UNMC, Wayne State partner on early admission pathway to bachelor's degree in nursing

The University of Nebraska Medical Center and Wayne State College have signed an affiliation agreement for an early admission pathway for Wayne State College students who wish to pursue a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) at the UNMC College of Nursing Northern Division in Norfolk.

The intent of the Early Admission Pathway agreement is to make the path to a BSN seamless for students enrolled in the pre-nursing undergraduate program at Wayne State College (WSC). The UNMC College of Nursing Northern Division will provide guaranteed early admission for qualified students.

Wayne State College students complete the first two years of the BSN at WSC and then finish the BSN at UNMC's Northern Division. The early admission pathway is open to all students in-state and out-of-state.

In addition to standard criteria, early admission requires WSC undergraduate students to have successfully completed required prerequisite courses, have a GPA of at least 3.3, and meet with a student services coordinator each semester. Other features of the BSN program will include joint advising, rigorous coursework and co-curricular activities with UNMC faculty while at Wayne State College.

"We are thrilled about this opportunity for students and to work with Wayne State College to help boost the BSN pipeline in Nebraska," said UNMC College of Nursing Dean Juliann Sebastian, PhD. "The program will strengthen opportunities for seamless progression from pre-nursing coursework to the baccalaureate degree." Liane Connelly, PhD, assistant dean of the UNMC College of Nursing Northern Division said the college is excited to continue its partnership with Wayne State. "The Early Admission Pathway complements the accelerated BSN partnership and the traditional pre-nursing pathways between Wayne State and UNMC, which together have launched the successful health care careers of thousands of graduates," she said.

"Our joint program with UNMC underscores the longstanding relationship between our two institutions and the trust that UNMC has in our preparation of students for health care careers," said Wayne State College President Marysz Rames, PhD. "We know many of our students want to be a nurse but may not be sure of how to get there. Here is a clear and simple path to a career in nursing."

Ron Loggins, PhD, dean of WSC's School of Science, Health, and Criminal Justice, said admission to nursing programs has become highly competitive and students are looking for opportunities to connect to a future professional program.

"They are also looking for academic pathways that provide assurances that they will be prepared for nursing school," Dr. Loggins said. "Our partnership with UNMC and flexible pathways allow both traditional and non-traditional students to prepare for a career in nursing. Nurses are a key participant in the patient care team and I'm proud to say that Wayne State College is helping students achieve their goal of becoming a nurse. This will guarantee a seat in a premier nursing program."

Applications are being accepted now for the fall 2022 semester. Guaranteed spaces will be made available each academic year for this early admission pathway agreement.

Those participating were able to run, walk or bike the route and learn agriculture-related facts along the way. Many of the attendees came dressed in Halloween costumes.

Country View staff members complete 'Abilities Care Expert' training

A special "pinning ceremony" was held at Wayne Country View on Oct. 25. Five staff members at the facility completed training to become an "Abilities Care Expert."

"Here at Wayne Country View we have spent the last two years training our therapist and building our Abilities Care Approach program," said Marci Woehler, PTA, Therapy Program Manager/Chief Therapy Officer at the facility.

The five graduates include: Katie Talbot, LPN; Jazmine Duhsman, CNA/CMA/transportation; Oliva Thompson, CNA; Shelby Brodkorb, dietary; and Liz Schlamann, CNA/CMA.

The Abilities Care Approach provides patients with Alzheimer's disease and Related Dementias (ADRD) the opportunity to achieve and maintain their highest level of functional independence. Determining how mental, physical and psychosocial capabilities interact with task demands and caregiving approaches, allows caregivers to impact functional performance in activities of daily living, functional mobility, communication, and engagement in meaningful activities.

The Abilities Care Approach results in a comprehensive understanding of resident's remaining abilities, as well as an understanding of their life story and history. This comprehensive understanding of the resident guides caregivers in developing interventions and approaches that match the individual's preferences and interests, and are adapted to his or her best ability to function.

