City to sue NPPD over 'unfair' rate hike

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Wayne's city administrator said the City of Wayne will be one of at least four entities that will sue the Nebraska Public Power District over its decision to raise rates on wholesale customers that have refused to sign a new contract with the power company.

Late Wednesday, the NPPD board of directors held a special meeting in Grand Island and unanimously approved a wholesale rate schedule for 2016. Beginning Jan. 1, 2016, wholesale customers who have signed a new 20-year contract with NPPD will see their rates increase at a discounted rate of 3.57 percent. Those entities who do not sign a new contract – including the cities of Wayne, Wakefield, South Sioux City and Northeast Nebraska Public Power District – will see a rate increase of 3.8 percent.

"Our customers' feedback, not only at the rate hearing but over the past two years of contract negotiations, has played a critical role in the Board's approval of these rate options," NPPD Board chairman Ed Schrock said in a news release issued by NPPD. "We believe the rate schedule is fair and non-discriminatory for all customers who have invested in a not-for-profit system which has served a majority of them for more than 45 years."

Currently, the city of Wayne has an existing contract with NPPD that runs through 2021. The city gave the required five-year notice of its intent to terminate its deal with NPPD back in 2013, and will cut the amount of power it receives from NPPD down to 10 percent starting in 2019 and continuing through the final three years of the deal.

"We had told them ahead of time that (the 3.8 percent increase) violates our contract and that we'd sue them if they approved it," Wayne city administrator Lowell Johnson told The Wayne Herald, adding that a consortium that includes Northeast Nebraska Public Power District and the cities of Wayne, Wakefield and South Sioux City have retained Omaha lawyers Steve Davidson and David Levy of the Baird Holmes law firm as special legal counsel to fight NPPD in court.

Johnson said that NPPD has manufactured issues that they are using to justify forcing their wholesale customers into signing new 20-year contracts, even though a number of them – including Wayne – still had time left on their present deals.

"We've been talking about this since 2013 and ultimately said no thanks," Johnson said. "Once other wholesale customers started questioning them and more resistance started, they came up with this new problem of an underfunded retirement package, which is basically a manufactured way of penalizing us for not renewing with them."

Johnson said he and the other administrators were not surprised by the NPPD board's decision Wednesday.

"I think NPPD just expected everybody was going to sign up again and they'd be able to spread out this underfunding of their retirement health program into the future, but now, since we're not signing up, they want us to pre-pay for what we would have had on the new contract."

Johnson said that the penalty being imposed by NPPD would cost the city about $100,000 a year, although an exact number wouldn't be known because the amount of power used by the city varies from year to year. The city would see a much smaller amount paid out in the final three years of their current contract with NPPD, as they will only get 10 percent of their power from NPPD between 2019 and 2021 when the contract expires.

"It won't affect us as much because we jumped out as quick as we could," Johnson said. "We had to give five years' notice and we did that two years ago, telling them we were going to reduce what we purchase from them by 90 percent starting in 2019, per the language of the contract. The mayor and the City Council wisely jumped on that right away."

Johnson said he was uncertain if other NPPD customers would join Wayne, Wakefield, South Sioux City and Northeast Nebraska Public Power in their fight against NPPD.

"They may be waiting for us to do it before deciding whether or not to jump in," he said. "There are others who want to stay with the existing contract, and NPPD is penalizing them."

The locker room for the Wayne State men's basketball team got a $25,000 makeover gift this summer from State Nebraska Bank president Matt Ley, including new graphics on the lockers in the reconfigured locker area.

'Cats home gets makeover

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

When Brian Dolan first took the job as Wayne State men's basketball coach three years ago, one of the first things he noticed was the team's locker room.

The men's basketball locker room was more a space than anything else. With no partition wall separating the two toilets and showers in need of updating, Dolan wanted to create a new environment that he could show off to potential recruits.

"We just had lockers in there. It was a place to go change clothes," Dolan said. "I wanted to give the kids an area that's their own and could be a lounge area and be someplace they could be proud of showing their moms."

Dolan talked with State Nebraska Bank president Matt Ley, who is a big fan of the men's basketball program, and came up with a plan to give the locker room a complete makeover.

"It was something of an organic process," Ley said. "Coach approached me about it and we took a look around the locker room and brought in Heidi Claussen from SignWorks out of Omaha, and she did a great job with the project and we got what we wanted."

While the lockers remained in place, the east half of the locker room was walled off, creating a lounge area where players can relax in a recliner and watch TV on a projection screen system. Players and coaches also use the lounge area to watch video and go over situations before practice.

The $25,000 makeover for the men's locker room was more than just an

The new lounge area allows players to kick back and relax and watch some TV, or break down video of practices and games. ## Overin Field grandstand work to begin

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

As the Kansas City Royals and New York Mets opened the World Series Tuesday evening, baseball fans in Wayne are gearing up for a baseball classic of their own.

The last of the cement was poured Tuesday at Hank Overin Field, and work will soon begin on rebuilding the grandstand that was destroyed when a wind storm in June of 2014 blew a tree into the 70-year-old structure.

A citizens committee that was formed by Mayor Ken Chamberlain has spent much of the last 12-15 months meeting to go over everything from fundraising to approving design plans for a new grandstand, as well as updated restroom and concession facilities and a new storage area and press box that will sit behind the first base dugout.

More than $80,000 has been raised in the form of donations from local businesses, residents and former Wayne High and Wayne American Legion baseball players, as well as a variety of fundraisers that included a

"We've met with the City of Wayne, and in the conversations we've had, we feel like we have the money we need between donations, insurance and the city's commitment to complete the project as we know it," Pat Melena, chairman of the citizens committee, told The Wayne Herald in between innings of Game One of the World Series Tuesday. "We feel like we're just about where we need to be."

Concrete in the area where the grandstand will be located was finished on Tuesday, and Melena said all the concrete that needed to be replaced behind the backstop area has been finished, which will allow for Sand Creek Post and Beam to bring the materials in to being work on constructing the grandstand.

"Within the next few weeks, we should start to see the grandstand structure going up," Melena said.

Work will also be done on the current

The last of the cement was poured Tuesday in the grandstand area at Hank Overin Field as construction crews prepared the area for the new grandstand that will replace the one destroyed in a wind storm in June of 2014. Work on the grandstand is expected to begin in early November.

Male youth targeted with sexual talk

The Wayne Police Department is asking for the public's assistance in identifying a vehicle and its driver involved in an incident on Tuesday, Oct. 20.

A young juvenile male was approached while walking home from school by a male subject in a vehicle who made inappropriate sexual advances and comments toward the juvenile.

The description obtained described the driver of the vehicle as a white male, thin build, with short light brown or blonde hair and wearing sunglasses. The vehicle involved was a smaller gold colored two door vehicle with a small flare spoiler on the trunk lid.

Anyone who was in the area around the Wayne County Courthouse on Tuesday, Oct. 20, between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m., and saw this vehicle or its occupant and can provide further information, please contact the Wayne Police Department at (402) 375-2626.

Dollar General Store was the target of a telephoned bomb threat Friday evening.

No bomb found after phone threat

An overseas phone call to a Wayne business resulted in the business being evacuated early Friday evening.

In a news release to area media Monday morning, Wayne Police Chief Marlen Chinn said that the Wayne Police Department was dispatched to Dollar General at around 6:40 p.m. Friday on a report of a bomb threat that was received via telephone.

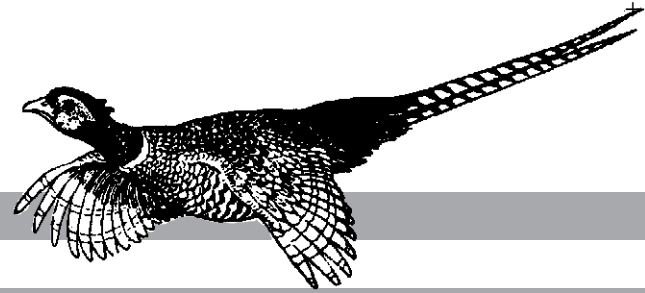

A store employee was on the phone with the person making the threat when police officers arrived on the scene and evacuated the building. The caller threatened to detonate an explosive device left at the store unless the employee worked with the caller in an effort to extort funds from Money Gram cards the employee was told to activate.

Working with two separate phone companies, Wayne Police Department determined that the call was being made from Europe via a VOIP (Voice Over Internet Protocol) phone service, using a special "spoof card" that displays a fictitious phone number on the company's caller ID. A similar scam has been used against Dollar General Stores previously, with an incident being reported at a store in Massachusetts on Oct. 11.

Store managers closed the business early Friday evening to ensure the safety of the employees and customers. Authorities thoroughly checked the business and found no explosive device at or near the building.

Samuel Leonard

Samuel L. Leonard, 89, of Wayne, died Thursday, Oct. 22, 2015 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 28 at First United Methodist Church in Wayne. The Rev. Kyle Nelson and the Rev. Charlie Leonard officiated. Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery in Wakefield.

Memorials may be directed to the Leonard family for later designation.

Samuel LeRoy Leonard was born Jan. 13, 1926 on the family farm in Thurston County to Carl and Anna (Bressler) Leonard. He grew up on the family farm, attended rural school at District #1 (Bloody 1), graduated from Wakefield High School on May 19, 1944, and graduated from Nebraska State Teachers College in Wayne on Aug. 6, 1948. Samuel lived in Wayne while attending college, where he met Ruth. After their marriage and graduation, they both lived and taught in Monroe for two years. Then they returned to the family farm in Thurston County. There they raised two daughters, Barbara and Nancy, farmed the land and raised Hereford cattle. Sam was very proud of his cattle. Sam and Ruth moved to Wayne, in 1991 after retirement. They traveled to many destinations across America together for several years. These trips, as well as farm life, were an inspiration for Sam's numerous paintings. Samuel was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Survivors include his daughter, Nancy (Mike) Berns of Wayne; granddaughter and family, Megan (Jason) Christiansen and great-grandson, Seth Christiansen of Woodbine, Iowa; grandson, Marcus Berns of Wayne; sisters-in-law, Marilyn Leonard of Pender and Virginia Leonard of Wayne; numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Barbara Ruth Leonard in 2008; daughter, Barbara Leonard in 1976; brothers, Bub, Jim, Jeff, and Bob Leonard; and one sister, Marge Hyde.

Pallbearers will be Seth Christiansen, Jason Christiansen, Marcus Berns, Dave Berns, Mike Leonard and Mike Berns.

Arrangements are with Hasemann Funeral Home Wayne.

Richard 'Woody' Frye

Richard W. "Woody" Frye, 68, of Wayne, died Sunday, Oct. 25, 2015 at his home in Wayne after a long illness.

A memorial gathering will be held on Friday, Oct. 30 from 5 until 7 p.m. at the Bressler - Munderloh - Smith Funeral Home in Wakefield. Burial will be held at a later date in Goobertown, Ark.

Richard was born on July 17, 1947 in Peoria, Ill., the son of Clifford and Jewel (Adams) Frye. At an early age, the family moved to California, where he graduated from high school from Gilroy, Calif. He began working with National Fiberglass. The job brought him to Wayne in the early 1970's. He later worked with Great Dane Trailers until his health forced him to retire in 2012. Richard had a love for music. At an early age he played with his family in a band. He also enjoyed telling jokes and playing cards. Most of all he loved his family.

Survivors include his son, Eric (Katie) Frye and their children Devon and Alexis of Wayne; daughters Tina (Randy) Weaver and their children Justin and Jacob of Colorado Springs, Colo. and Makayla Sternberg and her son, Hunter, of Wayne; two sisters-in-law, Bobbie Frye of Atwater, Calif. and JoAnn Frye of Wayne.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, David and Jack Frye.

Arrangements are with Bressler - Munderloh - Smith Funeral in Wakefield is in charge of arrangements.

Dolores (Thomsen) Borchers

Dolores Faye (Thomsen) Borchers, 79, of Los Angeles, Calif., died Friday, Oct. 9, 2015.

Dolores was born Sept. 26, 1936 on a small farm in Dixon County, the fourth of five children of Neva and Rudolph (Boots) Thomsen. Following her school years and after attending Wayne State College, she taught for a few years before going back to earn a degree in business. She worked a few local jobs before she headed west with stops in Arizona and ultimately landed in the San Francisco Bay area where many other family members lived.

In 1962 she gave birth to her son, Alan Duane Thomsen. In 1975 she married Ronald Borchers, and his job relocated them to the Los Angeles area where they bought a home in North Hollywood. The couple retired to Carson City, Nev. and lived there until Ronald died in 2008. Dolores again moved to Los Angeles (Eagle Rock) and lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Helga, and two grandchildren, David and Emma. For the last seven years "Dee" has enjoyed her time with her family and traveling the streets and boulevards of LA by bus and taxi. She made numerous new friends after joining two Senior Clubs and the ladies auxiliary of the local Eagles Lodge. She enjoyed playing bingo and fundraising, as well as regular trips to the local casinos.

Survivors include her son and his family; her older brother, Duane (Pete), his wife, Claire, their daughter, Jolleen and her husband, Joel; her younger brother, Dale, his wife, Kate and their two children, Ian and Neva, Mark Trevett and wife, Patty, Wayne Trevett and wife, Bernadette and Joyce Trevett and their families.

She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Ronald Borchers; older brother, Donald, and older sister, Dorthy Trevett, and her husband, Forest; nephews, Lynn Trevett and Paul Thomsen.

Wayne State art department presents Chris Holton Show, featuring Montana artists

The Wayne State College Department of Art and Design will present artists Chris Holton, Jade Lowder and Matthew Schwager in an exhibit titled "Fifty Thousand Years of Nonlinear Editing" Nov. 4-25 in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery.

