Pig, parking, street project debated at council meeting

BY Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A mini pig, parking, a bullying policy and installation of a street were among items debated at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Although there were only nine items on the council agenda, lengthy discussion of four of the items resulted in a two hour meeting.

Council members gave approval of the request of Kim and Jerry Hamik to have a mini pig inside city limits.

The Hamiks explained to the council that the pig, which was in attendance at the meeting, was very quiet and all their neighbors are aware of the fact that they have the pig.

Wayne Veterinarian Dr. Mark Zink, DVS, spoke to the council on possible diseases pigs are susceptible to and recommended that if the council approve the request to have the mini pig within city limits, they require its owners to have it vaccinated against rabies and other diseases.

"Because we don't always know the origins of these animals and there are no cut and dried guidelines on vaccinations for them, this is different than other household pets. The pigs are subject to many of the same diseases as other household pets and some of these diseases can be transmitted through urine," Dr. Zink said.

The approval does come with the stipulation that the pig be vaccinated.

Parking in the city of Wayne was again debated by the council at length at Tuesday's meeting.

A request was made by Hilda Pearson to eliminate the midnight to 5 p.m. parking restrictions on the west side of Logan Street between Eighth and Ninth Streets.

"The residents of my street would like to enjoy the same privileges as those on Oak Drive enjoy. This is a college town and we need to make space for those college students who have friends come visit. The college students need somewhere to park," Pearson told the council.

Council member Matt Eischied asked if the issue was more of a landlord issue with not enough parking spaces provided.

"By allowing 24 hour parking, more noise and more issues would be created in this one block. Would it be better to change the time from 2 a.m. to 5 a.m.?" Eischied asked.

Mayor Ken Chamberlain that the city has found that many WSC students choose to park on the streets rather than on campus and changing the status of this street would result in even less parking on the street.

"We have discussed this issue before and granting this request would create a flood of requests from other areas within the city. Maybe this needs to be a ballot issue and let the voters decide. Approximately 16 years ago it was on the ballot and it was defeated," Chamberlain said.

City Planner Joel Hansen told the council that the street in question is brick and was built in 1921 and is quite narrow.

Following the discussion, a motion was made to table the issue until it could be studied further. This vote failed on a 4-3 vote with council members Matt Eischied, Jill Brodersen, Rod Greve and Jon Haase voting against tabling and council members Jason Karsky, Nick Muir and Cale Giese voting to table.

No action was taken on a resolution to establish a bullying policy for the Community Activity Center.

Discussion was held on the consensus of those observed bullying and the fact that the policy would be put in place to address those under the age of 18 years.

Council members were told that at the present time there is no policy in place and the proposed regulations would be similar to the code of conduct listed in the student handbook at Wayne Community Schools.

Council members debated the wording of the resolution and talked about enforcement.

"Without this policy, how are we going to protect those at the Community Activity Center? This policy is not out of the ordinary," said Council member Jason Karsky.

Following discussion, council members voted to table the item until more details can be worked out in the resolution.

Another discussion item that took up a considerable amount of time during the meeting was that of creating a street from the south end of the Community Activity Center parking lot, around the new Aquatic Center and connecting with East Fifth Street.

Estimates for the cost of the concrete for the project are $13,000 with additional funds needed for installation.

Council members debated the need for the street, whether it should be a one-way or two-way street and options other than paving.

The city acquired the land in a trade with Wayne Community Schools prior to the building of the Aquatic Center and the additional exit out of the area would reduce congestion on days when activities are taking place at the Community Activity Center.

Council members also briefly discussed the possibility of changing one City Council seat in each ward within the city to an 'at large' position. More information is needed before a decision is made on the topic.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Oct. 18 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

A lone bull moose has been observed in various locations throughout northeast Nebraska. This picture was taken Oct. 1 southeast of Wayne.

Moose on the loose in northeast Nebraska

Northeast Nebraskans may have thought they were in Canada the last week, after seeing a bull moose wandering through the fields in Wayne and Dixon counties.

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission is monitoring the movement of a bull moose through northeastern Nebraska.

A moose was observed Oct. 4 near Dixon. This follows one report of a moose sighting Sept. 26 south of Platte Center in Platte County and another in recent days of a moose near Wayne.

According to staff at the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, it is believed that the bull moose is three to four years old and weighs approximately 800-900 lbs. This may be the same moose that was observed near North Loop earlier this year.

Moose are not native to Nebraska, although there have been a number of reports of bull moose in the state, especially in western Nebraska.

It is believed that the moose have wandered away from their herds, possibly from Wyoming or Canada.

The Commission urges the public to keep a safe distance from any moose, and especially not approach it. Even if moose appear to be docile, they have been known to become aggressive.

"Commission staff will periodically monitor the movement of the moose as it explores rural areas of northeastern Nebraska," said Karie Decker, the Commission's interim wildlife division administrator. "It is expected that if the moose, as with most wildlife, encounters a more urban area, it will pass through to more rural environments."

Variety of topics on commissioners agenda

BY Maureen Carrigg
For the Herald

Real estate taxes, courthouse repairs, petty cash, and a new Highway Superintendent were just some of the items the Wayne County Commissioners discussed on Tuesday morning.

Meeting as the Wayne County Board of Equalization, the Commissioners voted to keep tax rates the same for the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

Reconvening as the Board of Commissioners they approved several items on a consent agenda including closing down the UNL Extension Offices from Dec. 27 - 30.

The first scheduled meeting guest was KimBerly Hansen, the Clerk Magistrate for the County Court who asked the Commissioners to approve Resolution 16-27. The resolution states the establishment of the Wayne County petty cash drawer in the year 2000 and it goes on to allow the fund to be maintained at $150, to make change when people pay court costs or fines. This resolution became necessary because of a request by the Nebraska Judicial System that all counties in Nebraska have a resolution on file for the petty cash drawer of the county court.

After a discussion about the bid advertisement for two articulated motor graders and recent bridge projects, Mark Casey who has been serving as a Road and Bridge Project Manager was appointed as, Wayne County Highway Superintendent, effective retroactively to Oct. 1, 2016. Board Chairman Randy Larsen felt that it was time for Casey to move up because he was doing the work but wasn't able to sign off on projects because of his former title. Casey was grateful for the Commissioners' support over the last two and half years and looks forward to working to provide Wayne County with safe roads and bridges.

The Commissioners voted to have Guaranteed Roofing replace shingles on the Wayne County Courthouse and the Courthouse Services Building. The best estimate from the ground, for the repairs was about $3,717, for the courthouse including the bell tower and $500 for the Courthouse Services Building, according to Pat Brentlinger, Courthouse Maintenance Worker. The courthouse roof was replaced in 2002.

The phrase "In God We Trust" will be displayed in the courthouse, possibly above the old flag on the west wall of the main floor. Board Chairman Larson hopes that either high school or college students could create a sign that would match the design of the courthouse.

Wayne County will have to decide within the next month about the Department of Health and Human Services office space.

The Commissioners received a notice from DHHS that rejected the county's request for reimbursement for office expenses for the years 2014 and 2015. The estimate of costs for reimbursement is $18,000, according to Deborah Finn, Wayne County Clerk. The notice also said that DHHS would no longer be able to provide reimbursement in the future because of a federal budget cut.

In the past, DHHS would request reimbursement for their expenses from the state and then the state would request reimbursement on a federal level, which would then pay the costs billed by the county. Nebraska does require that counties provide space for administration of public assistance programs according to a Statute 68-130. The Commissioners with the help of the County Attorney will have to look into the lease on the current DHHS office and inventory available space before making a decision.

Two contracts were also approved. The first for the services of Michael J. Pommer CPA, for auditing services for the next two years. There will be a $100 increase for 2017 and a $200 increase for 2018. The other contract is a HVAC services contract with TRANE that will save the county three percent if they pay the whole amount of the contract as billed now for $9097.

The next regularly scheduled Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting is set for Tuesday, Oct. 18 at 9 a.m.

NET joins community partners in promoting National Estate Planning Awareness Week

NET is joining local community organizations in a public service campaign to promote National Estate Planning Awareness Week, Oct. 17 - 23, 2016.

Estate planning is one of the most overlooked areas of personal financial management. It's been estimated that more than 120 million Americans do not have proper estate plans to protect themselves or their families in the event of sickness, accidents or untimely death. This circumstance can cause many families unnecessary expense and financial hardship. Proper planning can help avoid these unintended consequences.

"Public television has long served as an advocate for financial literacy. Estate planning is a critical component of the financial health of most adults," said John Knape, NET's director of major and planned giving. "Raising awareness about estate planning is in line with our public service and educational mission."

NET will recognize National Estate Planning Week by providing Nebraskans a free financial planning booklet. The booklet will allow the user to start organizing their financial assets and thinking through their personal goals. Any person interested in receiving this booklet may contact John Knape at 800-634-6788.

In 2008, Congress passed a resolution proclaiming the third week in October as National Estate Planning Awareness Week.

NET operates the statewide public service network which includes NET Television, NET Radio, NET Learning Services and NET Technology Services.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

City Council meeting

Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in city hall at Third and Pearl Streets.

Winter is Coming

Leaves: Raking leaves or mown grass into the streets is like putting hay into the underground storm water system. It can clog the underground pipes and will deliver rotting materials into Logan Creek that reduce the oxygen levels for fish. Property owners can be cited and fined for this.

