoor track and earn rewards based on the number of miles completed. A lot of equipment in the fitness room has been upgraded, and other things that needed upkeep are being addressed by Meyer and his staff.

"Everybody's been good so far," Meyer said of his staff. "Everybody works hard and gets things done and I don't have to look over anybody's shoulder, so that's nice."

Bryce Meyer said dealing with kids as the new recreation director for the City of Wayne is a lot easier than dealing with prisoners, which he did in his former job as activities director at the Nebraska State Penitentiary in Lincoln.

With the addition of the new swimming pool on the south side of the center being built, Meyer is anxious to see more people coming to the center in future years.

"It's exciting to have the pool here and I'm glad it's coming," he said. "This should bring a new set of people to the activity center, and hopefully we'll see people using more than the pool while they're here."

But one must wonder – are cranky prison inmates easier for Meyer to deal with than a bunch of unruly 10-year olds?

"I'd say the kids are easier, but only because they haven't cursed or yelled at me or tried to attack me yet," he said, smiling.

Obituaries

Dorothy Stevenson

Dorothy Stevenson, 90, of Wayne, died Wednesday, Sept. 23, 2015 at Brookdale Wayne.

Memorial services were held Saturday, Sept. 26 at First Presbyterian Church in Wayne. Pastor Gordon Granberg officiated.

Memorials may be made to the First Presbyterian Church in Wayne and the Wayne Public Library Foundation.

Dorothy Anne Ruggles was born December 19, 1924, in Bryan, Texas, to Leonard L. Ruggles and Irene (Fuller) Ruggles. She grew up in Wheaton, Ill., and was a graduate of Wheaton High School. She attended Iowa State University and DePauw University (Greencastle, Ind.), and graduated from DePauw. She married Thomas H. Stevenson of Lake-wood, Ohio on May 19, 1950, in Chicago, Ill.

The Stevenson family moved to Wayne in 1965, so that T.H. Stevenson could take a teaching position at Wayne State College. Prior to that, the family had lived in Chicago, Santa Cruz, Calif., San Jose Calif., South Haven, Mich. and Painesdale, Mich. In each community, Dorothy joined the local Presbyterian Church, got library cards for her family, and became involved in community activities. In Wayne, she was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Wayne Women's Club, book club, and other organizations. She also played bridge with the same core group of women for many years. In the church, she sang in the choir, joined the bell choir while in her 80's, was a member and officer of the Presbyterian Women's organization, served as a congregational officer, sewed for charity with Sewing Souls. She served as Church Secretary for over 20 years. During that period, she was one of the founders of the Coat Closet, which distributes clothing and other necessities to the needy of the Wayne area. She also served as Assistant Librarian in the Wayne Public Library for over 20 years, learning to use a computer, catalog library materials, and to help patrons learn to love reading mystery books as much as she did.

Dorothy sewed, knitted, crocheted, and embroidered - all crafts she learned from her mother. She worked the Omaha World Herald crossword puzzle and word jumble puzzle in ink every morning with her coffee, and enjoyed putting jigsaw puzzles together. She was a devoted Chicago Cubs fan, despite everything the Cubs put her through. In recent years, when Cubs' games were scarce on local television, she developed a fondness for the Kansas City Royals - a consistently winning team at last.

Survivors include her daughter, Mary (Riccardo) Marchio of Omaha; son, James Stevenson of San Diego, Calif.; grandson, Mario (Nicole) Marchio and their daughter, Gabriella of Bellevue; grandson, Peter Marchio (Heather Bell) of Omaha; great-granddaughter, Gabriella Marchio; nieces, great-nieces and nephews and other relatives and many dear friends in the Wayne community.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her sister, Phyllis Ruggles, her brother, Wayne Ruggles, and her sister-in-law, Virginia Ruggles.

Arrangements are with Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne.

John Pulp to Korea in 1955. Donald married Virginia Swieter Jan. 25, 1959 at the First Methodist Church in Lakeview, Iowa. The couple lived in Wayne all of their married life. Survivors include his children, Timothy (Judy) Koll of Columbus and their children Brian (Megan) Koll and Brad Koll, Jean Biernbaum of Sioux City, Iowa and her children, Kayla and Krista, and Stephen (Ja-lene) Koll of Lincoln and their children Brandy and Quincy; one sister-in-law, Helen (Bob) Schilling of Pawnee City; one brother-in-law, Joe Falgione of Pittsburg, Penn; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Virginia in 1988; and brother, Garry Koll; son-in-law, Keith Biernbaum in 2012; and sister, Donna Falgione.

Authorities investigate an overturned vehicle on a minimum maintenance road south of Wayne Tuesday afternoon.

One vehicle accident investigated Tuesday

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office investigated a one vehicle rollover accident on Tuesday at approximately 4:45 p.m.

A vehicle was southbound on 575 Avenue, three and one-quarter of a mile south of Wayne, on a minimum maintenance road when it entered the west ditch, struck an embankment, and rolled forward onto its roof.

The driver was transported to Providence Medical Center where he was treated and released. The driver's use of his seat belt is credited with preventing any serious injuries. The vehicle is considered a total loss.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office was assisted at the scene by the Wayne Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department and Providence Medical Center.

Eclipse

9:11 p.m. Sunday and lasted for about 72 minutes.

Dr. Todd Young, director of the Wayne State College Planetarium, said the moon's orbit around the earth in relation to the sun made the orangish-red view of the moon possible.

"The reason why is because even though the moon is in Earth's shadow, some light does still manage to hit the moon," he said. "Sunlight contains all the colors of the rainbow, and as sunlight passes through the atmosphere from overhead, the molecules in the atmosphere scatter the blue light in all directions; thus the sky is blue! But as sunlight passes through longer, denser amounts of atmosphere, like during sunrise or sunset, more colors of the rainbow get scattered away until only orange and red light remains. This is why we have those beautiful orangish red sunrises and sunsets."

As it does during sunset, sunlight travels through much of the atmosphere so only the orangish-red light hits the moon, giving it the colors people saw during Sunday's total lunar eclipse. Such a view won't be seen again for 18 years, Young explained.

"Even though this super-blood moon will for the most look like any other total lunar eclipse, this combination of a total lunar eclipse occurring at perigee won't happen again until 2033," Young said in a news release explaining the total lunar eclipse.

Wayne's own Ryder Cup goes to Euro team again

The annual Wayne style "Ryder Cup" Golf Tournament was held Sunday with the 27-hole format broke down into three, nine-hole competitions - scramble, alternate shot and singles. Of course, the roster is made up of Waynians with half being called the "Merica team and the other have the "Euros squad."

Team 'Merica hasn't fared as well in the past against their so-called Euro counterparts but rest assured this was the year - except that it wasn't. Former captain Mike Varley had gotten one of those omens before he played that day but he brushed it off. However, his daughter Kinzly proved to be wise well beyond her two years of age by telling her daddy that morning that the Euros were going to win.

Mike shared that tidbit of information to several of us before the first tee. He laughingly said the bad news was his daughter said the Euros were going to win but the good news was - well, I better not repeat that. Kinzly immediately became an inspiration for some team Euro members with her amazing clarity of foresight. She may now be called on to help pick lottery numbers. Unfortunately for Kinzly, she may be in high school before she's off from being grounded.

There are a few other people that deserve some kudos for showing up to watch this yearly event including Dennis Danielsen, Bob Backman, Kari Wren, Amber Gamble and kids Easton and Jordyn, Shelley Preston, Betty McGuire and Stacey Alexander.

