Council selects new member, discusses electricity

By Clara Osten
clara@wayneherald.com

The Wayne City Council now has eight members, following the appointment of Dwaine Spieker to fill the remainder of the term of Cale Giese.

Spieker was sworn in during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council and will represent Ward 3 until 2020. Giese was recently sworn in as Mayor of Wayne, creating the vacancy. Newly elected Council member Chris Woehler, who was unable to be present at the last meeting, was sworn in prior to the start of the meeting.

In addition to the adding of the new members, Tuesday's agenda included a wide variety of topics ranging from the presentation of a state certification to the sale of electricity to the property and casualty insurance package for the city for the coming year.

Lyndsy Jenness with the State of Nebraska Department of Economic Development was at Tuesday's meeting to make a presentation.

Jenness commended the community for its economic development efforts and noted the city "supports large and small businesses." She said the city earned re-certification as a Certified Community, an accreditation the city has had for the last five years.

Following a public hearing, the council approved a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) loan in the amount of $250,000 to Talon Capital, LLC to be used toward the purchase of Frye-Tec, Inc., a manufacturing business located at 701 Centennial Road.

Jeff Christiansen with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development Office, explained to the council the details of the financing of the $5.6 million project. He said the CDBG loan would be a 20 year loan, at four percent interest. It would be combined with bank financing, Small Business Administration financing and owner equity. The plan calls for the current employees and staff at the business to retain their jobs in Wayne.

An electric rate increase was approved at Tuesday's meeting. This comes after a rate study indicated that there is a need for an average 4.3 percent increase to cover the current costs, including upgrades to the infrastructure.

The rate increase will also include a service charge increase and will result in a slight decrease in summer rates and a larger increase in winter rates. This will result in a more stable electric cost throughout the year.

The rate increase will take effect with the June 2019 billing (reflecting electric usage from April 15 - May 15).

Cap Peterson with Northeast Nebraska Insurance presented information to the council on the city's property and casualty insurance coverage.

Peterson explained the coverage in the package and how the city's Workers Compensation rates are determined.

The total cost for the city's coverage, which includes property, the Power Plant, autos, the umbrella package and Workers Compensation is $343,149. Council approval was given for the coverage, which covers goes into effect in January.

Several agenda items dealing with electricity also received approval during Tuesday's meeting.

These included a resolution to approve a capacity purchase agreement between the city of Wayne and Northeast Nebraska Public Power District (NNPPD) and Big Rivers Electric Corporation. The agreement will allow the city to sell excess capacity to NNPPD.

Also approved on first reading was an ordinance approving a negotiated agreement between Big Rivers Electric Corporation and the city of Wayne. The agreement is for eight years, with the City of Wayne selling power at one rate for the first four years and at a higher rate for the final four years.

Additional ordinances receiving first reading approval deal with amending the city code in regard to changing language from a "snow plow alert" to a "snow or winter weather emergency" and regulations dealing with keeping the streets clean of snow, mud and other debris.

Council members approved a payment in the amount of $20,600 to Milo Meyer Construction for the Ditch Grading Project south of Grainland Road and praised the work of Steve Meyer in getting the work completed and at considerably less cost than the original estimate.

Due to the New Year's holiday falling on a Tuesday, the Wayne City Council will next meet in regular session on Wednesday, Jan. 2 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

This is the third time the Wayne community has received accreditation.

Wayne Area Legacy Fund awards first project support

On Dec. 14 the Wayne Area Legacy Fund chairman Bill Dickey and members of the committee were present to distribute a check in the amount of $16,000 to the board of the Majestic Theatre.

The funds are an accumulation of donations through the Wayne Area Legacy Fund (WALF) specifically designated for the Majestic.

"We are thrilled to have this much support for the Legacy Fund in this area and the ability to partner with the team at the Majestic to continue to improve our community theatre," said Dickey at the presentation.

The funds provided will go toward the maintenance and upkeep of the building as well as key projects that continue to improve the experience for everyone who attends movies or special events at the theatre.

"One of the most exciting projects we've had are the addition of more children's booster seats and specific software and equipment so those who may be visually impaired can enjoy a movie just as much as the rest of us," explained Melanie Loggins, coordinator of the Majestic.

The Wayne Area Legacy Fund will continue to have the Majestic as a community project in 2019. Bill Dickey said that the WALF is hopeful to have the endowment fund to a point where the fund can match some of the designated gifts to the Majestic and other programs soon.

The Majestic has a goal of raising $20,000 in 2019. "This is an important goal and some donations through the Wayne Area Legacy have already started coming in," Loggins said.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Wes Blecke, City Administrator

Regular City Council meetings

Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets. A great New Year's resolution...attend more City Council meetings.

Mayor Giese appoints Dwaine Spieker to Council; two sworn in After gathering numerous names from Ward 3 and conducting a few interviews, Mayor Cale Giese has appointed Dwaine Spieker to the City Council. The City Council approved this appointment. Spieker is an English teacher at Wayne High School.

Spieker and recently elected Chris Woehler (Ward 1) were both sworn in at the most recent meeting. The Council is back to a full body with all eight seats filled.

Wayne is recertified as an Economic Development Certified Community

At the last City Council meeting the Nebraska Department of Economic Development announced that Wayne has been recertified as an Economic Development Certified Community (EDCC). This designation signifies that Wayne is poised for growth and prepared for economic development opportunities that the state works on during the year. This certification is good for five years at a time. There are currently 39 Nebraska communities that hold the EDCC designation.

Electric proceedings

There were a variety of electric proceedings at the last City Council meeting. Rates were increased on average by 4.3 percent. This won't be a straight line percentage increase. Customers will likely see a slightly larger increase during the winter months (Oct. - May) and a smaller increase during the summer months (June - Sept.). Customers will see this change starting with their June invoice (usage April 15 - May 15), the last winter month.

In other electric action, the City extended its capacity agreement with Big Rivers (longer term receiving a higher capacity payment), entered into an agreement with Northeast Power for excess capacity from the Cottonwood wind farm, and approved an integrated resource plan (IRP) required to continue to receive hydroelectric power from the Western Area Power Administration (WAPA). The Council also passed rules for interconnecting to the City's electric system should someone want to install a private generation unit (ie solar panels, wind turbine).

Celebrate an eco-friendly holiday

By Sandy Brown
Wayne Green Team

The Wayne Green Team encourages everyone to go green this holiday season with five easy tips to save money and reduce waste.

When replacing, consider LED lights. In a Consumer Reports study, LED lights used one to three kilowatt hours of energy, while incandescent lights used 12 to 105 kWh. LED lights outlasted incandescent lights as well, with all LED bulbs working after over 4,000 hours of work while incandescent lights tended to burn at least one bulb by hour 2,000. In the long run, LEDs last longer, use less energy, and save money.

Use the City's Brush Pile. Don't forget about the City's brush pile at 1810 Industrial Road for disposing of your Christmas tree (without any decorations or tinsel) and greenery at the end of the holiday season.

Planning an eco-friendly holiday doesn't have to mean extra work. Being mindful of reducing, reusing and recycling opportunities is a great gift for the planet and your family.

Bodenstedt awarded at Wayne State commencement

On Friday, Dec. 14, Wayne State College celebrated Winter Commencement. During the ceremony, Debra A. Bodenstedt was awarded the Alumni Achievement Award.

Kevin Armstrong, CEO of the Wayne State Foundation, presented the award to Bodenstedt, who was born and raised in Wayne County.

Bodenstedt graduated from Wayne High School and earned her bachelor of arts in education from Wayne State College in 1978. While at Wayne State College, she participated in varsity volleyball and softball, German Club, Panhellenic Council, Student Council, Chi Omega sorority and other activities and organizations.

She taught for a few years after graduation from Wayne State, before serving in the Navy. During her time in service, Bodenstedt earned her commission as an Ensign at Officer Candidate School in March 1983. Captain Bodenstedt retired from active duty in August 2010. She was a groundbreaker during her career, becoming the first woman to qualify as a Submarine Rescue Chamber operator while assigned temporarily onboard USS Kittiwake.

During the ceremony, Nebraska State College System trustee Carter 'Cap' Peterson gave the welcome address, while Melody Martin of Blair delivered the invocation and Lacy Chantel Brooks of Norfolk gave the undergrad commencement address. Megan Gebhardt, also of Norfolk, offered the graduate commencement address.

(1) Buy something that will last.

Consider durability before you buy. Often, a cheaper item will wear out long before its more durable equivalent, which can be passed down to others. You don't want holiday toys to end up in the trash before the start of the new year.

(2) Re-gift. Have something you no longer want, like a good book you've read, or a nice shirt you don't wear? Don't be shy about re-gifting. You'll extend the life of the item and pass it on to someone who will appreciate it.

(3) Make it from scratch. Think about making a card with a hand-written note, a list of 25 reasons your family member is special, or ornaments from recyclable materials, like toilet paper rolls and egg cartons. Sometimes the best gift is one you can't buy.

