If you recognized those lyrics, you'll like what comes next. If you didn't recognize them...ask Google about it.

The four men famous for that toe-tapping tune are making their way across the country on tour – deciding that a pit stop in Sioux City at the Hard Rock Casino and Hotel would be a good idea. On March 25, the Oak Ridge Boys will headline at the Anthem inside Hard Rock.

"I can speak for all of us when I say we're looking forward to coming," bass singer Richard Sterban said. "People can rest assured they'll hear Elvira. There are certain songs that just have to be included in the show."

Songs like "Thank God for Kids" and "American Made" are some of their most famous, but the Oak Ridge Boys also include some patriotic and some gospel songs into their line up.

"A big part of the show is the hits, but triotic guys so we'll do some of those. It's go through the motions. You wouldn't be a family show," he said. "There really is around for over 40 years if you did," Stersomething for every family member - it's even kid friendly."

Sterban said the group still enjoys what they do and that they have no plans to retire any time soon.

"Even after all these years, we look forward to playing. We love what we do."

The group has been comprised of the four current members, Duane Allen (lead), Joe Bonsall (tenor), William Lee Golden (baritone) and Sterban, for 43 years and has 12 gold, three platinum and one double platinum album and a double platinum single under its belt.

Along with those, more than a dozen Number One singles and over 30 Top Ten hits. The group has come home with Grammy, Dove and CMA awards along with awards from the Academy of Country Music, including the coveted Pioneer Award.

The Oak Ridge Boys made their way into the Country Music Hall of Fame in 2015, but even after over 40 years of playing together, they still bring the music alive to their fans.

"We do our best to make sure every

The group's longevity and current touring with high-energy shows are proof of the lasting friendship they have forged.

"We've been doing this for a long time and we've become the very best of friends.' he said. "Each man brings something different to the table and we all realized a long time ago we needed one another.'

It's because of the friendship and the genuine enjoyment of the process - start ing with their creativity coming alive in the studio with new music to the upbeat concerts performed for their devoted fans - that the Oak Ridge Boys have been so successful.

Sterban measured that success when he said they can tell when they've moved an audience.

"If you touch people with your music, if you move people with your music, that's a good show. When you look out at the crowd and see people holding hands or in some instances tears, you know the song is touching, moving people."

Wayne High School to present Disney's Beauty and the Beast

Rehearsals are in full swing for this feature. The stage version includes the spring's Wayne High School presentation of Disney's Beauty and the Beast, one of the most iconic of all stage productions.

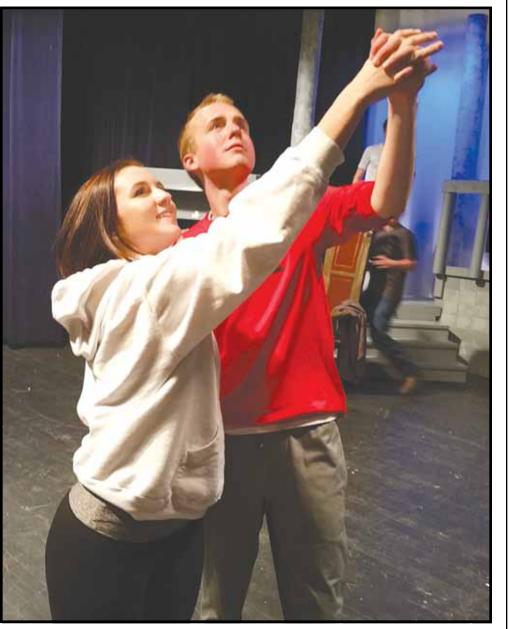

Performances of Beauty and the Beast will be Friday, March 31 and Saturday, April 1 at 7 p.m. and a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m. The new Culinary Arts class at Wayne High will also be showcasing their work with a dessert bar at the Sunday matnee Tickets are available by calling the high school office at (402) 375-3150 or by contacting any of the cast or crew of the production. The production is presented by special arrangement with Musical Theatre International. Over 35 million people worldwide in 13 countries have enjoyed the musical based on the Academy Award-winning animated well-known songs written by Alan Menken and the late Howard Ashman, along with new songs by Mr. Menken and Tim Rice. While the original Broadway production ran for over 13 years and was nominated for nine Tony Awards, including Best Musical, many touring companies are still bringing this classic to life.

The quintessential fairy tale story tells of Belle, a young woman in a provincial town, and the Beast, who is really a young prince trapped under the spell of an enchantress. If the Beast can learn to love and be loved, the curse will end and he will be transformed into his former self. But if the Beast does not learn his lesson soon, he and his household of enchanted objects will be doomed for all eternity.

Providence Medical Center staff recently underwent training on a new piece of a equipment. The new machine will replace a set of hands during CPR for chest compressions to eliminate fatigue and combat a lack of staff or space in emergent situations without compromising patient care.

Training, equipment additions continue at Providence

By Calyn Dunklau calyn@wayneherald.com

Saving a life isn't an easy task, but some times the most simple action can be the difference between life and death.

Chest compressions are vital in many emergency situations but many times the loss of the extra set of hands or the rotating of staff to continue compressions can hinder an emergency team.

Providence Medical Center was lucky enough to receive two pieces of equipment to help combat that problem in the hospital itself and in the ambulance.

The two LUCAS chest compression system machines were introduced to staff at a recent training event for all nurses and EMS staff, as well as any other PMC employee who wanted to attend.

"The LUCAS 2 machine can essentially replace a person in a situation where you need to do chest compressions, so you can free up a body to do other tasks like starting an IV or doing an advanced airway and so on," said Marcia Spahr, PMC Director of Acute, Skilled and ED Services.

"These came through a grant from the Leona Helmsley Foundation which was made available to the State. The Health and Human Services Department dispersed the funds, so we were given these." Mark Tietz

The LUCAS system replaced equipment called Autopulse, which wasn't as user friendly. Thanks to a grant, PMC was able to get the LUCAS equipment.

"It was actually a band system through a different supplier," Mark Tietz, Director of Facilities/Ambulance Services said. "These came up through a grant from the Leona Helmsley Foundation which was made available to the State. The state's Health and Human Services department dispersed the funds, so we were given these."

Tietz commented on the ease of use for staff to utilize the LUCAS equipment, stating the machine was much easier to set up and because of that, taff is able to move much faster.

Another benefit of the LUCAS machine, Spahr said, was for when there was a smaller amount of staff members available or in communities with limited EMS staff. The addition of such a piece of equipment in smaller communities would be an incredible asset. Several smaller towns in the area are on the list or have already received a LUCAS machine to use in their ambulances

"Not all of the time do we have a huge amount of staff available to be able to respond to every situation or when the ambulance goes out, so this gives the opportunity to respond with other interventions that can help save people's lives," Spahr said.

It eliminates the fatigue to a staff member as well, Spahr said. With chest compressions being done by a staff member, roughly 5 minutes is more than enough time for fatigue to set in, requiring that staff member to be rotated out with someone else until compressions are no longer necessary. The LUCAS machine has a battery life of 45 minutes when being used but can also run on a cord indefinitely if neces-See Training, Page 4A

The new Aquarius treatment plant discharges only a small fraction of sludge so the old 26 acre lagoon was drying up. We are decommissioning the lagoon to use the land for something else. We have pumped out about 1/4 of the old sludge at a cost of about $650,000. The organic matter is pretty much gone from the sludge through bacterial action. What's left is about 18" of sludge that is a gel of 90 percent water and 10 percent colloidal clay and mineral elements. It's going to smell for a while as it dries. This spring we'll speed up the drying process by pushing the sludge into rows and turning them so the water can separate out and evaporate faster. Since the sludge is now mostly just old minerals we'll try to dry it enough and just spread it out as dry dirt and plow it into the ground instead of paying to haul it out.

Alvin F. 'Al' Schmode

Alvin F. "Al" Schmode, 97, of Sun City, Ariz., died Wednesday, Feb. 22, 2017 at Royal Oaks Retirement Community in Sun City.

A Memorial Service will be held Saturday, April 1 at the Royal Oaks

Chapel, 10015 W. Royal Oak Road in Sun City.

Memorials may be made to American Legion Post #252, Winside, Neb. 68790. Please join Al's family in sharing memories, pictures or videos on his tribute wall at www.caminodelsol.com.