This approach to treatment is taken from Claudia Allen's Cognitive Disabilities Model and focuses on a rehabilitative approach to care. Once a resident's abilities and needs are fully understood, the caretaker can identify successful approaches and adaptations to caregiving / communication and the environment to promote function. The final phase of the intervention is focused on teaching and training those who interact with the resident (staff, caregivers, and families) the strategies and adaptations that facilitate a best ability to function.

"We have successfully trained five staff members outside of the therapy department who have applied, interviewed, and completed a 6.5 hour training provided by our own OT, Kim Cooper who is a TEACHA (Therapy Expert of Abilities Care Holistic Approach)," Woehler said.

"We couldn't be more proud and excited to have gotten our program to where it is to be able to provide this additional training to our staff to best care for our residents and improve our residents interaction with their loved ones," she added.

WSC Growing Together Cohort presents Sen. Mike Flood with Challenge Coins and GRIT Award

The Growing Together Career Scholars Cohort of Wayne State College presented Sen. Mike Flood of Norfolk with two awards Tuesday, Oct. 19, at Napoli's Restaurant in Norfolk. The awards were presented by Brogan Jones of Allen and Austin Pierce of Brainard.

The first award consisted of four Challenge Coins, which confirm membership in the program and recognize a person for an achievement or a significant accomplishment. The coins signify benchmarks that represent student unification, preparedness, and empowerment of learning by doing.

The second award was the GRIT (Genuine, Resilience, Integrity, and Tenacity) Award. The GRIT Award recognizes character strengths that demonstrate a combination of determination, perseverance, and vision.

This is the first time the GRIT Award has been presented to an individual.

"Flood's unrelenting determination, perseverance, and passion to the Growing Together Career Scholars program exemplifies the definition of GRIT," said Dr. Michael Keibler, Executive Director of Cooperative Education at Wayne State College. "His authentic and genuine pursuit of workforce development is inspiring; his resilience despite challenges is encouraging; his integrity to the foundation of experiential learning is beyond reproach; and his tenacity to move his vision forward sets an example for all. As students, we want to thank Flood and recognize him, as he moves and inspire all of us to do the same."

At its core, the Growing Together Career Scholars Program supports workforce and economic development in Northeast Nebraska and is part of the larger Growing Together Initiative, a strategy aimed to retain young people and grow and sustain the region's economy. To participate, students must be passionate about earning a degree in one of the eligible fields, and they must be committed to remain in Northeast Nebraska. Throughout the program, students participate in career readiness activities. During their senior year, students live in the downtown Norfolk area with their peers. This living experience helps them socially connect with the community and gain an appreciation for the many exciting social and cultural opportunities available in the city of Norfolk. Upon graduation, the goal is for them to be hired into full-time positions in Northeast Nebraska.

Memorials may be directed to the Kardell family for later designation. Arrangements are with Hase-mann Funeral Home of Wayne.

Kenneth M. Kardell was born Jan. 16, 1927 on the family farm south of Laurel to Oscar and Hilda (Forsberg) Kardell. He attended country school District #86 in Cedar County. At an early age, Kenny accepted Christ as his Savior; this decision was reflected throughout his life. He worked with his dad farming, custom corn shelling and at the service station in Laurel, now owned by David and Karla Kardell. He served in the United States Army from 1951-1953, and in Korea for 14 months. Kenny married Muriel Anderson on Sept. 5, 1953, at Trinity Evangelical Free Church in Holdrege and to this union four sons were born: Daniel, Dudley, Derwin, and David. Raising four energetic boys provided many memories through the years. The couple farmed for many years near Laurel before moving to a farm north of Dixon. Kenny worked for John Deere in Laurel and Wayne, farmed and sold Morman's feed. He was a faithful member of the Concord Evangelical Free Church and served on various boards of the church throughout the years. He enjoyed his church, family, traveling, farming, mechanic work, music by George Beverly Shea and the Palermo Brothers, the church men's quartet, and especially Muriel's singing.

