Joe Nichols headlined the Wayne County Fair this year, mixing old and new songs with covers of country classics. Below, kids line the streets as parade floats and walkers pass by giving out candy and other prizes during Chicken Days. The parade lasted the better part of the morning and was a creativity showcase for many.

July 2017

The 37th annual Wayne Chicken Show was packed full of entertainment and fun this year. A dozen different contests and competitions took place during the Chicken Show, along with more things to do and see than feathers on a chicken.

From the kickoff on Friday afternoon with the ever-growing vendor fair and Henoween festivities, to the Nebraska 150 mobile museum that visited or the all-class reunion dance held at the auditorium with local band Sons of Satan who got their start back in the 1960s.

The classic contests like the Cluck Off and Best Chicken Legs still made up part of the day on Saturday as did a lengthy parade.

Sunday's car show and poker run capped off the weekend of feathered fun until next year. Also held in July, the 95th annual Wayne County Fair boasted a full agenda this year starting with bull riding on Thursday night. Friday held the annual free BBQ supper and the tractor and truck pull.

Saturday played host to the Dylan Bloom Band and headliner Joe Nichols. Nichols played old favorites, new music and covered some classics throughout the night.

Sunday evening is Derby night at the Wayne County Fair, complete with a powerwheels derby for the kids.

Impact Pro Wrestling, Love-A-Lop petting zoo, Wildlife Encounter and Golf on the Go were all part of the fair this year as was a new midway carnival by River City Carnivals.

August 2017

Two new businesses opened their doors during the month of August.

Hwy. 15 Salvage is a smorgasbord of unique finds and custom creations. Dan and Teresa Tiedtke opened their shop on Main Street next to Vel's this year and began offering custom work and classes to make your own pieces come to life.

The couple purchased the building and had to gut the nail salon interior. They handled the renovations themselves, from the flooring to the creation of a large built-in that was part new (the front counter built by Dan) and part old (the glass display cases behind the counter that came from a business in Norfolk).

The Tiedtke's spent years accumulating pieces in storage units knowing they wanted to open this type of store in the future. They continue to hunt for treasures during their free time and make the one of a kind pieces of furniture and art work for customers.

Another new business in town has toes tapping.

Wayne Dance Company opened up in the back room of Miss Molly's Coffee Shop utilizing the hardwood floors for dance classes.

Taryn Winter, a Wayne State grad, returned from a brief hiatus in the corporate world following her spring graduation after Community members and students took in the eclipse at the Willow Bowl on Wayne State College's campus in August. Below, the front door of Hwy. 15 Salvage was open to shoppers in August. missing Wayne and her life here.

When she returned she was approached by some moms who had previously seen her talents being showcased by the Wayne High School She-Devil Dance Squad about opening a dance studio.

WDC offers a variety of different dance classes from hip hop to ballet and tap for all ages -- including adults.

The total solar eclipse of August 21, 2017 was widely called the Great American Eclipse because it was so accessible to so many millions of Americans.

The path of totality cut a diagonal path across the nation from Oregon to South Carolina and most Americans were within a day's drive to the path of totality.

The eclipse was the first total solar eclipse in the continental U.S. in 28 years. Prior to the one in August, the last one occurred February 26, 1979. Unfortunately, not many people saw it because it clipped just five states in the Northwest and the See Looking Back, Page 4A

Shootout champs

(Photo copyright Mikey C Productions) For the second straight year and the third time in four years, the Wayne High girls are your Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout champions.

The Blue Devils beat Hartington Cedar Catholic 69-50 to claim the first-place trophy.

Several area teams competed in the three-day tournament, including teams from Norfolk Catholic, Pender and as far away as Gordon-Rushville in western Nebraska.

The Wayne boys were unsuccessful in their attempt to capture the tournament title for a second year in a row, losing to Hartington Cedar Catholic in the championship round with a score of 57-44.

City Council meetings

Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets. We would love to have you join us!

What is a city's Extraterritorial Jurisdiction

(ETJ) and why is it important? Extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ) is the legal capability of a municipality to exercise authority beyond the boundaries of its incorporated area.

A city of the first class in the State of Nebraska (as Wayne is) may enforce its ETJ up to two miles from corporate limits. As the city grows through annexaing Thursday, April 5. "Backyard tion, this ETJ needs to be modified/ Second Street. "Backyard Farmer Presents: Farmer" is the longest-running, expanded from time to time. "Backyard Farmer" or to submit the Wayne Municipal Airport, the The existing storm sewer pipe is City had the opportunity to further expand its ETJ. The City Council, after hearing a recommendation from the Planning Commission and holding its own public hearing, chose to pass the first reading of an ordinance to expand the City's ETJ to the maximum two miles. The new ETJ uses straight lines (as opposed to the acceptable "bubble" technique) to incorporate property as small as 40 acres of land instead of the previous way of including 160 acres (or quarter sections). This method helps properties to not be split apart with a portion of a property lying within the ETJ and another portion of the same parcel lying outside of the ETJ. As cities grow it becomes very important to have some control of development in these areas, especially those adjacent to city limits.

undersized and will be supplemented with a new pipe going east to Nebraska Street.

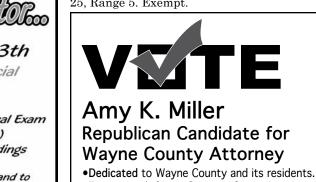

The project will also involve new pavement on East Second Street between Logan Street and Nebraska Street. ACES was selected to design the project last summer with the intent to bid out the work this winter for construction in 2018. There will be a choice to be made on whether to put back the street bricks in the project area or replace them with concrete. It is higher labor costs to replace with brick; however, they typically last much longer than concrete and have an historic significance. If you have a preference with the bricks, please let your Council representatives or City staff know.

WSC CAT Project

Marysz Rames, WSC President, recently updated the Council on the CAT project progress and thanked them for the City's contribution to the project. President Rames stated that the project is on time and should be ready for equipment and training in the spring of 2019 and ready to welcome students for the Fall 2019 semester.

+ www.mywaynenews.com The Wayne Herald – Thursday, January 4, 2018 3A · Council receives update on WSC technology building project

By Clara Osten, clara@wayneherald.com

During Tuesday night's City Council meeting, the City of Wayne received a 'thank you' from Wayne State College for its partnership with the college on the Applied Technology Building project.

Wayne State President Dr. Marysz Rames spoke to the council and thanked the city for its $1 million contribution to the project.