Alvin F. "Al" Schmode was born Jan. 6, 1920. He was liked throughout his life by anyone who met him. As a businessman in Winside, he and his partner, Frank Weible, gave many people a chance to work and make a life for themselves. His sense of humor was contagious and always on point. Al was a 60 year member of American Legion Post 252 in Winside. In his early years he was known for his baseball skills and in 1939 and 1940 he was the starting catcher for the University of Nebraska Cornhusker Baseball Team. His name appears in the University's Sports Hall of Distinction. He was loved by many and will be missed by all who knew him.

Survivors include three sons, seven grandchildren and three greatgrandchildren. After the death of his wife, Frankie, he was blessed to share the remainder of his life with his close companion, Bette Woodward, who also lives at Royal Oaks. He was a loving father, grandfather and great-grandfather.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 55 years, Frankie N. Schmode.

Farmers Market meeting set for March 19

The annual Spring Vendors' meeting for those interested in being part of the Wayne Farmers Market will be held Sunday, March 19 at 6 p.m. in the South Meeting of the Wayne City Auditorium.

A variety of topics will be covered including fees, Chamber Coffee and the BRAN ride on June 7.

Fiber is a type of carbohydrate (just like sugars and starches) but that is not broken down by the human body, therefore, it does not contribute any calories.

When looking at a food label, fiber is listed under total carbohydrates which can be confusing to an individual who has diabetes. Carbohydrate is the one nutrient that impacts blood glucose the most.

The answer is that fiber does not raise blood glucose levels. Because it is not broken down by the body. The fiber in an apple or a slice of whole grain bread has no effect on blood glucose levels because it isn't digested. The grams of fiber can actually be subtracted from the total grams of carb you are eating if you are using carbohydrate counting for meal planning.

Needless to say, fiber doesn't harm individuals with diabetes, but be aware that most of the foods that contain fiber (fruits, vegetables, whole grain breads, cereals, and pastas) also contain other types of non-fiber carbohydrate (sugar, starch) that must be accounted for in your meal plan.

The average person should eat between 20-35 grams of fiber each day, but most Americans eat about half that amount.

So if fiber does not give us any calories, why exactly should you eat it? There are two types of fiber: insoluble and soluble. Insoluble fiber

Pheasants Forever annual banquet set for March 17 at Auditorium

Hundreds of people annually turn out for the Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Banquet. Funds raised that evening benefit a variety of habitat and youth education projects in the community.

The public is being encouraged to take part in the loosing populations rapidly. Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever annual banquet on Friday, March 17.

Doors to the Wayne City Auditorium will open at 5:30 p.m. for social time and dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

The event will include a variety of games and raffles, along with a silent and live auction.

Of special interest this year, the live auction will include a six person, seven day fishing trip to Lake Winnibigoshish, Minn. at High Banks Resort. The trip can be taken at a time to be determined by the purchaser in either 2017 or 2018.

"This would be a great place for a family vacation," said Jim Modrell, one of the organizers of this, the 27th annual, banquet.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from any Pheasants Forever member or at CopyWrite in Wayne. A limited number will also be available at the door the night of the event. There will be a $5 increase in ticket price at the door.

Throughout its history, the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever has been involved in many habitat projects, including tree planting at the Thompson Barnes Wildlife Management Area northwest of Wavne.

One of the goals of the group during the last year was to implement a pollinator project to increase the number of bees and monarch butterflies in this area. The project took place at the Thompson Barnes Wildlife Management Area. Students in Wayne Community Schools were part in the project and planted seeds to attract and support butterflies and bees, which are

In August of last year the group worked with the Izaak Walton League on an Outdoor Event.

"We wanted to introduce youth, and adults, to the outdoors and outdoor activities," Modrell said.

Modrell stressed that Pheasants Forever is not a hunting organization. Instead, the group works to provide habitat for wildlife of all types.

"We are always looking for volunteers to work with habitat and youth and those who want to make a difference. You don't have to be a hunter to be a part of our organization," Modrell said.

For nearly 20 years, the local Pheasants Foreven chapter has sponsored a Youth-Mentor Hunter in early October at the Ike's Lake northwest of Wayne. Those youth who took part in the last hunt will be on hand at this year's banquet and one of them will be awarded a gun during the event.

Dues collected by Pheasants Forever go toward improving habitat and protecting wildlife on the national level. Dues are $35 per person or $15 for a youth mem \cdot bership "Money collected for dues goes to the national organization, but all money raised during our banquet stays with our chapter and will be used locally for projects in this area," Modrell said.

For more information on Pheasants Forever, to purchase tickets for the banquet or to volunteer to become involved with the group in some way, contact Modrell at (402) 369-0084.

Modrell also encourages everyone to follow the chapter's activities on facebook at Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Chapter #303.

Wayne Speech team sending 7 to compete at state

Wayne High School will be sending seven students, in three separate events, to State Speech Competition in Kearney next week.

This comes after the Speech Team took part in the District B-4 Tournament at Columbus Lakeview on March 13.

The following Blue Devil speakers qualified for the Class B State Speech Tournament which will be held Thursday, March 23 in Kearney: Marta Pulfer, third in Informative; Marcella Jurotich, champion in Extemporaneous; and the OID team of Nate Burrows, Jack Osnes, Megan Keiser, Grace Heithold, and Claire Barnes, who finished in first place.

Other team members who placed at the district event included:

Sarah Wibben, sixth in Humorous; Maura Loberg, fifth in Humorous; Emily Matthes, fifth in Informative; Nate Burrows, fifth in Entertainment; Claire Barnes, fifth in Serious; and the OID team of Aidan Consoli, RJ Liska, Emily Matthes, and Shanda Lambert, who also placed fifth.

"Every speaker who represented Wayne High received at least one Superior rating as the Blue Devils scored 139 out of a possible 144 points in the preliminary rounds. In the final team standings, Wavne narrowly missed District Runner-Up status and finished in third place," said Dwaine Spieker, Head Speech coach for the team.

Imdieke is 'Reader of the Week' at library

This week's Reader of the Week at the Wayne Public Library is Ellen Imdieke of Wayne.

What is the last book you read? The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry by G. Zevin. It was a Christmas gift from my daughter.

Who is your favorite author? I don't have a particular author that I follow. I mostly read books that are of my preferred genre. Mystery, biography, selfhelp, intrigue, historical fiction, and WWII stories are some of my favorite topics.

Why do you read?

I read for enjoyment and entertainment, to learn new things, to stay current on what is happening in the world, and for self improvement. Here are some other books that I have enjoyed:

One Thousand White Women by J. Fergus;

Between Breaths by E. Vargas; The Aviators Wife by M. Benjamin;

Children's Blizzard by D. Laskin; The Forgotten by D. Baldaccci

(a favorite author); Defending Jacob by W. Landay

No matter your age, the Wayne Library is there to meet your needs. Have you tried the new Brain Q program? It is an easy and fun way to exercise your brain.

Did you know there is a possibility a new book will be ordered upon your request? If you are a library "regular", you are already aware of the benefits of WPL. If you have never visited our library or only use it a couple times a year, you are missing out. Give it a try. The friendly director and staff will welcome you and help you meet your library needs.

Hirings, re-VISION process on board agenda

By Clara Osten clara@wayneherald.com

In one of the shortest meetings in recent months, the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education approved the hiring of three teachers and received an update on the district's plan to move through the reVISION process.

Following her resignation as a paraprofessional, the board approved the hiring of Laura Hochstein as an elementary English Language Learner (ELL) teacher.

Also hired was Brooke Reeson as an elementary Special Education teacher and Susan Metzler as a fourth grade teacher at Wayne Elementary School.

Elementary Principal Russ Plager told the board he was impressed with the quality of candidates he interviewed for the positions and feels good about those who were hired.

Superintendent Mark Lenihan gave the board an update on the reVISION process.

He told the board the program is designed to be a one-year planning procedure and outlined the steps that had already been taken. These included forming a committee and conducting a community input meeting.

"Now we are ready to develop our Action Plan based on our findings. When we have this plan in place, we will be able to apply for grants of up to $50,000 to implement the plan. No matter what the outcome of the grant application is, this has been a good process and very worth doing," Lenihan said.

In other action, the board approved Policy 12002, which outlines the number of students the district would be able to handle through open enrollment. This is done annually and is based on current enrollment in each of the grades and the pre-school and special education programs.

Superintendent Lenihan also updated the board on activities taking place in the Nebraska Legislature that would affect the school.

