Debate on two Wayne City Council agenda items lasted more than an hour and resulted in both items

Council members discussed what action should be taken on the LB840 Committee's recommendation in regard to allocating money to Wriedt Properties to relocate four trailer houses located on property that Chad Sebade plans to develop into townhouses.

Wes Blecke, representing the LB840 Committee, told the council that the project had been brought to the committee in 2013 but was not completed due to the death of Bob Wriedt. He said it was brought back to the committee last fall and the committee asked for more information before moving forward.

He said the committee recommended a $2,000 loan per trailer for three years at three percent interest. The trailers would need to be moved within four months.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson told the council "it is complicated to move a trailer. Originally, this was offered as a grant."

Council member Cale Giese questioned whether this was the best use of LB840 funds or if the money could come from some other source.

"I like the project, but would rather see if it is possible to use some of Chad's (Sebade) TIF money for the project," Giese said.

Jeannie Wriedt, owner and president of Wriedt Properties, told the council that her late husband, Bob's plan was to build apartments on the property and origthem moved. Since that time, a portion of the property has been sold to Chad Sebade and a purchase agreement is in place for the remainder of the area.

"Chad plans to build townhouses in the area, with garages. He hopes to attract young professionals to the homes." she said.

Her suggestion to the council was a compromise between the original $5,500 grant per trailer and the LB840 Committee's recommendation of a $2,000 loan per trailer to a $2,000 grant per trailer, based on actual

Following discussion, council members voted unanimously to table the issue until more information is obtained.

A second lengthy discussion was held on the city's inally he had been granted $5,500 per trailer to have part in providing utilities to the Beaumont Event Center, located outside city limits north of the Wayne Country Club.

> The city has been working for several months to determine how to provide sewer services to the area.

> Because the area is outside the city limits and far enough away from a city well, a private septic system could be installed on the property. However, if in the future, the area were to be annexed by the city, the property would be required to hook into the city's sys-

Construction ensues for new locker rooms at Wayne High

Additional classroom and trophy display case also part of the remodeling project

By Laura Anderson Wayne Herald Intern

Wayne Junior-Senior High School has seen some major changes in the last five years, such as the addition that houses the middle school and this year is no exception. While nothing is being added on, the boys and girls locker rooms will be receiving a much needed renovation.

"We've talked about our locker room situation since we've remodeled the high school which was about five years ago," Mark Lenihan, Superintendent of Wayne Community Schools, said. "When we moved the junior high over to this building, we realized that we had a shortfall with our locker rooms; they weren't quite up to where we wanted them or needed them to be.'

To plan for this renovation and for it to be okayed, the rooms needed to be ADA compliant, follow fire code and be equal as per Title IX requirements.

During the planning process, there were lengthy discussions on how to make it work with the school board, facility committee, architects, school administrators, physical education teachers and the career tech education teachers about what was needed in

"This will be a really nice improvement. We host a lot of district events, basketball playoff games, the winter holiday tournament and when we have a boys or girls doubleheader in basketball, to be able to have four rooms that are separate from each other and be able to have everything you need was important," Lenihan said.

The renovation will rework the existing space so that a new classroom can be constructed and used for the agriculture classes that will start next year. A trophy case with five panels will be located there as well to display future FFA trophies or Power Drive trophies on the sides. The center of the case will have enough room for a Power Drive car to be on display.

The locker rooms will have new ceiling tiles and light fixtures along with heating and cooling systems put in for better circulation among the overall updates happening. The auto shop will also have a new heating and exhaust system put in place too.

"We actually closed the boys locker rooms down and so they're starting the demolition in the boys side and we're in kind of a tight squeeze right now. We only have two rooms that all the 7-12 boys are in, in one of the areas, and all of the 7-12 girls are in the other," Lenihan said. "In the spring time, the locker room use isn't quite as heavy as it is in the fall. It's a good time to do it right now so we can get started and finish before August when school starts."

The renovation began the last week of March and will continue into the summer. The end date for the renovation is slated for Aug. 1. This should allow for fall practices to start as scheduled on Aug.t 7.

