Bertolas' goal to help students 'learn about your state'

By Clara Osten
clara@wayneherald.com

With a goal to "put more and better geography resources in the classroom," Dr. Randy Bertolas began a project his wife calls "a year of Saturdays."

Bertolas is a professor of geography at Wayne State College and recently earned the attention of Nebraska's First Lady, Susanne Shore.

The First Lady was responsible for finding funding for a third edition "Student Atlas of Nebraska" which will be distributed to fourth grade students across the state.

For several years Bertolas has been working with Geographic Educators of Nebraska surveying teachers across Nebraska to determine their needs in teaching students about the state.

"My goal has been to put out an atlas of Nebraska to allow students to 'learn about your state.' I decided to focus on fourth graders, who already study Nebraska to get their interest early," Bertolas said.

After receiving feedback from teachers, Bertolas began with a 'germ of an idea' and started to create an atlas. He very soon realized he couldn't do it at the same time as his 'day job' (teaching at Wayne State College) so with the blessing of his wife, Maureen Kingston, began the project.

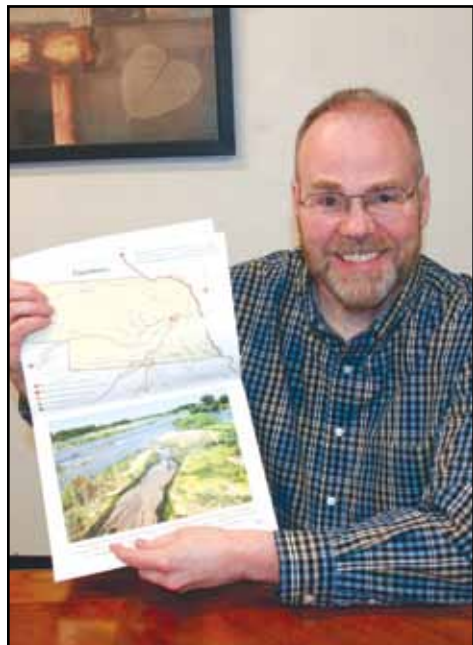

"The newly created atlas involved what Maureen calls my 'year of Saturdays' where I went off to work researching the state, creating maps and designing the atlas to allow students to ask questions," Bertolas said.

When the first edition was completed Bertolas needed to get it printed and bound, which required funding.

He spoke to groups across the state and received funding from Humanities Nebraska, Monsanto, Wayne State College, National Geographic Education, Central Valley Ag, Land O'Lakes, Nebraska Council for the Social Studies, LinkedIn-Omaha and the Nebraska Environmental Trust.

Bertolas received funding to print several thousand copies of the atlas, as well as provide for professional development for teachers across the state.

"There are 1,400 fourth grade teachers in Nebraska and my goal is to get the atlas, as well as a digital copy of the material, into their hands," Bertolas said. "The atlas is inquiry based, and the curriculum guide that goes with it does more than just teach history or geography. There is also information on government in our state, as well as math and critical thinking," he said.

Bertolas credits his wife for her consultation on the project and reminding him that he needed to use "fourth grade words" in the book.

The atlas contains a number of maps and geographical information about the state, but also includes information such as what crops are grown in Nebraska, where the people came from that settled here, pictures of the state's landmarks, population information and a listing of all the counties in the state.

With the third edition of the book recently completed, Bertolas said, "It is such a good feeling to be done. But, now we are going to work on translating it into Spanish. Everyone I have talked to has suggestions on what to do with the book and where to go from here," he said.

"I have given away all the books that have been printed. This was never designed to be a money-making project.

Funding for the current edition of the atlas came from Mutual of Omaha, Peter Kiewit Foundation and The Ethel S. Abbott Charitable Foundation.

Princess gowns and theater costumes not all that Anna Kruger has made from sewing

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

Nearly every girl dreams of donning a princess dress at least once or twice in their lives, but that bit of fantasy doesn't come true for everyone. Anna Kruger is not one of those people though.

Taking matters into her own hands by the time she was a freshman in high school, the Wayne High graduate and current Wayne State College student began sewing with her mom.

"My mom learned to sew when she was young and I always saw what she was doing," Kruger said. "I had a summer a few years ago where I just said 'Ok, you're going to teach me how to sew.'"

She and her mother poured over patterns and discussed techniques for a summer and when Kruger's first dress project turned out, she said she was hooked.

Kruger's determination to learn the craft and challenge herself brought about projects of a grand scale: princess gowns.

"I started doing princess dresses and I made my prom dress my senior year, so that's really how I got into doing costumes."

Kruger admitted some of her projects were brought about by the challenge factor — attempting a project as big as a princess costume or prom dress is certainly something that tests a person's abilities — but also the creative factor.

"When I got to the prom stage, it was 'Well I could buy something or I could make it.' It's fun to make them."

Having been at Wayne High School, Kruger was familiar with senior English teacher Duane Spieker, so when an Intro to Theater class was available at Wayne State with his wife Mollie, Kruger decided to try it out.

"I chose that class, and she had seen my costumes so she kind of recruited me last semester to help with costumes."

Kruger's busy schedule as a Biology major makes it extremely important that the workshop class she takes to complete the costumes is flexible, which it is, allowing her to participate in the spring show but also to keep up with her classes and numerous labs.

Costumes for the shows at WSC aren't all from scratch, in fact, a good portion of them are modifications of costumes from previous shows or pieces borrowed from the costume shop in Pierce.

Electives offered at Wayne State have given Kruger an opportunity to add in more of her hobby while she's enrolled. Classes on textiles and terminology have helped her in designing and constructing costumes from knowing what fabric works

A zany romp through Alice's Adventures in Wonderland at Wayne State College

The Wayne State College Theatre Department is slated to perform the amusing and utterly zany Alice's Adventures in Wonderland at Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building, March 29 through April 2. The comical performance is sure to delight the entire family.

This is a fun, fast romp through Wonderland. Alice journeys to the Eighth Square where she believes she will become queen. On the way, she meets a splendid caterpillar, attends a frantic tea party and talks to flowers and animals. Will she keep her head? The Queen of Hearts is on a rampage, but astute Alice is no pushover.

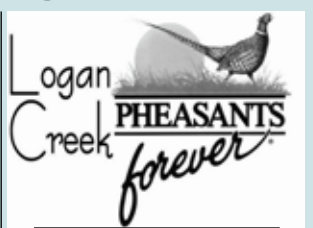

The cast for this enthusiastic production includes 22 WSC students. Dulce Torres of Wayne plays Alice. Abigail Ramold of Norfolk is the Queen of Hearts. The show includes original music by Eric Dalaviras of Wayne who plays the Cheshire Cat and performs the music live. Dalaviras has composed a campy lounge number for the Mock Turtle, brilliantly portrayed by Victoria McNamara of Papillion, who doubles as the Lily and is also the makeup designer.

Firefighters working to get a field fire under control on Friday were hampered by strong northwest winds. Numerous departments, farmers and individuals were a part of the effort.

Fires battled last week and through the weekend Six departments aided on Friday

The Wayne Fire Department was called to a field fire 5 miles west and 1.5 miles south of Wayne on Friday afternoon at approximately 3:50 p.m. The cause of the fire at this time is currently unknown.

Six departments provided mutual aid (Winside, Carroll, Wakefield, Hoskins, Wisner, Stanton) and nine tractors and disks also assisted. Northeast Public Power was on scene to provide assistance with any electrical concerns and Providence Medical Center was on scene providing care to firefighters.

Winside and Wisner also sent ambulances to be on standby.

According to Wayne Fire Chief Phil Monahan, several firefighters were treated on scene for smoke inhalation.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office, Wayne County Emergency Management, and Wayne County Department of Roads and employees provided multiple facets of assistance.

The City of Wayne and Helena Chemical Company provided water to the firefighters. Additional water was pumped from a local irrigation well.

With the high winds the fire traveled approximately two miles and burned approximately 260 acres of field and about 100 hay bales.

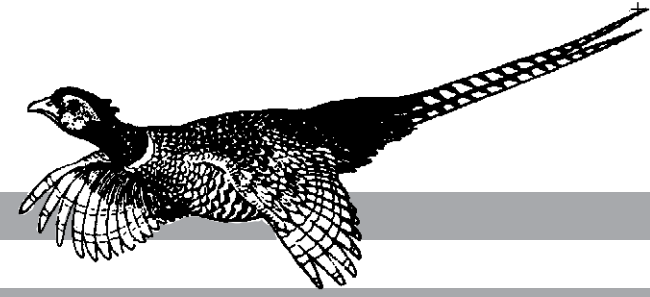

Fire crews were on scene for approximately four hours making sure all the flames were extinguished.

"We would like to thank the farmers who showed up with their disks to help us during the recent fires. Without them, who knows what would have happened. We would also like to thank those who brought food to the firehall after the fire," Monahan said.

The Wayne, Wakefield and Allen-Waterbury fire departments also responded to a field fire on Sunday afternoon and had previously responded to a field fire two miles south and two miles west of Wayne on Thursday. Mutual aid had been called, but by the time Winside arrived, Wayne had the fire under control.

Commissioners hear presentation on mental-health and substance abuse services available to county

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

A large portion of Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners was spent listening to a presentation by Jennifer Jackson from Heartland Counseling.

Heartland Counseling is a Region 4 provider, which in total consists of 22 counties. Heartland covers 11 of those 22 in Region 4. The company provides mental health and substance abuse services to people of all ages, with and without insurance.

Jackson discussed how Heartland is funded by state and federal block grants along with Medicare, Medicaid and private funds.

Of their $1.5 million budget, $1 million comes from Region 4 funding with the rest coming from the other sources she mentioned.

Jackson went over the numerous services available to those who live in Wayne county, from substance abuse evaluations and prevention classes to therapy, Life Center access, crisis response program and transportation to and from appointments just to name a few.

Thanks to a grant, Heartland Counseling will be adding a youth crisis responder to their services starting in April.

Through these services, a number of people have been able to stay out of jail or the hospital when, in most cases, neither of those is the right place to recover from a drug addiction or mental health lapse.

Jackson met with the commissioners simply to discuss services and remind everyone that Heartland was available to utilize, with offices in South Sioux City, O'Neill, Ainsworth and Valentine.

Also on the agenda for the commissioners was receiving and awarding bids for two projects.

The first of those is a paving project around the courthouse. Several areas of concrete need to be replaced.

