Blue Devils hold on for 30-28 road win against Chadron

Justin Dean throws a hug around Wayne High football coach Russ Plager as the rest of the team joins in the celebration following Wayne's 30-28 win over Chadron on Friday. It was Wayne's first playoff win in 34 years.

By Michael Carnes
For The Herald

CHADRON — The last time Wayne High won a football playoff game, "Flashdance" was one of the top movies of the year.

It would be 34 years before the Blue Devils would feel the thrill of victory in the postseason — and what a feeling it was.

Making the six-hour bus ride out west to Chadron, the Blue Devils returned home late Friday night tired, but victorious, after claiming a 30-28 win over the Cardinals in the opening round of the Class C-1 playoffs, ending a 10-game playoff losing streak that dated back to a 9-7 loss to Aurora on Nov. 7, 1983.

Prior to Friday's win, the only victory Wayne had experienced in 11 state playoff games was a 13-10 overtime win over Crete in their playoff debut five days before the loss to Aurora.

Coach Russ Plager said the win was a long time coming for the program.

"I haven't been here very long so I don't know a lot about the history, but I knew that these kids are fighters," he said. "They fight hard and they played a great ball game."

At a pep rally the day before the game, Plager called the long journey west a "business trip" and said there was a lot the team had to contend with as it prepared for their matchup with the Cardinals.

"There's the travel and the nerves and so many other things that go into this trip, and the kids played really hard," he said. "It was a tight one at the end and we didn't close it out as well as I would have liked, but I was really proud of how the kids played."

After the two teams traded punts to start the game, Wayne broke the ice with a one-yard sneak by senior quarterback Beau Bowers to give the visitors the early 6-0 advantage. Wayne drove 49 yards in nine plays, highlighted by Bowers' 15-yard pass to Brennan O'Reilly and a 17-yard run by Juan Vergara that set up Bowers' fourth-down sneak.

The Eagles came right back on their next possession, tying the game at 6-6 on a five-yard run by Coy Bila, but Wayne would take the lead for good early in the second period when Vergara scored the first of three touchdowns on a six-yard scamper. Bowers found Zane Jackson for the two-point conversion pass to make it a 14-6 game with 10:53 to go in the first half.

Chadron would come back midway through the period after blocking a Kaleb Anderson punt to give them the ball at the Blue Devils' 16-yard line. Logan Tiensvold hit Jeff Cerny with a short five-yard pass, but Wayne thwarted the conversion to make it 14-12 with 6:49 to go.

NextEra Energy gives update on Sholes project

By Calyn Dunklau
calyn@wayneherald.com

A recent call to Phil Clement, project manager of the Sholes Wind Energy Center, led to an update on the project as a whole.

The project, a large 160 megawatt facility, will be constructed in rural Wayne County west of Carroll near the village of Sholes. With a capital cost of over $250 million, the wind center is set to bring in approximately $30 million in property taxes over the first 30 years.

Landowners will be paid an estimated $40 million over that same first 30 years and NextEra estimates between 6 and 10 full time operations jobs will become available with the completion of the wind facility.

When Clement and two others visited the Wayne County Board of Commissioners a few months ago, the room was packed full of county residents wanting to know what NextEra's plan was -- something the company representatives gladly discussed, answering numerous questions and taking down their own notes.

In that meeting, mid-October was the hopeful time frame to have all land leases signed and be ready for the next phase.

According to Clement, that schedule hasn't changed much at all, with what he said was over 95 percent of what's needed being complete.

"We're essentially done," Clement said of the lease agreement phase. "We've been working with the commissioners giving information in general and on this project and the company."

At this point, Clement said, NextEra simply wants to put as much information as possible out to the public, which is why they have an email address that was given to the commissioners for the public to use. Any questions anyone has can be directed to that email address which will be going to Clement and others to be answered.

Right now, Clement said the company is working hard on surveying on the possible turbine locations to ensure there aren't any unknowns underground.

Along with that, Clement said that the project is working through the process with the county and many other entities such as the Department of Transportation and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission on permitting and permissions and things like environmental impact studies.

"They say measure twice, cut once," Clement said with a laugh. "We're making sure everything is going well."

Construction won't begin until at least spring of 2018, but tentatively, the company hopes to start construction by June 2018 and then be operational by the end of 2018 barring any complications or necessary changes.

With the hard part winding down, Clement said the company is looking forward to the future.

"The reception has been great. Wayne County has been great to work with," he said. "We are looking forward to working in Wayne County."

NextEra Energy is the largest generator of wind energy in the world, operating more than 115 wind projects across 20 states and four Canadian provinces. The company is capable of generating power to more than 3.7 million homes with its own facilities.

Spook-tacular fun

Area churches and organizations hosted numerous trunk-or-treat events this year, some of which were moved to indoor locations to keep kids a little warmer. The Wayne Fire Department was on hand at the Methodist Church's event handing out candy and posing for pictures. Games were set up and hot cocoa was handed out in several spots. Even Wayne's finest four-legged citizens got in on the fun this week with the downtown trick-or-treating for pooches was held. The home above was all decked out for the spooky holiday from fun lights to giant spiders.

Dates and locations set for local Tour of Homes

The Friends of the Wayne Museum have set the dates and announced the names of those who will have their homes open for this year's Tour of Homes.

Five homes in Wayne and the Wayne Museum will be part of this year's tour, set for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-18. Tours will take place from 5 to 8 p.m. on Friday and 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Homes on this year's tour include Mark Kanitz and Lukas Rix, Deb Harm, Rod and Lorita Tompkins, John and Sherry Dorman and Steven and Dr. Marysz Rames. In addition, the Wayne County Museum will be decorated and a part of the tour.

Tickets are $15 each, with proceeds from the event going toward general upkeep of the museum.

Advance tickets for the event may be purchased at all Wayne banks, the Wayne Area Economic Development Office and Rustic Treasures. Tickets will also be sold at the museum during the tour.

Deb Harm's home is located at 414 Douglas Street. Built in 1905 for J.G. Mines (who started Mines Jewelry), this house represents the typical American Foursquare design - square, two-story with four bedrooms upstairs and front porch. Notice the cozy seating area there for warm summer evenings.

This home retains much of its original features - quarter sewn oak woodwork and floors, two sets of five panel pocket doors and open stairs. All the wood floors have been refinished. It was typical to use the best woods on the main floor for guests to see and less expensive fir upstairs where only family would be. The original plans are still in the home.

Changes over the years have included an updated bathroom upstairs, converting a pantry into a 3/4 bath on the first floor, and updating the kitchen (just this past year).

A small back porch was opened to be a banquet eating area. The back door opens onto a deck for outdoor dining. The light fixtures throughout are new, as well, and the windows were replaced with energy efficient vinyl windows. There is also a finished fam-

Investment club celebrates 25 years in existence

E&L (Earn and Learn) Investment Club celebrated its 25th anniversary on Sept. 29 with a social event in Wisner.

The group of 13 women gathered at the Feller Commodities bull and bear statues for a group photo.

"This was our Plan B, as Plan A, going to the New York Stock Exchange to visit the original statues did not work out," said Jan Gamble, an original member of the club.

The 14 members of the club still meet monthly at Taco's & More.

"The Gathes have generously allowed us to use the room for free in exchange for dining there following our meetings," Gamble said.

The investment club was started by deceased member Sandra Schulz. She placed an ad in the Wayne Herald asking women interested in making money by investing to join the group.

E&L was formed in September of 1992 with 23 members. Eight of the original members are still a part of the group.

In February of 2015 the Omaha World Herald ran a feature story on the club. At that time, the club was noted as having beaten the Standard & Poors 500 annual rate of 9.4 percent growth. The club was at 11.78 percent.

At that same time, E&L was featured in Better Marketing Magazine.

Currently one of the members is still employed. The remainder are all volunteering their time and talents throughout their communities.

The club members now own 100 shares or more of each stock, with the exception of the last two purchases. They own a total of 19 stocks.

"Our portfolio of 19 stocks is very diversified. Most of them are with companies our members have had personal knowledge. With the help of the internet and our women's intuition, we hope to continue for a few more years," Gamble said.

Tour of Homes

room in the basement, but it not included on the tour. The quilts in the bedrooms were created by Deb's mother, the late Delores Lammers of Randolph.

Jill Brodersen has decorated this home in a Santa theme from her own and her mother's collections. Every ornament on the front porch tree is some form of a Santa. And, there may be a surprise for all visitors.

Over the years, at least eight families have lived here, including Deb and her children. It awaits another family to call it "home."

The Rod and Lorita Tompkins house is located at 420 Douglas Street.

Ten original stained glass windows add elegance to this Victorian home. Built in 1888 for Frank Northrup, Wayne's first city attorney, it reflects Charles Eastlake's influence on architecture during that period. Notice all the various exterior details.

When the Tompkins moved into the home in 1978, the front porch had been remodeled into Craftsman style, a glaring departure from Victorian. It has since been restored to its original appearance, the design copied from a photo of the home taken around 1900.

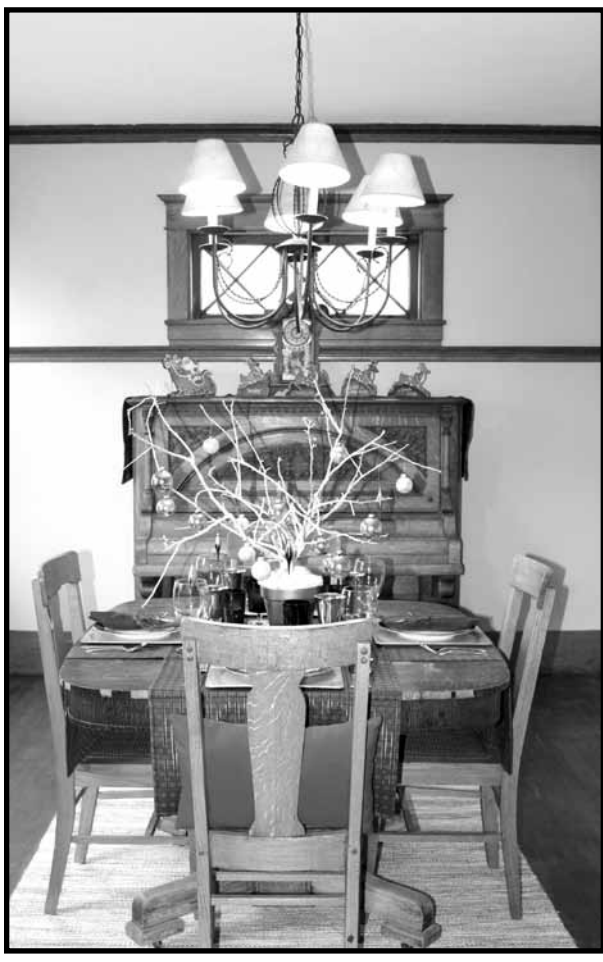

Upon entry, notice the honey-colored oak woodwork (none has ever been painted or refinished), the very ornate solid brass hardware, the 10 foot ceilings, open stairway, three sets of pocket doors, front and back parlors, fireplace and china closet.

Mrs. Tompkins is an active member of the Historical Society. Her interest in historical preservation is evident throughout the home. The wide wallpaper borders are reproductions of papers used in the 1880s. Notice her collection of gilded picture frames.

Off-white lace curtains give guests a feeling of nostalgia. Electricity was added in 1926 and several fixtures are from that era. Rod made the long, solid walnut buffet in the dining room about 45 years ago. It is mortise and tenon construction without a single nail.

In 1992 a small back porch was enlarged to be a four-season room. In 2010 the kitchen was gutted and the eating area bumped out for more space. The large window addition overlooks a brick patio, outdoor fountain and flower gardens.

