Candidates discuss issues at forum

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Candidates for the two contested primary races in Wayne County were friendly and forthright as they answered about 10 questions from the reporter-estimated 60 in attendance at the Wayne Senior Center for Tuesday's political forum sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber's Government Affairs Committee.

Candidates for Ward Two of the Wayne City Council and the District 17 seat in the Nebraska Legislature spent about 90 minutes answering constituents' questions on a number of issues, from housing in Wayne to making medicinal marijuana legal in Nebraska. Wayne Area Chamber executive director Wes Blecke served as the moderator for the discussion.

All of the candidates running for the two positions that will be up for election in the May 10 primary were in attendance. Incumbent Ward Two Councilwoman Jennifer Sievers was joined by her opponents, Josie

Dolan out as Wildcat hoop coach

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Wayne State men's basketball coach Brian Dolan has been relieved of his duties, according to an announcement late Wednesday morning by athletic director Mike Powicki.

In a phone interview with The Wayne Herald late Wednesday morning, Powicki said that he could not comment on the reason for Dolan's termination, other than to say that Dolan "will not be back next year."

Dolan

Dolan came to Wayne State in the summer of 2013 with the hopes of matching what he had done at Upper Iowa, taking the Peacocks from the basement of the Northern Sun Conference to the school's first-ever appearance in an NCAA Div. II men's basketball regional.

Dolan was 21-65 in his three seasons as the Wildcats' coach. Powicki told The Wayne Herald that he was meeting with the team Wednesday afternoon, and that a national search to find Dolan's replacement will be conducted immediately.

LCC school in lockdown, one in custody

At 10:40 a.m. Friday morning, Laurel-Concord-Coleridge School in Laurel was placed in lockdown due to an unidentified person in the building.

Students and staff were removed from the area and the individual was isolated with designated school personnel.

Law enforcement officers responded to the school and the individual was taken into police custody. As of 11:05 a.m., the lockdown was lifted.

"We are proud of the students, staff and law enforcement and how they responded to this situation. Everybody is safe and that is our biggest concern," said Randall Klooz, Superintendent of Schools.

The Laurel Police Department, Cedar County Sheriff's Office and the Nebraska State Patrol responded to the school.

A female subject, approximately 32 years of age, was taken into Emergency Protective Custody.

"None of the students or faculty were in danger during the incident and after the lockdown ended at 11:05 a.m., the school was able to resume a normal day," said Ron Lundahl, Laurel Chief of Police.

Helping a helper

The town of Dixon more than doubled in size on Saturday as friends and family turned out for a benefit to help Euni Diediker, owner of Euni's Palace, who has been battling recent health issues and has helped out many in need over the years. In the photo above, Euni hugs Larry Wiebelhaus as his wife, Rosie, looks on. At right, the line to get into the Dixon Community Center for the benefit dinner stretched out over more than a city block.

Task force takes look at school questions

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Questions about a proposed $18 million addition to Wayne Junior-Senior High School received some answers during a task force meeting held Monday at the Junior-Senior High gymnasium.

About 30 people were in attendance along with community facility task force members and Wayne Community Schools superintendent Mark Lenihan to discuss concerns about the proposed building project, which would add a new lecture hall, a second competition gymnasium, build a new preschool center, provide additional parking and address other building needs at the school.

Some of the biggest concerns about the proposal are the costs involved, and Lenihan told The Wayne Herald that the task force addressed some of the needs the school is facing. "We identified the three needs area based on our programming and our current situation with our facilities," he said, noting a facilities study done a few years ago that identified areas of concern. "There are some projects that can be done in the short term, and we wanted to communicate that to the people who were there."

With an initial price tag of $18 million, a number of taxpayers in the district, particularly rural land owners, are concerned about seeing their tax bill go up, especially with an 11.9 cent increase in the district levy to fund the project.

In his presentation, Lenihan noted that Wayne is the 42nd lowest-spending district among 250 school districts in the state on a per-pupil basis. Still, about 60 percent of the local taxes for the district come from agriculture land valuation, which has seen a dramatic increase in recent years, and Wayne has less land valuation than a number of neighboring districts, while at the same time educating twice as many students.

Lenihan said the district and the community of Wayne is showing signs of growth, and the district needs to take a long-term look at how to serve those needs in the future. "We talked a little more about what we feel are the important needs for our facilities," he said. "Looking down the road 25-30 years, what do we want our facilities to look like?"

The task force sought additional feedback from the community, but Lenihan said a decision on what the next step should be was not made at Monday's meeting.

"This committee was put together for the purpose of getting more feedback from the community and hear what the concerns were and try to answer those questions," he said. "As far as where we go from here, we'll report back to the school board and see what happens next. We want to continue to talk with the public and educate them on what is being considered and help them understand the objective of what we're trying to do, and I think we're still in that phase."

Lenihan said he will have a full report on findings from Monday's task force meeting at the next meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education on Monday, May 9. He said another task force meeting may happen, but a date has not yet been confirmed.

Pulfer gets perfect 36 on ACT test

Marta Pulfer, daughter of Kent and Jodi Pulfer, and a junior at Wayne High School, earned the highest possible ACT Composite score of 36.

Nationally, while the actual number of students earning the top score varies from year to year, on average, less than one-tenth of 1 percent of students who take the ACT earn the top score. Among test takers in the high school graduating class of 2015, only 1,598 of more than 1.92 million students earned an ACT Composite score of 36.

The ACT consists of tests in English, mathematics, reading and science. Each test is scored on a scale of 1-36, and a student's composite score is the average of the four test scores. Some students also take the optional ACT writing test, but the score for that test is reported separately and is not included within the ACT Composite score.

In a letter from the ACT chief executive officer recognizing this exceptional achievement, the CEO stated, "Your achievement on the ACT is significant and rare. While test scores are just one of multiple criteria that most colleges consider when making admission decisions, your exceptional ACT Composite score should prove helpful as you pursue your education and career goals."

ACT test scores are accepted by all major US colleges. Exceptional scores of 36 provide colleges with evidence of student readiness for the academic rigors that lie ahead.

USDA broadband grants available

USDA is soliciting applications for grants to establish broadband in unserved rural communities through its Community Connect program. Community Connect is administered by USDA's Rural Utilities Service and helps to fund broadband deployment into rural communities where it is not economically viable for private sector providers to provide service.

USDA plans to award up to $11.7 million in grants through the Community Connect grant program. The grants fund broadband infrastructure to help foster economic growth by delivering connectivity to the global marketplace. The grants also fund broadband for community centers and public institutions.

USDA has invested $160 million in more than 240 projects to bring broadband to unserved rural communities since the Community Connect Program was created in 2002.

The minimum grant is $100,000 for FY 2016. The maximum award is $3 million. USDA announced new rules in 2013 to better target Community Connect grants to areas where they are needed the most. To view the rules, go to www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2016-04-18/pdf/2016-08931.pdf.

 Broders and Reed Allen. The three candidates for the Legislature District 17 seat that will be vacated by the outgoing Sen. Dave Bloomfield - Ardel Bengtson, Joni Albrecht and Lou Bencotter - also were in attendance. Wayne's future growth was a popular topic of discussion for those quizzing the City Council candidates, and all three expressed a desire to see housing options improve in the community.

"I know there are a lot of jobs (in Wayne), and they're not poor-paying jobs," Broders said. "I'm really excited for Wayne and the things that are happening right now."

"There are current jobs open and the variety is great, and when you create jobs, the growth comes as the housing comes in," Sievers added.

"One of the ways we need to continue to expand on housing is by offering (tax-increment) financing," Allen said. "Wayne has done a lot of that in the past, and it can incentivize builders to build affordable houses."

The Legislative candidates were given a choice to talk about the death penalty or medical marijuana. Albrecht chose the death penalty, while Bengtson and Bencotter both discussed medical marijuana.

