A HERO'S WELCOME

(Contributed photo)

Regg Ward, Richard 'Dick' Carlson and Lonnie Nixon, all of Laurel, were among the 502 Vietnam veterans who took part in the Nebraska Vietnam Combat Veterans flight to Washington, D.C. earlier this year. They had high praise for the organizers of the event and those who welcomed them throughout the event.

Long-awaited welcome home finally comes

For more than 500 Vietnam veterans, a welcome home recently was much more pleasant than that 40 years ago.

The Vietnam combat veterans were part of a Nebraska Vietnam Combat Veterans Flight to Washington D.C. in June. Among those on the three planes were several veterans from this area.

The following information was put together by one of those on the flight, Dennis Otte and his wife, Keri.

"The one day trip to Washington, DC. for Vietnam veterans from Nebraska was absolutely fantastic - every detail from large to small was included.

The hotel staff was prepared to register guests quickly at the hotels near Cabela's in Omaha. After registration, a hospitality room was open. The veterans gathered for a banquet and entertainment the evening before the flight.

Dennis Otte, Darrel Walton and Mike Fluent of Wayne and Lonnie Nixon, Dick Carlson and Regg Ward of Laurel represented this area of northeast Nebraska. A total of 502 combat veterans were a part of the trip.

A group in full uniform, playing the bagpipes, followed the Color Guard into the ballroom. The Pledge of Allegiance followed. Large video screens allowed for the viewing of information about the trip, including pictures of the monuments in Washington, D.C.

Entertainment for the evening included two girls who had lost their father in Vietnam. Another family played their violins as others sang. 'Bob Hope' entertained with jokes and songs. Many allied countries sent men to Vietnam and one of the speakers for the evening was a man from Australia who had served in Vietnam.

The Bill Williams family (who organized the trip) spoke of how they could help the healing of fellow veterans and give them a proper welcome home.

"They exceeded our expectations by volumes," Dennis said.

The Nebraska veterans, along with approximately 50 guardians (including medical personnel) flew to Washington D.C. on three planes.

The day of the trip began early as the veterans began gathering at 2 a.m. in the lobby of the convention center between Embassy Suites and Marriott Hotels in Omaha near Cabela's.

Buses were waiting to drive the soldiers to Omaha's Eppley Airport to board the planes. The group was divided into three groups - red, white and blue. Each veteran was given a shirt to match the bus and plane they would be riding on. Each was also given a hat made especially for the day, a special coin and a pin.

The red group left first, followed by the white group and then the blue group.

"Timing was important throughout the trip as buses were also ready to load in DC," Dennis said.

The cost to have each plane transport the veterans to and from Washington DC was $78,000 and enough buses were leased for the day to transport the veterans in D.C. and in Omaha.

Veterans share their memories of the past

In observance of Veterans Day, the veterans who were a part of the recent Nebraska Vietnam Combat Veterans Flight shared information on their service time and thoughts on the recent flight to Washington, D.C.

All expressed deep appreciation to Patriotic Productions founder Bill Williams who organized the trip and all the activities surrounding it.

Lonnie Nixon of Laurel was 17 years old when he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps. After graduating from Wakefield High School, he began his service, first in Okinawa and later in Vietnam. His first tour of duty was from 1967-68 and his second tour from October of 1968 until mid 1969.

He was in charge of mechanized supply which controlled inventory.

"Huts were blown up across the road from where my hut was. I also took my turn on patrol while I was in Vietnam," Nixon said.

Following his discharge from the military, he flew into Traverse Air Base in California.

"There was no welcome home for those of

After a stressful election season, the unofficial results have come from the area. While several races were uncontested, there were numerous races that had multiple opponents.

The Presidential race went to Republican candidate Donald Trump and Vice President candidate Mike Pence. Several states were considered "too close to call" last night, but Trump made it to 270 electoral votes before Clinton, securing his position as the President Elect. In Wayne County, Trump held 2,675 votes versus Clinton's 828. Gary Johnson claimed 202 votes, while Jill Stein captured 35. Write-ins totaled 65 votes.

Joni Albrecht topped Ardel Bengtson, claiming the District 17 Legislative seat with 2,495 votes from Wayne County over Bengtson's 1,054. Albrecht garnered roughly 60 percent of the district's votes with 6,542 over Bengtson's 4,361.

In Wayne, 3 of the 4 wards had contested city council races. In ward 1, Nick Muir topped Douglas Sturm as the incumbent with 207 votes over Sturm's 155. Ward 2 saw Reed Allen fall to incumbent Jennifer Sievers by a margin of 49 votes with Sievers claiming 215 votes to Allen's 166. In Ward 3, Cale Giese ran unopposed, earning 324 votes over 15 write-ins. Ward 4 held on to its incumbent Jon Haase with 302 votes over Mark Bloomfield's 219.

Local Jerry Allemann ran against David Shelton for the Subdistrict 5 seat on the Lower Elkhorn NRD Board and won with 2,104 votes over Shelton's 787.

For the Wayne School Board of Education, the three candidates earning the majority of the votes were Wendy Consoli with 1,410; Lynn Junck with 1,268; and there was a tie between Mark Putnam and Jaimi Manz having 1,107 votes each. Others on the ballot were Casey Hurner, claiming 598 votes and there 20 write-ins.

Referendum No. 426, the vote to retain or repeal the ban on the death penalty, was on the ballot Tuesday. A vote cast to retain LB 268 (the ban on the death penalty) would uphold the ban; a vote to repeal LB 268 would reinstate the death penalty. Repeal votes in Wayne County came in at 2,711 while retain votes numbered 1,029. Statewide, roughly 60 percent of voters pushed for repealing LB 26, at 433,506 votes over retaining's 280,587 votes.

Other contest races included:

- Northeast Community College, At Large: Jeffrey Scherer over Ted Hillman at 1,582 votes versus 1,073.

- Cuming County Public Power, Subdistrict 1 (select 1): Dale Hansen and Fred Schneider are tied with 3 votes each. Clark Peterson received no votes.

- Wakefield City Council, Ward 2: Paul Eaton and Megan Weaver are tied with 57 votes each. There was 1 write-in.

- Winside Village Board (select 2): Kyle Skokan and Kristi Edwards were voted top two with 128 and 93 votes, respectively over Jeffrey Farran II at 75 votes, Jason Topp at 38 votes and Andrew Lowe at 46 votes.

Bail raised, attorneys appointed in Kubik murder case

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

At their initial appearances in court, the two suspects in the Kraig Kubik murder case each asked for court-appointed attorneys on Monday, Nov. 7.

County Court Judge Kurt Rager increased bail from $2,500,000/10% to $5,000,000/10% for both suspects, after appointing attorneys for each of them.

Preliminary hearings have been set for Dec. 6. Surber will be seen at 1 p.m. and Galvan-Hernandez's hearing starts at 1:30 p.m.

After finding human remains in rural Dixon County last week, Dixon and Dakota County Sheriff Offices along with the Nebraska State Patrol have been investigating a murder case that covered numerous counties as body parts were recovered.

Between law enforcement and a medical examiner, a positive identification was made. The remains were identified as belonging to Kraig Kubik, age 41. The medical examiner was able to determine that Kubik was the deceased based upon his findings.

Remains were recovered from rural Cedar County on Saturday, Nov. 5, approximately 4 miles from the initial location in Dixon County, which were also positively identified as belonging to Kubik. An autopsy revealed a gunshot wound to the head.

Based on the preliminary investigation results, two suspects were detained. Andres Surber and Brayan Galvan-Hernandez were charged with murder in the first degree as well as use of a firearm to commit a felony. Surber also was charged with possession of a firearm by a prohibited person.

Kubik was last seen Tuesday, Nov. 1 around 8:30 p.m. at his Dakota County residence. After Kubik's 5-year-old son commented at school about his father being harmed or killed, the Dakota County Sheriff's Office made a welfare check to the Kubik residence.

Upon their arrival, officers found what appeared to be a relatively fresh pool of blood, a blood trail and tire impressions. They made contact with Jaclyn Mahr, Kubik's girlfriend.

She informed officers she had heard from Kubik via text message around 10:40 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1, but hadn't seen or heard from him since.

She informed officers that she had watched taped security footage from inside Kubik's residence and observed two individuals at Kubik's residence around 10:43 p.m. that night. Mahr believed she recognized one of those individuals as Andres Surber.

Mahr informed officers she had been present earlier on Nov. 1, when Surber and an individual she knew as Brayan Galvan came to the residence demanding Kubik return a vehicle to Surber or make good on payment to him. She noted that Surber and Galvan were particularly aggressive and menacing during this confrontation.

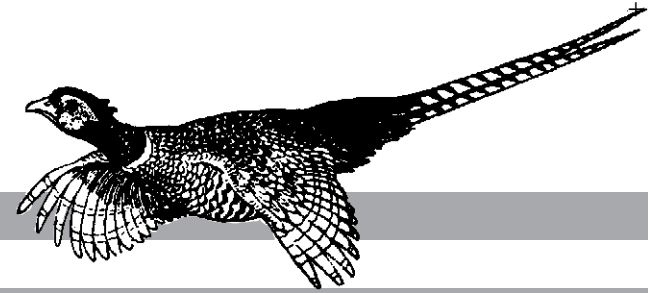

Deputies reviewed the tapes and agreed that one individual resembled Surber, whom they had previous law enforcement contact with. While they were unable to positively identify the second individual with Surber, they were aware that Brayan Galvan-Hernandez often associated with Surber.

After making contact with Galvan-Hernandez and Surber at Galvan-Hernandez's residence, officers found shoes with apparent blood stains on them, as well as

Habitat for Humanity to break ground on new home

The Habitat for Humanity group in Wayne has construction underway for a new home in town.

A ground breaking ceremony is planned for Sunday, Nov. 13 at 1:30 p.m. at the site of the new home, 319 South Nebraska Street in Wayne. The public is invited to attend the event.

The summer was spent planning, but that hard work is now starting to be realized for this groups fifth house build.

The excavation work has been completed and in the next few weeks footings will be in place and the foundation poured.

A number of Wayne State College students have worked on the build.

This Fall, Habitat is conducting a

"Phantom Dinner Dance" fund raising effort in which those who would like to help out financially can contribute without the usual requirements of scheduling an evening on the calendar or dressing up to go out.

Donations to Wayne Area Habitat for Humanity are 100 percent tax deductible and can be sent to PO Box 73, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Look for the official ground-breaking for the new home within the upcoming weeks.

Wayne State students in the Construction Management program work at the Habitat for Humanity site, along with instructors, Greg Worner, Don Buryanek and Dave Hix.

Reading activities keep elementary students busy

Wayne Elementary students have been busy with reading activities this school year.

In September there was a Book Fair with a Pirate Paradise Night. Families purchased some great books and helped benefit the elementary library funds.

"With book fair dollars we purchased the annual membership to a digital reading resource: BookFlix. It is a great online place for pre-school through grade 4 to find fiction and nonfiction pairs of books. It features both English and Spanish books with puzzles, meet the author and safe links to explore information about a variety of topics," said Joan Hansen, K-6 Librarian.

"If your child needs the login and password to use at home, please contact us," she said.

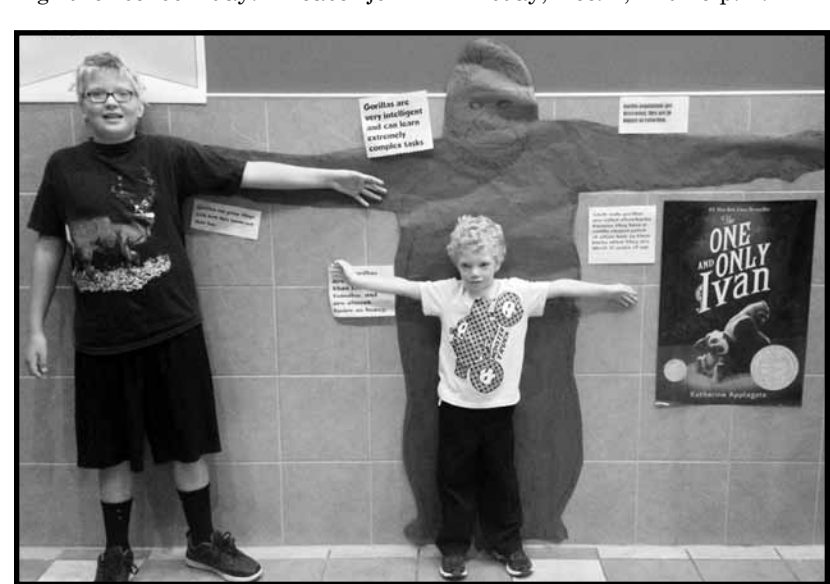

Also with book fair dollars the school was able to purchase over 50 new books for the library. Several copies of the current Golden Sower nominees are now available to prepare for the March Madness Book Battle.

