School board meets to pay end of fiscal year bills

clara@wayneherald.com

End-of-the-year financial claims, the upcoming year's budget and COVID-19 related funding were on the agenda when the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met on Aug. 31.

The board traditionally holds a special meeting prior to the end of the fiscal year to approve the payment of any claims for Superintendent Dr. Mark Lenihan discussed several of the items on the list to be paid. These included payment for the restroom renovation project that was completed this summer. He noted there are still some doors that have not arrived, but overall, the project went well.

A contract with Sparq Data Solutions was approved for the coming school year. It will replace the legal counsel that was provided by the Perry Law Firm. The contract will provide the district with more flexibility and result in a cost savings.

In regard to the 2021-2022 fiscal year budget, Dr. Lenihan provided the board with information on the district's overall valuation, which saw a three percent in-

The budget information will be published prior to a public hearing at the board's September meeting.

Funds received by the district through an ESSER III Grant were discussed.

The grant information needs to be submitted by the district by Sept. 15. Funds are provided through COVID-19 relief money and must be used to enhance the learning of students.

Several of the items suggested for the funds include the After School Program, Summer School and upgrades to the elementary school's HVAC system.

The district has three years to use the

Providence Medical Center Hospice earns honors

Providence Medical Center Hospice has been named as a Prestigious 2021 Hospice Honors Elite Recipient by HEALTHCAREfirst, a leading provider of billing and coding services, CAHPS surveys, and advanced analytics.

This prestigious annual review recognizes agencies that continuously provide the highest level of quality care as measured from the caregiver's point of view. It acknowledges the highest performing agencies by analyzing the performance of the Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (CAHPS) hospice survey satisfaction measures. Hospice Honors Elite recipients are industry leaders in providing quality care and constantly seeking ways to improve care and processes.

Award criteria were based on Hospice period of October 2019 through September 2020. Award recipients were identified by evaluating performance on a set of 24 quality indicator measures. Performance scores were aggregated from all completed surveys and were compared on a question by-question basis to a National Performance Score calculated from all hospices contained in the HEALTHCAREfirst's Hospice CAHPS database. Hospice Honors recipients include those hospices scoring above the HEALTHCAREfirst National Performance Score on 20 of the evaluated questions.

HEALTHCAREfirst holds a special recognition, Hospice Honors Elite, to honor hospices scoring above the HEALTHCAREfirst National Performance Score on all 24 of the

"Our hospice staff and volunteers put their hearts into the work they do making this recognition very rewarding. As an organization, it is our privilege to be able to offer such a valuable service to the communities we serve and we thank those patients and families for trusting us with their care," said Joanna Rayford, Director of Providence Hospice.

Local Wayne resident cycling in 20th Habitat 500 Bike Ride

Since 1993, the Habitat 500 Bike Ride this year! has sent cyclists across Minnesota and the surrounding Midwest annually to raise funds and awareness for Habitat for Hu-

Over seven days, riders biked up to 500 miles. In 2020, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Ride went virtual for the first time. As we await safe reopening, the 2021 Habitat 500 is building on 2020's success with another Habitat 500: Bike @ Home!

The Bike @ Home gives participants flexibility to set fundraising and mileage goals while biking in their own neighborhoods. When a rider signs up, each gets their own fundraising page, social support from private Facebook and Strava groups, and materials to support their cycling and fundraising. Wayne resident and pastor, Jim Splitt. will be riding his 20th Habitat 500 when he was a pastor in Glendale, Ohio, "I was challenged to do the ride to help raise money for our new Habitat family in Glendale," shared Splitt. "I'd never biked over 20 miles and I didn't have a very good bike. I bought a new bike and signed up for the ride." A few years later, Splitt passed the bike onto a new rider (who is near celebrating 20 years with the Ride now as well).

Since 2002, the Habitat 500 Bike Ride has raised over $5.6 million for Habitat for Humanity. In 2020 alone, more than 140 cyclists raised over $283,000! When asked 'What brings you back to the Habitat 500 each year," Splitt answered, "That's simple! The purpose of Habitat for Humanity, the fellowship of the ride and the physical accomplishment of biking 500 miles and training as many."

Providing safe and affordable homes is a huge goal for Habitat, and something the Ride works to support, whether riders are gathered or biking in their own communities. Splitt has also been closely involved with Habitat builds over the years. "Every Splitt recalls first hearing about the Ride year when we ride, we ride for a family. 'Don't raise money for yourself, raise money for the family you're riding for," is advice Splitt shares with other riders.

