Bid awarded for pedestrian curb ramps

By Clara Osten,
clara@wayneherald.com
Work will begin in the spring of 2019 for a Community Development Block Grant project following action taken at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

A bid of $168,483.61 from I & A Construction of Sioux City, Iowa was accepted at the meeting.

Council members learned that the bid was the lowest of three received and lower than the engineer's estimate of $237,000. This will allow for additional work to be done with the grant money received.

Jon Mooberry, with JEO Consulting, the engineer for the project, told the council that he had reviewed the bids and checked with references on similar projects and recommended the awarding of the bid.

Concern was expressed about the fact that the project will not begin until the spring of 2019 and whether that would impact the city receiving additional block grant funds.

City Administrator Wes Blecke said he had spoken with Jan Merrill, Community Planner with Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District, and she felt comfortable with the starting date.

sure for the Wayne State Homecoming Parade and Band Day on Saturday, Sept. 29. Approval was given to the request.

A public hearing was held and resolution passed in regard to the final plat for the Southview III Addition to Wayne.

Joel Hansen, City Planner, told the council that the Planning Commission had approved the plat and the process is continuing to move forward. It will allow for the eventual sale of the property and create better drainage for the area, located south of Grainland Road.

Doug Pierson, who owns the land in question, told the council that the project is "long overdue. Lots of water goes through the area."

The action is part of a multi-step process for the area.

A resolution was also passed which approved an application for a Class C (on and off sale beer, wine and distilled spirits) Liquor License for Johnnie Byrd Brewing Company. The license is in addition to the Class LK Liquor License (craft brewery with catering) the business already has.

Two ordinances dealing with parking in the northeast quadrant of the city (near Sunnyview Park) received second reading approval and an ordinance creating a Transmission Substation Service Agreement between Nebraska Public Power District and the city of Wayne were approved.

Final payment in the amount of $68,588.64 to A&R Construction was approved for the Fourth Street Paving Project. This came after a change order for a decrease of $62,987.77 for the project.

The Wayne City Council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Aug. 7 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Bullriding will again be a part of the Wayne County Fair and will take place on Thursday, July 26 at 7:30 p.m. The 2018 fair gets underway on Wednesday, July 25.

Wayne County Fair begins next week

The 2018 Wayne County Fair begins Wednesday, July 25 and runs through Sunday, July 29.

Highlighting this year's schedule will be a performance by Phil Vassar on Saturday, July 28.

Vassar is scheduled to perform at 9:30 p.m. in front of the grandstand, following the opening act, Ned LeDoux.

As a singer/songwriter, Vassar has hit the Top 5 seven times. Ned LeDoux was born in Kaycee, Wy., also the hometown of his father, country music singer, Chris LeDoux. The younger LeDoux began playing drums in his father's road band, Western Underground, in 1998. LeDoux began recording solo material in 2015, working with producer Mac McAnally.

Members of the Wayne County Ag Society, along with many other volunteers, can be found nearly every day at the fairgrounds preparing for the five-day event.

Nearly all the exhibits will arrive at the fairgrounds on Wednesday, July 25, which is also Free Family Day with no gate fees.

This year's fair will include a number of familiar events and several new attractions. River City Carnival Midway, will be on the fairgrounds Thursday through Sunday. Papa Bear Carving will provide demonstrations daily, with the wood carvings to be auctioned off at 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 29. The popular attraction, Wildlife Encounters Show will be on the fairgrounds Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

New this year will be Kevin Horner, providing Vaudeville Entertainment in the Little Theatre several times on Saturday, July 28 and Sunday, July 29.

In addition, this year's livestock shows will include both those involved in 4-H and FFA. The only exception is horses, which are not a part of FFA this year.

Thursday's (July 26) schedule includes the traditional 4-H Horse Show, Bucket Calf Show, Dairy Show, Goat Show and Sheep Show.

Thursday's grandstand entertainment will be L4 Livestock Ultimate Bull Riding beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Judging of swine, feeder calves, breeding and market beef will take place on Friday, July 27.

QuickDraw Caricatures by Dirk Christensen will take place throughout the day on both Friday and Saturday.

Also on tap on Friday will be the 56th annual barbecue, beginning at 6 p.m.

The Lucas Oil PPL/Nebraska Bush Pullers Tractor Pull will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Grandstand.

Entertainment will also take place in the Beer Garden and a Teen Dance will be held in the Little Theatre.

Saturday, July 28 will include the 4-H and Open Class Rabbit Show, 4-H and Open Class Poultry Show, the open class beef show, open class feeder calf show, open class goat show, open class horse show and the Stan Nelsen Memorial Partner Pitch Tournament in the morning. A horse shoe pitching contest will be held in the Leland Herman Memorial Arena in the afternoon.

The 4-H Fashion Show is scheduled for

Keith Hill

Verle Keith Hill, 95, of Allen, died Monday, July 16, 2018 at the Wakefield Care Center in Wakefield.

Visitation will be held at the United Methodist Church in Allen on Wednesday, July 25 from 5 - 6:30 p.m., followed by a Memorial Service at 7 p.m. and burial with military honors immediately after at Eastview Cemetery.

Arrangements are under the direction of Mohr Funeral Home in Ponca.

Verle Keith Hill was born Aug. 6, 1922 to Herbert and Josephine Hill and grew up in Allen where he resided for most of his life. As a young kid he was raised by his mother after his father passed away when he was eight. The Hill boys were often known as the toughest boys on the South side - apparently clod fights and other mischief were involved. He began delivering groceries with his wagon on Saturdays for Ed Truby in Allen when he was 14 years old. In 1939 he began his affiliation with The Cash Store when he went to work for Bill Connell. After graduating from Allen High School in 1940, he ventured out to Washington where he had a job working for Boeing as an Ordinance Airplane mechanic. The job didn't last long because he received his draft papers and, upon returning to Allen, enlisted in the Navy. He served during the War from 1942-1945 as an airplane mechanic.

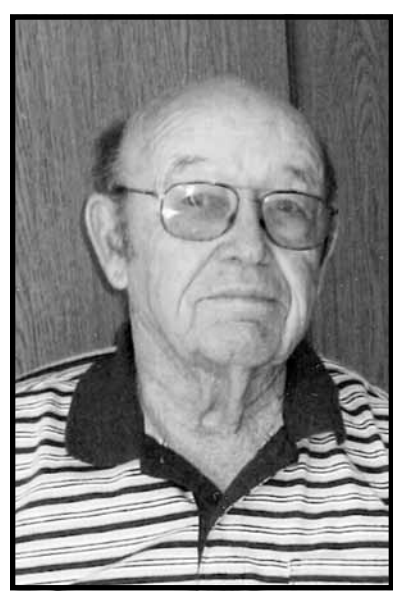

After the war and home again in Allen, he resumed working at the Cash Store. Shortly after that, he met Gail Jones at a basketball game. Sparks flew and they were married Sept. 18, 1946. Keith and Gail set up home in a tiny house in Allen. They welcomed two children into this home - Janice and Kevin. In 1955, they moved up the hill to the house built by Keith's Dad and where Keith had grown up. Timothy was born soon after. It was a great house on the edge of town, right next to the ball field. For a while, Keith's mother lived next door and Gail's parents lived across the street.

Keith and Gail purchased the Cash Store in 1958 and owned it until 1988 when they turned the reins over to Kevin. Keith was active in many activities in Allen, including the Cemetery Board for 37 years where he would mark out graves and oversee the maintenance, often doing much of the mowing; American Legion from 1945 - present where he served as Adjutant and Commander; was a Director at the Allen Bank; drove a school bus for about a year for the fun of it; coached Little League for so many years he couldn't remember how many. Practices were held 2-3 nights a week with games every Sunday afternoon. You would often see Keith driving the pickup on the way to a game with a load of kids in the back. In 1982, he was given the Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Award. He was a lifelong member of the United Methodist Church in Allen.

At the time of his death, he was residing at the Wakefield Care Center. Survivors include his daughter, Janice and husband, Bob, of Tucson, Ariz.; sons Kevin and Tim of Allen; grandchildren Collin and wife Jaime, Derek and wife Aya, Emily and Adam; great-grandchildren Adeline, Owen, Eleanor, and Benjamin. He was preceded in death by his wife, of 66 years, Gail; his parents; a sister, Evelyn; and brothers Jim, Wayne, and Ed.

Stanley J. Morris

Stanley J. Morris, 91, of Carroll, died Thursday, July 12, 2018 at Careage Campus of Care in Wayne.

Services were held Monday, July 16 at United Methodist Church in Carroll. The Rev Kyle Nelson officiated. Burial with military rites was in Elmwood Cemetery in Carroll.

