4-H, FFA celebrate Wayne County Fair

There was no tractor pull, no funnel cakes and no rides on the midway at the Wayne County Fair this year, but area 4-H and FFA participants still participated in a number of events to show off the skills they've been honing over the last year. The Swine Show (above) was held on Friday; the Sheep Show (top right) on Thursday and the Poultry Show (bottom right) on Saturday. Meghan Spahr, Wayne County's Miss United States Agriculture, was at the fairgrounds to watch her sister, Maya, show her poultry.

Graduation ceremonies planned for this weekend

After waiting for several months, local high school seniors will become alumni of their respective schools this weekend.

Wayne High School graduation ceremonies will be held Saturday, Aug. 1 at 10 a.m. in the Wayne State College Willow Bowl.

Attendance will not be limited. Attendees may sit on the cement seating within the Willow Bowl, stand or bring lawn chairs to sit on behind the cement seating.

"We do encourage guests to wear masks to the ceremony and adhere to social distancing guidelines while in attendance. Groups of attendees sitting together should not exceed eight, and families or groups should sit six feet apart from each other," said Wayne High School Principal Tucker Hight.

The graduation ceremonies will also be streamed through Facebook Live on the Wayne Community School's Facebook page for those who cannot attend.

If inclement weather is forecast during graduation, the ceremony will be moved into the Wayne High School gym.

"Unfortunately, attendance will be limited if graduation is moved inside. Each graduate has provided a list of eight guests who are able to attend the graduation ceremony if moved inside," Hight said.

The Wayne High School Class of 2020 is made up of 73 students.

Valedictorian speakers will Korrina Niemann, Faith Junck, Erin O'Reilly, James Tompkins and Trevor DeBoer.

The class of 2020 chose "You may not end up where you thought you're going, but you will always end up where you're meant to be," from Jessica Taylor as a class motto.

The class flower is an astroemerias.

In Winside, 11 members of the class of 2020 will receive diplomas on Saturday, Aug. 1 at 2 p.m. in the school gym. Students have been assigned specific areas and a limited number of people will be allowed in that area.

The class has chosen "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose," from Dr. Seuss as the class motto. Magenta, silver and black are class colors and the carnation is the class flower.

Wakefield is planning to hold graduation ceremonies on Sunday, Aug. 2. The diploma ceremony will begin at 2 p.m., with graduates asked to be at the school by 1 p.m.

In order to maintain the health and safety of the public, Wakefield Community Schools is asking the public to email high school principal Matt Farup if they are planning to attend and let him know how many people will be in each group. The maximum number for a group of attendees is seven. Once a group arrives, their graduate will be seated with the group. Each group needs to enter the building together. Markings will be available to help keep physical distancing guidelines in place and everyone is asked to wear a mask. Masks will be available at the door for those who need one.

The Trojan class of 2020's valedictorian is Gabe Peitz. Their color is lavender and class flower is the Dahlia. The class of 2020's motto is "If we wait until we're ready, we'll be waiting for the rest of our lives."

Providence Medical Center now accepting CareCredit

Providence Medical Center is continuing its commitment to being there for their patients by offering a service that can ease worries. Paying for medical procedures out of pocket can be as stressful as the procedure itself, but with CareCredit, now accepted at Providence Medical Center, there's another option for the unexpected costs of hospital bills.

CareCredit is a credit card that allows cardholders to select a payment plan that works for them, from six-24 months at deferred interest.

"It's there to bridge the gap between insurance and out-of-pocket expenses," Britany Peters, Revenue Cycle Director at Providence Medical Center said.

While previously CareCredit has been available to the public for veterinary, dental and cosmetic care, the company has opened up to cover medical costs at over 225,000 medical providers across the country, including PMC.

Cardholders can get pre-approved prior to scheduled medical procedures or can apply either online or with the assistance from Providence Medical Center. Once a patient is approved they can use the card to cover expenses not otherwise covered by insurance and choose a repayment plan that works for their specific financial situation. To enroll, cardholders simply need their social security number, doctor's name and net household income information.

Finding funding for a medical procedure or paying for an unexpected trip to the emergency room can be difficult for some. With CareCredit, PMC is helping take some of the worry off of their patient's plates.

"We want to make sure people's financial health is taken care of as well," Peters said. "They have other things on their minds when they need us, so we want to be there for them."

For more information about CareCredit, visit carecredit.com or call (402) 375-3800 and ask for Ardie.

WAED's Special Events Committee planning tailgate party on Aug. 13

Wayne Area Economic Development's Special Events committee is ready to get back to work organizing networking events throughout the year. To celebrate both the new school year and the ability to meet in person again, a tailgate social is planned for Thursday, Aug. 13 at the Beaumont Event & Concert Hall in Wayne.

"It's the first event since everything has been shut down and we're looking forward to socializing while physical distancing," Abby Schademann, WAED marketing, events and tourism coordinator said.

Like past wine socials and Business After Hours events, there will be a raffle. The prize for the event will be a tailgate themed mystery box. Raffle tickets will be sold for $5 for five tickets or $10 for 12.

While event tickets will be available at the door, the Special Events Committee is asking those who would like to attend to purchase tickets in advance. Those who purchase their tickets ahead of Aug. 13 will also receive a free raffle ticket. The price for a ticket is $10.

"For those wanting to purchase a ticket, they can contact the office and we'll get that taken care of," Shademann said. "We'll hold on to the free raffle tickets until the day of the event and when you check in, we'll give you that additional (raffle) ticket."

To go along with the casual, tailgate theme, attendees are encouraged to wear items supporting their favorite teams.

Light appetizers will be provided by the Birch Room until the end of the event at 7 p.m. Tailgate-goers are encouraged to stay for live music from Dave Broders & Ransen Broders on the Birch Room's patio.

Wayne Ikes release updates to fishing and area maintenance

Wayne Izaak Walton League Chapter recently announced that they will be removing the catch and release on Bluegill at their lake.

A limit of five Bluegill per person fishing per day will apply until further notice. All other species of fish caught at the lake need to be released.

The Wayne Ikes would like to remind everyone that a valid Nebraska fishing license is required.

In addition to Bluegill other species in the lake include Bass, Perch (North section only), and Grass Carp. In October/November of this year the chapter is planning to add Black Crappie to the lake for additional species diversity.

Several maintenance projects have been worked on recently to improve the lake area.

The first project was leveling up and supporting the handicap dock which was done the early part of July. More recently, dirt work has been done around the lake to increase fishing opportunities, keep the two sections of lake separated and help fill in some of the bigger holes created by beavers.

Ikes President Erin Eilers said "the Ikes chapter would like to thank everyone who helped do the work and made the improvements happen. More projects are in the plans but will take time and resources to complete."

Follow the organization on Facebook "Wayne Izaak Walton League" for additional updates and future events.

Family COVID breakout, not outbreak

By MIKE RENNING
mikesportshome@yahoo.com

My family recently had a COVID-19, pandemic, coronavirus breakout.

