A drizzly morning didn't dampen spirits Wednesday morning at Wayne Elementary as students returned from summer break. Students from many surrounding towns also headed back to school this week. Ameritas challenges others in giving to United Way this year

By Calyn Dunklau

Cold weather took its toll on the event last year, but this year the United Wayne Kickoff BBQ will take place in August rather than October.

"Chele (Misenbach) got with me about a month ago to get this started," said United Way President Mike Varley. "We moved it to August and that works for us so now we'll fundraise for the next year."

The United Way is unique in that nearly every penny of the dollar donated goes toward local non-profits. There aren't high overhead costs to be accounted for and the yearly dues are less than $1,000 for the chapter, so more money is going toward the organizations in need of the funds rather than toward a salary or expenses of the United Way.

"What's raised here stays here," said Chele Misenbach, a manager at Ameritas. "If you want to write a check for $50, I'd say about $49.75 stays right here in the community."

It's a simple process for the charities to request funds, too.

"They come to us, pitch their ideas and tell us what they'd like, then we get together as a board and come up with a goal," Varley said.

Organizations can ask for as little as $1,000 up to $6,000 from United Way. The goal is set based on all the requests added up and from there a year of fundraising occurs before funds are dispersed in July.

"Last year our goal was $31,900, this year I'm guessing will be $34-$35,000 since we added a new group."

And what are the charities that utilize United Way funding? There are 16 to be exact.

Wayne WEB, Wayne Girl Scouts, Wayne Senior Center, Wayne Haven House, Northeast Nebraska Child Advocacy Center, Wayne Public Library Summer Reading Program, Salvation Army, Wayne Department of Recreation, Wayne TeamMates, Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers, Greenwood Cemetery, Wayne Boy Scouts, Wayne Cub Scouts, Northeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership and the Wayne Community Theatre all benefited from United Way funds last year.

"One of the great things about it is that it would be hard to find someone in town not affected. There's kids, teachers, WEB, the Historical Society has been on the list before. It would be very hard to not include someone from the help United Way offers," Misenbach said.

It's because of that inclusion that Ameritas has jumped head-first into fundraising and being an encourager to other businesses in the community to do the same.

"It really started back with the t-shirts we had made after the tornado. We sold the shirts and gave the money directly to United Way who handled it all," Misenbach said of Ameritas' involvement with United Way. "We've always been a donor but we recommitted ourselves."

Commissioners approve 2017 prelim requests from entities

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

In Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, several tax requests were brought forth by entities across the county.

Carroll, Wayne, Hoskins, Winside and Wakefield's fire districts all submitted numbers to the board, as well as the ag society and the libraries.

The Hoskins Fire District was the only fire district not to request an increase in funding, but that comes thanks to the full payment of a bond issued for $45,000 to help pay for much-needed equipment in years past.

Each of the other fire districts gave reasoning behind their increases, including future equipment purchases or bond principal kicking in.

The library requested no changes from last year's amount of $13,000. That sum is divided amongst the three libraries in the county in Wayne, Winside and Carroll.

While the Ag Society's request only moved up $39.01, members of the Wayne County Fair Board were on hand to explain some of the future plans for the fair grounds.

Fair board president Kevin Davis discussed the need for a new grandstand, stating that the concrete issues were becoming more and more hazardous as the trees along the backside of the grandstand push further and further forward.

He also said that having more handicap-accessible seating was a major hindrance with the current set up as the space allotted when the structure was built is no longer sufficient.

The current grandstand holds approximately 1,400 guests and the fair board is forced to rent portable bleachers to help improve seating.

With the new grandstand, over 2,300 people will have seating. The board hopes to cut back or eliminate the rentals all together. The new structure will be covered, offering shade even with the trees being removed and the berm taken out.

Another big ticket item on the fair's to-do comes from a growing attendance and climbing 4-H exhibit numbers.

The remedy for the numbers problem, Davis said, was to build a new facility on the grounds to house both the 4-H Food Stand and St. Mary's Food Stand. Pulling the food stand out of the 4-H building will free up a significant amount of space to be used for exhibits.

Board meets new staff members

By Clara Osten

New staff members were introduced during Monday's meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education.

They include Dennis Dollier, Junior High Principal/Athletic Director; Julie Osnes, Junior-Senior High Librarian; Brooke Reeson, Elementary School Resource/ Special Education teacher; Kiley Koch, High School ELL/Business teacher; Gwen Frideres, Early Learning Center teacher; Toni Rasmussen, Ag/FFA teacher; Pam Vander Veen, High School English teacher; Laura Hochstein, Elementary School ELL teacher and Susan Metzler, Elementary School fourth grade teacher.

The remainder of the board policies were approved during Monday's meeting.

These include policies dealing with building and remodeling, the purpose and duties of the board and the by-laws of the board. Superintendent Mark Lenihan said that the new policies are similar to what was in existence but reflect suggestions from the Perry Law firm.

Several board policies were dealt with on an individual basis, including summer school fees, duty hours for staff, the early leave incentive program, at-will employees and the fact that parliamentary procedure may guide the board during meetings.

Other policies approved during the meeting were those that require annual consideration, based on the past state legislative session.

They include topics such as admission requirements, part-time enrollment, student records, student interviews and the internet safety policy.

Board members approved the purchase of a 2014 Chevy Collins 12 + 2 passenger bus from Mid-States School Bus Company.

The bus will be used to transport Special Education students and is partially paid for through Special Education funds.

Misty Bear, Special Education Director, told the board the bus will make transport of students in wheelchairs much easier.

The board also approved the addendum to the Mid States School Bus contract. The contract calls for a three percent increase for the 2017-2018 school year.

Lindsay McLaughlin, Wayne Community Schools Foundation Director, updated the board on this year's Gift-A-Thon, set to take place Aug. 20-27. She noted that Blitz Night will be held Wednesday, Aug. 23 with students going door-to-door to ask for donations to the Foundation. The Gift-A-Thon is designed to replace the many, smaller fund-raising events that are traditionally conducted by various groups and organizations.

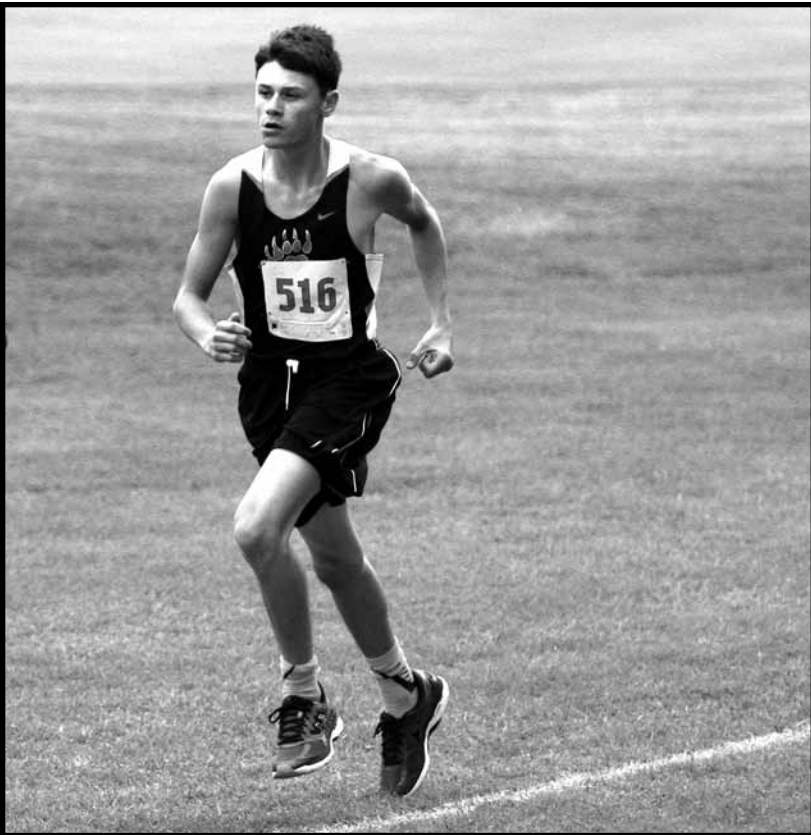

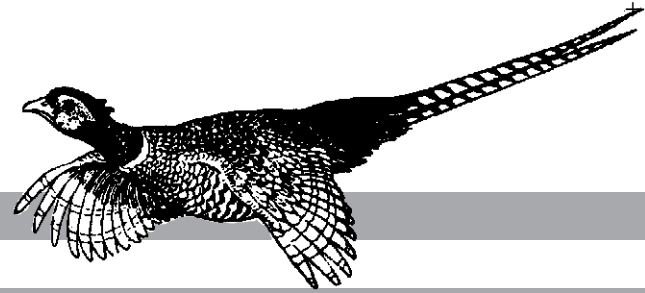

A Drive 4 UR School event is being held on Saturday, Aug. 26 at Arnie's Ford. For each person test-driving a vehicle that day, the Foundation will receive a $20 donation from Ford Motor Company. The event is limited to one driver per household, with a maximum of $6,000 being contributed.

Updates were given on the remodeling project. It is anticipated that the boys' locker room will be ready for use on Aug. 21; the girls' locker room on Aug. 31 and a classroom in the remodeled area ready for use by Aug. 31. Additional work may need to be done in these areas after that time, but will be substantially completed and able to be used.

The Wayne Community Schools Board of Education's next regular meeting is set for Monday, Sept. 11 at 5 p.m. in the junior-senior high library.

LCC boys cross country should be competitive

With just about everybody back from last year, Laurel-Concord-Coleridge cross country coach Sue Brandow is optimistic about her teams' hopes for the upcoming season.

"We'll have a strong competitive boy's team this year," she said. "We were a pretty young team last year, so a year's growth and speed should help us quite a bit."

Four boys and two girls are returning starters and letterwinners from last year, and the LCC boys team will have enough to field a full roster in meets this season.

Back for the boys are Logan Hansen, Karsen Klooz, Ryan Bathke and Landen Boysen. Returning for the girls are Kaylie Naeve and Vanessa Vance.