Albrecht said she would look at all the options before making a final decision, but did say she felt law enforcement should have every tool available to deal with criminals.

"It's very important that we have a tool for law enforcement to use to take care of the hardened criminals who sit in our jails for years," she said.

Both Bengtson and Bencotter cited losing their spouses to cancer in their desire to see something done with medical marijuana.

"My husband died of cancer, and if there had been something that made it possible for him to get a good night's sleep that was different from feeding him opiates, I would have loved to have had an option like that," she said. "I would like to have it as an option, because there are families out there that have those conditions that it would help."

"I saw a lot of suffering and some patients where it worked," Bencotter added. "We're not going to cut it loose like Colorado, but let's try it. Let's not handcuff everybody."

Property taxes were discussed by the candidates, and all agreed the government, at all levels, needs to do more to keep property taxes down.

"It's always hard to balance what you want and what you need, and those are two different things," Sievers said. "In order to keep everything you want, it takes cuts and it's a balancing act. Nobody wants to see us raising property taxes."

"The important thing is to have a strategic plan between (city, county and schools) so they know what each other is doing," Allen said. "The Council can do what they can to relieve the property tax burden, and if there's communications between those groups they can better plan out those projects and keep a watch on property tax levels."

"I think it's important to list everything so everybody knows what the picture looks like," Broders said. "I think they should list everything out and give people an opportunity to see it. You never know when a better idea will come up."

Albrecht said that when she was on the Papillion City Council and Sarpy County Board, she wanted to see a five-year, three-year and one-year plan.

"I thought it was important to let everybody know that we aren't going to look at any more than a certain percent (increase in taxes)," she said. "You have to listen to the heartbeat of the community and know where they're coming from, and controlling property taxes starts at the local level."

Bengtson said bigger cities are building more arenas than are needed in the area.

"A project that comes to mind is the abundance of arenas in Omaha, and the state bails them out because they're not doing as well as they thought," Bengtson said. "Different cities want (an arena) in their backyard and then want the Legislature to bail them out."

Bencotter said the state should look at collecting sales taxes on internet sales.

"Local government doesn't always have the ability to raise money if the state puts limits on it," he said. "Why not a sales tax on internet sales? If you put a sales tax on internet sales, where millions of dollars are spent, that would help."

All six candidates thanked those in attendance and encouraged all voters to go to the polls on Tuesday, May 10.

LENRD reservoir evaluation identifies possible site benefits

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) recently received a report from their Reservoir Evaluation Project that looked at 10 potential reservoir sites in northeast Nebraska.

The sites have been identified as providing possible benefits including flood control, recreation, stream flow augmentation, recharge, and water quality. Through the evaluation process, the LENRD has obtained more information about each site, which will allow them to expand studies in some areas, if desired.

LENRD general manager Mike Sousek, said, "This was simply a study comparing ideas against other ideas, not a proposal to build any particular structure. We partnered with three downstream NRDs and looked at a much larger area than we usually do because of the nature of some of the benefits that may be realized to downstream stakeholders. These financial partners also saved local taxpayers from paying for the full cost of the evaluation."

The LENRD has 12 responsibilities given to them by the State. The goal of the evaluation was to identify what each structure could potentially do to meet those responsibilities. The responsibilities can be found on the district's website: www.lenrd.org/responsibilities.

Sousek said, "In an attempt to keep local control, the LENRD must explore ideas. If the district isn't going to actively manage groundwater, the decisions that will be forced upon this district in the future will be made by those who live outside the district. Change is happening, we have the opportunity to create the change that we want, or accept the changes that are handed down to us."

He added, "We encourage interested parties to please attend our meetings and learn about the issues the district is facing. As the demand for water continues to increase, this district will become involved with long-term sustainability issues, not just for our district, but for eastern Nebraska. We are all in this together and the LENRD will need to participate in this effort."

The LENRD does have opportunities to capture water and recharge aquifers or use it for stream augmentation, capturing it when it is not needed and using it when the demand is present. Sousek said this study will help the board in determining what projects are best suited to meet their goals and help decide where is the best place to spend tax dollars to protect the overall water system we all depend on.

The next meeting of the LENRD Board of Directors is Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the campus of Northeast Community College in Norfolk. The board meetings are open to the public.

For more information and a full report of the evaluation project, visit the district's website: www.lenrd.org/projects.

Flashback effort for WSC's Miller

Thoughts and observations while wondering if a Cubs vs. White Sox World Series is actually possible:

- I had a wave of nostalgia wash over me Thursday afternoon as I was shooting photos of Wayne State's softball doubleheader with Upper Iowa.

It doesn't seem like I've been here THAT long, but watching Wildcat hurler Cassidy Miller absolutely dominate another team's batting lineup made me think back to when she was wearing the blue-and-black of Wayne High and leaving opposing batters spellbound.

Miller has one of the more intimidating windups that I've seen in all the years I've covered high school (and college) softball, and she has always had a seemingly inexhaustible array of pitches to throw at opposing hitters. During her high school days with the Blue Devils, the question I usually asked myself wasn't whether or not Wayne High would win, but how many would Miller strike out? And the answer was usually a number in the double digits.

On Thursday, it was like a trip back in time for those who have watched this young lady throw. For 7 1/3 innings, Upper Iowa would have had better luck winning the Powerball than trying to hit Miller's dizzying pitches. By the seventh inning, I thought to myself that she was on a tear, and I sent a text message to SID intern Ryan Rolfzen, who was in the press box, to ask how many she had.

"Twelve," my phone buzzed. And seconds later, she fanned another hapless hitter for No. 13. She would finish with 15 in the game, but unfortunately, the Peacocks broke up her no-hitter in the eighth and won the game 1-0 in 11 innings.

It was a tough loss for the Wildcats - but that pitching effort reminded us of that amazing arm that baffled batters in Nebraska for all those years.

- We just finished up taping our final edition of the Wayne State Coaches Show on Monday night, and I wanted to take the time to thank those who made the show a blast to put together each week.

First and foremost, I want to publicly thank the WSC Media Club, who set up the camera and lighting each week. Adrian Eggers and Brady Bristol were the guys on the other side of the camera this year, and they were a blast to work with. It was great to be able to work with the club and give them an opportunity to do some "real world" video setups each week.

The Wayne State coaches were always accommodating with their time, and I don't think a week went by without at least one of them making me laugh, either before, during or after we taped their segments. Not only are they great coaches, but great people to talk to. When you have that to work with each week, it's really hard to believe you have to actually call it work.

Special thanks as well to our sponsors, especially Ken Jorgensen and the staff at The Max. They hosted the show each week and let us take over a corner of the sports bar. The background noise added a little extra to the program - sometimes a little too much if I didn't pick up my food order before I had to interview Chris Kielsemer (who, of the coaches, is the longest-winded one).

We'll do it again next school year, and we'll have more details on the show as we get closer to the 2016 fall sports season.

- Speaking of sports seasons, mine will actually end a week earlier than normal this spring, and I wanted to prepare everybody for this shocking development, because I don't miss the state track meet unless I have a REALLY good reason. I've only missed three in 30-plus years since I started my career. Two were when I was on a self-imposed sabbatical from the business, and the third was when I was in Ogallala and the sports editor said I could

The Wayne State baseball team couldn't keep pace with a high-scoring Augustana squad, as the visiting Vikings swept a four-game series with the Wildcats Friday and Saturday at the Chapman Complex.

On Friday, Augustana won a slugfest with a 23-10 win in the opener, then took the nightcap 11-1 in eight innings.

In the opener, Wayne State trailed 10-2 before getting back in the game with six runs in the fourth inning, highlighted by Bodie Cooper's grand slam home run. They made it 10-10 in the fifth with solo homers from Nate Ackerman and Nick McIntee.