Construction has begun on a complete overhaul of the high school locker rooms. Also included in the project is the reworking of existing space to make a new classroom which will be used by the agricultural classes that will begin next fall.

Kari Patefield (shown to the right of the cash register behind the desk) had dreams for a boutique shop one day. That day came sooner than she anticipated when the building next door to the salon she works at became available.

Big-city boutique fashion available right on Main Street in Wayne

After pursuing a degree in a field she loves, Kari Patefield went back to school to get her cosmetology license. Fashion boutiques aren't known for their abundance in small-town Nebraska, but eventually everyone needs a Patefield got her degree in fashion merchandising and her minor in marketing from UNL but after living in Lincoln and Omaha for a few years, she realized even though her dream was to move to a big city and open her own boutique, city living wasn't for her.

"I graduated in 2013 from UNL and then I realized I wanted to move back home to Laurel and I thought that maybe fashion and small town wouldn't mix or that I wouldn't be able to find a job right away, so I went to hair school in Omaha because I've always liked to do hair too," Patefield said.

Once she moved back to the area, she began working out of Hair Envy Salon on Main Street in Wayne. Next door, classes for martial arts training were held up until a few months ago when the group moved to a different location

"The landlord came and talked to the owner of Hair Envy to see if she would want it for tanning or some expansion of her salon and she wasn't really interested in it," she said. "Then I heard about it and I talked to the landlords." It didn't take Patefield long to realize this was her opportunity to make that boutique dream a reality.

"I always said if this space became available I would want it for a boutique. And it happened," said Patefield. "It was November when they said the space was going to be available but they didn't have a date, so I thought it over but by December I knew. It was just a matter of when I could get in here."

With her husband on board, Patefield dove headfirst into designing the space. Lucky for her, her husband is a handy one and was more than willing to make the space what she envisioned.

IKT officially opened its doors March 27, to the delight of many potential customers. "I think, anymore, most would rather shop at a boutique because you have those unique pieces. It's different now, it's moving more toward this than the big retailers."

A play on a social media handle Patefield has, IKT is as stylish and unique as its name.

Patefield's selection is a mix of bold statement pieces and the necessary basics to build a solid, versatile wardrobe all within a reasonable budget. "Even just in general, I feel like it's better to keep it lower and more affordable for more people so they have the opportunity to go home with three or four items rather than just one." Patefield attended a market in Chicago where she selected several styles to be sold in the shop. She held back

Lueders is 'Reader of the Week'

This week's Reader of the Week story. I also have a lot of trouble Ryan Lueders.

What is the last book you read? I'm Traveling Alone by Samuel Bjørk; which is his first book written for an American audience. The author is from Norway. It's a thriller about girls going missing and being found in the woods all dressed up like they are heading to school and how two detectives with a complicated past need to find the killers quick before any more girls go missing. Who is your favorite author?

F. Paul Wilson who writes the Repairman Jack series, which is about a man who is a fixer, he fixes people's problems when they are being harassed or taken advantage of, but it has an excellent science fiction twist to go along with all the action and humor.

Why do you read?

I read because a lot of books are better than movies, and I love a book to slow down from the day, at the Wayne Public Library is sleeping most nights so I'll reach for mend and tell everyone why they movies. So it's easy to pick up a rather than something too exciting at Wayne Public Library for albook and just get lost in a great and loud like a TV series or movie.

Name a book you would recomshould read it.

I would recommend the first book of F. Paul Wilson's Repairman Jack series The Tomb. It gives you a little bit of the background of how Repairman Jack becomes a fixer and his first story has him looking for an ancient cursed necklace that can release demons from Bengali lore while simultaneously racing against time to save his girlfriend's daughter Vicky who has been kidnapped.

You should read it because it has everything; action, science fiction and humor. It's definitely a guy's book but I'm sure ladies would like it too. Jack reminds me of an Indiana Jones type but also has many other skills that makes his foes rue the day they meet him.

President DeNaeyer opened the meeting by reading several thought provoking pieces. Her Ollie and Swen story made members smile.

