The Isaacs return for holiday concert

By Sarah Lentz
editor@wayneherald.com

Country/southern gospel act, The Isaacs are coming back to Wayne for a concert at The Beaumont on Saturday, Dec. 8.

The Isaacs were last in Wayne in 2016, but are a popular act in the community. On Dec. 8 they'll be performing a mix of their original music, gospel standards and Christmas music from 6-8 p.m.

The band is a family affair for the Isaacs. Mother, Lily Isaacs is joined by son Ben and daughters Sonya and Becky. Somewhat recently, The Isaacs have also welcomed Levi, Becky's son and Lily's grandson. With three generations performing together, Lily is proud of her family.

"It's amazing," Isaacs said. "I never planned this so it's like we're passing the torch down the line."

Though growing up surrounded by music and recording a folk album as a young woman, starting a band with her children wasn't always the plan for Lily.

"We really didn't plan it that way, but my kids are just amazing vocalists and musicians so it just kind of evolved into this," Isaacs said.

Not only are the Isaacs siblings talented vocalists, but they're also talented songwriters working with some of the biggest names in Nashville including Trisha Yearwood, Leann Rimes, Martina McBride, Vince Gill and more. Ben is a talented producer, who is a multi-Grammy award winner and has produced for the likes of The Oakridge Boys, The Gaither Vocal Band and more.

The Isaacs' road to success started with Lily, who grew up in New York the daughter of two Polish Holocaust survivors. Lily said her mother loved to sing and dance, which led her to a love of Broadway.

"I studied theatre arts and met my husband (now ex-husband) who was working in show biz," Isaacs said.

Eventually, the couple moved to Ohio and started their family. A close death led the family to seek out a relationship with God through following Christianity. Performing in churches soon followed.

"I was still interested in performing arts, so I thought, why not," Isaacs said. From there, The Isaacs have built a career spanning over 35 years performing everywhere from hallowed venues like The Grand Ole Opry to local churches, fairs and everywhere in between.

"I'm not sure how you would classify us," Isaacs said. "We're kind of folk, 70s, Americana, Bluegrass, pop."

However their music is categorized, the band is able to play between 110-115 dates a year.

"We've done it for so many years it's just second nature," Isaacs said. "We love what we do."

Isaacs said the family's trip to Wayne will be a fond one.

"We love Nebraska because we don't get to make it out there but once every couple of years," Isaacs said.

The Dec. 8 audience should expect some extra Christmas cheer on the set list.

"Around Christmas time especially, and any other holiday, we try to add something in that fits," Isaacs said. "I didn't grow up celebrating Christmas, but I love spending time with family and it really took me becoming a Christian to understand the reason for the season and time with loved ones."

The concert is sponsored by the Beaumont Event and Concert Hall and Our Savior Lutheran Church. Tickets can be purchased at iTickets.com or the Our Savior Lutheran Church office for $18 general admission tickets or $28 "Artist Circle" tickets. Proceeds will go to support Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACM).

Isaacs said she hopes to thank the band's supporters.

"We're grateful for what we do and we love our fans," Isaacs said.

House Dedication

Gary French, Construction Supervisor for the build, presents a Bible to Jonathan Webb and Nicole Owens and their family during the Habitat for Humanity House dedication on Nov. 18. Through the efforts of many volunteers, Habitat for Humanity was able to complete its fifth build in Wayne since 2003.

Semi overturns on highway

According to a press release from the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, an overturned semi caused a highway junction to be blocked for about three and one half hours.

At approximately 1:35 p.m. on Nov. 16 the Wayne County Sheriff's Office was called to the junction of Highways 35 and 98 to investigate an accident.

A semi, heading east on Highway 98 attempted to turn south onto Highway 35, but overturned, blocking the northbound lane on Highway 35.

The driver was transported to Faith Region Health Services with minor injuries.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office was assisted at the scene by the Winside and Carroll Fire Departments, The Nebraska State Patrol Carrier Enforcement and Nebraska Department of Transportation.

The accident remains under investigation.

County commissioners hold day one of a two-day meeting

The Wayne County Commissioners met at their regular time Tuesday morning. November's second meeting, however, would stretch into Wednesday. Tuesday's meeting saw the commissioners hear updates from the highway department and from Nebraska Public Power and RVW, Inc.

Commissioner Jim Rabe brought the meeting to order and the commissioners approved the consent agenda before hearing from Highway Superintendent Mark Casey.

Casey told the commissioners that addressing for the wind towers and corresponding road signs were ordered. FEMA relief from summer flooding is wrapping up.

Next on the agenda were representatives from NPPD and RVW, Inc., a telecommunications company based out of Columbus, Neb.

RVW will serve as on-site inspectors for a project that would be working with Bauer Underground, out of Norfolk to bore a new fiber optic line along 561 Avenue.

Both men said they would have liked to start early on the project, but delays kept them from doing so. Weather will play a part in the completion of work as RVW will not allow work to continue if the ground is frosted too deep. Commissioner Burbach, whose district includes the work site, voiced concerns for both the late start and the location.

561 Ave. is the out-route for the wind project vehicles and with harvest still wrapping up, it is seeing a lot of traffic lately. In addition, the weather is expected to turn cold soon and deep frosts will become more likely.

Ultimately, the commissioners granted permission to place a utility line. The work will start several miles north of Hoskins and work south.

"I don't want to hold you up," Burbach said. "There's going to be frost going down in the winter and coming out in the spring and then there will be rain," Burbach said.

Burbach and Rabe, whose district is also included in the project asked that the workers heal the ground as they go.

Before calling a recess, the commissioners rescheduled the Jan. 1, 2019 meeting to Monday, Dec. 31 at 9 a.m. The commissioners met again on Wednesday morning. To see coverage of Wednesday's meeting, visit mywaynenews.com.

Providence Medical Center receives five star patient satisfaction rating

Providence Medical Center was recently awarded a five star patient satisfaction rating from the centers for Medicare and Medicaid. Using the Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS), patients are asked to rate the quality of care and experiences of their hospital stay. There are 10 questions ranging from how well doctors and nurses communicated to cleanliness and quietness of the facility. The information is compiled and available on the Hospital

Compare website for healthcare consumers to review and make comparisons.

"We strive to provide patients with the highest level of care and are honored to receive this recognition of excellence," Jim Frank, CEO Providence Medical Center, said. "I congratulate all our providers and staff for their diligent work delivering high quality care to our patients every day."

PMC has taken intentional steps over the past couple years to improve customer service and enhance patient care. Increasing staff training, implementing specific best-practices and providing ongoing internal learning and communication opportunities are just a few ways Providence staff has worked to improve overall quality of care.

"Making sure we are doing what is best for our patients is the primary goal at PMC and it is great to know the steps we've taken are making a difference. We will never stop learning from our patients and thank them for this 5 Star rating," Frank said.

Council approves permitted conditional use request

By Clara Osten,

A public hearing was held and the necessary action taken to allow for a towing business to be located in a B-2 (Central Business District) during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Dylan Ellis, owner of Wreck Amended Towing, made the request to allow for his towing business to be located at 116 South Main Street. Ellis told the council that the majority of his business involves towing vehicles to places to be repaired and they will not be stored on the property.

The stipulations of the ordinance state that all vehicles on the property will be stored inside the building.

Joel Hansen, Street and Planning Director, told the council that the Planning Commission had approved the request with the conditions that vehicles would be inside and could not be owned by the business owner.

Police Chief Marlen Chinn said that all vehicles that the city would have Ellis tow for parking violations would be taken to the city's impound yard and would not be towed to the business location.

Council approved the ordinance and waived the three readings.

In other action, the council set a date of Wednesday, Jan. 2 for the first council meeting in January. This action was necessary due to the fact that the January meeting would fall on New Year's Day.

Council members also set the date for the annual retreat. Council members will hold the retreat Friday, Jan. 18 and Saturday, Jan. 19 to discuss a variety of topics.

A pay estimate in the amount of $28,506.75 was approved to Robert Woehler & Sons Construction Company, Inc. for the Second Street Storm Sewer Improvement Project. A change order on the project will be brought before the council at its next meeting.

An agreement was approved for the Nebraska Department of Roads' Maintenance Agreement with the city of Wayne. This requires the state to maintain the turning lane of the highway within the city.

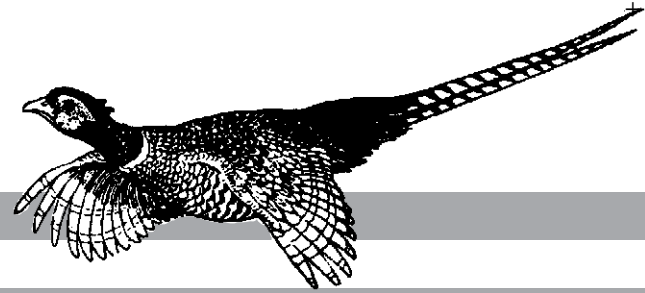

Resolution 2018-66 received unanimous approval from the council. It will allow for The Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District to administer a Community Development Block Grant in the amount of $475,000 which was recently awarded to the city.

Following discussion in executive session, the council approved the appointment of Amy K. Miller as City Attorney and the retainer agreement for payment for her services.

The Wayne City Council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Dec. 4 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Fun Run winners

Top fundraisers from the fifth annual WEB Fun Run received their prizes at Wayne Elementary School last month. Pictured below are Josie Ley, second place winner who received a Wayne High Sports Activity pass for a family of four, donated by Wayne High; Nora Dorcey and Drew Miller, who tied for third place and each received four reserved seats and tailgate tickets to a Wayne State College football game, donated by WSC Athletics; and Aubree Schmale, the drawing winner from students who met the fundraising goal of $25 or more and received a 2019 Wayne Outdoor Family Swimming Pool Pass, donated by Wayne Area Economic Development. Also pictured (above) is Mrs. Trenhaile's fifth grade class, who had the most students participate in fundraising and received a root beer float party. Not pictured is Brooklyn Jones, who took first place for the third year in a row and received a one-year family membership to the Wayne Community Activity Center, donated by Wayne Area Economic Development. The WEB Fun Run raised over $6,700 and broke all records in its five-year history. For more info, like Wayne Elementary Boosters on Facebook or visit www.wayneweb.org.

Agriculture Outlook Seminar scheduled for early December

The Wayne Area Economic Development Agricultural Task Force is hosting their Agriculture Outlook Seminar and Appreciation Lunch on Friday, Dec. 7 at the Wayne Fire Hall. The event allows area citizens involved in agriculture to learn about upcoming trends and thanks them for their impact on the area.

