opportunity to tour Wayne State College during homecoming week, Sept. 28 – Oct. 2.

Wayne State opened the newly renovated Benthack Hall this fall. Home to the College's counseling, education, and family and consumer sciences programs, the new facility will make an immediate impact on the region's shortage of mental health practitioners with a dynamic learning environment that encourages students' passionate approach to mental health care with a state-of-the-art counseling training clinic for students to perfect their psychotherapeutic practices with clients.

To enhance the quality of educator preparation at Wayne State, and in honor of its proud tradition as a teachers college, the renovation includes two state-of-the-art education labs to complement the content labs across campus. One lab is devoted to the study and instruction of English/language arts, reading, writing, and literacy development. The other lab is devoted to the instruction and study of the sciences, mathematics, and technology in education.

Benthack also serves as the home for family and consumer sciences, fashion merchandising, foods and nutrition, and interior design programs. The foods lab houses six student kitchen stations and a teacher/guest demonstration area with au-

PMC senior life solutions speaks out about the importance of talking about suicide

September is National Suicide Prevention and Awareness month and Providence Medical Center's Senior Life Solutions is working to raise awareness and educate the community on the risk factors and warning signs of suicide. Talk of suicide should never be dismissed. If you, or someone you know, are thinking of suicide call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-

These conversations may feel diffi-Beth Offner, Program Director for Senior cult and uncomfortable, which is entirely normal. If you are uncertain of how to be there for someone in need, here are five action steps you can take according to the National Institute of Mental Health:

1. ASK: "Are you thinking about killing yourself?" It's not an easy question, but studies show that asking at-risk individuals if they are suicidal does not increase suicides or suicidal thoughts.

2. KEEP THEM SAFE: Reducing a suicidal person's access to highly lethal items or places is an important part of suicide prevention. While this is not always easy, asking if the at-risk person has a plan and removing or disabling the lethal means can make a difference.

3. BE THERE: Listen carefully and learn what the individual is thinking and feeling. Research suggests acknowledging and talking about suicide may reduce rather than increase suicidal thoughts.

4. HELP THEM CONNECT: Save the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline's (1-800-273-TALK (8255)) and the Crisis Text Line's number (741741) in your phone, so it's there when you need it. You can also help make a connection with a trusted individual like a family member, friend, spiritual advisor, or mental health professional.

5.STAY CONNECTED: Staying in touch after a crisis or after being discharged from care can make a difference. Studies have shown the number of suicide deaths goes down when someone follows up with the at-

Dona Painter

Dona (Dobb) Painter, 71, of Hoskins, died at her home on Tuesday, Sept. 21, 2021 after a short battle with colon cancer. A Celebration of Life was held Saturday, Sept. 25 at the Hoskins Community Center with Pastor Clark Jenkinson officiating.

Brockhaus-Howser-Fillmer

neral Home in Norfolk was in charge of arrangements. Dona (Dobb) Painter came into this world on June 18, 1950 at the Naval Base in San Diego, California. She was the daughter of James Hubert Dobb and Betty Jane (Ohlund) Dobb. She lived in San Diego, Hutchinson, Kansas and Burton, Kansas until her father passed away when she was five years old. Dona then moved to Stanton with her mom, Betty Dobb, and two sisters, Diane (Dobb) Knoelle and Dawn (Dobb) Woeppel. She graduated from Stanton High and Sarah B. (Painter) Wehrle. Dona graduated from Wayne State College with an art major and home economics minor in 1973. She worked at the Warehouse Market until it closed in 1985 and went on to clean houses until she and Jerry bought the bar in Hoskins and called it "Paints Pub."

Dona was an icon in the village of Hoskins. She touched the lives of many people and was always available to give wanted and sometimes unwanted advice. Because of this, she was lovingly referred to as "Ma" from anyone who knew her. Later she was known for her crock pot lunches and was always "one tough cookie." He life motto was to "always have fun" and whether it was water fights, frosting fights, candy fights, or a plain good time, she lived up to this motto and lived well. Dona was also known for having her name spelled wrong in a number of papers and announcements and for not having a middle name or initial.