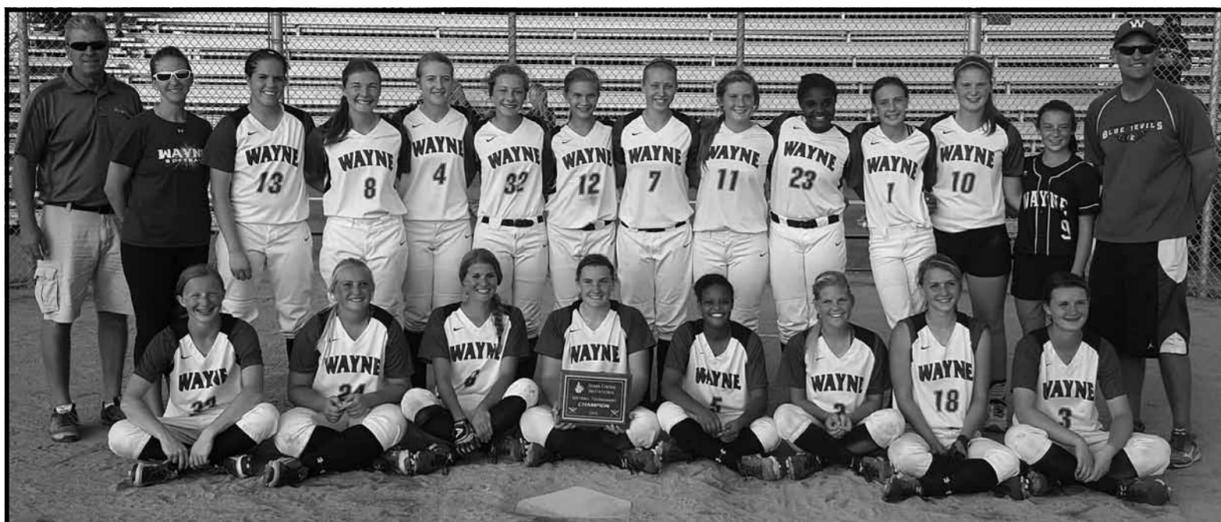

Speaking of Stacey Alexander, she earned the hard luck award as she sat quietly on a lawnchair on the teeing area of hole five, only to be struck by a golf ball off the bounce coming from an approach on hole four. Not to single anyone out for a shot that went astray, because yours truly had plenty, but let's just say it was friendly fire as the errant shot came from a member of team 'Merica, of whom she was supporting. (Oh yea, and the shot to the noggin did not come from a club belonging to husband Dale).

Despite captain Jon Wren donning his Evil Knieval suit prior to the start of the event, team Euro once again came out the victors by a 22.5-17.5 score. The scramble division ended with Euro up 5.5-4.5 and the exact same score came from the alternate shot competition giving team Euro a 11-9 lead with 20 singles matches left on the board.

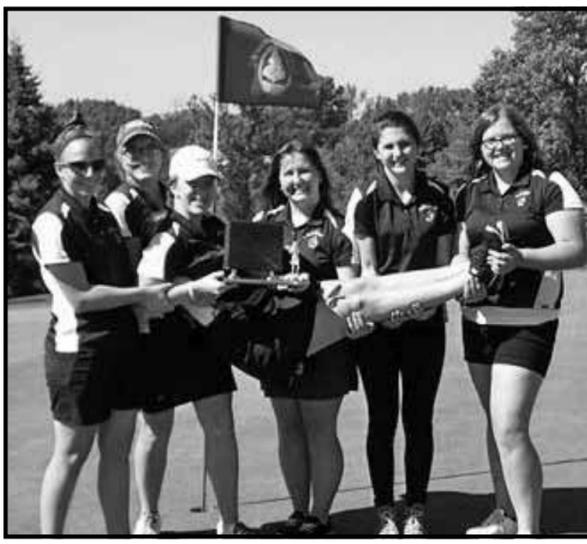

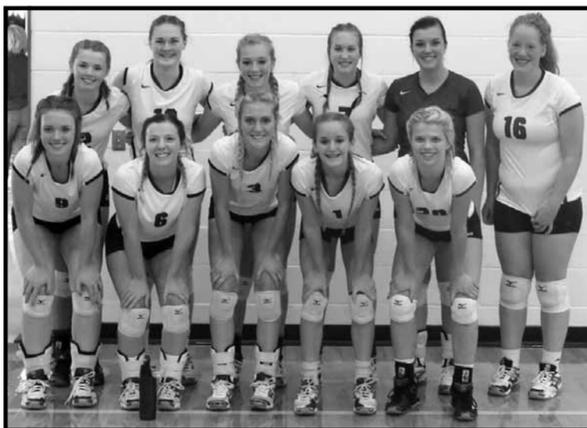

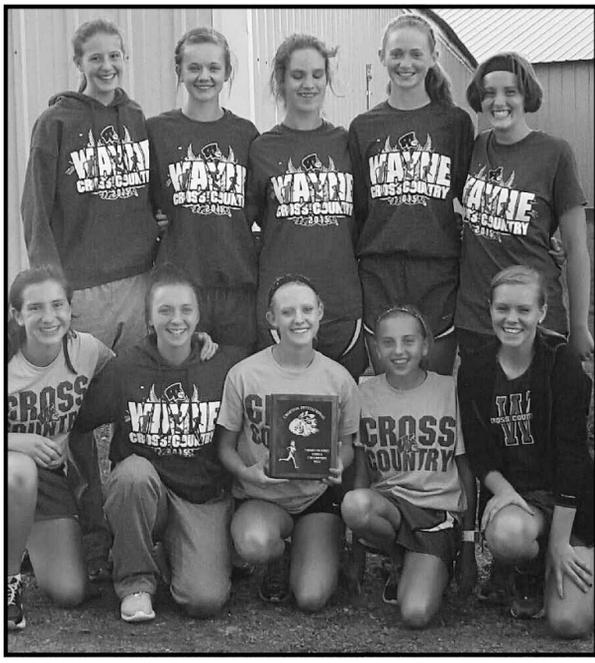

The Euro team members this year included: Rob Sweetland, Terry Schulz, Don Preston, Mic Daehnke, Joey Baldwin, Brian Gibson, Dave Hix, Ryan Hix, Kevin Peterson, Corby Schweers, Chuck Parker, Garry Poutre, Korey Erikson, Rocky Ruhl, Lowell Heggemeyer, Jeremy Nelson, Rich Rethwisch, Kelly Hansen, Pat Melena and Leif Olson.

4-FOR-4 WEEKEND FOR WAYNE HIGH SPORTS TEAMS

If you were a girl playing high school sports for Wayne High this past weekend, chances were pretty good that you were part of a winning team. Wayne High varsity sports teams won four tournaments in a 24-hour period last weekend, claiming titles in (clockwise from top) softball (Adams Central Invitational), volleyball (Wisner-Pilger Classic), girls golf (LCC Invitational) and cross country (Crofton Invitational). It's believed to be the first time in school history that all four teams won titles in the same weekend. Thanks to the parents and coaches who submitted photos of the winning teams.

Trojans roll to 60-8 homecoming blowout

Wakefield picks up second straight homecoming win

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

WAKEFIELD - Wakefield coach Mike Hassler has been looking for his football team to come through with a complete, start-to-finish this season.