"Thank you for taking this leap of faith. Because of your contribution, we were able to get other entities to contribute. We raised a total of $2.5 million for this project," Rames said.

She went on to explain the time frame for construction of the facility and said the plan is for completion in the spring of 2019 with classes being held in the building in the fall of 2019.

"We plan to replicate what is happening in the manufacturing industry and plan to put together an advisory board to make sure we are doing it right," Rames said

In other action, the council approved the first reading of an ordinance amending the city of Wayne's extraterritorial jurisdiction map.

Joel Hansen, City Planner, told the council that the city has jurisdiction two miles beyond city limits. With recent annexations, particularly the airport, this boundary has been extended.

He said that the new map will use straight lines to avoid going through property. He said the city will use one-quarter of one-quarter mile increments (40 acres) in setting up the map.

Wayne State College President Dr. Marysz Rames thanked the city of its support of the Center for Applied Technology Building project underway at the college.

Council members also approved the creation of the Wayne. position of Street and Planning Director for the city of he recommended creating the position to have some one in charge of supervising the city parks and streets. He also recommended Joel Hansen for the position.

A portion of Hansen's current responsibilities as Building Inspector will be shifted to Todd Hoeman, who already has experience in this area.

John Zwingman with Advance Consulting Engineering Services spoke to the council in regard to hiring a special engineer and approving the plans and specifications for the construction of certain storm sewer improvements in the Second Street Storm Sewer Improvement project.

The project involves work in the alley west of State Nebraska Bank & Trust to Second Street and then east to Nebraska Street.

Zwingman explained the project, which is estimated to cost $345,000 and take eight to 10 weeks to complete. He also noted the contract would have a clause that no work was to be done during the time of the Wayne Chicken Show. The project is to be completed by Sept. 30.

"By going out for bids now, and allowing plenty of time for completion, we hope to get better bids," he told the council.

Council members also approved three appointments during the meeting.

These include Betty McGuire as City Clerk; Joel Hansen as Street and Planning Director and Marlen Chinn as Police Chief.

The Wayne City Council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Jan. 16 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Wayne Public Library announces 2018 Book Club selections, new adult programming

The Wayne Public Library has announced the 2018 title selections for the Book Club Discussion Group. The discussion group meets the last Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne Senior Center.

"The holiday season has just flown by," said Rita McLean, Adult Services Librarian. "This is the time to make a New Year's resolution to join in the monthly discussions of the library's Book Club in 2018. We have picked out a variety of titles that we hope will appeal to our readers," she said. In selecting the books for each year, we take into consideration suggestions from the group at the November meeting as well as titles and authors from various book club suggestions sites," she said. The list for 2018, offers a variety of genre: biography and memoir, Nebraska authors, fiction and non-fiction.

The January selection is ready for checkout. Participants will be reading "The Bones of Paradise" by Jonis Agee. The author, a native of Nebraska, teaches at UN-L. The novel is a multi-generational family saga set in the unforgiving Nebraska Sand Hills in the years following the massacre at Wounded Knee—an ambitious tale of history, vengeance, race, guilt, betrayal, family, and belonging, filled with a vivid cast of characters shaped by violence, love, and a desperate loyalty to the land. The first discussion date is Jan. 30.

In the months ahead the group will be reading: "Brooklyn," by Colm Tòibìn, "The year of living biblically" by A.J. Jacobs; "Before we were yours" by Lisa Wingate; In May the group will read "Summer before the war" by Helen Simonson (this novel, set in 1914, in England will be a great introduction to the Chautauqua programs that will be held in Wayne during the first week of June); "Wonder" by R.J. Palacia; The book-tomovie selection will be "Hidden figures" by Margot Lee Shetterly in September; "Salt to the sea" by Ruta Sepetys and "Bean trees" by Barbara Kingslover.

Book Club programming is free and open to the public. The discussion group is open to men and women and young adult readers.

"Newcomers are always welcome," McLean said. "As a service to our readers, we try to get book kits or library loans so participants have easy access to the selections.'

"In 2018, we are excited to offer our adult patrons a "Reading Challenge". This is a contest with yourself to read more books and stretch the comfort zone in your reading selections. Our little game asks you to read a graphic novel, a book about your hero, a fantasy, a children's book, or a banned book, to name a few. Participants have all year to complete the challenge. And, we have prizes. . . . a Grand prize chance to win a Kindle E-reader and two, $20 Amazon gift cards. Stop in the library to sign up, get your reading challenge sheet and start something new and different this year," McLean said.

For more information about the programs, contact the library at (402) 375-3135.

Wayne State College Counseling Center named among two accredited Nebraska centers

Each year the Wayne State College Counseling Center is re-accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services, Inc. (IACS). Wayne State College Counseling Center has met requirements for this accreditation since 1999. The college counseling center serves Wayne State College students as one of only two college or university counseling centers in Nebraska accredited by IACS.

The Wayne State College Counseling Center, dier counseling. Related services are also available including testing, psychological assessment, and group support for some campus organizations. The Wayne State College Counseling Center was evaluated by IACS against high standards of counseling practice and was found to offer competent and reliable professional services to its clientele. Approval by IACS is also dependent upon evidence of continuing professional development as well as demonstration of excellence of counseling performance. The Center is re-accredited through Dec. 31, 2018.

Basic purposes of IACS are to encourage and aid these services throughout the United States and internationally to meet high professional standards, and to provide the profession and the public with information about those services.

IACS, established in 1972, is committed to furthering the visibility of counseling services on university rected by Lin Brummels, offers personal, nutrition, and college campuses and improving their quality. IACS has evolved standards that define pr excellence and has established criteria for accreditation that reflect these standards. As demands for accountability increase, professional peer review is vital.

Brief board meeting held

By Calyn Dunklau calyn@wayneherald.com

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners kept it brief on Tuesday morning with a short agenda.

A unanimous vote sounded to keep the board organized the way it currently is with Jim Rabe serving as chairman and Dean Burbach serving as vice chair. Randy Larson serves as chairman for the Board of Equalization and Burbach serves as the vice chair for that board as well.

The board voted to keep all appointed representative positions the same with the exception of one. Burbach will take on the role of representing the Wayne County Board of Commissioners at the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development meetings. Previously, that was held by Larson.

Aside from that change, all positions on the other boards remain as follows:

County Highway Superintendent - Mark Casey

County Coroner's Physician - Dr.