This year there are 27 sponsoring businesses and organizations. Tickets are only given out by sponsors, according to WAED assistant director Irene Fletcher.

"For the first $100 of sponsorship, they (the sponsors) get 10 complimentary tickets that they, in turn, pass out to their customers as a token of appreciation," Fletcher said. "You can't buy tickets at the door, you can't come to me and get a ticket. If you're a customer at one of those businesses, chances are you've probably been offered a ticket."

This year Fletcher said she's noticed a new trend that is setting up a new generation to join the Agriculture Outlook Seminar.

"We've had a couple of our sponsors who have indicated that they want their tickets to go to students interested in Ag careers. That would include Wayne High, Wayne State College and Northeast Community College," Fletcher said.

This year's Agriculture Outlook Seminar features five speakers. Marty Marx from Natural Resources Conservation Service will give a presentation titled "Tools of the Trade: Cover Crops, Etc." Northeast Community College will have their Precision Ag trailer, which they will demonstrate. Kyla Habrock, with the Nebraska Pork Producers Association will also be present.

"Wayne's FFA is heavy with girls so I wanted some female inspiration, so I was specifically targeting women in agriculture," Fletcher said.

Doug Simon, from Tedras, will discuss grain marketing. Doug Temme will give a presentation about his recent trip overseas during lunch, which will be catered by Vel's.

The public is welcome to Chamber Coffee at 10 a.m., which will take part during NCC's Precision Ag demonstration.

WAED's Ag Task Force is made of members Bill Claybaugh, who is the chair, Alan Finn, Ron Gentrup, Mark Hanson, Matt Haschke, Matt Jones, Frank Teach, Doug Temme, Amy Topp, Toni Rasmussen, Luke Virgil, Irene Fletcher and Matt Penner.

This year's sponsors include: Elkhorn Valley Bank & Trust; F&M Bank; Farmers State Bank; Grossenburg Implement; Helena; Kathol & Associates, P.C.; Midwest Land Company; Nebraska Extension-Wayne County; Northeast Community College; Northeast Nebraska Public Health; Rath, Walling & Associates; Sand Creek Post & Beam; State Farm Insurance; State National Insurance Company; State Nebraska Bank & Trust; The Seed Source; Titan Machinery; Tom Hansen, CPA; Wayne County Bank; Wayne County Egg, LLC; Wayne County Farm Bureau; TWJ Farms; TWJ Feeds; Beck Ag; Pioneer; Northeast Nebraska Insurance; Trisha Peters, Realtor, 1st Realty.

Community Theatre preparing to present 'A Christmas Carol'

In a change of pace, the Wayne Community Theatre has scheduled a production for December this year.

The group will present 'A Christmas Carol' by Patrick Barlow on Friday, Nov. 30 and Saturday, Dec. 1 at 7 p.m. each evening and at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 2

There is no reserved seating for the show, which will be held at the Majestic Theatre in Wayne. Doors open 45 minutes prior to show time.

Brian Begley is playing Scrooge in the Community Theatre's production.

Begley is the Director of Technical theatre at Wayne State College. He has a BFA in Acting and a MFA in Directing.

"I toured for many, many years with Discovery Movement Theatre and have been doing theatre all my life. This show is an absolute blast. The cast and director are great, and the script/adaptation is magical. It's a fun, fast-paced family show for the holidays. A story about the redemption of Scrooge. I love it because I believe in second chances, and the power of story," Begley said.

The event is partially funded by a grant for the Wayne County Convention and Visitor Bureau.

The Community Theatre is a Wayne United Way Community Partner. Other sponsors of this performance include Hytrek Lawn Service, Wayne State College and Quality Food Center.

Scrooge's mother (Jillian Allemann) holds him as a baby while he (Brian Begley) dreams of his life then.

Christmas on Main

On Nov. 15 the Wayne community celebrated Christmas on Main. Downtown streets and businesses were decorated with lights and greenery and businesses were encouraged to take part in a window decorating contest hosted by Wayne Area Economic Development. As always, the Parade of Lights brought spectators to Main Street. Santa also visited several businesses and the Tri City Trolley was offering rides through the Wayne State College campus. Many businesses also handed out goodies like hot chocolate and apple cider and some even had kids activities planned.

Tour of Homes, Craft Show to raise funds for Winside schools

Several members of the Winside Public School Foundation are putting together an event to raise funds for the Foundation. The Winside Craft Show and Tour of Homes will be held Saturday, Dec. 1. Activities run from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The majority of the activities will be held at the Marotz Seed Building, 3017 Main Street in Winside. Wine tasting begins at noon and

Santa will be present from 3 to 4:30 p.m. The Tour of Homes will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. that day. Tickets for the tour can be purchased before the event at the Winside Store or Wayne County Bank or the day of the event. Two of the homes on this year's tour are one owned by Bill and Patti Burris and Jenni Topp. The house owned by the Burris family is located at 311 Miner Street. It built in the early 1890s by A.C. Goltz who owned one of the first lumber yard to Gustav Mittelstadt in 1907. The house was a large, two-story house built with an open stairway, oak floors and woodwork and French doors. Since the early owners owned the lumber yard, the house had more expensive interior materials. Herman Jaeger bought the house in 1963 from the Mittelstadt estate and lived in the house until 2000. In 2001, Bill and Patti Burris purchased the house from the Jaeger estate. After 100 years the house needed major upgrading. A new basement with living space was created. A large part of the interior was gutted and a sun room added to the second floor. Bill and Patti lived in the house from 2012-2018 and in June of 2018 it became the Winside Guest House for visitors to Winside and the surrounding area. It can house up to six people. The house owned by Jenni Topp was built by Willard Jeffrey in 1963 who was married to Irene (Cramer) and at the time had three children, Jackie age 16, Mike 12, Deb 8 and when that house was finished and the family moved in, they brought home a new baby girl, Mary. Willard Jeffrey's sister, Donna Fae, was married to Ellis Foreman whom ran Foreman Lumber in Albion and Columbus where all the wood was purchased. It was quite ironic as Dick Ditman helped Willard dig and prepare the basement, and in the future married Jackie. In 1969 Jim and Del Winch moved into the house and had two children at the time, Rick and Robyn. While Jim and Del lived at the residence, they added on the front porch and behind the house installed a cement patio and pool. Jenni Topp and her daughter, Kati, moved in September 2013 when Kati was 10 years old. "We moved back to Winside in 2010 where we lived at 504 Bressler in a double wide trailer so it was a joy to have a house. The house with basement and garage is 2,436 square feet. When purchased from the Winchs, it came with a nice utility shed in the back for storage and a swimming pool. The swimming pool was something new to learn on how to take care of. Thank God for neighbors who know their stuff, Thanks Robin Edwards. We had, and continue to have, some great family memories in the pool. The house has been a wonderful move to a great neighborhood and many memories that have been made for Kati and me," Jenni said. Thanks to Jackie Jeffrey Ditman Bell and Robyn Winch Hurlbert who helped with the history of this house.

International Student Spotlight International Ed Week lets WSC students, home countries to shine

Wayne State College's International Club, PRIDE Club and the Multicultural Center hosted a series of talks to celebrate International Education Week, which ran from Nov. 12 through Nov. 16. Every year the Department of Education holds International Education Week. The goal, according to the Department of Education, is to allow students the opportunity to explore and celebrate international education and exchange. Ellie Tran, grad assistant and Vietnam-native, and Junior, Oswald Adohinzin, from Benin, were in charge of Wayne State's celebration. Adohinzin is the president of International Club and worked with Tran and other members to put together a line-up of speakers to showcase WSC's diverse international students. "We come to the United States seeking knowledge, so the only thing we can give is who we are and what we are made of, which is our culture," Adohinzin said. "I consider International Education Week an opportunity for us to get to share with everybody else what is done in our country and what is different."

He and Tran lined up six speakers to talk about their experiences in educational exchange. Students Lari Cantu and Paolo Digenari spoke about Brazil, Kennethson Armstrong and Delimar Martina spoke about Curacao and Prince Chukwuma talked about Nigeria. Tran and Adohinzin also tasked

Dean of Humanities, Dr. Yasuko Taoka to discuss her experience of being a Japanese citizen while growing up in the U.S. Though Taoka had been living in the U.S. for many years, while in college she was considered an international student as she hadn't yet become naturalized. She also found the activities to be beneficial for domestic students. "It allows students who are already here and can't think about going abroad because they have families or jobs or whatever," Taoka said. "It let's them know that there are students here that they can talk to to get that experience."

student about their experiences living abroad. "I would really encourage students who are domestic students to get out there and talk to these international students," Taoka said. "They're really open about talking about their home country and their experiences so even if you don't have a chance to study abroad, this is a great way to get a perspective of different parts of the world." That's a sentiment echoed by Tran. "That's the whole point of international education, being flexible, being welcoming and being open to new ideas and diversity," Tran said. International Club's next big event will be the International Dinner, when students will serve foods and information from their home countries. Adohinzin invites all students to International Club events and to the club itself. "When people hear about International Club they think maybe it's just for international students, but you can be an American and be a part of the club," Adohinzin said. "I really encourage people to come and visit us. Even if you they don't want to be a part of the club, they can just sit down with us. We're a really fun club and we're always trying to do things to be relevant on campus."

For more information about International Club and their activities, follow their Facebook page WSC International Club.

Wayne State volleyball signs six for 2019 class

Wayne State volleyball coach Scott Kneifl announced that six high school standouts from Nebraska have signed national letters of intent during the NCAA early signing period and will play volleyball for the Wildcats in the 2019-20 school year.

Announcing their intentions to play for Wayne State are Taya Beller of Lindsay, Maggie Brahmmer from Pierce, Jessie Brandl of Stanton, Kelsie Cada and Elly Larson of Wahoo and Jordan McCormick from Elkhorn.

"We are extremely excited about our 2019 signing class," Kneifl said. "We feel like it could be one of the strongest we have ever had in terms of talent and depth. We have several players that will make an immediate impact in our program. This group, along with our returners from this year's squad, will make for the most competitive practice gyms in the history of our program. We can't wait to get this group on campus and get to work."

Beller is a 6-foot-2 rightside hitter from Humphrey/Lindsay Holy Family High School who is a three-sport standout in volleyball, basketball and track and field. This season, Beller recorded 422 kills, 500 digs, 125 blocks and 47 service aces helping her team to a 29-5 record and a Class D-1 state runner-up finish. As a junior, she was Class D-1 first-team All-State by the Omaha World-Herald and second-team All-State from the Lincoln Journal Star and earned first-team All-Conference honors as a junior and senior. In basketball last season, Beller received Class D-1 second-team All-State accolades after recording 12.3 points and 11.3 rebounds per game. In track and field, she has won the state title in the triple jump the last two seasons (Class C in 2017, Class D in 2018).

