Pheasants Forever Banquet

Regardless of poor weather, the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever hosted its annual banquet on Friday. Dozens turned out to enjoy a night of raffles, games, auctions and fun. One of the highlights of the night included a "snipe hunt" game where folks were selected to wear the colorful garb shown above and received a snipe hunting license. For $10, they could pass it on to the person of their choosing. Matt Poehlman, shown above, was the first lucky hunter to get a snipe hunting license and appropriate hunting gear. According to chapter member Duane Schroeder, a large amount of money was raised during the game. Find more photos from the event on page 8B.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session this week with several agenda items to discuss.

One of those agenda items had a large price tag attached to it thanks to some issues found during a comprehensive study of the building was done.

Jerry Berggren and Doug Etling of Berggren Architects visited the commissioners to discuss possible options for handling the numerous issues the company found during its study of the historic building.

Berggren Architects was hired to help with the process of having the courthouse's mortar joints and stone work repaired. The company specializes in historic buildings.

During their study of the building, the company used a drone to take photos of areas of the building not easily accessed. Upon seeing the photos, the company determined the scope of work needed to be expanded if the commissioners didn't want to have the mortar and stone work to be for nothing.

Areas of concern included the roof and the bay windows. A myriad of problems including improper installation of roofing and flashing materials has led to water getting into the building. In addition, the bay windows have water problems of their own and require attention if they are to continue donning the building.

Photos of the damages were shown in a meeting a month ago, Berggren was hoping to have the cost estimate by last meeting, however the poor weather conditions prevented the company from visiting during the last commissioners meeting.

Berggren and Etling discussed three options the commissioners have for addressing the roof problems. Each of them requires the courthouse to be reroofed, but the materials differ.

In option one, the courthouse would replace the current asphalt shingles with another set of asphalt shingles. This would be done properly with proper flashing to ensure the roof would no longer leak. The life span of an asphalt roof is roughly 25 to 30 years.

In the second option, the roof replacement material would be a synthetic slate shingle. This shingle would look like the slate roof that originally sat upon the courthouse and would offer 50-60 years of life, relatively maintenance free.

The final option included replacing the asphalt shingles with a real slate roof, which was part of the original design of the court-years before it was replaced.

In all three scenarios, the main difference in cost comes from the type of material chosen, Berggren said. The labor is relatively similar in each situation but materials dif-

Berggren gave an estimate for the work on the courthouse (i.e. drainage system to pull water from foundation, masonry, stone and bay window updates) without the addition of the roof. That figure totalled $1,107,761.00.

Berggren went on to couple that figure with the each roof replacement option.

Option one, replacing asphalt with asphalt would bring the total to $1,695,675.00.

Option two's total would reach $1,778.499.00 to replace the asphalt shingles with synthetic slate.

Finally in option three where the roof would be replaced with a real slate roof, the total for the project amounts to $2,086,675.00.

The commissioners needed time to look over the documents provided by Berggren before they made any decisions and motioned for recess after speaking with Berggren and Etling.

The commissioners will continue their meeting on Thursday, March 22 at 10 a.m. in the courthouse.

Prior to meeting with Berggren Architects, the commissioners made changes to the road haul agreement being sent to Next Era Energy for use of the county roads in the wind energy project being constructed near Carroll.

County Attorney Mike Pieper brought his concerns on a few items to the board and made the changes discussed, such as imposing a $1,500 per tower access fee on those towers that are accessed via county road.

Depth at which to bury cables, time limits on compliance and other fees were also discussed.

Pieper also discussed a lawsuit he was sent information on regarding opiod drug use.

A national group is suing pharmacy corporations for essentially pushing the medications made with opiods. The lawsuit aims to recoup costs associated with jail time and the like due to an uptick in arrests caused by abuse of the drugs.

After discussing it with the board and getting insight from Sheriff Jason Dwinnel, Pieper will be gathering more information on the lawsuit to bring before the board before they will make any decision.

The Civil Service Commission is now back to capacity following the approval of two new members during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

The appointments of Galen Wiser and Deb Finn were unanimously approved by the council. The two replace Dr. Andria Cooper and Lois Shelton on the commission and bring the total number of members to five. The commission is responsible for the hiring (and firing if necessary) of members of the Wayne Police Department.

An application for a liquor license for the Wayne Country & Golf Club was approved. The action was necessary because of a new description for the clubhouse.

A presentation from American Broadband representatives include ed updates on what the company has done in regard to service in the past year and future plans.

Pam Adams, Marketing Manager/ account Executive; Shane Morris, Network Operations Manager; and Cory Sandoz, Supervisor spoke to the council on the upgrades completed to significantly increase the capacity (speed) of internet services both in the community and outside of town.

Morris also fielded questions about slow internet speeds. He said he encourages customers to contact the office to determine if an increase is needed in bandwidth. All inquiries are handled on a caseby-case basis and the company offers a 30-day trial to determine the best package based on usage.

Morris said American Broadband tries to "give customers more value for the price they pay. We also work to offer lower end packages for those who do not need more/faster internet."

Council members authorized the city administrator to apply for Nebraska Public Transportation Act Funds for the purchase of a City Administrator Wes Blecke said the grant would be used to replace a 2008 van. The new van would cost approximately $23,000 and the city would be responsible for 10 percent. The city would be able to keep the proceeds from the sale of the current van.

A public hearing was held and first reading approval given to an ordinance that would re-zone a piece of property (Lot 2, Benscoter Addition PUD Replat 2) from B-1, Highway Business to R-4, Residential. The chance will result in a better fit to the area as more housing is developed in the area and the zoning matches that in the surrounding area.

First reading approval was given to an ordinance that will require a permit to be obtained before installing a fence on private property. Several comments were made in regard to language in the ordinance, including the fact that the "nice" side of the would need to face the neighbor's property and if a sidewalk were to go in the area, the fence would have to be removed.

Council members also waived the third reading on two ordinances that deal with parking on Thorman Street. The request for the change came at the council's last meeting from the Wayne Veterinary Clinic. It was noted that vehicles park in the area and it is difficult for customers to get in and out of the business.

Council members went into executive session for the purpose of conducting the annual review of the city administrator.

The council also approved the application of Dennis Mosely to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. Mosely, who is employed at Great Dane Trailers, moved to Wayne from California several years ago. His membership brings the total number of members on the department to 31 and one cadet.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, April 3 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Fence Permit

At its last meeting, the City Council passed the first reading of an ordinance to require fence permits. You might ask yourselves why? This ordinance was in partial response to an issue a few months ago when a fence was placed in an area of concern for a potential future safety issue if a public sidewalk was to be installed.

Now the process for obtaining a fence permit will ensure that the City has reviewed the location and quality of the fence going in and will protect the resident or business that a permit was signed off by the City approving location and material. (A fee will be established at a future meeting).

This ordinance will not require agricultural fences in the extraterritorial jurisdiction to obtain a permit. The second change to the City code is to require the "nice looking side" of the fence to face your neighbor. If one side is made to be finished and more visually appealing, then this side must face your neighbor. The final change made (mentioned before) is that no fence prohibiting a view will be allowed in the front yard if a sidewalk is adjacent. If no sidewalk exists at

State grants make training conference possible

Haven House and Wayne State College will be holding a Frontline Training Conference in Wayne on Wednesday and Thursday, March 28 and 29.