Memorials may be made to the family for later designation. Arrangements are with Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne. Stanley John Morris was born Dec. 19, 1926 at Carroll to Lloyd and Marjorie (Pinkham) Morris. He graduated from Carroll High School. Stanley served in The United States Navy During World War II from Dec. 13, 1944, until May 10, 1946, on the U.S.S. Oceanus as a machinist. Stanley married Betty Lou Winterstein on Dec. 22, 1946, at the Zion Congregational Church near Carroll. The couple farmed in the Carroll area for their entire married life until moving to Careage Campus Of Care at Wayne in May of 2011. Stanley was a past member of the Zion Congregational Church rural Carroll and a present member of the United Methodist Church in Carroll, Carroll American Legion Post #165 for 73 years. He was a Mason for over 60 years, having served the Fraternity Lodge #235 of Winside as Master, later joining the Wayne Lodge #120 and then Corinthian Lodge #83 A.F.A.M. of Wayne.

Survivors include his son, Charles Morris of Carroll; daughter, Mary Ellen (Delbert) Claussen of Carroll; grandchildren, Elizabeth Hansen (Aaron Kistenmacher) and Matthew (Heather) Claussen; great-grandchildren, Braxton Hansen and Jocelyn Hansen and Landen Claussen and Lane Claussen.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Betty Lou, in 2012; a grandson, Andrew Dale Claussen in 1980; and his sister and brother-in-law, Joyce (Morris) Sandahl.

Pallbearers will be Matt Claussen, John Sandahl, Keith Claussen, Terry Roberts, Ed Sandahl and Tim Rees.

David Albrecht

David Glen Albrecht, 63, of Wakefield, died Friday, July 13, 2018 at Mercy Medical Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

A memorial service will be held Thursday, July 26 at 10:30 a.m. at the Wayne National Guard Armory.

David Glen Albrecht was born April 9, 1955 in Oakland. He served in the military. On Aug. 27, 1982 he married Teresa Hattig. They were blessed with two children. Dave drove truck for many years. He drove for MG Waldbaums, AGP, Johnson Feed, Inc. and finished with Central States. After he developed health issues, he enjoyed spending time with his dog, Cooper.

Survivors include his wife, Teresa; a son, Jacoby Albrecht and his friend, Emily Dryor of Norfolk; a daughter, Jaimy Albrecht Bauer of Lincoln and two sisters.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents; his parents, Glen and Lois Albrecht; his in-laws, Leonard and JoAnn Hattig; his son-in-law, Matt Bauer, and two nieces.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Wes Blecke, City Administrator

City Council Meetings
Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets. Come see the fireworks happen in your city government!

Chicken Show
The 38th annual Wayne Chicken Show took place on July 13, 14 and 15.

The Wayne Area Chamber and Economic Development office does a great job with this event, so I hope you were able take part in the festivities. Thank you for welcoming the many visitors and alumni back in Wayne for the weekend. I also hope you extended an invitation for both to come back often to visit, or even to make Wayne home!

It's amazing the positive impact those small things can have on people and how they talk about our great community to others.

Budget Workshop
The Mayor and City Council set its annual budget workshop for Tuesday, Aug. 7 after its regular 5:30 p.m. meeting in the Council Chambers.

As always, the public is invited to attend this session. If you would rather not attend but still want to have an impact on the budget, talk to your Council representatives concerning the budget (ie. improving park spaces, repairing/replacing streets, increasing reliability in the City's water and/or electric system(s)). And with any improvements, comes a way to pay for them

Trail Underpass and Bridge
The trail underpass is open again on the south edge of town. Still be aware of your surroundings. Always stay on the trail and never venture on the bank of Logan Creek. The banks are still very soft with the recent rise in the water level.

We just want everyone to be safe, but still be able to enjoy what nature has to offer on our trail system.

New eye doctors to begin seeing patients

Dr. Ben Uhl and Dr. Tyler Lefebber have announced that they are now seeing patients at Wayne EyeCare (previously Wayne Vision center)

"We are looking forward to providing the best care possible to the people of Wayne and the surrounding area," Dr. Uhl said. "Dr. Koeber has left a legacy of excellence that we are proud to carry on," Dr. Lefebber added.

Wayne EyeCare uses cutting edge technology to ensure the most accurate, comfortable, and comprehensive exam available.

Dr. Ben Uhl, Optometrist and owner, believes strongly in the superior customer experience. He feels that clinical excellence should be expected and what differentiates Wayne EyeCare from other clinics is the great experience they provide.

Dr. Uhl has a bachelor's degree from Iowa State University and a Doctor of Optometry degree from The University of Houston College of Optometry. Between his time at Iowa State University and The University of Houston, he spent four years in the US Army as an Air Defense Artillery Officer and was deployed for nine months in support of Operations Enduring and Iraqi Freedom. As a member of the Army Reserves, Dr. Uhl was deployed for one year as an Optometrist to Afghanistan. Currently, he serves in the Iowa Air National Guard.

In Dr. Uhl's spare time he enjoys all sports, specifically the Iowa State Cyclones and the Atlanta Braves. He spends all his free time with his wife, Sarah and his children Drew, Elise, and Lillian.

Dr. Tyler Lefebber provides comprehensive eye care to patients of all ages. He believes in providing the very best for his patients on both a person and professional level. He feels that every patient deserves a personalized approach to his or her care.

Dr. Lefebber has a bachelor's degree in Biology from Buena Vista University and a Doctor of Optometry Degree from Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, Tenn.

In Dr. Lefebber's spare time he and his wife, Jana, love spending time outdoors, traveling, as well as watching and playing sports. They are also expecting their first child in October.

Many people ask, "Why do I need a comprehensive eye exam?"

According to the doctors at Wayne EyeCare, "during a comprehensive exam the doctor will not only determine your prescription for glasses or contact lenses, but will also check for eye diseases. The doctor will assess how your eyes work together as a team and evaluate your eyes as an indicator of your overall health. These exams include a number of tests like reading the eyechart to more complex tests, such as using a high powered lens to examine the health of the tissues inside of the eye."

They are often asked, "What age should children start seeing the eye doctor?"

"We recommend parents bringing kids in at preschool age, unless there are concerns at an earlier age. Child development is rapid and there are many issues that can be fixed in childhood that if gone uncorrected may cause long term, irreversible damage as an adult," they said.

Both Dr. Uhl and Dr. Lefebber have extensive experience with children and adults.

"We take pride in building relationships with all of our patients, which is why we take the time to get to know you, your lifestyle needs and vision requirements. Our extensive services range from eye exams, including diabetic exams, consultations for refractive surgery, eye emergencies, managing of cataracts and macular degeneration, dry eye disease treatment, advanced testing including glaucoma testing. We stay current with the latest developments in eye care so that our staff can give you and your family the best care possible.

Wayne EyeCare is part of the Sergeant Bluff Eye Care and Marcus Eye Care family. The facility has been an eye care leader in Siouxland since 2007 and look forward to becoming part of the Wayne community.

Police officers and rescue personnel were on the scene of an accident involving two pickup trucks at the intersection of Eighth and Lincoln Streets Saturday evening.

Two-vehicle accident results in arrests

On Saturday, July 14, at approximately 7:20 p.m., Officers with the Wayne Police Department and Emergency Medical Services personnel were dispatched to the intersection of Eighth and Lincoln Street for a two vehicle accident.

Upon arrival, officers found that two pickup trucks had collided in the intersection.

A 2002 Chevrolet Silverado, driven by 22 year-old Houston Huss of Wayne, was southbound on Lincoln Street, entered the intersection colliding with a 2002 Ford F150, driven by 21 year-old Dusten Reed of Lenox, Iowa, that was eastbound on Eighth Street.

The collision caused the Ford pickup to strike the curb, leave the roadway and roll onto the terrace upside down on a fire hydrant before coming to rest.

Both drivers and the three other passengers in the Silverado refused medical transport from the scene.

After further investigation, both Huss and Reed were arrested on suspicion of Driving while Intoxicated and transported to jail.

The Wayne Police Department was assisted at the scene by the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, Providence Medical Center Ambulance and the Wayne Fire and Rescue.

New legislation goes into effect in January

Don't wait until December to purchase booster seat

Parents, grandparents, or any adults responsible for transporting young children, need to be aware of the new child passenger safety law that becomes effective on Nebraska roadways on Jan. 1, 2019.

Although the start date is months away, AAA urges drivers to make these changes now to better protect children from serious injuries caused during car crashes. The updated law requires children up to age eight to ride correctly secured in a federally-approved child safety seat or belt positioning booster seat.