Survivors include his sons, Dan (Jeanne Ann) Kardell of Wayne, Dudley (Juli) Kardell of Holdrege, Derwin (Lynette) Kardell of Yutan, and David (Karla) Kardell of Laurel; 10 grandchildren, Dena (Daniel) Lipp, Shaun (Jessica), Jenessa, Marisa (Dusty) Baker, Austin, Pierce, Joel (Katy), Kyle, Kelsey (Lane) Gottula, and Bethany; nine great-grandchildren, Vincent, Ada and Theodore Lipp, Selena and Jocko Kardell, Brooks Baker and Colin, Evan and Levi Kardell; brothers Arnie Kardell of Center Point, Texas, Paul (Madonna) Kardell of Lincoln, brother-in-law Tim Boeckenhauer of Hubbard; and a host of special nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Muriel, in 2017; brother, Virgil (Verna) Kardell; sisters, Lucille (Clifford) Carlson and Shirlene Boeckenhauer; step-mother-in-law, Nina Anderson; sisters-in-law, Ruth (Henry) Peterson and Elna Bragg, brothers-in-law, Kenneth (Jeanne) Anderson and Bruce (Laurene) Anderson.

The next community drive will be Wednesday, Nov. 24 from noon to 5:30 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall.

"Thanks to everyone who came out to show their support, be sure to text 'LIFESERVE' to 999-777 to make your next appointment and we look forward to seeing you next time!" said Allison Brumels Life-Serve Blood Center Territory Representative.

Clair Stoakes

Clair Earl Stoakes, 101, of Winside, died Wednesday, Oct. 20, 2021, at Countryview Care Center in Wayne.

There will be no funeral service at this time. A joint memorial service will be held later when it can be combined with his wife, Lura.

Brockhaus-Howser-Funeral Home in Norfolk is in charge of arrangements.

Clair Earl Stoakes was born on May 15, 1920 at Tama County, Iowa, on a farm between the towns of Traer and Dysart. Clair was the oldest son of LeRoy "Earl" Stoakes and Daisy (Carter) Stoakes. Through his younger years, he attended schools in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, and California, where he graduated in 1938. Clair married the love of his life, Lura B. Mote, on Aug. 23, 1941 at Lura's parent's home in El Cajon, California. They lived in El Cajon in a house designed and built by Clair. He worked in construction there until the outbreak of World War II, at which time he joined the service.

Clair served as a sergeant in the United States Army in the Pacific Theatre. He was the gun commander of a 90 mm artillery gun. He fought in the battle of Lingayen Gulf where he was injured during a strafing incident, and the month-long Battle of Manila in the Philippines.

After the war, Clair and Lura lived in the rapidly growing city of El Cajon for five more years before deciding to move to Nebraska, where he farmed north of Wayne for about eight years. Later, Clair worked for the City of Wayne Power Plant starting as a diesel operator and retiring as Chief Engineer 21 years later.

Clair retired in 1984 at which time he and Lura moved to Winside and lived there for 35 years. In 2019, Clair broke his hip and they moved to Countryview Care Center in Wayne. On Aug. 23, 2021 Countryview helped Clair and Lura celebrate their 80th anniversary with a ride down Main Street in a 1925 Model T convertible sedan. They said it was the best anniversary ever.

Throughout his life, Clair enjoyed hunting, fishing, and family get-togethers. He enjoyed and took great pride in keeping up the yards and houses he and Lura lived in and the cars they drove. He was happiest in his shop making things for his family.

Clair's life was anything but easy. He miraculously survived a burst appendix in 1932. A couple of years later he, his brother, and his sister were caught in the deadly Black Blizzard of 1934 as they were trying to walk home from school. In 1935, Clair and his family survived an outbreak of diphtheria, but Clair became temporarily blind.

Survivors include his wife, Lura; daughters, Susan Hajek of Silver Creek and Marilyn (Perry) Neill of Gibbon; granddaughters, Sandi Hajek Elrod of Dallas, Texas and Shelly Hajek of Chetumal, Mexico; great-grandchildren, Jesse Michael (Lindsey) Hajek and Kristin (Graham) Quinn; great-great-grandchildren, Daniel Hajek, Ally Hajek, Ember and Evan Hajek; and nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by many beloved family members, including his parents and stepmother, Opal (Muhm) Stoakes; brother, Howard (Mary) Stoakes; sister, Marion (Julius) Stoakes Baier and their spouses; son-in-law, Ron Hajek; brothers-in-law, Hugh (Dora) Mote, Dan (Bea) Mote, Harry (Marjrie) Mote, and Rev. Jim (Dorothy) Mote; and sister-in-law, Rosella (Walter) Robertson.