The event is a trauma-informed training for law enforcement, probation officers, social workers, county court employees, attorneys, corrections, judges, advocates, and other related professions. Nearly 200 criminal justice and human service professionals will be attending this training.

The Frontline Training Conference is one of Haven House's main events as they launch into their 40th year of serving domestic and sexual violence victims and survivors

"The great part about how we have designed this training is that anyone who works with victims of crime or deals with the perpetrators will be able to get value from this training and add to their skill set," said Josh Sievers, Outreach Coordinator at Haven House.

This training for professionals will be held on the Wayne State College campus and will equip attendees to better serve victims and to close more cases.

"We are excited to be partnering with Haven House to bring a training of this magnitude to Wayne State College. Each of the trainers attending this event has extensive experience in their respective field and will enhance the skills of any of the professions attending," Jason Karsky, a professor of criminal justice at Wayne State College, who also serves as the college's Criminal Justice Association advisor, said.

The Frontline Training Conference has been made possible by a grant from the Nebraska Worker Training Grant Program and the partnership of local sponsors such as Wayne State College, Cobblestone Hotel, Mikey C Productions, Ameritas, Aflac, and other local sponsors

Michael Foods in Wakefield handed hefty OSHA fine

The death of an employee prompted an investigation by the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration at Wakefield's Michael Foods Inc. Now complete, Michael Foods faces a large fine.

An employee performing maintenance on a dock leveler at the egg processing plant was crushed when the dock he was working on collapsed, pinning him underneath.

During the investigation, numerous safety

The proposed penalties total $188,464 according to an OSHA spokesperson. Cites include exposing employees to hazards associated with failing to properly brace equipment during servicing and maintaining; failing to develop written and effective training and procedures for lockout/tagout; and failing to conduct periodic reviews of the company's lockout/tagout safety procedures.

In addition to the citations, OSHA also found electrical and arc flash hazards.

The company is given 15 days to respond with compliance, request a conference with the area OSHA director or contest those findings.

4A The Wayne Herald – Thursday, March 22, 2018 Wayne High to present 'Damn Yankees' April 6-8

Spring Musical at Wayne High School.

Performances are slated for Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7 at 7 p.m. and a matinee on Sunday, April 8 at 2 p.m.

This year's production is 'Damn Yankees,' based on the novel "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant" by Douglass Wallop. 'Damn Yankees' was a 1956 Broadway mega-hit and winner of seven Tony Awards, including Best Musical. The jazz and Latininfused score by Adler and Ross and comical book by George Abbot have made this sporty musical comedy a true American classic.

Middle-aged baseball fanatic Joe Boyd (Micah Carson), trades his soul to the Devil, also known as Mr. Applegate (Jack Osnes), for a chance to lead his beloved Washington Senators to victory in the pennant race against the New York Yankees. Despite distractions from a flirty Lola (Grace Heithold), the Final preparations are underway for the 2018 newly transformed Joe Hardy (Sam Bruckner) turns the hapless Washington Senators into a winning team, only to realize the true worth of the life and wife (Sarah Wibben) that he's left behind. Determined to find out the real story, reporter Gloria (Avianna Doring) finds herself at the ballfield with the Senators team and their gritty manager Van Buren (Colton Spahr).

A host of singers and dancers round out this energetic cast of characters.

Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased by calling the High School office at (402) 375-3150 or by contacting one of the cast members.

"A combination of America's original great pastimes, baseball and musical theater, what better way to kick off spring than a night at Griffith Stadium (the Wayne High Lecture Hall) with a bag of popcorn and several of your good friends!" said Tracy Anderson place on May 15, voters have some homework they need to complete.

Voters: check party affiliation

Voters should take time to check out what they have listed as their party affiliation through votercheck.necvr.ne.gov.

Why is this so important?

Voters registered with a party are only eligible to vote in that party's primary. In Wayne County, there is only one primary - the Republican Primary - because there is more than one Republican candidate running for offices. This is not the case for the Democratic Party or the Independents.

The primary narrows down the field and will produce the only Republican candidate for each office. That person will run against anyone who might be running as a different party in that race.

Which is why it's important to pay attention to how you are registered. If there is a stand out candidate that you would really like to see make it to the November election, take the time to check

With the upcoming primary election taking your party affiliation to ensure you are able to vote for them in the primary.

If you aren't associated with that party, don't worry. Changing party affiliation is easy and painless

A simple form can be filled out on the county's website or mailed in or filled out at the County Clerk's Office.

Those mailing in or completing online have until April 30. Those filling out the form in the courthouse have until May 4. That day, the Clerk's office will stay open until 6 p.m. just for this reason.

There is no fee associated with switching and after the primary is over, voters can easily switch back to the party they were once affiliated with.

Voters will select candidates for Senate, Congress, State and County offices as well as the Board of Regents for the University of Nebraska. In the City of Wayne, the mayoral race is not affiliated with any party.

Gardner Hall on the WSC campus was nearly filled to capacity with area high school students, WSC students and community members during last week's Legislative Forum.

Weather doesn't put damper on recent Legislative Forum

Despite less than ideal weather conditions, Gardner Hall on the campus of Wayne State college was filled on Friday for the 27th annual Legislative Forum.

Always held on a Friday recess day for the Nebraska Legislature, this year's forum included District 17 Senator Joni Albrecht, District 16 Senator Lydia Brasch, District 19 Senator and Speaker of the Legislature Jim Sheer, District 22 Senator Paul Schumacher and District 22 Senator Mike Groene.

In addition to area residents and Wayne State College students, high school students from Wayne, Ponca, Wakefield and Winside were in attendance.

Each senator was given the opportunity to introduce him/herself and talk about the priority bills they have sponsored in the Legislature.

All of the senators in attendance noted that because this is a 60-day session, "there is a lot of work to get done in the 16 days we have left."

Senator Albrecht represents the Wayne area and chairs the Business and Labor Committee. Her priority bills deal with Workers Compensation Court and collective bargaining with the Nebraska State Patrol. She is in her first term in the Legislature.

Senator Brasch, who represents he area around West Point is ir

Tree limbs, like the one above, struggling to support the weight of the ice often succumbed, leaving a large mess to clean up.

Winside track teams combine youth, experience

The Winside boys and girls track teams will have some competitive athletes this season as they combine some experienced athletes with up-and-coming talent.

a total of 15 returning letterwinners from last year will be on the track and in the field for the Wildcats this year as they get ready to open the 2018 spring season.

Returning for the Wildcat boys are Brandon Watters, Dylan Brogren, William Bullard, Colton Jensen. Matthew Frederick, Carter Jensen, Brody Meis, Edward Olander, JaShaun Vyborny, Alex Carlson and Kaleb Fuchs.

Returning for the Winside girls are Fauneil Olander, Victoria Buresh, Andi Bargstadt and Jaelyn Petersen.

Among the athletes to watch for the Wildcats this spring is senior Billy Chappell.

"We have lower numbers, but we will have some competitive individuals in certain events," coach Mark Tonniges said.

Winside opened the season at the Concordia Indoor Invite on Friday. Their first outdoor meet is Tuesday at the Stanton Invitational.