The month of October was One Book month where every family, teacher, and staff was given a copy of "The One and Only Ivan." Families were asked to read an assigned portion each day together. There were various activities in our school to support the group reading. There were quote bookmarks, coloring pages, word searches, vocabulary builders, video of the real Ivan gorilla, assemblies and book displays. The daily comprehension questions were answered on raffle tickets and prizes were drawn each week. The weekly winners included: Wyatt Hiekes chose the book: Sea of Monsters; Laythn Hanish; Olivia Brandow chose Pete's Big Lunch; Mason Ley chose The Serpents' Shadow, and Anna Dutcher chose Pete the Cat Too Cool for School.

"We thank the community for donations to the foundation fund raiser and WEB for money to purchase these books," Hansen said.

The end of November will bring us in supporting our library and encouraging reading. Our hours will be 7:30-8 a.m. and 3:30-4:30 p.m., daily with a Grand Event on Thursday, Dec. 1, until 6 p.m.

The men were treated to breakfast on the plane during their flight. Photos were taken on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Wall and Korean Memorial.

"The ceremony at the Wall was especially touching. Many vets found the names of those who did not return. The Korean Memorial was almost ghostly as the realistic soldiers seemed to be moving and looking at the veterans," Dennis said.

A sandwich lunch was then served aboard the busses as the veterans were taken on a bus tour of the Capitol and Congress and other buildings. The veterans were able to watch the Changing of the Guard at Arlington National Cemetery as well as President Kennedy's grave with the Eternal Flame.

Next, it was off to the huge World War II Memorial. Next to the Vietnam Wall, this was very impressive.

Before leaving for the airport, the group stopped at the Iwo Jima Memorial, as well as the Air Force Memorial.

Back in Nebraska, the buses that had taken the veterans to the airport returned to the hotel and picked up the wives of the veterans. They were given snacks and bottled water for the bus trip and each was able to pick out a scarf.

The women were taken to Lincoln for a day of fun. The first stop was Memorial Stadium where they had their picture taken outside Gate 11 with the statue of Tom Osborne and Brook Berringer.

The women visited the trophy room, walked past the training room full of football players working out and viewed the names of the players that filled the walls of the halls.

"Some of the players walking the halls were a bit surprised by the large group of older women. The women were surprised at the height of some of the players," Keri said.

The women walked the hallway the players use to enter the football field, and touched the golden horseshoe as they passed by.

The women were welcomed on screen by Coach Mike Riley and had their picture taken in the bleachers. Then it was time to get back on the bus and head to the next destination - lunch.

The group ate at the railroad depot in the Hay Market District, complete with Pamela Sue singing patriotic songs. First Lady Susanne Shore welcomed the group and Governor Ricketts spoke.

Following lunch, the women divided into groups to tour either the Quilt Museum, the state capitol, take a Wyuka Cemetery walking tour or go to South Point Mall.

The next destination for the women was the Glacial Till Vineyard and Winery for wine tasting and pizza.

"We arrived back at the hotels in time to freshen up before leaving for the airport. People had begun lining up at 6 p.m. to welcome the veterans home. The planes did not arrive back until after 9:30 p.m.," Keri said.

The wives were escorted last into the airport past an estimated 5,000 people. There were Boy Scouts and veterans waving the American flag. There were Girl Scouts and school children handing out thank you cards and flowers. There were veteran motorcycle riders with military insignia on their vests.

"It was a blur of people welcoming us," Dennis said.

When all the planes landed, the veterans were escorted out of the airport by the Color Guard, followed by the bag pipes and drum group. They shook as many hands as they could and thanked them for coming out to welcome the veterans home.

"It was very emotional. The veterans had been welcomed at the airport in D.C., but it was truly amazing to see all these people there for these former soldiers in a war that was so controversial," Dennis said.

Eventually, human remains were found in the trunk of a car Surber owned that he had parked on property belonging to the Surber family.

Evidence was recovered by officers at that location, including a burn barrel and evidence of an accelerator investigators believe was used to burn evidence.

These findings paired with witness statements led the Dakota County Sheriff's Office to charge both Surber and Galvan-Hernandez with first degree murder among other charges.

Eagles Club tournaments lead to state poker win

By: Courtney Upham
Wayne Herald Intern

Nebraska native Dustin Baker won the state poker tournament, and soon will go on to nationals.

Baker first got interested in poker when it started being televised in the early 2000's, and has been playing ever since.

This recent state tournament was held in Goonie's Bar in Gering, NE, and there were around 55 people competing.

"It started out a little rough and I had to fold a few good hands early but I was able to be patient and got dealt a few good ones that I was able to accumulate a good stack," Baker said.

Baker explained that 7 individuals can compete in nationals from this State Tournament from the Free Poker Network.

"Once we got to the final 7, I was able to use an aggressive approach to get the win. I was confident but it definitely went better than I expected."

Tournaments are free to enter, and they are a bar league where you gain points each week. These tournaments are free to enter, but you must qualify to enter in the state tournament.

Baker received first place in the state tournament, so he received $250 to pay for travel to the national tournament in Las Vegas in January.

"If anyone is interested in playing we play at the Eagle's Club in Wayne on Wednesday nights at 7 pm and in Winside at Fugglie's Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.," Baker said. "There's also leagues in Norfolk as well. freepokernetwork.com for more information. Its a good time and a good group that gets together to play."

In fact, we were spit on and called all kinds of name, including baby killers," Nixon said.

He did note that his return to Nebraska was more welcoming than on the west coast.

In regard to his recent trip, he said that among the most memorable parts of the trip was the welcome home at the airport in Omaha.

"There were between 4 and 5,000 people there at almost 11:30 p.m.," he said. "We were treated so well. It was unbelievable... all the waving of flags and support," he said.

Mike Fluent was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1968 when he was 20 years old. He served as part of the 25th Division Combat Infantry as a scout when in Vietnam.

He served for two years before being discharged.

"We came back to California and it was not a hero's welcome. We were spit at and called names. When I got back to Nebraska it was better. People were more accepting," Fluent said.

He said he had visited Washington D.C. before, with his son who is currently serving in the military.

"For me, the most memorable part of the trip was the fact that when we got to the Wall, everyone who was on the trip, knew someone whose name is on it. Everyone knew someone who was killed in Vietnam," Fluent said.

He also said the welcome in Omaha was "overwhelming and amazing. I couldn't believe all the people. It was so much different than when we came home from Vietnam."

He credits Brad Wieland, Wayne County Veterans Service Officer for informing him of the trip and said he had been planning the trip for approximately six months.

Regg Ward of Laurel served in Vietnam from February of 1964 through November of 1965. He was drafted into the U.S. Army when he was 21 years old.

"I was part of the First Infantry Division, known as the Big Red 1 while I was in Vietnam," he said.

Because of the timing of his service to his country, he feels the war had not received as much negative publicity and his homecoming was not as bad as those who served later.

"When I got back to Omaha, my parents picked me up and nobody even really knew where I had been. I do know that later, the soldiers were treated terribly," Ward said.

Ward, who had visited the Vietnam Wall before, said on this trip he found the names of people he knew.

He said the best part of the trip was being able to visit with other veterans on what was 'an emotional event for families.'

Among his highlights were the homecoming gathering and the dignitaries who spoke to the soldiers, including Chuck Hagel, himself a Vietnam veteran.

"The banquet the night before we left was very impressive. I highly recommend this trip to any veteran who is eligible," Ward said.

Darrel Walton was drafted into the U.S. Army when he was 20 years old and served from May of 1970 to April of 1971. While in the military, he served as an infantry platoon sergeant.

He said that just prior to his departure a classmate of his was killed in Vietnam and while on the recent trip he was able to find his name on the Wall. He also found names of others he knew.

"In 1971, when we got back to the United States, we flew into the airport in Seattle, Wash. and there were a lot of negative comments made to the soldiers. Here in Nebraska, there was more of an attitude of indifference.

Walton said he had not been to the Wall previous to the trip and said the welcome, both in Washington D.C. and in Omaha were "very touching. We were treated like royalty everywhere we went. The trip was well organized."

He too encourages anyone who is eligible to look into going on the trip in 2017.

Dick Carlson of Laurel had joined the 133rd National Guard Unit in Sioux City, Iowa and was sent to Colorado Springs, Colo. before being sent to Vietnam in February of 1969.

"I was wounded on Memorial Day of 1969. I got hurt trying to save my sergeant. Because President Nixon was bringing troops home at that time, I came home in June of that year," he said.

Carlson, who was 21 years old at that time was one of 450 military patients who returned to the United States to a 'welcome' of tomatoes and rotten eggs being thrown at them.

"Things were much better in Nebraska, but nobody wore their uniform anywhere," he said.

It wasn't until 2006 that he was awarded a Purple Heart for the injuries he received in Vietnam.

Carlson said he has a number of highlights from his recent trip.

They include the nearly 5,000 people waiting for the veterans at the airport, talking to the other 'guys' and visiting Arlington National Cemetery and seeing all the white crosses.

"At the Wall, I found the names of three of the soldiers who were killed the week I was wounded. Almost everybody on the trip knew of someone who died in Vietnam," Carlson said.

The trip involved lots of tears and lots of hugs and Carlson would recommend others make plans to take such a flight in the future.

Dennis Otte shipped out of Tacoma, Wash. in mid July of 1966 and after 22 days on a ship, arrived in Vietnam. The 21 year old had been drafted into the U.S. Army with an M.O.S. of heavy weapons infantry.

While in Vietnam he was injured by artillery, patched up at a field hospital and went back to his company. He has earned a Purple Heart for his service.

He later returned to the U.S. via Mccord Air Base near Tacoma with "nobody there to welcome us home. Those that were there were calling the soldiers naughty names," Otte said.

While he has been to the Wall and the other memorials before, Otte said this trip was 'truly amazing' and said he particularly enjoyed the World War II Memorial which he said was 'unbelievable.'

He said he found the names of approximately 10 veterans he knew while at the Wall.

All of those taking part in the flight had high praise for Patriotic Productions, the group responsible for organizing and obtaining funding for the trip.

This trip was exclusively for Vietnam combat veterans, but another flight is being planned for the spring of 2017 for any Vietnam veteran.

More information about the upcoming trip can be found at www.PatrioticProductions.org.

PMC Recognizes Radiology Team during Special Week

Radiology professionals work with some of the latest state-of-the-art medical equipment on a daily basis, producing high quality images that help our doctors to quickly and accurately detect, diagnose and treat patients.

The Radiology Department at PMC is composed of five radiologic technologists and one vascular technologist, who performed 4,456 exams in 2015, which included in-house MRI and Ultrasound services.

This team of professionals specializes in breast imaging (mammograms), magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), computed tomography (CT scan), nuclear medicine, ultrasound, radiation therapy and general diagnostic radiology. Radiologic technologists complete an extensive scope of schooling, and prior to being accepted to a radiologic technologist school, complete months of prerequisites.

Once in school, 1200 hours of clinical practice and testing is required as well as more classes addressing patient care, anatomy and physiology, etc.

"We are very proud of each member of our Radiology team of professionals and we proudly recognize each one as we celebrate their contributions and accomplishments during National Radiologic Technology Week," said Jim Frank, CEO at Providence Medical Center.

Winside craft show and tour of homes is sure to please visitors

By Dianne Jaeger
For the Herald

Mark your calendars for Saturday Dec. 3 for a fun and exciting afternoon in and around Winside. Between the tour of homes and the Theophilus Country Church/Museum that was moved into Winside in 1987, along with the craft show, there is something for everyone.

The adventure begins at 12:30 p.m. in the Marotz Seed Building, 307 Main Street, across the street from the church and village park. Tickets and maps for the home tour can be purchased there and the craft and vendors are also there. The home tour will be from 1-4 p.m. and the craft show will be from 12:30-5:30 p.m.

Homes on the tour will include a 2800 sq. foot ranch style home in Winside built in 2001 by Harlin and Craig Brugger. It is occupied by the Marcus and Michelle Janssen family. In honor of Michelle's southern roots, it is decorated in Georgian Colonial style.

The other four homes are country homes within a five mile radius of Winside. One is the two story home of Bob and Janice Bowers that is decorated with a twist of antiques and modern eclectic. They have lived here for 37 years. The kitchen was remodeled in 1999 and a three car garage and a 12 foot addition were added in 2016. They will have a country Christmas theme.