Splitt's connection to fellow riders goes beyond biking buddies. He and his wife, Kathleen, celebrated their honeymoon on a Habitat 500 Ride in 1997, and they've biked and volunteered together many years since! Splitt also fondly remembers other close friends made through the ride meeting Jimmy and Roslyn Carter in Eagle Butte, South Dakota, and, like many riders, enjoying Dairy Queen treats after finishing rides. Together or apart, the Habitat 500 supports Habitat for Humanity's mission around the state, country, and world through its community of supporters, raising funds and awareness for affordable homeownership.

Musical compositions for two pianos are rare. Two-piano works by female composers are even more

The Wayne State College concert Piano Duo: Music by Women pays tribute to gifted female composers on Monday, Sept. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Ley Theatre. Featured pianists include Dr. Angela Miller-Niles, professor of piano and department chair, and Shelly Armstrong, WSC staff accompanist.

The concert is free and open to the public and will also be livestreamed. To view the livestream, go to www. wsc.edu/watch-live. The program is accessible by selecting the event from the Music Events list at www. wsc.edu/music.

"Compositions for two pianos have always sparked my interest," explains Dr. Miller-Niles. "Through research, I uncovered masterful compositions by women which simply haven't been heard enough. This concert brings some of these little-known gems to light."

Repertoire includes Fantasia on Waltzing Matilda by Miriam Hyde (Australian, 1913-2015), Danza a media noche by Dana Suesse (American, 1911-1987), and Piano Concerto no. 1 by Zara Levina (Soviet/Jewish, 1906-1976). Hyde's composition is an exuberant production colored by the well-known tune Waltzing Matilda. Suesse is often called the female George Gershwin. Translated as "dance at midnight," her work is a rumba for two pianos, with four hands. The Levina selection is a kaleidoscopic journey of Recent water quality data indicates elevated concentrations of nitrate in portions of the LENRD, reaching levels that could pose health threats to humans and the environment. It's during these times when the LENRD board members are put in tough situations. Preparing for disasters is protecting everyone you love

September is National Preparedness Month (NPM), the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) annual preparedness outreach event sponsored by FEMA's Ready Campaign. NEMA has committed to participate in NPM to increase preparedness in the community by promoting preparedness information at the Nebraska State Fair in Grand Island and by sharing preparedness information on its Facebook and Twitter social media accounts.

The theme this year is "Prepare to Protect. Preparing for disasters is protecting everyone you love" and asks citizens to take action now.

Take time to build a kit, make a plan, check your insurance policies and coverage for the hazards you may face, such as floods, earthquakes and tornadoes. Educate and involve youth in preparedness. Make sure to consider the costs associated with disasters and save for

Also, know how to take practical safety steps like shutting off water and gas. As our nation continues to respond to COVID-19, there is no better time to be involved than this September. Week 1: Sept. 1-4 — Make a Plan.

Week 2: Sept. 5-11 — Build a Kit. Week 3: Sept. 12-18 — Prepare

Week 4: Sept. 19-24 — Teach Youth about Preparedness.

Preparedness is a shared responsibility that takes the Whole Community. Learn ways you can take action by visiting Ready.gov/prepare.

"NEMA recognizes National Preparedness Month each September because it provides an opportunity to remind us that we all must prepare ourselves and our families now and throughout the year," said NEMA Assistant Director Bryan Tuma. We work to build awareness and encourage Nebraskans to take steps to prepare for emergencies in their homes, schools, organizations, businesses and places of worship. Blue Devils open season with convincing 34-6 victory

For The Herald

It's only the first game and a lot of miscues will be looked at in the week ahead, but all in all it was a good start to the Wayne High football campaign.

The Blue Devils committed a goal-line turnover and punted once, but other than that, the offense purred along quite nicely as Wayne opened the 2021 season with a 34-6 win over Logan View/Scribner-Snyder in action Friday at WSC's Cunningham Field.

"It's a typical first game," coach Russ Plager said after the win. "We had some sloppy things here or there, but overall it was a good team effort."

Wayne's only real miscue on offense came on the opening drive when the Raiders forced a fumble at the goal line. The Blue Devils moved the ball down the field, highlighted by a 19-vard connection from Tanner Walling to Daniel Judd that gave the Blue Devils a first-andgoal at the Logan View 7.

