Concrete work has begun at Providence Community Pharmacy to create a drive-thru lane. Work is expected to be complete around the end of the summer.

One year in, Providence Community Pharmacy expanding services

After celebrating one year in business in April, Providence Community Pharmacy is growing and continuing to offer customers new services.

Those driving by the Providence Road pharmacy may have noticed machinery and dirt work. Hopefully by the end of summer, the pharmacy will feature a drive-thru window to make picking up a prescription that much easier.

"Work on the drive-thru started a few weeks ago. Sebade (Construction) has been working very hard to get the concrete poured," Becky Barner, Providence Community Pharmacy pharmacist said.

Once opened, traffic can enter the drive-thru from the parking lot and exit onto Providence Road.

"People will be able to drive-thru and drop off prescriptions," Barner said. "Customers can then wait in the comfort of their car in our parking lot or run another errand while the prescription is being prepared for them."

With the pharmacy's upgraded communication options via a new mobile app, customers can easily be alerted when their drive-thru drop offs are ready.

Providence Community Pharmacy now has a brand new website and app that offers features that will make it easier for customers to get what they need and to communicate with one of the staff at the pharmacy.

The new app, Pocket Rx, can help customers securely look up their medications, find a medication list, renew prescriptions, set reminders, get contacted when prescriptions are ready, and features an inbox that will allow customers to communicate safely and securely with the pharmacy staff through the app.

"If you get a new insurance card and want to send us a picture or if you think of a question when we're not open, you can send it through the inbox," Barner said. "So much communication today is done over text and we wanted to add this messaging feature so our customers have communication options that are convenient for them."

The new website can be found at providencecommunitypharmacy.com. Links to Pocket Rx in Apple and Google app stores can be found on the home page. In addition, the pharmacy will continue to offer in-store service as well as curbside pick-up and home delivery.

Despite pandemic school year 'so far so good' for Wayne Community Schools

Wayne Community Schools started the 2020-2021 school year on Aug. 13. Despite changes in operation thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic, superintendent Dr. Mark Lenihan said the school is "so far so good."

Students switched to off-campus learning last March. Since then, Lenihan said both students and staff have been anxious to get back into the classroom.

"Time-wise, it was basically like having two summer breaks back to back in terms of time out of the building," Lenihan said. "Everybody's really glad to be back."

While being back in the building has meant some serious changes, Lenihan said everyone is adapting well. Students and staff are asked to wear face coverings while in the buildings, students are asked to socially distance when possible and parents are asked to monitor health conditions of their students more closely.

Lenihan said all of the procedures are meant to keep everyone safe, and so far, the procedures are being met with cooperation.

"Kids know the importance of following the guidelines and procedures. They know that that not only keeps the schools open, but it allows activities to go on too," Lenihan said.

The school keeps in regular contact with the Northeast Nebraska Health Department to monitor the situation in Wayne County and in the building and Lenihan hopes the procedures can keep being successful throughout the pandemic.

"I think that schools have the ability to bring some normalcy to life in terms of schedules and things like that," Lenihan said. "We're just taking it a day at a time and try to keep things as normal as possible."

Library patrons complete programs, activities

According to Library Director Heather Headley, "Wayne Public Library's 2020 Summer Reading Program 'Imagine Your Story' was a success."

With restrictions due to COVID-19, the program was re-imagined to be completely virtual for both adults and youth. Participants utilized the Beanstack platform for recording books or time read; enjoyed videos by Page Turner Adventures and area teachers, Dale Hochstein and Brandi Kolbeck, that were shared on Facebook.

Adult participants tracked time read and had other activities to earn entries towards four grand prizes valued at $100. Over 1,100 hours were read from June 1 through

Aug. 8.

The youth portion kicked off with a Youth Reading Challenge where participants read 2,378 books in five weeks to earn entries for eight grand prizes valued at $70. The second portion began in July and had participants tracking their time reading. The children completed 1,940 hours and 87 children were awarded Chamber Bucks and coupons to local businesses for time read.

To go with the July programming, the library created four outdoor activities: a sidewalk obstacle course and maze designed by Adult Librarian Sharon Carr; an I-Spy

Lead testing available for drinking water in schools, child care facilities

The Nebraska Department of Environment and Energy (NDEE), in cooperation with the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), has grant funds available for public child care facilities, preschools and elementary schools across the state to sample for lead in their drinking water. Sampling will begin Sept. 1 and end in April 2021.

These funds come from the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Water Infrastructure Improvements for the Nation (WIIN) Act grant and will be used by DHHS to provide sample kits and laboratory analysis of drinking water samples from schools and child care facilities.

This program focuses on populations that are most at-risk for lead exposure and prioritizes facilities that:

- serve children six years old and younger;
- are public preschools, elementary schools and child care facilities in underserved and low-income communities; and
- were built before 1988.

Private elementary schools and child care facilities will be included if funding permits, and in-home child care facilities are not eligible for grant funds. NDEE/DHHS is seeking additional grant funding to expand this opportunity next year.

Participating local health departments are working with NDEE/

DHHS to oversee and coordinate the program in their areas. These departments can also help schools and facilities that find lead in their drinking water identify corrective actions to address the source of contamination.

Health departments that are currently participating include the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department which serves Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne counties.

Schools and facilities that wish to sample their drinking water should contact their health departments first – even if a local health department is not listed above, it may choose to participate at a later date. If a school or facility would like to sample, and its local health department is not participating in the program, it may contact the DHHS Drinking Water Division directly at dhhs.drinkingwater@nebraska.gov.

To ensure schools, child care facilities and parents can make informed decisions about children's drinking water, a summary of the sampling data will be available on the NDEE/DHHS webpage when the program is complete.

If a school or facility does not qualify for the grant and still wishes to sample for lead, it can request a test kit by calling the Nebraska Environmental Public Health Lab at (402) 471-3935. The cost of a test kit is $19, plus shipping.

'He's my guy' — Stoakes family celebrates 79 years together with vow renewal ceremony

Not many couples get to celebrate 79 years of marriage, but Clair and Lura Stoakes did just that, and in a big way, with a vow renewal ceremony at Wayne Countryview Care and Rehabilitation on Aug. 21. Residents and staff were dressed up for the ceremony that was officiated by Countryview's administrator Cheri Wingert.

"That was very, very nice," Lura said days after the ceremony. "I can't put words to explain how we feel because it was a really special thing that happened."

The special event was fitting for the special couple that got married in 1941. The first time around Clair was 21 years old and Lura was just 16. While that may seem young, Lura said she had known Clair since she was 12.