Not an out-break, but a breakout. We missed three birthdays from our break from reality and it seemed time to get the entire group together and get back into the mode of getting tired of one another.

That statement revolves around the adults in the family - not the Grandkids.

We missed Sophia's birthday, Hogan's birthday and Boe's birthday. Sophia turned five, Hogan two and Boe Boe turned one.

I find it remarkable I know the ages of these youngsters, but the Darling Wife and I only have five total.

That's a handful and heavens did we find out just what a handful that could be - we'll talk about that a little later.

In addition we have Lily at seven and little Moxley in the month's category.

I can keep track of things, all things up to about five.

When you get to six or seven, I need to write it down somewhere to remember.

I think it goes back to when you counted fingers, remember that?

I would start counting on one hand and then I would forget which hand I started with - better to stick with groups of five.

Let's get back to the handful...no wait a second.

We celebrated all of these birthday individually with the proper number of people, but we did not get to celebrate them as a complete unit.

I believe when you turn five, two and one, you need a family gathering.

We met in Omaha for the festivities and represented the entire eastern and southern parts of the state. Boe is from Valentine, Hogan is from Omaha and Sophia is from Auburn.

If you don't know where Auburn is, get a map and go up a touch north of Kansas.

I hope you know Valentine is as north-central in Nebraska as you can get and Omaha is, well, full of people.

The birthday festivities went off without a hitch and everyone was satisfied with the candle-blowing, singing and running around the back yard at Michala (oldest daughter) and Bryce's backyard.

Sidenote here, a competition is in full force for favorite son-in-law between Bryce and my newest son-in-law Zach Blessing - I'll keep you posted.

As naps turned into evening after the party, our children and their mates decided to have a touch of a party of their own.

The Darling Wife and I were requested to watch all five Grandkids - who could ever pass that up.

I believe the trust-level for us to handle the task was low as the "party" happened in the back yard of the house where we were staying - Bryce and Michala's.

Do you know how long it has been since I have gone three directions at once?

Thank goodness Lily was there and thank goodness Moxley wasn't mobile.

Good heavens, Boe went one way, Hogan went all over, the Darling Wife was rocking Moxley and that left myself and Lily to pick up the pieces.

After two hours, Sophia was handling Hogan, Lily had Boe and I was looking for the rest of the night off.

That's when it hit me.

The Darling Wife had barely left the recliner.

That gal is one of the craftiest gals I know.

Ten minutes later Moxley and I were in the recliner and I'm not sure what happened from there.

I hear we may be getting a few additions to the family soon, there goes my ability to remember ages.

vices skills, can-do attitude, and sharp mind would be a perfect fit for this leadership role in our new branch," said bank CEO Matthew Ley. "We'll have two other full-time employees at the Campus Branch team with help from WSC students as part-time tellers."

Theatre in the park set for Wayne and Wakefield

The Pulitzer Prize nominated play "Love Letters" will be performed in Bressler Park on Friday, Aug. 7 at 6:30 p.m. and at Eaton Field in Wakefield on Saturday, Aug. 8 at 6:30 p.m. Both shows are free, with free will donations accepted.

The Little Red Hen Theatre and friends of former Wayne State College professor Dr. Gwen Jensen partnered together to bring this show to the communities of Wayne and Wakefield in order to raise money for their organizations. The funds raised in Wayne will go towards purchasing a bench for the Dr. Gwen Jensen Memorial Garden and funds raised at the Wakefield show will benefit the Little Red Hen Theatre.

The play centers on two characters, Melissa Gardner and Andrew Makepeace Ladd III. They sit side by side at tables and read the notes, letters and cards – in which over nearly 50 years, they discuss their hopes and ambitions, dreams and disappointments, victories and defeats – that have passed between them throughout their separated lives.

The show is directed by Wayne State College Assistant Professor of Theatre Rusty Ruth and features the director of the Little Red Hen Theatre T. Adam Goos, and Wayne resident Melissa Derechailo. The Majestic Theatre will have drinks and snacks available for purchase. Rain location for the Wayne show will be in Ramsey Theatre on the Wayne State College campus. Social distancing and mask wearing are encouraged.

Dirt Devils do it again — claim another state title

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

HASTINGS — This winning state title thing is getting to be old hat for this group of Wayne girls softballers.

The Dirt Devils 16/18-under team overcame a flat effort and got key efforts from Brooklyn Kruse and Kendall Dorey to post a 3-1 win over the Polk County Slammers to claim the Nebraska USSSA Class C state title Sunday afternoon at the Hill Softball Complex.

"This team just has kind of a clutch gene in them," coach Rob Sweetland said. "It's not always pretty and there were some close games they pulled out, but these girls just know how to win."

Wayne's only dominating effort came in their final game Saturday, as they posted an 8-0 shut-out of the McCook Force. The win came after a 4-3 extra-inning win over the Columbus Bullets and a 2-1 battle against Lawrence.

The Dirt Devils reached the finals with a 5-4 win over the Kearney Nebraska Krush, but couldn't adjust to the slower pitching in their first game with the Slammers, setting up a winner-take-all game after the Slammers shut out Wayne 5-0.

"That change of speed was something that flustered us," Sweetland said. "We didn't adjust (the first game) and got frustrated, but we started to square the ball up a lot better and moved up in the box and tried to send the ball more to the right side, and that paid off."

Wayne trailed 1-0 early in the final game, but tied it in the bottom of the first inning when Rachel Hobbs doubled and Taytum Sweetland singled to center to bring home the tying run.

Wayne broke the tie in the fourth. Hope O'Reilly started the inning with a single and moved to second on a fielder's choice by Brooklyn Kruse. With two out in the inning, Nicole Fertig singled to left, bringing O'Reilly home with the go-ahead run.

In the sixth, Wayne got an insurance run when Kruse, who had battled a tournament-long slump, sent a missile down the left field line that cleared the fence for a solo home run.

"It's been a struggle for her at times this summer, and I hope that catapults her into a great fall because we know she's capable of it," Sweetland said of Kruse's homer. "It's one of those mental things you have to fight through and just find your timing and I was happy to see her do that."

Kendall Dorey pitched the win in the championship game, striking out 11 and allowing two hits and one walk, a good sign for the junior-to-be as she is expected to take over pitching duties after hurting her knee during basketball season.

"She pitched very well today," Sweetland said. "I'm not confident about pitching three (games) in one day yet, but she got a couple in today and is way ahead of where I thought she might be at this point."

Wayne came from behind in their first game to beat the Columbus Bullets.

Trailing 3-2 in the seventh, Wayne tied the game on a Hobbs double that scored Sweetland, then got the go-ahead run in the tie-breaking eighth inning on a Kyleen Robbins sacrifice fly that scored O'Reilly, who started the international tie-breaker at second base and moved to third on a sacrifice by Michaela McManigal.

Wayne found themselves in another nail-biter in their second game against Lawrence. Wayne tied the game in the third and won it in the seventh when Logan Miller's hard grounder was mishandled, allowing O'Reilly to score the winning run.