Minutes were read and approved. A thank you was extended to Joyce Mitchell and Nicki Tiedtke for decorating the display case in the entryway of the Senior Center/Library portraying women of importance. Treasurer Donna Hansen gave the treasurer's report. Historian Hollis Frese read minutes from meetings held March 2 and April 12, 2004. Memories were recalled when past members Arlene Ostendorf and Lois Youngerman were mentioned.

More details were addressed for the upcoming tea. Members will close out the year when they dine out at Friendly Corners in Laurel on Monday, May 15. The birthday song was sung for Twyla Lindsay. A book in remembrance of Arlene Ostendorf will be purchased and placed in the Wayne Public Library.

Program presenter Mary Ann De-Naeyer had members answer roll call by telling of an old family recipe as an opening for her topic "Taste of Old Times". In the past 100 plus years, everything to do with food availability and preparation has changed drastically.

Kitchens have gone from a heat source, a cupboard for crockery and a table to the beautiful, efficient rooms we have today.

Refrigerators did not exist. Canning and salting were used for food preservation. Ice boxes kept food cold only for a short time. Root cellars were used wherever possible.

Years ago, recipes to prepare food were not helpful as amounts of ingredients were not specific. Recipes did not state baking temperatures

A short agenda and lack of bids made for a brief meeting of the Wavne County Board of Commissioners on Tuesday.

Bids were advertised for the garage replacement project at the courthouse but the commissioners hadn't received any by the 9:30

After some discussion, it was decided that an additional few weeks of advertising would be done and local contractors would be contacted to let them know of the project. Commissioners will open bids for the project on May 2 at 9:30 a.m.

Aside from the bidding, the main topic of discussion was on the county roads agreement being drafted by county attorney Mike Pieper.

After lengthy discussions on the topic, commissioners looked at surrounding counties' agreements to base the Wayne County version off of. These agreements will be sent to all the wind energy companies looking to build in Wayne

The agreements cover a myriad of items, from permit costs to depth of boring.

While there were a few changes, Pieper thought the document was finished enough to make the wind energy companies aware of it.

"I will look at it again, but I think it's sufficient enough to send out to the companies," said Pieper. The next meeting of the commissioners will be April 18 at 9 a.m. in the Wayne County Courthouse.

WSC Student Anna Knezevic receives Fulbright Award

Program provides grants for individually designed study/research projects or for English Teaching Assistant Programs. Candidates submit a Statement of Grant Purpose defining activities to take place during one academic year in a participating country outside the

"My interest in the opportunity comes from my study abroad experience in Greece last spring," Knezevic said. "I have always been fascinated with learning about other cultures. I applied for the Fulbright Award because travel, international communication, and intercultural experiences have been a significant part of my life and have aligned well with Fulbright's mission of promoting mutual understanding globally. This experience will also strengthen my knowledge and skills for a career path in marketing and international business.

Knezevic's Fulbright grant covers the cost of airline tickets to and from Malaysia, a living stipend for the year in Malaysia, and health insurance. She will be placed in a secondary school in Malaysia where she will supplement English language instruction and provide a native English speaker presence in the classroom.

"My goal is for my Malaysian students to gain confidence in their English language skills even when interacting with a native speaker," Knezevic said. "As a cultural ambassador for the United States, I will share about the culture and values from the American heartland. I will also learn from Malaysians by immersing myself within their community. I am excited at the opportunity to try a new experience, learn at least one of the languages (Malay or Mandarin), and experience everyday life in Malaysia! Also, I look forward to exploring the country and region when school is not in session."

Knezevic said her experiences in Wayne State's study abroad program and her own cultural heritage contributed to her drive to seek international experiences.

"I have always considered myself a citizen of the world, hence the desire to explore opportunities to open my life to an exciting new experience upon graduation," she said. "Born in Canada to parents from former Yugoslavia, we relocated to Allen, when I was only three years old. We later moved to Wayne, where I completed elementary and high school. My love for learning through travel and adventure has inspired me to seek opportunities and, as a start, I applied to teach English in Malaysia through the Fulbright program."