Six Blue Devils make Mid State All-Conference

Three girls and three boys were tabbed by Mid State Conference coaches on their All-Conference listing for boys and girls basketball.

For the girls, senior Kylie Hammer was named to the All-Conference team. Honorable mention selections went to junior Gabi Meyer and sophomore Frankie Klausen.

On the boys list, seniors Mason Lee and Jack Evetovich both received All-Conference honors, while sophomore Shea Sweetland was listed as honorable mention.

Girls All-Conference

should be improved

The outlook for the Wakefield track team is a good one this year, as the Trojans bring a lot of potential to the table for the 2018 spring season

Wakefield track teams

Coach Mike Hassler is happy with the kids he has out this season and is looking forward to seeing what the Wakefield kids will do this upcoming season.

Two seniors lead the girls squad, which will be a young team that will develop over the season.

"We are a young squad with just two senior girls leading this year's track team," he said. We have a lot of first time track athletes, so early on it will be about finding out where everyone fits. I think you'll see a lot of shuffling. We always tell our kids we want to find the best possible place for them to compete, and that it might take a few track meets to figure that out."

The Trojans have several returning veterans in Andrea Lopez, Camille Armitage, Jamie Dolph, Jessica Borg and Breanna Chase, all of whom have been consistent performers for the Trojans.

Lopez and Dolph are the team's leading scorers back from last year, and both should compete well in the distance events. Armitage should do well in the high jump and Chase should score well in the sprints this season.

Borg hurt her knee during basketball season, but is coming back strong and Hassler is hoping to see her back in the hurdles races later this spring.

"Her rehab from knee injury seems to be coming along as planned, and hopefully we can see her back in the race by mid-season," he said. Potential is the key word on the boys' side, as the Trojans have just one returning senior back this season in sprinter Ben Chase.

"He is a great leader by example type of kid," Hassler said. Ben has been a solid sprinter for us since his freshman year. He will do a good job of setting the tone for the underclassman in practice."

Two state qualifiers are back this year in Solomon Peitz and Israel Gardea. Peitz qualified in the high jump and Gardea hopes to return in the shot put this spring.

"I expect big things from both of them," Hassler said. "To get to Omaha as sophomores was a big step for both of them. Now the goal for them is to get back down their and make some noise."

With a lot of youth on the team, Hassler hopes they will step up and perform well this season.

"A lot of coaches might be concerned that they only have one senior on their entire squad, but that totally isn't the case here," he said. "There is a lot of good young raw talent on this team. What they chose to do with it on the track will be up to them. As coaches it will be our job to prepare them and get them ready to compete."

Junior Esgar Godinez and sophomore Gabe Peitz are two athletes Hassler hopes will step up their game this year. Hassler said Godinez is a good sprinter who needs to push himself up to the next level, and Peitz ran well in distance events despite a nagging hip injury. Hassler said he has the potential to make it to state if he can stay healthy.

"With our youth, I'm sure we'll see our ups and downs over the course of the season, but I see no reason why this team shouldn't finish in the top four of most meets and perhaps even compete for a few team titles," he said.

Wakefield's first outdoor event is March 27 at the West Point-Beemer Invitational.

Eight Wayne Youth Wrestling combatants took part in the Nebraska USA Wrestling state tournament over the weekend in Grand Island, and the local kids came home with a state champion among its three top-eight placers.

Ryden Hanson won the Pre-K 46-pound championship, going 3-0 on the day with one pin. He won his first-place match on a 4-1 decision.

Merrick Miller came back from a semifinal loss to earn the third-place medal in the Pre-K 57-59 pound weight class. He went 3-1 on the day, with all three wins coming by pin.

Dakota Spann finished eighth in the 175-pound weight bracket for seventh and eighth graders, coming back from a first-round loss to win three matches before losing his final two to place eighth overall.

Other Wayne wrestlers competing included: Noah Magnuson — 0-2 in Grade 1-2 56-pound weight class

Jahiem Hamik — 0-2 in Grade 1-2 75-pound weight class.

Will Leseberg — 1-2 in Grade 5-6 70-pound weight class.

Returners to help LCC track with competitive edge this season

LCC will have several athletes returning from last year and boys and girls track coach Shannon Benson is optimistic about the team's hopes for the season

"Good numbers this year will mean we should compete in a lot of different events," Benson said. "We have a big variety of experience coming back in different events. We need to replace some very good athletes from last year that really worked hard. We need to make sure that we continue to get better each day and each meet."

A total of 10 returning letterwinners are back for the boys and girls this year, led by throwers Ethan Williams, Cutter Haberman and Wyatt Taylor, along with Ryan Bathke (distance), Justin Kinkaid (sprints, jumps), Landen Boyson (distance, relays) and Cody Martin (hurdles, middle distance).

Four Lady Bears are back from last year, including Sydney Chapman (throws), Jozie Schutte (relays, sprints), Anna Casey (throws) and Makayla Forsberg (sprints, jumps).

Several athletes to watch for the LCC teams this spring include Erica Wolfgram (jumps, sprints), Kaylee Donner (distance), Glenda Vance (sprints), Sam Rose (sprints, jumps), Austin Hall (throws), Cael Hartung (sprints, jumps), Sean Aschoff (distance), Nolan Ohlrich (pole vault, sprints) and Cody Babl (jumps).

The LCC track teams open at the Krumwiede Invitational on Friday, April 6.

On the girls side, seniors Kylie Hammer and Jenna Trenhaile, junior Gabi Meyer and sophomore Frankie Klausen are all back after competing in the state meet a year ago, where Wayne finished 16th in Class B.

It will be a matter of developing depth in all areas to score well enough to win some meets. It's those fourths, fifths and sixths that will make a difference."

Hammer has qualified in each of her first three seasons and looks to do so again this year in the long jump and triple jump. She will also be a key player in the sprints as well this season.

Trenhaile has progressed to become a solid scorer in the throwing events and hopes to add the shot put on to her state-qualifying effort last year in the discus.

Meyer is a middle distance specialist who is looking to get back in the 800, while Klausen is hoping to return to state after making it as a freshman last year on the track.

Other returning letterwinners include Shania Anderson, Molly Hoskins, Andrea Torres, Sydney Biggerstaff, Ashton Boyer, Allison Claussen, Maysyn Dorey, Mariah Frevert, Sarah Greenwald, Josie Thompson, Emily Armstrong, Hailey Backer, Maddie Beair, Maggie Fehringer, Faith Junck, Skyler Mutchler and Erin O'Reilly.

Newcomers to watch this year include Shea Abraham, Emilia Hartikka, Symphony Jareske, Haley Harrell, and freshmen Andi Belt, Emily Chamberlain, Peyton French, Karlee Janke and Emily Longe.

The boys lost a lot of talent to graduation last year, but still have plenty of talent coming back, led by returning state qualifier Cody Rogers, who is hoping to return in the jumps this season.

"Having 13 seniors graduate, a couple athletes switch sports, and a small freshman class will reduce our numbers challenging those that are out to fill in on many levels," Hochstein said. "We have a lot of talented athletes, it's just how far can they go and how to the step up and fill in events. Field events should help us start strong in meets.'