Children up to age eight are also required to ride in the back seat, as long as there is a back seat equipped with a seat belt which is not already occupied by other children under eight years of age. The back seat is the safest place for children to ride and offers protection from the dangers of deploying frontal airbags.

The new law also requires infant children to ride rear-facing up to age two or until they reach the upper weight or height limit allowed by the car seat's manufacturer. Keeping small children rear-facing helps to protect the child's head, neck and spinal cord during a crash.

All children and teens, ages 8 to 18, must ride secured in a seat belt or belt positioning booster seat. Violation of the law carries a $25 fine plus associated court costs, and one point may be assessed against the operator's driving record.

The updates bring Nebraska's child passenger safety laws closer to the national safety standards recommended by many health and traffic safety organizations.

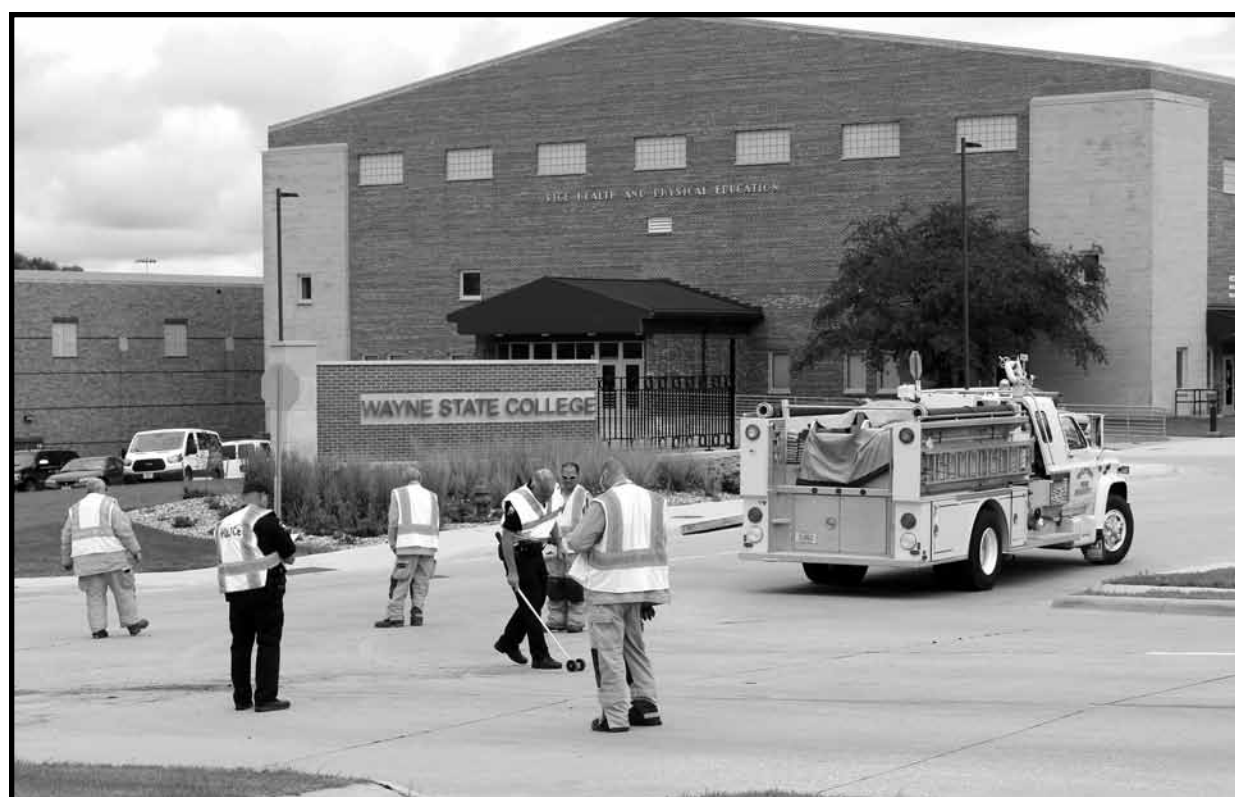

For details on the new law, visit www.nebraskalegislature.gov and enter LB 42. For more information about child passenger safety, visit www.cornhuskerfoundation.org.

Two vehicle accident

Wayne Police Department, Wayne Volunteer Rescue Department and Providence Medical Center ambulance crew responded to the scene of a two-vehicle accident on Highway 15 near the north entrance to Wayne State College at approximately 2:45 p.m. on Friday. One person was transported to Providence Medical Center with unknown injuries. The Wayne Police Department is continuing to investigate the accident.

Community Theatre to present 'The Addams Family' this weekend

The Wayne Community Theatre will present the musical comedy "The Addams Family" in the Black Box Theatre in Peterson Fine Arts (basement level).

Shows are Friday, July 20 and Saturday, July 21 at 7 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m.

THE ADDAMS FAMILY features an original story with every father's nightmare. Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a sweet, smart young man from a respectable family - a man her parents have never met. Everything will change for the whole family on the fateful night they host a dinner for Wednesday's 'normal' boyfriend and his parents.

Tickets are $12 each at the door, or have your tickets delivered to you by calling or texting Sherry at 719-660-2353.

SEWER CLEANING NOTICE

During the next couple of weeks, the City of Wayne Sewer Department will be having sewer mains cleaned in various parts of the City. While a considerable amount of cleaning will be done in the western part of the City, there are a number of other small areas that might also be cleaned.

In this process, high pressure water is forced through the sewer pipe to clean it. This pushes solid materials to the manholes so they can be removed by vacuuming. This entire process is necessary to keep obstructions out of the sewer system and to insure proper drainage of waste.

Residents should be aware that when this process is done, the high pressure water pushes the air in the sewer line which occasionally enters the private sewer lines into homes and businesses. If this happens, it usually results in the air exiting through toilet bowls, shooting the water out of the toilet bowl. This air should exit through the sewer vent of the building, but inadequate venting or location of toilets can cause the air to exit through the toilet. This is a rare occurrence, and keeping the lid closed on the toilet during this time will keep most of the water in the bowl rather than on the floor.

If you have any questions about the sewer cleaning process or the areas the sewer main cleaning will take place, you may call the Wastewater Treatment Plant at 375-5250.

Sandahl sisters give back

When the Sandahl sisters, formerly of the Wayne area, heard that the Wayne Community Schools was starting an agriculture education program, they thought of their dad, Neil Sandahl.
 This was a combination of two of his loves - agriculture and education. Neil Sandahl was a life-long farmer who served on the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education for years. In memory of his passing in August of 2016, his daughters decided to forgo their annual Christmas exchange in lieu of a donation to the program.

After contacting Toni Rasmussen and working through the Wayne Community Schools Foundation, they settled on new building signs for the Wayne County Fairgrounds. This also resonated with the Sandahl girls who were active Wayne County 4-Hers.
 At this point, the sisters contacted Amy Topp and the Wayne County Extension Service, along with the Wayne County Fair Board for their input.
 The signs were made by the Randolph Agriculture/ FFA program and will label the buildings at the Wayne County Fair this summer, July 26-29.

Commissioners approve health insurance plan

County employees will have a new health insurance plan following action taken during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.
 Steve Muir, with Elkhorn Valley Insurance, presented information to the board on options available.
 Following discussion, the Choice Plus HSA Bronze plan was approved. This will allow for a $6,550 individual deductible and $13,100 family deductible. The county will pay a portion of the deductible.
 Through the county's plan, the county pays 100 percent of the cost of the insurance for each county employee and 95 percent for employees' dependents.

 The new plan will go into effect on Sept. 1.
 Several requests for Lodging Tax Grants from the Wayne County Convention and Visitors Bureau were approved. These include $1,500 for Winside Old Settlers, $1,500 for the American Legion Senior Baseball State Tournament, $500 for Balloons-N-Barbeque in Wakefield and $500 for Crowing Motors Car Show

& Last Cluck Poker Run.
 Meeting as the Wayne County Board of Equalization, the commissioners handled protests from 12 property owners.
 Each of the properties in question was visited by County Assessor Dawn Duffy, who provided a recommendation to the board on whether the assessed valuation was accurate, needed to be lowered, or in one instance raised.
 The Wayne County Board of Commissioners will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Aug. 7 at 9 a.m.

Juniors playing for the championship in Class B

COLUMBUS — The only thing slowing down the Post 43 Juniors' journey to the championship, at this time, appears to be Mother Nature.

The Wayne American Legion Juniors have saved their best baseball for last and find themselves one win away from the team's first championship at the younger level of Legion baseball since 1966 after an exciting 4-3 win over Hickman on Monday night at Pawnee Park.

second with a pair of runs, thanks to a Blake Bartos sacrifice fly and an RBI single by Hopkins. Reid Korth singled home Hagan Miller in the third to make it a 3-0 game.