In their final game of the day, Wayne tagged McCook for five runs in the opening inning and cruised to the easy win. Hobbs and Dorey each had three hits and O'Reilly had two hits, two runs and two RBI's to cap the three-win day. Dorey threw a two-hit shut-out, striking out seven and walking two.

Wayne scored four in the first inning of Sunday's game to set themselves up for the championship game, but had to withstand a three-run third inning that got the Krush within a run, but Wayne's defense and pitching kept them from scoring the tying run and advanced the Devils to the championship. Dorey struck out 10 in the winning effort and Taytum Sweetland had two hits.

NSIC delays start of fall sports competition

With the health and safety of its member institutions' communities, the importance of successful institutional campus re-opening and the overall well-being of its student-athletes as its top priorities, the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference Board of Directors unanimously supported a delay to the start of NSIC fall athletic competition announced Monday afternoon.

For the sports of football and men's and women's cross country, the first permissible practice will be Wednesday, Sept. 2 with the first date of competition scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 26. For volleyball and soccer, the first permissible practice will be Tuesday, Sept. 8 with the first date of competition scheduled for Friday, Oct. 2.

With the delay of the fall sports season announced Monday by the NSIC, the WSC football schedule is reduced from 10-games to eight, losing a road contest at Bemidji State and a home game with a Minnesota State. The Wildcats will now open the 2020 season at Minnesota Duluth on Saturday, Sept. 26.

The Wildcat volleyball team will now see an original 20-game schedule reduced to 15, losing road games at Minnesota Duluth and St. Cloud State and home matches against Sioux Falls, Minnesota Crookston and Bemidji State. WSC will open the season on the road at the University of Mary on Friday, Oct. 2.

The WSC soccer teams' original 15-game schedule has been cut to 11 games and will now start on Friday, Oct. 2 with a home match against Minnesota Crookston. The Wildcats lost four matches against Minnesota State, Concordia-St. Paul, Northern State and MSU Moorhead.

The WSC Cross Country schedule will see at least two meets canceled - Sept. 5 at Dordt and Sept. 12 at Dakota State. An updated schedule for Wildcat cross country will be announced at a later date. An amended schedule for Wayne State College women's golf will be released at a later date.

"This was a challenging decision for our membership to make," stated NSIC Commissioner Erin Lind. "For the last several months, our membership has been working tirelessly to prepare for the fall sport season, including developing the resumption of athletic principles, revamping schedules and creating competition disruption plans. At this time, we remain optimistic that we can safely conduct a fall sports season and moving the start date of competition will give us the best opportunity to give our student-athletes the experience they deserve."

The health and safety of student-athletes, athletics personnel and greater campus communities in the NSIC is paramount. Given the information from the medical and scientific community, and the number of uncertainties and limitations involving local and state regulations, it has become evident that a delay to the original start dates can provide the membership the opportunity to be prepared for all student-athletes to return to campus and work through all of the requirements for resocialization.

Making this decision now permits campuses to focus solely on re-opening safely for their broader campus communities. The challenge of preparing for a fall sports season amidst the present uncertainties should not affect overall institutional reopening plans nor the health and safety of the wider campus community.

"Athletics is a vital aspect of all 16 of our campus communities and we owe it to our student-athletes to exhaust all options that will result in an opportunity for them to compete in their sport. We are optimistic that remedies to manage the virus and minimize spread will improve over time which would provide a more consistent season and positive experience for our student-athletes. Although we are not able to guarantee this given the uncertain nature of the virus, we are committed to exploring all options," Lind said.

The conference will continue to monitor the landscape and conditions surrounding the pandemic, locally, regionally and nationally, and make any decisions or announcements at a later date, as necessary.

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Wayne, Nebraska July 21, 2020
The Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting was called to order by Chairman Dean Burbach at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, July 21, 2020, in the courtroom of the Wayne County Courthouse. Chairman Burbach, Members Terry Sievers and James Rabe, Sheriff Jason Dwinell, Attorney Amy Miller, and Clerk Debra Finn were present. Notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on July 9, 2020. A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted and accessible to the public.

Rabe presented the following consent agenda items:
a. Approve minutes of July 7, 2020, as printed in the Commissioners Record
b. Approve fee reports
c. Approve payroll
d. Approve withdrawal of Cusip No. 406028GF1 for $110,000 as pledged security held by State Nebraska Bank & Trust
e. Approve Special Designated Liquor License for Wayne Eagles Aerie 3757 FOE for a wedding reception at the Wayne County Fairgrounds Commercial Building from 4:30 p.m. until 2:00 a.m. on September 5, 2020

A motion to approve the consent agenda was made by Rabe and seconded by Sievers. Roll call vote: Rabe, Sievers, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

A motion to approve the regular agenda was made by Sievers and seconded by Rabe. Roll call vote: Sievers, Rabe, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

A motion to approve the claims was made by Sievers and seconded by Rabe. Roll call vote: Sievers, Rabe, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

County Attorney Amy Miller told the board that some counties are requiring her to include a check for the filing fees and sheriff fees when filing a county child support case. To prevent commingling these funds with her business account, Miller requested authorization to open a checking account for child support fees. A motion was made by Rabe and seconded by Sievers to authorize Miller to open a checking account for payment of child support fees. Roll call vote: Rabe, Sievers, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

Highway Superintendent Mark Casey reported FEMA has determined that the bridge damage/road damage at C009001805P (on Grainland Inc) is ineligible for Public Assistance Funding. Pre-existing scouring issues and embankment armoring failure existed before the flooding. The county has sixty days to submit an appeal. After reviewing the bridge records, it was decided not to proceed with the repairs. FEMA had approved $626.19 towards mobilization costs for repairing the bridge. Casey will contact NEMA to see if those funds could be diverted to an alternate project.

A red-line county road agreement for the Haystack Wind Project was presented for review. Remaining clarifications included the fee of $1000 per 8" conduit, and the setback requirements for roads that have transmission lines running along them. A final copy of the agreement will be prepared for signing at the August 4th meeting.

Doug Elting of Berggren Architects updated the board on the courthouse restoration project. It appears the project will continue into August. The new windows are installed in the courtroom. A bid will be prepared to replace the woodwork around the inside of the windows with custom-made trim that would match the original trim.

The board had several questions on the break-down of the sidewalk widening and replacement bid. This is for the sidewalk running east, south, west, and the southwest angle from the courthouse. After negotiating with Kingery, a motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Rabe to approve the bid of $12,750 for the concrete work. Roll call vote: Sievers, Rabe, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

Burbach stated that there are several new cases of Covid-19 throughout the county. He wanted to remind employees that the county cannot mandate that people or employees wear masks, or the county will forfeit the chance to recover any Covid Reimbursement Money.

The commissioners tentatively scheduled a budget work session for August 5th at 9:00 a.m.
Fee Reports: Jason Dwinell, County Sheriff, $1,500.62 (Jun Fees); Debra Finn, County Clerk, $10,556.50 (Jun Fees).