Survivors include her son, James (Barbie) Painter of Hoskins and their three daughters, Jacie, Kelcie, and Allie; and daughter, Sarah (Ryan) Wehrle of Stanton and their two children, Hannah and Taylor; her special friend, Paul Barg, and adopted daughter, Kayla Reed, both of Hoskins. day, Sept. 23, 2021 at The Meadows in Norfolk. Services were held Monday, Sept. 27 at the Norfolk Restoration Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ in Norfolk. Burial will be in Hillcrest Memorial Park Cemetery.

Condolences may be expressed to the family online at www.homeforfuneralsinc.com.

Home for Funerals was in charge of arrangements.

Virginia Lee was born Feb. 8, 1935 in Clearwater to Alvie and Sarah (Smith) Mapes. On June 9, 1957 Virginia married Stanley Langenberg in Clearwater. They made their home near Hoskins. The couple was blessed with three children, Nannette, Bradley and Brian.

Virginia had a very special gift, sales. She worked at Bestt Furniture in Norfolk. What made her so unique, was that she never tried to sell anything. She had a true love for people and wanted them to have the very best experience they could. She truly wanted them to be happy with their purchase. Her compassion and warmth show in so many different areas, but it was Virginia's strength that will always be remembered. Also, the family fondly remembers Virginia for being a tremendous cook. "I have had dinner with Oscar winners, lunch with men from the Forbes List, spent time with family members of Presidents, breakfast with the Heavy Weight Champion of the World, but I still want to be with my Mom." - Brad Langenberg. Survivors include her son Brad of Santa Monica, California and many nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents; husband; children, Brian and Nanette; and sisters, Shirley Schmidt and Zelpha Kimmer.

Wayne Lions Club assists in Eye Screening Project

Eighty percent of all visual impairment can be prevented or cured according to the Lions Club International Vision Screening website (Vision Screening | Lions Clubs International)

The first step to prevention is awareness. The second is early detection through vision screening. Around the world, Lions partner with medical professionals and community leaders to screen children, youth, and adults to identify those at risk for vision loss. The venue for Lions' vision screenings varies from schools to workplaces, to community health fairs. On Sept. 14 Wayne Lions Ken Kwapnioski and Teresa Bartlett, assisted by Allen Darrell, Lions Mobile Eye Screening unit and volunteers, Karissa Hayes and Melissa Nelsen from the Wayne Kiwanis Club screened children at the elementary and high school. These volunteers screened 388 elementary and high school students. The screening found 45 abnormal vision conditions. Early identification leads to timely referral professional treatment, and improved or restored sight.

Anyone who would like to learn more about Lions Vision Screening or other work of Lions Clubs, is invited to join the group for a meeting on the first Tuesday of the month at Taco's & More. Fellowship begins at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting begins at 7 p.m.. You can also contact President Ken Kwapnioski or Vice President Teresa Bartlett for

Wayne State nets $2.125-million Student Success Grant from Department of Education

Wavne State College has received a $2.125 million grant from the U.S. Department of Education through the Title III Strengthening Institutions program.

The annual awards of $375,000 to $450,000 per year for five years will provide the College with the resources to substantially reduce student performance gaps, increase the percentage of students who return to Wayne State to continue their education in the following year, and increase graduation rates. This is the first time that WSC has received Title III funds.

"This grant provides the college with great resources for our students," said Dr. Anne McCarthy, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. "We want to make life at WSC easier for you. Whether it's getting help from a peer before that hard exam, knowing where to go for help and advice, or having faculty who know what you really need from a class, we have your back. This project allows us to take our support network to the next level and creates jobs for students who want to support their peers."

Wayne State applied for the funds in order to supplement the resources the college uses on a daily basis to serve underrepresented student populations and provide the educational opportunities required for continued economic and workforce development. The Wayne State Interventions program, termed WayS In, signals a tight integration of a variety of retention and success that encompasses academic support, faculty innovations, and student peer mentoring.

"The development of this grant project and the upcoming implementation plan are hugely collaborative endeavors," McCarthy said. "We have a great team here at WSC, and it is through our combined talents and efforts that we get to do this good work for our students and for our institution."

The college's focus on student success, affordability, and maintaining a close-knit, diverse community has made Wayne State the institution of choice for many of Nebraska's first-generation, lowincome, and rural college students. Changing demographics projected for the state of Nebraska point to the need to prepare for changes in Wayne State's student body.

"As our student population evolves, so do their needs in and out of the classroom," said John Vinchattle, Assistant to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. "The WayS In program will help Wayne State College develop our student services and faculty supports to accommodate a new generation of learners.'