Experience returns to Blue Devil baseball this season

After a 6-12 campaign last spring, the Wayne High baseball team has some good experience returning to the lineup this season.

Coach Adam Hoffman said some holes will need to be filled in the starting lineup, but he is hopeful that the team will be an improved squad this season.

"We will be a young squad that needs some younger guys to fill the holes where we graduated last year," he said. "We need to be a team that comes to the park with good and competitive attitudes everyday to improve."

The Blue Devils will have plenty of pitching to work with. Northwest Missouri State recruit Zane Jackson will work both sides of the battery as a pitcher and catcher, and Brennen O'Reilly, Trevor DeBoer and Tyler Gilliland all return with pitching experience. O'Reilly will also help solidify the outfield, while DeBoer will play first base and Gilliland will play in the middle infield. Hagan Miller is also back in the starting lineup after a solid freshman campaign at third base.

Gunnar Jorgensen and Josh Lutt both bring pitching experience to the lineup this season. Lutt will also play middle infield while Jorgensen will be a utility player and see some time in the outfield.

Newcomers Jacob Kneifl and Reid Korth also have mound experience, and Korth will also be a solid catcher behind the plate. Kneifl and Kaleb Anderson should also help out in the outfield.

The Wayne High baseball team opened the 2018 campaign with a win on the road Monday, holding off a late rally to post a 3-2 win at Arlington.

The Blue Devils scored first in the top of the first inning when Jackson took a 2-2 pitch over the wall in left field for Wayne's first run of the season, but Arlington would use a double and two errors to plate two runs in the third to take a 2-1 lead. Wayne regained the lead in the fifth when DeBoer doubled and Victor Kniesche came on as a courtesv runner. He moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Lutt, and after Korth was hit by a pitch, Kniesche came home on Anderson's bunt single to tie the game. Korth gave Wayne the lead when he scored on a sacrifice by Kneifl. Arlington left two runners on in the sixth and loaded the bases in the seventh, but Wayne's defense came through as Lutt flipped to Anderson at second for a fielder's choice to end the game.

DeBoer got the win in relief of Kneifl, pitching 3 1/3 innings of one-hit baseball for the 1-0 Blue Devils.

Wayne's scheduled home opener with Fort Calhoun on Tuesday was postponed. They are scheduled to play Thursday at Pender against Thurston County and follow with a Friday game at Wahoo.

WSC's Ballinger named second team All-Central Region

Wayne State senior basketball standout Paige Ballinger was named to the 2017-18 D2CCA All-Central Region Women's Basketball second team as voted on by sports information directors from the NCAA Division II Central Region.

The 6-foot-1 senior center from Pender was a firstteam All-NSIC selection for a third straight season this year. She led the Wildcats in scoring at 12.2 points per game to go with 5.9 rebounds a contest this season, ranking second in the NSIC with 2.4 blocks per game while ranking 10th in field goal percentage (.487) and 12th in free throw percentage (.810).

In NSIC games, Ballinger averaged 12.8 points and 6.0 rebounds per game recording four games of 20 or more points with three double-doubles. She was second in blocked shots per game (2.2), ninth in field goal percentage (.486), 10th in free throw percentage (.825) and 16th in scoring.

Ballinger ended her Wildcat career ranked eighth in career scoring with 1,448 points and is the all-time blocked shot leader with 217.

Wayne State College finished the season with a 25-7 overall record and placed second in the NSIC South Division with an 18-4 league mark.

The Wayne Herald – Thursday, March 22, 2018 3B + Eagle Track squads produce 25... of youth and experience along with a sprinkling of veteran performers from prior state track meets this season.

"The team will work very hard to get better. Our coaching staff's philosophy is easy to understand, 'get better daily," coach Dave Uldrich said.

The squad consists of 17 boys and eight girls. Four of the 25 athletes are returning state medalists from 2016 and or 2017. The Eagles captured six medals at the 2017 state meet. Uldrich will be assisted by Marc Bathke, Zach Wemhoff and Paige Green.

Heading the senior class for the Eagles will be Bri Hingst. Hingst qualified in the 300 hurdles in 2017 and had also run on the 400-meter relay in 2016. Hingst will set the tone for all the younger athletes to follow.

Juniors, returning state champion medalists, Isaac Verzani and Devin Twohig, as well as sophomore medalist Brogan Jones, will look to repeat the 3200-meter relay championship produced in 2017. Their efforts are expected to be the model for all to follow.

Seniors and juniors are scarce, but Desi Martell is a quality high jumper and Tanisha Isom will run middle distance. Two other juniors will help lead the team this spring. Jarod Lund will compete for the fourth leg of the defending state relay team. Haley Stapleton, a steadfast relay member, also returns.

Sophomore boys, along with freshmen boys and Hartington Cedar Catholic Invite.

The 2018 Allen Eagle track squad will be a blend girls, make a large portion of the squad and will be challenged to improve before season's end. Uldrich believes a few could really make an impact by season's end. Several are new, and a few return as 'seasoned' competitors. Josh Grone, Noah Carr, Lukas Oswald and Brock Floyd will add depth early. The many newcomers will be placed in areas where success hopefully follows.

It seems as if the 2018 squad, are the kids who want to be here, challenging themselves and wanting to be the best they can be as individuals, and become even better competitive athletes. The coaching staff appreciates that mentality.

"The program is all about personal improvement, not being the first place person in every meet. We have never made that a priority and will not start now," he said. "When the kids buy into that, and see improvements come personally, they work even harder to better themselves."

Uldrich said he's excited about seeing what the Eagles can do this spring.

"I respect and admire these kids," he siad. "To put themselves in front of everyone, risking failure, but risking success, too. Eventually, the medals will come. The work it takes to be a track athlete and learning to compete is a valuable lesson for life. We appreciate and respect each and every athlete who dares take the challenge. These athletes are a tremendously fun and hard working group of young people."

Wayne High golfers look to be improved this season

A good returning group and an abundance of young freshmen has resulted in a big roster for the Wayne High boys golf team this season.

Coach Josh Johnson has four starters and eight letterwinners back from last year, but with several new faces on the roster, competition for the varsity lineup should be interesting.

Wildcat baseball opens NSIC play with four-game sweep of Mary

Wayne State opened Northern Sun Conference baseball play with a four-game sweep over University of Mary in weekend games that were moved to Millard North High School in Omaha due to wet field conditions in Wayne.

Saturday's opener saw sophomore starter Aidan Breedlove fire a five-hit shutout to lead the Wildcats in an 8-0 victory.

Wayne State took a 1-0 lead in the first on a Tanner Simons RBI double that scored Andrew Hanson.

The Wildcats made it 2-0 in the fourth on a Travis Miller solo homer and broke the game open with a four-run fifth inning. Hanson produced a two-run homer that scored Jake Lorenzini followed by a Kyle Thompson two-run single that brought home David Janes and pinch runner Peyton Barnes.

Wayne State added two insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth to close out the scoring thanks to an RBI double from Simons and a run-scoring single by Janes.

The Wildcats held an 11-5 advantage in hits over Mary in the opener. Hanson was 2-for-3 with a homer, two RBI and two runs scored to lead a balanced attack. Simons ended 2-for-4 with a pair of doubles and two RBI while Miller homered and was 2-for-4 with an RBI. Janes added a pair of singles for WSC in the win.

