The PathO<sub>3</sub>Gen Solutions UVZone shoe sanitizing station uses an exclusive and multi-patented combination of Ozone + UVC light. Usually placed at entrances and/or exits, it creates a disinfection perimeter by eliminating germs carried on shoes and floors. It has been proven to be 110-times more effective than UVC light alone in eliminating common disease causing microorganisms, and is more than 24-times more effective at eliminating coronavirus 229E, the surrogate standard for testing efficacy against SARS-

The UVZone eliminates up to 99.999 percent of dangerous germs including MRSA, C. diff, E. coli, Candida Auris, Staphylococcus Aureus, Klebsiella Pneumoniae; and leaves zero coronavirus residue on footwear in eight seconds.

"The COVID-19 pandemic has raised everyone's awareness of the importance of handwashing and disinfection of surfaces. Floor contamination, however, is something that the average person probably doesn't spend too much time thinking about, and research has shown that viral or bacterial material on a single spot on the floor rapidly spreads throughout an entire building," Providence Medical Center COO Kris Giese said. "PMC is adding the PathO3Gen Solutions UV-Zone shoe sanitizing stations at each entrance that will completely decontaminate shoes, eliminating both viruses and bacteria, within eight seconds just by standing on them. The unique combination of Ozone + UVC is more effective than UV alone. By installing the UV-Zone patients and staff can be assured that we are keeping external microorganisms out of the interior of the hospital. Visitors and outpatients can also feel confident that they can remove any microorganisms they may have picked up within the facility prior to leaving the building. ## The pleasures of fall gardening discussed

By Karma Larsen, Nebraska Statewide Arboretum

It's fall. Some of us are tired of weeding, watering, managing. The growth we impatiently waited for in spring has by now gone rampant. As one gardener put it, "the autumn garden is a machete garden."

Even on the best of days, gardeners aren't likely to brag. Have you ever had anyone say they're good at gardening? Or anything even similar to that? They might invite you to stop by because their lilies are in full bloom or to see all the butterflies on their asters. But when you do stop by, they're more likely to apologize for the bare spot they haven't gotten filled, or the weeds, or the plants that are flopping or...

For as much pleasure as we get from our yards, we tend to focus on failures rather than successes and act as if it's a pass/fail activity (and yes, we failed).

But at its heart, and within our imaginations, gardening is something else entirely.

- It's a hobby, passion and impulse that simply can't be ignored.
- It absorbs our mind and energy enough to help us lay aside the day's worries.
- · It's an opportunity to "look closely, look often," in the words of prairie ecologist J.E. Weaver.
- · It aligns us with the seasons and, even more immediately, with the changes that take place hour by hour, day by day.
- It's a way to beautify our homes and neighborhoods, and ultimately a gift to friends, family, neighbors
- and passersby. Gardens are a chance to witness growth and change. Sometimes those changes take place so quickly we miss them. Other times it's what Mac Griswold refers to as "the slowest of the performing arts.'

- It teaches us patience and deferred gratification. There is no hurrying a plant.
- Gardening is not a career ladder we climb for the sake of success. There's no assurance of success (what is gardening success anyway?) and we might be regularly humiliated by the results, but there's no stopping us.
- Through it, we can grow our own herbs, nuts, vegetables, fruits. You can't get more local than your own backyard.
- · One of its pleasures is bringing the beauty of the natural world closer in both as we get on our hands and knees in the garden and as we bring in cuttings, bouquets and other treasures.
- It keeps us active (possibly sore, but active) and no gym fees are required.
- It's an opportunity to connect with kids, neighbors, grandparents-away from phones, screens and busyness. It's a chance to "be there now" with them, engrossed in the fragrance, feel, sound, colors and sometimes even taste of the natural world that's immediately around us.