Ashland threatened in the bottom of the third with two with the help of two Wayne errors, but Wayne got those runs back in the fourth with a Victor Kniesche RBI single and a sacrifice fly by Josh Lutt to make it 5-2.

tack. DeBoer, Korth, Hopkins and Kniesche each added two hits, while Kneifl and Hopkins each had two RBIs.

Kneifl picked up the win with four innings pitched, striking out three and scattering three hits and a walk. Josh Lutt and Drew Buck mopped in relief as Wayne held Ashland to five hits.

On Sunday, the Wayne Juniors staked themselves to a 15-2 lead before Mother Nature stopped the game with a persistent shower and delayed the finish until early Monday afternoon.

After Lakeview scored in the top of the first, Wayne went to work with 12 batters going to the plate and five coming home to score. Trevor DeBoer got things going with an RBI single, Brock Hopkins had a two-run single with the bases loaded and Victor Kniesche added an RBI single to help Wayne to the early lead.

Lakeview's pitching struggled to find the strike zone in the next two innings and Wayne took advantage, putting up three runs in the second and seven more in the third as Lakeview issued 13 free passes in the first three innings.

Josh Lutt, who pitched two innings of relief in Saturday's win over Ashland, pitched 3 1/3 solid innings before the rains came. Wayne got out of a bases-loaded situation in the fourth with a double play and finished off Lakeview 16-3 in five innings to advance to Monday's big matchup with Hickman.

Hickman drew first blood in the last of the opening frame, using two hits and a Wayne error to score Charles Hood and give them a 1-0 advantage.

Wayne came through with several key plays in the fourth inning to claim a 3-1 advantage. Gunnar Jorgensen tied the game with a double down the left field line that brought home Jacob Kneifl, and both he and Blake Bartos came home on errors later in the inning to highlight the surge.

"We had some guys step up, and the key was to get guys on and get them over and get them in and we've been able to do that lately," Nissen said.

Hickman worked their way back into the game, scoring single runs in the fourth and sixth to tie the game at 3-3 to set the stage for Wayne's game-winning effort.

Josh Lutt saw some relief on Saturday and pitched a solid 3 1/3 innings on Sunday for the Wayne Post 43 Juniors in Class B state tournament action in Columbus.

The Wayne team came through in the clutch down the stretch, as Brock Hopkins lined an RBI single up the middle with two outs in the top of the seventh to break a 3-3 tie, then scooped a ground ball and threw to Gunnar Jorgensen for the final out to send Wayne to the championship.

"It was a gutsy effort and it was fun to be a part of," assistant coach Tegan Nissen said. "They fought hard the entire time and put together some great at bats and were just calm, cool and collected and did what we needed to do."

Wayne opened play Saturday with an easy 10-2 win over Ashland. Wayne got on the board in the Ashland's final real threat came in the bottom of the fourth when they loaded the bases with two singles and a walk, but Jacob Kneifl pitched out of the jam, coaxing a comeback grounder for the final out to leave the bases loaded.

Wayne responded in the fifth and put the game away with a two-run double by Kneifl that scored Korth and Trevor DeBoer. Wayne tacked on three more in the seventh, thanks to an RBI single by Hopkins and an error and bases-loaded walk to advance in the double-elimination tournament.

Gunnar Jorgensen was 3-for-4 with two doubles and two runs scored to lead Wayne's 14-hit at-the inning and was replaced by Tyrus Eischeid as a pinch runner. Reid Korth reached on an error, and after Hickman got two outs, they loaded the bases when Bartos was plunked by a pitch.

That set the stage for Brock Hopkins, who lined the first pitch up the middle for an RBI single to break the tie and put Wayne in front.

Hickman had one last chance to get to DeBoer. DeBoer was one strike away from finishing them off when he hit Bryson Schultz with an 0-2 pitch, and Hood followed with a single to put runners on the corners.

DeBoer settled own, getting Noah VanBrocklin to ground out to Hopkins at second base and help lock up the Wayne Juniors' spot in Wednesday's championship.

"Trevor's a heck of a pitcher and is a real competitor," Nissen said of the Wayne Juniors' ace, who scattered five hits and struck out four to get the complete-game win. "He'll fight for you the entire away and he did that tonight."

Rain once again delayed the tournament, with Tuesday's scheduled games between Hickman and Ashland, as well as Wayne vs. Lakeview, moved to Wednesday. The championship games are set for Thursday at 5 p.m., weather permitting.

Brock Hopkins lines the go-ahead single to break a 3-3 tie and help the Wayne Juniors post a 4-3 win over Hickman in the American Legion Class B Juniors state tournament. Wayne is guaranteed a spot in the finals after the big win.

Seniors head into postseason on losing skid

The Wayne American Legion Post 43 Seniors lost their seventh straight game to close out the regular season Tuesday, dropping an 8-5 decision to Norfolk in action at Hank Overin Field.

The two teams traded runs in the first inning, with Wayne's coming on a one-out single by Payten Gamble that scored Tyler Lutt, who led off the inning with a single and advanced on a Tucker Nichols sacrifice bunt.

Norfolk put up two in the second to take the lead for good and led 8-1 before Wayne mounted a late comeback.

Wayne loaded the bases in the sixth and scored on a bases-loaded walk by Nichols, bringing home Ryan Jaixen. Wayne had a chance to do further damage, but Norfolk got out of the inning without any further damage.

In the seventh, Wayne made a last attempt and made things interesting. With two out, Beau Bowers and Jaixen walked and both scored on Mason Lee's long triple to left center to make it 8-4. Lee followed them home on an RBI single by Lutt, and the game ended when Nichols smashed a line drive that was caught by the pitcher to give Norfolk the win.

Wayne outhit Norfolk 10-9, led by three-hit efforts from Lutt and Lee. Justin Dean added a pair of hits as well. Nichols took the loss, pitching 3 1/3 innings before Lee came on in relief and struck out three while allowing one hit and four walks in 3 2/3 innings of work.

The Wayne Seniors lost a pair of doubleheaders in other action last week, falling twice at Waterloo-Valley and losing a pair at home to Omaha Central.

On Wednesday, Wayne fell to Waterloo-Valley in Valley, losing 14-5 and 7-6.

In the opener, the hosts jumped on Wayne starter Adam Bentjen for seven runs in the opening to take control of the game.

Wayne came back with three in the second, highlighted by RBI singles from Lee and Gamble, but Waterloo-Valley came back with three in the third and four more in the fourth to cruise to the easy win.

Wayne had five hits in the loss, with Gamble,

Jaixen, Bentjen, Bowers and Lee all getting singles.

In the second game, Wayne tried to come back from a 7-3 deficit and got within a run before the hosts held them off late to complete the sweep.

Wayne took a 3-0 lead in the third as Lutt singled home Gamble and Bentjen followed with a two-run double, scoring Lutt and Justin Dean.

The hosts came back to tie the game in the bottom of the inning and added four more to take the lead. Wayne got two in the fifth on a two-run single by Bentjen, then added another in the sixth when Zane Jackson brought Gamble home with a groundout. Nichols drew a two-out walk in the seventh but was unable to advance.

Lutt was 4-for-4 in the losing effort with two runs scored and Bentjen had two hits and four RBIs. Gamble also had two hits and two runs. Lutt was credited with the pitching loss.

On Monday, Wayne hosted Class A Omaha Central at Hank Overin Field in an afternoon twinbill, losing 10-8 and 11-5.

In the first game, Wayne had a 2-1 lead in the third thanks to an RBI double by Jackson and an RBI triple by Dean, but Omaha Central scored three in the fifth to take a 4-2 advantage.

Wayne put up two more in the bottom of the fifth on an RBI single by Nichols and a sacrifice fly by Brennan O'Reilly, but Central bounce back with four in the sixth to take the lead for good. Wayne got two in the bottom of the sixth on a two-run double by Dean and had two more in the seventh with RBI singles by Gamble and Lutt. Gamble tried to score from second on Lutt's hit but was thrown out at home to end the contest.

Dean was 3-for-4 with three RBIs and Lutt, Jackson and Nichols each added two hits. Jaixen and Lutt scored two runs apiece. Lutt pitched 4 2/3 innings and Gamble took the loss in relief.

In the second game, Wayne held a 4-0 lead before Central came from behind to finish off the sweep, scoring five in the fifth and three more in the seventh.

A wild pitch and a bad throw helped Wayne score two early runs and Gamble came home on a wild pitch to make it 3-0 after one. Wayne would make it 4-0 in the second on an RBI single by Gamble and the lead held until Central's big fifth inning.