Wayne, Nebraska July 21, 2020

The Wayne County Board of Equalization meeting was called to order by Chairman James Rabe at 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday, July 21, 2020, in the courtroom of the Wayne County Courthouse. Chairman Rabe, Members Dean Burbach and Terry Sievers, Sheriff Jason Dwinell, Assessor Dawn Duffy, Deputy Assessor Carrie Satak, Treasurer Tammy Paustian, and Clerk Debra Finn were present. Notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on July 16, 2020. A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted and accessible to the public.

A motion to approve the agenda was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

A motion to approve a motor vehicle tax exemption for Wayne State Foundation was made by Burbach and seconded by Sievers. Roll call vote: Burbach, Sievers, Rabe – aye; motion carried. Paustian left the meeting.

A listing of real property omitted from the March 19th assessment roll was received. A motion was made by Burbach and seconded by Sievers to approve the listing and authorize the Assessor to make the changes. Roll call vote: Burbach, Sievers, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Assessor Duffy submitted the following exhibits for the 2018 Wayne County Protest Hearings: the NE Assessor's Reference Manual; NE Ag Land Valuation Manual; 2020 Reports and Opinions of Property Tax Administrator for Wayne County; IAAO Book of Mass Appraisal of Real Property; IAAO Property Assessment Valuation book, 2nd edition; County Board of Equalization manual; three books of sales for Wayne County of residential, commercial, and ag property; Wayne County's sales used to determine the value for 2020; a copy of the certification of the assessment roll for Wayne County filed with The Wayne Herald; the property valuation card for each of the protested properties; Residential Data Collection Book by Rick Stuart; Residential Quality, Condition & Effective Age Seminar Book by Rick Stuart; IAAO Course 2, Income Approach to Value; Houses, 3rd Edition by Henry S. Harrison; House Construction, Design & System. IAAO #937; Marshall & Swift Residential Square Foot Method, IAAO #960; and the Assessment Procedures Manual. A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to receive the exhibits into evidence. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

The following protests were heard:
Protest 20-01: Parcel ID# 2200.00, Legal: Lot 1, Burwood Acres Subdivision, PT NW1/4 NE1/4 19-26-4. Site: 57662 855th Rd, Wayne, Name: Dustin and Val Ankeny. Protested Valuation: $380,290. Requested Valuation: $322,330. Reasons for requested valuation: Witness testimony provided. The 2019 valuation more closely represents the cost of all new structures. Even if we add the land valuation as an extra cost, the total valuation for this property would be $309,728 based on everything being brand new. House is only 1927 sq ft of main floor living space; all other space is basement, garage, or shed. The main floor is basic living space; there are no high ceilings or other extraordinary building features. The machine shed is not insulated and is listed as a garage.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 380,290 to 346,295 (-33,995) Change the pricing of the 48x36x16 building to a shed rather than a detached garage. Change quality of house to average +.25. Raise physical depreciation on house one step.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $346,295. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-02: Parcel ID# 5754.27, Legal: Lot 7 Warnemunde's Replat, Site: 604 Patterson Cir, Winside, Name: Brandon Bowers. Protested Valuation: $173,720. Requested Valuation: $156,895. Reasons for requested valuation: No changes have been made to the dwelling since it was built. Valuation of dwelling should not have increased $16,825. The fireplace is a sunbeam space heater built into the wall.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 173,720 to 171,010 (-2,710) No value to fireplace as it is electric rather than wood-burning or gas log.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $171,010. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $171,010. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-03: Parcel ID# 2942.00, Legal: N 60' of E 75' of Lot 4 Blk 6, Britton and Bressler's Addition, Site: 808 N Pearl St, Wayne, Name: Jodi Slonecker. Protested Valuation: $128,310. Requested Valuation: $114,495. Reasons for requested valuation: No improvements have been made to this property since 2015. It is extremely small & no backyard – only an existing deck. It also has no alley access and a very small front yard.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 128,310 to 126,285 (-2,025). Correct the size of the deck to the best of our knowledge using 2018 Pictometry imagery as owner did not grant a physical review of the property. No other changes.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $126,285. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-04: Prop ID# 930.00, Legal: PT SW1/4 (Tax Lot 3), 28-26-2, Site: 56639 853rd Rd, Winside, Name: Susan Olfson Lackey. Protested Valuation: $394,735. Requested Valuation: $363,455. Reasons for requested valuation: Installation of large wind farms within 1.5 to 5.5 miles of our property that have the strong potential to decrease the market value and resale potential of our property. Articles on impact of wind turbine farms on market value found on the internet were attached.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 394,735 to 380,110 (-14,625). Correct pricing on attached garage and siding on house. Correct how landuse was drawn, adding more grass and more waste. No changes based on wind turbine locations are justified at this time.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $380,110. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-05: Prop ID# 5444.00, Legal: TL 20 & TL 27 & Strip North of TL 27 PT S1/2NW1/4, Hoskins Tracts 27-25-1, Site: 109 E 1st St, Hoskins, Name: Michelle L Miller (Lawrence). Protested Valuation: None listed. Requested Valuation: $180,000. Reasons for requested valuation: Property has not physically changed other than painting/carpeting since purchased on 9/16/16 except it is now two bedrooms instead of three. Still finding various aspects of wiring in the house that are not up to code, it is in serious need of updates. Many of previous owner's "fixes" were just temporary. Property was ravaged by 500-year flood which took topsoil and grass and left huge deformities. Now a power company has removed 31 trees along property line and will be removing 6-10 more. Overpaid for home when purchased it. Some property in neighborhood not great for property valuation.
Assessor Recommendation: No change is recommended at this time due to most of the issues that owner mentions were existing when purchased the property in June 2016. A physical inspection was conducted on 6/29/18 and changes based on that review were made for 2018. No other changes have been made to the house since then, except for implementing the 2018 cost tables. Nothing to quantify any impact from loss of adjacent properties' trees or flooding that may have occurred in 2019 to rear of lot. Physical inspection of lot done 7/13/20 shows no apparent damage to lot as there is grass all the way to the rear of the lot. A garden is planted, and trees still surround border of subject lot to north and east. All Village of Hoskins residential properties had 2018 cost tables implemented and that was the only change to improvements. The lot value was updated the same as the adjacent two properties to the east of subject. To change either the house or lot would cause disequalization with all other properties in Hoskins.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and make no change to the valuation. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-06: Prop ID# 4507.00, Legal: Lot 9 Blk 3 North Addition, Site: 614 Nebraska St, Wayne, Name: Wayne and Regina Korth. Protested Valuation: $44,245. Requested Valuation: $38,000. Reasons for requested valuation: 2 bedroom & 1 bathroom, completely unfinished basement, no updates or remodeling has been done to the dwelling or land, garage in bad shape and unusable, walls are plaster – not sheetrock, no heating or air conditioning in upstairs and therefore cannot be considered a bedroom, deck is in poor shape and needs replaced, attic not finished.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 44,245 to 44,030 (-215) No value the detached garage. No other changes to the house. All other issues mentioned in protest have already been addressed and priced accordingly.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $44,030. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-07: Prop ID# 2167.00, Legal: Lot 1A, Administrative Replat of Lots 1 & 2 Logan View Estates Subdivision, Site: 57822 Hwy 35, Wayne, Name: Wayne and Regina Korth. Protested Valuation: $359,060. Requested Valuation: $295,590. Reasons for request: No remodeling or updates to dwelling or land, basement remains only partially finished, garage not finished, fireplace not finished & unusable, no one wants to live right off the highway due to noise of traffic – because of this our property should go down, inside of house not finished still needs trim, sheetrock needs finished downstairs in two of bedrooms, and area below stairs not finished, no floor or paint yet.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 359,060 to 350,570 (-8,490). Take fireplace off. Give a small functional depreciation to account for small amount of trim and drywall in one basement bedroom that is incomplete.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $350,570. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-08: Prop ID# 76.00, Legal: Tax Lot 3, PT N1/2NE1/4, 16-25-1, Site: 56084 850th Rd, Hoskins, Name: Adam and Heather Hardisty. Protested Valuation: $133,685. Requested Valuation: $118,875. Reasons for request: You are stating our value jumped to 133,685. This is inaccurate. Our property and our neighbors have greatly decreased due to the large number and the proximity of the wind turbines. Our value is gone now! We have a wind turbine extremely close to our home. Verbal testimony presented: Heather Hardisty – Property is so close to wind turbines that we were offered a good neighbor's agreement and given two days to sign. Currently, all we hear is swish, swish, swish. That, along with the shadow. People don't want to invest in this property. An appraiser concluded that up to 40% of the value is lost if the property has a turbine project within two miles. This is our reality. Many individual homeowners will need individualized appraisals for many years to come.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 133,685 to 126,015 (-7,670). Change siding on house to metal. Change quality on the house to a fair plus rating. No value to the old detached garage. Change pricing of other 'garage' to that of a shed and price with the outbuildings. No value to both driveways. No value to buildings #1, 16, 22, 23, 25, 27, and 28. Raise the physical depreciation of building #26. No changes based on wind turbine locations are justified at this time.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $126,015. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-09: Prop ID# 1971.00, Legal: NW1/4, 27-25-4, Name: Brian Bareilmann. Protested Valuation: $798,125. Requested Valuation: $778,172. Reasons for request: The farmable acres were reduced in October of 2018 at the request of Wayne County Dept. of Roads. We feel that the taxed acres should be reduced due to that change back in October 2018.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 798,125 to 778,650 (-19,475) No change to the number of acres until the deed is filed. Add more acres of waste.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $778,650. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-10: Prop ID# 800.00, Legal: Tax Lot 3, PT NE1/4, 7-26-2, Site: 56482 857th Rd, Carroll, Name: Thomas Wittler. Protested Valuation: $263,180. Requested Valuation: $237,445. Reasons for request: Old house (1911), not a full basement, brick foundation, needs a roof, most of ground is pasture, needs siding. Verbal testimony presented: Tom Wittler: Have some old hog buildings that aren't being used, how are they valued? Also curious about a yard shed that is portable. Farming house, bins.
Assessor Recommendation: Lower value from 263,180 to 250,500 (-12,680) Correct square footage of basement. Review buildings and take value off #16 and 25. Lower the value of buildings #19, 20, and 30. Adjust landuse around site and feedyards.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $250,500. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