The LCC teams open the season Thursday, Aug. 31 in the Wisner-Pilger Invitational at Indian Creek Golf Club near Beemer.

Senior Jenna Trenhaile will move from the outfield to the infield as one of four returning starters for the Wayne High softball team this season.

Talent and experience should make Blue Devils contenders once again

Wayne High softball coach Rob Sweetland had a lot of holes to fill from last year's state tournament softball team, but a mix of experience and solid young talent should make the Blue Devils a contender for its 15th trip to state in the 16-year history of the program.

Only four starters are back from a team that went 27-6 and advanced to the Class B state tournament last year, and seniors Jenna Trenhaile, Kennedy Maly and Jamie Gamble, along with junior Sidney Biggerstaff, will be the leaders for this year's squad.

"They're going to be our anchors and we'll put them where we need them the most," Sweetland said in a preseason interview. "We'll need to be sound up the middle, and that's where we're got them at right now."

Maly, who led the team last year with seven homers and 40 RBI's while batting .406, will move from left field to center. Trenhaile, a .432 batter last year with three homers and 52 runs scored, will come in from right field to help anchor the infield at shortstop.

Gamble, who hit .333 last year, will play first base and step in as a relief pitcher, while Biggerstaff will quarterback the infield from the catcher position, where she hit .370 with 33 RBI's a year ago.

"We're looking at Jenna to come in and play shortstop because she's a solid fielder with a great arm," Sweetland said of the move. "Kennedy will anchor the outfield for us and we have a lot of kids who have played and are ready to step up."

One of Wayne's biggest questions is in the circle, but sophomore Tori Kniesche saw some action last season and will be counted on to carry the load at the pitching slot.

"She got some innings last year and pitched most of the JV games and has some varsity experience, so I think she's ready to go," Sweetland said. "Jamie has been working with Tori and will get some innings in those situations such as tournaments where we're playing 3-4 games in a day. We're confident Jamie can come in and eat some of those innings up."

Biggerstaff could also see time in the infield this season, depending on situations, which will open the door for junior Annie Kniesche to step in behind the plate when she's not in the infield. She hit the ball well last year, batting .368 with three homers and 35 RBI's, which will give Wayne another solid bat in the lineup. Sweetland is also looking for juniors Abby Ankeny and Maysn Dorey to play key roles this season. Ankeny showed promise with the bat in the outfield over the summer, and Dorey can play a variety of positions and is one of the fastest runners on the team, meaning she could also be utilized as a pinch-runner.

With only 12 players on the roster, depth will be something of a concern for this year's team, Sweetland said.

"Obviously, everybody is going to get to play and we just need to keep an eye on how hard we're working them and make sure we keep everybody healthy," he said.

The Blue Devils open the season this week with a road trip to Blair before hosting their own Wayne Invitational on Saturday at the Summer Sports Complex. Add in a road doubleheader at O'Neill and the Lincoln Public Schools tournament at the end of the month, and it will provide a good barometer at where the team will be heading this season.

"Blair is a formidable opponent every year and it's a good test right away to see where we're at," Sweetland said. "We'll see defending Class B champion Elkhorn South, along with Fremont and Grand Island Northwest, at the Lincoln tournament, so we'll see where we stack up pretty early."

Wayne looks to be an early favorite in the Mid State Conference and in the district that will be played in Wisner in early October.

"I think a lot of schools (in the district) are like us in that they are Class C-type schools or co-ops that got pushed up into B, so it's a pretty level playing field for our district," he said. "But then whoever wins has to go to Hastings and play with schools whose enrollment is at 900 or so, so it will be tough to compete. I think our path to Hastings is reasonable and we've had success in Wisner before, and that's where we'll have to do it again."

Challenges and depth issues aside, Sweetland sees potential for success with this year's Blue Devil squad.

"I really like our team," he said. "It comes down to playing well and if we can play well and execute, I think we can compete."

New coaches look to keep Wayne cross country teams moving forward

Gabi Meyer and Molly Hoskins are among four returning starters for the Wayne High girls cross country team that hopes to improve on last year's fifth-place finish at state.

For the first time in 30 years, Wayne High will have a new coach leading the cross country teams.

Two, in fact.

Courtney Maas and Terry Bear are serving as cross country coaches this fall. Maas, who worked under retired coach Rocy Ruhl as an assistant for seven years, will lead the girls squad while Bear moves over from his job as head football coach to lead the boys team this year.

Both teams return some good talent from last year and have some good young runners that both coaches expect to contribute and improve this season.

For the girls, Maas will have four starters back from a team that finished fifth at last year's state meet, but doesn't have a lot in the way of depth this year.

"We only have eight runners and only two seniors, so we are a young team," she said. "But these girls have put in a lot of miles over the summer to set a good foundation for the season."

Seniors Andrea Torres and Molly Hoskins will lead the Blue Devils girls squad, while two returning underclassmen starters in junior Gabi Meyer and sophomore Maddie Bear are also back.

Maas is seeing some good potential with some younger runners, including junior Madison Jenkins and freshmen Emily Chamberlain and Andi Belt.

Maas said the team has some big goals they hope to achieve this year, including another trip to the state meet in Kearney this October.

"They are looking for a successful season, placing in the top three in every meet and qualifying for state," she said.

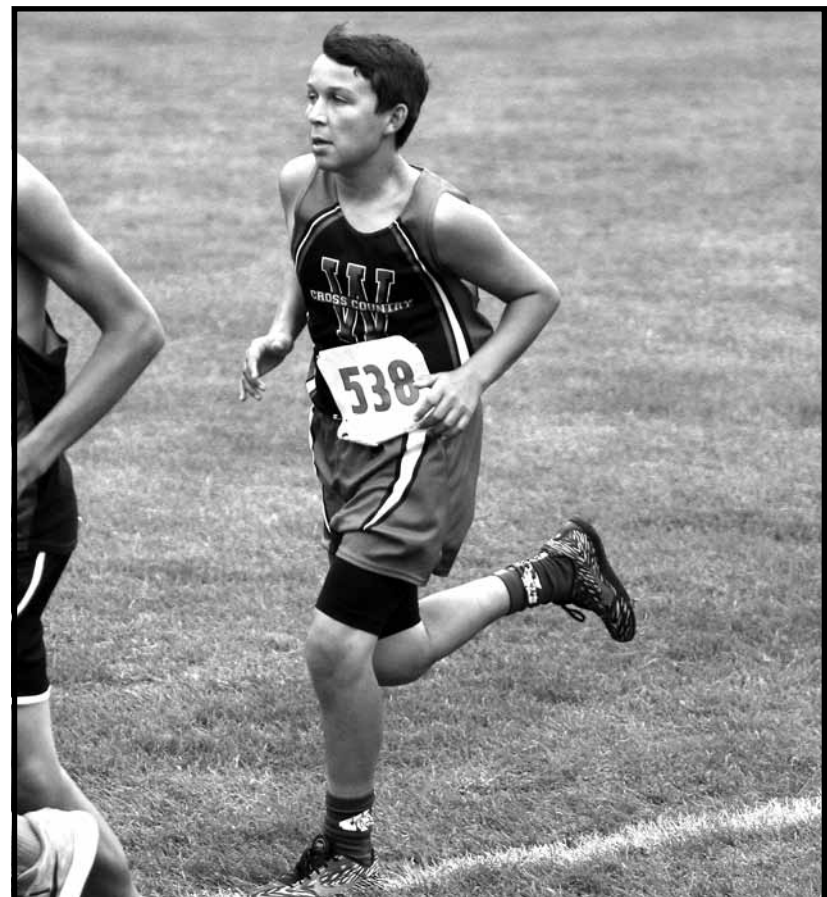

The boys cross country team has two starters back from last season and a good group of young runners who should improve this season.

"The team has done very well with their summer conditioning and running," Bear said. "We are a young team that will compete hard in every race."

Back from last year are junior Brandon Wacker and sophomore Cole Hobza, and they will be joined by a trio of improving freshmen, including Christopher Woerdemann, Treyton Blecke and Liam Spieker.

"This group of young men will continue to get stronger as the season progresses and hopefully get to experience what the state championships are like," Bear said.

Service learning important for youth School Lunches

Most of us have done some type of a community service project. Maybe picking up trash along a roadway, donating resources for a food drive, or visiting residents at a nursing home.

community focused for youth audiences. A core activity of positive youth development programs should deal with service learning opportunities for youth.

What does this mean? Youth are able to examine the issues in the community and develop a plan to achieve the project. They are able to apply knowledge, skills, and critical thinking to the problem.

There are four types of service learning. They include the following:

- Direct: the project directly meets a need in the community (trail building, mentoring, visiting gram to empower young people to be well-informed citizens who are actively engaged in their communities and the world. 4-H is a valuable program to teach all youth about using positive character traits to help within the community.

The service learning projects that youth are able to address can fall into the 150 different 4-H projects offered in Nebraska 4-H. All 4-H youth can challenge themselves to try new service activities within their projects to develop of sense of volunteerism for their community.

Learning about service learning, citizenship and leadership happens all the time within 4-H activities. Youth might serve as an officer of a club to learn about parliamentary procedure, join a committee to plan out an event for the club, or be a part of the service learning project. One of the capstone events familiar to many is the 4-H CWF (Citizenship Washington Focus) trip that youth attend during their high school career. 4-H teens learn about citizenship and how they are a contributing member of society; travel to Washington, D.C., to see the United States government in action and learn about the past through historical sites; and plan a service learning project that they could complete after the project.

the elderly)

- Indirect: the project supports direct service that meets a need in the community (organizing volunteers, mailings, raising funds)

- Raising Awareness: the project outcome is designed to enlighten and educate a group on an issue or problem (community health campaign, texting and driving, etc.)

- Advocacy: the project selects one side of an issue and advocates for or promotes it (writing letters to the editor, researching and testifying for legislation, creating a protest or rally)

There are three components to a service learning project: youth involvement, meaningful service, and reflection. Youth will be able to learn valuable skills as they plan, organize, and implement the project. They may see a need in a community that adults have not addressed before, and adults play a critical role in helping youth prioritize the community needs.