An opening reception will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 4 from 4:30-5:30 p.m. in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, located on the second floor of the Peterson Fine Arts Building. This reception is free and open to the public.

Three Artists' Talk featuring the artists will also be held on Nov. 4 in Gardner Auditorium from 3:45-4:15 p.m.

Holton is an instructor at WSC, teaching Visual Arts Experience and Design courses. He graduated from WSC in 2010 and received his master's from Montana State.

Lowder received his undergraduate degree at Montana State University and went on to earn his master's at Washington State University. Lowder works as an artist in Bozeman, Mont.

Schwager earned his bachelor's degree at Montana State and received his master's in Experimental Digital Media at the University of Waterloo in Ontario, Canada. Schwager is a writer and designer in Chicago.

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m.-5 p.m., and all shows end at noon on the closing day.

For more information on this exhibition and upcoming shows, or to learn more about the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, visit www.wsc.edu/artgallery or call (402) 375-7359.

Children of all ages enjoyed crawling through the cardboard box maze during last year's Optimist Club event.

Optimists to sponsor Halloween maze

The Optimist Club is encouraging anyone who wants to have an extra special Halloween to come to Our Savior Lutheran's Front Porch, located at Fifth and Main Street from 4 to 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 31.

The club has constructed a maze that twists and turns and at the end will be a treat for sure.

"Don't miss this special treat to add to your evening of fun. Children accompanied by parents are invited to join the fun," said Phyllis Rahn, a member of the Optimist Club. Wayne Optimists have sponsored this maze for a number of years, but this is the first time it has been located at the Front Porch and they are asking all to "come join us."

The Wayne County Museum will be one of the six stops on this year's Friends of the Wayne Museum Tour. Proceeds from the event will be used for upkeep of the museum.

Friends of the Wayne Museum Tour of Homes set for Nov. 20-21

The Friends of the Wayne Museum have set the dates and announced the names of those who will have their homes open for this year's Tour of Homes.

Five homes in Wayne and the Wayne Museum will be part of this year's tour, set for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20-21. Tours will take place from 5-8:30 p.m. on Friday and 11 a.m.-2:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Homes on this year's tour include Dana and Sonya Tompkins, Mark Kanitz and Lukas Rix, Casey and Shona Junck, Adam and Lainie Severson and Matt and Melissa Eischeid. In addition, the Wayne County Museum will be decorated and a part of the tour.

Tickets are $15 each, with proceeds from the event going toward general upkeep of the museum.

Advance tickets for the event may be purchased at all Wayne banks or at the Wayne Area Economic Development Office. Tickets will also be sold at the museum during the tour.

The Wayne County Museum is located at the corner of Seventh and Lincoln Streets in Wayne.

This house was built in 1900 by Dr. W.C. Wightman at a cost of $13,000. It took two years to build. The Wightman family lived here until they moved to California in 1912.

The house was sold to a local banker, Rollie W. Ley, for about $6,000. The Ley family continued to own the house until 1976 when Mr. Ley's heirs donated it to the Historical Society for use as a museum.

Features of this gracious home include a reception hall of oak paneling, a built-in bookcase with curved glass doors, courting corner, stained glass and beveled glass windows and beautiful parquet floors.

The house is now listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Friends of the Museum members have extended thanks to the following members of the community who have decorated the museum for the event — Kate Lutt, Tracy Keating, Chele Meisenbach, Lois Shelton and Lorita Tompkins.

Refreshments will be served at the museum during the tour.

The home of Casey and Shona Junck is located at 1019 Grainland Road.

This modern ranch-style home was custom built and designed through Homestead Homes by the Juncks in 2009. They served as their own general contractor and take great pride in having helped with the construction process from start to finish.

The main living area is an open-concept featuring a large kitchen and dining area adjacent to the living room. The kitchen includes a curved eating bar as well as a custom glass-tile backsplash. This part of the home is truly a place where fellowship occurs, and is decorated for the holidays to reflect the Junck's taste for Christmas traditions and the country life. The scenic view of the Logan Creek Valley and the country feel of the neighborhood are a large part of why the Juncks located their home in the Beckenhauer Estates Subdivision. Their taste for the outdoors spills out from the main living area onto the deck and side patio that were specifically designed to allow them to enjoy the spectacular view.

Shonna's knack for modern and shabby-chic decorating is evident throughout. Each of the bedrooms also carries its own theme. The two young sons, Carter and Payton, share a love for sports. Carter's room showcases his devotion to the Huskers. Payton's room is a combination of all things sports related. Daughter Kennedy's room has a more eclectic theme with pinks, purples and turquoises taking center stage. The master bedroom reflects a more traditional Christmas style as a relaxing retreat for the couple. The home's three bathrooms are decorated to accent the color and paint scheme the Juncks have selected.

The basement serves a place for the children and extended family to gather during holiday and family occasions. The centerpiece of this area is a large floor to ceiling tree. Greenery and lights accent the molding along the south wall of the room. The designated play area contains a spirited childhood theme.

improved place for the team to hang out, Dolan said.

"Really, this serves two purposes," he said. "It shows potential recruits that our school is serious about this program and wants it to be successful, and it also shows our current players that the school cares about basketball and it gives them a place to hang out."

Dolan said it's not unusual to walk in and find one of the players relaxing in one of the black recliners.

"We've already caught Adam Moon taking a nap in here about four or five times," he said as Moon and other players laughed with the coach. "They like having the lounge area where they can hang out before class or just kick back and relax for a bit. It needs to be their place and their space."

Dolan said the locker area was changed to allow for each athlete to be able to sit at their locker during pregame or halftime discussions.

"They want to be in their space before a game, and we've tried to create that environment with this and I think we've got it done," Dolan said.

As you enter into the locker room, the walls are painted a flat black color, with a giant screen-printed set of Wildcat eyes staring off the east wall of the room and the team's social media hashtag "#wildstate" printed in silver underneath the eyes. out for players to relax on.

A wall was built between the lounge area and the locker area, the shower area was cleaned up and upgraded, and a partition wall was built between the two toilets to give players some extra privacy.

Dolan said he and his team is very appreciative of the donation State Nebraska Bank made to make the locker room upgrade possible.

"Matt and State Nebraska bank have supported us in so many ways, and we're so thankful for everything they've done," he said.

Ley said the bank has been a longtime supporter of the college, and he's happy with the direction Dolan and the athletic administration are taking the men's basketball program.

"Coach has brought a lot of excitement and a lot of ideas, and I agree with what he's doing and what (athletic director) Mike Powicki is doing to get this program up and running to where it was back when I was younger, and where I think it can be."

INFORMATION FOR AREA VETERANS

Veterans Day program set at WHS

The public, and especially anyone who has served in the military, is invited to attend this year's Veterans Day Program at Wayne High School.

The program begins at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 11 in the high school gym.

It will include the posting of colors by high school students who are members of the Nebraska National Guard, a welcome and pledge by Wayne Community Schools Superintendent Mark Lenihan and the singing of the National Anthem.

The speaker for this year's observance will be Fr. Mark Beran, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Fr. Beran served as a military chaplain in Iraq prior to coming to Wayne.

The Wayne High School band, under the direction of Alex Wieland, will play "O'er the Land of the Free" and "Salute to America's Finest" when the veterans can stand during the part of the song that represents their branch of the military.

Junior High students will be reading several poems they have written.

This will be followed by a Moment of Silence to remember those who have served, the playing of Taps and retiring of the colors

The school will have handicap signs out in front of the school where the veterans may park.

"They (veterans) don't have to have a handicap sticker to park there, we just wanted to make it easier for them," said Tucker Hight, Assistant Elementary Principal, who is organizing this year's program.

Veteran license plates to be available

Area veterans can get special driver's licenses and license plates with help from the Wayne County Veterans' Services office at the Wayne County Courthouse.

According to Brad Wieland, area veterans can have their service recognized on their driver's licenses when they renew them. If they don't want to wait for the renewal to have the designation put on their licenses, there is a charge of $13.50 to reprint the driver's license with the new designation.

The veterans' designation on the driver's license serves two purposes, Wieland said. Veterans are usually required to show proof that they are a veteran on Veteran's Day when going to restaurants to receive their free meal. They also get discounts at numerous stores where discounts are offered year-round to area veterans. Veterans are encouraged to ask store employees if a military discount is offered.

New military license plates will be issued by the state of Nebraska beginning in 2016. The new plates will cost $5, with personalized plates running $40.

To apply for the license plates, see Wieland at the Veterans Service Office, located on the third floor at the Wayne County Courthouse. He will assist in getting information sent to the state Department of Motor Vehicles.

More information on the military license plates can be found on the State of Nebraska website at www.clickdmv.ne.gov.

concession stand, and there will be an upgrade to the restroom facilities as well. A new structure that will allow for equipment storage and also serve as a new press box will also be constructed along the first base side behind the dugout.

Several trees behind the old grandstand were removed as part of the Window Street construction that is almost finished next to the field, and with the needed infrastructure underneath also updated, crews can begin work on the building construction that will take place at Hank Overin Field.

"Weather shouldn't limit the work," Melena said. "The concrete work is all done, so if it takes to the end of November or into early December, we should still be able to get it built."

Melena said the goal is to have the entire structure finished in time for the start of the 2016 spring high school baseball season in mid-March.

The committee is still accepting donations to help complete the entire project, including some landscaping, fencing and in building a new entrance to the ballpark. The committee recently received donations from Providence Medical Center from funds raised during the annual Chicken Days Run, and a check was also received from money raised from a poker run that same weekend.

"We're still looking for additional funds to finish everything off," Melena said. "It's not going to be anything fancy, but things like the entrance and landscaping that will really make the new grandstand look nice need to be done, and it will look great once we put a little money into it."

Melena said the Wayne Baseball Association plans to make a pitch for an American Legion state tournament next summer, and with a brand new grandstand and updated facilities to show off, he's optimistic it will be a grand slam for the city of Wayne.

"We're going to have a really nice field when it's all done," he said.

Area co-op: not such a crazy idea

Time to run through some thoughts and observations gleaned from several hours of travel across this geographic monstrosity known as Nebraska:

- I'm going to throw this idea out and see if this either inspires a collaboration or a full-scale riot.

When it comes to football, this area has struggled when it comes to fielding competitive, playoff-caliber programs. In places like Laurel and Wakefield, the thinning numbers has either forced a school to move from 11-man to 8-man (Wakefield) or take a chance on staying at 11-man and ending up forfeiting almost half their games during the previous two-year cycle (LCC).

Here in Wayne, we've got a different problem - we're forced to compete, year in and year out, in a district that is practically a state tournament preliminary round, seeing behemoths like Norfolk Catholic, Boone Central/Newman Grove and Pierce every year on the district docket.

So here's the crazy idea I've got - a three-way co-op between Wayne, Wakefield and LCC.

All three schools could easily contribute to a successful football program, especially considering a Wayne/Wakefield/LCC co-op would compete in Class B, instead of Class C1 - an especially appealing thought for Wayne fans who are tired of seeing their team take an annual multiple-touchdown beating at the hands of Norfolk Catholic or Pierce.

Both Wakefield and LCC would bring added depth to Wayne's front lines on offense and defense, and all three schools have plenty of skill position players who could open up a lot of possibilities on offense, as well as provide some talent in the defensive backfield and special teams.

By competing in Class B, a Wayne/Wakefield/LCC conglomerate would likely fall into a four-team district that would include either Blair, Mount Michael and Schuyler (if the NSAA sent the team east) or Aurora, Seward and York (if the team went west). Under these scenarios, Wayne would still have a challenging district schedule (especially in the Aurora-Seward-York district, where Aurora is the No. 1 seed and York is No. 6 in this year's playoffs), but would stand a better chance of making the 16-team playoffs in a 32-team field.

Football is a numbers game, and a Wayne/Wakefield/LCC co-op would be well stocked. If every player on all three teams listed in this year's football preview was on the team, there would be well over 100 players on the roster.

The biggest hurdle that I see in this is the long-standing community relationships between the communities. I realize there are some older folks in the area who think that one community or the other is evil, but if the "adults" in these communities could put past animosities aside and think of the best interests of their kids, this is a co-op arrangement that could not only work out, but be very entertaining to watch.

- To say this weekend is a huge one for the sixth-ranked Wayne State volleyball team would be the understatement of the season.

With Northern State dropping its first match of the season last week, the Wildcats are now in a position where they can take over first place in the Northern Sun Conference with a win in Aberdeen this Friday. With two wins this weekend, they would be tied with the Wolves for the top spot and own the head-to-head on tie-breaker for the regular-season conference title, which is the deciding factor in where the conference tournament is played.

The NSIC is once again the premiere volleyball conference in Div. II (half of the top 10 teams in the AVCA poll are NSIC schools, in case you want to argue against the point). Wayne State's position may look good right now, but there isn't

Leonard takes 11th to lead Wayne girls

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

KEARNEY - With near-perfect running conditions Friday, the Wayne High girls cross country team was able to come home with a fifth-place finish and an individual medal at the Nebraska State Cross Country Championships.

The Blue Devils were hoping to upgrade from last year's state runner-up finish, but couldn't quite keep up with conference rival and repeat Class C champion Boone Central/Newman Grove. Western schools Cozad, Sidney and Adams Central also finished ahead of the Blue Devils, who ended up with 97 points to finish in the upper half of the 12-team race.

"I think we've had better days, but to get out here is fantastic," coach Rocky Ruhl said after the race. "It was an excellent field and a lot of the teams that beat us were schools we haven't seen. The girls gave everything they had, and I'm not going to complain about their effort."

The Blue Devil girls were led by freshman Hannah Leonard, who rose to the No. 1 spot on the team early in the year and certainly rose to the occasion in the biggest race of her young career, coming home with an 11th place medal in a time of 21:00.0.