(4) Shop local. Our community has wonderful stores that offer creative gifts and services, along with opportunities at local craft and book fairs to buy something special. Shop in town before spending dollars outside of our community and on extra fuel to drive there and back, and save the gift of extra time for yourself.

(5) Wrap it with care. According to an article from National Public Radio, Americans spent nearly $3 billion on holiday gift wrap in 2017. Many of the decorations that make wrapping paper so festive also make it unable to be recycled. Generally, if the paper is metallic or shiny it's not recyclable. Often times glue on ribbons means when they've been used, they go to the landfill.

Save paper and money when wrapping presents by reusing gift bags and ribbon, wrapping with newspaper or paper grocery bags you can decorate. Try using cloth such as a scarf or dish towel to wrap a gift. Less waste will be generated and you'll save tons of paper.

Recycle Strings of Lights. Bring your old strings of holiday lights for recycling to the Wayne Transfer Station or City Hall and place in the bins marked for lights. These are recycled for the copper wire inside.

Wishing all of our
Wayne County neighbors
a happy and healthy holiday season.

Holiday Daughter dance boasts largest turnout ever

Wayne Elementary Boosters (WEB) hosted a "Tropical Night in the Rainforest" at the fifth annual Holiday Daughter Dance on Dec. 14 at Wayne Elementary School.

WEB had its highest turnout ever in five years with 325 dance tickets sold. The event raised $5,700 to support students and staff at school.

"That's very strong," WEB member Sandy Brown said. "It's our second highest amount raised in the last five years."

Over 90 businesses, parents, and teachers donated auction items, and over 40 parents (along with a few kids even) donated food or time to help. Brown said roughly $3,000 was generated by the auction, which is higher than usual.

PinMonkey Entertainment provided music, and during the event, there was a photo booth by Angie Rethwisch, candid photos by Shona Junck, and desserts including a chocolate fountain and "Jungle Juice" punch.

The dance had two special guests, high school freshmen, Tyler Reinhardt and Mason Frevert. The pair volunteered to escort two elementary students who otherwise would not have had a "date" for the evening.

Fourth grader Janelly Lucas was the lucky winner of the raffle for Husker football tickets against Northwestern next year.

Troopers kick-off holiday 'You Drink & Drive, You Lose' campaign

Troopers with the Nebraska State Patrol (NSP) will be looking to remove drunk drivers from the road during the final two weeks of 2018 as part of a nationwide "You Drink & Drive, You Lose" campaign.

"The holidays are a wonderful time to travel, be with family, and celebrate," said Colonel John Bolduc, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "The last thing we want is for this festive time to be marred by tragedy. That's why our troopers will be diligently watching for drunk drivers and taking them off the road."

The "You Drink & Drive, You Lose" enforcement runs from Friday, Dec. 14 through Tuesday, Jan. 1. Troopers across all regions of the state are participating, along with many other law enforcement agencies in Nebraska. NSP's portion of the enforcement effort is made possible thanks in part to a grant for $25,000 from the Nebraska Department of Transportation - Highway Safety Office.

"Drunk drivers present a danger to anyone on the road," said Bolduc. "Anyone who plans to drink should plan ahead and take advantage of many options available to get home safely without getting behind the wheel."

Motorists who see a reckless, impaired, or dangerous driver are encouraged to report it to the Nebraska State Patrol by calling *55 from any cell phone. During a similar enforcement in 2017, troopers arrested 67 impaired drivers and another 28 for reckless driving.

Jacoby Mann wrestled well and claimed top honors at 106 pounds to help Winside earn a runner-up finish at the Blue Machine Invitational at Wayne High School.

Winside slips past Wayne for runner-up honors

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

Wayne County was well represented on the medal stand at Saturday's Blue Machine Invitational, but it was Winside who took home a trophy.

As Schuyler dominated the 11-team tournament at Wayne High School, it came down to the two in-county teams to see who would snag the runner-up trophy, and Winside took home the trophy by the slimmest of margins, beating the host Blue Devils by one half of a point.

While the Wildcats were able to take the trophy home, Wayne made the most of their third-place finish by putting seven wrestlers in the finals and claiming three first-place finishes on the day.

"With the lineup we put out there, we had a lot of young guys who were on JV last year that were in the finals like Edwin, so to have our young guys step up and keep progressing was a good feeling," Wayne coach Dave Wragge said.

Wrestlers like Edwin Espino, who wrestled JV last year, and Dakota Spann, one of a handful of freshman wrestling at the varsity level, came through their brackets and earned runner-up finishes. Espino took Parker Harrahil of Elkhorn to the third period before losing on a pin at 152 pounds, while Spann fell in the second period at 182 pounds to William Marxsen of tournament champion Schuyler.

Those finishes came along with some of what has become regular results for the other five Wayne wrestlers who reached the finals Saturday. Cameron Muhs (132), Juan Vergara (138) and Mike Leatherdale (285) won their brackets, while Reece Jaqua (126) and Reid Korth (160) came away with runner-up finishes.

Wragge said he's come to count on the trio of Muhs, Vergara and Leatherdale this season.

"Those three are rock solid kids who we can count on every week," Wragge said. "Especially in tournaments, that suits their styles well and they scored over 20 points apiece, so when you get those three in a bracket we're going to come out on the good end."

All three won their finals matches by pins, with the most entertaining one coming in Vergara's final against Art Escalante of Winside. Escalante got a take-down against the Wayne senior, and that charged up Vergara to reverse course and eventually come up with a pin early in the second period.

"Juan is an intense competitor no matter what he's doing," Wragge said. "He had some goals set for himself Saturday and didn't want to get taken down, and he got taken down so he got fired up and it got intense. It wasn't any bad blood, but he just didn't want to get taken down. Sometimes you have to play the game within the game and just react to it."

Escalante was one of six finalists for the Wildcats, two of whom finished the day on top. Jacoby Mann earned a second-period pin at 106 pounds and Cayden Ellis followed with a major decision at 113 as Winside finished the day with nine medals and left coach Jesse Thies with a proud smile on his face as he carried the runner-up trophy to the bus.

"Half a point, by the skin of your teeth," Thies said. "I was pretty happy overall with our effort. It's been a while since we've had six in the finals and had nine medals overall, and Cayden and Jacoby both looked solid today, so I was pretty excited with our effort."

Koby Ellis dropped a close 1-0 decision at 120 pounds to lead Winside's runner-up efforts. Escalante, Alex Carlson (145) and Michael Jensen (195) also finished second. Gabe Escalante was third at 120 and fourth-place finishes went to Matthew Frederick at 126 and Dominic Reed at 152.

In dual action Thursday, Wayne dropped a 37-21 decision at Creighton. Vergara and Leatherdale both won matches on the mat while Jaqua and Muhs picked up wins by forfeit.

Wayne wrestled in a triangular at Boone Central/Newman Grove on Tuesday. They return to action after the holidays with the Bennington Duals on Saturday, Dec. 29.

Winside wrestles in the Archbishop Bergan Invitational on Friday in Fremont and will be back in action with the 50th annual Winside Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 5.

Wildcat baseball adds four to 2019-20 roster

Wayne State baseball coach Alex Koch announced that four high school standouts from Nebraska and Iowa have signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play baseball for the Wildcats in the 2019-20 academic year.

The list includes Hunter Babe of Omaha, Trenton Frerichs from Hinton, Iowa, Nicholas Oden of Wahoo and Brody Sintek of Fremont.

"We don't have a big signing class this year because we only have five seniors, but the four players we just signed we are very excited about," remarked Coach Koch.

Babe is a 5-foot-10, 190-pound catcher from Platteview High School. As a junior last spring, he posted a .400 batting average with 18 RBI while catching every inning, helping Platteview to a 16-5 record and a district runner-up finish. Babe was a first-team All-Nebraska Capital Conference selection and was Class B All-State Honorable Mention. In summer legion baseball, he played on the Class B state champion Seniors American Legion team and was on the Class B Juniors state runner-up team in 2017.

"Hunter will add depth to our catching position," Koch said. "We like the way Hunter swings the bat from the left side and how hard he works behind the plate. We got to see him play a lot last summer on his state championship legion team and we liked him more and more every time we watched him."

Frerichs is a 6-foot, 180-pound shortstop/right-handed pitcher from Sioux City North High School where he is a four-year starter in baseball and basketball. As a pitcher, Frerichs posted an 8-2 record in 12 games with a 1.07 ERA during the summer, striking out 57 batters in 59 innings work while allowing just nine earned runs. At the plate, he batted .374 with 40 hits, 32 runs scored and a perfect 16 for 16 on stolen bases. Frerichs was also the leading scorer in basketball at Sioux City North last season averaging 12.2 points and 4.3 rebounds per contest.

"Trenton will have the opportunity to play both ways for us as a freshman," said Koch. "He has great speed and a good arm that will translate onto the field defensively for us and on the mound he can be a difference maker."

Oden is a 6-foot-2, 190-pound right-handed pitcher from Wahoo

High School. In summer American Legion baseball, Oden had a 6-0 record in 59 innings pitched with 58 strikeouts and a 3.06 ERA while posting a .337 average at the plate. In spring high school baseball, he helped Wahoo to a district title and a No. 1 seed in the Class B State Baseball Tournament with a 17-6 record.