Snow Removal — Sidewalks: They are for the benefit of all the public and need to be cleared within 24 hours of when the city streets are cleared. Sidewalks not cleared get cleared at the expense of the abutting property owner

Snow Plow Alert: When a larger amount of snow is predicted, we will send a Snow Plow Alert notice out over the TV cable system, Wayne radio station and city web site to have cars parked off the street until the street is cleared of snow to the curb. Cars not moved get towed at the owner's expense.

Pushing Snow onto Streets and into Alleys from Private Property:

Property owners can't push snow from private property onto public property. The city snow plows have the street terraces to throw snow onto when clearing. It's a bumper that snow gets bladed into driveways but no town has figured out a way yet to stop a moving plow for every driveway and still get all the work done.

Waste Water Treatment Plant Tour

We have completed the second phase of this Aquarius treatment plant and sludge handling project and are conducting tours of the new plant Saturday morning, Oct. 15, from 10 a.m. to noon. Come and see how big the old lagoon is that we will be abandoning and that will be used for another purpose. The entrance is one block east and one block south of the intersection of Fourth and Dearborn Streets.

F&M Bank Provides Tips to Protect Your Identity

October is National Cybersecurity Awareness Month

Identity theft continues to be one of the fastest growing crimes in America. According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, an estimated 17.6 million U.S. residents were victims of identity theft in 2014, up from 16.6 million victims in 2012. F&M Bank is offering eight tips to help consumers protect their personal information from identity thieves.

"Cybercriminals are becoming more and more sophisticated and are using every tactic imaginable to carry out their offenses," said Tim Keller, President, "It is extremely important that individuals create barriers to their personal information by enabling passcode locks on their smartphones and activating virus protection software on their computers."

In honor of National Cybersecurity

Awareness Month, F&M Bank offers the following tips to help consumers protect themselves from becoming a victim of identity theft:

- Don't share your secrets. Don't provide your Social Security number or account information to anyone who contacts you online or over the phone. Protect your PINs and passwords and do not share them with anyone. Use a combination of letters and numbers for your passwords and change them periodically. Do not reveal sensitive or personal information on social networking sites.
- Shred sensitive papers. Shred receipts, banks statements and unused credit card offers before throwing them away.
- Keep an eye out for missing mail. Fraudsters look for monthly bank or credit card statements or other mail containing your financial information. Consider enrolling in online banking to reduce the likelihood of paper statements being stolen. Also, don't mail bills from your own mailbox with the flag up.

- Use online banking to protect yourself. Monitor your financial accounts regularly for fraudulent transactions. Sign up for text or email alerts from your bank for certain types of transactions, such as online purchases or transactions of more than $500.
- Monitor your credit report. Order a free copy of your credit report every four months from one of the three credit reporting agencies at annualcreditreport.com.
- Protect your computer. Make sure the virus protection software on your computer is active and up to date. When conducting business online, make sure your browser's padlock or key icon is active. Also look for an "s" after the "http" to be sure the website is secure.

- Protect your mobile device. Use the passcode lock on your smartphone and other devices. This will make it more difficult for thieves to access your information if your device is lost or stolen. Before you donate, sell or trade your mobile device, be sure to wipe it using specialized software or using the manufacturer's recommended technique. Some software allows you to wipe your device remotely if it is lost or stolen. Use caution when downloading apps, as they may contain malware and avoid opening links and attachments — especially for senders you don't know.
- Report any suspected fraud to your bank immediately.

Sweetland credits girls for putting him in 400-win club

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

In Wayne, it seems there are four constants in life – death, taxes, weather and a winning softball program.

In its 15th year, the Wayne High softball team has won 82.5 percent of its games (heading into last Thursday's game at Guardian Angels Central Catholic), and all of those games have been coached by the same guy, who joined some very elite company last week.

Rob Sweetland became only the fifth coach in Nebraska high school history to win 400 games. His team did it in convincing fashion last week, drilling Logan View/Scribner-Snyder 17-0 last Tuesday to put him among a very elite group of coaches in the state.

But if you ask the 45-year old mentor, it's not about him at all – it's about the kids.

"They buy in and they know coming in that they'll have to get in the weight room in the summer and play in the summer and go above and beyond what some other programs do," he said. "Our older girls don't act like they're entitled or are beyond the work. They put in the work and bring the younger girls along, and that breeds the culture. And when you have a culture of hard work and discipline, it usually leads to wins."

Sweetland's record is made even more impressive when you realize that, prior to him taking over the program when it debuted in the fall of 2002, he'd never watched a girls fastpitch softball game before, much less coached one.

"I'd played some baseball, but I'd never watched a girls fastpitch game before," he said. "(Athletic director Rocky Ruhl) came down to the old elementary school one day and asked if I'd coach the team. I was hesitant at first, but I knew they'd be good because we had Molly (Hill) and some good girls in the program here, so I thought I'd give it a shot and I'm glad now that I did."

There have been very few bumps in the road for Sweetland's teams over the years. In the previous 14 seasons, Wayne has missed qualifying for the state tournament only once (2006). In the program's second year, they began a state-record streak of 41 wins that led to back-to-back Class C state tournament titles. In fact, their record-shattering 34-0 run in 2004 – a year in which they gave up only six runs the entire season, five coming in one game – is the last undefeated season recorded by a Nebraska high school softball team.

Just about every senior class that has been a part of the program during Sweetland's tenure can lay claim to at least 100 of Sweetland's 400 wins, but the coach doesn't worry much about the win totals.

"I just go from game to game, but when you look at the seniors who have been through here, they've all been a part of 100 wins and that was something we talked about after this one," he said. "All of these seniors have had 100 wins under their belt, and it's kind of cool how these kids just keep that going."

Sweetland's team has played in five championship games, adding runner-up finishes in 2007, 2009 and 2013. They've averaged 28 wins a season coming into this year, and could very well reach that number by season's end if this year's team wins their district and qualifies for the state tournament next month in Hastings.

Sweetland said that the key to Wayne's sustained excellence comes from the work of a lot of people.

"You have to have good parents and a good summer program, and ours is great," he said. "You also have to have a pitching coach who's willing to work with the kids the way Coach (Kevin) Hill does. He brings those kids along and I've been really blessed to have all of those things that have helped the program. We have 18 girls on the roster and we have to get them ready to play, and the ones who stick with it when they first come in, it always seems that when it's their time they step in and do a great job."

Sweetland said that being able to be one of five coaches in the state with 400 career wins is a testament to the girls' hard work over the years. He's not sure how many more wins he'll be able to experience, but has no plans of walking away just yet.

"I really enjoy the softball season," he said. "I have a daughter in seventh grade who's playing and there's a group of girls there who are fun to work with, and maybe that'll be the finish line. But I've enjoyed every minute of it. I'd rather the girls have the credit for it, though, because they're the ones doing the work and putting in the time. I'm just leading the way."

Rob Sweetland has been the only coach Wayne High's softball team has had, taking the job for the start of the 2002 fall season. Wayne has won more than 80 percent of the games played in the team's 15-year history, missing the state tournament just once.

Bowers attends Grinnell Mutual Commercial Lines Academy

Brian Bowers of State National Insurance in Wayne participated in Grinnell Mutual Reinsurance Company's Commercial Lines Academy on Sept. 19-22.

Bowers joined agents from around the company's writing territory to learn more about Grinnell Mutual's commercial products, services, and operations in Grinnell, Iowa.

"The Commercial Lines Academy is designed for Grinnell Mutual to build rapport with our independent agents and to introduce them to our commercial products," Sales Director Bill Gallagher said. "We had a great group of agents attend this year's program and we hope this training program has provided agents with new tools to service commercial accounts."

Group of ladies missing Wayne State Pool

Memberships are made in many ways, and a group of ladies began theirs over 15 years ago in the pool at Wayne State College.

"Three of us from Winside were taking aqua-size classes in Norfolk at the YMCA when we heard we could get a membership in Wayne at the Wayne State College Pool. So we investigated and joined," said Dianne Jaeger of Winside.

"The college offered a morning wellness aqua-size class but some of us aren't morning people, so we just started going in the afternoons during open swimming hours. Since we had done it for a couple years, we didn't need an instructor. There were a few Wayne State College employees going that we got to know and we invited other friends to join us so over the years our group grew to around 15 ladies. We ranged in age from the 40's to 80's and we became very close with much love and laughter along with our exercise.

"We would meet at least three times a week and usually averaged around 8-10 ladies at a time. We also celebrated each others birthdays, anniversaries, and sometimes just had coffee together," Jaeger said.

"Since we began we have lost two very dear ladies, Fran Schweers and Jackie Nissen and three friends have moved away. The ladies come from Carroll, Wakefield, Wayne, Winside and Wisner. This summer was very disappointing as the college pool started to have a maintenance problem and was closed off and on until they decided they had to close it permanently. Some of us are now going to the Norfolk YMCA again, and are thankful we can do that, but some of the ladies are still employed or because of distance can't go. We are hopeful the Wayne State College Pool will reopen so we can all be together again. Until then we keep in touch by email, phone calls, coffee get-together's and have decided to meet for lunch once a month to celebrate birthdays.

