Fever. Body aches. Fatigue. Sore throat. At some point, we've all been there. There being a bed or couch -- moving only for necessary tasks and hoping that the chicken noodle soup in front of us holds the magic needed to invigorate our immune systems.

And more often than not, disappointment ensues because chicken noodle soup isn't magic. Especially the kind from the can.

This year a vast majority of the population has been hit with the flu, and in some cases, the flu again. Or the flu paired with some other illness like bronchitis or sinus infections.

Influenza A, commonly known as the flu, is a very contagious air-born virus that is more prominent during winter and early spring. The virus attacks the body by spreading through the respiratory systems.

With the flu, the likelihood that a person will be running a high fever lasting for a number of days is very high. A person showing symptoms may also have body aches, weakness and fatigue, cough, sometimes congestion or sore throat.

"Sometimes it's hard to tell the difference health problems, children under the age of between the flu and other respiratory infections," Julie Rother, Health Director of Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department, said. "But usually if you have a fever and either a cough or a sore throat and some body aches that is a good indication that it is the flu.'

If a person is showing these symptoms they should contact their doctors.

"We don't necessarily want people to go to the hospital if they are showing symptoms of the flu," said Rother. "The flu is caused by a virus and a lot of time all we can do for it is treat the symptoms.

Going to the hospital just increases the chance of spreading the virus to others.

That being said, people with underlying

5 and elderly can have more complications with the flu than other people and are considered to be a higher risk. Those people should stay in very good contact with their doctors

"If you start to notice you are having symptoms of the flu, contact your doctor as soon as possible," Rother said.

By contacting a doctor right away they can decide whether or not to prescribe antiviral, which can decrease or lessen the severity of the symptoms. They can also cut down the amount of time that a person is sick.

Other ways of treating the flu involve getting plenty of fluids, get a lot of rest, and taking medicine that will treat the symptoms.

"Tylenol and ibuprofen are good for reducing fevers," said Rother. "We really don't recommend aspirin, especially with children under the age of 18 because aspirin can cause other very serious complications for children.'

It is very important for people who are sick with the flu to stay home and not mingle with anyone. A person with a high fever should not go out until they have been fever

Personnel, building project addressed at special meeting

By Clara Osten

Two hirings were approved and plans made to move forward on a building project during Monday's special meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education.

Board members approved the hiring of Dennis Dolliver as Junior High Principal/Athletic Director for the 2017-2018 school year. He will receive a salary of $88,000.

Also hired was Kiley Koch, who will be teaching English Language Learner (ELL), Business and Spanish classes. Koch will also be assigned coaching duties which have not yet been determined.

A considerable portion of the meeting revolved around the building/remodeling project at the high school set to be completed before the start of the 2017-2018 school year.

Jay Spearman with Ameritas Investment Corp. spoke to the board on the financing of the project.

He explained that the district could borrow money short term and re-pay it with money put into the Building Fund in the next fiscal year. He said the paperwork for the bonds could be completed sometime in April and his preliminary estimate of an interest rate is 1.35 percent.

Following Spearman's presentation, the board voted to borrow $1,215,000 for the project.

The final item on Monday's agenda was the approving of a contract with TIJ Construction LLC from Council Bluffs, Iowa for the Locker Room/CTE project.

Jon Carlson with Carlson, West Provanda Architects spoke to the board on the changes that have been made to the project in recent weeks in order to lower the total cost of the project.

Through discussions with the schools' building committee and the contractor, $84,437 in work has been removed from the project.

Among the changes will be paint, flooring in certain areas and counter tops in the Tech area.

The contract for the project was approved and work will begin in the boys locker room area of the school before the end of March.

The next regular meeting of the board will be Monday, March 13 at 5 p.m. in the junior-senior high school library.

Council accepts bid for electrical distribution project

By Clara Osten

clara@wayneherald.com

A light agenda resulted in a relatively short meeting for Wayne City Council members on Tuesday.