Mark McCorkindale Northeast NE Area Agency on Aging - Burbach/Larson Northeast NE Juvenile Services.

Inc. - Larson/Rabe Northeast NE Public Health Rabe

Northeast NE RC&D - Rabe

Northstar Services - Rabe

Region IV Mental Health System Rabe/Burbach

Wayne Area Economic Development - Burbach/Rabe

Wayne County Safety Committee Burbach

Wayne Business & Industry Committee - Larson

In other news, the board voted unanimously to give a cost of living raise to the employees who are appointed or hourly of $1,500 for 2018.

The board convened in executive session for some time during the meeting before carrying on with the agenda.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will take place on Jan. 16 at 9:00 a.m. at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Potential future president is first baby born in 2018 at PMC

By Calyn Dunklau calyn@wayneherald.com

4A

A presidential little boy entered the world Tuesday at Providence Medical Center, claiming the 1st baby of 2018 title.

Harrison Russ Allen was born Jan. 2 at 4:36 p.m. weighing in at just over 8 pounds and measuring 20 inches long.

Harrison joins two older brothers, both just as presidential as him. Carter, 4.5 years old, and Lincoln, 2.5 years, were ready to welcome Harrison into the family.

Parents Reed and Heidi Allen of Wayne have used the last names of former presidents for their boys and continued the tradition with Harrison. His middle name is a nod to his grandfather Russ Allen of Pender.

Dr. Melissa Dobbins delivered Harrison. This is the fourth year in a row that a baby delivered by Dobbins has been the first of the year.

According to Reed, Carter is a fan of Harrison but Lincoln isn't so sure yet. What both boys were sure of was how fun it was going to be to open all of the gifts that will be coming home with them for their baby brother.

From a diaper bag to a boppy pillow, toys to blankets and stuffed animals to diapers, the new addition is sure to have fun with all the gifts the community members and businesses have donated.

The couple thanked the community members and businesses that donated gifts, stating that they certainly didn't expect this amount and that the community support was a great thing to be a part of.

"Even with the third one, it's helpful," Reed said. "We want to thank everyone for the gifts."

The Allens welcomed Harrison Russ into their family on Tuesday. Harrison joins older brothers Carter (right) and Lincoln (left). Reed and Heidi and their family are Wayne residents.

Laurel's Immanuel Lutheran Church hosted safety event in LCC school

By Calyn Dunklau calyn@wayneherald.com

The youth group at Laurel's Immanuel Lutheran Church hosted speaker Kayla Bradley of Quantico, Va. as a speaker this week.

"Last spring an unfamiliar vehicle circled an area outside of a sporting event in town where two girls had been going between the event and a vehicle," said Rev. Jeffrey Warner. "People noticed and a concerned parent came to me but no one had a description of the vehicle or a license plate number. There was nothing to go off of."

That's how the ball got rolling on inviting Bradley to speak.

Bradley, a criminologist, researcher and analyst, is a friend of Warners. She finished her undergraduate work at Wayne State College and has worked with federal law enforcement.

Warner had asked Bradley to come speak to the youth group but busy schedules got in the way. As time went on, the topic seemed to only need more attention so Warner and Bradley came up with a date that would work for her to speak.

It started out just as a discussion for the youth group and their parents but the support was so strong, Warner contacted LCC schools about using their gym.

"The response was so strong and so affirmative when I brought it to the youth and their parents," Warner said. "They wanted to know if more people from the community could come."

Warner said it wasn't a hard decision to open it up to the public but that a change in venue was needed to accommodate the growing number of those interested.

"I worked with Mr. Johnson and Mr. Klooz for the venue and equipment options and it all fell together. The school administration was so very welcoming of the event with the subject manner."

The topic -- social media dangers and awareness, human abduction and trafficking -- is a hot topic especially in light of the recent abductions in more rural areas.

Subjects covered by Bradley included reducing risks of online dating, recognizing predators and stalkers on social media, preventing child abduction and exploitation, combating pornography and human trafficking as well as exercising situational awareness and self defense.

The topics are ones that parents and children need to be aware of, which is why the public was encouraged to attend.

Those aged 7th grade and up were allowed to be a part of the event, but adult themes kept younger children from being there.

Local law enforcement was there, including Tom Decker, a Dixon County Deputy and Ron Lundahl, with the Laurel Police Department.

Wakefield opened with a 56-12 loss to Pierce on Thursday, as the Bluejays quieted the Wakefield offense in the first half to build a big lead and cruise to the win.

Jessica Borg scored four points to lead the Trojans and added eight rebounds. Kenna Mackling had three points, Rachel Borg and Jamie Dolph each had two and Abby Heimann added a free throw.

In consolation play Friday, Wakefield came up on the short end of a 53-29 decision against Lutheran High Northeast, as the Eagles used a 12-0 second-quarter run to build a 27-point halftime cushion on their way to the easy win.

"Lutheran High got off to a fast start and we never got comfortable in the first half, but we played much better in the second half," coach Chad Metzler said.

Dolph paced the Trojans with seven points, Kassidy Brudigam, Kenna Mackling and Jessica Borg each had five, Rachel Brudigam added four and Maddie Mogus had three.

On Saturday, a good team effort helped Wakefield post a 50-39 win over Neligh-Oakdale, as they put the game away down the stretch to improve to 3-7 on the season.

"It was a good team win," Metzler said. "We had nine players play and contribute, with several playing very well. This is the type of relentless effort that we've been looking for.'

Jessica Borg had 14 points and Kassidy Brudigam added 13 for the Trojan girls. Mogus put in seven points, Mackling had six and Dolph and Rachel Borg each had five.

Wildcat women get road wins over holiday weekend day break with a 12-4 record (6-2 NSIC) after a pair of road wins over the holiday weekend.

On Saturday, the Wildcats earned a 74-65 win at University of Sioux Falls, outscoring the Cougars 43-33 in the second half to come away with the win.

The first period was a back-andforth affair, with Wayne State responding to an early 7-3 deficit to take a late lead before Sioux Falls hit a 3-pointer at the end of the period to take an 18-16 advantage.