Gamble and Lee both had two hits in the losing effort. Bentjen was credited with the loss.

Wayne takes a 12-10 record into Class B Area 5 action that begins Friday in West Point. The Seniors will face O'Neill in a 2 p.m. matchup.

Schroeder inducted into NSIC Hall of Fame

Former Wayne State volleyball All-American Emily (Schroeder) Jones was one of seven individuals inducted into the Northern Sun Conference Hall of Fame during the league's 19th annual Summer Kickoff event in Burnsville, Minn., last week.

Schroeder Jones was a dominant volleyball player in her three seasons at Wayne State College from 2005-07. The Laurel-Concord graduate was a first-team All-NSIC selection as a junior and senior and became the Wildcats' first-ever All-American, named AVCA and Daktronics second-team All-American in 2006 and 2007.

In just three seasons, Schroeder Jones finished just two kills behind the all-time career leader at WSC with 1,649. She ranks first and second in single season kills, setting a school record with 599 kills as a junior and 591 kills during her senior season.

Schroeder played on three NCAA tournament teams at Wayne State and led WSC to the 2007 NSIC tournament title. She has a school-record 32 kills in one match and has a school-record 13 blocks in three different matches. She also excelled in the classroom, earning ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District Second Team honors as a junior and was a two-time NSIC All-Academic selection.

Schroeder Jones becomes the fifth individual from Wayne State College to be inducted into the NSIC Hall of Fame, joining retired baseball coach John Manganaro (2016), softball/soccer standout Sarah (Herrick) Wagenfuhr (2015), baseball pitcher Brady Borner (2012) and the late Pete Chapman (athletic director) in 2006.

Schroeder Jones is married to former WSC baseball All-American Dustin Jones and the couple resides in Omaha with their two children, Allie (4) and Mara (2). She works as a physical therapist assistant at Makovicka Physical Therapy in Omaha.

WSC volleyball earns 16th consecutive academic honor

The Wayne State volleyball team was awarded the American Volleyball Coaches Association Team Academic Award earlier this week. The Wildcat volleyball team recorded a cumulative grade-point average of 3.85 during the 2017-18 academic school year to earn the team academic honor.

The award, initiated in the 1992-93 academic year, is celebrating the 26th year and honors collegiate and high school volleyball teams that displayed academic excellence in the classroom during the school year by maintaining at least a 3.30 cumulative team grade-point average on a 4.0 scaled or a 4.10 cumulative team GPA on a 5.0 scale.

Wayne State is one of 128 schools in NCAA Div. II to earn the award and one of 13 schools from the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference to receive the honor. WSC is the lone program in the NCAA Div. II to have received the academic honor for a minimum of 16 consecutive years and has received the honor every year since 2002).

The Wildcats went 19-12 last year and finished eighth in the NSIC with a 12-8 league mark, losing to eventual national champion Concordia-St. Paul in the NSIC Tournament in five sets (18-25, 25-13, 23-25, 25-20, 15-12).

Blues second, Whites third in Bronco tourney

The two Wayne Broncos teams finished in the top three in this year's Tri County League tournament after the in-city rivals squared off in the semifinals Thursday in North Ben.

A three-run third inning proved to be the difference in the in-city semifinal as the Blues came away with a 5-3 win.

Jase Dean got the Blue team on the board in the first with an RBI double, and the Blues extended their lead with three more runs in the third, with Kaleb Moormeier and Colson Nelson driving in runs.

Dominic Dominguez kept the Whites in the game with a three-hit effort and Devin Anderson added two hits. The Whites put up three in the fourth to keep it close, but were unable to overcome the early deficit.

Jase Dean pitched 3 2/3 innings to lead the Blues in the win, with Kaleb Moormeier coming on in relief. Kaden Keller and Dean each had two hits in the game and Wyatt Heikes stole three bases.

Aiden Liston pitched the start for the White team with Heikes coming on in relief. Alex Frank and Zach McManigal also had hits in the losing effort.

In consolatio play, Wayne White defeated Pender 9-6 to take consolation honors.

Liston led the White team with three hit while Dominguez, Heikes, Anderson and McManigal added hits. Heikes got the win and Liston picked up the save for the Whites who finished the season 14-1.

In the championship game, the Blue Broncos fell behind early and couldn't overcome the early setback as they dropped an 8-3 decision to the Oakland-Craig Sluggers on Saturday in North Bend.

The Blues had nine hits in the game, with Ryan Karsky, Joseph Woerdemann and Gavin Redden each getting multiple hits. Redden went three innings on the mound and Nelson added two innings from the bullpen.

Wayne Blue Didgets finish Second in Tri County League

Wayne Blue Didgets finished a great season earning runner up honors in the Tri County League. Wayne Blue finished second out of 27 teams. Wayne Blue advanced to the finals by defeating the West Point Patriots 7-1 in the semi-finals. In the championship game, Wayne faced a very tough Dodge/Howells. Dodge/Howells and eventually came out on top 6-5 when they hit a two out, walk off single to bring in the game winning run in the last inning.

Caseys recognized with Volunteer of the Year award

Gene and Jan Casey of Wayne State College were honored with the NSIC's Noel Olson Volunteer of the Year Award during the 19th annual NSIC Hall of Fame Banquet last week in Burnsville, Minn.

The Noel Olson Volunteer of the Year Award recognizes the singular commitment of former NSIC coach and Athletic Administrator Noel Olson and his advancement of NSIC visibility, credibility, and excellence throughout the nation during his tenure in the league. The award is intended to honor individuals who, as volunteers, have made significant contributions to the NSIC as a whole.

The Caseys are known for their work at the scoring table of Wayne State home basketball games for years. Both are avid basketball fans and well-known with NSIC basketball officials for their quality work.

Gene has ran the main scoreboard at Wildcat home basketball games 41 years. Jan ran the player/foul scoreboard for 15 years and now does official scoreboard at Wildcat home games for the last eight years for a total of 23 years working WSC home basketball games.

The two have worked such events as the NSIC Women's Basketball Tournament in the 2005-06 season and the 2012 NCAA Central Regional Women's Basketball Tournament that was hosted by Wayne State College.

For the last 24 years, Gene worked in the maintenance department at Wayne State College after serving as an area sales representative for Moorman Feeds and retired from the college June 30. Jan retired in August 2015 from an office position at Great Dane Trailers in Wayne after working 29 years with the company. The two also operate Gene and Jan's Lawn Service during the spring and summer months in Wayne.

When Gene is not working the clock at Wayne State home games, he can be found running the clock at Wayne High Blue Devil girls and boys basketball games and has worked numerous high school district playoff games hosted by Wayne State College over the years.

The two were inducted into Wayne State's Athletic Hall of Fame as contributors in 2005.

2018 Wayne Chicken Show

The hours of work by hundreds of volunteers came to fruition this weekend as the 38th annual Wayne Chicken Show took place Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 13-15. Activities for all ages, including the cement chicken auction, kids games, an omelet feed, an Elvis impersonator, egg roulette, craft vendors, pictures with "The Chicken" and face painting were just some of the ways those in attendance were entertained. Friday morning's rain gave way to clear skies and seasonal temperatures, allowing community members and guests to enjoy this year's event.

2018 Wayne Chicken Show

The mayor of Wayne, chickens flying out of a mailbox, humans impersonating chickens, the newly formed FFA chapter, fireworks, a car show, airplane fly-in, egg drop with raw eggs, water fights with local fire personnel, and patriotic motorcycle groups were just a few of those who took part in this year's Chicken Show festivities. Attendees came from the community and throughout the country as many traveled to Wayne just for the show and others came to see friends and relatives.

Control of cottonwood in Nebraska's pasture

By Stevan Knezevic, Extension Weed Management Specialist and O. Adewale Osipitan, Post-Doctoral Researcher

Cottonwood (Populus tremula) is a commonly found tree species across the Midwest and Nebraska, especially along the wetlands (rivers, streams or lakes) where it provides many benefits to stabilizing river banks and productive wildlife habitat.

However, cottonwood can be also considered an invasive species (eg. weed), as it is characterized by vigorous colonization of areas. Sub-irrigated meadows are one of those areas where cottonwood acts as a weed and reduces the quality of grassland (see photo).