Dr. Pat Lutt, professor of business and marketing at Wayne State, served as a mentor for Knezevic during the Fulbright application process. She said the program is designed for students like Kne-

"When Anna was telling me

about the Fulbright, I looked at her and said, 'This is you!' before she even asked me for a recommendation," Lutt said. "Anna is the image the U.S. would like to have abroad - gracious, articulate, and conversant in a couple of languages, with a true interest in the local life and culture. She is well read and sees a bigger picture than most people twice her age. She is self-motivated, mature for her years, independent, and an experienced traveler. I will not be surprised if Anna works and lives abroad for stretches at a time."

Knezevic shared solid advice for students interested in pursuing the Fulbright program as a springboard to international experiences. She also pointed to her work with Dr. Jean Karlen, Wayne State professor emeritus of sociology, and Dr. Leah Keino, director of Multicultural and International programs at Wayne State, as integral to the process.

"Attend the informational session, review the online links, and start your application in the summer," she said. "After attending the informational session, I learned that the Fulbright program is highly competitive. However, one does not have to have a teaching background to apply for the ETA program. I viewed several videos, did some research on Malaysia, and contacted a recent ETA alumna to learn more about the application process and about her experience in Malaysia. It takes time and effort. I met several times with Drs. Jean Karlen and Leah Keino, my mentors, to discuss my statements and to receive feedback, for which I am most grateful.

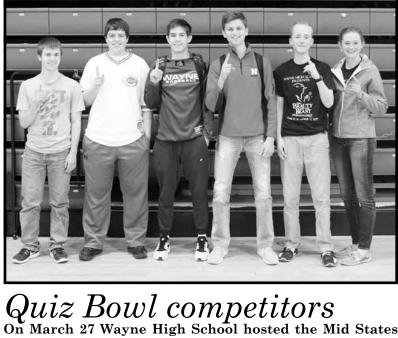

"Anna will make a significant contribution by teaching English to young people in Malaysia," said Dr. Meena Dalal, professor of economics at Wayne State, and another of Knezevic's mentors. "At the same time, she will learn a lot because all of her prior experiences were in Europe and North America. This time she will encounter an Asian culture and learn new things from them. Go Anna!"

During their grants, individuals accepted into the Fulbright program meet, work, live with, and learn from the people of the host country, sharing daily experiences. The program facilitates cultural exchange through direct interaction on an individual basis in the classroom, field, home, and in routine tasks, allowing the grantee to gain an appreciation of others' viewpoints and beliefs, the way they do things, and the way they think. Through engagement in the community, the individual interacts with his or her hosts on a one-to-one basis in an atmosphere of openness, academic integrity, and intellectual freedom, thereby promoting mutual understanding, according to the Fulbright Pro-

The next round of applications for the 2018-19 academic year is due Oct. 6. Interested students are encouraged to attend one of the three informational sessions at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 11 in the Elkhorn Room and 3:30 and 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 18 in the Niobrara Room of the Kanter Student Center. Applicants will work on their proposals during the summer for submission in early fall.

Tucker Nichols tossed a three-hit shutout to help Wayne/Wakefield to a 4-0 home win Monday at Hank Overin Field.

Wayne/Wakefield splits four games last week

The Wayne/Wakefield baseball team sandwiched a pair of shutouts around a doubleheader loss to highlight action on the diamond last week.

On Thursday, Wayne had just one hit in their matchup with Thurston-Cuming County, but they made that work in a 1-0 shutout at Hank Overin Field.

Wayne scored their lone run in the fifth. Tucker Nichols singled and moved all the way to third on a wild pitch before coming home on a Payten Gamble groundout.

That was enough for Adam Bentjen and Tyler Lutt, who combined on the three-hit shutout. Bentjen worked five innings for the win, striking out seven, while Lutt got the save with two spotless innings of relief.

Wayne/Wakefield couldn't slow down Wahoo in a road baseball doubleheader on Saturday, as the Warriors swept the Blue Devils, 14-1 and 11-1.

In the opener, Wahoo broke the game open with four runs in the third and five more in the fourth.