Lindsay McLaughlin, Foundation Director, told the board the Foundation is currently working on the Alumni Tournament, which will be held Easter weekend. McLaughlin is also working closely with the district in the reVISION planning.

The board will next meet in regular session on Monday, April 10 at 5 p.m. in the junior-senior high school library.

Have you ever had to give up on a book?

Yes. If the book doesn't hook me after four to five chapters, I move on. There are lots of books out there, so I see no reason to continue reading something I do not enjoy.

Is there anything else you'd like to comment on about your passion for reading?

I am a believer in reading to kids. Read aloud was one of my favorite parts of the school day, both as a teacher and student. No matter the grade, it seemed the kids were always ready to settle in and listen to a good book. As a child, I too, fondly remember being read to.

The Wayne Community is fortunate to have a vibrant and people-centered library. Our library offers something for everyone. Story hours, interlibrary loan,

Training

Tietz discussed the safety aspect of the LUCAS machine in an ambulance.

The LUCAS equipment can be applied by anyone who has been trained on it, which is why several members of PMC's pharmacy staff, CNAs and many other staff members participated in the training sessions available.

But those training sessions aren't the only ones staff at PMC will undergo this year, in fact, one such training, the EMT Competencies, has already been completed by members of staff who ride along in the ambulance or are on the EMS staff.

"It's a four-hour class for everyone that is on the ambulance and all the nursing staff," Spahr said. "They went over a multitude of things that we may have to do out there. We do it every year to keep everyone competent in the field."

PMC has seven EMTs that drive the ambulance and assist in the field, one paramedic on staff and dozens of nurses that ride along in the event of an emergency.

Sales tax numbers released for February by Braden

City of Wayne Finance Director Nancy Braden has released the sales tax receipts for the month of February for the city of Wayne.

These receipts reflect the tax revenue from the month of December for the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

Receipts for the month were $91,681.37. This number is down from a year ago, when $103,261.10 was collected.

In the first five months of this fiscal year, $455,708.94 was generated in sales tax in the city, which is up from $436,881.34 collected in the first five months of the last fiscal year.

The city has averaged $91,141.79 during this time, which is above the $85,056.16 average a year ago and the $85,833.33 which has been budgeted.

"This is a lot safer for the crew because if you're doing CPR in route, then obviously you aren't seat-belted in," he said.

Conference Honor Band at Wayne State

Recently, members of Wayne High School's band two bands. One is a 9/10 grade band and the other is performed with many others in the Mid-States Conference Honor Band at Wayne State College.

The band is comprised of students from Battle Creek, Boone Central, Crofton, Guardian Angels Cen-an 11/12 grade band. The director of the 9/10 band was Mr. Kevin McLouth of Northeast Community College and Dr. Karl Kolbeck of Wayne State College conducted the 11/12 band. Students meet as a band for the first time at 9 a.m. and work on their music for a 5 p.m. performance. The students have a wonderful opportunity to work together in a group with students they normally compete against. The band would not be able to work so well if it wasn't for the support by their parents and band directors.

Rev. Teresa Bartlett, center, poses for a picture with members of the Homestead Presbytery following her installation as pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

First Presbyterian Church installs new minister

The congregation of First Presbyterian Church of Wayne celebrated the installation of their new pastor, Rev. Teresa Bartlett on March 5.

In the 3 p.m. service a commission appointed by the Homestead Presbytery led worship and the formal installation. The moderator of Homestead Presbytery, Elder Steve Pointon gave the message and officiated the commission.

The commission also included the Rev. Steven Breazier, United Church of Pender, Rev. Charity Potter, Presbyterian Churches of Wakefield and Thurston, Rev. Duncan Nichol, First Presbyterian, Tekamah, Elder Karen Johnson, First Presbyterian Church, Wayne and Elder Teri Wendel, First Presbyterian Church, Norfolk.

Members of the congregation, family and friends of

Rev. Bartlett and other members of Homestead Presbytery were also in attendance.

Worship was enhanced by the gifts of the Presbyterian Pealers, the bell choir of FPC, directed by Jay O'Leary. Jane O'Leary played piano for the worship service. Elders Karen Johnson, Misty Beair, Kevin Peterson, John Fuelberth and Kent Pulfer members of the Pastor Nominating Committee also participated in the service.

The worship service was followed by a time of fellowship and lunch which was organized by members of the Presbyterian Women and other members of the church. It was a day of celebration and a time of new beginnings. Rev. Bartlett and the congregation look forward to serving God together.

Wayne State College baseball team goes 2-1 in Minnesota

The Wayne State baseball team took part in a series of games at US Bank Stadium in Minneapolis, Minn., going 2-1 against Northern Sun Conference teams in non-conference action

On Friday, Wayne State beat Minot State 9-4 and ost to Concordia-St. Paul 4-3.

Concordia-St. Paul scored all four runs in the fifth innings, using two hits and a Wildcat error that resulted in three unearned runs.

Wayne State got a run in the fifth when Cody Castro singled home David Janes, who reached on a hit by pitch. In the bottom of the ninth, Wayne State scored two more runs on four hits, highlighted by an RBI double by Bodie Cooper and an RBI single by Janes. Janes moved to third base on a single and fielder's choice, but was left stranded as the tying run.

Hunter Weinhoff took the loss on the mound, allowng four runs on four hits in five innings, striking out hree and walking two. Keenan Breen pitched four innings of scoreless relief with four strikeouts.

In the first game of the day, Cooper went 3-for-5 with a homer and four RBI to help the Wildcats beat Minot State.

Cooper hit a three-run homer to right to break a scoreless tie in the fifth inning, scoring Tanner Simons and Cody Jenkins. They added another run in the seventh on an Aaron Krier RBI double, then put the game out of reach with five in the ninth. Cooper, Kyle Thompson and Peyton Barnes all had RBI singles in the big inning.

Simons had two hits and two runs and Jenkins and Krier each added two hits to Wayne State's 13-hit attack. Bobby St. Pierre got the win on the mound with 6 1/3 innings of six-hit pitching, striking out seven. Kyle Kennebaeck, Joey Lenihan and Taner Ledezma all pitched well in relief.

On Saturday, Jenkins was 2-for-4 with two RBI and Aiden Breedlove picked up his first collegiate win with 5 1/3 innings of work to lead Wayne State in a 7-5 win over Winona State in a game that started at 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

Winona State outhit Wayne State 9-8, but the Wildcats took advantage of eight walks, four hit batters and four wild pitches by five different Winona State pitchers to help score seven runs in the win.

The Wayne

Hera

After Winona State took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second, Wayne State came back with a four-run third inning to take the lead for good at 4-2. Jenkins produced a two-run double that scored Chris May and Krier with the first two runs of the inning. Janes followed with an infield single to shortstop that scored Tanner Simons while Jenkins scored on a Winona State throwing error for the final run of the inning.

The Wildcats added two more runs in the bottom of the fourth, using three hit batters, a walk and wild pitch. Brandon Fowler led off the inning hit by a pitch and scored on a Simons sacrifice fly to left field. May later scored on a Cooper sacrifice fly to center field for the second run, giving Wayne State a 6-2 lead. Wayne State scored their final run of the game in the fifth when Thompson singled and scored when Simons was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Winona State used three hits and one Wildcat error to score three unearned runs in the sixth, but relievers Kyle Kennebeck and Joey Lenihan shut the door on the Warriors the rest of the way, combining for 3 2/3 innings of scoreless relief as the Wildcats held on for the win.

Jenkins led Wayne State at the plate, going 2-for-4 with a double and two RBI. Thompson was also 2-for-4 with a pair of singles and run scored. May doubled and had two runs scored.

Breedlove worked 5 1/3 innings to get the win charged with seven hits and five runs (all unearned) with five strikeouts and one walk. Kennebeck worked the next 2 2/3 innings and allowed just two hits and no runs while Lenihan pitched the final inning and did not yield a hit with two strikeouts and one walk to record his second save of the season.

Wayne State, 4-6, begins Northern Sun Conference play this weekend, hosting Minot State in a four-game series with doubleheaders at 12 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex.

Wayne track teams looking for strong individual efforts

Wayne High's track and field eams will have a good mix of experience and young talent that should make both teams competitive in conference and area meets this season.

Coach Dale Hochstein said the Blue Devil boys will have a host of returning letterwinners back from last year, and feels a good young group of freshmen should help contribute this year as well.

"Almost every upperclassmen back from last year lettered, and we have a good group of freshmen that could all contribute in some way.