McLaughlin first on wins list after 20-17 triumph

Dan McLaughlin became the all-time wins leader in Wayne State football history, as Ryan Ludlow and Layne Sullivan both went over 100 yards rushing to help the Wildcats claim a 20-17 win over Concordia-St. Paul on Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

The win was McLaughlin's 63rd in 11 seasons as the head coach. His 63-57 overall record moves him past Del Stoltenberg, who was 62-70-5 in 14 seasons as Wildcat coach (1969-82).

The Golden Bears opened the scoring on their first series with a 24-yard field goal by Jonas Schenderlein, but the Wildcats responded on the ensuing drive with a seven-play, 74-yard march down the field to make it 7-3. Redshirt freshman quarterback Layne Sullivan found the end zone on a five-yard run to get the Wildcats on the board with 6:42 left in the opening period.

Concordia-St. Paul answered on the following drive and took a 10-7 lead into the locker room, but defense and special teams brought the Wildcats back in the second half.

Wayne State's special teams gave the Wildcats great field position after Nick deBuhr blocked a Golden Bear punt, giving Wayne State the ball at the Golden Bears' 37-yard line. Four plays later, senior running back Ryan Ludlow rambled 11 yards for a touchdown to put the Wildcats ahead for good with a

The Wildcat defense set up Wayne State's next score, as Nathan Weatherby intercepted a Trevor Tillett pass at the Concordia 47

Herald to sponsor Crossover Classic

The Wayne Herald and Morning Shopper are partnering with Wayne State College to sponsor the season-opening 2015 Crossover Classic women's basketball tournament Nov. 13-14 at Rice Auditorium.

The Wayne State women's basketball team is hosting a two-day crossover tournament for the second time, and The Wayne Herald and Morning Shopper is serving as the title sponsor for this year's Crossover Classic.

"We are pleased to be able to team up with Wayne State College to sponsor this event," Wayne Herald publisher Kevin Peterson said. "The Wayne Herald has been a corporate booster club member for the past decade, and this is another avenue to showcase our support of the college."

This year's two-day event has a slight twist, as three conferences will be represented. Wayne State and Northern State will represent the Northern Sun Conference, while Lindenwood (Mo.) represents the MIAA and William Jewell will come from the Great Lakes Valley Conference to play against the two NSIC schools.

"It's something we started last year, where the NCAA permitted crossover challenges for Div. II schools," Wayne State athletic director Mike Powicki said in announcing the partnership on the Wayne State Coaches Show on www.mywaynews.com, The Wayne Herald's website. "We did one with the MIAA last year and it was a great success for us, so we're bringing it back this year."

Having The Wayne Herald and Morning Shopper as the sponsor will help the Wayne State athletic department cover some of the costs associated with hosting a two-day, four-team event.

"We're excited to have The Wayne Herald as our title sponsor and primary partner for this," he said. "To add those extra games, there are extra costs with officiating and table crew and bringing these teams in, and some of that isn't available to us in our regular budget. The Wayne Herald has stepped up and is going to be our title sponsor and promotional partner, and we'll try to get some fans into Rice Auditorium early in the year."

Wayne State will play Lindenwood in the first game on Friday, Nov. 13 at 6 p.m., followed by Northern State vs. William Jewell. Saturday's games include Northern State and Lindenwood at 2 p.m., followed by Wayne State and William Jewell at 4 p.m.

Blue Devils close season with victory

WEST POINT - The Wayne High football team ended the 2015 season on a positive note, hanging on for a 27-14 win over West Point-Beemer in the finale for both teams Friday at West Point-Beemer High School.

The Blue Devils got a pair of long touchdown runs by quarterback Beau Bowers to stake themselves to a 21-7 halftime advantage, then iced the game late in the fourth quarter on an 11-yard run by Tyler Pecena to finish off a 2-7 season.

Wayne got on the board on their first drive when Bowers busted loose for a 55-yard run. Pecena ran in the two-point attempt to give Wayne an 8-0 lead just 85 seconds into the contest.

The Cadets came back later in the opening stanza with a score of their own to make it 8-7, but Wayne answered late in the period with a four-yard run by Drew Davie to make it 15-7 after one quarter.

Bowers' second scoring run came in the final minute of the first half, giving Wayne some momentum heading into the locker room with a two-score advantage, but West Point-Beemer would cut that lead in half late in the third period with Tate Toelle's second scoring run of the game.

Wayne put the game out of reach with 1:48 to go, thanks to Pecena's 11-yard run to help Wayne rack up 328 yards in total offense on their way to the win.

Bowers accounted for 126 yards on nine carries and was 6-of-9 for 68 yards in throwing the ball. Pecena added 76 yards on 14 carries and Davie had 48 yards on 12 tries. Jordan Cliff, Payten Gamble and Ryan Jaixen each caught two passes.

Defensively, Davie led the way with 12.5 tackles, Jason Davis had 6.5 tackles, Cole Koenig had 5.5 tackles and Pecena had five stops. Mikey Reyes and Schuyler Schweers each had four tackles.

WSC volleyball continues winning ways

The sixth-ranked Wayne State volleyball team continued its solid play and hit the 20-win plateau for the 12th consecutive season with two wins this past week.

On Friday, senior right side hitter Elizabeth Gebhardt recorded a match-high 14 kills and hit at a .500 attack percentage to lead the Wildcats to a 25-19, 25-13, 25-16 sweep Friday over the University of Mary at Rice Auditorium.

The Wildcats hit .255 in the first set with 14 kills while forcing seven Marauder attack errors to win the first set. Wayne State held the Marauders to a .000 attack percentage the rest of the match, holding Mary to six kills and six errors in the second set and forcing 10 more Marauder errors in the third set to complete the sweep.

Katie Hughes added nine kills and 10 digs, followed by Michaela Mestl with seven kills and 20 digs. Courtney VanGroningen paced the Wildcats with 21 digs and Leisa McClintock was credited with 33 set assists.

On Saturday, three Wildcats recorded 10 or more kills as Wayne State cruised past Minot State 25-16, 25-12 and 25-15.

Wayne State never trailed in the match as the Wildcats hit .412, their second-highest percentage this season.

Hughes and Gebhardt each had 12 kills for the Wildcats, while Alyssa Frauendorfer added 11. VanGroningen had 18 digs and Mestl picked up 10. McClintock had 39 assists and sophomore Bree Ackermann had three of Wayne State's six service aces.

The Wildcats (20-3, 12-2 NSIC) face a key road test this weekend, visiting third-ranked and NSIC leader Northern State Friday at 7 p.m. They finish the weekend with a trip to MSU Moorhead for a 4 p.m. matchup Saturday.

Rethwisch rolls first 300 game

Wildcat Lanes saw its first 300 of the league season bowled Tuesday evening by Rich Rethwisch.

Bowling with the Ghost Team of Kelly Hansen, Mike Bentjen and Kyle Kempf, Rethwisch rattled off 12 strikes in a row and calmly finished off his first career 300 with a nice ball that rolled neatly into the head pin from the right side to cap his night.

"When you're around athletics all your life, you're in pressure situations a lot, and you fail a lot and succeed a little, and sometimes you have funny feelings," he said. "After the ninth frame, I texted my wife and said 'Thanks, I love you.' It just felt good and I didn't worry about it."

Rethwisch said he was getting some grief from some of his friends as he worked on his first perfect game.

"Don Koeber came over after the seventh frame and told me I'd bowled 12 in a row," he said, noting he'd finished the previous game with five straight strikes. "I asked him if he was trying to ruin my no-hitter, but you always play better do things better around people you trust, and I was bowling with a lot of friends here tonight and it was fun."

It is the first 300 of the year bowled in league play at Wildcat Lanes, and the first since Kempf bowled one last season.

Area teams are eliminated from Lewis & Clark tourney

Four area schools were among the 17-team field that made up the Lewis and Clark Conference volleyball tournament that began on Saturday.

Of the four area teams, only one made it to the quarterfinals. Allen defeated Wakefield 25-23, 25-19 in first-round play at Ponca, but succumbed to the host Indians in the quarter final round, 25-15, 19-25, 25-16.

Statistics and highlights for the Lady Eagles were not available at press time.

Laurel-Concord-Coleridge won two of three games on the day, starting with a win in the play-in bracket against Osmond, 25-22, 25-27, 25-23. Bryn Schutte, Katie Leapley and Kaci Groene led a balanced attack with five kills each, while Ashley Wolfgram and Mady Holloway both had four. Katelyn Cook had 14 assists. Defensively, Groene had four blocks and three ace serves, Wolfgram had three aces, Schutte had 16 digs, Holloway had 15, Cook had 14 and Groene had 10.

The win gave LCC the chance to face top-seeded and site host Emerson-Hubbard, and the Pirates began their eventual run to the conference title with a 25-13, 25-14 win over the Lady Bears. Groene had four kills and Cook had eight assists for LCC. Schutte led the defense with eight digs and Cook had six.

In consolation play, LCC defeated Winside in three sets, winning 25-22, 17-25, 25-23. Groene had 11 kills, Leapley added nine and Schutte put down eight. Cook had 25 assists. Schutte led the defense with 17 digs, Cook had 12 and Lorna Maxon picked up 11.

Winside went 0-2 in their bracket at Emerson, opening with a tough three-set loss to Homer, 28-30, 25-22, 25-22. Ellie Jaeger and Kelly Tweedy each had nine kills, Callie Finn added seven and Alyssa Brogren had four. Alex Bargstadt had 29 assists on offense. Defensively, Bargstadt and Jaeger each had three blocks and Finn had three ace serves. Jami Jaeger had 18 digs, Finn, Tweedy and Sarah Wolfe each had 15 and Bargstadt had 10.

In their three-set loss to LCC, Ellie Jaeger had 13 kills and three blocks, and Bargstadt had 26 assists to highlight the offensive effort. Jami Jaeger led the defense with 15 digs and Bargstadt added 11.

In Wakefield's opening-round loss to Allen, Megan Borg led the net attack with six kills, and Savannah Nelson, Josephine Peitz and Megan Muller each had four kills. Nelson served up 18 assists. The Trojan defense was led by Peitz with 11 digs and Briana Andrade with 10 digs.

Wakefield bounced back in consolation play, sweeping Wausa in straight sets, 25-11, 25-11. Borg led the attack with five kills, Peitz added four and Muller and Nelson each had three. Nelson had 13 assists and Tanna Pretzer had five. Kimberly Calderon led the defense with 10 digs and Danielle Gilliland had seven.

The conference tournament concluded the regular season for all four area teams, and now the attention is turned to subdistrict play that starts Monday for all four teams.

LCC and Wakefield will both compete in Class C-2 action. Wakefield is in the C2-3 subdistrict at Pender, while LCC goes to Randolph for the C2-4 subdistrict.

Allen will play in the D1-5 subdistrict tournament at Ponca, while Winside heads to the D2-5 subdistrict at Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Check www.mywaynenews.com for tournament schedules for all four area teams.

a lot of room for error, even with three weeks left in the regular season yet to be played. There are still matchups with No. 3-ranked Concordia-St. Paul and No. 24 Winona State yet to be played, as well as the annual inter-state showdown with No. 12 Nebraska-Kearney on the Wildcat docket.

If the Wildcats continue to play as well as they have this season, they should make the national tournament. But with 11 Central Region schools listed in this week's top 25 (and two more receiving votes), there is little room for error if this team wants to make it to the Div. II national tournament. The line that separates potential conference champion (and regional participant) from being on the outside of the 64-team bracket looking in, at this point in the season, is a very thin one.

- I forgot to bring this up during the Wayne State Coaches Show this week, but congratulations to coach Dan McLaughlin on becoming the all-time winningest coach at Wayne State College. McLaughlin surpassed Del Stoltenberg by earning his 63rd win as coach Saturday in the Wildcats' 20-17 win over Concordia-St. Paul.

When he tied the record a few weeks ago, he downplayed the achievement by stating that if it took him 11 seasons to reach 62 wins, that's only an average of about six wins a season. Still, averaging six wins in an always-tough Northern Sun Conference is nothing to sneeze at - and there are also a number of wins over those dreaded Running Deer down at Kearney that he has on his coaching mantle.

For those of you who don't know, McLaughlin had an outstanding record while coaching in the high school ranks in Nebraska. If my mastery of sports trivia is correct, he is the only coach in state high school history to win three championships with three different programs - Broken Bow, Norfolk High and Millard West. Congratulations on No. 63. Coach - here's hoping for at least 63 more before you hang up the whistle.

Wayne State Coaches Show

Exclusively on mywaynenews.com

Interviews with Wildcat coaches recorded live Mondays at 6 p.m. at The Max Available online every Tuesday

mywaynenews.com's Michael Carnes sits down each week to talk to Wayne State coaches about their teams' efforts throughout the 2015-16 season. We'll recap the previous week's games and talk about upcoming opponents.

stepping on those plates at the end," she said after her race. "It was a difficult course, but I thought we ran pretty well. I just wanted to try and stay in front of the purple (Hartington-Newcastle) runners and then go after the Boone Central girls."

Ruhl was very happy with the freshman's first effort on the challenging course at the Kearney Country Club.

"She really went out strong and got where she needed to be that first mile and was able to hang on," Ruhl said. "I know going in she was a very nervous young lady, but she went out and ran an excellent race."

Leonard was one of three first-timers for the Blue Devil girls. Freshman Gabi Meyer and sophomore Andrea Torres came home seven seconds apart in 50th and 51st place, finishing behind returning state medalists Marcella Jurotich (27th) and Marta Pulfer (43rd).

"I think it was a good experience for them," Ruhl said of the rookie state qualifiers. "That first mile at state is the hardest mile they'll run all year, and people go out on a dead sprint and it really opens their eyes. I know the girls were probably getting their eyes opened out there, but it was a good experience for them."