Lorita has always wanted a Hooser cupboard but there wasn't room, so a cabinet beside the refrigerator was designed to look similar and would be her baking center. Notice her collection of copperware and small crockery. The pantry cupboard is original to the house and was the basis for the style of cherry cabinets. The original wood floor was refinished. A tiny half bath was relocated to the new laundry room addition. The exterior of this copies the original decorative elements of the home.

The State Historical Society has commented on how well these additions blend into the existing structure.

The tour does not include the second floor which has four bedrooms, a bath and airy sun porch which is used as a sewing room off the master bedroom. This house is best viewed during the daylight to see the beauty of the windows and their jewels.

Samantha Bierbower will be providing music for the enjoyment of all attendees during the tour.

Rod and Lorita's tradition is to host Christmas morning brunch for their three married children, five grandchildren and two fiancées.

Haven House notes Domestic Violence Awareness Month

This October marked the 31st National Domestic Violence Awareness Month since it was first observed in 1987.

Unfortunately, the issue of domestic violence is not limited to only this month. Year round Haven House, a local domestic violence and sexual assault agency, works to help victims/survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking.

Statistics show 268 individuals who walked through the doors of Haven House in 2016. Many of these women, children, and men came to Haven House for hope and discovered a new life previously thought impossible. These individuals had come from homes where abuse was normal. Each person was either belittled with unspeakable names, mentally manipulated, or physically injured by their partner and this abuse soon became an accepted part of daily life.

Haven House has been working since 1978 to help victims/survivors of Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne counties. All services offered by Haven House are free and confidential and it is only because of the support of the community that Haven House can continue to do what it does.

"Our shelters have been continuously filled with survivors taking back their lives. It is great to see the joy and hope in the eyes of those who escape their abusive homes and work with Haven House to live life on their own terms," said Amy Munderloh, Executive Director of Haven House. "It is crucial that we continue working to raise awareness, because we have seen that as more and more people know what we do at Haven House, they discover there's help and they aren't alone. They no longer have to live in fear."

During the month of October Haven House worked to raise awareness by speaking with community groups, setting up awareness displays, working with area media, and even hosting a self-defense class. However, Haven House will continue raising awareness in northeast Nebraska because they know domestic violence doesn't stop at the end of October.

"What if it's you? Someone you know? It's time to get help. Even if you just need to talk to somebody. Haven House is there for you. Getting the help you need and discovering the life you were truly meant to live starts by just dialing 1-800-440-4633, anytime of the day or night. It's free. It's confidential," Munderloh said.

Anyone who would like to join Haven House with helping domestic violence survivors is asked to call (402) 375-5433 or email hh@havenhousefsc.org to see how you can be involved.

WSC presents 'The Secret in the Wings... a Dark and Hilarious Theatrical Tale'

Suspense, surprise, and levity loom large in The Secret in the Wings by playwright Mary Zimmerman. Wayne State College proudly presents this imaginative play Thursday-Saturday, Nov. 16-18 at 7 p.m. and again on Sunday, Nov. 19 at 3 p.m.

All shows take place in the Black Box Theatre located in the Lied Performing Arts Annex of the Peterson Fine Arts Building. Ticket prices are $5 per person, with free admission for Wayne State College students, faculty and staff. Tickets are available at the door, with no reserved seats. Seating is limited.

The Secret in the Wings is a visual exploration through a dreamlike world of obscure fairy tales.

The show begins with Mady's parents leaving her with their neighbor, Mr. Bjorklund, for a night out. Mady believes Mr. Bjorklund is a monster, which her parents dismiss as childish nonsense. As the babysitter begins to read a storybook, characters come to life with one story overlapping another just at the brink of disaster. Inventive lighting and a minimalist stage add theatrical flair and mystery.

The cast and crew includes WSC students, faculty and community members. Mollie Spieker directs the play as an adjunct instructor, assisted by Claire Barnes of Wayne. For more information, contact Mollie Spieker at mospiek1@wsc.

Tarrin Beller (4) and Megan Gebhardt (6) team up for a block on a Winona State attack during action Saturday at Rice Auditorium.

Wildcats get big road win over Augustana

No. 22-ranked Wayne State used 16 kills from senior rightside hitter Erin Gross along with double-doubles from sophomore Katie Stephens and freshman Alyssa Ballenger to earn a 25-17, 18-25, 25-23 and 25-18 win at No. 16 Augustana Tuesday at the Elmen Center in Sioux Falls.

The Wildcats rode the hot hitting of Stephens in the first set (eight kills) to post the first-set win. Wayne State forced seven Augustana attack errors while posting a .294 attack percentage to get off to the fast start.

The Wildcats opened the second set with a 6-0 lead, but that advantage quickly evaporated as the Vikings stormed back to take the second set and even the match at 1-1.

Augustana came out on fire in the third set, building leads of 9-3 and 15-9, but Wayne State rallied and turned a 17-14 deficit into a 23-18 lead as the Wildcats finished strong to take the third set. The Wildcats forced eight Augustana errors (three on blocks) and used five kills from Stephens and four by Erin Gross to rally for the set win.

In the fourth set, Wayne State used seven kills from Gross and forced seven more Augustana errors with four coming on blocks, and Megan Gebhardt, Maddie Duffy and Stephens each had service aces to help seal the win.

Gross led a balanced Wildcat attack at the net with 16 kills followed by Stephens with her fourth straight double-double on 16 kills and 18 digs. Alyssa Ballenger accounted for her second double-double of the season with 10 kills and 10 digs. Megan Gebhardt handed out 45 set assists and had two of Wayne State's four service aces. Haley Kauth notched 16 digs with freshman Hope Carter adding 15 digs.

Wayne State (16-10, 9-7 NSIC) will be on the road this weekend with NSIC matches at Bemidji State Friday at 6 p.m. and Minnesota Crookston Saturday at 2 p.m.

Last week the Wildcats suffered a pair of rare home conference losses as they were defeated by Upper Iowa and Winona State.

On Friday, Upper Iowa rallied from a two-set deficit to defeat the Wildcats 23-25, 23-25, 25-21, 25-9, 15-12.

Wayne State came out hitting very well, posting 18 kills and a .390 attack percentage in the first set while holding off a late Upper Iowa rally. Erin Gross posted seven kills with Jaci Brahmaer adding six for the Wildcats.

The second set featured six ties, but Wayne State used seven kills from Brahmaer and a .415 team attack percentage in the set with 18 kills and just one error to hold off the Peacocks and take the 2-0 advantage.

The third set saw the two teams exchange nine ties and four lead changes, but Upper Iowa pulled away late while holding the Wildcats to just a .100 attack percentage with seven errors.

Brahmaer ended the night with a career-high 21 kills on a .543 attack percentage to lead the Wildcats. Gross followed with 19 kills and Katie Stephens had 12 along with 16 digs for her fifth double-double of the year. Megan Gebhardt also had a double-double with 56 set assists and 12 digs. Haley Kauth had 17 digs while senior Bree Ackermann accounted for 11.

No. 17 Winona State defeated Wayne State 22-25, 25-20, 25-20 and 25-21 in a Saturday afternoon matchup.

The Wildcats came away with the first set thanks to a balanced attack while forcing seven Winona State attack errors. With the score tied at 21, Wayne State got kills from Tarrin Beller and Alyssa Ballenger to take a 23-21 lead.

Winona State got the hot hand attacking in the second set with a .421 percentage to tie the match at a set apiece. The Warriors jumped out to a 10-1 lead in the third and Wayne State never got closer than four points after that. Freshman Ali Timmermans led WSC in the set with four kills on seven attacks.

Wayne State trailed for much of the final set, but rallied to tie the score at 20-20 before the visiting Warriors finished the set scoring five of the final six points to take the match. Katie Stephens led Wayne State with 14 kills and 13 digs. Brahmaer added 10 kills and five blocks. Maddie Duffy had two service aces and Gebhardt had 26 assists.

Kauth accounted for 24 digs with sophomore reserve Morgan Alexander credited with 13 digs and 12 assists.

Blue Devils dominate Pierce for C1-7 subdistrict title in Norfolk

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

NORFOLK — Pierce has had Wayne's number the last two years in the volleyball postseason, winning a pair of come-from-behind five-set thrillers.

That changed in an emphatic manner Tuesday. The Blue Devils ran out to an amazing 15-1 lead in the first set and never let Pierce entertain the thought of a comeback, sweeping the Bluejays 25-15, 25-19, 25-20 to claim the C1-7 subdistrict championship and a spot in Saturday's substate round that determines the field for next week's state tournament.

Wayne scored the first five points of the match on kills by Ashton Boyer, Emily Armstrong and Lauren Pick, along with a Boyer ace serve and a Pierce attack error. Pierce stopped that early run, but had no answer for the 10-point run that followed as the Blue Devils got three kills and a dominating block of Pierce's Maggie Brahmmer by Pick, giving Wayne the big advantage early that they never gave up.

"Every time I looked up (at the scoreboard) I got more proud of us and it made me want to play harder," senior Kylie Hammer said of the run, which included one of her kills. "We came out wanting to win and we knew it was going to be tough, so coming out strong really worked to our advantage."

Coach Traci Krusemark said she thought her team could serve to Pierce's weaknesses and got the job done early on, but even she was surprised by her team's fast start.

"It was surprising," she said. "I knew we had to serve tough and had some things figured out for them and it was a matter of putting the ball in the right place. We just tried to keep them out of system and that's what happened for the first part of the set."

Pierce put together a small run late in the set behind the hitting and blocking of Brahmmer and Meredith Faase, but Wayne countered with kills by Boyer and a Hammer block to take the easy first-set win. Wayne got out to a 7-2 lead in the second set behind kills from Armstrong, Pick and Hammer, but Pierce kept the set close by going to Brahmmer on the short set time and again.

"She's just a great player, and they want to get the ball to her any time they can," Krusemark said. "I told the girls that we're not going to stop her all the time, but if we can contain her and dig up a tip or get a block and then come back and score, we can keep the momentum on our side."

Wayne was able to do that, as Armstrong served an ace and Hammer followed with a kill to make it 20-15. Pick and Shania Anderson had kills later in the set and Hammer finished off the second set with a kill to give Wayne the 2-0 lead.

Pierce put up more of a fight in the third set, getting out to a 10-5 lead before Anderson, Hammer and Armstrong punched home kills to ignite a four-point rally that started to turn the momentum back in Wayne's favor. After a kill by Pierce's Faase, Pierce returned the ball back on a service error and Korrina Niemann had back-to-back service aces and Pick followed a time out with a kill to make it 14-11 and Wayne never trailed again.

"We knew coming in that we'd have to have a lot of energy to come out and play them, and the way we played tonight was phenomenal," Anderson, the senior middle hitter, said. "We knew (in the third set) there would be some setbacks, but we just had to keep firing away and we could beat them."

Krusemark said she was happy her team didn't let up after winning the first two in dominating fashion.

"Pierce is a good team and we knew it wouldn't be easy after those first two," she said. "We got down a bit and were able to come back and get the momentum back on our side and it made it tough for (Pierce) to come back."

Wayne State men picked 11th in NSIC preseason poll

Wayne State was voted 11th overall and sixth in the South Division in the 2017-18 Preseason NSIC Men's Basketball Coaches' Poll.

The Wildcats received a total of 91 points in voting conducted by league coaches and return all five starters from last year's team that was 10-19 overall and 8-14 in the NSIC.

Northern State edged Southwest Minnesota State by two points (213-211) as the team to beat in the league this season. The Wolves received eight first-place votes with the Mustangs right behind at seven. Augustana was third overall with 190 points followed by MSU Moorhead at 187 and the final first-place vote with Minnesota State fifth with 172 points.