Senior high jumper Grayson McBride was a state qualifier last year and will lead the Blue Devil boys this spring. He is one of 13 seniors on the roster, joined by Will Anderson, Lathan Ellis, Ty Grone, Emil Haponowitz, Devan Henschke, Seth Hochstein, RJ Liska, Lucas Long, Tyler Pecena, Jacob Powell, Nolan Reynolds and Christian Rogers.

"The increased numbers should provide for competitive depth to put together an improved team," Hochstein said.

On the girls side, Wayne has a pair of returning state qualifiers back, including juniors Kylie Hammer (state runner-up in the long jump) and Jenna Trenhaile (qualifier in the discus).

Last year, the Blue Devils won their first-ever Mid State Conference title and posted a third-place finish at districts, and Hochstein said they should be competitive again this season.

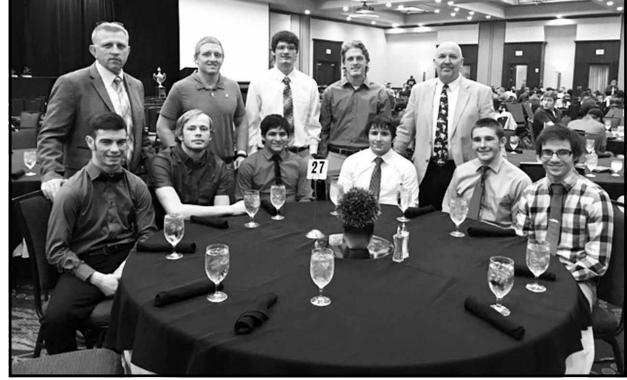

"Coming off a conference title last year, the girls are looking forward to the challenge of another strong finish this season," he said. "It will be tough for us, because of our size, to win state in Class B, so our primary goal is to qualify as many individuals as possible to have an opportunity to compete at state.'

Seniors Kelsey Boyer, Allison Echtenkamp, Kiara Hochstein, Caitlin Janke and Marissa Munsell will give the team some experienced leadership. Hammer and Trenhaile will be joined by fellow juniors Shania Anderson, Molly Hoskins, Kennedy Maly and Andrea Torres.

A deep sophomore group includes Sidney Biggerstaff, Ashton Boyer, Allison Claussen, Skylar Cooper, Maysn Dorey, Mariah Frevert, Sarah Greenwald, Katelyn Grone, Annie Kniesche, Gabi Meyer, Kate Schultz, Josie Thompson and Angelica Zavala.

Wayne kicks off the season Saturday at the Wayne State Indoor Invitational. They host home meets on Tuesday, April 4 and Tuesday, April 11 at Kern Track, and will also play host to the Mid State Conference meet on Saturday, April 29 and the B-4 District meet on Thursday, May 11.

Qualifier went 3-2 at the tourna ment. He was two wins away from being named an All-American. He was named the team's Outstanding Wrestler for the season with a total of 106 team points.

The Wayne State team includes three Academic All-Americans Devon Rupp, Spencer Trout and Matthew Reeves.

"This tournament allowed our wrestlers to pick up wins and gain experience as Devon is our only senior," said Greg Vander Weil, head coach for the team.

"We had a great season. We ended with strong stats on our performances and finished with our fourth best National finish," Vander Weil said.

Baseball team looking for more discipline

Last year, a young Wayne/ Wakefield baseball team struggled to get over the hump in several close games.

This year, with several key starters back from last year's 2-16 team, coach Adam Hoffman is hoping the Blue Devils can turn some of those close losses into wins this season - five of their losses were by a single run - and be a more competitive team on the diamond.

"We have quite a few guys back from last year, so I expect us to be a competitive team," Hoffman said. "As a team, we need to be mentally tougher when adversity situations come at us and become better defensively. I like the makeup of our team and I'm excited to see how we grow as a team." The Blue Devils have almost their entire pitching staff back this spring, led by Adam Bentjen, who pitched very well during last summer's Legion season and recorded two no-hitters.

Also back for the Blue Devils on the mound are Payten Gamble, who missed most of last spring and summer due to a broken ankle; Tyler Lutt, Caden Korth, Zane Jackson, Julio Sanchez and Brennen O'Reilly. That depth on the mound will give Hoffman several options to work with during a tough spring schedule.

The pitching staff will also contribute defensively in other areas, and they will be joined by catcher

Tucker Nichols, outfield Mikey Reyes and infielder Tyler Gilliland, all of whom are also returning veterans from last season.

Hoffman said there are several newcomers who could contribute to the team's success this spring, including Kaleb Anderson, Trevor DeBoer, Gunnar Jorgensen and Josh Lutt.

The Blue Devils open the regular season on Saturday with a triangular at Bennington, facing the host Badgers and Mount Michael. They have games at Arlington on Monday and Fort Calhoun on Tuesday before their Overin Field debut against Thurston-Cuming County on Thursday, March 23.

Bears return four to golf team

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge boys golf team will have a few new faces to go along with four returning veterans this spring.

Senior Trey Erwin leads the returning foursome of Bears linksters this season, joined by junior Zach Dietrich and sophomores Karson Klooz and Hunter Pehrson. Coach Don Maxwell said the returning players will give the Bears a good nucleus to build around this spring.

Five new players are on the team this season. Izac Reifenrath is the lone sophomore on the team, and is ioined by freshman newcomers Noah Schutt, Ty Erwin, Parker Young and Israhel Vance.

The LCC golfers open the season on Thursday, April 6 at the West Point-Beemer Invitational at Indian Trails near Beemer. They host their annual LCC Invitational the following week on Thursday, April 13.

Only one returning state qualifier is back for the Laurel-Concord-Coleridge track and field program, but there are a number of returning letterwinners back who should give the LCC teams plenty of depth this season.

"We have bigger numbers this year, which will mean we should compete in a lot of different events," coach Shannon Benson said. "We have a great group of seniors that will lead us and show us how to work hard, and we need to replace some very good athletes from last year that made it to state."

Sophomore sprinter Lorna Maxon is the lone returning state qualifier back for the LCC program this spring. She will lead the Lady Bear sprinters again this season and is one of 10 returning letterwinners on the girls side.

Also returning for the Lady Bears (jumps, sprints), Wyatt Taylor

Newcomers look to contribute for Winside

Benson said the team is focused on getting better each time out and building up to a big finish at the end of the spring.

"We need to make sure that we continue to get better each day and each meet," he said. "There is a great track and field history here at LCC that was set by past athletes and coaches. I believe we have a group that wants to start to get back to that. With hard work, I hope we can do just that."

The LCC track and field teams open the season Tuesday, March 28 at the Dan Lennon Relays in Vermillion, S.D. They will host their own meet on Tuesday, April 18, and play host to the Lewis & Clark Conference meet on Saturday, April 29.

Ruhl receives NSAA Distinguished Service Award

Rocky Ruhl was honored Saturday with a Distinguished Service Award by the Nebraska School Activities Association during the finals of the Nebraska State Boys Basketball Championships in Lincoln. He is presented the award by NSAA Executive Director Dr. Jim Tenopir. (Screen capture from Nebraska ETV broadcast)

Retiring Wayne High athletic director and junior high principal Rocky Ruhl was honored with the NSAA Distinguished Service Award that was presented during halftime of Saturday's Class A championship game at the Nebraska State Boys Basketball Championships in Lincoln.

Ruhl has been employed by Wayne Community Schools for 30 years, serving the last 18 as athletic director and junior high principal. During his career, he has coached boys basketball, cross country and track and field and been tournament director for numerous NSAA subdistrict and district tournament events.

A member of the Nebraska Coaches Association and the Nebraska State Athletic Administrators Association, he was named the latter group's District 3 Athletic Director of the Year in 2006. He serves on the NSAA's class caucus committee and is the District 3 chairman.

Two Wildcats compete at Div. II Indoor Nationals

Two Wayne State track and field athletes came close to earning All-American status during last week's NCAA Div. II Indoor Track and Field Championships in Birmingham, Ala.

Michaela Dendinger just missed All-American status by inches in two events, missing by four inches in the weight throw on Thursday and by 2 3/4 inches in the shot put on Saturday.

Dendinger placed 10th out of 18 competitors in Thursday's weight throw competition with a best effort of 61 feet, 3 inches, missing finals and a chance at All-American honors by a mere four inches. She entered nationals ranked ninth with a top regular-season mark of 63-4 1/4. It was the second time that Dendinger has qualified for nationals in the weight throw.