Augustana put the first game out of reach with 10 runs in the sixth inning, then carried that momentum into the second game to sweep the Friday twinbill.

McIntee, Ackerman and Curtis Bussard each had three hits in the opener for the Wildcats. Alex Kreft had a double in the second game to highlight a four-hit effort. Taner Ledezma was credited with the loss in the first game, while Mitch Ragan took the loss in the nightcap.

On Saturday, Augustana took advantage of six errors to win the opener 19-3, then won another high-scoring battle to close our the sweep with a 13-10 victory.

In the opener, Augustana used an eight-run second inning to take control of the game. Wayne State was held to eight hits in the first game, two coming from Aaron Krier, who also scored a run. Matthew Wood took the loss.

In the nightcap, Wayne State tried to rally after trailing 7-4 after five innings. Bussard hit two home runs and part of a 3-for-4 effort, Albert Johnson had two hits and three RBI's and Ackerman and Brandon Fowler both had two hits. Spencer Morris took the loss.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats split a doubleheader with visiting Sioux Falls, dropping the opener 5-1 before coming back to win the nightcap 12-5.

In the first game, the Cougars' Dylan Gavin limited the Wildcats to

Regular-season title hopes dashed in rare home defeats

Wayne State saw its hopes for winning the Northern Sun Conference regular-season softball title dashed by some rare late-season losses at home last week.

On Thursday, the Wildcats hooked up with a hot Upper Iowa team, and the Peacocks edged the Wildcats 1-0 in 11 innings and 3-2 in a key doubleheader that was moved from Fayette, Iowa., to Wayne because of the weather.

Wayne State, playing as the visiting team, got a masterful pitching performance from Wayne High graduate Cassidy Miller. The senior hurler took a no-hitter into the eighth inning and struck out 15 while allowing just three hits in the hard-luck losing effort.

The Wildcats had opportunities to score with runners in scoring position in the fourth and sixth innings. In the fourth, Emily Chandler singled and moved to second when Abbie Hix reached on an error. In the sixth, Chandler walked and Melanie Aleya reached on a bunt single. The runners advanced on a one-out sacrifice, but were unable to come home.

Finally, in the 11th, the Peacocks used two walks and a bloop single to score the game's only run and claim the 1-0 win win.

Wayne State had eight hits in the losing effort, two coming from Chandler. Lexie Loos extended her season-high hitting streak to 16 games.

In the nightcap, Upper Iowa took advantage of three Wildcat errors and got the game-winner in the bottom of the seventh to claim the win.

Wayne State trailed 1-0 before scoring a run in the second and another in the third to lead 2-1. Morgan Hoeg drove home Abbie Hix in the second, while Chandler singled and scored on an Hix RBI single in the third. Upper Iowa tied the game on two errors in the fifth, then got a two-out single in the bottom of the second to finish the sweep.

Wayne State senior Lexie Loos became the school's all-time leader in career runs scored during the Wildcats' sweep of Concordia-St. Paul on Sunday.

Chandler was 3-for-4 in the losing effort while Hix went 2-for-2. Loos went 0-for-3 to end her 16-game hitting streak. Shelby Wobken took the loss, allowing four hits and three runs, only one of them earned.

On Saturday, the Wildcats were swept at home for the second time in as many outings, as Minnesota State beat the Wildcats 5-4 in 10 innings and 9-0. The first game was a wild one, as Wayne State scored two in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game at 4-4. Hoeg doubled and scored on a Katelyn Wobken single, and Loos followed with the tying run on a Maverick throwing error. Wayne State had a chance to win in the 10th inning, but left the bases loaded after Minnesota State beat the Wildcats 5-4 in 10

Rugby women going for NSCRO three-peat

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

The top-ranked Wayne State women's rugby team is looking for a three-peat and a fifth national title in as many years this weekend.

The Wildcat rugger's are headed to Charlotte, N.C. for this weekend's National Small College Rugby Organization's national tournament, which runs Saturday and Sunday. Twelve teams will compete in pool-play action on Saturday, with the semifinals and finals set for Sunday.

The Wildcats have won the last two 7-on-7 national titles and are seeking a third to go with their 15-on-15 championships won in 2012 and 2013, and coach Darrin Barner said the team is firing on all cylinders at the right time of the year.

"What we did to Ohio State and Iowa State at the Div. I level earlier this year was really pretty to see," he told The Wayne Herald. "We are playing very good ball right now, and I hope we can stay healthy."

The Wildcats are 20-3 heading into the national tournament and have put up a lot of points this season. For Barner, though, it starts with the defense being able to set up the offense to score.

"We are scoring a lot of points this year, but to me putting pressure on defense to cause turnovers is the key to winning the national tournament."

Wayne State will face California (Pa.), Ursinus and Endicott (Mass.) University in pool play. The pool winners advance to the quarterfinals on Saturday, with the winners moving on to the semifinals on Sunday with a shot at playing for the national championship.

All of last year's "final four" teams are in this year's tournament, so winning a third straight national title won't be easy, Barner said. However, if his team plays to its capabilities and stays healthy, they've got a good shot at making it three in a row.

"This is the week to leave it all on the line - hero or zero, champ or chump," he said. "I can promise this, though - if we play our 'A' game we are headed for a semifinal or championship game again."

Wayne/Wakefield nine finally gets first win

WEST POINT - After a number of close calls, the Wayne/Wakefield baseball team finally got its first win of the season Tuesday after splitting a doubleheader with GACC/Scribner-Snyder/West Point-Beemer.

Wayne/Wakefield almost had a sweep, but the West Point-based home team scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh to come back and post a 4-3 win.

Both teams scored in the opening inning of the first game, with WW's run coming on a Zane Jackson groundout, scoring Brennan O'Reilly, who led off the game with a single. The game stayed tied until the sixth when Wayne/Wakefield broke the tie on a Noah Braun single, scoring Isaac Camarena, who led off the sixth with a walk. Tucker Nichols later scored on an error, giving Wayne/Wakefield a 3-1 advantage.

The home team scored a run in the bottom of the seventh, then tied the game with one out on a passed ball. They won the game on a fielder's choice after loading the bases to claim the one-run win. Tyler Lutt had two of Wayne/W

Wildcat soccer picks up nine recruits for 2016 fall season

Wayne State women's soccer coach Bruce Erickson announced the signing Wednesday of nine student-athletes who will play soccer at Wayne State College beginning in 2016.

The group of eight high school and one junior college transfer includes Madison Burgard of Bismarck, N.D.; Marianna Blair from Sauk Rapids, Minn.; Lauren Fleming of Bismarck, N.D.; Rachel Grisham of Columbus; Taylor Hogue from Newbury Park, Calif.; Sophia Ketchmark of LaVista; Chloe Madigan of Omaha; Megan McDonald from Kansas City, Mo.; and Carleigh Wilson of Omaha.

"This recruiting class embodies everything we set out to recruit - quality, quantity and high character student-athletes," Erickson said. This is a group, as a whole, will make us better in every aspect of our program."

Burgard, a midfielder/defender, is a two-time All-Region and All-State performer in soccer helping lead her team to a second place finish at state while earning All-Tournament honors. Burgard also excels in cross country where she is an All-State ern State Conference title and the school's first regional finals berth since 2009. Hogue finished the season ranked in the top five in the conference in saves, save percentage and goals against average.

Ketchmark is a midfielder/defender who played club ball for the Elite Girls Academy. She served as captain of both high school and club teams and was an All-State honorable mention selection the last two seasons. Ketchmark also excels in the classroom as a member of the National Honor Society.

State scored the winning run on a solo homer in the top of the inning.

Loos went 3-for-6 and scored twice in the losing effort. Chandler had two hits, including a homer, and Hoeg doubled. Miller took the loss.