Protest 20-11: Prop ID# 2693.00, Legal: Lot 6 & 8' Vacated Alley, Block 4, Original Wayne, Site: 313 Main, Wayne, Name: Cyclone Operations, LLC. Protested Valuation: $103,285. Requested Valuation: $95,091. Reasons for request: Three nearby properties of similar size are PID 2694, 2696, and 2697 are all much less than my new value. My requested valuation is based on an average of those three properties. Their values are $87,165, $81,090, and $87,320 respectively.
Assessor Recommendation: No change to value. All data on parcel appears to be correct.
County Board Decision: A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Burbach to approve the County Assessor's recommendation and set the valuation at $103,285. Roll call vote: Sievers, Burbach, Rabe – aye; motion carried.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Tips for coping in changing times

How can someone like me cope with something so unexpected? As I searched for this answer, I read recommendations for different groups of people: individuals living alone, families, children with special needs, empty nesters, and seniors. I found suggestions that can help all of us cope.

Create a Routine

Consistency and structure may be calming during times of stress. This is true whether we are creating a work and learning schedule for the whole family, or creating routines for ourselves when we are home alone. Use routine to create reasonable expectations for yourself and others.

Build off familiar routines from school or work. Create cues for the start and end of each day. For example, take a quick walk around the block or in the backyard before starting work.

Healthy routines include adequate sleep, healthy meals, exercise, and time for social interactions.

Plan to work or learn in bursts. Children need learning bursts of 15 to 45 minutes. Adults can focus longer, but still need regular breaks. Stretch for 5 minutes every 20 minutes if sitting or get up and walk around for 10 minutes.

Check-In with Yourself and Others

It is important to take time to check in with yourself and with friends and family. When connecting with others follow these tips.

A c k n o w l - e d g e feelings. For young children use a feeling chart to help them express themselves. Also, remember to acknowledge your own feelings. Avoid passing judgment on yourself and others. There is no right or wrong way to feel.

Treat yourself with as much gentleness as you treat others. Resist the need to solve other's problems. Ask, "How can we work together to make this experience more bearable?" Then be quiet and listen.

Encourage yourself and others to be mindful of the present. Avoid worrying about "what ifs."

Try Something New

With so many events we can't control, it is important to focus on what we can control. Trying new activities can give a sense of accomplishment. You may discover new coping strategies that you can use for the rest of your life.

Don't try to do everything, but do try new things. For example, start a new arts or crafts project, make a new recipe, or read a book for enjoyment.

Try yoga or a new exercise video with a spirit of adventure and fun.

Try new ways to connect with friends and family like connecting through video calls, virtual play dates, or writing letters.

Use Your Network

R e m e m b e r to use your social network.

Friends, family, neighbors, and co-workers can help you cope. Make plans to celebrate birthdays, holidays, and other special events in new ways.

Use your network to find opportunities for learning, traveling, or playing online.

Use your network for support. Would your child be more motivated to do his homework on a video chat with a friend? Would a virtual storytime with grandparents at 5:00 help you get supper ready?

During this time of unexpected and unprecedented events, remember it is okay not to be the perfect parent or family member, employee, or person. Simply, don't expect perfection from yourself or others. Healthy coping skills will help you and your family navigate this experience. More information and resources about youth social-emotional development in difficult times can be found at disaster.unl.edu/families or by contacting your local county Nebraska Extension office.

The Prairie Doc

Life lessons learned through experience

Sometimes, life has lessons for us that we don't truly appreciate until much later.

Many years ago, when I was a very wet behind the ears new doctor, I had the privilege of being part of the care team for an elderly Native American woman. She had been transferred from somewhere in rural South Dakota to our hospital in the city in hopes of identifying her disease and ascertaining how best to help her. Her daughter accompanied her. The medical team was convinced we knew "best," while her daughter was determined that we were not going to take a single step that might conflict with her mother's values. The stage was set for conflict.