In September the group met at the Jug in Wayne, however two of our friends, Dorothy Weber and Pam Brockemeier of Wisner, weren't able to be there," Jaeger said.

Youth Mentor Hunt set for Oct. 16

Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever 17th Annual Youth Mentor Hunt will be held Sunday, Oct. 16 at the Izaak Walton Lake starting at 11:30 a.m. with a hot dog lunch.

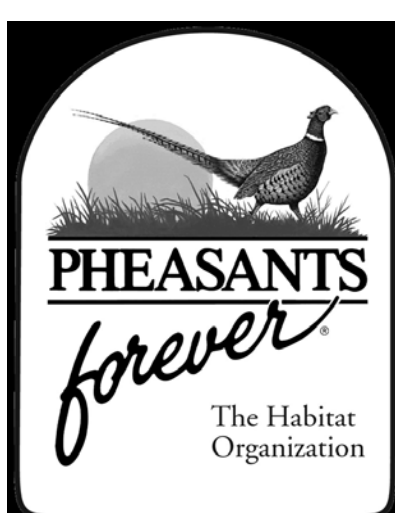

Pre-registration is required for youth ages 11-15 who have successfully completed a Nebraska Game and Parks Hunter Safety Course.

"We encourage all youth who meet the requirements to register to participate even if they have participated in the past. We especially encourage those who have not had an opportunity to participate in previous hunts to sign up for this year's hunt. This year's hunt will be limited to 16 youth," said Tim Reinhardt, one of the organizers of the event.

The day's activities will get started at 12:30 p.m. and should be wrapped up by 5 p.m. with numerous activities during the afternoon, including the opportunity to participate in a live hunt.

Darin Greunke with the Sharpshooters 4-H club will also be on hand to give the kids a chance at some long range air rifle shooting.

Each youth taking part in the event will receive a hunting vest pheasant hunts are the ideal way to introduce kids and teens to hunting, as experienced volunteer hunters from Pheasants Forever coach youth on the importance of firearm safety, wildlife habitat and hunting technique.

"Along with the need for youth to participate there is also a need for adult volunteers to serve as mentors for the youth. It takes about four adults for each youth and we are currently in need of some volunteers for this event. Anyone who would like to be a part of this great event should contact us," Reinhardt said.

"This is a great opportunity for the kids and adults to learn some things and have some fun in the great outdoors. These kids are the next generation of sportsmen and we would like to teach them the importance of firearm safety and also the importance of wildlife habitat," he added.

For more information or to sign up for the hunt, contact Tim Reinhardt at (402)518-0597 and don't forget to check out our chapter's facebook page- Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Chapter #303.

which is provided by Pheasants Forever and a blaze orange hat. They will be entered in a drawing to win a shotgun which will be given away at the chapter's banquet next March. The youth who attend the banquet will also have the opportunity to win a Nebraska lifetime hunting permit. Pheasants Forever mentored

Lightening strikes twice as 'merica defeats euro's

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Wayne's version of golf's Ryder Cup took place on Sunday at Wayne Country Club, the same day the United States handed Europe its first loss in eight years in the actual "Ryder Cup" in Minnesota.

The local version has taken on a life of its own over the past six or seven years, usually with the same results, the so-called Euro's defeating 'Merica. In fact team 'Merica had yet to win a ryder cup in its short existence.

The drought is over as it appeared

For
Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

Lightening struck twice against the "Euro" squad within a period of about two hours. Ryan Dahl and Brad Hansen picked this day to record their first hole-in-one. The ace capped a day when 'Merica did very little wrong on the links to record its first team victory.

The format consisted of three, 9-hole events starting with two-man scramble, followed by alternate shot and then singles matches. Twenty players represented each side. In the first two rounds there was a maximum of 10 points on the board with 'Merica scoring 7.5 in both the scramble and alternate shot to take a commanding 15-5 lead into the 20 singles matches. The winners just needed 5.5 points in singles to claim the coveted honor which carries with it a year-long bragging right.

Dahl used a six-iron from 187 yards out to claim his first ace as he was teamed with Mark Moser against Joey Baldwin and Brian Gibson. Brad Hansen on the other hand, recorded his hole in one on number three from 161 yards, using a 9-iron. He, ironically was playing against Joey Baldwin. Also witnessing the shot was Matt Eischeid and Lowell Heggemeyer.

I wasn't everywhere that day as I, too was competing but I did hear of many other hole-outs from the likes of Rob Sweetland and Lowell Heggemeyer for eagles on par 4's. In the end however, team 'Merica was too much as many of their 20-man roster played solid all three rounds.

Adam Severson, Jason Clausen, Brad Hansen, Matt Eischeid, Joel Ankeny, Lee Stegemann, Craig Walling, Jon Wren, Adam Endicott, Pat Melena, Ryan Dahl, Bob Longe, Mark Moser, Rob Burrows, Wes Pinkerman, Bill Melena, Doug Carroll, Randy Gamble, Mike Powicki and Dale Alexander comprised the winning squad.

The euro's had a good run and the record of 6-1 still speaks for itself. For Kelly Hansen, Rob Sweetland, Joey Baldwin, Lowell Heggemeyer, Jeremy Nelson, Don Preston, Dave Hix, Chuck Parker, Corby Schweers, Brian Gibson, Rich Rethwisch, Garry Poutre, Brendan Dorcay, Erik Halsey, Rocky Ruhl, Terry Schulz, Leif Olson, Ryan Hix, Corey Erikson and your humble writer, we are just a mere 50 or 51 Sundays away from reclaiming our property.

Hats off to Pat Melena who played on the winning euro team last season and got picked up by the 'merica team this year so he is two-for-two in the win column. Oh and say what you want about White Dog Billy and his unique set of golf skills and so I say this....Come Come on the drum line Gary.

Also on a golf note, a special congrats to AJ Longe who recorded his first hole-in-one during league this summer on hole 17 with a six iron from about 175 yards. Dave Die-diker, Jim Kinney, Gene Casey, Danny Melena and Dave Longe got to witness the feat. The good doctor Lindau also posted his first career hole-in-one several weeks ago on hole eight. Witnesses included his wife Joyce and Bo Armstrong.

On a slightly sadder note, I am still waiting for my first hole-in-one but my gut is telling me that next year is the year.

Adam Endicott nearly wiggled out after his team defeated the euro's on Sunday at Wayne Country Club

Champions reunite at Wakefield

Members of the 2006 Class C-2 state championship football team were honored during halftime of Wakefield's homecoming game with Hartington-Newcastle on Friday. The 2006 Trojans were a perfect 13-0 and dominated Blue Hill 34-7 to win the state title, the first of back-to-back state titles.

Comeback ends in heartbreak for Wayne in 28-26 loss to Pierce

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

Take away a 90-second stretch of the second quarter, and Wayne fans might have seen a different outcome than the heartbreaking result they saw Friday night.

Pierce took advantage of a mishandled punt snap and a fumble to score two touchdowns late in the first half, then hung on for dear life as a second-half Blue Devil rally fell short, allowing the Bluejays to escape with a 28-26 win at Wayne State College.

The final score was an emotionally draining experience for the Blue Devil team, a blow that coach Terry Bear said no words could soften.

"You can't say anything to make them feel better after an emotional game like this, but I'm proud of my team and I told them that afterward," he said after the game. "I'm proud of the way they played and the way they responded in the second half. We made some mistakes and have been there far too many times, but they showed a lot of fight and I loved the never-say-die attitude these boys have."

The Blue Devils controlled much of the first half and had a chance to take an early lead in the second period, but Emil Hapanowitz's 42-yard field goal attempt fell just short and left Pierce drew first blood two plays later on a 60-yard run by Caron Oesterich to give the winless Bluejays the early 7-0 advantage.

Late in the first half, two major mistakes by the Blue Devils turned into points for the Bluejays, who scored 21 second-quarter points while running a grand total of nine offensive plays.

The first came when an errant punt snap was mishandled by punter Grayson McBride, giving Pierce the ball at the Wayne 6-yard line. Oesterich scored on the next play to make it 14-0. The second came on Wayne's next possession, when the Bluejays recovered a Brennen O'Reilly fumble at the Wayne 41 and cashed in three plays later on a 38-yard pass from Walker Raabe to Colin Tinker to make it 21-0.

The Blue Devils scored on the final play of the first half when Beau Bowers found Caden Korth alone for a 25-yard touchdown pass to make it 21-6 at the half, but Pierce scored on the first play of the third quarter when Caleb Sullivan broke free for a 78-yard touchdown run for what turned out to be the winning score, giving the visitors a 28-6 lead just 20 seconds into the second half.

"In years past, when bad things like that happened we didn't respond the way we needed to, but I'm glad how this group stuck together as a team," Bear said of Wayne's response to the 22-point deficit.

Wayne scored on the first first possession of the second half. The drive was highlighted by a nice 13-yard connection between Bowers and Ryan Jaixen, and Bowers powered through from two yards out on fourth down to end the eight-play, 60-yard drive to cut the Pierce lead to 28-13.

Late in the third period, used a six-play, 41-yard drive to score again. Tyler Pecena put the Blue Devils in position with a 19-yard run, the scored four plays later on a 10-yard option play to make it 28-19 heading into the fourth quarter.