They finally did it on a sunny Friday afternoon at Eaton Field, scoring on the game's first play and never letting up on a young Hartington-Newcastle team to post a dominating 60-8 homecoming victory.

The Trojans set the agenda for this matchup on the game's very first play, as quarterback Isaac Camarena broke free for a 60-yard touchdown run. They would add a second score midway through the period on a two-yard burst by Daniel Nuno to make it 16-0 after one period.

"That (first touchdown) was huge," Hassler said after the game. "We came out slow our first few games and didn't have a good first quarter until today. That was the first four-quarter game we've played in a while, and to come out with that first score right away and set the tempo was really nice for us."

Hartington-Newcastle was able to cut Wakefield's lead in half early in the second quarter on a seven-yard run by Ethan Morten, but Nuno hit paydirt on a 44-yard gallop on the ensuing drive to push the lead back to 16 points at the half, and the Trojans took control on their opening drive of the second half with Camarena's second touchdown run, a 38-yard gallop.

"Getting that score right after the half was huge," Hassler said. "We came out on that first drive and really took control of the game and took the wind out of their sails." Hassler said that, coming in to the contest, he felt his team had an advantage in experience against a younger Wildcat squad. "Last year was our first year of eight-man and we came into some of it blind, but we knew that they were young and we had a lot of experience back, and if we came in and played our best game we'd be able to dominate them." And dominate they did. Wakefield extended the lead to 38-8 late in the third quarter when Camarena hit Dylan Hurlbert with a 17-yard touchdown pass, then pulled away in the fourth quarter with a four-yard scoring run by Jose Sanchez and a pair of long touchdown sprints by Esgar Godinez to help the Trojans to the homecoming win. "This is our second homecoming win in a row, so that's a nice string to put together," Hassler said. Together, the Trojans racked up 431 yards in total offense, with 400 of it coming on the ground. Three Trojans cracked the century mark, led by Nuno's 123 yards on 13 carries. Godinez had just two runs, but finished with 109 yards while Camarena had 103 yards on seven carries. The win improved the Trojans' record to 2-2 on the season, and they have a key district matchup coming up Friday at home against Bloomfield. "We're 2-2 and have Bloomfield coming up, and we have a chance to finish with our first winning record in eight years," Hassler said. "We need to keep this going and come out and play well next week against See TROJANS, Page 2B

You know your team is pursuing the ball well when half the team shows up to make the tackle. Wakefield's Juan Delgado (72) leads the effort to bring down Hartington-Newcastle's Andy Schmidt with help from Dylan Hurlbert (3) as David Olvera (58) and Isaac Camarena (4) move in for support. The Trojans won their second straight homecoming game with a 60-8 victory.

Wildcats come back with wins

After stumbling at home against Augustana, Wayne State bounced back with a pair of NSIC wins at Rice Auditorium over the weekend.

The fifth-ranked Wildcats got 14 kills and 22 digs from Katie Hughes and 13 kills by Elizabeth Gebhardt to post a 25-21, 28-26, 25-22 win over 22nd-ranked Winona State on Friday night.

Although Wayne State led the entire first set, it was a close battle from start to finish. At 14-14, kills by Hughes and an Alyssa Frauenfelder service ace helped Wayne State take the lead for good. Wayne State led 20-16 before Winona State rallied to within two, but kills by Gebhardt and Michaela Mestl closed out the set.

The second set featured 13 ties and five lead changes between the two clubs. With the Wildcats leading 22-19, Winona State rallied and had set point at 24-23. Wayne State counted with kills from Mestl and Gebhardt for a 25-24 advantage, then with the game tied at 26-26, back-to-back kills from Gebhardt closed out the set.

Wayne State took an early 7-3 lead in the third set, but Winona State battled back and forced six ties in the final set. Tied at 21-all, the Wildcats forced back-to-back attack errors on Winona State followed by a ball handling error on the Warriors for a 24-21 lead. Each team then exchanged service er-

Ground game nets 24-10 win

BISMARCK, N.D. - The Wayne State Wildcats ran the ball well on Saturday, coming away with a 24-10 NSIC road win over University of Mary.

Ryan Ludlow ran for 165 yards on 29 carries to help the Wildcats put up 416 yards in total offense. Alex Kline and Lane Yates both scored on touchdown runs, and Taylor Reedy hit Keaton Slaughter with a 12-yard scoring pass to highlight the offensive effort. Sam Simon chipped in a 17-yard field goal to close out the Wildcats' scoring.

Kline had 53 yards on seven carries and Yates added 35 yards on seven carries. Reedy was 16-of-30 for 143 yards and a touchdown. Slaughter led the receivers with 52 yards on four carries while Wayne native Tayib Toussaint had four receptions for 39 yards.

Defensively, Eli Vosler led the Wildcats with 10 tackles, while Steven Price and Logan Weinandt each had seven. Jamaal Conway-Smith had five tackles, an interception and two pass breakups.

Saturday's win was the 62nd for coach Dan McLaughlin in his tenure at Wayne State, tying the all-time mark set by Del Stoltenberg, who coached the Wildcats from 1969-82.

Pirates pillage Eagles in 59-8 win

ALLEN — Allen's hopes to extend their winning streak to three games were dashed at the hands of a bigger, stronger and faster team from up the road.

Emerson-Hubbard unleashed a 36-point explosion on the Eagles Friday at Isom-Hill Field, turning a close game into a one-sided affair as the visiting Pirates ran away with a 59-8 win against the 2-2 Eagles.

Coach Dave Uldrich knew his team was facing an uphill battle coming into Friday's contest.

"It was pretty evident at the beginning of this game that we were smaller, not as quick, and strong as Emerson-Hubbard," he said. "It was a spirited effort early to create confusion by our defense. Offensively, it was a struggle for the line to get a push all night."

The Eagles could not contain Emerson-Hubbard running back Tyler

Haberman, as he ran wild in the second period and scored five touchdowns on runs of 42, 28, 29, 4 and 15 yards. The scores helped the Pirates build a 44-0 halftime lead.

Allen did avoid the shutout late in the fourth quarter when freshman Oscar Roth hit paydirt on a 32-yard run. Levi Woodward found S.T. O'Keefe for the two-point conversion to close out the scoring.

Offensively, Emerson-Hubbard's size limited the Eagles to 91 yards in total offense, with 77 of it on the ground. Roth was the Eagles' leading rusher with 37 yards on two carries, while Nate Bausch had 25 yards on eight tries and Blake McCorkindale had 18 yards on eight attempts.

Defensively, Cody Thomas led the Eagles with 11 tackles and Garrett Brentlinger added 10. Tayler Kumm picked off a pass and Bausch recovered a fumble.

Allen is back home Friday to host Lyons-Decatur Northeast in a key district matchup, and Uldrich hopes his team can rebound from Friday's defeat.

"We will get back to work and prepare for our next game," he said. "There is much to be playing for the next four weeks."

Wayne State Coaches Show

Exclusively on mywaynenews.com

Interviews with Wildcat coaches recorded live Mondays at 6 p.m. at The Max Available online every Tuesday mywaynenews.com's Michael Carnes sits down each week to talk to Wayne State coaches about their teams' efforts throughout the 2015-16 season. We'll recap the previous week's games and talk about upcoming opponents.

Rough day for Lady Bears at Wisner tourney Wildcats win a wild one

It was a rough day at the office for the Laurel-Concord-Coleridge Lady Bears, as they went 0-3 Saturday at the Wisner-Pilger Classic.