"Taya is an athletic, strong net player with a very big arm," commented Kneifl. "Her length and athleticism at the net will be an exciting addition to our program. Her athleticism has already shown in other sports and we are expecting Taya to be a front row difference maker early in her career."

Brahmer is a 6-foot middle hitter from Pierce High School who is a three-sport standout in volleyball, basketball and track and field. This season, Brahmmer recorded 522 kills for the Bluejays, averaging 5.6 kills per set and finished her career with 1,216 kills. She is a three-time All-Mid States Conference selection in volleyball and two-time honoree in basketball where she averaged 11.1 points and 10.9 rebounds per game last season as a junior. Brahmmer was the Class B runner-up in the high jump at the 2018 State Meet (5-3) and was fourth as a sophomore in 2017 clearing 5-2.

"Maggie is an extremely athletic middle hitter that is very quick side-to-side," said Kneifl. "Although Maggie has not played as much volleyball as some, she is a quick learner and her athleticism and work ethic will allow her to transition to the college game in a short amount of time. She has the potential to be very offensive and her blocking will definitely be one of our team strengths in the next few years."

Brandl is a 5-foot-8 libero/outside hitter from Stanton High School who started four years in volleyball, basketball and track and field for the Mustangs. She played on four state tournament teams for Stanton in volleyball, winning the Class C2 state title as a sophomore while placing third the last two years (31-3 record this season) to go with a state runner-up finish as a freshman. In Brandl's career, she posted 1,399 digs, 1,298 kills and 182 service aces averaging 4.0 digs and 3.7 kills per set. Brandl was Class C-2 first-team All-State as a junior and first-team All-Conference all four years in high school.

"Jessie is a talented three-sport athlete that will train on both the outside and libero/defensive specialist positions at Wayne State," stated Kneifl. She is a very skilled player that plays the game with a very high intensity level. She is a true competitor who will make our gym more competitive the minute she steps on campus."

Cada is a 6-foot outside hitter from Wahoo Neumann High School who started four years in volleyball and two in basketball for the Cavaliers. This season, Cada recorded 437 kills and 453 digs helping Neumann to a 30-5 record and a fourth place finish at the Class C-1 State Tournament. As a junior, Cada was a Class C-1 second-team All-State selection and finished her career with 1,468 kills.

"Kelsie is a very dynamic six-rotation outside hitter who we feel can make an immediate impact to our program," boasted Kneifl. "Kelsie plays high school and club volleyball on very good programs which will make her jump to the college game that much easier. She is a multi-talented player and we are excited to see what she can do in Wildcat Black and Gold."

Larson is a 6-foot outside hitter from Wahoo High School who started four years in volleyball and three in basketball for the Warriors. This season, Larson helped Wahoo High win a second straight Class C-1 state title with a 35-2 record posting 329 kills and 332 digs. She closed her career with 1,261 kills and 893 digs and 175 service aces. Last season as a junior, Larson collected Class C-1 first-team All-State honors and was a second-team Super State selection by the Lincoln Journal Star.

"Elly is a very skilled volleyball player that can play multiple positions," stated Kneifl. "She has been successful at the school and club levels and we are excited that she will be bringing her leadership qualities to our team. She is coming off an injury but we know she will continue to work hard to become as healthy as she can to ensure she is playing at the highest level here at WSC."

McCormick is a 5-foot-9 libero/defensive specialist from Elkhorn South High School, lettering in volleyball four seasons. This season, McCormick averaged 4.6 digs per set (518 total) while leading her team to a 31-9 record and Class B runner-up finish while being named to the All-Tournament Team. In her four year career, McCormick accumulated 1,105 digs with 81 service aces.

"Jordan is a solid back row player that can make dynamic defensive moves," remarked Coach Kneifl. "She has a great knowledge of the game and will help our deep court immensely. Although Jordan will train as both an outside and libero/defensive specialist, she will be spending most of her time training on the first contact in serve receive and floor defense, which is where we see her making the biggest impact in our program."

Seven Wildcats named to All-NSIC football honors

The Wayne State football team had seven players selected to the 2018 NSIC All-Conference team announced by the league office this week.

Junior linebacker Tyler Thomsen earned NSIC South Division First Team Defense honors as voted by league coaches. Second-team honors went to senior wide receiver Nate Rogers, junior defensive end Jacob Protzman and senior punter Cody Netusil while junior defensive end Kolbie Foster, junior defensive back/linebacker Ian Ailts and sophomore tight end Conner Paxton were each named to the Honorable Mention team.

Thomsen, a 6-foot-1, 225-pound junior linebacker, led Wayne State and the Northern Sun Conference in tackles this season with 120, averaging 10.9 tackles per game. He recorded 10 or more tackles in eight games this season, highlighted by a season-best 15 stops with one interception for 49 yards in a 42-35 win at Upper Iowa. Thomsen also had two blocked kicks with 5.5 tackles for loss (11 yds) and one sack (2 yds) this season. Thomsen was All-NSIC Honorable Mention last season as a sophomore.

Rogers, a 6-foot-5, 205-pound senior wide receiver, was a South Division Second Team selection this season after earning First Team honors last season. Rogers led WSC in receiving this season with 70 catches for 1,009 yards with 11 touchdowns, ranking third in the NSIC in receptions per game (6.36), third in receiving yards per game (91.7) and third in TD catches (11). He became the first WSC receiver since Frederick Bruno in 2009 to have a 1,000-yard receiving season and closed his Wildcat career ranked third in receptions (177), fourth in receiving yards (2,456) and the all-time leader in touchdown receptions with 38.

Protzman, a 6-foot-4, 250-pound junior defensive end, was a South Division Second Team selection on defense after ranking third in the NSIC this season in sacks (10 for 62 yds) and tackles for loss (16 for 73 yds). Protzman was named NSIC Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 10 after recording a single-game school record five sacks and eight tackles in a 23-14 win at Southwest Minnesota State. He finished the season ranked fourth on the Wildcat defense in total tackles with 49 and also had three quarterback hurries with one forced fumble.

Netusil, a 6-foot-3, 250-pound senior punter, received South Division Second Team honors as a punter after collecting First Team honors in 2016 as a sophomore. This season, Netusil ranked fifth in the Northern Sun Conference averaging 39.3 yards per punt. He had just one touchback in 65 punts and set single-season school records with 21 fair catches and 27 punts inside the 20-yard line. Netusil ended his Wildcat career ranked second in total punts with 179 and had just nine touchbacks in three seasons.

Ailts, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound junior defensive back/linebacker, earned Honorable Mention honors after ranking second on the Wildcat defense in tackles (59) despite missing two games due to injury. Ailts posted eight or more tackles in six of nine games played this season, recording nine tackles with 2.5 tackles for loss and one sack and two quarterback hurries at St. Cloud State. He also had nine tackles against Winona State and nine tackles with a forced fumble at Concordia-St. Paul.

Foster, a 6-foot-4, 220-pound junior defensive end, received Honorable Mention honors after ranking third on the Wildcat defense with 52 total tackles (40 solo). He ranked tied for sixth in the NSIC in tackles for loss (13 for 84 yds) and was tied for seventh in the NSIC with two forced fumbles to go with 6.5 sacks for 59 yards. Foster had a season-high eight tackles against Winona State and had seven tackles with a forced fumble against Bemidji State. He had a season-high two sacks at Concordia-St. Paul.

Paxton, a 6-foot-2, 230-pound sophomore, received Honorable Mention honors after ranking second on the team this season in receptions with 34 for 439 yards (12.9 avg.) and two touchdowns. He posted a season-high six catches for 97 yards and one TD in a 23-14 win at Southwest Minnesota State and had six catches for 82 yards against MSU Moorhead. Paxton had at least one catch in 10 of 11 games this season.

Wayne State finished the 2018 season with records of 3-8 overall and 2-5 in the NSIC South Division.

Wildcat men pick up home victories

The Wayne State men's basketball team found the home court to their liking as they picked up a pair of wins in their home debut this past week.

Four Wildcats scored in double figures and the Wildcats shot 53.8 percent from the floor as they won their home opener Tuesday with a Waldorf University 84-56 win at Rice Auditorium.

Waldorf held a 10-8 lead on the Wildcats six minutes into the contest, but a 7-0 run by the Wildcats, highlighted by a Vance Janssen 3-pointer, a dunk by Kendall Jacks and a layup from AlTavius Jackson gave Wayne State a 15-10 lead with 12:36 to go in the first half.

The Warriors rallied and forced a pair of ties at 15-15 and 17-17, but Wayne State took the lead for good, scoring the next eight points and took their first double-digit lead on a Nate Mohr 3-pointer for a 30-19 advantage before finishing the first half with a 33-23 lead.

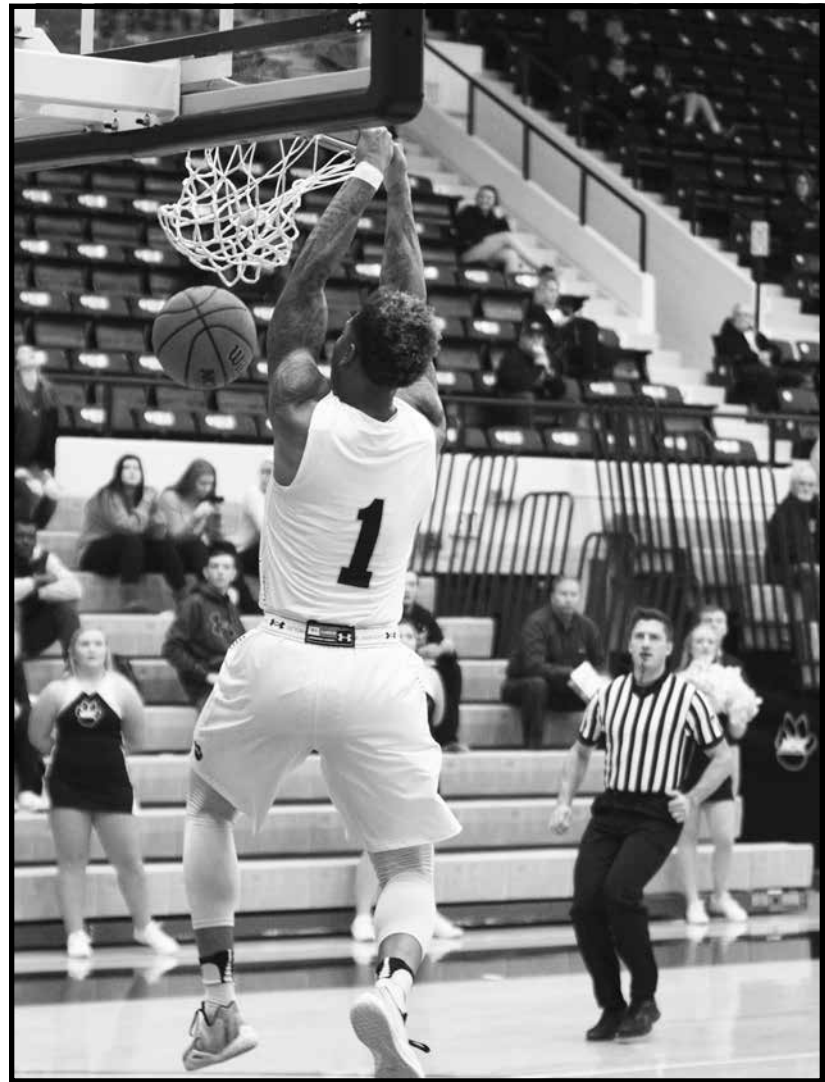

Waldorf was still within eight at 37-29 with 16:10 to play, but Wayne State put the game out of reach with a 19-7 run over the next 6:13 to take a commanding 56-36 lead and the Wildcats finished off the easy win.