A bid was awarded to a Minnesota company for the "West Inner and East Inner Distribution Project.

Tim Sutton, Electric Distribution Superintendent, told the council that four bids had been received and the recommendation was to accept the low bid of $690,290.43 from Karin Peterson Power Line Contracting, LLC.

Work is scheduled to begin on the project in late April or early May and continue into 2018. The project involves boring into the ground and placing electrical lines underground.

There are several areas of the city involved including an area in the south central portion of the city, between Douglas and Sherman Street to the north end of town. This will involve approximately 10 blocks in this area. The second area runs from the Power Plant east to the lagoon and then north to an area between Dearborn and Walnut Street.

Council members tabled an agenda item that would have amended or adjusted the amount the city would contribute to the cost of employees' health insurance.

The item had previously been discussed in regard to offering incentives to employees who got physicals and those who were nontobacco users.

Several other options were discussed at Tuesday's meeting, and the city's ability to legally ask certain things of the employees was questioned.

Currently, an individual with a single plan pays $88 per month for coverage and an employee with family coverage pays $340 per month.

Additional discussion will take place at a future meeting.

Council members approved the job description for a cook to be hired to prepare meals at the Wayne Senior Center.

This person will work 29 hours per week and the job would begin sometime in mid-June as the Senior Center will begin preparing meals in-house in July.

Anthony Cantrell, on behalf of Waye High School, was given permission to block off a portion of East 10th Street from Angel Avenue to Hillside Drive on Saturday, April 8 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. An electric vehicle rally is scheduled to take place that day in the Bankcard Center parking lot.

An agenda item regarding the purchase of wind turbine power from a Nebraska wind turbine project was tabled because all the information needed to make a decision was not yet available to the city.

Bryce Meyer, Director of the Wayne Community Activity Center, spoke to the council on a proposal to amend the fees for the use of key fobs at the Activity Center and the swimming pool fees for 2017.

Meyer said a one-time, $5 fee will be charged for those who already have the fobs at the time of their membership renewal. Those seeking new memberships will be charged a one-time $10 fee if they wish to have a fob.

Swimming pool rates were set to allow those two years and younger to swim for free with a paid adult.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, March 21 at 5:30 p.m. at the Wayne Senior Center.

Jacob Powell shared, "I like Culinary because it challenges me. We try unique dishes." Shanda Lambert said, "I've really enjoyed trying new and challenging recipes. I also love working together with my kitchen. They always make cooking a fun time."

Why do you read?

Sometimes I read to escape. Other times I read to pass time. For instance, reading while waiting for an appointment makes the time go fast. I have found reading is much more satisfying than watching TV. My mind, with the help of the author, can create anything that I can imagine. I read to learn. I have undertaken some rather large projects in the past that have required much reading. I have built an airplane in my garage. When I was in high school, I built a model A Ford. Recently I built a 20 foot wooden boat. All of these projects required many books.

Have you ever had to give up on a book?

Name a book you would recommend and tell everyone why they should read it.

Somebody suggested that I read Rainwater by Sandra Brown. It turned out to be something totally different. The book is set in the depression era in Texas. A rather touching story about a single mom trying to make ends meet running a boarding house. A mysterious border arrives and changes her life forever. I would recommend the book for a nice change of pace.

Is there anything else you'd like to comment on about your passion for reading?

I started reading when I was in grade school. The first I remember was the Bobbsey Twins books. My sister had some of the Nancy Drew reading about the history of WWII. No shortage of books about Hitler, and I enjoy reading the biographies of the famous generals. I like history very much so I have read Jeff Shaara's books on the Civil War and Newt Gingrich has written Historic novels that are educational and entertaining.

Area departments respond to house fire near Wakefield

Volunteer firefighters from Wakefield, Allen-Waterbury and Wayne battled a house fire on Monday afternoon.