A key component of service learning is reflection which occurs before, during, and following the project. They are able to reflect on the experience to discuss the "What", "So What", and "Now What". Youth are able to make the connections of the service project and how it will influence lifelong learning. Here are the five steps to implement a service learning project:

- Assess and identify the need
- Plan and prepare
- Experience meaningful service
- Analysis and evaluation
- Celebration

Service learning ties in well with citizenship and leadership development for youth audiences. What does citizenship mean to you? The definition of citizenship is the character of an individual viewed as a member of society.

This definition happens to follow the mission of the National 4-H pro-

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Wes Blecke, City Administrator

City Council meetings

Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets. We would love to see you there!

First Impression

Thank you to all for the warm welcome I have been given with my transition from economic development to city administration. This community means so much to me and my family, and I am thrilled to continue the work to make it a better place to live, just in a different capacity. From working with the City for 11 plus years from the Chamber and Economic Development perspective, I knew there were good, hard working people employed in our municipal government. I have been amazed at how good they really are. Not only do they work hard, but they are problem solvers and look for ways to make government more efficient.

Thank you, Lowell

I could not have inherited a better situation than how Lowell left the City. Lowell was incredibly respected by many in this profession and the community at large. We don't serve in this role to make friends. We serve to make our community a better place. So I know Lowell did it right because he made friends and made Wayne a better place at the same time. Thank you, Lowell, for your dedication to this great community.

Projects

Wayne has had a busy summer with projects, and there are more to come. The electric upgrades to underground lines continue. This will help with efficiencies and reliability. There has also been a fair amount of concrete (street) work being completed this summer. The "4th St" project is also in its early stages of construction. Thanks for your patience with the inconveniences of these improvements. If you see areas of the streets in need of repair, please contact City Hall.

Bat testing for rabies at its peak

The Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services reminds Nebraskans that it's bat season again. Higher levels of bat activity means the possibility of exposure to rabies increases.

"August is the peak month for testing bats for rabies," said Dr. Tom Safranek, State Epidemiologist for DHHS. "It's important for people to be careful around bats and other wild animals like skunks, foxes, coyotes and raccoons or domestic stray animals like cats and dogs which are less likely to be vaccinated. These animals could potentially have rabies and transmit it to people."

Rabies is caused by a virus that affects the nervous system and is transmitted by the bite of an infected animal or if saliva from a rabid animal gets directly into an open wound or a person's eyes, nose, or mouth. Rabies is generally fatal without preventive treatment.

Help prevent the spread of rabies by following these recommendations:

- Be a responsible animal owner. Keep rabies vaccinations up-to-date for all dogs, cats, ferrets, and other animals you own.
- Seek immediate veterinary assistance for your pet if it's bitten by a wild animal or exposed to a bat.
- Call your local animal control agency about removing stray animals in your neighborhood.
- Do not touch, feed, or unintentionally attract wild animals with open garbage cans or litter. Never adopt wild animals or bring them into your home. Do not try to nurse sick, wild animals to health. Call animal control or an animal rescue agency for assistance.
- Teach children never to handle unfamiliar animals, wild or domestic, even if they appear friendly. "Love your own, leave other animals alone" is a good principle for children to reduce the risk of contact with rabid animals.

Maintain homes and other buildings so bats can't get inside.

If a bat is in your house, don't let it outside until you talk to animal control or public health officials. If you can do it without putting yourself at risk for physical contact or being bitten, try to cover the bat with a large can or bucket, and close the door to the room.

If you think you've been bitten by a bat:

Seek immediate medical attention if you've been in direct contact with or bitten by a bat.

If you wake up and find a bat in your room, you should try to safely capture the bat and have it tested. The same precautions should be used if you see a bat in a room with an unattended child.

If you or a family member has been in close proximity to a bat, consult your doctor or local health department for assistance to determine if you might have been exposed to rabies and need preventive treatment.

People often know when they've been bitten by a bat but its small teeth can make a bite mark difficult to find. Try to safely capture the bat or call animal control, have the bat tested and seek medical advice.

No human cases of rabies have occurred among Nebraskans since the 1920s.

Winside cross country hoping to send entire team to state meet

Last year, the Winside boys cross country team had a runner qualify for state for the first time in a number of years.

This year, coach Jennifer Kesting is optimistic the entire team can make a run to Kearney this fall.

"We are hopeful that if we can keep working hard throughout the season, we can get a team down to state for the first time since 2005," she said. "We have a full boys team this year and have several strong runners who will improve with age and experience."

Last year, Dylan Brogren punched his own ticket to state, finishing 82nd in the Class D boys race at Kearney. He is one of four starters back for the Wildcats this fall.

Also returning are JaShaun Vyborny, Alex Carlson and Josh Greunke. All were varsity runners last year for Winside and will bring that experience back to lead the Wildcats this season.

Winside will open the season at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational in Beemer on Thursday, Aug. 31.

Wayne High girls golf pushing for state trip

The Wayne High girls golf team has plenty of returning experience back from last year, and coach Josh Johnson is hopeful the team can put together a good season and earn a trip to state.

Five players are back from a team that finished ninth in last year's district meet, and with that experience back, Johnson is hopeful the team can finish in the top three and earn the state bid.

"We have a great core of young ladies back, and they are working to get better and better every day," he said.

Back from last year are Megan Keiser, Liz Junck, Hana Nelsen, Taylor French and Kecia Schenk.

All five saw time on varsity last year and are returning letterwinners heading into the season.

Also expected to compete for a spot is freshman Natalie Jensen, Johnson said.

"All six have worked very hard this summer and are looking forward to putting it to the test this fall," he said. "We are looking to be playing our best golf by conference district time so they have a chance to head back out to North Platte for state."

Senior Brooke Young is one of two starters back to lead an improved LCC girls golf team this fall.

Lady Bear linksters look for top three at districts

Fifth-year LCC girls golf coach Christina Patefield is hoping to get the Lady Bears in the top three at districts this year to qualify for the state tournament this fall in North Platte.

Seniors Brooke Young and Nicole Hansen return to the lineup this year, and Patefield hopes their experience and past success will spur the team's success this year.

"We have two returning seniors and two freshman, so I am hopeful for a mentoring program to have my seniors help foster a love for the game of golf with my newcomers," she said. "We are also hopeful to return some, if not all, of the girls to state this year."

Young, who qualified for state as a sophomore, was a top-10 finisher at most meets last year for the Lady Bears. She is joined by Hanson, who consistently finished in the top 20 last year, as leaders for the LCC team.

Freshmen Glenda Vance and Jadyn Kinkaid will join the team this year, and Patefield looks for the two newer members to grow and learn the game this season.

LCC opens the season at Friday's West Point-Beemer Invitational at Indian Creek Golf Club near Beemer.

Candidates meet with community members in open interviews

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

Four qualified candidates sat before community members last Thursday to discuss their backgrounds and answer questions.

Each of the Wayne Area Economic Development (WAED) director candidates received a 30 minute time slot at The Majestic Theatre in a rotation that included tours of town and an executive interview in front of the WAED board.

The candidates were given two questions that they could prepare for but the rest of the time would be taken by community questions. Former director Wes Blecke was on hand to moderate the interviews.

Garry Delano Clark, Jr. kicked things off at 10 a.m. giving a brief synopsis of his experiences before answering Blecke's first two questions.

"I think there's a combination of opportunities because of the location of Wayne to other communities. I think there is an opportunity for regionalism here. Wayne has the capacity and foundation to transform."

That transformation he spoke of was focused on becoming the hub for the area, pushing toward being a regional center and pooling resources from other communities to make things happen in the area.

Clark spoke on a youth program he had a hand in setting up called Bright Lights to help retain youth in the community and was asked to further expand on the program.

The program, set up in his time at a county position, asked for four students from each of the school districts in that county to participate in a "shark tank"-like business pitch concept. From start to finish, the students were given real-world business experience including pitching the ideas to investors and presenting to an audience and receiving financial support.

Among other things, Clark discussed how the growth of Wayne would affect the area towns like Laurel and Wakefield, so if Wayne grows, those towns will also see a benefit from that. He stated that proximity was more important than a "turf war."

He also discussed building a strong relationship with Wayne State College and building upon the manufacturing capabilities in Wayne.

After Clark, an area native interviewed. Luke Virgil, Laurel's current economic development director, spoke of how Wayne has been a measuring stick to compare to.

"Wayne has always been the 'big brother' to Laurel," Virgil said. "I've watched Wayne. I've seen its challenges and its successes."

Virgil underlined the stability the community has between its major institutions. He named education, financial, government and healthcare entities, calling them the "anchors" of the community. Virgil also discussed Wayne's progressive attitude and entrepreneurial spirit.

"Every town is proud of something they have and you build on those anchor institutions to create a hub."

He discussed opportunities Wayne has, including the property that once housed Pacific Coast Feather Company, stating that such things as a solar farm or an advanced manufacturing company have the ability to utilize that large piece of property.

Virgil discussed how there is a necessary level of trust between business owners and the director's position. He highlighted that last year Laurel saw 13 grand openings throughout the year and while the work of many was done heavily in 2015 and that he wasn't directly involved in each one, it was still an impressive feat to see that many new businesses open doors in such a relatively short time span.

Virgil stressed the importance of planning, stating that Laurel was moving forward to planning a community center thanks to a grant secured specifically for planning such large projects.

When asked about the biggest concern he has regarding economic development, Virgil answered with the volatility of ag commodities, commenting on the yo-yo effect the ag community deals with as prices rise and fall during each year and overall year-to-year.

The third candidate was Max Kathol, who touched on the importance of business retention including succession planning.

Kathol has served a number of communities, including Kearney in his career and in doing so had a considerable amount of experience in numerous situations, he told the audience.

One of those situations was handling a changing demographic and also how to push to make a city's main street or down town area a destination.

He discussed the demographic changing throughout the state, stating there is no short term plan to integrate other cultures into communities and continued with saying that any incoming demographic is looking for the same high quality of life as any other is.

Kathol also highlighted keeping a strong relationship between the city and Wayne State, and recalled an event he had helped plan to combine the destination downtown and college relationship in a previous location.