We may be exhausted and frustrated by our gardens in late summer and early fall, but as the weather cools and the threat of cold weather threatens to push us indoors, it's time to remember what we love about gardening and enjoy

Wayne State College students pledge to walk, not drive

Wayne State College students are pledging to walk or bike to school and back home on Thursday, Oct. 8. This will be the day after the National Walk to School Day. Students, faculty, and staff that walk are asked to maintain a socially safe distance from one as part of our campus campaign to keep one and all safe from

WSC service-learning students in Business Ethics have joined forces to help reduce the usage of motor vehicles and in the community of Wayne, America. The students are exploring different ways to spread the word about the differences we can make by walking or biking instead of driving a motor vehicle. According to a study done by the

As dry conditions persist, firefighters throughout the area are being Pacific Institute, walking one and a half miles a day instead of driving that distance produces only a quarter of the amount of greenhouse gas that driving would create. The CDC, or Center for Disease Control, reports that the more vehicles being driven is related to higher asthma rates, as well as higher auto-accidents and deaths. Finally, walking relates to lower risks of problematic diseases such as heart disease, stroke, and glau-

Obviously, walking is not feasible for everyone. Many people have long distances they need to drive to get to work or school, as well as many careers involve driving to transport goods. Finding ways to avoid or even minimize the time that a vehicle is running can benefit the planet and the community by promoting a better air quality, lower traffic related instances, and a healthier society.

The students will be organizing a "Trash Dash" for any commuters that would like to still take part of this event but are unable to walk to school. Anyone is welcome and can meet on the west side of Gardner Hall at 2 p.m. on Thursday Oct. 8. Social distancing will be enforced, and masks should be worn.

Community members and businesses are encouraged to take the pledge online using the survey. If community members would like more information about the pledge drive, they are encouraged to contact one of the groups involved You can find the online pledge or reach the WSC Green Team on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.

Blue Devils look to be top seed for subdistrict

By MICHAEL CARNES For The Herald

Being the defending Class Wayne High softball team are doing their best to defend the crown.

The Blue Devils locked down the top seed for subdistrict play next week after a key win over subdistrict foe NEN and a 2-1 effort at the Adams Central Invitational over the weekend.

But it wasn't easy.

NEN tagged Kendall Dorey for three early runs, then came from behind to take the lead before the Blue Devils were able to bounce back in the bottom of the seventh to post a 6-5 thriller in front of a reporter-estimated 100 people at the Summer Sports Complex. "I knew it was going to be a good game," coach Rob Sweetland said. "Just knowing how we played them in the summer and how many seniors they have, I knew we would have to earn it."

Wayne trailed 3-0 in the third when they posted their first come-

With one out in the inning, Victoria Kniesche slapped a line drive to center that scored Nicole Fertig, who was running for Logan Miller, to make it 3-1.

Dorey wasted no time tying the game, taking the first pitch for a ride well over the center field fence to tie the game, and Wayne made it 4-3 when Taytum Sweetland doubled home Brooklyn Kruse for the go-ahead run.

NEN tied the game in the sixth and scored another run in the seventh to take the lead, but Wayne had the last at bat and made it

Miller walked and Fertig advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt by Kierah Haase. With two B champion isn't easy, but the out, Dorey was intentionally walked and Kruse followed with an RBI single, scoring Fertig. That brought up Hope O'Reilly, who took a 1-1 pitch hard to the right side, and the single scored Dorey with the winning run.

It was a hard-fought win for Wayne, as NEN's defense was outstanding, turning four double plays and a pickoff at second base.

"We knew they'd have that and we have to do better job watching the ball," Sweetland said. "We had a couple hard-hit balls they got double plays on and were able to come back and got those four runs It was well played both ways."

Wayne followed Thursday's win with a runner-up finish in the Adams Central Invite, shutting out Polk County (12-0) and dominating Hastings St. Cecilia (14-2) before falling to Kearney Catholic (10-2) in the championship game.

Kruse highlighted the win over Polk County with a game-ending two-run homer. Kniesche had two hits and four RBI's and Brianna Nissen drove in two runs in the win. Dorey threw a perfect game, striking out five and allowing no hits and no walks.