In the nightcap, Minnesota State pitcher Libby Bemis threw a no-hitter against the Wildcats. Only one runner reached base for Wayne State, as Sam O'Brien drew a two-out walk in the second inning. Shelby Wobken took the loss.

The Wildcats closed out the regular season in fine fashion on Seniors Day Sunday, sweeping Concordia-St. Paul 8-0 and 14-2 in action at the Chapman Complex.

Miller threw a one-hit shutout in the opener and Loos became the school's all-time leader in runs scored as she scored two to run her career total up to 156, two more than the previous mark of 154 set by Amy Sandstrom from 2007-2010.

Miller was masterful in the opener, striking out seven and walking two in five innings of work to get her fourth shutout of the year.

O'Brien highlighted a four-run first inning with a two-run homer. Aleya also had an RBI single in the big inning, and Hix had a two-run single in the second inning. Chandler and Katelyn Wobken also had RBI singles in the shutout win, and Wobken went 3-for-3 to lead a 12-hit effort, with Loos, Aleya and Alyssa Schropp each adding two hits.

Chandler

In the nightcap, Wayne State rang up the Golden Bears for 11 runs on 11 hits in the opening stanza and cruised to the easy five-inning win. Chandler had a two-run homer, Hix had a two-run double and Caitlin Fehringer added a two-run single as Wayne State sent 16 batters to the plate in the first frame.

Wobken added a three-run blast in the second inning, and that was more than enough as the three senior pitchers - Miller, Shelby Wobken and Sarah Macias - saw action in the win.

Wayne State had 13 hits in the second game, led by Hix's three-hit effort. Chandler, O'Brien and Aleya each added two hits.

Wayne State ended the regular season 27-24 overall and 21-9 in NSIC play. They will play in the NSIC conference tournament, starting Thursday in Sioux Falls, S.D.

Wakefield's five hits in the game. Adam Bentjen threw six innings, striking out five and allowing six hits. Julio Sanchez was the hard-luck loser in the game.

In the nightcap, Wayne/Wakefield turned the tables on their hosts, scoring three in the top of the seventh to get their first win of the year and come home with a split.

Wayne/Wakefield got two in the first on groundouts by Sanchez and Jackson, scoring O'Reilly and Camarena, respectively. Ficke-Anderson, courtesy running for Lutt, scored on a wild pitch in the second to make it 3-0.

The home team got two in the third and two more in the fifth to lead 4-3, but Wayne/Wakefield responded in their final at bat, tying the game when O'Reilly scored on a passed ball. With two out in the inning, Lutt singled to right, scoring Ficke-Anderson and Jackson with the go-ahead runs, and Camarena set the hosts down in order to seal the deal.

Wayne/Wakefield had just five hits, highlighted by Jackson's double. Lutt had two RBIs and O'Reilly and Edgar Ficke-Anderson each scored two runs. Camarena got the win in relief of Lutt, who struck out six and allowed three hits in four innings. Camarena threw the last three, striking out three and allowing two hits.

In other action, Norfolk High beat the locals for the second time this season in a 9-3 win at Hank Overin Field.

Norfolk jumped out to a 3-0 lead before Wayne scored runs in the second and third to get within 3-2. Norfolk added two more in the fourth and put the game out of reach with three in the sixth to come away with the win.

take the weekend off.

This year, the state track meet happens to fall on the same weekend that my adopted daughter in Arkansas graduates from high school. her big day will be celebrated at the basketball arena at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, which is about a half-hour southeast of Siloam Springs, where she and her family reside.

I'm especially proud of my two daughters (as you may have al-

O'Reilly and Sanchez each had two hits to lead a six-hit attack. Sanchez had an RBI single on the evening. Bentjen took the loss, pitching 4 1/3 innings and allowing six runs, three of them earned, on four hits with five walks and two strikeouts.

Wayne/Wakefield is 1-14 on the season. They play in Pender against Thurston-Cuming County on Thursday at 4:30 p.m., then play Platte Valley at Yutan on Saturday at 1 p.m. before closing out the regular season at home Monday against Arlington at 4:30 p.m.

ready figured out from reading previous columns), and Abby is graduating with high honors on her way to starting college this fall at U of A. Don't worry, there won't be any "Sooo-eee pig" chants going on - but there will be a lot of fist pumps and cheers for her when she takes that walk to receive her diploma.

It'll be like watching one of "my" athletes back home win a state title with a sprint at the finish - only with a lot fewer photographers to shoot photos over.

Defense dominates WSC scrimmage

The Black Team (defense) forced four turnovers to register a 40-34 win over the Gold Team (offense) in Wayne State's spring football scrimmage Saturday at Cunningham Field.

The scoring was done with points awarded for explosion plays, sacks, third down conversions, forced three and outs and other plays as the Wildcats closed out the 2016 spring drills.

Quarterbacks Zach Osborn, Taylor Reedy and Aaron Bleil each ran four series, with Osborn getting a fifth and final series running the NASCAR offense.

The defense controlled the scrimmage, forcing four turnovers and several sacks in the contest. Interceptions were recorded by sophomore Aaron Wright and redshirt freshman Ian Ailts, while fumble recoveries were credited to redshirt freshman Cody Eischeid and redshirt freshman Tyler Thomsen.

Junior quarterback Zach Osborn had the lone offensive score in the contest, a 45-yard touchdown strike to wide receiver Nick Roth.

Wayne State will open the 2016 football season on Thursday, Sept. 1, playing a 6 p.m. game at MSU Moorhead.

Kristie Hartman
Hartman awarded WSC scholarship

Kristie Hartman of Carroll has been awarded a Dr. William E. Slaymayer Scholarship to continue her education at Wayne State College.

Kristie is the wife of Doug Hartman and graduated from South Milwaukee High School in South Milwaukee, Wisc. in 2012.

Emergency personnel train for disasters at recent exercise

Representatives of the Wayne and Dixon County Emergency Management, Wayne County Commissioners, Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department, Providence Medical Center, Nebraska Extension and a those familiar with the financial aspect of dealing with a disaster gathered this week to conduct a training exercise.

The event, which was held at the Wayne Emergency Management office in conjunction with emergency management departments in several surrounding counties was centered on what would happen if the area was placed on a "High Suspicion" that there was a foreign animal disease involving cattle.

The group brainstormed ideas and discussed scenarios that would take place in the event of an actual emergency.

