Bids awarded and tabled in recent commissioners meeting

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

In Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, discussions centered on engineered materials needed for two County Bridge Match Program (CBMP) projects and the purchase of a new semi trailer for one of the districts.

While the discussion was tabled at the last meeting regarding the CBMP material bids, Highway Superintendent Mark Casey sent the bid specs from each to Minelli-Wagners, the engineering firm being utilized for the two projects, to have them inspected more closely.

All three commissioners discussed faulty materials they had received in the past from Contech, who happened to have the lowest bid for the bridge project at hand.

A representative from Contech sat in on Tuesday's meeting after hearing about the concerns the commissioners had regarding their products.

Richard Ludwig, Contech's rep, apologized for the products Wayne County had received, but stated that their company hadn't become the largest manufacturer of those in the country by having faulty product.

Minelli-Wagners' recommendation was to take the Contech bid with stipulations for inspection at the facility, to which Casey added that Contech should be responsible for a portion if not all of the costs associated with that inspection. An inspector from the engineering firm along with Casey would visit the plant to perform a pre-engineering inspection.

With that in mind and the verbal agreement by Ludwig to cover costs not yet determined, the commissioners awarded the bid to Contech for $66,285.

Casey opened a set of bids for a trailer needed in commissioner Randy Larson's district. According to Larson, the trailer currently used by his district has been parked and isn't safely drivable any longer.

Several bids were received, each with base model pricing and with option pricing. Those options included an electric roll tarp, air ride suspension and aluminum wheels among others.

While the lowest base model bid came from Boyer Ridge Manufacturing for $39,900, each option added changed the price, while some other companies' base trailers came with more options or had lower prices associated with each added option.

Because of this and the number of bids received, commissioners felt it best to table the bidding process until a side-by-side comparison could be made of each trailer on a spreadsheet.

Casey gave a lengthy update on bridge and road projects in the area, including the bridge currently out on 859th Road immediately north of Carroll.

The project has been off to a slow start and Casey told the commissioners that the original plans had asked to drill 75 feet, but they went 95 feet and were still short on bearing. The construction company was going to wait 24 hours to see how things settled before testing once more.

Another project on the list this summer is the paving of a portion of Centennial Road south of 7th street. The right of way documents had all been mailed or hand-delivered Casey said, and the project is slated to get started in early July.

In other news, the City of Wayne took action to set aside $10,000 in the coming budget year to put toward the second Pictometry flight the county is scheduling for 2018.

Brian Kesting, the technology support specialist for the City of Wayne, was on hand to tell the commissioners about the funds the council was allocating for the flight.

The flight is the final of two flights, one of which was conducted in 2015. The aerial imagery captured by the company is used by the city police and Sheriff's departments, assessor's office as well as by Emergency Management.

Jolene Lichty used humor in her presentation on how she has handled the challenges in her life since her cancer diagnosis.

Relay For Life honors survivors, raises funds, remembers

Jolene Lichty, a cancer survivor from O'Neill, was the featured speaker at this year's Wayne County Relay For Life.

The event was held June 1 on the campus of Wayne State College.

Lichty shared her cancer story and said since her diagnosis has used the word FAITH to define her life.

The "F" stands for her faith in God; the "A" for attitude; the "I" for Inventory (having less physical and mental clutter in your life); the "T" for trust and the "H" for humor.

The evening also included recognition of the cancer survivors present. Each person introduced him or herself and told those in the audience how long it had been since their cancer diagnosis.

Several have survived for more than 25 years, with the longest being 33 years.

A silent auction of donated items helped raise additional funds. A quilt was donated for the Relay and luminaria lined the room. The names of those who have survived the disease, as well as those who have died from cancer, were read at the end of the event.

Food was provided by the Northeast Nebraska Cattlemen, Pizza Hut and several other donors.

Proceeds from the event go to the American Cancer Society.

Co-chairs for this year's event were Carla Rahn and Mandy Olson.

City of Wayne earns Nebraska Diplomat Award

The city of Wayne was named the Community of the Year by the Nebraska Diplomats during a Regional Economic Celebration held last week in Norfolk.

The Nebraska Diplomats traditionally host an event in Lincoln once a year, but this year expanded the celebration to six locations, with the Norfolk event the first.

Wayne was recognized during the day-long event that included information on how the region can work together on issues such as creating stronger economies together, housing and recruiting a quality, skilled workforce.

The State of Nebraska Department of Economic Development shared information on regional collaboration and the potential for a regional industry council in northeast Nebraska.

As part of the event Courtney Dentlinger, Director of the State of Nebraska Department of Economic Development, spoke to an audience of more than 100 business and civic leaders from across the state.

Governor Pete Ricketts presented the Community of the Year Award to Mayor Ken Chamberlain.

The city had submitted a nomination letter for the award, focusing on a variety of projects aimed at developing the city, including the use of TIF and LB840 funds.

Excerpts from the letter are as follows:
"The City of Wayne currently (as of February 2017) has 18 active TIF projects; $3 million in bonds have been issued with a total TIF valuation of $13.6 million.
"The Wayne Economic Development Plan (LB 840) for the City of Wayne was passed by the voters in 2008. It is funded by sales tax. LB 840 receives 40 percent of the 1 percent sales tax passed in 2008. The remaining 60 percent is earmarked for capital projects within the City of Wayne. The LB 840 fund has provided financial assistance for 40 different projects since its inception utilizing just over $3 million.
"In 2015 an additional one-half percent sales tax passed with tremendous community support to fund a new swimming pool, located at the Community Activity Center complex. This provides another amenity to help attract residents to live in Wayne as well "In 2008, the WAED Business and Industry group began planning a 20,000 sq ft spec building in the Wayne Business Park. CDBG funds were leveraged to build a shell building and market it over a four year period. The city added a new street, named Summerfield Drive, after the late Marty Summerfield, a driving force of the Business and Industry Group. In 2012, Williams Form Engineering purchased the building with 8 total acres and finished the building for manufacturing of rebar and anchors for bridges and wind towers, employing approximately 20 FTE workers. In 2016, Williams Form Engineering announced that the Wayne facility would be expanded by another 40,000 sq ft and add additional jobs and technological advances through their manufacturing processes.

Some of the most recent major projects completed within the city include: Bomgaars, 4th Jug Restaurant and Liquor Store, Providence Medical Center renovation, Wayne State College renovations (Willow Bowl, athletic facilities, US Conn Library, Carhart Science building and Bowen Hall) and a planned Center for Applied Technology building to serve the area.