In the win over St. Cecilia, Dorey had three hits and two RBI's, O'Reilly had two hits and two RBI's and Sweetland, Miller and Haase each had two hits. Kruse scored three times and Kniesche, O'Reilly , Haase and Schroeder each scored twice. Dorey scattered two hits and four walks and struck out four.

Pender responded minutes later on a five-yard run by Braxton Volk to take a 7-6 at the end of the first period, but Allen's defense remained very solid, keeping the Pendragons off the scoreboard the rest of the half.

Shooters 4-H Club competed in the 44th annual Nebraska Youth Small Bore Silhouette Invitational held at Pressey Wildlife Management area south of Broken Bow on Sept 26.

Unique weather conditions greeted around 70 youth shooters from across the state for the longest running youth shooting competition in Nebraska. This event is sponsored by the

Nebraskans deserve better

Joni Albrecht does nothing for the people of her legislative district. She seems content to rubber-stamp the policies of Governor Ricketts while doing next to nothing to serve her constituents in any meaningful capacity.

Recently, Albrecht voted NO to another senator's request to suspend the rules so he could introduce a bill to address protections for packing plant workers. This bill would protect thousands of her constituents. In the pace of a pandemic, health care crisis and historic unrest, the only thing the people of LD 17 can be certain of is that Joni Albrecht is missing-in-action.

Nebraskans deserve better than political partisans who put priorities of their benefactors above the needs of their constituents. Joni Albrecht is not in politics to lead, serve or govern, but to fill a seat and be an unquestioning loyalist for the governor, who notoriously hates it when members of his own party have their own opinions or express independent thought.

on principles and faithfully represents their constituents. Sheryl Lindau is that person. She will serve LD 17 with honesty, purpose and conviction.

She has the experience, intellect and compassion to serve Nebraska well

We deserve a state senator who is committed to public service, stands

Legislative Update

Fall harvest hits District 17

I want to wish everyone a safe and bountiful harvest! With the change in weather also comes a change in traffic for school buses, it is important for drivers to be on the lookout for farm vehicles and machinery traveling on the roads. Remember to slow down. Watch for slow moving vehicles, especially as you come over hills. You won't have to wait long. Waiting for a neighbor to navigate the road between joy the sights, sounds and smells of nature changing around you.

Congratulations to Darren Wolfe of Macy on his appointment by the Governor to the Nebraska Commission on Indian Affairs and thank you to Mr. Wolfe for being willing to serve. The Commission on Indian Affairs was established by statute in 1971. The mission of the Commission is "to do all things which it may determine to enhance the cause of Indian rights and to develop solutions to problems common to all Nebraska Indians."

The Commission serves as liaison between the four headquarter tribes of the Omaha, Ponca, Santee Sioux and Winnebago. There are 14 Indian commissioners appointed by the Governor and four ex-officio members representing the Pawnee Tribe, Ogallala Sioux, Ioway, Sac and Fox on the COVID-19 By the Numbers: As we continue to be cautious while we move toward re-opening and normalcy as a state and as a legislative district, seeing schools and businesses re-open, I think it is important that we track the reported positive cases in District 17 from week to week and I will plan to do so in this weekly update going forward. Thank you to Northeast Nebraska Public Health and Dakota County Public Health for keeping me updated.

New reported positive tests in District 17, by county, for the period Sept. 18 to Sept. 24, 2020 were:

COMING UP! The 107th Legislature will be here before we know it. Not long after the Nov. 3 election, state senators will join together in a gathering of the Legislative Council. Each member of the Legislature is a member of the Legislative Council and under Nebraska law, the group must meet at least once every two years. The gathering will give all senators the opportunity to get to know one another better, to recap the Legislative sessions of the past two years, and to discuss important upcoming issues like the post-COVID budget concerns and re-districting. I look forward to joining my colleagues and meeting new senators in November.