Otte Construction bid a total of $102,200 for the five areas and was awarded the project.

The second project was for fencing to encompass the shop complex in Wayne for District #1's equipment.

Three bids were received but Elkhorn Fence of Valley was awarded the contract. Their $24,745 bid included 1,610 linear feet of chain link fencing with 3-strand barbed wire topping the fence.

Also in the bid was concreted posts, but not aluminum gating, which will be negotiated upon at a later date.

Highway Superintendent Mark Casey gave a brief update on several bridge and road projects throughout the county including the reading of results for the road study of 573 Ave between 853 Ave and South Logan Creek. After reading those results, a public hearing was set for April 18 at 9:30 a.m. in order to hear any concerns about vacating that portion of road.

After some discussion on a county road agreement for the incoming wind energy farms, commissioners recessed the meeting in order to research agreements that other counties such as Holt and Custer hold with their wind energy farms.

Items such as a driveway policy, road haul policy and a decommission policy are all to be looked at as are the state and federal guidelines for setbacks from residences to ensure these are being met accordingly.

Because the topic requires more research before decisions can be made, the commissioners decided to recess and reconvene on Monday at 9 a.m.

best to what sewing technique is going to stand up to years of use. She's currently enrolled in a historic costumes course, starting back in ancient Egypt and moving through the years studying how things progress and change.

Kruger makes some pieces herself, but a significant amount of her time is spent making changes to existing costumes, adapting them to fit with the new show and the new cast.

And while this is something she and her mother started, it hasn't stayed just between Kruger and her mother.

High school friends have asked Anna to teach them how to sew and to sew with her, something she's happy to do.

"Last year over fall break, that's all we did," Kruger said of her friends. "We stayed in my basement sewing room working for 4 days on a Belle dress from scratch."

One such friend is Emma Osnes of Wayne. Not only does Osnes sew with Kruger, but she's helped Kruger with the upcoming WSC show "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" costuming thanks to a sculpting class she took at Wayne State.

"Emma's taken a sculpting class, so she's really helped when we were figuring out the flower's headdresses, helping me decide how to design and construct them."

Kruger discussed the friendship element to doing the costumes for Wayne State's spring show.

"I think when you get to college it's really easy to just stay in your building. This is my way to meet more people that I wouldn't have otherwise met."

Anna Mae Kruger of Wayne is designer and seamstress of the show's magnificent costumes. The costumes have a touch of Vegas with the entire show having a tinge of jazz. Brian Begley, Assistant Professor of Theatre, is scenic and lighting designer. The director is Adjunct Theatre Instructor Nina Buck.

Other cast members include: Aahron Young, Saint Louis, Mo.; Ali Mae Wilson, Franklin; Amanda Hartman, Schuyler; Angelica Villalobos, Madison; Benjamin Bjorklund, Wakefield; Dakota Schroll, Wood River; Emma and Meg Osnes, Wayne; Emily Hrbek, West Point; Erika Schwartz, McCool Junction; Hannah Rosen-trater, Paxton; Hope Pedersen, Norfolk; Joseph Catlett, Broken Bow; Julia Baxter, Plattsmouth; MacKenzie Larson, Nebraska City; Samantha Taylor, Beemer; Trevor McQuay, Magnet; and Zach Halsey, Pierce. Additional crew members include: Jonathan Good, Dodge; and Tabitha Belmont, Newport.

Enjoy Alice's Adventures in Wonderland Wednesday, March 29 through Friday, March 31 at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. by reservation only.

Shows open to the public are scheduled Saturday, April 1 at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday, April 2 at 2 p.m. Admission for all shows is $2 for children and $5 for adults. WSC students, faculty and staff enjoy free admission with their campus ID cards.

Wind, activity center fees, insurance on council agenda

By Clara

The purchase of wind energy, changes in fees to use the Wayne Community Activity Center and the amount of an employee's insurance the city will cover were all debated at length during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

After several months of meeting at the Wayne Senior Center, Tuesday's meeting was again held in Council Chambers at City Hall. The remodeling project at City Hall has been substantially completed, allowing the council to use their chambers.

Presentations were given by Bernie Cervera, a consultant with Guernsey, a firm the city has hired to explore options for the purchase of alternative energy and Adam Rickel with NextEra, a firm developing a wind farm known as the Cottonwood Project.

Cervera showed the council maps indicating that the state of Nebraska is "sitting in the best wind-producing areas in the country. There is tremendous potential to get the lowest cost for wholesale energy."

Cervera also talked about the city's options for making a decision on the purchase of wind energy, based on the current contract the city has with Big Rivers Energy to purchase energy.

He discussed two companies in Nebraska that have indicated they would be willing to sell wind energy to the city. He also said the city needs to consider developing an electric system market plan for the future.

Rickel told the council that the Cottonwood Project, located in Webster County, is guaranteed to start building this year and said now is a good time to get involved with wind energy because the government is offering production tax credits for every unit produced.

He said his firm, which is based in Florida, is the largest owner/operator of renewable energy in the country.

Council member Jennifer Sievers said she feels the city needs to "look at all of our options. Power is changing and we shouldn't rush into anything."

No action was taken or decisions were made following the presentations.

Council members also spent a considerable amount of time discussing the fees charged at the Wayne Community Activity Center (CAC).

Different options were discussed with possible financial outcomes for the city if any or all of the options were enacted.

Council member Matt Eischied questioned whether the rates were being raised "just to lose less money or are we offering something extra to the members? We have raised rates each of the last two years and if we keep raising rates, we will lose even more if people leave. We need to stay competitive."

Mayor Ken Chamberlain asked if there were specific rates for those teams who use the CAC who are not members. He felt these fees should be double what members pay, but several council members said they felt if this were the case, the CAC would lose those out-of-town participants.

Also discussed was the fee seniors (either individually or as a couple) pay. The majority of the council felt these rates should remain where they are.

Council member Cale Giese said the CAC loses approximately $160,000 per year, in part because of the increases in minimum wage in recent years.

"Our rates are cheap compared to other places," Giese said.

Following discussion, council members voted to table the issue.

After several meetings worth of discussion, council members voted to amend the city's share of the group help care premium and offer incentives to those who get an annual physical and are non-tobacco users.

Mayor Chamberlain said he felt the city should be responsible for all costs associated with a physical, including additional tests that are required.

In addition, the city will now pay an extra 7.5 percent of the premium for those who receive a physical and an extra 7.5 percent for those who are non-tobacco users.

The change will take effect on May 1, 2017.

Council members approved the purchase of a power rake for the Parks Department and accepted a bid for the construction of a metal storage building for the Water/Wastewater Department.

The Wayne City Council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, April 4 at 5:30 p.m. in Council Chambers.

Wakefield school board approves staffing level reductions and curriculum amendments at meeting

The Wakefield Board of Education approved a resolution to amend the curriculum and reduce staffing levels at the regular monthly meeting Monday evening, March 13.

Over 60 individuals were present at the meeting to voice their concerns over the possible reduction in staffing levels, including parents, students, and teachers. Twenty-one signed in for an opportunity to voice their opinion. Of those 21, 15 gave comments during the comment section of the evening. The Board of Education limited comments to three minutes per person.

Also allowed to comment were the three teachers that would be affected by the reduction of staffing levels, including Deb Nicholson, K-12 vocal music instructor; Jolene Klein, K-12 media specialist; and Bill Trenhaile, 7-12 band instructor. Each of these three were allowed 15 minutes to present information to the Board of Education.

Following the comments by staff members, Superintendent Mark Bejot presented information regarding the potential loss of state aid and property taxes. Mr. Bejot said, "A decision needs to be made at this point in the game. We are making decisions now for where we are."

Mr. Bejot listed increased spending for 2017-18 as:

Cert. Sal & Benefits	$118,573
Class. Sal & Bene	27,000
Adm. Salaries/Bene	17,000
Utilities	7,427
State Aid Reduction	130,000
TOTAL	$300,000

Mr. Bejot listed possible cuts for 2017-18 as:

Color Copies/Drug Ed	4,000
Teacher Comp (laptops)	35,000
Technology (iPads)	35,000

Non-Capitalized Purch	35,000
ESU#1 Contracts	16,000
Classified Staff Red.	87,454
Curricular Reductions	81,850
TOTAL	$294,304

Mr. Bejot said, "I don't intend to wipe our choir or band. I believe we can do still things differently and still have good programs."

He noted that the school district is not huge, around 100 square miles in size. Mr. Bejot doesn't believe there will be any increase in property valuations this year.

Mr. Bejot also noted that teachers would be able to be recalled by length of service and other factors.

Several questions were asked by the Board of Education to clarify some of the points raised during the comment section of the evening. Following discussion, the Board of Education voted unanimously to approve the resolution to reduce the media center 0.5 FTE and music 0.5 FTE.

After wildfires devastated areas of Kansas and Oklahoma recently, area farmers stepped up to ensure the herds that had survived the blazes would have plenty to eat as things got back on track. As soon as folks in the area got wind of plans to get hay to Kansas, donations came forth in the form of hay, fuel, money, time, trailers and semis. Sixty-eight bales were donated to a couple in Kansas who suffered severe losses due to the fire. Rancher Mick Shreve and his wife with Ashland Feeders, a cow/calf and feedlot operation, were the recipients of the 61 tons of donated hay.

Wayne/Wakefield baseball team opens season with an away win

The Wayne/Wakefield baseball team opened the season with a triangular at Bennington, coming home with a win and a loss in Saturday's season opener.

Wayne/Wakefield jumped out to a quick lead against the host Badgers, but couldn't keep pace as the hosts came away with a 7-2 win.

Wayne/Wakefield loaded the bases to start the game and Zane Jackson's infield single brought home Brennen O'Reilly with the first run of the game. Julio Sanchez hit into a double play, scoring Tyler Lutt to make it a 2-0 game in the top of the first inning.

Bennington got a run back in the third on an error, then broke the game open with six runs in the third inning. Wayne/Wakefield only had two baserunners after that as the Badgers went on to the win.

Jackson and Sanchez had hits for the Blue Devils in the losing effort. Adam Bentjen was tabbed with the loss on the mound.

In the second game of the day, Wayne/Wakefield used a three-run third inning to help them to their first win of the season, outlasting Mount Michael 4-2.

The locals got a run in the second inning on a Mount Michael error, allowing K Anderson to score to give Wayne/Wakefield a 1-0 advantage.