Despite the difficult day, coach Patti Cunningham said her team will keep working to improve.

"We'll continue to work towards consistency in our play," she said. "We missed serves at key points, and ball control issues take us out of our system, making it easier for the opponent to run their offense and more challenging for us to run ours."

loway led the defense with 12 and 11 digs, respectively.

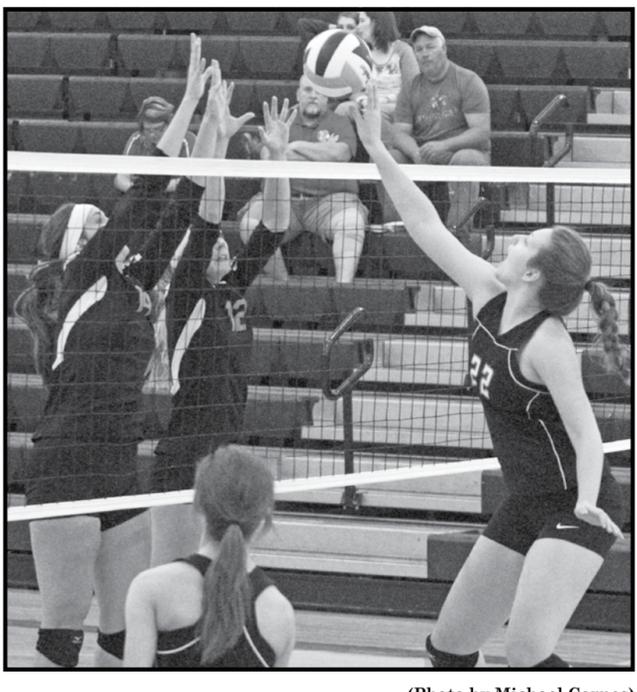

In their final game, LCC, went three sets with Madison before losing 19-25, 25-19, 25-19. Groene had 11 kills, Schutte added nine, Leapley had eight and Wolfgram had four. On Tuesday, the Lady Bears played at Pierce, and the hosts swept the LCC girls 25-12, 25-7, 25-11.

"We faced a confident, dominant and seasoned team that made it difficult for us to score," Cunningham said. "Pierce served zones aggressively, causing us to make errors or get out of our system."

Schutte, Leapley and Groene each had three kills and two blocks, and Cook had 11 assists. Schutte led the defense with seven digs and Cook, Groene and Bayley Holloway each had four.

Pierce's big plays doom Blue Devils

The Wayne High football team tried to go toe-to-toe with perennial Class C-1 powerhouse Pierce, but couldn't keep up with the visiting Bluejays' big-play abilities.

The Bluejays broke two scoring plays of more than 50 yards in a 21-point streak in the first half that propelled them to a 48-21 win over the Blue Devils at Wayne State College's Memorial Stadium on Friday night.

Early on, Wayne looked as if they might try to match the Bluejays punch-for-punch. Pierce scored on their first drive on a two-yard run by Austin Freeman, but Wayne came right back with a nice drive, capped off by a great bootleg by quarterback Beau Bowers that allowed him to run 25 yards untouched down the east sideline to tie the game at 7-7.

The Bluejays responded, however, with a pair of big plays to take a 28-14 halftime advantage. Pierce sandwiched a 59-yard run by Caleb Sullivan and a 52-yard pass from Taggart Bailey to Brady Starkel around a short touchdown run by Freeman to make it 28-7. Drew Davie closed out the first half with a one-yard run just before halftime to make it a two-score game.

The Bluejays came out in the second half and put the game out of reach, scoring three more touchdowns before the Blue Devils finished the night on Payten Gamble's 64-yard pitch-and-catch from Bowers.

Pierce racked up 498 yards in total offense in the win, 386 of it coming on the ground. Wayne had 351 yards in total offense, led by Bowers' 114-yard, 15-carry effort on the ground. Davie added 105 yards on 17 carries. Gamble led the receiving effort with 73 yards on two catches.

Defensively, Tyler Pecena had six total tackles to lead the Blue Devils, while Davie added five and Justin Dean and Cole Koenig each had 4 1/2 stops.

The Blue Devils fell to 1-4 on the season and 0-1 in district play. They'll try to end their second two-game skid of the season on Friday with a 7 p.m. district matchup at Madison.

Bears get first win, defeat Homer 22-12

LAUREL - The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge football team got on the winning side of the ledger for the first time this season, winning their homecoming game with a 22-12 decision over Homer on Friday.

The Knights struck twice in the first half, but the Bears were able to answer each challenge and take a 16-12 lead into the intermission.

Both of LCC's answers to Homer scores came through the air, as Dillan Wolfgram threw touchdown passes of 13 and nine yards to Mason Forsberg. Malik Knox ran in the first two-point conversion, and Wolfgram hooked up with D.J. Spahr on the second to give LCC the four-point advantage.

The Bears put the game away early in the fourth quarter, scoring on a 28-yard run by Garrett Taylor. The LCC defense shut out Homer in the second half, helping the Bears improve to 1-4 on the season.

Offensively, LCC had 328 yards in total offense. Wolfgram was 13-of-23 passing for 149 yards and two touchdowns. Forsberg was the leading receiver with five catches for 51 yards. Knox had one catch for 42 yards and Spahr had three for 30 yards.

Leading the ground attack for LCC was Nolan Casey, who had 63 yards on 15 carries. Spahr added 52 yards on six tries and Wolfgram had 25 yards on eight carries.

Defensively, Billy Barelman and Aaron Gothier each had 11 total tackles for LCC, while Casey added nine stops and Forsberg and Wolfgram each had seven.

LCC will try to make it two in a row this Friday as they travel to face 0-5 Ponca in a 7 p.m. clash.

Wildcats fall out of top 10 in poll

The Wayne State volleyball team dropped six spots to No. 11 in the latest American Volleyball Coaches Association Div. II poll that was released Monday.

The Wildcats fell after being upset by then-No. 22 Augustana last Tuesday. Augustana moved up to No. 19 this week as a result of their upset win over the Wildcats.

Although Minnesota Duluth was swept by Northern State on Friday, the Bulldogs remain the No. 1 team in the country in this week's poll, although 10 teams received at least one first-place vote among the 48 coaches voting. Defending national champion Tampa moved up two spots to No. 2, Concordia-St. Paul vaulted five spots to No. 3 and Ferris State fell two spots to No. 4. Southwest Minnesota State dropped two spots to No. 5.

The second five includes teams that all moved up this week. Florida Southern jumped from No. 9 to No. 6, Wheeling Jesuit and Alaska-Anchorage followed behind them with three-spot moves to No. 7 and No. 8, respectively, undefeated Northern State made the biggest move this week by jumping 10 spots to No. 9, and Rockhurst moved up three spots to No. 10.

Natalie Poppe (left) and Kelsey Engstrom both scored goals for the Wayne State soccer team in home action over the weekend. The Wildcats went 0-1-1 and have two more home games set for this weekend at the WSC Pitch.

Wildcats just miss out on first win

The Wayne State women's soccer team was three minutes away from their first win of the season when MSU Moorhead came through with a late second-half goal to salvage a 1-1 tie with the Wildcats Sunday at the WSC Pitch.

The Wildcats scored three minutes into the contest when Josie Brown found Natalie Poppe for her first goal of the season. The Wildcat played outstanding for almost the rest of the game after that, led by goalkeeper Kylie Comba, who finished the game with nine saves.