Legislative Update By Joni Albrecht State Senator, District 17

Legislative Page Opportunity Deadline: Having pages at the Capitol to assist us as senators is more important than many people realize. During session, we are frequently hard at work reviewing bills and speaking to other senators, as well as answering questions and preparing for opening on our own bills. Leaving the floor for the many various needs we may have at (402) 471-2716 or by email at jalnewly elected, re-elected and sitting is oft times impossible. Consequently, brecht@leg.ne.gov school students are chosen as legislative pages to assist senators on the legislative floor. During their 20-hour weeks, pages assist senators by running errands delivering messages, photocopying materials, and so forth. They also assist presiding officers at hearings to set up and staff committee hearings and perform other assigned duties. This is a 20-hour a week paid position which may also offer college credits. Deadline for applications is 5 p.m. this Friday, Oct. 2. I am happy to talk with any interested student to write a letter of recommendation for the position. Applicants can apply online at unicampages@leg.ne.gov

Looking forward to re-districting: After the 2020 Census is complete, the legislature will begin to undertake the process of drafting and enact new district maps designed to meet federal law that requires representation of equal populations in each legislative district. Redistricting involves identifying district lines for Nebraska's three United States congressional representatives and Nebraska's 49 elected state legislators. I am intrigued about the process and am considering serving on the committee initially concerned with putting the pieces in place before sending a plan to the Government, Military, and Veterans' Affairs Committee that handles the legislation regarding redistricting.

All in all there is much happening now as my family and I also tend to the harvest, and there is much to look forward to on the home front and at the legislature.

As always, it is of great importance that I hear from my constituents to effectively do my job as your voice in the legislature. I encourage you to contact me and I look forward to hearing from you. You can reach me by phone

As a 4-H leader, find things that you enjoy, your hobby or passion for example. Share it with your club. Youth will sense your joy and love for it and feed off your positive thoughts. However, that is not the only way.

- Use positive words with both inner dialogues and to others.

The symptoms can be subtle, or they can be severe. Regardless, rapid diagnosis and treatment is the key to recovery.

Not long ago, not much could have been done for someone as they were having a stroke. Often, we could only wait and see how the patient recovered with rehabilitation. For years, prevention was the only tool we had to combat initial and recurring strokes. # Leading God's way is vital

Leadership is crucial to the success of any business, enterprise, organization or country. Yet today most people in America believe we have a crisis in leadership. In various surveys most Americans display little confidence in our current leaders. It seems that the division between political parties gets wider and wider, negatively impacting

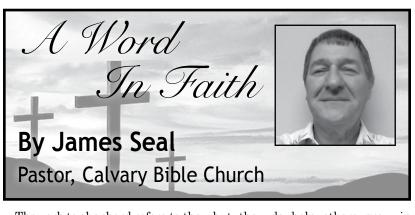

What makes a good leader? We can all think of qualities that we admire in men and women who are strong, positive leaders. The need for these leaders in our nation to rise up has never been greater. The same could be said for the Church of Jesus Christ. The Church needs good leaders to help her move forward and accomplish the work of Christ on earth.

Jesus did not leave His Church leaderless. He chose 12 of the most unlikely candidates for leadership and empowered them to change the world. And that is exactly what

One of those leaders was the Apostle Peter who wrote two short letters that are part of our Bible. In the first of the letters Peter gives characteristics for those who are leaders in the church. In 1 Peter 5:1-5 Peter addresses the elders of the church. Elders were the men initially appointed by the apostles to lead the individual churches. They were the ones who would carry on the work of the Church once the apostles were gone. These instructions for elders apply to anyone in leader-

Good leadership must be purposeful and intentional. The leader must know his or her purpose for leading. They must also be intentional about where they are leading others. Though leadership is a high calling, the call can be answered by the most ordinary of people. Good, Godly leadership requires a willingness to serve by leading and to lead by serving. It is the call to servant leadership.