Two plays later, Walling handed off to lineman Mason Frevert, but the ball was knocked loose and the Raiders kept Wayne out of the end zone for one of only two times on the

Walk-off homer dooms Wayne at O'Neill

Wayne and O'Neill battled back and forth in a Mid State Conference softball matchup Tuesday, but the host Eagles got the last word as they used a walk-off homer to post a 4-3 win over the Blue Devils.

O'Neill scored in the first frame and made that stand until the sixth, when Kendall Dorey followed Taytum Sweetland's single with a homer to center field, giving Wayne a 2-1 lead. O'Neill took a 3-2 lead with a two-run single in the sixth, but Wayne tied the game up in the top of the seventh when Victoria Kniesche singled home Aliah Schulz to tie the game at 3-3. O'Neill would have the final say in the bottom of the seventh, as Autumn Emme took a 3-2 pitch over the wall in left field to give the Eagles the win.

Both teams had four hits in the contest. Sweetland had two hits and scored a run, while Dorey had one hit and two RBI and Kniesche added a hit and an RBI. Dorey pitched five innings, striking out eight and walking 10. Sammi Gubbels pitched 1 1/3 innings of relief striking out four before taking the Wayne, 3-2, returns to action

Results of all things are the sum of all parts. Nothing could be more accurate as Osmond came from behind to defeat the Eagles of Allen 32-27 on Friday at Osmond High School. The Eagles seemed to have all the parts in place for most of the night, but a handful of plays allowed Osmond to stay in the game and ultimately win the game.

"Our kids played their butts off tonight, only to come up short," coach Dave Uldrich said. "A handful of plays in the game kept Osmond close, and we were not fortunate to have them go our way. We have been on the other side of that, so what we need to do is make sure those types of plays, or decisions do not have any influence of a game on our side of the ball." The Eagles scored three of the first four times they possessed the ball and had very good offensive flow, while the defense played fairly consistently.

After the Eagles stopped Osmond on their first possession, the Eagles methodically moved the ball down the field scoring on a Gabe Reinert three-yard run to take a 6-0 lead. Osmond responded by hitting a 40-yard touchdown pass on their next possession to tie the game, but the Eagles responded with a second long drive that put them up 14-6 when Reinert popped through the middle on a 23-yard run. Nate Oswald added the PAT run. In the second, the Eagles again marched the field, capped off by a two-yard run by Oswald. Santiago Tinajero kicked the PAT for a 21-6 lead and, at this point, the Eagles seemed to be in firm control of the holding the Tigers on downs on the Eagle side of the field, a Tiger interception allowed them one last chance before half to gain momentum, and they did just that on a 26-yard touchdown pass to pull within 21-12 at intermission. Opening the third period, Allen used over six minutes of the clock and drove deep into Osmond territory, only to come up empty. A wide-open fourth down pass missed the period allowed the Tigers good field position and they scored on a 20-yard pass to cut the lead to 21-

The Eagles then drove only to stall, allowing Osmond the ball deep in their territory. Osmond mishandled a snap, allowing the Eagles another opportunity. The Eagles with a first and goal at the one-yard line fumbled the ball back to the Tigers.

A defensive stop gave Allen the ball with just over nine minutes to go, but Osmond forced a threeand-out near midfield. The Allen punt went high and short, bouncing straight backwards past all of the Eagles covering the kick and a lone Tiger only had to pick up the ball and run it in for a touchdown. An unlikely event put the Tigers up 24-21 at the 7:15 mark of the final Allen responded with a seven-play drive down the field, when Gabe Reinert again shook loose on a 37-yard jaunt to make it 27-24 with 5:39 left. Osmond responded by keeping a desperate situation alive by escaping a big pass rush and picking up a first down, setting up a two-yard run with 3:03 to go. The Eagles couldn't respond and Osmond came away with the win. The Eagles outgained the Tigers.

308-295, but of Osmond's yardage total, five plays yielded most of their yards. The Eagles were led by Reinert's 101-yard effort on 13 carries and three touchdowns. Oswald was 8-of-16 passing, with three interceptions. Ty Krommenhoek led the receivers with four catches for

Trojans fall in 38-36 thriller

It was a wild start to the season for the Wakefield football team, as a second-half comeback fell just short in a 38-36 loss to Guardian Angels Central Catholic Friday in

The Bluejays led 18-6 at halftime and were up by 10 in the fourth when the Trojans rallied.