Mount Michael scored two runs on three hits in the top of the third, but Wayne/Wakefield answered with three in the bottom of the inning, thanks to a bases-clearing double by Payten Gamble, scoring Lutt, O'Reilly and Tyler Gilliland.

Wayne/Wakefield managed just two hits in the win, with Gamble and Jackson getting hits. Lutt went six innings to get the win, striking out six and scattering seven hits. Gamble was credited with the save.

On Monday, Wayne/Wakefield was limited to four hits in a 4-0 loss at Arlington.

The Eagles scored a run in the second, then added two in the fourth before closing the scoring with a run in the sixth off losing pitcher Julio Sanchez, who gave up six hits and struck out two.

Sanchez stroked a one-out double in the second to highlight Wayne/Wakefield's four-hit attack. Gamble, Bentjen and Reyes also had base hits in Monday's game, but couldn't move a runner past second base as they fell to 1-2 on the season.

Wayne/Wakefield played at Fort Calhoun on Tuesday. Their home opener is this Thursday at 4:30 p.m. against Thurston-Cuming County at Hank Overin Field.

Teague McFadden tossed a complete-game four-hitter for Wayne State to help them salvage a win in a four-game home series against Minot State.

Minot State takes 3 of 4 in NSIC doubleheader

The Wayne State baseball team salvaged a win and avoided a sweep at home against Minot State in the Northern Sun Conference opening doubleheader for both teams over the weekend at the Chapman Complex.

On Saturday, the Wildcats dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Minot State by scores of 7-3 and 11-1 in eight innings, as the Beavers rallied for a win in the opener and used solid pitching to claim the nightcap.

In the first game, Wayne State trailed 2-0 before scoring all three of its runs in the second inning. Kyle Thompson's RBI double scored Bodie Cooper with the first run, Tandon Dorn delivered an RBI single that scored Thompson while Dorn scored on Chris May's single for a 3-2 Wildcat lead.

Minot State tied the game with a single run in the fifth, then took the lead for good with a three-run sixth and added an insurance run in the seventh to seal the win.

Minot State had 10 hits in the game to just four by the Wildcats (4-8, 0-2 NSIC). Thompson had an RBI double for the Wildcats while the other three hits were singles by Aaron Krier, Dorn and May. Bobby St. Pierre (1-2) suffered the pitching loss, charged with six runs (four earned) on seven hits over 5 1/3 innings with four strikeouts and three walks. Junior reliever Kyle Kennebeck worked the final 1 2/3 innings.

In the second game, Minot State starter Reilly O'Rourke took a no-hitter into the seventh as the Beavers completed the sweep, ending the game on the 10-run rule.

Wayne State's lone hits in the game with a seventh inning pinch-hit single by Bryce Bisenius and a Peyton Barnes single in the eighth. Barnes scored the lone Wildcat run in the eighth on a wild pitch. Minot State had 10 hits in the game compared to just two for the Wildcats.

Hunter Wienhoff was tagged with the pitching loss, allowing four runs over 2 2/3 innings on two hits with two strikeouts and four walks. Keenan Breen worked four innings of relief followed by 2/3 innings from Brady Johnson and Gabe Hoogers.

On Sunday, the Beavers took the opener 9-5, but Wayne State avoided the four-game sweep with a 22-hit explosion in the nightcap for a 15-1 win to improve to 5-9 overall and 1-3 in NSIC play.

In the finale, senior lefthander Teague McFadden tossed a complete-game four-hit shutout, allowing an unearned run in the top of the seventh, as the Wildcats avoided the weekend sweep with a 22-hit attack.

Wayne State took control early with three runs in the first and second innings for a 6-0 lead. The Wildcats added one run in the fourth, three in the fifth and a five-run sixth to put the game out of reach.

The Wildcats had 22 hits in the win as every starter registered at least one hit. Dorn was 4-for-5 with a triple, four RBI and four runs scored to lead the Wildcats. Cody Jenkins finished 3-for-3 with two RBI while Cooper and Tanner Simons each accounted for three hits. Aaron Krier homered, going 2-for-3 with two runs scored while Jackson Petersen was 2-for-4 with three runs scored. McFadden struck out seven and walked two on just 89 pitches to get the seven-inning complete-game win.

In the opener, Minot State scored at least one run in six of the seven innings to secure the weekend series with their third win over the Wildcats.

The Wildcats scored single runs in the first and second for a 2-1 lead. Minot State took the lead for good at 3-2 in the third with a pair of runs, then added solo runs in the fourth and fifth for a 5-2 lead.

Molly Hoskins leads the pack around the final turn on the first leg of the 3,200-meter relay at the Wayne State Indoor Invitational. Wayne won the event in a time of 10:42.47.

Wayne tracksters get six golds at WSC Indoor

Wayne High kicked off the spring track and field season indoors and came away with six first-place efforts and a new meet record at Saturday's Wayne State Indoor Invitational.

Kylie Hammer shattered the meet record in the girls triple jump, bettering the old mark by more than a foot with a first-place effort of 37 feet, 2 3/4 inches. The mark would have bettered her school record, but indoor marks are not included on the school's record list.

Hammer also came away with a first-place finish in the long jump with a best mark of 18 feet, 1/2 inch, and earned runner-up honors in the 55-meter dash in 7.58 seconds.

Wayne also came away with first-place honors in the girls 3,200-meter relay, as the team of Molly Hoskins, Frankie Klausen, Kiara Hochstein and Allison Echtenkamp won in a time of 10:42.47.

Runner-up finishes for the Wayne girls included Klausen in the 800, Sidney Biggerstaff in the 55-meter hurdles, the 640-meter relay team of Hailey Backer, Korinna Niemann, Maysn Dorey and Jenna Trenhaile; and Allison Claussen in the shot put. Thirds went to Kelsey Boyer in the 200, Echtenkamp in the 800 and Hoskins in the 3,200.

In boys action, Wayne finished the day with a trio of winners, led by Grayson McBride, who won the high jump and triple jump. His winning effort in the high jump was 6-2, while he went 42-2 1/4 in the triple jump.

Christian Rogers also earned a first-place finish, taking top honors in the 200-meter dash with a time of 24.42 seconds. He also finished a close second in the 55-meter dash.

Other second-place finishes included Ryan Jaixen in the 400, the 1,600-meter relay team of Nolan Reynolds, Casey Koenig, Mason Lee and Tyler Pecena; and Lee in the long jump. Thirds went to Koenig in the 400, Reynolds in the 800, Will Anderson in the 55-meter hurdles, Collin Clausen in the high jump and Marcus Fertig in the triple jump.

No team scores were kept in Saturday's action, but if team scores were figured on the results, both Wayne teams would have edged out Columbus Scotus for first-place honors in the team standings. Other schools competing were Stanton, Norfolk Catholic, Osmond, West Holt and Boone Central-Newman Grove.

Next action for the Wayne High track and field teams is Tuesday, March 28 at the Columbus Scotus Relays, set for 2 p.m. at Pawnee Park.

Wildcat softball goes 2-4 at Hy-Vee Classic

The Wayne State softball team went 2-4, finishing off the weekend by avenging an earlier loss to Fort Hays State.

On Friday, the Wildcats lost their opener to Central Missouri 9-1 before coming back to earn a 6-5 win over Northwest Missouri State.

Central Missouri snapped a 1-1 with eight unanswered runs as the Jennies pulled away to win the first game in six innings.

The Jennies took an early 1-0 in the first before the Wildcats answered with a run in the bottom of the third. Alyssa Schropp doubled and scored when Melanie Alyea reached on a Central Missouri error to tie the game at 1-1.

Central Missouri scored three in the fifth and put the game out of reach with five runs on four hits and two Wayne State errors to end the game in the sixth inning on the eight-run rule.

Schropp finished 2-for-3 with a double and a run scored to lead Wayne State's five-hit attack. Jordyn Breitbarth doubled while Monique Alyea and Melanie Alyea each singled. Natalia Hopkins took the loss, allowing four runs on six hits with three strikeouts and a walk in five innings. Riley Vanderveen worked the final inning in relief.

The Wildcats bounced back in the second game of the day, getting a key insurance run in the sixth inning to hold off the Bearcats.

Wayne State scored three in the second inning thanks to a two-out rally. Jordyn Breitbarth walked and Jenna Stewart singled, and Katelyn Wobken brought them home with a three-run homer to left to give Wayne State the early 3-0 lead.

Northwest Missouri State scored a run in the bottom of the second and two in the third to tie the game, but Wayne State got the lead back with two in the fourth, as Breitbarth doubled and scored on a Schropp groundout while Wobken walked and scored on a Melanie Alyea single.

Northwest got a run in the fifth, but Wayne State got a key insurance run in the top of the sixth as Breitbarth walked and scored on a Schropp single. Northwest scored a run in the bottom of the seventh and had the tying and winning runs in scoring position, but Wayne State got out of the jam to hang on for the win.

Wayne State was out 15-8 in the win. Wobken was the lone Wildcat with more than one hit, going 2-for-3 with a homer and three RBI. Breitbarth doubled, walked twice and scored three times. Schropp had a single and two RBI while Abbie Hix, Jenna Stewart, Melanie Alyea and Rachel Shumaker each had hits. Hopkins was the winning pitcher, with Vanderveen getting the save.

On Saturday, Wayne State lost a pair of games, losing to Missouri Southern 5-2 and falling to No. 9 Central Oklahoma 5-3.

In the opener, Missouri Southern cranked out 16 hits off Vanderveen and Hopkins to come away with the win. The Lions scored two runs in the second off Vanderveen and added one run in the fourth and two in the fifth against Hopkins. Wayne State avoided the shutout scoring two runs in the top of the sixth inning to close out the scoring.

Emily Chandler's bases-loaded walk scored pinch runner Sarah Hunter, while the second run was scored by Hix on a fielder's choice by Monique Alyea.

Schropp finished 4-for-4 to lead a nine-hit attack, while Shumaker was 2-for-3. Wobken, Hix and Jenna Stewart each had singles.

In the second game of the day, ninth-ranked Central Oklahoma scored five in the fourth inning to come away with the win.

Wayne State took a 1-0 lead in the second when Hix singled and scored on a Monique Alyea single. The Wildcats increased the lead to 2-0 in the top of the fourth when Chandler doubled and crossed home plate on a Shumaker single.