There is lack of information on the effectiveness of herbicides for cottonwood control. We, therefore, conducted studies in 2016 and 2017 to test eight herbicides for control of cottonwood, including: 2,4-D amine (64 oz/acre), Ally XP® (metsulfuron methyl [2 oz/acre]), Grazon P+D® (picloram + 2,4-D amine [4 pts/acre]), Clarity® (dicamba [32 oz/acre]), Telar®/Glean® (chlorsulfuron [2 oz/acre]), Cimmaron Max® (metsulfuron methyl + dicamba + 2,4-D amine [4 pts/acre]), Picloram 22k® (picloram [3pt/acre]), and Stinger® (clopyralid [1 pt/acre]). Trees were sprayed at full foliage (early June) and tree size ranged from one to five feet. Cimmaron Max®, Grazon P+D®, and Picloram 22k® provided excellent (100 percent) control of the cottonwood that lasted for more than one year. Ally XP® and 2,4-D amine provided fair control (70-76 percent), while Clarity®, Telar®/Glean® and Stinger® provided very poor (20-33 percent) control of cottonwood throughout the period of observations.

The effective control of cottonwood by picloram based products (Picloram, Tordon and Grazon P+D) is not surprising, as picloram is generally known to be effective on woody plants. Despite its effectiveness on cottonwood, we do not recommend using picloram in sub-irrigated meadows, as picloram has tendency to leach through soil profile and potentially contaminate high water tables. In fact, the labels for picloram-based products clearly indicate avoiding usage on soils that are very permeable (textures of sandy loam to sand) throughout the entire profile and which also have an underlying shallow aquifer (which is the sub-irrigated meadow).

Therefore, make sure to know the depth of water table below your pasture before using picloram-based products. In pastures with higher water table, Cimmaron Max should be used instead.

Metsulfuron-methyl (Ally XP) applied alone provided fair control of cottonwood; however, excellent control was achieved when mixed with 2,4-D and dicamba (Cimmaron Max).

Metsulfuron-methyl is systemic herbicide with residual activities, known to be effective for controlling perennial species with underground stems, or suckers as in cottonwood. Effective control of the suckers will prevent regrowth of a sprayed cottonwood. Metsulfuron-methyl based products are also safe on grasses. These results indicate that there are few excellent herbicide options for cottonwood control in Nebraska pastures, for both sub-irrigated meadows and higher grounds.

COUNTRY CLASSICS

4-H Club
The Country Classics 4-H Club held a meeting at the fairgrounds on June 20.

The club painted stands for the upcoming county fair. The 4-Hers grabbed some brushes and buckets of paint and got to work.

Some discussion of the meeting was the theme booth for the fair and the schedule to work at the 4-H food stand.

The next meeting will be the annual potluck at the Wayne Majestic Theater on Sunday, July 22 at 6 p.m.

Ibach receives Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute's highest honor

The Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council (NAYC) presented its highest honor, the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute's (NAYI) Award of Merit, to Greg Ibach, Under Secretary of USDA Marketing and Regulatory Programs, during NAYI's annual banquet, July 11, in Lincoln. Ibach is the former Director of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA), the state agency that oversees NAYC and NAYI.

"Under Secretary Ibach has a long-standing history of supporting Nebraska youth interested in agriculture at home and through various organizations like NAYC, FFA and 4-H," said NDA Director Steve Wellman. "He has provided guidance to numerous students encouraging and supporting them through their ag-related coursework and career choices. He is very deserving of this honor."

Ibach earned his Bachelor of Science in Agriculture from UNL with majors in Animal Science and Agricultural Economics. He has been inducted into the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement and honored with the Service to Agriculture Recognition from the University of Nebraska- Lincoln, College of Agriculture Science and Natural Resources. He is also a former President of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture.

Ibach served as NDA's director from June 2005 until he was confirmed by the Senate and sworn in

"When we say that NAYI is for future leaders of agriculture, we really mean it," said Wellman. "In 1979, Under Secretary Ibach was a NAYI delegate himself. As the Institute enters its 47th year, I imagine receiving this Award of Merit will be especially memorable to him."
Ibach and his wife, Teresa, own a farm/ranch operation in Sumner, and have three grown children.

Fair not just about ribbons

Summer is in full swing and with it brings 4-H fair season.

We all know that one of the most exciting parts about fair is receiving ribbons for all of the hard work that was put into a project. But, that is not the only purpose of youth doing 4-H fair projects the following story does a good job of explaining the true intentions of the 4-H programs.

The "Important Things aren't the ribbons"

There once was a boy who won ribbons, mostly blue. He came home from the fair with a big trophy too, with a voice glad and proud he said to his dad "Tis the very best year that I've ever had."

Said his very wise Dad, "Son, I'd like to hear, why you think that this was such a very fine year." "Why, dad, you well know all the prizes I've won: how I've come out on top in most things I've done."

"Just look at the ribbons that hang on my wall, and think of the money I've made since last fall.

From premium checks and a big auction price, you can't help but think cash and ribbons are nice."

But the man said, "My son you're not thinking right, blue ribbons, 'tis true are better than white: But ribbons will fade and trophies grow old, money's soon spent and fame soon grows cold."

"The important things, son, are not ribbons or pins, and sometimes it's really the loser that wins: Now here are the thing most important, it's true your 4-H experience has accomplished for you."

"You've seen how a business meeting is run. This knowledge will help you in years to come. You've conquered the fear or addressing a crowd. You've learned how to stand up big and tall, and speak nice and loud."

"Patience you've learned in your projects too, as well as your skill that will always help you." You've learned the fine feeling it gives you to lend a glad helping hand to a stranger or friend."

"You've learned to cooperate with majority rule, to give in with grace and not be a fool, who must always have his very own way, be in club work in school or at play."

"You've learned how to lose without making a beef, you know the judge judges to his best belief you've learned how to win without boasting to loud, a kid can lose friends if he's overly proud."

"These are the things most important to you you'll remember and use them all your life through they'll help you become a mighty fine man, they'll do more for you than a prize ever can."

By anonymous

I love this story for the fact that it references all the life skills that 4-H can teach a young person. Life skills are skills, like critical thinking and problem solving to name a few that will be utilized by a young person throughout the rest of their lives. So many of us focus too much on the winning and not enough on the learning process.

Hopefully, this story will serve as a reminder about how important the learning process truly is to the 4-H program.

A wide variety of quilts were on display at the Masonic Lodge during this year's Chicken Show. Several of the quilts were decorated with chicken themes and one was raffled off at the end of this year's show.

VFW auxiliary holds July meeting

The VFW Auxiliary to Post #5291 met July 10 at the Wayne Senior Center Meeting Room.

President Glennadine Barker presided. The opening ceremonies were conducted according to ritual and opening prayer was read by Janet Fuoss.

The June minutes were approved and the treasurer's report was filed for audit.

Excerpts from the July edition of THE GOLDEN were presented. They include: July is the beginning of the new Auxiliary year. Some programs have been changed. Medial Relations is now a National Program. Department President Linda Vogel announced her them: "Do Unto Veterans As They Have Done Unto You." We have a new generation of veterans who need the support of family, friends and country as they serve overseas and when they come home.

Past Department President Carol Brosnihan announced at the June State Convention that the Outstanding President Runner Up was Glennadine Barker. Department Scholarship Chairman Iva Carlson awarded the Special President's Certificate to Auxiliary

#5291 for "doing something extra this year."

With the start of the new auxiliary year, members are encourage to pay annual dues.

Trustee Elaine Draghu presented the quarterly audit.

Closing ceremonies were conducted and the Closing Prayer was read by Chaplain Fuoss.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Aug. 14.

State Treasurer encourages parents, employers to use electronic means to pay child support

The Nebraska Child Support Payment Center is encouraging parents and employers, who pay on employees' behalf, to pay child support through electronic means to receive the best service possible, Nebraska State Treasurer Don Stenberg said.

"While Nebraska continues to be recognized as a national leader in both receiving and disbursing child support payments, we want to encourage parents who pay child support and employers who pay on behalf of their employees to look into the many convenient and secure electronic ways we offer to make those payments," Stenberg said.

The Nebraska center receives as many as 136,000 child support payments a month from around the world, he said, noting that many parents make payments for more than one child. Nebraska law requires employers with more than 50 employees to submit child support payments through electronic means.

The Administration for Children and Families, a division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, reported recently that Nebraska ranked second in the country — at 82 percent — for the percent of payments received by electronic means in 2017. Only Pennsylvania ranked higher.

The national average for electronic funds transfer (EFT) for child support payments was 62.5 percent in 2017.

"The Nebraska Child Support Payment Center has been at the forefront of adapting technology to improve efficiency and security and to lower the cost of processing child support payments. We are working hard to continue our excellent record," Stenberg said. "The use of electronic funds transfer saves the State of Nebraska thousands of dollars in paper, printing, postage, and staff time and serves families well, making it possible for payments to be processed promptly and for parents to receive child support in a manner that is efficient, accurate, and secure."