Senior Mandy Stabler came home in 60th place for the Blue Devils, and Ruhl praised the lone senior's leadership through the season.

"Last year, she ended up being our fourth runner and got us that runner-up trophy, so it's been great to have her on the team and have her leadership," he said. "We had three younger girls move up this year and Mandy was able to keep her position on the varsity, and she did a great job of keeping the team together."

Ruhl said that finishing behind western-based teams like Cozad and Sidney was something he wasn't expecting, and he said that with the strong nucleus Wayne will have back next year, he hopes to challenge those teams and the two-time defending champions for the top spot next year.

"We're going to look at coming out to the Kearney Invite next year and give the younger runners a chance to see this course before state and go up against some of those western schools and see how we stack up," he said. "This was a great experience for the girls and I'm really happy with where we're at right now as a program. I can guarantee that we'll be hungrier than ever next year and we'll go out and challenge better."

FOR LCC SENIOR AARON Haahr, Friday's race was the climax of a pretty nice four-year career for the youngest of nine children, eight of whom ran in the state cross country meet between 1998-2015.

Haahr was a four-time qualifier for the Bears and finished with his third state medal on Friday, placing 13th in the Class D boys competition with a time of 17:40.2 over the 5,000-meter course.

"It was a lot of work for sure," Haahr said of earning his third medal in four trips to state. "Anything like that is going to take a lot of hard work, but I've really enjoyed it. I felt that I could have done better, but I'm not going to complain."

Haahr was hoping to do better than his older sister, Megan, who finished fifth as a freshman 10 years earlier.

"I was hoping to do better than her, but I'll take it," Haahr said of his finish.

Wayne State soccer gets win at Mary, takes Minot to OT

Freshman forward Christina Stasi scored one minute into the second overtime to help Wayne State claim a thrilling 4-3 win at the University of Mary in Northern Sun Conference women's soccer action Saturday afternoon in Bismarck, N.D.

The host Marauders scored early in the game, but Wayne State answered with a pair of goals to take a 2-1 lead at the half. Karlee Hall found the back of the net with a header off a Kelsey Engstrom assist in the 30th minute, and Valerie Hernandez gave Wayne State the lead with an unassisted goal with 3:02 left in the first half.

Mary tied the game six minutes into the second half, but Engstrom scored on a Stasi assist four minutes later to give Wayne State a 3-2 advantage. Mary tied the game in the 62nd minute, and it stayed tied until Stasi's game-winner, a 15-yard shot from the right side, found the back of the net for the sudden-victory win.

Mary held a 15-11 advantage in shots over Wayne State, including 6-5 in shots on goal. The Wildcats had a 5-3 advantage in corner kicks while Mary was called for 12 fouls to eight by Wayne State. Stasi and Engstrom each recorded one goal and one assist to lead the Wildcat attack. Hernandez scored her second goal of the year, while Hall notched her first. Kylie Comba had three saves in the win.

Wayne State battled No. 22-ranked Minot State for more than 100 minutes of regulation and overtime until the host Beavers scored at the 6:01 mark of the second extra period for a 1-0 win Sunday at Minot, N.D.

Wayne State was outshot 18-1 in the contest, but used a solid defensive effort to keep the bigger Beavers team off the scoreboard throughout regulation.

Comba was huge in goal, making eight saves in the contest. The Beavers got off four shots in the final overtime period, the last a blow by Ninfa Ramirez that found the goal for the Minot State win.

Stasi had Wayne State's lone shot of the contest. Comba made eight saves in the hard-luck loss.

Wayne State (3-10-3, 3-9-3 NSIC) will play its final home game of the season Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. hosting the University of Sioux Falls at the WSC Soccer Pitch. They close the season Sunday at 1 p.m. at Southwest Minnesota State.

Late touchdown helps Allen post 36-28 win to finish 4-4

ALLEN - Although the Allen Eagles were unable to make it into the playoffs, they made the most of their final game of the 2015 season.

After blowing a two-touchdown lead late in the game, the Eagles bounced back just in time, as Cody Thomas scored on a four-yard run with 3:12 to go to give Allen a season-ending 36-28 win over Bancroft-Rosalie to end a 4-4 campaign.

"This was a tremendous way to finish a season in which the team learned, competed, and achieved," Allen coach Dave Uldrich said. "I would honestly say, we over-achieved due to our youth, size, and experience."

The visiting Panthers struck first, but Allen would answer with three scoring runs, two by Kyle Smith and one by Thomas, to take a 22-6 advantage.

Allen made it 28-14 midway through the third period on Thomas' second scoring run with 7:54 to go in the third, but the Panthers came back with more scores of their own, the second coming with 4:11 left to tie the score at 28-28.

After a kick return by Nate Bausch put the ball in Panther territory, the Allen offensive line came up with a big play, turning a short gain by Smith into an 18-yard carry to the Bancroft-Rosalie 4-yard line. On the next play, Thomas bowled over with the game winner and Taylor Kumm added the PAT run for the final margin of victory.

Allen's defense made one last stop after Bancroft-Rosalie got deep in Allen territory, preserving the victory.

Smith led the ground attack with 129 yards on 22 carries, while Thomas added 49 yards on 13 tries and Kumm had 45 yards on 11 carries. Defensively, Thomas had 19 tackles, Smith had 15, Austin Crom had 13 and Bausch and Garrett Brentlinger each had 10.

Providence Wellness Center's CYBEX GOLF PERFORMANCE PROGRAM

The Cybex Golf Performance Program is a golf specific program that addresses strength, core, range of motion and balance. This is a year-round program that is available at PWC.

Justin has been Bob's personal trainer for a number of years and Bob seized the opportunity to enhance his golfing abilities by joining the Cybex Golf Performance Program with Justin as his trainer over a year ago. "I have gained 20 yards on my drives, and improved my balance. People my age usually lose 5 to 10 yards every year. I am 71 years old and I am gaining! And it's all because of this program." —Bob Rainer "Since Bob Rainer has started training on the Cybex Functional trainer for golf I have seen many improvements. This is the second round Bob has done on this golf specific program. Bob has not only maintained his strength but actually has gotten stronger over the last year. He has gained up to 20 yards on his drives! These are the improvements I have seen with Bob over this past year: "Increased Range of Motion through his shoulders." "Increased core strength. Bob had low back pain and the back pain has since gone away." "Increased overall strength. We have progressed to heavier weight on all our lifts." —Justin Dutcher $75.00 includes: 1/2 hour golf performance evaluation with Bob Rainer; a 1-hour personal training session with a PWC Personal Trainer and your own Cybex Golf Performance Program Manual.

Wayne volleyball to play for fifth in conference tourney

The Wayne High volleyball team earned a shot at fifth place in the Mid State Conference, bouncing back from an opening-round loss to win a five-set thriller in consolation action.

In first-round action Monday, the fourth-seeded Blue Devils dropped a three-set match to fifth-seeded Pierce, losing 25-17, 25-9, 25-13.

Wayne managed just 16 kills and hit .075 in the losing effort to the Bluejays. Allison Echtenkamp led the way with five kills, Tarah Stegemann and Lindy Sandoz each had three and Melinda Longe put down two. Sandoz had eight assists and Brenna Vovos had four.

Peyton Roach had 13 digs and two ace serves, Echtenkamp had two blocks, Stegemann had six digs and Kylie Hammer picked up five.

Wayne rebounded on Tuesday in consolation play, taking a dramatic five-set win over Norfolk Catholic in Mid State Conference consolation play Tuesday with a 25-17, 25-21, 19-25, 18-25, 17-15 victory.

The Blue Devils looked to be in position for a three-game sweep of the Knights, but Norfolk Catholic came back to force a fifth game that went back and forth before the Blue Devils came away with the victory.

Echtenkamp had a monster night at the net, finishing with 24 kills and hitting at a .327 percentage. Stegemann added 17 kills and Longe had 11 kills and hit for a .385 percentage. Vovos had three ace serves and set up 31 assists on the night, while Sandoz had 29 assists.

Defensively, Roach led the Blue Devils with 30 digs, Stegemann added 18 and Kylie Hammer picked up 15 to go with eight kills.

With the win, the Blue Devils were scheduled to play in the fifth-place game Thursday at 4:30 p.m. at Pierce High School.

In other action, the Blue Devils dropped a three-set match at Lutheran High Northeast in Norfolk, losing 25-16, 25-8, 25-21. Stegemann had nine kills and Hammer had four to lead Wayne. Vovos had nine assists and Sandoz put up four.

Wayne High will compete in the C1-7 subdistrict tournament that begins Monday at Norfolk High School. Check www.mywaynews.com for seedings and scheduling for the two-day tournament.

Winside battles with Pirates, come up short in 44-20 loss

EMERSON - Winside tried to match blows with Emerson-Hubbard in the regular-season finale for both teams, but the host Pirates had too much firepower as they were able to come away with a 44-20 win over the Wildcats on Friday night.

The Wildcats answered an early score by the Pirates late in the first period on a 10-yard run by Hayden King, and the two teams traded scores again later in the period with King scoring on a 63-yard pass from Brandon Watters to keep the Wildcats close after one period at 16-12.

Winside struck again midway through the second period when Marcos Escalera scrambled 22 yards for a touchdown, making it 24-20 with 7:27 to go in the half. Emerson-Hubbard answered with a touchdown on the next series to take a 32-20 halftime lead, and pulled away in the third quarter to finish off the win.

Watters was 2-of-5 for 70 yards passing before leaving the game with an injury. Escalera played well in a backup role, going 3-for-9 for 37 yards. King highlighted the ground attack with 124 yards on 22 carries, Escalera added 27 yards on eight tries and Isaiah Muhs had 26 yards on six carries.

Defensively, Cory Shoff led the Wildcats with 10 tackles, Chase Magwire had nine, Watters had 8.5 and King had eight.

The Wildcats ended the season with a 1-7 record.

Meet the 'Cats

Sunday evening was a chance to meet the Wayne State men's and women's basketball teams during a special preseason event at the WSC Student Center. (above) Players Haley Moore, Maggie Schulte and Maggie Lowe get a good laugh at one of the jokes being told by men's basketball player Dovydas Burneika (right). Both teams open the season the weekend of Nov. 13-14, with the men playing in St. Joseph, Mo. and the women playing in The Wayne Herald Crossover Classic at Rice Auditorium.

Wildcat men 11th, women 15th at NSIC Championships

Senior Justin Brueggemann and Andrea DeSimone were the leading runners for Wayne State during the Northern Sun Conference Championships, held Saturday at the Les Bolstad Golf Course in Falcon Heights, Minn.

Brueggemann led the Wildcats to an 11th place finish, coming home in 39th place out of 112 runners in a time of 27:41 on the 8,000-meter track. He was followed by Jack Doughty in 75th place (28:46) and Nick Fly in 78th (28:51).

Also running for Wayne State were Nick Schmit (93rd, 29:30), Cortland Cassidy (95th, 29:40), Corbin Lehn (106th, 31:18) and Joey Black (108th, 32:34).

Augustana captured the men's team title with 46 points, while Sioux Falls was runner-up at 67 points. Wayne State was 11th out of 13 full teams with 317 points.

In women's action, DeSimone ran the 6,000-meter women's course in 25:15 to finish 56th out of 124 runners and lead Wayne State to a last-place finish in the 15-team race, scoring 416 points. Molly Kingsley was next behind DeSimone, finishing 80th in 26:12.

Also running for Wayne State were Melissa Kroll (115th, 29:23), Mary Alderson (118th, 29:50), Megan Svitak (123rd, 33:51) and Sarah Post (124th, 34:57).

Wayne State will close out the season on Saturday, Nov. 7 at the NCAA Central Regional in Joplin, Mo. and hosted by Missouri Southern.

(Photos courtesy Marlon Brink) Molly Kingsley (above) and Nick Fly (right) both competed for Wayne State during the Northern Sun Conference Championships held in Falcon Heights, Minn. The team completes the season Saturday, Nov. 7 in the Central Regional meet at Joplin, Mo.

Wildcats hold steady in D-2 volleyball poll

The Wayne State volleyball team is all alone in sixth place in this week's American Volleyball Coaches Association Div. II poll.

The Wildcats, who were tied with Wheeling Jesuit at No. 6 last week, is now alone at the No. 6 spot behind last week's No. 1, Tampa, who lost last week to fall out of the top spot.

Ferris State is the new No. 1 team in the country, followed by Northern State, who lost their first match of the year over the weekend to Southwest Minnesota State, who moves up from No. 5 to No. 4 behind third-ranked Concordia-St. Paul.

Rounding out the top 10 behind Wayne State are Wheeling Jesuit, Rockhurst, Minnesota Duluth and Washburn.

Other NSIC schools in the top 25 include No. 20 Augustana, who moved up one spot; and No. 24 Winona State, who also moved up one place.

Central Region teams in this week's top 25 include Northern State, Concordia-St. Paul, Southwest Minnesota State, Wayne State, Minnesota Duluth, Washburn, No. 12 Central Oklahoma, No. 13 Nebraska-Kearney, No. 15 Central Missouri, Augustana and Winona State.

NSIC coaches pick

Wayne State men 15th

The Wayne State men's basketball team were picked to finish 15th by Northern Sun Conference coaches as the 2015-16 poll was released Thursday.

The Wildcats are picked to finish last in the South Division, where Augustana is the favorite to not only win the division, but the conference. The Vikings were selected by every coach but their own, as coaches are not allowed to vote for their own team.