Central Oklahoma struck for five runs in the bottom of the fourth on four hits and three Wildcat errors to take the lead for good. Wayne State got a run in the sixth when Chandler walked and later scored on a passed ball, but Wayne State couldn't score again.

Shumaker finished 2-for-2 with an RBI while Chandler doubled and scored two runs to lead a six-hit effort. Monique Alyea added an RBI single while Wobken and Hix each singled. Hopkins was the losing pitcher.

On Sunday, Wayne State lost to No. 18 Missouri Western 6-1, but closed the day with a 5-4 win over Fort Hays State to avenge an earlier loss to the Tigers.

In the first game of the day, Missouri Western gave up a run to Wayne State in the first inning when Hix had an RBI double, scoring Schropp to give the Wildcats the early lead.

Missouri Western scored two runs in the bottom of the inning, then extended their lead while holding the Wildcats to three hits in the final six innings to get the win.

Chandler was 2-for-4 in the losing effort while Hix, Wobken, Schropp and Melanie Alyea added hits. Hopkins was the losing pitcher, with Vanderveen and Allison Niemeier working in relief.

In the finale, the Wildcats rallied from a 3-1 deficit to avenge an earlier loss to the Tigers, getting things going in the top of the first when Hix stroked an RBI triple down the right field line, scoring Chandler, who reached on an error.

Fort Hays State scored three in the bottom of the first, but Wayne State came back to tie the game in the fourth on a two-run double by Wobken, scoring Melanie Alyea and Breitbarth.

Fort Hays State got a run in the bottom of the fourth, but Wayne State took the lead for good with two runs in the top of the sixth. Breitbarth had the game-winning hit, as her two-run single brought home Shumaker and pinch-runner Hunter.

Hopkins got the win in the circle with five innings of work, with Vanderveen shutting the door on the Tigers over the final two innings for her second save of the season. Breitbarth, Wobken and Schumaker each had two hits to highlight a 10-hit Wildcat attack. Hix, Chandler, Schropp and Blair Shanks also had hits.

Wayne State, 6-18, was to have its home debut Tuesday in a doubleheader against Nebraska-Kearney. They host Augustana in doubleheader action Tuesday, March 28 at 3 p.m. at the Chapman Complex.

Sharing Intro to Beef with Bryan Ag Academy

On Friday, March 10th, Anita Keys of Elsmere, NE and Doug Straight, Director of Industry Relations for the Nebraska Beef Council traveled to Bryan High School in Bellevue, NE to share a bit about Beef with the juniors enrolled in the Animal Science course. Bryan is currently the only Omaha Public School to have an agricultural program and has now become the largest FFA chapter in the State of Nebraska. Last week they had their District FFA Career Development Event contest and 24 Bryan FFA teams competed. The Bryan Urban Agriculture, Food, and Natural Resources Academy has 48 sophomores, 26 juniors and 25 seniors enrolled. Tyler Schindler is the Agricultural Education Instructor and FFA Advisor. In this academy, students utilize knowledge of both urban and traditional agriculture to be innovators in their field and positive members in the community. Agricultural themes are incorporated into their core coursework such as plant and animal science and food production. Students participate in various competitions and regularly attend field trips and conferences across the state. Vegetable and fruit gardens are managed by the students along with other landscaping projects throughout the campus. The Animal Science class was just beginning their Beef/Production unit. Keys, of LEAD class XVII, was asked to share with the class due to the cooperative effort of the Nebraska LEAD Alumni Association with the Academy. Her goal was to be the face of a Beef Producer. Coming from the Sandhills, Keys shared how they care for their animals by providing shelter belts for protection during storms, branding and tagging for identification, aiding in calving as needed, and using vaccines, shots and calling a veterinarian just like they would call a doctor for their children. As ranchers, they care for their animals, the bottom line for making a living is having a live calf. Many students had never been on a farm or ranch. Keys shared the Sandhill distances to groceries, shopping and to school. She shared information on branding, feeding cattle, calving, haying, barbed wire fences, and general life on the ranch. Water is a valuable resource, coming from the Ogallala aquifer. The Sandhills is a fragile ecosystem. Doug Straight of the NE Beef Council defined beef and bovine terms, breeds, meat cuts, and nutrition. He shared literature from the NE Beef Council. Many careers are related to beef production. Both Keys and Straight stressed the importance of agriculture in Nebraska, as is evident in the current Nebraska legislature with our shortage of revenue. The ag economy effects us all. The students were amazed at the many by-products of the beef animal, from A to Z. The Bryan students came away with a greater understanding of the beef industry and how critical agriculture is to Nebraska.

Lutherans are celebrating this year

You may not have noticed yet, but the year 2017 is a big deal for Lutherans; for that matter, for all Christians. It's five hundred years since the beginning of the Reformation. And Lutherans are celebrating, believe me. There is a big thing going on in Wittenberg, Germany, for one; but there will be all kinds of observances here in the US, also.

I sort of immersed myself in that history this weekend when I bought a book by a local author named Michelle Derusha. Michelle writes a monthly column on religion and spirituality for the Lincoln paper. And this is actually her third book. Michelle is open about the fact that she was raised a Catholic, fell away from any organized religion, but ended up in an ELCA church here in Lincoln.

The book is titled Katherina and Martin Luther, the radical marriage of a runaway nun and a renegade monk! There is an earlier book about this marriage called Kitty, My Rib, because Martin Luther referred to Katherina with this affectionate tribute. So, I knew a lot about this unlikely pair before. But this book is well researched and explores the times in which this occurred.

For one thing, the status of women in Germany, and probably all over Europe, for that matter, was LOW. Even though the von in Katherina von Bora's maiden name signified nobility, her father was very poor. This led him to deliver this daughter to a convent when she was six years old! Later, again due to cost, he moved her to another one even more remote, but cheaper. So we see that she had little to say about it. Both these convents believed in vows of poverty, so diets were restricted, prayers were offered many times in a day, beginning at 2 a.m., and the habits were of coarse cloth.

By: Pat Meierhenry

It was imperative that women be married or in a convent, because those were the two recourses for women, other than housekeeping, which was considered a job not fit for nobility. Probably, Kate would have been better off if she could have done that.

Anyway, she and several other nuns escaped the convent on Easter Saturday and she was a house guest of a friend of Luther's for two years, until he rescued her by proposing marriage. They hardly knew each other, but learned to care deeply for each other.

In my book, Katie Luther is a saint! She cleaned the huge house they lived in, grew a garden and raised livestock, cooked for her family and all the men who came to stay and learn from her husband, and bore six children while doing all this! It's truly an amazing story.

To counteract all this deep stuff, I reread Growing Up Lutheran by two Minnesota ladies of Scandinavian descent. And I laughed again at the things all of us growing up in the 40s and 50s were subjected to. They exaggerate a bit when they say we had to memorize the entire Catechism for Confirmation, but they are close. And, we had to answer the questions put forth by the pastor in front of the congregation, not in an informal meeting with the elders and parents. I notice in Mike's he has the questions marked as to who was going to answer which. No such luck for our class. We had better be prepared.

And they recall that that important day was the first day we could wear nylons, and we all received our first watch. It's amazing how typical we all were! Granted, their harvest dinners featured lutefisk, while ours were leaned more to beef and pork, but we all made many "hot dishes", and lots of Jell-o. If it was a really important dinner we added bananas to the Jell-o.

There are so many Lutheran Synods, no one seems able to keep track. And these two gals maintain that some day, we will all be AFL-CIO, American Federation of Lutherans Coerced Into One!! I doubt that will happen. As they say, Luther got the big stuff right, but we have been discussing all kinds of other problems ever since; and that will be five hundred years in October. I wouldn't say Lutherans are stubborn or anything!!

In between all that reading, I caught several basketball games. I was sorry to see Creighton knocked out; but proud of Wisconsin for defeating last year's champs, and surprised to see South Carolina defeat Duke. You just never know, on any given day, how the shots will fall. That's why I've given up filling out brackets; mine usually get busted in that second round.

Today, we are hoping for rain and celebrating Spring! The lawn crew was here today, blowing and mowing dry leaves. That's a sure sign.

Soybean survey, garden show discussed

We are looking for soybean farmers to take a little time to help us out on a research project. We need to get some basic information (varieties, fertilizer, chemicals used, etc.) on what farmers did on their soybean fields in 2016. From one to four fields per year are needed from each grower. This information will be used for a data base to begin figuring out how we can increase our soybean yields. This research is sponsored by the Soybean Board. Please call me at 402-584-2234 or email me at keith.jarvi@unl.edu if you can help out. Information gathered is confidential and will not be shared with anyone.

Just a reminder that spring is here and it's time to think about attending the Siouxland Garden Show, which will be at the Sioux City Convention Center on Friday and Saturday, March 24-25. This is a big show, co-organized by Nebraska Extension, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, and Master Gardeners from both states.

There are a lot of presentations on many topics during the show. Along with a wide range of commercial exhibits that fill the Convention Center, there will be Educational Sessions, Make N'Take workshops and How-to Sessions (21). The cost is only $5 a day, or $9 for a two day

There is not enough room in this newsletter to write about all the things happening at the Garden Show, so put it on your calendar and check the website siouxlandgardenshow.org (there are materials fees for the make and takes) and download the brochure, or search for it on Facebook.

There will also be a Farmers Market selling winter produce, and two wineries that will be selling local vintages. We hope to see you there.

It's common for producers to take their tractors and combines into the shop on an annual basis for a tune-up, but it seems less common for them to take time for a financial tune-up. While the equipment is worth a lot of money, the financial health of your business could be worth even more.

So what's needed for a good financial tune-up? The answer really depends on your current status. The financial literacy of operations varies as much as cost of production or even the weather. There are four steps outlined by Tina Barrett, Executive Director of Nebraska Farm Business Inc. They are: 1. Balancing Your Financial Records; 2. Keeping Meaningful Records; 3. Making Accrual Adjustments; and 4. Evaluating your Business Based on Accrual Accrual Input Information. To access the information on each of these steps go to: <http://cropwatch.unl.edu/2017/getting-farm-financial-tune-up> on our Cropwatch website.

You may need to start at Step 1 or you may already be ready for Step 3 or ready to repeat Step 4. The important thing is to honestly evaluate where you are and start your financial tune-up at the appropriate place. If you try to get accrual records (Step 3) without having accurate books (Step 1), you'll end up with meaningless data.