Wayne State will use the funds to support comprehensive academic success plans inside and outside the classroom. The U.S. Department of Education grant will fully fund new initiatives for the fiveyear period of the grant. These plans, which are made up of a suite initiatives into a single enterprise of best-practice initiatives shown by research to positively impact underrepresented student populations, include:

· Funding for peer educator and peer mentor programs that provide supportive role models and guides with similar interests and backgrounds, peer-led instruction, and more on-campus jobs.

• First Year Experience courses that develop a sense of community and provide new students with training on the habits, resources, and tools they need to succeed in

·A student performance and record-sharing platform that allows for coordinated care of at-risk students.

·Professional development opportunities for faculty and staff to stay up-to-date with pedagogical shifts related to hands-on learning, changing student demographics, and use of technology through the creation of the Center for Faculty Development and Innovation.

"Wayne State College faculty strive to continuously develop classroom strategies that will improve student success and campus climate," Vinchattle said. "The WayS In grant funds will allow faculty to further explore innovative solutions being used across the country and share these techniques with their colleagues."

Conference

From Page 1A The conference featured keynote speakers Dr. Rosemarie Allen, the CEO and president of the Center for Equity & Excellence, and Bina Patel Shrimali with the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. Allen discussed the importance of ensuring all children have access to highquality early childhood programs that are developmentally and culturally appropriate, and how it relates to economic development and community vitality. Allen focuses on the critical role families and communities play in quality child care, and how no decisions should be made without input from those key stakeholders.

Shrimali supports Allen's approach and discussed how quality early childhood care and education can help advance healthy and resilient communities, a thriving labor force, and inclusive financial sys-

The event is designed to provide breast cancer awareness, education and support and serves as a fun evening out. In the past, over 300 people from throughout northeast Nebraska have attended the evening's activities.

Organizers have added a fundraising goal to the event to provide funds for treatment of lymphedema patients at the Providence Medical Center Therapy Department. Lymphedema is a disease that causes swelling in the arm(s) or trunk of the body after treatment for breast cancer. Sleeves, gloves and other compression garments needed by patients experiencing lymphedema will be purchased with funds from this year's Pink Flamingo event. These items are not typically covered by insurance..

Additional funds this year are being raised through a quilt raffle. An 88 x 93 inch quilt was made by Vernae Luhr of Wakefield and is made of 1930s reproduction fabmembrance and hope for the millions of aborted babies, especially since 1973. Began in 1987 in Yorba, California, according to LifeChain.org, "Life Chains [build] upon the promise that God gave to His people in 2 Chronicles 7 [as] God said to Solomon in verses 14-15, "[if] my people, who bear my name, humble themselves, pray and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, then I will hear from heaven, forgive their sin, and heal their land. My eyes will now be open and my ears attentive to prayer from this place." This is why, for the past 33 years, Life Chain has sought to lead the body of Christ in repentance and prayer regarding abortion.

As a most contentious topic, with many heated debates for and against, the issue of abortion has not been resolved despite SCOTUS' Roe V. Wade decision.

The Wayne Area Right to Life organization, along with several area churches, has chosen to join together in prayer for the community's guidance in leading

Wildcats knock off No. 11 Duluth for third straight win

DULUTH, Minn. — To win a close one on the road, your defense and special teams need to come through in those clutch situations.

The Wayne State Wildcats got both in the final three minutes as Alex Powders hit a tie-breaking 35-yard field goal with 2:25 to go and the defense forced a gameending fumble to help the underdog Wildcats post a 31-28 upset over No. 11-ranked Minnesota Duluth in a Northern Sun Conference matchup here Saturday night.

Saturday's win was the first for a Wildcat team over a ranked opponent since a 27-7 win over No. 25 Winona State on Oct. 4, 2014, and was just the second win over Minnesota Duluth in 16 meetings. Their only other win over the Bulldogs came on Sept. 17, 2011, when they upset then-No. 1 Duluth 7-0 at Memorial Stadium.

Duluth took the early advantage after a Wayne State turnover, scoring on a 30-yard run by Cazz Martin for a 7-0 advantage with 5:27 left in the first period.

The second period turned into a track meet, as both teams raced across the field to the tune of six touchdowns, four coming by the upstart Wildcats.