A mishandled punt gave Pierce another opportunity to score, but Wayne's defense held at the Blue

Wakefield runs to 63-24 homecoming win

WAKEFIELD - The Wakefield football team ran. And ran. And ran some more. In fact, they ran the ball so well, they saw no need to pass as they pulled away for a 63-24 win over Hartington-Newcastle in the Trojans' homecoming game Friday at Eaton Field.

Coach Mike Hassler was happy with the way his team ran the football.

"We ran it and ran it well," he said. "Once we communicated with our lineman what Hartington was doing up front the yards started to come in big chunks. I was particularly proud of how we handled our halftime adjustments and executed them coming out of the half. It started up front with our offensive line, week to week they've made huge strides."

Daniel Nuno heads for the end zone during Wakefield's 63-24 homecoming win over Hartington-Newcastle on Friday at Eaton Field.

Hassler mentioned several offensive linemen who have helped the ground game dominate this season. "Moises Barboza has been the anchor there all year and Israel Gardea and Alex Camarena are really coming around and playing well as sophomore linemen," he said. "On top of that we have two pretty solid blocking tight ends in Ben Klein and Julio Sanchez. Our backs ran hard behind them and they opened up some pretty big holes once we all got on the same page."

Hartington-Newcastle got out to a 12-6 lead in the first period, thanks to a 61-yard pass from Cole Schmidt to Andy Schmidt and a blocked punt recovered in the end zone by Andy Schmidt.

The score stayed that way until late in the first half, when momentum flipped in Wakefield's favor and they took advantage of two Wildcats turnovers to score 22 points in the final 2:15 of the half.

Daniel Nuno ran in two of the scores, scoring from 17 and 48 yards out, and Solomon Peitz followed with a 12-yard touchdown in the final minute of the half to give the Trojans a 28-12 halftime advantage.

After a Wildcat punt to open the second half, Wakefield wasted no time in putting the game out of reach. On their first play from scrimmage in the third, Nuno took off for his third touchdown of the game, a 62-yard gallop that made it 36-12. Hartington-Newcastle would score on their next possession, but the Trojans got another quick strike when Isaac Camarena ran 46 yards for another score to make it 42-18.

Noah Lamprecht, who opened the scoring for Wakefield, added two more scores on runs of 17 and 18 yards, and Peitz capped the day with a 53-yard sprint early in the fourth quarter to help the Trojans improve to 4-1 on the season.

All of Wakefield's 578 total yards came on the ground, led by Nuno's 20-carry, 215-yard effort. Lamprecht added 160 yards on 14 tries, Camarena had 96 yards on eight carries and Peitz recorded 92 yards on six carries.

Wakefield's defense came up with four turnovers in the game, including interceptions by Camarena and Lamprecht.

"I thought it was a solid performance," Hassler said. "It was a tough preparation week in that we weren't able to blitz as much as we would have liked to, so we had to be very assignment sound. For the most part I thought we handled our jobs pretty well for four quarters. You are always going to have some missed assignments, that part of the game, but for a second straight week I thought we put together a solid defensive performance."

Ben Klein and Luke Walsh each had 21 total tackles on the day. Klein had 13 solo stops and two tackles for loss, and Walsh recovered two fumbles and forced a third. Israel Gardea had 11 total tackles and a forced fumble, Camarenta had 12 total tackles and Lamprecht had 11 total stops.

The Trojans travel to Creighton next week for a matchup of the top two teams in the district.

"Creighton is the gold standard for 8-man football in Northeast Nebraska," Hassler said. "If you want your program to take the next step you better be ready to stand toe-to-toe with them. They are fast, aggressive, and physical. Those are three areas we will need to match to give ourselves a chance. This very well could be for the district title so I think the boys are pretty pumped to have put themselves in this position. It will be a fun week of preparation and we'll be excited to hit the field in Creighton Friday night."

Devils' 6-yard line. Pierce lined up for a field goal, but Jaixen came flying around the end untouched to block the kick. Wayne picked up the ball and could have scored on the blocked kick, but an inadvertent whistle by the game officials left Wayne with the ball at their own 13-yard line with 4:25 to go.

Wayne put together a seven-play drive, with Bowers finding Christian Rogers on a 27-yard connection to ignite the drive. He hit Jaixen on passes of 14 and 32 yards, then found Jaixen one more time for an eight-yard scoring play to make it 28-26 with 3:07 to play.

Wayne's defense was called upon to make one final stop, but Pierce's offense picked up a pair of key runs to keep the clock moving and were able to hang on for the two-point win, their first of the season.

The loss drops Wayne to 2-4 on the season and mathematically ends their hopes of a trip to the playoffs, but Bear was proud of the team's effort - not only Friday, but throughout the first six games of the season.

"These kids really grew tonight and I'm so proud of their effort," he said. "We gave them everything they could handle and I'm proud of the team for doing that, and if you didn't watch this game, you missed out on a great game."

Bowers finished the night 14-of-24 for 197 yards and two touchdowns through the air, and also led the ground attack with 75 yards on 17 carries. Pecena had 70 yards on 15 tries and O'Reilly rushed for 61 yards on eight carries. Jaixen caught eight balls for 127 yards, McBride had four catches for 18 yards and Rogers and Korth each had one catch for 27 and 25 yards, respectively.

Defensively, Isaiah Muhs was in on eight stops to lead the Blue Devils, while Justin Dean and Pecena each had five tackles and Lathan Ellis, Michael Knesche and Mikey Reyes each had four tackles.

Wayne goes on the road the next two weeks, starting with Friday's 7 p.m. matchup at West Point-Beemer. They'll be at Norfolk Catholic next week before closing out the regular season at home against O'Neill.

Bike Ride Across Nebraska to stop in area

By MICHAEL CARNES

For The Herald

The 37th edition of the Bike Ride Across Nebraska will include two area communities on its route next summer.

Wayne and Wakefield will be among the cities that are part of the "Five Nations, Five States" theme for the 2017 edition of the BRAN ride, which will start in Falls City and end in Tekamah. The south-to-north route is a break from the ride's usual west-to-east journey.

Riders will come from North Bend and arrive in Wayne on Wednesday, June 7. Wayne will be the starting point to the second part of the tour, which is being split into a three-day and four-day journey for the first time.

The first part of the route will go from Falls City, through Auburn and Weeping Water to North Bend before ending in Wayne. From there, riders will have several options, including a 12-mile route to Wakefield, along with 90-mile and 106-mile journeys that will touch parts of South Dakota and Iowa before returning to Wakefield on Thursday, June 8. From there, bikers will travel to Winnebago and end the tour in Tekamah on Saturday, June 10.

The tour's theme "Five Nations, Five States" pays homage to the Native American tribes that make up the area, including the Fox, Sac, Iowa, Winnebago and Omaha tribes. Riders will have a number of route options to choose from, and can participate in a three-day tour, a four-day tour or the full seven-day route.

About 1,000 people are expected to come into Wayne when the riders roll into town, and a committee of about 20 local members are making plans to accommodate the expected 600 riders and their families when they come to town. Plans are to utilize the Wayne County Fairgrounds as a camping site, and a variety of entertainment options are being discussed by the committee.

Local residents interested in helping out with the BRAN committee are encouraged to contact Irene Fletcher at the Wayne Area Chamber at 402-375-2240.

WSC soccer sweeps weekend

For the first time since 2011, the WSC women's soccer team has recorded a weekend sweep, battling against Northern State and MSU Moorhead.

Wayne State rallied from a 2-0 first half deficit against Northern State on Saturday afternoon and scored early in the second overtime for a thrilling 3-2 double overtime win in NSIC play at the WSC Soccer Pitch.

It was Wayne State's first win over the Wolves in women's soccer since 2005.

Northern State used goals from Anna Bondy at the 7:04 mark and Darian Leschewski in the 35th minute to take a 2-0 lead.

Wayne State started its comeback at the 35:30 mark with a goal from Alexis Strothers, her first of the season, to make the score 2-1 at intermission.

The Wildcats evened the score early in the second half when sophomore Carys Hund scored an unassisted goal 1:02 into the second half to make the score 2-2.

The game remained tied until early in the second overtime, in just 58 seconds, when sophomore Brooke Buzzell found the back of the net on a header with an assist from Jennifer Zick to cap the Wildcat comeback.

Wayne State finished with a 26-15 advantage in shots over the Wolves, including 14-7 in shots on goal.

The next day for the Wildcats was just as exciting as five different players scored goals for Wayne State as the team recorded a 5-0 victory over MSU Moorhead on Parent's Day at the WSC Soccer Pitch.

WSC is now 6-2-2 on the year and 3-2-2 in the NSIC.

The game was scoreless until the 36th minute when freshman Madison Burgard scored with an assist from Hannah Knight to put the 'Cats in front 1-0.

WSC scored again at the 39:17 mark of the first half when Knight scored her first goal of the year with Karlee Hall credited for the assist, giving the 'Cats a 2-0 lead at intermission.

The Lady 'Cats added three goals in the second half to make the score 5-0. WSC used 22 different players on the field to complete the shutout victory.

Senior Valerie Hernandez recorded an unassisted goal at the 65:25 mark to put the 'Cats ahead 3-0. Buzzell scored her second goal of the weekend and third this season in front of the goal with an assist from Natalie Rech giving WSC a 4-0 advantage.

The scoring culminated in the 73rd minute when reserve freshman Lauren Fleming found the back of the net on an unassisted goal to make the final count 5-0.