As an intern on one of my first rotations, I just could not understand why someone would come to us for help, and then not be willing to follow our recommendations for testing and procedures that we felt would give us information we needed. We were frustrated. I didn't recognize it at the time, but I learned a lot from that fierce patient advocate.

In retrospect, the most obvious lesson was the importance of acknowledging that people have different values, and those values are shaped by many things, including culture and religion. While it may be true that some values are shared across cultures, it is a mistake to assume that we can understand another person's values and priorities through the prism of our own, or based upon what we think we know about them.

Healthcare providers can best help their patients by taking time to discuss cultural values, sacred traditions, and priorities with patients. This is especially true when it comes to end of life care, but it also applies to situations such as acceptance of medical testing, preferences regarding prescription drugs versus non-pharmaceutical alternatives and culture-based healing practices.

Another lesson was the importance of an advocate for the sick and vulnerable. It is extremely valuable for both the patient and the care team to have someone else present with the patient. This is a person the patient trusts to help clarify their concerns, to remember information, and to pass that information along to the patient's loved ones. Prior to the covid-19 pandemic, few patients utilized an advocate, except in the gravest of circumstances. Now, procedures in place to protect patients, staff, and family from this dreadful virus, limit the opportunity for patients to have an advocate physically present. However, most facilities support connection to patient advocates via phone call or video call.

In the end, a wise chaplain arranged for a traditional healer to visit our patient in her hospital room. I was not present for the ceremony, but the senior physicians and the daughter agreed on a plan of action. We didn't cure the patient, but we were able to offer her physical comfort in her final days, and I believe that by blending her culture and traditions with our medical ethos, we helped both the patient and her daughter find spiritual comfort as well.

Debra Johnston, MD is part of The Prairie Doc team of physicians and currently practices family medicine in Brookings, S.D. Hearts growing amongst the rocks, thorns and weeds into a joyful harvest

Jesus tells several parables about comparing the seed of the earth to the seed of the heart.

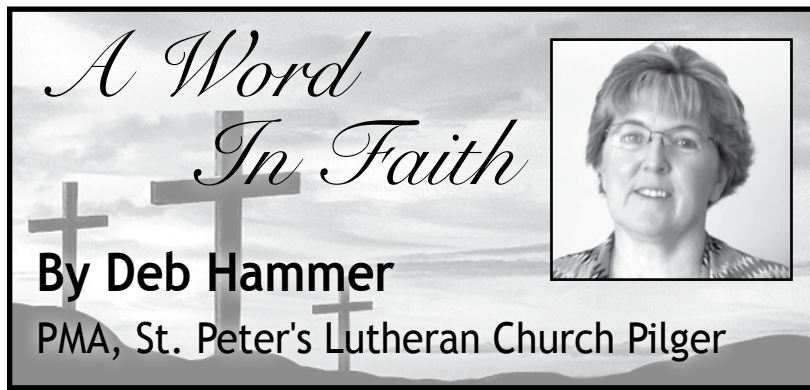

One parable is where the seed falls amongst the rocks and can't seem to take root, some seed fell in thorny areas where the seed was choked by the thorns. Some seed fell in fertile soil and took root, blossomed and grew.

In another parable Jesus tells us about the weeds growing amongst the seeds they were planted in the fertile soil and tells the gardener to let them grow together until harvest. At harvest we enjoy the abundance of the good crop and aren't nearly concerned about those weeds anymore.

How are we doing in this life in the soil of our hearts. Is your heart filled with all joy and goodness this day? Is your heart feeling hard, like a rock? Or are you being pricked and poked like thorns and your heart is in need of some tender care? Maybe your heart is full of weeds and that we can't let go.

Jesus wants us to focus on being the best that we can be.

When we can look at the goodness of everything in life, our focus turns to joy. If we can give the bad stuff to God, there is more room for us to be the best that we can be. That is what God wants. Matthew 13:43, "Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Let anyone with ears listen!"

This is our call: To listen. To discern. To follow. To serve. To share. And to proclaim God's promises and God's work for all the world. Let us be good soil, but also let us be seed that grows. Not seed that is overcome and choked by weeds, but seed that grows with a firm foundation to care for each other.

God intends for us to be turned outward with arms outstretched for our neighbors as signs of God's love. God does not intend for us to be the judge of others and decided who gets to stay or who gets picked and thrown away. God wants us to live with one another.

These parables are not about judgment, rather a promise of harvest. Harvest is about bounty and abundance. Harvest is not a terrible separating of those who belong and those who don't. Harvests bring together communities. Harvests are hard-work, to be sure, but they are to be celebrated, not feared.

Harvests are for putting up food for the months ahead and being excited about a season's work coming to fruition.

Weeds are a concern only for those who can't see the joy of the harvest.

The Master says, "Let them grow together."

For today, we have hope. Hope of a world where we can ALL live together. God didn't come and say, I am here just for you. God came for ALL people. God wants us to be welcoming to one another. We are not the ones who get to decide who is a weed and who is a good seed. God is. God says, leave it to me.

Trevor DeBoer selected for Nebraska Business Honors Academy

Trevor DeBoer, son of Mitch and Buffany DeBoer of Wayne, has been selected to join the Nebraska Business Honors Academy at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln this fall.

This group of 45 incoming first-year students will be the eighth cohort to join the Nebraska Business Honors Academy since its founding in 2013.

Those selected went through a rigorous application process and were selected based on their scholastic achievement, exceptional leadership and communication skills," said Dr. Kathy Farrell, James Jr. and Susan Stuart Endowed Dean of the College of Business. "We are thrilled to welcome them to Nebraska and are committed to preparing them to lead the future of business."

The cohort includes students from 11 states, including 23 students from across Nebraska, who plan to study in 10 academic majors within the College of Business. They will complete most of their core and foundation business curriculum together using an action-based learning style focused on the development of critical thinking, and technical and communication skills.

"This group brings unique perspectives from across the country with a focus on using their strengths to build relationships and solve problems in various communities. I have no doubt they will quickly find ways to positively impact the academy, College of Business and university as a whole," said Erin Burnette, academy director. "Our staff is eager to help this cohort learn, grow and realize their potential as they progress through their college career."

Academy students participate in leadership activities and compete in local and national student competitions to enhance their professional communication.

Additionally, they partake in internships and study abroad experiences to learn valuable lessons and prepare them to make an impact in the business world after graduation. Academy students are involved in more than 120 student organizations at the university and serve in a variety of prominent leadership roles. Academy alumni have taken

Trevor DeBoer their talents to careers and graduate schools spanning 20 states.

Understanding Medicaid expansion

Nebraska voters passed Initiative 427 to expand eligibility for Medicaid services from the State. The Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) has been working hard to implement the expanded coverage, which will be called Heritage Health Adult. Thanks to the team's focus and effective management, enrollment will open as planned on Aug. 1 and services will begin on Oct. 1.