+ 4A

At approximately 3 p.m. the firefighters responded to a call of a house on fire approximately five miles north of Wakefield at the home of Mike and Jamie Anderson. A passerby saw smoke coming from a second story window. The fire had started in the basement. The cause of the fire, which was investigated by the State Fire Marshall's Office, is officially listed as undetermined. No one was home at the time, but one pet was lost in the

The firemen tried to make an interior attack but the fire was too hot and the structure was unsafe as the floors had begun to collapse. The firemen were on scene until approximately 8:45 p.m.

Wakefield Fire Chief Adam Ulrich said, "Through strenuous efforts by the fire departments on scene, we were able to leave all the walls intact to allow the family to retrieve as many belongings as possible. That was a huge win for us." In addition to the firefighters, crews from Northeast Power were on scene to shut off power to the house.

Several members of the Dixon County Sheriff's Department was on scene.

"We'll also join all international HEARTS Teams by video conferencing and other social media into Global HEARTS Teams' to share understanding, screening data and best practices."

The project also has a strong local connection. Engebretsen explained that she and her team plan to partner with Northeast Nebraska Area Health Education Center in Norfolk Student Health Club members.

"In Ethiopia and Nepal most high schools have health clubs, so we will recruit students from those clubs," she said. "We are also collaborating with Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department and University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Public Health.'

Engebretsen said she decided to apply for the Fulbright Global Award after returning from Ethiopia and Nepal in February 2015.

"I faced a terrible dilemma, having enthusiastic invitations to collaborate from two established institutions – Bahir Dar University College of Medicine and Health Sciences in Ethiopia (BDU) and Children's Hospital for Eyes, ENT and Rehabilitative Services in Kathmandu, Nepal (CHEERS)," she said. "As director of Multicultural and International Programs, Dr. Leah Keino has been an important mentor and advisor from the beginning; she discovered that Fulbright had a new program awarding scholars who were working in two or Engebretsen stressed that the award is the culmination of her partnership with several campus administrators and international partners.

"This is not 'my award'. It is 'ours," she said. Becoming a Rotarian with the Wayne Rotary Club in 2010 was without question the most important foundation to this, leading to youth exchange programs, a large humanitarian global grant for water wells in South Sudan, which opened doors in Ethiopia, sponsoring scholarships for World Affairs Seminar in Waukesha, Wis., which opened doors in Nepal."

Wildcats get Florida win to end 10-game slide

The Wayne State softball team ended a 10-game losing streak Monday with a win in the second day of a week-long series of games on their annual spring break trip to the National Training Center Spring Games in Clermont, Fla.

After dropping its last three games by one run each, the Wildcats picked up a 6-2 win Monday evening over Findlay (Ohio).

Katelyn Wobken had a triple and 3 RBI to lead Wayne State at the plate, followed by Emily Chandler with two hits. Wayne native Abbie Hix added an RBI double in support of winning pitcher Nataliah Hopkins, who pitched a complete-game win.

In their first game Monday, Wayne State saw Rockhurst rally for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to post a 4-3 win over the Wildcats.

Wobken hit a leadoff homer in the top of the first to get Wayne State on the board. Rockhurst tied the game in the bottom of the third, but Wayne State put up two runs in the sixth on a two-run double by Monique Alyea, scoring Hix and Sarah Hunter, who was on as a pinch-runner for Melanie Alyea.

After the Bobcats scored two runs in the fourth, the Wildcats answered with three runs to make the score 7-5. Wobken produced her second triple of the game that scored Hix, Shumaker and Hopkins.

In the bottom of the seventh, the Wildcats scored a run and left the tying run on second to end the game. Joe Cleary named new Wayne State College soccer coach Wayne State athletic director Mike Powicki announced Tuesday that Joe Cleary is the new head coach of the Wildcat women's soccer program.