A street fair of sorts, the event offered vendors and business booths as well as a street dance to welcome new and returning college students to town.

Businesses would have the opportunity to hand out applications for open positions and vendors could sell their goods, everything from college apparel to massage gift certificates. The event, he claimed, would work well in Wayne.

He stressed the importance of thinking local first and also to define Wayne. His slogan of 'Where's Wayne? What's Wayne? Why Wayne' was what he would like to see marketed in the community and further out to the region, but answering those questions would have to come first.

Rounding out the four candidates was Mark Buschkamp, the economic development director in Cherokee, Iowa.

Buschkamp, a WSC graduate, has previously served as both a city administrator and in economic development and had done his research on Wayne prior to the interviews.

His compiled data told him something that Wayne, like many other communities, is facing: a slowly declining population and lack of workforce.

He highlighted the need for skilled labor workers, not just Bachelor degree holders, in a community and said it starts at a junior and senior high school level. He discussed how students should be shown all options for career paths and also for entrepreneurship, and that it would be fostered throughout the community.

Buschkamp also discussed business retention, but he focused on how having a place that people want to live is necessary for a business to be successful.

House inspections and nuisance properties deteriorate the quality of the town, and it's easier in college towns for that to happen, but Buschkamp warned not to let slum lords hold rentals.

"It doesn't make friends but people want their town to look good," he said of nuisance properties.

He had ideas on hosting small business workshops, educating on all facets of business from customer service to accounting, stating that the position requires helping the existing businesses in town to be successful.

Buschkamp touched on needing to address affordable housing in town and when asked, he said that his plan would be to work fairly closely with the city, meeting once a month or quarterly.

The board will select the candidate it sees fit in the near future.

All four candidates interviewed last week in front of the WAED board as well as in community interviews at The Majestic Theatre, which allowed each to answer questions and tell a little about himself.

Wayne resident sought in connection with burglary

The Stanton County Sheriff's office has arrested a 38 year-old Wayne man and his 28 year-old wife in connection to a residential burglary on several occasions at a rural farm place about 10 miles southeast of Stanton.

Jacob Mahnke faces charges of burglary and being a felon in possession of a firearm. He remains in custody at this time with a scheduled court appearance for next month. Kayla Salmons faces charges of aiding in the consummation of a felony and aiding and abetting a felon in possession of a firearm. They were arrested earlier this month following an investigation into the burglary by the Sheriff's office, with assistance from the Wayne Police Department.

A search warrant was served by the Sheriff's office at a rural Stanton residence two weeks ago. Seven stolen firearms and a stolen 4-wheeler were recovered. Several other stolen items have also been recovered at a Wayne residence.

Stanton County arrest warrants were issued for two Wayne residents, Benton "Benny" Giffrow, 26, and Sawyer Giffrow, 22, in connection to their alleged involvement in the burglary and being felons in possession of firearms.

Benton "Benny" Giffrow, was apprehended on Saturday in Dixon, but Sawyer Giffrow remains at large.

Anyone with knowledge of Giffrow's whereabouts is asked to call the Stanton County Sheriff's office at (402) 439-2212 or their local law enforcement agency.

Additional charges and arrests are possible as the investigation continues into the loss of an estimated $20,000 in guns and other personal property taken during the burglary. The residence belonged to a longtime area resident who had recently died.

About the Artists

Kari Kollars is a graduate of Wayne State College with a degree in studio arts. About her work, Kari states, "I focus on texture, highlights and shadows. I enhance highlights more than you would see in the natural world, which gives my work more dynamic, visual effect and interest. The artist's ability to create a visually interesting image is important, but I also feel like the content and meaning is just as important. While not all of my work has an underlying narrative, I try to provide content that makes the viewer question the image and make their own analysis." Kari maintains a studio in Randolph, called Mint Clover Art, and puts all her energy into her art career and family. Kari is married to Jesse Kollars of Crofton, a special education teacher at the Randolph Public Elementary School. They have a four-year-old daughter, Mabel Rayne and a one-year-old son, Sullivan Hendrix.

Alex Beeson is originally from Fremont, NE and moved to Wayne to attend Wayne State College and major in studio art. Before graduating with a B.S. in May 2017, Alex had a thesis show at the Nordstrand Gallery in which her body of work explored themes of race and gender identity through the use of bold color and graffiti inspired motifs. Alex continues to live and work in Wayne while making plans and preparations to attend graduate school and pursue an MFA in painting.

Cindy McClellan is an artist and photographer from Aurora, NE. In her travels, she photographs her feet on manhole covers as a souvenir. A photograph is proof she was there and sometimes with friends. Searching out and discovering manhole covers is a fun travel adventure. Each city has a distinct style, some more ornate than others. Many details are discovered later when reviewing the photos.

Bob Esquivel is a native of Costa Rica and his love of art has taken many forms. From drawing to music to acting and painting, his world has always been an open canvas to pursue every realm. Bob states, "I can't remember when I wasn't interested in art, even before I knew what it was. It was just a natural part of my environment as a kid." Bob currently lives and works in Lincoln, NE with his wife Ronda, with whom he often collaborates on artistic projects, and where they are both members of the Gallery Nine artist cooperative.

Ronda Esquivel has had a love of color and art since she was a young child. She recalls that she would stand up in the seat of her parents' car, (this was long before seat belt laws), and stick her head out the window because "even the windshield got in the way too much." Her passion for photography got a boost at every stage of her life. Encouraged to enter her work in the Nebraska State Fair, she came to dominate the event and had her work shown at Disneyland as part of best of show from every state. Ronda currently lives in Lincoln, NE with her husband Bob, with whom she often collaborates on artistic projects, and where they are both members of the Gallery Nine artist cooperative.

Steve O'Hare was born in Nebraska, but spent his early years in the High Sierras of northern California. He returned to Nebraska where he finished his schooling and then, attended the University of Nebraska before heading back west to work at Glacier National Park in Montana. He continued his education at the Museum of Art School in Portland, Oregon (now Pacific Northwest College of Art), where he majored in graphic design, photography and printmaking and graduated with honors in 1973. He went home again to start his long-running career with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, where he was a photo lab technician, graphic artist, interpretive project director, multimedia director, art director and is now currently retired from the Game and Parks and has started up several small businesses that keep him busy. He also maintains a website that features his work:<http://tworosterimages.com/>

Linda Stephen is a self-taught paper artist who grew up in Michigan, studied at the Japan Center for Michigan Universities, and was once honored as one of the Top 10 graduates in the state by Michigan Woman magazine. Linda has traveled extensively across North America, Asia and Europe. She has worked as a communications director and writer for 15 years for nonprofits, multinational corporations, publishers and United Nations' agencies. A lifelong student of culture and languages, she holds an M.A. in international journalism from the University of Missouri-Columbia and a B.A. in French, summa cum laude, with minors in mathematics, music and business administration from Northern Michigan University. She now lives in Lincoln, NE with her husband and two children. Linda maintains a website about her work and various projects: <http://www.lindastephen.com/>

Unconditional love wins the day

As I write this article this morning I'm sitting in my office on my quiet street here in Wayne, America. The sun is out, and through my window I see my two sons and the neighbor kids jumping and laughing on the trampoline. It's a pretty picture of how in so many ways I am blessed beyond what I deserve. Tomorrow I'll wake up and life will be pretty much the same for me and my family in our small corner of the world here in Wayne.

With the recent events in Charlottesville however, I'm reminded that often times I can become very sheltered to the realities of the world we live in, and that my little corner of the world, is in many ways drastically different than other people's corners of the world. It's easy for me to often close my eyes, or just focus on my own backyard and be oblivious to the pain, the hurt, the hate, and the evil that is prevalent in the world around us.

It's easy sometimes to forget that we live in a world that desperately

By Justin Raulston
Christian Student Fellowship

needs to see the love of Christ lived out, and that people need to be reminded, and shown that ALL people have value in the eyes of God, and that racism and the demeaning of another in any form or fashion is sin and so incredibly far from what God intended His creation to be.

Genesis 1:27 "So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God He created them; male and female He created them."

All mankind! Scripture is crystal clear, that ALL mankind, every single person on the face of the earth was created in the image of God. And as Gene Appel tweeted this weekend: "When we demean any other human being, we demean the very God in whose image they are made."

God has created all people equal and loves each of us no matter our race, color, economic standing, gender, or background.

Galatians 3:28 "There is neither Jew nor Gentile, neither slave nor free, nor is there male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus."

Racism in any form or fashion, whatever street corner, or town it is in, is sinful, it is evil, and we must live and speak unconditional love to those we meet, because the unconditional love of Christ is what will win the day.

1 Corinthians 13:13 "And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love."

Ben Sasse tweeted this MLK quote "I refuse to accept that mankind is tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism...Unconditional love will have the final word."

Unconditional love is the picture I see this morning out my window between three young boys on a trampoline. Unconditional love is the picture that brings joy to my heart. Unconditional love is the picture the world needs to see, and it is the healing balm that will win the day. Let's start by bringing it to our corner of the world this week, and pray for it to spread to every corner of the world.

Most of all we can keep our chaplains, their families and those they minister to in our prayers.

Committee reports: Sewing—Five ladies tied three quilts. They will tie on Thursday Aug. 24. Ellen Heinemann took three quilts to LHNE for the Beef Blast for the silent auction, which will be held on Sunday, Aug. 27. All the money raised will be used for student expenses.

Visiting: Ruth Victor sent cards and LaVon Biermann and Ruth did visiting at Careage and Brookdale.

New Business: LWML Sunday will be Oct. 1. The group voted to pay for 1/3 of the cost for bulletins for that day. Ruth Victor and Betty Wittig will be on the nominating committee for the offices of President and secretary. Betty Wittig reported she washed and cleaned all the toys in the nursery and discovered that there are no dolls. If someone has a doll or two to donate, it would be appreciated.