The City of Wayne keeps building new streets and adding infrastructure, while at the same time, maintains and rebuilds existing streets and infrastructure, notably Windom Street paving- water lines, and storm sewer; Milo Drive - water, sewer, and

Giving back

"A child's main concern should be getting an education, not a hungry stomach," said Lucas Rix, co-owner of Thrift Warehouse in Wayne. Recently, Thrift Warehouse made a donation to the Wayne Community Schools to be applied toward outstanding lunch account balances. Because of donations that are made to Thrift Warehouse, monies can be dispersed back into the community. "We are committed to our community and look forward to many more donations in the future," co-owner Mark Kanitz said of the donation.

City Admin candidates each have something unique to offer Wayne

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

Three finalists for the City Administrator position met members of the community during a public interview session on Monday in the meeting room at the fire hall.

Mike Holton, of Plainview, held the first slot at 12:30. Holton is familiar with Wayne thanks to all four of his children attending Wayne State College.

He attended USD in Vermillion and went to work for the greyhound racetrack in Sioux City where he went on to make a career on the management side of the business.

When things began to quiet on the racing front, Holton returned to his hometown to "take a break" as he put it. But he was offered a job with the Center for Rural Affairs upon his return, so the break didn't last long. After 7 years there, Plainview's mayor offered him the job of City Administrator for Plainview, a position he still currently holds.

Holton went back to school to obtain his Masters degree and is currently in the middle of his dissertation for his PhD. He studied public administration in Norway with several city administrators from the state and his passion, he says, is in community development.

He considers his priority in Wayne to build relationships first and to take time to find the points of improvement rather than to hastily make changes.

The second candidate is a Wayne native who currently serves as the Wayne Area Economic Development Director.

Wes Blecke started his career in Ashland as a city administrator but shifted gears to allow his wife to pursue her career in physical therapy when she was offered a position in Wayne. The couple both felt that Wayne, with their strong family ties here and the atmosphere, would be better suited to raise their children than Ashland.

Blecke attended UNO to obtain his Masters degree in Public Administration with a concentration in budgets and finance.

Blecke accepted the assistant director position at WAED in 2005 and moved to interim director and eventually director, and while he has enjoyed his time at WAED, he said, his dream job is in the City Administrator role.

"I told Lowell from the very beginning," Blecke said about wanting the position. "I feel like I've been interviewing for this position for over 11 years now."

His goals for the city include steady, sustainable growth and helping to foster a good business climate to encourage that growth.

The final candidate to meet with community members on Monday was Amber Kummer, a Mitchell, S.D. native transplanted in Anthony, Kan. for her position as City Clerk Administrator.

Amber graduated from USD in Vermillion and her experience with Wayne wasn't as pleasant as one would hope.

"I played rugby and Wayne State was always kicking our butts," Kummer said with a laugh.

Kummer has been in Anthony for seven years and while there, the town of 2,500 experienced an oil boom and eventually a bust. She also met her fiance there, who drove with her to visit Wayne while she interviewed.

She drew several parallels between Anthony and Wayne and her experience helping facilitate business growth and to maintain the community during the chaotic oil boom that doubled the population in "what seemed like overnight."

She highlighted her budget and finance experience with Anthony and her experience lobbying for help from the Kansas governor when the oil boom left the infrastructure of the highways in the surrounding area in complete disarray.

Each candidate was allotted an hour and a half to talk about themselves and respond to questions from audience members that ranged from how they felt about chickens in city limits to what they would do to try and entice more business to the community. The selection process is still underway.

Resignation of council member, ordinance approval at council meeting

By Clara Osten
clara@wayneherald.com

The Wayne City Council is one member short following the resignation of Ward 1 representative Nick Muir.

Muir submitted his letter of resignation to Mayor Ken Chamberlain during Tuesday's meeting of the city council.

Muir and his family are staying in Wayne, but are moving out of Ward 1 and therefore, he is not eligible to represent that ward.

Muir told the council he would like to stay active in city government and would like to retain his seat on the Community Redevelopment Authority (CRA). He said that if the city were ever to consider having an at-large council representative, he would be interested in that type of position also.

"It has been a pleasure serving on the council and I have found that people are willing to talk about issues," Muir said.

Mayor Ken Chamberlain thanked Muir for his service and said "we hate to see you go."

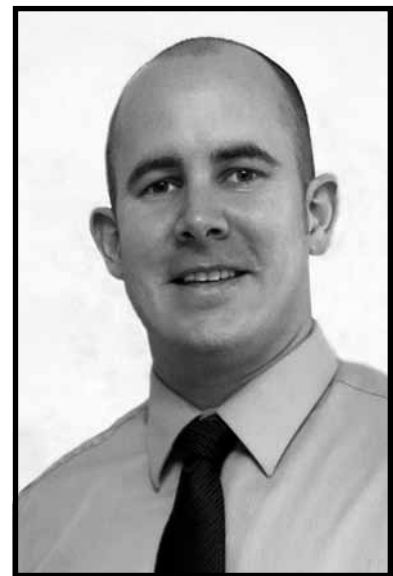

Council members gave second and third reading approval to a number of ordinances during Tuesday's meeting.

Two of the ordinances deal with creating street and sewer districts for the Crown II Project, which will allow for the building of 15 single-family homes in the area near Tomar Drive and Jaxon Street.

Two other ordinances passed will allow for the installation of a stop sign at the corner of Grainland Road and Pheasant Run and set speed limits on Grainland Road.

Ordinances receiving second reading approval dealt with the annexation of real estate to the city for the Beaumont Event Center, the re-zoning of a piece of property from I-1 Light Industrial and Manufacturing to R-2 Residential and creating a water extension district for the Beaumont Event Center project.

Council members also approved a resolution approving a consulting services agreement addendum with C.H. Guernsey & Company to help evaluate what kinds of electricity generation engines the city can afford and how to pay for the project.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson explained what services the company is providing to the city and the requirements of being a part of the Southwest Power Pool.

Council members took action to approve the job description and authorize the city clerk to advertise for the position of Finance Director for the city of Wayne.

Nancy Braden, the current Finance Director, is planning to retire at the end of the year.

Council member Matt Eischeid asked the mayor if the city can actively look for a candidate and bring someone to Wayne who they feel is qualified for the position. He was told that the city would do just that and had some names in mind in regard to the position.

The final item on Tuesday's agenda was that of setting a date for the first meeting in July.

Because the Fourth of July falls on the first Tuesday of the month, the council is required to hold a meeting either the Monday before or the Wednesday or Thursday following.

After a brief discussion, council members voted to have the meeting on Thursday, July 6 at the regular time.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, June 20 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

 Another discussion point at the meeting was that of July 3. County employees will not work, nor will the courthouse be open on July 3.
 After an employee at the courthouse brought up the matter, commissioners discussed and decided in lieu of the half day given on the Friday of the Wayne County Fair and the Christmas Eve hours (it falls on a Sunday this year), employees would receive July 3 off.