The NSIC South Division poll finds Southwest Minnesota State edging Augustana 45-44 for the top spot followed by Minnesota State in third with 37 points and Upper Iowa fourth at 32. Sioux Falls was fifth with 23 points followed by Wayne State at 20, Winona State (15) and Concordia-St. Paul (8).

Wayne State junior Kendall Jacks is the team's Player to Watch in the NSIC this season. The 6-foot-4 guard from Bettendorf, Iowa was a second-team All-NSIC selection last season after leading the Wildcats in scoring at 16.1 points per game. He ranked 11th in the league in scoring and was seventh in field goal percentage (.562) while scoring double figures in 27 of 29 games that included the final 21 in a row. Jacks also averaged 4.0 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game while shooting 56.2 percent from the field and 78.1 percent at the free throw line.

Wayne State plays an exhibition game on Friday, Nov. 3 at Wright State (Ohio) at 6 p.m. followed by the regular season opener on Friday, Nov. 10 at Nebraska-Kearney at 7 p.m. Two days later, WSC has its home opener in a rematch vs. Nebraska-Kearney starting at 3 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

Unified bowling team debuts season Saturday

The Wayne High unified bowling teams started the season Saturday with a match against Bancroft-Rosalie and West Point-Beemer. The team of Josh Turner, Andi Belt and Carter Fernau rolled a 663 to finish in second place out of seven teams from the three schools. The trio finished 28 pins behind the winning team from West Point-Beemer.

The team of Jess Gibson, Mersadies Buderus and Josh Lutt was fourth with a 624, while the team of Olaf Jurotich, Natalie Bentjen and Ruben Vega finished with a 418.

Wildcats come from behind for 27-23 win over Concordia-St. Paul Redshirt freshman quarterback Mitchell Hansen fired a 15-yard touchdown pass to senior Nate Rogers on third-and-14 with :23 left, giving Wayne State College a dramatic 27-23 win Saturday over Concordia-St. Paul in Northern Sun Conference action at Bob Cunningham Field in Wayne.

The first quarter was an offensive slugfest. Wayne State scored on the second play of the game as senior running back Rashad Trimble raced 70 yards for a touchdown, giving the Wildcats a 7-0 lead just 48 seconds into the contest. Wayne State made it 14-0-0 later in the first as junior quarterback Taylor Reedy fired a 20-yard scoring pass to Layne Sullivan at the 3:01 mark of the quarter.

Concordia-St. Paul marched 67 yards on five plays, with sophomore quarterback Maxon Hutton finding the end zone on a nine-yard run making the score 14-7 after one quarter. Both teams kicked field goals to make it 17-10 at intermission, with Ethan Knudson hitting from 18 yards out early in the second quarter and the Golden Bears answering later in the period.

The game turned into a defensive struggle for the third quarter and most of the fourth. Wayne State was limited to just 40 yards in the third quarter while Concordia-St. Paul used two more field goals to pull within one at 17-16 entering the fourth quarter.

The Wildcats put together a 10-play, 50 yard drive late third quarter and into the fourth and scored on a 32-yard field goal from Knudson to make it 20-16 with 14:03 to play.

Later in the quarter, Concordia-St. Paul blocked a Wayne State punt and had the ball first-and-goal at the Wildcats 7-yard line, but the Wildcat defense held the Golden Bears and got the ball back on downs.

Concordia-St. Paul then forced a three-and-out and got the ball in great field position at the Wayne State 34. Four plays later, the Golden Bears took their first lead of the game as backup quarterback Ron Johnson connected with Deceon Schumann on a three-yard pass, giving CSP a 23-20 lead with 2:56 remaining.

Hansen came on in place of Reedy, who was injured in the third period, and directed the Wildcats on a game-winning drive that covered 11 plays and 75 yards, ending on a 15-yard touchdown pass to Rogers for his only catch of the game with :23 left, giving the Wildcats the dramatic come-from-behind win.

Trimble led the Wildcats on the ground with 96 yards on 12 carries and one score, followed by Hansen with 43 yards on eight attempts.

Reedy completed 6-of-11 passes for 62 yards and one score while Hansen was 4-of-13 for 47 yards and a touchdown. Sullivan led the Wildcats in receiving with 47 yards on four catches. Rogers moved into second place all-time in career touchdown catches at Wayne State with his 25th scoring reception, his lone catch of the game.

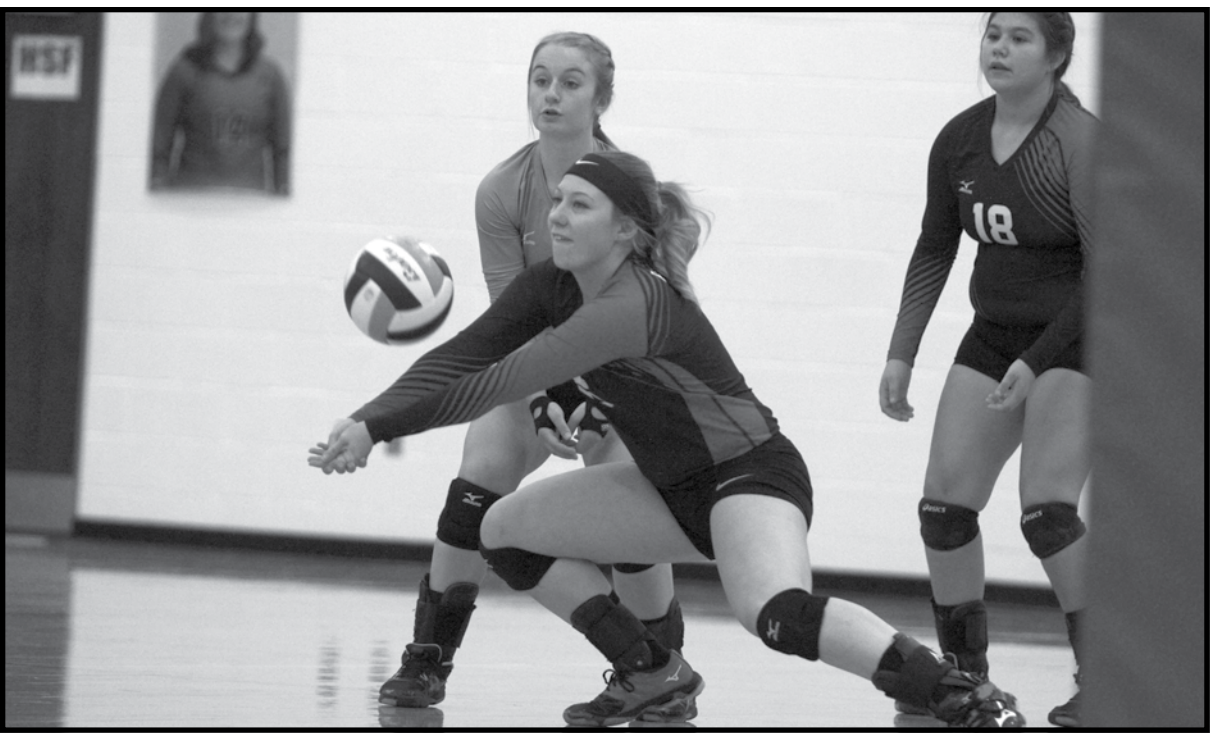

Redshirt freshman linebacker Ben Elznic paced the Wildcat defense with nine tackles and one fumble recovery. Ian Ailts added eight stops with a forced fumble and interception to end the game. Senior linebacker DeWayne Scott also had eight tackles while Aaron Wright and Glenn Harris each had interceptions for the Wildcats.

Wayne State (5-4, 3-2 NSIC South) will be on the road next Saturday for an NSIC South Division game at No. 3-ranked Minnesota State with kickoff set for 12 p.m. at Mankato, Minn.

Blake McCorkindale locks eyes with a Friend defender as he carries the ball during the Eagles' 52-12 loss to Friend in the opening round of the D-2 playoffs.

Bulldogs handle Allen in D-2 playoff opener

FRIEND — The wind was definitely a factor, as Friend's defense crowded the line of scrimmage, forcing errant passes and made running the ball very difficult for the smaller Eagles in a 52-12 decision in the opening round of the Class D-2 playoffs.

All said, the final score looks like the game was never close. Statistically, the Bulldogs outgained the Eagles 259-215, but six Eagle fumbles and one interception compounded the outcome.

"They were a good team, but we made them real good, by turning the ball over and missing a few defensive assignments," coach Dave Uldrich said of the Eagles' playoff exit.

Through a very competitive first period the Bulldogs jumped to a 16-6 lead. One Bulldog score was the product of an Eagle turnover, as well as one Eagle drive ended deep in Friend territory.

The Bulldogs increased their lead to 32-6 at intermission following two other Eagle turnovers, and Allen never recovered from the onslaught of errors. The Eagles substituted early in the second half, as the Bulldogs continued with starters, extending their lead to 44-6 going to the final period.

Kyle Smith hit Devin Twohig on the next to last play of the first period to pull the Eagles with 10 at 16-6. Smith scored the final touchdown of the season on a five-yard run in the final period.

Smith led the rushing department, carrying 29 times for 126 yards and a score. Twohig caught all three of the Eagle completions for 35 yards and one score.

Isaac Verzani and Smith led the tacklers with 13 each. Smith returned one Friend pass interception back 39 yards right before halftime. Verzani added a fumble recovery.

The loss ends the Eagle season at 5-4. Four seniors played in their final game — Blake McCorkindale, Jacob Williams, Levi Woodward and Luis Rivera. A solid group of 20 underclassmen will return, along with a group of incoming eighth graders to start the 2018 season.

It's a juggling act for Noah Carr as he tries to hang on to the ball during Allen's 52-12 loss to Friend in the D-2 playoffs Thursday at Friend.

"It will be a time to retool some of our positions, but the team was a pleasure to work with and at times we were very good, and sometimes we struggled," Uldrich said. "The younger kids that never got their names in the paper deserve much credit for working hard to make our starting groups better daily. Nonetheless, we have a solid group returning next year, with a huge amount of experience. Congratulations to the team for their season."

Mason Lee makes a diving interception to kill a Chadron drive in the fourth quarter of Wayne's 30-28 win over the Cardinals in the C-1 playoffs Friday in Chadron.

in the half. Wayne's defense set up the next score after Vergara pressured Bila into throwing an interception. O'Reilly's pickoff set Wayne up at their own 27, and Bowers found Mason Lee on a third-down pass of 15 yards that Lee nearly broke for a big one before stepping on the Wayne sideline.

On the next play, Vergara raced 52 yards to the Chadron 7-yard line, setting up his second touchdown, a six-yard score with :52 left. Bowers found Marcus Fertig for the two-point conversion pass to give Wayne a 22-12 halftime advantage.

"That big hit (by Vergara) that caused the interception was a big play and gave us an emotional change that really got us going," Plager said. "I really felt our energy come along with that play."

Wayne would take its biggest lead of the game on its first drive of the second half, marching 58 yards in nine plays. Vergara took it the final 15 yards, escaping two would-be Cardinal tacklers and diving into the end zone for the score. Casey Koenig ran in what proved to be the winning two-point conversion to make it a 30-12 game with 6:06 left in the third.

Chadron countered with a score late in the period on a one-yard run by Bila to make it 30-20, then kept themselves in the game when they picked off a Bowers pass with 10:09 left but were unable to cash in the opportunity.

Wayne took over with 4:36 to go after Lee made a diving interception of a Bila pass, but the drive stalled near midfield and Chadron took the ball 63 yards in six plays to score with 1:34 left on a 15-yard pass from Bila to Cerny.