MSU Moorhead is the favorite in the North Division and picked to finish second overall, followed by Minnesota State, Winona State, Northern State, St. Cloud State, Upper Iowa and Southwest Minnesota

State to round out the top half of the 16-team conference. The second half is led by Concordia-St. Paul, followed by Minnesota Duluth, Minot State, Sioux Falls, Bemidji State, University of Mary, Wayne State and Minnesota Crookston.

In the South Division, Augustana is the favorite, followed by Minnesota State, Winona State, Southwest Minnesota State, Concordia-St. Paul, Upper Iowa, Sioux Falls and Wayne State.

The Wildcats open the 2015-16 season with the NSIC-MIAA Cross-over in St. Joseph, Mo. They face Missouri Western on Friday, Nov. 13 and battle Northwest Missouri State on Saturday, Nov. 14. Their home opener is Friday, Nov. 20 against Iowa Wesleyan at 7 p.m.

JV football closes

with 28-6 victory

Wayne's JV football team played West Point-Beemer in Wayne to close the season, winning 28-6.

Wayne's offense was led by the offensive line of Hunter Jorgensen, Berto Vergara, Steven Keiser, Devon Henschke, and Justin Dean. Tyler Gilliland threw two touchdown passes, one each to Mason Lee and Christian Rogers. Lee and Rogers each rushed for one touchdown and Edgar Ficke-Anderson kicked four PAT's.

Defensively, Wayne was led by Dean, Ty Grone and Zane Jackson. Sam Bruckner had an interception.

Wayne finished it's JV season 5-1.

Junior high volleyball

finishes solid season

The Wayne Junior High volleyball teams wrapped up their season at Battle Creek, winning six of nine sets played.

It was a successful season for the Wayne athletes as lots of improvement was seen by the coaches. The group of Emily Armstrong, Allyson Avery, Autumn Avery, Hailey Backer, Korrina Niemann, Erin O'Reilly, and Lauren Pick were undefeated during the regular season and won both tournaments in which they played.

Wakefield falls to Pender in finale, 40-26

Wakefield was hoping to upend Pender's playoff hopes, but the visiting Pendragons came back from a two-score deficit to outscore the Trojans 40-26 in the regular-season finale for Wakefield Friday afternoon at Eaton Field.

The two teams lit up the scoreboard after a scoreless first period. Noah Lamprecht scored on runs of 24 and six yards, and Solomon Peitz connected on a 21-yard pass to Daniel Nuno to stake the Trojans to a 20-6 lead late in the first period.

Pender struck back right before halftime on a 55-yard pass play to make it 20-12, and that momentum carried into the second half. Pender hit for a pair of touchdowns to take a 26-20 lead, but Wakefield responded and tied the game at 26-26 in the final minute of the third period when Peitz threw his second touchdown pass, a 32-yarder to Dylan Hurlbert.

Pender would add two more scores in the final period, and their defense kept the Trojans out of the end zone to allow Pender to come away with the win and lock up a spot in the D-1 playoffs.

Peitz had a good night under center in a losing effort, going 9-of-14 for 68 yards and two touchdowns. Nuno caught four passes for 26 yards and Hurlbert hauled in three for 33 yards. Lamprecht led the

Opinion

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes

When all is said and done, it's just a game

I've been a sports fan almost my entire life. The first memory of a sporting event I can recall is the legendary "Game of the Century" matchup between No. 1 Nebraska and No. 2 Oklahoma on Thanksgiving 1971. I remember standing in the recliner at my grandparents' house in Norfolk and yelling with my family as Johnny Rodgers ran back the infamous punt that left Lyle Bremser screaming, "Man, woman and child did that put 'em in the aisles!!!"

A few years later, I remember watching the Super Bowl when Minnesota played Pittsburgh. My dad and I "bet" on who would win - he took the Steelers and I cheered for the Vikings. The Steelers won, 16-6, and I cried because "my team" lost. (I should note that this is the ONLY time I've EVER rooted for the Vikings . . .)

The next year, I chose to root for the Washington Redskins, only to find out that they seemed to INVENT ways to lose to the Dallas Cowboys. (I should ALSO note, that I've NEVER rooted for the Cowboys, and will only cheer for them if they are ever kicked out of the NFL and are forced to play in the Canadian Football League.)

Before long, I discovered that two "new" teams were coming into the NFL - the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the Seattle Seahawks. Deciding to hitch my allegiance to a new franchise with no history of success or failure, I chose Seattle primarily because blue is my favorite color. (and if you recall the original orange-and-cream uniforms that Tampa Bay wore, you certainly could understand how ANY choice would have been better)

Over the years, I've stuck with the Seahawks in the NFL and the Huskers in college, but my living-and-dying with the teams has changed. Let me explain why.

I became a Husker fan during their second championship season under Bob Devaney (I was five years old at the time, so those of you playing the bandwagon card can blow it out your ear right about now) and grew up watching the Huskers under coach Tom Osborne. I lived through all the big wins, all the heartbreaking defeats (and there were many, particularly when Oklahoma was the opponent) and loved to watch the team dominate like no other before or since when they won three titles in four years in the mid-90's.

Even back then, though, I could see myself - as well as countless fellow Husker fans - losing perspective on what the game is really all about. Winning wasn't enough anymore - there was no points spread high enough, no level of domination good enough and no sense of achievement impressive enough to satisfy the Husker Nation. I actually wrote a column - prior to Osborne's final national championship season - that Husker fans needed a run of losing seasons just to put all this domination in the proper perspective.

Boy - this perspective isn't sitting well with a lot of fans, including myself.

The Huskers are 3-5 and need to win three of their last four just to qualify for a bowl game (that you only need to finish 6-6 to make a bowl game defies logical thought, but I digress). Husker fans are already calling for the firing of a new coach, completely forgetting the fact that we've already asked for, and received, the heads of two coaches who AVERAGED nine wins a season. At just about every other school in the country, nine wins gets the coach a contract extension. Not at Nebraska - nine wins gets you the phone number of the nearest U-Haul dealer.

And then, when the Seahawks ended almost four decades of frustration by winning the Super Bowl (blowing out favored Denver in the process), all my friends who are fans of other NFL teams started mocking "my" team's success - and it only got worse the following year when the Seahawks committed a fatal faux pas on a play call at the 1-yard line in a heartbreaking loss to the New England Patriots.

This year, I've received no end of belittling from other teams' fans when the Seahawks started 0-2, or even when they were 2-4 - even though I knew that they were facing a tough first half of the schedule and had told anyone who'd listen that Seattle might not be any better than .500 by their bye week and could still win the division (a win over Dallas this Sunday, and they're 4-4 going into their bye week - stay tuned to see how that prediction plays out).

We seem to invest a lot of ourselves in the teams that we follow, whether it's a pro team, a college team or even our local high school teams. Many stories can be told by the older guard in any town in the state - or in America, for that matter - about the "rivalry" that supposedly has been going on for years, whether it's Wayne vs. Winside, Laurel vs. Wayne, Wakefield vs. Emerson . . . pick two towns, and it's a good bet there's people in one town who don't like people in the other town, and vice versa.

I enjoy watching football and getting together with friends, regardless of whether or not they are fans of the same teams I cheer for. I have friends who are Iowa football fans (normally, I'd take a job at them here, but the Hawkeyes are 7-0 and ranked No. 10 in the country, so I've got nothing to say here) and friends who are fans of NFL teams I despise, like the San Francisco 49ers or the Cowboys. We needle each other, hassle each other, but still keep it all in perspective and shake hands regardless of the outcome.

In the end, it's not life or death. It's not the end of civilization as we know it if your team loses the title game (although it has seemed that way after some Husker games this season). The success or failure of the teams we support shouldn't be an indicator of what kind of person we are.

When all is said and done - it's really just a game.

School foundation aid returns

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

State senators looking at property taxes and school funding are turning their focus to an old friend, school foundation aid.

It's an idea that has been around since 1967 when lawmakers adopted a bill sponsored by the late Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly to provide a per-pupil amount to each district in the state despite the district's resources or needs. Other states still use foundation aid and Nebraska did until the early 1990s.

Current Revenue Committee Chairman Sen. Mike Gloor of Grand Island says he thinks the idea has pretty strong support. Education Committee Chair Sen. Kate Sullivan of Cedar Rapids says it is an idea that could get some traction next session.

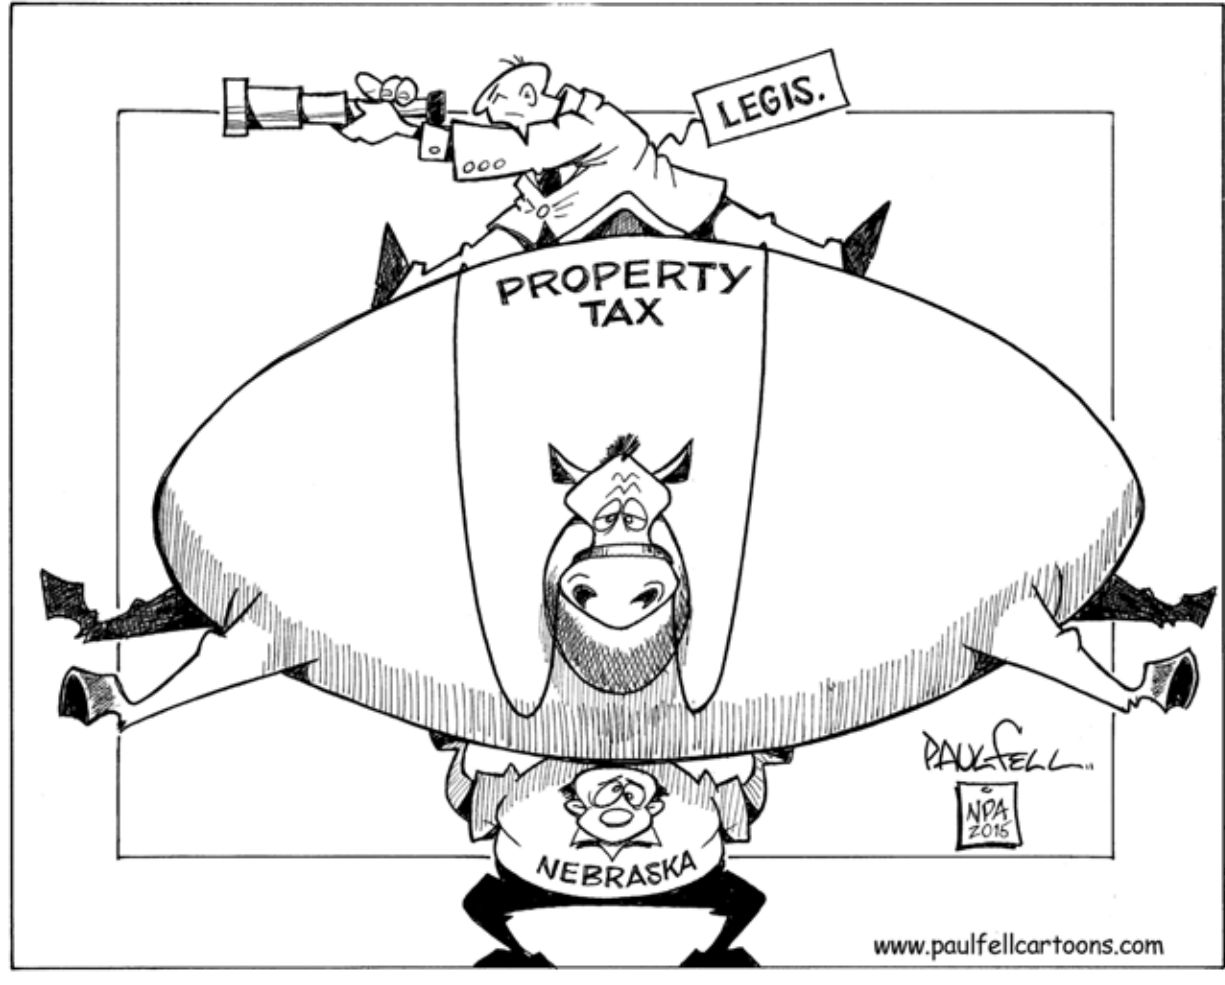

The two oversee a committee that is tasked with easing the state reliance on property taxes to fund schools. They are operating in a climate regulated by Governor Pete Ricketts who has repeatedly said property tax cuts are a number one priority.

Property taxes are levied, collected and spent locally using guidelines created by the state. Lowering property taxes shifts the source of funding for education and other programs and services to something else. Finding that something else is the trick. One option is to make cuts in said programs and services.

It's a laudable goal to look at foundation aid. In 1967, Senator Warner introduced LB448 to create the School Foundation and Equalization Act. The situation was desperate and the time was right for change in both tax policy and school finance.

Warner's plan was actually three funding programs in one. Foundation aid was based on each school district's average daily enrollment for the previous year. Lower per student amounts were awarded for elementary grades with higher amounts set aside for junior high and senior high students because educators said it cost more as the students got older.

Foundation aid was complement-

ed with equalization aid meant to level the playing field (read that to overcome the urban -- rural split). The third component was incentive aid, which would provide additional resources for offering such things as gifted programs.

The key to success of a new school finance system is sufficient funding. Gloor and others have said that foundation aid today, at $200-per-student, could cost the state $59 million a year. That money would come from cuts elsewhere or shifting the burden to other forms of taxation. Remember, the governor wants to reduce property taxes and lower the income tax. He has some senators in his camp chanting the same mantra.

Longtime Lincoln Journal Star reporter Dick Herman, who covered the 1967 legislative session, says Warner's plan to equalize educational opportunities throughout the state was "corrupted" by politics as senators were pressured by constituents to concentrate on reducing property taxes. Over the years, state aid to education bills have been weighted toward tax relief and haven't done much for equalization. Herman says it is unfortunate that the state failed to take Warner's view.