The Dragons finally found the equalizer late in the game, however, as Lindsey Micheletti bent a shot from the right side, outside the 18-yard box, that bent its way past Comba and into the goal to tie the game and sent it into overtime.

In the overtime session, Wayne State outshot MSU Moorhead 6-4, but neither team could find the goal as the match ended in a draw. Moorhead (1-3-3, 1-3-1 NSIC) outshot the Wildcats 21-16 with a 10-7 advantage in shots on goal. Wayne State had six corner kicks to Moorhead's four.

In action Saturday, a hat trick by Northern State's Darian Leschewski helped the visiting Wolves to a 3-1 win over Wayne State.

The two teams traded goals in the first half. Leschewski scored her first goal in the seventh minute, and that was matched 11 minutes later when Kelsey Engstrom picked up a loose ball and put a shot past the Northern State keeper to make it a 1-1 match.

Northern State took the lead for good five minutes later on Leschewski's second goal, and she completed the hat trick in the first minute of the second half to give Northern State the win.

Northern State outshot Wayne State 17-9 in the match. Brown had three shots for the 0-5-2 (0-4 NSIC) Wildcats. Comba had six saves.

Wayne State, 0-5-3 overall (0-4-1 NSIC) is back home next weekend for games against Minnesota Crookston on Saturday at 11 a.m. and Bemidji State on Sunday at 1 p.m.

Wakefield splits games in Tuesday triangular

Wakefield finished with a split in a home volleyball triangular with Wausa and Hartington-Newcastle Tuesday at Wakefield High School.

In the opener, Wakefield took care of Wausa 25-11, 25-18. Josephine Peitz led the effort with six kills and Briana Andrade added four. Avery Zamzow and Megan Borg both had two kills. Savannah Nelson recorded 10 assists and Tanner Pretzer had seven.

Defensively, Andrade and Pretzer both had eight digs and Danika Dorcey added five. Jennifer Lopez had two blocks.

Against Hartington-Newcastle, the visiting Wildcats won an exciting three-set match, 28-26, 18-25, 25-15. Peitz led Wakefield's net attack with eight kills, Borg added seven and Nelson had six. Nelson had 14 assists and Pretzer finished with nine.

Andrade led the defensive effort with 20 digs, Nelson added 12 and Dorcey had eight for the 6-11 Trojans.

Wayne High softball keeps rolling, claims Adams Invite trophy

The Wayne High softball team went 3-0 and defeated the host team in the finals to take first-place honors Saturday at the Adams Central Invitational in Hastings.

Wayne opened with a 6-5 win over Milford, as Hannah Belt scattered nine hits and two walks while striking out nine. Kiara Hochstein, Kortney Keller and Sydney Biggerstaff each had two hits in the win.

Wayne used a big five-run sixth inning to take care of Wilber-Clatonia 11-3 in the second game of pool play. Wayne outhit Wilber 11-6, with Danica Schaefer and Jenna Trenhaile each recording two hits. Trenhaile had a home run and three RBI's in the win. Belt went the distance, striking out 11 and allowing six hits and two walks.

In the finals, Belt tossed a two-hit shutout and struck out 10 to help Wayne to a 3-0 win over Adams Central. Keller had a key two-RBI double that got Wayne on the board in the first inning, one of just six hits in the contest for the Blue Devils.

On Tuesday, the Blue Devils continued their winning ways with two wins in a rescheduled triangular at Wisner. The Blue Devils shut out both opponents in four innings, taking care of Logan View/Scribner-Snyder 12-0 and whitewashing the host Wisner-Pilger squad, 10-0. Highlights of those games were not available at press time.

Northeast Community College will dedicate a new Applied Technology facility with an open house scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 8.

Applied Technology dedication set for Oct. 8

A special event will be held soon for Northeast Community College's newest educational building.

The dedication and open house of the Applied Technology building will take place in front of the facility on the north end of Northeast's campus on Thursday, Oct. 8, from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Tours will be given immediately following a 5 p.m. dedication and ribbon cutting ceremony. In case of inclement weather, the ceremony will be held inside the building's foyer.

Northeast's $9.1 million, 66,613 square foot Applied Technology building is home to several programs including Building Construction; Electrical Construction and Control; Electromechanical; Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning (HVAC); and some classes in Wind Energy Technology and Diversified Manufacturing Technology programs. The programs were previously housed in four separate buildings.

The new facility includes multipurpose classrooms, labs for hands-on-training and lab support areas including a fabrication/tool room. Labs are large enough to allow for adequate space for equipment so students may work in a safe environment. The building also includes expanded storage areas, faculty offices and a student lounge/study area to serve over 200 students. The dedication and open house are open to the public.

WE BUILD RESPECT.

Schuster celebrating 50 years of service with Security Bank

Laurel Maureen Schuster is celebrating 50 years of employment with Security Bank. In honor of her years of service, Security Bank will host an

Schuster

Open house at Security Bank, Laurel on Wednesday, Oct. 7 from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. and 1-4 p.m.

Schuster began her career with Security [National] Bank as a bookkeeper on Oct. 7, 1965 and has been through many changes in the bank.

She began under the ownership of Bill Fahnestock. In 1973, Security National Bank was purchased from the Fahnestock family, headed by Richard E. Adkins of Osmond, Nebraska. Upon the unexpected death of Richard "Dick" Adkins on Sept. 6, 1980, the banking staff was reorganized and Richard "Rick" Adkins, Jr. became the president. In June 2012 Security National Bank changed the name to Security Bank. In 2014, Rick Adkins passed duties of President to Keith Knudsen of Laurel.

Knudsen, President/CEO of Security Bank has worked with Maureen in Laurel for the past 34 years.

"I want to congratulate and thank Maureen on behalf of Security Bank for 50 years of serving our customers and the bank," said Knudsen.

"Through all the internal changes, the values of the bank have always stayed the same. Family and our customers - they will always come first," said Schuster.

Over the past 50 years, Maureen has seen many changes in the banking industry as well. Processes became more streamlined through the use of proofing machines, adding machines, fax machines, and especially computers.

When she began, everything was done using paper and pen and a filing drawer.

"We actually hand-posted and filed the checks and there were no account numbers. They were filed by name and two sets of books were kept and cross-checked to see that debits and credits balanced," said Maureen.

When the bank purchased a proof machine, she was the one who assigned the account numbers. "Now every teller station is equipped with a scanning machine that can scan and post transactions before the customer even walks out of the door," said Schuster.

Maureen then spoke about the addition of online and mobile banking.

"Customers can even make transactions online without needing to come into the bank."

"My fondest memory over the last 50 years has been the relationships I've developed with people, both customers and co-workers." Schuster stated that she has always loved helping customers with their finances. "I can't believe it's been 50 years!"

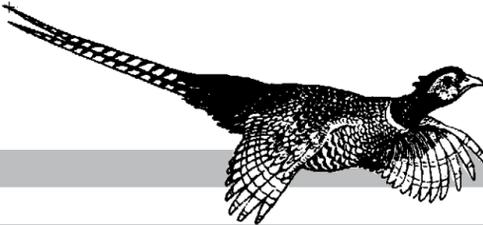

Currently, Schuster serves as Assistant Vice President/Cashier, primarily handling the cash management for corresponding banks, processing money wires, as well as opening accounts for new and existing customers. Schuster served on the Summer Recreation Board for 15 years and has been the financial secretary for the United Lutheran Church for 25 years, a role she still serves.