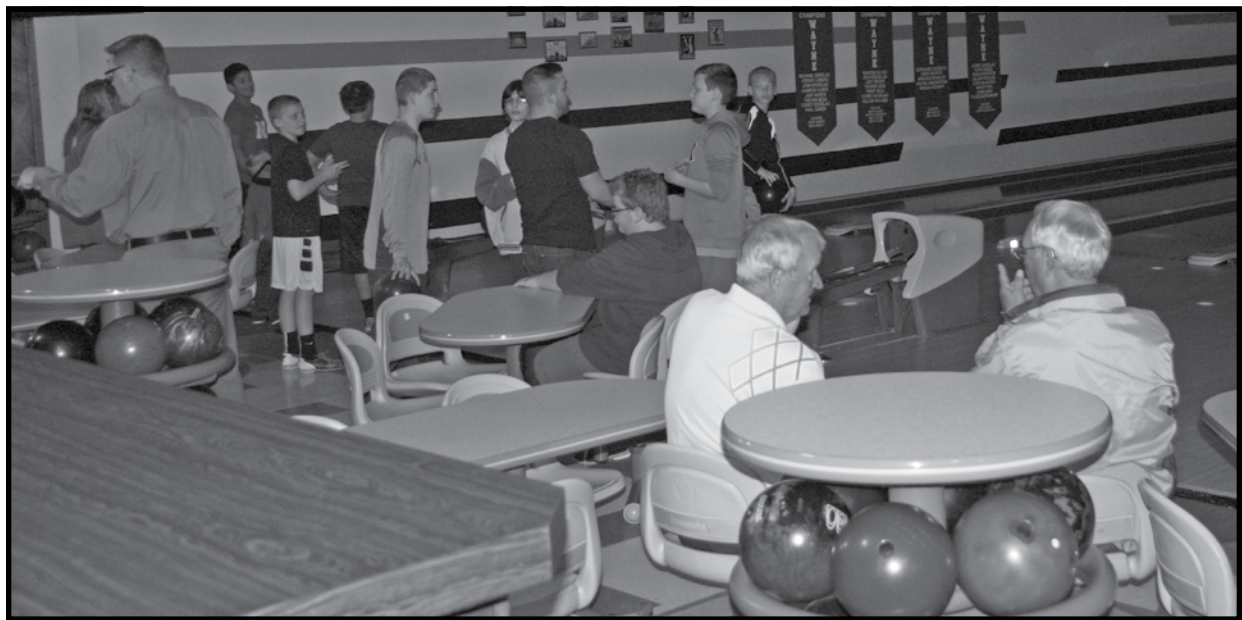

Those in attendance spent the morning determining who would be responsible for each activity that needed to take place and discussed possible locations to transport the infected cattle. It was also noted that someone would need to be responsible for determining where cattle are located within the county to determine if there were any other affected animals.

"If this type of situation were to occur, similar to the outbreak of Avian Influenza last year, the Department of Agriculture would be responsible for getting information out to the public," said Nic Kemnitz, Wayne County Emergency Manager.

He also told those in attendance that there would need to be plans to monitor the area for at least 21 days. Sharing of resources with surrounding counties, such as road barricades and personnel, would benefit all those involved.

Those in attendance felt that there is a need to educate producers ahead of time, so that in the event of an actual emergency, a number of possible problems could be avoided.

 Wayne State College instructor Kelly Dillard draws names for raffle winners before the showing of 'Planet Ocean' during this year's Earth Day event.

Local Earth Day event at Majestic declared a success

Organizers of this year's Earth Day event have termed it "a success."

The event was held April 17 and featured a free screening of the stunning documentary "Planet Ocean", by French director Yann Arthus-Bertrand and Michael Pitiot, at the Majestic Theatre in Wayne.

Approximately 90 people attended, including young children, college students, seniors and more. The raffle for a handmade quilt, the book "Man and Sea: Planet Ocean", and several children's books on nature helped raise $175 for future Earth-friendly programs hosted by the WSC Green Team, Wayne Green Team and the A. Jewell Shock Natural History Museum.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

A lifetime of not trusting politicians

As you may already be aware (especially if you're a longtime reader of this column), I have a pretty healthy lack of respect for politicians.

Some of this can be blamed on my family – my dad has long been critical of those who spend more time getting re-elected than they do representing those who elected them in the first place. My grandpa had a healthy dislike for politicians in general, and especially Democrats – particularly those named Kennedy.

For me, my disgust with the “representative” form of government we have can actually be traced back to a date 30 years ago this past Tuesday, a date where my political innocence was forever tarnished.

I was going to school at a community college in Fairbury. I was the sports editor of the school newspaper, and our staff had been made aware that there was an effort under way to close the Fairbury campus and merge it with one in Beatrice.

Before long, I was actively involved in a campus-wide effort to save our school. I was named president of an organization that traveled around the region, visiting schools and encouraging high school seniors to consider Southeast Community College's Fairbury campus.

The effort to save the college was amazing. The president of the college had met with community leaders and gave them a list of things that, he said, would need to be done to save the college from closing. It didn't take long for this group of people to not only meet those demands, but exceed them. Student enrollment, based on the recruiting group's efforts, was projected at its highest level in years. Donations for scholarships far exceeded the minimum amount. There wasn't an item on that list that the people of Fairbury and the students, teachers and staff of that college failed to come through on.

And then, on April 26, 1986 – the college's board of governors voted to close the Fairbury campus. One of the board members was the local banker in my home town, a man who I had delivered newspapers to when I was a kid. When I spoke to the board about our student recruiting organization at an earlier meeting, he called me “the best sports writer in southeast Nebraska” (although, to be honest, I'd just started writing sports a couple of years earlier).

A year later, I was editor of the new student newspaper at the merged campus in Beatrice, and the administration and college board couldn't take two steps without creating some kind of controversy. Some school newspapers try to dig up controversial topics – we actually had staff meetings where we had to flip a coin to determine which of the controversies we should focus on each issue. From not having facilities ready for students to failing to promote the Beatrice campus in an ad in the state high school basketball tournament program, this was, without question, the most inept, incompetent school administration in the history of postsecondary education.

During my tenure as editor, the school paper was threatened on three separate occasions – in the middle of public meetings, no less – with a forced shutdown by a college board member who was frustrated at having the administration's ongoing incompetence aired out in a school-funded publication (he didn't seem to have a problem with the Beatrice or Fairbury newspapers, or the area radio and TV stations, running these same stories). The last of the three was my local “representative,” who went so far as to compare my work to that of the National Enquirer (the TMZ of print media back in the day). It was the first time I took an election personally, and I worked hard to get this man, a man who I had a ton of respect for prior to my college years, removed from the board in the next election.

It was from that experience in my young adult life that I began to realize that politicians should be trusted, believed and otherwise respected about as far as you can throw them. While there are many fine people in our local and county government bodies who work hard to best represent us on a local level, my trust and respect for them tends to diminish the farther away from home they get.

Letters

Congratulations to new WSC president

Congratulations to President Marydz Rames on her inauguration, April 29. Hal and I regret we cannot attend the festivities. I got to know Dr. Rames even prior to her appointment as President. I know from my national consulting work that other universities hoped she would choose them. She made a great choice, and so did WSC. Listening to her plans last fall at Homecoming, I have no doubt that her leadership is energetic, strategic, and exciting for the future of Wayne State.

During the same week as the inauguration, a great lady who served as executive assistant to at least seven Wayne State presidents will be celebrating her 90th birthday: Lucille Peterson. Again, those of us who served as WSC President over the past 40 years were a lot more successful because Lucille always had our back.

Finally, Hal and I bid our personal fond farewell to Mark Ahmann. What a fine gentleman, sportscaster, newsman, and community citizen, and condolences to Jane and his family.

Best regards to our many friends and colleagues in Wayne. We look forward to seeing you again at WSC Homecoming 2016.

Term limits tosses out 11 vets

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Term limits – tell me again why that seemed like a good idea – is forcing 11 veteran lawmakers to step down at the end of the year. OK, so veteran doesn't carry the weight it once did. But you have to hope that a senator with eight years of experience has at least started to learn his or her way around.

This voter-approved turnover is taking away six committee chairs and one of the better Speakers of the Legislature. Left behind will be four “veteran” senators with six years of experience and a whole lot with four or less. In fact, 19 of the 49 will have only two years – one session – under their belts. That's not enough time to know what's going on, even though some of these true freshmen would like you to think they do.

Gone next session (terms officially end when the replacements are sworn in): Dave Bloomfield of Hoskins; Kathy Campbell, Health and Human Services Chair, Lincoln; Colby Coash, Lincoln; Tanya Cook, Omaha; Mike Gloor, Revenue Committee Chair, Grand Island; Ken Haar, Malcolm; Galen Hadley, Speaker, Kearney; Beau McCoy, Committee on Committees Chair, Omaha; Heath Mello, Appropriations Chair, Omaha; Ken Schilz, Natural Resources Chair, Ogallala; Kate Sullivan, Education Committee Chair, Cedar Rapids.