"Nick has a good frame and arm that works well," commented Koch. "He will come into our program and continue to get bigger and stronger and be able to help our team on the mound. We like how fundamentally sound he is on the mound and we are very excited to see what kinds of gains he can make in our program."

Sintek is a 6-foot, 165-pound right-handed pitcher from Fremont High School where he is a three-year starter in baseball. Last spring, he earned Class A All-State honorable mention honors from the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star and is an Academic All-State selection. Sintek has led his summer legion team in pitching wins the last two seasons and ranked in the top 15 in strikeouts in high school baseball last season.

"Brody has a quick and loose arm," remarked Koch. "He will be able to put on some good weight for us and be a top arm down the road. Brody has a lot of potential and we look for him to contribute right away."

Baseball camps, hitting league coming to WSC

The Wayne State College baseball program will be conducting two baseball camps and a hitting league in the month of January.

A Total Skills Camp will be held on Sunday, Jan. 20, followed by a Hitting/Pitching Intensity Camp on Sunday, Jan. 27 in the WSC Recreation Center with an indoor HitTrax hitting league scheduled for three Sundays in January (Jan. 13, 20, 27) at the WSC Indoor Hitting Facility.

Both camps are open to baseball players ages 8-18 and players will be grouped according to their age. The average group size will be four players to ensure quality fundamentals and instruction. Each camp will be held in the WSC Recreation Center from 9 a.m.-12 p.m., with registration starting at 8:30 a.m. for each camp.

The Total Skills Camp will emphasize all parts of the game - fielding, pitching, catching, hitting and base running while the Hitting/Pitching Intensity Camp is designed to give each camper with a specific skill set, either pitching or hitting, advanced instruction in each area.

The Wayne State coaching staff and Wildcat baseball team will instruct the camps. The WSC baseball camps have been well attended in the past due in part to the 1-on-1 training and the competent instruction given by the Wildcat players and coaching staff.

Players are asked to bring their glove, bat and gym shoes. The fee for one camp is $50 or $90 for both and includes a camp t-shirt.

The HitTrax Hitting League is new this year, offering area baseball players some of the best hitting technology that includes hitting in your favorite major league stadium with stats and more fun.

The hitting league will be paired up in age groups (10U, 14U, 18U) with a minimum of four players per team.

Cost for the hitting league is $60 per player for three weeks with another $20 for a video and coach analysis of the player's swing and will be held on Sunday afternoons.

For more information on the camps or for registration information, contact coach Alex Koch at (402) 375-7012 or e-mail alkoch1@wsc.edu or assistant coach Kody Larson for the hitting league by calling (402) 375-7499 or e-mailing kolars01@wsc.edu.

Players can also register online by logging onto www.wscbaseball-camps.com or mailing their registration form and payment to: WSC Baseball Camps, Athletic Business Manager, 1111 Main Street, Wayne, Neb., 68787.

Wildcat softball signs five recruits for 2019-20

Wayne State softball coach Shelli Manson has announced the addition of five players for the 2019-20 season, recently signing national letters of intent during the fall NCAA signing period.

The list includes Natalie Arbizu of Gilbert, Ariz., Madison Gomez from Glendale, Ariz., Riley Holmberg of Surprise, Ariz., Clare Reinhart from Omaha and Paiton Tornberg of Surprise, Ariz.

"With the seniors we have graduating this year, we have a lot of big shoes to fill," Manson said. "This group has the potential to fill those needs and has a great balance of speed, power and defense. They all have great playing experience on the travel ball circuit and have played against some of the best competition year-round. Their tools and athleticism will push the returners and make for an exciting 2020 season."

Arbizu is a 5-foot-6 outfielder from Perry High School in Gilbert, Ariz. She is a three-year letterwinner and helped her team reach the Arizona Class 6A State Playoffs the last two seasons. Arbizu had a .313 average with 21 hits in 2018 and batted .320 during the 2017 season.

"Natalie has the ability to drive the ball with power or read the defense and play small ball," stated Manson. "She displays great range and her arm strength will make an immediate impact in our program. We are excited for Natalie to play at our level and we are expecting great things from her."

Gomez is a 5-foot-4 shortstop/utility player from Ironwood High School in Glendale, Ariz., where she is a three-year starter. As a junior (2018) she hit .494 with two homers and 34 RBI, earning All-District and All-Region honors. Gomez produced a .457 average during her sophomore season (2017) with seven homers and 33 RBI and received All-District and All-Region honors.

"Madison is a versatile player who is just beginning to tap into her potential," said Manson. "She is developing into a five-tool player who will be able to play multiple positions. Madison plays a very high level of club ball and should be able to compete at the Division II level immediately."

Holmberg is a 5-foot-10 outfielder from Shadow Ridge High School in Surprise, Ariz. As a junior, Holmberg hit .339 preceded by a .317 average as a sophomore and .333 during freshman season. Holmberg received SA Northwest All-Region Second Team honors as a freshman and sophomore.

"Riley brings experience and depth to our outfield," commented Manson. "Defensively she has a good arm and has a great read on the ball. She is a threat at the plate with her ability to bunt for a base hit or slap with power. Riley is a great competitor and has a lot of potential to earn a starting position right away."

Reinhart is a 5-foot-9 catcher from Omaha Duchesne High School where she was a four-year starter and letterwinner. She served as a team captain for the last two years and hit .500 as a junior with 38 hits and 23 RBI and had just three passed balls in 137 innings behind the plate. Reinhart is a two-time All-River Cities Conference and Class B All-State honorable mention selection.

"Clare brings a strong arm and solid defensive presence behind the plate," stated Manson. "She has the potential to hit for power and will add depth to our catching and first base needs. Clare has a lot of experience throughout her high school and travel ball careers and we are very excited to have her on the field."

Tornberg is a 5-foot-6 third baseman/utility player from Shadow Ridge High School in Surprise, Ariz., where she is a four-year letterwinner. As a junior, she posted a .333 average with a 1.000 fielding percentage. Playing for Willow Canyon HS as a sophomore, Tornberg was second-team All-Region after recording five doubles, 17 hits, 13 RBI and 15 runs scored.

"Paiton brings depth to our infield," commented Manson. "She will be able to play the corners and catch and has a strong arm, good hands and can hit for power. Paiton is an athletic infielder who is willing to leave it all on the field. She will be able to compete for a starting position right away if she continues to work hard."

Wildcat men keep rolling, lead NSIC at 5-0

The Wayne State men's basketball team are a perfect 5-0 and sitting atop the Northern Sun Conference standings after wins in their home conference debuts over the weekend, beating Bemidji State (75-59) and Minnesota Crookston (72-52).

On Saturday, Wayne State posted just its third win in the last 12 meetings against Bemidji State, notching a 75-59 win.

The first half was tightly contested with six ties and 12 lead changes. Neither team led by more than three points until WSC put together a scoring run in the final three minutes of the first half.

Bemidji State's final lead came at 25-24 at the 4:33 mark. Wayne State then scored the next seven points to take the lead for good. A Kendall Jacks jumper, two free throws from Trevin Joseph and a Joseph 3-pointer put the Wildcats in front 31-25, and they maintained that advantage by intermission, leading 34-28.

With Wayne State leading 41-36 at the 16:38 mark, the Wildcats scored the next six points to take their first double-digit lead on a jumper from Jacks. Bemidji State got as close as eight with 8:30 to go, but an 11-2 run by the Wildcats put the game out of reach.

late in a Sunday afternoon triumph over Minnesota Crookston.

Besides holding Minnesota Crookston to just 35.6 percent shooting (21-59), the Wildcats also shut down the second-leading scorer in the NSIC as Golden Eagle guard Harrison Cleary, entering the game as 22 points a contest, was held to just nine points on 4-of-15 shooting from the field.

Both teams started slow, as the score at the first media timeout was 2-2 with Wayne State having seven turnovers in the first six minutes of the game, matching their complete game total the night before.

Trailing 6-2, Wayne State scored eight straight points and led 10-6 following a three-point play by Al'Tavious Jackson with 12:00 to play first half. The game's fourth and final tie was at 15-15 at the 8:14 mark following a layup from Crookston's Harrison Cleary. Wayne State countered with a 7-2 run following a Luke TerHark 3-pointer with 5:28 to go in the half and finished the half with a 10-2 run to take a 34-27 halftime advantage.

The Wildcats never allowed a Minnesota Crookston comeback in the second half, thanks to 51.7 percent (15-29) shooting. After Wayne State pushed the lead to 12 at 44-32, Crookston got as close as eight at 44-36. The Wildcats then scored the next seven points for a 51-36 lead and pushed the lead to as high as 21 points before finishing with their ninth consecutive victory to improve to 10-1 overall and a league-best 5-0 in NSIC play.

Joseph led WSC in scoring with 18 points on 9-of-17 shooting. Jacks added 15 points with Vance Janssen (14) and Jordan Janssen (11) also hitting double figures for the Wildcats. Minnesota Crookston's lone double digit scorer was Ben Juhl with 12 points.