 "Corporate citizenship is evident in the response to and reconstruction of our business park and surrounding area after an EF-4 tornado hit in the fall of 2013. That involved every segment of the community joining hands to do what they could to bring the community through the recovery process. That process/progress was made possible by the positive community connections maintained long before disaster struck. Even while the community was still recovering, Wayne was the first point of contact when tornadoes again ripped through Northeast Nebraska the following summer. Affected communities of Pilger, Stanton, and Wakefield looked to Wayne as an example of what needed to be done. As good neighbors, Wayne lent not only our hands, but shared lessons learned along the way.
 "Most recently the Nebraska Community Foundation, Wayne Affiliated Fund, was "re-energized" in 2016. The fund in the past has been utilized for specific community projects. Now, with a new leadership team in place, the fund will build towards creating a $1,000,000 unrestricted endowment for future community needs. Last fall (2016) the fund advisory committee held a visioning session with the community to "flip their dream switch" and come up with ideas to enhance the community now and in the future."

USDA seeking applications

Lincoln - Nebraska USDA Rural Development is seeking applications for grants to make housing repairs for low- and very-low-income rural residents. The grants are being provided through USDA Rural Development's Housing Preservation Grant program. In 2016, the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska received a $46,021 housing preservation grant. The grant was matched by the Tribe to repair 13 units for the Winnebago Tribe Seniors. The funding was to assist with basic heating system components, air conditioning as required for health purposes, weatherization improvements and emergency health and safety repairs and improvements.

USDA provides grants to qualified organizations so they can help rural homeowners and rental housing owners make needed repairs and improvements to their community's housing infrastructure. These grants help families with limited incomes preserve their housing and improve their living conditions. Grants can be used for a variety of needs, such as repairs to resolve health or safety issues or for energy-efficiency improvements to reduce utility costs. Eligible applicants for Housing Preservation Grants include town or county governments, public agencies, federally recognized Indian tribes, and nonprofit and faith-based organizations. USDA does not provide funding directly to homeowners under this program. For additional eligibility information, see page 25228 of the June 1, 2017 Federal Register. Applications are due by 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on July 17, 2017.

Wayne State track signs 11 for 2017-18

Wayne State College track and field coach Marlon Brink announced the signings of 11 more student-athletes to the 2017-18 recruiting class for the Wildcat track and field program.

Joining Wayne State's women's team are Hanna Lazure of Fort Calhoun, Molly McCartney from Nelson, Sophie Noecker from Hartington, Sabrina Sack of Waverly, McKenzie Scheil from Fairmont and Jadin Wagner from Lawton, Iowa. They join Kenzie Sullivan from Laurens Iowa and Sarah Stang from Herman as members of the 2017-18 Wildcat women's recruiting class.

"The women's recruits bring a lot of success with them which I think will help as our team is working to move up in the NSIC ranks," said Coach Brink. "It will be exciting to watch this group over the course of their careers at WSC to see what they can accomplish."

The five men recruited include Preston Davis from Mondamin, Iowa, Brock Hegarty of Fremont, Bryce Holcomb from Lincoln, Kyle Lowe of Sibley, Iowa and Dillon Lubischer from Pierce. They join Isaac De Los Santos from Scootsbluff and Nathan Hiemer of Columbus as members of the Wildcat men's track and field recruiting class for the 2017-18 season.

"I think we have a nice group of athletes that will be able to help our team right away in both cross country and track and field," stated Brink. "They are all excellent students, which shows that they have self-discipline for the classroom and that carries over to athletics as well. That is one of the things we try to stress in the recruiting process. I am excited to see what these athletes will do during their careers at Wayne State."

Lazure is a high jumper from Fort Calhoun High School. She is a three-year state qualifier in the high jump, tied for eighth as a sophomore in 2015 (5-0), tied for 10th as a junior (5-0) and was 12th this year in Class B as a senior at 5-0. Lazure also ran a leg on Fort Calhoun's 400-meter relay team at state, placing eighth. She holds the school record in the high jump at 5-4 1/2 and is an Academic All-State selection the last two years.

"Hanna has had success with the high jump and relays and will continue to focus on those events at the college level," remarked Brink. "We will try to build on her success with a year-round training program at the college level."

McCartney is a distance runner from Lawrence/Nelson High School where she was a state track qualifier all four years in three events each year in the 1,600 and 3,200-meter runs and 3,200-meter relay. She is a three-time state champion in the Class D 1,600-meter run and won the Class D 3,200-meter run as a junior and senior. McCartney also earned state medals all four years in the 3,200-meter relay and ended her career winning medals in 11 of 12 events with five individual state titles. She also excels in the classroom earning Academic All-State Honors in volleyball, basketball and track and field.

"Molly knows how to compete at a high level when it really counts and brings an impressive resume from her high school running career," boasted Coach Brink. "I am excited to see what she can do at the college level as I believe she has a lot of room to continue to get faster as a collegiate runner."

Noecker is a sprinter/hurdler from Hartington-Newcastle High School. She is a multi-sport standout for the Wildcats, earning All-Lewis & Clark Conference Honors in volleyball and basketball as a sophomore, junior and senior. Noecker qualified for state track in four events this year and earned in medals in three, placing sixth in the Class C 100-meter dash (12.8) and eighth in the 300-meter hurdles (48.0) while running a leg on the fourth place 400-meter relay team (51.3) while also qualifying in the 200-meter dash. She is also an Academic All-State selection in all three sports.

"Sophie is a very talented athlete who will compete in the sprints/hurdles and possibly the multi-events because of her athleticism," said Brink. "She is a great competitor with a strong work ethic in a good program."

Sack is a distance runner from Waverly High School. She is a four-year starter in cross country and three-year starter in track and field. Sack was a Class B state cross country qualifier as a junior and is coached by former Wildcat track standout Cody Gregory.

"Sabrina will benefit from the longer college distances of both cross country and track," commented Brink. "She is a hard worker who will help strengthen our distance squad and will continue to improve on a year-round training program."

Scheil is a thrower from Fillmore Central High School where she was a two-year Class C state qualifier in the shot put. As a senior, she placed sixth at 39-1 and was seventh in her junior year at 38-7. Scheil was also a three-year starter in volleyball and lettered three years in basketball.

"McKenzie is a good all-around athlete who has made significant progress the last two years and placed at state in the shot put," Brink stated. "She has a passion for throwing, which will make her a great fit with our throws squad."