Breedlove improved to 1-1 on the season with the complete game shutout win, allowing just five hits while notching five strikeouts with one walk.

The second game saw the Wildcats build an early 5-0 lead, then hold off a charging Marauder club to post a 6-5 win to complete the Saturday sweep.

The Wildcats took a 2-0 lead in the first on a Travis Miller two-run double that scored Hanson and Janes. They added three in the third for a 5-0 advantage, as Rob Ramsey's two-run double was a key hit in the inning, along with a run-scoring single from Thompson.

Mary started their rally in the fourth inning with three runs followed by one more in the fifth to make the score 5-4. But Wayne State added what proved to be the game-winning run in the fifth when Simons singled and later scored on a sacrifice fly from Miller for a 6-4 lead.

Mary produced the game's final run in the sixth, but relievers Isaac Rubendall and Lawson Zenner held the Marauders scoreless the rest of the way as Wayne State held on for the win.

The Marauders outhit the Wildcats in the second contest 11-9. Janes ended 3-for-4 with two runs scored followed by Miller going 2-for-3 with three RBI. Ramsey had a two-run double.

trim the Marauder advantage to 4-3.

The Wildcats' run in the sixth came when Andrew Hanson reached on a third-strike wild pitch. Pinch runner Colin Chick later scored on a balk with two outs and two strikes to tie the score at 4-4.

In the seventh inning, Travis Miller reached on a fielding error by Mary. Later in the inning, with two outs and runners on second and third, designated hitter Rob Ramsey hit a ground ball to shortstop, but the ball was under thrown to first, allowing Miller to score with the game-winning run.

Wayne State had seven hits in the win by seven different players. Lorenzini homered while Barnes, Simons, Miller, Bisenius, Ramsey and Jackson Petersen each singled.

Sophomore reliever Lawson Zenner (1-1) earned the win with one inning of relief, striking out two of the three batters he faced. Starter Charles Hasty worked 5 2/3 innings while reliever Adam Poldberg recorded one out facing three batters.

The second game saw Wayne State score five runs in the first inning as the Wildcats built an early lead and cruised to a 12-5 victory to complete the sweep. Garrett Graveline's three-run double highlighted Wayne State's five-run first to go with an RBI single from Bryce Bisenius.

Bisenius added a two-run single in the second, giving WSC a 7-1 lead. He added a bases-loaded walk in the third inning to go with an RBI fielder's choice by Barnes to highlight a three-run third that gave the Wildcats a 10-2 lead. Wayne State added another run in the fifth inning on a David Janes single for an 11-2 lead, but Mary stayed in the game with a three-run seventh to cut the Wildcat advantage to 11-5. Wayne State closed the scoring in the eighth on Alex Logelin's RBI single to shortstop. Wayne State had 14 hits in the win, led by Lorenzini going 3 for 5 with three runs scored. Bisenius ended 2-for-3 with four RBI while Graveline finished 2-for-5 with three RBI. Barnes added two hits and scored three runs. Starter Hunter Wienhoff (1-2) had a strong start to earn the win, recording 11 strikeouts in just six innings of work. He gave up two runs on eight hits without issuing a walk. Relievers Dalton Smith, Jordan Mehl and Spencer Johnson each worked one inning of relief to close the game. Wayne State (6-8, 4-0 NSIC) returns to action this weekend, hosting Minnesota Duluth Saturday and Sunday in a four-game NSIC series with doubleheaders each day at 12 p.m. at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex in Wayne.

Freshman starter Aaron Ras (2-1) earned the win, working 4 2/3 innings. He was charged with four runs on eight hits with four strikeouts. Rubendall went the next 2 1/3 innings and allowed one run (unearned) on three hits. Sophomore Lawson Zenner pitched the final two innings to earn his first save of the season, retiring all six batters he faced with one strikeout.

On Sunday, Wayne State used a final inning rally and scored the game-winning run on a throwing error to win the opener, then followed with an easy win in the nightcap to complete the weekend sweep of the Marauders.

The opener saw Wayne State tie and win the game in unusual fashion, on a balk and throwing error respectively, to cap a seventh-inning rally for a 5-4 win.

Mary grabbed the lead early with a three-run first inning before Wayne State scored single runs in the first and second to get within 3-2. Junior shortstop Jake Lorenzini led off the Wildcat first with a solo homer over the left field fence, followed by a Rob Ramsey RBI single in the second to bring home Travis Miller.

The Marauders came up with another run in the fourth to take a 4-2 lead before Wayne State began their comeback in the fifth, as Travis Miller drew a bases-loaded walk to bring home Peyton Barnes and Fall with grace?

By MIKE RENNING

My Mother always told me, "If you're going to do something, do it right."

And I always listen to my Mother.

I believe I have become quite adept at...falling.

Current weather conditions in the area and weather conditions for the past few months have been very conducive to a good fall.

Let me preface this scribbling with the fact I know just how dangerous these falls can be. broken hips and other bones are no laughing matter, but if you can't laugh at yourself? Well, you get it.

I know a couple of years back I chronicled my snowboarding abilities

My granddaughter, Lily and I were doing some sledding and as usual, Papa had to take it a step or two farther.

After a couple of harmless trips down the hill by our house, I felt like I needed just a little more speed.

I put on my son, Mason's, snowboard and trickled down the hill.

The snow was pretty deep and when I would just get going I would bog down in the snow. Then I noticed the gravel road by our house was solid ice.

I got to the top of the hill and started trickling again.

I momentarily trickled, then in speeds similar to those attained on the Salt Flats of Utah, I headed for the bottom of the hill.

It is then I realized I didn't know how to stop on board of a snowboard.

At the bottom of the hill, to my immediate right was a barbed wire fence. To my left was a sharp banked corner on the road.

When I woke up, my darling with Jake licking my face with little Lily was standing over me what looked like a huge grin on laughing. She said, "Papa, is it his face. my turn now?"

I have trained Jake not to ble.

Well, evidently, Jake needed to go "outside" for some time as he sprinted out ahead of me and hit the end of the leash.

Now, I'm not certain what happened next, but one eyewitness, who was laughing hysterically as he recounted the story, said I did some sort of ice skating camel, or triple-toe maneuver, summersaulted over two stairs and momentarily landed on my feet.

Jake hit the end of the leash again, and I flipped over the thorny bushes next to the deck, bounced off the railing of the other deck, landed on my backside then bounced up into the trunk of a tree, striking my head.

All I can tell you is I woke up

Capitol View We're going to miss Charley Thone

By J.L. SCHMIDT Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

The Wayne

If you look up "conservative politician" in the encyclopedia, there ought to be a picture of the late Charley Thone.

The former Nebraska congressman and one-term governor died earlier this month. He will long be remembered as a very conservative Republican who was the first governor to support Ronald Reagan for President. He was also the governor who appointed Kay Orr to fill a mid-term vacancy as State Treasurer. Or later became governor.

Capitol observers also remember the "Thone Clones," a group of state senators he organized to help things go his way in the Legislature. I can't say if that was a widely known fact, but reporters and lobbyists were well aware. So, it wasn't an original idea for subsequent governors Dave Heineman and Pete Ricketts.