Wayne State finished with a 19-6 advantage in shots over the Dragons and 11-4 in shots on goal. The Wildcats held an 11-2 edge in corner kicks and were called for two more fouls than MSUM 12-10.

Reserves Fleming and Knight led WSC with three shots apiece in the win. Knight had one goal and one assist for WSC, while Hall recorded two assists to lead the 'Cats in scoring.

Burgard, Buzzell, Hernandez and Fleming each had goals for WSC.

Senior goalkeeper Kylie Comba played just over 76 minutes and had three saves, while freshman Rachel Grisham notched 13:33 in goal and was credited with one save.

The Wildcats will be on the road Friday afternoon visiting Minnesota State in a 1 p.m. NSIC contest.

Softball team blows out conference title

PIERCE – If there was any lingering doubt as to who the best softball team in the Mid State Conference was, Wayne High emphatically erased them Saturday.

The Blue Devils' bats were on fire all day as they scored 45 runs in just 10 innings of work to wrap up the conference tournament championship Saturday, finishing it off with a 15-0, three-inning blowout of Guardian Angels Central Catholic in the championship game.

Wayne opened with a 12-2 win over Pierce, blowing the game open with four runs in the second and seven in the fourth after the Bluejays built an early 2-0 lead. Kiara Hochstein had an RBI double and Kennedy Maly had a bases-clearing triple to highlight the four-run second inning. In the fourth, Maly had an RBI triple, Jamie Gamble had an RBI double and Ashten Gibson stroked a two-run double to highlight the big inning.

Maly finished the game with two hits and four RBI's while Hochstein had three hits, drove in two and scored two. Gibson and Annie Kniesche each had two RBI's. Hannah Belt got the win, striking out five and allowing three hits and four walks.

The Blue Devils jumped all over GACC in the semifinals, scoring 15 runs in the first two innings and finishing off the Bluejays with an 18-6 win.

Jenna Trenhaile hit her second home run of the year to cap a nine-run first inning, stroking a two-run blast to center. Kniesche had a two-run triple, Gibson had a two-run double and Tori Kniesche had an RBI double to highlight the big inning.

Wayne scored six more in the second, using four bases-loaded walks. After GACC put up six in the bottom of the second, Wayne came back with three more, highlighted by RBI singles by Maly and Sidney Biggerstaff.

Hochstein and Trenhaile each had three hits, while Maly, Biggerstaff and Annie Kniesche had two hits apiece in the win.

The two teams met again in the championship, and Wayne had no problems again, finishing off GACC with a 15-0 shutout. Wayne scored 10 runs in the second inning to put the game out of reach.

Maly hit a solo homer and Keller launched a three-run bomb to highlight the big first inning. Gibson had a bases-loaded double and Maly added a two-run double in the second inning. Belt threw a one-hit shutout, striking out three.

The wins Saturday marked a season sweep for the Blue Devils over their conference rivals. Wayne won the first game of the meeting between the two teams on Thursday, taking a 7-2 decision at Timmerman Park in West Point.

The Bluejays, ranked 10th in Class C, loaded the bases in the first and scored two runs, but Class B No. 9 Wayne got a run back in the second on an RBI double by Keller and took the lead for good in the fourth on Gibson's two-run double.

Wayne added another run in the fifth on an RBI single by Trenhaile, got two more in the sixth on Abby Ankeny's two-run pinch-hit double and brought one more home in the seventh on an RBI single by Annie Kniesche.

Biggerstaff had two of Wayne's nine hits and scored a pair of runs. Hochstein added a double to the offensive effort. Belt went the distance in the circle, striking out seven and allowing six hits and three walks.

Wayne closed the regular season Monday at South Sioux City, posting a 13-1 win over the Cardinals. Wayne scored three in the first to take the lead for good and used a six-run third inning to help them to the easy win.

Trenhaile and Keller both homered in the contest. They each had three hits, including doubles, and three RBI's. Biggerstaff had three RBI and Hochstein had two hits, including a triple, and two RBI's. Annie Kniesche had a double. Belt struck out six and allowed six hits in getting the win.

WSC football wins two in a row

The football NSIC South Division opener on Saturday afternoon against Wayne State College and Concordia-St. ended in the second straight win for the Wildcats.

WSC pulled ahead 45-10 for the win after scoring 24 points off of Golden Bear turnovers, including a 30-yard interception return for a touchdown by Wildcat junior Glenn Harris.

The Wildcats are now 2-3 on the season and 1-0 in the NSIC South, while Concordia-St. Paul hold a record of 2-3 and drop to 0-1 in the NSIC South.

The 'Cats took the opening kickoff and ran 75 yards on 11 plays to score on a 22-yard pass from junior quarterback Zach Osborn to Shymere Williams to put WSC in front 7-0.

Concordia-St. Paul got on the board later in the first quarter on a 35-yard field goal from Jonas Schenderlein to trim the Wildcat lead to 7-3 after the first quarter.

WSC recovered a Golden Bear's fumble early in the second quarter to get the ball at the 24-yard line and Osborn connected with junior tight end Justin Saunders on a four-yard strike to give WSC a 14-3 lead at the 9:49 mark of the second quarter.

The 'Cats used pass completions of 13 yards to Zach Glidden and 17 yards to Saunders to get into field goal range where freshman Ethan Knudson booted a 39-yard field goal with three seconds left before halftime, giving WSC a 17-3 lead at intermission.

Wayne State put the game out of reach in the second half by scoring touchdowns on four straight possessions.

The first score was a 30-yard interception return by junior Glenn Harris, putting the Wildcats in front 24-3 with 6:38 remaining in the third quarter.

After forcing a punt from Concordia-St. Paul, WSC used three plays to move 82 yards with Osborn hooking up with Shymere Williams on a 78-yard pass play for a score, giving WSC a 31-3 lead with 2:24 left in the third quarter.

A fumble recovery by Wayne State's Randy Bryan gave the 'Cats the ball at the 33 yard line and the Wildcats converted another Golden Bear turnover into points as Osborn fired a six-yard pass to Layne Sullivan to give WSC a 38-3 lead with 11:05 left in the game.

WSC scored for the final time with 8:07 remaining when backup quarterback Taylor Reedy found Glidden on a four-yard scoring play to increase the Wildcat lead to 45-3.

Concordia-St. Paul closed out the scoring with 2:40 to play in the game as Ron Johnson scored on a seven-yard run to make the final score 45-10.

Wayne State held a 383-289 advantage in total offense over Concordia-St. Paul. The 'Cats rushed for 115 yards and had 268 through the air, while the Golden Bears had 159 rushing and 130 passing.

Wayne State will be at home next Saturday hosting #25 Augustana in the Homecoming/Hall of Fame Game at Bob Cunningham Field in Wayne with kickoff slated for 1 p.m.

Eagles fall at Randolph, 54-14

RANDOLPH – It was a truly frustrating evening for the Allen Eagle football team at Randolph.

The host Cardinals literally ran at will on the Eagle defense, racing to a 54-14 district win at Randolph. Drew Loberg did the damage, carrying 20 times for 289 yards and several touchdowns.

It was a result that frustrated coach Dave Uldrich, who promised things will be different next week.

“We can say, could of, should of, would of, but that does not change the outcome,” he said. “We had poor gap defense, poor blocking, allowed them to do as they wanted. Those things will get fixed for sure this week. The team will be ready to play a game by next Friday.”

The Eagle nightmare started on the first play of the night, when an apparent interception by the Eagles went through the defensive back's hands directly to a Cardinal receiver and he scored.

The Eagles did respond by driving the length of the field, but a wide open receiver did not get the ball on a fourth and goal at the 7-yard line of Randolph. The Cardinals took over on downs, and Loberg jaunted 73 yards on the first play.

Allen again drove the length of the field, with Cody Thomas capping off the drive with a three-yard run. The Eagles trailed 16-6 at that point. The following possession, Randolph fumbled, but the Eagles turned it over on the next play, throwing an interception.

From then on, Loberg and the Cardinal offense ran through the Eagle defense, that only a week ago, stymied the Wynot running game. The Cardinals led 38-6 at intermission.

Allen took the opening kickoff of the second half and methodically pushed the ball to the end zone, as Garrett Brentlinger capped the drive with a two-yard run. Tayler Kumm added the PAT, and it appeared the game may not be over at 38-14. Randolph responded with a drive to end those thoughts.

Offensively, Kumm carried 23 times for 83 yards, and Thomas had 11 totes for 45 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, Thomas continues an outstanding season at the nose guard position, with 17 tackles and a fumble recovery. Kyle Smith added 11 stops.

The loss drops the Eagles to 2-3 overall and 0-2 in the district. The Eagles are scheduled to travel to Winside on Friday. The game is set to start at 7 p.m.

Plainview dominates LCC in district battle

Plainview running back Matt Hoffman proved to be too much to handle for the Bears defense in a 76-20 Pirates win over Laurel-Concord-Coleridge Friday at Haskell Field.

The Bears got down 14-0 early, but made it a close game at the half with a pair of second-quarter touchdown passes by Mason Forsberg. Forsberg hit Jayden Reifenrath with a 51-yard scoring strike to get LCC on the board, then found D.J. Spahr on a 17-yard connection to make it 22-14 at the half.