Nick Bohn got the party started with a one-yard run, finishing off a nine-play, 64-yard drive to tie the score at 7-7 with 14:15 to go in the

Less than two minutes later, Gerale Flye recovered a Duluth fumble on the next series and Bohn found Taurean Grady with a 23-yard scoring pass to give Wayne State its first lead of the night at 14-7 with 11:59 to play in the half.

After a Duluth punt, Wayne State marched its way to a 21-7 advantage when Bohn hit Anthony Watkins for a 12-yard pass with 9:48 to go, and it looked like the Wildcats were taking control of the Duluth bounced back on the next play, however, as Cazz Martin broke away for a 75-yard touchdown run, cutting the lead in half to 21-14.

Before halftime, though, Wayne State marched 80 yards in nine plays, the last 48 coming from Watkins who gave Wayne State a 28-14 lead with his second touchdown of the night.

Duluth closed the deficit back to seven in the final seconds on a fiveyard pass from John Larson to Armani Carmickle, making the score 28-21 at intermission.

Wayne State's defense toughened up in the second half, forcing three Duluth turnovers, but Duluth's defense was equal to the task, holding Wayne State's offense to minus-11 yards in total offense in the third

With a little more than a minute gone in the final period, Duluth tied the game as Martin scored his third TD of the night on a six-yard run, making it 28-28 with 13:55 to go.

Wayne State's offense made one final push and managed a 35-yard field goal by Powders to take the three-point edge with 2:25 to go. Duluth was driving into Wildcat territory when they coughed up the ball for the fifth and final time. Ijaaz Rashid picked up the loose ball at the Wayne State 36-yard line and the Wildcats were able to seal the win from there.

Watkins led the Wayne State ground attack with 101 yards on 21 carries and a touchdown. Bohn completed 13-of-22 passes for 221 and two scores. Grady led the WSC receiving corps with a career-high eight catches for 133 yards and a forced fumble, Rashid added five tackles and a fumble recovery, Gerale Flye picked off a pass and recovered a fumble, Kevin Ransom had a pick and Jaylan Scott recovered a fumble.

Wayne State will be back home for the Homecoming/Hall of Fame Game on Saturday, hosting Winona State in a 1 p.m. kickoff at Bob Cunningham Field.

Jordan McCormick makes a diving dig to help the Wayne State volleyball team to a threeset win over University of Sioux Falls in the Wildcats' home opener last Tuesday.

Wildcats breeze to trio of NSIC sweeps

The No. 8-ranked Wayne State volleyball team had no problems getting through the second week of Northern Sun Conference play, posting a trio of three-game sweeps at home.

On Friday, outside hitter Kelsie Cada produced a match-high 13 kills to lead the Wildcats to an easy 25-16, 25-12, 25-14 sweep over Minnesota Crookston.

The Wildcats forced eight attack errors on the Golden Eagles in the first set and used six kills by Cada to take the opening set.

In the second set, Crookston scored the opening point before Wayne State ran off 11 in a row, followed by another six-point run to take a 17-2 lead and cruise to the easy second-set win. Taya Beller's six kills on six attacks paced the Wildcats in the set while Jordan McCormick had two service aces.

In the third set, Wayne State forced nine Golden Eagle attack errors that included four blocks to go with three service aces as the Wildcats completed the sweep.

Wayne State finished the match with a .306 attack percentage, recording 32 kills on 72 attacks with just 10 errors. UMC was held to a .048 hitting percentage. Cada's 13 kills led the Wildcats have to play a lot of games to score 10 touchdowns.

Bokemper sets state records in Trojan win

Wakefield senior Logan Bokemper got the job done — and more in just one night.

Bokemper rushed for 10 touchdowns and added a kickoff return for a score to help the Trojans roar back from an 18-point halftime deficit to pull away with an 82-62 win at Plainview on Friday.

The effort broke three Nebraska state records, including 10 rushing touchdowns (old record 9), 11 total touchdowns (old record 10) and 74 points with four two-point conversion runs (old record of 72 was set last week by Gunner Reimers of Palmer)

It was the first win of the season for the Trojans and couldn't have come at a better time, but they needed a big defensive stand in the second half to facilitate the comeback from a 54-36 halftime deficit. The teams matched scores throughout much of the first period, but Plainview built the big lead at the half.