Living History Farm brings back memories

The rain just does not stop!! We had hail a month ago, and everyone needs to replace their roofs. Last night, I heard from a neighbor to the Farm House B&B and it was bad there two weeks ago. They need a new roof, siding, and windows. The churches on Church Road were both hit. And the crops, which everyone had said all summer had looked the best they ever have, were shredded, especially the beans. Now, if it rains the rest of the week, who knows. Farmers are the biggest Gamblers around!

We had a guest from California all week and she begged us to send the rain to them! If only. We had a good time, but I have to admit that I was shot last night. I'm not used to short nights and long days. This gal was my roommate in the nurses' dorm many moons ago, and makes almost an annual visit to the Cornhusker state. Speaking of moons, we had a great view of the eclipse from our deck.

One of our day trips was to the Wessels Living History Farm south of York. We had been on the grounds there several years ago, when all they had was a barn and a crib. That has certainly changed! I know, we've all been to museums, but this really is a working farm. The executive director was going from welcoming us to picking pumpkins from between the corn rows before they combine.

There were eleven of us, and for awhile, we were actually Church Basement Ladies, because that is where we had our lunch. A typical basement, with the kitchen, you know the kind. Most of us grew up in one like it. However, we did not have an elevator, and this one does. Which is good, because the bathroom is on the ground floor.

We then gathered in the balcony where one classmate played the old Tracker organ, once we figured out how to turn it on. All the accoutrements are there: altar, podium, baptismal font. This church was moved from Thayer last year, and is over one hundred years old.

Next was the one room schoolhouse, which most of us also remembered. The gal from Columbus was the only member of her class for all eight years. (The Big Farmer can relate, he had a classmate for about six weeks. He says you had to know the answers because there was no one else to call on!)

The gal from Holdrege had us reminiscing about the outhouses, and the fact that, when we needed to use one, we had to hold up fingers: one for going number one, two for number two. Most of us did not question this, and just did as we were told. She, however, said it made her mad because she always wondered why the teacher had to know! And, what if you changed your mind???

Anyway, as you can gather, it's a place for remembering. One shed had a huge collection of old tractors. The barn had a barn dance in it last weekend. The sign in front of the house says it is an example of a prosperous farm house of 1920. Sort of like all the lovely old houses near us in the B&B. A lot of farmers did quite well prior to the Thirties.

They have completely restored the woodwork and the window treatments all look authentic. It's filled with furniture and memorabilia. For instance, I had not seen a glass banana holder before. In the kitchen were all kinds of tools from that era. I remember that my Mom had a butter churn that was a glass container with a handle that turned the paddles inside. The stove had a box of cobs beside it, and she showed us the reservoir for hot water. Someone remembered the baths in the tin tub in front of the stove on Saturday nights, whether we needed it or not!

You get the picture! If you get a chance to visit this place, do take advantage. And plan for more time than we did, because we could have used a couple more hours, easily. If you can't get there, go to the website; it has great pictures! There are also interviews with a lot of folks who are gone now, with stories of living in these times. Thank goodness someone plans to keep these things alive. Dave Wessels left two million dollars for this project, and it's a great one!

Pirate bugs, other buggy fall nuisances on the increase

I have been getting this question the last few days. What is that itty-bitty black blanket-blank bug that is biting me? And why are those big lady beetles taking a taste out of my poor hide?

Well the tiny black bug about the size of a period is called a minute (as in small) pirate bug, and the big lady beetle is of course the Asian lady beetle.

These insects are actually beneficial predators of soybean aphids in soybean fields. Now however, as the soybean fields are drying up and losing their leaves these insects are moving about trying to find other meals before winter arrives. For some reason they like to land on humans and take a test bite.

Minute pirate bugs have very tiny needle-like mouthparts, and when they drill into you, it is amazing that such a tiny insect has such an irritating bite. The best thing to do is wear long pants and sleeves, since they don't seem to respond to repellents such as DEET very well. A good frost will lay them low but who knows when that will happen.

Cost-share for flow meters are available until Oct. 16

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) is discussing changes to their Groundwater Management Plan to more efficiently and effectively promote sound stewardship of groundwater. These changes will help the LENRD in its mission to conserve, develop, and manage the water resources of northeast Nebraska.

While multiple changes to the Groundwater Management Plan are anticipated, the first proposed change is to require flow meters on all irrigation wells.

After the meters are installed, the LENRD will use this management tool throughout the district to manage groundwater during periods of drought, to manage increasing irrigation development while protecting current users, and to manage water quality initiatives related to keeping nutrients in the root zone where plants can absorb them, keeping them out of the finite aquifers.

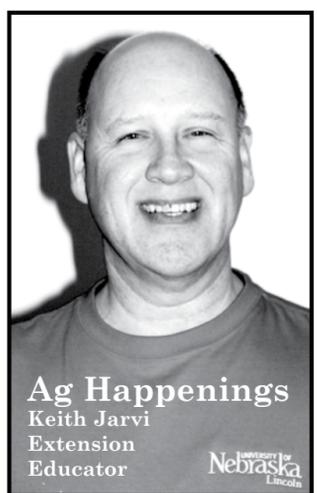

Cost-share assistance for purchasing and installing flow meters is available this year. The signup deadline is Friday, Oct. 16. Producers are encouraged to visit their local NRCS office to take advantage of this opportunity. There is currently no guarantee that these cost-share funds will be available in coming years with the LENRD's continued focus on lowering property taxes.

LENRD General Manager Mike Sousek said, "The district does understand that currently some producers are using other technologies to determine a volume of water used. According to the research from UNL, the only true way to determine how much water is flowing through a pipe is with the use of a meter. Depending on the technology used, parameters need to be programmed into a formula, which then estimates water use." Due to a potential fairness issue with some producers using meters and others using technology and formulas, the district staff is recommending that only true measuring devices be used in allocation scenarios. If allocations are in place, the meters will provide an equitable and impartial measurement for all irrigators.

The goal of this program is to keep the district from implementing drastic changes to water policy during drought conditions. The drought of 2012 prompted the district to make difficult decisions over a short period of time, addressing urgent water shortage conditions. Having meters in place will allow the district to set allocations during times of drought. Overall, this is the most fair and equitable management tool that allows both producers and the LENRD to best manage our finite resource of water. Water meters will allow the district to address water shortage concerns from year to year and keep the economic engine of northeast Nebraska running.

Sousek added, "Using meters is not necessarily for managing groundwater under normal conditions, but planning for the infrequent challenges during extreme drought that will allow for protection of all existing uses, and in areas allow for the expansion of uses, providing continued economic benefit to the region, and maximizing the overall benefit for northeast Nebraska and improving the quality of life for its residents."

What do crickets, millipedes, Asian lady beetles, box elder bugs, wolf spiders, and other creepy crawlies all have in common this time of the year? You have probably figured it out; they are looking for a cozy place to hole up for the winter.

Crickets are a critical part of our ecosystem. They feed on a lot of different plants, decaying organic matter and even other dead insects. They are also a valuable food source for other animals such as spiders, birds, and snakes.

Millipedes are thin, hard shelled worm-like arthropods with many legs. They feed on organic matter and are efficient recyclers of plant material. Millipedes are less annoying, but still will enter your house and dry up into a hard shell for you to clean up.