The speakers for the morning were Christy and Sydney Owen from Grace Lutheran Church in Norfolk. They gave a power point presentation of their experiences of going to Mexican Springs, N.M. and conducting Vacation Bible School for the Navajo Indians. Christy is the youth leader of their church. They have been going to New Mexico for six years and have made many friends with the Navajo people. With the help of the Orphan Grain Train semi, they brought many items such as food, clothing and whatever they were in need of to New Mexico. The group worked under very crude conditions; like no running water. They did have electricity. They stayed in a church. Christy stated it is very hard work, but very rewarding. A church from Texas has partnered up with them and they are making plans for next year. A gift of $50 was given to their mission trip for sharing their experiences with us.

The birthday song was sung to Joann Temme and Betty Wittig. The next meeting will be Sept. 13 with Mary Janke serving.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Youth take part in Servant Trip

The week of July 31 - Aug. 5, five youth and two adults from Grace Lutheran Church ventured to the vast world of Minot, N. D.

In Minot, the group volunteered at the Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch. The Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch's mission is serving at risk youth in the name of Christ. For 65 years youth have been served throughout the United States. While the Wayne group was there, they painted parking lots, moved furniture and cleaned carpets in the school, washed windows, helped with a horse therapy session, and worked at their Thrift Store.

While at the Ranch, they also had a chance to interact with the residents who are receiving help with many problems ranging from psychological to sexual abuse to substance abuse, to name a few. Through this servant event trip, these different residents got to witness the love of God through our words and actions.

"Even though we didn't know them and they didn't know us, as brothers and sisters in Christ, we care for each other in the ways in which we are able," said Pastor

Mike Feldmann, Senior Pastor at Grace Lutheran Church.

After the time was up in Minot, the group traveled to Rugby, N.D., which is the geographical center of North America. The group stayed the night in Fargo for some fun fellowship time before returning home. Each of the participants from Grace Lutheran Church expressed great satisfaction in being able to help the various residents at the Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch.

BACK TO SCHOOL: A HANDY HEALTH & SAFETY CHECKLIST

It's just about that time again: Time to switch from swimsuits to school clothes and from beach bags to backpacks. That's the easy part. What about preparing your child to have the healthiest and safest school year possible? Here's a handy checklist to help.

1. Schedule medical, eye, and dental checkups. Before school starts, check with the pediatrician to see if your child needs any immunizations. Vision and hearing tests are also a good idea, although schools perform hearing tests during certain grades.¹ If your child is playing sports, ask the pediatrician whether a special checkup is needed. With certain sports, concussions can be a serious problem. Talk to the doctor about ways to protect your child.²

2. Organize your child's medical history records. Provide copies to your child's school or daycare providers. I can help you pull some of this together, but the list should include your child's:

- Prescription medications
- Medical problems such as asthma or allergies
- Previous surgeries
- Emergency contacts³

3. Communicate about transportation. Some kids get dropped up and picked up by parents. Others carpool. Still others walk, bike, or take the bus. And, of course, teens may have their own wheels. Regardless, it's important that your kids be—and feel—safe getting to and from school.

- If you or another adult picks up your child, agree on a time and place for pickups. Explain what to do if the driver is running late.

- If your child walks or bikes, do a dry run and explain any potential traffic hazards.

- If your child or teen takes the bus, find a safe route and agree on a visible pick-up and drop-off spot. Ideally, this is a place where other kids are around and adults can clearly see them.

- If your teen drives to school, be crystal clear about safe driving—including ditching that teen temptation: texting while driving.

Create an emergency plan in case anything goes awry. In fact, make sure your child knows what to do in an emergency—whether at home or at school or anywhere in between.²

4. Remember that there's more to school than hitting the books. For example, good nutrition and exercise are essential for brain health. Here are a few other reminders:

- Be consistent about bedtime and wake-up times. Growing kids need at least 8 hours of sleep—and teens need even more.¹

- Make homework a habit by having clear routines. But don't overlook free time and friend time.

- Explain ways to prevent infection such as by regularly washing hands and by not sharing hats or other clothing. That's one way lice get around!

- Keep lines of communication open. Listen for signs of bullying or other concerns. Many parents find that car rides are a great time to have nonthreatening conversations with their kids. Contact the school if a problem like bullying does arise.^{3,4}

Dairy show excitement

Landen Roeber was all smiles as he exhibited the show ring at this year's Wayne County Fair.

Council deals with traffic flow requests at recent meeting

By Clara Osten
clara@wayneherald.com

Discussion on a variety of topics, including traffic flow in several locations and for several events, highlighted the Wayne City Council meeting.

Council members first gave approval to change the traffic flow on West Third Street for an electronics recycling event.

Sandy Brown, representing the Wayne Green Team, asked for permission to make the street one-way, with traffic headed east, for a three hour time frame on Saturday, Sept. 23 for the event.

She said this is the sixth annual recycling event of this nature and last year the traffic was routed in one direction, making drop off much more efficient.

Council members also gave their approval to a lease agreement between the City of Wayne and the Wayne Country Club. The agreement finalizes work that has been done by the Country Club and the city in recent months.

In a related item, the council approved a list of people to serve on the "Design-Build Selection Committee" for the Wayne Country Club Clubhouse remodel project. They include Joel Hansen, Jill Brodersen, Matt Eischeid, Dave Hix, Steve Meyer, Lowell Heggemeyer, Troy Harder, Darrell Miller, Rusty Parker and Adam Severson.

A block of 10th Street will be closed for several hours on Sunday, Sept. 10 as the result of a request by Grace Lutheran Church. The street will be closed from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. for the church's Sunday School Rally Day festival and meal. Affected will be the area from Main Street to Logan Street. This has been an annual request for several years.

Considerable time was spent discussing a Use by Exception request from State Nebraska Bank. The bank plans to expand its current drive-thru location at 1002 Main Street.

Joel Hansen, City Planner, told the council that the Planning Commission had approved the request. He noted that they did discuss the paving of the alley to the west of the bank.

Council members questioned who would pay for the paving and also discussed the location of the driveway into the bank.

Following considerable debate on implications of the driveway being in a certain location, the council voted 7-0-1 to allow the use by exception. Council member Cale Giese abstained due to having property in the area.

Several items on the agenda involved work by the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District (NNEDD) in regard to grant funds for several projects in the city.

Jan Merrill of the NNEDD explained the process her office has gone through in determining neighborhood needs in the city. Areas in the northwest, southwest and southeast quadrants of the city were identified as needing improvements and making curbs ADA accessible will be the first priority.

Council members voted to approve the final plats for Southview II Addition and Grace Acres Addition.

Also approved at Tuesday's meeting was bid alternate #3 for the Fourth Street Paving Project.

Council members debated the need to pave the street all the way to Centennial Road and how paving would affect the Wayne Rugby fields.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 5 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Commissioners

Davis also brought up the new program and FFA chapter, stating that things would likely continue to grow as more students became involved.

Davis said that the proposed new building would sit in the current location of the St. Mary's Stand. That structure would be removed for the new one to be built. At 120 feet long and 40 feet wide, the new building will have more than adequate space for both food stands and the handicap accessible rest rooms that will be located on either end of it.

According to Davis, the fair board hopes to start on this project first and in the next five years get finances saved and take donations to go toward the new grandstand before building. Both projects are slated to be complete prior to the 100th year of the fair, which is in 2022.

The board approved the tax requests after some discussion on the way the funds are being applied in each area.

Wayne Police Chief Marlen Chinn visited the board to discuss the contract between the county and the city for dispatch services.

The terms of the contract stated that the 2018 cost for those services would amount to $74,160 and would increase for inflation each year, but the agreement also stated that it could be reviewed to keep the inflation figures from getting out of control.

Chinn commented on how much cooperation was happening between the city and county law enforcement, far more than has happened in the past, stating that it was a "much better working relationship," -- a statement that the board agreed wholeheartedly with.

After that update, Highway Superintendent Mark Casey gave an update on several projects as well as sharing that the Garden County planning and zoning director Clint Robertson had reached out to him regarding the wind towers.

Casey said Robertson had offered to send the documents they've drawn up in regards to wind power facilities coming into Garden County. Robertson was aware Wayne County doesn't have zoning, but still offered to send the documents for the commissioners to go over for ideas on setbacks and some general requirements.

Before beginning another budget work session, one of the major concerns coming up is in Commissioner Dean Burbach's district outside of Carroll.

A large hog facility is being planned west of Carroll requiring some road remodeling.

The barn, currently planned at 950 feet long, will have a pit running underneath it. Due to the elevation of the site and hills in the area, the drive way and road will need to be worked at to ensure trucks can safely travel in and out of the facility.

According to Burbach, the facility will move 3,000 head of hogs each week and will offer 20 positions of employment, both full and part time.

Casey weighed in on it and plans to have the county's engineers look at the builder's plans to ensure the road work is necessary and appropriate.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is Tuesday, Sept. 5 at 9 a.m.

place in the Ameritas parking lot for a few reasons, the biggest being location and space. The other big factor is that a number of volunteers for the night come from Ameritas as well.

Several businesses in town donate food and even a large grill, but volunteers do all the cooking and serving.

This year 'quarter games' will be provided as well as live music by the Front Porch Pickers. A free will donation of $5 is suggested.

Shirts have been designed and will be available for purchase that night as well as ahead of time. T-shirts are $15 each.

The theme "charity strikes back" is a play on Star Wars, and Misenbach encouraged embracing the theme that night.

Misenbach is looking for businesses to pull together and encourage their employees to give.

"Our challenge this year was really 'how are we going to challenge the other businesses in town.' We did the t-shirts for everyone but we have had a couple businesses purchase shirts for each of their employees to wear every Friday in October, which is United Way's month."

Ameritas will host its "Camp Out to Help Out" fundraiser the first week of October during Wayne State College's homecoming. All of the proceeds and donations collected will be given directly to the United Way.

Misenbach has high hopes that many businesses in the community will also come up with their own fundraiser to help fund the United Way because of the wide-reach it has.

"They help everyone -- from the person that sits beside you every day to some person in town you may not even know," she said. "That's the great part about the United Way. It's 360 degrees of giving."

The Kickoff BBQ will take place on Aug. 24 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Ameritas parking lot at 513 Main Street.