Voters in the odd-numbered districts, 1 through 49, will go to the polls to elect replacements for the 11 term-limited senators and 14 incumbents. One District (Campbell's 25 in Lincoln) has five people running. In Sullivan's District (41) only one person is running. Government, Military and Veteran's Affairs Committee Chairman John Murante of Gretna (District 49) is also running unopposed.

The top two candidates advance from the primary. In races with only two people running, the primary is often a valid litmus test for what lies ahead in November. Pundits predict a large turnout for that election because of the presidential race and what could be multiple ballot initiatives in Nebraska. In addition to a vote to re-instate the death penalty in Nebraska, voters might also get a chance to weigh in on legalization of medical marijuana or one of several gambling issues.

But, back to the Legislature. Campbell is only the third senator in Lincoln's District 25 in 54 years. The venerable Sen. Jerome Warner, a Waverly farmer, started serving the mostly east and southeast Lincoln district in 1962 and held the seat until his death 35 years later. He was a longtime chair of the Appropriations Committee. He was followed by the late Senator Ron Raikes who also served as Appropriations Chair before Campbell was elected in 2008.

Five people are vying for the seat. Lincoln attorney Jim Gordon – a lobbyist; son of nationally famous legislative sergeant-at-arms Sally Gordon who served and lived to be 103; and husband of former state Senator Karen Kilgarin – is in the race. He faces Dale Michels, Leslie Spry, David D. Tagart and Suzanne Geist in that crowded field. Geist was a University of Nebraska-Lincoln broadcast journalism student who had classes with Kilgarin.

In Omaha's District 11, which has had only two senators in the last 45 years, Ernie Chambers – hey, wasn't he the reason people wanted term limits? – is running against two challengers, Fonte Hamilton and John Sciara. Chambers has been in the Legislature for 41 years. The 78-year-old sat out the mandatory one term because of term limits, but came back to defeat his replacement, Brenda Council.

In South Omaha's District 7 – a Democratic stronghold represented by Senator Jeremy Nordquist who resigned to go to Washington, DC, where he works for U.S. Representative Brad Ashford – Governor Pete Ricketts' Republican appointee, Nicole Fox, is running against two Democrats. One is former Senator John Synowiecki who served from 2002 to 2008. The other is Tony Vargas, a member of the Omaha Public Schools Board.

In the Panhandle's District 47, where Sen. Ken Schilz has been term-limited, two city council members and a county commissioner are running for the seat. Ogallala economic developer and council member Karl Elmshaeuser faces Bayard farmer and county commissioner Steve Erdman. Erdman's son Phil represented the district from 2001-2009. Also running is Sidney pharmacist Wendall F. Gaston, a three-term mayor and current city council member.

There you have plenty of reasons to vote in the May 10 primary. Who knows, maybe some of the newbies will have the courage to do away with term limits so governance in Nebraska can be done by experienced senators.

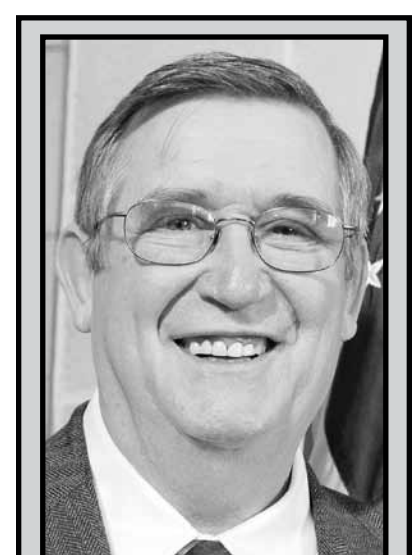

Legislative Update

2016 Legislative session comes to close

The 2016 Legislative Session came to close on Wednesday, April 20. While the last day is normally more ceremonial, the Legislature once again ended the year debating a motion to override a gubernatorial veto.

Governor Ricketts vetoed LB947 – a bill that will allow individuals who have received temporary legal status under a 2012 presidential executive order to apply for and receive certifications and licenses. While supporters of this bill argued that the intent of the legislation was to keep educated and talented youth in Nebraska, opponents voiced concerns that LB947 would allow those

Legislative Update
By Dave Bloomfield
State Senator, District 17

here illegally that are not DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) individuals to obtain certifications and licenses. Supporters of LB947 needed 30 votes to override the governor's veto. After two hours of debate with more than 24 of the members taking part in the debate the motion to override the governor was successful with 31 senators supporting the bill and only 13 opposing it.

LB947 took effect immediately since it was passed with an emergency clause.

In addition to the veto of LB947, Governor Ricketts also returned LB580 (dealing with how Nebraska handles the redistricting process) to the Legislature. A motion to override the governor's veto was not made for this bill.

The legislative session ended after farewell speeches from the eleven term limited senators, including Senator Bloomfield.

The newsletter this week was written by Jessica Shelburn, Legislative Aide to Senator Bloomfield, due to the senator having a planned surgery the day after session.

4-H involvement can foster success in youth

Anniversary

The 4-H Pledge

"I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living, for my club, my community, my country, and my world."

Head, Heart, Hands, and Health are the four H's of the 4-H program that youth need to be engaged in the 4-H program. Using their heads, they learn to manage many different things in their 4-H projects and life. Through their heart, they learn to relate to others and be caring to those around them and their projects. With their hands, 4-Hers are able to work on various projects. By living healthy, they are practicing being capable of caring for self and others.

How can being involved in 4-H foster youth's success? In 2002 the 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development longitudinal study began and was then repeated annually for eight years. There were more than 7,000 adolescents from across 42 states in the United States, that were part of the study. The Tufts research team examined how structured-out-of-school time learning, leadership experiences, and adult mentoring that young people receive through 4-H plays a role in helping them achieve success.

4-Hers practice responsibility by being involved in a variety of different 4-H projects offered through the program. The project areas are Animal Science, Communication and Expressive Arts, Entrepreneurship, Environmental Education and Earth Sciences, Family and Consumer Sciences, Healthy Lifestyle Education, Leadership and Citizenship, Science, Engineering and Technology, and Plant Science. If a youth chooses to participate in a Healthy Lifestyle Education project, they may learn the skill of meal planning for themselves and their family. This skill could lead to them actually planning out healthy meals for themselves and their family members and may even include keeping a food budget for their family.

4-Hers practice responsibility by caring for animals daily in various animal science projects. 4-Hers make sure their animals have a safe place to be, have appropriate food and water, and that their animals are cared for and can be handled. This takes much time and dedication by the 4-Her and their family and does not just happen one week out of the year at the county fair. 4-Hers in livestock projects take 4-H Livestock Quality Assurance to help prepare them for daily care and management. They also work closely with their family members and even their local veterinarian.

The Tufts research longitudinal study showed that compared to their peers, youth involved in 4-H programs excelled in several areas.

- 4-Hers are:
 - Nearly 4 times more likely to make contribution to their communities.
 - About 2 times more likely to be civically active.
 - Nearly 2 times more likely to participate in science programs during out-of-school time
 - 2 times more likely (Grade 10) and nearly 3 times more likely (Grade 12) to take part in science program compared to girls in other out-of-school time activities.

- Nearly 2 times more likely to make healthier choices.

For information on how you can be involved in 4-H go to 4h.unl.edu. Source: The Positive Development of Youth; Comprehensive Findings from the 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development, Institute for Applied Research in Youth Development, Tufts University.

Thirteen-point pitch was played for fun, with prizes going to Rose Janke, Claire Brogren and Janice Jaeger.

God also wants to be part of your past

We all have things in our past that we need to deal with, sort out, and work through. But often we don't want to. Maybe because it's too difficult. Maybe because it's too painful. Maybe because we're afraid of what those close to us will do, because they don't know about it. There are a lot of potential reasons why we don't deal with those things in our past.