The two story country home of Rick and June Bowers will be on the tour. The home was purchased in 1972 by Rick's parents Larry and Shirley Bowers. In 2014 Rick and June started a major remodel of the entire main floor which included the living room, master bedroom, bathroom, and the kitchen. They moved into the home in April of 2015.

The rural three bedroom ranch home of Brian and Tami Hoffman was built in 1982. A sun room and kitchen remodel was done in 2014. They will have a traditional country Christmas theme and are looking forward to opening their home for this fundraiser tour.

The country home of Mandy Bessmer was built in the 1920's and purchased by her in 2013. The only remodel she is aware of was to the staircase.

Funds raised from the tour of home will be used for the concession stand at the Winside Ball park.

There are over 20 craft and/or vendors in the Marotz building which include wooden items, flower arrangements, home made jellies, clothing and house hold items, jewelry, baked goods and many more. There will also be several concession stands selling food and beverages.

Above, the Theophilus Church/Museum in Winside was moved there in 1987 and will be included on the tour of homes. One of the homes on the tour this year, owned by Marcus and Michelle Janssen, is shown at top.

There will be wine tasting for the adults from 3-6 pm. But the kids have not been forgotten as there will be an appearance from 4-5 p.m. of Santa Claus. So bring the kids and bring your camera.

A gift basket drawing will be held at 5 p.m. and the winner must be present. Anyone who is still interested in having a table at the craft show can contact Vicky Owen at 402-640-4054 or email at VKowen@hotmail.com.

Bell ringers from community needed

It's that time of year again when in the hustle and bustle of the holidays, the sight of The Salvation Army's Christmas Kettles and the sound of the bells remind us to be thankful for what we have and to think of others less fortunate.

Often when people think of those in need, they picture large cities, not realizing the Salvation Army is hard at work in Wayne, America.

As cuts in social services take a toll on the poor, particularly the rural poor, The Salvation Army in Wayne is asking for the community's support. Proceeds from the campaign help local residents with emergency rent, utilities and prescriptions.

The Salvation Army is a United Way agency. Several local businesses have consented to having the kettles on display. Businesses with kettles are Wayne East, Shopko, Bomgaars, Quality Foods and Pac'N'Save.

Some churches belonging to the Wayne Ministerial Association have consented to bring their youth and congregation members out to ring bells for an hour when possible, along with a few Boy Scouts and 4-Hers.

There still are vacant slots that need to be filled on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings through the month of December. For more information, contact Phyllis Rahn at 402-375-16667.

Wayne State rugby teams host regionals this weekend in Wayne

By MICHAEL CARNES
Special to the Herald

The Wayne State rugby program will have some national exposure this weekend on its own front porch.

The Wayne Rugby Park will be the host site for the Central Regional of the National Small College Rugby Organization (NSCRO) tournament this weekend. Wayne State will host the four-team regional that includes MSU Moorhead out of Minnesota and Colorado-based schools from Western State and Colorado College.

Wayne State rugby coach Darrin Barner said Wayne State's facilities were highlighted in their bid to host the regional. The Wayne Rugby Park has already played host to NSCRO regionals in the past and was a central location for the four teams competing for a trip to Atlanta for the NSCRO Final Four.

"Having a good facility helps, and the organization here is solid and we have a good playoff atmosphere here, so that's a big help," Barner said.

Wayne State's women's team comes in with just one loss and is ranked No. 4 in the country, and Barner said this year's team has the makings of being even better than the back-to-back national championship teams that won titles in 15-on-15 action in 2012 and 2013.

"Our back line is the best I've had in 15 years here," he said. "They're explosive, fast, run with a serve and really move the ball well. Anybody who wants to see a good rugby game will like how talented our back line is."

"Our scrum is also playing hard and winning a lot of balls that helps set up our offense, and as soon as we get it we like to spin it wide and take advantage of our talent," he added.

The Wildcat women are led by Jasmine Kovacs, who was MVP of Wayne State's 7-on-7 national championship team that won its third straight NSCRO national title this past spring. Barner said she is the best passer he's had in the program and is a key element in the Wildcat offense.

Faith Sorenson is also a key player to watch, Barner said. Her power running makes her a key element in short-yardage situations and she will see the ball a lot coming out of the scrum from her flanker position.

The fourth-ranked Wayne State women's rugby team will play host to the NSCRO Central Regional this weekend at the Wayne Rugby Park. The Wayne State men's team will also be in action Saturday and Sunday with their regional play against John Brown University and Iowa Central.

Alex Feeley is also a key player to watch on the women's side with her motivational efforts as a senior wing player.

Wayne State will face No. 7-ranked Western State in a 2:45 p.m. matchup that follows a 1 p.m. battle between top-ranked and defending 15's champion MSU Moorhead and No. 15-rated Colorado College. Barner said the other Sweet 16 matchup should be an interesting one to watch as well.

"Moorhead is the defending national champion and Central Colorado looks solid as well," he said. "I think that game will be extremely close. Central might have the upper hand, but Moorhead won it all last year and they're going to be tough."

The winner of Sunday's 12 p.m. matchup will advance to the NSCRO Final Four Dec. 3-4 in Atlanta, Ga., and Barner said the winner of this matchup stands a good chance of winning the national title.

"This region's winner has won the national title five of the last six years, but there's no pressure on us to win so much as there is the pressure that comes with being the best 15's team I've had here," he said. "We're very explosive and I'm really hopeful that we can win this weekend and get to the final four."

Also on tap Saturday is men's tournament action. Wayne State's men will take on John Brown University of Arkansas at 11 a.m. in the second round of the NSCRO men's tournament, with the winner moving on to a 2 p.m. matchup Sunday against Iowa Central.

"There's nothing special about what John Brown does, but they're fundamentally perfect," Barner said. "They don't do anything tricky, but they do everything very well."

With players like scrum half Eric Harvey, Roman Fisch and Omaha native Joe Eddie, Wayne State has competed very well despite being a very young team.

"We've maybe overachieved a little this year because we're so young, but I'm happy with how the men's team has played this year," Barner said. "It will be interesting to see how this team competes in this environment. I'm sure we'll be underdogs because we start a lot of freshmen and sophomores, but it will be interesting to see how well we compete."

Prior to the start of the Wayne State women's game, the Wayne State rugby program will be presented with the North American Program Development of the Year award by USA Rugby. Rich Cortez of the USA Rugby's national Olympic office will present the award to Barner and team booster Rod Tompkins for the program's efforts in building a top-level small-college rugby program and facility, along with its promotion of the sport.

Wayne State senior guard Billy Patterson was presented with a special ball in January 1995 by then coach Greg McDermott in recognition of surpassing the 1000 point barrier during his career as a Wildcat.

Congratulations Rocky

Patterson still one of the all-time best

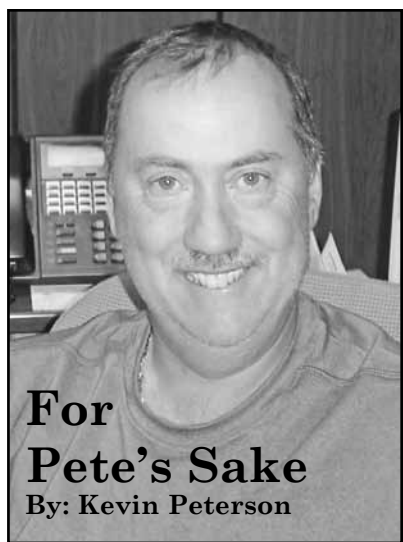

Last Friday night the Wayne State men's basketball team played Division I Creighton Bluejays at the Century Link Center in Omaha in an exhibition game. It was a unique experience for the players to interact with a highly touted Division I team this season and of course Bluejays mentor Greg McDermott, a highly successful coach for the Wildcats which culminated in a Sweet 16 appearance in 2000.

There wasn't a single person in the 15,000 plus in attendance that entertained the idea the Wildcats would waltz in and defeat the home team. No, this wasn't about that at all. This night was about bringing to Omaha many alumni that played for coach "Mac" when he led the 'Cats. A pre-game and post-game function was held at the Mattress Factory, owned by Wildcat alum Dennis Timmerman.

It was great to see the many former players that came to the event but my focus was on one particular basketball player who's career at WSC was highly successful. His tenure overlapped between coaches Mike Brewen and Greg McDermott. This particular Wildcat now lives in Ohio where he is a successful sales manager. His work ethic is the same now as it was when he was ballin' at WSC.

Simply put, Billy Patterson went to great lengths to win. He was relentless in working on his game to help the 'Cats. He had a stretch in the 1994-95 season that to this day ranks as nothing short of spectacular. He left WSC in the spring of 1995 as the all-time steals leader and all-time assist leader while averaging double figures in scoring. He poured in 30 against Briar Cliff in the 'Cats first win over the Chargers in nearly a decade. He tossed in 26 in the following game over Minnesota-Morris and 22 against Quincy. He closed out his senior year with 20 points, again against Quincy.

He easily surpassed the 1,000 point barrier and when he got hot from the outside it simply didn't matter who was guarding him. His parents were always very gracious about our coverage of their Chicago son and some of the nicest people I ever met. Yes Billy was at the Creighton-WSC contest last Friday but Billy spent time soaking in the memories of his time as a Wildcat some 20 years earlier. It was very

Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

rewarding for him to allow me to share in some of those memories.

Today, he is a husband, father, businessman and of course Wildcat friend to many. Of the quarter-century plus that I've covered WSC hoops I know I can say Billy Patterson is one of the all-time best.

I want to give a quick shout out to Rocky Ruhl who won the Wayne Country Club season-long match play event. The 50 participants that competed in the double-elimination format culminated with Rocky defeating Mark Putnam for the illustrious title. Completing the second year of the match play event Ruhl joins yours truly as the two champions.

Welcome to the fraternity Rocky. This is like we are building our own Heisman House.....

WSC's Kniefl gets his 300th win

Many milestones were surpassed for the Wildcat volleyball team as they dominated their road trip weekend against Minot State and the University of Mary on Friday and Saturday.

With the two wins, WSC improves to 21-6 on the year and 12-6 in the NSIC.

On Friday evenings game in Minot, S.D., Wayne State used a .391 hitting percentage to cruise to a three set (25-13, 25-16, 25-19) victory.

The Lady 'Cats recorded 15 kills and only one attack error to capture a 25-13 win in the first set, hitting .519 as a team. The second set saw Wayne State hold Minot State to a .138 attack percentage while forcing seven Beaver attack errors, to give the Wildcats a 25-16 win.

Senior Michaela Mestl became the career service aces leader at Wayne State, surpassing Julie Jacobsen (2002-05) and Shelly Lueders (1988-91) with a total of 161, by recording her second of the match to give the Wildcats an early 2-0 lead in the third set.

Wayne State used four kills from Junior Erin Gross and Mestl to lead the Wildcats to a 25-19 win in the third set and to complete the sweep.

WSC finished the match with a .391 hitting percentage and 42 kills, with only eight errors and 87 attacks. Minot State hit .173 with 33 kills, 19 attack errors and 81 attacks.

Gross led WSC with 15 kills in the match and a .520 hitting percentage. Mestl added 10 kills and two service aces to the match.

Humphrey High graduates Alysa Frauendorfer and Tarrin Beller each accounted for seven kills on the night. Haley Kauth and Mestl had seven digs apiece, while sophomore setter Megan Gebhardt had 37 assists in the match.

versity of Mary lead head coach Scott Kniefl to his 300th win as WSC's head coach. Kniefl is now 300-101 in his 12th year as leader of the Wildcat program.

Four players for the Wildcats recorded double digit figures in kills to lead to the defeat of the Marauders in the 25-21, 22-25, 25-14, 25-18 in Bismarck, N.D.

The Wildcats posted a .545 attack percentage in the first set, recording 13 kills, five by Beller, to capture the first set 25-21.

Mary came storming back in the second set with 18 kills and a .516 attack percentage to edge the 'Cats 25-22 in a set that featured 11 ties and three lead changes to even the match at 1-1.

Wayne State turned it up defensively in the third set, forcing seven Marauder attack errors, while Kauth produced two service aces to lead the Wildcats in a 25-14 third set win.

Mestl had the hot hand for the Wildcats in the fourth set with a team-high six kills to go with a service ace, as the Wildcats finished off the Marauders with a 25-18 fourth set win to take the match 3-1.

Wayne State hit .328 in the match with 57 kills while Mary recorded a .211 attack percentage with 53 kills. WSC had one more dig than the Marauders, 59-58, and held a 9-5 advantage in blocks on Mary.