"I am very pleased to announce Coach Joe Cleary as our next head women's soccer coach," Powicki said in a news release. "Wildcat women's soccer is a program on the rise and over the past two years Coach Cleary has been a large part of our improvement. He is truly invested in the success of our student-athletes and team. In addition to Coach Cleary's abilities as a coach and his passion for WSC soccer, he is also able to provide stability within a program that has not had a lot of it from its coaching staff over the past 10 years."

Powicki added, "Our goal is to continue to develop this program into a perennial winner and in order to accomplish that there has to be consistency with your coaching staff. With the student-athletes we currently have on the team and recruiting class coming in, I believe our soccer program is in a great position and I am excited for our future."

Cleary has spent the last two years as an assistant coach at Wayne State College and helped the Wildcats to just the second winning record in 11 years this season, going 9-6-3 overall and 6-6-3 in the NSIC. The nine overall wins for WSC this season were the most since 2006 and marked a five-win improvement from the previous season (4-11-3) while the six conference wins this season were the most for a Wayne State women's soccer program since 2005.

Prior to arriving at Wayne State, Cleary served as a graduate assistant at the University of Mary in 2014 and also coached at Concordia College (Minn.) in 2013, was a volunteer assistant women's coach at Wyoming in 2012 and assistant with the University of Mary men's program in 2011. Cleary also has five years of high school coaching experience in North Dakota that included a fourth-place finish in the North Dakota State Girls Soccer Tournament while coaching at Bismarck St. Mary's Central in 2015.

"I would like to thank Mike Powicki for the opportunity to become head coach at Wayne State College," remarked Cleary. "I am thankful for the support he provided both myself and the program during the coaching transition. I am excited to continue working with a great group of players as we look to build on the success from the past season."

Cleary added, "Becoming a head coach has always been a goal of mine and to be able to achieve that goal at Wayne State is truly special to me. I believe with the continued support of our athletic department, college and community the program can continue on the path of success that we started under Coach Erickson."

Wayne State returns 16 student athletes to next year's team, which includes one senior, eight juniors and seven sophomores combined with a signing class of four recruits and more signings expected. The Wayne Herald – Thursday, March 9, 2017

Lots of excitement with state basketball tournament

We've had quite a wind today! Some trees, and even a light pole, were blown over. And it's dry. Makes one wonder about the rest of the year, but I guess it's too early to worry.

A real sports fan commented in Bible study a couple of weeks ago that we always get snow for state basketball tournament, but not this year. We did watch a lot of the championship games on Saturday, and there were some really close ones.

A week ago, we were disappointed when Lutheran High fell to Randolph in their subdistrict game.

We knew they had a chance for a wild card, but we had to wait quite a few days to know the outcome. Lourdes in Nebraska City had been ranked number one by the papers, and Lutheran number two.

Of all things, Lourdes lost in their district game! We knew they had an automatic wild card. So, now, it was up to West Point Guardian Angels and Dundy

The Farmer's Wife By: Pat Meierhenry

County-Stratton.

Somehow, the Kants in Norfolk were keeping track of all these games. And I was getting periodic updates via text. GACC won easily. But the other game did not start until 8 p.m. our time, because it is on Mountain time.

I thought to myself, just where is Dundy County, anyway? Here I am, rooting for them, and I don't know a soul on their team or even where they are located. So, to the search engine on the computer. They are at Benkelman, Nebraska. To my knowledge, I have never been to Benkelman. Plus, even though they are a county wide school, they have even attached another school,

For an entire hour, I was getting texts: first, they were ahead. Then, they were behind. Then, tied. Finally, pulled ahead again. The suspense was awful!! Be the time of the 10 p.m. news, we knew that DCS had won, and that LHNE would play the first round of the state basketball tournament right across the street from us at 9 a.m. sharp on Thursday.

