Council debates sewer bill, property re-plat

By Clara Osten, clara@wayneherald.com

Considerable discussion on several agenda items resulted in a lengthy meeting for the Wayne City Council on Tuesday.

Among those items was whether or not to adjust the sewer rate charge for Patty

Wieland told the council that a water faucet on the outside of her house was turned on, by what she believes were vandals in the neighborhood. This resulted in a much higher water usage and, because sewer rates are determined by water usage in the months of November, December and January, a higher sewer bill. The sewer rate changes every year, based on this us-

Wieland asked the council to have her rates go back to what she has been historically paying and provided a detailed list of the usage for her property for a number of years. She also said that she has paid three of the bills already and "isn't asking for forgiveness of what I have already paid, only an adjustment going forward."

The amount involved is approximately

Council members debated whether or not this would set a precedent going forward and what a property owner's responsibility is in regard to checking on this type

"This type of thing is really difficult. If we approve this request, what else will be brought before us?" said Council member

The council has had three water/sewer issues come before them in the last several months and council members noted "each of them have been different."

After going back and forth for some time, the council voted unanimously in favor of granting the return to the rate based on last year's consumption.

Council members also considered a replat request for a piece of property known as the Savidge Court Administrative Replat in Western Ridge.

Lucas Thompson requested the change to allow the property be changed from three lots to four lots to allow him to build two duplexes on the property.

During the public hearing portion of the meeting, City Planner Joel Hansen told the council the item had been brought before the Planning Commission and had received unanimous approval. He said the parcel had originally been divided into four lots, but due to construction on adjacent properties, had been changed to three lots. He also noted that making it four lots would clear up some issues with the property.

Thompson was at the meeting and showed council members his plans for the area, which includes building four, 1,500 square foot units. These would each have four bedrooms, for a total of 16 bedrooms and will be rental units.

Alex Wieland, who lives in the area under consideration, voiced his concerns with having the duplexes in the neighborhood and the possibility of having 16 cars

"There are a lot of kids in the neighborhood and you can't park in the cul de sac,' Alex said.

Following the public hearing, the council voted 5-2 to allow for the replat. Council members Terri Buck, Yasuko Taoka, Jason Karsky, Nick Muir and Jill Brodersen voted in favor, while council members Chris Woehler and Dwaine Spieker voted

Two requests for easements were granted to Allo Communications LLC for properties owned by the city. One of these is located off Fourth Street in what is known as "the old Girl Scout Cabin" property and one is located near Viken Park.

A bid for $25,426.51 was awarded to Nosweet Fencing & Decks of Columbus for the day. Lagoon Fence Project.

Also during Tuesday's meeting, approval er to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department's Cadet program.

Logan will be a junior at Wayne High School. Her father is currently a member of the department. She is the fifth cadet currently on the department.

Council members also spent some time discussing the issue of food trucks parked on city streets or on public property.

No action was taken as council directed city staff to look into how other communities handle the issue.

The council will hold a mini retreat on Tuesday, June 29 at 5:30 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall.

Commissioners receive updates on courthouse restoration project

By Clara Osten, clara@wayneherald.com

Wayne County Commissioners spent considerable time during Tuesday's regular meeting discussing the status of the courthouse renovation project.

A list of items still needing attention was drawn up since the commissioners' last meeting and some progress has been made to get them completed.

However, there are still several concerns, most notably the locks on the doors on the courthouse.

Commissioner Terry Sievers said he had worked to get one of the doors locked this week and had difficulty doing so.

Several other issues, including the automatic door-opening button, an area of the building on the northeast corner, re-seeding of grass and a door that does not close correctly, were also discussed.

Eli Dull with Kingery Construction, the general contractor for the project, was present at the meeting to discuss with the commissioners solutions to the punch list items that still need to be addressed.

Commissioner Sievers asked Doug Elting with Berggren Architects what the next step in getting the project completed should Elting said after the items discussed at the meeting are taken care of, a final inspection will take place and then the final pay application submitted. After that, the paperwork can be submitted for the county to receive the tax credits available for the project. An exact amount for this credit is not yet available.

Commissioners did vote to make a payment of $67,720.74 to Kingery Construction. The county had been holding this check until more of the work was completed. An additional $20,109.03 is still remaining to be paid, pending final completion of the project. In other action, the commissioners approved a resolution for the issuance of revenue bonds in an amount not to exceed $7,000,000 for the Providence Medical Center (PMC) project.