Senior guard Vance Janssen led four Wildcat players in double figures with 14 points. Freshman Nick Ferrarini scored 13 followed by Jackson with 11 and Jacks with 10.

Wayne State held a 36-29 advantage in rebounding over the Warriors thanks to seven boards from Jordan Janssen. Vance Janssen had three of Wayne State's six blocks and also led the Wildcats with three assists.

On Thursday, the Wildcats shot 51.4 percent from the field and hit the century mark in topping Nebraska Christian College, 101-52.

Six Eagles on D2-3 All-District team

Six Allen football players were selected to the D2-3 All-District team by district coaches.

First-team honors went to offensive end Devin Twohig and running back Kyle Smith. Brogan Jones was named to the defensive team as a linebacker.

Honorable mention honors went to Isaac Verzani, Anthony Isom and Josh Grone.

Wildcat women split games in Illinois classic

Wayne State suffered its first loss of the season in women's basketball action after going 1-1 in the Subway Tip Off Classic in Quincy, Ill.

Truman State outscored Wayne State 42-31 in the second half Friday, fueled by 13-17 free throw shooting, to defeat the Wildcats, 67-58.

Both teams struggled from the field in the first quarter as the Bulldogs went 4-for-14 with Wayne State going 4-of-16 as Truman State held an 11-10 lead after one period.

The second quarter turned into a back-and-forth affair with seven ties and seven lead changes between the two clubs. The biggest lead of the quarter was three by Truman State as Rachel Edmundson drained a 3-pointer to put the Bulldogs in front 21-18 with 4:24 to play in the half. Wayne State closed the half strong and took a 27-25 lead, their final lead of the game, on a Halley Busse layup to close the first half.

Truman State scored the first six points of the third quarter to take the lead for good at 31-27.

A Busse 3-pointer got Wayne State within one at 33-32 with 6:09 remaining in the quarter, but the Bulldogs scored the next seven points for a 40-32 lead and took a 47-37 lead late in the third quarter before Wayne State cut the deficit to eight at 48-40 entering the fourth quarter.

Wayne State got within four several times in the fourth quarter. With Truman State leading 49-40, the Wildcats used an Erin Norling trey and a layup to close within 49-45. Wayne State was within four at 56-52 with 4:25 remaining following an Andrea Larson 3-pointer, but Truman State answered with a 3-pointer followed by a layup and two free throws to push the lead back to 11 and went on to claim the win.

Norling led Wayne State in scoring with 16 points to go with 10 rebounds for a double-double while Busse also reached double figures for the Wildcats with 14 points. Maggie Lowe had four of Wayne State's 12 assists while Taylor Reiner recorded two blocked shots.

On Saturday, five Wildcats scored in double figures as the Wildcat women's basketball team held off host Quincy University, 69-62.

Wayne State held the lead for most of the first quarter until the host Hawks came back to take a one-point lead, 17-16, after the opening 10 minutes of play. Wayne State led 10-5 after a Norling 3-pointer, but the hosts scored the final five points of the quarter to take the advantage.

It was a reversal of fortune in the second period, as the Hawks led for much of the quarter before the Wildcats closed the half with a Norling layup and a jumper and pair of free throws from Haley Vesey to take a 29-28 halftime advantage.

After Quincy scored the first basket of the second half, the Wildcats scored the next six points to take the lead for good. A Larson three-point play along with a Busse layup and free throw gave the Wildcats a 35-30 lead and they never looked back.

The Hawks got within one at 37-36 at the 4:53 mark, but Wayne State scored 10 points in the next 90 seconds to take a 47-38 lead, leading by as many as 10 before taking a 54-47 advantage to the final period.

Quincy rallied with a 10-2 run to get within two at 56-54 with just under six minutes to go, but a 3-pointer from Vesey got the Wildcats going again and Quincy never got as close as four after that.

Basse paced a balanced scoring attack for Wayne State with 17 points. Maggie Lowe followed with 15 points while Norling produced 13 points, eight rebounds, five assists and two blocked shots. Vesey added 12 points with Larson scoring 10.

Wayne State (3-1) will host Peru State College Saturday at 4 p.m.

Foster earns Region 4 honor

Kolbie Foster of Wayne State College was voted to the 2018 Google Cloud Academic All-District/Super Region 4 Football Team announced Thursday morning.

Foster, a 6-foot-4, 220-pound junior defensive end, carries a 3.77 grade-point average majoring in family consumer science and fashion merchandising. He received NSIC South Division Honorable Mention honors on the field this season after ranking third on the Wildcat defense with 52 total tackles (40 solo).

Foster tied for sixth in the NSIC in tackles for loss (13 for 84 yds) and was tied for seventh in the NSIC with two forced fumbles to go with 6.5 sacks for 59 yards. Foster had a season-high eight tackles against Winona State and had seven tackles with a forced fumble against Bemidji State. He had a season-high two sacks at Concordia-St. Paul.

The award is voted on by the College Sports Information Directors of America and recognizes the nation's top student-athletes for their combined performances on the field and in the classroom. Foster is the first Wildcat since Jon Davis in 2014 to receive Academic All-District honors and now advances to the All-America ballot, with honorees to be announced in early December.

Wildcat womens hoops inks five in early signing period

Wayne State College women's basketball coach Brent Pollari announced the signing of five high school standouts to national letters of intent during the NCAA early signing period to continue their athletic and academic careers at Wayne State College in the 2019-20 school year.

Joining the Wildcat women's program are Awoti Akoi from Sioux Falls, S.D.; Ashley Gustavson of Mankato, Minn.; RaeLin Jurgens from Parker, S.D.; Josey Ryan of Papillion and Lauren Zacharias from North Liberty, Iowa.

"We are very excited about the 2019 class that we have signed," remarked Pollari. "This class brings athleticism, versatility and depth to our program. We look forward to what each individual will bring to our team on the court, in the classroom and in our community."

Akoi is a 6-foot-2 center from Sioux Falls O'Gorman High School where she is a three-year letterwinner and two-year starter for the Knights. Last season, she earned All-Metro Conference First Team honors and helped O'Gorman to a 17-7 record and sixth-place finish in the Class AA State Tournament, averaging 5.3 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2.5 blocked shots per game. As a sophomore, Akoi helped O'Gorman win the South Dakota AA State Title.

"Awoti brings length and athleticism to our center position," said Pollari. "She can change a game with her defense and rebounding and has really developed her offensive skills."

Gustavson is a 5-foot-7 shooting guard from Mankato West High School in Minnesota where she is a five-year starter in soccer and four-year starter in basketball. Last season as a junior, Gustavson averaged 9.7 points, 3.5 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game despite missing eight games due to illness and helped her team reach the Minnesota State 3A Tournament for the first time in school history. She earned All-City honors and was All-Big 9 Conference honorable mention. During her sophomore season, Gustavson accounted for 14.4 points and 4.3 rebounds per contest. In soccer, Gustavson scored 65 career goals and played in three state tournaments while earning All-Big 9 Conference honors four times.

"Ashley is a very athletic guard who has had success on the court and on the soccer field," commented Pollari. "She will fit well in our program with her competitive nature."

Jurgens is a 5-foot-10 forward from Parker, S.D. (Parker HS) who is a five-year starter in basketball and six-year letterwinner. As a junior, she produced 12 points, 7.3 rebounds and 2.3 blocked shots per game to earn All-Big East Conference honors. Jurgens averaged 8.7 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2.3 blocks per game as a sophomore while helping Parker to a sixth place finish at the South Dakota Class B State Tournament. In volleyball, she has played on four state tournament teams for Parker and was a member of the Class B State Track championship team in 2017.

"RaeLin is a strong, hard-nosed forward who can extend the defense with her shooting range," said Pollari. "her physical play will be a great fit for our defense."

Ryan is a 5-foot-7 guard from Papillion-LaVista High School who is a three-year starter in basketball and soccer. Last season, she averaged 11 points, 5.0 assists, 3.2 rebounds and 3.0 assists per game to earn Second Team All-Metro Conference honors to go with Class A honorable mention All-State while helping her team reach the Class A State Tournament with an 18-8 record.

"Josey is a versatile guard who does a little bit of everything," stated Pollari. "She has a very high basketball IQ and is capable of doing whatever her team needs to be successful."

Zacharias is a 5-foot-5 point guard from Iowa City West High School in Iowa where she is a four-year starter. Last season, she averaged 9.7 points, 3.96 assists and 3.3 rebounds per game while helping her team win the Iowa Class 5A State Title. In the title game vs. Iowa City High, Zacharias scored a team-high 15 points and led her team during the season with 41 3-pointers and was named to the Iowa Class 5A All-Tournament Team.

"Lauren is a competitor and playmaker at the point guard position," said Pollari. "She has a winning mentality and fits our system well."

Wayne hosts Unified Bowling triangular

The Wayne High unified bowling team hosted a triangular with Norfolk High and South Sioux City last week at Wildcat Lanes.

Wayne had four teams in the 10-team field, and the Wayne 1 team of Jess Gibson, Andi Belt, Kaden Kneifl and Brock Hopkins finished second by six pins with a total of 765. South Sioux City's No. 4 team won the triangular with a 771.