Gift-A-Thon to kick off

The second annual Gift-A-Thon fundraising event will kick off over the weekend.

This year's event will take place Aug. 20-27 with the "Blitz Night" set for Wednesday, Aug. 23.

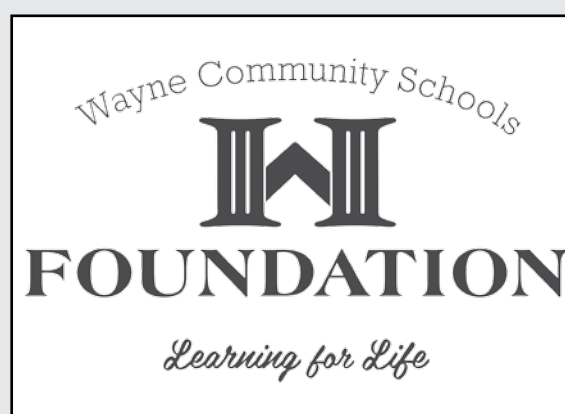

"The high school kids, along with the teacher sponsors, go door-to-door for donations to support the organizations," Lenihan said. "Students will also get a pledge sheet for those out of town relatives and friends who may want to donate."

Lenihan went on to say that the "Blitz Night" had gone over very well last year and that the "community responded with very generous donations."

Rather than selling numerous items over the course of a school year, the one week event allows donors the chance to give and have 100 percent of their contribution go to the school, rather than just a percentage of what's been spent on items like popcorn and butterbraids or candles.

Last year's Gift-a-Thon brought in approximately $25,000 and all of those funds went to support clubs and activities such as Power Drive, Speech, One Acts and the National Honor Society as well as the Elementary Library and new this year will be the FFA Chapter.

With a goal of $40,000 this year, the Wayne Community Schools Foundation is counting on that generosity to support each of these activity clubs and entities for the coming school year.

All donation checks can be made out to the Wayne Community Schools Foundation and donors have several options to ensure that money makes it to the schools, including an online donation form on the school's website. Other options include mailing or giving those funds to a student to be turned in.

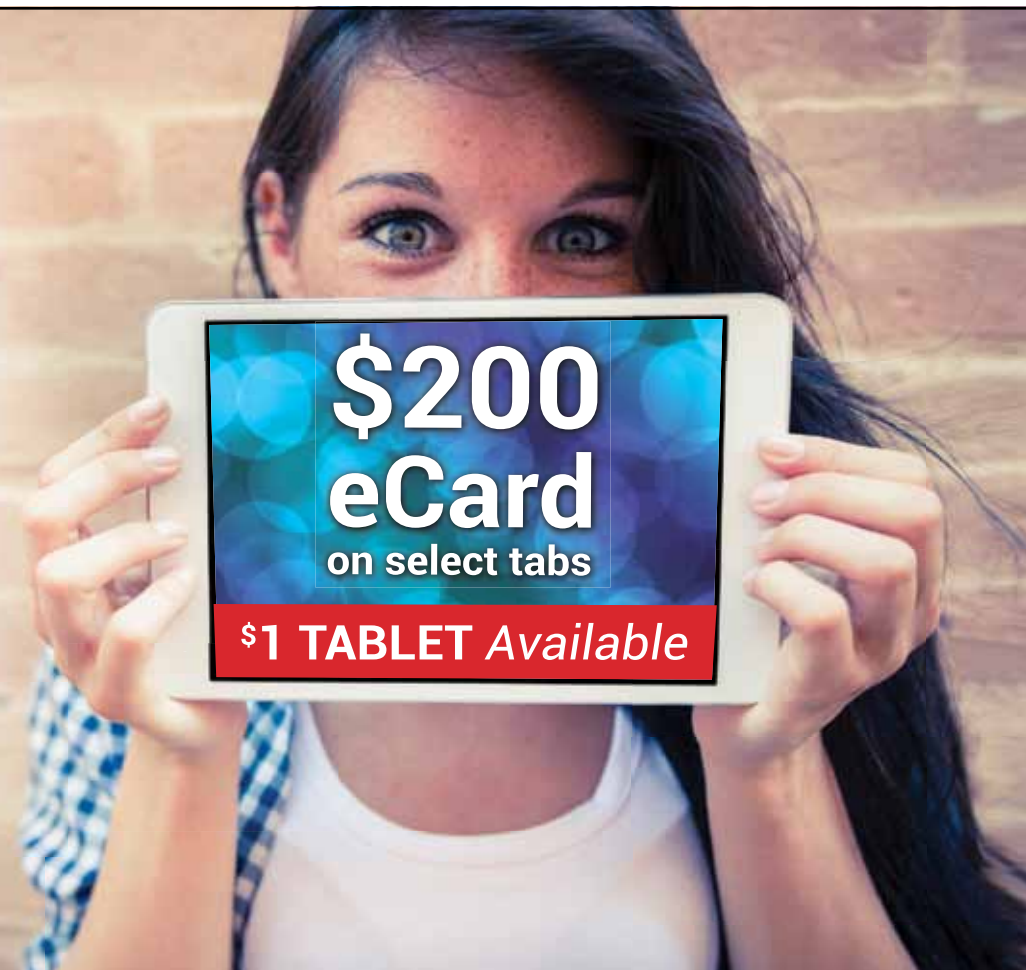

"We appreciate the support of the community and we hope that the community appreciates it's a one-time donation time," Lenihan said. "This is for school activity programs, not music or athletic boosters."

ESU #1 advanced accreditation renewed

Educational Service Unit #1 was officially awarded accreditation by AdvancEd on June 20. The accreditation is good for five years.

Throughout the term of this accreditation, ESU #1 must continue to engage in the responsibilities of continuous improvement and the pursuit of educational excellence.

To earn accreditation, a service unit must meet the AdvancEd accreditation standards, implement a continuous process of improvement, and host an external review team once every five years.

As a part of the accreditation process, a team of trained professionals from across the state and nation reviewed ESU #1 documents and performance data; interviewed agency and community stakeholders; and observed agency practices in action. The team offered both commendations and recommendations to the agency.

"AdvancEd accreditation demonstrates that ESU#1 has met the highest level of standards. We are proud of our partnerships with school districts and the recognition for outstanding service provided by our employees," said ESU #1 Administrator Dr. Bill Heimann.

ESU #1 is proud to be AdvancEd accredited since October 2011.

Area mosquitoes test positive for West Nile

The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department is alerting the public that the first pool of mosquitoes testing positive for West Nile Virus (WNV) have been found within the health district of Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties for the 2017 season.

West Nile Virus is present in northeast Nebraska.

Prevent mosquito bites by taking the proper precautions below:

- Apply a mosquito repellent approved by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) whenever you go outdoors. This includes repellents with Deet, picardin, oil of eucalyptus, IR3535, and para-methane-di-ol. Follow directions when applying repellent on children. Oil of lemon eucalyptus should NOT be used on children under 3 years of age.
- Wear long sleeves and pants when outdoors to limit skin exposure;
- Remove standing water where mosquitoes breed: bird-baths, old tires, clogged roof gutters or wading pools.
- Vaccinate horses.

Mosquitoes are most active between dusk and dawn when the air is calm, but some will feed at any time of day. Mild cases of West Nile Virus (WNV) infection may include a slight fever and/or headache. In some instances a skin rash and swollen lymph nodes are possible. Severe cases include a rapid onset of a high fever, head and body aches, and usually occur 5 - 15 days after being bitten by a mosquito infected with

WNV. Stiff neck, sleepiness, disorientation, coma, tremors, convulsions and even paralysis are also potential symptoms.

Go to your doctor if you have these symptoms during mosquito season which starts in June and runs through September. Most cases of West Nile virus infection are mild and go unreported.

ATTENTION: Persons at highest risk for serious WNV illness are:

- Over 50 years old;
- On steroid medicines or chemotherapy.

Healthy children and adults are at lower risk but can still become ill.

For more information: <http://www.nnpd.org> under the Programs and Services tab or <http://www.cdc.gov/west-nile/>. Stop in at the NNPd office, 215 North Pearl Street in Wayne for free DEET Insect Repellent wipes. For more information, call the NNPd office at (402) 375-2200.

Recent flying experience not pleasant

I try never to say never, but I truly believe this morning that I will never fly commercially again. I had been reading the complaints from squished passengers, but had not experienced it in that fashion before. My Sis and I flew United to our brother's funeral, it was a smaller plane and tight, but we could manage. Plus, the aisle was still wide enough that the attendants could move a beverage tray down the center.

I had flown Southwest a couple of times and still harbored thoughts that they were the best, in part because they allow two carry ons. And, I had read all kinds of humorous things via the internet. But I think that the last time with that airline had been to Phoenix something like fifteen years ago.

Four of us had decided to head to Indianapolis last week to see Randa perform at her present gig. Jon made the arrangements, and I was pleased with the price. I knew about the 3 ounces or less for liquids in my bag. I also knew I had hip and knee implants, but they had never triggered a noise before.

The Farmer's Wife

Well, Eppley was crawling with TSA personnel early last Wednesday morning. I did not make it through the spotter. A woman informed me she had to do a full body pat down, even though they knew about my orthopedic surgeries. She even had a female supervisor come when she got to my torso!!

Then, I was informed that my jar of Noxzema was a gel, and obviously, bigger than 3 ounces, so out it went. It was not a good start for the day. As usual with Southwest, boarding was kind of like a cattle call. Except that we did have printed passes, and they did assign a boarding number.

We finally got on, and there was still room to stow our bags overhead. The lady in the aisle seat graciously moved out so we could get in. Somehow, I ended up in the middle seat (grin.). Her young mother friend was across the lane that could hardly be called an aisle, along with their two five year old daughters.

Turns out one of the daughters was celebrating her fifth birthday with a trip to Chicago and the American Girl store. I think I took Sue to McDonald's for her fifth birthday! What will they do for the sixteenth? Fly to Paris?

Once in the air, the attendants took "orders" for water, coffee, or tea, then delivered them on trays held aloft above the seats because there was barely room for them to walk, let alone push a cart.