The next most common invader is the Asian lady beetle, which are beneficial for much of the year since they feed on soybean aphids and other harmful insects. However, at this time of the year, these critters begin to enter buildings, and if you happen to have a cricket sneak into your house and start chirping in the middle of the night it can drive you crazy. Asian lady beetles will congregate in large numbers and if you have a nice overwintering site, they will enter by the hundreds or even thousands. They have a disagreeable odor and can stain areas when you crush them.

Any cool snap will begin to drive these bugs into looking for better quarters, so now is the time to prepare for these annoyances. Look for any gaps in windows, doors, cracks in foundations, and any other openings which will give easy access. Fill the gaps with foam sealant or any other method that will prevent entry. Outside, if you have heavy mulch, boards, and wood piles around the foundation, these make excellent hiding places and areas where these critters can stage up for a home invasion. Remove these hiding areas if you can.

An insecticide "barrier" may be created by spraying the exterior of structures along the foundation with a wide band of about 4-5 feet. Spray about two feet up into the foundation as well. Make sure you spray the product to the point where you can see the material running down the foundation to give you extra residual. Keep pets and children away from the area until the surface dries.

You can purchase these barrier insecticides at your local hardware store. Many of the so-called "Home Defense" type products are good choices for a barrier spray. I don't normally like to single out a product but Tempo (cyfluthrin) is now available for homeowners and is an excellent barrier spray. If you have ornamental beds and lawns adjacent to the foundation it may be advisable to treat those as well.

One last comment; these products don't last for one year like the advertisements may say. Depending on weather conditions, you may have to spray every two to four weeks until we get a hard freeze. Good luck on the "home front."

Don't get me started

Haven House supports victims of domestic abuse

My sister and I came from a loving, caring family. Looking back on that period in my life, I remember that we grew up in some fun and interesting times. We went on family vacations, shot baskets on the basketball goal my dad made from irrigation pipe and played catch in the back yard more times than I care to count.

We had our share of family discussions and arguments over the years. My parents would have arguments at the kitchen table about things that, as kids, we really didn't have any interest in like family finances. The arguments were sometimes passionate, but never violent.

The same could not be said for my friends who lived down the street from us.

Our family was friends with another family where violence seemed to be the answer to everything. My sister and I received the occasional spanking when we disobeyed our parents, but it was nothing compared to what we would witness when our friends incurred the wrath of their father and his 36-inch long leather belt.

Something as simple as spilling a glass of milk at the dinner table could serve as the spark to start the fire of rage in our friends' father, who would quickly come out of his chair, grab the offending child, drag them into the nearest room and begin slapping their backsides. And then you'd hear the "zzzzzip" of the belt being pulled through the loops of his pants and the whipping sound that ended with leather meeting skin and the child screaming in pain.

And if the belt wasn't handy, just about any object would do. We saw our friends beaten with everything from a yardstick to a golf club. His hand was an equally-effective weapon - you could feel my friends' pain from across the room as his hand came forcefully in contact with their behind.

His wife was helpless in stopping the abuse. She was much smaller than her husband, and she learned fairly early in the relationship to stay out of the line of fire. On the occasions she did try to stop, she would wind up receiving some of the abuse her children got from their father.

Domestic violence like this happens all over, even here in our community. Whether it's of a physical nature, or even of an emotionally-abusive one, it can happen anywhere at any time.

Domestic violence is a pattern of coercive, controlling behavior that includes abuse of a physical, emotional, psychological, sexual or even financial nature. Abusers use domestic violence to establish and maintain power and control over an intimate partner, whether it's a spouse, girlfriend/boyfriend or even a child.

We are very fortunate, in this area, to have an organization such as Haven House that can help those who are experiencing some form of domestic violence. October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, and you will see some displays in the courthouses in the five-county area Haven House serves, as well as in libraries in Wakefield and Hartington.

I'm proud to have been asked to be a member of Haven House's board of directors, and I'm also proud of the work these people do. It's difficult work, but for the people in this area who Haven House serves, it's life-changing work that needs to be done.

Domestic violence is a horrible thing for any family to go through, and it's especially difficult on the children who have to live with this terror on a daily basis.

Our children emulate the actions of the adults who influence them, which is why domestic violence causes long-term damage beyond the initial attacks. Children who live with domestic violence grow up with low self-esteem, are at high risk for drug and alcohol abuse, tend to perform poorly in school and are at risk for entering the criminal justice system. Studies have shown that girls are six times more likely to enter into an abusive relationship, because that's all they have seen their mother deal with. And boys who are in a domestic violence situation are 10 times more likely to mirror that abuse in their intimate relationships as they become adults.

If you are in a domestic violence situation, or know somebody who is, help is available with Haven House's 24-hour hotline at (800) 440-4633. They have an office here in Wayne at 509 Dearborn St., and offices are also available in Hartington and South Sioux City. Information is also available on the web at www.havenhousefsc.com or on Facebook at facebook.com/havenhousefsc.

Check out Nebraska Sandhills

By J.L. SCHMDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Spring showers and summer rains have been good to the Nebraska Sandhills, leaving them as lush as ever and well worth a look before Fall paints them in hues of brown.

The Sandhills cover nearly 20,000 square miles - about a fourth of the state - with mixed grass prairie and grass stabilized sand dunes, some as high as 330 feet. Elevation of the area ranges from 1,800 feet on the eastern edge to 3,600 feet in the beautiful northwest.

Yes, this is the area you have heard about where there are more cows than people - an estimated 530,000 cows at any one time. There are also more fence posts than people and miles and miles of barbed and regular fence wire. Crops are rare. As the pioneers discovered, the stuff just doesn't grow in sandy soil. There are an estimated 720 types of plants that do grow in this area that has been dubbed an "ecoregion" because at least 85 percent of the Sandhills is still natural habitat.

This is where cowboys and cowgirls live and ride horses -- just like in the movies - and right here in Nebraska. Sure, there are a fair number of pickups and sport utility vehicles - mostly 4-wheel-drive equipped. There is also a unique breed of pickup truck with a cab and a flatbed suitable for hauling everything from hay bales to dead carcasses. There are manufacturing companies dotting the small Sandhills communities that specialize in making these ranch beds.

Veteran ranchers say that most of the cattle wrangling chores are still done on horseback. One does see a few small "four-wheeler" vehicles with room for one or two people, but they aren't as sure-footed on the greasy grass and soft shifting sand as horses.

These Sandhillers are a hardy lot. The area is termed semi-arid, with rainfall averaging 23 inches in the eastern region to less than 17 inches in the west. But, the temperature ranges from a low of 30 degrees below zero to a high of 105. Conditions vary from range fires to blizzards, and the area has seen its share of both.

Some years ago, I had the opportunity to fly over the area with a handful of state senators and emergency management personnel in the aftermath of a blizzard that brought complaints from ranchers that deer and antelope were eating their stacks of hay bales that were stockpiled to get their cattle through the winter. It was then that I discovered the magic of the blowouts, areas on the backside of dunes where the snow wouldn't pile up and animals could forage. From the air they resembled the gigantic heel print of a cowboy boot.

I recently returned from a trip through the Sandhills to attend the annual conference of the Mari Sandoz Heritage Society in Chadron. Sandoz, buried on a hillside overlooking cherry orchards south of Gordon, often wrote of the magic of the Sandhills where she was born. More importantly, she wrote about the people.

One of her most popular books was Old West, the biography of her father. In the epigram, Sandoz quotes Big Andrew, one of the early pioneers:

One can go into a wild country and make it tame, but, like a coat and cap and mittens that he can never take off, he must always carry the look of the land as it was. He can drive the plough ... make fields and roads go every way, build him a fine house and wear the stiff collar, and yet he will always look like the grass where the buffalo have eaten and smell of the new ground his feet have walked on.