Warner's School Foundation and Equalization Act was amended 20 times between 1969 and 1986. The flat rate per-pupil provision under the foundation aid program was eliminated in favor of a more complex system with the grade 1-6 category serving as the base. Average daily membership in the kindergarten category was allotted a slightly lower index, while the amounts in grade categories 7-8 and 9-12 were awarded a higher index, according to a report of the Nebraska Council of School Administrators.

Look for discussion of foundation aid and other concepts during a daylong public hearing at the Capitol on Nov. 12. Some of these ideas have already been filtered through committee work sessions. Let you think the topic isn't contentious, the discussions were guided by staff from the Mediation Center of Lincoln.

Wait until the public has a chance to discuss the options, many of which would favor rural school districts or taxpayers such as farm and ranch owners who feel their property taxes are disproportionately high compared with their urban counterparts. Some districts also feel they are being left out of the current school-aid formula which directs state funds to local schools based on needs minus resources. Foundation aid is favored because it goes to every district.

Let's hope that the zeal to cut property taxes doesn't overshadow the need to equalize educational opportunities as Warner envisioned nearly 50 years ago.

Legislative Update

Death penalty stays until 2016 election

It is official - the death penalty will stay in place until voters decide the issue on the ballot in November of 2016.

Secretary of State, John Gale, announced that enough valid signatures were collected by death penalty supporters to prevent LB268 (the bill that repealed the death penalty) from going into effect until after the vote.

Back on Wednesday, Aug. 26, a day before the deadline, Nebraskans for the Death Penalty turned in 166,692 signatures to place the issue on the 2016 ballot.

Nebraskans for the Death Penalty needed to collect roughly 114,000 signatures to suspend the repeal of the death penalty and place the issue on the ballot in 2016. Additionally, the signatures had to meet thresholds in at least 38 of the 93 counties. Secretary Gale stated that after county officials had verified more than 143,000 signatures the minimum signature threshold had been met in 85 counties.

In comparison, last year the Nebraskans for Better Wages submitted 134,899 signatures to place the minimum wage issue on the 2014 ballot.

This does not mean you have heard the last of the death penalty until you go to the voting booth next November. Nebraskans for the Death Penalty have said that they are launching the "Repeal the Repeal" campaign. While the Nebraskans for Public Safety, the group supporting repeal, have said that, they will also continue to reach out to voters.

Campaigns for and against the death penalty are not the only reason we will continue to hear about it. Currently, two lawsuits have already been filed challenging the measure. The first one alleges that Gov. Pete Ricketts should have been listed as sponsor of the petition drive. The second one deals with the language used by Attorney Doug Peterson's office. I have no doubt that these are just the first two of many lawsuits that will be filed in an attempt to prevent the good people of Nebraska from deciding if we will move forward with or without a death penalty in the future. It is my sincere hope that the courts stay out of this decision and that "we the people" decide at the ballot box.

Set aside time for family meals and reconnect School Lunches

The school year has begun and with jam-packed schedules, families may find it hard to make time for family meals at the dinner table. Still, it is important for families to go through their schedules and find a time to sit down at the dinner table in order to continue developing good family relationships.

Research has proven that family meals benefit everyone, especially children, in various ways. From a nutritional standpoint, when families eat together at home, children usually eat more vegetables, fruits and whole grains.

Preparing a meal also is a great way to enhance family relationships. Get the children involved in the preparation process. Younger kids can set the table, fold napkins and pour drinks. Older kids can help wash the produce, mix or stir the meal or even cook for the night while the parent becomes the kitchen helper.

Family meals also promote healthy dialogue by providing a way for parents and their children to reconnect and practice good communication skills, focusing on the quality of conversation. With family members being busy and pulled in different directions, it is important to get together and share what is going on in each other's lives.

So how do families find the time to have quality mealtime together? Well, there is no rule that says the family meal has to be for dinner. Every family is different and so is each family's schedule, so the family meal can be for breakfast or lunch if that works best. Also, to ensure family meals occur even during extremely busy times, families can prepare meals on the weekends or double the amount of food they make so they can freeze half of it and bring it out on a busy night.

Birthday

Card shower requested for Gail Godbersen 85th

Gail Godbersen of Wayne will celebrate her 85th birthday on Monday, Nov. 2. A card shower has been requested in honor of the occasion.

Her family includes Gayleen (Marvin) Ernesti of Norfolk, Gary (Carmen) Godbersen of Wisner, the late Wayne Godbersen, daughter-in-law Capri (Dave) McGuire of Wisner, 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Cards may be sent to the honoree at 1500 Vintage Hill Drive, Wayne, Neb, 68787.

Once the mealtime is determined, families need to minimize distractions during that time to ensure it is quality time. Turn off the TV, cell phones and other electronic devices and just spend that hour or so together, connecting with each other without those distractions.

You're never on the edge with God's love

Joshua 1:9 states "I hereby command you: Be strong and courageous; do not be frightened or dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go."

Many of us have had the experience of standing on the edge. As children, we pretend the curb is a high wire and we are the tightrope walker. Who hasn't tried to see just how far that chair would tip back in study hall?

Tourists flock by the tens of thousands each year to stand at the lip of the Grand Canyon and peer two miles down, down, down, all the way to the near-invisible rafters who brave the white waters of the Colorado River.

It seems to me that Christian people are always on the edge of new

A Word In Faith

By Jeanne Madsen
Pastor, Our Savior Lutheran Church

place even without trying. About to cross into the Promised Land, we are ever asked to renew our loyalty to the covenant God has made with us, and to take that covenant into the new place in which we are traveling.

Many people we know are in a standing on the edge kind of experience. They are between paychecks or between decisions or just somehow between the proverbial rock and a hard place. Something new is happening in our lives that we don't necessarily appreciate happening. Perhaps the people that we know who are deep in a standing on the edge kind of experience is you. There are certainly edges in all of our lives.

The Good News is that as God's people, we can always draw on one great promise whenever we encounter unfamiliarity. There is one place where we are never a stranger. There is one place where we are never on the edge but rather right enfolded in the heart. And that place is in God's loving covenanting love. It is there that each of us finds a lifeline, finds a safe place to stand when all else in life seems a bit edgy.

Our Savior Lutheran Church to make pies for holiday events

Need a pie for Thanksgiving or Christmas?

Our Savior Lutheran Church will once again be making fresh pies for holiday gatherings. Uncooked apple, peach, rhubarb and cherry pies will be ready for to pick up on Saturday, Nov. 14 from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The pies can be used at that time or frozen for the holidays.

Order must be placed in advance by Monday, Nov. 2. The cost is $10 per pie.

Order blanks can be obtained from Our Savior Church, 421 Pearl Street in Wayne. Many church members will also have order blanks or for more information call Phyllis Rahn at (402) 375-1667, Kim Dunklau at (402) 369-1696 or the church office (402) 375-2899.

(Courtesy photo) Members of Our Savior Lutheran Church were busy putting everything together for their annual pie-baking event. Pies can be ordered by Monday, Nov. 2 and will be ready to pick up on Saturday, Nov. 14.

Firehouse visit

Students at Fishers of Kids Preschool observed Fire Prevention Month and learned about the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. Volunteer Fire Department member Jordan Widner spoke with both the Tuesday-Thursday group (above) and the Monday-Wednesday-Friday group (at right) about how to stay safe and what to do in case of a fire.

Local event raises money for wetlands and waterfowl conservation

The Wayne Area chapter of Ducks Unlimited will host its 11th annual Auction and Member Banquet fundraiser for wetlands and waterfowl conservation on Friday, Nov. 1.

The banquet will take place at the Wayne National Guard Armory. Tickets are available by contacting Kent Bearnes of Laurel at (402) 256-9218.

Bearnes, chairman of the organized Wayne Area Chapter of Ducks Unlimited committee, said that this event will give local residents an opportunity to get involved in a practical conservation program and have a good time as well.

"Ducks Unlimited is the world's largest wetlands, waterfowl, and wildlife conservation organization," said Bearnes. "Our organization has conserved nearly 11 million acres of wetlands and related waterfowl habitat since 1937. More than 60 percent of Ducks Unlimited's revenues are generated by one million supporters and members through fund-raising events like the one scheduled on Nov. 13. So join us for a great dinner, exciting prizes, and a good time while you help support wetlands conservation."

For more information, contact Bearnes at (402) 256-9218.

Tschetter concert series starts Nov. 8

The first Tschetter Memorial Concert Series is set for Sunday, Nov. 8 at the NFAA Easton Yankton Archery Complex in Yankton, S.D.

The debut concert for the Tschetter Memorial Concert Series will feature the artists from the Small Town America Tour - Fireflight, Seventh Day Slumber, Shonlock and Scarlet White, and will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The goal of the Tschetter Memorial Concert Series is to establish an academic scholarship in honor of Dave and Connie Tschetter, long-time residents of the Yankton area, and will be used to provide an academic scholarship for students who have a financial need. Proceeds from this concert will be going to establish this scholarship fund.

Tickets are $10 in advance or $15 at the door for general admission. VIP tickets are also available. Tickets are available for purchase online at www.crossrocklive.com.

Remembering a cancer survivor

The first order of business tonight is a friendly suggestion to Coach Riley and Coach Cook: when your starters are not doing a good job, go to your bench! Only, of course, the subs are not sitting on a bench, they are standing through the whole ordeal!

In reading about the Pink Flamingo night in Wayne, and contemplating all the pink that shows up in October, I had to wince in sympathy when the speaker, Paula Plueger, told the group that she went to a nearby grocery store and just wandered the aisles, processing the news that she had breast cancer.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

I don't know Paula, but I vividly remember when she was crowned Miss Nebraska. And her mother, Marilyn Mitchell, was an accomplished organist, who accompanied me a time or two in her church.

The image of just walking up and down the grocery aisles prompted me to recall what my mother-in-law told me after her doctor delivered the same news. My mother-in-law was one of the sweetest people I've ever met, and the most frugal! When she saw her doctor regarding what was going on, she had already read the diagnosis in her well worn "doctor book." She was not in the habit of seeing a physician routinely, they cost money, and there was no such thing as mammograms.

She told me more than once that she went immediately to the local Hested store, which featured a lunch counter, and ordered a strawberry sundae! I have to smile even as I write it; she would never, under ordinary circumstances, order an ice cream treat like that. She didn't say so, but I suspect she thought she was going to die.

After the surgery, which was a radical mastectomy, she boarded a bus to Omaha every Monday morning for a series of five daily cobalt treatments, and came home on the bus on Friday. That's right; cobalt! I'm not sure how many weeks, but I can only imagine how debilitating that must have been.

But she lived a long full life after that; and never had a recurrence. And we have come a very long way since then. For starters, Norfolk has its own radiation center, and folks in northeast Nebraska no longer have to make daily trips to Omaha.

But, in addition, we have so many diagnostic tools, and breast sparing surgery techniques, and reconstruction tools when necessary. We have so much more support and knowledge, and research. We don't have it whipped yet, but I have an awfully lot of friends who belong to this club, which none of us wants to join. They get to march first in the Relay For Life! As well they should. And God bless 'em for that!

Area Thrivent group meets

The Wayne-Dixon County Chapter 30268, Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, met on Saturday, Oct. 17, at Tacos & More in Wayne.

The "Chapter" format of the organization will be transformed to a "Regional" format in October 2016 for Nebraska, and at this time the Chapter is not fully aware of the process; therefore, there will be no annual meeting this year of Chapter 30268. Current officers will retain their positions and serve to the close of the "Chapter" format. Officers include President Beverly Ruwe, Vice President Tami Kietzmann, Advocate Director Kathleen Johs, Financial Director Nila Schuttler and Records Director Beverly Neel.

The chapter will schedule an informative meeting in late summer, early fall 2016 prior to the transition from Chapter to Regional format. At this time, Chapter leaders are not aware of any information that can be shared with Chapter members on the transition process. Therefore, they are delaying an annual meeting until such time as they know more.

Thrivent Choice is a charitable grant program that gives eligible members of Thrivent Financial the ability to recommend where Thrivent Financial distributes some of its charitable funds each year by choosing from a list of thousands of enrolled 501(c)3 non-profit organizations. By directing Choice Dollars, 273,289 eligible benefit members recommended how Thrivent Financial distributed nearly $55 million in charitable outreach funds in 2014. More than 25,650 churches and organizations received funding through Thrivent Choice.

Giving back has always been important to Thrivent and its members. Thrivent has provided nearly $225 million to help churches, educational institutions and other non-profit organizations through the Thrivent Choice charitable grant programs since its 2010 introduction. The program gives eligible benefit members an opportunity to recommend where Thrivent distributes some of its charitable outreach funds each year. Eligible members can take advantage of this charitable grant program and member benefit by directing Choice Dollars to organizations they are passionate about.

Eligible benefit Thrivent members are age 16 years and older and have the power to recommend how Thrivent distributes some of its charitable grant funds using a vehicle called Choice Dollars, where eligible members can recommend how to distribute some of Thrivent's charitable funds among thousands of 501(c)3 non-profit organizations.

It is now time to direct the third quarter of Thrivent Choice Dollar grant funds. Eligible members can use their card number and call in to (800) 847-4836 and follow the prompts, or go to www.thrivent.com/thriventchoice.

Shooting Sports volunteers, test for soybean cyst nematode

We are looking for volunteers of all ages 8 and over to help with our Shooting Sports Workshop at Ponca State Park this Saturday, Oct. 31.

The volunteers will be instructed by Leaders that are being certified to teach shooting sports for Nebraska 4-H Clubs. If you are interested in archery, rifle (bb, pellet gun, and small bore), or shotgun and want to see what it is like to participate in these sports while being introduced to them by a certified instructor, please show up Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. at the main lodge building. You may do more than one sport. You do need a park sticker to get in the park.