Jim Frank, CEO of PMC, spoke to the commissioners on the renovation project, which includes expansion of the radiology department, upgrades to the surgical department and mechanical upgrades to the

Music in the park

Members of the 43rd Army Band presented a 90-minute concert in Bressler Park on Sunday. The concert included selections with the full band (above), the Sharpshooter Winds ensemble and the Heartland Revival (bottom left). A large crowd was scattered throughout the park to enjoy the afternoon of music. Josh Calkin, an instructor at Wayne State College (above) served as guest conductor for one selection. His wife, Lauren, is among the members of the band. The 43rd Army Band spent a week in northeast Nebraska and had concerts in Norfolk, Pierce, Wayne, Pender, Hartington, Plainview and West Point. During that time, they were headquarted at Wayne State College. During the concert, the band thanked the college and community for their welcome.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

City Council Meetings

Regular Wayne City Council meetings are at 5:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets. We would be thrilled to have you check out your Council in action! City Sales Tax Numbers

Strong

The City of Wayne experienced another record breaking month for local option sales tax amounts. The month of April 2021 (which is reported and distributed by the State of Nebraska in June) recorded $131,039.31. This broke the previous month of March's record of just over $124,000.

Why does this impact the City and its budget?

It shows consumers are spending money locally more than ever before, a great sign for the local economy. It also signals that online shopping is very strong compared to the traditional shopping trips to Norfolk, Sioux City, Omaha, etc.

When you pay for sales tax online, those dollars come back home.

When you pay sales tax physically in another community, those dollars stay there. Priority ONE is to shop in store locally in Wayne! Not only do the tax dollars stay home but you are supporting those businesses and their employees who support the local ball teams, dance squads, fire department, etc. Thanks for shopping Wayne!

Lagoon Area Developments and Survey

The City will be installing fence around a newly designated area in the old lagoon space. This area could serve for future treatment plant needs, a holding area for sludge pressings, or even an emergency situation where sewage could be held for a very limited time. After this fencing goes up by the end of August, the remaining fence will be taken down around the area Then what?

The "Stool to Cool" Council Task Force is wanting to hear from you the residents on the three items you'd like to see in the old lagoon area. Remember this area has nearly 30 acres of potential.

This survey, that can be found at www.cityofwayne.org/lagoonsurvey, is a three line survey that will take you less than a minute to complete. The survey will close July 1.

The task force will look at the input and then report back to the full Council to continue discussion on the items they want to see in this recreation area. Please take the survey so your voices are heard You can also reach out to City staff or Council members/Mayor to give

Food Truck Parking

The City Council discussed food trucks at its last meeting. With an increase in the number of trucks in town for regular hours and special events, the mayor wanted to start the discussion on whether there needed to be regulation of location(s). I am sure there will be more discussion in the near future on this topic.

The blood drive was held June 8 to help the blood center keep inventory levels high as we enter a busy summer season with an increased need for blood. LifeServe Blood Center was able to collect 33 units of blood, that has the ability to save up to 99 local lives.

The following donors hit milestones with his or her most recent donation: Pamela Haglund and Karen Schardt - five gallons, and Ann Ruwe – eight gallons.

The next blood drive at Grace Lutheran will be Tuesday, Aug. 10 from 1:30 - 6:30pm.

"Thanks to everyone who came out to show their support, be sure to text 'LIFESERVE' to 999-777 to make your next appointment and we look forward to seeing you next time," said Allison Brummels, Life-Serve Blood Center Territory Representative.

Hugh O'Brian was an actor and military veteran who was inspired by Dr. Albert Schweitzer into humanitarian endeavors after spending time volunteering with him at his hospitals in Africa. Dr. Schweitzer told O'Brian that he felt "The most important thing in education is to teach young people to think for themselves" which O'Brian never forgot. Each seminar strives to follow the HOBY motto of teaching students, "how to think, not what to think".

Despite the online format, Logan said the group had great discussions and worked together solving clues for their escape room. Some of the key takeaways for Logan about leadership were to be 'others' centered, to use inclusive language, and to have a people philosophy. The seminar encouraged the am-community they are passionate about and find ways to meet those needs.

This past year Logan became aware of the critical need for blood donation, especially after COVID-19 restrictions no longer allowed walkin appointments. She and a friend organized a blood drive through LifeServe Blood Center back in January and have another scheduled for Wednesday, July 7 at the Wayne Fire Hall. She is hopeful that they can fill the 65 donation spots and provide much needed blood for patients in the tri-state area.

Emergency services respond to incident at Wayne Aquatic Center

On Thursday, June 10, at approximately 3:25 p.m. a rural Ponca male became distressed while swimming at the Wayne Aquatic Center

One of the lifeguards monitoring the pool noticed the teen motionless in the pool and responded to rescue him. The teen was removed from the pool with the assistance of other lifeguards and first aid was administered by staff and off-duty nurses who were at the pool at the time of the incident until an ambulance arrived on the scene.