Then it was time for Bokemper and Co. to make a statement of their own.

Bokemper scored on runs of 50, 5, 37 and 7 yards, and added a 65-yard kickoff return for a touchdown in the first half, but would turn it all loose in the second half.

Bokemper opened the second half with a one-yard run to cut the deficit to 54-44, but Plainview answered with what would be their final score of the night on a pass that increased their lead back to 62-44. Bokemper scored a second touchdown in the third quarter on another one-yard run to put the deficit back to 10 points, then ran wild in

Some high school football players the final period with runs of 1, 1, 15, 23 and 43 yards — all in the span of seven minutes — to lead the Wakefield comeback.

> The two teams combined for 994 yards in total offense, with all of Wakefield's 502 yards coming on the ground. Bokemper rushed for 283 yards on 25 carries with 10 touchdowns, while quarterback Cade Johnson finished with 219 yards on 22 carries.

Defensively, Bokemper led the team with 15 total tackles, Johnson had 13, Diego Martin had 11 with two quarterback sacks and Kaden Frahm (PAT failed) Kratke had eight tackles and a fumble recovery.

Pendragons burn Allen in 56-0 shutout ALLEN — It was not pretty to played a fairly good first quarter

watch Friday night as the visiting Pender squad rolled to a 56-0 win at Allen.

The Eagles' hopes of competing with the Pendragons went down quickly as a couple of key players were out and the Eagles found it difficult to create any kind of offense during the evening.

"We had a difficult situation to overcome," coach Dave Uldrich said. "The inability to prepare others really put the clamps on anything we were planning on doing tonight. Nonetheless, the team and one half before Pender took full advantage of our situation.'

Caleb Trimble of Pender ran 11 times for 254 yards and five touchdowns to lead the Pender crew. The Pendragons led 14-0 at the end of one period, and broke the game wide open in the last six minutes of the half, scoring three times.

The Eagles had two promising drives end with turnovers during the first half, and never really mounted any other serious threats the rest of the evening.

Offensively, Dylan Boyle had 52

vards in reserve action to lead the team. Defensively, Brayden Mc-Corkindale had six tackles to lead the team. Nathan Oswald had five stops and one interception.

"We are not done, and the kids will not quit," Uldrich said. "There are still some things that can be accomplished and our season goal is still out there to achieve. It is time now to recover, prepare and go get what the team is wanting.'

The loss drops the Eagles to 1-4 overall and 1-1 in the district. Next action is Friday, Oct. 1 at Wynot. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Blind Woman Able to Find All Her Household Items

Mrs. W. H. Phillips lost her eyesight completely five years ago and to this day she can remember where everything in her home is and can put her hand on it in a moment. Everything in her home must remain exactly as it was, of course; nothing can be moved.

The irony in her losing her sight from glaucoma remains in the fact that she recalls as a child having read a story about someone else losing his sight from the same dreaded disease. She remembers having been paralyzed with fear for that person, and now she has lived through the same experience.

For Mrs. Phillips the sacrifice of her vision has been much more that for most persons, because she was always a woman with many hobbies - sewing, crocheting, knitting, painting and playing

Her life has changed considerably but she still does every chore conceivably possible. She does all her own housework except vacuuming the floor and does all her own cooking. Mrs. Phillips has even taught herself to write all her own checks.

Mrs. Phillips' philosophy in life was stated simply: "I care what people think but I don't go by what people think." She concluded that she has tried to live her life as Christ would have done it.

September 30, 1971 School Night for Scouting

Bob Carhart, top center, Scoutmaster of Wayne Boy Scout Troop 221, shows interested youths attending the Scout recruitment program, held Thursday night at the West Elementary School, how to start a fire by rubbing sticks together.

Sixteen boys joined local Scout troops and packs at the meeting. Participating in the activities were Scoutmasters Carhart, Troop 221; Rowan Wiltse, Troop 175; Ray Replogle, Troop 174; and Cubmasters Marlyn Koch, Pack 175, and Loren Park, Pack 221.

October 1, 1981 Skydiver, Stunt Pilot to Perform

Wakefield skydiver Dave Hitz, right, a former Wayne State College student, plans to jump into the 50th anniversary celebration for the Wayne Municipal Airport Sunday, weather permitting.