Wayne State took the lead early in the second quarter and kept it until the final minute of the half, when a layup from Mariah Szymanski with 37 seconds remaining in the half gave Sioux Falls a 32-31 lead at intermission. Senior Kacie O'Connor caught fire in the third quarter as she scored 14 points to help Wayne State shoot 50 percent and give the Wildcats a 57-53 lead heading into the final quarter. The fourth quarter saw the Wildcats never trail and build their lead to as much as 10 with 4:55 left in the game before going on to secure the win over the Cougars. Senior Paige Ballinger led Wayne State with 14 points and 10 rebounds to record her first double-double of the season. O'Connor scored 14 points followed by Maggie Schulte and Maggie Lowe with 48-32 with Ballinger recording 10 and Schulte with nine. Lowe and Schulte both had four assists and Schulte had two blocks.

On Saturday, the Wildcats earned a 76-60 win at Southwest Minnesota State, leading the game for all but a few seconds to finish off the holiday weekend on a good note.

Wayne State trailed for less than a minute in the opening period, turning a 3-2 deficit into a 24-16 lead after one period. They extended that advantage to as many as 15 points, led by Brittany Bongartz's 11 first-half points, to take a 45-32 lead at the half and cruised to the easy road win.

Wayne State outrebounded USF

By MICHAEL CARNES For The Herald Winning a three-day, three-game tournament takes a total team effort, which is exactly what the Wayne High girls put together. The Blue Deivls won their second straight Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout title and third in four years with a solid team effort, capped by a 69-50 win over Hartington Cedar Catholic in Saturday's championship game at Rice Auditorium.

Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout.

Coach Lindsay McLaughlin said winning this year's championship took a complete effort, and she was proud with how her team performed over the three-day tournament.

"It always feels good to win, but this year is a little better feeling because this was a total team effort," she said. "It wasn't just one person scoring points or rebounding or stopping the ball. It was a great balanced team effort and that's nice to have when you see kids come off the bench or people who don't normally score a lot.'

That was especially true in the win over Hartington Cedar Catholic, where 10 Blue Devils found their way into the scorebook and Wayne was able to complement their usual production from the perimeter with some much-needed points in the paint from people like Jamie Gamble and Tori Kniesche, who finished with eight and five points, respectively, and scored above their season average.

We have to have people rebound and make defensive stops, and people like Jamie and Gabi and Jenna Trenhaile and Tori Kniesche all did an excellent job in rebounding," McLaughlin said.

Blue Devil girls win back-to-back Shootout titles

Wayne opened the tournament Thursday with a 54-25 win over Gordon-Rushville, taking control of the game in the second period with a 14-0 run that turned a 14-14 first-quarter deadlock into a 37-17 Blue Devil advantage.

Meyer and Kylie Hammer shared scoring honors in the win with 12 points apiece, with Ashton Boyer adding nine and Frankie Klausen putting in six. Tori Kniesche added four points, Sarah Greenwald had three and Gamble, Molly Hoskins, Allison Claussen and Annie Kniesche each had two.

Meyer led the team with six rebounds, while Hammer had five steals, Klausen picked off four and Greenwald had three.

In Friday's semifinals, the Blue Devils got balanced scoring all around in a 46-30 win over Arlington.

Hammer had 14 points and Klausen added 12, but Wayne got production on the inside as well with Meyer's seven points and Gamble's six.

"That's what you want and I'm proud of the way the kids came out with that effort through the entire tournament," McLaughlin said. "This team has a lot more people creating offense other than Kylie, and teams who double-team her just help us because we have Frankie and Ashton who can shoot from outside and Gabi can hit outside as well, and then you have Jamie and Tori and Gabi who can score inside, so that's a great feeling to have that total team effort.'

Hammer and Hoskins led the defensive effort with eight and seven rebounds, respectively, while Trenhaile had five. Hammer and Hoskins both had four steals and Trenhaile grabbed three Gamble had seven rebounds, Meyer and Hammer each had six and Trenhaile had four.

In Saturday's championship game, Wayne got some separation from the Trojans in the third quarter and pulled away in the fourth quarter, using a 15-of-18 effort from the free throw line to pick up the championship win.

Wayne broke a 32-32 tie in the third on a 3-pointer by Meyer, and Klausen hit three straight 3-point shots to help Wayne build a sixpoint lead going to the final quarter. That momentum carried through the final eight minutes as the Blue Devils outscored the Trojans 18-5 to pull away with the win.

"It's a tough tournament and tough to come out and do that three days in a row, and it's a great preparation for the state tournament," McLaughlin said. "We just need to maintain this momentum, perfect our defensive effort and we need to work on continuing to crash the boards and create some offense and get a good insideoutside game with our zone offense.'

Hammer scored a game-high 22 points to lead three Wayne players in double figures. Klausen finished with 18 points and Meyer added 11. Gamble scored eight and Boyer and Tori Kniesche each had five.

Bongartz led the way with a season-high 18 points on 7-of-13 shooting from the field, while Ballinger added 15 points and Erin Norling threw in 14. Caleigh Rodning led the Mustangs with 12 points and eight rebounds.

Wayne State outrebounded Southwest 41-32, with O'Connor's nine boards and Schulte's six leading the way. Lowe had five assists and Norling had three steals.

Wayne State will be at home Friday and Saturday, hosting Concordia-St. Paul Friday at 6 p.m. and Minnesota State Saturday at 2 p.m. at Rice Auditorium.

Men go 1-1 in holiday conference road trip

The Wayne State men's basketball team split their two road games over the holiday weekend, winning at Sioux Falls and losing at Southwest Minnesota State

On Saturday, the Wildcats managed a 78-66 win over University of Sioux Falls in action at Sioux Falls, S.D.

Wayne State took the lead early before the Cougars used a 7-0 run to claim their first lead, 13-12, with 12:47 remaining in the first half.

Both teams traded baskets before USF was able to use another scoring run to push their lead to eight at the 5:15 mark. Wayne State got as close as 32-28 after a Kendall Jacks layup before ending the half trailing 37-31.

The second half saw five ties and nine lead changes. Wayne State took their first lead of the half four minutes in after Vance Janssen made a layup to make the score 42-41. The teams battled back and forth before the Wildcats took their final lead of the game with 2:42 remaining and pulled away to earn the road victory.

Trevin Joseph Jr. led the Wildcat scoring attack with 22 points followed by Jacks with 21. Trevon Evans scored 22 points to lead the Cougars.

Jordan Cornelius grabbed seven rebounds for Wayne State. Jacks had five assists for the Wildcats while Vance Janssen had three steals.

On Saturday, the Wildcats came up on the short end of a 76-60 decision at Southwest Minnesota State.