While 82 percent of child support payments are received by electronic methods, far more payments—98 percent—are paid out to families through electronic funds transfer, resulting in money getting to families quickly and securely, Stenberg said.

For more information about making child support payments, contact customer service at 877-631-9973, Option 3, or <https://childsupport-nebraska.gov/ncp/>.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid holds July meeting

Rhonda Sebade welcomed members and guests to the July 11 meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid. The LWML Pledge was recited in unison.

Rebecca Bonsall gave the highlights of her being a young women Representative at the LWML Convention June 22-23. Things they discussed as a group were to let the younger ones hear about the work of the Missions with our mites and making meetings more available for young college students and working women. Ellen Heinemann and Rhonda Sebade added more of the convention.

Mrs. Heinemann gave the devotion. "Joy in Christian Freedom." Jesus said, "so if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed". John 8:36.

Ten members were present. Minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given and will be filed for financial review. Mites were collected. Mrs. Sebade led the Mission Grant Devotion, "Training Lutheran Middle Eastern Missionaries."

Committee Reports included the following: Kitchen - Everything needs to be removed from the refrigerators after use except the pickles. They are for funerals so they can stay in the refrigerators. Sewing - Sewing will be Thursday, July 26 to tie more quilts. Historian - Mary Janke will add the photos taken at the Convention in our book. Visiting Committee - Betty Wittig and Bonnadell Koch gave the report on sending cards and visiting. New visiting committee will be Rhonda Sebade and JoAnn Temme.

Old Business - A large number of people attended the coffee at Brookdale on June 21. People enjoyed the visiting. No one visited at Careage in July as it was July 4th. Ladies will be visiting Wednesday, Aug. 1 at 2 p.m.

New Business - Wednesday, Aug. 8 is the next meeting with a morning brunch starting at 9 a.m. Hostess is Rhonda Sebade.

Beef Blast at Lutheran High is their big fund raiser and will be held Sunday, Aug. 26. Some of our quilts will be given for the Silent Auction.

Ellen Heinemann gave the Bible Study. "His light on our Path". John 8:12, I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.

The meeting closed with the Lords Prayer and Table prayer. Lunch was served by Ruth Victor.

Joy Circle holds July meeting

Joy Circle of Our Savior Lutheran Church met July 11. Fifteen guests and members were present.

Wayne Police Chief Marlen Chinn presented a program on Cyber Security and Scams. He told the group that technology and vulnerability to this technology are always changing. He gave examples both in the Cyber Security and Scam areas that are happening in the Wayne area. Those in attendance were told they should all be very cautious and all agreed that it was "a very informative and important program."

There will be no Joy Circle meeting in August.

Living out our faith through the season of Pentecost

I very much appreciate serving as a pastor in a liturgical church, ordering our worship lives through the seasons of the church year. Each December we start the church year anticipating the birth of Christ and then walk with Jesus through stores of his life for that year. We then begin another cycle when Advent comes around again. It feels very much like a journey that we take together.

We are now in the season of Pentecost, a time when we consider how we live each and every ordinary day depending on the power and guidance of the Holy Spirit. Are we relying on the power of God's Spirit? Are we attentive to the guidance of the Holy Spirit? Is the fruit of the Spirit (love, joy, peace etc.) growing and bearing fruit in our lives? This season reminds us that, although we rarely see tongues of fire anymore, God is still pouring out the Spirit upon all who put their faith in Jesus Christ and become disciples.

Throughout the season of Pentecost our Sunday readings from the Old Testament, the Hebrew Scriptures, always trace the story of our Biblical patriarchs and matriarchs as they live out their faith, as they literally journey in faith. Abraham and Sarah receive a call from God out of the blue, and they leave the settled life they've known for a life on the road. That trip was decades long and full of highs and lows - more low than high - and if you charted them by pushing pins into a map you'd find them all over the Middle East. And, although that physical journey is interesting, it really isn't the point - it's the journey of faith itself that is the main story.

What is equally important is that these stories of Abraham, Sarah, Hagar, Ishmael, Isaac, Rebekah, Esau, Jacob, Rachel, Leah, Dinah, Joseph — tell of people who are not in the least bit perfect. Not even close. They all have their faults, their weaknesses and their insecurities. However it's through the honest portrayal of their lives that we can begin to see ourselves as part of the story because we are not perfect either. Just like those ancient people, we have good and bad inside of us and because of that and more often in spite of that, God invites us to step on the road and join the journey of faith started thousands of years ago.

We worship a forgiving and loving God. As frustrated as God has to become with us at times, God never throws in the towel with the human family. God continues to call, lead and guide. God is in this relationship for better or for worse. If there is any better news than this, I don't know what it could be. Whichever path this summer is taking you on, may you hold fast to that truth and may you encounter the Holy Spirit's power and guidance on your journey.

State-issued commemorative birth certificates for miscarriages now available in Nebraska

Due to a unique, Nebraska Family Alliance (NFA)-supported bill passed into law by the Nebraska Legislature in 2018, women and families in Nebraska can now choose to receive a state-issued commemorative birth certificate for babies lost prior to 20 weeks gestation.

Nebraska's law establishing this new type of certificate came through LB1040, which was introduced by Senator Joni Albrecht and signed into law by Governor Ricketts on April 17.

Nebraska is the first state in the country to offer this type of certificate retroactively without requiring a minimum gestation. Any woman who has experienced a miscarriage during a pregnancy that was verified by a licensed healthcare practitioner in Nebraska is eligible to receive this certificate regardless of when the miscarriage occurred.

Nate Grasz, Policy Director of Nebraska Family Alliance, said:

"One out of every four pregnancies ends in miscarriage, and as we've heard from Moms and Dads across the state already, the grief of that loss is as real as the life itself. This state-issued commemorative birth certificate makes Nebraska an innovative leader in supporting grieving families while recognizing the dignity and humanity of the unborn at the earliest stages of development.

Creating a culture of life means honoring the lives lost in miscarriage as well as the families who grieve. Nebraska Family Alliance is proud to have supported the development of this life-honoring certificate."

These certificates are $19 and can be requested by filling out an application form on the Nebraska DHHS website and sending the completed form along with the signature of a licensed healthcare practitioner certifying the miscarriage to the DHHS Vital Records Office.

James Simpson gets into position to shoot at the NRA Junior National Rifle Competition.

Simpson competes at National Rifle tournament

James Simpson, son of Jeff and Colleen Simpson of Wayne, recently competed at the NRA Junior National Air Rifle Competition held in Bloomington Ill. James is a member of the Wayne County Sharpshooters led by Darin Greunke and Eric Frye. For this competition James had to shoot a score of 500 or above at a NRA sectional match. The Wayne County Sharpshooters hold a NRA sectional match in February every year. At the National match, James competed with other youth from across the United States. Competitors came from as far as Oregon and Georgia. James placed fourth shooting 1082 out of a combined total score of 1200. James said, "The National match provided learning experiences which I can share with our team and I look forward to being able to compete in it again." For more information on the Sharp Shooter 4-H Club and the 4-H Shooting Sports program, contact Darin Greunke at (402) 286-4895.

Pulling the Fungicide Trigger

Every year as we find ourselves at pollination time, there is always a discussion going on about fungicide. I have found that when it comes to fungicide, there are three groups out there that we all fall into. The disciples of fungicide, or the grower that does it every year, no matter what. The apprehensive user, or the grower that toils with the decision every year as they look at budgets and commodity prices. And of course, the skeptical, who have not tried, or not had the success they expected in the past with fungicide, so they are not believers in the process. Given the conditions that we have had this year to date, especially in the last month or so, I think a convincing case can be made to look into fungicide applications this year.

By Keith Byerly Central Valley Ag ACS Manager

When it comes to the application of fungicide, we are trying to manage two factors that are in play in our fields. The first is plant health side. We have learned a lot in the last ten years about how different hybrids respond to fungicide applications from a plant health standpoint. Keeping that plant green and healthy into the fall can have huge benefits for certain hybrids. Of course, this plant health standpoint comes into play when we are dealt a hand like in the fall of 2017. We saw a tremendous amount of damage from wind last fall, but there is little doubt that having a fungicide on the right hybrids made a huge difference in standability and ear loss.

We have more resources at our disposal now than ever before that help us evaluate how this plant health application of fungicide will affect different hybrids, and when to apply fungicide to from a plant health standpoint. Many companies' seed catalogs have this information in them. But as an Agronomist, I have access to other tools like R7 from Winfield. This tool lets me look at the data from their Answer Plots over the last few years and view how hybrids have responded to nutrients and fungicide in their trials. Your Trusted Advisor at CVA has access to this tool and can quickly look up your hybrids to help you evaluate what might have the best potential to give you the ROI you are looking for from a fungicide application this year.