Wagner is a thrower from Lawton-Bronson High School in Iowa. She had a stellar senior season, earning Class 1A All-State honors in volleyball while winning a state title in the shot put at the Iowa Class 1A state track meet. Wagner was a four-year state qualifier in the shot put and won the event as a senior at 40-11 1/2 while also placing fifth as a junior (37-4) and third as a sophomore (38-1 1/4). She was also a state qualifier in the discus as a senior. In volleyball, she led Lawton-Bronson to the Iowa Class 1A state tournament with a 33-8 record, recording first-team All-State honors with 344 kills (3.34 kills per set), 72 digs, 38 blocks and 20 service aces.

"Jadin is just starting to bloom as a thrower," said Coach Brink. "Her all-around athletic ability will help make a quick transition to collegiate

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Adam Bentjen threw his second perfect game in as many years last week, striking out seven in the Wayne Seniors' 19-0 five-inning win over Pierce.

Perfect game highlights 2-1 week for Seniors

After a 3-0 start that was capped by a perfect game, the Wayne American Legion Seniors dropped their first game of the season last Wednesday before coming back for a road win on Friday.

In action last Tuesday, Adam Bentjen threw his second career perfect game in Legion ball, setting all 15 Pierce batters down in a five-inning, 19-0 blowout at Hank Overin Field.

Bentjen went to a full count just three times in the game, getting two strikeouts and a groundout to end those threats. He finished the game with seven strikeouts and got some help from Justin Dean, who made a diving stab of a line drive to finish off the gem.

Wayne got three runs in the first to get the blowout started, thanks to a two-run single by Dean and an RBI double by Payten Gamble. Bentjen's RBI single in the second made it 4-0 and Wayne added another run on a wild pitch to make it 5-0. An eight-run third inning, highlighted by a three-run, inside-the-park home run by Ben Klein, broke the game open for the Wayne Seniors.

Klein had three hits and Gamble and Dean each had two to lead the 11-hit effort. Dean had four RBIs and Tyler Lutt scored four runs, with Daniel Nuno and Tucker Nichols each scoring three times.

On Wednesday, West Point blew open a close game with six runs in the third inning and finished off a 10-2 win to hand the Wayne Seniors their first loss of the season.

Wayne's lone runs came in the fifth when Lutt hit a shot to left that scored Korth and Kaleb Anderson. West Point got a double play to end the game on the eight-run rule.

Wayne had five hits in the loss, with Lutt's two-run single highlighting the attack. Nichols took the loss on the mound.

On Friday, the Seniors had to score four runs in the sixth inning to come from behind for a 4-3 road win over Logan View in action at Scribner.

The comeback in the sixth started with Isaac Camarena's two-out single to right that scored Dean and Caden Korth. After two walks loaded the bases, Tyler Lutt stroked a ball past the second baseman, bringing home Camarena and Hagan Miller with the decisive runs.

Lutt had two hits to lead a five-hit attack. Adam Bentjen went the distance, striking out 12 and allowing six hits with no walks.

The Seniors are in action Wednesday at Wisner and Friday at Tekamah before playing host to the Wood Bat Tournament this weekend at Hank Overin Field. They are at Battle Creek Monday and Laurel on Wednesday.

Amara Hurlbert fires a pitch home for the Dirt Devils 14-under team during action last weekend.

Thursday's home games split

The Wayne Dirt Devils 14-under team posted a 2-3 mark in action at the Dirt Devil Classic over the weekend.

Wayne went 1-2 in pool play, defeating Columbus Lakeview 19-2 and losing to Dakota Valley (12-6) and Yankton Fury (6-4).

In the loss to Dakota Valley, Tori Ostrand led the hitting attack with a triple, while Nikki Fertig, Mady Sievers and MiKenzie Schaefer all had singles. Kayla Fleming took the loss in the pitcher's circle.

In the win over Columbus Lakeview, the Dirt Devils took advantage of a number of walks and errors to post the easy win. Chloe Klug, Schaefer and Harrell each had singles and Klug had a double. Amara Hurlbert pitched the win for the Dirt Devils.

In their final pool play loss to the Fury, Ostrand and Aliah Schulz each had two hits, while Sievers, Hurlbert and Harrell added hits. Fleming and Hurlbert combined in the pitcher's circle for Wayne.

In bracket play Sunday, Wayne beat Kelly's 6-5 to advance to the Silver Division final, where they dropped a 12-3 decision to West Point.

Dirt Devil 15's take runner-up

The Wayne Dirt Devils 18-under softball team suffered their first loss of the year in the finals of their division of the Dirt Devil Classic Sunday at the Chapman Complex at Wayne State College.

The Dirt Devils opened the tournament with two wins in pool play Saturday, shutting out Columbus Lakeview 10-0 and the Vermillion Blast 5-0.

In the first game, the Dirt Devils rode the two-hit, seven-strikeout pitching of Ashten Gibson and got big hits from Jenna Trenhaile (double) and Courtney Boekemper (triple).

Wayne got three runs in the first on an RBI single by Kiara Hochstein and an RBI groundout by Abby Ankeny, scoring the third run on a wild pitch. They broke the game open with seven in the fourth, highlighted by Boekemper's two-run triple to center.

In the win over the Blast, the Dirt Devils scored four in the first to take with a single. In the ninth, Schaefer and Gibson both scored to break the tie. Brandon scored a run in the bottom of the ninth, but left the tying run in scoring position as the Dirt Devils advanced to the finals.

Schaefer had three hits, two of them doubles, and scored two runs, Maly and Sidney Biggerstaff both had doubles and Gibson added two hits to Wayne's nine-hit attack. Gibson struck out five and scattered 10 hits in the win.

In the championship game, Wayne couldn't overcome the big bats of the Columbus Bullets, as the visitors hit a pair of home runs to hang on for a 3-2 win.

The Bullets hit a pair of home runs to build a 3-0 lead, but Wayne made a game of it in the fifth with two runs. Grace Lindsay sacrificed home Boekemper with the first run, and Schaefer followed with a groundout to score Hochstein and make it a one-run game. Wayne got a runner on in the sixth on a Biggerstaff single, but could not bring her around for the tying run.

Legion Juniors drop first games of summer

A busy week for the Wayne American Legion Juniors ended with a 2-1 effort in a tournament at Fort Calhoun over the weekend.

Last Tuesday, the Juniors won a back-and-forth battle with Pierce, scoring two in the bottom of the sixth to come away with a 7-6 win.

Wayne took a 5-3 lead in the fourth when Jacob Kneiff scored on a Josh Lutt single and Lutt later scored on a passed ball. Pierce scored two in the top of the sixth to reclaim the lead, but Wayne got the game-winner in the bottom of the sixth. Hagan Miller singled and scored on a Trevor DeBoer double to tie the game. DeBoer moved to third on a Reid Korth single, and Kaleb Anderson laid down a bunt that brought DeBoer home with the winning run.