Cade Johnson scored on a fouryard run early in the fourth quarter to make it 32-28. The Bluejays answered with a score of their own midway through the fourth to make it a 38-28 game, but Wakefield scored late on a five-vard run by Logan Bokemper. Johnson ran in a two-point conversion to make it 38-36, but an onside attempt was recovered by GACC and they held on for the win.

Bokemper returned a kickoff for a score early in the game to get the Trojans on the board and added runs of 12 and 43 yards in the third quarter to keep the Trojans close. He finished the night with 125 yards on 20 carries.

Johnson had 66 yards on 15 attempts and was 2-of-7 passing for 36 vards. Kaden Kratke caught a 24-yard pass and Gabe Lamprecht

WELL ... HAPPY

LABOR DAY ...

Commentary by J.L. Schmidt Statehouse Correspondent Nebraska Press Association

Summer's last hurrah is upon us. Labor Day is September 6. The University of Nebraska Husker football team has started its season, the State Fair ends on Labor Day and public schools are back in Time was when Labor Day stood out. Moms and Dads didn't have to go to work that day and that often paved the way for family picnics, backyard barbecues and maybe even a downtown parade. Friends gathered and toasted what would surely be a coming change in the weather. It also often marked the start of public schools, a rite of passage often equally anticipated and Things changed drastically in 2020 when Labor Day was just another in a string of holidays cancelled by the Coronavirus pandemic. Many of those activities resumed this year as the dreaded Covid risk dial rolled back to green for a time. But a second surge of Covid thanks to several variant strains - is casting a pall on things again as the risk dial moves toward red.

That drama known as Husker Football has already begun. The on-field play stage of the saga has started and brings with it optimism for a fan base that has been, to say the least, disappointed in the first three seasons of a new coach, an actual Husker alum who grew up in small town Nebraska and played most of his college ball in Memorial Stadium.

The not-so-behind-the-scenes drama started a couple months ago when Athletic Director Bill Moos resigned abruptly amid speculation he was forced out. Others said he was just tired and blamed the Pandemic. For his part, Moos took a million dollars or so and headed back to the Pacific Northwest. Not bad work if you can get it.

Moos was replaced by former Husker defensive standout Trev Alberts who also came with the

THIS MESSAGE IS BROUGHT TO YOU BY THOSE WHO USED TO BE REPRESENTED BY ORGANIZED LABOR.

It's always something. Following a year of flooding in 2019, Pandemic woes in 2020 and an on-going debate over financial conditions, the Nebraska State Fair seemed to be back on track in Grand Island with 4-H activities, concerts, food vendors and carnival rides.

But what about Labor Day. Officially, it's a time to pay tribute to American workers, and their many contributions and achievements through the years. Created by the labor movement in the late 19th century, Labor Day honors the men and women who fought tirelessly for workers' rights, especially the eight-hour workday.

Labor discussions today seem to of analysts and practice sessions.

Labor Day became a U.S. federal holiday in 1894, but by that time thirty states already officially celebrated the holiday. On September 5, 1882, New York City union leaders organized what is now considered the country's first Labor Day parade. An estimated 10,000 workers took unpaid time off to march through the streets of New York in a picnic, fireworks, and dancing. The idea spread across the coun-promise of a million dollar a year center on a $15 per-hour mini- try as many states passed legislaprice tag. Then came word that the mum wage and what it might do to tion recognizing the workers' holiday. It wasn't until 1894, however, NCAA was investigating the foot- small businesses. Likewise, there that Congress legalized the holiball program for possible illegal use seems to be a problem filling jobs again after pandemic closings and day following the Pullman strike, directed health measures, which a nationwide railroad boycott that restricted the size of gatherings turned fatal and shined a national in restaurants and entertainment spotlight on workers' rights. venues. Some have blamed government stimulus checks for making it more lucrative to not work.

City, in the event which culminated

Get this, Congress sought to make peace with American workers by passing an act making Labor Day a legal holiday and President Grover Cleveland officially signed it into law on June 28, 1894.

Now you know enough about the holiday to appreciate it and celebrate it. Hats off to the American worker.

Ken Dahl chipped within three feet of the cup on the 34th hole of a 36-hole playoff Sunday to clinch his fifth Wayne Country Club tourney championship. Dahl finished three holes up on Tom Keenan with just two left to play in the wind-hampered showdown.