Reaching this point has taken a tremendous amount of work. As directed by the ballot initiative, DHHS filed the required state plan amendments with the federal government on April 1, 2019. Along the way, DHHS has been working to secure federal approvals for the new program, building the technology platforms required to manage the program, and pulling together the network of providers and doctors needed to deliver services.

perform correctly and required close coordination between the DHHS programming and IT teams. DHHS has been working with Medicaid providers to test systems to make sure they continue to work properly.

DHHS estimates that about 90,000 Nebraskans will sign up for the expanded Medicaid program. Nebraskans with an annual income under 138 percent of the federal poverty level are eligible to apply. For individuals, the income threshold is about $17,600 and for a family of four it is around $36,000. People in this income bracket, ages 19 to 64, qualify for coverage through Heritage Health Adult.

Pulling together an expanded and robust provider network has also been a big part of Medicaid expansion. It's important that the Medicaid provider network has the capacity to handle the 90,000 newly-eligible Nebraskans. Historically, women and children have accounted for 73 percent of Medicaid recipients. However, many of the individuals joining the Heritage Health Adult Plan will be adults who did not qualify for Medicaid prior to expansion. This means we have needed to recruit more general practitioners and other specialists to serve this new population. DHHS has worked with health plans to expand provider networks in order to meet the particular health care needs of this new population of Medicaid recipients.

Under our plan that meets federal requirements, folks who sign up will receive a robust and comprehensive package similar to private insurance that includes physical health coverage, behavioral health coverage, and prescription drugs. Nebraskans who are 19-20 years old, pregnant, or medically frail will receive the comprehensive package noted above, plus dental, vision, and over-the-counter drug coverage.

The State of Nebraska has submitted a waiver application to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). CMS communicated earlier this year that the waiver review is taking longer than originally expected due to their ongoing pandemic response. Once the waiver is approved, all Nebraskans participating in Heritage Health Adult can qualify for dental, vision, and over-the-counter drug benefits.

Nebraskans can enroll online for Medicaid expansion starting Aug. 1 at ACCESSNebraska.ne.gov. The website will be the easiest and most efficient way for Nebraskans to sign up. Applicants can create an online account with ACCESSNebraska to sign up and check their application status. Nebraskans can also call 855-632-7633 to enroll.

The majority of Nebraska's Medicaid benefits and services are provided through managed care organizations, also called Heritage Health plans, including for newly eligible expansion participants. Heritage Health plans assist participants with accessing services, providing reminders about appointments, and paying providers for their services.

As the enrollment period begins, we ask everyone to be patient. We expect there to be a lot of interest. To provide additional enrollment capacity, DHHS has hired and trained 68 additional eligibility staff to help with applications. The agency is also working with two vendors to provide additional assistance to maintain our high quality of customer service. With the potential for 90,000 people to sign up for Heritage Health Adult in the coming weeks, our team is going to be very busy. We will monitor performance and make adjustments to overcome any challenges that may arise.

To make expansion possible, DHHS has completed the significant technology buildout required to manage the new program. A great deal of computer coding was needed to prepare the DHHS legacy (1977) computer system for the new Heritage Health Adult population. These complex system modifications took lots of time to

If you have questions about Medicaid expansion, DHHS is the best way to learn more about the eligibility or services that will be offered through the Heritage Health Adult plan. The agency has provided information on Medicaid expansion on its website at dhhs.ne.gov/MedicaidExpansion. If you have questions on other matters, you can email me at pete.ricketts@nebraska.gov or call (402) 471-2244.

USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service APHIS Seeks Public Comment on Transition to RFID Official Identification Tags

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) is seeking public comment on a proposal where APHIS would only approve Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) as the official eartag for use in interstate movement of cattle that are required to be identified by the traceability regulations.

An official eartag is defined as an identification tag approved by APHIS that bears an official identification number for individual animals. Regulations allow APHIS to approve tags that can be used as official identification, and both metal and RFID tags are current options.

A transition to RFID tags would support APHIS' ongoing efforts to increase animal disease traceability by more accurately and rapidly allowing animal health officials to know where affected and at-risk animals are located. While this would not prevent disease outbreaks, it would allow animal health officials to more quickly contain outbreaks early before they can do substantial damage to the U.S. cattle industry.

APHIS is also seeking comment on a proposed timeline for implementation, which the agency would use if this transition occurs. The timeline would make RFID tags the only option for use in cattle and bison requiring official identification on January 1, 2023. APHIS would "grandfather in" animals that have metal tags already in place on that date - their metal tags would serve as official identification for the remainder of their lifespan.

This transition timeline would not alter the existing regulations. The cattle and bison that must be identified will not change, nor will the option for animal health officials in shipping and receiving states to agree to accept alternate forms of identification, including brands and tattoos, in lieu of official identification.

Public comments will be accepted through October 5, 2020 at the following site: <https://www.federalregister.gov/d/2020-14463>. After reviewing all comments, APHIS will publish a follow up Federal Register notice. This notice will respond to any such comments, announce our decision whether to only approve RFID tags as the only official identification devices for cattle, and, if so, provide the timeline for such a transition.

Cream of the Crop

Landon and Courtney Roeber took part in the 2020 Cream of the Crop Dairy Show. After two postponements due to COVID-19, it was held July 11 in West Point. Since it was one of the first regional dairy shows this year, 128 head were shown. This was the largest show in its history. The Roebers took three heifers each with two making the championship round. Courtney came home with the Reserve Champion Junior Showmanship trophy with her heifer, Moolawn.

Graduation message 'hits the spot'

Check us out online at:
www.mywaynews.com

There have been a lot of graduation ceremonies this month, after a long delay.

Some in Omaha last week were on football fields on the hottest day of the month! Lincoln schools were at Pinnacle Bank, two on Friday, two on Saturday, two on Sunday. With limited seating, and distancing, they were small groups in a very big place, but at least, it was air conditioned!

So, Norfolk schools chose Sunday, the 26th, and I told Jaxson I planned to be there. I lined up Luke, the bath aide, to stay with the Big Farmer, and Kay and I drove there in her new low car (which is tricky for this old bod to get in and out of!)

We took a break in David City. I took her in some new directions for getting from Lincoln to Norfolk, and pulled up at Lutheran High shortly after one. Then, we pulled out a lunch she packed and got out and stretched!

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

The students sat on space stadium seats on the east bleachers, the band sat spaced out on the west bleachers, and the attendees, limited to eight people for each grad, sat on the gym floor in folding chairs in groups of eight. But it worked.

For once, we heard a commencement speech that really hit the spot. It was by their Social Studies teacher, whom Jaxson really likes, and now I know why.

He began his talk by telling the grads what they already knew; this had been a very unusual year for high school students! (or college, also, for that matter.)

But, he informed them, America has weathered some other years that were equally disturbing in different ways, 1968, for example. This is not the first year we have had riots and protests, but it's been a lot more years since a pandemic!

He gave them three very typical pieces of advice: #1, Life's not about you! (wow, that's a statement that may have surprised them!)