The 19-year old male was transported to Providence Medical Center by ambulance for further treatment and later transferred to a Sioux City Hospital where he was listed in stable condition.

Pac N Save celebrates Dairy Month with new promotion

June is National Dairy Month and Pac N Save has put out a new promotion for it.

Rhonda Rager, the front end manager, came up with the idea for the promotion called "Drink Milk!"

"We have 'Drink Milk!' punch cards that have 10 punches on them,' Rager said. "We have them on the registers and the cashiers ask the customers if they would like to have one or use one."

For each gallon of milk a customer buys, they will get one punch on their card. The milk can also be any type of milk in the store as long as

Once a card is filled up with the customer's name and address written on the back, they can give the card to a cashier and then be entered into a drawing.

"On July 1, we will draw one card and you will win one gallon of Best Choice white milk per week for a year," Rager said. Rager decided to come up with the promotion since it it National Dairy Month. She wanted to promote the month along with dairy and other milk

"Every Thursday we have a secret 'cowtastic' give away," Rager said. "That's just a random person who happens to be in the store at a certain time buying a gallon of milk and they get gift certificates for dairy products that can use in a week." Pac N Save also has a mascot for the promotion. It is a stuffed animal cow named Cowntess Moo Moo.

The "Drink Milk!" promotion will go on through the whole month of June and a winner will be drawn on July 1.

Seniors drop three straight before ending week with win at Crofton

By Mark Vrbicky

Though their six-game win streak was snapped over the weekend during tournament play, the Wayne Seniors were able to close out the past week with a respectable road win in league competition, taking their record to 7-3 this season.

Blake Bartos came to the ballpark Monday night as a man on a mission, tallying four hits and leading the Blue Devils to an 8-3 win over Crofton.

Bartos went 4-for-4 at the plate - singling in the first and second, then tripling in the fifth and sixth innings – to help spark the offense. James Dorcey got the pitching win for Wayne, striking out eight while allowing three runs on four hits in a complete game performance.

Wayne 18s settle for road split with Pender

With a doubleheader split on the road last Thursday in Pender, Wayne's 18U softball team dropped its incidental three-game series to the Pendragon softballers. The Dirt Devils now sit at 10-5 on the sea-

In the first contest, Wayne was able to take the lead in the top of the fifth and hold on to topple the home team, 4-3. The game was all knotted up,

2-2, after four innings, when Rachel Hobbs singled on the first pitch of her at bat, scoring a runner in the process for the Devils. Another Wayne run later in the side proved to be the difference.

Mikaela McManigal, Logan Miller, Hope O'Reilly, Taytum Sweetland, Kylen Robbins, Aliah Schulz and Hobbs all managed a hit in the victory.

Hobbs was credited with the pitching win for Wayne, allowing three runs off eight hits over five innings, striking out eight and walking one. The local 18s didn't commit a single error in the field, though Pender suffered three.

Perhaps motivated by the one-run loss in game one, the Pendrag ons quickly turned things around and easily took the second match, 9-1, thanks to a five-run showcase in the top of the second inning.

Pender opened up the scoring in the first inning with a run scored off the Wayne 18s only error of the night. Hobbs hit an RBI single in her first plate appearance, which ended up being the lone run for the Dirt Devils in the ball game. Robbins, Miller, Hobbs, Sweetland, and McManigal each made a hit for Wayne. Defensively, it was Erica Brown taking the pitching loss, as she gave up six runs on six hits during her one and two-thirds innings stay on the mound. Wayne was scheduled for another twin bill on the road Tuesday night in Yankton, S.D., against the hometown Fury Red. The Dirt Devils will return to Yankton on Saturday for tournament play, first taking on Midwest United at 11 a.m., followed by the Sioux Falls Cyclones at approximately 12:30 p.m., before finishing off the day with a showdown against the Rapid City Rage at around 6:30 p.m. at Sertoma Park.

The first game resulted in another 10-10 draw for the two teams.

Hadley Woehler, Olivia Brandow, Meyers and Heithold all moved runners across the plate with RBIs in a five-run fourth inning for the visiting Devils. The second game wasn't nearly as close. Dobbins threw a no-hitter to lead the Wayne Dirt Devils past West Point, 13-1.

Dobbins lasted three innings, allowing zero hits and one run with seven strikeouts.

Wayne scored five runs in the second inning with Sorenson and McMenamin both contributing in the big inning with hits and RBIs.

Wayne will host a pair of doubleheaders in the coming week - first against the Norfolk Kelly's 10U tonight (Thursday) and then Bancroft on Tuesday. The first game is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. both evenings.