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

Once again here is a reminder to get all fields tested for the presence of a "stealth pest", the soybean cyst nematode (SCN). In our meetings with growers and consultants over the last several years, we have often heard the comment that some area soybean fields are not yielding as well as they have in the past, or that they have not reached yield expectations relative to the type of soil and varieties planted. While many different causes can reduce soybean yields, recent discoveries suggest that you should consider looking into the soybean cyst nematode as a potential yield-robbing problem.

The soybean cyst nematode (SCN) is the most serious pest of soybeans in the United States, causing farmers millions of dollars in losses each year. It is a "stealth" pest in that often SCN will reveal no specific symptoms and its effects are often not dramatic. Many farmers do not know their fields are infested with SCN until a severe problem develops. Up to 30 percent yield losses can occur without obvious symptoms.

All counties in northeast Nebraska now have at least some fields with proven SCN infestations. This fall would be a good time to check your fields for soybean cyst nematodes, particularly if you have a field that has been dragging in yield recently. SCN is field specific, not all fields in an area will be infested. Most infestations occur when soil from an infested field is carried to a new field by equipment, flooding, or wildlife.

If you decide to take a soil sample for soybean cyst nematode, this can be done at any time of the year, but populations will be highest at harvest. Often people take soil samples after harvest when things slow down. We are ahead of schedule with harvest so this would be a good year to sample. The test is free and is covered by the Soybean Board.

Local extension offices should have sample bags but they can be put in any soil sampling bag. Take samples 6-8 inches in depth in the old soybean row in several places in the field. Mix them together into one sample like you would for a fertility test.

Once in a field, soybean cyst nematode will never go away. The key to keeping soybean fields at high production levels is to keep the population of soybean cyst nematode low by crop rotation and the use of resistant varieties. If the nematodes are not detected soon enough and numbers become high, fields will need to be rotated to a non-host crop for several years. Most seed companies have SCN resistant soybeans available in Nebraska. In fields found positive for soybean cyst nematode, plan to monitor the population every few years. Populations can and do change.

Contact your local extension office for more information.

USDA taking applications for number of grants

USDA Rural Development is accepting applications for funds available to help private non-profit organizations and public bodies, including local governmental-based jurisdictional organizations, to assist rural Nebraska communities in water, wastewater, and solid waste needs.

The application deadline is Dec. 31, 2015. Two types of funding are available, technical assistance and training grants and solid waste management grants.

Technical Assistance and Training (TAT) grants are available to eligible, private non-profit organizations with tax-exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service that have the proven ability, background, experience, legal authority, and actual capacity to provide technical assistance and/or training on a wide range of issues relating to delivery of water and waste disposal service. These associations will provide services in rural areas or cities and towns with a population of 10,000 or less.

Solid Waste Management (SWM) Grants are available to private non-profit organizations and public bodies, including local governmental-based jurisdictional organizations. Applicants must have the proven ability, background, experience, legal authority, and actual capacity to provide technical assistance and/or training on a regional basis to associations.

The purpose of the Solid Waste Management Grant Program is to assist communities through free technical assistance and/or training provided by the grant recipients to reduce or eliminate pollution of water resources in rural areas and to improve planning and management of solid waste sites in rural areas.

Contact Mary Sneckenberg at USDA Rural Development, (402) 437-5567 for additional program information, or contact the Rural Development office nearest you. Locate an office at www.rd.usda.gov/contact-us/state-office.ne.

THANK YOU

We would like to give a huge thank you and shout out to the Concord, Dixon, Allen and Wakefield fire departments for responding so quickly to our combine fire. We are so thankful to all of the many volunteers who give their time to help us and others. Thank you also to Borgs and Woodwards for bringing your tractors and discs to help contain the fire. We are overwhelmed with thanks.

Lindy and Lori Koester and family

The family of Lowell Rohlf would like to thank all our friends and family for all the kind words, hugs, memorials, food and flowers given to us. Thanks to Pastor Kyle Nelson for the beautiful sermon, Hasemann Funeral Home for their caring and Careage of Wayne for their excellent care the last month he was there. Thanks to Vel's Bakery for the great dinner he served and the Methodist Women for the cakes and bars. We want to thank Rick, Lynn, Dean, Ray and Lyle for helping harvest. It sure helped and was very much appreciated.

The family of Maxine Olson wishes to extend its thanks for the many kindnesses shown in the passing of our mother, grandmother and great grandmother. Thank you to Providence Medical Center for their thoughtful care; to Jeanne Madsen for her visits; Terri Munter with Hospice; Hasemann Funeral Home for the final arrangements; the OSLC women for the wonderful lunch; and anyone else who shared a memory, a kind word or a prayer. A very special thank you to Dr. James Lindau for the genuine care he gave Maxine over the years. She will be greatly missed but we know she is at peace and experiencing the contentment she always wished for all of us.

The Broken Chain

We little knew that morning that God was going To call your name. In life we loved you dearly, In death we do the same. It broke our hearts To lose you, you did not go alone; for part of Us went with you, the day God called you home. You left us peaceful memories, your love is still Our guide; and though we can not see you, you Are always at our side. Our family chain is Broken and nothing seems the same; but as God Calls us one by one, the chain will link again.

I would like to thank everyone who sent cards, letters and flowers for my 80th birthday. They made my day so special. God bless you all. Shirley Fletcher

Wayne State is only institution in Nebraska on rankings charts

Submitted by Wayne State College

Wayne State College is the only public college or university in Nebraska to receive recognition in this year's U.S. News and World Report annual college guide, the Washington Monthly College Guide and Rankings, and Colleges of Distinction (www.collegesofdistinction.com). This is the fourth consecutive year the college has achieved these honors.

Washington Monthly ranked Wayne State 8th among the 405 colleges and universities in the Midwest and 1st in Nebraska in its "Best Bang for the Buck" category, which is based on the economic value students receive per dollar. This is up from 19th in the Midwest last year. Washington Monthly also awarded Wayne State the highest ranking of any public institution in Nebraska, with the college ranked 3rd among all public and private schools in the state.

Washington Monthly ranked Wayne State 1st for community service participation and for the quality of its service staff, courses and financial aid support in Nebraska among public institutions. Wayne State ranks 89th out of 673 master's universities in the U.S., up from 116th in 2013. WSC also sits higher than any other school in the 16-member Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) in which it competes in Division II athletics.

U.S. News ranks Wayne State 2nd among public institutions in Nebraska, and 75th among all Midwest regional universities, both public and private, in the U.S. News rankings. This is up from 84th last year. The college ranks 3rd among the 16 schools in the NSIC.

Other benchmarks to note among the U.S. News rankings data: Wayne State's average alumni giving rate is 13 percent, which is the highest giving rate in the Midwest region; Wayne State is the only top-tier school in the Midwest region to report a 100 percent acceptance rate; 48 percent of WSC classes have less than 20 students; and the college's freshman retention rate is 67 percent.

Washington Monthly, founded in 1969, rates schools based on their contribution to the public good in three broad categories: social mobility (recruiting and graduating low-income students), research (producing cutting-edge scholarship and PhDs), and service (encouraging students to give something back to their country).

Unlike U.S. News & World Report and similar guides, this one asks not what colleges can do for you, but what colleges are doing for the country, according to Washington Monthly press materials. "Are they educating low-income students, or just catering to the affluent? Are they improving the quality of their teaching, or ducking accountability for it? Are they trying to become more productive—and if so, why is average tuition rising faster than health care costs? Every year we lavish billions of tax dollars and other public benefits on institutions of higher learning. This guide asks: Are we getting the most for our money?"

Colleges of Distinction (www.collegesofdistinction.com) is a college guide with a unique approach. Instead of looking for the richest or the most famous schools, the guide asks which colleges are the best places to learn, to grow, and to succeed. The goal of Colleges of Distinction is to provide students, counselors, and parents with information about schools that excel in these key areas, according to its website. "We describe schools that take a holistic approach to admissions decisions, that consistently excel in providing undergraduate education, and that have a truly national reputation."

A "College of Distinction" is nationally recognized by education professionals as an excellent school, strongly focused on teaching undergraduates, home to a wide variety of innovative learning experiences, an active campus with many opportunities for personal development, and highly valued by graduate schools and employers for its outstanding preparation.

EducationQuest Foundation: helping Nebraskans make college possible

EducationQuest Foundation is a nonprofit organization with a mission to improve access to higher education in Nebraska. Headquartered in Lincoln, EducationQuest provides free college planning services, need-based scholarship programs, grants that help high schools increase their college-going rate, and outreach services for community agencies statewide. EducationQuest has offices in Kearney, Lincoln and Omaha where college planning specialists help students research colleges, explore career options, find scholarship resources, complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), and learn about student loans. These services are free. EducationQuest also provides college planning tools at EducationQuest.org. These include ScholarshipQuest, a database of over 2,000 local and state scholarships; Activities Resume that helps students track their extracurricular activities; College Profiles with information about colleges in Nebraska and across the country; and tools to help with FAFSA completion.

Have a minute for 'timely' advice?

By EducationQuest Foundation

Many college students will tell you that a lack of structure and poor time management nearly led to their demise during their freshman year. Heed their warning and follow their "timely" advice:

Go to class! It's better to hear class information first-hand rather than trying to track down lecture notes later.

Use a planner every day. Schedule time for classes, work, studying - even socializing and exercising.

Use the class syllabus to plan your workload. Divide large projects into manageable chunks and create shorter-term deadlines.

Study in blocks of time. Plan ahead with blocks of study time separated by brief periods to rest and clear your head.

Use the time in-between classes to review for a test, copy notes from a previous class, catch up on textbook reading, conduct research, or do other homework.

Learn to say "no" to activities that will interfere with you achieving your long-term goals.

What to consider when choosing a college

By EducationQuest Foundation

Start narrowing your college choices during your junior year. This will give you more time to determine which school is the best fit, and to meet admission and financial aid deadlines.

Answer these questions to get started:

What do you want to study?
If you know what you want to study, research schools that offer degree programs in that area. If you don't know what to study, it's okay. Many students begin college "undeclared" and some start at a community college and then transfer to a four-year school.

What kind of school do you want to attend?

Do you prefer a large university or a small college? Are you interested in a community college? What kind of student/teacher ratio do you want?

What can you afford?
Consider the overall cost of college: tuition, room and board, books, transportation costs, and personal expenses. Determine what you and your parents can afford to pay out-of-pocket and plan to apply for financial aid to make up the difference. Calculate the loan debt your family may need to incur for your college education.

Where do you want to go to college?

Do you want to live close to home and commute? Do you want to be in a large city or a small town? How big of a factor is out-of-state or private school tuition? If you want to go out of state, investigate reciprocity programs such as the Midwest Student Exchange Program.

Avoid these college search mistakes:

Don't limit your search to famil- iar institutions. Just because your parents or siblings went to a certain college doesn't mean it's right for you.

Don't limit your search to colleges you think you can afford. The more expensive the school, the more financial aid you may be eligible to receive. Do some financial aid-related research (using net price calculators, talking to an EducationQuest specialist, or a representative from the college) before crossing these schools off your list.

Don't choose a college just because it's near your boyfriend or girlfriend. The school may not be a good match for you - and he or she may not be either!

Don't insist on an out-of-state school just because you want to "get away." Even if you attend college in your hometown, you can still "get away" by staying on campus most weekends.

How to find scholarships

By EducationQuest Foundation

Thousands of local, state and national scholarships available, but will you qualify for any of them? To find out, you'll need to do the research and submit the applications. Here are a few places you can look:

- ScholarshipQuest at EducationQuest.org is a database of over 2,000 Nebraska-based scholarships. After you create a profile, this tool will match you with scholarships that fit your criteria.

- Visit your guidance office at least once a week during your senior year to check on local, national, and school-specific scholarships.

- The college you plan to attend is one of your best sources for scholarships. Contact the colleges that interest you for information about scholarships they offer.

- Visit national scholarship search sites such as ScholarshipExperts.com, SchoolSoup.com, Scholarships.com, and ScholarshipJunkies.org. Check our website for other sites we recommend.

- Other resources could include your coach, clubs and organizations, and your parents' employers and civic organizations.

Criteria for earning scholarships can include academics, community service, leadership, or talents. Some scholarships are based on financial need as measured by the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), but most are combination of all these criteria. Therefore, to qualify for more scholarships, earn good grades, get involved, and complete the FAFSA.

The benefits of applying for scholarships could be enormous. If you spend 20 hours applying for 20 scholarships and receive $2,000 in awards, you just made $100 an hour!

Follow these tips to increase your chances of earning scholarships:

- Organize scholarships in deadline order and set aside time each week to work on them.

- The application may ask for your activities, awards, honors classes and volunteer or paid jobs. Have this information easily available by using the Activities Resume at EducationQuest.org.

- If an application requires a letter of recommendation, give the person writing the letter a specific deadline, and a list of your accomplishments and activities or Activities Resume.

- After writing an essay, ask an adult (preferably an English teacher) to review it. You may be able to reuse much of the essay for multiple scholarships.

- Carefully follow the directions on the application or your application may be disqualified.

- Don't ever pay for scholarship services! Talk to your school counselor or EducationQuest about the many free options available.

Wondering how you'll pay for your college education?

By EducationQuest Foundation

Parents - if you and your student haven't saved enough for college, these options may take some of the sting out of tuition payments.

Financial aid

Complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) after January 1 of your student's senior year to apply for grants, work-study, student loans, and some need-based scholarships. To estimate your FAFSA results now, use the College Funding Estimator at EducationQuest.org.

Scholarships

ScholarshipQuest at EducationQuest.org has over 2,000 Nebraska-based scholarships. You'll also find links to free national scholarship search sites.

Your student's earnings

Encourage your student to save at least half of his or her earnings for college.