DeBoer had two hits to lead an eight-hit attack. Kneiff, Lutt, Miller, Korth, Anderson and Tyler Gilliland all had hits. Tyrus Eischeid picked up the win in relief.

The following evening, Wayne lost a tough one at home as West Point scored three in the seventh to come away with a 5-2 win.

Wayne trailed 2-0 in the sixth when Eischeid's sacrifice fly scored Korth. West Point put the game out of reach with three runs in the seventh. Miller came home on a wild pitch in the bottom of the seventh, but Wayne could get no closer.

DeBoer had two of Wayne's three hits in the loss. He was also credited with the loss on the mound.

On Friday, the Juniors traveled to Scribner and came up on the short end of a 9-5 decision.

Wayne led 5-2 in the fourth when Logan View came back, scoring two in the fifth and five in the sixth to finish off the rally.

Brock Hopkins had the only hit of the game for the Wayne Juniors, who took advantage of seven walks to score their runs. Lutt, Kneiff, DeBoer, Gilliland and Blake Bartos all scored runs. Eischeid took the loss in relief.

In tournament action Saturday in Fort Calhoun, Wayne opened with an 8-2 loss to Omaha Concordia before coming back to beat the host team 12-9 and end with a 6-4 win over Lincoln Lutheran.

In the Concordia game, Miller had an RBI triple to highlight a five-hit effort. He had two hits, while Lutt, Kneiff and Gilliland added hits. DeBoer took the loss.

Against Fort Calhoun, Wayne trailed 9-8 after six innings before rallying to tie the game in the seventh and getting three in the extra frame for the win. Kneiff tripled to center and came home on a DeBoer single to send the game to extra innings. In the eighth, Kneiff broke the tie with a two-run single, scoring Eischeid and Anderson, and Miller followed them home after a Gilliland single.

Kneiff had four hits and three RBIs to highlight the 14-hit attack. DeBoer, Gilliland and Korth each had two hits and Lutt, Miller and Anderson each scored two runs. Gilliland, Hopkins and Eischeid each had two RBIs. Kneiff picked up the win in relief with two spotless innings of work.

In the final game of the weekend, Wayne broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth when Eischeid scored on a sacrifice fly by Kneiff, then added two insurance runs in the sixth on RBI singles by Bartos and Hopkins.

Wayne outhit Lincoln Lutheran 6-5, with Korth's double highlighting the effort. Drew Buck threw five solid innings, striking out five, to get the win. Gilliland picked up the save.

Wayne, 6-3, played a nine-inning game with Yankton on Wednesday. They are at Wisner on Thursday and Tekamah on Friday before playing in the Wood Bat Tournament this weekend. They have road games at Battle Creek on Monday and Laurel on Tuesday.

Three WSC standouts part of NSIC 25-year teams

Three Wayne State athletes will be recognized as part of the Northern Sun Conference's 25-year anniversary during a special banquet in July.

The NSIC is celebrating its 25-year anniversary during the 2016-17 academic year, with the year-long celebration leading up to July 1, when the league will turn 25 years old. As part of the event, the NSIC selected a men's and a women's top 25 team.

All 50 members have been invited to attend the NSIC Hall of Fame Banquet, which will be held on Tuesday, July 11 at 6 p.m. at the Best Western Premier in Burnsville, Minn. The 2017 NSIC Hall of Fame inductees will be announced the week of June 5.

Selected to represent Wayne State College were Brady Borner, a three-time All-NSIC pitcher and 2001 graduate who played in the Pittsburgh Pirates organization for six years; Ashley Arlen, a 2012 graduate and two-time All-American who led the Wayne State women's basketball team to the school's first-ever NCAA Div. II Elite Eight appearance; and Sara Wells, a 2015 graduate and an indoor and outdoor national champion thrower for the Wayne State women's track team.

The NSIC's Top 25 teams consist of student-athletes that competed in the NSIC over the past 25 years. One male and/or one female student-athlete were released during the academic year, revealing the NSIC Top 25 teams. The teams were selected by the NSIC Office, with input from each member institution. The NSIC Top 25 teams include an athlete from each NSIC sponsored sport with the remaining spots filled with at-large bids. Criteria for each sport was used to select the top athletes that competed in the NSIC since its inception in the summer of 1992. Two main criteria were that the student-athlete must have graduated and be in good standing with the University. Other criteria included, but was not limited to, national and NSIC player of the year honors, All-NSIC honors, career stats and other milestones.

Hegarty also qualified for state track in the 3,200-meter relay as a sophomore and junior placing fifth in sophomore season.

“Brock will be a great addition to our team, getting a chance to excel in cross country and track and field with his versatility from 800 meters up through the 5,000 in cross country,” said Brink. “He comes from a program with long-standing success and I look for him to bring that success to WSC.”

Holcomb is a graduate of Lincoln Pius X High School where he was a cross country and track standout. During senior season, he was a three-event state qualifier in the 1,600 and 3,200-meter relays and the 800-meter run. “Bryce will add strength to our middle distance squad, running the 400/800 in track up through the 5,000 for cross country,” said Brink. “He has had several years of success at Lincoln Pius so he knows what it takes to be dedicated.”

Lowe is a sprinter/ hurdler from Sibley-Ocheyedan High School in Iowa. He was a four-year starter in track and field and qualified for four events as a senior at the Iowa Class 2A State Meet. Are You Talking Yourself Out of Saving for Retirement?

Saving for – and even thinking about – retirement can be overwhelming. While it's natural to worry about your financial future, be careful not to let preconceived notions prevent you from actively saving for tomorrow. If you find yourself having one of the following doubts, consider reframing your thinking. A shift in perspective may be what you need to get on the right track.

"Retirement is a long way off." It's easy to get wrapped up in your current financial obligations, telling yourself that you'll prioritize your retirement next year. However, like many worthy aspirations, a sound retirement plan takes time and discipline to achieve. If your golden years seem far away, remind yourself of the power of saving early. Time allows you to tackle your retirement goals in smaller increments with the potential for compounded growth. Retirement will likely come faster than you think, and your future self will thank you for planning ahead.

"I'll prioritize retirement after paying for my child's education." With the rising costs of college, it's understandable and even necessary for you to help your child obtain a quality education. However, your nest egg should be the top priority. Once you reach retirement, you have limited options if your savings come up short. Alternatively, your child can secure financial aid to pay for college, including scholarships, grants, work-study programs and loans. You simply don't have options like these to help fund your retirement. While retirement deserves the most attention, you can devise a strategy to simultaneously save for both important goals.

"My retirement dreams are too expensive." If your dreams of traveling through Europe or starting a new hobby seem expensive, give yourself a reality check. Start by comparing your dreams to your current nest egg. Calculate the amount you need to maintain your lifestyle, cover potential unexpected expenses (such as healthcare) and achieve your retirement bucket list. If your savings come up short, create a plan to fill the gap. lofty dreams will force yourself to ask the tough question, "Do I want to adjust my current lifestyle to achieve this retirement dream?"