The plant health aspect has been the foundation for our disciples and even the apprehensive users of fungicide in the past, and for good reason. But, I realize that isn't always a compelling enough case for everyone. When planning crop budgets and deciding where to allocate investments this year, the fungicide application may have gotten put on the back burner for some of you, and I fully understand why. My intention today is not to try to sway your thinking just from a plant health side but to also address the other side of a fungicide application, and that is disease pressure.

We never know for sure when we will have disease affect our plant, but we do know what it takes to make that happen. It is called the disease triangle; a susceptible host, a pathogen, and favorable conditions. From a modeling standpoint, we can look at factors around the weather and understand what is favorable for disease formation. Things like wet soils, warm nights, high humidity, and so on are good indicators. Many of those are present this year. We have many areas that have had saturated soils and warm temperatures. Even in the hills, I have seen some fields that have algae growing on the soil surface. We know we have had warm nights and good heat. Almost everywhere we go the GDD's are 10-20% above the 30-year average.

When it comes to a pathogen that is always a harder one to verify. Scouting efforts across the state are seeing diseases like Gray Leaf Spot show up already. The point is that good old-fashioned scouting still plays a critical role in this, as it is the best and most reliable way to verify the pathogen. Finally, we have a susceptible host. Many of us have plants that have been damaged by wind or hail in the past few weeks. With the warm temperatures, insect damage is also a distinct possibility this season. Any tissue damage is all we need for everything to come together for the disease to become not only present but prevalent.

So for those of you that are on the fence every year about the investment in fungicide for some of your acres, I think that we can look at the potential for disease right now and use what we know to tip the scale. Is disease a certainty this season; no, but what is certain in Agriculture? If we look at the information that we have in front of us right now, I believe we "check enough boxes" to warrant a very serious discussion about fungicide right now for those of you who are calculated in your decision process. This is a conversation that you and your Agronomist need to have sooner than later, as it has the potential to be tremendously impactful on your bottom line this season.

Explaining the benefits of beef

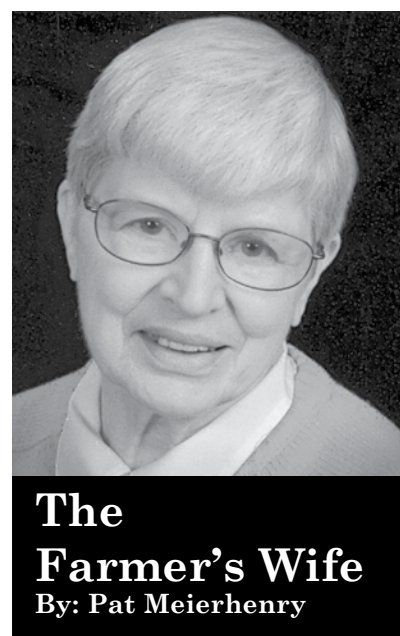

It seems to me that half this country is dieting, and the other half probably should be!

Have you heard of the Daniel Plan? It's being sold by Rick Warren, who has already made a lot of money by writing a book called the Purpose Driven Life. He is the founding pastor of Saddleback Church in California, which has grown by leaps and bounds in the past few decades.

They preach baptism by immersion, and they do it in a body of water. As the head pastor, he was responsible for dunking these folks; over 800 on one Sunday alone! Since a lot of them were overweight, he was really tired by the time they finished; I can imagine!

So, he started a group dieting plan based on the Old Testament story of Daniel, who refused all the rich food the king offered him, apparently knowing it was not good for him.

Of course, people have lost weight on the Daniel plan, Rick Warren included. And I commend them. Plus, when I see my fellow farmers and cattle raisers in the Farm Bureau paper and the Cattleman magazine, I think some of us need to be following a new eating strategy, also.

BUT, I'm tired of red meat being blamed for obesity! If you look at the Daniel plan, and a bunch of other popular diets, they call for turkey bacon and lots of chicken breast

(some of the most bland food in the market) and some salmon, preferably wild caught. I like salmon, why does it need to be wild?

That's beside the point I want to make here: I'm rereading an article by Gary Sides, a beef and feedlot nutritionist who spoke at a Nebraska Beef Industry Scholars Summit. For example, a Harvard study has found NO correlation between saturated fats and heart disease. In fact, the biggest factor that related to cardiac disease is consumption of refined carbohydrates, not saturated fat. So, yes, the Daniel plan calls for greatly reducing sugar and flour; I can see that.

Beef has ALL 20 of the essential amino acids required in the human diet; it is the best natural source of heme iron and trace minerals. Also, important B vitamins, including B12, which can come only from animal proteins. Fat in beef is heart healthy, 30 percent stearic acid, 40 percent oleic acid, both of which improve levels of high density lipoproteins and lower levels of the low density ones.

Dr. Sides went on to say that the open space in the US supports 75 percent of the wildlife and is managed by cattlemen. With only 10 percent of the world's cattle, we provide 25 percent of the world's beef. We are able to produce conventional beef with 2/3 less CO2 on less land, with less feed and yield twice as much beef.

They consume cellulose, the most abundant organic compound on the planet; only 33 percent of our planet's land mass can be planted to crops. Cattle, who are ruminants, can consume cellulose that humans are not able to digest, due to their rumen microbes, and turn it into nutrients we need and LOVE to consume! Beef cattle consume less than 5 percent of the total grain production and spend most of their lives consuming grass.

I'm not saying you should eat bunches of it, but for goodness' sake, don't eliminate it! It's good for you. So is milk, but that's another story, for another time.

End of sermon for this week. Stay cool!!

Yellow Nutsedge control discussed

With all the rain we've had this year, I'm mowing my lawn a couple times a week, just to keep up. It's like I'm mowing my lawn in May, not July. But even as fast as my lawn is growing, there's a couple areas where there are a few light yellow-green blades that grow faster and are taller than the rest of my grass. This is a good reminder that yellow nutsedge is showing up in lawns. Once it does, it is the time to start controlling this pesky lawn weed.

Yellow nutsedge is a member of the sedge family, although it closely resembles a grass. In fact it is frequently called nutgrass or watergrass. It is a common weed in lawns and landscapes, and can often be found in areas with moist soil. Yellow nutsedge is a perennial plant, meaning that the below ground portion of each plant survives the winter and generates new top growth each spring.

When closely examined, yellow nutsedge is found to have a very unique form and can easily be distinguished from turf grasses and other grassy weeds. The leaf blades are light yellowish-green and are "V" shaped with a prominent ridge down the center of the leaf blade. These leaves originate from the base of the plant giving the lower stem a distinctive triangle shape.

The leaf blades always seem to grow faster than the surrounding grass, sticking up above the turf only a day or two after mowing. The root system is shallow and fibrous, often producing small nut-like tubers that serve as food storage organs. These small tubers can sprout and form new plants. The plants also spread by rhizomes, or root-like underground stems, which enables it to move rapidly throughout a lawn or landscape.

Controlling yellow nutsedge can be difficult. Pulling the weeds is effective IF you are willing to be persistent. Those small tubers I mentioned on the roots will remain in the soil when you pull a plant and will sprout so it looks like the problem is as bad or worse than when you started.

But don't give up, these new plants can be controlled if you pull them within a week or two after emergence because they haven't formed new tubers yet. However, if new plants are allowed to mature and develop tubers before being pulled, then hand pulling will not provide adequate control.

In areas of heavy yellow nutsedge infestation, chemical control may provide the only viable option. Common grass and broadleaf herbicides will not control yellow nutsedge. Specialized herbicides for controlling sedges must be used. There are a couple effective herbicide currently available for yellow nutsedge control including Sedgehammer and Sedge Ender. Two or more application of herbicide 10 days to two weeks apart will normally be needed to provide good control.

When using any herbicide, carefully read and follow the label directions. When applying herbicides, avoid mowing about three days before treatment. To ensure adequate herbicide absorption, do not water the lawn for at least 24 hours after you apply the product. Ideally, applications should be initiated in June when the nutsedge is young, actively growing, and is most sensitive to herbicidal control.

However, you still have time because everything is a little behind this year and it looks like the temperature will moderate this week. All the moisture we've had plus milder temperatures are prime conditions for lawns and for nutsedge to grow. It is most susceptible to herbicides when actively growing.

If it turns hot and dry in the weeks ahead and the plants aren't growing as vigorously, it will be much more difficult to control nutsedge with a herbicide application. Later in the season as this weed matures, control is difficult regardless of the weather or treatment schedule.

For more information on controlling yellow nutsedge, contact your local Nebraska Extension office.