"He was my brother's friend and he used to come to our house quite often after school," she said.

Lura tagged along when the boys went to the movies one day in the mid 1930s and eventually started dating Clair. Before World War II, Lura told her father she and Clair wanted to get married.

"When I told my dad that I wanted to get married to Clair he looked at me and said 'don't you think you're kind of young?' and I said 'I'm kind of young, but I think he's my guy,'" Lura said.

After 79 years, Clair is, indeed

Lura's guy. The couple, who grew up in southern California built a house on land that was part of Lura's father's orange grove and held their wedding before Clair's parents moved to Nebraska.

In 1943, Clair entered the service and was in the Pacific until 1946. Clair and Lura's daughter Susan said her mother wrote her a father every day they were apart and after Clair returned from the war, the vowed to never be apart.

Around 1951, the couple decided to move their family, then with two new additions, daughters Susan and Marilyn, to Nebraska.

Clair worked on their farm, at a bank and retired from the Wayne power plant.

"We had a very good life after we moved in Nebraska," Lura said.

After Clair's retirement, the couple spent their time traveling in a motorhome, until about 10 years ago when Clair turned 90.

"When Clair turned 90, I said, ok, we're staying home," she said.

Lura and Clair stayed in their home until a little over a year ago, when Clair fell, necessitating a move to Wayne Countryview. Lura wasn't far behind, moving into the facility to keep Clair company.

When asked for tips about how to make it through 79 years of marriage, Lura's advice was simple.

"Sometimes you may argue, but then you kiss and make up," she said.

Lura said she was happy she got to spend this extra time with Clair and celebrate their love with their daughter, great-grand child and great-great grandchildren in attendance.

Clair was overcome with emotion when he saw Lura walk down the aisle. Their daughter found a white dress for Lura to wear.

COVID-19 Risk Dial – what does it actually tell us?

Contributed by Northeast Nebraska Health Department

You may have already seen the COVID-19 Risk Dial on the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department website. You may also be wondering, "what is this risk dial and what is it really telling us?"

The COVID-19 Risk Dial is a new tool to help the public determine what actions they can take to lower the risk of spread of the virus. It was designed by Lincoln Lancaster County Health Department and has been adopted and modified by many health departments across the state including Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department (NNPHD). By monitoring the level of risk of the spread of the virus and by taking the recommended precautions in the accompanying risk guidance document, the public can take an active part in decreasing their risk of getting the virus and help decrease further spread in their community.

The dial is updated weekly, and the new risk level posted on the NNPHD website each Wednesday by 5 PM. There is a formula behind the dial to assist with calculating the level of risk; this formula has to do with a lot more than only the current number of positive cases. The formula includes:

- Positivity rate for the past 3 weeks (number of positive tests divided by the total number of tests),
- Trajectory of cases for the past 3 weeks (is the number of positive cases going up or down),
- Availability of critical medical supplies (this is assessed both locally and regionally and includes: Hospital bed availability including medical and ICU, Ventilator availability, Treatment availability, Personal protective equipment availability, Testing availability and Vaccine availability),
- Clusters of cases in their early stages and presence of community spread in the health district (community spread is when the source of infection for someone cannot be linked to travel or contact with someone who is known to be positive for the virus),
- Public health capacity at the local level to complete contact tracing interviews within 24 hours and to monitor people who have been placed in quarantine or isolation.

Each of the metrics is measured on a scale of 0-4 with the final risk level being determined by the average score of all metrics. The dial risk colors include green (low), yellow (moderate), orange (high) and severe (red).

By assessing these metrics on a regular (weekly) basis, it can be determined how equipped our area is to lower the spread of the virus. The higher the risk, the more work is needed in the community in order to lower the chances of spreading the virus even more. The extra work that is needed by community members to help slow the spread of the virus is outlined in the COVID-19 Risk Dial Community Guidance document that accompanies the dial on the website. The Risk Guidance document includes guidance on the recommended actions to take for attending events, when to wear facemasks, physical distancing, disinfecting and other infection control activities.

This Risk Dial is intended to inform the public of the current activity of the virus in the 4 county health district of Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne counties so that everyone in the community can help to slow the spread of the virus. Everyone's help is needed; we are all in this together and together we can slow the spread so that schools, restaurants, churches and other important activities remain open. Thank you for what you are doing to protect your loved ones, friends and neighbors!

After tough loss, softballers bounce back with three wins

After giving up what is believed to be a school-record 17 runs on Thursday, the Wayne High softball team bounced back with three wins to claim their own tournament on Saturday.

On Thursday, Blair hit five home runs and pulled away late to post a 17-4 win over Wayne in the softball debut for both teams Thursday at the Summer Sports Complex. Blair scored three runs in the first and built a 5-0 lead after five innings, then put up six runs in the sixth inning to take control of the game.

Wayne avoided the shutout in the bottom of the sixth when Virginia Kniesche lined a bases-loaded triple to left field. She came home on an RBI single by Kendall Dorey to account for the final Wayne run of the evening. Kniesche was 2-for-3 and Mikaela McManigal was 2-for-4 to highlight Wayne's nine-hit effort. Hope O'Reilly doubled and Dorey, Tatum Sweetland, Brooklyn Kruse and Logan Miller all added singles. Dorey went the distance in the Blue Devil gridders hoping to make more magic in 2020

Last year was a magical run for the Wayne High football team, tying the school record for wins and making their first-ever appearance in the Class C-1 semifinals before losing to eventual champion Wahoo.

There's a lot of excitement in Blue Devil camp again this year, as Wayne returns a lot of key players from last year's 9-3 season and start the year ranked in the top three in both the Lincoln and Omaha pre-season rankings, making them a contender for a state title this season.

Wayne made a transition from a passing-oriented attack to a more ball-control ground game that paid off for senior Reid Korth, who ran for 1,156 yards and 21 touchdowns, highlighted by a 181-yard, five-score game in a win over Boone Central/Newman Grove last year.

Korth is one of several offensive weapons coach Russ Plager will be able to utilize, along with senior Victor Kniesche, transfers Jaxon Mrsny (Pender) and Layne Evans (Wilber-Clatonia) and sophomore tight end Daniel Judd.

Wayne's offensive line will be solid this year, with Nolan Hunke, Mason Frevert, Brendan Swanson and all-state selection Mike Leatherdale back in the fold. They'll be in charge of protecting junior quarterback Tanner Walling, who steps into the starting position this year.