Advice offered on perennials: divide to multiply

Dividing perennials is a great way to expand a flower bed. It rejuvenates older plants which may have begun to die out in the center, and the new clumps are sturdy enough to become healthy, mature plants in the first year. It can help prevent an existing bed from being taken over by one plant and it's fast, easy and inexpensive. If you have a new space that will require about 20 plants to fill in, for instance, you might consider buying only five perennials and filling the rest of it with annuals until the perennials get large enough to divide.

It's best to divide plants when they're still healthy and looking good but even older, failing plants can be rejuvenated by division. The mild weather of fall and early spring is a good time to divide perennials—when they're using their energy to establish roots rather than for top growth. While air temperatures may be freezing, soil isn't likely to freeze hard enough to limit planting until late November. For best root establishment, it's best to plant a full month before the ground freezes.

In general, it's best to divide union. "We are met together and in meeting we are blessed. Peace in coming and in going, peace in labor and in rest...friendship endures!" declares the text by R. Gatsnahos. The African rhythmic feel is emphasized with Kaylee Moe of Homer and Shelly Armstrong playing djembes.

The concert choir also debuts the premiere of Let All the World in Every Corner Sing! by Matthew and Shelly Armstrong, with text by George Herbert. The women's choir presents Music, Spread Thy Voice Around by George Frederic Handel and The Voice, a selection made popular by the female ensemble Celtic Woman. Repertoire for the chamber choir includes The Word Was God, a spiritual by Rosephanye Powell and music theater selections from In the Heights by Lin-Manuel Miranda and Bravo by Steven James Schmidt.

spring-blooming flowers in fall and summer- and fall-bloomers in spring. If you divide plants later in the season, cut back the foliage to reduce heat stress and encourage new growth. Warm, windy days will cause the foliage to wilt, no matter how moist the soil. Work in the cool hours of the day if possible and try to avoid windy days. It's best to divide a few days after rain or watering so the root system is moist and doesn't fall apart.

Some plants are fibrous or have a loose crown and root system, making it easy to pull them apart. A flat spade, pitchfork or knife can be used to break clumps into halves or quarters, while trying to leave the crown sections of the plants fairly intact. It may be easier to remove the entire plant before dividing. Keeping the clumps fairly large reduces stress and aids in establishment. If you'll be moving a lot of plants or sizable ones, consider using a wheelbarrow half filled with compost to fill any holes left behind; the compost will provide renewed, fertile soil for both the old and new plants.

Place the plants at their original depth in a hole at least as wide

Wayne Rotarians celebrate 15 years of bringing dictionaries to third graders

When Wayne Rotarian Darrell Miller heard about a South Carolina Dictionary Project that provided dictionaries for every third grade student to improve the state's struggling literacy rankings, he thought it would be a good project for Wayne area schools.

Promoting reading, learning, and literacy is one of Rotary International's seven areas of focus for community and global service. What began as a little project to serve the community is now in its 15th year and serves schools in four counties.

The Wayne Rotary Club has delivered over 4,500 dictionaries to third graders in northeast Nebraska since beginning in 2006. The schools receiving books now include Allen, Emerson-Hubbard, Laurel-Concord-Coleridge, Pender, UMO'HO Nation in Macy, Wakefield, Walthill, Wayne Public, Wayne St. Mary's, Winnebago, Winnebago St. Augustine Indian Mission, Winside, and Wisner-Pilger.

This year alone, Wayne Rotarians delivered 373 dictionaries at a cost of about $2.25 each to 13 schools, visiting with students and challenging them to find and learn new words with fun games. It has become an annually anticipated tradition, with teachers arranging their curriculum to coordinate with the delivery.