Wayne/Wakefield trailed 3-0 after one inning before getting a run back in the top of the second. Wayne loaded the bases and Brennen O'Reilly, who led off the inning with a single, scored on a bunt single by Tucker Nichols.

Wahoo came back with a run in the second before their big innings in the third and fourth innings to come away with the win.

Nichols had two of Wayne/Wakefield's four hits in the game, with O'Reilly and Lutt also adding a hit. Bentjen took the loss on the mound, allowing eight runs (three earned) on five hits.

In the nightcap, Wahoo broke the game open with seven runs in the fourth inning, adding two more in the seventh to finish off the sweep.

Wayne/Wakefield scored its lone run in the bottom of the fourth, scoring when Julio Sanchez singled and scored on a single by Hagan Miller.

Miller and Lutt each had two hits to lead Wayne/Wakefield's five-hit effort, while Sanchez added a hit and scored a run. Lutt took the loss on the mound.

In Monday action, Tucker Nichols threw a completegame three-hit shutout to help Wayne/Wakefield to a 4-0 win over GACC/Scribner-Snyder/West Point-Beemer at Hank Overin Field.

Wayne/Wakefield broke a scoreless tie in the bottom of the fourth when Kaleb Anderson, pinch-running for Bentjen, scored on a wild pitch to give the locals the 1-0

Wayne/Wakefield broke the game open in the fifth with three runs. Nichols singled to lead off the inning, then scored on a long double to center by Payten Gamble. Gamble then came home on a Lutt single, and Lutt followed him home on a double by Zane Jackson.

That was enough for Nichols, who went the distance and threw a three-hit shutout, with two of the hits coming in the seventh inning. He struck out seven and walked one to help Wayne/Wakefield improve to 3-5 on the season.

Wayne played at South Sioux City on Tuesday and will be home Thursday for a 5 p.m. matchup with Norfolk at Hank Overin Field.

Piekarski tabbed as assistant soccer coach at WSC

Wavne State College women's soccer coach Joe Cleary announced that Alex Piekarski has been named assistant coach for the Wildcats.

"I am incredibly excited to welcome Coach Piekarski to Wayne State College and our soccer program," said Cleary. "He checks all the boxes on what I was looking for in an assistant coach - he knows what it takes to be successful in the Northern Sun Conference and he is an incredibly loyal and hard-working individual. I am fortunate to be able to bring him into the program and I know he is looking forward to hitting the ground running and working with myself and our student-athletes.

Piekarski comes to Wayne State after serving last season as an assistant coach at Utah State, where the Aggies were 12-9 and 7-4 in the Mountain West Conference. He also served two seasons as a graduate assistant coach at St. Cloud State. In his final season with the Huskies, SCSU was 9-6-3 and advanced to the NSIC Tournament.

Other coaching experience for Piekarski includes working as the director of recreational soccer for the Central Minnesota Youth Soccer Association and two seasons as a goalkeeper coach for the Appleton Soccer Club, where he also served as head coach for two teams in the association.

"I want to thank Coach Cleary and the entire Wayne State College athletic department for this opportunity,' remarked Piekarski. "It has been great to meet the student-athletes and I look forward to working with them and help them become the most successful they can be. It's obvious there is a solid base in the program and I am looking forward to helping take Wildcat soccer to the next level."

Piekarski earned his bachelor's degree in middle childhood/early adolescence education and history from Lakeland University in Wisconsin, where he was a four-year letterwinner, earning first-team Northern Athletic Collegiate Conference honors in 2011 and 2012 and second-team honors in 2010. He received his master's degree from St. Cloud State in 2016 majoring in sports administration.

Allen tracksters see action

The Allen track and field teams competed in the Hartington Cedar Catholic Invitational last week and saw some good performances, even though they did not come away with many medals on the day.

"We found out today, that we have much work to do every day," coach Dave Uldrich said. "The athletes have been improving and several athletes met the personal best efforts, and did not receive a medal. That is too bad, but they also understand that the hard will pay off in the long run, and they must continue to get better. Nothing is more satisfying to a coaching staff, than seeing an athlete improve or break through to the next level."