Defensively, all of those players mentioned will be battling for playing time along with returning letterwinners Colton Vovos, Reece Jaqua, James Dorsey, Koby Nelson, Alex Phelps, Brandon Bartos, Martin Carillo, Bo Armstrong and Dakota Spann. Yair Alcantara will return to the kicking position this season as well.

The Blue Devils will once again face some tough opposition, including the return of Norfolk Catholic to the schedule on Oct. 2 in Norfolk. Other district foes include Battle Creek, Boone Central/Newman Grove, O'Neill and a season-ending matchup with Pierce in Wayne on Oct. 23.

Wayne opens the season on the road the first two weeks, facing Logan View/Scribener-Snyder on Friday and West Point-Beemer next week. Their home opener is Sept. 11 against Columbus Lakeview.

Lady Trojans excited about volleyball season

First-year Wakefield volleyball coach Brittany Eisenmann said there is a lot of excitement in the Lady Trojan camp this season.

"This year we are starting another phase of Wakefield Volleyball, and it has lit a fire under our girls. We have strong athletes returning with several young competitors ready to jump in," she said.

Five starters are back from last year's 19-13 season, with seniors Abby Heimann, Hayden Ekberg (middle hitter) and Rachel Borg (outside hitter) leading the way.

Also back from last year are junior defensive specialist Aishah and sophomore Alex Arenas, who will come in at outside hitter.

The Lady Trojans will also look to returning letterwinners Olivia Donner and Makenna Decker for help at the net. Donner, a junior, will be a right side hitter while Decker, a sophomore, comes in at middle hitter.

Some of the freshmen expected to make some noise this year include Katie Borg (defensive specialist), Jordan Metzler (setter) and Dav-eigh Munter-McAfee (hitter).

"This year's team is full of competitors who will not quit and enjoy the embrace of a challenge. I look forward to seeing what these ladies accomplish throughout the season," Eisenmann added.

Wakefield starts the season next week at the Northeast Nebraska Shootout in Wisner.

Winside trio to represent in cross country

Winside has a small lineup for this year's cross country schedule, but coach James Plank said his team will be looking to improve this season.

"We have a small dedicated team this year that will be relying on our younger runners," he said. "Each of our runners have run great times in the past and look forward to being competitive this year."

Toby Heinemann is the lone senior on the Wildcat cross country team. He'll lead a threesome that includes junior Tyler Carlson and sophomore Dean Kruger.

Winside's first meet is Sept. 3 at the Niobrara-Verdigre Invitational.

Eagles have solid group back for playoff push

After a first-round loss in the state playoffs last year, the Allen Eagles will look to improve on last year's 6-3 record with a solid returning group of athletes.

Five starters are back on both sides of the ball, along with players who saw significant playing time, as the 22-man roster looks to make a push in the Class D-2 playoffs this season.

"We have the ability to be a highly competitive squad, but what we do with those opportunities will be up to the team to accomplish," coach Dave Uldrich said. "We are always a work in progress, even with the experience we bring back, and will need to get things accomplished in camp. Hopefully, we will jell quickly, play hard and smart, and have a very enjoyable season."

New co-op volleyball team set to make debut

Emerson-Hubbard and Allen volleyball players are joining forces this year to create a new co-op volleyball team, the Tri County Northeast Wolfpack.

Plans for a four-county, three-school co-op fell through at the last minute earlier this year, but school officials from Emerson-Hubbard and Allen came together to create a new co-op that will include all school sports and activities except for football.

This year's team is coached by Cheryl Greve, who coached the Wakefield-Allen co-op team the last two years and has been a longtime coach for Allen as well. She likes the look of what the team has brought to practice so far this season.

"This team has some work to in order to come together but they are working hard to get better everyday," she said.

Seven players with starting experience will lead the new co-op team, led by senior all-conference selections Carly Dickens and Ali Jackson. Dickens is a 5-foot-5 senior setter who will direct the offense, which will be led by Jackson, a 5-foot-7 middle hitter, and fellow all-conference nominee Jordyn Carr, a 5-foot-7 junior outside hitter.

Other players with starting experience from last year include 5-foot-8 junior middle hitter Brynn Schock, 5-foot-6 sophomore outside hitter Brianna Bousquet, 5-foot-7 junior middle hitter Jazmin Delatorre and sophomore libero Hex Ferusca.

Other players to look out for on this year's Wolfpack team include freshmen Rhyanne Mackling (5'7", right side), Brianna Novak (5'8", right side) and Ava Anderson (5'9", middle hitter).

The Wolfpack open Thursday at Omaha Nation and host Winnebago on Sept. 1 at Emerson-Hubbard High School. They will play three home matches in Emerson and three in Allen this season.

Bears maul Knights in season opener, 78-14

HOMER — Time flies when you're scoring points.

The LCC Bears racked up 30 of their 46 second-quarter points in the final three minutes of the first half, taking a commanding 62-7 halftime advantage on their way to a 78-14 win over Homer in the season opener for both teams Friday at Homer High School.

The Bears have turned to a run-oriented offense after using a high-scoring passing attack the previous few seasons, and it turns out their running game is just as explosive after they racked up more than 400 yards in total offense on their way to the easy win.

LCC's defense was impressive as well, forcing three first-half turnovers and scoring a pair of safeties that helped turn the game quickly into a one-sided affair.

The two teams traded scores in the early going. Haisch found the end zone on a short run to give LCC the early 8-0 lead, and Homer answered with a 60-yard scoring pass from Austin Baker to Jon Munoz to make it 8-7.

It was all LCC after that.

The Bears put up another score late in the opening period when Haisch scored on a five-yard run, and the second period turned into a feeding frenzy as the Bears scored on both sides of the line of scrimmage.

After a safety by the defense, Evan Schmitt scored on a quarterback sneak to make it 24-7, and Sutton Ehlers scored on a 15-yard run to make it 32-7 after Deagan Puppe caught the two-point conversion pass.

With just over three minutes to go in the half, Schmitt scored on another quarterback sneak, starting a surge that saw LCC score 32 points in the final 180 seconds of the first half. A second safety by the defense was followed by scoring runs of 22, 26 and 51 yards by Haisch, the final one coming with :02 left in the half to make it a 55-point halftime lead for the visitors.

Playing with the running clock in the second half, LCC would score two more times on a 12-yard run by Schmitt and a 26-yard scamper by Lucas Rasmussen that closed out the scoring to give the Bears the easy win.

Haisch finished the night with 183 yards on 15 attempts and Rasmussen had 74 yards on eight carries. Schmitt rushed seven tries for 36 yards and Ehlers and Nolan Ohlrich both rushed for 32 yards on seven carries.