The Cardinals lined up for a last-ditch onside kick after the score, but Wayne recovered the ball near the Chadron sideline and ran out the clock to give the 12th seeded Blue Devils the upset win over the No. 5-seed Cardinals.

The Blue Devils racked up 349 yards in total offense and rode the legs of Vergara, the junior running back who rushed for 180 yards on 25 carries and scored three touchdowns.

"The line is the thing and they gave us the holes to run in," Vergara said after the game. "It felt really great today running behind them, and now we get to go home and try to get another win and get to the semifinals."

Juan Vergara breaks away from Chadron's Jake Lemmon on his way to his third rushing touchdown of the game in Wayne's 30-28 playoff win Friday. The Blue Devil junior rushed for 180 yards on 25 carries.

Senior lineman Justin Dean said getting the running game going was a key to Wayne's success.

"It was just a matter of having the will and the mentality to do it and we just had to get it done," he said. "It feels good (to win) after all those hours we put in, and all of that comes into play when you get in these close games."

O'Reilly added 42 yards on 12 carries, Bowers had 32 yards in five tries and Koenig rushed five times for eight yards.

Bowers was 8-of-12 for 96 yards at quarterback. Lee was the top receiver with 37 yards on four catches, with O'Reilly adding two for 29 yards, Jackson had one for 18 and Fertig added a two-yard catch.

Now, the 7-3 Blue Devils turn their attention to fourth-seeded Wahoo, who brings a 9-1 record to Wayne State College's Memorial Stadium for Friday's 7 p.m. kickoff after posting a 42-28 win over Kearney Catholic.

At this time of year, it's a matter of doing what it has taken to get you this far to keep the state title hopes alive, Plager said.

"This time of year you go home, take care of yourself and get back to your routine, and whoever they put in front of us is who we'll plan for," he said.

"It's going to be a tough one,"

Dean added. "But it's going to be tough no matter what. They don't get to the playoffs without being a good team, so we'll have to be ready."

1983....Wayne 13, Crete 10 OT

By Kevin Peterson
For the Herald

As the final seconds ticked off the game clock in last week's Wayne playoff football game at Chadron the Blue Devils managed to etch their name in the history books. The 30-28 victory was Wayne's first playoff win since 1983 when the Blue Devils defeated Crete by a 13-10 margin in overtime. Crete had the ball first in OT and could manage just a field goal.

Wayne took possession with Brad Moore under center. The QB ran for five yards on first down to the Cardinals five-yard line before advancing the ball to the three-yard line on second down. Kevin Koenig then plunged to the one-yard line on third down before Wayne called a timeout to confer with head coach Lonnie Ehrhardt as to a strategy for a fourth down and goal call.

The Blue Devils went for it and it was Koenig barreling in for the game-winning score. Wayne trailed 7-0 in the fourth quarter before an unlikely play turned out to be a game changer. On a fourth down and three play from Crete's 15-yard line. The attempted pitch play from quarterback Moore to Koenig bounced off the running back's shoulder pads. Koenig scooped the ball up and pitched it back to the quarterback who ran down the sideline past the first down mark at the 12-yard line and tight-roped into the endzone for the touchdown.

Koenig led the team in rushing on the night while Kevin Maly led the special teams play with nearly 70 yards on four punt returns. Leif Olson was very instrumental in keeping Crete backed up with solid punting the entire game. Koenig and Chris Wieseler paced the defense with a dozen tackles each with Dan Gross notching 11 tackles and Brian Loberg, six. Jim Poehlman had a pair of interceptions to aid in the victory.

Wakefield's Breanna Chase (8) and Emma Pommer (9) go up to block and Oakland-Craig attack while Jessica Borg (5) backs them up during C2-2 subdistrict action Monday at Pender.

Wakefield volleyball falls in subdistrict

Wakefield's postseason hopes were dashed in the semifinals of the C2-2 subdistrict tournament Monday at Pender, as the top-seeded Trojans fell in a four-set match with Oakland-Craig, 22-25, 25-22, 25-23, 25-10.

The match was tight throughout the first three sets. Wakefield got out to a sizable advantage early in the set, but Oakland-Craig fought back to tie the set at 22-22 before the Trojans closed out the opening set to take the early advantage.

The second and third sets were as tight as the first, but the Knights were able to come away with wins in both sets to take a 2-1 lead. They got out to a 4-0 advantage early in the final set and Wakefield was unable to overcome the early deficit, ending their season with an 11-14 record.

Jessica Borg had 11 kills and Rachel Brudigam added 10 for the Trojans. Breanna Chase added nine kills, Devaney Brown had eight and Hayden Ekberg and Emma Pommer each had three. Borg had 20 assists and Chase added 14. Brudigam had three ace serves, Borg added two and Chase, Jamie Dolph and Andrea Lopez each had one.

Defensively, Pommer had two blocks and three digs. Lopez and Brown each had 20 digs, Borg added 19, Dolph had six and Chase had four.

In their regular-season finale Friday, Wakefield won a four-set match at home Friday, defeating Madison 25-14, 25-27, 26-24, 25-17.

Brown and Borg each had 12 kills, Chase and Brudigam had seven apiece, Pommer had four and Ekberg added three. Borg had 17 assists and Chase added 15. Brudigam, Brown and Chase each had two ace serves. On defense, Borg had four blocks, Pommer had three and Brown had two. Brudigam had 19 digs, Borg and Lopez both had 10, Brown had nine, Chase had six and Dolph had five.

Wildcat women picked fourth in NSIC poll

Wayne State was picked to finish fourth overall and second in the South Division in the 2017-18 NSIC Women's Basketball Preseason Coaches' Poll, and senior center Paige Ballinger was named Preseason South Division Player of the Year for the second straight season in a vote of league coaches.

The Wildcats received 182 points overall and 44 points with three first-place votes in the South Division polls. Wayne State returns three starters from last year's team that was 23-7 overall and placed second in the NSIC South with a 16-6 league mark.

MSU Moorhead edged Northern State 213-209 as the team to beat in the NSIC this season. The Dragons collected 10 first-place votes with Northern State receiving four. Augustana was third overall with 200 points and the remaining two first-place votes followed by Wayne State (182) and Winona State (152) in the top five.

Concordia-St. Paul (140) was sixth followed by Minnesota State (132), Minnesota Duluth (126), University of Mary (125) and Sioux Falls (123) filling out the top 10 teams.

For the second straight season, Ballinger was selected as the Wayne State Player to Watch in the NSIC while also being voted the Preseason South Division Player of the Year. The 6-foot-1 senior from Pender was a first-team All-NSIC selection for a second straight year last season after averaging 14.9 points and 4.8 rebounds a game. She led the NSIC in blocked shots (2.6 per game) while ranking eighth in the league in field goal percentage (.498) and 10th in scoring. Ballinger scored in double figures in 24 games with eight contests of 20 or more points.

Wayne State opens the 2017-18 season on Friday, Nov. 3 at the Division II CCA/Disney Tip-Off Classic in Anaheim, California as the Wildcats meet Young Harris College (Ga.) at 1:15 p.m. Central time.

Crofton eliminates LCC in subdistrict match

The LCC volleyball team saw its season come to an end Monday, dropping a three-set match to Crofton in the play-in round of the C2-3 subdistrict at Wayne High School, 25-16, 25-23, 25-13.

LCC got off to a fast start and built a 13-8 lead early in the first set before Crofton went on a 10-1 run to turn that deficit into an 18-14 lead that helped them to the first-set win.

In the second set, the Lady Bears again took the early advantage, but Crofton bounced back to take a 21-17 lead before LCC rallied to tie the set at 23-23. Crofton was able to get the final two points of the set, then carried that momentum on to the sweep to end LCC's 8-18 season.

Maxon led the Lady Bears with seven kills and also had three ace serves and a block. Makayla Forsberg added five kills, Schutte had four and Delaney Ehlers and Ashley Wolfgram both had one. Ehlers had 14 assists, an ace serve and a block.

strong had six for Wayne. Boyer added five kills and Anderson and Avery each had three. Avery had 18 assists and Erin O'Reilly had seven. Armstrong had three ace serves, while Hammer, Boyer and Niemann each had two.

Defensively, Pick had four blocks and five digs. Hammer and Armstrong each had 12 digs, Boyer, Niemann and Hailey Backer each had six, O'Reilly had three and Avery had one.

In Monday's subdistrict final, Wayne had no problems with Madison, posting a 25-13, 25-14, 25-6 win.

Pick had a team-high 15 kills in the win, with Hammer adding seven, Anderson posting six and Armstrong and Grone adding four apiece. Avery had 21 assists and O'Reilly added 11. Boyer had three ace serves and Hammer and Niemann each had two.

Defensively, Niemann had 11 digs, Boyer added 10, Backer had seven, Hammer, Grone and Pick each had six and O'Reilly and Armstrong had five apiece.

On Thursday, the Blue Devils claimed consolation honors in the Mid State Conference tournament with a three-set win over Crofton, winning 25-18, 25-20, 25-23.

Pick led a balanced attack with nine kills, Armstrong added seven, Boyer had five, Anderson and Hammer each had four and Grone had three. Avery had 15 assists and O'Reilly had 10. Boyer had three ace serves and O'Reilly had two.

Defensively, Armstrong had 12 digs, Hammer had 11 and Boyer, Backer and Niemann each had 10. Pick had two blocks.

He's finally retiring after 44 years of bus driving. Hope you have a great retirement. The kids will miss you. Now it's your turn to act like a kid. Gary (Pops) Nelson From your family

Fourth grade students traveled to Nature Grove to watch dead trees being removed and learn about planting new ones. (Contributed photos)

Nature Grove begins three-year replacement

Planted in 1996 by the graduating classes of 2002, 2006 and 2007 as first, second, and sixth graders, and assisted by community men and women, the Nature Grove has been hit by the Scotch pine disease.

At this time, 10 dead trees have been removed and the remaining 12 may need to be removed in the future.

After meeting with a Tree Board member on Oct. 13, Northeast Nebraska State Forester Steve Rasmussen recommended that the dead/dying trees be removed as a three-year process.

On Oct. 25, fourth grade students (Class of 2026) and their teacher, Mr. Erickson, Tree Board members, and town maintenance employee Rick Chase were at the Nature Grove to begin the first phase of the tree replacement project.

Tree Board member Marcia Rastede helped the students identify the Scotch pine, the Ponderosa pine, and blue spruce trees in the grove. Tree Board member Willie Bertrand explained the cause and effect of the Scotch pine disease, and Tree Board member Donna Schroeder and Mr. Erickson helped students carry twigs which Rick had cut off the bottom of the two trees to be cut to the twig pile.

Then Rick cut down two trees as students watched and yelled "Timber" as each fell.

Then they watched as Rick chipped out the trunk of the tree he had cut down the previous day.

Next spring these same students and any adult community volunteers will plant six new varieties of evergreen trees as recommended by Steve Rasmussen.

Job prospects are promising for Northeast electrical students

Students enrolled in Northeast Community College's electrical construction and control and electromechanical technology programs should not run into too many obstacles when looking for employment upon completion of their college work.

"Job prospects are great for these students over the next 10 years," said Dan Froberg, electrical construction and control instructor. "I have companies call everyday looking for electrical personnel....apprentices, journeymen.... to start. They are also looking for our past graduates to fill jobs too."

Approximately 80 students in the programs had the opportunity recently to meet with employers. The Northeast Career Services Office organized a career fair right in the middle of the building the students call home during the academic year — the Applied Technology facility on Northeast's Norfolk campus.

Froberg said an event like this gives these students an idea as to what employers are looking for.

"The students can learn more about what they may need, both in terms of technical and interpersonal skills, and what the job pays. It's also a great networking opportunity for these students."