Dirt Devil 14s finish second at districts, punch ticket to state tourney in July

By Mark Vrbicky

The 14-under Dirt Devils from Wayne secured their spot in the Class C state tournament in Hastings July 9-11 with a runner-up finish in the district tournament, played in Scribner over the weekend. After districts, the Wayne 14s are 12-6 overall.

In the district championship game Sunday afternoon, the Devils - who failed to eliminate their foe in the preceding game - lost handedly to the Nebraska Venom, 9-1. Kierah Haase singled three times, Taytem Ellis did so twice and Delaney Kruse doubled to lead the local girls at the plate. Pitchingwise, Sammi Gubbels allowed four hits while striking out two batters. The Venom forced the third – and tournament-deciding - matchup with Wayne by just squeaking past the Dirt Devils in extra innings,

The local squad's Caitlin Mostek and Ellis both singled on three occasions, while Carli Canham, Jersi Jensen and Haase each made it to second base with their hits. Gub- charge of the pitching once again bels acquired four K's in this game, but also gave up 11 hits in the loss.

The morning game on Sunday was a lopsided affair in Wayne's favor as the Devils shut out the Oakland Rockets 20-0. Kruse tripled twice in the rout while Ellis, Gubbels and Jensen all doubled. On the hill, Gubbels allowed just one hit with two strikeouts. Rylin Hall notched one K to finish the final inning for Wayne. The Devil 14s did manage to get at least one win over the eventual district champion Nebraska Venom. That came in their second voring Wayne. Kruse, Haase and Ellis all doubled and singled in that outing, while Gubbels sat two batters from the pitcher's circle.

Prior to districts, Wayne competed in a doubleheader on the road against West Point last Tuesday, June 8. The Dirt Devils dropped the first game, 9-7, before battling back to take the second one, 10-4.

The highlight of the night was the nine-strikeout performance from Gubbels in the closing contest.

ACADEMIC TOTE BOARD

The many levels of 4-H involvement discussed

4-H is a national organization delivered by Extension – a community of more than 100 public universities across the nation that provides experiences where young people learn by doing. Youth complete hands-on projects in areas like health, science, agriculture and citizenship, in a positive environment where they receive guidance from adult mentors and are encouraged to take on proactive leadership roles. Kids experience 4-H in every county and parish in the country.

In Nebraska, youth, ages 5-18, participate in 4-H through:

Camps - 4-H overnight and day camps offer recreational, educational, and even career exploration opportunities. Enrollment is not required for participation. 10,000 youth in Nebraska participate in 4-H camp programs each year.

Clubs - 4-H clubs are an organized group that meets regularly to focus on a series of educational experiences. Official enrollment is required. 25,000 youth in Nebraska participate in 4-H club programs each year.

School Enrichment - School enrichment programs offer non-formal, hands-on educational experiences in classrooms in support of school curriculum. Enrollment is not required. 80,000 youth in Nebraska participate in 4-H school enrichment programs each year.

Afterschool - Afterschool programs meet between 3-6 p.m. to offer youth a safe, fun, and educational experience through handson activities and 4-H curriculum. Enrollment is not required unless the afterschool program is also an Nebraska participate in 4-H afterschool programs each year.

Special Interest Programs - Special interest programs include short-term experiences, such as workshops or clinics, as well as experiences focused on a single topic or interest. Special interest programs are not part of a school enrichment curriculum and are not restricted to 4-H members, 80,000 youth in Nebraska participate in 4-H special interest programs each

Additionally, youth may enroll in 4-H as:

Clover Kids - Clover Kids are youth between the ages of 5 and 7. Clover Kids may participate in 4-H through a variety of delivery modes, such as clubs and camps. As an enrolled member, Clover Kids may also exhibit at county fairs.

Independent Members - Youth official 4-H club. 50,000 youth in who choose not to be involved in a formal 4-H club may still join 4-H as independent members. These youth have the opportunity to participate in their county fair, the Nebraska State Fair, and additional statewide events and events.

> Nebraska 4-H is delivered primarily on a local level by countybased Extension faculty and staff. County 4-H programs are supported, in part, by county commissioners and their communities in delivering educational youth programs. Statewide, Nebraska 4-H sponsored by University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension, a division of the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, commonly referred to as IANR. Nationally, 4-H is part of the National Institute of Food and Agriculture in the United State Department of Agriculture, or USDA. Additionally, the Nebraska 4-H Foundation works closely with Nebraska 4-H through fund genera-

Nebraska 4-H prepares young people for successful futures. Educational programs place a strong emphasis on life skills, such as critical thinking, problem-solving, social skills, communication, responsibility, citizenship, and leadership. These skills are fostered through educational programming based on an experiential learning model. This gives youth the opportunity to participate in hands-on learning experiences built around the concept of positive youth development, which is centered on structured outof-school time learning, leadership experiences, and adult mentoring.