Schmitt finished 4-of-8 passing for 62 yards, with Ehlers and Cael Hartung both catching two passes for 30 and 28 yards, respectively.

Defensively, Haisch had five solo tackles, Deagan Puppe had three solos and two assists and Austin Hall had two solos and three assists. Hartung had three tackles for losses, including both safeties.

The Bears will host Wisner-Pilger on Friday in their home debut at 7 p.m. at Haskell Field.

Blue Devil netters look for third straight trip to state

After two straight first-round exits in the state volleyball tournament, the Wayne High volleyball team is looking for a third straight trip and a deeper run this season.

Coach Traci Krusemark said that the four returning starters and some of the younger players will need to step up to make that hope a reality this year after a 26-9 campaign a year ago.

"We have had some success the last two years, so we are hoping to continue the trend," she said. "Some of the underclassmen will have to take over a bigger role this year because we graduated four seniors who all made major contributions to the team."

Leading the way will be seniors Lauren Pick and Emily Longe, both of whom have developed into solid middle hitters for the Blue Devils.

Pick, at 5-foot-11, set the school record for career kills as a junior and looks to add to that mark this year.

Longe, a 5-foot-10 middle hitter, developed into a go-to player in Krusemark's offense last season and had the winning kill that sent Wayne to state a year ago.

Also returning to the starting lineup are two juniors. Kiara Krusemark, a 5-foot-6 setter, led the team in assists last year and did a great job directing the offense. Sydney Redden, a 5-foot-5 outside hitter, is a solid player defensively as well as providing some key play at the net.

The other returning letterwinner for Wayne is junior Rubie Klausen, a 5-foot-8 outside hitter who will be called upon for more offensive support this season.

Wayne opens the season at home Thursday against Ponca and will be in the Northeast Nebraska Shootout next week in Wisner.

circle for the Wayne softballers, allowing 13 earned runs and 10 walks while striking out four.

On Saturday, the Blue Devils handed Ponca, Twin River and Highway 91 to claim top honors in their annual home tournament at the Summer Sports Complex.

In the opener, Dorey threw her first career no-hitter as the Blue Devils stopped Ponca in four innings, 10-0.

Wayne blew the game open in the second inning, scoring six runs, and rode the pitching of their junior hurler, who allowed just one walk while striking out nine to get the win.

Dorey helped her cause by going 2-for-3 with a double. McManigal and Brianna Nissen each had two RBI's in the win, and Sweetland and Miller both added hits.

In the semifinals, Wayne outlasted Twin River for a 4-2 win, taking the lead in the third and holding off the Titans in a good pitching battle.

Kniesche and Kruse both had doubles to lead Wayne's four-hit attack. Kruse's was a two-RBI shot to the gap in left center, and McManigal also added an RBI single. Dorey got the win, striking out eight and allowing three walks and three hits.

In the finals, Wayne got off to a quick start with three runs in the opening stanza on their way to a 6-2 win over Highway 91.

Wayne was aggressive on the basepaths in the first inning, as Haley Schroeder scored from third on an infield pop-up by Kruse. Nissen singled home Sweetland and O'Reilly stole home to highlight the three-run start for Wayne.

Dorey and Nissen both had two hits and Nissen had two RBI in the win. Dorey and O'Reilly both had doubles, and Kierah Haase picked up her first varsity base hit in the win. Dorey went the distance, striking out nine and allowing just two hits.

Wayne, 3-1, hosted O'Neill on Tuesday and plays at South Sioux City on Thursday.

Seniors Anthony Isom, Kobe Kumm, Reed Hingst, Steven Sullivan, Devin Hoelsing and Wyatt Verzani will lead the charge for the Eagles this season. Isom, Kumm and Sullivan all received postseason honors last year. Isom was the second-leading tackler and will anchor the defense. Kumm is in his third year as the starting quarterback and will also see time at defensive back. Sullivan emerged as a solid lineman last year and will be one of the leaders up front on both sides as well.

Hingst will lead the defensive secondary and may see time at quarterback as well. Hoelsing has been solid at nose tackle and will lead the defensive line, and Verzani will see time at cornerback and on special teams.

Junior letterwinners Josh Olesen, Ty Krommenhoek, Ryan Anderson, Nathan Oswald, Kaleb Kumm and Gabe Reinert are back this season. Olesen was an all-district selection on the offensive line, Krommenhoek and Oswald will see time as ends and at cornerback, Anderson will see time at running back, Isom will be looked upon for help on defense and Reinert could add depth at running back as well.

Lady Bears look to make next step to state

Last year, the LCC Lady Bears came up one match short of a trip to the state tournament.

This year, the Lady Bears look to improve on last year's 17-13 record and take that next step in making it to the state tournament this season.

The Lady Bears return six players from last year's district runner-up squad, led by all-conference and all-state honorable mention selections Erica Wolfram and Kinsey Hall.

Wolfram, a 5-foot-9 senior, will lead the Lady Bears from the outside hitter position, while Hall, a 6-foot junior, will direct the offense from the setter position this season.

Also returning are seniors Erica Benson (5-11, middle blocker) and Kaylee Donner (5-4, defense), junior Jordynn Urwiler (5-3, libero) and sophomore Berniece McCorkindale (5-10, outside/right hitter).

Players who could step up for the Lady Bears this year include junior Cassie Granquist (5-3, defense), and sophomores Haley Christensen (5-8, setter), Mollie Schutte (5-10, middle blocker) and Paige Cook (5-3, defense).

The Lady Bears open the season with a home quadrangular Saturday.

Cross country looking to run their way to state

Both Wayne High cross country coaches are excited about what their teams will be capable of doing this season as they get ready to run in next week's Boone Central Invitational.

Laura Hasemann leads a young girls team after finishing fourth in the state as a freshman last year. She and fellow sophomore Erin Avery will lead a young team on to the field.

"We have some young talent this year," girls coach Courtney Maas said. "Many of these girls have trained throughout the summer with high hopes for a successful season."

Also back from last year are junior Fatima Lucas-Garcia, senior Andi Belt and junior Maria Vergara. They are joined by freshmen Frantdie Barner, Reagan Maas and Maya Spahr.

On the boys side, four starters lead the way for coach Terry Beair's group.

"We are made up of a very diverse group of young men," he said. "Many have been putting in a lot of miles on their own and we are excited to see how they respond to the many changes over this last year."

Seniors Christopher Woerdemann, Sean Aschoff and Treyton Blecke will lead the Wayne boys, along with sophomore Easton McCraney, as returning starters.