Froberg said some of electrical jobs can start at $15 to $20 an hour and many companies are offering good benefits to keep dedicated employees on staff.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the average salary for an electromechanical technician in Nebraska is $48,000. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports the annual salary range for electrical and electronics installers and repairers is $37,000 - $45,000 across Northeast's 20-county service area.

To learn more about the electrical construction and control and electromechanical technology programs, contact Northeast's Applied Technology Division at (402) 844-7216.

Wayne State hosts 'Evening of Choirs'

An Evening of Choirs celebrates perspectives on faith, life and death with songs inspired by the 500th anniversary of the Reformation. It will be held Monday, Nov. 20 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne at 7:30 p.m.

The concert features the Wayne State College Concert Choir and Women's Choir.

The Concert Choir is a 62-voice choral ensemble. The Women's Choir is a 30-voice treble choir, emphasizing repertoire for female voices. Assistant Professor of Music Matthew Armstrong directs the choirs with Staff Accompanist Shelly Armstrong.

Selections include Richte mich, Gott (Psalm 43) by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Set Me As A Seal Upon Your Heart by Rene Clausen, In Peace and Joy with text by Martin Luther and music by James Fritschel and How Lovely is thy Dwelling Place from The German Requiem by Johannes Brahms.

A special highlight is the premier of A Tennyson Trilogy by Matthew and Shelly Armstrong, a first-time opportunity to hear this particular set of songs performed together.

The concert concludes with a contemporary minor work entitled Untraveled Worlds, featuring The Black Box Trio; percussion instructors Brad Weber and Lauren Calkin; and student percussionist Jason Stech of Osmond. Trio members include WSC faculty Kathi Angerth, violin; Dr. Karl Kolbeck, clarinet; and Shelly Armstrong, piano.

The concert is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Armstrong at (402) 375-7358 or maarmst1@wsc.edu.

One of the many stops on its tour was Wayne during Chicken Days in July, shown above. The mobile museum's numerous interactive displays were educational and entertaining for all ages.

Nebraska 150's mobile children museum logs nearly 34,000 visitors

The Nebraska150 Celebration's largest project, "Truckin' Through Nebraska: A Mobile Children's Museum," has closed out its 42-community, 26-week tour of the state - logging close to 34,000 visitors, 6,000 miles and claiming the number one spot on the 2017 Nebraska Tourism Commission Digital Passport Program.

The Mobile Children's Museum received 1,688 Digital Passport Stamps, the most of 80 stops included the program. Total booklet stamp counts won't be released for a few weeks.

First Lady Susanne Shore said, "It was our privilege to bring this experience to so many of Nebraska's children. It took hundreds of amazing volunteers across the state working alongside us in their communities to make this program successful. I want to thank our generous sponsors for believing in our vision of uniting our state through a shared fun, educational experience for our kids. They put a lot of faith in us and I hope we exceeded their expectations."

Nebraska Passport Program Manager Erin Wirth said, "Passport participants loved visiting 'Truckin' Through Nebraska.' I heard over and over how much fun families had completing the activities and learning about Nebraska. As one traveler said, 'This was a wonderful Passport stop. My kids loved the experience this unique museum provided. What a wonderful way to celebrate 150 years of Nebraska history!'"

The Mobile Children's Museum was contained in a leased state-of-the-art trailer specially designed and outfitted for traveling museum exhibits. It launched in early April from the Omaha Children's Museum, which partnered with the Nebraska150 Celebration on the project.

Executive Director Regan Anson said, "One of the things we have been asked most often is what would happen to the museum when the tour concludes. I'm happy to say the exhibits will live on. We have gifted the majority of the components to our wonderful partner on the project, the Omaha Children's Museum. The one exception is the Nebraska Panorama photo wall, which has found a permanent home at the Nebraska State Fair. We are confident the exhibits will be put to excellent use and enjoyed by Nebraskans for years to come."

Omaha Children's Museum Executive Director

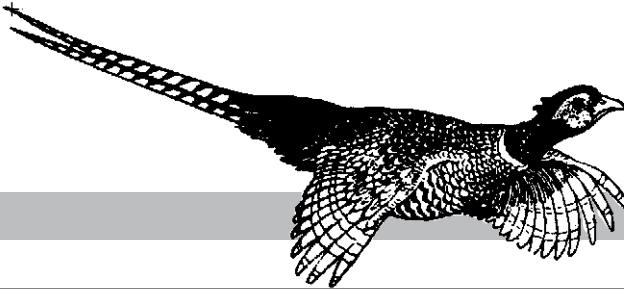

Lindy Hoyer said, "Omaha Children's Museum was honored to serve as a partner and consultant on this incredible statewide outreach. Our team made great friends and allies as we collaborated to fulfill the visionary commitment on the part of First Lady Susanne Shore to create something that would make a lasting impact on children and families across our great state. As we focus on what comes next, we are grateful to be the recipients of many of these educational components and look forward to upholding the commitment of our First Lady to continue getting them out of Omaha and into our state to reach even more children and families in the future."

The Nebraska150 Celebration created the Mobile Children's Museum to provide a fun, hands-on learning experience for children who may not otherwise be able to easily access a children's museum. Through play, interactivity and the latest technology, Nebraska's children were able to explore their heritage and envision their futures. The experience was intended to help power the imagination and create an excitement about learning.

Interior exhibits included areas where kids could build shelters and test them in a wind chamber or earthquake simulator, design their own 10-acre homestead, test their knowledge of Nebraska, create their own movie, explore toys from the past, craft their own postcards and more. Exhibits also surrounded the exterior of the trailer, allowing for optimal play and learning space. Those exhibits included a timed "chore" challenge obstacle course, foam block invention area and toy creation station.

The Mobile Children's Museum was sponsored in part by Cargill, Children's Hospital and Medical Center, First National Bank, Peter Kiewit Foundation, BNSF Railway, the Ricketts Family, Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America - Nebraska Chapter, AGC Nebraska Building Chapter, TransCanada, Nebraska Cattlemen Foundation and Nebraska Educational Savings Trust (NEST 529).

More information about the Nebraska150 Celebration is available at www.ne150.org, on Facebook at facebook.com/nebraska150 and on Twitter @ne150.

MIKE'S MIC

Pumpkins, lights, action

By MIKE RENNING
AMERICA – To every season, turn, turn, turn; there is a reason, turn, turn, turn... blah, blah, blah.

There are four seasons to a calendar year but to the Darling Wife? I believe there are seven. Fall, Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, Flower and Fourth of July.

Now, you must take my word for it, but when the Darling Wife does absolutely anything, it's 110%, get out of the way and just let it happen.

She has the necessary decorations, indoor and out, to fully decorate our premises for all seven of her seasons.

And the decorations are stored in our storable space.

We don't own a mansion but it's comfortable. We have 1,800 square-feet of space and the livable part of it is becoming less and less.

When I refer to "storable space" I mean any space I am not sleeping...I think anything else is up for grabs.

Good heavens, 71% of the storable space in our home is full of this indoor/outdoor cra...er, stuff and the other 53% of our storable space is comprised of our kids' cra...er, stuff from one of the 27 moves we've helped them with over the years.

And if you haven't figured it out, cra...er, stuff is crap!

Yes, I know, I'm a math wizard, but that's how full our house is with cra...er, stuff.

For instance, she has exactly 37 snowmen for the Christmas season – 28 indoor and nine outdoor. Eleven of the indoor snowmen sing or play music.

She has three manger scenes including the obligatory dozen important figures – one of them has 27 figures. Thank goodness they aren't life-sized.

She collects snow globes. I can't even start on those.

Side note here, the boys and I were playing football in the house one December day and we broker her favorite snow globe.

She received it as a gift from her sister who passed away some years back.

Yikes, the whole lot of us was in trouble. And the water from the globe filtered into our console TV – double yikes.

I will tell you this, Max really learned to catch the ball from that moment forward and I learned...well, not much, we broke a clock, two windows, 124 Christmas ornaments, (which we blamed on the cat – good heavens we technically never had a cat but that is a tale for another time), 17 plates, dozens of glasses...oh, you get the point.

Halloween involves 124 ghosts, at least 18 pumpkins, a box full of gourds, lighted pumpkins, witches, four skeletons...you get the idea.

With the granddaughters, Lily and Sophia now involved, good heavens, I spend a solid month out of each year putting away the previous season's cra...er, stuff and getting out the new season's...stuff.

It's a solid Saturday removing and a solid Sunday putting back.

We live on the edge of town for crying out loud. Who drives around town to see how many Easter Bunnies you have in the yard?

Jake, the Darling Wife's beagle is afraid of them and Yippee, the robust wiener-dog is too old and, well, robust to do anything about them. He doesn't even give chase anymore.

Bunnies are a menace, have you never seen the movie 'Night of the Lepus'?

I hate to be the bearer of bad tidings but after the spring hatching of bunnies, I may exterminate a few of them to make room for more.

Do you know how many plastic eggs I have stepped on during the night trying to make it to the bathroom?

All right, my glass is getting half empty – literally and figuratively.

I love that the Darling Wife puts out these decorations and she's really having a ball with it now with the Grandkids.

Lily and Sophia couldn't wait to show me the Halloween Decorations the other day and to hear little Sophia say, "pider" is priceless.

But the little Darlings are nowhere around when it's time to put the 'piders, witches and 'pider webs away.

I remember when our oldest daughter, Michala was in high school and her "group" was out stealing pumpkins before Halloween.

Obviously, she wasn't in charge of the group because my little sweetheart would never do anything like that – yes, I'm not that big an idiot – they probably targeted our house first because we had 78 of them sitting around the decks and on the sidewalk.

Do you know how much 78 pumpkins cost these days? All right, my glass is getting half empty again.

But I heard some commotion outside and there was a group of boys from her class taking the Darling Wife's pumpkins.

I acted like I was really upset with them and then instructed them to come back Halloween night and take all they wanted and do whatever they wanted with the orange orbs.

You know, I really liked that group of boys. I didn't dispose of one sagging, stinking pumpkin that fall.

I still had to put the witches, the skeleton and the 'piders away, but the pumpkins were gone.