After Plainview scored to open the third, LCC made it a 30-20 game when Forsberg found Reifenrath for a second touchdown pass, this one from 74 yards out, to give Forsberg his third touchdown pass of the night.

It was all Pirates after that, as Hoffman finished with 291 yards and scored eight touchdowns as they pulled away in the second half. All of Plainview's 483 yards in total offense came on the ground.

Forsberg was 11-of-23 for 230 yards in the losing effort. Reifenrath had 177 yards on seven receptions, while Spahr had 52 yards on three catches. Spahr was the leading ground gainer with 29 yards on seven carries.

Defensively, Spahr had 17 total tackles and Forsberg had 12 stops.

LCC, 1-4, plays at Hartington-Newcastle on Friday at 7 p.m.

A local fund raiser on Sept. 29, for the Muscular Dystrophy Association "locked-up" Wayne residents to help raise money for individuals with muscular dystrophy. The event, held at Godfathers Pizza, raised over $7,000 for the cause.

Local residents go to jail for MDA

Business and community leaders from the Wayne area went "behind bars" for a great cause during the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Lock-Up fundraising event on Sept. 29, raising $7,860 for kids and adults with muscular dystrophy, ALS and related muscle-debilitating diseases that take away physical strength and mobility.

Leaders in the community volunteered to get "locked up" as part of the event held at Godfather's Pizza. Each participant – or jailbird – raised bail – or donations – by encouraging their friends, family and colleagues to contribute to MDA's life-saving mission.

"We had an amazing group of jailbirds for our Lock-Up event and we're so grateful for their participation," said Executive Director Angie Connell.

"With support from the Wayne community and local businesses like Godfather's Pizza we are able to raise critical dollars to fund our mission and give MDA families the opportunity to live longer and grow stronger."

MDA's Lock-Up program illustrates the serious effect neuromuscular diseases have on anyone affected. While jailbirds only lose their freedom for one hour, kids and adults fighting diseases like muscular dystrophy lose their mobility progressively and ultimately permanently, resulting in many lifelong challenges.

Donations raised help MDA fund groundbreaking research and life-enhancing programs, such as support groups and clinical care at 150 Care Centers across the country, including the MDA Care Center at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. Money raised also helps send more than 54 local kids to enjoy "the best week of the year" at MDA summer camp at Camp Calvin Crest in Fremont, at no cost to families.

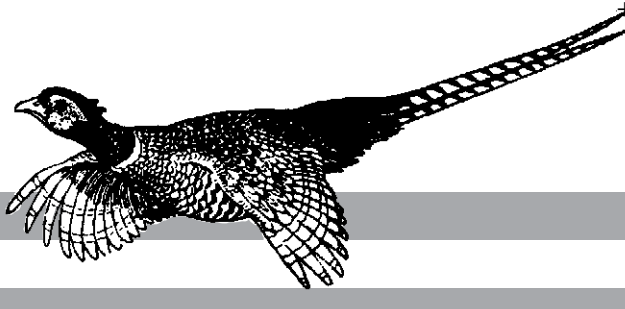

To learn more about the MDA Lock-Up program and how to get involved, contact Executive Director, Angie Connell at 402-390-2914 or aconnell@mmdausa.org or visit mda.org/LockUp.

Cheers for Miss Bishop Capitol View

By Craig R. Christiansen, Executive Director, Nebraska State Education Association

In December 1955, I saw a movie that I have never forgotten. On reflection, it certainly may have been one of the sappiest movies I would ever see, but I loved it because I was a third-grader and the movie was about a favorite, small-town teacher. The teacher in the movie insisted that every student greet her properly every day. Their morning greetings became the title of the movie, "Good Morning, Miss Dove." When Miss Dove was hospitalized, her former students returned to give well-deserved thanks to their favorite teacher.

I was reminded of that movie the other day as I talked with a local doctor. He said that he admired teachers and the work they did, but he did not understand why education is so conflictual, when it is so important. Yes, education is disputed, but exactly because it is so important. Both parents and teachers understand that education is the most important determinant of a student's career choice and satisfaction, lifetime earnings, and overall well-being and future success. The choices that are made about virtually every aspect of education are open to critical questioning or opposition. Decisions do matter. Parents, grandparents, teachers, and taxpayers all have a stake in the success of our students. And those voices do not always agree.

Targets of Criticism

That level of continual questioning, criticism, and, often, opposition is a daily burden to those who work in our schools. It is every citizen's right to question and criticize decisions that may not be sound educational practice. And, ironically, the ones who work every day to make sure students get the very best education are often the targets of criticism from every quarter: parents, taxpayers, their principals, and society. Teaching is not easy and very often, a thankless job. Or so it seems.

A Nebraska author, Bess Street-er Aldrich, wrote Miss Bishop, a best-selling book that was also later made into a movie, "Cheers for Miss Bishop." It is the story of a teacher who is forced into retirement after many years of teaching. As many (and perhaps most) teachers do, Miss Bishop reflects on a life of service that did not result in great honors or riches. What opportunities had she missed by being a teacher? In true Hollywood fashion, the movie ends with many of her students, now very successful, coming back to honor her work. Many movies have been made about the important work of teachers. We know these teachers by their movie names: Mr. Chips, Mr. Holland, Miss Dove, Miss Bishop, Miss Barrett, Mr. Thackeray, and many more. But how do we honor and thank our real teachers?

We simply need to say thank you to our teachers for the work they do. We say it out loud and often. It's that simple.

"Thank You" is Rarely Heard

So, "cheers" for you Miss Bishop, or Miss Dove, or Mr. Black, or Mrs. Lance, or Dr. Alvarez, or any of thousands of names that you carry as the American Teacher. You are the model for movies and books and accolades, but your work is known best (and appreciated most) by those generations of students that come through your classroom. You never hear "Thank you" from most of these students. Their mothers and fathers will say it as they talk about how much you cared about their children, how much they have grown up, have learned, and how much their children still talk about you. The students say it years later as adults when they tell their own children about the difference that you made in their lives. And some may say it when they remember a movie or a book that reminded them of how critical the work is that all teachers do every day for the students of America. So, thank you... and for what you do: Cheers, Miss Bishop!

Nebraska has lost another statesman

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Nebraska lost another statesman. Former state Senator and U.S. Congressman Bill Barrett died at age 87 in Lexington.

Barrett, a conservative Republican who was first appointed to the Nebraska Unicameral by then-Governor Charlie Thone, always said he hadn't planned on staying. He spent 12 years in the Legislature, the last four as Speaker.

His planned retirement from politics was sidelined for another decade when he succeeded longtime Nebraska Third District Representative Virginia Smith. After besting a field of five Republican hopefuls, Barrett ran against another state Senator, Democrat Sandy Scofield of Chadron, and won.

Upon learning of his death, Scofield said she appreciated Barrett's commitment to a nonpartisan legislature. As speaker he championed and modeled the kind of legislature that George Norris envisioned and the public accepted.

Former colleague Dennis Byars of Beatrice noted that many thought Barrett was a hard person. But he noted that he was always willing to listen and paid thoughtful attention when Byars would discuss issues dealing with mental and physical health.

Former U.S. Sen. Bob Kerrey said Barrett was known for seeking consensus and compromise. In addition to serving in Congress together, Kerrey worked with Barrett to balance Nebraska's budget when Kerrey was governor and Barrett was speaker.

Democrat Kerrey said that Barrett could have made political hay out of the state's budget issues, and the painful budget cuts and tax increase that followed, but didn't. He noted that Barrett didn't vote for everything, but he understood that some pretty drastic things had to happen, and he helped me out, Kerrey said.

Barrett was outspoken on farm he announced his retirement in 1999. Rep. Adrian Smith of Gering, who now represents the District, said Barrett was "known for being true to his word and bringing people together to get things done." Smith said Barrett's dedication to the district and to the state set a lasting example for him and others who have sought to fill his shoes.

Kerrey said Barrett was not a screamer and doesn't pound the table. "But whatever he tells you he's going to do, he'll do," he said at Barrett's retirement. I remember one bill introduction period in the Nebraska Legislature with Barrett in the speaker's chair. My colleague at The Associated Press had written a story about a bill that was going to be introduced that day. He sent the story to the mother ship for editing and promised to provide a bill number as soon as one was assigned.

To that end, he asked Speaker Barrett to keep the Legislature in session until the bill from Senator so-and-so had been read into the record. Barrett said he would.

The bill was introduced and my colleague snagged the necessary number by listening to the proceedings on the speaker in the pressroom and went on with other business.

At the noon hour, a legislative page came to the pressroom and asked for my colleague. When he responded, the page said, "Speaker Barrett would like to know if it's OK to recess for lunch."

He did what he said he would do. That, my friends, is statesmanship.

OH, SAY DID YOU SEE, ON TV MONDAY NIGHT? YOUR SIDE SOUNDLY HAD FAILED, AT THE FIRST TIME DEBATING. THOSE FLAMED GRIPES AND WHITE LIES, GAVE FACT CHECKERS A FRIGHT. O'ER THE PUNDITS YOU WATCHED, YOU SO GULLIBLY BELIEVE IN. AND SOME TEMPEERS DID FLARE, MY HANDS PULLED OUT SOME HAIR. I PROVED THAT I'M RIGHT, FOR THE TRUTH; YOU DON'T CARE. OH, SAY CAN A HARD-HEADED VOTER BE SWAYED, FROM THE LAND OF LOONEY, TO THE HOME OF THE SANE?