I close by quoting a portion of sermon titled "Can You Do Any Better" given by Claude Alexander, bishop of The Park Church in Charlotte,

"There are questions that beg to be answered. There are dilemmas to be overcome. There are gaps to be filled, and the challenge is for you to fill them. That is the essence of the high call of spiritual leadership. There is a purpose for your being here. You are meant to answer something, solve something, provide something, lead something, discover something, compose something, write something, say something, translate something, interpret something, sing something, create something, teach something, preach something, bear something, or overcome something, and in doing so, you improve the lives of others under the power of God, for the glory of God.'

Accept the call to Godly leadership because the Church needs good

FFA students from throughout the area took part in the District Dairy competition at the Wayne County Fairgrounds on Sept. 29. ## Remembering Mike and recovering from surgery

Today would have been birthday number 90 for the Big Farmer! One goal he did not make. But my nephew, Dr. Dan, emailed this morning that he thinks Uncle Mike was playing a game of chess or even shooting some hoops. And we know he would be cheering the Chiefs this eve. We had a family Zoom meeting to raise a toast; good memories.

Since the family graves are in Norfolk, Ann is in charge. And she always comes up with nice flowers for Grandpa and Grandma Meierhenry, and Aunt Darlene.

Last week, for what would have been our 60th anniversary, she took yellow silk roses and two champagne flutes. Today featured beautiful Autumn leaves and a Budweiser mug filled with peanuts, butterscotch candy, and Scrabble tiles. It was perfect.

We know he isn't there; he truly is enjoying a dimension of no time, but somehow, it makes us feel good of him. I think it's slightly thera-

I had not really walked all summer! Too hot, Mike needed me, my leg hurt, etc. So, I have a lot of lost time to make up for. It hasn't even been a week yet, but I admit I'm getting impatient.

I love ice bags! And I love my daughters, who are tag teaming being here with me. My appetite is nil, but I'm trying to at least get decent protein. And frankly, I'm not a very good patient. Nurses never

Remember to practice fire safety at harvest

Each year volunteer fire departments across the state are called

Before and during harvest operations, check for a buildup of combustible crop residue around the engine and exhaust system; concealed drive belts and pulleys that can overheat due to friction when there is an accumulation of crop residue around them; and worn or frayed electrical wiring that can cause sparks and ignite grain dust, crop residues, or fuel vapors.

Waterfowl hunters reminded to help prevent spread of invasive species

As the waterfowl season approaches, the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission is reminding hunters to help prevent the spread of potentially damaging aquatic invasive species.

Zebra mussels, Eurasian watermilfoil, curly-leaf pondweed, New Zealand mudsnails and other aquatic invasive species can "hitchhike" on hunting gear and be spread by droplets of water or tiny plant fragments. Aquatic invasive species cause irreparable harm to aquatic ecosystems and waterfowl habitat, severely impeding hunting, fishing and boating for future generations.

"By taking a few minutes to clean, drain and dry their gear, waterfowl hunters can ensure their favorite hunting spots remain preserved for the present and future," said Kristopher Stahr, Game and Parks' aquatic "By all of us doing our part, we can prevent the spread of aquatic invasive species and protect our state's waters."

Game and Parks regulations require anglers, hunters and boaters conduct clean, drain and dry procedures after leaving a water body and prior to entering another. Hunters should remove any visible plants or mud from their gear and ensure all water is drained before leaving their hunting site. They also should clean their gear with high pressure or hot water and let it dry for at least five days before

THANK YOU! This has been a challenging time for all of us. We are very humbled by the amazing support we have received from the Wayne community especially from our family at Providence Medical Center and our Wayne Softball Association family. You guys rallied behind us and reminded us that, NO ONE FIGHTS ALONE! Your donations, support, thoughts, prayers, and words of encouragement gave us less time to worry and more time spent focusing on Jesse's Leukemia battle. Thank you for being an angel in our lives!

A special THANK YOU goes out to Wayne Ladies Golf League for this year's Glow Golf tournament to support Jesse. Also, to Providence Wellness Center for donating the proceeds for the Wayne Virtual Chicken Run to Jesse's Benefit and everyone who donated and signed up for the 5K all over the globe.

THANK YOU FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEARTS, Jesse, Val, Liberty and Ayser Titiml