Maybe you have done something that you regret; something that has left you wallowing in guilt or shame. Maybe it was something done to you that has deeply scarred you. Whether it was something you did or something someone did to you, there are things in our past that we want to leave buried, hidden, out of sight. But what we don't realize is that they rarely stay hidden. And even if they are hidden, they have this way of negatively impacting, not just our present, but also our future.

What we need to do is invite Jesus into our past. He wants to help us deal with it. He wants to help you deal with your past. But often times we don't invite Him into our past. And again, there are many reasons. Sometimes we think that maybe He doesn't care about our past. Maybe we are too ashamed. Maybe we think that God can't use us because of what we've done. Or maybe we have this view of God that He's this just waiting to punish us because of what we've done and so we just ignore it and let the past stay in the past. But what you need to know is that God wants to be invited into your past. And when you invite Jesus into your past you discover that your past does not define your future. In fact, He will help you deal with your past and give you a purpose in your present.

Zacchaeus had been a crooked tax collector but then he invited Jesus into his past and went from being greedy to being generous.

Before Paul became the apostle Paul he was a religious zealot named Saul who hated Christians. But then he encountered the grace of God and he went from persecuting the church to planting churches; from trying to snuff out the name of Jesus to boldly proclaiming the name of Jesus.

The apostle John was nicknamed "son of thunder" by Jesus. At one point in his life he wanted to call down fire from heaven to destroy an entire village. But after spending time with Jesus he came to be known as the "apostle of love."

How does that happen? How does one go from being greedy to generous? How does one go from persecuting churches to planting churches? How does one go from being known as a "son of thunder" to being known as an "apostle of love"?

It happens when you encounter the grace of God. When you invite Jesus into your past you discover that your past does not define your future. "There is surely a future hope for you, and your hope will not be cut off." (Proverbs 23:18)

LWML Spring Workshop held in South Sioux City

The LWML Spring Workshop was held at Hope Lutheran Church in South Sioux City on April 19.

The theme was "Light in a Dark World." The Workshop began with a hymn sing and a welcome from Hope President Ada Hunt. Christian Growth chairman Connie Schutte opened the meeting by sharing a short devotion.

A skit was performed by the Christian Growth committee - Connie Schutte, Rose Mason and Pat Janke entitled "Make the World Bright." It answered the questions; How much is our share? How long must we hold up our lights to help light the way? Whether our light is long and fragile, short or sturdy, it is not judged by how it looks, but by what we believe. We must not hide in darkness.

In Isaiah 1:18, the red candle reminds us of the sins we have that are like scarlet but made white as snow by the blood of Christ. (Rev. 22:5) In our heavenly home, we will need no lamp or light from the sun for the light that comes from the Lord God will give us light.

Zone President Bev Ruwe gave a District report. There are three mission projects that have not been paid yet. Members need to do all they can to increase our mites to fund these good works. The LWML 38th NE North District Biennial Convention will be held at Lutheran High, Norfolk, on June 17-18, 2016. Deadline for registration is June 1. The theme is "Now is the Time."

The next National Convention is in 2017 and has been relocated to Albuquerque, N.M. The Wayne Zone Delegate will come from Immanuel Lutheran in Laurel.

Pastor Klaus Raab from Trinity, Martinsburg presented a Bible study on the Apostle Paul. Eighty-five percent of the New Testament was written by Paul. He came from a wealthy family in Tarsus and was originally a tentmaker. He knew how to speak and write Greek and was educated in Jewish law.

He originally thought Christians should be persecuted for spreading a mistaken version of the Jewish religion and even watched the stoning of Stephen. On his way to Damascus, he was struck by a bolt of light that threw him from his horse and blinded him. He heard the voice of Jesus rebuking him for his actions against the Christians and telling him he was destined to bring the Word to the Gentiles.

He was baptized and set out to do his missionary work. He went to Cyprus, Asia Minor, Syria, Macedonia, and Greece. He wrote letters to the communities he had established and these are the Epistles of the New Testament. He was arrested in Rome for heresy and was later beheaded by Nero during the persecution of Christians. However, by then, he had fulfilled his destiny and had done more than anyone to spread the Word among the Gentiles.

Pastor Harrison Goodman of St. Paul, Winside, gave a Bible study on 2 Cor. 4:6; "Let light shine out of darkness." We ask "why do we have pain?" "Where is the God who loves me?" "The light will only shine in darkness. When we are in terrible darkness, we search for God and the light. When we are in good times, we forget to search for God and the light. This puts us in a fragile place. In Matt.6:19-21 it says, "Where your treasure is there your heart will be also. Look to the face of Christ." 2 Cor. 4:8-10.

The speaker for the day was Pastor Terry Makelin from St. John's, Pilger. He spoke about the day that they lost most of their town, their home and their church in the tornado of 2014. Pastor Makelin had traveled with the youth group to Branson, Mo. and his wife had gone to stay with her father, so they were not home at the time. They received messages and phone calls about the destruction and headed home.

He spoke about all of us having "vocations." He said as a Pastor he is "vocated." He is also vocated as a husband, father and grandfather. He shared that he felt that he failed his vocation as a husband as he abandoned his wife for the church and its members, as she was also a victim that lost everything.

He told attendees that when one member of the body is injured, the rest of the body reacts. The "body" at St. John's, Pilger was injured and the rest of the "body" rushed in to help. (LCMS Disaster Relief, Orphan Grain Train, other churches, and individual giving).

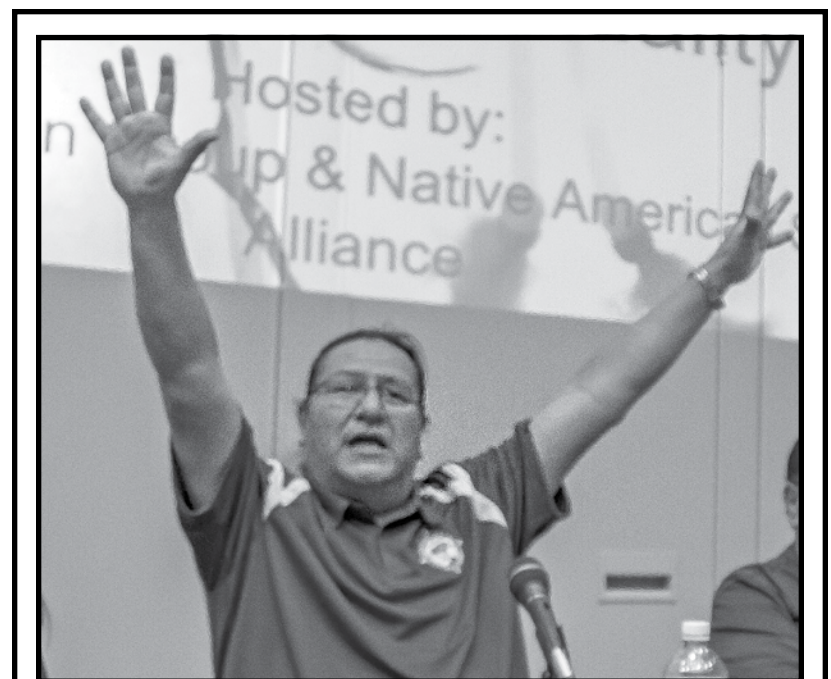

Every day he went out to talk to people as they tried to salvage anything in the rubble of their homes. Some came to him to be steaded in God's Word and promises and wanted to hear more about God. Those who didn't believe questioned God and the third group asked how "he" was doing, putting their needs aside.

The Holiness of God is in which we gather a blessing. Where the walls were gone, there people could see what we have and what we do. He baptized two adults during this time. The body and blood of Christ makes us survive and revives us.

People were exhausted and hungered for it. Life is a vehicle and the vocation occurs when the tires meet the road. We are vocated by God. We receive gifts from God and give away what God gives us. These people experienced this. Now they are mercy givers.