Other runners who could make an impact include seniors Liam Spieker and Nate Kufner, juniors Carter Hasemann and Kaden Hopkins, and sophomores Easton Blecke, Calvin Starzl, Braydn McCorkindale and Evan Allemann.

Freshman who could also make an impact include Jesus Zavala III, Mason Ley, Alex Frank and Parker Kesting.

Winside volleyball features good returning group

Last year, the Winside volleyball team came up a match short of reaching the state tournament.

They have plenty of firepower back from last year's 22-8 district runner-up season, and coach Teresa Watters feels good about her team's chances for success this season.

"The team is excited to be back in the gym after such a long break. We have a strong and experienced core group returning this season, but we are adding a strong underclassmen group to the mix," she said. "With our finish at district finals last season not turning out the way that we had planned, this team has a great fire and desire to make this a very memorable season."

Five seniors lead the Winside lineup this season, including setter Brooklyn Behmer, middle/outside hitter Hope Cummins, middle hitter Kati Topp, hitter Jaden Rastede and right side hitter Jackie Escalante. Also back in the lineup this season are juniors McKenna Russell (setter) and Ashelyn Abler (defense).

The Lady Wildcats will be one of the top teams in the Lewis & Clark Conference this season, and Watters is hopeful the team can take that next step and get back to the state tournament.

Winside opens the season at home against Plainview on Thursday.

Talented Trojans look to another big season

The Wakefield football team is loaded with returning talent and should make a run at an outstanding season this fall.

Led by returning all-state running back Justin Erb, the Trojans have an explosive offense that will rely on a young, talented offensive line, coach Mike Hassler said.

"We have to rebuild our offensive line, and that starts with our seniors, Ryland Weaver, Couy Johnson, Mitchell Fischer and Dillon Borg," he said. "Justin Erb broke our school eight-man single-game and season rushing records last year, and with he and quarterback Blake Brown back, we have a chance to keep our streak of six-win seasons alive."

Erb set a single-game record last year with 409 yards against then-No. 1 Lutheran High Northeast, on his way to a season where he ran for 1,510 yards and 32 scores in just eight games.

Brown was an all-district quarterback in his first season under center and is back to direct the offense this year.

Defensively, the Trojans have a ton of talent back with Weaver, Nick Arenas and senior Brandon Avila helping to lead the way. Juniors Gabe Lamprecht and Logan Bokemper look to fill in at linebacker and sophomore Cade Johnson will be one of the players to watch in the secondary.

Wakefield gets the season started Friday at Eaton Field against Guardian Angels Central Catholic.

LCC cross country returns six

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge cross country team returns six boys from last year's team.

Coach Alex Glaubius' Bears will be led by three senior and three junior runners with experience from last year, including seniors Ethan Cross, Trace Naeve and Matt Nelson, along with juniors Trevin Boysen, Branden Meyer and Dillon Olson.

Several newcomers will battle for a spot in the varsity lineup, including junior Devin Eisenhauer, sophomore Elijah Griffith and freshmen Shawn Griffith Jr., Kolby Hansen and Tyler Olson.

Two girls will compete for LCC this season — freshmen Gabbie Koch and Katie Rose.

The Bears debut on Thursday at the Hartington-Newcastle Invitational.

Northeast to offer intersession between upcoming fall, spring semesters

The COVID-19 pandemic has already altered how the fall semester at Northeast Community College will operate this year. Now, in an effort to allow students an opportunity to gain additional credits between the fall and spring semesters, the College will offer a special session of optional classes in December and January.

Leah Barrett, president, said an intersession is another chance for Northeast to assist students to stay on pace to graduate.

"There will be a good diversity of classes that will be offered to students during that time should they choose to enroll in these courses,"

BEEMER — Wayne High senior Natalie Bentjen posted a top-10 finish and the LCC Lady Bears took home runner-up honors in the team race at Friday's West Point-Beemer Invitational.

Playing at Indian Hills Golf Club, the Lady Bears had four individual medalists and finished with a 410, placing three shots behind the host Cadets in the 12-team race.

Jadyn Kinkaid was the runner-up in the individual competition, finishing with a 94. Sarah Karnes was fourth with a 101, Sidney Groene placed 10th with a 107 and Hope Swanson shot 108 for 11th place. Delaney Hall rounded out the LCC effort with a 122.

Wayne brought two golfers to the tournament Friday and one came home with a medal. Bentjen finished seventh overall with a 103, while teammate Riley Haschke shot a 131.

Winside looking to be more competitive on gridiron

After a tough 0-8 campaign a year ago, the Winside football team is looking to be an improved outfit this season.

Only two seniors were lost from a year ago, so the seven returning starters will be called upon to lead the team to the winner's column this season, coach Mike Naeve said.

"We have a positive outlook for this season," he said. "We've been focusing on being more competitive this year, and with losing only two seniors from last year I think we have a chance."

Back in the Wildcat lineup this year are seniors Dominic Reed (tight end, defensive end) and Cody North (offensive/defensive line). They are joined by juniors Cayden Ellis (running back, defensive back), Gabe Escalante (running back, defensive back), Art Escalante (quarterback, linebacker) and Jacoby Mann (running back, defensive back), and sophomore Mason Topp (lineman, linebacker).

Other players expected to make an impact this year include juniors Jacob Paulsen (running back, defensive back) and Maddox Magwire (running back, defensive back).

Winside kicks off the season on Friday at home against Walthill.

NOXIOUS WEED CONTROL

The control of noxious weeds on your property is required by law. Timing in control of your noxious weeds is important. Spraying in the spring is a good practice. You should spray in the spring when the noxious weeds are in the rosette stage, just before flowering. One of the best practices in controlling your noxious weeds is spraying in the fall around the time of the first frost. The noxious weeds are taking in moisture for the winter, at this time you will get the best kill on your noxious weeds. Hopefully these ideas will help you in controlling your noxious weeds. If you have any questions, you can contact me for help any time.

Barrett said. "This is also an opportunity to ensure that students who want to transfer as soon as they complete with Northeast can do so with 60 credits in two-years rather than completing in multiple years."

Northeast Community College moved up the beginning of the fall 2020 semester to Monday, August 17, in order to end classes on Wednesday, November 25, the day before Thanksgiving. Northeast will hold two, seven-week sessions from August-November with no off time for Labor Day and fall break in October has been canceled. The adjusted schedule is designed to reduce the risk of any health hazards associated with COVID-19 due to travel.