Their opponent? Heartland, another merged school composed of Henderson and Bradshaw. In fact, the grandson of one of my distant cousins, who happens to be a fraternity brother of the Big Farmer, was an outstanding running back for their football team last fall. At that point, of course, we were rooting for them! Now, we have to heat them

Another winning team in districts was Centennial, which is Utica, Waco, Thayer, Gresham, and Beaver Crossing. They are C2 and our team is D1, so at least, we don't have to face more of my family there. My youngest cousin has two sons on that team. It all makes for great fun.

Thinking back to the girls' games, we were all rooting for Red Cloud, who qualified with six players. They did get the sportsmanship award. With one minute left in their first round game, their coach called a time out, and pointed them towards their fans. Soon, all the fans, including those from Wynot, their opponent, were standing and applauding them for what they accomplished just for being there.

That's what I hope all these teams remember; just getting here is a huge feat. Now, let's play basketball!

Learn the latest information on Diabetes at local event

The Wednesday, March 29 Control Diabetes for Life gathering is the last of the series. The theme for the March session is "Make Your Commitment to Diabetes Self-Management."

Topics that will be addressed during the two-hour program are: "Commit to be Fit", "What's New in Diabetes Care", "Fiber and Protein in Your Diet", and "The Dos and Don'ts of Dealing with Criticism" along with other helpful hints. Participants will sample a new recipe for a diabetic appropriate food.

Yes, we have come a long way since we first began working in the field of diabetes education. We now know that the complications associated with diabetes can be prevented or delayed. Our growing knowledge of various foods and their effect on blood sugar levels enables people with diabetes to eat food they like, choose when and how much to eat, and still control blood-sugar levels.

In the March 29 session of Control Diabetes for Life, Stacie Peterson, B.S.N. and Certified Diabetes Educator will provide attendees with an upto-date review of blood glucose meters, insulin pens, apps available to help track what you eat, as well as record blood sugar readings without pen and paper. These tips will assist with self-care and also help you hold your diabetes in tight control by selecting products that will work best for you.

Today people with diabetes can choose from a wide variety of non-nutritive sweeteners and can even figure out how to fit sugar-containing foods into their meal plan. With carbohydrate information now readily available for most foods, diabetics can easily learn to count carbohydrates at each meal.

Fitting diabetes into your lifestyle is the key message. Diabetes does not have to dictate how you live. University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension and Franciscan Care Services of West Point invite you and your family members to participate in a new and exciting diabetes educational program. The series of programs is being offered via the two-way interactive distance education. Participants will learn about current issues related to diabetes from educators with over 25 years of team-teaching experience.

Team-teaching the program will be Deborah Willcox, R.D. and L.M.N.T., and Stacie Petersen, B.S.N. and Certified Diabetes Educator both of Franciscan Care Services in West Point and Debra Schroeder, UNL Extension Educator in Cuming County. Guest Speaker for the session will be Terry Nelson, DPT, with Franciscan Care Services.

"Control Diabetes for Life" is a joint project of University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension, Franciscan Care Services of West Point and the schools hosting the presentation. The program is offered free-of-charge. "Control Diabetes for Life" will help participants learn to control diabetes and prolong the onset of complications from the disease. These sessions are designed to supplement the education that you receive from your local diabetes education team and are not a substitute for diabetes classes through your local health care providers.

Participants are asked to pre-register for "Control Diabetes for Life" by calling their local Extension office. Please register by Monday, March 27, so the proper number of handouts may be prepared. Nebraska School Food Service Association has approved this session for two hours of continuing education credits.

UNL Extension Board -Wayne County meeting planned

The Nebraska Extension Board in Wayne County will meet on Tuesday, March 14 at the Wayne County Courthouse. The 7 p.m. meeting is open to the public. An agenda is available at the Extension Office, 510 Pearl Street, Suite C, Wayne, Nebraska for public inspection during normal business hours.