The ingathering was made up of monetary gifts designated to LCMS Disaster Relief Fund. The total was $1,679. The Zone offering was $322.05. Attendance was 36 plus five pastors for a total of 41.

Pastor Goodman led the group in prayer and then they enjoyed lunch.

Remembering track meets from days gone by

Obviously, it's track season; and the poor kids have been battling wind at every meet. I remember standing under the bleachers at Wayne State during some of these events because that area was heated. I also remember wearing the Big Farmer's insulated coveralls to some meets.

I've had track and field on my mind all week because I went to a visitation in York for an old friend and neighbor. Jim grew up on a farm just west of ours, in the same section. They were a big family, and he was older than me by quite a few years. But he married a good friend who was also a nurse, and I usually saw them twice a year; at the Lincoln General school of nursing alumni affair, and at the Waco

By: Pat Meierhenry

High get together at Chances R.

The obituary said Jim had been a good pole vaulter, and there was a photo of him clearing the bar on display. When I saw another good friend, Loren, that day, I said, "Since when did Waco have track?" He answered it was there when he was in school, and he was just three years ahead of me. I was surprised, because I had no recollection of it.

I pulled out my annuals; there were no pictures of track teams, boys or girls. There was volleyball, basketball, baseball, and softball, all coached by the same guy, incidentally. But no evidence of track.

So, I asked Loren when and where did they practice. He said they didn't, they just went to meets! It was a good way to miss a day of school, and if there was a meet anywhere within a forty mile radius, they went.

Of course, you have to realize, in these days, you did not have athletic practice after school. You had it during the last period of the day. You shared the gym, boys had it one day while girls had music; then, girls had it the next day and the guys had music. Everyone went home on the bus, or in their cars, at the same time every day. Games were once a week, on Friday.

Boy, things have changed! And I'm not sure they are for the better. I think I'm sounding more and more like the little old lady who longs for simpler times. There is a reason people like to refer to the fifties!

Henbit having a good year in lawns and crops

It's always interesting that sometimes different weeds, insects or diseases have a "good" year, which means good for them. The winner so far this year is henbit. This is the purple blooming plant many people have reported in lawns and landscapes this spring. It is also pretty prevalent in some crop fields, especially as you go further south. Some fields seem to be blanketed in spots with colorful purple flowers. It looks a lot like creeping charlie but is different.

Henbit may be widespread this year due to warm weather in early March jumpstarting plant growth. Henbit is a winter annual. As a member of the mint family, it has square stems. It also has distinctive leaves with crenate leaf margins and purple to pink flowers.

As a winter annual, henbit seed germinated last fall. Small plants overwintered to grow aggressively in early spring with blooming in April to May. The plants will die

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

with hot, dry weather. Seed production can be high and is one reason infestations may become worse each year.

Chemical control of henbit at this time of year is iffy since the plants may have already produced seeds and will die when the weather gets a warmer. If you don't have much, the best option at this time is to hand pull henbit to allow turfgrass to fill in the area and to minimize seed production for next fall. If you feel you have too much to pull and can't wait for it to die back later this spring and want to spray, products containing triclopyr are best combined with 2,4D, dicamba, or MCPP. These are readily available in hardware and garden stores. Remember, these are chemical names and are found in the small print on the label.

If the henbit infestations have become unacceptable, then apply a PRE in late summer to early fall. Also, henbit that germinates in fall can be killed with the same POST herbicides used to control weeds like dandelions and creeping charlie that are mentioned above.

Other management options for henbit control include maintaining a healthy and vigorously growing lawn to out-compete the weed; or using a two inch layer of mulch in landscape beds to reduce seed germination.

In crops, the best way to control winter annuals is to spray in the fall. Mark out your patches this year and spot spray them if possible. Most broadleaf products registered for fall burndown work well on henbit.

This coming Friday (6-8 p.m.) and Saturday (9 a.m.-3 p.m.), April 29-30, there will be a Plant Fair and Market at the Northeast Community College Chuck Pohlman Ag Complex on the intersection of Benjamin Avenue and Highway 35 in Norfolk. Admission is free and there will be a lot of gardening materials for sale, some educational speakers, a youth Horticulture ID contest, door prizes, and more. Don't forget!

Northeast Nebraska Ag Banquet tickets go on sale May 2

Tickets will go on sale Monday, May 2, for the second annual Northeast Nebraska Ag Banquet planned to be held at the Madison County Fairgrounds in Madison on Thursday, June 23.

The event, which begins at 5:30 p.m., will include a ribeye steak meal, musical entertainment by the Outback Band and award presentations. The theme is "Uniting the Agricultural & Business Communities."

The co-hosts are the Norfolk and Madison Area Chambers of Commerce. Tickets can be purchased from either office.

"One of the goals of the Ag Banquet is to promote today & tomorrow's agriculture & its importance to the northeast Nebraska economy. A few ways we do this is through awarding youth scholarships, recognizing ag business leaders who help support our communities, and more importantly, recognizing and honoring our hard-working farmers & farm families that make up the backbone of the state of Nebraska," said Chanda Goedken, chairwoman of the Agri-Business Council of the Norfolk Chamber.

"Another major goal is to raise money & awareness for the event. All proceeds will be used to grow and expand not only the event itself, but also growing the scholarships given out to our future ag leaders. Our goal is to continue to increase the amount of scholarship dollars as well as the quantity of scholarships given out," she said.

The Ag Appreciation event targets Madison, Antelope, Wayne, Pierce, Stanton and Boone counties, as well as northern Platte County. The event is open to the public.

Four $750 Northeast Nebraska

Ag Community (post-secondary) scholarships will be awarded this year. Scholarship details have been sent to high school guidance counselors in the seven counties.

Applicants must be a high school senior and residing in one of the seven targeted counties to apply. The application deadline is May 1, 2016, to the Madison or Norfolk Chamber office.

Applications can be found on the Norfolk Chamber website at www.norfolkareachamber.com or the Madison Chamber website at madisonchamber@telebeep.com.

Applications can also be picked up at either office.

Also recognized at the banquet will be a Farm Family of the Year and an Ag-Business of the Year. Nominees must be from the seven targeted counties.

Nomination forms are available at the Norfolk and Madison Chambers of Commerce offices, as well as online at the Chamber websites. The application deadline is May 13.

Members of the Norfolk and Madison Chambers of Commerce are soliciting businesses and individuals in the targeted seven-county area to be event/scholarship fund sponsors.

Tickets are $30 for adults and children age 6 and older if purchased before June 11. Tickets will be $35 after that date. Children age 5 and younger will be admitted at no charge.

For more information, contact Jeny Albin with the Norfolk Chamber at (402) 371-4862 or e-mail jalbin@norfolkareachamber.com, or Gina Eisenmenger with the Madison Chamber at (402) 454-2251 or e-mail madisonchamber@telebeep.com.

Dale Krusemark was concerned that weight limit signs were not posted on the torn and damaged bridge near the Krusemark Feedlot. Road/Bridge Project Manager Mark Casey reported the bridge has been inspected several times over the last couple of years (after repairs were made) and there are no longer any weight restrictions on the bridge.

Krusemark asked for an update on the bridge to the west and south, Bridge CO09004905. A hydraulic study has been done; Mainelli Wagner will be submitting options for the board to review. Krusemark talked about drainage issues that are plugging his tile lines. Krusemark said he is not concerned about the creek; he just wants the tube cleaned out.

UNL Extension Educator Amy Topp was authorized to purchase a new computer using a $1,275.00 cost-share grant. The county share, including licensing, is $1,311.27. Emergency Manager Nic Kemnitz reported a Regional Exercise will be conducted in the next few weeks. Board participation will be necessary for part of the exercise.

An estimate submitted by Clausen & Sons Irrigation, Inc, to upgrade the sprinkler system heads was approved.