The Wayne 3 team of Corey Rogers, Allyson Avery, Emily Longe and Raschell Pving finished fourth with a 598. The Wayne 2 team of Aracely Suarez, Emma Walling, Carter Fernau and Jamie Janke was fifth with a 628, while the Wayne 4 team of Johnathon Vick, Natalie Bentjen, Shea Sweetland and Ruben Vega was sixth with a 560.

The Wayne team was to compete in a meet at South Sioux City before heading to district action in Norfolk to close out the regular season.

The 2018 Wayne Area Ducks Unlimited was a Great Success! Thanks so much to the Sponsors, Donors, Community, Family's, committee members, and businesses that not only attended but gave generously to a good cause.

Ducks Unlimited got its start in 1937 during the Dust Bowl when North America's drought-plagued waterfowl populations had plunged to unprecedented lows. Determined not to sit idly by as the continents waterfowl dwindled beyond recovery, a small group of sportsmen joined together to form an organization that became known as Ducks Unlimited. Its mission: habitat conservation. Thanks to more than 80 years of abiding by that single mission, Ducks Unlimited is now the world's largest and most effective private, nonprofit, waterfowl and wetlands conservation organization. Waterfowl are not the only beneficiaries of DU's habitat work. Wetlands improve the overall health of our environment by recharging and purifying groundwater, moderating floods and reducing soil erosion. Wetlands are North America's most productive ecosystems, providing critical habitat to more than 900 wildlife species and invaluable recreation opportunities for people to enjoy.

Gebhardt earns All-District Academics honor

Wayne State senior volleyball standout Megan Gebhardt was named to the 2018 Google Cloud Academic All-District VII Volleyball Team, receiving First Team honors for a second straight season.

Gebhardt, a 5-foot-8 senior/graduate student setter, carries a 4.0 grade-point average in the classroom majoring in finance.

On the court, Gebhardt averaged 9.87 assists, 2.20 digs and 0.73 blocks per set this season for the Wildcats, ranking 10th in the NSIC in assists per set. She led the Wildcats with a team-high six double-doubles this season, including 19 assists and 12 digs in a 3-0 loss at No. 7 Southwest Minnesota State in the first round of the NSIC Tournament on Nov. 6. Gebhardt had a season-high 51 assists with 10 digs, also against Southwest Minnesota State, in a 3-2 regular season setback on Sept. 8.

Gebhardt has earned the Cunningham Scholar Female Athlete of the Year at Wayne State the last two seasons and last year was named CoSIDA Academic All-American Second Team with a 4.0 GPA. She earned her undergraduate degree in just three years with a perfect 4.0 GPA and is pursuing a master's degree currently in finance while also maintaining a 4.0 GPA.

The award is voted by the College Sports Information Directors of America and recognizes the nation's top student-athletes for their combined performances on the court and in the classroom. Gebhardt now advances to the All-America ballot, with honorees to be announced in early December.

Wayne State runners end season at regionals

The Wayne State cross country teams completed their season Saturday in the NCAA Div. II Central Regional at the Tom Rutledge Cross Country Course in Joplin, Mo.

Junior Dylan Kessler and senior Isaias Solorio were the top two finishers for the Wildcat men, who placed 24th out of 28 teams. Kessler covered the 10,000-meter course in 33:40 to finish 129th out of 192 runners, while Solorio was 131st in 33:42. Bailey Peckahm finished 143rd in a time of 33:58, followed by Bryce Holcomb (149th, 34:11), Nathan Pearson (160th, 34:53), Jesus Arellano (172nd, 35:50) and Brock Hegarty (176th, 36:19).

In women's action, the Wildcats were 27th out of 35 teams and were led by Molly McCartney, who finished 120th out of 237 runners in a time of 24:09 on the 6,000-meter course. Joan Jalimo was next, finishing 128th in 24:21.

Also running were Wayne native Andrea Torres, finishing 164th in 25:06, followed by Kim Lowman (176th, 25:22), Allie Rosener (177th, 25:22), Amanda Mote (192nd, 25:45) and Joana Sato (199th, 26:03).

MINUTES OF REGULAR MEETING OF THE WINSIDE PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meeting Date: Monday, November 12, 2018 at 7:00 PM
 Location: Elementary: Library
 Present Members: Jon Jaeger, Carmie Marotz, John Thies, Nate Behmer, Dana Bargstadt and Ryan Brogren; Superintendent: Mr. Shoff; Principal: Mrs. Remm

President Jon Jaeger called the meeting to order and pointed out the Open Meetings Act posted in the meeting room. President Jaeger announced two changes to the Agenda: the Art Club and Pam Greunke that were listed on the Agenda, neither one could attend the meeting tonight, so they will be removed from the Agenda. The President led the room with the Pledge of Allegiance. He welcomed the guests and the visitors and referred the visitors to the sign in sheet for anyone who would like to address the Board. No signatures were written to address the Board.

Motion by Behmer, second by Bargstadt to approve the Consent Agenda that consisted of the following: the Agenda with the corrections to remove the Art Club and Pam Greunke; the minutes of the Regular Board Meeting held on October 10, 2018; Youth Wrestling asked use of the facilities on Feb 23 for their Junior Wrestling tournament and asked to set up the night before; the Volunteer Wrestling Coaches: Ben Richling and Marcos Escalera ; Option Enrollments with three out. Ayes- Brogren, Jaeger, Thies, Behmer and Bargstadt. Nays-None. Absent- Marotz Marotz arrived at 7:06 p.m.

 Mr. Shoff reviewed the Financial Report with their ending balances, the monthly draws, the Budget and the claims.

Discussions began with Marotz and Bargstadt updating the Board on the formation of the School Foundation. Three community members have volunteered to be on the Board of Directors, an account will be opened at a Wayne County Bank, work is being done on a Foundation flyer and the committee is keeping busy with the details of the tour of homes and craft show that will be held on December 1.

As per the last meeting President Jaeger asked the Board to review the Strategic Plan Framework Priorities and decide which two they wanted to start working on. After going over each Priority the Board and Administration will work on Priority 1. Curriculum, Instruction and Learning and 3. District Resources. This will be an Agenda item from this point on with monthly updates.

Mr. Shoff updated the Board on the FEMA request for funds to repair the drainage area near Crawford Street, the north culvert and playground area. Last week we had a representative from FEMA conduct a site inspection. There are more documents yet to be submitted until final outcome is determined.

President Jaeger handed out the revised Superintendent's evaluation to each Board member and asked that it be returned to him by December 1.

Actions began with a motion by Behmer, second by Brogren to approve the Budget and Financial Reports including the following claims: General Fund Claims of $314,979.93 and Special Building Claims of $6,442.83. Ayes-Jaeger, Marotz, Thies, Behmer, Bargstadt and Brogren. Nays-none.

MIKE'S MIC

(Not) my porch cat Garfield

By MIKE RENNING
mikesportshome@yahoo.com

I know the definition of stupidity is continuing to do the same things and expecting a different outcome, so grab a drink and let me tell you about stupid.

Some years back, I had a small crew of family and friends over to the Darling Wife's house to remove our front door and install a much larger French door to allow access to what was become our front deck/porch.

While we had the hole cut out, a harmless white and black cat strolled into the living room, sat next to my television and began grooming - what turned out to be herself - in the sun as if she was home.

On several occasions during that day I encouraged the little feline by tossing her outside but she would eventually show up again and although I declared it wasn't our cat the kids around the yard began petting her outside the house in the sun as she groomed - what turned out to be herself.

After the construction project, I would notice this cat around from time-to-time but gave it little thought.

A couple of weeks passed and I began to notice a pillow on the front deck/porch - then what appeared to be a little dish.

My youngest son, Mason, who was probably not quite in kindergarten, had not learned to "shield" his father from unwanted news, so one day I asked him why we had a pillow and a dish on the front deck/porch. "That's Dottie's," he replied.

Naturally, I asked who Dottie was - although I had a pretty good idea I just wanted confirmation from someone who was adept at "shielding".

"She's our cat."

I'm not sure what the gestation period for a cat is, but I became quite accustomed to the friendliness of Dottie at least twice a year.

To make a long story fit in this space, I'll simply report Dottie went on to produce several little "Dotties" and whatever several little male "Dotties" would be called.

Thirty-two kittens and $578.42 later, I guess we had a cat.

Recently, I noticed a kind of goldish cat parading through the neighborhood.

Well, I didn't notice, but "Sonny's" dog, Riley noticed - you remember "Sonny", my neighbor Mark - oh never mind.

After Riley noticed, Jake, the Darling Wife's beagle noticed and then Yippee (who's getting on in years) noticed...and then I noticed.

I went outside and chased the little fellow off and things seemed fine.

On 12 other occasions, the neighborhood watchdogs noticed the kind of goldish cat parading through the neighborhood - starting the barking alert - and I would dutifully go outside and chase the little fellow off.

In fact, on one occasion, my son-in-law, Bryce, was dutifully taking out the trash at my house and he met the kind of goldish cat as the little fellow jumped out of my opened dumpster - causing Bryce a little anxiety and setting off the neighborhood "alert".

Well, a few weeks later, always on the alert for "sign" of intruders around the Darling Wife's house, I noticed one of Yippee's old dog beds on the front porch/deck. It is now more deck than porch.

I figured the dog bed was old so I threw it in the dumpster.

A couple of days later, I noticed the bed on the porch swing on the porch/deck...and the kind of goldish cat sunning and grooming in the bed!

The Darling Wife and I don't have any kids around the house anymore so my option of finding someone who wasn't adept at "shielding" me from unwanted information was very limited.

Mason lives nearest, so I took a chance on asking him.

His reply was, "Ask Mom."

That was all I needed to know.

The kind of goldish cat is Garfield.

Not my cat, but he spends time on the Darling Wife's front porch/deck.

Yes, he has a dish...but he is a male...I think.

Thanksgiving: uninvited (?) guests started tradition

By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Let's set the record straight on Thanksgiving. It started as a celebration of the first successful harvest by the Pilgrims probably in 1621. It lasted three days and was likely attended by 53 Pilgrims and as many as 90 Native Americans who may, or may not, have been invited.

There was no turkey or sweet potatoes or pie. They probably dined on fish stew and cornmeal mush and wild game if they were lucky. What we know of the meal is limited to a few lines in two books by Pilgrims: Mourt's Relation by Edward Winslow and Of Plymouth Plantation by William Bradford, the founder and governor of the Plymouth Colony settlement.

The Pilgrims were celebrating their first "halfway decent harvest" when members of the Wampanoag tribe showed up, likely uninvited, according to journalist Charles Mann, who wrote 1491: New Revelations of the Americas Before Columbus and 1493: Uncovering the New World Columbus Created. Bradford's account doesn't mention the Wampanoag, but Winslow describes Pilgrims rejoicing the "fruits of our labours" with "many of the Indians coming amongst us, and amongst the rest their greatest king Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five Deer, which they brought to the Plantation and bestowed on our Governor, and upon the Captain and others.