Lady Bears go 1-1 in conference road tests

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge girls basketball team bounced back from a road loss to pick up a win on the road in Lewis & Clark Conference action last week.

On Tuesday, the Lady Bears went to Ponca and came up on the short end of a 53-40 loss to the Lady Indians.

Ponca controlled the game through the first three quarters with a pesky full-court defense that didn't let LCC get into any kind of rhythm offensively. The Lady Bears were finally able to get things going in the fourth quarter, but their comeback bid came up short. Makayla Forsberg scored 13 points and Kinsey Hall and Madisyn Hall each had seven points to lead the Lady Bears. Katelyn Steffen added four, Bethany Karell had three and Makayla Forsberg, Lorna Maxon and Delaney Ehlers each had two.

Defensively, Maxon and Ehlers both had six rebounds, Forsberg and Madisyn Hall each had five and Wolfgram and Kinsey Hall had four apiece. Maxon and Kinsey Hall each had three steals.

On Friday, the Lady Bears got back on the winning track and posted a 49-20 win at Plainview.

The Lady Bears' defense was solid in the first half, limiting Plainview to just six points to build a 23-6 half-time advantage on their way to the 29-point triumph.

Maxon had a game-high 16 points and added team bests in assists (3) and steals (6) for the LCC girls. Madisyn Hall and Forsberg both had six points, Ehlers and Kinsey Hall each had four, Kardell had two and Jersen Jansen had a free throw.

Steffen and Kinsey Hall led the rebounding effort with six apiece, Forsberg had five and Maxon and Ehlers each had four. Kinsey Hall also had four thefts.

The Lady Bears were at Bloomfield on Tuesday. They return to the floor for the Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout at Wayne State College, Dec. 27-29.

The Wayne State women came up big in the fourth quarter in both NSIC home games over the week-end, beating Bemidji State (85-71) and Minnesota Crookston (88-83).

On Saturday, Wayne State outscored Bemidji State 26-11 in the fourth quarter to break away from a tightly contested game to claim the win over the Beavers.

Bemidji State built a 16-8 lead at the 2:02 mark of the first quarter, but Wayne State closed the quarter by scoring nine of the final 11 points to cut the Beaver lead to 18-17 after one quarter.

The Beavers pushed the lead back to five at 25-20 at the 6:53 mark of the second quarter, but the Wildcats went on an 11-0 run over the next 4:30 to take a 31-25 advantage, building the lead to as many as seven on an Andrea Larson 3-point play before finishing the half with a 37-32 lead at intermission.

Wayne State held the lead for the first part of the third quarter, only to find the visiting Beavers come back late to take a 60-59 lead heading into the fourth quarter. Wayne State led 46-41 with 6:18 to play third quarter following a Bongartz three-point play, but Bemidji State regained the lead at 50-48 on a Sydney Zerr 3-pointer and pushed the lead to as many as five at 56-51 before ending the quarter with a 60-59 advantage.

Wayne State took control of the game in the fourth, scoring the first 12 points of the period to build a 71-60 lead, then sealed the win by 13-of-19 free throws in the fourth quarter to come away with the 14-point win.

Halley Busse scored a season-high 19 points to lead four Wildcat double-digit scorers for Wayne State. She also handed out a game-high seven assists. Erin Norling followed with 18 points with Andrea Larson (15) and Brittany Bongartz (13) also reaching double figures.

Wayne State's top rebounder was Larson with nine followed by Bongartz with seven. Busse had seven of Wayne State's 17 assists while Busse, Larson and Haley Vesey each were credited with three steals.

On Sunday afternoon, Wayne

State trailed for nearly the entire game, but used a season-high 29-point fourth quarter to rally for the win over the Golden Eagles.

The Wildcats trailed 14-4 less than four minutes into the game and trailed the entire contest until taking their first lead with 7:34 remaining in the game.

Despite trailing 14-4 and 21-11 in the first quarter, the Wildcats closed the quarter strong and got within four at 24-20 following quarter-ending 3-pointers by Larson and Kylie Hammer.

Crookston pushed the lead back to 10 several times in the second quarter, with the Wildcats again closing the quarter strong to cut into the deficit. The Golden Eagles led 34-24 at the 3:43 mark of the second quarter before Wayne State used back-to-back treys from Maggie Lowe and a layup from Amelia Ivester to trim the deficit to make it 39-35 at the half.

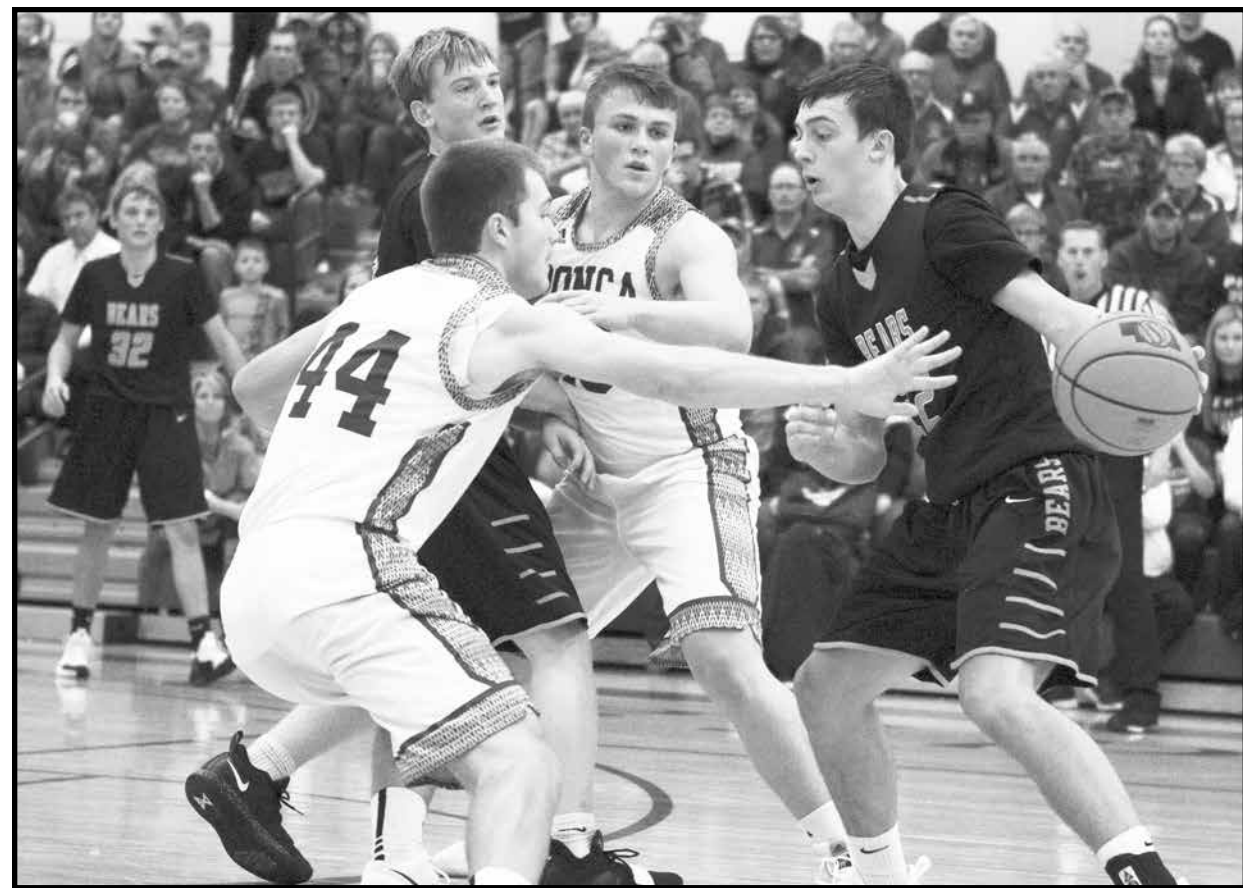

In the third quarter, Minnesota Crookston maintained the lead and was in front by seven going to the final period, but the Wildcats started the fourth quarter with a 11-2 run and took their first lead of the game at 70-68 on a 3-pointer from Hammer with 7:34 to play.

The two teams traded six ties and three lead changes down the stretch until Wayne State scored the final six points of the game for the victory. The Wildcats took an 82-78 lead on a Lowe 3-pointer with 3:44 remaining, but the Golden Eagles used a 3-pointer by Caitlin Michaelis and a layup from Isieoma Odor to take their final lead at 83-82 with 1:57 to play. Larson and Hammer made a pair of free throws each to put Wayne State in front 86-83, then Hammer sealed the win with two more free throws with three seconds to play for the five-point win.

Hammer led five double digit scorers for Wayne State with a career and season-high 19 points, going 5-of-10 from the field and 6-for-7 at the free throw stripe. Erin Norling added 18 points followed by Larson with 12 points and 13 rebounds for her first double-double of the season. Halley Busse and Brittany Bongartz each contributed 12 points. Bears suffer first loss before road win

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge boys basketball team dropped their first game of the season last week, but came back to get back on the winning track a few days later.