A simple bill rooted in fairness

By Rep. Adrian Smith

Nebraskans are facing more bad news as Obamacare continues to unravel. On Sept. 23, Blue Cross Blue Shield announced its departure from Nebraska's exchange due to losses totaling in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

This change from the state's largest insurer will leave 20,000 Nebraskans looking for new coverage as they enter 2017. Fortunately, the announcement came prior to the open enrollment period in the Obamacare exchanges, giving consumers time to find a new plan.

Dwindling options under Obamacare are nothing new. CoOpportunity Health, a Consumer Operated and Oriented Plan (co-op) created under President Obama's health care law, sold plans covering 120,000 Nebraskans and Iowans in 2014. It soon became the first co-op to close, leaving consumers without coverage after the open enrollment period had already ended.

Since then, 17 of the 23 co-ops, which received more than $1.7 billion in federal loans, have closed or are in the process of closing. All six of the remaining co-ops are struggling to remain solvent.

In February 2015, as reports removed any last doubts about CoOpportunity Health's impending liquidation, I introduced a bill to prevent taxpayers from having to pay Obamacare's individual mandate penalties if they lost their insurance in the wake of a co-op closure.

Originally, I designed the legislation to assist Nebraskans and Iowans impacted by CoOpportunity Health's collapse. As the number of failed co-ops across the country began to rise, more Members of Congress took an interest in moving the bill forward. The Ways and Means Committee, on which I serve, passed the bill in early September 2016.

On Sept. 27, the U.S. House passed my bill in a bipartisan vote. The final legislation, known as the CO-OP Consumer Protection Act, exempts taxpayers from the individual mandate for the remaining months within the calendar year in which their co-op insurance plan was cancelled. It applies retroactively to individuals who lost coverage after Dec. 31, 2013, including those in Nebraska and Iowa who lost plans sold by CoOpportunity Health.

During debate on the bill in Committee and on the House floor, defenders of Obamacare accused me of trying to undermine the entire health care law. Frankly, I wish the bill could dismantle the unworkable mess known as Obamacare, but this is not its purpose.

It is a simple bill rooted in fairness. Americans who lost their health insurance through no fault of their own deserve certainty rather than having to take their chances within the federal bureaucracy to avoid paying a tax penalty. They need time and flexibility to find a plan which works for their unique circumstances, especially when they face even fewer coverage options and possibly having to start over on their deductibles.

It is absurd for the government to penalize consumers who tried to comply with the law but could not do so due to the law's own failures. Obamacare's cycle of spending and mandates is not sustainable. As we work to bring relief to Americans, we need our next president to work with us on our plan to give Americans more health coverage options while reducing costs and returning decisions to patients and their doctors.

Gov. Ricketts, Crime Commission unveil expansion of Victim Notification Service

Governor Pete Ricketts and the Nebraska Crime Commission announced enhancements to the services the State of Nebraska provides to victims of crime. Starting now, users of the Nebraska Victim Information Notification Everyday program (VINE) can receive information on the custody status of an offender via text message.

"VINE has helped provide many Nebraskans and their families with a sense of security," said Governor Ricketts. "The addition of text messaging will help communicate vital information about the status of offenders more effectively and efficiently to the thousands of Nebraskans who rely on this system. Thank you to numerous organizations who continue to support and invest in this important service for so many Nebraskans."

Over the years, the Nebraska Crime Commission has partnered with Appriss, the commercial provider of the VINE service, as well as Nebraska Department of Correctional Services, the Nebraska Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Coalition, the Nebraska County Attorneys Association, the Nebraska Correctional Administrators and Managers Association and the Nebraska Sheriffs Association to provide a solution which offers peace of mind for victims of crime and concerned citizens by giving them access to timely and reliable offender custody information. This service lets victims call a toll-free number, visit www.VINELink.com, or use the VINEMobile™ app to anonymously check on an offender's custody status. Users can also register to receive automated notifications about changes in that status via their choice of format: phone, email, TTY, and now, text message. This new text message service is available in both English and Spanish to provide more victims with the information they deserve.

In addition to the text messaging service, work is now being done to better track offenders as they move from one facility to another. This feature, called registrationLINK, will more seamlessly let users follow an offender across Nebraska. The Crime Commission hopes to bring this additional feature online in November 2016.

Nebraska VINE started in mid-1999 and has seen new registrations rise from 210 at its inception to 12,241 in 2015. The system now averages over 1,200 new registrations per month, and the service is available to anyone needing information on an offender. These enhancements have been made possible by a grant from the U.S. Department of Justice. For more information about VINE, contact Darrell Fisher, Executive Director of the Nebraska Crime Commission, at 402-471-2195.

Book It

Book It Kicks Off! The elementary teachers and Mrs. Anderson have set an at-home reading goal for students for the month of October.

Keep a calendar at home for the entire month to help your child keep track of the time that they read. Goals are set for at-home reading and not the reading that students do during the school day. However, it can include any reading done at home (ie homework, magazines, books etc.).

Each day that your child meets his/her reading goal, they will need to color in the heart for that day. At the end of the month, when they have reached their goal, your child and a parent must sign the calendar. On Tuesday, Nov. 1, return the calendar to Mrs. Anderson. If your child has met their monthly goal, they will earn a coupon for a free personal pan pizza at Pizza Hut and their name will be displayed on the Space themed bulletin board outside of the library.

Completed reading log calendars must be turned into Mrs. Anderson no later than the second of each month in order to receive their pizza prize. No completed calendars will be accepted after that date.

Medicare open enrollment just around corner

People with Medicare drug coverage who let their insurance roll over from year to year may find themselves paying more for their prescriptions than they have to.

Savvy people know that their best opportunity to save money on medications takes place every fall during open enrollment.

Medicare's open enrollment is Oct. 15 through Dec. 7. During this period, people with a Part D Drug or Part C Advantage Plan can compare their individual drug list to all the new insurance plans for the coming year. When they find a plan with lower costs or better coverage, they can switch to new coverage starting Jan. 1.

Nebraska Senior Health Insurance Information Program (SHIIP) is funded by the federal government to help people with Medicare. One of SHIIP's most popular services is comparing drug plan costs and coverage. With SHIIP's help, comparison is quick, easy, and money saving.

Because SHIIP does not represent any insurance company, pharmacy or drug manufacturer, their counselors can always put the needs of the individual first. Their services are free and available to everyone with Medicare.

Sandy Preston, retired extension educator for the University of Nebraska will be in assisting individu-

The first was a tractor parts identification test, followed by a written test on the safety rules to use when working with tractors. Also, a test was given to show how well contestants could diagnosis and maintain a tractor.

Finally each of the competitors was evaluated on how well they could maneuver a tractor. In one series of tests, they were to maneuver a tractor with a two wheel trailer, and in another series maneuver a tractor with a four wheel trailer. This test was designed to assess the skills needed to successfully back up farm trailers.

After each competitor had performed these tasks, their scores from each test were added together for a final score. The Allen representatives did very well over all. Isaac placed third in the competition, while Josh and Brogan placed in the top half.

als for prescription drug comparisons. Sandy will be in Ponca on Oct. 25, Wakefield on Oct. 27, and Allen on Oct. 28. Times will be scheduled from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. each date. Contact the appropriate senior center to make an appointment, Ponca (402) 755-4180.; Wakefield (402) 287-2149; or Allen (402) 635-2284.

Sandy will also highlight the changes for 2017 during her visit to the Allen Senior Center at 8:30 a.m. on Oct. 28.

Additional times can be found on

Members learn of Minerva history

Susan Boust hosted Minerva Club at the Wayne Senior Center with eleven members present. Vice President MaryAnn DeNaeyer opened the meeting with a reading focused on the new school year. She made the listeners smile when DeNaeyer read a piece about announcements heard on airplanes. Each member answered roll call by telling of their memberships to other women's groups. Minutes were read and approved. Donna Hansen gave the treasurer's report and each member paid $5.00 for dues. Each member gave a $1.00-$2.00 donation for the preparation of the yearly program book. Vice president DeNaeyer asked each hostess to notify the Senior Center of the meal count for the next meeting by Wednesday, prior to the week of the meeting. Thinking of you cards were signed for Hallie Sherry. The theme for programs celebrating Minerva's 120th anniversary is "Minerva Through the Ages Then and Now."

In keeping with this theme Susan Boust gave an overview of women's study groups from 1880-1920, which covered the early years of Minerva. The formation of women's study groups and literary groups was a part of the change in women's role in society and the history is mostly captured in such organizations as Minerva. The number of women's study groups exploded in America from 1880-1920, when nationally there were estimated to be between 50,000 and 100,000 women's study groups, and every community had a number of free-standing groups.

Beginning in the mid-1800's, women had participated in organized groups to impact abolition of slavery, the prohibition of alcohol and women's suffrage. These study groups were somewhat different. With the industrial revolution came the invention of many labor saving devices for women's work.