Barrett said the intersession is designed as a short-term solution to deal with an uncharted time in planning the academic calendar. "This is not business as usual, but it is an opportunity to give our students additional choices in pursuing their education at Northeast."

The intersession will run from November 30-January 15, with a break for the holidays in late December and early January. Registration will begin in October.

Barrett assigned a task force, led by Michele Gill, interim vice president of educational services, to study the prospect of offering the optional session. The group determined a six-week session will work best for both faculty and students who choose to participate.

"The intersession will provide an opportunity for our faculty and students to have a better course experience," Gill said. "This will allow them to be able to complete general education competencies in a timely fashion which would be more amenable to faculty who would choose to teach during that time."

The intersession means a one-week adjustment in the start and end dates of the spring semester, which are now January 25-May 19, 2021. The modification still allows for a 16-week spring semester at Northeast with built in winter and spring breaks in March and April.

In addition, the spring commencement ceremony will move to Saturday, May 22.

Barrett is pleased with faculty members who have expressed an interest to teach during the intersession as well as the variety of courses that will be offered. She said administration has listened to faculty on how to provide the best experience possible for Northeast students.

"We know there are increasingly levels of uncertainty during this pandemic and the intersession is another way that we can provide the best experience possible for our students."

The Prairie Doc Plan ahead for fall mold allergies

Summer and fall are prime seasons for mold allergy problems. Mold spores are smaller than pollen grains allowing them to not only affect the eyes and nose of allergy sufferers, but they can infiltrate the bronchial tubes and cause asthma. If the allergy or asthma is combined with participation in sports or a rhinovirus cold at the start of school, it could result in asthma attack.

Sudden asphyxic asthma is a condition during peak mold time in which younger patients with alternaria mold allergy can go from breathing well on their own to severe asthma on a ventilator in an afternoon. There are methods to be prepared and take steps to avert this situation.

Most mold spores originate outdoors. Staying indoors and keeping the house, office, and car closed is the main avoidance method. The air conditioner with its filter and dehumidification can help a bit more. Additional filters receive some anecdotal praise but are rarely proven clinically helpful.

We cannot stay indoors all the time. For most sufferers, topical corticosteroid nasal or inhaler preventative (controller) sprays must be started prior to the season. And always keep rescue antihistamines and bronchodilators on hand. Oral or injections of steroids may be needed. Allergy shots (immunotherapy) can be immensely helpful if avoidances and medications do not work well. Shots are the only treatment that makes the patient less allergic to the mold and thus reduce symptoms. Unfortunately, under the tongue immunotherapy has not been highly effective for mold allergy. More recently, new medications call biologics have arrived on the market and may be necessary.

Mold is a major contributor to fall allergy and asthma suffering, but the worst reactions are typically brought on by a combination of triggers. Getting your flu shot can make the flares of allergic asthma far less likely to happen. Washing your hands helps prevent colds and other infections which can exacerbate the problem. And, using your albuterol before sports activity can help.

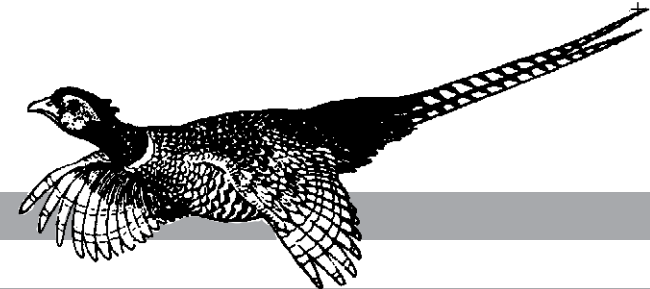

If you suspect you may have a mold allergy, talk to your primary care physician first. Mold allergies can best be diagnosed with a thorough patient history and physical examination. If allergies are suspected, your doctor can refer you to an allergy specialist who can confirm the diagnosis with allergy testing. If confirmed, you and your doctor can work together to create an allergy and asthma action plan.

In the end, much of the responsibility for staying well is up to each of us. The best way to manage mold allergies is to be proactive, ask for help, then follow the prescribed action plan.

The Experiential Learning Process explained School Lunches

It is important that youth are aware of the learning that takes place as they are involved in experiences. As they reflect on these experiences, they can identify what was most important and how that knowledge can be applied to other life situations. Through 4-H youth programs, adult volunteers can help youth develop these reflective skills. The Experiential Learning Model provides five steps to assist with this process.

The adult volunteer can begin by:

- Setting aside enough time for reflecting on the experience.
- Asking the right questions.
- Planning developmentally appropriate experiences that lead to reflection.
- Listening carefully.

- Supporting each youth's unique learning.

Step 1: Experience: The hands-on action step.

- Youth do their project before they are shown or told how to do it.
- As leaders, "do you sit on your hands enough?" Do not rob youth of their discoveries.
- Youth experiment with new ideas, interests, projects, etc.

Step 2: Share: Describe what was done.

Questions to ask youth:

- What kinds of hopes and dreams did you have for your 4-H experience this year?
- What did you do?
- Where did you go?
- What was your goal for this project when you began?

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

- Tell me about your most favorite things about working on your project.
- Tell about your least favorite things about working on your project.
- What did you learn while doing this project?
- What did you learn about yourself?
- How did you share your project with others?

Step 3: Process: Identify common themes and discover, what was most important, (the life skill), about project work.

Questions to ask youth:

- What did you learn about yourself by doing this project?
- How did you make your decision? What steps did you take?
- What did you learn about making decisions?
- What were some of the common themes or thoughts you had?
- What problems came up over and over? How did you handle them?
- Why was this an important/useful thing to do?
- What suggestions would you have for someone else who wanted to do a similar project?
- What made this a good project?
- What life skill(s) were you developing through your project?
- Why is the life skill you practiced important?
- What did you learn through sharing with others?

Step 4: Generalize: So what? Identify how to use what's been learned in real life.

These questions transition the experience or "product" itself to the skill being practiced in "real" life. They explore the nature of the life skill, reflect on how the life skill has been developed through their work and set the stage for application of the life skill in new situations.

Questions to ask youth:

- What key points have you learned?
- What similar experience have you had throughout this project/activity?
- Where have you faced similar challenges in your life?

- How is this life skill important to you?
- Where might this situation occur in the future?
- What did you learn about your decision-making skills?
- What did you learn about your own skill in communicating with others?
- What are some ways you like to learn?
- What advice would you give to someone who wants to learn about this life skill?

Step 5: Apply: What's next?

These are the questions we've been building towards: You can help youth show that they have gained new knowledge and practiced the life skills learned rather than solely focusing on the subject matter or product development skills.