Capitol View Massive power project stirring up Sandhills residents

By J.L. SCHMIDT
 Statehouse Correspondent
 The Nebraska Press Association

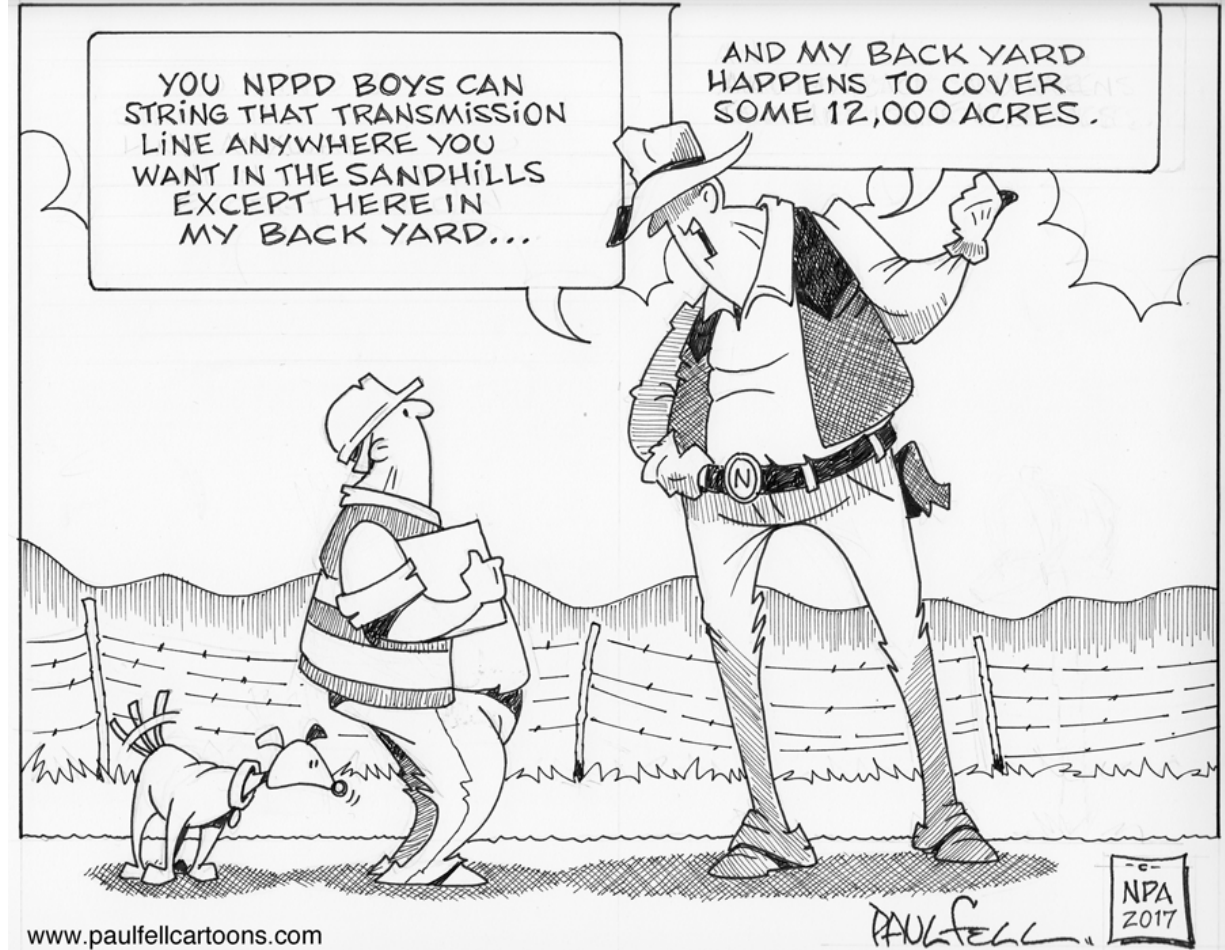

They call it the R-Project and some Sandhills residents want to make it clear that the Nebraska Public Power District's proposed 345,000-volt transmission line from Sutherland to Thedford and then to Holt County is not "our" project.

Some weeks ago, after writing a column about Nebraska tourism, I was contacted by several ranchers who don't like the thought of tall steel towers and power lines mucking up the scenery. They dislike it about as much as they dislike the wind farms springing up in several locations.

They claim the R-Project between NPPD's Gerald Gentleman Station near Sutherland to a new substation to be sited adjacent to an existing NPPD facility east of Thedford is only the beginning. The T-Plan would attach to the R-Project with transmission lines east to Holt County that opponents claim would "cut the Sandhills in half from east to west."

The power company says the 225-mile-long line will help enhance operation of NPPD's electric transmission system, relieve congestion from existing lines within the transmission system, and provide additional opportunities for development of renewable energy projects. They also say they are satisfied that an exhaustive public involvement process – eight public hearings in November 2014 – and follow-up meetings with interested parties is sufficient.

The $363 million project was the brainchild of the Southwest Power Pool, a regional transmission organization. It grew from a needs assessment of the region for the next 10 years. The line across 11 counties will be an integral part of the network that serves Nebraska's bulk energy needs. The utility says 63 percent of the land easements have been let and 72 percent of the landowners have signed leases. The project is awaiting completion of a U.S. Fish and Wildlife hearing before construction bids are let.

NPPD says it wants to minimize impacts of the project to landowner's property and restore anything that is damaged.

That promise hasn't been enough to satisfy property owners like Dan Welch who filed suit to protect his Brush Creek Ranch near Thedford, which he started 30 years ago. He said it's fragile land, home to endangered species and easily damaged, causing blowouts where the wind scours the earth and leaves sandy holes behind.

Welch said 100 years ago they called this the great American desert. But cattlemen like his grandfather got the hills covered in grass and it has become some of the best cattle country in the world. He said he and his wife ranch using horses to avoid the damage that four-wheelers would cause. He said the Sandhills ecosystem can't withstand construction equipment and the ravages of such a project.

Welch filed a lawsuit saying that NPPD agreed it would not enter his property without first getting permission from a court. The utility said state law allows them to survey on private property without the owners' consent as long as certain conditions have been met. The utility needs the survey to identify section corners for easement proposals. In August 2016, a judge ruled in favor of the utility.

The Nebraska Power Review Board approved the project -- the largest ever proposed by NPPD -- on a 5-0 vote in October 2014 over the objection of ranchers who organized themselves into a grassroots group called Save the Sandhills and presented a petition with nearly 1,600 signatures to the board.

Power Review Board executive director Tim Texel said the board has no say on what route a utility selects. It has statutory authority to approve or deny a project based on public convenience and necessity, economics and feasibility and unnecessary duplication.

NPPD President and Chief Operating Officer Tom Kent said if NPPD was not building the line, another utility or private company selected by the power pool would. "I would rather NPPD was doing it -- Nebraskans working with Nebraskans -- to ensure the project is completed in an environmentally responsible manner, respecting the uniqueness of the Sandhills and the people who live there," he said.

It appears that's as good as it's going to get. Let's hope that Nebraskans working with Nebraskans can make a difference.

Kesting recently named winner of Lions Club Peace Poster Contest

Parker Kesting, a sixth grade student at Wayne Elementary School, has taken the first step to becoming an internationally recognized artist by winning a local competition sponsored by the Wayne Lions Club.

Kesting's poster was among more than 600,000 entries submitted world-wide in the 30th annual Lions International Peace Poster Contest. Lions Clubs International is sponsoring the contest to emphasize the importance of world peace to young people everywhere.

"The future of peace is fragile and needs loving hands to bring it about," the young student artist from Wayne Schools said. The winning poster was selected by Wayne Area Association of Retired School Personnel for its originality, artistic merit and portrayal of the contest theme, "The Future of Peace."

Wayne Lions Club President Judy Stepp said she was impressed by the expression and creativity of the students at Wayne Elementary School.

Parker's poster will advance to stiff competition through the district, multiple district and international rounds of competition if this poster is to be declared the international grand prize winner," Stepp said.

Second place winner in this year's contest was Harlie Muncie.

One grand prize winner and 23 merit award winners will be selected. The grand prize includes a cash award of $5,000, plus a trip for the winner and two family members to the awards ceremony at Lions Day with the United Nations.

"Our club is cheering for Parker as this poster advances in the competition and we hope that this vision will ultimately be shared with others around the world," Stepp said.

Lions Club International is the world's largest service club organization with 1.4 million members in more than 46,000 clubs in more than 200 countries and geographic areas. In addition to its efforts toward conquer-

First-generation college students to be focus of upcoming Northeast event

A special event at Northeast Community College will foster a conversation about what it means to be a first-generation college student.

TRIO Student Support Services will host the free event on Wednesday, Nov. 8, to coincide with National First Generation College Celebration Day, from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. All activities will be held in the Cox Activities Center theatre on the Norfolk campus.

TRIO will unveil a video that spotlights some of Northeast's first generation students, staff and administrators as well as facilitate a continual conversation about the challenges and triumphs of first-generation college students.

Donna Neeman, director of TRIO Student Support Services, said that anyone who was a first-generation college student themselves, or those who would like to show their support for Northeast's current first-generation college students, are welcome to attend.

"I'm beyond excited for this national celebration day. Being a first-generation college student is something to be very proud of. These students are changing their family history. About 61 percent of Northeast's degree-seeking students are first-generation, and we need to celebrate that. They chose to start their life-changing journeys with Northeast because they knew they would have the guidance and support they need while facing the challenges a first generation college student would encounter. I'm honored to be able to watch them succeed."

The TRIO Student Support Services (TRIO/SSS) program is an academic assistance program funded through TRIO grants by the US Department of Education. It consists of eight programs targeted to serve and assist low-income individuals, first-generation college students and individuals with disabilities. TRIO/SSS offers its students individual support, personal support and academic support throughout their academic careers.

For more information about the TRIO program, contact Neeman at (402) 844-7736.

Students of the MONTH

Emily Eilers is a freshman at Wayne High School. Emily received a prestigious national award and recognition for a stem competition from her science fair research project and was awarded as one of the top 300 in the nation from the Broadcom Masters & Society for Science in Washington, D.C. Nominated by Jeanne Brink, Science teacher. Emily is the daughter of Erin and Mindi Eilers.

Colston Starzl is a first grader at Wayne Elementary. Colston works hard to be both a good student and friend. He has gone out of his way to help a classmate this year, physically. He does so with a happy heart and a smile on his face. Nominated by Mrs. Cliff, Mr. Plager, Mr. Hight and Mrs. Kerby. Colston is the son of Josh and Colleen Starzl.

Anna Kaup is a sixth grader at St. Mary's Catholic School. Anna excels academically in all subject areas. She strives to do her best and is eager to further her knowledge and understanding. Anna is a leader in our school and is always willing to help staff and students whenever needed. Nominated by Mrs. Stacy Uttecht. Anna is the daughter of Mike and Teresa Kaup.

Benjamin Patefield is a kindergartner at Laurel-Concord-Coleridge School. Benjamin is a second year kindergarten child and is truly an exceptional student who always does his best and truly sets an example for all the new kindergarten students coming in. He is always listening, following directions and showing good character. He treats others with kindness and takes great pride in his work. He is an amazing little boy who will go far. Nominated by Mrs. Hart, kindergarten teacher. Benjamin is the son of Emily and David Patefield.

Katelyn Pehrson is a freshman at Laurel-Concord-Coleridge High School. Katelyn is a kind-hearted student who is thriving in and out of the classroom. She's friendly to fellow students and respectful to all staff members at LCC. Her positive and humble attitude is reflected in her actions and her joy is contagious and refreshing. Nominated by Diana Badley, High School secretary. Katelyn is the daughter of Jon and Sara Pehrson.

Diana Rivera is a Junior at Allen Consolidated Schools. Diana is an exceptional student in many ways. She is a hard worker, always determined to do well in school, and it shows. In addition to being a dedicated student, Diana is always ready to help others in need, whether scholastically or socially. Nominated by Jenni Lundahl. Diana is the daughter of Nohemi Rivera.

Dylan Brogren is a senior at Winside Public High School. Dylan is a positive student who is active in school activities. He is friendly, helpful to peers and staff and volunteers his time. Dylan is reliable and delivers the pledge over the high school intercom every day. Nominated by Winside staff. Dylan is the son of Steven and Lori Brogren.

Makinley Jensen is a second grader at Winside Elementary School. Makinley is a very positive, kind and helpful student. It is not unusual to find Makinley holding the door for students and staff. Makinley always has a smile and is encouraging to her classmates. Nominated by Winside staff. Makinley is the daughter of Mark and Monica Jensen.

Minerva Club learns about North Dakota

Minerva Club met Oct. 23 at the Wayne Senior Center hosted by Susan Boust.

President Mary Ann DeNaeyer opened the meeting with "The Green Thing," an entertaining discussion between a young store clerk and a lady shopper of the older generation. Also read was Billy Graham's "Prayer for the Nation". The nine members in attendance responded to roll with known facts about the State of North Dakota.

A planning sheet for the December meeting was circulated.