On Saturday, the sophomore missed qualifying for the finals in the shot put by 2 3/4 inches, finishing 10th with a best throw of 47-2 1/4 that came on her first throw of the preliminaries. She had a 44-6 1/4 effort on her second attempt before fouling on her final attempt. A throw of 47-5 was needed to qualify for the finals.

Robert Sullivan finished 12th in the heptathlon that ran Thursday and Friday, finishing with 4,944 points.

Sullivan was in seventh place with 2,861 points after the first day of competition on Thursday. In Friday's three final events of the heptathlon, Sullivan was seventh in the 60 meter hurdles (8.49), 12th in the pole vault (12-11 1/2) and 12th in the 1,000-meter run (3:04.79).

Sullivan's best finish in the seven-event competition was second in the high jump (6-5) followed by fifth in the shot put (39-6 3/4) and sixth in the long jump (21-11). He also placed 14th in the 60-meter dash in 7.40 seconds.

Sullivan was the NSIC champion in the heptathlon with a new school record point total of 5,141 points.

Allen track teams combine youth, experience

The 2017 Allen Eagle track squad will be a blend of youth and experience along with a sprinkling of veteran performers from prior state track meets this season.

The squad consists of 15 boys and nine girls, four of whom competed at state in Omaha in 2015 and/or 2016. All four are returning medalists.

Head coach Dave Uldrich said the team's philosophy is "get better daily," and they are more focused on individual improvement than medal placing.

"The team will work very hard to get better," he said. "The program is all about personal improvement, not being the first place person in every meet. We have never made that a priority and will not start now. When the kids buy into that and see improvements come personally, they work even harder to better themselves."

Heading the senior class for the Eagles will be Tayler Kumm, who qualified in the 3,200, 1,600, 800, as well as running a leg on the medaling 3,200-meter relay. Kumm will set the tone for all the younger athletes to folmiddle distances.

Sophomore boys and girls make a large core of the Eagle squad. Heading the boys is Isaac Verzani, who ran a leg on the third-place relay last season in Omaha. Verzani will fill the void in the 800 this season. Kyle Smith, also a qualifier last spring in the 300 hurdles, looks to double the hurdle races this season. Devin Twohig, Jarod Lund and O.T. Roth look to be competing for parts on relays. Twohig and Lund were in the hunt to make the distance relay last season.

Bethany Kneifl looks to punch her ticket to Omaha with improvement in the 3,200. Kneifl finished third in last season's district meet. Cassidy Thomas and Haley Stapleton loom as breakthrough athletes in the hurdles and sprints. Alexis Brahmsteadt will most likely run relays and distance.

Freshmen boys could make immediate impacts at meets. Brogan Jones, Josh Grone, Noah Carr, Lukas Oswald, Brock Floyd and Austin Gregerson will all have specialized events, but also could play a role late in the year by adding events or relays to their meet agendas. Jones is a middle distance runner, Grone a field event athlete, Carr will be on the track and runways, Oswald has middle distance and hurdle potential, Floyd and Gregerson most likely will be field event specialists. "I respect and admire these kids," Uldrich said. "To put themselves in front of everyone, risking failure, but risking success too. Eventually, the medals will come. The work it takes to be a track athlete and learning to compete is a valuable lesson for life. We appreciate and respect each and every athlete who dares take the challenge. These athletes are a tremendously fun and hard working group of young people."

State qualifier leads top returners for Wakefield

Seven returning starters return for the Wakefield track and field teams this season, led by senior state qualifier Savannah Nelson.

Nelson is a three-time state qualifier for the Trojans and is hoping to make it back to state during her senior season. She leads a girls team that has some quality returning starters, but needs to develop some depth.

"We return quality scorers in Savannah, Jamie Dolph, Breanna Chase and Camille Armitage, but we will need a few people to step up and fill some spots on relays to be competitive," coach Mike Hassler said.

Dolph will lead the Wakefield runners in the distance events, while Chase is expected to score well in the sprints and Armitage should compete well in the high jump.

The Wakefield boys have three returning starters back and have the potential to do well this spring if they can develop some depth, Hassler said.

"We have a young boys team that is loaded with potential," he said. "If we can develop some consistency, I think we can surprise some people at meets this season with a quality team.'

The Trojans are led by returning starters Daniel Nuno, Esgar Godinez and Solomon Peitz. Nuno should compete well in sprints or middle distance, Godinez will score well in sprints and Peitz is expected to compete in middle distance and the jumping events.

The Trojans start the 2017 track season on Friday at the Wayne State Indoor Invitational.

Woodworking tools & suppli

Junior Bri Hingst is also a returning medalist from the 2015 400-meter relay squad in Omaha. Hingst will look to hurdle and be a middle-distance runner for the Eagles.

Seniors Chase Johnson and Sierra Brahmsteadt are the two other seniors in the Allen lineup Johnson is a field event athlete and Brahmsteadt a distance runner.

Juniors Bud Kneifl and Desi Martell look to be the leaders of the junior class, as Kneifl returns with a thirdplace district finish in the 1,600 and Martell also a third-place finish in the high jump at districts. Kaitlyn Madsen is looking to improve in the hurdles races and contend for a state meet slot this season. Jacob Williams will be in the middle distances this year and bolster a core of runners competing for relay positions. Tanisha Isom will rejoin the squad after a one-year absence and run relays and

Plenty of experience back for Trojans

Experience is the key word to describe this spring's golf team at Wakefield High School, and coach Chad Metzler is looking forward to an improved season

"We return a lot of experience off of last year's team, and we're really looking forward to this season," he said.

Five starters are back for the Trojans this season, including Parker Lehmkuhl, Matt Christensen, Tay Guill, Anthony Munderloh and Pay-

The Wayne State softball team finished their annual spring break trip to Florida with two wins in the National Training Center Spring Games in Minneola, Fla.

The Wildcats closed the trip last Thursday with a 4-2 win over St. Joseph's of Indiana, getting 10 hits to end the week on a winning note.

The Wildcats opened the scoring in the first when Katelyn Wobken singled and scored on a passed ball. They extended the lead to 3-0 in the third when Emily Chandler came through with a two-run single that scored Melanie Alyea and Rachel Shumaker.

The Pumas got on the board in the fifth with a single run to make the score 3-1, but the Wildcats scored an insurance run in the sixth when Wobken doubled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Alyssa Schropp and went on to the win as St. Joseph's left the bases loaded after scoring a run in the bottom of the seventh.

Wobken went 3-for-4 with a double and two runs scored while Chandler finished 3-for-4 with two RBI. Shumaker finished 2-for-4 with a pair of singles while Jordyn Breitbarth doubled. Nataliah Hopkins got the win in the circle, retiring the first nine batters she faced and finishing with five strikeouts, five hits allowed and one walk.

In the first game of the day, Abbie Hix went 3-for-4 with a homer and two RBI's and Hopkins threw five scoreless innings to help Wayne State to a 7-2 win over Concordia College of New York.

Hix hit her homer in the first inning with a two-run blast, and Wayne State extended the lead to 4-0 in the following innning on RBI doubles by Blair Shanks and Alyssa Schropp.

Concordia got a run in the sixth, but Wayne State put up three more in the seventh, using a Hix single and three Concordia errors.

Hopkins allowed five hits and four strikeouts in the win, with Allison Niemeier coming on for two innings of relief.

The Wayne State softball team dropped a pair of games Wednesday, losing to No. 16 Southern Indiana 12-6 and Wilmington (Del.) University, 12-2.

ana rallied late with four runs in nie Alyea both doubled. Hopkins the fifth and six in the bottom of the sixth to post the win.

The Eagles took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning, but Wayne State came back with two in the second and four in the third for a 6-2 Wildcat lead. Monique Alvea and Shanks delivered RBI singles for the Wildcats in the second inning. Big hits in the four-run Wildcat third inning came from Alyea and Jenna Stewart with RBI singles while Melanie Alyea and Shumaker each doubled.

Southern Indiana bats came alive in the final two innings as the Eagles produced six hits and scored four runs in the fifth and added six runs on five hits in the bottom of the sixth to snap a 6-6 tie and go on to the victory.

Southern Indiana had 16 hits in the game while the Wildcats had a season-high 12 hits in the losing effort. Monique Alyea finished 3-for-4 with a double and two RBI to lead the Wildcats. Shumaker was 2-for-4 with a double and two runs scored while Schropp was 2-for-3 with a pair of singles. Wobken and Melatook the loss with a complete-game effort.