I have never sat in such a confined position for a couple of long hours before. The return trip was the same; this time, the fellow in the aisle was coming to Omaha for the triathlon competition. There was not room overhead for my bag, so it had to be at my feet. AND, we were given little bags of peanuts with our little cups of water!

This morning, I read in the Omaha paper that a federal judge is asking for tests to see if this kind of seating is even safe, in case of fire, for instance. They are suggesting that the airlines look into this. I can tell them right now it is not. Most of us could not evacuate the plane in rapid time. But I will not be checking it out again. Now I know why my friend in Holdrege takes Amtrak to Indiana. I will, too, or I will stay home. Which looks plenty attractive to me right now.

Written ag lease agreements are valuable

It is that time of year to remind our farm landowners and tenants about verbal or hand shake lease agreements. Some farm leases are not written, but are verbal or "handshake" agreements. Because nothing is in writing, the parties may have different recollections of their agreement, making lease disputes more difficult to resolve.

The most common legal issue associated with verbal farm leases is how a lease may legally be terminated. For both year-to-year leases and holdover leases, six months advance notice must be given to legally terminate the lease. However, the lease date (the date from which the six months is counted) is different. In contrast, the termination of a written lease is obviously determined in writing.

For year-to-year oral leases, the Nebraska Supreme Court has ruled that the lease year begins March 1. Notice to a tenant to vacate under an oral year-to-year lease (legal-

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

ly referred to as a "notice to quit") must be given six months in advance of the end of the lease, or no later than Aug. 31. For example, for the lease year beginning March 1, 2017, and ending Feb. 28, 2018, notice from the landlord that the lease will be terminated would have to be given to (and received by) the tenant no later than Aug. 31, 2017. If, however, the notice to quit were given (or received) after Aug. 31, 2017, the existing tenant would have the lease until Feb. 28, 2019.

It is recommended that the farm-land lease be terminated by Registered Letter. This means that the person receiving the letter signs for it, therefore providing evidence that the termination notice was received.

Regardless of the type of lease (written, verbal, or even multiple year), it is best to have clear communications by all parties. By sending a termination notice before Aug. 31, even for written leases, you can avoid any miscommunication or pitfalls.

Please consider written leases, they are preferred in all cases. We have sample written lease forms that you can get from our office that have the 'fill in the blank' spaces and get both parties thinking about the appropriate lease conditions for their situation. If you'd like to print your own fill in the blank lease, they are available at the web site aglease101.org, look for them in the 'document library' link at the top of the web page.

For more information or assistance, please contact your local Nebraska Extension office.

To get more information on land management and leasing, come to our free meeting at the Ponca Community Hall on Aug. 23 from 1 to 4 p.m. Please call us to register at the Dixon county Extension office at (402) 584-2261 so we can make copies of handouts and get some treats.

Nebraska Boy Scout representatives salute the flag as U.S. Marines raise flags at the United States Marine Corps War Memorial (Iwo Jima Memorial).

Local Boy Scouts attend Jamboree touring Washington D.C.

Wayne Boy Scouts Isaac Davis, Nathan Kufner, Silas Mark, Zach Schenk and Ethan Sebade were among those attending the National Scout Jamboree recently. They were accompanied by Wayne Adult Leader Stacy Schenk and Norfolk Scouts Laikon Ames, Riley Ingrebritson and Ryan Yost. These scouters joined 12 other scouts and other three adult leaders from the Columbus/Schuyler area to form Jamboree Troop 2333 of the Mid America BSA Council. The group departed for Omaha July 14 and flew out of Omaha for Washington D. C. on July 15. They toured Washington D.C. from July 15-18. During this time they saw the U.S. Capitol, met with Congressman Adrian Smith, saw the Vietnam Memorial, Boy Scout Memorial, World War Memorials, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Martin Luther King Jr. Monument, Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial, Thomas Jefferson Memorial, Mount Vernon, Ford's Theater, International Spy Museum (did a mission there), Holocaust Museum, National Archives, Smithsonian American History Museum, Smithsonian Air and Space Museum and it's Annex, Kennedy Center, Pentagon 9/11 Memorial, Kennedy's grave site, Washington's grave site, Arlington Cemetery, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, National Cathedral, Union Station, Library of Congress (Outside), Trump Tower (outside), and many of other sites from the streets of Washington D. C. "We even shared our bus one night with a local Venturing Scout Crew from Omaha while traveling back to the hotel after touring. The two groups meshed as one as they arrived at the bus meeting point in a downpour, both singing "Singing in the rain." The camp songs, show tunes, and many other chants continued between the two groups on the drive back to the hotel we were all staying at while in Washington D. C. It was a memorable night," Stacy said. On July 19 the group traveled by bus to the Summit Bechtel Reserve in Glen Jean, W.V. to where over 10,000 acres were available to explore and over 14,000 acres comprise the property. The scouts participated in the 2017 Boy Scout National Jamboree from July 19 - 28 with approximately 40,000 other individuals not only from the United States, but from around the world. Adventures the scouts participated in were: zip lines, scuba diving, BMX bikes, mountain biking, skateboarding, rock climbing, rappelling, shooting shot guns/pistols/rifles, hiking, white water rafting on the New Gorge National River in the Appalachian Mountains, stand up paddle boarding, kayaking, fishing, and many other adventures. "We crossed the Consol Energy Bridge (a triple walkway pedestrian suspension bridge) daily. We hiked up Grand Garden Mountain to the peak where it was dedicated that day as Mount Jack in honor of Jack Furst (who make the Summit experience possible with his vision). The Summit has an elevation difference of approximately 1,300 feet from its lowest to its highest point. The scouts hiked approximately 1,000 feet in elevation to reach the summit the day of the hike. At the top they also participated in activities such as the Spartan Challenge Race," Stacy said. Throughout the week each troop at Jamboree participated in a Messengers of Peace Day of Service throughout the West Virginia/Virginia area. Troop 2333 members spent their day helping a local Community Center clean up the grounds where wedding receptions, family reunions, and other social events are held. The troop joined a troop from Florida in raking up decomposing leaves, pulling weeds, cutting limbs, pruning bushes, and removing old debris from the grounds. Approximately 220 projects were completed in 45 West Virginia counties for our Messengers of Peace day of service. It was a way for the Scouts to give back to those in the area of the Jamboree event. The Scouts had an opportunity, if they chose, to see President Trump speak. Some also helped set a world record for the most dreidels spun at once. They also enjoyed several concerts, shows, and an amazing fireworks display for the closing ceremony. The Scouts also had the opportunity to trade patches, scarves, Boy Scout leadership trading cards, and other mementos with scouts from across the nation and across the world. Some of the trades made were with Scouts from California, Ohio, New York, Aruba, Philippines, Puerto Rico, and many, many other locations. "Many of the scouts are proud of their collections and would be happy to share the stories of how they obtained them and who they traded with," Stacy said. The tour bus returned to Washington D. C. on July 28 and then the group flew back to Omaha. The Summit Bechtel Reserve will be the host site of the 2019 World Scout Jamboree. The following are reflections on the trip from members of the Wayne group following their return to Wayne. "There was so much to do and not enough time. I would love to do it again, Matthew should try it!" — Nathan. "I had the best time skateboarding and going on the zip line. I also liked touring George Washington's house at Mount Vernon." — Silas. "I thoroughly enjoyed the experience I got from going to the Jamboree. I never thought I would be able to do things like white water rafting, rock climbing, and BMX biking that easily with my friends all the way in West Virginia." — Isaac. "I enjoyed seeing and listening to our President." — Ethan. "Traveling all over DC in our own tour bus was great! I loved taking the zip lines through the canopy of trees at the Summit." — Zach. "My favorite moment of the journey, and there were so many, was watching our entire troop of boys salute the real life Marines raising flags at the United States Marine Corps War Memorial (Iwo Jima Memorial). At the Summit it was amazing to share the experience not only with U.S. Scouts but also those from around the world." — Stacy.

THANK YOU'S

Thank You....
We'd like to say Thank You to each and every one of you that have helped in any way to raise money for the Pilger Pool Fund!

For 15 years we have had the most incredible volunteers and donors! There is no way any of this would have been possible without all of you, and your hard work. We can not thank you enough for all the generosity, compassion, and caring hearts!

We feel that having this pool is a huge asset to our village and surrounding area. The pool provides summer jobs to people in the area, teaches our little ones to swim so they are safer in and around water and it also provides much needed summer entertainment for folks young and old.

All three of our daughters were very fortunate to be able to learn top notch swimming and life saving skills here in Pilger. They also had their first job experiences here. Several years ago one of our daughters was able to use that swimming and life saving knowledge at a nearby lake and one life was saved. You cannot put a price on that!

We would also like to acknowledge the Louis and Abby Faye Dinklage Foundation for generously matching up to $10,000 for this year's feed, it is so greatly appreciated! Thanks again and we hope to see you next year! May God Bless You All!

Many thanks to my family and friends who joined me in celebrating my 90th birthday open house. I also thoroughly enjoyed the many cards I received.
Merlin Preston

We would like to thank everyone for all the expressions of kindness shown to our family since the loss of our loved one. All the food, flowers, memorials, phone calls, texts and kind words have made this loss easier on all of us. A special thank you to the Winside American Legion and Wayne County Fair Board for their tributes to Ray.

Round Robin Showmanship Contest wraps up fair

The Leroy Sievers Memorial Round Robin Trophy was awarded to Erin O'Reilly of Wayne, daughter of Pat and Gretchen O'Reilly and the Reserve Champion honors to Faith Junck, daughter of Duane and Priscilla Junck of Carroll. Erin was the champion sheep showman and Faith was the champion dairy showman, making them eligible to compete in the contest.

The Round Robin Showmanship Contest was held on July 30. It provided an opportunity for the Champion and Reserve Champion senior showman from the 4-H divisions of beef, dairy, sheep, and swine to compete for the best all-around showman honors at the fair.

If the champion or reserve champion showman from each division had already won the Round Robin Contest, then the next participant in that division was allowed to compete. Each individual rotates from species to species while being judged on their showmanship skills with each species. The winner is determined by the overall score.