During her program Susan Boust reported that North Dakota entered the union as the 39th state on Nov. 2, 1889. Most of the land that became North Dakota was acquired from the French during the Louisiana Purchase. The region was explored by Lewis and Clark in 1804-1806. North Dakota is the most rural state of the union with farms covering more than 90 percent of the land. The state has both extreme hot and cold climate.

The Garrison Dam on the Missouri River creates Lake Sakakawea, one of the three largest man-made lakes in the U.S. The state sits on an oil rich rock unit known as the Bakken formation, which also covers parts of Montana and Saskatchewan. The technology of "fracking" has enabled oil production to explode in the area.

North Dakota is now the second largest oil-producing state, behind Texas, producing over 10 percent of the U.S. total production of oil. North Dakota is known as the Peace Garden State, for a three acre shared park with Canada commemorating the long history of friendship between the two countries.

The next meeting will be Monday, Nov. 13 hosted by Connie Webber at the Senior Center.

Creating a 'Civilization of Love'

I know that it breaks my heart to listen to the news these days. In the past few months we have all grieved and prayed for those affected by hurricanes, floods, earthquakes and wildfires. We have waited anxiously to hear how our world leaders are handling terrorist attacks and nuclear threats.

Last month we witnessed the worst mass shooting in U.S. history. I know that I have asked like David did in Psalm 13:2-3 "How long, LORD? Will you utterly forget me? How long will you hide your face from me? How long will I carry sorrow in my soul, grief in my heart day after day? How long will my enemy triumph over me?"

I'm sure that there are some of you who might question if there really is a God. Some of you might even ask how can we believe that God loves us when we lose people in this way? If you have ever asked that question you are not alone.

In February of this year, Pope Francis was asked this question by a group of young children. He confessed that he too asks the same question when he visits sick children in hospital. "How can we believe in God's love when we see kids suffer from hunger in some parts of the world, while so much food is wasted in other places? There are simply no words to answer these questions. The only explanation you may find is in the love of those who support and care for you. God doesn't answer my questions either but when I look at the Cross and remember that God let his own Son suffer, I know that there must be a sense to it somewhere. I can't explain it to you but you may find it on your own. Remember there are questions and situations in life which cannot be explained, yet the love of God is always there, and people around you can help you feel his presence in your life."

As Pope Francis said, there are events in life that can't be explained. I just think it would be easier sometimes if we did have the answers. I can't explain why there is suffering in this world but I want to believe that it is through our suffering that we can help others.

Pope St. John Paul II wrote that "suffering is present in the world in order to release love, in order to give birth to works of love towards our neighbor, in order to transform the whole of human civilization into a "civilization of love." I know from my own experience of intense suffering that realizing that good came from my pain did help me.

I know this isn't always easy but I ask that each of you try to remember that we all have a part to play in God's plan. We are all connected and our actions truly do impact others each and every day. We are not simply spectators in this life - we have a crucial role to play.

I know that when things are dark and depressing it might seem like nothing that we do will help change the world but those thoughts mean that we have given up hope. We have to have hope and faith even in the darkest of times. We need to get up every day and realize that God created us for a reason and we must do what we can to shine light on other's lives.

I was once told that ordinary people can change the world one heart at a time. We might never know how our kindness, love and compassion will impact the world but that shouldn't stop us from trying. We might not be able to prevent natural disasters or senseless tragedies but we can ease the pain of suffering simply by showing love to those around us.

I pray that more and more of us will try harder to create a "civilization of love".

God bless each and everyone one of you.

LWML Wayne Zone Fall Rally held in Martinsburg

The LWML Wayne Zone Fall Rally was held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Martinsburg on Oct. 17.

The theme was "Vocation in Times of Distress," based on 2 Cor. 1: 3-5 "Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have received from God...."

The event began with registration and a hymn sing led by pastor Klaus Raab and accompanied by Eunice Johnson. Pastor Raab did an opening devotion with readings from Psalms 27, Hebrews and the Life of Martin Luther.

President Patty Von Minden gave the welcome from Trinity, Martinsburg. A Bible study was given by Pastor Harrison Goodman from St. Paul Lutheran Church, Winside on "Vocation in Times of Distress."

He told attendees, "We answer affliction with comfort. Comfort is found in the Word and Sacrament. Vocation means no one is left behind. Vocation is not to be right, but to be put in a calling. God promised to work in affliction through sinners. In this life we share suffering and comfort through Christ. Comfort is not the absence of something bad but the presence of something good, that being the love of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

Guest speakers were Pastor Karl and Darlene Liliakamp from Grace Lutheran Church, Wayne. He told of how Louise Green picked up a DVD at the summer 2016 District convention. It was about Alaska Mission for Christ and she shared it with them. He then called Brittany Bomgartner to volunteer to serve in this mission. The Russian Orthodox church was present in the setting of Alaska but Christian growth has almost disappeared since then. The harsh climate and the survival life style bring severe problems and homesteading is a very difficult life. Suicide, alcoholism, abuse and violence are prevalent. It is the second lowest church state in the Union.

There is very little trust in white people. Temperatures can stay at -70 for long periods. Pastor Todd Roeske serves at Mt. Drum Lutheran church and is the coordinator of ministry for Alaska Mission for Christ. There are quite a few volunteers from Nebraska.

Bev Ruwe's daughter, Pam Kaiser, and her son, Daniel, have volunteered for several years.

Pastor and Darlene lived in the parking lot of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Anchorage and took care of 500 volunteers at the Lutheran Center. Many have volunteered for 20 years or more. When they come, they have to bring their own curriculum, food and even supplies for hammer and nail projects. This usually has to be shipped ahead and is very expensive to do. The local people hunt and fish and survive on their own. Fishing and drying fish and meat is a way of life. By coming back and becoming familiar with the people, trust is built and mission work is more successful. The young people become more open to adults when young people come along. The "Great Commission" is everywhere.

The offering for the LWML Wayne Zone was taken and attendees recessed for lunch.

President Bev Ruwe opened the business meeting. Minutes from the 2016 Fall Rally were read by Secretary Eunice Johnson and were approved as read. The Treasurer's report was read by Rose Mason in the absence of Treasurer Louise Green. Monica Ebmeier submitted a bill for her expenses from being a delegate at the National Convention in Albuquerque, N.M. There were two new names on the ballot for the Zone offices. No vote was needed.

Delegate Monica Ebmeier from Immanuel Lutheran Church, Laurel, gave a short talk about her experiences at the National Convention.

The District report was given by LaDonna Stanochek, VP of Christian Life. The District Convention is June 22-23, 2018. The theme will be "His Light on our Path." For banners members are asked to make baby quilts 44"x44" depicting the theme. A Deaconess will handle welcoming and serving teen guests.

A skit was given by the Christian Growth Committee entitled "Be a Gem for Christ" based on Matt. 6: 20-21.

The invitation to the Spring Workshop will be announced at the January meeting of the Zone Executive Board. The 2018 Fall Rally will be hosted by Hope Lutheran Church, South Sioux City.

The offering for the Wayne Zone LWML was $260.00 and the Ingathering for Alaska Mission for Christ was $1,000.00. We had installation of new officers, Donna Durant, Hope So. Sioux - VP, Patty VonMinden, Trinity, Martinsburg - Sec. and reinstatement of Pastor Harrison Goodman as Counselor.

Pastor Goodman gave a closing prayer and the group sang "Lutheran Women One and All" to end the day.

5 END-OF YEAR TIPS

As the days keep getting shorter, does it feel as though there are fewer than 24 hours in a day? With the holidays right on the horizon, there's so much to think about and so much to do. Here are a few end-of-year reminders to make sure your health—and your pocketbook—doesn't get the short end of the stick.

1. Get your flu shot. If you're like many people, getting a flu vaccination can easily slip your mind. But a flu shot is too important to get bumped to the bottom of your priority list. Every flu season is different, and every person responds to the flu in a different way. The flu can lead to hospitalizations and even death. The flu season often begins in October, so there's no better time than the present.¹

2. Plan for Medicare open enrollment. Every year, the open enrollment for Medicare is October 15 through December 7. This is when you can change your health plan and prescription drug coverage. You can get more information here: Call 1-800-MEDICARE or go to www.medicare.gov. You'll find a wealth of resources to help you compare hospitals, doctors, drug plans, and other health care services. But if you need more help making comparisons and choices, we can help. Just ask.

3. Switch to generics. Generic medications are identical to brand-name drugs in dosage, form, safety, strength, route of administration, quality, performance traits, and intended use. Here's how they're different: They're usually much less expensive than brand-name drugs. Not all medications have a generic equivalent for a brand-name drug. One way to find out is to go to Drugs@FDA.² Or, we can also talk this over.

Switching to a generic medication might put a few (maybe more than a few) extra dollars back in your pocket. Wouldn't it be nice to have a little extra money for the holidays—or to use however you choose?

4. Use or lose it. Do you have a flexible spending account (FSA)? This is a special account you put money into to pay certain out-of-pocket health costs. That might include copayments, deductibles, drugs, and other health care costs. Limited to $2,550 each year, this money is not taxable.³

If you have an FSA, now is the time to use up your health benefit dollars—or you'll lose them! Schedule eye or medical checkups before the end of the year. Some employers make allowances, though. So check to see if you have a grace period for using up the money or if you can carry over a limited amount of funds to the next year.⁴

5. Schedule a "tune-up." Why not schedule a meeting with me to see if your medications are working as well as they can for you? We can help you come up with ways to remember to take your drugs and to order refills—before you run out. Not happy with your drug's side effects? Both your doctor and I can work with you to adjust your dose or to find a substitute. There's no need for you to suffer in silence.

Nothing herein constitutes medical advice, diagnosis or treatment, or is a substitute for professional advice. You should always seek the advice of your physician or other medical professional if you have questions or concerns about a medical condition.

Ten year service pins were presented to Kara Heithold, Chad Janke, Pamela Janke, Becky Longe and Russell Longe. The 15 year leader recognized was Linda Gilliland.

Several individual honors were announced and medals were awarded. Receiving county medals for project work in the junior division were Kayla Bobeldyke (dog and fashion show) and Landen Roerber (dairy, home environment, garden/horticulture).

Receiving county medals in the senior division were Hailey Bobeldyke (dog, rabbit, and clothing) and Grace Heithold (cat).

The Chris Clover Award Program is designed as a participation incentive program for first, second, and third year 4-Hers in the traditional 4-H Program.

Green award winners were Beverly Bobeldyke, Jala Krusemark, Kiara Krusemark, Kyla Krusemark, and Landen Roerber. The Bronze award winner was Kayla Bobeldyke.

The Harold Wittler Memorial Junior Beef Award was established this year by his family in honor of Harold's interest in young 4-Hers and the beef project. The award is based on an accumulative point system of showmanship, market, breeding, cow/calf, and record keeping participation. Dane Behmer was the recipient of the award.

Other special awards that were distributed at the program:

Top Herdsmanship Awards - Combination Kids (Beef); Combination Kids (Bucket Calf); Two-way tie between Country Classics and Spring Branch (Dairy); American Country 4-Hers (Goat); Bits and Spurs (Horse); Blue Ribbon Winners (Poultry/Waterfowl/Turkey); Spring Branch (Rabbits); Bits and Spurs (Sheep); and Two-way tie between Country Classics and Reimers, Independent Study (Swine).

Ninety members received membership pins.

Members receiving 10 year pins: Ethan Behmer, Beau Bowers, Callie Finn, Caitlin Janke, Felicity Jech, Colton Jensen, Elizabeth Junck, Lucas Longe, Cara Luberstedt, Kate Lundahl, Brennen O'Reilly, Marta Pulfer and Brenna Vovos

Eleven year 4-Hers who were recognized were: Hannah Belt, Allison Echtenkamp, Michaela Fehringer, Danielle Gilliland, Devan Henschke, Shanda Lambert, Connor Lemke-Elznic and Anna Loberg.