Wayne State played Southwest close and led 10-8 early in the game, but the Mustangs used a 14-5 run to take a 24-13 lead. Joseph's jumper with 8:12 left in the half pulled the Wildcats to within four at 26-22, but that's as close as the visitors would get as the Mustangs built a 20-point lead at the half. 52-32.

Wayne State started the second half with layups from Cornelius and Jacks and a free throw from Jacks to cut into the Southwest lead at 54-37, but the Mustangs were able to push the lead back up to 20 points and Wayne State never got closer than 17 after that.

Joseph led the Wildcats in scoring with 15 points, Jacks added 10 while Janssen scored nine and led the team with five rebounds. Carter Kirk's game-high 23 points and 18 rebounds led Southwest.

Wayne State (9-7, 4-4 NSIC) is at home this weekend, facing Concordia-St. Paul Friday at 8 p.m. and Minnesota State Saturday at 4 p.m. at Rice Auditorium.

Wayne also hit the boards well in the finals, with 15 of their 39 rebounds coming on the offensive glass as Gabi Meyer had four offensive boards and Gamble added three.

"We stress that scoring isn't the only element.

The 9-3 Blue Devil girls play at Pierce on Friday and play Boone Central/Newman Grove on Saturday in Newman Grove. They are back home Tuesday to host Laurel-Concord-Coleridge.

Wayne boys come up short in Shootout title defense

By MICHAEL CARNES For The Herald

A cold-shooting third quarter proved to be Wayne's demise as their defense of the Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout title came up short on Saturday.

Hartington Cedar Catholic took advantage of Wayne's lackluster shooting effort in the second half and came away with the tournament title, recording a 57-44 win in the tournament title game at Rice Auditorium.

The second-half effort was the only black mark on an otherwise-solid performance by the Wayne High boys, who needed a good effort after stumbling into the holiday break with doubledigit home losses to Wisner-Pilger and O'Neill.

"That Wisner game was kind of a 'come to Jesus' kind of atmosphere as far as where this team wanted to go," coach Rob Sweetland said. "We have to execute and get great shots and be able to answer, and Hartington's key guys were able to get that and we couldn't answer and it got to the point where it got out of reach for us."

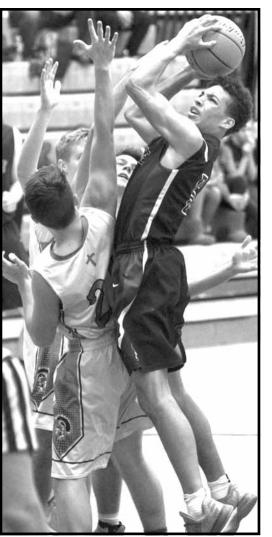

Wayne started the tournament with an impressive performance against Laurel-Concord-Coleridge, matching the Bears' quickness and coming away with a 76-57 win in Thursday's opening-round finale.

LCC got within a point midway through the first quarter on a 3-pointer by Ty Erwin, but Wayne closed the period with six straight points on a pair of Mason Lee baskets and a score by Shea Sweetland to take a 15-8 first-quarter advantage, and the Bears never got closer than four points after that.

A 9-4 run in the second period built a 16-point cushion for the Blue Devils, capped by a Jack Evetovich basket. Wayne led by 13 at the half and built that advantage to as high as 25 points in the fourth quarter after another Evetovich score before settling on the 19-point win.

Mason Lee had a game-high 21 points to lead the Blue Devils, while Evetovich and Sweetland each had 13 and Cody Rogers scored 10 coming off the bench. Lee had eight rebounds, four steals and three assists while Rogers grabbed seven boards.

Arlington proved to be a challenge early on as the Eagles led 25-23 at the half behind the scoring of Jackson Borgmann, who had a game-high 25 points in the losing effort.

Wayne used a 7-0 run to take the lead early in the third quarter, thanks to a Ryan Jaixen layup, a 3-pointer by Sweetland and two free throws by Lee to take a 30-25 advantage.

Arlington ended the early run with a basket, but Wayne capped a 7-0 run with a trey by Sweetland to lead by 10 and Arlington never got closer than six points after that.

Evetovich had 21 points to lead four Blue Devils in double figures, with Sweetland and Lee each adding 12 and Jaixen tossing in 11. Evetovich and Lee each had six rebounds, and Evetovich and Jaixen both dished out three assists. Beau Bowers had four steals.

Saturday's championship game was a backand-forth affair for much of the first half.

Hartington Cedar Catholic got out to a quick 8-1 advantage early, but Wayne came back with 3-pointers by Sweetland and Marcus Fertig to take a 20-17 lead after one period.

Neither team led by more than three points in the second period, and Wayne scored the last four points of the half on a basket by Lee and two Evetovich free throws to take a 27-26 lead into the locker room.

Riley Arens' basket to open the second half put the Trojans ahead to stay as Wayne's offense struggled to keep pace.

"We had nine possessions in the third quarter where we didn't score and they got some separation on us," Sweetland said. "We didn't finish well in the paint, and that's something we have to get better at. We got some good shots, but not great shots, and when you get in a position where the other team makes a couple of baskets you need to be able to answer and that's something we need to learn to do'

Lee scored 13 points and Sweetland added 11 in the losing effort for the Blue Devils. Evetovich had eight points, Fertig added seven, Jaixen had four and Tyrus Eischeid put in a free throw. Lee had nine rebounds, Evetovich had seven and Sweetland had five.

The Wayne boys are 4-6 on the season and play at Norfolk Catholic on Thursday before heading to Newman Grove Saturday to face Boone Central/Newman Grove. They are back home Tuesday to host Laurel-Concord-Coleridge.

$2\mathbf{B}$ The Wayne Herald – Thursday, January 4, 2018 Cold shooting leads to 0-3 finish for LCC

WAYNE — It was hard to tell what was colder over the holidays — the outside temperatures or the Laurel-Concord-Coleridge Lady Bears offense.

The LCC girls struggled from the field in all three games at the Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout, losing to Arlington (52-35), Gordon-Rushville (51-40) and Pender (51-46) to finish eighth and head into the second half of the season with a 4-7 record.

Coach Nate Sims said the Lady Bears shot less than 25 percent from the floor in the first two games and improve some in the second half of their final game, and may have had different outcomes with a better effort from the floor.

"We were under 25 percent Thursday and Friday, and if we shoot the percentage that we want to, we score 70 both days," he said. "There are some things we need to fix defensively, but a lot of it ist just putting the ball in the basket and that was the challenge.'