Mann said it's unlikely they ate turkey (though Bradford describes a "great store" of the birds). Nor were there any of the potato or sweet potato dishes enjoyed today, as those didn't grow in the colonies yet. They may have had cranberry sauce, though the Pilgrims didn't recognize cranberries as edible. Without wheat or apples, they probably didn't enjoy pies, either.

A few years before this potluck, a disease from shipwrecked French sailors swept through New England and killed most of the Wampanoag.

The Pilgrims from the Mayflower essentially set up shop in one of their decimated villages, but they did bring valuable trade goods from Europe.

In the spring after the Mayflower's arrival, the Wampanoag allied themselves with the Pilgrims to gain British goods and protection from warring tribes like the Narragansett, who wouldn't mess with an ally of their trade partners. The Pilgrims in turn looked to the Wampanoag for survival, gaining valuable tricks like using fish for fertilizer to make effective use of the cornfields they stole from the Indians. They had a mutually beneficial relationship for about 50 years.

"I have no problem calling the three-day feast of '21 Thanksgiving," said historian Melanie Kirkpatrick, who wrote Thanksgiving: The Holiday at the Heart of the American Experience. "But from the perspective of the Pilgrims, that was not a Thanksgiving. Because it was a feast, it wasn't a religious event. They would have had prayers giving thanks." The first Thanksgiving the Pilgrims likely would have recognized actually came in July 1623, summoned by Bradford as a day spent in worship and prayer to give thanks for rainfall that ended a drought.

Connecticut was the first state to call a Thanksgiving for general, everyday blessings, in 1639, according to Kirkpatrick. Other states followed suit. In 1789, George Washington issued the first presidential proclamation ever, and it was for a day of Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November to nationalize the tradition.

But Congress objected - imagine that - saying the president didn't have that authority over the states. As a compromise, Washington recommended a day of thanks and sent a copy to every governor requesting, not ordering, them to issue their own day of Thanksgiving.

Those days were finally consolidated when President Abraham Lincoln, in 1863, proclaimed a national day of Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November for "Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens.

In my humble opinion, we ought to start EVERY day giving thanks. That will lead to a better attitude, which could, ultimately, lead to a better world.

Try this. Keep a Thanksgiving journal. Every morning when you get up, write down what you are thankful for. Before you go to bed, record what you are thankful for. Do it for the rest of this month and maybe, just maybe, you'll want to do this for the rest of your life.

Legislative Update

Catching up after mid-terms

Now that the midterm elections are over, I am excited to welcome my new colleagues to the Nebraska Legislature. I want to send my congratulations to all those who won their races for the Legislature and for local races in Wayne, Thurston, and Dakota Counties. Initiative 427, Medicaid expansion, also passed on Tuesday. Governor Ricketts has promised not to raise taxes in order to implement Medicaid expansion so it will be up to the Legislature to make room in the tight budget to fund the expansion costs. While this was not the outcome I was hoping for, I look forward to ensuring that Medicaid expansion is implemented fairly and with all Nebraskans in mind.

This upcoming Legislative session will focus on property taxes, education, and Medicaid expansion, while also planning for a predicted $232 million budget shortfall through 2020. The 2019 session is quickly approaching and we are excited to be focusing all our energy on preparing legislation and passing a balanced budget. This year my priorities will continue to be reducing the property tax burden, ensuring good business and labor practices, K-12 education, and agriculture.

Legislative Update
By Joni Albrecht
State Senator, District 17

State College. The theme of the conference was "LEADERSHIP: SHARE THE VISION", we discussed important cooperative leadership skills and how to succeed as young leaders. While touring the Wayne State campus with college President Dr. Marysz Rames and VP of Administration and Finance Angela Fredrickson I enjoyed seeing the growth of the college and new buildings on campus like the Center for Applied Technology. As I spoke with students from Wayne State College, Peru State College, and Chadron State College, I was inspired by their personal stories and the initiative they have taken at their schools. So many engaged students and young leaders makes me very hopeful and excited about the direction of our state and community.

Nebraska Chamber of Commerce President Bryan Slone visited the new Pender Community Center and held a round-table discussion with members of the Pender Economic Development group on November 1. I am always so proud to show off the economic progress we are making in Northeast Nebraska.

I take into consideration every letter, email, and phone call my office receives when I consider legislation. I truly value your input and suggestions on the issues before the Legislature. It is of great importance that I hear from you in order to do my job.

On November 2, the Nebraska State College System invited me to be the keynote speaker at their Leadership Conference at Wayne

I encourage my constituents to reach out to me and look forward to hearing from you!

Developing the 3 R's at home

The first semester is coming to an end very soon. Children are busy learning the basic three R's in the classroom (Reading, Writing and Arithmetic). There is still time for parents to support their children with three R's at home. They are the following: Routines, Responsibility, and Respect.

Establish good ROUTINES
Children perform best in an organized and predictable environment. Two routines are critical to school success: the morning routine and the homework routine. Children should wake up the same time every day and have enough time to complete all their morning tasks.

Dakota County

Angela Abts

Extension Educator

UNL Extension

These tasks include showering or washing, getting dressed, eating breakfast, brushing teeth and making beds (or other simple chores). For best results, follow the same routine every morning.

To make the morning routine go more smoothly, help children prepare the night before by choosing clothes, packing school bags and making lunch. Set up a "launching pad" where children's school bags, coats, hats, shoes, etc., can be placed, ready to go the next morning.

Don't let children skip on or skip breakfast. Research has shown that children who eat a nutritious breakfast are more alert in school and have more energy for schoolwork.

Homework should be completed sometime after school, but before dinner. As the evening wears on, children become tired, inattentive and less efficient. Some children may want to play, relax or eat a snack after school, but should start their homework at least an hour before dinnertime.

Set up a space where children can work on school assignments without distractions and interruptions. Make sure they have all the resources they will need: paper, pencils, dictionary, calculator, etc.

Build RESPONSIBILITY
Homework is the child's responsibility. In fact, school is children's work, their job. They must do well to succeed in life. Make children responsible for their homework. Don't let them become dependent on you to get organized, interpret assignments or solve problems. And don't do their homework for them. Instead, teach them study and time management skills, and encourage them to make their own decisions.

Parents should check homework every night for neatness, completeness and accuracy. If homework doesn't meet your expectations, chances are it doesn't meet the teacher's expectations either.

Show RESPECT for education

Let your children hear you speak positively about education. Let them know you believe that education is important, especially after high school. Get to know your child's teacher and support him or her. If you have a concern, take it to the source rather than talking badly about the person.

Show interest in your child's school activities. Ask them about school every day and listen attentively when they want to talk about their experiences. Try to get involved in some way. Ask your child's teacher how you can help. If possible, serve as a volunteer in the classroom or other school activities.

Minerva Club met Nov. 12 and learn about state of Washington

Minerva Club members met at the Senior Center Nov. 12, hosted by Phyllis Rahn. Nine members shared information on veterans in their family for roll call.

President Phyllis Rahn continued to share some of Hallie Sherry's sunshine notes by reading Jay Leno's tribute to his parents. Also read was about how Jimmy Durante was inspired when taking part in a program for World War II Veterans - two of which were in the front row, one having lost his left arm and the other his right arm and together they were able to clap.

Historian Hollis Frese shared Wayne Herald newspapers from August 1927. Of note were Minerva Club minutes, history of the Monday club, events for the 1927 Wayne County Fair, and also mentioned was an early Wayne business, the Golden Rule store. On the comics page from Jan. 8, 1928 paper was Joe Palooka; June 17, 1928 was Jiggs; Sept. 14, 1930 -- some were Dinglewoofer and his dog Adolph and Bringing Up Father.

At the next meeting members will bring a food item which along with a monetary donation will be taken to the Wayne Food Pantry. Plans were finalized for the Christmas social.

Phyllis Rahn presented a program on the State of Washington which was explored by Lewis and Clark. As the northwestern part of the country began to grow, a group of citizens persuaded the government to split off the area north of the Columbia River, creating the Washington territory. Between 1880 and 1890 the state's population quadrupled. In 1889 eleven years after its constitution was submitted, Washington became the 42nd state.

From green hills lapped by the blue Pacific to golden brown interior plains, Washington is a state of contradictions. Rain Forest and sun baked outback. Big city and small town. Logger and environmentalist. Urban trendsetter and range riding cowboy. Blessed or cursed with a reputation as one of America's best places to live. Trees once covered more than half of the state. Large areas have been cut to create farmland or to harvest timber but enough of the state remains forested to earn it the nickname of the Evergreen State.

Some facts noted: because of high unemployment, Grand Coulee Dam was built and finished in 1928. The Space Needle was built for the World's Fair in 1962. In 1974 Spokane held the World's Fair, drawing attention to the state once again. In 1980 Mount Saint Helens erupts, killing 57 people and causing billions of dollars in damage. Washington's bustling ports, lined with a forest of cargo cranes, are a sign of economic health. Longtime residents and newcomers alike hope that they can keep their state Evergreen.

Joyce Mitchell will host the Monday, Nov. 26 meeting at the Senior Center.

Reflection on a national holiday

Have you ever tried to explain the U.S. national holiday of Thanksgiving to someone from another country? I have, and it was tricky to say the least.

By all appearances, the holiday seems to be a gluttonous feast over which families argue about religion and politics. Other modern trappings of the holiday involve the president sparing the life of a real turkey, nationally televised football games, and an early bedtime before the chaos of Black Friday shopping. That's what Thanksgiving seems to be based on its superficial trappings.

This long-celebrated holiday in our country has given rise to some strange modern customs, but I believe that the central meaning of this national holiday can best be found in President Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation of 1863. In it, Lincoln describes the great many benefits the country has enjoyed despite fighting yet another year of the Civil War. Crops were still harvested, the population had increased, and the U.S. had maintained peace with all foreign nations. Even while the country continued to suffer God's anger as a result of its sins (national division and slavery), God had shown the country mercy as well. Even in the midst of civil war, Lincoln still encouraged the country to be thankful for what they did have, and in that spirit, he declared Thanksgiving to be a national holiday.

As a pastor, Thanksgiving can be a difficult holiday for me to preach. It's a national holiday, not a Christian one and so I can struggle to find a unifying message to hold up for the entire community. But in remembering how this holiday became a national one, I see once again the reason this holiday is one that Americans continue to cling to every year, despite the family arguments, the commercialization, and the crowded travel conditions. This holiday is one in which the whole country is asked to meditate on what we have been given. Although Lincoln's perspective on the day was a religious one, I think Americans of all religions or no religion can take that Civil War Thanksgiving to heart and meditate on what it means to be thankful for what we have right now and not on what we don't have.