"I won't be able to retire when I want." It's true that more Americans are working longer and delaying retirement. Some simply prefer to remain active contributors in the workforce, but many others are forced to postpone retirement until they accumulate sufficient resources to retire comfortably. If you dream of retiring early, carefully assess whether your nest egg is sustainable over several decades. You'll want to make sure the money you withdraw in the early years of retirement doesn't put you at risk of outliving your assets.

"I can't afford to save." If this phrase comes to mind, give your self-talk a flip. Instead, think "I can't afford not to save". Setting aside even a small amount of money each month can make a big difference, as your assets can grow with the benefit of compounding. Consider increasing your monthly contribution to continue to build your nest egg.

"My family will help me." Perhaps you're expecting a generous inheritance, or hoping that your adult kids will provide a financial cushion if you experience an unexpected expense. Regardless of who you believe may come to your aid, it's best to take your financial security into your own hands. Life is full of uncertainties that could impact the bank accounts for both you and your family members. Knowing your future is under financial control may give you, your children and your parents peace of mind.

It's not too late to correct misconceptions about the importance of saving for retirement. Consider working with a financial advisor to create a plan for your future. Together you can determine your savings targets and explore a wide range of strategies to meet your financial goals. It's time to talk yourself back in to retirement.

Wayne went 2-1 in pool play to start the weekend, beating Pender 4-1 on Friday and the Columbus Bullets 11-1 on Saturday. They bookended those wins around a 4-2 loss to Dakota Valley. In the Pender game, Wayne took the lead for good in the third inning with Brooklyn Kruse's two-run single that scored Brianna Nissen and Liberty Titiml. They added an insurance run in the sixth when Hope O'Reilly scored on an error to come away with the win. O'Reilly had three hits, including two doubles, and scored three runs for Wayne in the win. Kendall Dorey struck out 15 and allowed three hits and one walk to get the win in the circle. In the loss to Dakota Valley, Wayne could not overcome a three-run deficit after four innings, scoring a run in the fifth to finish with the two-run defeat. O'Reilly, Dorey, Nissen and Hannah Gubbels each had hits in the losing effort. Dorey struck out nine and took the loss in the circle. In the win over the Bullets, the Dirt Devils had eight hits in the win, two each from Nissen and Kruse. Nissen had three RBIs and Kruse drove in two. O'Reilly, Gubbels and Hailey Schroeder each scored two runs. Dorey was solid in the circle, allowing just one hit and two walks while striking out eight to get the win. In Sunday's bracket play, Wayne was eliminated by the Tri-State Pride in a 2-0 shutout. The winners scored two in the third inning and made that stand up, limiting the Dirt Devils to just two hits. Dorey and Gubbels both had hits for the 8-3 Dirt Devils in the losing effort. Dorey struck out nine and allowed four hits and three walks. In other action, the Dirt Devils split a pair of games with the Columbus Bullets on Thursday. In action against the 11-under Columbus team, Wayne lost a wild back-and-forth affair 13-11 as Columbus scored three in the bottom of the third to get the win. Wayne took a 3-0 lead early in the game, highlighted by an RBI double by Kruse, but Columbus came back with eight runs in the bottom of the inning to take the lead. Trailing 10-4 in the third, Wayne scored seven runs to take the lead. Back-to-back RBI singles by Logan Miller and Gubbels tied the game at 10-10, and Gubbels later scored on a passed ball to give Wayne the lead. Columbus came back with three runs in the bottom of the inning, and the game ended on the time limit, giving the Bullets the wild win. Gubbels had two hits and two RBIs and also scored two runs for the Dirt Devils. O'Reilly, Dorey and Nissen each scored two runs and Kruse and O'Reilly both had doubles. In the second game, the Dirt Devils shut out the 12-under Bullets team 10-0, thanks to a one-hit shutout by Dorey, who struck out 12 and walked three in the win. RBI singles by Miller and Nissen highlighted a five-run fourth inning for Wayne to give them the lead. They would add five more in the sixth, with Miller slashing a two-run single and Courtney Brink and Virginia Kniesche adding RBI singles. Nissen, Kruse and Miller each had two hits to lead the Dirt Devils. Nissen, Miller and Titiml each scored two runs and Miller had three RBIs.

In other action last week, the Dirt Devils swept a doubleheader with Wisner, winning 15-0 and 18-3. In the first game, 11 of the 12 players who suited up scored at least one run, with Ellis, Kruse, Haase and Sammi Gubbels each scoring two runs. Haase and Sievers both had triples. Kruse threw a no-hitter, striking out six. It was the same story in the second game with 11 Dirt Devils touching home at least once. Jensen scored three times and Johnson, Haase, Gubbels, Kruse and Nissen each scored twice. Hall and Kruse combined for the two-hitter, striking out five.

Grieving process part of all aspects of life

By: Pat Meierhenry

Whoa! The temperature hit 95 degrees today. What a shock. And the humidity kind of matched. Summer has arrived, even if the calendar doesn't say so.

I referred to the grief response in last week's column. I used to give talks on that subject to hospice volunteers, knowing that it would be good for them to have that basic information before meeting folks dealing with a terminal diagnosis.

I remember first reading the book. I thought Kubler-Ross was a genius! I had observed the very emotions she spoke of, but had never realized they were so common, and even sometimes, categorized.

The problem with that was, health care professionals began to look for the "stages of grief" and even document them, as if they happened in every situation, and in that exact same progres-

No; it's not as simple as that. Humans are complicated; no two are ever alike. And, of course, no two situations are ever alike, no matter how often we think we have seen them before. There is always a variation to make things interesting.

In our occasional meeting of my nurse classmates, one told us of a friend who had been having numerous physical symptoms. After physical causes had been basically ruled out, she was told that she was grieving the loss of her nursing. I could relate! I gave up my license at the same time that my mother was dying, and I had a hip replacement, so there were other things going on, other things to grieve.

The loss of of being able to say I was a nurse came lately to me, but it came. As we discussed this, the gal who lives in Beatrice commented that she has mourned the loss of her singing voice. She has had problems that affected her vocal cords, and the beautiful soprano I remember is no more. Thank goodness, she made a CD before that happened. (Which is why I made one twenty years ago, but I still sing in a church choir.)

As we age, it's almost a continuous grief process. We lose friends and family, hair and teeth, muscle, flexibility, and hearing and vision. Recognizing that we are grieving helps, but it's still loss.

Thank goodness for laughter; when we lose that, it will be all over. That's why we chuckle when we get those emails, and we pass them on, and we feel better because we are not alone. It's all part of the process.