College payment plans

Many schools offer a 10 or 12-month payment plan. This allows you to use current income to pay your out-of-pocket college expenses.

Home equity line of credit loan

A line of credit allows you to use your home equity to pay college costs. Consult your tax advisor about deducting the interest.

Alternative loans

Talk to the college financial aid office about alternative loans that don't require the FAFSA. They typically have a higher interest rate, so exhaust all federal financial aid before pursuing these loans.

Community college transfer program

If your student is striving for a four-year degree, an option might be to start at a less expensive community college and then transfer to a four-year college.

Live at home

Room and board at a four-year college runs about $9,000 a year. If your student lives at home, that money can go toward tuition and fees.

The military

All branches of the military offer education assistance ranging from the Montgomery G.I. Bill, to tuition reimbursement, to student loan repayment. Encourage your student to talk to a recruiter for details.

Preparing for college entrance exams

By EducationQuest Foundation

When it comes to the ACT and SAT college entrance exams, preparation can mean higher scores – and that means increased college admission and scholarship opportunities.

About the exams

The ACT includes test areas in English, math, reading, science, and an optional writing section. Scores for each section are averaged to create a composite score. A perfect score is 36.

The SAT measures critical reading, math, and writing skills. Scores for each section range from 200-800 points, which are added together to determine your overall score. A perfect score on the current test is 2400, but will change to 1600 with the new SAT as of March 2016 (the essay portion will become optional and will be scored separately on the new test).

Historically, Midwestern colleges prefer the ACT and coastal schools prefer the SAT; however, most colleges will accept either. Consider taking both to see which test suits you better.

Consider taking the exams at least twice, as colleges use your best score for admission and scholarship consideration. Take the exams in the spring of your junior year and again in the fall of your senior year, and be aware of the last test date colleges will accept. Register by the deadline to avoid late fees, and see your counselor about a fee waiver if you qualify for free or reduced lunch.

How to prepare

To prepare for test content, take challenging classes in English, math, reading, and science throughout high school.

Ask your counselor about test prep resources at your school or in your area that fit your budget and learning style. They may include self-study preparation books and online resources. If you prefer a group setting, consider school-sponsored workshops and test preparation businesses, though these often require a fee.

You'll find free test-prep products at actstudent.org or collegeboard.org.

Here are some test-taking strategies from ACT:

- Carefully read the instructions for each section of the test.
- Pace yourself so you can attempt all questions on the exam.
- Answer the easy questions first and then tackle the more difficult ones.
- For difficult questions, eliminate all incorrect answers then make an educated guess among the remaining options.
- Answer every question because there is no penalty for guessing.
- Review your work.

Find the right fit for college

By EducationQuest Foundation

Before you consider which college you want to attend, think about your interests, skills and talents. This will help you identify majors you might like to pursue in college. Then, when you begin researching colleges and their degrees, you'll have a better idea of which schools may be the right fit for you.

Think about potential careers

Answer these questions to start thinking about careers you may want to pursue:

•What do you like to do? Do you enjoy outdoor activities? Do you like to draw? What topics interest you - history, astronomy, technology?

•What are your talents? Do you excel in math or English? Are you a good artist? Are you good at fixing or building things?

•How do you envision your future? How much money do you want to make? What kind of work schedule do you want? Where do you want to live?

Your answers to these questions will direct you to high school courses and clubs that will help you develop your strengths and lead to a future career. In addition, ask your school counselor about career assessment tools at your school.

Start researching colleges

Once you identify the type of career you want to pursue, find out what kind of degree or education is required. For example:

- If you want to be an x-ray technician, this is typically a two-year program at certain Nebraska community colleges and hospitals.
- If you wish to be a teacher, you'll need a four-year bachelor's degree and a teaching certificate.
- A career as an architect usually requires a master's degree, which means at least six years of college.

To research colleges that may be the right fit for you, see College Profiles at EducationQuest.org and ask your school counselor about college search tools at your school.

What are you going to major in?

By EducationQuest Foundation

It's a simple question, but the answer may be tough. While you don't have to start college with your major already decided, it's helpful to have a general idea of what you want to study.

Follow these steps in high school to help you make your "major" decision.

1. Evaluate your skills and interests.

Personal Strengths – what adjectives describe you?

Talents – what do you do well?

Interests – what do you enjoy?

Values – what's important to you?

2. Gather facts about majors that interest you. Talk to your school counselor about your selections, and look at advanced classes in each major. Some students change majors because they become disillusioned with upper-level courses.

3. Job shadow. By observing different careers, you may find some that suit you while you cross others off your list.

Follow these steps after you get to college:

1. Join student organizations that relate to potential careers. You'll meet other students with similar interests and discover if the fit is right.

2. Make good use of your electives. Along with core requirements during your freshman and sophomore year, take electives that are in your potential major.

3. Declare your major before your fourth semester of college. This should allow you to finish in four years if you enroll full-time each semester and remain in good academic standing. Talk to your academic advisor about majors, such as education, that may require you to declare when you enter college.

Don't just settle on a major. Take your time, explore your options and make a good decision. Then you can avoid making college a "major" disappointment.

Make the most of a college visit

By EducationQuest Foundation

College visits help you discover a school's culture, campus, and the surrounding community while learning about the admissions and financial aid processes.

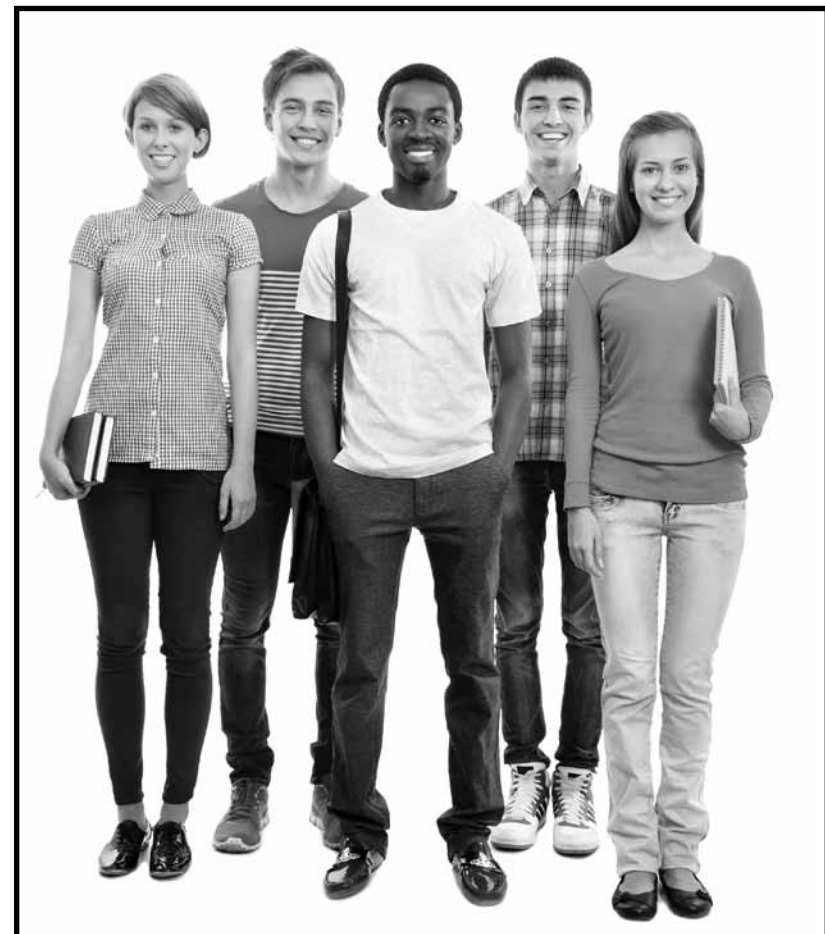

Visit colleges during your junior year and in the fall of your senior year. Begin by checking out the college website. Most have a section for prospective students, and many allow you to register for a campus visit online. You can also read the student newspaper and get information about student services and employment. Look for departmental web pages for information about areas of study that interest you.

Schedule your campus visit at least two weeks in advance. Try to visit when school is in session to get the true flavor of the campus. At most colleges, you can join a group campus visit with other students or set up an individual visit. Campus visits usually include a campus tour along with information about scholarships, financial aid and support services. It's helpful to visit your top colleges a second time.

Be prepared to ask lots of questions. For a list, see Campus Visit Questions in the Selecting a College section at EducationQuest.org.

Also, take notes and photos – you'll be glad you did when it's time to make your final college decision.

What to expect your freshman year of college

By EducationQuest Foundation

Be prepared to make some adjustments during your freshman year of college, especially the first semester. Here are some challenges you may face.

New experiences, new friends. When you get to college, it may be difficult to stay close to your high school friends because they no longer share your experiences. You may also experience homesickness. To gain a sense of belonging, attend freshmen orientation activities, get involved in extracurricular activities, and find a part-time job. It's important to stay busy and meet new people.

Less structure. You'll go to bed later and get up later. You're in class for a total of three to four hours each day and those hours are staggered throughout the day. You'll think you have plenty of time to study and will have an urge to procrastinate. Instead, use the time between classes to review notes and study.

Lots of reading. Talk to any current college student and they'll tell you the reading is "huge!" To avoid becoming overwhelmed, set small goals (10 pages at a time) and it will be easier.

Weight gain. Oh...you'll complain about the dorm food. Everyone does. But it's pretty good and there's lots of it. Many students gain about 10 pounds by Thanksgiving. That's why it's important to use the fitness center and avoid late night snacks.

Getting your grades. "Wow, what happened?" Many freshmen ask that question when they get their first set of grades. Your professor will give you a syllabus at the beginning of the class. It's up to you to follow it. You typically won't get reminders about due dates for reading assignments or term papers.

How four steps can help students KnowHow2GO to college!

By EducationQuest Foundation

KnowHow2GO provides 8th, 9th and 10th grade students with four steps they can follow to help make college a reality. They are:

1. Be a pain – in a good way. Ask adults to help guide you to college, and keep asking until you find someone who will.
2. Push yourself. Take the tough courses in high school that will prepare you for college and get involved in extracurricular activities.
3. Find the right fit. Explore your career interests and then research colleges that fit those interests.

4. Put your hands on some cash. Money is available to help you pay for college, but you have to apply!

EducationQuest Foundation has developed KnowHow2GO resources, materials and tools to help guide middle and high school students to college.

The 8th, 9th and 10th Grade Students section of EducationQuest.org contains comprehensive information and interactive tools to help students prepare for college.

The KnowHow2GO Handbook

is distributed every fall to Nebraska middle schools and high schools. It is also available for ordering in the "Contact Us / Order Materials" section at EducationQuest.org. The KnowHow2GO Handbook is also available in Spanish.

KnowHow2GO Activities is a resource that provides student activities for each KnowHow2GO step. This resource is especially helpful for educators, agency representatives and mentors. It's available in the "Professionals" section of EducationQuest.org.

Why you should take tough courses in high school

By EducationQuest Foundation

It may be hard to think about college when it seems so far off, but the fact is, you need to take tough classes now if you want to make it to college later. Here's why...

Most colleges won't accept you unless meet academic requirements.

Ask your counselor, a parent or another adult to help you set up a four-year coursework plan during high school that will ensure admission into college.

You're more likely to earn higher scores on the ACT and/or SAT college entrance exams.

The knowledge you gain by taking tough classes will come in handy on test day.

You're more likely to earn academic scholarships.

Many colleges base scholarship awards on your ACT or SAT scores. Colleges will be more impressed if you earn respectable grades in challenging courses than outstanding grades in easy classes.

So don't take easy classes just to pad your grade point average.

You'll have a better chance of succeeding in college.

College courses are challenging! By taking tough courses during high school, you'll be better prepared.

You may be able to earn college credit while in high school.

Ask your counselor about Advanced Placement and Dual Credit courses that may be offered at your high school. These can help you get a head start on college!

Your senior year at a glance

By EducationQuest Foundation

Your senior year will be jam-packed with activities and deadlines for high school and college. It can be overwhelming, but you don't have to do it alone. Get help from parents, teachers, counselors, and college admission representatives.

Here's a summary of how to plan for college during your senior year.

Year-round
Combat senioritis. Many colleges request copies of your final grades at the end of your senior year, so resist the urge to slack off.

Stay involved in extracurricular activities. Update your Activities Resume at EducationQuest.org for admissions and scholarship applications.

Always search for scholarships. Resources include the colleges that interest you, your school counselor, local organizations, and free online search sites such as ScholarshipQuest at EducationQuest.org.

August through December

•Finish your college visits – narrow your choices to 3-4 schools.

•Retake the ACT and/or SAT college entrance exams. Visit actstudent.org and collegeboard.org to register and take practice tests. Ask the colleges you're applying to if they prefer one test over the other.

•Apply to your top 3-4 colleges. Contact the colleges to learn the deadlines.

•Apply for scholarships. ScholarshipQuest at EducationQuest.org is a free database of over 2,000 Nebraska-based scholarships.

January through March

•Complete and submit the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). See FAFSA

Tools at EducationQuest.org for free resources to help you prepare.

•For free personal help with the FAFSA, contact EducationQuest.org.

•Expect admission acceptance letters.

•Continue to apply for scholarships.

April and May

•Expect financial aid award notifications.

•Make your final college selection and notify the other colleges of your decision.

•Meet deadlines for the housing deposit and course registration.

•Get a summer job to help with college expenses.

June and July

•Register for freshmen orientation.

•Apply for student loans, if necessary. Your financial aid award notification will indicate loans you can borrow and the process for applying.

If you have questions about college admissions and financial aid, contact the EducationQuest location nearest you: Omaha – 888-357-6300, Lincoln – 800-303-3745, or Kearney – 800-666-3721.