One of the unique perspectives gained from working with Nebraska Farm Business, Inc. clients is the dual approach of looking at cash basis tax records and financial management records - two information sources that are very different. Having accurate records is important for both purposes, but sometimes the things we do to advance record-keeping for management can have unintended consequences to the records needed for tax preparation. With that in mind, it's important we work these steps in order to keep a good balance between the two.

State groundwater levels still recovering from 2012 drought

Groundwater levels in the spring of 2016 continued to rise following above-normal and near-average precipitation recorded for the year across the state, but many parts of the state still saw groundwater levels remain below spring 2012 levels, according to the 2016 Nebraska Statewide Groundwater-Level Monitoring Report.

The Conservation and Survey Division at the School of Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, recently released the report, which examines groundwater level changes, using data collected from nearly 5,000 wells across the state. It studies the rate of drawdown and recharge measured in regional wells and gives a general depiction of the current state of groundwater levels on a yearly basis. It also looks at historical trends, comparing regional water levels over extended periods of time.

The report is available for $7 from the Nebraska Maps and More Store in the lobby of Hardin Hall, 3310 Holdrege St., or is available online at marketplace.unl.edu/nemaps or amazon.com. Phone orders also are accepted at 402-472-3471. A PDF of the report can be downloaded at go.unl.edu/groundwater.

The authors of this year's annual report found water levels rose on average 0.69 feet from spring 2015 to spring 2016, with significant rises in the Panhandle, along the Platte River Valley and the eastern one-third of the state. The rest of the state saw near-average precipitation and modest, localized water level changes.

Although the one-year rises look good, many parts of the state remain below 2012 levels, when drought hit the state and lasted through spring 2013. During that time, Nebraska saw significant groundwater level declines. In much of eastern and central Nebraska groundwater levels are still 10 to 15 feet below 2012 conditions. However, if the state continues to see above-average precipitation, as it did last year, groundwater drawdowns will continue to be reduced.

In-depth maps in the report look at one-year groundwater level changes, but also examine five-year and 10-year changes, in addition to changes since the beginning of irrigation development. The maps are based on information collected by the Conservation and Survey Division, U.S. Geological Survey, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, Nebraska Natural Resources Districts and Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District. The reports and maps are produced by the Conservation and Survey Division and have been since the 1950s. Groundwater monitoring began in Nebraska in the 1930s.

Authors of this year's report are Aaron Young, survey geologist; Mark Burbach, environmental scientist; Leslie Howard, geographic information science and cartography manager; Michele Waszgis, research technician; Matt Joeckel, state geologist and CSD associate director; and Susan Olafsen Lackey, research hydrogeologist.

For more information on groundwater or groundwater maps, visit go.unl.edu/groundwater. For more information on the report or associated studies, contact Aaron Young at 402-472-8339.

Musicians share talents at annual Sandwich, Pie & Ice Cream Social

If it is the third Thursday in March, it must be the annual Wayne Community Schools Music Boosters fundraiser/meal/performance event. Hundreds of students from Wayne Elementary School, Wayne Junior High and Wayne Senior High School were able to showcase their musical talents at Thursday's event. Those in attendance had the opportunity to listen to fifth grade through seniors perform both instrumentally and vocally. In addition, the Music Boosters held a sandwich, pie and ice cream social throughout the evening. Proceeds from the event help fund the music programs at the school.

Rahn selected as 'Reader of the Week'

This week's Reader of the Week at the Wayne Public Library is Phyllis Rahn.

What is the last book you read?
Two by Two by Nicholas Sparks. This is his 20th anniversary book with his first book being "The Notebook" which was made into a movie. This has the potential of a movie as well. Who knows? Appreciate the large print.

Who is your favorite author?
If I am in the mood of reading Amish stories I would say Beverly Lewis would be my favorite, History; Tracy Peterson, Mystery; Anne Perry, Real life issues; Karen Kingsbury and of course there is Debbie Macomber and Laura Childs. I have read all of the Love Finds You in many different states such as Valentine, Nebraska, Miracle, Kentucky, Calico, California, and Charm, Ohio. When reading this series I discovered that the library will keep track of what you have read so you don't check it out only to find out you already read it. What a great service they provide.

Have you ever had to give up on a book?
I remember two different times of giving up. The first was when my son was in high school and was reading books written by Steven King. I could not even begin to get into it. He since has gotten all of Steven King books and some are autographed. Then, when our grandchildren came along reading "The Harry Potter" series I again tried but couldn't get interested. I have one grandchild who has the whole series in her library.

Phyllis Rahn

Is there anything else you'd like to comment on about your passion for reading?
I remember when going to country school the teacher always read a chapter or two from a book after noon recess. Many were from the Mark Twain series. I always felt like I was right there experiencing what was being read. Teachers in our country schools were a great influence, making sure we had books for pleasure and learning as well. I grew up with Nancy Drew series and the Hardy Boys. As time went on I went with all of the Little House on the Prairie books. During my family raising days I stuck to Cappers Weekly, Readers Digest, Nebraska Life and the daily newspaper. It wasn't until my years of retirement that I searched out the library again. I always have a couple of books going to fill in spaces of time throughout the day. I sometimes get so involved with the plot that I actually dream about the book I am reading and am not sure if I dreamt or read the rest of the plot.

I belong to a literary club "Minerva" and each year we have a topic and each member reports. We are doing our 120th anniversary this year so my report was Fashion Snapshots during the 20th century. I was pleased to find two books in the library that helped me complete my Fashion Snapshot report. So the Library has been a fountain of information for me as well.

Personal
My husband Darrel and I have been retired for several years. In our earlier years we both taught then farmed near Wayne. We both are active in church and the community. We have two children and four grandchildren. Our daughter, Valerie, was blessed to be able to work part time at the Library during high school when it was on Main Street. Our son, Marc, was the one who has all of Stephen King's books. Two of our grandchildren are what you would call bookworms.

Team Twisters at state

Wayne Community School First Lego League team "Team Twisters" competed in the State First Lego League Competition on Feb. 18 at SAC Museum near Ashland. They won the Programming Award and Best Mascot Award. The team participated in three presentations for Core Values, Project Challenge, and Robot Design. They chose to help Southern Resident Killer Whales for their challenge topic this year. Their mascot was Micah Carson, dressed as a killer whale. They also placed 16th out of 48 teams in the robot games. Team members are: (front) Edwin Vahlkamp, Ruben Vega, Micah Carson, Sarah Tompkins, Mikenzie Schafer, James Tompkins. Science Olympiad

Eight students from the Wayne Elementary School participated in the 4-6 grade Elementary Spring Science Olympiad on March 6 at Wayne State College. The students participated in a health workshop, programmed drones and worked with a big Nebraska floor map. They created newspaper towers. The students observed our stars in the planetarium and learned about stream health in a Nebraska Game and Parks session. Taking part in the event were (front) Norah Armstrong, Maya Spahr, Caiden Backer, Noah Longe (back) Kingston Hanson, Judith Eschestve-Morales, Jace Piper and Calvin Starzl.

History of Greenwood Cemetery

As I See It
By Will Wiseman

This article and one to follow is offered to help your understanding and operation of Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne.

DID YOU KNOW?

Historically the first land for the cemetery was purchased in 1883 and the first Board of Trustees was formed that same year.

That ground today is known as Original cemetery (today the area that surrounds the Chapel building). There was a home moved onto the cemetery grounds in 1894 for storage purposes. It is noted that windmill repair was done in 1899. The First Addition was added in 1903. Today this occupies the northeast portion of the cemetery and surrounds what is known as the North Circle. The North Circle was originally a grove of trees and was made available for grave sites in 1987.

Original paving was completed in 1928. The current Chapel building was done in 1938. The Second Addition was started in 1956 and has been developed as needed.

This ground is the western most portion of the cemetery. The Veterans Addition was added in 1979 and The Daniels Addition was added about 1990 and both are on the eastern side of Original cemetery.

These historical dates and tidbits were furnished by Steve Gross who knows a great deal more about Greenwood Cemetery and we are grateful for his expertise on the subject.

The cemetery is owned by the Greenwood Cemetery Association and governed by the board of Trustees. Anyone who owns one or more gravesites becomes a member of this association. Five Trustees are elected from this group and each serves a five year term. The Trustees are governed by established bylaws, rules and regulations, some of which are set by Nebraska State Statutes regarding operation of cemeteries. Trustees are unpaid volunteers and the cemetery is a nonprofit entity. The financials will be discussed in the next article in more detail.

In addition to monthly meetings, which are open to any member of the association, the Trustees are responsible for day-to-day operations, overseeing maintenance, marking grave sites and markers and other matters of operation.

The current Trustees are Nancy Sutton, Betty Reeg, Marta Nelson, Jay O'Leary and yours truly, Will Wiseman. Although no longer Trustees, Steve Gross and Paul Otte are very helpful in these duties and we are indebted for their volunteerism.

The followup article will outline the financial aspects of the cemetery. This will include the Perpetual Care Fund as well as an idea of year-to-year expenses and income as well as some serious concerns for the future.

We are grateful to the Wayne Herald for printing this information for public education.

Capitol View

Some Legislative Committees Ignoring Nebraska "Nice"

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The complaints about the public decorum of Nebraska Senators conducting public hearings are piling up. Lawmakers are to hear the public's testimony and deliberate on issues that will affect all Nebraskans.

Something is wrong when the public walks away from those hearings feeling like they have been cheated out of the opportunity to share their thoughts either for or against a proposal. It's even worse when they complain about personal affronts — alleged eye rolling by a committee chair — from their elected officials.

Each Legislature seems to take on a personality, a collective soul representing all of the individual legislators. Last year's Legislature was fiercely independent, a fact that caused some renegade conservative Republicans their jobs. Those who survived election challenges funded by the deep-pockets governor found themselves on the losing end of committee chairmanships this session.

The collective persona symbolized by the Gang of 27 this year has been that of a bully. Definitely NOT Nebraska nice.

Ask retired civil engineering technician and farmer Don Schuller from Wymore. He wanted his shot at a five-minute speech to share his opposition to Governor Pete Ricketts' proposed income tax cuts during a hearing of the Revenue Committee. He waited seven hours hoping to testify only to be turned away for lack of time. He admits that he isn't all that acquainted with how the hearings work, because this is the first time he attended. But he also said he didn't like how it was handled.