Gross led a balanced Wildcat hitting attack with 14 kills, followed by Mestl and Frauendorfer with 13 kills apiece and Beller with 10. Mestl also had a team-high 18 digs for her 11th double-double of the season.

Kauth was credited with 16 digs, while Gebhardt handed out 49 set assists. Gross and Alex Opperman each recorded five blocks for the 'Cats while Kauth had two service aces.

The Wildcats close out the regular season at home next weekend hosting MSU Moorhead Friday night at 7 p.m. and Northern State Saturday in a 2 p.m. contest in Rice Auditorium.

Strong fight on Senior Day ends in disappointment for Wildcats

Wayne State College football had a promising start to Senior Day against Minnesota State-Mankato on Saturday afternoon, but the win slipped from the Wildcat's hands after Mankato's strong offense rallied the Mavericks to a 41-30 win at the Bob Cunningham Field in Wayne.

WSC falls to 3-7 in league play and 2-4 in the NSIC Southern Division, while MSU is now 7-3 overall and 4-2 in the NSIC South.

The Mavericks started strong, opening the game with a 91-yard kickoff return and then scored two plays into the contest on a Nick Pieruccini six yard run for a 7-0 lead, 52 seconds into the contest.

However, the Wildcats were determined to not let the game get away from them the defense forced a turnover as Wildcat freshman Shaq Paddy intercepted a MSU pass.

WSC converted the turnover into a touchdown as junior quarterback Zach Osborn found Keaton Slaughter on an eight-yard pass to give Wayne State a 10-7 lead.

The Wildcats scored again with a big play as freshman Odessa Clark blocked the opposing team's punt, putting the 'Cats at the MSU nine. Osborn delivered an 11-yard scoring pass to junior Nathan Rogers, putting WSC in front 17-7 with 51 seconds left in the first quarter.

Mankato controlled the ball for most of the second quarter after producing 10 points to tie the game 17-17 going into the half.

The Mavericks broke free of the tie early in the third quarter to take the lead over the Wildcats, who would trail for the remainder of the game. MSU's Gelecinsky kicked in a 32-yard field goal, pulling Mankato ahead 20-17.

MSU scored again midway through the third quarter as Pieruccini capped a 10-play, 88 yard drive with a three yard run, putting the Mavericks ahead 27-17.

Wayne State fought back on the next drive when Osborn found senior Nick Roth on a 52-yard touchdown strike that got the 'Cats within three at 27-24.

The score was too close for Mankato, who responded with a 90-yard drive that spanned 15 plays to increase the team's lead again when Fuller and Pieruccini teamed up on a four yard scoring play.

WSC battled back and scored on their next drive when junior Rashad Trimble found the end zone on a 14-yard scamper with 10:09 left in the game, trimming the Maverick advantage to 34-30 following a missed PAT kick.

MSU added some insurance points with 6:14 remaining when Pieruccini connected with Justin Arnold on a 19-yard pass, making the final score 41-30.

Minnesota State finished the game with 513 yards and WSC gained 459. The Mavericks produced 264 yards rushing and 249 passing, while the 'Cats were limited to 73 yards on the ground and gained 386 through the air.

Osborn was Wayne State's top rusher with 27 yards on 15 carries, followed by Rashad Trimble with 22 yards on two carries and one score.

Throwing the ball, Osborn completed 28 of 43 passes for a season-high 386 yards and three TD's.

Sophomore Shymere Williams led a balanced receiving group with seven catches for 125 yards followed by Sam Wegner with five grabs for 73 yards. Nate Rogers added four receptions for 58 yards and one score while senior Nick Roth had two catches for 61 yards and one score.

Jarrod Bazata and Tyler Thomson led Wayne State's defense with eight tackles each followed by freshman Shaq Paddy with seven stops and one interception. Benjamin Walls also had an interception for the Wildcats.

There are six NCAA seniors on the team for the Wildcats, as well as 24 for the visiting Mavericks.

Wayne State closes the 2016 season next Saturday with a 12 p.m. contest at fourth-ranked Sioux Falls.

Wayne State Coaches Show

Exclusively on mywaynenews.com

Interviews with Wildcat coaches Available online every Wednesday mywaynenews.com sits down each week to talk to Wayne State coaches about their teams' efforts throughout the 2016-17 season. We'll recap the previous week's games and talk about upcoming opponents.

Season ends for WSC Wildcat cross country

The Wayne State men's and women's cross country teams finished out their seasons at the large and competitive NCAA Division II Central Region meet on Saturday, held at the Yankton Trails soccer complex in Sioux Falls.

The course is a familiar one for the Wildcats, as well as other schools in the NSIC since it is the same course from the NSIC Championships meet two weeks ago.

Last year's men's national champion of the NCAA Division II track and field 10k, sophomore Vincent Kiprop from Missouri Southern, led the men's cross country race, winning the 10k race in 29:33.

The men's team for Augustana University, who were the NSIC champions from two weeks ago, won the men's division again this week with 65 points, followed by Missouri Southern (68), Northwest Missouri State (83), Moorhead State (147) and Lindenwood (201) to round out the top five. Wayne State finished in 23rd with 666 points.

WSC's Antoine Bardou finished 53rd with a time of 32:44. He was followed by Corbin Lehn in 145th (35:26), Isaias Solorio in 153rd (35:59), Noah Noeker in 161st (36:42) and Kak Ayaj in 162nd (36:57).

In the women's division, the University of Mary, the women's NSIC champions, topped out this race in first with 60 points, followed by Minnesota-Duluth (94), Southwest Baptist (121), Fort Hays State (143) and Pittsburg State (176) to round out the top five. Wayne State finished 31st with 874 points.

Senior Andrea DeSimone was the Wildcats top finisher in 123rd place with a time of 23:44, followed by Jamie Larson in 176th (25:10), Lexi Oswald in 184th (25:40), Josephine Peitz in 204th (27:14), Mary Alderson in 206th (27:46) and Sarah Post in 210th (31:40).

WSC's men's team remained the in the same finish as last season, 23rd, while the women's team did not have enough runners to field a full team and place.

This race marks the end of the cross country season and now the cross country runners will get a week off before picking back up with their training for the indoor track season.

WSC men's basketball starts off new season

WSC men's basketball open the season after playing exhibition game

An exhibition game for the WSC men's basketball team at Creighton ended in a 93-46 loss for the Wildcats. Five players for the Bluejays scored in double figures to lead Creighton in the victory held before a crowd of 15,128 at the Century-Link Center in Omaha on Friday evening.

This was the lone exhibition game for the Bluejays, while WSC is now 1-1 in exhibition games before the upcoming opening of the regular season Friday evening at Missouri Western.

Creighton's persistent defense against the Wildcats held WSC scoreless for the first six minutes of the contest, while the Bluejays scored 13 points.

WSC's Tony Bonner's layup at the 14:02 mark put the Wildcats on the scoreboard for the team's first basket of the game after starting 0 for 6 from the field.

After that, the Wildcats shook off the jitters and started making shots, as Luke TerHark and Jordan Cornelius both hit 3-pointers, allowing WSC to pull within eight of the Bluejays at 20-12 at the 10:55 mark of the first half.

Creighton, however, went on a 10-0 run over the next two minutes to take a 30-12 lead, scoring 16 consecutive points before the Wildcats ended the scoreless drought.

Back-to-back 3-pointers from redshirt freshman Ben Hoskins snapped Creighton's streak, making the score 38-18.

The Bluejays closed the first half with a 13-2 run over the final 5:54 to take a 51-20 lead at intermission.

Wayne State was close behind the Bluejays for the first segment of the second half as Creighton held a 16-14 scoring advantage at the second media timeout of the half.

WSC junior guard Brian Goodwin scored eight straight points for the 'Cats on a Wildcat run to make the score 63-32 at the 15:08 mark in the second half. Freshman Joshua Lane and Cornelius hit back-to-back 3-pointers for WSC to make the score 75-40, but WSC was held scoreless for the next 5:32, until Bonner put in the basket on an offensive rebound for the Wildcats as Creighton went on to finish with the 93-46 win.

Cornelius led Wayne State in scoring with 13 points, followed by Goodwin and Bonner with eight points each.

WSC finished the game making 14 of 51 shots for 28 percent, going 8 for 29 behind the 3-point line and 10 of 19 (53 percent) at the free throw line.

Marcus Foster led five Creighton players in double figures with 13 points. Khyri Thomas, Martin Krampelj and Maurice Watson Jr. each produced 11 points, followed by Ronnie Harrell Jr. with 10.

Creighton held a commanding 52-23 advantage in rebounds on the Wildcats, thanks to eight boards from Harrell Jr., while Kendall Jacks, JJ Zumbrennen and Bonner each hauled in four rebounds for the Wildcats.

WSC had 11 turnovers in the game, compared to Creighton's eight.

WSC will play again this weekend at the Hillyard Tip-Off Classic in St. Joseph, Mo., facing Missouri Western on Friday and Northwest Missouri State on Sunday.

Wildcat men's basketball team has high hopes with new head coach

Wayne State College has a lot of familiar faces on the roster but mostly new faces on the coaching staff entering the 2016-17 season. Jeff Kaminsky was named the 27th head coach in the 102-year history of Wayne State College men's basketball on June 15 and inherits a team that is coming off a 5-24 season last year and 3-19 mark in the NSIC.

Kaminsky has a 29-year resume with a history of rebuilding struggling college programs and will be asked to do the same at Wayne State College. He comes to Wayne after spending the previous 11 years at Valley City State in North Dakota where he coached the NAIA Division II program to a record of 183-144 with five 20-win seasons and two trips to the NAIA National Tournament.

"It's been an enjoyable pre-season," said Kaminsky. "We have a hard-working and coachable team. We are certainly still a work in progress as the players are new to most of the coaching staff and most of the coaching staff is new to the players."

Wayne State returns five starters to this year's team and is still young from the standpoint that the 15-member roster does not boast a senior.

"We have a skilled team that can play a lineup with five players capable of scoring on the perimeter," added Kaminsky. "One of the biggest strengths of our team early on is team chemistry. We have a team full of players who are great teammates."

Junior guard Matt Thomas (Elkhorn South) is Wayne State's top returning scorer and selected as the Wildcat to Watch in the NSIC this season after producing 16.5 points per game last season. He ranked 11th in the league in scoring last season and scored double figures in 26 of 29 games with eight games of 20 or more points.

Junior forward Jordan Cornelius (Sisseton, S.D.) is a two-year starter for the Wildcats and returns after averaging 9.7 points and 4.9 rebounds per contest last year.

Another key boost for the Wildcats this season is the return of 6-4 sophomore guard Kendall Jacks, who missed all of last season with a broken foot suffered three days before last year's season opener. The Bettendorf, Iowa graduate was Wayne State's top defender as a freshman in 2014-15 and accounted for 8.1 points and 3.9 rebounds per contest.

Also returning as a starter is Blair sophomore point guard Vance Janssen, who produced 7.4 points and 2.3 rebounds per game while also taking care of the basketball with 51 assists and just 30 turnovers starting all 29 games at point guard as a true freshman.

Junior guards Austin Esters and Brian Goodwin return after having solid seasons for the Wildcats. Goodwin started 13 games last year and scored 7.2 points a game with 36 3-pointers after transferring to WSC from North Dakota State College of Science while Esters (Pleasant Valley HS in Iowa) added 7.1 points a game while shooting 55 percent from the field.

Other returners for the 'Cats include 5-10 junior guard Tyler Nagy, 6-9 junior center Dovydas Burneika and 6-0 junior guard JJ Zumbrennen. Nagy (Brookings, S.D.) averaged 1.4 points per game while Burneika (Parkview Christian HS) accounted for 0.7 points and 1.6 rebounds while playing in 22 contests. Zumbrennen (Elkhorn South HS) appeared in all 29 games last season and scored 4.6 points a contest.

Ben Hoskins of Wayne, a 6-5 forward, and Luke TerHark from Algona, Iowa, (6-2 guard) both sat out last season as redshirts and will provide depth to the Wildcat roster this season.

Four freshmen round out the Wayne State roster this season - 6-8 center Tony Bonner of Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln in Iowa, 6-1 guard Keeston Hanks from Lawton-Bronson in Iowa, 6-1 guard Joshua Lane from King High School in Chicago and 6-2 guard Dillan Wolfgram of Laurel-Concord/Coleridge High School look to gain experience for the Wildcats this season.