It was a battle of top 10 teams on Tuesday in Ponca, where the host Indians were able to use a third-quarter surge to hand LCC its first loss in a 70-56 outcome.

The Bears came back late in the half to take a 26-25 advantage into the locker room. Ty Erwin had back-to-back assists on a basket by Cael Hartung and a 3-pointer by Izac Eifenrath, then drilled a trey of his own in the closing seconds to send the Bears to the locker room with the lead.

Ponca responded quickly to open the second half, using a 26-16 third-quarter run that was capped by a 40-foot buzzer-beater to give Ponca a nine-point lead that they would not relinquish down the stretch.

Noah Schutte had a double-double with a game-high 30 points and 13 rebounds to lead the Bears. Erwin added 10 points, Reifenrath and Evan Haisch both had five, Cael Hartung had four and Deagan Puppe put in two.

Winside girls, St. Ed boys get wins

The Winside girls basketball team picked up their first win of the season while the boys came up short as the two teams hosted St. Edward in action last week.

The Lady Wildcats came away with a 34-31 win over the Beavers in a game that saw the visitors nearly come back from a 15-point halftime deficit before the Winside girls held on for the win.

Winside led 21-6 at the half, but St. Edward went on a 16-2 run in the third quarter to get within a point. Winside outscored the visitors by two to hang on for the win. Andi Bargstadt and Jackie Escalante each had 12 points in the win, while McKenna Russell added six and Kati Topp had four. Escalante had a double-double with 14 rebounds while Topp grabbed 10 boards. Ashely Abler had seven rebounds, Russell and Brooklyn Behmer both had six and Bargstadt had four.

In boys action, the Wildcats couldn't overcome a slow start in the first half as St. Edward came away with a 49-34 win.

The Beavers built a 22-9 lead at the half and were able to hold off the Wildcats in the fourth quarter to come away with the victory.

Layton Petersen and Brody Meis each scored 13 points for the Wildcats, while Hunter VanHouten put in six and Ed Olander scored two.

Winside closes the pre-holiday schedule with Thursday's home matchup against Emerson-Hubbard. They will play in the Randolph Holiday Tournament on Dec. 28-29.

Former Laurel grad receives doctorate

At graduation ceremonies on December 14, Betsy (Adkins) Becker received a Ph.D in Preventative and Societal Medicine from the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC).

Becker has been selected as the new director of the division of Physical Therapy Education in the College of Allied Health Professions at UNMC where she has served as a faculty member since 2013.

Becker received her Master of Physical Therapy from UNMC and a doctorate in Physical Therapy from the University of South Dakota. She also holds a Medical Education Research Certificate from the American Academy of Medical Colleges and is a certified lymphedema therapist through the Lymphology Association of North America.

Prior to joining UNMC she was the founding director of the Southeast Community College physical therapist assistant program. Becker has practiced physical therapy in a variety of practice settings in Nebraska and Arizona. At UNMC she has primary teaching responsibilities in the areas of foundational PT skills and management of chronic health conditions with a special interest in oncology and lymphedema.

Currently Becker is the vice chair of the Nebraska State Board of Physical Therapy and serves on the board of directors for the Foreign Credentialing Committee of Physical Therapists. She is the past national chair of the PT Assistant exam committee in the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapists.

Becker has presented nationally and internationally and published peer-reviewed articles. Representing UNMC and Physical Therapy, she has traveled to China several times to review and teach PT practices abroad. She is the co-editor and author of four chapters in the book, Integrating Physical Activity into Cancer Care:

An Evidenced-based Approach. Becker was the 2015 recipient of the UNMC College of Allied Health Innovative Scholar Award.

Becker and her husband, Dr. Mark Becker, reside in Omaha. She is a graduate of Laurel-Concord High School and the daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel.

Northeast in South Sioux City helps those in need

Faculty and staff at the Northeast Community College extended campus in South Sioux City have celebrated the holiday season by helping those in need.

Recently, they presented a check of $400 towards the South Sioux City Community Fund's Cardinal Christmas Baskets Project.

Dr. Cyndi Hanson, executive director of Northeast in South Sioux City, said faculty and staff each contributed $1 to wear jeans on designated Friday throughout the year in order to assist the project.

"We have many students who are working a couple part-time jobs to help support their families while they attend college. We know the gift of food from Cardinal Christmas Baskets makes an impact on their ability to balance all the demands of life," Hanson said.

Every donation makes a difference for those who benefit.

"People often wonder how much difference a donation makes. In general, every $75 donated makes it possible to deliver to one family - the value of the goods is greater due to some in-kind donations, but cash of $75 feeds a family at Christmas. We are so pleased to have the regular support of Northeast Community College employees with a cash donation and the support of students who ring bells for donations too, Bill Garvey, coordinator of Cardinal Christmas Baskets, said.

The Cardinal Christmas Baskets program is a Dakota County tradition that dates back to 2008.

This year, volunteers delivered approximately 365 of the baskets to families in need.

Tips for a safe, healthy holiday

The holiday season is a time for celebration and joy with friends and families. Research shows that the number of poisoning incidents involving children rises during the holiday season. During the hustle and bustle of the holidays it is easy to overlook items in the home that could cause a poisoning. The Nebraska Regional Poison Center offers a few tips on how to make this "the most wonderful time of the year."

•Visiting relatives may bring their medications. 59,000 children go to Emergency Departments every year for a poisoning and 48 percent of these cases involve children accessing grandparent's medications. When visitors arrive for the holidays make sure to store their medications up and out of reach. Store meds in a locked box.

•Disc batteries may be found in toys, games, watches, remotes and musical greeting cards. If swallowed, they can become lodged in the throat and cause serious injury or death if not removed. Also avoid toys that contain magnets since they may be harmful if swallowed.

•Alcohol is found in holiday drinks and in gifts such as perfume and cologne. It is important to clean up immediately following all holiday parties. Remove all items that may contain alcohol and keep out of reach of small children. Remember to empty all ashtrays - only a few cigarette butts swallowed is enough to harm a child.

•Lamp oil in candle lamps is frequently used this time of year. These fuels may be colored and look like pretty beverages to small children. It only takes a small amount to cause choking and a chemical pneumonia if it goes into the lung. Aroma and fragrance oils smell good and attract small children, but can also be a choking hazard and cause vomiting.

•Keep small children and animals away from seasonal plants such as mistletoe, holly berries, yew plants and poinsettias. Poinsettias are not the fatal poison that they were once believed to be, but in large amounts can cause upset stomach.

•Be mindful of Christmas tree icicles, tinsel and garland as these can be a choking hazard if swallowed. Snow sprays help with holiday décor, but the pressurized container may cause eye damage if sprayed directly in the eye. Glitter can be irritating to the eyes and lungs. Snow globes often have glitter, water and may contain glycols, but usually in low concentrations.

•Remember your pets this holiday season. Chocolate, raisins, grapes and some nuts can be very toxic to animals.

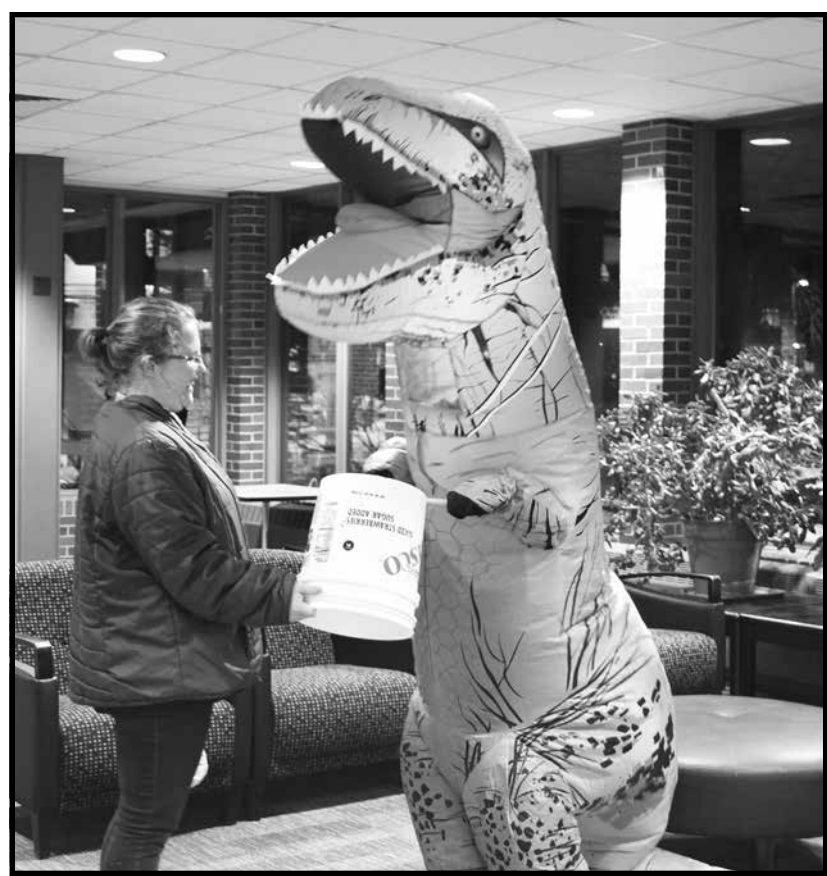

The Nebraska Regional Poison Center offers tips on holiday safety and poison prevention. Call 1-800-222-1222, to speak to a registered nurse or pharmacist at any time.