In Wednesday's opener, Wilmington University of Delaware scored eight runs in the fourth inning to put the Wildcats away.

Wayne State scored first when Wobken reached on an error and scored on Melanie Alyea's single.

After Wilmington took a 4-1 lead in the third, the Wildcats scored their final run of the game in the top of the fourth when Abbie Hix doubled and scored after Shumaker reached on an error to make the score 4-2. Wilmington put the game out of reach with an eight-run fourth inning, using seven hits and three Wildcat errors.

Hix doubled for the game's only extra base hit while Melanie Alyea and Chandler each singled to account for Wayne State's three-hit effrort. Niemeier took the loss in the circle, with Hopkins coming on in relief.

Wayne State, 4-14, resumes play on Friday, March 17 when they play at the Missouri Western Tournament in St. Joseph, Mo.

Basketball, guests make for busy week

The Wayne

I was TIRED today! I think I lost more sleep, and used more nervous energy, the end of last week than I ever did over my own kids. Of course, unfortunately, my kids never played in a State Basketball Tournament.

And when I say that, I think of all the teams throughout the state, throughout the years, that have never had that privilege. That is why I hope the players that did not make it past the first day do not feel too downhearted. It's a privilege to be here!!

I get a kick out of the high school students who sing the Star Spangled Banner; or the bands that play it. I get a charge out of the crazy outfits the students come up with. When I think of my Pep Club outfit, blue felt skirts with our blue mascot sweaters and gold blouses, we must have looked like a sedate little bunch in those days. And our cheer leaders wore those same royal blue sweaters, but with gold shiny fabric skirts that twirled; did I mention they were below the knees??

Those guys played like college players, which I guess at least one of them Paul, Minnesota, called our music will be. In fact, he could be a huge help to NU. An email went out, it! It's been thirty years, and even and I think it was double the usual fifteen since an out state team accomplished this.

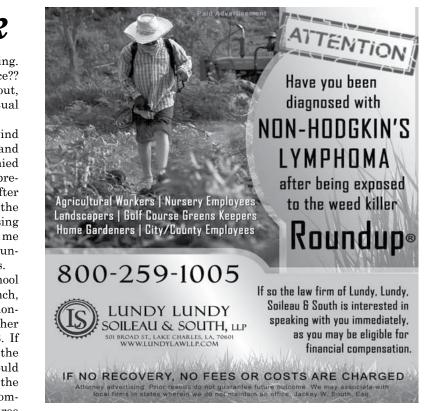

I always root for the ones who haven't been here before, or haven't won it before, or who drove the longest distance. I wonder if little Mullen went way back to the panhandle that night; surely they waited till morning. I know some guys who drove from Norfolk/ Winside all three days. That makes me feel very fortunate to be so close to the action, especially when it's at East High.

I have to admit I missed most of Norfolk's game. We have church on Saturday evening, and it's our first choice. Mike did not want to brave the cold, and I had to take blood pressures after the service. We had an unusual group of guests this Saturday. Bethany University in St. director on Thursday. They were leaving on their spring tour to Coloattendance

They brought a fifty piece wind ensemble and played a prelude and an offertory. They accompanied all the hymns, and then they presented a thirty minute concert after the service. I told them one of the things on my bucket list was to sing with an orchestra, they helped me accomplish that; me and one hundred other folks. It was gorgeous.

On Sunday, old nursing school friend, Carolyn, arrived for lunch, so I fixed Reuben casserole in honor of St. Pat. Then we met another classmate at a coffee shop at 3. If you want to know more about the new health care law, you should have been at our table. As I told the student nurses at Southeast Community College this morning, three old nurses can tell you how it should be done! Ha!

Anyway, it was a fun ending to a fun, busy week. Maybe this one will be quieter. So far, no snow.

Deb Hammer gave devotions entitled, "Lent by Candlelight." The focus was to encourage a renewed appreciation for the passion of our Lord. Lent has many symbols - "ashes" to show humility and repentance; "palms" representing Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday; "silver coins" which Judas Iscariot was given to betray Jesus; "crown of thorns" which were put on Jesus' head when he was arrested, "cross and nails" used to crucify our Lord, and "stone" which sealed the tomb where Jesus body was laid.

Wayne State College professor honored with the Nebraska Academy of Sciences award

Dr. Todd Young of Wayne State College will be awarded the Friend of Science Award, the top award at the Nebraska Academy of Sciences (NAS) Annual Meeting in Lincoln on April 21.

"Dr. Mary Ettel, professor of chemistry at Wayne State College, won this award in 2007. I am humbled and honored," Young said.

NAS awards the honor in recognition of a person in Nebraska who has made significant contributions to science or science education across the state.

Formal or informal educators or industry professionals may earn the award. The NAS Executive Committee nominates and selects the award winner.

Todd Young is a professor of physics and astronomy at Wayne State College. He is also the director of the Fred G. Dale Planetarium on the WSC campus. Dr. Young's research interests include variable stars, cosmology, and science technical, non-fiction and fiction writing. His teaching interests are physics and astronomy education and outreach.

Planetarium Society, the Western Alliance Planetarium Association and the Nebraska Academy of Science.

He received the George Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence Award from the Nebraska State College System in 2008. Every year a faculty member earns the Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence award for demonstrating innovation and leadership in teaching and service in the Nebraska State College System, which includes Chadron, Peru and Wayne State colleges. Administrators, fellow faculty, students, and alumni nominate candidates. The Lincoln Community Foundation manages the endowment in memory of George Rebensdorf, a former member of the Board of Trustees. The Wayne State College nominee for the Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence Award also receives the State National Bank Teaching Excellence Award.

Dr. Young serves as the coordinator of the Nebraska Science Bowl and the Rural Health Opportunities Program (RHOP) at WSC. He is also the president of the Majestic Theater Advisory Board.

His educational achievements include:

Ph.D., Astrophysics, 1998 - University of Nebraska-Lincoln

M.S., Physics, 1993 - Purdue University

B.A., Physics and English (minor in Mathematics), 1991 - University of Minnesota-Morris

Poison Prevention Week is March 19-25

The Nebraska Regional Poison Center (NRPC) congratulates Nebraska for 150 years of statehood while celebrating its own milestone of serving Nebraskans for 60 years.

The first poison center was started in Chicago in 1953. By 1957, Nebraska had its own poison center which remains one of the oldest in existence. Initially, poison centers answered physicians' questions but over time began taking calls from the public. By the late 1970s there were close to 700 poison centers in the United States. Today 55 poison centers operate in the U.S. The NRPC serves Nebraska, Idaho, American Samoa and the Federated States of Micronesia.

Poison control centers save lives and health care dollars. While the majority of poison-related exposures occur in children under 5 years of age, deaths among young children decreased from approximately 450 in 1961 to 24 in 2015. This is in great part to poison centers' accessibility to the public, and their efforts to provide public education and sound the alarm on the dangers of laundry packets, disc batteries, trending synthetic drugs and the opioid epidemic in this country. More than 75 percent of exposure cases are managed at home greatly reducing the need for a costly emergency room visit. Nebraska has not seen the numbers of opioid deaths that other states have experienced; however in 2015 there were 54 deaths from opioids. Drug overdose deaths in Nebraska have increased more than 20 percent over the last decade.

Free Estimates THE GUTTER CREW 28 Years of Experience Art Sehi (402)776-2563 Steve Cornett (402)776-2646

Poison Prevention Week is March 19-25 and is a time to remind the public that while poisonings are the leading cause of injury death in the U.S., many poisonings are preventable and expert help is just a phone call away.

Let's continue living the GOOD LIFE in Nebraska by remembering these tips:

•Save the Poison Center number in your phone as a contact: 1-800-222-1222.

· Be sure to read and follow medicine labels every time.

•Never share your medicine with others or use someone else's medicine.

•Remember to always use the dosing device that comes with the medicine.

•Take only one medicine at a time with the same active ingredi-

·Store all medicines up and away and out of reach and sight of children.

•Teach children to only take medicines with the permission and guidance from a parent or trusted adult.

·Install and maintain carbon monoxide detectors in your home. ·Be aware of where the disc batteries are in your home. They may be found in remote controls, key fobs, watches and toys. Keep batteries away from children.

·Make sure all cleaning materials, including laundry packets, are stored in original containers and up and out of sight of children.