Wayne Rotarians volunteer for an interactive session with students, and annual thank you cards remind us all that there is nothing better than opening a book to begin learning adventures. Though the world is becoming more and more digitalized, having a book in hand is still treasured among students and teachers alike.

Wound care for Henry VIII

When we think of Henry VIII most of us envision an oversized man with multiple wives, a bitter personality, and a propensity for beheading his enemies.

A lesser-known fact is that he suffered with chronic leg sores the last 20 years of his life. Living in a time before antibiotics, anesthesia, and proper wound care, this king endured excruciating ulcers with no cure available. Would history have been different if his sores could have been treated with today's advanced wound care?

As a young man, Henry was athletic and active. Unfortunately, he had multiple sports injuries, and one which occurred in January 1536 seemed to initiate chronic wounds. He was thrown off his horse at a jousting tournament and his fully armored horse landed on top of him. Reports from the time state he was unconscious for two hours and had several leg bone fractures. Initially he appeared to heal, but he later developed ulcers in his legs, and historians note at that point his personality changed.

His doctors lanced and drained his ulcers, but they never fully healed. There is much modern speculation as to what caused his sores. Likely the injury was the source, but his love of wearing garters around his calves also likely increased his risk for developing varicose veins and blood clots in his legs. His activity level dropped due to his pain and his weight increased. He was at increased risk for type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, and high cholesterol. All these things together made him susceptible to leg ulcers from blood vessels that did not work well making it difficult for his initial wounds to heal.

If I were transported back to Henry's court with the limited medical knowledge of that time, there would be little I could do to help him. However, if we were to transport Henry to modern day, we would observe his veins and arteries with ultrasounds. We'd use CT scans to see if infection had gone

Wayne State to present 'Lysistrata'

The setting is ancient Greece. The Peloponnesian War has stretched on for more than 20 years. In this male-dominated society, women hold no power to negotiate peace. Until Lysistrata devises a plan.

Lysistrata is presented by the Wayne State College Theatre Program Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 11-14 in the Black Box Theatre. Shows are 7 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday; and 2 p.m. on Sunday. The Black Box Theatre is located in the Lied Performing Arts Annex of the Peterson Fine Arts Building.

Tickets are $5 per person, with free admission for WSC students, faculty, and staff. Tickets are available at the door, with no reserved seats. Seating is limited.

The story follows Lysistrata, a strong, socially responsible woman determined to end the war between Athens and Sparta. She convenes a meeting of women from the war-torn land, urging them to refuse love-making until the men abandon their weapons. The women comply. Soon pandemonium breaks out. Will Lysistrata achieve what men could not and end the incessant war?

This bawdy, anti-war comedy by Greek playwright Aristophanes first took the stage in 411 BCE. Though one of about 40 plays, Lysistrata is often considered his greatest and most popular work. It was adapted by Sarah Ruden and is used with permission by Hackett Publishing. The play runs approximately 70 minutes without intermission and is intended for mature audiences only.

Lysistrata is directed by Mollie Young, adjunct professor of theatre. Brian Begley, assistant professor of communication arts, serves as technical director. Stage manager is Skyler Stefanski of Lincoln. Costumes are designed by Anna Kruger of Wayne. Sophie Pascoe of Whity, New Zealand is the haka choreographer/instructor. Several cast members also created an original dance for the show's end. This show is a part of the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival.

The cast includes Anna Mayes of Beemer, as Lysistrata; Reagan Hudson of Dickens, Avery Partida of Ord, Samantha Reimers of Saint Paul, Zachary Chroy and Katelynn Stodieck of Schuyler, Miranda Trowbridge of Murdock, Noel Huff of Yankton, South Dakota; Autumn Wessel of Gretna, Holli Hocter, Keely Stolp, Angeleigh Willey, and Macy Koch of Norfolk, Jaci Torres and Daniel Oldenkamp of Wayne, Kaylee Moe of Homer, Shayla Bennet and Shayne Bennet of Palmer, Braden Kern of Ashland, Tyler Masek of Wahoo, Kirsten Fike and Alycia Gage of York, Amanda Stuhr of Bellwood, Owen Brodd of North Bend, Joshua Monson of Oakland, Sierra Gilmore of Sioux City, Iowa; Myah Gibney of Fremont, Ashly Gunderson of Ida Grove, Iowa; Mercedes Holmes of Minden, Ashley Lecher of Franklin, Heather-Lillie Tomka of Lyons, Felicity Suelter, Miranda Holcomb, and Griffen Presnell of Lincoln, Ethan Voss of South Sioux City, Haley Hanak of Shelby and Rebecca Adams of North Bend.