On a day in November in 1863, in the midst of a war that tore our country apart and battled for the liberation of a whole oppressed people, there was still a day of giving thanks for what the country had mercifully received; food, family, and peace beyond its borders. On Thanksgiving Day 2018, I want to encourage all of you to do the same, giving thanks for what we already have: the freedom of religious expression and the freedom of speech, crops harvested, college tests completed, family and friends gathered, and peace among our nation. And as the day of Thanksgiving closes, may we all consider how to extend what we have been given to all neighbors in need, most especially those in need of freedom, food, and peaceful community.

Happy Thanksgiving.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid comes together

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid met Nov. 14, with 12 members attending and Pastor Buchhorn. President Rhonda Sebade welcomed everyone. Pastor Buchhorn started the meeting with giving the Bible Study from our L.W.M.L. Quarterly, "His Blessings of Showers". God is always promising a blessing on a people who often forget about Him. The group studied Genesis 12:10 the famine and other Bible Passages.

L.W.M.L. Pledge was recited together. Ellen Heinemann gave the devotion "Now Thank we all our God". Thank the Lord; call upon His name- Sing praises to Him. (Psalm 105:1-2).

The secretary's report was given and approved. The treasurers' report was given and filed for financial review.

Correspondence: A thank you was received from Haven House for the two quilts and one baby quilt they received from the Sewing Group.

Mission Grant devotion was presented by Rhonda Sebade. Bethesda Lutheran Communities. Sharing Jesus with people with Intellectual Disabilities.

Ellen Heinemann and Rhonda Sebade visited at Careage the first Wednesday in November. They had adult coloring, book marks and other Christian cards to color with colored pencils. They all enjoy the visiting.

Mary Janke put the confirmands' pictures and that of Pastor Buchhorn in the glass case in the Fellowship Hall.

After Thanksgiving the Christmas tree will be up in the basement. It will be the "Giving Tree". You can purchase gifts such as mittens, gloves, socks, hats and other things that will be given to people in need. They will be given to Orphan Grain Train.

The group voted a purchase a Poinsettia for the Altar. Carried.

The group will continue having hostesses each month. A noon luncheon will be held Wednesday, Dec. 12 in the church basement. Members are encouraged to invite guests. The officers will be in the kitchen. The group voted to purchase the ham for the dinner. Members can bring a salad or dessert. Those who like to bake cookies for the shut in boxes should bring two dozen.

New officers will be: Rhonda Sebade another term of President. Mary Janke will be treasurer. Fauneil Bennett will be historian for 2019-2020.

Our special offering for Christmas will be given to the Orphan Grain Train. They have been at many of our country's disasters that have been happening this year. There will be a basket for cards for Pastor and Mrs. Buchhorn.

The Birthday Song was sung for Bonnadell Koch for her November birthday.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and Table Prayer. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 12 with a noon luncheon and program.

Ecumenical Thanksgiving Service held at St. Mary's

On Sunday, Nov. 18, the public was invited to the Ecumenical Thanksgiving Service, organized by Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACAM).

WACAM is an organization comprised of many of the churches in town who work on how they can help community members in need, according to chair and First Presbyterian Church pastor Teresa Bartlett.

"The primary role of WACAM is to work together to foster cooperation, to be informed about what's happening in the different churches and to partner where we can for different events," Bartlett said.

Along with events like the yearly ecumenical service, WACAM assists those in need by providing access to food, money for rent or gas or any number of things. Funding comes through the United Way, member churches and donations from individuals. From there, money is divvied out by treasurer George Burcham.

"The offering raised at the service goes to WACAM for support in the community, and that was over $700, which was more than last year," Bartlett said.

This year, around 100 people attended the service held at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Father Jeff Mollner delivered the message.

"Father Jeff's message was really nice on the difference between gratitude and thanks, kind of a deeper thinking," Bartlett said.

Guitar music was arranged by Amy Woerdermann and members of St. Mary's.

Bartlett said the service was relaxing and enjoyable for those in attendance.

"WACAM appreciates the financial support we receive from the community, not only from the churches, but the United Way and various individuals because it is important to have an avenue to try to help people," Bartlett said.

Those interested in donating to WACAM can do so through their church, contact Bartlett at (402) 375-2669 or send a donation to First Presbyterian Church, 216 West 3rd Street, Wayne, NE, 68787.

Grace Evening Circle holds quarterly meeting

The quarterly meeting of Grace Lutheran LWML Evening Circle was opened by President Grace Kanitz on Nov. 13.

After Darlene Lilienkamp gave the Opening Devotion: A prayer based on Psalm 65, the Lutheran Missionary Women's League pledge was recited by all present. Secretary minutes were read by Louise Green and accepted as read. The treasurer's report was given by Lee Larsen and it was filed for review. The books will be audited before the February meeting by the committee of Darlene Lilienkamp and Grace Kanitz.

Mrs. Lilienkamp gave an update on Alaska Mission for Christ - both about the summer volunteer groups they serve and the winter vacancy that she and Pastor Carl will be serving in Tanacross this January and February.

Letters were shared from Janet Borchard (Lutheran Bible Translators) in Papua New Guinea, Jana Inglehart in the Dominican Republic, and Orphan Grain Train. Requests for support were shared from Lamp Ministry and LCMS Joint Seminary Fund.

Committee Reports included the following:

Mission Service - Labels for education to Wayne schools;

Projects - Christmas cards will be put out in the very near future;

Hospitality and Social: Thanksgiving and Christmas cards will be sent.

Old business included a report on the October LWML Fall Rally hosted by Hope Lutheran, South Sioux City. Ingathering was for the mission trips to Poland led by Pastor Awe. Spring Workshop will be held in Martinsburg and the Fall Rally at Grace Lutheran in Wayne. New officers elected for the Wayne Zone were Rhonda Sebade, President and Joleen Kramer, Treasurer. The delegate to the National Convention in Alabama in June will be from Martinsburg. There also will be two Young Women Reps chosen. President Kanitz thanked all those who participated in the LWML Sunday services.

New Business: It was decided to give the shut-in gift this year to Bonnie Sandahl. Louise Green will buy and deliver the gift. Reminders that Ladies Aid will have the Giving Tree again this year and Food pantry ingathering is now going on in the sanctuary.

Pastor Buchhorn installed the officers for 2019: Darlene Lilienkamp, President; Louise Green, President Elect; Jan Casey, Secretary and Lee Larsen, Treasurer.

The meeting then adjourned with the Lord's Prayer. The next quarterly meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 12.

Bible Study was given by Pastor Buchhorn entitled "His blessing of showers". Attendees considered how our Lord God works through seasons of famine or drought. Then comes the blessing of rain and refreshment to the earth. Noah and his family were saved from the judgment of death brought by the great flood; God provided them a way to pass through the waters just

The Junior class hosted their first dodgeball tournament to raise funds for prom on Saturday, Nov. 17. Ten teams competed for the ultimate prize, a $100 gift certificate to Bob's Bar. "Gabby's Bittys," led by team captain Gabby Sullivan, came back from the loser's bracket to defeat "Ball of Duty" a team consisting of junior boys.

Although, Ball of Duty, led by team captain Jacob Anderson, was defeated in the final game, they were awarded the Best Team Uniform award. They received Allen Eagle basketballs donated by head boy's basketball coach Nick Curnyn and a coupon to receive a drink and candy bar from the concession stand.

The Junior class and sponsors would like to thank Bobbi Lamprecht at Bob's Bar for the $50 gift certificate donation. The class also sends special thanks to Lana Oswald for willingly accepting the head referee position for the day and to Evan Colfack, Chris Blohm, and Nick Curnyn for jumping in to referee as needed. They would also like to thank all of the teams for participating, without the teams, this fundraiser could not have happened. The Junior class looks forward to hosting another tournament next year.

Muzzleloader deer season opens Dec. 1

The seasons are changing and so are the deer hunting methods. Nebraska's muzzleloader deer season opens Dec. 1 and those shooting black-powder firearms are gearing up.

"Temperatures are dropping and the deer are going to be moving in search of high-energy foods," Nebraska Hunter Education Coordinator Jackson Ellis said. "This is a great chance to spend some time outside and take the opportunity to put some meat in the freezer."

Follow these tips for a safe muzzleloader season:

-- Muzzleloader hunters are required to visibly wear 400 square inches of blaze orange on their head, chest and back during the December season.

-- Always identify your target before pulling the trigger, and be sure you have a safe backstop for your projectile.

-- Always keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction, and keep your finger out of the trigger guard until you've decided to take a safe shot.

-- Be prepared for the elements by dressing in layers. A moisture-wicking base layer under an insulating mid-layer with a weather proof shell will keep you warm in the December weather.

-- When hunting from a tree stand, bring your muzzleloader into the stand using a haul line and be sure to not cap the gun until safety secured in your stand.

Muzzleloader permits are unlimited in quantity and valid statewide. The season runs through Dec. 31. To read muzzleloader permit rules, check out the 2018 Big Game Guide at OutdoorNebraska.gov/ guides. Permits may be purchased at OutdoorNebraska.gov.

Short story contest honors Aldrich and exceptional writing

To honor Nebraska author Bess Streeter Aldrich and recognize outstanding writing, the Bess Streeter Aldrich Foundation announces its 2019 Short Story Contest.

Authors are encouraged to generate a fictional short story that is written in the wholesome spirit displayed by Bess Streeter Aldrich in her works while incorporating a theme that focuses on Nebraska's economy, history, cultural diversity, and/or geography (past, present, and/or future). Story length should be 1,000-2,000 words (there is no minimum word requirement for the Intermediate category). A list of books by the author which entrants can read to become familiar with her work is available on the Foundation's website, www.bessstreeteraldrich.org. Exceptional examples include Mrs. Aldrich's book A Lantern in Her Hand (a Nebraska 150 Book) and Mother Mason, the Foundation's featured book for 2019. No essays, please.

Thankful for modern conveniences

Honestly, it really is not for everybody!! Where else would 80,000 crazy people sit in wind chills and snow and WILL their football team to a WIN?? My UCF friends in Orlando watched their game from a box!! the chickens!!

Mike and his game day friend had Val's pizza and a couple beers and rejoiced that they were here in our living room in a couple of easy chairs.. But my hat is off to the folks in the bleachers at Memorial Stadium! That was an amazing football game and our Black-shirts earned their stars today.