There are over 150 projects in which youth can enroll in 4-H. For more information about becoming involved in 4-H this summer, interested persons are encouraged to contact their local Nebraska Extension Office or visit the website at www.extension.unl.edu.

Grace Ladies Aid holds June meeting Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid met 24. Jan Casey sent a 'thank you' to June 9 with eight members and Pastor Buchhorn present.

Pastor Buchhorn led the gorup through a Bible study entitled "Bible verses for Therefore." Bible verses were read explaining the meaning of 'therefore." That portion of the meeting closed with prayer and singing "On My Heart Imprint Your Image.'

Jan Casey, Christian Growth Chairman, read a memorial for Lanora Sorensen, entitled "In the Shadow of Death" and a prayer. Lanora passed away April 22, 2021. Jan also had the ladies read sentences of a Father's Day Prayer, regarding "Remember our Heavenly Father.'

The business meeting was opened by the group reciting the LWML Pledge. Roll call was taken and minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was filed for audit.

Committee reports were given, including:

Sewing reported tying seven quilts and will sew again on June

Kathy Satteran for quilt tops she had put together for the group to tie. Visiting Committee reported sending many cards.

Grace Kanitz reported 700 UPC labels will be sent in at the end of the month. President Pro Tem Mary Lou Erxleben handed out the LWML Convention time schedule for members to review. It was noted that members can again visit Kinship Pointe and Country View with certain restrictions. After discussion, the group decided to wait until fall and then make a decision. AS a memorial to Lanora Sorensen, the treasurer will send a donation to Mites from the Evening Circle and a donation will be sent to Mites from the Ladies Aid also. The birthday song was sung for Mary Janke, whose birthday is June 10 and Verdelle Reeg, whose birthday is June 16. The next meeting will be Wednesday, July 14. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer.

Expressing our love for Jesus can be costly

Have you ever thought about where your understanding of love between two individuals comes from? Is it from your parents? Books? Movies? (With the exception of a very few, I hope it's not from

Each of us have different ways we communicate love and ways we best receive and accept it. Today I would like to point out an event in the life of Jesus where a woman expressed her love for him in what, at first glance, seems like a rather unusual way. It's found in Matthew 26:6-13.

In the home of Simon the Leper, an unnamed woman comes to Jesus and expresses her love and devotion to Jesus in what appears to be a radical and reckless way.

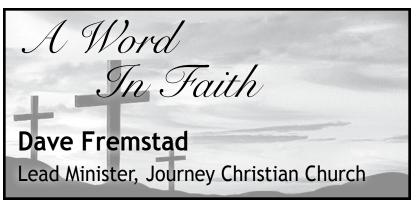

...a woman came up to him with an alabaster flask of very expensive perfume, which she poured on his head..." (Matthew 26:7)

I would like to highlight three things about this woman's expression of devotion towards Jesus.

First, she loved Jesus above all. This pouring out of ointment was really an act of worship. It was her way of saying, "Jesus you are first in my life, everything and everyone else is second." She expressed this worship and devotion in the best way she knew how.

Second, her demonstration of love was costly. Matthew describes this as a "very expensive perfume." Mark and John's gospel tell us that it's "pure nard," which is an oil from the root of the nard plant grown in India. A jar, like this, was worth about a year's salary; the equivalent of roughly $30-50,000 in today's money.

Imagine taking your annual salary, whatever that is, and giving it all as your expression of loyalty and more than a few people in your life I think the same holds true for us echoing the words of the disciples when they said, "Why this waste?"

The actions of this woman bring before us a very real question: are ship. In fact, not until we pass away we willing to love Jesus with what and meet Jesus face to face will our is most valuable to you? Whatever that might be? Are we willing to take that and give it over to Jesus? Are we willing to let it go, if he calls us to do so?

As we can imagine, the disciples balk at this display of passion and call it a "waste." Jesus, however, immediately comes to her defense and to me" (Matthew 26:10). This wasn't a frivolous and wasteful use of some high-end perfume. It was an act of She loved Jesus above all, and she knew that it was costly to do so.

Third, she loved Jesus for who he said he was. Jesus uses this moment to teach his disciples. He says, my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. Truly, I tell you, wherever this gospel is preached throughout the whole world, what she has her" (Mt. 26:12-13).