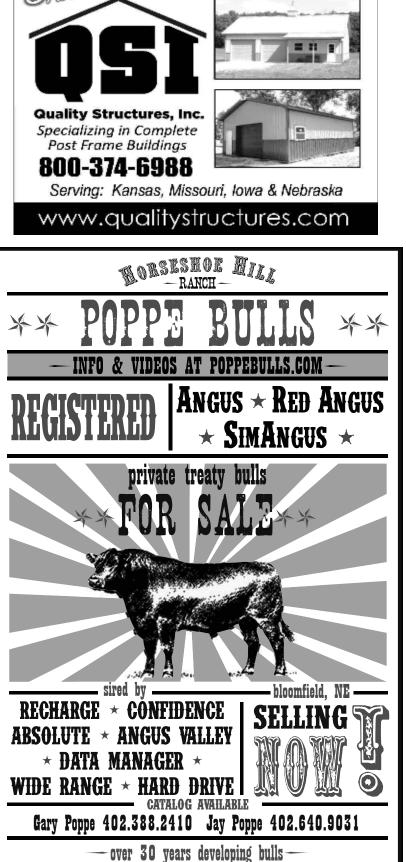

Kick those germs to the curb!

Germs. They are everywhere. We carry millions of them on our hands. Some are harmful, many are not. Starting in the fall, many illnesses increase, like colds, the flu diarrhea, and some that are food related. Many of these outbreaks are caused by poor hygiene, usually unwashed or poorly washed hands. Proper hand washing is the single most effective way to decrease these illnesses. Did you know:

• 50 percent of Americans do not wash their hands after using the restroom? Another 25 percent only use cold water and soap, which does not remove germs well. Only 25 percent of the population washes their hands appropriately to remove these illness causing germs.

• 50 percent of many illnesses could be eliminated by proper hand washing.

• 30 percent of people who cough or sneeze into their hands wash them afterwards.

• Kids who wash their hands at least four times per day experience up to 51 percent less sick days.

· Over-use of anti-bacterial gels can lead to antibiotic resistance.

There are more germs in your kitchen sink, on your steering wheel, and your cell phone then in your toilet.

- When should you wash your hands?
- · Before preparing or eating meal;
- After going to the restroom;
- After playing with a pet;
- When you are around an ill person;
- Anytime you touch your hair, face, mouth or other body parts;
- After you blow your nose or take out the garbage;
- After changing a diaper;
- After shopping;

•Any time your hands may come into contact with something unclean. Stay healthy this winter-get your flu shot and Wash your hands, Wash your hands, Wash your hands!

Legislative Update Halfway point in session is fast approaching

District 17 Weekly Report Friday, March 3, 2017 Senator Joni Albrecht

We are approaching the halfway point in for the 1st session of the 105th Legislature. Friday, March 3rd is the 40th day of the 90 day session and a number of bills have worked their way through all three procedural votes to go to be signed into law.

There are three weeks left for committees to meet. As I have said before, each bill introduced earlier this year is guaranteed a public hearing. The vast majority of bills are fairly non-controversial and usually only have one or two people giving public testimony.

Other bills, however, can be very contentious and may lead to dozens and dozens of Nebraskans wishing to give testimony. Those hearings can often go for hours, which could cause individual testifiers to miss out due to their time commitments or having the hearing closed before all testifiers have had a chance to speak.

As Chair of the Business &

Labor Committee, my committee hearings tend to be focused on numbers and thus relatively tame, though we have our fair share of contentious issues such as the Commission of Industrial Relations and other subjects. So far though, even though we have had hearings go on for quite a while, we haven't had a situation in which we had to turn anyone away.

I wanted to take this opportunity to make sure my constituents know that if there is an issue before a committee they are concerned about, they have the ability to make their voices heard without having to come to the State Capitol.

Every Nebraskan who wishes can submit testimony to a legislative committee on any bill in their jurisdiction prior to the date of the hearing by sending it (either by fax, e-mail, or regular postal mail) to the appropriate committee in care of the committee clerk.