Questions to ask youth:

- What did the project mean to your everyday life?
- What have you learned about yourself? Others?
- What principles or guidelines can you use in real-life situations?
- What other situations like this have you experienced before?
- How can you use these skills in different situations?
- In what ways do people help each other learn new things?
- What are some ways you can learn new things?
- Why was this project important to your life?
- What are qualities that you think are important in a leader?
- If someone helped or mentored you in this project, what would you tell them you learned and the difference it has made in your life?

Proverbs 18:4 "A person's words can be life-giving water; words of true wisdom are as refreshing as a bubbling brook."

Our words matter. Words are so powerful in so many ways in our lives and the lives of the people around us. In fact the book of James tells us that the tongue (the things we say) has incredible power. He says that it is like the bit in the mouth of a horse or the rudder on a ship that guides it where to go. He says it's like a small spark that can start an entire forest on fire. It can be used for good and it can be used for bad. Both blessing and cursing he says can come from the same mouth.

Our words matter. And yet, often times, it's our words that we put the least amount of thought into. We often, greatly underestimate the power of our word, and we often don't use the power of a good word to encourage others, and bring the hope of Christ to others.

I have a friend named Robyn in my life who writes hundreds of cards a year that she sends to people daily just to encourage them, and to let them know they are loved and prayed for. They usually include a specific encouragement, something she's thankful about the people she is sending them to, a Scripture, and

By Justin Raulston
Christian Student Fellowship

a promise to pray for them. I'm lucky enough to be the recipient of one of those cards usually 2-3 times a year, and the amazing thing is that even when Robyn doesn't know what's going on in my life it seems like her cards always show up at times when I'm most discouraged, and they always speak to me the exact words that I needed to hear at that time. Our words have great power. Our words matter. During this season of life who are the people in your life that need a word of encouragement? Who is someone in your life who could use a Scripture that encourages them, or a phone call just to say you're thinking about them? Maybe it's a text that simply says, I'm thankful for you, and is there any way I can be praying for you. There are people in our community and in your life right now who desperately are needing a word of encouragement, who need reminded that they matter, and that we support, love and are thankful for them.

This week, would you join me in praying for God to lay on our hearts someone who needs a word of encouragement, and would you then send a word of encouragement their way?

Proverbs 12:25 "Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad."

The Wayne library used the funds for electronic access to materials and books in the children's room, according to Heather Headley. Electronic circulations continue to increase as portable devices become more prevalent. The commissioners thanked the Librarians for their service.

County Attorney Amy Miller presented her Juvenile Diversion Fee Schedule to the board. If the County Attorney offers the diversion program to an individual, the coordinator determines the rules and regs for their probationary period, and they must pay their fees as per the schedule. A motion was made by Rabe and seconded by Sievers to approve Resolution No. 20-17. Roll call vote: Rabe, Sievers, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

After meeting with Wayne City IT Tech, Brian Kesting, the courthouse officials proposed the county apply for a gov domain and use it for the web page and e-mail accounts. They felt it would be best for security and credibility purposes. The annual domain fee is $400. The e-mail account fee is unknown until a plan has been chosen. A motion was made by Sievers and seconded by Rabe to apply for "waynecountyne.gov" as a domain. Roll call vote: Sievers, Rabe, Burbach – aye; motion carried.

Highway Superintendent Mark Casey reported:

- Bid specs are being drawn up for two motor-graders

Doug Elting of Berggren & Associates told the commissioners they have started putting trim on the west oriole and would be putting the wood on next. There are issues with the oriole being straight and true, but that would be resolved yet that morning. They are checking in to a couple of roof leaks. Storage of leftover quick-lime, sand, and shingles was discussed. Re-roofing of the north and west lean-to's was discussed.

A budget work session was held. The proposed tax dollar request was about $350,000 higher than last year. A cut of $200,000 from County Road District 4 was made. At this point, the tax rate would increase .006 from last year, which is about $150,000. A discussion ensued as to whether the $50,000 increase in County Road Districts 1, 2 & 3 budgets was necessary. A motion was made by Burbach and seconded by Sievers to forward the budget with a tax rate increase of .006 to the public hearing. Roll call vote: Burbach, Sievers – Aye, Rabe – Nay; Motion carried. Wayne County youth take part in 2020 State 4-H Horse Show

The Fonner Park State 4-H Horse Show is the pinnacle showing experience for members of the Nebraska 4-H horse program. The show includes a multitude of classes and contests for youth and their horses.

Due to concerns regarding the spread of COVID-19, Nebraska 4-H decided to cancel the in-person State 4-H Horse Show. Instead, a modified, virtual show was hosted. This allowed youth to compete from home by recording videos for each class they entered. Videos were judged and the youth was awarded a ribbon placing. Exhibitors followed specific video and audio guidelines.

Thank you for remembering Mike

What was I saying a week ago about it seeming like fall?? This heat wave is hotter than it's been all summer. The corn does NOT need this.

When a lot of things are packed into a few days, the mind goes over and over the events for a long time after; and so it's been since Mike's funeral.

When Ray Wilke first graduated from college, he came home to H-dar to run a dairy and farm with his dad. His wife, Lois, began working at the hospital in Norfolk right after I did.

Of course, since then, he's become a pastor and has founded an organization that serves needy people in America and across the world. We consider him a special friend, and for that reason, asked him to officiate at the graveside service.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

He said one day at the dairy, a cow fell into the manure tank! With a lot of effort, and the loader tractor, she was hauled out and washed off. That night, she gave more milk than she ever had, and the hired man commented that perhaps they should put all the cows through the manure tank?

He went on to say that after re-reading Mike's book, and noting the things he was able to accomplish after having polio, that perhaps we all should have polio!!

Of course, that brought a few smiles, and a few head nods. When you note the things he did do, it is rather astonishing. But we who know him best know that much of that was due to pure, old fashioned German stubbornness. Plus, I believe he learned patience when recovering from the polio. Both served him well.

I've heard so many kind comments about him. He would be amazed. And so many of you have taken the time to write those things down and send them. There have been names from Farm Bureau, 4-H calf shows, church choir, the Northeast Station at Concord, and many more. It all means so much, and I thank you.

The world is so much smaller. We had emails from Dubai and New Zealand, a call from London via Skype, and cards from all over the US. We are humbled, and we thank you, all of you. May God bless.