"Our immediate goal is to get better every day," remarked Kaminsky. "It is the goal of our program to be highly competitive in the NSIC and the process of making that happen has already begun with the approach our team has. It must start with competing harder than everyone we will play. We understand we have a lot of work to do in order to get to the level we desire and we are looking forward to that challenge."

Coming off the program's worst record in school history last year, Wayne State is picked to finish 15th overall and eighth in the NSIC South Division in the Preseason NSIC Men's Basketball Coaches' Poll released Oct. 27.

"It's difficult for me to make predictions being new to the league," said Kaminsky. "I know it's an outstanding conference that is full of teams that can compete on a national level. It's exciting to be part of this conference."

The NSIC features defending national champion Augustana along with Minnesota State, who are ranked 18th and 17th in the NABC/Division II Preseason Coaches' Poll, along with St. Cloud State, listed 10th in the Division II

Sporting News Preview.

Kaminsky also inherits a rugged November schedule that finds Wayne State playing eight road games that include contests against two Division I schools and three more against NCAA Division II teams that are nationally ranked or qualified for the NCAA Division II National Tournament last season. Winning on the road has been a challenge for the Wildcat program having lost 17 straight contests away from Rice Auditorium dating back to Jan. 31, 2015 (77-75 win at University of Mary).

"Although it would be great to play some early season home games, the schedule we play will clearly help prepare us for the challenges of the NSIC," stated Kaminsky.

WSC opened the year in St. Joseph, Missouri Nov. 11-13 at the Hillyard Tip Off Classic, facing Missouri Western and #6 Northwest Missouri State from the MIAA. The Wildcats then traveled to Division I South Dakota State for an exhibition game on Nov. 16 and opened the NSIC slate at #18 Augustana Nov. 21.

WSC also plays non-conference road games in November at West Texas A&M and vs. Eastern New Mexico on Thanksgiving weekend in Canyon, Texas and return to Nebraska to close out the rugged November schedule at Nebraska-Kearney on Monday, Nov. 28, an NCAA Tournament team last year.

Wayne State plays at home for the first time on Friday, Dec. 2 host-ing #17 Minnesota State at 8 p.m. in Rice Auditorium where the 'Cats play 12 games this season.

"Our goal for the season is continue to get better," Kaminsky added. "It will be important to have our players understand the big picture and at the same time keep a focus on the next challenge."

Wayne State women's basketball team shoots for the stars for upcoming season

Wayne State College returns four starters and eight letter winners from last year's team that had a school record 12th straight winning season, going 17-12 overall and while finishing fourth in the NSIC South Division with a 13-9 league mark. It was just the second time in the last seven years that the Wildcats failed to advance to the NCAA Division II National Tournament under head coach Chris Kielsmeier, who enters his ninth season as leader of the Wildcat program.

"The strength of this team will be its depth and the drive of our players to be a great team," said Kielsmeier, who is 189-58 (.765) at WSC that includes a 132-40 record (.767) in the NSIC while leading the 'Cats to five trips to the NCAA Tournament with four NSIC regular season titles. "We have some returners that are very experienced and a good balance of younger players who are picking up the system very quickly. The upperclassmen are providing great leadership and have helped teach the underclassmen the standard of our program."

Headlining the group of four returning starters are a pair of juniors who earned All-NSIC honors last season.

6-1 forward/center Paige Ballinger (Pender) was a First Team All-NSIC selection last season after averaging 15 points, 6.3 rebounds and 1.9 blocks per game despite missing the final seven games with a broken foot. She was second in the NSIC in field goal percentage (.534) while ranking fourth in blocked shots and seventh in scoring last season.

Another key player back for the Wildcats is two-year starter Maggie Schulte (Wynot), a 6-0 junior forward who was a Second Team All-NSIC honoree last year after producing 14.5 points and 6.3 rebounds per contest. She ranked ninth in the league in scoring last season and was fourth in free throw percentage (.902) and 14th in 3-point field goal percentage (.375).

The Wildcat roster features three seniors, four juniors, three sophomores and four freshmen.

5-10 senior forward Anna Martensen (Belvidere, Ill.) started 28 games last season and averaged 7.2 points while grabbing a team-leading 6.3 rebounds per game. She recorded four double-doubles last season and shot 47.8 percent from the field.

Another returning senior is 5-8 guard Haley Moore (Milford) who produced 6.3 points per game while ranking second on the team in 3-point field goals with 39. Rounding out the senior class is 6-2 senior forward Katie Hoskins of Wayne, who sat out last season as a medical redshirt due to a knee injury. Two years ago, Hoskins played in all 34 games as a backup forward and averaged 3.2 points and 2.8 rebounds a contest.

A returning junior on this year's roster is 5-10 guard Kacie O'Connor, who scored 5.2 points a game last season to go with 3.1 rebounds per game.

The remaining junior is North Iowa Area Community College transfer Anna Eckert, a 6-0 guard who averaged 9.2 points, 5.7 rebounds and 1.9 blocks per game last season while earning All-Region Second Team honors while helping her team reach the junior college national tournament.

Returning sophomores are 5-7 point guard Maggie Lowe, 6-0 forward Andrea Larson and 6-3 center Taylor Reiner.

Reiner started the final seven games last season and accounted for 4.1 points and 2.9 rebounds per game. While playing just 12.5 minutes per game, Reiner recorded 33 blocked shots and ranked 10th in the NSIC with 1.3 blocks per game.

Lowe appeared in 28 games last season and averaged 1.8 points and 1.1 assists per game while Larson saw action in 22 games last year and recorded 1.9 points and 1.7 assists per contest. All three players will see significant roles for the Wildcats this season.

Four freshmen round out this year's Wildcat roster - 6-1 forward Amanda Brainerd, 5-7 point guard Evelyn Knox, 5-7 point guard Alexis McAfee and 6-4 center Taylor Wangerin.

Brainerd was First and Second Team Class 4A All-State at Central DeWitt High School in Iowa last season after averaging 17.2 points and 7.5 rebounds per game. Knox was a five-year letter winner and played on two state championship and one runner up team at Class 4A Hopkins High School in Minnesota. McAfee helped Sabetha High School in Kansas to a Class 3A runner-up finish as a senior averaging 13.1 points per game to earn First Team All-State honors while Wangerin was a five-year starter in basketball and Apple Valley High School in Minnesota and earned All-District and All-South Suburban Conference honors during her career.

"Our players had a tremendous fall and bought into what we were doing with weights, conditioning and individual workouts," commented Kielsmeier. "The kids have pushed themselves beyond their comfort zones and you can tell there is a clear direction from every single one of them to get better every single day."

Wayne State was picked to finish fourth overall and third in the NSIC South Division in the Preseason NSIC Women's Basketball Coaches' Poll released on Oct. 27.

"It will be another typical year in the Northern Sun," added Kielsmeier. "Lots of great teams and coaches where any given team on any given day can beat each other. It is a great conference to compete in."

The Wildcats opened the 2016-17 season at home on Nov. 12 hosting in-state rival Nebraska-Kearney at 6 p.m. WSC also plays non-conference home games vs. Peru State on Nov. 13 at 3 p.m. and Rockhurst on Nov. 18 at 7 p.m.

WSC also plays non-conference games at the Radison Hotel MSP North Classic in St. Paul, Minnesota on Thanksgiving weekend battling Jamestown College and Concordia-Portland.

Wayne State plays 14 of its 27 games this season at Rice Auditorium in Wayne, where the Wildcats are 99-9 under Kielsmeier over the last seven seasons.

"We really like our non-conference schedule and the way that it will set us up for tough, NSIC play," stated Kielsmeier. "We think the variety of these teams and their different styles of play will get us ready for the NSIC this season."

The Wildcats opened Northern Sun Conference play on Nov. 21 at Augustana University (6 p.m.) and will play their first home conference game on Friday, Dec. 2 against Minnesota State.

"Our goal for this season is to get better each and every day," added Kielsmeier. "We want our players to compete at the highest level and if we do that we feel like everything will play out the way we want it to. Our goal on the court has been and always will be to hang a banner in Rice Auditorium every year."

A donation worth a thousand words: area students receive Rotary dictionaries

Thanks to the Wayne Rotary Club, third graders in area schools have or will receive new dictionaries that belong to them.

Local students receiving the dictionaries include the following schools: Wayne, Wayne St. Mary's, Winside, Wisner-Pilger, Pender, Emerson-Hubbard, Wakefield, Allen, Walthill, Winebago, Omaha Nation, and Laurel-Concord-Coleridge.

The goal of this project is to assist students to complete the school year as good writers, active readers, and creative thinkers by having their own personal dictionary. The Wayne Rotary Club has given away over 3,000 dictionaries since the project started in 2007.

Rotarians who assisted with the Wayne Elementary distribution included: Bob Ensz, Kaki Ley, Darrell Miller (chair for this project), Carol Dunning, Jack Imdieke, Paula Peterson, and Anne Nolte.

The Rotary Dictionary Project is striving to give every third grade student in the U.S. their own dictionary. Over two million children received a dictionary in 2016. This is thanks to the generosity of sponsors, such as Rotary, who have participated in the project.

Debra Finn, Wayne County Clerk

Wayne, Nebraska
November 1, 2016

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting was called to order by Chairman Larson at 9:05 a.m. on Tuesday, November 1, 2016, in the upstairs conference room of the Courthouse. Chairman Larson, Members Burbach and Rabe, Attorney Pieper, Sheriff Dwinell, and Clerk Finn were present. Notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on October 20, 2016. A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was in the meeting room and accessible to the public.

Larson presented the following consent agenda items:

- a. Approve minutes of October 18, 2016 meeting as printed in the Commissioners Record
- b. Approve fee reports
- c. Approve payroll
- d. Approve withdrawal of Cusip #86333QAE9 and Cusip #55735CCF4 as pledged by State Nebraska Bank & Trust

A motion to approve the consent agenda was made by Rabe and seconded by Burbach. Roll call vote: Rabe, Burbach, Larson - aye; motion carried.

A motion to approve the regular agenda was made by Burbach and seconded by Rabe. Roll call vote: Burbach, Rabe, Larson - aye; motion carried.

Payment of claim number 16110019 for $26,145.32 to Northeast Nebraska Public Health was discussed. The claim was for costs incurred during a Mycobacterium Bovis (tuberculosis or TB) outbreak which began in April 2014 and continued into 2015. In a written recommendation County Attorney Pieper made a distinction between ordinary expenses which would be incurred by the Health Department on a day to day basis and those specific to responding to a communicable disease. Once full/part time employee expenses were deducted the remaining balance on Invoice No. FY 16-17-0005 was $746.14, and there was no remaining balance on Invoice No. FY 15-16-0000. NNPHD Director Julie Rother explained that their budget is for base funding and public health infrastructure, it does not have the funds to cover the costs of a communicable disease investigation. A motion was made by Burbach and seconded by Larson to approve payment of $746.14 on Invoice No. FY16-17-0005 and deny payment of Invoice No. FY15-16-0000. Roll call vote: Burbach, Larson – aye, Rabe – abstain; motion carried.

Sheriff Dwinell and Emergency Manager Kemnitz reported their handheld radios do not communicate directly with the City of Wayne or Dixon County and they would like to replace them. Motorola negotiated a state contract price on several models of radios with a savings of almost 40%. Replacement of seven handheld radios at about $7,000 a piece was approved.

Updating the county driveway policy to require county approval before construction, and development of a driveway application form were discussed. Highway Superintendent Casey will prepare a draft driveway application form for the board's consideration. A motion was made by Burbach and seconded by Rabe to approve Resolution No. 16-28. Roll call vote: Burbach, Rabe, Larson – aye; motion carried.

Resolution No. 16-28: "WHEREAS, the county receives requests for access driveways and culverts, and

WHEREAS, the following guidelines have been proposed to be applied to these requests: All driveway locations must be approved prior to construction and installed in such a manner as to ensure traffic safety and adequate site distances, under the direction of the Wayne County Highway Superintendent.

Farmstead Drives - Wayne County will furnish access across county road ditches to any new home site that has no existing access drive. The drive will be constructed with up to a 40' long culvert. Wayne County will determine size (if needed). Extra width will be at owner's expense. The location must be agreed to by Wayne County.

Farm Field Drives - Wayne County will furnish one (1) drive per inside 80 acres or two (2) per 1/4 section or corner 80 acres. Standard drives will be constructed with up to a 40' culvert. Extra widths will be at owner's expense. Wayne County will determine culvert sizes. Acreage's less than 80 acres will be provided one (1) access drive. All existing drives or fills, regardless of when or who installed them, are considered current drives.