Submitted testimony is read into the record and shared with the senators on the committee and is an important part of the hearing. Please do not let time or distance keep you from taking part in the legislative process. A full list of the legislative committees can be found on www.nebraskalegislature.gov (click on Committees). Lastly, earlier this week we celebrated Nebraska's 150th birthday. On March 1st, 1867, President Andrew Johnson signed the proclamation of Nebraska's statehood.

The Wayne Herald – Thursday, March 9, 2017

This week, the halls here in Lincoln were filled with songs from bands and choirs from around the state honoring our state and our forbearers. On Wednesday, the Legislature took the unusual step to hold a special session to mark this momentous occasion.

In addition to the activities in the State Capitol earlier this week, there are numerous celebrations happening throughout our state this year.

Dakota City will be hosting "A Warrior for the People" on March 12th, a celebration of the life of Dr. Susan La Flesche Picotte, who was the first Native American doctor in U.S. history. And don't forget the Wayne Chicken Show in July!

For those not in our area, or those who are looking for more ways to celebrate, there are also plenty of options. The Nebraska 150 Challenge encourages Nebras kans to do 150 miles of physical activity through the year. "I am Nebraska" is an oral history project which invites Nebraskans to share their Nebraska experience via social media with the hashtag #IAMNEBRASKA.

These special events are open to all. More information on Nebraska's 150th anniversary of statehood, including events that are taking place in Legislative District 17, can be found at www. ne150.org.

As always, I want to encourage my constituents to reach out to me. If you are in Lincoln, stop by room 2010. For those with e-mail access, my address is jalbrecht@ leg.ne.gov. Or if you prefer to call, I can be reached at 402-471-2716 or to write me at:

•Public Relations-an article was put in the Wayne Herald about our last meeting. The group agrees that this should continue to be done, and we will also need to get an article in the bulletin/magazine in the fall.

·Health-Alice Rohde said to not give up on cancer diagnosis. They can use your own cells and there are antibodies that will help. Perhaps one day couples planning to marry will have a blood test to see what genetic difficulties in their children can be avoided by modern technology.

Recent RC&D meeting gives update on projects

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council held their recent meeting in Winside at the public library. After a soup supper provided by the Winside RC&D Board members Jim Rabe, President opened the meeting. There was a general discussion on fundraising opportunities and ideas for enticing more visitors into the RC&D office.

Three new projects were accepted which include doing a Pollinator Tour on June 20th, a Prairie Chicken Tour in March or early April, and an Outlaw Trail Quiltway Bus Tour during that event in October. More information will be available as soon as definite plans are completed for each of these projects. The RC&D is again going to be able to continue their popular recycling and collection events for electronics and Household Hazardous waste thanks to a thirdyear grant from the Nebraska Environmental Trust. Dates and locations will be announced when hosting communities have been selected.

The Heritage Museum Network, a local group of small museums, will have their spring meeting starting at 9 a.m. Saturday, April 1st in Hartington at the Cedar County Historical Museum. Following a tour there the group will move to the Cobblestone Motel for lunch and meeting. All are welcome to attend. The Museum Passport Program is being continued again this year with eleven participating museums.

The RC&D Council gave out 45 radon test kits during January and February in cooperation with North Central District Health Department (NCDHD). The kits have all been distributed. The RC&D Council looks forward to continuing their service to citizens through projects that will make life better for people in Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce, and Wayne counties.

Minerva Club learns history of musicals

The February 27 meeting of ers of musicals during that time. Minerva Club was hosted by Connie Webber at the Senior Center. Nine members were present. President Mary Ann Denaeyer called the meeting to order.

She read an article a grandmother shared with her grandchildren about life before McDonald's, before TV, when clothes were hung out to dry in fresh air, a gallon of gas cost 11 cents etc. and also pointed out to them several things Senior Citizens are NOT responsible for.

Then in the 1940's, Oklahoma began another new era by being the first fully integrated musical play, using every song and dance to develop the characters or the plot.