Tips offered for terminating a verbal farmland lease

By Jessica Groskopf, Extension Educator for Agricultural Economics, J. David Aiken, Extension Water and Agricultural Law Specialist and Allan Vynnalek, Extension Educator, Farm/Ranch Succession and Transition

Some farm leases are not written but are verbal or "handshake" agreements. Because nothing is in writing, the parties may have different recollections of their agreement, making lease disputes more difficult to resolve.

The most common legal issue associated with verbal farm leases is how a lease may legally be terminated. For both year-to-year leases and holdover leases, six months advance notice must be given to legally terminate the lease. However, the lease date (the date from which the six months is counted) is different. In contrast, the termination of a written lease is determined by the terms of the written lease.

N

of the lease, or no later than Sept. 1. This rule applies regardless of the crop planted. Those with winter wheat should consider providing notice before it is time to prepare wheat ground for planting.

For example, for the lease year beginning March 1, 2020, and ending Feb. 28, 2021, notice from the landlord that the lease will be terminated would have to be given to (and received by) the tenant no later than Sept. 1, 2020. The lease would then expire Feb. 28, 2021, with the new tenant (or new buyer) able to take over the lease March 1, 2021. If, however, the notice to quit were given (or received) after Sept. 1, 2020, the existing tenant would have the lease until Feb. 28, 2022.

It is recommended that the farmland lease be terminated by Registered Mail. This means that the person receiving the letter signs for it, providing evidence that the termination notice was received.

Pasture Lease Terminations

Handshake or verbal leases are different for pastures. The typical pasture lease is for the five-month grazing season. The lease is only in effect for that time, so the lease is terminated at the end of the grazing season; however, different lease length arrangements can be made in a written lease, and that would be followed if in effect.

Importance of Good Communication

Regardless of the type of lease — written, verbal or even multiple year — the landlord should have clear communication with the tenant. By sending a termination notice before Sept. 1, even for written leases, you can avoid any miscommunication or pitfalls.

Written Leases

In all instances, written leases would be preferred over oral or "handshake" leases. Sample leases are available in the Document Library at aglease101.org and can help both parties start thinking about the appropriate lease conditions for their situation. The site was developed by University of Nebraska-Lincoln extension specialists in the north central region.

Feed Management for Horses

Have you ever had a horse quit eating when you moved them from pasture to a dry lot with hay, or more commonly when you switched grain? Do you then implement the "when he gets hungry he will eat" theory? If so, this blog entry is for you. Read on to learn some management tools to help keep your horse eating when you change your feeding program.

When a horse can wander around freely to find forage, grazing throughout the day, his digestive tract is working in its natural environment. Unfortunately, this situation is not always easily provided to them due to weather, training or lack of space. Therefore, good feed management practices are key to helping the horse stay healthy and comfortable.

Below is a list of feed management rules to follow when changing a horse's diet.

- When possible, feed small meals often. The digestive tract works more efficiently and is less likely to have disturbances like colic when multiple meals are utilized. Strive for at least 2 separate feedings per day (morning and night).
- Feed less than 0.5 percent of the horse's body weight in grain for each meal (5 lbs. or less for a 1000 lb. horse.) Feeding lower amounts of grain per meal will help reduce the risk of soluble carbohydrate overload in the hindgut, which can lead to many health problems. Note that if you are feeding a lower carb feed, such as Impact Professional Performance by Purina, you can safely feed more grain at one time.
- Forage should be fed in quantities greater than 0.1 percent of the horse's body weight (10 lbs. per 1000 lb. horse) and often 15-20 lbs. of hay per day is not uncommon. Forage is an important fiber source, which is necessary to keep the microbial population in the gut functioning properly.
- Changes to a feeding program should be made gradually. Sudden changes can cause a pH shift which will affect the microbes in the gut and cause digestive troubles. If a change needs to be made make small transitional changes over 3-4 days. If making large changes, transition to the new diet over a few weeks' time.
- It is important to use feed designed and labeled only for horses. All stock feeds are not designed to meet a horse's daily nutrient needs and are often made in mills that use substances toxic to horses. Play it safe and choose horse specific products from an ionophore free mill.
- Never use moldy feed or hay. Unlike other livestock species, horses are more sensitive to mold and can develop breathing problems and allergies.

Use these rules when making diet changes for a horse to minimize the risk of digestive upset. If you are concerned about switching your horse's feed contact your local CVA feed specialist for more information.

Terminating Verbal Leases

For year-to-year verbal leases, the Nebraska Supreme Court has ruled that the lease year begins March 1. Notice to a tenant to vacate under a verbal or handshake year-to-year lease (legally referred to as a "notice to quit") must be given six months in advance of the end

Farmers, ranchers and landowners are doing their part to improve water quality

By Craig Derickson, State Conservationist for NRCS in Nebraska

Drive across Nebraska or fly overhead and you will see evidence of USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service's (NRCS) work on the state's landscape. Conservation practices like streamside buffers, restored wetlands, and fields planted with protective cover are just a few visible signs of the agency's work in our state.

NRCS conservationists work with farmers and ranchers wanting to install conservation practices. NRCS offers assistance to install more than 170 practices to improve soil health, water quality, air quality and wildlife habitat. When planning these practices, NRCS staff works to help producers maintain or improve agricultural productivity.

As the nation celebrates National Water Quality Month in August, NRCS in Nebraska salutes the conservation-minded farmers and ranchers who do their part daily to improve water quality and other natural resources on their operations. Without their efforts we wouldn't have clean, safe water for drinking, recreation and other purposes.

Agriculture can and does play a critical role in improving water quality and other natural resources in our state. Because 97 percent of the land is privately owned in Nebraska, considerable water quality and other natural resource improvements will be achieved by farmers, ranchers, and private landowners as they make conservation decisions every day.

For instance, the Shell Creek Watershed Improvement Group is made up of landowners and farmers who led a grassroots effort to improve water quality. They worked with NRCS and a variety of partners on the local, state and federal level including, the Lower Platte North Natural Resources District, Nebraska Department of Environment and Energy, local high school science classes, and others to monitor the health of the watershed and promote water quality practices.

Through this collaborative effort, over 240 landowners have installed more than 340 conservation practices, including no-till farming, filter and buffer strips and cover crops. As a result of these practices, Atrazine levels have significantly declined in Shell Creek, resulting in the creek being removed from the EPA's list of "impaired waterways."

This is just one example of how our success in improving water quality in Nebraska rests with private landowners, and I am confident they will continue to do their part.

But we invite more producers to include conservation as part of their operation. Farmers and ranchers who are interested in learning how to integrate conservation into their operation, can visit USDA's farmers.gov website for more information about NRCS conservation opportunities and assistance.