She acted as best she could, and passion to Jesus. You would have a with the one way she knew how. today. We don't have to know all there is to know about Jesus before we begin to live a lifestyle of worunderstanding of him be complete. However, we can begin to act on what we do know, right now. Don't let a lack of knowledge, or a lack of understanding Scripture, stop you from loving Jesus for who he says he is. He is the Son of Man who was delivered over to die, was buried, and rose again to take away says, "she has done a beautiful thing the punishment for our sins. By doing so, he has restored for us the reality of a relationship with God the Father - the relationship that he worship, an expression of devotion. desired from the very beginning. Jesus is calling us into that relationship today.

The woman we read about in Matthew 26 gives us a good example to follow. Like her, let us love Jesus "When she poured this perfume on above all, knowing that at times this love may be costly, and let us love Jesus for who he says he is.

USDA to begin payments for producers impacted by 2018 and 2019 natural disasters

More than $1 billion in payments will be released over the next several weeks, starting June 15, for agricultural producers with approved applications for the Quality Loss Adjustment (QLA) Program and for producers who have already received payments through the Wildfire and Hurricane Indemnity Program Plus (WHIP+). These U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) programs provide disaster assistance to producers who suffered losses to 2018 and 2019 natu-

Producers weathered some significant natural disasters in 2018 and 2019, and USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) provided support for crop value and production losses through QLA and crop quantity losses through WHIP+. "From massive floods to winter storms, and from extreme drought to excess moisture, natural disaster events in 2018 and 2019 were exceptionally catastrophic for agricultural producers nationwide - many suffered the impacts of multiple events in not just one but both years," said FSA Administrator Zach Ducheneaux. "FSA staff worked tirelessly for many months to develop and implement comprehensive disaster programs that meet the varying and unique needs of a large cross-section of U.S. production agriculture. QLA and the second round of WHIP+ assistance will provide much-needed assistance to help producers offset significant financial loss.

QLA Payments

QLA provides assistance to crop and forage producers who suffered a quality loss due to qualifying natural disasters occurring in 2018 or 2019. FSA will begin issuing payments to producers on June 15. FSA accepted applications from Jan. 6 to April 9, 2021. Based on these QLA applications, producers will receive 100 percent of the calculated assistance under QLA.

For each crop year, 2018, 2019 and 2020, the maximum amount that a person or legal entity may receive, directly or indirectly, is $125,000. Payments made to a joint operation (including a general partnership or joint venture) will not exceed $125,000, multiplied by the number of persons and legal entities that comprise the ownership of the joint operation. A person or legal entity is ineligible for QLA payment if the person's or legal entity's average Adjusted Gross Income exceeds $900,000, unless at least 75 percent is derived from farming, ranching or forestry-related activities. Second WHIP+ Payments

WHIP+ provides payments to producers to offset production losses due to hurricanes, wildfires, and other qualifying natural disasters that occurred in 2018 and 2019. WHIP+ covered losses of crops, trees, bushes and vines that occurred as a result of those disaster

Producers who applied for and have received their first WHIP+ payment can expect to receive the second payment beginning in mid-June for eligible crop losses. Due to budget constraints, producers received an initial WHIP+ payment for 2019 crop losses equal to 50% of the calculated payment. This second payment will be equal to 40% of the calculated payment for a total 90% WHIP+ program payment. This second round of WHIP+ payments are expected to exceed $700 million. A third round of payments may be issued if sufficient funds become available. Producers with 2018 crop losses have already been compensated at 100 percent.

Future Insurance Coverage Requirements

required to purchase federal crop insurance or Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage for the next two available crop years at the 60 percent coverage level or higher. If eligible, QLA participants may meet the insurance purchase requirement by purchasing Whole-Farm Revenue Protection coverage offered through USDA's Risk Management Agency. More Information

USDA offers a comprehensive portfolio of disaster assistance programs. On farmers.gov, the Disas-gram and WHIP+ payments are ter Assistance Discovery Tool, Disaster-at-a-Glance fact sheet, and Farm Loan Discovery Tool can help producers and landowners determine all program or loan options available for disaster recovery assistance. For assistance with a crop insurance claim, producers and landowners should contact their crop insurance agent. For FSA and NRCS programs, they should contact their local USDA Service Cen-To learn more, visit www.usda.

'Stars, Strolls, & S'mores' events taking place across the area

Do you like s'mores? What about moonlit walks? How about heading out for an adventure as the sun goes down?

The Norfolk area is full of opportunities to explore the nature of Nebraska. he Nebraska Game & Parks Commission, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District, and the Norfolk Area Visitors Bureau want to help you discover your area trails, lakes, and wild places while highlighting the unique opportunities nighttime offers with the free Moon Walk event, "Stars, Strolls & S'mores.'