The Lady Bears battled Arlington for much of the first half and kept things close, but the Lady Eagles pulled away in the second half to come away with the win and move LCC into the losers bracket.

Katelyn Steffen led the Lady Bears with 10 points, Bryn Schutte added eight and Lorna Maxon and Madisyn Hall each had six points in the loss. Betany Kardell put in three points and Makayla Forsberg had two.

In Friday's consolation loss to Gordon-Rushville, the Lady Bears got out to an 11-5 lead in the first quarter and still led at the half, but the Mustangs came through with a big fourth quarter, outscoring LCC 24-14 to come away with the win.

Forsberg had 14 points, seven rebounds and four steals for LCC, while Schutte added 12 points and six rebounds. Hall added five points, Ashley Wolfgram had four, Kardell had three and Maxon had two points to go with a team-best eight rebounds, four assists and four steals.

LCC were slow out of the gate again on Saturday, but made a game of it in the fourth quarter by trimming a 19-point deficit down to five before running out of time.

"We've had games this year where we look like we did in the fourth quarter, but they're not frequent enough and we have to be so much more aggressive with everything from rebounds to securing the ball," Sims said. "We were able to battle back in the second half and make a game of it, but it was too little, too late. Those possessions in the first quarter matter just as much as they do in the fourth and we aren't playing with a sense of urgency until it's too late."

Maxon led the Lady Bears with 13 points and Forsbeg added seven. Kardell put in six points, Schutte and Steffen each had five, Hall and Erica Wolfgram both had four, and Ashley Wolfgram had two.

The Lady Bears return to action Thursday with a home matchup against Hartington Cedar Catholic before road games Friday at Winnebago and Tuesday at Wayne.

Bears go 1-2, finish sixth at Shootout

WAYNE — LCC boys basketball coach Todd Erwin was hoping for a better result from his team at the Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout, but still saw some good things from his young team after a sixthplace finish.

The Bears fell to Wayne 76-57 in the opening round, but came back to post a 54-49 win over Gordon-Rushville before finishing the tournament with an 82-62 loss to Norfolk Catholic to fall to 8-3 on the season.

"We played well at times," Erwin said. "We got off to slow starts in all three games, which is unusual for us, but the kids came back and played hard in the second half so I was happy with the effort. It was a great competition and the kids learned a lot, and that was something we needed because we are a young team."

The Bears weren't able to keep up with a fastpaced effort by the host Blue Devils on Thursday night. Wayne used its speed and were able to get the ball in the paint to built a 13-point halftime lead and keep the Bears from getting back in the game.

Izac Reifenrath and Ty Erwin each had 15 points and Noah Schutte added 14 in the losing effort. Schutte finished with 10 rebounds and three blocks, and Reifenrath had five assists and five rebounds. Also scoring were Garrett Taylor and Cael Hartung with four points apiece, Kobe Heitman put in three and Charlie Stanley put in two.

The Bears trailed 26-11 at intermission in Friday's consolation game against Gordon-Ruhsville, but made a big comeback in the second half, outscoring the Mustangs 25-12 in the fourth quarter to salvage a win in the tournament.

Erwin had 17 points, six rebounds and three steals to lead the Bears to the win. Reifenrath addd 16 points, seven rebounds and three assists, and Schutte had 12 points and a team-high 17 rebounds. Hartung put in six points and Logan Hansen had three.

The Bears weren't able to match up with Norfolk Catholic's size on the inside, but made things exciting with the white-hot shooting of Reifenrath, who scored 25 consecutive points in the second half and hit seven 3-pointers to finish with a tournament-best 30 points.

"He does that and will go on spurts like that," Erwin said. "He works hard and does a great job and we need him to be a leader and also help other kids step up."

Erwin finished with 13 points, Hartung had six, Taylor had five and Hansen and Schutte scored four apiece. Schutte was lost midway through the second period with an ankle injury.

"That was tough," Erwin said of the sophomore forward's injury. "A lot of points come from him, and if he isn't scoring he can drive and draw the double team and kick it out. It's a different game when he does that."

The Bears return to action Thursday with a home game against Hartington Cedar Catholic, then hit the road for games Friday at Winnebago and Tuesday at Wavne.

Winside boys work overtime come up short

The Winside boys gave fans more than their money's worth at the Randolph Holiday Tournament, but couldn't come away with a win in two overtime matchups.

On Friday, the Wildcats got a school-record nine 3-pointers from JaShaun Vyborny, but couldn't keep up with the host Cardinals in overtime as Randolph came away with a 64-53 win.

The game was close throughout as Winside came back from an early deficit and tied the game late to force the back to force the extra periods. Plainview's 10-4 run in the second overtime was enough to get the win, dropping Winside to 5-3 on the season.

It was rough going for the Winside girls basketball team at the Randolph Holiday Tournament, as the Wildcat offense couldn't get on track in losses to Randolph and Plainview.

On Friday, Randolph's defense limited the Wildcats to just two baskets in a 50-5 matchup in the opening round.

Randolph got out to a 15-1 lead in the opening period and shut Winside down in the second to lead 23-1 at the break. Baskets by Kati Topp and Jackie Escalante were the lone points of the second half for the Wildcats.

Esalante finished with three points and six rebounds to lead Winside, while Topp added two points. Andi each had two rebounds.

Wakefield boys take seventh at Wisner tourney

The Wakefield boys basketball team went 1-2 in the Shootout on the Elkhorn Tournament in Wisner to finish seventh in the eight-team tournament.

On Thursday, the Trojans came out slow and couldn't overcome an early Pierce advantage, falling to the consolation bracket with a 62-38 loss to the Bluejays.

Pierce gout out to a 14-point lead after one period and extended it to 19 at the break as the Trojans' offense struggled to get anything going in their first game back from the holiday break.

Solomon Peitz paced the Trojans with 13 points, while Justin Erb had 11 points.

On Friday, Lutheran High Northesat used a big third quarter to pull away from a close game and defeat the Trojans, 68-48.

Wakefield led early in the game and were within one point at the half, but the Eagles came out with a big third quarter, outscoring the Trojans 23-10 to take control of the game and come away with the win.

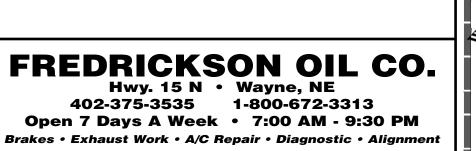

Parker Lehmkuhl, who was named to the second group of the All-Tournament team, led the Trojans with 12 points while Erb added nine, Israel Gardea put in eight and Blake Heimann had seven.