With Hitz is Kevin Dempsey of Norfolk, a fellow skydiver. Hitz, who is working in Yankton, South Dakota, said he would work to get Dempsey to join him for the Sunday jump.

Here, the duo walk off the airport runway after a series of jumps this spring. Show organizers are looking for an FAA certified plane to fly the jumpers. Hitz is working to get a hot-air balloonist to the show.

September 29, 2011 Kjelland digs dinosaurs on recent Badlands trip

Dr. Michael Kjelland grew up wanting to emulate the character made famous by Harrison Ford in the "Indiana Jones" movies of the 1980's and 1990's.

Although not an archeologist, he did get a real-world opportunity to do some serious paleontology work this past summer, thanks to a Labor Day journey to the Dakota Badlands that resulted in the unearthing of bones from a Triceratops dinosaur.

What he was able to bring home was a small part of a spinal column of a Triceratops dinosaur that was believed to be at least 30 feet long, 10 feet high and weighed in at somewhere between six and 12 tons. Kjelland estimated that about 82 vertebrae made up the spinal column of the dinosur he ran across on his trip this past summer.

The trip to the Dakota Badlands gives Kjelland an opportunity to expose his students to paleontology opportunities and some of the biologicaal research that is inspired by finds such as his.

As for the site where he made his latest discovery, he plans on returning, and hopes that he can bring some students along to share in the experience.

ACME Club meets at Senior Center

ACME held its 2021 organizational meeting Sept. 20, following a noon lunch at the Wayne Senior Center to begin its 138th year.

Bonnadell Koch called the meeting to order with the reading of the minutes from ACME's May 3, 2021 meeting submitted by Secretary Virginia Backstrom, followed by information from Treasurer Mary Lou Erxleben, who gave the updated report of the treasury activity and balance.

Dues were collected from each member and entered into the records. A letter from Wayne Public Library's Director, Heather Headley, was introduced and read; and the book presented to the membership that was purchased in memory of Verdelle M Reeg. The book, titled The Enchanted

Hour: The Miraculous Power of Reading Aloud in the Age of Distraction, by Meghan Cox Gurdon, will be placed in the library collections to be checked out by the public.

Letters were read from Jana Reeg Steidinger that had been sent to most of the members during the last month and members each expressed their appreciation for news they had received. Visits to Fritz and Joann Temme were also shared with members.

Betty Wittig shared her Thought for the Day as follows: "My theory on housework is, if the item doesn't multiply, smell, catch fire, or block the refrigerator door, let it be. No one else cares so why should you?" Mary Lou Erxleben was recognized for her Sept. 30 birthday with warm wishes. After discussions were held, the meeting was adjourned until Monday, Oct. 4.

Northeast Community College to host series of lectures

Community College is focused on vocational training and on the importance of careers, but the history instructor says the humanities also play a crucial role in occupational training where it includes developing one's self.

"Certainly, within the humanities, there are jobs out there where people with associates' and history degrees will be able to get work," he said. "In my area, my corner of academia, it's really about developing wisdom that can last a lifetime."

As a way to help promote academic discipline, Muncy and other instructors at Northeast will host a series of Friday evening lectures during National Humanities Month in October that showcase the intellectual side of humanities as they relate to everyday life.

"It's important to me that that voice doesn't get lost in our institution. And it's also important to me that the town and this area sees (Northeast) as a hub, not just for vocational training, but for things like knowledge and fine and performing Muncy began reaching out to his colleagues earlier this year to see if they would have an interest in developing the series. Instructors stepped up offering suggestions that range from the effects of comics books and graphic novels in society to understanding art to the origins of three popular holidays.

He is open to polling attendees on their interests and then seek out others to speak on various subjects.

"I do love the idea of having instructors from the college give these talks, but, hopefully as we develop it, we could bring in other lecturers. It is about trying to connect with the rest of the community and make this a retreat for the intellect of people who want to have that stimula-

Mia Nelsen is a senior at Wayne High School. Mia is a great student at Wayne High. She is willing to do whatever is asked and will do so to the best of her roles as FFA president, senior class president and teacher aide. Mia has given up several study halls and weekends to help plan and execute Homecoming and Spirit Week. Mia regularly stays after sporting events to help clean up the student section. She is always willing to help out Mia is kind, helpful, flexible and easy to work with. Mia is the daughter of Kyle and Melissa Nelsen.