Nebraska is one of the few states that guarantee a public hearing for each of the hundreds of bills introduced every year. It's a practice that is intended to foster transparency and accountability, but it also causes problems when big issues draw big crowds. Committees also have to hear multiple bills on a given day, adding to the time crunch.

Revenue Committee Chairman Senator Jim Smith of Papillion said he limited testimony on the income tax bill so a companion property tax bill could also be discussed that day so interested parties who drove in from other parts of the state could make one trip and hear both bills. He said he and his colleagues tried to hear as much of an opinion as possible from both sides.

Sometimes committee members ask a lot of questions extending the time each testifier has to take, Smith said. Sometimes committee chairs will limit the time for each side to a given amount to expedite the process. Smith and his committee have tried individual time limits and the group time limits this year. There appears to be no magic bullet to make things run more smoothly.

Limiting overall testimony to a set amount of time for each side created problems in the Health and Human Services Committee on a bill that would change occupational licensing for cosmetologists, audiologists, nail technicians, massage therapists and barbers. A rare morning hearing on the bill was ended promptly at noon because of events to mark Nebraska's 150th year of statehood. Dozens of people who opposed the bill were unable to testify.

Because Committee Chairman Senator Merv Riepe of Omaha sponsored the bill, Vice Chairman Steve Erdman of Bayard ran the hearing and enforced the noon ending time, which was announced in advance through a news release but not included on the agenda.

Committee member Senator Sara Howard of Omaha disagreed with the scheduling decision and brought it up on the legislative floor the next day. Howard lost the chairmanship race to Riepe — on a 27-22 vote — at the beginning of the session. She said there is no celebration so big that it should keep the Legislature from doing the work that Nebraskans deserve.

Committee chairs usually know well in advance when a controversial bill will draw a large crowd. Judiciary Committee Chair Senator Laura Ebke of Crete said she feels very seriously if people want to come and talk, they have that right. She said it would have to be a truly dire situation for her to shut them down.

It's all about the rules and the rules should be explained at the start of each hearing. Veteran lobbyist Walt Radcliffe said all lawmakers should respect that public hearings are for the public and usually the only time that senators and the public interact face-to-face in a sanctioned, public forum.

They should at least be nice. Nebraska nice.

Fourth grade students to receive hands-on Nebraska experience

Not often enough do our students get the chance to see in person what they learn about in books. This year, fourth grade students throughout the state will have the full Nebraska experience by taking a field trip to explore the Nebraska State Capitol or another historically or culturally relevant site a bit closer to home.

In partnership with the Nebraska 150 Celebration and First Lady Susanne Shore, NextEra Energy Resources is helping to fund these meaningful tours in celebration of Nebraska's sesquicentennial in 2017.

I, along with my colleagues at NextEra Energy Resources, believe in building strong partnerships and supporting the communities we serve. That includes sponsoring important local events and initiatives. I am proud to be part of the Nebraska community through our wind energy projects and to participate in the Nebraska 150 Celebration.

NextEra Energy Resources and the Nebraska 150 Celebration share a mission, a mission to plan for our future and leave a positive legacy for future generations. For decades, fourth grade classes have toured the State Capitol. Unfortunately, it has become increasingly difficult for some school districts to find the funds to keep the tradition alive. NextEra Energy Resources' donation will help ensure that the State Capitol tour remains an important part of Nebraska's fourth grade civics curriculum for another group of young people.

By developing wind energy projects, our company is helping farmers, ranchers and landowners diversify their incomes, increasing the tax base for local communities and creating job opportunities for the next generation of Nebraskans. We want to help prepare our students for these jobs of the future, while at the same time making sure they stay connected to the rich history of the state. We are proud to partner with the Nebraska 150 Celebration on this program and hope the educators in the counties we serve take advantage of this wonderful opportunity.

More specific details about the program and grant application process will be available on the Nebraska 150 Celebration's website in the coming weeks. Visit www.ne150.org or like the Nebraska 150 Celebration on Facebook or follow them on Twitter.

I thank you all for welcoming NextEra Energy Resources into your communities. We are honored to be a part of this amazing state. Happy 150th birthday, Nebraska! And, as always, Go Big Red!

Legislative Update

Albrecht celebrating National Ag Week

The Nebraska Legislature has passed the halfway point in this year's session, and committee hearings are beginning to wrap up. Some committees are already done for the year. My committee, the Business and Labor Committee, has one more hearing on March 20. After the week of March 20, the legislature will move into full day debate on the floor of the Unicameral.

I'm looking forward to celebrating National Agriculture Week from March 21-23. Agriculture and family farms are tremendously important to Nebraska's economy. It is estimated that one in four jobs and a quarter of our state's economic activity is related in some way to agriculture. Healthy farms and ranches are integral to our state's economic success now and in the future.

According to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, in the last two years our state has seen a 9.3 percent increase in our beef cow inventory and an 11.1 percent increase in our state's dairy herds. Our growth in the pork industry is outpacing national trends.

It is great to see that Governor Pete Ricketts and Nebraska Department of Agriculture's Director Greg Ibach will be touring the state to celebrate Ag Week and even swinging by our neck of the woods. They will be touring Wakefield Farms in Emerson and taking part in the National Ag Day Celebration Dinner in Wakefield.

I'm proud of my family farming operation with my husband, Mike, and being a member of the Agriculture Committee has been fascinating, educational and illuminating. Every hearing is an opportunity to take part in issues that, as I've said, directly impact our state's economy.

Serving in Nebraska's state legislature has been such a wonderful experience, and I'm thrilled to help announce an opportunity for Nebraska students to learn more about the nation's only Unicameral.

Each June, the Clerk of the Legislature's Office coordinates a four-day legislative simulation, which offers high school students a hands-on opportunity to experience the legislative process. The Unicameral Youth Legislature meets in the historic Warner Chamber (the former home of the Nebraska Senate) from June 11-14 and provides young Nebraskans an in-depth learning experience. Student senators will sponsor bills, conduct committee hearings, debate legislation and using the same processes and rules that I and every other state senator use every day we are in session.

This four-day event gives a behind-the-scenes access to students who have an interest in public office, government, politics, law, public policy, debate or public speaking. Students will also have the opportunity to interact with senators and staff to learn how the legislature functions.

Applications are due by May 15. Registration includes lodging, meals (including a luncheon at the Governor's Residence) and daily transportation from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus to the State Capitol.

There is a cost of $350 to attend, but registrants are encouraged to apply for a Greg Adams Civic Scholarship which covers the full cost of the session. Other scholarships are also available.

The Unicameral Youth Legislature is jointly sponsored by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Extension 4-H Youth Development office and the University of Nebraska Big Red Summer Camps program.

27th Annual Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Banquet

(Photos by Clara Osten)

Friday night was host to the annual Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever banquet. Emcee for the evening Jerry McDonald (left) recognized the education work of the local chapter and introduced the youth who took part in the 2016 Youth Mentor Hunt. Countless raffles were conducted throughout the event, with winners like Bill Melena (above right) who won the Half a Grand raffle. Games such as Plinko and a Royal Flush card game, were set up for people to take a chance at winning prizes or getting entered into larger prize drawings. The auditorium was full with supporters of the chapter and many put money down on the numerous auction items, such as a fishing vacation to Minnesota for six and several art pieces.

Four steps to tornado preparedness

Tornadoes develop so rapidly that little, if any, advance warning is possible. Every state has some risk of this hazard.

Tornadoes are nature's most violent storms. Spawned from powerful thunderstorms, tornadoes can cause fatalities and devastate a neighborhood in seconds. A tornado appears as a rotating, funnel-shaped cloud that extends from a thunderstorm to the ground with whirling winds that can reach 300 miles per hour. Damage paths can be in excess of one mile wide and 50 miles long. Make sure you're ready for a tornado with the How to Prepare for a Tornado Guide from PrepareAthon (formerly America's PrepareAthon!) that explains how to protect yourself and details the steps to take now so that you can act quickly at a time when every second counts.

Learn more tips from Ready.gov:
1. Build an emergency kit. A disaster supplies kit is simply a collection of basic items your household may need in the event of an emergency. Try to assemble your kit well in advance of an emergency. You may have to evacuate at a moment's notice and take essentials with you. You will probably not have time to search for the supplies you need or shop for them. You may need to survive on your own after an emergency. This means having your own food, water and other supplies in sufficient quantity to last for at least 72 hours.

Local officials and relief workers will be on the scene after a disaster but they cannot reach everyone immediately. You could get help in hours or it might take days. Additionally, basic services such as electricity, gas, water, sewage treatment and telephones may be cut off for days or even a week, or longer. Your supplies kit should contain items to help you manage during these outages.

2. Make a family communications plan. Your family may not be together if a disaster strikes, so it is important to think about the following situations and plan just in case. Consider the following questions when making a plan:

- How will my family/household get emergency alerts and warnings?
- How will my family/household get to safe locations for relevant emergencies?
- How will my family/household get in touch if cell phone, internet, or landline doesn't work?
- How will I let loved ones know I am safe?
- How will family/household get to a meeting place after the emergency?

3. Sign up for local emergency alerts and warnings. In any emergency, always listen to the instructions given by local emergency management officials. The NOAA Weather Radio All Hazards, or NWR, is a nationwide network of radio stations broadcasting forecasts, warnings, and emergency information 24 hours a day. It is a comprehensive weather and emergency information service available to the public. All-hazards messages include weather events, technological incidents like chemical spills, AMBER alerts, and national emergencies. NWR also broadcasts EAS notices.

A special weather radio receiver is required to receive NWR broadcasts. You can buy these receivers at many retail outlets such as electronics stores, department stores, big box stores, or online. Be sure to look for the Public Alert or NWR logo to ensure the radio meets technical requirements. Models identified as SAME, or Specific Area Message Encoding, receivers allow users to select alerts for specific geographic areas. For information on NOAA Weather Radio All Hazards, visit www.nws.noaa.gov/nwr.

Opt-in/sign-up text and email systems

Many jurisdictions have opt-in public alert and warning systems. An opt-in system means you must sign up to receive the alert. Once you have signed up, officials in your area can send you text or email messages about local emergencies.

Most opt-in systems allow subscribers to choose the devices that receive alerts as well as the types of alerts. Because you may not be near a television or radio when something happens, a local text or email alert can be an extremely useful source for critical information. Small costs may be associated with receipt of text messages from your mobile device service provider.