Culverts – Culverts removed from existing drives or grade project drives will be the property of Wayne County, unless ownership by others is proven. Wayne County will determine if culverts are needed in driveways and what diameters are necessary.

Right-of-way – Dirt work in county right-of-way by owners/farmers/contractors must have permission from Wayne County.

Road Grade Projects – Existing drives will be reinstalled at no charge. Disturbed gravel drives will be regraveled by Wayne County.

Fence Line Ridge – Fence line ridge removal with a patrol along county road right-of-way will normally be done for free.

Wayne County reserves the right to remove any improperly placed fills, tile or culverts installed in county right-of-way, at landowner's expense.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Wayne County Board of Commissioners adopt the above-described guidelines."

A supplemental agreement to increase the compensation to translate the Public Involvement Materials to Spanish for Project No. BRO-7090(20) was reviewed. Motion by Burbach, seconded by Rabe to approve Resolution No. 16-29. Roll call vote: Burbach, Rabe, Larson – aye; motion carried.

Resolution No. 16-29: "Whereas: Wayne County and Felsburg, Holt & Ullevig, have previously executed a NEPA services agreement for a transportation project for which the Local Public Agency (LPA) would like to obtain Federal funds;

Whereas: Wayne County understands that it must continue to strictly follow all Federal, State and local laws, rules, regulations, policies and guidelines applicable to the funding of this Federal-aid project; and

NDOR Project Number: BRO-7090(20), NDOR Control Number: 32067, NDOR Project Description: Wayne West."

A motion was made by Rabe and seconded by Burbach to authorize the Chairman to sign Change Order #2 for Project Number: C-90(610), C009012415, Wayne Southwest. This change order reduces the contract price by $1,972.19. Roll call vote: Rabe, Burbach, Larson – aye; motion carried.

Just a thought...
by Calyn Dunklau

Hoping the heroes don't go unnoticed

This election has been all-consuming for our country. People who are normally silent when it comes to politics have metaphorical — and in some extreme cases very realistically — transformed into incredible hulks.

One wrong comment sends them into a fury, opening a floodgate of hatred to be spewed with such accuracy it leaves your head spinning.

The average Joes and Janes of the world have been lit ablaze on either side of the fence. Each ripping back their dress shirts to reveal an undershirt with "R" or "D" emblazoned upon their chest like a politically charged Clark Kent here to save the world from the evils from the other party.

Now, well now, the broiling has begun for the Democrats. The loss stings and there will be at least four years of harsh criticism on their part.

The Republicans are reveling. This was the victory they had hoped for. The future is bright as they look forward to the inevitable changes on the horizon.

Whether your candidate won or lost, there are some people who made it possible to live life as we know it.

Veterans. Whether you're a Democrat, a Republican, a Libertarian, a member of the Green Party, still riding the Bernie Sanders train or a fiercely loyal Rand Paul fan, you are that because once upon a time, a veteran made it their priority to keep this nation safe, to protect the freedoms we hold so very dear.

While there is a reason Veterans Day falls on Nov. 11 (it marks the anniversary of the end of WWI), I myself find it frustrating to have it so close to Election Day.

There are too many men and women who made it their mission to safeguard this nation's people, this nation's democracy, who deserve far more attention than they receive on Presidential Election years.

It truly baffles me that there could be such a thing as a hatred toward veterans.

I'm dumbfounded at the pictures and videos of people harassing troops returning home. People screaming, taunting, spewing profanities at men and women who had put their own safety to the back of their minds in order to keep our nation protected.

People holding signs condemning soldiers, belittling them, wishing harm on them.

It's something I can't wrap my mind around. This is probably in part to having veterans in my own family.

But I think an equally sized part is due to my respect for the freedoms I have the right to in this country. I think it has a lot to do with my unwavering loyalty to this nation. And most of all it points to my steadfast respect for the human life.

When so many put their lives on hold, devoted their entire lives and/or even laid down their lives to ensure I could walk into my polling place on Nov. 8 this year and cast my vote, ensuring I could print this editorial, ensuring I could put a political sign in my yard, how could I possibly hold anything in my heart for them that wasn't gratitude?

Without these people, we wouldn't have polling places to walk into. We wouldn't get to choose our President. Heck, we wouldn't have a President to choose.

Thanks to the thousands of selfless individuals who came before us, we have the right to protest the candidate we feel isn't right for the position. Thanks to those individuals, we have the ability to walk into a political rally and express support for our pick for the position.

The common denominator here? Our veterans. Those who shouldered the burden of our nation's security. Those who dedicated years of their lives to ensure our safety. Those who decided our freedom was their responsibility.

So before you cry or gloat about which candidate won, take a moment to thank a vet for their service.

Had they not stepped up and stepped in along the way, our nation would look a lot different.

In this instance, it doesn't make a bit of difference who you voted for.

Everyone can thank a vet.

The election is over, results known

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The election is over, the results are well known. The will of the people, has clearly been shown. So let bygones be bygones, and evil thoughts pass ...

There's an exciting conclusion to that little ditty I often heard my late father recite, but I'll let you use your imagination. It has something to do with party symbols, and that's that.

If we've learned anything, maybe it's time to stop playing partisan politics and get on with what's best for America, for the state and for local government.

We're adults and it is time we started acting like it.

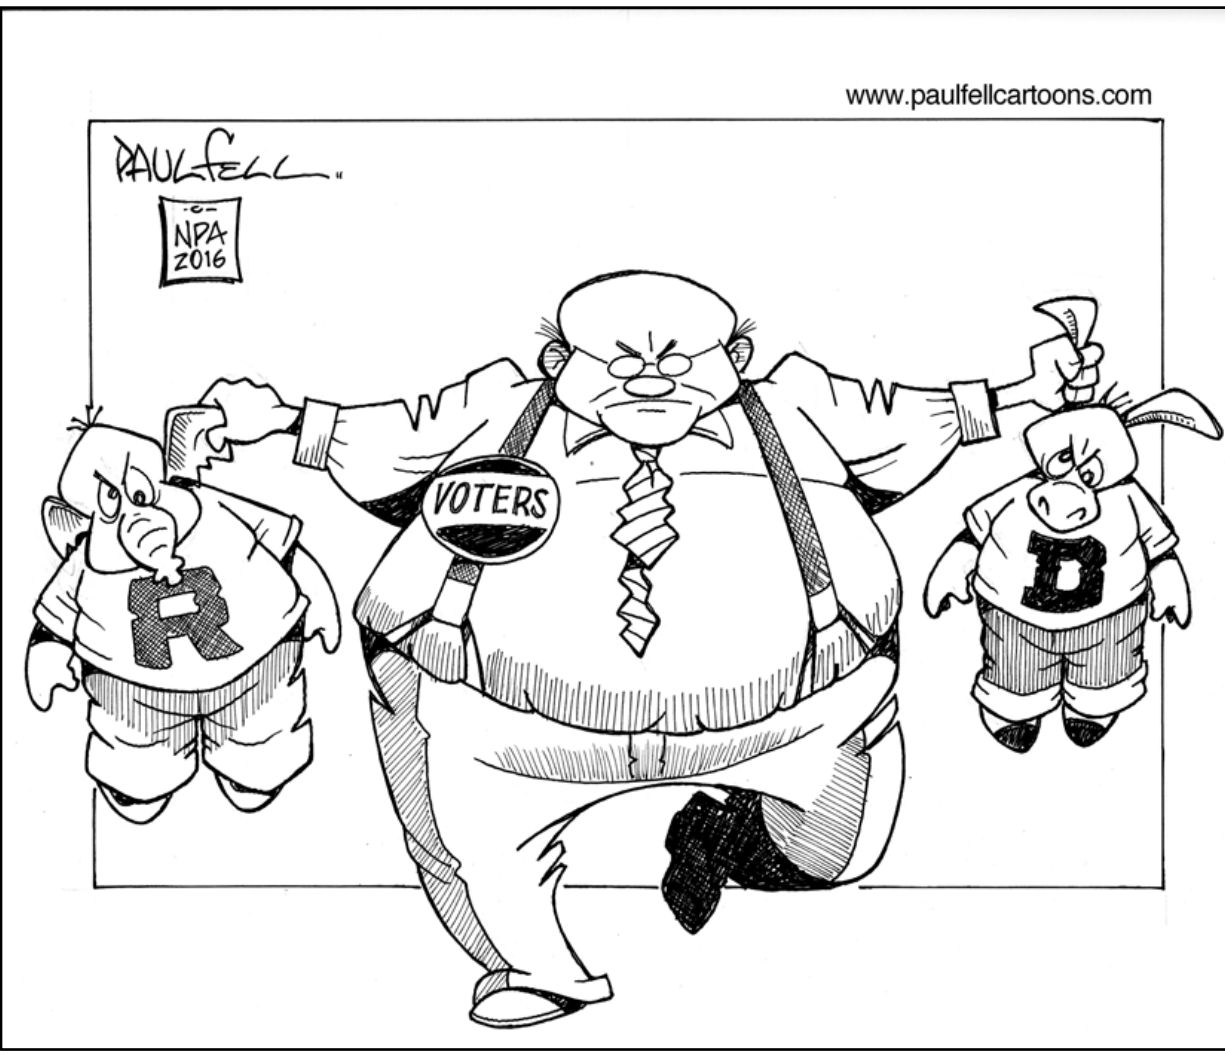

How about starting with civility and respect? You may have won or lost, but is it really that big a deal?

If you're reading this, the sun came up this morning. If you want to complain about that, stop for a minute and think about those who didn't wake up this morning. Now, go grab a cup of coffee and get on with your day.

It was an election. Half of the people won and the other half lost. But who is keeping score? Well, maybe the folks who said they were going to move to another country if a certain candidate won. Yah, like that's gonna happen. It's easier to bellow in your American comfort and watch about it.

Governor Pete Ricketts might be keeping score. He supported eight legislative candidates who were running against incumbents who had apparently offended him by overriding one or more of his vetoes during the recently completed legislative session.

Boy, that makes sense. Let's seek retribution at the sacrifice of four years of experience just because you didn't get your own way. Yes, some of those who voted against the Republican governor were also Republicans serving in a NONPARTISAN legislature. This isn't the playground where you sit outside the sandbox and throw dirt clods at those who are in the box.

But, I understand. Ever since the days of Governor Charlie Thone — a Republican — and his band of Thone Clones, it has been the desire of every governor to have his marching minions in the legislature to ensure that even his worst ideas will get passed because of the sheer numbers of senators who share the governor's party persuasion.

Did I mention nonpartisan? Nonpartisan: "not supporting one political party or group over another: not partisan."

Maybe that's what's wrong with America. I started my active political life as a Goldwater Republican and ended it as a Jimmy Carter Democrat.

I kept party affiliation on a back burner until I realized that declaring my independence (in 1999) would send a message. I have seen the upside and underbelly of both parties and have decided I did not like what I saw.

For the most part, being nonpartisan doesn't hurt. A number of people respect my decision, some have asked why; some have indicated they might join me. I am sure there are some who think me an idiot.

But, as America's two major political parties find themselves stuck in the holes they have dug for themselves, I find myself on some sort of high ground. While they try to reinvent themselves, change their demographics, and look for new ways to market and influence, I can just watch.

The only skin I have in the game is as a voter, an independent voter. I can support the person who exhibits the ideas I like and the talent to implement them without worrying about a label.

So enjoy your day. The sun will come up tomorrow and the next day and the next ...

Healthy fruits and veggies are plentiful late in fall

Some fruits and vegetables are easier to come by in the summer months, but a good variety is available in the fall and winter as well. It's important to include fruits and vegetables in your diet year-round to stay healthy and ward off diseases. Here are some of the superstar fruits and vegetables of the fall and winter months.

- 1. Sweet potatoes. They are loaded with beta-carotene (which the body makes into vitamin A), vitamin C, potassium, fiber, iron and vitamin B6. Sweet potatoes have more nutrients than regular white potatoes and can replace white potatoes in some recipes. Try them mashed, baked or as a dessert.
- 2. Apples. Apples are a traditional fall favorite and are easy to find in the supermarket or you can pick your own at a nearby orchard. They are a quick, easy snack and can be paired with peanut butter or cheese for protein. Apples contain antioxidants, which may help protect against certain cancers and reduce levels of LDL or bad cholesterol. Apples have vitamin C, vitamin K and fiber. Remember the old saying, "an apple a day keeps the doctor away."
- 3. Broccoli. This is one vegetable that can be eaten raw or cooked, hot or cold, by itself or with other foods. Broccoli can help prevent cancer and heart disease, and boost the immune system. Nutrients in broccoli include vitamin C, vitamin A, vitamin B6, iron, calcium, magnesium and vitamin E.