Training, lawn fertilizing both focused on

This is the "last call" for Tractor Safety Training at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Wayne. The training will take place on Monday and Tuesday June 20-21. Federal law prohibits youth under 16 years of age from working on a farm other than their parents'.

Course completion grants an exemption to the law allowing 14- and 15-year-olds to drive a tractor and to do field work with mechanized equipment. The most common cause of death in agriculture accidents in Nebraska is overturn from tractors and all-terrain-vehicles (ATV). Tractor and ATV overturn prevention are featured in the class work.

Please pre-register by June 9 to Dixon County Extension at 402-584-2234. The cost for the program is $60.

Well, lawn do-it yourselfers, now is a great time to fertilize turfgrass with nitrogen, especially if you regularly water your lawn. Soil microbial activity starts to rapidly increase as the soil temperatures rise in late spring/early summer. This is bad news for turfgrass plants because microbes have a much greater surface area than turfgrass roots.

Microbes literally get "first dibs" on soil nutrients. Sometimes the microbes release more nitrogen than they need which can result in very green and rapidly growing grass.

These periods of high nitrogen mineralization generally occur in mid-summer when the soils are wet and warm and in spring following the winter freeze-thaw cycles.

The latter period is the reason the grass grows so vigorously once it greens up each spring. It's also the reason we don't recommend fertilizing during early spring and mid-summer. In late-May, increasing microbial activity and nitrogen immobilization can result in yellow or chlorotic turf.

UNL's research data generally shows the June decline in quality. Plots fertilized with urea nitrogen in June had improved visual quality rating.

In 2016, the non-fertilized control nearly died from gray leaf spot disease while the fertilized plots had zero disease. None of the turf was treated with a fungicide.

The well-timed fertilizer application improved plant health and prevented outbreak of the disease. In the research, a 100 percent quick-release fertilizer was used. In practice, a 50% quick-50% slow-release fertilizer is recommended to provide uniform color and growth.

For lawns, look to apply between 0.75 and 1.00 lbs of nitrogen per 1000 square feet from a balanced fertilizer material for great results. More info can be found at http://turf.unl.edu/turf-info/6-1_June_N.pdf on the web.

Cost-share deadline approaching for installation of irrigation flow meters

In an effort to remain proactive in the management of our groundwater, flow meters are required on all active irrigation wells within the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) by Jan. 1, 2018.

The LENRD has secured two grants to assist landowners with the expense of this requirement. Funding is limited, and the deadline to apply for cost-share is Friday, June 30th, 2017 with some funds expiring on Friday, June 16th, 2017. Contact your local NRCS office or the LENRD to apply.

Two funding options available:
1) RCPP: The LENRD received one of 6 Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) grants in Nebraska to fund producers' irrigation water management projects. The RCPP is administered by the USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS).

The RCPP grant, under the Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP), includes incentive payments for the installation of irrigation flow meters, irrigation water management, and nutrient management.

The RCPP grant is for producers who want to utilize more technology in their Irrigation Water Management (IWM). In addition, the LENRD will offer incentive payments of $250 per flow meter to producers who are approved for the EQIP/RCPP funding. Landowners must apply at their local NRCS office by June 16, 2017 to take advantage of this funding.

2) WSF: The LENRD has also received a grant from Nebraska's Water Sustainability Fund (WSF), administered by the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, to assist landowners with the purchase of flow meters.

With the WSF grant, the LENRD will pay producers $500 per flow meter. All producers who have installed flow meters on or after November 25th, 2015, or producers who have yet to install their flow meters, can apply for the $500 incentive payments until the funds run out. Application for the flow meter cost-share can be completed by visiting your local NRCS office or the LENRD office in Norfolk.

LENRD Assistant General Manager Brian Bruckner said, "These incentives are available for producers on a first-come, first-served basis. There is enough grant money to cost-share on 3,000 meters. Therefore, it's very important that producers apply at their local NRCS office or the LENRD office by June 30th, 2017."

The LENRD has approved seven meters for installation. LENRD Projects Manager, Curt Becker, said, "The change in our Groundwater Management Area rules and regulations also requires anyone installing a flow meter within the LENRD to attend an installation training session to become a certified installer."

A list of the approved meters as well as a list of the LENRD Certified Flow Meter Installation Contractors can be found on the district's website. These contractors have already completed the required flow meter installation training.

Becker added, "If you do not want to become certified to install your own meter, you must select a certified installer from the list." If you would like to be trained to install your own flow meter, please contact the LENRD, or visit www.lenrd.org/flow-meters for more information.

The LENRD serves all or parts of 15-counties in northeast Nebraska. Visit the LENRD website to sign up for emails from the district. Like us on Facebook, and follow us on Twitter. Protecting Lives, Protecting Property, Protecting the Future - www.lenrd.org

RC&D set to host a pollinator tour

In celebration and recognition of National Pollinator's Week a one-day educational tour called a Pollinator Picnics Tour is being hosted on June 20th, 2017 by the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council. The goal of the event is to educate citizens about the plight of pollinators, their importance to the food system, and what each person can do to create needed pollinator habitat.

Pollinators are on the decline around the world. Loss of habitat, improper use of pesticides, pollution, disease, invasive species and even climate change are all threats to pollinators. Agriculture is heavily dependent on the successful pollination of all plants. In the United States over 150 crops need pollination to make seeds and fruits. Bees alone are responsible for every 3rd bite of food!

This event is sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council. Casey's General Stores is also a sponsor of the event.

High school students encouraged to build "Thingamajigs"

Area high school students will have the opportunity to put their creative minds to work at Northeast Community College.

Northeast is hosting a "Thingamajig Invention Convention" on its main campus in Norfolk, from Tuesday-Thursday, June 13-15, and at its South Sioux City Extended Campus, from Tuesday-Thursday, June 20-22. The camp will run from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. each day.

Shanelle Grudzinski, interim dean of applied technology, said high school students will invent a mode of transportation to navigate an obstacle course during the camp.

"The Thingamajig Invention Convention is an exciting, challenging, science, technology, engineering, and math, or STEM, based experience. Students will develop problem solving skills through hands-on projects and fun challenges designed to spark their inner inventive and innovative spirit."

Grudzinski said careers in STEM are in high demand and highly competitive. She said this three-day camp, led by Northeast faculty and staff, will put students in the driver's seat in the four subject areas.

"This is a great opportunity for these students to invent a 'thingamajig' and build a memorable experience that will last a lifetime."

Northeast Community College's Thingamajig Invention Convention is open to students who will be in grades 9-12 this fall. There is a recommended cost of $25.

For more information, contact the Northeast Community College Applied Technology Division at (402) 844-7692 or email Grudzinski at shanelle@northeast.edu.