Jessa McMenamin is a fifth grader at Wayne Elementary School. Jessa is being nominated for Student of the Month because she ALWAYS goes above and beyond in the peers, and in day to day tasks. She jumps at the opportunity to help a classmate, a staff member, and/or anyone needing assistance. Jessa stays late to help clean up, to help a student who doesn't understand an assignment, and helps out others by picking up equipment. She is a model student in the classroom and truly strives for excellence in all she does. Jessa is the daughter of John & Andrea McMenamin.

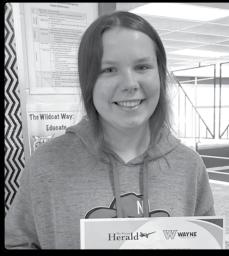

St. Mary's Catholic School We will nominate Alaina Braun (Kindergarten). She is a loving child of God who shares with others and es on completing her work in a time-ly manner. Politeness and happiness are two of her best qualities.

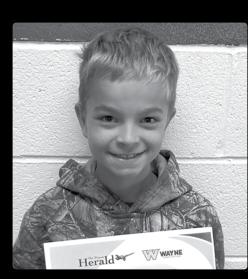

Keaton Gregory is a seventh grader at Laurel-Concord-Coleridge Middle School. Keaton is very kind to everyone and is always willing to help staff and peers. Keaton works at our school PBIS store and also volunteers to assist the kitchen staff. Keaton has been a great addition to our school and we are all proud of his efforts! He was nominated by Mrs. Mark Leonard. Keaton is the son of Koinn and Ashley Rees.

Blake Hansen is a sixth grader at Middle Laurel-Concord-Coleridge School. Blake has taken upon himself to help others in our classroom. He is always willing to give of his time. During study hall, you can find him helping 5th graders. He will choose to sit by someone needing a friend or to refocus. Blake has grown as an individual and should be proud! Farmers across the Midwest are equates to 23.1 deaths per 100,000 may result in a narrow window to not exclusive to the harvest season it's important farmers take care

> "A well-rested farmer is a safe "As farmers, we're often at the and alert farmer," said Andy Jober from Gothenburg. "It may often seem like we, as farmers, have an overwhelming job ahead of us but with a little time and patience, we can harvest our 2021 crops successfully without injury or death."

Farmers are not the only people who should be cautious during the harvest season. Anyone who may be visiting or traveling through rural areas should be mindful of increased farm traffic on roads and highways. Harvest equipment should be visible with front and rear warning lights, as well as slow moving vehicle emblems to notify motorists of approaching machinery. In rural areas, parents of small children should also develop safety rules to prevent youth from playing on or near harvest equipment.

Additional tips for farmers, farm workers and rural residents to consider while on the farm this fall:

Equipment Safety

·Be careful when approaching harvest equipment. Approach from the front and gain eye contact with the operator before approaching.

·Ensure the harvesting equipment is fully stopped and disengaged before climbing onto a vehi-

·Do not place yourself near any unguarded or otherwise running machinery. ·Avoid pinch points between equipment - such as tractors with grain wagons. Visibility can be limited and serious injury can occur.

Entanglement Hazard · Entanglement hazards can happen very quickly.

·Do not ever try to unplug any equipment without disengaging power and removing energy from the equipment.

·Never pull or try to remove plugged plants from an operating ·Always keep shields in place to avoid snags and entanglement when working around equipment.

Fall Hazard ·Be careful climbing on and off

equipment.

·Be alert and extremely careful when working in wet or slippery conditions.

·Keep all walkways and platforms open and free of tools, dust, debris or other obstacles. Clean all walkways and platforms before use.

· Wear clothing that is well fitting and not baggy or loose. Also wear proper non-slip, closed toe shoes.

·Use grab bars when mounting or dismounting machinery. Face machinery when dismounting and never jump from equipment. ·Never dismount from a moving

Fire Prevention ·Carry a fire extinguisher with you in your vehicle (A-B-C, 5 or 10 pound). ·Remove dust and buildup from equipment. Check bearings regularly to prevent overheating and chance of fire.

Grain Wagon Safety · Be careful to monitor grain wagon weight to never exceed maximum weight limits. As weight increases, grain wagons can be more difficult to control. ·Load grain wagons evenly to distribute weight to prevent weaving or instability across the grain wagon. ·Inspect grain wagon tires and replace any worn or cracked tires. Grain Bin Safety

· If entering a bin, wear a harness

attached to a secure rope. Never work alone.