•Text "poison" to 797979 to save the contact information for poison control in your smartphone.

we had two televisions. One in our living room, a 19-inch dial activated television and another 27-inch (that was big back then you know) in our family room which could be operated using a remote. We lived in the country near a small town in western Nebraska where you could get 2.5 channels, (one was always fuzzy so that one only counts for half). We didn't have access to the internet or a computer with a modem until I was 10 years old and the internet was quite a bit slower and less reliable back then. Screen time wasn't something that needed to be discussed. We looked up information in Encyclopedias. We called people on a telephone, which was attached to the wall by a cord. We wrote letters using paper and pen. We played games with the whole family on boards and with cards. We watched T.V. on Friday nights (TGIF) and woke up early Saturday morning for 6:30 a.m. cartoons which ended by noon. Children played outdoors she can bring home to study with. Instead, we have a sheet of paper with a log-in for a website. This means she spends time looking at a computer screen when she could be reading a book. She spends time asking Siri what an igneous rock is rather than looking it up in a dictionary.

What does all of this mean for us in 2017? This past October, the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) released new recommendations and resources for families regarding screen time. Screen time includes activities done in front of a screen, such as using an app on your phone or watching music videos on a tablet.

Infant and toddler's brains are growing at an exceptional rate during the first two years of life. It is important for these children to have positive social interactions with the people caring for them. Therefore, the AAP recommends children younger than 18 months participate with screens only for video chatting. For children 18 months to 24 months only high quality programming (such as PBS or Sesame Street) is suggested.

It is vitally important for an adult to be with the infant during the video chat and while watching the program to help them better unhearing. Research shows that unstructured playtime is more valuable for a young child's developing brain than electronic media. Young children are more likely to remember doing an activity than watching an activity be done. Children ages 2 to 5 years should be limited to one hour of screen time per day. Again, the programs watched should be of high-quality, and be viewed with parents. For children 6 years and older, screen time should not interfere with time spent doing other activities. Sleep, physical activities, and mealtimes should be of top priority. Studies show a relationship between television viewing and young children being overweight. Caring For Our Children states that children 3-5 years who watch 2 or more hours of television per day have an increased risk of being overweight.

What does this mean for adults? It means that we need to be good role models for our children. Put the phone down and play with your child when they are at the park. Make it a rule to turn off the T.V. during meal times. Silence phones and charge them outside of your child's bedroom at night.

To help families navigate the evolving digital world, the AAP has developed a guide for creating a family plan for screen time and media use. The plan is broken up into 9 areas: screen free zones, screen free times, device curfews, choose & diversify your media, balancing on-line and off-line time, manners matter, digital citizenship, safety first and sleep & exercise. There are examples and suggestions prepopulated and areas to write in personal guidelines. Create your own family plan by going to http:// www.healthychildren.org. Delight in the company of your family, and treasure every moment.

+ www.mywaynenews.com Thank God for the Good Friday Earthquake

If you google the term "Good Friday earthquake", the first, and usually only item, to pop up on the search engine is the 1964 Alaskan earthquake, also known as the Great Alaskan earthquake.

The quake occurred at 5:36 p.m. AST on Good Friday, March 27. Across south-central Alaska, ground fissures, collapsing structures, and tsunamis resulting from the earthquake caused about 139 deaths. The quake lasted four minutes and thirty-eight seconds. The 9.2 megathrust earthquake was the most powerful recorded in North American history, and the second most powerful recorded in world history.

Anchorage sustained great destruction and damage to houses, buildings, and infrastructure (paved streets, sidewalks, water and sewer mains, electrical systems, and other man-made equipment).Two hundred miles southwest near Kodiak, the ground was permanently raised by 30 feet. Southeast of Anchorage, areas around the head of Turnagain Arm near Girdwood and Portage dropped as much as 8 feet. The community of Valdez actually had to be moved to a new location as a result of the earthquake.

Visiting Alaska today there are few signs of the earthquake remaining since all buildings, roads and infrastructure have been rebuilt. Although nature, by and large, has healed the earthquake wounds, you can visit Earthquake Park in Anchorage where an entire subdivision collapsed 40 feet below ground level. Today, Earthquake Park, grown over with trees and undergrowth, still provides a view of the sunken area. While Alaska has recovered from the physical effects of the 1964 earthquake, Alaskans who were alive at the time carry with them vivid memories of that fateful Good Friday.

While the earthquake was horrific, there is always a bright lining in every cloud. Since it happened on Good Friday, downtown - where the worst damage occurred - was nearly deserted. Had it happened vivid reminder of God's command to worship and serve Him?

Enough about the 1964 Good Friday Alaska earthquake. What I find very interesting, actually the main point of this article, is that a google search for "Good Friday earthquake" makes no mention of another Good Friday earthquake which was of much greater magnitude and importance. Another

Good Friday earthquake? What is that all about? Consider what happened the first Good Friday at the temple was torn in two, from top to bottom. And the earth shook, and the rocks were split. The tombs also were opened. And many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised, and coming out of the tombs after his resurrection

they went into the holy city and appeared to many. When the centurion and those who were with him, keeping watch over Jesus, saw the earthquake and what took place,

they were filled with awe and said,

'Truly this was the Son of God!"

The moment Jesus died, there was an earthquake. Only this earthquake didn't destroy roads,

(Matthew 27:51-54).

"And behold, the curtain of the moment Jesus died:

sidewalks, buildings and other things. The most notable thing this earthquake did, even more than open the graves of the dead, was to tear, a six inch thick temple curtain from top to bottom.

What is so significant about that? The temple curtain separated the Holy Place from the Holy of Holies in the temple. The Holy Place was the outer part of the temple sanctuary where the priests went about their daily task of prayer and offering sacrifices. The Holy of Holies was the most holy inner sanctuary, its dimensions a perfect cube, where the high priest once a year on the Day of Atonement would offer sacrifice for the people's sin. The Holy of Holies contained the Ark of the Covenant which was literally considered God's dwelling place.

The tearing of the temple curtain proclaims that believers are now able to approach God's throne of mercy. Literally heaven's door is open. "Therefore, brothers and sisters, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way opened for us through the curtain, that is, his body, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near to God with a sincere heart and with the full assurance that faith brings, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water" (Hebrews 10:19-22).

Praise God that the first Good Friday earthquake opened God's throne in heaven for believers to approach through Jesus' sacrifice for our sin! The Holy of Holies being opened is the best Good Friday happening of all time! Amen.

Grace Ladies Aid holds March meeting

Grace Ladies Aid and LWML met March 8 at 2 p.m. at the Grace fellowship hall. President Fauneil Bennett welcomed 11 members and Pastor Feldmann. Vice President Ellen Heinemann led the devotion.

In honor of Ladies Aid 90th anniversary she led members in singing hymn #90 in the old hymnal entitled "Come, Your Heart and Voices Raising". The hymn is based from Luke 2:15. The group recited the LWML pledge in unison. President Bennett handed out spring Quarterlies and the February and March Mission Grant stories of Healthy Families for $60,000 and Lutheran Youth Corp for $25,000.

Rhonda Sebade read the minutes from the January meeting. They were approved as read. The Aid did not meet in February due to bad weather. Correspondence was read. A thank you was received from Leoma Baker, Orphan Grain Train, and St. Louis Seminary. Treasurer Barb Greve gave the treasurer's report, which will be filed for review. Bonnadell Koch and Betty Wittig audited the books and found them to be in order. Committee Reports included: Sewing: The ladies did not sew in January due to bad weather. They sewed Feb. 23 and March 2. They also cut batting for the quilts and will sew again on March 23. Visiting: Betty Wittig sent many cards. Rhonda Sebade visited at Careage. Funeral: The ladies served 2 funerals. The committee thanked all for the food and help. The new funeral committee is Chairman Kim-Berly Hansen, Rhonda Sebade, Cindy Evans and Barb Frevert. Gifts: Bonnadell Koch received a gift for being a Ladies Aid member or 40 vears. Old Business: The Aid will be going to Brookdale as a group for coffee on Wednesday, March 15 at 9:30 a.m. to visit with our members.

New Business: The LWML Pajama Prayer Party will be held on Saturday, April 22 at Grand Island. The Wayne Zone is to bring two yards of flannel and a matching Tshirt for kids size 5-8 and women's XXXL. Deaconess Jessica Feldmann and LWML member Elaine Nelson will be leading the Bible study. Betty Wittig brought to our attention that some of our new folding chairs need some maintenance. They will look into the warranty.