There were times, especially after his exit from politics at the hands of the young war hero native son Bob Kerrey, that one could forget that Thone was once a staunch Republican. A favorite quote - widely used in other editorial memorials to him this month - shows a spirit of compromise and a word of caution about the current political landscape.

"Good policy sometimes is fashioned with compromise by listening to the other side," he said. "You need to have your core principles but give and take sometimes is good. Today, the lack of civility is dramatic," he said.

A post-political office Thone took advantage of relationships with "the other side." He became friends with another retired governor, Democrat Frank Morrison. The relationship was significant because during Morrison's time as governor, Thone was Republican state chairman and often critical of Morrison.

In addition to the party chairmanship and one term as governor, Thone's political resume included stints as assistant Nebraska attorney general, assistant U.S. Attorney for Nebraska, aid to U.S.

Senator Roman Hruska and eight years in the House of Representatives. He told the Lincoln Journal Star that his gubernatorial legacy would include higher education

A news release from Ricketts' characterized as a "legacy of fiscal conservatism."

In his first address to the Legislature (1979), Thone laid out a vision for budget restraint and running a more efficient government: "[T]here are those who only lately have come to realize that the resources of state government are limited, and there are those who have only recently come to recognize that there are limits not alone on our resources but on what government can effectively do."

In 1980 Thone remarked, "As I travel throughout the state and talk with many Nebraskans, I pick up one underlying theme—people want less government, not more; fewer laws, not more; and less regulation, not more." Sounds like something we've heard from Pete Ricketts, doesn't it?

Thone's 1981 address proposed international trade offices in Tokyo and Frankfurt and the utilization of biofuels in state vehicles. In his final address in 1982, Thone cautioned lawmakers that "state government must discipline itself to live within its means. Among his budget suggestions: cutting spending increases in half; reducing individual income tax rates; avoiding tax increases by controlling spending; and reducing the number of state employees." More fodder for the Ricketts' playbook.

After leaving the public arena, Thone practiced law and government affairs and got involved in the community and supported candidates for public office. In 2010 he rallied other former Nebraska Governors to convince voters to retain the State Treasurer's Office The attempt to eliminate the office failed.

Thone is survived by his wife, former First Lady Ruth Thone and his daughters Marie, Amy, and Anna.

On a personal note, Ruth Thone and I are both from Scottsbluff. She was a close high school friend of my sister and was the first girl to ever give me flowers. She worked at a flower shop after school and sent a rose to my hospital room (with my sister) the day I was born.

Haskell Ag Lab plays large part in area

Dear Editor.

The University of Nebraska's Vice Chancellor for the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR) recently suggested closure of the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory (HAL), near Concord, to meet potential budget reductions. Over the last few weeks I have been asked by many what I thought of the potential closure, and of the Vice Chancellor's reasoning of the potential closure.

In my opinion, the suggested HAL closure is a bad idea and the reasoning debatable. Why would the Institute give up an asset that has such a rich history of providing unbiased and relevant research and extension information to the citizens of northeast Nebraska that is so vital to the areas continued economic growth.

One of the chancellor's reasons for the HAL closure is that the University does not own the land. This does not appear to me to be a valid reason for closure. To the best of my knowledge, the Haskell family's gifting of the land states that the University Foundation holds the land title in perpetuity until the time the University no longer uses the land for research and demonstration purposes. During my 30+ years at HAL, not once to my knowledge, did the Haskell family attempt to dictate land use or building improvements/additions.

scholarship fund, at the request of the Haskell ing, Human Nutrition, Youth Development and family, was established by HAL's Farm Association Advisory Group in exchange for transferring the land title to the University Foundation. Many area youth interested in agriculture have taken advantage of this scholarship opportunity.

To the notion that HAL faculty research/extension programs lack a clear strategy: Every faculty member develops an annual plan of work or a multi-year research project. These program proposals undergo a rigorous review process assuring compatibility within area needs and campus departmental overall missions. Final approval is by the appropriate dean. As the HAL district director from 1998 until my retirement in 2007, I was a partner in a number of these review processes. I assessed these faculty project proposals as relevant, goal oriented, grant-worthy, and ambitious.

According to the vice chancellor, there is little campus department head support as to HAL's criticality to their departments overall research and extension missions. In my opinion, that is a clear case of self-preservation of their campus footprint when resources are tight and a lack of understanding of the importance of IANR's responsibilities to the out-state public and the Research and Extension Center concept.

Local clientele are very aware of IANR's past I am also curious as to what may happen to decisions to not fill open positions at HAL in Animal Science, Biological Systems Engineer-

Agricultural Economics, all, except one, due to retirements. Many of these individuals remain upset and do not understand the lack of Institute support. I agree with them and offer no defense.

I do agree that a major investment is necessary to restore HAL to its original intent and mission envisioned by the Haskell Family and others. Northeast Nebraskans deserve that investment. I also believe that the top priority is faculty positions, not land.

It is my hope that as the Nebraska Legislature debates the current budget bill, that the reductions to the University budget are less draconian than earlier suggested by the Governor. Given the final budget, it is also my hope that IANR administrators get together and take a good, hard look at the importance of HAL to Northeast Nebraska and the system and come up with a variety of models to discuss, one of which is ultimately implemented to restore HAL with a critical mass of faculty ensuring the ability of the unit to continue to address and meet the critical environmental and production needs of Northeast Nebraska.

Rural Economic Mobility Study: Cedar and Knox County residents discuss opportunities for youth

On Feb. 20 - 21, residents of Cedar and Knox counties participated in a "listening tour" centered around economic opportunities for young people in rural America. In a study that is still ongoing, the two counties were recently identified as areas where young people have been able to effectively climb the income ladder.

The listening tour-which included conversations and interviews with representatives from multiple sectors-was part of a collaboration between National 4-H Council, the supporter of state 4-H programs, and The Bridgespan Group, a global nonprofit organization that collaborates with mission-driven leaders

To identify Cedar and Knox counties as "bright spots" to study, the team combined analyses of historical data and insights from local 4-H agents. Using data linked to anonymized nation-wide tax filings (publicly-available from the Equality of Opportunity Project), they looked across rural America and asked where children have been able to earn more, as adults, than their parents did a generation earlier. When approximately 1,300 rural counties in the US were compared along this metric, Cedar and Knox counties, along with several surrounding counties in northeast Nebraska, ranked in the top 10 percent. In addition, for many of the milestones associated with economic advancement-such as low teenage pregnancy rates and high employment rates-Cedar and Knox counties ranked near the top of all rural counties.

With this context, National 4-H Council and Bridgespan contacted Nebraska Extension Educator Jackie Steffen and asked for her assistance in coordinating a broad range of conversations with a diverse set of stakeholders in the counties. With the help of Ruth Vonderohe (Nebraska Extension Educator in Knox County), Megan Hanefeldt (Knox County Economic Development Director), and Holly Wortmann (a prominent volunteer in the Crofton community), the team organized 27 conversations over a 48-hour time frame. These occurred at sites throughout the counties, including Randolph Lied Library, Cedar County Extension Office, Crofton Pulley Museum, Laurel Learning Center, The Friendly Corner in Laurel, Wausa Public School, The Hive in Bloomfield, and Verdigre Public Schools. These conversations sought to explore factors that might be driving positive outcomes for young people in Cedar and Knox counties.