Serving as judges in each of the areas were former 4-Hers, Riley Nichols for beef, John Temme for dairy, Ashley Gilliland for sheep and Alyssa Schmale for swine. Each of the 4-Hers were asked the same three questions by each of the species judges and then received additional points for how they handled the animal.

Others participating in the contest included purple ribbon winners: Brennen O'Reilly (sheep); Madison Jenkins and Tori French (swine); Kylie Kempf and Jeht Stateler (beef); and Tyler Gilliland (dairy).

The Round Robins Showmanship Contest is in its eighteenth year at the fair.

Section 2. For the purpose of providing interim financing for a portion of the costs of the Project as set out in Section 1 hereof, there shall be and there are hereby ordered issued Bond Anticipation Notes of the County to be known as "Bond Anticipation Notes (Rural Road Improvement District No. 2016-1), Series 2017" in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed Four Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($450,000) (herein referred to as the "Notes" or the "notes"), consisting of fully registered notes numbered from 1 upwards in the order of issuance, in the denomination of $5,000 each, or integral multiples thereof, said notes shall be dated as of date of delivery and each of said notes shall bear interest at the stated coupon interest rate of not to exceed 1.75% per annum, with the principal of said notes to become due and payable as follows: Principal Amount: $450,000; Maturity: September 15, 2019 - March 15, 2020.

Davidson & Co. (the "Underwriter"). The Authorized Officers, or each individually, is hereby authorized to make such determinations on behalf of the County and to evidence the same by execution and delivery of the Designation. Such determination, when made and agreed to by the Underwriter, shall constitute the action of the Board, without further action of the Board.

The principal of the Notes and any interest due on the Notes upon maturity or earlier call for redemption shall be payable at the office of BOKF, National Association, Lincoln, Nebraska, as Paying Agent and Registrar (the "Registrar") designated in Section 3 hereof, upon presentation and surrender of the Notes when due or when called for payment prior to maturity. Interest on the Notes shall be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months and shall be payable semiannually on March 15 and September 15, of each year, beginning March 15, 2018 (or such other dates as may be determined in the Designation, each of such dates, an "Interest Payment Date"), from the Date of Original Issue or the most recent Interest Payment Date, whichever is later, until maturity or earlier redemption by check or draft mailed by the Registrar or its successor on such Interest Payment Date to the registered owners of the Notes at such registered owner's address as it appears on the Note register maintained by the Registrar or its successor at the close of business on the fifteenth day (whether or not a business day) immediately preceding such Interest Payment Date (the "Record Date"), subject to the provisions of Section 4 hereof.

Section 3. BOKF, National Association, Lincoln, Nebraska, is hereby designated to serve as Paying Agent and Registrar for the Notes. The Registrar shall serve in such capacities under the terms of an agreement entitled "Paying Agent and Registrar's Agreement" between the County and the Registrar, the form of which shall be acceptable to and approved and executed by an Authorized Officer. The Registrar shall have only such duties and obligations as are expressly specified by this Resolution and the Paying Agent and Registrar's Agreement, and no other duties or obligations shall be implied to the Registrar, except as may be set forth in a written agreement between the County and a successor Registrar.

The County reserves the right to remove the Registrar upon 30 days' notice and upon the appointment of a successor Registrar, in which event the predecessor Registrar shall deliver all cash and bonds in its possession to the successor Registrar and shall deliver the bond register to the successor Registrar. The Authorized Officers, or each individually, is authorized to remove the Registrar as provided herein if such officer determines that removal is in the best interest of the County. Upon such removal, any Authorized Officer is authorized to appoint a successor Registrar and to execute an agreement with such successor Registrar in a form substantially similar to the Paying Agent and Registrar's Agreement, but with such changes as such officer shall deem appropriate or necessary.

The Registrar shall keep and maintain for the County books for the registration and transfer of the Notes at its designated corporate trust office, as located initially in Lincoln, Nebraska, but subject to change in the discretion of the Registrar upon notice in writing to the County and to the registered owners of the Notes (the "Designated Office"). The names and registered addresses of the registered owner or owners of the Notes shall at all times be recorded in such books. Any Note may be transferred pursuant to its provisions at the Designated Office of the Registrar by surrender of such Note for cancellation, accompanied by a written instrument of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Registrar, duly executed by the registered owner in person or by such owner's duly authorized agent, and thereupon the Registrar, on behalf of the County, will deliver at the Designated Office (or send by registered mail to the transferee owner or owners thereof at such transferee owner's or owners' risk and expense), registered in the name of the transferee owner or owners, a new Note or Notes of the same series, interest rate, aggregate principal amount and maturity. To the extent of the denominations authorized for the Notes by this Resolution, one Note may be transferred for several such Notes of the same series, interest rate and maturity, and for a like aggregate principal amount, and several such Notes may be transferred for one or several such Notes, respectively, of the same series, interest rate and maturity and for a like aggregate principal amount. In every case of transfer of a Note, the surrendered Note shall be canceled and destroyed. All Notes issued upon transfer of the Notes so surrendered shall be valid obligations of the County evidencing the same obligation as the Notes surrendered and shall be entitled to all the benefits and protection of this Resolution to the same extent as the Notes upon transfer of which they were delivered. The County and the Registrar shall not be required to transfer any Note during any period from any Record Date until its immediately following Interest Payment Date or to transfer any Note called for redemption for a period of 30 days next preceding the date fixed for redemption.

Section 4. If payments of interest due on the Notes on an Interest Payment Date are not timely made, such interest shall cease to be payable to the registered owners as of the Record Date for such Interest Payment Date and shall be payable to the registered owners of the Notes as of a special date of record for payment of such defaulted interest as shall be designated by the Registrar whenever monies for the purpose of paying such defaulted interest become available.

Section 5. If the date for payment of the principal or of interest on the Notes shall be a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday or a day on which banking institutions in the city where the Designated Office is located are authorized by law or executive order to close, then the date for such payment shall be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday or a day on which such banking institutions are authorized to close, and payment on such day shall have the same force and effect as if made on the nominal date of payment.

Section 6. The Notes shall be subject to redemption, in whole or in part, prior to maturity at any time on or after September 15, 2018 (or such other date as may be determined in the Designation), at par plus accrued interest on the principal amount redeemed to the date fixed for redemption. The County may select the Notes to be optionally redeemed in its sole discretion. If less than all Notes of any maturity are to be called for redemption, the Registrar shall select by lot the particular Notes of such maturity to be redeemed. The Notes shall be redeemed only in denominations of $5,000 or integral multiples thereof. Notes redeemed in part only shall be surrendered to the Registrar in exchange for new Notes evidencing the unredeemed principal thereof. The County shall give written notice to the Registrar of its election to redeem Notes at least 45 days prior to the said redemption date, or such shorter period as shall be acceptable to the Registrar. Notice of redemption of any Note called for redemption shall be given, at the direction of the County by the Registrar by mail not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the then-registered owner), first class, postage prepaid, sent to the registered owner of such Note at said owner's registered address. Such notice shall designate the Note or Notes to be redeemed by maturity or otherwise, the date of original issue and the date fixed for redemption and shall state that such Note or Notes are to be presented for prepayment at the Designated Office of the Registrar. In case of any Note partially redeemed, such notice shall specify the portion of the principal amount of such Note to be redeemed. No defect in the mailing of notice for any Note shall affect the sufficiency of the proceedings of the County designating the Notes called for redemption or the effectiveness of such call for Notes for which notice by mail has been properly given and the County shall have the right to direct further notice of redemption for any such Note for which defective notice has been given."

Larson opened the discussion on ways to cut the county's costs on health insurance by referencing the June 20th meeting when he had proposed offering a cash in lieu program and requiring employees to contribute toward dependent coverage. Options and concerns were discussed, Larson will prepare additional spreadsheets for the August 8th meeting.

- Items discussed under comments, concerns, questions:
 - The City of Wayne will be proposing an amended interlocal agreement for dispatch services with an annual inflationary increase
 - The bulk fuel storage tanks in Carroll have been repainted
 - Chiefs Way has been opened to traffic. The project went from preconstruction to pouring concrete in a week thanks to Gehring Construction and Mainelli Wagner & Associates
 - Work has now started on South Centennial Road
 - EMC Insurance Company has requested a quote to rebuild the county shed at 123 S Lincoln Street

The meeting was recessed until Tuesday, August 8, 2017, at 9:00 a.m.

Wayne, Nebraska
August 1, 2017

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting was called to order by Chairman Rabe at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, August 8, 2017, in the upstairs conference room of the Courthouse. Chairman Rabe, Members Burbach and Larson, Attorney Pieper, Sheriff Dwinell, and Clerk Finn were present. Notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on August 3, 2017. A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted and accessible to the public.

Advanced Consulting Engineering Project Manager John Zwingman spoke to the board about the need for corner locates for the wind tower project. Research for ties and corner calls, county excavation and corner setting could total $1,000 to $1,500 per corner. Zwingman will contact other counties to see how they handled these costs.

Dwinell reported the Security Committee is considering installing additional locks in the courthouse. The State Fire Marshall will review potential locations, and a locksmith will be consulted. The committee is also researching a wired camera system.

Larson gave updated information on a cash in lieu program for health insurance. Potential savings with the implementation of cash in lieu, and employees contributing toward their dependent's coverage was discussed.

Several officials and employees spoke to the board stressing the role of insurance in their employment with the county. After extensive debate, a motion was made by Burbach and seconded by Larson to implement a cash in lieu program with payments of $375, and a 5% employee contribution rate toward dependent health coverage, both to be effective January 1, 2018. Roll call vote: Burbach, Larson - aye, Rabe - nay; motion carried.

A budget work session was held.

Philip Clement and Kimberly Dickey of NEXTERa Energy and David Levy of BairdHolm Attorneys at Law were present to discuss the Sholes Wind Energy Project. NEXTERa is still in the process of acquiring the necessary leases. Once the boundaries are set the surveying can be done and they can determine where the turbines will go. Work will start in the spring of 2018 or 2019. OPDD has a contract for the energy produced. Numerous questions from the board and the public were answered.

Fee Reports: None.