A visit to the Sandoz gravesite is a peaceful experience. A drive through the countryside is strangely relaxing - due in large part to an absence of other traffic. A stop in one of the Sandhills communities brings a feeling of welcome and politeness often missing in larger communities, yes even in Nebraska "nice."

A fellow named Ron Scheer created a nice video look at the area about six years ago. He calls it "My West: The Sandhills of Nebraska." It's worth a look (try YouTube). You'll see a number of images that you really need to get out and see for yourself.

I like what he says. For all the beauty and glory of the area, his favorite thing about the Sandhills is "the peace and quiet."

Don't take his word for it. Go out and experience it for yourself.

Legislative Update

Online registration getting a workout

It has been a busy time for Secretary of State John Gale. As I told you last week, on Sept. 22, an online voter registration program was launched. While the 2016 general election is over a year away, his office is busy gearing up for it already.

Early reports had over 800 people using the online registration in less than a week. If you need to register to vote or know someone who does, I would encourage you to go to www.nebraska.gov/apps-sos-voter-registration and follow the step-by-step process of registering. For those of you who, like me, are not wild about using the computer for everything, a quick trip to the court house will still get the job done.

Most of you are aware that 2016 will be my last year in office due to term limits. This means that next year you will be deciding who will be the next representative of District 17. Anyone interested in seeking the position will need to file with Secretary of State Gale's office after Dec. 1, 2015 but before March 1, 2016. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me or the office. If you or someone you know might be thinking about running for the position, I will be more than happy to visit with you and share my ex-

Science groups are fun for area youth

Youth are actively engaged in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) learning experiences across National 4-H. There are two opportunities for families to get involved this fall with 4-H STEM. First Lego League is a special interest club for youth 9 to 14 years-old to explore the field of robotics through real-world engineering challenges. The team will conduct a research project based on the theme, "Trash Trek", practice team-building skills through core values, and design a robot to complete the challenges. The youth at each practice learn valuable skills in STEM, and will develop public speaking and team building skills.

There is a large need for more volunteers to help mentor and/or coach a local robotics team or volunteer at the tournaments. Please consider joining this hands-on learning experience for the youth. For more information, please visit this website: www.firstlegoleague.org.

Another learning experience for a classroom, club, or family to do the National Science Day Experiment. The experiment this year will combine a speeding car collision and a distracted driving demonstration. The "Motion Commotion" experiment is a two-part science activity that involves every day materials, including a toy car, modeling clay, ruler, calculator and cell phone.

In the first phase, youth will construct a simulated runway to analyze the speed, momentum and kinetic energy of a car in motion, and will explore the science behind the car's collisions. In the second phase, they will lead an experiment that uses the same physics principles to demonstrate the consequences of distracted driving. For more information, please visit this website: www.4-h.org/4-h-national-youth-science-day.

A recent longitudinal study conducted by Tufts University, The Positive Development of Youth: Comprehensive Findings from the 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development, revealed 4-H programming does indeed get young people more connected to science. According to the study, 4-Hers are two times more likely to participate in science, engineering and computer technology programs during out-of-school time (Grades 10-12) and 4-H girls are two times more likely (Grade 10) and nearly three times more likely (Grade 12) to take part in science programs compared to girls in other out-of-school time activities.

Every year, youth complete more than 5 million 4-H Science projects in robotics, agricultural science, rocketry, wind power, environmental science, etc. For more information about youth development needs, interested persons are encouraged to contact their local Nebraska Extension Office or visit the website at www.extension.unl

Feeling helpless? You're not alone

I am pretty sure that I can confidently say that I am not the only one who has ever felt a feeling of helplessness in their life. I remember almost a year and a half ago where I felt totally helpless because at that time, my daughter, who was not even one, was lying in a hospital crib with pneumonia and my wife was home sick with the stomach flu. There I sat in the hospital room with our daughter feeling a sense of helplessness.

Whether it is sitting next to a loved one in a hospital room or sitting next to someone at home who is severely sick or even breathing their last breaths, a feeling of helplessness sinks in. Whether it is standing next to a friend who just lost a love one or standing next to a friend who found out their spouse wants a divorce, a feeling of helplessness sinks in. Whether it is standing there at work with a pink slip in your hand or as you watch a storm wipe out your crops and maybe your house, a feeling of helplessness sinks in. And the list can go on and on.

Just the other day I had that feel-

A Word In Faith

By Mike Feldmann
Pastor, Grace Lutheran Church

ing of helplessness sink in. It had been a great day as my family and I went to the zoo in Omaha and we had a great time. But as I was thinking about my family in the other vehicle, a feeling of helplessness began to sink in. Why? I don't know for sure. Maybe it was because the different illnesses which have been going through our house have started to take their toll on me, or maybe it was something else I just haven't figured out yet. All I know was as I was driving home, this feeling of helplessness sunk in.

But then I heard a song on the radio. I was listening to Good News

Radio on 90.9FM, and this song came on which I have heard a number of times. It is called "I Am Not Alone" and it is sung by Kari Jobe. The chorus which is repeated numerous times in the song says:

*"I am not alone
I am not alone
You will go before me
You will never leave me."*

In the song she pulls her lyrics mainly from Exodus 14:14 which says, "The Lord will fight for you; you only need to be still." She also says that all the words for the verses come from Psalm 23, Exodus 14:14 and Isaiah 43. In those passages God tells us simply that we are not alone. He has gone before us and will never leave us and He will help us through our helplessness.

As I listened to this song in my car, my feeling of helplessness left. I realized that I was trying to do everything on my own and I wasn't giving it over to God as He has told me to do. Knowing that I am not alone in my moment of helplessness was a huge relief.

I pray that you to find that same relief which I did when I heard this absolutely wonderful promise of God because you are not alone. No matter what your circumstance is in life, God is with you! He has gone before you! He will never ever leave you! As Kari Jobe sings in one of the verse:

*"You're my strength
You're my defender
You're my refuge in the storm
Through these trials
You've always been faithful
You bring healing to my soul"*

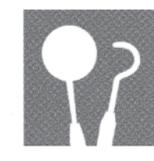

I invite you to go online and listen to this song. I pray it brings healing to your moments of helplessness.

Depression screening at NECC Oct. 7

Northeast Community College will be among sites across the country to host an event to observe National Depression Screening Day.

The event, sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Coalition for Suicide Prevention, Midtown Health Center and Northeast Community College, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 7, from 10:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., in Hawks Landing, in the upper level of the Student Center on Northeast's Norfolk campus.

National Depression Screening Day (NDS), held annually during the first full week in October, is dedicated to raising awareness and screening people for depression and related mood and anxiety disorders. It is the nation's oldest voluntary, community-based screening program that gives access to validated screening questionnaires and provides referral information for treatment. This year marks the 25 year of this revolutionary campaign.

The Healthy Body, Healthy Mind program also offers to take a confidential mental health assessment online at www.helpyourselfhelpothers.org.

Depression screening is effective in linking at-risk individuals with treatment options. Results from a 2009 independent research study by the University of Connecticut and commissioned by Screening for Mental Health confirm this connection. The study showed that 55-percent of participants who completed an online depression screening and who agreed to participate in a follow-up survey sought depression treatment within three months of the screening.

For more information about this event, call Brundieck at Northeast Community College at (402) 844-7277.