To find out what alerts are available in your area, you can do an Internet search with your town, city, or county name and the word "alerts"; you can go to the website for your local emergency management or public safety office; or you can contact these offices by telephone.

4. Look for danger signs including: dark, often greenish sky; large hail; a large, dark, low-lying cloud (particularly if rotating); and, a loud roar, similar to a freight train. If you see approaching storms or any of the danger signs, be prepared to take shelter immediately.

Rejoicing in the Resurrection

It is not Holy Week or Easter yet but why do we wait until one day of the year to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ? Easter Sunday (or Resurrection Sunday) is coming and many are preparing for that day of resurrection which focuses on Jesus' resurrection from the dead. Surely celebrating the resurrection is essential to the life of every true follower of Jesus Christ. But do we wait until one day or week of the year to focus on the resurrection?

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is essential to the Gospel message and to Christianity itself. If Jesus did not rise from the dead, then the Christian faith is a farce. If Jesus did not rise from the dead, Christianity crumbles into a useless heap. Without the resurrection Jesus is just another religious leader who got himself killed.

Why such drastic statements? The Apostle Paul taught that if Jesus was not raised from the dead then we are still dead in our sins and that we are to be pitied above all people (1 Corinthians 15). According to Paul, if Jesus did not rise from the dead then there is no reason for us to rejoice. If Jesus did not rise from the dead then the is not who he claimed to be. If Jesus did not rise from the dead, then there is truly no forgiveness of sin.

Everything Christians believe is based on the reliability of who Jesus is and what he did. If he is not who he claimed to be, then we cannot trust him or his message. He clearly claimed to be equal to God (John 8:58). He also claimed that he would die and rise from the dead (Mark 8:31). If he did not fulfill his promise of rising from the dead, then he is an unreliable source of truth.

The good news is that there is plenty of proof that Jesus did, in fact, rise from the dead. The gospels have been proven to be accurate documents and their testimony is reliable. If he had not risen, it would have been easy to prove by producing a body.

Some people claim Jesus' disciples stole the body. However, this was not possible because the Romans placed a guard (10-12 of the Roman armies best fighting men) to protect the tomb. It would have been impossible for a few fishermen to fight off the Romans.

Even if they had stolen the body, then the disciples died for a cause that they knew was a lie. There is no account in history where people were martyred for a lie that they knew was a lie. There is really no evidence that they stole the body.

Jesus was raised on the third day and he is alive today! The tomb was empty on the third day and it remains empty. This truth should be cause for celebration every Sunday, not just Easter. This should give believers joy every day of their lives. The Christian faith is based upon the only person who died, was buried, and raised the third day never to die again.

Because of the resurrection, believers can know that their sins have been forgiven. Because of the resurrection believers have new life in Christ. Because of the resurrection believers can be assured of eternal life. Because of the resurrection believers can be assured that one day they will be raised to new life in an eternal, imperishable body.

There is much more I could say about the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead and its importance. But let me say that to those of you who have trusted in Jesus Christ as Savior, don't let the celebration end with Easter Sunday. Remember the resurrection every time you worship. Remember the promise of your resurrection on a daily basis. Praise God that you serve a risen Savior as you go about living your life all week long.

Because of the resurrection Paul said in 1 Corinthians 15:50-53,

"I declare to you, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Listen, I tell you a mystery: We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed—in a flash, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. For the perishable must clothe itself with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality."

Rejoice! Jesus is alive every day of the year!

Minerva Club learns of life of influential women

The Wayne Senior Center was the site of the March 13 Minerva Club meeting, hosted by Nicki Tiedtke.

President MaryAnn DeNaeyer opened the meeting by reading an obituary for "Common Sense" and a humorous piece about Frank and Joe at the golf course. Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer, Donna Hansen, gave the treasurer's report. There was no historian's report. The birthday song was sung for Joyce Mitchell and Connie Webber.

May 15, 2017 was set as a date for the group dining out to close out the year. Further plans will be discussed later. More details were discussed about the upcoming tea on May 8.

The program, "It's Good to be Remembered", began with roll call. Each member shared a personal story about a woman who made a difference in their life. Reflections of nine women from the past and present were shared.

One woman and past resident of Wayne was discussed. aDorothy Ley saw the need of many children with reading difficulties and she stepped forward, researched and instituted a program to help solve the problem. She provided the opportunity for many students and teachers to learn methods through training at Wayne State College.

She enabled teacher training through the Orion Dyslexia Society allowing "Project Success" to become reality in Wayne and other far reaching schools. The program helped hundreds of children during its years of existence.

Another women of local interest was Susan LaFlesche, born 70 miles north of Omaha in 1865. Susan LaFlesche became the first Native American doctor. Her life story was summarized from the book "A Warrior of The People" by Joe Starita. Several other famous women were remembered.

The program ended with a poem written by Ms Tiedtke entitled "Remember Me" in honor of all the women who have made a difference in our lives today. A challenge was issued with a gift of a bookmark: 1) read a book about a woman in history and 2) share it with someone.

The next meeting of Minerva Club will be at the Wayne Senior Center Monday, March 27 with MaryAnn DeNaeyer as hostess.

WINSIDE — Janice Jaeger hosted the March 16 Center Circle Club with eight members present.

The Winside Board of Education met in its regular meeting on Wednesday, March 13, 2017 at 6:00 pm in the library. Members present were Dana Bargstadt, Nate Behmer, Ryan Brogren, Jon Jaeger, Carmie Marotz, and John Thies.

President John Thies pointed out the Open Meeting Act and called the meeting to order. President Thies asked a visitor that is a veteran to lead the room with the Pledge of Allegiance. President Thies explained a new formality that if a visitor would like to address the Board they would need to sign in, on the log, at the Board table. On behalf on their part I will be voting no approving the bills. John and I talked about it and feel that the situation has been resolved and there shouldn't be no more attorney fees unless something major comes up."

President Thies stated "the issues that were discussed with the attorney will be talked about later in this meeting, and I want to make sure things are done legally and properly, because we need to protect the Board and the School District".

Motion by Behmer, second by Bargstadt to approve the Budget and the Financial Report, with the claims for the General Fund totaling $276,353.66 and no bills for the Building Fund. Discussion began with Andrea Hinrichs introducing herself, Ms. Loetscher and Mrs. Remm as advisors of the Elementary Student Council. Ms. Hinrichs introduced Elementary Council member Jacob Bargstadt as the two lead a slide presentation titled Bright Books for Further Futures that was exhibited to the Northeast Nebraska Philanthropy Contest held at Northeast Community College. Winside was not chosen as a finalist, however, six private donors can choose worth while applicants in which Winside was chosen. They were provided $1,000 that will purchase estimated 170 books each for the following locations: the Winside daycare 'Lil Cats Daycare', Bright Horizons of Norfolk and Haven House of Wayne. Congratulations to our Elementary Student Council on a job well done representing Winside Public School and helping children in Winside and surrounding communities.

Seniors Cory Shoff and Haden King, presented the Board with the idea of selling Activity Passes called "Cat Cards". Students, adults, staff and families would have the opportunity to purchase these passes at variable rates and be able to attend local school activities throughout the year. Rates and policy would need to be set accordingly. These funds would help with supplies, equipment, officiating and transportation costs and also result in an increase of attendance at school activities. The Board thanked Cory and Haden for their proposal and will use for future consideration.

Amber Bargstadt addressed the Board with her request to use the school grounds for the Old Settlers 5K run held on Saturday, June 17, 2017 from 7am to 11am. For more involvement from youth, coaches, teachers and community the application will have an area where activities, programs or an organization can be placed on the application; people can choose where a portion of the funds that are raised can be donated to. The organization with the most votes will receive some type of funding. Mr. Shoff requested that the Post Prom committee be able to use the Gym on April 1 and April 2.

Teresa Watters approached the Board with the request to use the gym for the start of a traveling league, as Wayne State is not sponsoring a league in June this year. Teams would include Laurel, Emerson and Allen. A meeting will take place with the coaches to set a schedule.

Mr. Shoff requested the use of school vans during the summer session with the understanding they pay for their fuel. Paul Sok would like the use of two vans for their Bio trip and Mr. Meyer would like to take one van to Kearney for a basketball camp.

Mr. Shoff told the Board that Mr. Tonniges communicated with him that with much regret Tonniges had received a resignation letter from Leon Koch as a volunteer Track Coach for 2016-2017 season.

Mr. Shoff requested Chris Olander as a volunteer track assistant coach.

Mr. Shoff received the Driver's Education information from Wayne Public Schools. Matthew Schaub, of Wayne will be teaching the class again and there will be a $10.00 increase in costs. It is requested that Winside's cost per student will reflect the same increase from $275 to $285. There continues to be a scholarship program for students that meet the free and reduced program.

The Negotiation committee received a copy of changes back from the WEA. It was requested that the Board go into closed session to discuss.

Motion by Behmer, second by Marotz to enter into closed session to discuss Negotiations at 6:33 p.m. Ayes -Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger and Marotz. Nays-none.

Motion by Behmer, second by Bargstadt to come out of closed session at 6:49 p.m. Ayes-Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz and Thies. Nays- none.

The Board met with Marcia Herring for a workshop on March 1. President Thies attended a President's workshop with Marcia Herring on March 7 at Divots. President Thies gave each member a Board Member Code of Conduct handout that he received at his workshop. Thies highlighted from his workshop the importance of having a strategic plan with goals for one to three years. Mr. Shoff agreed and added that he would like to see the strategic plan involve the community and business leaders.

Facility items began with discussion on the weight room being opened to the public. Behmer stated he would like to see the summer project list and what costs those will entail, before moving forward on the weight room project.

As per Mr. Shoff we will be going with Sterling West out of Gothenburg, NE to place crushed rubber on the entire playground. The cost is $72,000, however we are waiting for results on grant approval that would cover half of the cost. There will be cost to do some grading to make sure water flows away from the school prior to placing the crushed rubber. The preschool playground equipment cost is $12,594.73. A representative from the company will be there to supervise volunteers to install the playground equipment. Fencing for the preschool will be purchased from Menards with an estimate of $2,000. Behmer requested that we look into the cost of fencing for south of the school to connect from the school to the existing fencing and include a gate.