Tapping into the perspectives of young people themselves was also an important element of the study. The team organized focus groups with high school teens in the communities of Laurel, Randolph, and Wausa. Students spoke about their experiences growing up in their community, supports they have found helpful along the way, and how they think about their future after high school.

Jackie Steffen said, "I was honored to be a part of this process and feature communities in Cedar and Knox counties. Thanks to the teamwork of numerous individuals we were able to vividly showcase the success of our youth. I am proud to be a part of the 4-H program in both counties and look forward to how this study may impact future youth programming efforts."

The team looks forward to sharing the stories and insights it gathered more broadly. After Nebraska, the team plans on visiting rural communities in Minnesota, Texas, North Dakota, and perhaps elsewhere. Bridgespan and 4-H will issue a final report at project's conclusion. The group hopes to use these learnings to engage in collaborative efforts to advance the way nonprofits and funders support opportunities for young people in rural America.

Checking stored grain vital as temperatures rise

Finally, some spring-like temperatures!!! I think we've all been anxiously awaiting the return of spring, I know I have, but it's important to remember an easily overlooked springtime activity. If you have grain stored in bins on the farm, these temperatures also start to warm the grain. However, it will warm grain closest to the bin walls first, particularly on the south and west sides of the bin.

ACCELER OF A

When temperatures within the grain mass vary by 10 degrees or more, there will be convection currents in the bin which can result in moisture migration. Warm air will rise in the warmer grain, often carrying moisture with it, and then settle and drop in the cooler grain. The moisture in the air can condense on the cooler grain, resulting in wet spots and this grain potentially going out of condition.

To avoid this problem, you need to run aeration fans as temperatures rise in the spring to warm the grain mass evenly. This can prevent costly problems of grain going out of condition. You may need to do this several times, several weeks to a month apart, depending on how quickly outdoor air temperatures rise.

You can check grain temperature with a thermometer on a grain probe. Check the temperature several feet below the surface at differ- hatches to prevent rain and snow ent locations in the bin. Check the from getting into the bin. Cover the Nebraska Extension office.

around the bin walls as well as near the center of the bin.

Remember, whenever you enter a bin, you should use a safety harness and lifeline and have someone else stay outside the bin in case of an emergency. Sometimes grain can get crusted at the surface and a void below the crust can develop as the grain dries. There is no way to tell if this has happened just by looking in a bin.

If you break through this crust, you can easily be trapped and suffocate if emergency measures aren't taken. Instruct the person outside the bin to immediately turn on the fans if you should become trapped in the grain, then call 911. If this should happen to you, cup your hands in front of your face to create a pocket of air for you to breathe without grain by your nose and mouth. Under no circumstances should the person outside enter the bin to try to free you.

When the aeration fans aren't running, remember to close roof temperature at several locations fan when it's not running to prevent problems caused by the chimney effect that can draw in moist air at the bottom of the bin and up through the grain.

> Running an aeration fan for a brief period can be a good way to do a quick check to detect if problems are developing in your bin. To do this, you will need another person to help. Have someone else turn on the fan after you are situated by the roof hatch. If that first blast of air when the fan is turned on has a musty smell or feels particularly warm or humid, this indicates your grain may be going out of condition.

Whenever there are signs of grain heating or going out of condition, run the fan continuously no matter what the season or weather. Also, feed or sell such low quality grain as quickly as possible. Grain quality never improves during storage, but it can decline if you don't manage it properly.

LOWER ELKHORN Natural Resources District

Norfolk to host 5K Community Trail Run

Local NRD Run Raises funds for youth education in natural resources

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) is reaching out across the district to help support youth education in natural resources.

The LENRD is hosting a 5K Run, 1 Mile Walk and Kids Dash fundraiser at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park in Norfolk on Saturday, April 14. Join the LENRD for the fourth annual trail run that raises money to educate our youth about protecting the state's water, soil, wildlife and vibrant Nebraskan landscape through the Nebraska Association of Resources Districts (NARD) Foundation.

The run kicks off at 9 a.m. Runners, walkers and families ready to explore the outdoors will get to enjoy a scenic, out and back run next to the beautiful Elkhorn River.

Each dollar raised goes to several programs the NARD Foundation sponsors. These include programs like FFA, Adventure Camp about the Environment (ACE Camp) and Envirothon. Programs like these provide students of all ages an opportunity for hands-on experiences with our natural resources. The Foundation hands out more than $25,000 every year for this cause.

The 23 natural resources districts move the race to a different area of the state every year to promote natural resources opportunities for our youth through the Foundation. The race also highlights one of 80 multi-purpose recreation areas created by the NRDs across the state. If you'd like to check out other recreation areas, go to www.nrdrec.org.

You can register by going to http://getmeregistered.com/nrdrun. If you'd like to donate, contact the Nebraska Association of Resources Districts at (402) 471-7670.

The 5K run raised more than $5,000 last year in Lincoln. In 2016, the run raised more than $4,000 in Omaha. This year, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District is teaming up with the local community and NARD Foundation with a goal to raise even more.

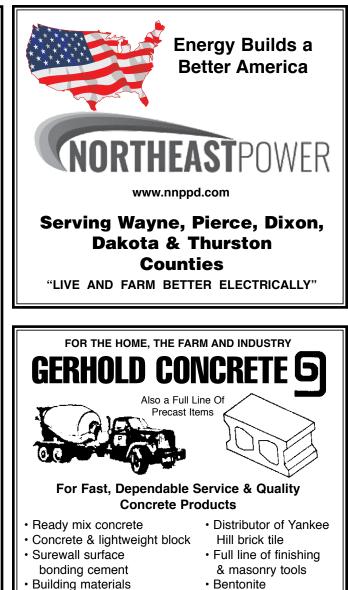

The state's NRDs are proud to protect lives, property and future of Nebraska. We encourage the public to come out and support our youth.

We have pigs of all sizes available to fit your early July through August fairs and all the way to state fair.

Gloria Vollers nursing scholarship applications due

The Gloria Vollers Memorial Scholarship is being awarded annually, thanks to a generous donation by Dr. Cyrus Beye of Yankton, S.D.

Dr. Beye was a general surgeon who traveled to Pender Community Hospital from 1959 to 1981 from Sioux City, Iowa. While in Pender, he had many fond memories of working with Gloria Vollers, RN. He found her compassion and dedication to nursing an inspiration and wanted to honor her memory through a community gift.

Gloria, a registered nurse, worked at Pender Community Hospital for over 30 years as a staff nurse, surgery supervisor, and Director of Nursing. She is remembered and admired for her leadership, caring spirit, and professionalism.

The new academic scholarship will be awarded in Gloria's name to a student who has been accepted into a Registered Nursing program of study. The recipient must be a resident of Thurston, Cuming, Burt, Dixon, Dakota or Wayne counties.

The annual $2,000 scholarship will be awarded through an endowment, established through the Pender Community Hospital Foundation. The application form is available on the Pender Community Hospital website: www.pendercommunityhospital.com or by calling the hospital, Kelly Kaup at (402) 385-4005. Criteria for selection include academic performance, health care experience, financial need, career objective in rural health, and school/community involvement.