The Diamond Clover Award Program was introduced in January 2008, as a state wide incentive program. The program is designed to encourage 4-H youth to engage in a variety of projects and activities that will enable members to acquire the life skills necessary to lead successful lives as competent, caring and contributing citizens.

Participants and their awards include: Level 1 Amethyst - Beverly Bobeldyke. Level 2 Aquamarine - Kayla Bobeldyke, Jala Krusemark, and Kyla Krusemark. Level 3 Ruby - Kiara Krusemark.

Clubs were recognized for their participation in the Nebraska 4-H Club of Excellence Program. To receive the designation as a Nebraska 4-H Club of Excellence, clubs must meet all of the criteria and document how the criteria is met.

Club of Excellence winners were American Country 4-Hers, Blue Ribbon Winners, Combination Kids, Country Classics, Hi Raters, Spring Branch and Wayne First Lego League 4-H Clubs.

The election for Wayne County 4-H Council was also held in conjunction with the annual 4-H Achievement Program. As a result, four new members were elected. Molly Schroeder of Wayne and Dwaine Junck of Carroll, will serve as the two new adult members on the council. Kylie Kempf of Carroll and Isaac Braun of Wayne are the new youth members.

The newly elected members join Sam Bruckner, Elizabeth Haschke, Hana Nelsen and Mike Vovos who will be beginning their second year term. Outgoing members recognized included Hannah Belt, Maribeth Bobeldyke, Mark Niemann, and Brennen O'Reilly. Diane Roerber serves as the 4-H Council Treasurer.

The Wayne County 4-H Council plays an important role in setting the direction of the 4-H program.

121st AKSARBEN Monarchs announced

Omaha, Neb. - The new monarchs of AKSARBEN are King Gary A. Perkins and Queen Blair Marie Kellner. Blair is the daughter of Kirk and Teresa Kellner.

Together the new monarchs and their families will work to raise critical scholarship dollars for AKSARBEN scholars and help increase awareness for the AKSARBEN Foundation's mission.

Approximately 1,700 attendees witnessed the crowning of the 121st AKSARBEN Coronation & Scholarship Ball at Baxter Arena on the campus of the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

The event included the formal introduction of the 2017 Royal Court honoring more than 200 Nebraska and Western Iowa families and proudly celebrated 50 AKSARBEN Horatio Alger Scholarship recipients and over 300 AKSARBEN Horatio Alger Career Scholars.

The new king, Gary Perkins, is a native of Missouri Valley, Iowa, but has called Omaha home for over 40 years.

Perkins attended Midland College in Fremont,

Nebraska, and majored in economics and accounting. He met his future wife, Carol, while they were students at Midland. Perkins has served his alma mater as a board member and board chair.

As the former CEO of the Children's Hospital and Medical Center, Gary spent over 40 years working in support of children and their health. Under his leadership, he led the hospital through major growth and change: a move from Methodist Hospital's north tower to the facility at 84th & Dodge; quadrupled growth in patient volumes; and under his leadership, he and his team established Children's as the leader in our region, specifically for children needing care in the areas of cancer, heart, infectious and rare diseases.

The Perkins family will work closely with the Kellner family over the next 12 months.

The new queen, Blair Marie Kellner is a fifth generation Nebraskan whose great, great grandparents immigrated from Germany to be farmers in the Heartland. Her family has served on multipale mission trips, Habitat for Humanity Builds, and is active in their church.

The Kellners have donated time and talent to many Midland Organizations including: the Susan G. Komen Foundation, the United Way of the Midlands, Joslyn Art Museum, the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce, St. Luke Teen Advisory Board, the University of Nebraska Foundation and the Midwest Housing Equity Group Board.

Kellners also have a long history with the University of Nebraska - Lincoln. Blair is the third generation to study Business at UNL where she is active in her sorority.

The Kellner family has been previously honored by AKSARBEN. Blair was a page in 2006; Blair's sister Miranda was a princess in 2016; and Kirk has served as both a Councilor and a Governor of the Knights of AKSARBEN. He is currently the Chairman of the Board.

Having problems putting on socks

With a minute and a half left in Saturday evening's football game, I announced that we needed a miracle. And, we got one!

The wind has been a problem all last week and again today, Monday. There are huge leaves piled up in front of our town home, and when I sweep them, they manage to come back.

The chairs on the deck have fallen over, knocking over some of the chess pieces. I'm waiting for some strong grandsons to come and take them all to the basement store room.

I'm going to PT three times a week and today, I bent that knee back to 113. The goal is 120, and I'm not sure I'll make it this week yet. It's hard!

But the worst thing about the whole process is the darned compression socks. We know from sad experience that orthopedic surgeries or injuries often end in blood clots, some of which can be fatal. Therefore, we take blood thinners; although, this time around,

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

it's simply aspirin. Which is good, because that eliminates the need for routine blood checks. And we wear compression hose.

At first, I had to wear the hose night and day. They are white, tight, and ugly. They squeeze my thighs, and don't want to stay up there. They have to be hand washed, and line dried.

Now, I can take them off at night. But that means I have to get them on every morning. It's a pain! I can't bend that leg enough to get hold of the foot and put the toe of the sock on there. Then, it's pull!! They usually end up all twisted and out of place, so I have to squiggle them around.

I had a little plastic gadget that helped with the process from the days after the hip. But I can't find it. So, a friend who had the surgery last year brought hers over. It doesn't work. It's not made like mine, and it does not help at all.

Fortunately, friends have brought in food! We love that. We've had soup, and casseroles, and sliders, you name it. Plus, some great desserts, which the Big Farmer enjoys but I find I've lost my taste for sweets. That seems to go with surgery, or pain meds, or just general malaise.

All in all, I've lost the whole month of October, and Fall is my favorite time of the year. Maybe I'll get lucky and we will have an Indian summer yet. I didn't get to church for Reformation services, and that hurts, as I love to sing A Mighty Fortress is our God!!

I did get to Concordia at Seward last Friday eve for the high school honor band and choir concerts. That was fun. The college choir and band also performed, so it was a good evening.

My mantra is still "this, too, shall pass". I'm rereading the Mitford books and Father Tim's favorite Bible verse is Phillipians 4:13: I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me." Yes!

Meetings, proper grain storage are topics of discussion

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

Nebraska Extension

Just a reminder to sign up for our two free meetings at the Wayne Fire Hall — the Grain Marketing Workshop on Tuesday, Nov. 14 and the Inheriting a Farm Workshop on the next Tuesday, Nov. 21. Call the Wayne office at (402) 375-3310.

A good crop can easily deteriorate in unfavorable storage conditions. Storing harvested grain dry and under regulated temperatures is key.

Regardless of grain moisture content, controlling grain temperature is vital to the life of the grain. To maintain favorable temperatures, air needs to be moved through the entire grain mass in a uniform fashion. A well-designed aeration system with a perforated floor, combined with clean grain and a level surface, is the best combination for obtaining a uniform temperature. Upward airflow makes it easier to determine when the desired temperature has been reached because the top is the last zone to cool or warm.

Grain should be stored at a seasonably cool temperature. In other words, keep grain within 10 degrees of the average monthly air temperature and make sure temperatures do not vary more than 10 degrees from place to place within the bin. Hold grain at 35 to 40 degrees through the winter and warm to about 60 degrees for the summer months with proper transitions in between.

Aeration fans are necessary to move cooling and warming zones throughout the grain. The rate of movement depends on airflow rate, length of fan operation, and outside temperature. Keep fans running continuously when changing grain temperatures, as turning them off stops movement of the temperature zone.

Maintaining proper grain temperature plays an important role in the prevention of convection currents that can concentrate moisture at the top center of the bin. This excess moisture is indicated by damp grain and formation of a crust at the surface of the grain.

Producers should inspect grain once a month during the winter and once every two weeks during other seasons of the year. Recording temperatures from several locations within the mass of grain, combined with outside temperatures, will help producers better determine the cause of unusually warm spots.

For much more information on grain storage, go to the website cropwatch.unl.edu.

Two free workshops coming up at Wayne Fire Hall

Two free workshops designed to assist farmers and their families are coming soon to Wayne.

A Grain marketing workshop to focus on futures and options will be offered Wednesday, Nov. 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall to assist grain producers on minimizing losses during this times of low commodity prices.

Nebraska Extension will present strategies for using futures and options to protect farmers from adverse market movements. The workshop features the Marketing in a New Era simulator and the Grain Marketing Plan smartphone application. These tools allow participants to gain hands-on experience in evaluating grain marketing strategies and following daily market moves.

There is not any fee to attend the event. To register please contact the Nebraska Extension Office at (402) 375-3310 before 4 p.m on Friday, Nov. 10. Pre-registration is required so that adequate materials and lunch can be provided. Both grain producers and partners are encouraged to attend this event as topics covered impact everyone engaged in the grain industry.

For more information or assistance, contact Keith Jarvi, Nebraska Extension Educator, (402) 584-2234, email kjarvi1@unl.edu. The workshop is funded through the support of the Nebraska Corn Board.

Agricultural producers and stakeholders who own land across Nebraska may want to attend a Farm Inheritance workshop to be educated with information about rural proper ownership considerations and trends.

This workshop will also be held at the Wayne Fire Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 21 starting at 9:30 a.m. Topics discussed at this event include strategies for the management, renting, and transition of your farmland.

Participants can use this two-and-half hour workshop to learn about considerations for land ownership such as managing and transitioning the property, renting farmland and key lease provisions, legal considerations for ownership, and strategies for effective communication for the management of the property.

Participants interested in attending are encouraged to pre-register prior by calling the Wayne County Extension office at 402-375-3310 by Friday, Nov. 17 to ensure adequate handouts. The workshop is free to attend.

This program is offered to the public with financial support received from the North Central Risk Management Education Center and the United State Department of Agriculture.

Similar Farm Inheritance Programs are also being held in Norfolk on Monday, Nov. 20 at the Lifelong Learning Center and at South Sioux City on Thursday, Dec. 14 at the Northeast Community College. Both meetings start at 6:30 p.m.

LENRD to receive applications for new irrigated acres beginning November 15

Farmers within the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) boundaries, will have an opportunity to apply for new irrigated acres for 2018.

LENRD Assistant General Manager, Brian Bruckner, said, "After much debate during their October meeting, the board discussed allowing for the approval of standard variances district-wide, utilizing a map entitled "Classification 4" provided by the Flatwater Group, and only allow consideration for approval of parcels that fall within the top five categories from the Potential for Development map legend."

The board voted to allow up to 2,500 acres of new groundwater irrigation development in the Hydrologically Connected or 10/50 Area, and to allow up to 2,500 acres of new groundwater irrigation development in the Non-Hydrologically Connected or Non 10/50 Area under the district's standard variance process for 2018.

Bruckner added, "The board suggested an annual limit on the amount of groundwater withdrawal from wells associated with approved variances, determined by board policy, which is subject to future modification if conditions warrant. In addition, a minimum soil score of 90 must be met for any standard variance to be considered for approval."

The board established a sign-up period to receive applications for Standard Variances. The district will receive applications for standard variances between Nov. 15 and Dec. 15.

Standard variance requests will only be considered for approval from areas within the district that fall within the top five Potential for Development categories on the Classification 4 Map, as provided by Flatwater Group. Standard variances will not be available in the Quantity Subareas already defined. To view the map, visit www.lenrd.org/latest-news/.

In other action, the district is preparing for a public hearing regarding their Drought Mitigation Plan. The public hearing will be Tuesday, Nov. 21 from 5 to 7 p.m. The board meeting will follow at 7:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center at Northeast.