A gift idea for the child with everything

'Tis the season for gift giving, but what do you give the child that already has plenty of toys, video games, clothes, etc? This is a challenge that many people face. So, why not consider giving a child a gift certificate to a 4-H camp.

Whether your child's interest is in tubing down the Niobrara, learning a few "bytes" about robots, or zipping down a zip line on the T.R.U.S.T. Course, Nebraska 4-H Camps provide opportunities for all! With a variety of camp lengths, best as the 4-H Youth Development program brings the cutting-edge expertise of the University to them. Be it a five-day road trip for teens across Nebraska or a one-day event for kids ages 5-7 close to home, 4-H has an experience for any interest. A camp experience is one of the very best investments you can make for your child!

More information on statewide camps can be found at <http://4h.unl.edu/camp>. Information about local camps/workshops can be obtained contacting your local UNL Extension Office.

Successful blood drive conducted in Wayne

Grace Lutheran church in Wayne has had a long standing tradition of saving local lives through their bi-monthly blood drives.

With the help of volunteer Kathy Wiser, LifeServe Blood Center was able to collect 31 units of blood to help save or sustain up to 93 local lives on Dec. 11.

Donor numbers tend to go down during the months of December and January due to the holidays and weather, so donations in these months become ever more important.

The blood bank also celebrated several milestones in blood donation at Tuesday's drive:

Kristine Niemann - three gallons; Nathan Pospisil - five gallons; Robert Ensz - 15 gallons, and Brooks Widner - 23 gallons.

Upcoming drives in the community are:

Wayne Blood Drive on Thursday, Dec. 27 from 8 am - 1:30 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall.

Providence Medical on Wednesday, Jan. 16 from 11:30 - 3 p.m. in the Auditorium at the hospital.

Beginning in 2019, LifeServe blood donors will have the option to fill out the pre-donation health questionnaire at home, work, on their phone, or wherever 24 hours ahead of their blood donation.

LifeServe Blood Center is also offering a $500 scholarship opportunity to any student in Wayne or surrounding area to host their own blood drive between Memorial Day and Labor Day weekend this summer.

Students will be asked to coordinate and recruit donors to their blood drive with help from the local Territory Representative Ashtin Hazel. Anyone who is interested is asked to contact her at (712) 635-4688 for more details.

Same Day Service ~ New Patients Welcome

My one year anniversary of my best Christmas ever. I do not know the exact date, but I want to thank everyone who attended my special Christmas party at Providence Medical Center. Yes, one year ago I received my strangest gift. I received a stroke for Christmas. In mid-December kind faces carried me from my house to the emergency room, which was filled with more smiling faces and loving care. My wonderful pastor, Troy, was there, immediately talking to me, touching my hand and praying for me. It was such an awesome way to begin my Christmas party. So many loving nurses helped me get comfortable in my toasty, warm room. Many great guests arrived — My dearest Dr. Dobbins and other nurses and nurses aids, sharing their loving thoughts and concerns with me. Eventually there were many therapists, nutritionalists, more nurses, nurses aids, PMC administrative staff, the kind lady who shared stories about her son's love of cooking while keeping my room so immaculate, family and friends coming to share in the excitement and I could finally chat with each of them. With each passing day, I knew that our heavenly Father had sent me his loving angels, each one of them giving me their own special gifts like the Wisemen gave gifts to Mary and Joseph for the newborn King. It has taken me a full year to fully understand everything that happened, but now is the time to say thank you! Thank you for every prayer that was prayed, but most of all, thank you Jesus for inviting me to the best Christmas party ever and for surrounding me with your loving angels. Thank you friends, family, the entire Journey Christian Church family and Providence Medical Center. Each of you are a part of God's many blessings in my life and may we all enjoy the gift of Jesus.

Malachi 3:10 "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and try Me now in this," says the Lord of hosts, "If I will not open for you the windows of heaven And pour out for you such blessing That there will not be room enough to receive it."

Christmas time — celebrating the complete story

Christmas is one of my favorite times of the year. I love the songs and music of the season. There is generally a positive outlook on life

Altona women hold Christmas gathering

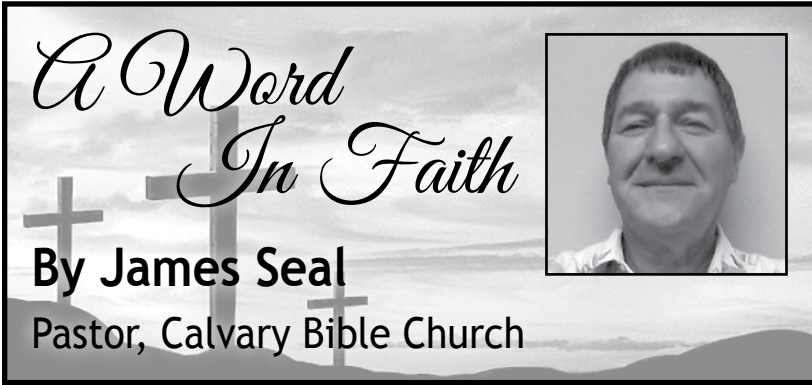

First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Altona met at the home of Darlene Bowers for the annual Christmas celebration.

Four guests were present. The Rev. Timothy Booth led the Table Prayer. Following the meal, Rev. Booth read the Christmas gospel from Luke 2 and gave a short devotion based on the reading. The group then sang a number of Christmas carols.

A short business meeting followed. Minutes from the previous meeting and the treasurer's report were given. Monetary donations will be sent to Jesus, Our Savior Church in Winnebago and Orphan Grain Train in Norfolk. Items will again be purchased for Cup of Grace Campus Ministry in Wayne.

A gift exchange concluded the meeting.

The January meeting is planned at the Wisner Care Center with a date to be announced.

even from the secular songs. Our Christmas carols and Christian songs remind us of what Christmas is really all about, the birth of Jesus Christ. For me it truly is a time to proclaim Joy to the World.

Then there are our family gatherings. Christmas is often a time for families to come together for meals, gift exchanges, and strengthening of relationships. For many people, these joys of the season outweigh the frustrations. In our family, we always tried to make Christmas a special time of year. My wife established some wonderful traditions with our children throughout the years.

This is the season for giving. Some actually enjoy shopping and buying gifts for others. Some people enjoy helping out others who are in need and trying to bring some happiness and joy to those who are less fortunate.

Christmas can be a wonderful time of year.

On the other hand, Christmas is not so happy for some people. It can be a sad time of year for those who have lost loved ones. Family celebrations often have an empty feeling when a loved member of the family is no longer there. This sadness and emptiness can go on for years.

Then there are those who dislike the season because of the busyness and pressure it brings. Shopping is a great burden for some people. There is the pressure to find a gift that someone will actually like along with those gifts you feel obligated to purchase but would really rather not. (Yes, we probably all have some of those.) Fighting the crowds in the stores and malls tends to dampen our spirits even for the most positive minded.

Balance to the season comes to many of us who attend a local church at least somewhat regularly. Our various churches focus on the biblical account of Jesus' birth. The birth narratives from Matthew and Luke have become an essential part of our Christmas celebrations. It helps to put things into their proper perspective. Christmas is really not about our own happiness but about giving proper praise and glory to the Savior of the World.

Every year I pause to contemplate the marvel and significance of what happened that night that Jesus was born. The miraculous conception of Jesus within a young Jewish girl. The astounding reality of the incarnation; God became a man. But he not only became a human being, he became a little helpless baby. How could that be? I marvel that God would love us so much to send His Son to this earth, humble himself to become like one of us and live among us.

There is a song that I listen to every year that helps me to ponder the wonder of this whole event and the purpose for it. It is not a very popular song. You won't hear it in the shopping malls, on most Christmas albums, or even on the radio. The song is titled A Strange Way to Save the World. Maybe you have heard it and maybe not.

The song is an imaginary attempt to see the birth of Jesus through the eyes of Joseph even though we have no account of Joseph's words or thoughts. We know the angel appeared to him and told him to take Mary as his wife. It was revealed that Mary's baby was to be the Savior of the people of Israel. "He will save his people from their sins" (Matthew 1:20-23).

The song depicts what Joseph might have thought as he contemplated all that happened. He himself was a simple man and Mary just an ordinary girl. Jesus was not born at home as most children in that day. He was born in a city where there was no good place for Mary and Joseph to stay. He was obviously born in a place where animals were normally kept because his crib was a feeding trough, not a normal birthing place for one of royalty.

Mary and Joseph were considered poor in that time, not the kind of parents that would normally raise a king. There did not seem to be anything outstanding about this young couple to most people. In fact, Jesus was born under the suspicion that either he was illegitimate or that Mary and Joseph had been sexually intimate prior to their marriage; something not accepted by the Jewish culture.