Applications are due April 30 and will be announced in May. All applications should be sent to: Pender Community Hospital, Attn: Kelly Kaup, 100 Hospital Drive, P.O. Box 100, Pender, Neb. 68047.

Not only that, but if you are trying to lose weight, fueling your body regularly will help you from possibly making unhealthy decisions later in the day based on hunger. The key to a good breakfast is balance. Include lean protein, whole grains and fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables; for example, oatmeal cooked with low-fat milk and sliced almonds and berries or crust-less quiche with mixed veggies, low-fat

It doesn't have to be a full meal. If you're crunched, get a snack. Go for fat-free or lowfat yogurt and fruit, whole-wheat crackers and low-fat cheese or hummus and baby carrots.

Pick one fruit or veggie you've never tried each time you go to the grocery store. It's a great way to discover new options. Don't let winter stop you from enjoying produce either. Cook Dinner at Home. Making meals at home doesn't have to zap the last bit of your time and energy. The trick is to plan ahead. If the week is cramped for you, then prepping on the weekend is a great time saver. Choose options you can make in advance. For example, cook a batch of soup you can portion out for lunches or dinner during the week, or bake a whole chicken to slice for sandwiches, wraps and casseroles. Use shortcuts such as pre-cut or frozen veggies and keep staples on hand such as low-sodium broth, herbs and lemons for flavoring. A quick and easy idea is to turn leftover beef into stew with beans, no-salt-added diced tomatoes and pre-cut veggies.

Finding joy in the journey

If you travel frequently, you understand how sometimes the trip doesn't go quite as planned.

There are flight delays. There are flat tires. Hotels can't find your reservation and all the rooms are full. You get sick, and instead of enjoying the trip, you're miserable the entire time. When you travel, things don't always go as planned. Sometimes there are setbacks. That can be very frustrating for those who are all about the destination.

I am all about the destination. I want to get to the destination as quickly as possible. If the GPS says the trip is going to take 3 hours, I want to see if I can make it in 2 1/2. And it's not because I have anything important to do when I get there, it's just that it's a competition. The trip is all about the destination

But whether it's National Lampoon's Family Vacation or Planes, Frains, and Automobiles, we discover that the journey doesn't always turn out the way we planned.

It might make for a good comedy on the big screen, but in real life it often feels more like a tragedy. When that happens, how can we keep moving forward with joy and peace?

It begins by remembering what God HAS done. Pastor and author Kyle Idleman tells the story of a woman who went on a short term mission trip to Tobago. She spent a month there working in a leper colony. The night before she was leaving she gathered together a dozen or so of the lepers for a worship service and she asked, "Is there anyone who would like to sing a song? Does anyone have a request?"

And from the back this hand went up. And she saw this woman with a disfigured face - no nose, no ears, no lips. And her hand was raised a fingerless hand. She calls on this lady and asks, "Is there a song you want to sing." And she says, "Can we sing that hymn, 'Count Your Blessings?

Count your blessings. And we complain that we have to eat leftovers. We whine because of the weather. We forget about all that God HAS done; all that He has given us already.

But not only do we need to remember what God HAS done, we need to trust what God WILL do. In fact, when you can't see what God IS doing, let what God HAS done increase your faith in what God WILL do. If we truly remember how God worked in the past, then we would trust Him more in the present.

God is going to take care of you. He's never going to let you go. When it seems like you can't go on, when it seems like it's too much for you, when it seems like it would be easier to just give up and throw in the towel, remember what God has done for you. Remember how He has come through for you in the past. He hasn't changed. He's still good. He's still faithful. He will come through for you again.

When you can't see what God IS doing, let what God HAS done increase your faith in what God WILL do.

St. Patrick's Day Party

Students at St. Mary's Elementary School invited their prayer partners to a Pizza/St. Patrick's Day Party on March 16. The event was also an opportunity for the students to give up their school uniform attire for a day and wear as much green as possible.

Joy Circle conducts March meeting recently

Joy Circle of Our Savior Lutheran Church met March 14.

President Dorothy Wert welcomed everyone. She recognized Elaine and Les Menke who celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary in March. She reminded the group of the Northeast Spring Gathering to be held on Saturday, April 28 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Coleridge.

Thelma Moeller gave the devotions which Phyllis Rahn had written. The title of the devotion was "What Happens When You Choose Joy?" She noted that "in James 1:2-4, he says that we should be joyful even when we are experiencing trials. James goes on to say the "testing of your faith produces steadfastness." Our response to trials is likely to be anything but joy. We get angry, discouraged, or develop a bad attitude when hard times come. Joy is a better choice because it will deepen our faith. James 1:3 says God tests our faith. God does not want our faith to fail, but to produce in us steadfastness."

For the program, Mrs. Rahn told the group about a book titled "Choose Joy," which is the true story of a girl named Sara from northwest Iowa. Sara was a dancer and was active and social, involved in music, theater, and sports, as well as her church. While in college, Sara was involved in a car accident which spurred the HLA-B27 gene which causes an autoimmune disease. Facing the overwhelming army of diseases that attacked her from the inside out, Sara was a prime candidate for bitterness, self-pity, and depression. However, Sara chose to trust in God and be filled with gratitude, hope, and, joy. Sara's definition of joy is the unwavering trust that God knows what He is doing, blessing her despite what had happened in her life. The book is about Sara taking the time to teach us through her words and her beautiful life how to be genuine and honest. Her final words, "Make it about Him, not you. Enjoy every second. Choose Joy." Can we do the same in our lives when trials come our way?

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, April 11, with Lou Wiltse giving the program and Nancy Jo Powers hosting.

A thank you was received from Charles Maier for prayers and a get well card at the time of his illness. A thank you was read from the Seminary Student for the Aid's letter and gift of money.

Rhonda Sebade gave the devotion "Christian Hope Through Mass Media in Egypt." She noted that "when we are unable to go to the foreign fields, we can pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send our laborers (Matthew 9:38). By giving our mites, we enable those far and wide to hear Jesus loves them, died for their sins; and rose victorious over death and the devil."

Mrs. Sebade visited at Careage Campus of Care on March 7, visiting the group of people who look forward to their gathering together and having interesting discussions.

The funeral for Mona Meyer was held March 15. The Aid served 115 at the noon luncheon. New funeral committee is Fauneil

The members of this group continue to provide many hours of community service. The hours are recorded and recognized. Volunteer hour forms are due at the May 7 meeting.

The Aspiring Young Authors Festival will be held at Wayne State College on April 7. The group was encouraged to attend and to help if possible.

Pat Jenkins-Rohde gave a program, "The World of Corn: Aquapop." Not only did the group learn about the many uses of corn, but also about this new business in Wayne. Samples were passed around, and the group enjoyed the various flavors.

This led to discussion about former students and how proud we are about what they are doing with their lives. It is good to see Wayne growing with many new businesses with unique ideas.

The next meeting will be Monday, May 7 at Brookdale Wayne at 9:30 a.m. Charles and Ruth Maier will be in charge of the program.

This group is encouraging others to join them. Anyone who worked in a public school, is asked to consider joining. Colon cancer is the 2nd leading cause of cancer-related deaths in the U.S. But it can be prevented.