Mr. Shoff has received a bid from Froeschle Flooring out of Falls City, for epoxying the locker rooms and showers (floors and walls) for estimated costs of $30,000 and another bid to epoxy the High School downstairs hallway for $15,000. With the two bids together for $45,000 the company would also fix the stairs in the multipurpose room and stairs next to band room and kitchen for free. Logos can also be placed within the epoxy. Carpet and tile samples were brought by Froeschle Flooring for possible Elementary Administration area and elementary hallway.

The HVAC system bids were compared. They Board reviewed the $162,000 bid from Heartland Heating and Air. Heartland's bid didn't include a dehumidifying and CO2 system. Time frames for each company were considered. Jaeger was not comfortable with units on our gym roof as there was concern with the weight of the units and what the roof could hold. Jaeger felt that cost of each bid submitted, we were getting what each bid was worth. Bargstadt commented on the importance of the dehumidifying of the gym. Mr. Shoff found desks for the science room that would meet their needs, that cost around $8,000. This price does not include installation of water and gas.

A grant application has been submitted to the Lower NRD to help towards our tiling that is to be done in our parking lot this summer. P & E Inc. is to call Todd Greunke to work on dates that would work for both of them as Todd Greunke will be helping with the elevation and cementing. Todd Greunke spoke and stated they would like to start around June 1st.

Option Enrollment consisted of a student starting Kindergarten in the fall that will be opting out to go to Pierce.

The Final reading for the Fundraising Policy was presented to the Board.

President Thies stated "The next item on the agenda is the Evaluation of the job performance of the Superintendent. In my opinion, the discussion of this matter should be in closed session, to necessarily to prevent the needless injury of an employee's reputation. Mr. Shoff do you agree that the Board may consider to discuss this matter in closed session?" Mr. Shoff replied "I do".

Motion by Bargstadt, second by Brogren to enter into closed session to discuss the Superintendent's job performance at 7:18 p.m. Ayes-Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz, Thies and Behmer. Nays-None.

Motion by Behmer, second by Jaeger to come out of closed session at 8:16 p.m. Ayes-Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz, Thies, Behmer and Bargstadt. Nays-none.

Carmie Marotz on behalf of the Board would like to thank Leon Koch who has for a number of years, volunteered at Winside Public School. The Board appreciates his time and dedication to the youth at Winside Public School and wish him all the best in his future endeavors.

Motion by Marotz, second by Jaeger to approve Amber Bargstadt the use of the school grounds for the Old Settlers 5K run; Post Prom committee the use other gym on April 1 and 2; Mrs. Watters the use of the gym facilities for her traveling volleyball team; Mr. Meyer and Mr. Sok the use of the vans this summer; and Chris Olander as a volunteer track coach. Ayes-Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz, Thies, Behmer and Bargstadt. Nays-none.

Motion by Jaeger, second by Behmer to approve the increase of the Driver's Education cost from $275 to $285. Ayes-Jaeger, Marotz, Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt and Brogren. Nays-none.

After negotiations were discussed in closed session, everything remains the same as the last meeting which was approved at that time.

Motion by Bargstadt, second by Thies to approve re-implement the Early Retirement Policy. Ayes- Marotz, Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren and Jaeger. Nays-none.

Motion by Behmer, second by Jaeger to purchase the playground equipment for $12,594.73. Ayes -Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger and Marotz. Nays-none.

Motion by Behmer, second by Marotz to table the summer flooring needs. Ayes-Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz and Thies. Nays- none.

Motion by Thies, second by Behmer to approve HVAC system from Heartland Heating and Air for the amount $162,000. Ayes-Thies, Behmer. Nays- Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger and Marotz.

Motion by Marotz, second by Jaeger to approve the $215,494 bid for the HVAC system from Rasmussen. Ayes-Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz and Bargstadt. Nays- Thies and Behmer.

Motion by Thies, second by Marotz to table the science lab tables for the next meeting to include the installation costs. Ayes-Jaeger, Marotz, Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt and Brogren. Nays-none.

Brogren. Nays-none. Motion by Marotz, second by Behmer to approve the one out option enrollment. Ayes-Marotz, Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren and Jaeger. Nays-none.

Motion by Thies, second by Bargstadt to approve the final reading of the Fundraising policy. Ayes -Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger and Marotz. Nays-none.

Motion by Marotz, second by Behmer to approve of having Marcia Herring be involved with creating "handmade" Superintendent Evaluation. Ayes-Behmer, Bargstadt, Brogren, Jaeger, Marotz and Thies. Nays-none.

Mr. Shoff gave his Superintendent's report. He suggested that after the Board Workshop we look into the Consent Agenda. We would probably try it out the next couple of months and see if the Board likes it or not. The Board agreed. Looking into policy we use Roberts Rule of Order as a guide to run our meetings. As suggested by Marcia Herring, an Accountability and Disclosure was handed out for each Board member to fill out and return to Thies at the next meeting. This covers the District if there was conflict of interest among the Board members and the business the school district participates with. The Department of Education has a Revision Grant that would help schools pool together and use each other's resources to expand into career education. If schools in our area were willing, each school in our group can levy a $.01 to total $1,275 million dollars. There are schools now that are modeling as they hired a technology teacher housed in Beemer and schools are sharing classes as coding, software writing and robotics. Health & Wellness classes are going to be added next year. Schools would be granted $2,500 for start up costs. Businesses need to be involved in order to create job shadowing and intern opportunities. Mr. Shoff will be applying for the grant. Mr. Shoff applied for a $30,000 Lower Elkhorn NRD grant to help with playground costs. There will be a community tornado test on March 29 at 10:30 a.m. Mr. Shoff attended a School Safety Workshop. At this workshop a guide was handed out that helps schools meet the safety requirements. NASB sent us a strategic planning document that was shared with the Board. Shoff feels it would be very beneficial to use the NASB process to set those goals.

Mr. Remm gave her Principal's report. Congratulations to Jake Bargstadt and Mason Topp for their placing at the School and County Spelling Bee. Remm is working on NESA and MAP testing schedules. Preps are taking place to prepare the Juniors for their ACT. The Juniors will be taking the ACT at Winside Public School on April 11. Faith Regional Health Services will be providing a CPR kit to area schools. This is for awareness only this will not certify someone in CPR. The Secondary Schedule is a work in progress. Due to the Nebraska Department of Education requirements for the Junior High PE courses, scheduling will be different for next year. They are looking at a quarterly health class along with the sports practices at the end of the day. There will be options at the end of the day if a junior high student chooses not to go out for a sport. The Data team went to a data retreat at ESU1. On March 31, students will be dismissed at 1:30 and there will be an all staff data retreat. Chris Good, from the ESU1, has met with teachers to work on Canvas.

The next regular Board meeting will be Monday, April 10, 2017 at 7:00 p.m. in the Library.

Motion by Brogren, second by Bargstadt to adjourn. Ayes-all. Nays-none.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE ON BUDGET AMENDMENT REQUEST FOR COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on April 4, 2017 at 5:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, the City of Wayne will hold a public hearing concerning a proposed budget amendment request to the Department of Economic Development for #14-CIS-106, a Community Development Block Grant. This grant is available to local governments for community and economic development activities.

The City of Wayne received $130,000 of CDBG Comprehensive Investment and Stabilization (CIS) Phase II, Year Two funds of which $31,500 was to be used for clearance/demolition of 6 structures, $75,000 for single family owner-occupied rehabilitation of three (3) houses, $6,000 for housing management, $4,500 for risk assessment/testing, and $13,000 for general administration of the grant. Local matching funds of $200,000 was provided by the City of Wayne to make water system improvements. The total project cost is $330,000.

After further reviewing the southeastern quadrant's needs, the City plans to submit a budget amendment request to the Department of Economic Development. This amendment consists of the following: $53,000 for installation of ADA ramps and repairs on streets in the southeastern quadrant, $31,500 for clearance and demolition; $7,500 for housing management, $25,000.00 for single family owner-occupied rehabilitation of one (1) house, and $13,000 for general administration of the grant. Local matching funds of $200,000 in water improvements to sections of Nebraska Street will be provided by the City of Wayne. The total project cost is estimated to be $330,000. All activities will still be conducted within the target area (southeastern quadrant) reviewed through the CIS Phase I Needs Assessment/Strategy. The City is also requesting a 12 month contract extension with a new contract end date of May 1, 2018. All CDBG funds will benefit low-to-moderate income persons in the community. No persons will be displaced as a result of this project.

The most significant grant award change proposed consists of the reallocation of funds budgeted from housing activities (owner-occupied rehabilitation, and risk assessment/testing) to installation of ADA ramps and street repairs. Should the amendment request be approved, $53,000.00 would be moved from housing activities and moved into streets activity. The City of Wayne is proposing to reallocate the housing activities at this time so that those funds may be used to better meet the target area needs.

The grant application and budget amendment request will be available for public inspection at the Wayne City Office. All interested parties are invited to attend this public hearing at which time you will have an opportunity to be heard regarding the grant application. Written testimony will also be accepted at the public hearing scheduled for 5:30 p.m., April 4, 2017 at the Wayne City Council Chambers located at 306 Pearl Street, Wayne, Nebraska 68787. Written comments addressed to Betty A. McGuire, City Clerk, at PO Box 8, Wayne, Nebraska 68787 will be accepted if received on or before April 4, 2017.

Who is your Wayne County Hero?

Mrs. Johnson's English class at Wayne High School wants to celebrate the people who live or work in Wayne County that have made a difference in the lives of others. So many times we do not take the time to thank these everyday heroes, and they do not even know the impact they have made. This is your opportunity to change that! All you have to do is write a letter explaining why this person has been a hero to you or to others.

This is what we need:

- Your hero's name (first and last)
- Your hero's address (if known) and phone number (if known)
- Explanation of why they are your hero
- Your name (first and last) and phone number

It's that easy! Anyone can nominate a hero. The hero just has to either live OR work in Wayne County. Of course they could also do both, and that's fine too.

We need to have your letters by April 1st. The awards will be presented on May 5th at the high school with the time to be announced later.

Here is how you can get your letters to us:

- Email them to stjohns1@waynebluedevils.org
- Mail them to the high school:
- Stacy Johnson, 611 W. 7th Street, Wayne, NE 68787
- Drop them off at the high school for Stacy Johnson.

If you have ANY questions please contact Stacy anytime via email, stjohns1@waynebluedevils.org, or phone (402) 375-3150 during the school day.

Thanks for taking the time to help us recognize the heroes of Wayne County!