In Saturday's seventh-place game, Wakefield was able to put a good game together and come away with a 57-45 win over Neligh-Oakdale to move their record to 6-4 heading into the second half of the season.

Lehmkuhl had a game-high 25 points to pace the Trojans, while Erb and Gardea were both in double figures with 10 points apiece.

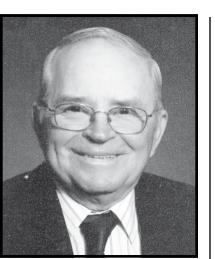

Wakefield plays host to the Bob Clough Post-Holiday Tournament this week at Wakefield High School. The Trojan boys play Emerson-Hubbard on Friday at 7:45 p.m. The consolation game is at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, with the championship game set for 6:30 p.m. Pierce 62, Wakefield 38 13 Wakefield 8 22 18 12 12 - 62 Pierce WAKEFIELD - Peitz 13, Erb 11. The Wayne era

UNL Extension

As we glide effortlessly into 2018, I have been pondering things that are important in the world of early childhood and beyond.

With the constant bustling lifestyles of families today, we need to remember to simply let children be children. Although extracurricular activities are fun and also significant, don't forget that they aren't everything that makes up a child.

Think about what matters to you as you begin this new year at your children. Really look at with your children. Is it the countless hours of practice, homework, and drills that must be done in order for children to "win"? Is it the countdown of days until summer vacation? Or is it the family time together, no matter how long or short? Is it the messiness and laughter of children that signal a full and happy household?

This new year, I challenge you to take a few minutes and look them. What makes them happy? What makes them sad? I think you will find that children don't need "stuff". They don't need the toys or the latest trend. They need time. With you.

Although it sometimes seems daunting or impossible, take the time. Take the time to take your children on a nature walk, even if it is just around the neighborhood.

Take the time to read to them, no matter how old they are. Take the time to talk to them and, more importantly, listen to them.

In order to build a foundation for resilient children, take the time. Our world is often an ever-changing place of turmoil, so we need the solidity of home to provide a place of strength, courage and rest.

Turn off the TV, put your phone on silent, and dig out those games, puzzles or books and start the new year off with the best gift you can give. Time.

Remembering the Fire of 1986

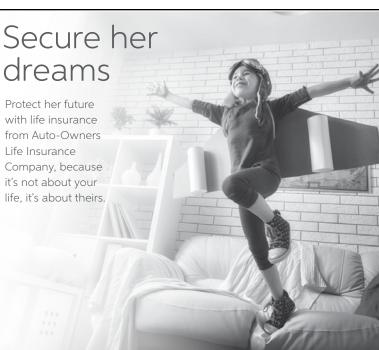

In the early hours of January 2, 1986, our bank building was completely destroyed by fire. Although it had a devastating effect on the physical bank, the incident created a strong employee and community bond. With the help of many we were open for business the next day at our drive-in location. We're still going strong, and thankful to our employees and our community for your support.

The role of bread in the sacrament of the Eucharist

The sacrament of the Eucharist, sometimes referred to as "Holy Communion," is steeped in tradition.

One such tradition concerns the bread used during the administration of the sacrament. The bread used during the Eucharist may be referred to as "the host," and not all denominations within the Christian Church use the same type of bread.

For example, in the western Catholic Church, a thin, round wafer made of unleavened bread is used during the Eucharist, while the Orthodox Church and the Eastern-rite Roman Catholic churches use leavened bread. Protestant churches may use leavened or unleavened bread for their hosts.

Only practicing Orthodox Christians in good standing with the Church may bake the bread used for the Eucharist within the Orthodox Church. Nuns, priests or congregants once bore the responsibility of making the bread for the Eucharist in the Catholic Church, but many Catholic Churches now get their bread from bakeries.

For Christians, the Eucharist is more than just bread. While denominations within the Christian Church may differ in regard to their beliefs, all Christians believe Christ is present in the Eucharist in one way or another. For example, Catholics believe in transubstantiation, the process before the administration of the Eucharist during which the bread and wine are transformed into Jesus Christ himself.

The administration of the sacrament of the Eucharist is a special moment in the lives of Christians, and bread plays a significant role at this time for Christians of all denominations.

+ www.mywaynenews.com 5B + Dealing with New Year's resolutions, failures

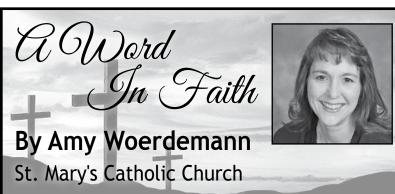

If you're anything like me, you have a love-hate relationship with New Year's resolutions. We start out with this tremendous resolve to make positive life changes, to get healthier and be a better person. If you are strong willed, you are able to stick with your resolutions and become that healthier person.

Unfortunately I don't seem to be that strong and I eventually fail. I usually renew my resolutions and try to get back on track. However, I tend to fail again and again. When this happens I start beating myself up and become discouraged. I start to rationalize my failure, make excuses and eventually go back to life as usuoften describes my spiritual life. I tell myself that I am going to pray more and sin less. Sounds easy doesn't it? I wake up every day and ask God to help me be a better person but somehow at the end of the day I feel like such a failure. Sometimes I have people in my life that remind me of my failures. It can be tough not to get down on myself. Does this sound familiar to any of you? If so - I have some ideas to help us overcome the negativity that comes with "failure".

We need to realize that we are all fallen beings, and while it might hurt our pride to say so, we make mistakes each and every day. Each time we fall we need to view it as an opportunity. It is a chance for us to grow in our humble dependence on God. We should give thanks that we have not fallen more frequently or more gravely.

We must reject discouragement. The discouragement and hopelessness that we might feel is not from God. Each time we may feel as though our sins and failures have driven God away from us but that is not true. God is always waiting, like the Father in the story of the prodigal son, to run to us and embrace us with open arms.

If we take everything one step at a time, one day at a time, it is easier to pick ourselves up after we fall. It is also easier to avoid discouragement when we are not looking to the past or the distant future.

We must not lose courage. We will fall but we have to continue to get up and try again and again. The Apostles and the Saints were not perfect. They failed many times but they continued to get up again, return to God in repentance until the day of their death. We are all called to be saints.

If you are looking for a few resolutions to work on each day here is a list from Pope Francis that I really like.