This year marks the fifth time Dahl's name will be inscribed on the George A. Berres Memorial, a trophy bearing the names of the past 14 club champions. He also won in 1965, 1966, 1967 and 1969.

Last year's champ, Chuck Fisher, was eliminated in the first round of competition.

Annual 'Ride for Life' held Saturday

Wayne area residents joined in the 13th annual Elworth Harley-Davidson Ride for Life on Saturday. Aug. 25. The event is sponsored by Elworth Harley-Davidson of Norfolk and is held to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Around $3,200 was raised this year.

This year, there was 18 motorcycles and 24 riders involved in the Wayne ride to Norfolk where the group met up with others and continued the ride. Around 230 people participated.

Registration for the ride was held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the new Elworth Harley-Davidson building at 2311 Riverside Boulevard in Norfolk and continued from this location.

The group made four stops to their final destination of Niobrara, stopping at Foster, Creighton, Verdigre, and at the casino north of the Niobrara bridge. Providing food and beverages for the stop in Niobrara were area businesses including Hy-Vee and IBP. A number of volunteers help each year with the ride. Muscular Dystrophy is a disease that weakens and destroys

Husker schedule brings back uncle's memory

On Saturday, Nov. 19, The Nebraska Cornhuskers will play Michigan in football.

This fact sparked a renewed interest in Husker memorabilia that Pat Gross 'inherited' from his uncle, the late John J. Gross.

John, a 1903 graduate of Wisner High School, played with the Cornhusker football team in 1914 and later coached at Wayne State College.

John, who went on to earn a law degree from the University of Nebraska in 1915, practiced law in West Point. He never married and after his death in 1968, his possessions, including the Husker items, were stored away in a steamer trunk, with its contents unknown to Pat. The trunk became the possession of Pat's father, William Gross.

Pat reeived the Husker items as well as several other sports-related items from his father because "I was the only one of my siblings who had an interest in sports and especially Nebraska sports."

In addition to the letter blanket and sweater, Pat has a second sweater from the time when John played with the Cornhuskers, a small championship gold engraved football, his uncle's football helmet which resembles more of a leather cap than what is now considered a helmet.

Also included in Pat's treasures is a copy of the "The Daily Nebraskan," the college newspaper of the University, that details events of the Nebraska-Michigan game.

A number of the items Pat has in his possession will be on display in the Wayne Public Library's display case during the month of September.

Harvest is plentiful, workers are few

In Faith

This is the most exciting time of the year for our ministry at CSF. Thousands of students from every walk of life, and thousands of places around the world flood back onto our campuses as college begins again.

This past couple weeks on all our CSF campuses in Nebraska and South Dakota is what is called "Welcome Week". It's by far the craziest time of the year for all our campus ministers. It's two weeks of literally meeting thousands of new students. playing ultimate frisbee, volleyball, hanging out on campus, grabbing a bazillion cups of coffee with students, connecting them to our large gatherings, and plugging them into small group Bible studies, and service opportunities, and connecting them to the local church as well.

It's the most exhausting and exhilarating two weeks of the year.

Two weeks of craziness, to connect with students who need to know that there is a community that is there for them, and a Savior who died for them

This last week, here in Wayne, I witnessed a college student publicly declare her faith in Jesus as she was baptized into Christ by sometiful....but often the workers are few. I LOVE that we get to live in a "college town" here in Wayne. College students bring such life, and excitement, and such a wonderful dynamic to our community. Thousands of students have come back to our town this past week, and the reality is that many of them are looking for a family away from home, they are looking for someone to invite them out for lunch, or a family to make them apart of their family this school year, or someone in their field of study to mentor them and teach them more about what they are going to school for. Crowds of college students, most of whom do not know Jesus, most of whom do not have a relationship with Jesus, most of whom are looking for someone to invite them to church, or a Bible study, or just for a cup of coffee to hear their story, and get to know The crowds are here, the harvest is plentiful, will we be one of the workers willing to get in the field?

Bayer Fund teams with farmers to direct funds to local nonprofits, schools and ag programs

The Bayer Fund has announced the kickoff of the 2022 America's Farmers Grow Communities program, which has been revamped to make it even easier for farmers across the country to find and fund the organizations and institutions that keep their communities thriving. Now through Nov. 1, eligible farmers can enroll for the chance to direct a donation to a local eligible nonprofit organization, school STEM or youth agriculture program. For 2022, Bayer Fund will double the individual donations to $5,000, up from $2,500 in previous years.