Add variety to make salads more healthy and enjoyable

When you hear the word salad, what comes to mind? More than likely it is something plain and boring that you have to force yourself to eat. But it's time to move beyond the plain iceberg lettuce and ranch dressing salads or the salads overloaded with unhealthy toppings that we commonly think of. These days everyone is putting a twist on salads, and what better way to get our children to eat more fruits and vegetables than by creating a colorful and flavorful salad for lunch or dinner.

The 2015 Dietary Guidelines recommend 4 1/2 cups (9 servings) of fruits and vegetables each day for a 2,000-calorie diet. So why not make a salad to help meet this recommenation? Here are a few tips to make a salad that will appeal to even the pickiest eater:

• Make it colorful! Skip the iceberg and opt for spinach or another dark leafy green. Dark leafy greens supply a tremendous amount of nutrients including vitamin A, vitamin C, vitamin K, iron, calcium, fiber and many others. Add in some carrots, red bell peppers, tomatoes, blanched asparagus, beets or any other vegetable to add color and you get additional nutrients critical for maintaining eyesight, bone health and digestive health.

• Salad isn't just for vegetables anymore! Many restaurants are now shaking salads up by adding a variety of fruit to the mix, so why not make your own creation? Try adding in apples, citrus segments, grapes, strawberries or blueberries to your plate of colorful vegetables. Just like many vegetables, fruits contain antioxidants which can help protect against certain forms of cancer as well as reduce levels of LDL or bad cholesterol. Try to avoid or limit the amount of dried fruits you add to your salad,

Pierce County

Ann Fenton
Extension Educator

UNL Extension

such as dried cranberries or blueberries. These often have added sugars that can up the calorie content of your meal.

• Go a little nutty! Walnuts are a great addition to any salad. These heart-healthy nuts contain the most omega-3 fatty acids of all the nuts. Omega-3 fatty acids can improve cardiovascular health and improve cognitive function. To add a bit more flavor, toast the walnuts in a dry pan or in the oven until you can just start to smell them. If you aren't a walnut fan, add in some almonds, but remember to limit the amount you use. Almonds are a healthy nut to choose but are also very high in calories.

• Add some protein! Protein takes longer to digest so it keeps us full longer. Protein is also needed for healthy muscles. Eggs, lean meat, beans, nuts and cheese (in limited quantities) are easy ways to add protein.

• Find a healthier dressing that works for you! There is now quite a variety of light dressings and vinaigrettes to choose from. Vinegar-based dressings typically have less fat and calories than creamy dressings. Oil and vinegar is a healthy choice — the healthy fat from the oil helps your body to absorb some of the vitamins from the salad — but you should still limit the amount you use.

• You can easily make your own salad dressing by using 2 parts olive oil to 1 part acid (balsamic vinegar, red wine vinegar, cider vinegar, lemon juice or a combination of these). Add seasonings that you enjoy (oregano, basil, pepper, garlic). To make the dressing thicker, you can add a small amount of Dijon mustard or plain Greek yogurt. Experiment with the amounts until you find a combination that you enjoy.

A salad is perfect for a hot summer day because you don't have to turn on the stove to make a healthy, delicious meal. If you have a garden, most of the meal can be taken right out of your backyard. You can also visit your local farmer's market to see what is fresh and in season. You may just find something new to add to your delicious creation.

Whether you are preparing dinner for your family, entertaining a crowd or grabbing something on the run, choosing a salad can be a simple way to satisfy recommendations for fruit and vegetable intake. However, be smart about what you add to it because salads overloaded with cheese, bacon, croutons and dressing can ruin the intention to eat healthy.

Thanks were given to the committee in charge of planning the 40th anniversary, which was held May 20. A total of 56 members and guests enjoyed a meal catered by Vel's Bakery.

A short program was held to honor charter member Mary Wert for her many years of volunteering. She was presented with an apron with "#one Eagle" stamped on the front. She was also honored for having three generations of family as Eagles members. Her granddaughter will be the new Auxiliary President.

The charter members and officers were also recognized. The next meeting will be Monday, June 19 at 8 p.m.

Faith leads us to serve

"Faith is the first factor in a life devoted to service. Without it, nothing is possible. With it, nothing is impossible," quote by Martin Luther.
This coming year marks the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation which started when Martin Luther nailed his 95 Theses to the Castle Church door in Wittenberg, Germany, on Oct. 31, 1517.
Today, I am thinking about our Spiritual reformation and what that might mean in our own lives. From Spirituality & Practice by Frederic & Mary Ann Brussat, "Spiritual Reformation is described as the work of God in restoring us to himself and his purposes."
As our community came together this last weekend to host the Wayne Food Truck, I was blessed to be a volunteer to serve this month. Faith and Hope are gifts from God and shape how we live. Faith and Hope guide us to come together and care for one another. I am always amazed at how volunteers come together and serve at the Food Truck each month. The distribution requires many volunteers to help with setting up tables, signing up those receiving food, unloading the truck, setting up the food, and

Nebraska State Fair Cares program to continue in 2017

The Nebraska State Fair is opening entries for the State Fair Cares program for 2017. The State Fair Cares program is designed to benefit bona fide non-profit organizations in Nebraska by allowing them premium access to the Nebraska State Fair visitors for solicitation of funds, item collection or program awareness.

Shaun Schleif, director of marketing and sponsorships said, "Qualifying organizations simply have to go to StateFair.org and click on the State Fair Cares icon to begin the process. Once complete, they click submit and the process is done."

The Winner of last year's program was the Nebraska Emergency Nurses Association (NENA) based in Omaha. The organization provides education to all ages regarding injury prevention and healthy choices.

Second place went to Goodwill Industries of Greater Nebraska based in Grand Island. Goodwill serves over 1,300 people in greater Nebraska across 55 counties promoting independence and access to the community, help people to work, support goals of wellness and recovery, teach responsible behavior and provide safe, affordable housing.

Like last year, two winners will be chosen from bonafide nonprofits with one from communities of 50,000 population and above and another from communities 49,999 population and below. Those considered to become finalists must offer services in one of three categories from the Nebraska State Fair mission statement. Those are:

1. Agriculture
2. Education
3. Nebraska Families

Schleif said, "The Nebraska State Fair will match the dollar amount equal to the value of donations which may include money, clothing or product, up to $10,000 for the first place entry and up to $5,000 for the second place selection. If one of the chosen groups simply wants to educate fairgoers about their organization, the State Fair will contribute $2,500 for their cause."

Deadline for entries is Friday, July 14, 2017 at 5pm. The first 25 from each population category will be accepted and after review, an independent panel of judges as well as the executive committee of the Nebraska State Fair board of directors will judge the top five finalists from each category.