To think that this little baby would grow up to be the Messiah of Israel probably seemed a bit ridiculous. The first people to witness his birth were lowly shepherds. Actually they were probably not grown men but teenagers. That's who often watched the sheep at night. David is an example of this in the Old Testament. He cared for the sheep while his other brothers went to war and took care of the important things around the home.

Eventually Magi came from the east to worship him which was also quite odd. They were Gentile (non-Jew) astrologer/astronomers who studied the stars and constellations. Somehow they knew something the Jews did not know; the King of the Jews had been born. They came and bowed down before a young child and brought him great gifts.

Ultimately, nothing about this story made sense to a people who were looking for a great warrior to come and deliver them from their oppression. If we were not so familiar with the story, it probably would not make much sense to us either. In fact, to many in the world it is a strange story.

Yet, God Almighty chose to send His Son into such humble beginnings to demonstrate His love, mercy, and grace toward mankind. The Son of God, who is God, humbled Himself to come to us, a people in great need.

Many people do not realize the hopelessness of their sinful condition. People are separated from God because of their sin and no amount of good deeds can reconcile them to God. The only way that a person can be saved and have a relationship with God is for God Himself to take care of their sin problem. That is exactly what Jesus came to do.

Thankfully the Christmas story does not end with the manger. The Christmas story actually is completed at the cross and the empty tomb. Though the birth of Jesus Christ is a marvelous and miraculous event, there is no salvation in a birth. Christmas happened so that Easter could happen. It was necessary for Jesus to be born of human flesh so that he could go to the cross for us and bear the burden for our sin. His glorious resurrection affirms his person, his mission, and the salvation he offers to all mankind.

This Christmas, regardless of your attitude toward this season, remember to celebrate the complete Christmas story. Celebrate the greatest gift of all, the free gift of eternal life that comes by grace through faith in Jesus Christ.

Children placed flowers on the altar to symbolize the flowers picked by Juan Diego centuries ago in Mexico.

St. Mary's Church hosts celebration of Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe

Approximately 250 people from throughout the area took part in the annual Our Lady of Guadalupe celebration at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne on Dec. 12.

The traditional Mexican celebration featured a mariachi band, the presentation of flowers at the altar and the service in Spanish.

The Rev. Scott Hasting, JCL, from Omaha, celebrated Mass and took part in the pot luck meal and celebration that took place at the Wayne City Auditorium following Mass. In the past, both the Mass and celebration have taken place at St. Mary's Church, but in recent years, the event has grown considerably and the church fellowship hall is no longer large enough to accommodate all those taking part.

The story of Our Lady of Guadalupe involves a visit from the Virgin Mary to a Mexican peasant farmer, Juan Diego, in December of 1531 near what is now Mexico City. She asks him to have a temple built where she can hear petitions and heal the suffering of the Mexican people. After the encounter, Juan Diego takes the roses he has cut from the hilltop to the Bishop, who has a temple built at the location.

Millions of people, both from Mexico and throughout the world, have made pilgrimages to the site to see Juan Diego's tilma (cloak) which contains an image of Mary. It has been miraculously preserved for five centuries.

Miracle on Bethlehem Street

Students at St. Mary's Elementary School presented the musical "Miracle on Bethlehem Street" on Dec. 16. The play focused on the greedy owner of the Benjamin Inn (Owen Loggins) and how he came to realize that money was not the most important thing in life. The program featured songs by students in pre-k through sixth grade.

Members of the mariachi band provided music, both during the Mass at St. Mary's Church and at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Several women in ethnic costumes danced during the celebration at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Haskell Ag Lab key to University's engagement in northeast Nebraska

By Mike Boehm

University of Nebraska vice president for agriculture and natural resources and Harlan vice chancellor for the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR)

Last summer, hundreds of northeast Nebraskans gathered over the course of a month in coffee shops, community centers, pole barns and at county fairs to participate in candid discussions of their needs.

Community members were clear: More collaboration between PK-12 schools and institutions of higher education is required, along with agricultural workforce development and improved water quality. They also weighed in on how the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory could help address these issues.

As a result of those conversations, I and other University of Nebraska-Lincoln leaders have concluded that HAL should play a key role in expanding the university's engagement in the region.

Cuts in state funding in 2018 raised some doubts about the future of the laboratory, located near Concord, Nebraska. After HAL survived those cuts, university administrators decided the time was right to study how effectively the university was supporting northeast Nebraska.

By design, IANR representatives had no agenda during their visit to northeast Nebraska.

We wanted to hear from the 217,000 people who call northeast Nebraska home - so we let them drive the conversation. It was important for us to hear about the challenges they're facing and how the university can better engage and serve their needs.

Since the listening tour, IANR leaders have been brainstorming about how to best to implement those changes brought to us by the community.

For instance, leaders from the university's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, HAL and Nebraska Extension have connected with leaders at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture, Wayne State College, Northeast Community College, Nebraska Indian Community College, Little Priest Tribal College and Wayne Community Schools. They have begun to explore ways to build on each institution's unique strengths. These innovative partnerships will help prepare Nebraska's next generation by providing a seamless education and career pathways for lifelong learners.

One idea being discussed by this group is the formation of an education compact, based upon similar initiatives elsewhere in the nation. A Northeast Nebraska Education Compact would bring together PK-12 public school superintendents and representatives from Nebraska colleges and universities. Compact members would work collaboratively on issues that matter to Nebraska families, like high school graduation rates, postsecondary attainment, and improved community and economic vitality.

The compact would also provide greater exposure to career opportunities in resilient food, energy, water and societal systems that address skill gaps in agriculture and natural resources.

Workforce development, specifically in feedlots, was another common theme during the listening tour. With more than 2 million cattle on feed across the state, beef cattle production has a $12.1 billion impact on Nebraska's economy. Because northeast Nebraska is home to so many of these cattle, it is critical that the region's workforce be adequate to manage the large number of cattle on feed. Using feedback from the listening tour, planning is underway to reactivate HAL's feedlot, which could be used to provide technical training for future feedlot workers.

Water quality was another issue repeatedly raised by listening tour participants. A safe water supply is critical for all Nebraska residents and it is becoming ever more expensive to bring water supplies to healthy levels. Complementing existing efforts and in response to feedback received, IANR is partnering with three Natural Resources Districts to hire an extension educator who will be based at the Lower Elkhorn NRD to work with farmers on managing water and nitrogen, and to help communities address high nitrate levels.

HAL will be key to moving these initiatives forward. The Lab is ideally positioned to serve as an experiential discovery center where learners of all ages can explore where their food comes from, how it is produced, and the importance of our taking care of our precious water and soils.

State funding for the university will be among the priorities discussed during the upcoming legislative session. With an ongoing focus on university resources, administrators expect to continue working with northeast Nebraskans to identify opportunities for collaboration.

The great conversations we had in northeast Nebraska this year were critical to shaping our engagement in that region. We look forward to working with communities to ensure that we're meeting their needs today and into the future.

Pre-k science, literature workshop announced

Educators of preschool-aged children are invited to attend a free workshop in Norfolk on using literature books to teach science concepts.

The Birds and Books workshop, scheduled for Jan. 15 at the Elkhorn Valley Museum from 6-9 p.m., is specifically for formal and informal educators and day care providers of preschoolers.

This workshop uses birds as a lens of discovery. "Birds are easy to see and fun to watch, creating a fantastic opportunity to learn about science," said workshop instructor Jamie Bachmann.

Workshop participants will investigate ways to use literature books to engage children in meaningful interdisciplinary lessons, connecting literature books with simple, long-term science investigations.

Educators will receive bird-related science-focused lessons, bird-related literature books, the Birds of Nebraska Field Guide and a bird feeder.

The workshop is put on by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and Northern Prairies Land Trust. For more information or to register, contact Bachmann at jamie.bachmann@nebraska.gov.

2019 turkey permits open soon

Christmas time is for memories

I guess it was not to be, but that volleyball team put up a heck of a fight! I know they were disappointed, but my goodness, just getting to the Final Four—again! Is amazing.

Friends in Orlando stayed up both nights, and of course, they are an hour later there. Plus, on Thursday night, just like me, they were too nervous to get to sleep! Anyway, they claim they are too old for this. I have another friend who emailed on Friday afternoon that her son in law had found tickets on line and they were leaving after work. I think a lot of Nebraskans did that. And tonight, they were in Sioux Falls, for the men's basketball game. We had to laugh when they pointed out Coach Miles' dad; he stood up whenever the refs made a questionable call. Like father, like son.

Grandson Myles graduated from UNL on Saturday morning, with a degree in Biology. We could actually watch it on a Spectrum channel that was designated, but of course, did not spot him. You can't call names for over a thousand grads and expect to get done in the same day. But they are famous for giving them SIGNED diplomas, which most bigger schools no longer do. Apparently, it takes lots of planning; I can imagine.