So many memorable musicals followed: Annie Get Your Gun, Kiss Me Kate, South Pacific, The King and I, Sound of Music, The Music Man, etc.

Connie sang "Hello Dolly" and "Cabaret" for the group to illustrate examples from the 60s. A The birthday song was sung for new concept emerged in the 80s Susan Boust and a birthday card with many of the musicals built was signed for honorary member around an idea or theme rather than a traditional plot. Many mega musicals followed including Cats, Les Miserables, and Phantom of the Opera, being light on intellectual content and heavy on special effects and marketing. The 1990s musicals required the backing of multi-million dollar corporations to develop and succeed with extravagant productions like Lion King, Ragtime, & Titanic. Many Broadway musicals have later been made into award-winning films. The newest musical for our enjoyment is the highly-acclaimed "La-La Land." "The next meeting of Minerva Club will be at the Senior Center on Monday, March 13, hosted by Nicki Tiedtke."

Treat people with respect

Growing up, especially at the beginning of a new school year, my dad would frequently tell me, "Treat your teachers with respect and they will treat you with respect." I believed him and discovered that he was right. When I treated my teachers with respect, they generally treated me with respect in return.

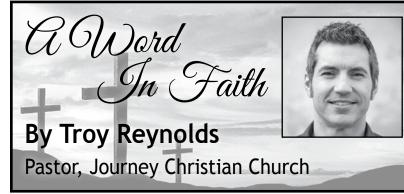

Until my junior year in high school, Mrs. Sharkey was my American history teacher and, boy, was she a shark. For some reason, Mrs. Sharkey didn't like me. She wasn't overly mean to me, but she just wasn't very nice. Now she was nice to other students, but not to me. And I didn't understand why. I didn't talk out of turn. I turned my homework in on time. I studied for the tests. I treated her with respect, but I just felt like she didn't like me.

But over time, by the time second semester rolled around, her attitude toward me began to change. I started to win her over. She started being nicer to me. And once again my dad's advice proved true. "Treat your teachers with respect and they will treat you with respect."

I think that statement is true with everyone we meet. Treating people with love and compassion and honor has much more power and is way more effective than treating them with disrespect or arguing with them or demanding our rights ever will.

in leadership positions, when we refuse to do good, when we put more faith in politics than in God to set things right in this world, it actually pushes non-Christians away from Christ.

The apostle Peter says, "Be careful to live properly among your unbelieving neighbors. Then even have people say negative things if they accuse you of doing wrong, they will see your honorable behavior, and they will give honor to God when he judges the world" (1 Peter 2:12). Peter believes that by living godly lives and treating people with respect we can have a positive influence in an unbelieving world.

Sadly, the opposite is also true. When Christians disrespect those

Too often, when we, as Christians, begin to be marginalized or about us, we start demanding our rights. We pick up the mantle of power. But when we trade love for power as the way to influence people, we lose. I'm not saying we shouldn't hold fast to our convictions. I'm not saying that we shouldn't care about what types of laws are being passed in our country. What I am saying is that love has more power than laws.

As Kyle Idleman says, "When people begin to witness our compassion they will begin to care about our convictions." We should be known by our love and grace and the way we treat people with respect.

So, the question is, what do you do when people say foolish and untrue things about you? Do you take them to court? Do you retaliate? Do you slander the back? Do you seek revenge? No, you do good. You don't argue with them, you don't post angry statements on social media, you don't hold up signs and protest, you don't boycott their businesses. You do good to them! You let your honorable behavior do the talking. You let your kindness and compassion silence your critics.

People should know we are Christians by our love, not by our rhetoric. And let me tell you that has far more positive impact than any argument you could make. Jesus said in Matthew 5:16, "Let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.'

Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Nebraska Public Service Commission designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink's basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $20.46 per month and business services are $31.00 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in a government benefit program (Lifeline) to make residential telephone or broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the FCC and state commissions. Consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain a Lifeline discount can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program.