"The purpose of the moon walk is to provide a family-oriented activity that introduces people to the wonders that can be found in their neck of the woods," said Julie Wragge, Information & Education Specialist for the Lower Elkhorn NRD. She added, "Our local lakes and rivers provide countless opportunities to discover and learn more about our water, soil, and wildlife." The Moon Walks will be held on Wednesday evenings close to the full moon and begin at 7:30 p.m. Most Moon Walks last for 1-2 hours. Participants will walk an average of one mile round trip. Each Moon Walk starts with a short introduction of that evening's program, followed by a hike to a designated area where attendees will enjoy presentations. Presenters are experts in their field and are from our local community. The evening wraps up with FREE s'mores. The first event will be held on Wednesday, June 23 at the Yellowbanks Wildlife Management Area located three miles north and 2.5 miles west of Battle Creek. Presentations will include an interesting view of the Elkhorn River, as the group learns about how rivers can move and change. There will also be a nature scavenger hunt. The second "moon walk" will be Wednesday, July 21 at Skyview Lake in Norfolk. Presentations will include Kayaking 101, and Mothing: the nighttime addiction. The final night will be Wednesday, Aug. 25 at Red Road Herbs Retreat & Learning Center on 835 Road near Stanton. Presentations will include beginner Dutch Oven cooking, and Worthy Weeds. Wragge said, "Since the events take place close to home, we encourage everyone to join us and bring your friends and neighbors."

Nebraska to host Midwest Ag Association annual meeting

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) will host the Midwest Association of State Departments of Agriculture's (MASDA) annual meeting in Lincoln, June MASDA represents the Departments of Agriculture from 13 Midwestern states. At this meeting, staff from MASDA states and various federal, state and industry stakeholders will discuss critical agricultural issues and share ideas. "MASDA brings together state ag leaders to represent and grow NDA Director and MASDA President Steve Wellman. "While each state in the Midwest has unique agriculture products and needs, we also have common goals, and this group addresses those by giving a unified voice to agriculture through policy, partnerships and public engagement."

NDA Director Steve Wellman was selected to serve as the 2021-2022 MASDA president during the Association's annual meeting held virtually in September. As president, Wellman works with other state agricultural leaders in the Midwest to promote, support and advance ag producers, agribusinesses and the industry as a whole In addition to Nebraska, MASDA includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

"Hosting MASDA takes Nebraska agriculture beyond the state level and puts us in the Midwest spotand a pleasure to serve as president of an organization that gives Midwest farmers and ranchers a voice on key issues facing agriculture."

MASDA is part of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA), a nonpartisan, nonprofit association that represents the elected and appointed commissioners, secretaries and directors in the United States.

Enjoying being able to attend activities

It's HOT! As if you did not know!! But they tell me there are cooler days ahead; I hope so.

After Nebraska baseball beat Arkansas once, I knew they could be beat, and they were; by North Carolina State. Mike's best friend in college taught there for many years, so we had to support the Wolf Pack. They are headed to Omaha, and that will be exciting.

Right now, Omaha is hosting the Olympic swim trials, and receiving all kinds of compliments on the warm up pool, the venue, the hotel, and the people! All that "Nebraska Nice" comes out when we host these big events.

My "social calendar" is also warming up; I think we are all just so happy to be able to plan a party. Last Saturday, my first function was a birthday party for a dear I left it in the bathroom and renurse friend planned by her daughters because "Mom always tells us she has such interesting friends, so we'd like to meet them!" Actually, the honoree is the interesting one, but we had a lovely time.

Then, on my way out of town, I stopped at my church for a celebration of a gal's 80th birthday, a major milestone for all of us seniors. Here, there was more cake.

And finally, I headed to Winside for a 60th wedding anniversary. Remember when golden weddings were observed? Now, we see 60 and 70 years all the time. We are not only living longer, but we are also still able to enjoy a good party.

I had to use my cane to get from quently.

my car to the auditorium, but then, trieved it when I left. On that nice, even floor, without any bumps, I did just fine without it.. I sure didn't want to appear old!!

After a restful day in Norfolk, I dropped off medical supplies at Orphan Grain Train. I had not seen their facilities; I was amazed! The office sign says "International headquarters"; I believe the world is a bit smaller because of this wonderful organization. I doubt Pastor Wilke could have imagined this when he came up with the idea. God has blessed it, and all the volunteers, mightily!

Actually, we've all been blessed, and I remind myself of that fre-

Helping cattle cope with summer heat

Ready or not, summer heat has arrived. Cattle have had little opportunity to become acclimated to summer conditions this year, so helping cattle cope is critical.

The combination of hot temperatures, high humidity, and lack of air movement can cause severe cases of heat stress for cattle. This can result in reduced intakes and gains, and in extreme cases, death.