Bible Study: The ladies watched a movie entitled "The First Rosa". Rosa Young was born in 1890 to a black Methodist pastor and his wife. As a child she felt she did not know the true meaning of the saving Gospel in the Bible. In 1912 with the help of the Lutheran church, she was able to open the Rosebud Literary School. Here she helped bring schooling to the black children and more importantly brought Jesus to them. She was known as an advocate for the education of rural children and was a confessor and church planter for Christ and His church. She played an instrumental role in establishing 30 Lutheran elementary schools and 35 Lutheran congregations in central Alabama. The DVD is available in our church library for anyone to watch. Members sang the birthday song to Ruth Victor for her February birthday and for Jessica Feldmann and Pastor Lilienkamp for March. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, April 12 with Betty Wittig serving. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and the Table Prayer. Barb Greve served lunch.

8 Ways to Save More for Retirement

Most financial professionals agree that you should save as much as you can, or at least 10-15 percent of your salary for your golden years¹. If you're not saving that amount, or need more to achieve your ideal retirement, how can you add to your savings without drastically changing your lifestyle today? Here are eight ways to potentially make a positive difference for your retirement over the long term:

1. Commit to saving for retirement. If you've started putting money away for retirement, stick with it. You'll likely face situations that can disrupt your steady stream of savings, such as taking a new job, moving or paying unexpected medical bills. Your expenses are bound to move up and down, but missing out on months or years of savings can have a significant impact on your total nest egg - especially if you're far from retirement and time for compounding interest is on your side.

another day, the death toll would have been many times higher.

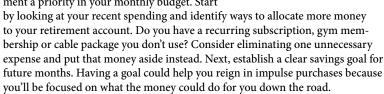

Another "bright lining" story about the Good Friday earthquake is that a district playoff basketball game was scheduled late Good Friday afternoon at Anchorage West High School. But because it was Good Friday, parents complained adamantly that everyone, children and parents, would miss Good Friday worship services. The school relented and rescheduled the game. Because of the conviction of godly parents, the high school was empty when the earthquake struck. Had the game been played, it would have been a different story! The gym was literally swallowed by a huge crack in the earth that opened and slammed shut 64 times. It is estimated about 2,000 people would have been at the game (probably most killed). 2. Create a budget - and stick to it. Make retirement a priority in your monthly budget. Start

3. Take advantage of your 401(k) match. Don't miss out if your company provides matching contributions when you defer income into your workplace retirement plan. For example, if your employer offers to match the equivalent of three percent of your income, consider deferring at least three percent of your income into the plan. In effect, you'll double your money even before it is invested.

4. Be smart about taxes. A high percentage of Americans receive a sizable tax refund each year. If that describes you, consider investing your refund in your workplace retirement plan or an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). If you're tempted to spend the money on something today, think about how much further your refund will go in retirement once it's given the chance to grow over time. On the flip side, if you pay a substantial amount at tax time, make sure you're approaching your tax liability in the most strategic way possible. Talk with a professional about your unique situation in the upcoming tax season.

5. Increase savings once you're an empty nester. Chances are that your expenses will decrease once your children are financially independent. Earmark the money you once spent on hockey gear, your kids' health insurance or college tuition toward your golden years. While it can be tempting to remodel the kitchen or take a parents-only cruise with the additional cash, financial security in retirement should take priority.

6. Review your insurance policies. Compare your auto and home insurance costs with other providers to see if you can get a better deal. And be sure to read the fine print before switching so that you don't sacrifice important coverage in order to save a few dollars. Also, check to see if you qualify for discounts based on your lifestyle or habits. Possible discounts include loyalty savings if you've been with the same provider for a while, paying your premium annually or semiannually, or the good grades if you have school-aged dependents.

7. Save salary increases. Make a commitment to your future self by allocating your year-end or performance bonus to retirement, if you're fortunate enough to receive one. And the next time you earn a promotion or raise, think about increasing your workplace retirement savings accordingly. Even a one percent increase in the amount you defer to your 401(k) can make an impact on the size of your retirement nest egg.

8. Enlist professional guidance. Meet with financial professionals in your local area to get their perspective on how you can increase your retirement savings. A financial advisor, tax planner or an estate planner can review your financial situation and help you make smart choices for your life today and in your golden years.

Implementing even a handful of these ideas may help you generate additional cash you can apply toward your retirement savings. This money can make a significant difference over time in both the amount you have saved and your confidence in having enough money to last in retirement.

ORDINANCE NO. 2017-3 ΔN ORDINANCE ADOPTING AND ENACTING A NEW CODE FOR THE CITY OF WAYNE, NEBRASKA; TO REPEAL PRIOR ORDINANCES; TO REQUIRE FILING; AND TO PROVIDE FOR AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and Council of the City of Wayne. Nebraska:

Section 1. The general ordinances of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, are hereby revised, codified and printed in book form as the "Code of Ordinances of Wayne, Nebraska" consisting of the following Titles:

Title I: General Provisions Title III: Administration Title V: Public Works Title VII: Traffic Code Title IX: General Regulations

Title XI: Business Regulations

- Title XIII: General Offenses
- Title XV: Land Usage

Section 2. The Code of Ordinances contains all of the provisions of a general nature pertaining to the subjects enumerated and embraced in the code. All prior ordinances pertaining to the subjects treated by the code are repealed, except that nothing shall affect any rights acquired under, actions involving, or fines, penalties, forfeitures, or liabilities incurred pursuant to such ordinances prior to repeal.

Section 3. All ordinances of a temporary or special nature and all other ordinances pertaining to subjects not embraced in the Code of Ordinances, including ordinances specified in this section, shall remain in full force and effect unless repealed expressly or by necessary implication.

- Vacating or setting the boundaries of streets, alleys, or other public places.
- Annexing or detaching territory.
- \succ Granting or accepting easements, plats, or dedication of land to public use.
- > Providing for the acquisition or convey ance of real or personal property.
- \succ Authorizing or directing public improvements to be made.
- > Levying taxes or special assessments
- > Appropriating money.
- Granting franchises or special licenses. > Providing for the issuance of bonds or other instruments of indebtedness.

Section 4. At least one copy of the Code of Ordinances shall be on file in the office of the City Clerk and available for inspection by members of the public during the hours the Joe Jetensky, President, Shane Morris, Network Operations Manager, and Cory Sandoz, Supervisor, of American Broadband updated the Council on current services provided to the City of Wayne and a report of planned network upgrades to provide higher speeds for residential and business customers.

Public hearings were held on the following matters:

- \succ To consider the Planning Commission's recommendation on the "Railyard Addition" Final Plat. "Schulz The applicant for the final plat is the City of Wayne.
- To consider the Planning Commission's recommendation concerning a rezoning request from A-2 Agricultural Residential to A-1 Agricultural – Lot 6, Tuffern Blue Estates Subdivision. The applicant is Todd Luedeke.

Discussion then took place on the Group Health Plan Benefit for city employees. Staff has found in the League's salary survey that Wayne is not comparable in what the City contributes and what the employee's costshare is for the premiums. Council requested additional information from staff. The matter would be brought back a future meeting.

APPROVED:

Animal Permit Application of Jacob Jones to have an African Pygmy Hedgehog within city limits. The following lottery location: The Max Bar

Nebraska Area Agency on Aging in the amount of $57,700; acceptance of new fiscal year Service Awards that have been awarded by the Area Agency; and approval of any revisions made during the fiscal year to the Service Awards.

Res. 2017-10 approving the final plat for the "Schulz Railyard Addition.

First reading of Ord. 2017-5 amending

Assessor Duffy requested the board give some thought to when the county should schedule their next Pictometry flight. A flight in spring of 2018 is estimated to cost $64,877.50. Cost sharing with the City of Wayne was questioned.

Wayne City Planner Joel Hansen was present to clarify the impact of dedicating a ROW easement versus a public road dedication, on property located outside of Wayne city limits but within the City's 2-mile zoning jurisdiction. Upon discussion, the board agreed to accept a public road dedication along Tuffern Blue Estates addition. The acceptance is subject to the County Attorney's approval of the dedication verbiage.

Highway Superintendent Mark Casey updated the board on several projects. Bids received from Midwest Service and Sales Co. and B's Enterprises, Inc. for Projects C-90(630) - 558 Ave between 861 Road and 862 Road and C-90(646) - 559 Ave between 849 Rd and 850 Rd were opened.