With the easier availability of water, electricity and such inventions as the milk separator, wringer washers and sewing machine, women had more free time. This era of America's history, known as the Progressive Era, was a time of great change in the country, and women were seeking a voice in that change. Women had always worked together in auxiliary to men's organizations and as church aide societies, but this new movement was independent of men. Women identified the objects and aims of the groups—generally known as literary groups, managed the money and set the programs. In the early 1900's every edition of Wayne newspapers devoted several columns to report on the activities of local women's clubs.

These new women's groups provided women an opportunity to continue education and self-improvement beyond the limited formal education available to them, and examples of early programs in Wayne were the study of literature, geography, history, current events, music and entertainment. In 1894 a state convention of Nebraska women's groups organized to join the General Federation of Women's Club (GFWC), a national organization of over 3,000 women's groups.

By 1896, when Minerva was formed, there was at least one other active women's group in Wayne. Like most women's groups in this time period, Minerva was started by a group of women who wanted to support each other in educational self-improvement and work together for community improvement. The founding women of Minerva were closely connected to the school that became Wayne State College, and many early members were wives of faculty members of the Normal School.

A continuation of this topic will continue at the next Minerva meeting on Oct. 10, to be held at The Wayne Senior Center.

A lesson from Dick Enberg and Vin Scully

I'm a pretty big sports fan, and I listen to a lot of sports talk radio. This past week the radio has been filled with interviews of two of the greatest sports broadcasters of all time, as Dick Enberg and Vin Scully retired from broadcasting after more than 60 years for each of them.

As I listened to both of these great men, one common thread stood out. Both of them deflected all the praise that was being thrown at them. Both of them spoke of how lucky they were to have been able to simply witness and describe the greatness that was being played out before them.

The Apostle Paul towards the end of his life in 2 Timothy 4:6-8 said the following: "For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing."

Paul lived his life in such a way after his conversion to Christ that it changed the world. Paul saw people come to know Jesus, Paul traveled all over spreading the Gospel, and Paul wrote a big chunk of the New Testament scriptures. At the end though Paul simply spent his life telling people of the greatness of the God he served and described the greatness he had witnessed as a result of his relationship with, and ministry for Christ.

At the end of our lives we often ask what will be said of us and the lives we have lived. Listening to Enberg and Scully this week, got me asking a different question however: What will I say at the end of my life?

At the end of my life I want to have the humility of Paul, the humility of these two gentleman and simply speak of how lucky, or more accurately blessed, I've been to be able to simply witness, and describe the greatness of God and His mission and plan being played out before me.

The good news for us, is that we don't have to wait till retirement to proclaim the goodness and glory of the God we serve! The greatness of God is being played out before us every minute of every day. Through God's creation, through His people, through everything around us the goodness of God is declared. We have the opportunity to "broadcast" the greatness of God that we see and experience in our everyday lives to the world around us.

What will you tell the world today? Let's tell the world of the greatness of the God we serve.

Psalm 78:1-4 "Give ear, O my people, to my teaching; incline your ears to the words of my mouth! I will open my mouth in a parable; I will utter dark sayings from of old, things that we have heard and known, that our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the Lord, and His might, and the wonders that He has done."

Commenting on trials of parenthood

I was in Cass County this afternoon, and the combines are moving! These guys don't fool around with straight trucks, they use semis!

All I can say about football is thank heavens our guys are in good condition and can find some energy in those fourth quarters. And who knows what happened to our champion volleyball team? Every team has off nights, that's for sure.

I saw a sign on a church this weekend that said "Jesus is coming. Hopefully, before the election"! Wouldn't that be great??

There was all kinds of buzz last week about a couple of Nebraska native women who now live in California and were here to do two shows called I Mom So Hard. They apparently have a huge following, because both sessions were sold out.

I gathered they are on YouTube, so I checked in this evening to see what the fuss was all about. I can really tell I'm getting older, because I do not laugh at true confessions by mothers of little ones anymore! I've had my days of guilt, still do, in fact, but do not appreciate jokes about no sleep, potty training, etc. That was long ago. In fact, I get tired of the columns in the World Herald by members of momaha.com. There is way too much worry about minutiae! And quite a bit of repeating what their darling youngsters are saying. In fact, one day a couple of weeks ago, the whole column was by a Dad, quoting his daughter. We've been there!!!

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

So, anyway, as I said, I tuned in to see what these gals who Mom So Hard had to say. The very first segment was about Spanx! That's okay; I had actually considered looking into that stuff myself, every time I put on some slacks that have mysteriously shrunk.

But, they modeled the darned things! And then discussed how they would go to the bathroom wearing them! I'm sorry, I just don't think that needs to be on YouTube!! That's the kind of stuff you talk about with your closest friends, over wine.

Lucille Ball would do almost anything for a laugh, but she did not have to resort to that. Ditto, Carol Burnett. Whenever I see the clip of her Gone With the Wind thing coming down the stairs with drapery rods over her shoulders, I get the giggles all over again.

My generation had Erma. Erma Bombeck could exaggerate the trials of parenthood like no other, and I would laugh as I saw myself, complaining because I had not seen my teenager's face for weeks due to the hair hanging over it. These days, it's the boys who have that problem. Yes, I'll say it, What is the world coming to??? I did not mom so hard, I just told myself this, too, would pass. And it did!

It's time to control thistles

Here is a reminder from Bruce Anderson, Nebraska Extension Forage Specialist. It's thistle time again. Even if they are hard to see, this is the time to control them. Timing is everything. That's particularly true with thistle control. And October to early November is one of the best times to use herbicides.

Did you have thistles this year? If so, walk out in those infested areas this week. Look close. I'll bet you find many thistle seedlings. Most thistle seedlings this fall will be small, in a flat, rosette growth form, and very sensitive to certain herbicides.

Several newer herbicides like ForeFront, Milestone, and Chaparral work well for thistle control. Two other very effective herbicides are Tordon 22K and Grazon. Be careful with all these herbicides, but especially Tordon and Grazon, since they also can kill woody plants, including trees you might want to keep. Another option is 2,4-D, which works well while it's warm; however, you will get better thistle control by using a little less 2,4-D and adding a small amount of banvel (dicamba) to the mix.

Other herbicides like Redeem, Cimarron, and Curtail also can con-

This is for those of you with high maintenance, highly watered lawns. Lately we have seen some rust in bluegrass lawns. If you walk across a bluegrass lawn and end up with orange powder on your pants or shoes, the grass is infected with the fungal disease stem rust.

Symptoms include an orange-yellow powder, which are the fungal spores, on grass blades in late summer, and some yellowing or browning of grass blades. If you have a magnifying glass you can see slightly raised orange pustules on the grass blades.

Fortunately, rust disease is a minor problem for home lawns. It typically occurs on thick lawns (which hold the humidity higher) with slow growth. If you water, watering only when necessary (less frequently now that temperatures are falling) and in the early morning allowing the grass blades to dry during the day will help prevent rust.

Good fall care practices, including proper fertilization, promotes turfgrass growth and the rust disease disappears. Control with fungicides is rarely needed for home lawns. The disease does not overwinter in Nebraska; hence disease incidence is infrequent and occurs late in the season. If stem rust infect a sports fields, fungal spores can be as problem for allergy/asthma sufferers. Control of stem rust is recommended on sports turfs, but must be done in July and August to be effective.

Youth explore drones in world's largest youth-led engineering design challenge

BY Jackie Steffen,
Nebraska Extension Educator

Drones are revolutionizing the way we work and play, whether you are a filmmaker looking for the perfect aerial shot, a rescue worker mapping damage from natural disaster or a farmer determining how to increase crop yield. As drones play an increasingly important role in the world around us, 4-H National Youth Science Day (4-H NYSD) 2016 introduces youth to the burgeoning field of drones in a hands-on, interactive design challenge.

4-H NYSD is the world's largest youth-led engineering design challenge. This year's challenge, called Drone Discovery, teaches youth a wide variety of topics related to unmanned flight including flight dynamics, aircraft types, safety and regulations, remote sensing and flight control. Designed by Cornell University Cooperative Extension, the hands-on, three part engineering design challenge allows youth to experiment with fixed and rotary wing designs, explore the concept of remote sensing and dive into the world of coding for real-world drone applications.

While the official 4-H NYSD event took place on Oct. 5 in Washington, D.C., clubs, groups and schools around the world and specifically in Nebraska are also inspiring the next generation of STEM leaders, all taking part in what is known as the world's largest, youth-led science event.

Every year, youth complete more than 5 million 4-H STEM projects in robotics, agricultural science, rocketry, wind power, environmental science and alternative energy. A recent longitudinal study conducted by Tufts University, The Positive Development of Youth: Comprehensive Findings from the 4-H Study of Positive Youth Development, revealed 4-H programming does indeed get young people more connected to science.

According to the study, 4-Hers are two times more likely to participate in science, engineering and computer technology programs during out-of-school time (Grades 10-12) and 4-H girls are two times more likely (Grade 10) and nearly three times more likely (Grade 12) to take part in science programs compared to girls in other out-of-school time activities.

4-H, the nation's largest youth development organization, grows confident young people who are empowered for life today and prepared for career tomorrow. 4-H programs empower nearly six million young people across the U.S. through experiences that develop critical life skills. The research-backed 4-H experience grows young people who are four times more likely to contribute to their communities; two times more likely to make healthier choices; two times more likely to be civically active; and two times more likely to participate in STEM programs.

To learn more about 4-H and this year's 4-H NYSD experiment, contact your local Extension Office.