Cattle do not handle heat stress as well as humans. The range of temperature in which cattle do not use additional energy to maintain core body temperature is referred to as the thermoneutral zone. This zone generally ranges from 32°F to 75°F for cattle but can vary depending on metabolic size. When temperatures exceed the upper critical temperature, cattle expend energy in attempt to dissipate heat. Panting and elevated respiration and heart rate are signs that this is occurring. When temperatures remain above 70°F during the night, cattle are unable to recover before the next episode of heat exposure.

Some heat stress mitigation strategies to consider include:

· First and foremost, providing plenty of water and space around water tanks for each animal. When the temperature is above 80°F, cattle require nearly twice as much water (up to 30 gallons per head per out for predicted temperatures in Sprinklers with a large droplet size can be effective in cooling cattle and pen surfaces in dry conditions; however, limit use when humidity and moisture are high.

Removal of excess manure is critical. When manure builds up. it holds moisture and increases hu-

- Bedding pens is also an option to help lower the temperature of the pen surface.
- · Providing shade can help reduce the heat load on cattle up to 20 degrees. Again, providing adequate space per animal is important when using shade structures. Overcrowding will have very little production
- Avoid working or transporting cattle during extreme temperatures. If necessary, handle cattle early in the mornings and not any time after 10 a.m.
- · Consider reducing the amount of feed delivered in the morning to help lower the heat load on cattle, starting the morning before a heat event occurs.
- · Improve air flow by incorporat-NAYI is a week-long event fea- ing tall mounds and placing cattle turing speakers, workshops, ag- in pens with fewer windbreaks in the summer.

NDA selects students to attend annual youth agricultural event

What started years ago, as a way of connecting high school students with agriculture, is still going strong today. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute (NAYI), the longest running program of its kind in the nation.

Local youth selected to attend this year's event include: Jaclyn Kempf, Carroll, Reid Korth, Wayne, Emily Longe, Wakefield, Mikaela McManigal, Wayne, Mia Nelsen, Wavne, Katelvn Pehrson, Laurel and Leanne Westphal, Wayne.

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) coordinates NAYI with the help of the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council. Today, NDA is announcing the high school juniors and seniors selected to attend NAYI's golden anniversary celebration this summer.

"NAYI is a great opportunity for Nebraska juniors and seniors to learn about the agricultural industry and the many careers available in ag," said NDA Communications Director and NAYC Advisor Christin Kamm. "With 50 years of history, we have parents who attended NAYI years ago, sharing NAYI experiences with their own high school juniors and seniors, who are looking forward to attending this year. NAYI's theme this year ricultural education, networking with peers and industry leaders, professional development opportunities and leadership experience. This year, NAYI will be held July 12-16, at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus. NAYI is made possible through numerous donations from agricultural businesses, commodity groups and industry organizations.

NAYI and additional youth learning opportunities throughout the year are organized by the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council (NAYC). The 21 college students who serve on NAYC are chosen by NDA to share their passion and knowledge about agriculture with young people across Nebraska. During NAYI, NAYC members provide valuable insight and advice about agriculture, college coursework and career building.

To learn more about NAYC or NAYI 2021 - visit https://nda.nebraska.gov/nayi/. Follow NAYI activities on Facebook by searching and liking the Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute. On Twitter, follow @THE_NAYC or #NAYI21.

About National Dairy Month

National Dairy Month started out as National Milk Month in 1937 as a way to promote drinking milk.

It was initially created to stabilize the dairy demand when production was at a surplus, but has now developed into an annual tradition that celebrates the contributions the dairy industry has made to the world.

After the National Dairy Council stepped in to promote the cause, the and images via the links below to name soon changed to "Dairy Month."

Sustainability matters to dairy farmers

Dairy farmers have long shared a deep commitment to taking care of their animals and our shared resources including air, land and water.

This commitment, and the actions taken on dairy farmers throughout the Midwest, play a vital role in providing sustainably produced foods; nourishing people, our planet and communities.

Dairy farmers live and work on their farms, so it's important for them to protect the land, water and air for their families, their communities and future generations.

All dairy farms must meet the standards for manure storage, handling and recycling set forth by their state and by the United States Environmental the use of new products with enhanced Protection Agency (EPA).

Caring for the environment is a responsibility dairy farmers share with their local community. Good environmental practices are essential to a dairy farm's success and leave a positive legacy for future generations.

How do dairy farmers put sustainability into action?

By combining scientific advancements and on-farm sensibilities, dairy farmers continually look for new ways to be sustainable.

Examples of sustainable farming practices include: crop rotation to mitigate weeds and improve soil quality, no-tillage or reduced tillage crop farming for soil and fuel conservation and environmental benefits.