While chowing down on the pizza at half time, we reminisced about the ways our parents kept us in line in church. He comes from a family of six boys and two girls; often the parents and the girls were in one pew and the boys in the row behind them.. If the boys got restless, their Dad simply of the offender a pinch.

One Sunday morning, a couple came in and squeezed into the seat and the boys slid over. When it got a bit noisy back there, Dad, without looking, as usual, simply gave a knee a pinch! I'm still chuckling about that. Remember, this was in the 30s, and women still wore dresses then. I guess Dad did not say a word and headed straight out of the church after the service, looking straight ahead!

We continued to reminisce about those days without indoor plumbing or electricity. How did his poor mother do it? The first three boys arrived one every year; then, they skipped a year! Think about cloth diapers and hauling wood and cobs for the stove to heat up water that was also hauled; in this case, from a cistern near the house, thankfully.

They all grew up and lived successful lives, and the ones still living are still close.

Maybe because they all had to work and get along in order to accomplish things.

Kay is serving Thanksgiving dinner again, thankfully; I didn't even have to have my knee replaced to warrant the invitation. Her house has no steps to get inside, so it's an easy trip for the Big Farmer. I volunteered to bring two pies and I did not guarantee they would be home made. I still recall one time when we were invited to my Sis in Papillion and I was super busy, so brought pumpkin pies made by Mrs. Smith. I hid the boxes, and my dear mother never knew the difference!

Have a good one; remember to be thankful for things like indoor plumbing and electricity!

Use care when selecting a Christmas tree

I'm going to stray from my "normal" ag related subject matter into a more seasonal topic. Earlier this week I saw a news story on TV about how millennials were creating a greater demand for natural Christmas trees rather than artificial trees.

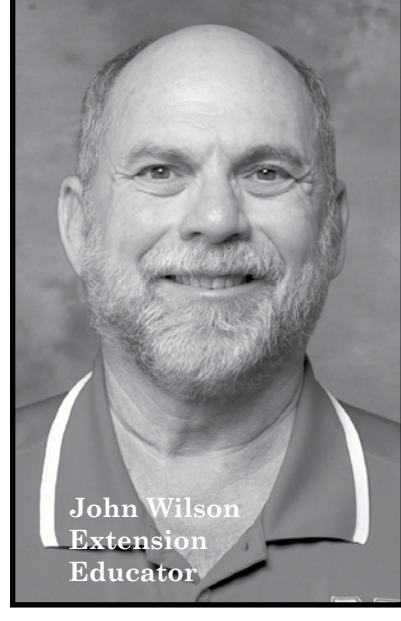

Now it doesn't seem like I should be writing about Christmas topics already. But I know some people put up their Christmas tree as the Thanksgiving leftovers are cooling. So I thought this would be a good time to talk about selecting a Christmas tree if you use a natural tree at your home.

It is important to select one that is fresh and to take steps to prevent it from drying out before the holiday season has passed. This reduces the potential for fires, aids in cleanup... and makes it more pleasant for whoever has to crawl under the tree to distribute the gifts found there. (OK, the last one is a family tradition and since I have the profile that most closely resembles Santa Claus... never mind!)

Follow these steps to assure the tree you are buying is fresh:

- Gently pull on the needles. They should be tightly attached to the twig.
- Shake the tree vigorously or bounce the butt end on the ground.

If green needles fall, look for a different tree. Dead, brown needles falling from inner parts of the tree may have been shed years ago and are not a problem.

John Wilson
Extension Educator

Once you have chosen a fresh Christmas tree, do your best to keep it fresh. A tree can stay fresh and healthy for several weeks if it is well cared for.

- When you get home, cut about an inch off of the butt end (preferably at a slight angle) to aid in water absorption.

Get the cut end in a container of plain water quickly.

- If the tree will not be put up right away, store it in a cool shady place outside with the butt submerged in water.
- Mist the needles daily until the tree is decorated.
- When the tree is brought in the house, saw another inch of trunk off the butt end again with a square cut. This will help the tree stand straight and will also aid in water absorption.
- Use a sturdy stand with a large water reservoir so it won't dry out. A fresh tree can use one quart of water or more a day, so water daily. A tree is beginning to dry out if its water use slows or stops.
- Keep the tree away from heat sources such as fireplaces, TVs, radiators, and air ducts. Never use lighted candles or have open flames near your Christmas tree.
- Adding things to the water, like commercial additives, aspirin, or sugar, will not help the tree stay fresh longer. Just make sure your tree has a constant source of fresh water.
- To make watering your tree easier, buy a funnel and a 3- to 4-foot piece of clear plastic tubing. Slip the tube over the funnel and extend the tubing down into the tree stand. You can water your tree without bending over or disturbing the tree skirt. Hide this system in an out-of-the-way part of your tree.

Following these guidelines on selecting and caring for your Christmas tree helps ensure a fresh, healthy tree. And after the holidays, your tree can still serve a useful purpose. Just remember that after the holidays doesn't have to be the end of the useful life of your natural tree. Before taking your Christmas tree to the recycling center or burn pile, consider using it to create a backyard habitat for birds.

Securing it outside by tying it to another tree or bracing the base of the trunk so it won't tip over. Place it in a location so you can easily observe it from a window to see the wildlife that comes to visit. Then decorate it with suet mixed with bird seed or suet cakes, strings of unsalted popcorn or cereal (Cheerios work well), pieces of fruit, cranberries, or peanut butter smeared in a pine cone. Different food items will attract different birds, so use your imagination.

For more information on selecting and care for your natural Christmas tree, or to use it to benefit our feathered friends, contact your local Nebraska Extension office.

Forgiving our Fall Sins - Compaction Remediation

The blessings and the curse of fall moisture. On one side, for those of us with Wheat, Alfalfa, or cover crops the moisture that we have received this fall sets us up for great overwintering conditions and good growth next spring. For the rest of us, it was but yet another hurdle to clear in the 2018 growing season. Most all of us, myself included, lost our patience during the end of September and early October with the wet conditions that wouldn't exit our area. And as soon as we could get back into the field, there we were, mud on the tires, loading trucks on the road, back at it again. We all know of the compaction and soil structure damage that was not only possible, but likely. Even with that information gnawing at the frontal lobe area of our brain, we all collectively made the decision to proceed.

For those of you that haven't scratched beneath the surface lately, our soil profile is still pretty full in most soils. It is full enough that fall tillage may not be the best idea in the world right now either. SO then why in the world would I start talking about ripping? (I'm sorry, but I am not going to use the term "compaction remediation" every time I could just say ripping instead.) Because there will come a point in time where it is appropriate to rip, it may or may not be this fall. It might not even be in the spring, but I know we will have a window to do it within sooner or later.

So I ask for your forgiveness in this, but I want to make sure you all understand the cycle of compaction. In a normal healthy cubic foot of the soil you stand on in the field, we should have about half of that cubic foot as soil, and the other half organic matter, air, and water. When we run heavy equipment across that soil, we compact that pore space; it just happens to be worse when it is wet. Once the soil reaches a level of 300 psi of force to go through the ground, roots can no longer punch through the soil. So to date, the only way that you can predictably and reliably shatter compaction that is greater than 300 psi is with cold hard steel. That is why we see tillage radishes pushing up out of the ground, they have hit a compaction layer they can't push through.

But here is my challenge to you. How many of you have ever grabbed a tile spade or shovel and dug behind your ripper? When I asked that questions to a hundred and some odd people at our Innovation event in Norfolk this summer, not a single hand went up. I know I never had before that day. When we removed the fractured and loose soil, there was quite a story to be told. We had replaced two points on a five shank ripper with 360 Bullet points. These points have a design that is supposed to fracture far more soil than traditional points. What we found was that they do exactly what they promise. On the right-hand side the area between the points was equal to the area the points fractured, so for every 15" of fracture, there was 15" left undisturbed. Our soil was 300 to 340 psi before we ripped. After the ripper we were still 300 psi between the ripper points.

On the left-hand side where the 360 Bullet had been used there was still a ridge of soil, about 8" wide in this case. However, that ridge fell apart when we hit it with the compaction tester, and we could not get a reading over 70 psi in that area.

So the take-home message today is, first, make sure you know when you need to put steel to soil, and second, know the quality of the job you're doing. Our ACS equipment team or your trusted advisor are always there to help, and digging behind your ripper is no exception. Ripping a field is not cheap, and it takes time. Why invest time and money in doing part of the job you are after. Yes, 360 Bullet does cost more than traditional points, they also do a lot more. So if "compaction remediation" is in your not so distant future, do your homework and evaluate your results before you go all in.

NDA extends quarantine to slow the spread of emerald ash borer

In an effort to slow the spread of the emerald ash borer (EAB), the Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA), is adding three more counties to an existing quarantine on ash tree products. Otoe, Lancaster and Saunders join the counties of Douglas, Sarpy, Cass, Washington and Dodge, for a total of eight Nebraska counties regulated under the Nebraska EAB Quarantine. The revisions to the quarantine went into effect early this month.

"While we can't completely eliminate EAB, quarantines can help slow the spread of this destructive insect into non-infested areas," said NDA Director Steve Wellman. "That gives homeowners and municipalities across the state additional time to consider their options and make decisions about the future of their ash trees."

The additional quarantines come after EAB was discovered in a tree in Lincoln and after a tree exhibiting signs and symptoms of EAB was discovered in Fremont in August. EAB is an invasive metallic-green beetle that attacks ash trees by disrupting the flow of water and nutrients causing the tree to die. The insect was first discovered in Nebraska in June, 2016.

The quarantine order prohibits distribution of ash nursery stock from within or out of the quarantine area, and regulates the movement of hardwood firewood and mulch, ash timber products and green waste material out of quarantined areas. NDA staff, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, work with the public and impacted industries to ensure compliance of the quarantines.

Each summer, NDA and USDA staff set and monitor EAB traps across the state to look for additional infestations. They also monitor and inspect trees, nursery stock and firewood checking for EAB.

The Nebraska EAB Working Group, which includes NDA, USDA, Nebraska Game and Parks, and the Nebraska Forest Service encourage the use of locally-sourced firewood. EAB can easily travel in firewood, so burning it in the same county where it is purchased or purchasing heat-treated firewood is recommended.

If you feel you have located an EAB infestation, please report it to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture at (402) 471-2351, the Nebraska Forest Service at (402) 472-2944, or your local USDA office at (402) 434-2345.

Additional information on EAB and the quarantine, can be found on NDA's website at: <http://www.nda.nebraska.gov/plant/entomology/eab/>. Additional information on EAB and Nebraska-specific recommendations for homeowners and municipalities can be found on the Nebraska Forest Services' website at www.eabne.info.