- 1. Don't gossip.
- 2. Finish your meals.
- 3. Make time for others.

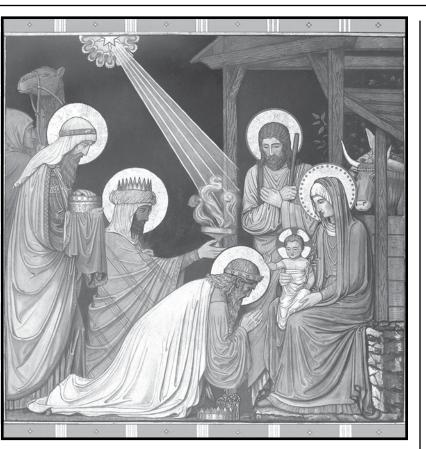

4. Choose the 'more humble' purchase.

- 5. Meet the poor 'in the flesh.'
- 6. Stop judging others.
- 7. Befriend those who disagree. 8. Make commitments.

9. Make it a habit to 'ask the Lord.'

10. Be happy.

I do pray that each and every one of you had a wonderful Christmas and will have a blessed 2018!

The tradition of the Epiphany

While some may think the holi- to bless the homes marked so that day season ends once New Year's Day comes and goes, for Christians, the season continues into January with the feast of the Epiphany.

The Epiphany occurs 12 days after Christmas, which falls on January 6 (or January 19 for some Orthodox churches that celebrate Christmas on January 7). The Epiphany celebrates the Three Kings, also known as the Three Wise Men, who visited Jesus shortly after his birth.

The Epiphany is celebrated by Catholics and Orthodox Christians. Among Hispanics, the day is known as El Día de los Reyes. Many traditions are included in Epiphany celebrations. According to the Center for Christian Ethics at Baylor University, three historical traditions of the Epiphany include baking a "Kings' Cake," marking a door lintel with the Magi's blessing, and participating in worship with lighted candles. Some families also exchange gifts on the Epiphany to commemorate the gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh that the Three Wise Men presented to Jesus upon arriving at the manger.

all those who dwell inside remain blessed throughout the year.

The marking includes the first digits of the year, followed by the initials of the Magi - Caspar, Malchior and Balthazar followed by the last digits of the year. For 2018 the formula should read: 20+C+M+B+18.

King cakes vary by region. In Spain, local bakers make a special ring-shaped roll. In France, it is a flat almond cake with a toy crown cooked inside. In Mexico, bakers put a figure of Baby Jesus inside a cake. The person who finds the figure is awarded the honor of baking or providing the cake for the following year and hosting the Epiphany celebration.

Individuals are urged to keep candles lit on the Epiphany. This is to symbolize how Jesus' presence on Earth was comparable to light entering a darkened world.

Sponsors also are tasked with serving as a sounding board for young Christians who may have questions or concerns about life as a maturing Christian. In such instances, sponsors are encouraged to share their own experiences growing up as Christians and make concerted efforts to answer any questions prospective confirmands may have, even if this requires sponsors to contact church officials for answers.

Winside Public School food drive brings in over 2,000 items Winside Public School hosted its annual Food Drive from Dec. 4 - 15.

The Food Drive is sponsored by the high school Youth Leadership Council (YLC) and the Elementary Student Council. The elementary school (PreK-sixth grades) set their goal at 1,000 items, while junior high and high school's (seventh-12th grades) goal was 850 items.

Items were counted on the morning of Dec. 15, and both buildings were excited to learn they surpassed their goals with over 1,000 items per building, bringing the overall total to over 2,000 items.

Collected items were distributed to the Wayne County Food Pantry, the Winside Backpack Program, and Wayne's Haven House.

All students earned a 10 a.m. late start as they return from the holidays on Jan. 3. Additionally, elementary students earned a movie. The freshmen class collected the most items in the junior high and high school and also earned a movie.

Winside Elementary Student Council members include: fourth graders - Matthew Gubbels, Landon Carlson and Jerzi Carlson; fifth graders - Skylar Spann; sixth graders - Megan Gnirk, Reagan Strong, and Nevaeh Rastede; and advisors Eliene Loetscher and Brittany Penlerick.

High School YLC members incldue: seventh graders - Hannah Gubbels and Jake Bargstadt: ninth graders - Kati Topp, Harlie Wylie, Kylie Cautrell, and Jacqueline Escalante; tenth graders - Alex Carlson, Lane Damme, Loretta Reed, and Andrea Bargstadt; eleventh graders - Haylee Cummins and Erin Clocker; twelfth graders - Brandon Watters; and advisor School Counselor Andrea Hinrichs.

The Winside Public School District serves just over 200 students in preschool through twelfth grades.

Upcoming clinics and conferences

The 2018 Crop Production Clinics and Crop Management Conference are excellent opportunities for crop producers and agribusiness professionals to improve their profitability and sustainability. The clinics will be offered at four locations across Nebraska this January and the conference will be held over two days in Kearney.

They will feature presentations from Extension specialists and educators on soil fertility; soil, water, and irrigation management; crop production; ag business management and policy; pesticide safety; and disease, insect, and weed resistance management. The conference will also feature presentations from regional experts like Kevin Bradley from University of Missouri.

Winter birdfeeder watch event coming

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council in partnership with Nebraska Game & Parks, Northern Prairie Lands Trust and the Plainview Public Library are hosting Project Feeder Watch on Saturday, February 3, 2018. This free event will be held at the Plainview Library, 209 N. Pine St., from 10:00 a.m. until noon. No registration required. Questions can be addressed to Jamie Bachmann, Wildlife Education Assistant, at Jamie.bachmann@nebraska.gov.

Kids, families, and bird lovers of all ages and experience levels are encouraged to attend Project Feeder Watch. Join us for a fun and informative presentation from 10:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. followed by Feeder Watch data collection and cozy winter treats from 10:30 a.m. until noon. Participants will leave with the confidence and materials to continue Project Feeder Watch in their own backyard. Join in on this hands-on learning experience and free door prizes.

Project Feeder Watch is a citizen science project out of the Cornell Lab of Ornithology. Citizen science is a way for the public to contribute to the scientific understanding of the natural world. Participants will learn how to identify and count backyard feeders birds under the Project Feeder Watch protocol. The data collected will help to understand changes in bird populations.

Embrace the winter. Count feeder birds for science! It'll be fun.

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council looks forward to continuing their service to citizens through projects that will make life better for people in Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce, and Wayne counties.