4. Pumpkin. Pumpkin is a great source of potassium and beta carotene, a powerful antioxidant that is good for the eyes. Canned or prepared fresh, pumpkin can be made into a variety of soups, baked goods and desserts.
5. Kiwi. This fruit can be eaten alone or can be added to many different dishes, including soups, salads and desserts. Kiwi contains antioxidants, which can help protect the eyes, heart and colon. Kiwi also provides vitamin C, fiber, potassium, magnesium and vitamin E.
6. Avocado. Avocados contain healthy monounsaturated fat. Even healthy fat is a dense source of energy, so it's important to eat avocados in moderation. They also contain vitamin E, fiber, potassium, folate and vitamin C. Avocados can be used on sandwiches or salads, or made into guacamole.
7. Green beans. Green beans are high in vitamin K which protects red blood cells and helps reduce the severity of asthma, osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis. They also contain vitamin C, potassium, folate, iron and magnesium. Green beans can be served as a side dish or used in salads, soups or casseroles.

8. Spinach. Dark green veggies contain a variety of nutrients a healthy body needs. Spinach is packed with vitamin A, vitamin K, iron, folate, magnesium, vitamin C, calcium, potassium, fiber and vitamin E. Spinach also has antioxidants and anti-cancer agents. Frozen or fresh spinach can be added to just about any meal.
9. Pears. They are a good source of fiber, antioxidants and vitamin C. Research suggests that regularly eating pears and other fruits may guard against macular degeneration. Pears seldom cause allergies and are usually safe for infants and small children.
10. Winter squash. It contains fiber, potassium, iron and vitamin A. Vitamin A helps ensure healthy skin, hair, vision and bones. Winter squash can be mashed, used in breads, desserts and soups, or as a snack or side dish.

Karissa Jean Hochstein and Tyson Daniel Robert Parks were married June 11, 2016 at 4 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church in Pickrell. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Pastor Jer Gilbreath.

The bride is the daughter of Dale and Laura Hochstein of Wayne. She is the granddaughter of Don and Elaine Hochstein of Coleridge and the late Louis and Lucille Peter of O'Neill.

The groom is the son of Dan and Sandra Parks of Steinauer. He is the grandson of Gerald Dorn and Donna Chumney of Filley, Ron and Elmyra Graham of Tecumseh, Alodyne and the late Melvin Parks of Pawnee City.

The guests were seated by Brian Hochstein and Brad Hochstein, brothers of the bride, Aaron Block, friend of the groom, Drew Fossler, cousin of the groom, and Schuyler Hoflen, cousin of the groom.

Candle lighters were Katelyn Bohlmeier, Addison Dorn, Riley Dorn, and Michaela Parks, cousins of the groom.

The bride made her grand entrance to Trumpet Voluntary and was escorted by her father. She carried a bouquet of ivory and gold flowers. Bette Becker, aunt of the bride, created all the floral arrangements.

Kayla Conroy, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor while Kristin Hochstein and Kiara Hochstein, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids. Other attendants were Cassie Eickhoff, sister of the groom, Shawna Sargent, cousin of the bride, and Jen Bodfield, friend of the bride.

The flower girls were Adelyn Hochstein, Emersyn Hochstein, Olivia Hochstein all nieces of the bride and McKinley Skiles, friend of the couple.

Dion Parks, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen included Evan Skiles, friend of the groom, Tandon Dorn, cousin of the groom, Ross Eickhoff, brother-in-law of the groom, Sean Potter, friend of the groom, and Sean Bartholomew, friend of the groom. Ring bearer was Mike Parks, uncle of the groom.

Soloist was Sara Horstman, friend of the bride. Organist was Shirley Gronewold, friend of the couple. Reader was Jim Weeks, friend of the groom.

Jayne Droge, cousin of the groom and Rebecca Parks, sister-in-law of the groom served as guest book attendants and distributed programs.

The reception was hosted by the bride's parents on the acreage of the groom's parents, in their beautiful barn. The reception area was decorated with round and rectangular tables covered with black and white linens. Every table had its own unique appearance with assorted ivory, black and gold plates, vases, flowers and candles.

The bride is a 2004 graduate of Wayne High School. She then received her Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Doane College in 2008 and her Physical Therapist Assistant degree from Southeast Community College in Lincoln in 2012. She works for Husker Rehabilitation and Wellness in Beatrice.

The groom is a 2005 graduate of Beatrice High School. He received a Bachelor of Psychology degree from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock in 2010. He is currently employed at Southeast Community College in Beatrice as the Associate Head Baseball coach.

Trust us. She doesn't want a blender.

How would the United States look without God?

For this newspaper article, I would like to borrow a story that Ravi Zacharias told on a broadcast entitled: "God's Blueprint for Your Life." Ravi tells a story about Eugene Peterson, a profound Christian theologian and writer of our day.

As Ravi relates the story, Peterson was working in New York City in his early days. There was a janitor working on the property who would not say a word and would never look at anyone. The janitor never smiled or talked to anyone. He just did his job pushing the broom up and down the hallways.

One day, Peterson engaged him in conversation and found out this janitor was a very intelligent man and a very gifted artist. Peterson found out the janitor had come from Germany and endured many of the tragedies of Nazi Germany. After a time, Peterson and the janitor struck up a friendship and the janitor said to Peterson, "I want to do something for you. I want to paint a portrait of you, but you cannot look at it until it is completely done." So Peterson agreed. After the painting was done, Peterson was horrified at what he saw. Peterson showed it to his wife and she shrieked as though in pain. The painting made Peterson look absolutely horrid.

Peterson went back to the janitor and asked why he painted him to look so awful. Peterson said, "I don't look like that at all." The janitor said, "You are right, I painted you the way you would look if the love of God ever left your life." I want you to see that so you always remain faithful.

The janitor said, "I came from a country where God was forgotten and then all hell broke loose. When God was forgotten in my country, life became very ugly. You are a fine young preacher, with excellent sermons and teachings and love towards others. You are a beautiful man. I just want you to see what you would look like if you ever forgot God."

Ravi goes on to explain the meaning of this story for his radio audience. The picture we know of the United States is a beautiful picture, based on biblical principles of ethics, liberty and personal responsibility as framed in the founding documents of our nation. In the broadcast Ravi then asks the question what would happen in our nation if we forget the principles which we as a people have cherished, hold as dear, and obey, are forgotten.

If we forget that upon which we have been founded, then life will become ugly in our nation, just as life became ugly in numerous nations before us.

Ravi's story of a janitor painting an ugly, horrid picture of what Eugene Peterson might look if Peterson forgot God serves as a good reminder for us to ask, either individually or as a nation, what we would look like if we forget God. Forget God and the picture of life in our nation is not good.

As the public square of our nation is being sanitized by the removal of God, we are seeing that ugly picture being painted right before our eyes. "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people he chose for his inheritance" (Psalm 33:12).

Acme Club learns about the national parks in the U.S.

President Ruth Victor called Acme Club to order on Oct. 17. The Thought for the Day, given by Bonnadell Koch, was "Silence is not only golden; it is seldom misquoted," as stated by Bob Monkhouse.

Roll call asked each member for her favorite season of the year and reported all members present. Pat Straight gave the yearly report as prepared, following the secretary and treasurer reports.

The club discussed two books and selected one to be purchased in honor of the life of Mary Doesch.

Following the meeting, Ruth Victor presented the first in this year's series on U.S. National Parks.

The United States has 59 protected areas known as national parks that are operated by the National Park Service, an agency of the Department of the Interrior. National parks must be established by an act of the United States Congress.

On March 2, 1899, President William McKinley signed a bill passed by Congress authorizing the creation of Mount Rainier National Park in the state of Washington as the nation's fifth national park.

It was the first national park created from a national forest

Mount Rainier is a popular peak for mountain climbing with some 10,000 attempts per year with approximately 50 percent making it to the summit.

The park encompasses 369.35 sq. miles, including all of Mount Rainier, a 14,411-foot stratovolcano, the highest point in the Cascade Range.

Around it are valleys, waterfalls, subalpine meadows, old-growth forest and more than 25 glaciers.

The Isaacs are a multi-award winning family group from Tennessee. The group will be performing at Our Savior Lutheran Church on Nov. 19.

Concert by popular group to raise funds for those in need

The Isaacs, a multi-award winning family group who began singing 35 years ago are based out of Hendersonville, Tenn. will be presenting a concert in Wayne on Saturday, Nov. 19.

The concert will be held at Our Savior Lutheran Church. Doors open at 5 p.m. and the concert begins at 6 p.m.

Committee members have been asked several times, "What brought Our Savior to make the decision to bring The Isaacs to Wayne?"

Steve McLagan has been following The Isaacs for 10 years now. Whenever they were within driving distance, Steve and his family would go see them. Steve had a passion to bring The Isaacs here to Wayne.

"We have a wonderful facility and why not bring them to Wayne to share their message," Steve said, "Every song they sing has a message about their relationship with God. The Isaacs not only bring great music but they give a wonderful message as well. The Isaacs bring a concert that is more of a one on one setting because of their fellowship with the people. They get very personal and are very relational."

Deb Hammer said, "When Steve McLagan presented the idea to Our Savior's Senior Ministry Team, the team decided this was something we all wanted to do." We decided to do this as an event for the community and wanted the proceeds to go somewhere that could really use the funds. We decided to use this event to help Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACAM).

WACAM helps those with emergency needs in our community. The funds for WACAM come from our congregations and community worship events such as the upcoming Thanksgiving service which will be held on Sunday, Nov. 20 at 5 p.m. at Praise Assembly of God Church. A soup and pie supper will follow with a free will offering going to the WACAM fund.

WACAM was unable to help people last May when funds ran low and they had to redirect people to get the help they needed. United Way gives a generous donation which helped the funds over the summer. The account is now down again and Our Savior hopes the proceeds from the concert will help boost the fund.

Emergency funds are for people who find themselves with nowhere to turn and are in need of groceries, prescriptions, rent assistance, electricity assistance, gas to get to doctor's appointment, auto repair and motel assistance if they have no place to stay.

From January of this year, through September, WACAM has assisted 83 individuals or families in the amount of $8990.48.

The current balance in the WACAM fund is $946.55.

Our Savior's Senior Ministry team members are very pleased with the funds they have received through grants and fundraisers to help bring The Isaacs to Wayne.

"We especially thank The Gardner Foundation, Our Savior Foundation and The First Presbyterian Church for the grants received. We wish to thank the community for the support for following fund raisers: Carnival Games at Henoween, Old Fashioned Ice-Cream Social with the Front Porch Pickers in Bressler Park, Pancake Feed as a Thrivent Action Team Project and Majestic Theater Concessions," McLagen said.

"We look forward to Nov. 19 and spending the night with our community gathered around to hear great music and faith stories from The Isaacs!! Hope to see you there," McLagen said.

"Remember these is no fee at the door. Rather, we recommend you give a free will offering that will go to WACAM. ($10 per person suggested donation," Hammer said.

The Wayne State College football team poses for a photo after they helped unload all the Mercy Meals food off the trailer.

Mercy Meals packaging event unites community, college

A Mercy Meals Packing event was held Nov. 1-2 at Cup of Grace in Wayne.

"One of the goals that I have in doing the Mercy Meals events is to get community people and college students working together. It is a joy to see college students and community people working side-by-side on a common goal, having fun, and doing something positive," said Pastor Carl Lilienkamp of Grace Lutheran Church.

During the two-day event, at total of 46,114 meals were packaged and approximately 280 people were involved either planning, unloading the trailer, packing, cleaning up and re-loading the trailer.

Among the community organizations involved was Providence Medical Center. The hospital sent a group both days in support of Mercy Meals and Cup of Grace event.

"I think both sides - that is college students and community people - can learn something from each other," Pastor Lilienkamp said.

Mercy Meals of Nebraska is a non-profit organization that allows volunteers to package nourishing food that will be delivered by the Orphan Grain Train to children in need throughout the world. Orphanages, refugee camps, feeding centers, disaster relief centers and local food pantries have been recent recipients of the Mercy Meals. The packing of food gives participants a sense of self-empowerment, civic duty, world awareness, kindness toward fellow men and women and appreciation for the blessings of daily life.

The food is highly nutritious, a well-balanced meal providing a source of easily digestible protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins needed to reverse malnutrition. The Mercy Meals food product is made up of four dry ingredients that are easily packaged and need only boiling water to prepare. The food bags are 3-ply for strength and can keep for long periods of time.