#2, Ask for help if and when you need it. (this from a German Lutheran!)

and #3, Cut others some slack. No one is perfect..

Finally, he challenged them to model Christ like love to someone who needs it and perhaps change their world! Amen!

Cake and pellet contracting season has begun at CVA

Our recent merger with Farmer and Ranchers Coop has produced new opportunities to Central Valley Ag and one of them is a mill in Ainsworth with the ability to produce cake. Last week our first set of bulk contract prices were sent out for a 23% DDG cake, 28% and 31% Hi Fat cakes, 25% DDG pellet and a 16% FR creep pellet. These contracts begin August 1 and run through December 31, 2020. Contract prices are open until noon on Friday, July 24, 2020.

Ranchers supplement with cake throughout the winter months as a protein source. Before selecting a protein supplement of cake, hay or forage quality is the first factor to consider. Commonly, ranchers will graze native grasses and provide grass hay closer to calving.

This type of feed program typically falls short on protein. By collecting a sample of your feedstuff and sending it off for analysis, we can obtain accurate data to develop a feed plan. Hay is mainly used as an energy source, however hay, such as a mid to high quality alfalfa, will have some protein to provide in the diet as well. Cakes can consist of protein sources such as DDGS, sunflower meal, or cottonseed meal. Wheat middlings provide the extra benefit of fiber. Cake consistency is very important as cake needs to be hard enough to stick together and not crumble, yet soft enough for cattle to consume. At our Ainsworth mill, we make custom formulations with various vitamins, minerals, medicated feed additives, and ionophores.

The 28% protein cake has proven to be the cube of choice by ranchers this past year. With 28% protein and 8% fat, this cube is designed for feeding cattle on forage-based diets. This is an easy way to supplement fat and protein to a herd. The palatable 7/8 cube is fed at 1-2 lbs per head per day for best results. Medicated feed additives are available. Majority of the cake comes in a 7/8 size cube; however, we also offer a 5/8 cube for weaned calves. Feeding rates will fluctuate with product, but average in that 2-3 lbs per head per day. Besides custom cubes, we also offer pellets and minerals. Stay tuned to our bookings this summer to get your herd prepared for winter. To place an order or get pricing, call our toll-free number at 1-800-233-6627 or contact your local feed sales specialist.

Pinkeye in cattle should not be overlooked

By Brent Plugge,
Nebraska Extension Educator and
Brian Vander Ley, DVM
Epidemiologist, Great Plains Veterinary Education Center

Driving or riding through a pen or pasture of cattle is a favorite chore for many producers.

Making sure our cattle have plenty of clean water, access to feed or forage and monitoring herd health are important aspects of daily care.

When examining cattle, one important disease not to overlook is pinkeye. Pinkeye is a highly contagious infectious disease that not only affects cattle in Nebraska but worldwide. The incidence and severity of this common disease can vary widely from year to year. Although pinkeye rarely causes the death of affected cattle, it can cause substantial losses to the cattle industry through decreased weight gain, lowered milk production and treatment costs.

Pinkeye is known to occur at all seasons of the year and in all breeds of cattle. Excessive weeping of the affected eye and closure due to pain are the two signs most commonly observed. As the disease progresses, the cornea becomes cloudy or white. An ulcer frequently develops near the center of the cornea. Cattle with pinkeye keep the affected eye or eyes closed because of pain and to avoid bright sunlight. The course of the infection may run for several weeks.

Pinkeye is primarily caused by Moraxella bovis (M. bovis); however, other organisms have been isolated from eyes with infections resembling pinkeye. It remains unclear whether these other organisms are primary pathogens or opportunistic, secondary invaders. Pinkeye is caused by a combination of factors. Other suspected risk factors that contribute to clinical pinkeye are excessive ultraviolet light (sunlight), biological vectors (face flies, house flies, stable flies), plant material and dust.

Efforts to prevent pinkeye are directed at reducing transmission and minimizing irritation. Fly control can minimize both transmission and irritation; however, it is not a guarantee for prevention. Face flies can remain infected with M. bovis up to three days following feeding on infected material. Under experimental conditions, disease transmission is uncommon without the presence of face flies and is common with flies present. Fly control does have the added benefit of limiting the fly avoidance behavior that reduces productivity in cows and calves on pasture. The infection can also be spread by direct contact when the eye secretions of an infected animal are rubbed into the eye of an uninfected animal.

Reducing dusty conditions and providing protection against sunlight also aids in control. Cattle often have grass or weed seeds in their eyes, and these materials can irritate the eye and contribute to the development of pinkeye.

Cattle with pinkeye can be helped by prompt treatment which usually includes an antibiotic and often includes eyepatches to limit further irritation. Since the cornea heals slowly, any ulceration is likely to require several weeks for complete recovery. Vaccinations for pinkeye have met with variable results.

There are other infections that look like pinkeye so it is recommended that you consult with your veterinarian to assist you in the diagnosis, treatment and control of pinkeye.

LENRD board continues partnership with Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

At their July meeting, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) Board of Directors voted to approve an amendment to the Interlocal Agreement with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission (NGPC) for the operation and maintenance of the Willow Creek State Recreation Area (SRA), southwest of Pierce.

The amendment will provide for an annual payment of $10,000 to the NGPC to fund employees of the Commission to complete tasks previously performed by employees of the district.

The district's partnership with the NGPC has been ongoing since the SRA opened to the public in 1984. The LENRD owns the property and is in a lease agreement with the NGPC for the management of the area. The flood control structure protects the City of Pierce and downstream landowners to just north of Norfolk. The SRA covers 1,633 acres, including a 700-acre reservoir, offering camping, fishing, boating, and more.

The LENRD board is also gathering more information and potential ways to reduce the toxic algae and improve water quality in the lake at the SRA. In May, the board signed a contract with FYRA Engineering to study the internal phosphorus loading within the Willow Creek reservoir.

"This is an introduction to a project that can help us to further understand the complexity of this issue and assist us in developing a plan to protect the water quality in the lake and the surrounding area," LENRD General Manager Mike Sousek said.

The first step in the process involves the collection and analysis of core soil samples.

In other action, the board voted to help with the expenses of the 2020 Scrap Tire Collection at the Dodge County Fairgrounds in Scribner.

The funds will be used for any expenses that are not covered by the Waste Reduction & Recycling Incentive Grant. The amount will be split 50-50 with the Papio-Missouri River NRD, not to exceed $10,000 of LENRD funds.

The collection will be held in late August.

The LENRD board and staff meet each month to develop and implement management plans to protect our natural resources for the future. The next LENRD board meeting will be Thursday, Aug. 27 at 7:30 p.m. Watch for further updates and stay connected with the LENRD by subscribing to their monthly emails.

The LENRD serves all or parts of 15-counties in northeast Nebraska. Visit the LENRD website to sign up for monthly emails from the district. Like us on Facebook and follow us on Twitter. - Protecting Lives, Protecting Property, Protecting the Future - lenrd.org