Tayler Kumm led the Allen boys to a fifth-place finish with a four-medal day. He was second in the 1,600, third in the 3,200, fifth in the 800 and ran a leg on the winning 3,200-me-

Late surge helps Cardinals outlast Wildcats

William Jewell College used a six-run seventh inning, then held off a ninth-inning Wayne State rally, as the Cardinals beat the Wildcats 7-4 Tuesday in non-conference college baseball action at the Pete

Baseball Complex in Wayne.

Wayne State's Taner Ledezma and William Jewell's Wyatt Schulz engaged in a pitchers' duel early on, assisted by some stellar defense plays by both Wayne State broke the scoreless tie in the fourth when Kyle Thompson was hit by a pitch and later scored on a Bryce Bisenius RBI single to right field, giving the Wildcats a 1-0 lead.

The game stayed 1-0 until the seventh when William Jewell took advantage of a Wildcat throwing error with two outs, leading to five hits and one more Wildcat error. The Cardinals turned that deficit into a 6-1 advantage after seven, then added another run in the ninth to take a 7-1 lead.

The Wildcats used a two-out rally of their own in the bottom of the ninth to make things interesting.

With two outs and no runners on base, pinch-hitter Peyton Barnes blasted a solo homer to left field to make the score 7-2. Chris May, Tandon Dorn and Tanner Simons each followed with singles as May scored on Simons' hit to cut the lead to 7-3. A Cody Jenkins single through the left side brought home Dorn to trim the Cardinal lead to 7-4. William Jewell reliever Thomas Hennelly, the third pitcher of the inning and the seventh of the game for the Cardinals, was able to stop the rally, getting pinch hitter Rob Ramsey to strike out swinging on a 3-2 pitch to end

Wayne State outhit the Cardinals 10-9. May led the Wildcats at the plate, going 2-for-3 with a run scored. Barnes had a solo homer while Dorn, Simons, Jenkins, Thompson, Bisenius and Cody Castro each Starter Taner Ledezma (1-2) suffered the hardluck pitching loss for the Wildcats. He worked seven innings and allowed eight hits and six runs (all unearned) with six strikeouts and no walks. Kyle Kenneback worked a perfect inning of relief in the eighth while Spencer Johnson gave up one run on one hit working the ninth inning.

Wayne State (7-13) returns to Northern Sun Conference play this weekend traveling to Bismarck, N.D. for a four-game series at the University of Mary Saturday and Sunday.

CITY NOTICE

The Wayne Public Works Department wants to remind all residents that blowing lawn mower clippings into the street is prohibited and is a violation of City Code, Section 78-237. These grass clippings and other such debris left on the street will travel to the storm sewer inlet and can block them. The blocking of the inlets can cause local flooding from storm water accumulation. Because the water from the storm sewers runs into Logan Creek, the grass clippings can negatively affect the creek with the chemical content in the grass from lawns that have been fertilized and treated When mowing, please mow the first few rounds so that the grass blows in towards the lawn and when finished, sweep up the grass that has been thrown into the street. We thank you for your cooperation during this mowing season.

What a wonderful thing it is that the Wayne Herald has given the Christian leadership in the area the opportunity to share impressions from the Lord in these weekly "Word in Faith" columns. And it has been my privilege to be one of the contributors, as I write in rotation with other pastors.

As you know, my Sherry and I will be finishing nine years in our work in this community: (Sherry) at the Vision Center in Walmart (Norfolk), for me here in Wayne at the college (as the Staff Accompanist in the Music Department), and for both of us at Praise Assembly of God, where I have been the "Interim Pastor" for nearly 18 months by the time we leave at the end of May.

And as we head out West to live near our son and his family, one of the things that comes to mind is: "What a difference 1,629 miles can make....." That's what I discovered as I was looking at the map the other morning, and I got the google answer to "how many miles is it to our destination". Seems like it is far off. Just like it felt last fall when I met with David Bohnert, the department chairperson to tell him that this would be my last year, and when we told the church leadership in December. But here it is: five weeks of school left (starting today, Monday morning, April 3), my exit interview is on May 22, and the truck pulls out on the 25th, which is also the closing date on the sale of

That which we thought was "wayfar-off" is now almost staring us in

And it makes us look with fondness on the past nine years of service in the area. Let me share some quick thoughts in my final column.