America's Farmers tives have awarded more than $60 million to thousands of schools and nonprofit organizations. Since the creation of Grow Communities in 2010, farmers have played a key role in directing funds to programs and organizations that contribute to their communities' health and vibrancy, such as food banks, schools and agriculture pro-

In 2021, an Illinois farmer directed a Grow Communities donation to Greenfield High School in Greenfield, Illinois. The school used the donation to purchase an educational farm where students learn firsthand how to care for animals and manage a business.

"We can't thank our local farmers and the Grow Communities program enough for their donation and continued support," said Beth Burrow, Greenfield High School's ag instructor. "As educators we're always looking for ways to engage our students with hands-on experiences, and that's what we've been able to do thanks to Grow Commu-

Farmers are eligible to enroll in Grow Communities if they are 21 vears of age or older and are actively engaged in farming at least 250 acres of any crop.

"In addition to increasing the individual donation amounts in 2022, we're excited to evolve Grow Communities to make it easier for farmers to take part," said Al Mitchell, Bayer Fund President. "Over the years we've heard from countless farmers and Grow Communities recipients about the wavs the donations have made a positive impact across rural America. For this reason, Bayer Fund is excited to continue the Grow Communities tradition."

Fall care of alfalfa discussed

Fall army worms in alfalfa By Melissa Bartels

Is it the very hungry caterpillar or an army of fall armyworms? Fall armyworms have been causing significant damage to some alfalfa fields in southeastern Nebraska the past few weeks. Producers have watched a nice alfalfa field be nearly completely stripped of leaves in a matter of a few days by these pests, reducing their yield substantially.

Fall armyworm caterpillars feed on a wide host of plants and they do most of their feeding in the last 4 days of their larvae development. Therefore, it is very important to scout fields regularly in the early morning and late afternoon when caterpillars are most active to spot these forage offenders when they are small. Once they are larger than 3/4 of inch they can do significant damage in a short amount of time.

A population of three or more caterpillars per square foot is a reasonable treatment threshold. However, the use of insecticides is not recommended unless the majority of the caterpillars are less than 3/4 of an inch long. There are several insecticides labeled to control this pest in alfalfa. When considering a chemical treatment option, remember caterpillars 3/4 of inch or longer are close to maturity and are tougher to control with an insecticide. In this case, cutting the alfalfa to reduce the damage might be the best management option.

The fall armyworm does not overmoths fly north reaching us in the late summer or early fall. Fall ara predominantly white, inverted Y shape on its head, and four spots in the shape of a square on the end of its abdomen.

So be sure to get out and monitor vour alfalfa fields.

This herbicide can provide control up to two years post application.

In warm-season grass pastures and rangeland, there is another option. You can use glyphosate herbicides after top growth of these grasses has died due to a hard freeze or two. This can kill emerged annual brome seedlings without harming the desirable grasses. However, do not use glyphosate in cool-season pastures because it will injure or kill the pasture grasses as well. IANR receives record research funding during 2021 fiscal year

Natural Resources (IANR) at the University of Nebraska has continued its upward trajectory in securing research funding for critical projects despite the pandemic.

IANR faculty teams were awarded $64 million in externally-sponsored research grants and contracts for the 2021 fiscal year, which ran from July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021. This is the highest dollar amount in research funding that IANR has received in a single year, topping the institute's previous high of $59.9 million in 2020. Dollars awarded for sponsored research have increased in IANR at an annual rate of 4.8% since fiscal year 2012, and the number of active externally-sponsored awards increased to over 470 during the 2021 fiscal year.

About 80% of the funding came from federal agencies, including the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), the National Science Foundation (NSF), the Department of Energy (DoE) and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). Industry partners, state agencies, and commodity boards contributed to 20% of the total funding.

"These funds keep the University of Nebraska in a global research leadership position in food security and resilient natural and agriculprojects led by our faculty will help ensure environmentally and economically sustainable cropping and food animal systems, new connections of food to human health, and the well-equipped workforce these culture will require."

Highlights of projects funded during fiscal year 2021 include:

• $6 million from NSF to lead a four-institution team to build a one-tion. of-a-kind database from streams, tems across the nation, and enable studies of how changing waterways impact ecosystems on regional and national scales.

• $3 million from DoE for the development of novel commercial farm-field networks to quantify and understand greenhouse gas emisthe corn belt. sions from agricultural bioenergy feedstock production. • $3 million from USDA to sup-