·Never allow children to get too close or inside the bin.

·Wear a dust filter or respirator

when working in bins. ·Stay out of bins when equipment is running.

Advice offered for readying the garden soil for winter

As harvest from the vegetable garden draws to a close, it is time to plan and take steps to protect the soil for the winter months ahead. This ensures the soil is in good shape and ready for next year's garden. After all, soil isn't just dirt, but a rich and varied composition of minerals and plant nutrients, organic matter, beneficial microorganisms, and humic acid. It is not only foundational, with spaces for roots to grow and anchor plants, but also serving up a nourishing "stew" for seed germination, plant growth and vegetable production. You can start by removing spent vegetable plants, weeds, and mushy produce from the garden. Diseased plant material and weeds with seeds should not be composted but buried elsewhere as most home compost piles do not get hot enough to kill pathogens and seeds. Things that are disease and insect free can be added to the compost pile.

Consider planting a cover crop, sometimes known as green manure, such as annual rye, hairy vetch, peas, radishes, or barley. Seeds planted now will germinate yet this fall, providing winter-long protection of the soil from wind erosion. Cover crops also protect the soil from rain droplet splash, which destroys soil structure. Come spring, the cover crop is mowed, soil, boosting soil tilth. More information about cover crops is found at this USDA site: https://go.unl.

Piles of raked tree leaves should not be burned. Instead, run a mulching mower over the leaves to chop them up, then add them to the garden. Roughly spade in the chopped leaves to keep them from blowing away. The presence of leaves in the soil will allow for better infiltration of water, which in turn provides a jump start to leaf decomposition, ultimately enriching the soil and providing pore spaces for plant roots to grow. Fall is a great time to add soil amendments.A soil amendment loosens clay soils and increases water holding capacity in sandy soils. Realize that plant roots don't grow in the soil, they grow in the spaces in the soil, so adding amendments like compost, well-aged manure, leaf mold, or decomposed wood chips increases soil spaces and root growing capacity.

Vary the tools and methods for cultivating the soil. Using a mechanized tiller, year after year, can create an undesirable hardpan layer beneath the cultivated soil. Hardpan allows little water percolation, creating a waterlogged soil above it, and an impenetrable layer for roots and the material worked into the to grow through it. Opt instead, to forego using any cultivation at all or hand dig with a spade in alternate years, breaking through the tine depth of the rototiller's reach and punching holes into the hard-

If the soil is powdery dry, drag out the hoses and do a final watering of the garden. Soil water helps with the freeze-thaw cycle, fracturing soil into beneficial soil aggregates and boosting soil structure. Caring for the soil has a huge payoff, with healthy plants and better production. Gardeners can take the time to provide winter protection for their soil, ensuring it remains the resource that it is. Kathleen Cue is the Horticulture

Evaluating the animals

Approximately 350 high school students from throughout the area took part in the District III FFA Dairy Judging event at the Wayne County Fairgrounds on Sept. 28. Students were able to rotate through several different classes of dairy animals and judge them on different criteria. Dairy animals were provided by MPM Farms, Sievers Farms, Dwaine Junck, Temme Dairy and Terry Gilliland. Lunch for the students was served by members of the Wayne County Farm Bureau.

Remembering Mike.. and trees

Today would have been Mike's birthday. I'm surprised how many people remembered.

Yesterday, a granddaughter came with a couple mini bundt cakes. They all take me back to the movie, My Big Fat Greek Wedding. The groom's mother brings one to dinner at the parents of the brideto-be. That dear lady accepts kind of gingerly and goes to the house saying "bundt cake". I'm pretty sure she had not seen one before, and at that point, not really sure she would eat one!

Mike was a natural born tree planter. He would get them from the NRD, plant them with help, the kids, water them faithfully, and they grew. At the Farm House, NRD provided a bunch of Blue Spruce, and he spent hours west of the house, again, watering. He had many feet of garden hose. And some local kids weeding. Today, they are beautiful.

When we moved here, there was a whole row of pine trees to the north. The first one died, and it looked bad. They finally cut it down and replaced it with one three feet tall. It was right behind us and we could really feel it the next winter; our deck doors are on that side of our house. So far, two more are replaced, and the fourth one looks