I'm going to cite lyrics from three special songs today.

Song #1: There is a musical called "Rent" which has a familiar song entitled "Seasons of Love." The opening line cites the number of minutes in a year: 525,600. So I totaled up 4.730,400 minutes in nine years. The song asks "how do you measure a life?" I could measure it in the number of students accompanied, the number of recitals performed, or the number of worship services which I led, or the sermons we preached, or the number of coffee appointments at McDonald's I had with Bill Dickey. The premise is that every moment is valuable and is filled with laughter, fun, tears, joy. We are grateful for the moments - and the years that we have been able to enjoy this marvelous community and wonderful friends.

Song #2: Another musical which sketches the story which comes before the "Wizard of Oz" (entitled "Wicked") contains a song entitled "For Good." And the theme of this unique song is that because of special relationships, the lead characters have been changed "for good." It's a play on words, I think - at least for me. Because as my Sherry and I look at these nine years, we will say that we have been changed "for good" (as in "for the better") as well as "for good" (as in "for a long, long

Song #3: The Collingsworth family is a multi-generational, gospelmusic-singing group that travels everywhere presenting their highenergy, tight-harmony music, in a blend that is truly unique when it's "family singing together." And one of their wonderful songs is entitled "Fear Not Tomorrow." I have found myself waking up in the night, wondering about this or that, and endeavoring to find peace in the midst of the pivotal questions and issues which surround this major move in our lives: leaving family in Iowa and

Missouri behind, saying "good-by' to dear friends everywhere, contemplating driving through the mountains (how will I do that safely???), and on and on. We will need to find new doctors, new grocery stores, plan driving patterns in a metropolitan area, and make sure that things fit in our new abode. And the assurance of this song is in its bottom line: "Fear not tomorrow, God is already there."

I am reminded of the story of Jacob that is the basis for an old, old camp-type song that we have sung for years entitled "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder." If you remember the story (found in Genesis 28:10-19), Jacob had a dream of angels walking up and down a ladder, stretching from earth to heaven. When he awoke from his sleep, he commented (verse 16): "Surely the Lord is in this place, and I did not know it." He didn't realize where the Lord could be found. But he discovered that the "Lord is in this place."

And I can hear the Lord say to me: "Fear not tomorrow, God is al-

So I will close with a "benediction", also found in the narrative of Jacob, when his father-in-law (Laban) and Jacob (with his family) parted company. This is found in Genesis 31:49 (a familiar passage), and it is our prayer for this fine community as we leave: "The Lord watch between you and me, while we are absent one from another."

We ask the Lord to bless you all!

We've had some welcome rain, but would appreciate some sun now. I was a guest at Grace Lutheran Church on Sunday, for the Golden Age dinner. There are definitely some perks to being in this "golden age" bracket. Free meals are one. Right now, I can't think of any more! Ha!

My travel companion was my neighbor, Caroline, who happens to have grown up on a farm near Wayne, in a family of nine. The first person she saw when we arrived in the parish hall was her sister, so that worked out. But we had great conversation going and coming, so the travel time went fast.

I will try not to talk about sports for awhile, but I have to say we were thrilled when South Carolina's girls were crowned the Final Four champs. We hope Jim and Grandma were watching; they probably had very good seats. Jim claimed SC as his home when he re-

We still get the Successful Farming magazine and there was an interesting article in the latest issue about a ranch family who had a guest house on their land when they bought the place. They decided to try renting it with airbandb and have been pleasantly surprised with how easy it is. I think we should have had that service when we had the B&B.

I don't miss that part. But this time of year, I miss being on the farm. I also don't miss the mud! I remember doing a fair amount of complaining about the stuff when I had to deal with it. Somehow, as I reminded my audience on Sunday, the things we didn't like when they happened turn into something to laugh about with the tincture of