Last year 770,000 meals were packed through Mercy Meals. Because everyone at Mercy Meals is a volunteer and the food is shipped by Orphan Grain Train, the food is packed and shipped for an amazing 12 cents a serving.

Diabetes class to address 'Are You Tired of Being Tired?'

The Control Diabetes for Life program on Wednesday, Nov. 30 will be offered from 1:30 - 4 p.m. at Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department, 215 N. Pearl Street in Wayne. Participants are asked to pre-register for Control Diabetes for Life by calling Nebraska Extension in Wayne County at (402) 375-3310. Please register by Monday, Nov. 28, so the proper number of handouts may be prepared.

Everyone feels tired now and then, but are your energy stores totally depleted? Think of it this way: If you blow a fuse in your house, you can't expect to get power back by lighting a few candles and searching for food with a flashlight. You have to find the bad fuse, replace it, and re-set the system. Same goes for your energy. Before you reach for the big Cs to snap out of your sluggishness (you know...cookies, candy carbs, and caffeine concoctions), there are things that you can do that are more powerful in restoring your energy.

It is important for those diagnosed with diabetes — both males and females — to learn as much as possible about the disease and make self-management of the disease a top priority in their lives. It is also important for family members and friends of those with diabetes to learn up-to-date research based information on diabetes and self-management. Those diagnosed with diabetes, family members and friends are all invited to participate in the Nov. 30 session of Control Diabetes for Life. Of particular interest during this program will be practical hints for increasing your personal energy.

To build up your personal physical energy you have to make time for yourself. So much to do and so little time to do it. If you don't make an effort to put yourself on your daily to-do list, you know you'll be overbooked. You know that physical activity is so important for health, energy, weight management and longevity, today find a way to get to it, even if you lack desire or don't believe you have the time. Exercise energizes, and once you make it a regular part of your day, even in small increments, excuses like lack of time, energy or motivation will no longer be an issue. If you want better energy, choose to make a few smart changes with your eating habits every day. Even if you hold on to some of your favorite foods, you can make big strides through bite-sized improvements. Attend to learn how your personal daily habit practices improve your physical energy levels.

Fitting diabetes into your life style is the key message. Diabetes does not have to dictate how you live. If it has been a year or more since you last participated in a diabetes education session, now is the time to make it a priority to update your knowledge and skills so you can care for yourself and your family.

University of Nebraska—Lincoln Extension and Franciscan Care Services invite you and your family members to participate in this diabetes educational program. Participants will learn about current issues related to diabetes from educators with over 25 years of team-teaching experience with the in-depth Living with Diabetes series.

Topics that will be covered during the Nov. 30 session include: How Medicine Works to Control Blood Sugar Levels, The Diabetes Arthritis Connection, 10 Steps for More Energy, Managing Alcohol with Diabetes, Insight from Food Diaries, along with other helpful hints. Participants will receive recipes for diabetic appropriate foods.

Team-teaching the program will be Deborah Willcox, R.D., L.M.N.T., and Stacie Petersen, B.S.N., and Certified Diabetes Educator both of Franciscan Care Services in West Point and Debra Schroeder, Nebraska Extension Educator in Cuming County.

These sessions are designed to supplement the education that you receive from your local diabetes education team and not a substitute for diabetes classes through your local health care providers.

Looking Nifty at Fifty Happy Birthday Terry!

"Celebration of Youth XXIII: A Harvest of Creatives" ran from Sept. 26 through Oct. 15 at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery. A public reception honoring the artists and their families took place Oct. 15 in Room 11 of the Home Economics Building on East Campus.

This year Michaela Fehringer, daughter of Michael and Penny Fehringer of Wayne had her Quilt Quest Harry Potter Quilt chosen for the exhibit.

Each year, 4-H youth from across the state compete at the Nebraska State Fair in the 4-H areas of clothing, home environment and Quilt Quest. The Hillestad Gallery spotlights the prize winners in each category, allowing audiences to see the creativity, invention and craftsmanship involved.

About 140,000 youth participate in 4-H in Nebraska. The youth, ages

5-18, are involved in camps, clubs, school enrichment and after-school programs organized by Nebraska Extension. Educational programs such as the Quilt Quest, home environment and clothing curricula represented in this exhibition place strong emphasis on key life skills including critical thinking, problem solving, social skills, communication, responsibility, citizenship and leadership.

The Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery is part of the Department of Textiles, Merchandising and Fashion Design in the College of Education and Human Sciences.

The gallery is located on the second floor of the Home Economics Building, near 35th Street and East Campus Loop. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and by appointment. Admission is free. For more information, call (402) 472-2911.

Tenderheart rescue is closing

With sadness for the end and joy for all the dogs and cats that have found good homes through our efforts, we announce the closing of Tenderheart Animal Rescue and Sanctuary.

In the 4 years that we have been open 150 dogs and cats have had a chance at a better life because of this effort.

The rescue was made possible by the generosity of the Wayne community through donations of many kinds, especially the pasta and sandwich feeds that were so well attended.

Thank you to all who helped in any way.

The pets that were saved make it all worth the time involved. We are pleased to have been a part of it.

Reminiscing about changes in our lifetime

I'm going to try to forget the nightmare football game; and have not even read sports pages about it. It does not deserve to be remembered, except for the fact that our prayers for Tommy were answered, and I guess that's the important part.

Marlyce and Jerry finally arrived from Orlando on the 27th, a direct flight to Omaha. They spent the next three days in Waco with her brother and nephews. She also checked out the corn on her farm way south of Waco. Then, they came to Lincoln on the 31st.

We have never had trick or treaters in this cul de sac. I think the neighbors to the south may have had two granddaughters, but they did not make it here.

So, we had an old fashioned farm supper of roast beef and mashed potatoes and gravy, with pumpkin bread pudding for dessert. And then we just talked!

We communicate by email a lot, and by an occasional phone call, but

By: Pat Meierhenry

face to face, over the dinner table, is best by far. On Tuesday, we headed to Seward for a mini class reunion. Here, we were in a private room of the café, and after the buffet, could sit around and talk some more. We had to laugh when we said we never thought sixty years ago that we would be discussing our cataracts and joint replacements.

Sixty years ago, they did not do joint replacements! Folks with osteoarthritis simply stopped moving and the joints froze. That's the thing we old nurses discuss when we get together. Which we had done just a couple weeks before that.

We drove to Valley to take in the Simply Delicious restaurant there, and then checked out the banquet room, the gift shops, and an art gallery. We took the "scenic route" home! Yes, I was driving.

When you think about the changes in medicine since we graduated, it takes your breath away. What will the next fifty years bring? Well, I'm sure it will include more telemedicine, and more robots!

The grandson now in med school tells me they are learning that computers can diagnose x-rays and MRIs more correctly than trained radiologists can! He thinks the jobs are going to be in geriatrics, and he may be right!

This year, we have lost two members of our high school class, and a third one is battling chronic things that have taken her to the hospital and to Madonna. This makes our get togethers just that much more important.

Our book club is reading A Lantern in Her Hand by Bess Streeter Aldrich. I finished it this afternoon, for the third time! And each time, I bawl. It's on the list of 150 books to read by Nebraska authors for the Sesquicentennial, and I highly recommend it, even if you read it long ago.

It captures what our ancestors did to conquer Nebraska, and make it possible for all of us to go to school and to have "The Good Life". We just need to be reminded at times. I heard a rendition of Boyd Bacon's composition of America the Beautiful and Beautiful Nebraska yesterday, and that helped me to remember. It's all good!!

Mulching advice offered by horticulturist

Here's some information from my favorite horticulturist Kelly Feehan, Extension Educator in Columbus. November is typically the month to mulch tender plants for cold temperature protection. However, it is important to wait until plants are dormant and air temperatures are consistently dropping into the low 20s overnight.

With above average temperatures in October and so far in November, when should winter mulch or other protection be applied this year? And what if we have a repeat of November 2014 when temperatures suddenly dropped into the low 10s after a warm spell?

It remains important not to put mulch, or covers like rose cones, in place too early. If applied before plants are dormant, the risk of injury increases. If mulch is applied too early, hardening off can be delayed and the chance of cold temperature injury increases. If plants are not dormant, a mulch layer can suffocate plants or cause crown rots.

While gardeners need to wait to mulch tender plants like Chrysanthemums, strawberries and some roses, warm temperatures are delaying dormancy and setting plants up for cold temperature injury.

If there is a sudden drop in temperature, even plants that do not typically need winter protection can be at risk.

About all we can do is watch the forecast. If temperatures remain warm and then a sudden change is forecast, cover valuable plants with blankets or have mulch nearby. Rake mulch over plants for the night. If plants are not dormant, the mulch should be raked off to the side after temperatures warm again.

Once plants are dormant, or temperatures consistently dropping into the 20s overnight, cover plants or their bases with a six to 12 inch layer of straw, wood chips or coarse leaves. With strawberries, a one to two inch layer of coarse leaves or six inches of straw is about all that is needed.

While mulch can protect herbaceous perennials, it does not protect woody plants like trees and shrubs from sudden temperature changes. If temperatures remain warm and there is inadequate hardening, the cambium layer of trees can be injured if temperatures drop suddenly.

However, there is not much that can be done to protect trees other than to prevent drought stress. Trees stressed by dry conditions are more likely to be injured by cold temperatures than plants that received adequate moisture throughout the season and into fall. Our timely rains this year may help decrease the risk of injury, but the last few weeks have been warm and dry.

Check soil around plants. If it is dry, water early in the day to moisten soil. Do not overwater. Do not water late in the day so standing water freezes around plant stems overnight.

Use at least a four foot ring of mulch around trees and shrubs in place of letting grass grow right up to plant stems. A three inch deep layer of mulch maintains soil moisture and decreases drought stress throughout the growing season.

Also be aware the use of landscape rocks or crumb rubber as mulch can delay fall dormancy. Inorganic mulches absorb heat during the day which maintains warmer temperatures around plants overnight. In a fall with above average temperatures, this can delay dormancy further and increase the risk of cold temperature injury.

American Broadband Customer Notice

American Broadband provides basic and enhanced telecommunications services within its service area. Basic services are offered at the following rates:

Single Party Residence Service $15.59/month

Single Party Business Service $24.59/month

Local residence and business service includes voice grade access to the public telephone network; minutes of use for local service provided at no additional charge; access to 911 emergency services; and toll limitation for qualifying low-income consumers

The Nebraska Telephone Assistance Program (NTAP) is available for qualifying customers. This program provides for monthly service discounts on telephone service. NTAP reduces the cost of local phone service by up to $12.75 per month. Toll blocking at no charge and reduced deposits are also available through NTAP. NTAP is administered by the Nebraska Public Service Commission

NTAP and Toll Blocking support is available from American Broadband. These programs provide discounts to eligible low-income consumers to help them establish and maintain telephone service.

NTAP assistance lowers the cost of basic, monthly local telephone service. Eligible consumers can receive up to $12.75 per month in discounts. In addition, the Federal Universal Service Charge is not assessed to consumers participating in Lifeline.

Toll Blocking prevents the placement of all long distance calls for which a subscriber would be charged. Toll blocking is available to eligible consumers at no cost. Also, by choosing this option, consumers are usually not charged a deposit.

To qualify for NTAP, subscribers must either have an income that is at or below 135% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines, or the subscriber, one or more of the subscriber's dependents, or the subscriber's household must receive benefits from one of the following assistance programs:

- Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP)
- Federal Public Housing Assistance (Section 8)
- Medicaid
- Children's Health Insurance Program / Kids Connection (SAM, MAC or EMAC)
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); (formerly the Food Stamps Program)
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)
- National School Lunch Program Free Lunch program
- State assistance programs (if applicable)

To receive an NTAP application, contact your local Health and Human Services agency caseworker or the Nebraska Public Service Commission, 1200 N Street, Suite 300, PO Box 94927, Lincoln, NE 68508-4927, Phone: 402-471-3101, Toll Free: 1-800-526-0017 or https://ntap.gisworkshop.com/

American Broadband's voice service is a Lifeline-supported service. Only eligible consumers may enroll in the Lifeline program. Lifeline applicants must present documentation demonstrating eligibility either through participation in one of the qualifying federal assistance programs or through income-based means. Lifeline recipients are required to recertify their eligibility every year. The Lifeline program is limited to one benefit per household, consisting of either wireline or wireless service. A household is defined, for purposes of the Lifeline program, as an individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline is a government benefit program, and consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain the benefit can be punished by fine or imprisonment or can be barred from the program.

If you have any questions regarding telecommunications services, please call American Broadband's office at (888) 262-2661.