A fraternity brother in Wisconsin called on Friday, stirring up all kinds of memories for the Big Farmer. And tonight, the widow of his best friend in college called. She wanted us to go

FFA members take part in Ag Seminar

Several Wayne FFA members attended the Ag Outlook Seminar on Dec. 7.

All 14 members in attendance were able to listen to all the speakers, including Marty Marx, who talked about cover crops; Kyla Habrock, with the Nebraska Pork Producers, who explained what a true leader looks like and the characteristics that come with being a leader; Doug Simon, who talked about grain marketing and outlooks for the future, and Doug Temme, who presented over his trip to Japan.

Also, a precision ag presentation was given by Northeast Community College. Along with the speakers, the FFA Senior Parliamentary Procedure Team presented Parliamentary Procedure.

"Thank you to the Ag Task Force for putting on this seminar," said Hana Nelson, FFA Reporter.

to the computer and put on the call letters for a TV station in Raleigh. We did that, and then searched for Friendsgiving. There she was! Celebrating a fifty year tradition of neighbors far from their home states having Thanksgiving together. It started with twenty people, and now, they have to have a hall because there are about eighty, and they are in the fourth generation. Lovely!

It's that time of year. A nurse friend and I went to the Memory Care unit at Tabitha on Thursday to visit a fellow nurse. She obviously wasn't sure who we were. She is just as pretty as ever, neat as a pin, but has a confused look with her smile. It is so sad. The other gal brought a couple of newspaper clippings with their pictures in them; she looked at them and read and reread them.

Last Sunday, I made it to the Lofte theater for Nuncrackers, which is a Christmas musical with the famous Nunsense nuns. Our Book Club read The Christmas Angel Project.

Tomorrow, I have to make cinnamon rolls. It's time to use that instant potato recipe.

Enjoy this nice weather and take time to enjoy the Season.

Making Your Planter a Nitrogen Application System

Last week we talked about some of the reasons why we need to be focused and purposeful about when we apply our Nitrogen to meet regulations, as well as some of the yield reasons that go along with that. So, over the next few weeks, I want to begin the process of talking through some of the options we have at our disposal if we are going to apply Nitrogen multiple times throughout the season. This week, we are going to start at the beginning, with our planter.

Now, before anyone gets on my case about saying that the planter is the beginning, let me stop you. I know that many of you have Nitrogen applied to your field before the planter goes through. That pre-emergence application of Nitrogen is what it is. You may be using anhydrous ammonia or a weed and feed application of UAN early in the year. For the sake of simplicity though, I am going to leave those out of my discussion. As long as you are using a Nitrogen inhibitor on those applications, they are fine.

So back to the planter. Over the years we have seen things swing from one end of the spectrum to the other. Twenty years ago, a 15 to 20-gallon application of starter wasn't out of the question. Most of you still had boxes on your planter, and your planter size was 12-16 rows. So if you had 1.5-bushel boxes and put on 15 gallons per acre, you needed to haul 1,000 gallons of starter to minimize stops. With central fill and bigger planters, that was no longer an option. 15 gpa on a central fill meant we needed to fill with 1,000 gallons of starter more than three times before we are out of seed. So the tanks came off of the tractor, and we swung down to 5 gallons per acre and sped up the planting job.

Now, when we were putting on starter in a two by two band there was also a lot of iron on the planter. That meant more bearings and more horsepower. We certainly wouldn't want to go back to that those days, as these big planters already take enough horsepower to go through the field. But at the same time, as we talk about applying Nitrogen with our planter, we don't want to just stream it onto the ground and risk loss via volatilization.

Some of the latest planter attachments have been focusing on how we can apply Nitrogen below the surface, safely away from seed, so we don't risk damaging germination, without adding a lot of weight or moving parts. Today, two of the more promising systems I see on the market are Conceal from Precision Planting and Bandit from 360 Field Center. These products are similar, but very different. In the case of Conceal, we are replacing the gauge wheel with a new gauge wheel that is split. That split allows us to run a knife that applies the Nitrogen in the ground and then is closed by the closing wheels. In the case of Bandit, we remove the closing wheel assembly off of the row unit, install a unit that has two opening discs, and a unit that applies Nitrogen in two furrows parallel to the seed furrow. Then the closing wheel assembly is installed behind the bandit and closes all three furrows.

In all cases, we have a safe way to apply a banded, below surface application of Nitrogen, without adding a lot of drag to the planter and increasing horsepower needs. Of course, this is going to take saddle tanks or something similar to feed it. But, as we look at how we split our applications, this may be an inconvenience we need to address.

The take home for today is that adding a Nitrogen application at planting time may not be as inconvenient as it can sound on the surface. Thirty-five pounds of Nitrogen applied next to the seed like this is also a great way to get young plants off to a strong start. Adding Nitrogen to your planter isn't for everyone, but I hope you can see how good of a fit it can be for some.

Fireplace, wood stove safety advised

Finally a break in the weather and hopefully a chance to catch up on something I should have done more of earlier this fall... cut and split wood for the fireplace! I've heard it said that firewood is an excellent heat source, it warms you five times. First, when you cut it... second, when you split it... third, when you haul and stack it... fourth, when you burn it... and finally, when you clean up after you burn it.

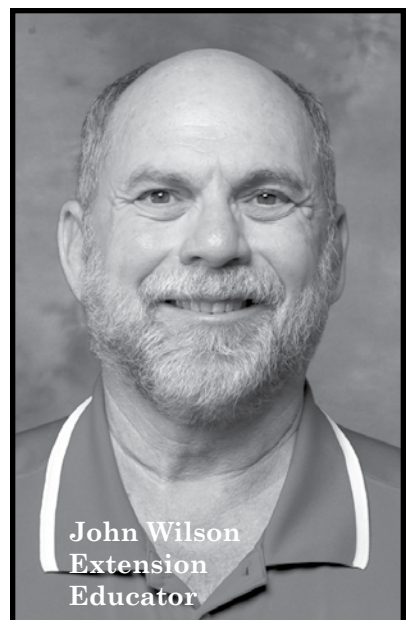

All joking aside, it's hard to beat the warmth of a glowing fire in the fireplace. But it's also important to remember that fireplaces and wood stoves can create a hazard in the home if they are not managed properly.

In 2017, 3,400 Americans died in fires, according to statistics from the National Fire Protection Association. Because of the risks associated with fires, it's important to understand and practice safety tips when using indoor fireplaces and woodburning stoves this winter.

Put a shield around the fireplace to prevent sparks from flying out and starting a fire. Glass grates, which enclose the fireplace entirely are the most effective. Wire mesh grates, though not as impenetrable, also stop most sparks.

Make sure the area surrounding the fireplace is clear of flammable items to guard against fire in case sparks escape the fireplace. The best hearths are made of non-combustible material such as brick, tile, flagstone or linoleum.

Clean fireplaces, woodburning heaters, stove pipes and chimneys annually. Ash or creosote build-up in the flue or pipes can catch fire if the build-up has accumulated over time and the fire temperature is hot. Reduce creosote by burning big, hot fires instead of small, smoky ones that lead to build-up.

John Wilson
Extension Educator

Recent advertisements promote logs you can burn in your fireplace to reduce creosote buildup. While these may reduce some kinds of creosote, they do not take the place of an annual cleaning. Hire a chimney sweep or clean the chimney flue and dampers once a year with a big brush.

Choose the type of wood you burn depending on the type of fire you want. If a fireplace is for aesthetic reasons, burn cottonwood, maple or elm, which burns quickly and creates bright flames. If the fireplace is used for heat, burn harder, heavier woods such as oak and ash. Avoid pine or other evergreens because the wood contains more resins which contribute to creosote buildup in your chimney. They also pop and crackle a lot which can lead to sparks that escape your fireplace.

It is possible to bring insects into your home along with firewood, but this can be avoided. If wood is kept in bins 50 degrees, insects living in it will remain dormant. However, if taken indoors and allowed to warm up, insect activity resumes and they may emerge in the home. Emerging insects can then move out of the firewood, wander into the rest of the house and become a nuisance.

The best way to avoid invasion is to store the wood outside in the cold until it's ready to be burned so insects don't have a chance to warm up and become active. Store wood away from the house and under a cover, such as in a woodshed, unheated garage, utility building or under a sheet of plastic or sheet metal roofing to keep it dry. Leave an air space between the wood and covering.

Do not spray firewood with pesticides. Storing wood outside until you are ready to use it will prevent insect problems indoors. If firewood insects do emerge indoors they are not likely to attack wood in the home. Simply vacuum them up.

Correctly manage woodburning stoves or heaters. Often, fires from woodburning stoves start when the residents are gone or asleep. To guard against this, adjust the air intake vents before leaving the stove alone. Don't leave woodburning stoves alone unless the heater can be prepared for an amount of unsupervised time.

One final precaution, be careful when cleaning ash from your fireplace or wood burning stove. Every winter there are cases where devastating house fires were caused by improper disposal of ash from a fireplace or woodburning stove. Make sure there are no hot embers in the ash. Let it completely cool before removing it and then store it in a metal pail or container. Never dump it in with your regular trash.

For more information on fireplace and wood stove safety, contact your local Nebraska Extension office.