Zavala brings home Wayne boys' first medal since 2011 Wayne girls sixth in Class C, LCC boys finish 14th in D

By MICHAEL CARNES

For The Herald
KEARNEY — After finishing one spot short of the medal stand last year, Jesus Zavala was not going to be denied this year.

The Wayne High sophomore scrambled through a tough field of runners and came home with a ceptable finish for him this year after being the "heartbreak kid" a year ago.

"That inspired me a lot and really pushed me," he said.

Zavala said he thought he could have established himself a little sooner in the race, but was happy to be in the mix coming into the final near the medals, it was to be in the medals, so finishing 12th is a great effort for him."

Beair said he thought Zavala's approach was a good one.

"There are always doubts there and there during the race, but there were kids in front of him that he beat earlier in the year and he put himself in position to finish ahead of them and get into the medals."

THE BLUE DEVIL GIRLS didn't get an individual medal on the day, but their team effort put them in the mix of a very talented field of teams, and the team scoring was close among the top six teams.

While Sidney edged Lincoln Christian 64-67 for the team title, third through sixth place were very close. Chadron finished third with 95 points, while Wayne was just eight points behind in sixth place with 103 points.

"It was not a bad effort at all," a beaming coach Courtney Maas said after the race. "When you look at the team placings, we were two points short of fifth place and eight away from third, so the girls ran a great race today."

Freshman Kyla Krusemark finished 18th in the field of 118 runners with a time of 21:12.6, and three-time qualifier Laura Hase- mann was 22nd in 21:26.8 to lead the way for the Blue Devils.

"They both ran very strong races, and Jala came on strong in the second half, which was what our plan was," Maas said.

Jala Krusemark placed 26th in 21:39.4, and Norah Armstrong continued her strong finish to the season with an 83rd place finish. Olivia Hanson (85th) and two-time qualifier Frantzie Barner (95th) rounded out the Wayne effort.

With all six runners being under- classmen, Maas said she is excited about next season and is looking forward to seeing if the girls can improve on that sixth-place finish.

"The future looks great for us," she said.

THE LCC BOYS PLACED 14th out of 18 teams in Class D boys competition, scoring 134 points.

The Bears ran five runners in the race and were led by Dillon Olson, who finished 49th in a time of 18:49.6.

Following Olson were Carter Korth in 78th place at 19:32.4, Tyler Olson (97th), Preston Rose (99th) and Koby Detlefsen (120th).

Wayne sophomore Jesus Zavala brought home the team's first medal in 10 years with a 12th place finish in the Class C boys race at the State Cross Country Championships in Kearney.

12th place finish in Class C action at the Nebraska State Cross Coun- try Championships Friday at the Kearney Country Club. The finish marked the first medal-winning ef- fort for a Wayne High boys runner since Quentin Jorgensen finished fourth in 2011.

While Zavala found success in the individual ranks, the Wayne High girls team posted a great overall ef- fort with a sixth-place finish that saw them within striking range of a top-three finish in the 15-team field.

For Zavala, anything short of a medal was not going to be an ac-500 meters.

"I felt good today," he said. "I probably should have pushed a little more at the beginning, but I thought if I pushed too hard early I wouldn't have enough at the end. I just wanted to give it my all. It was right there at the end and I just needed to finish it off."

Boys coach Terry Beair said he was proud of the sophomore's effort.

"I think he approached the race with a good mentality," he said. "He was right where he needed to be all day and was in striking distance the whole way. Our goal wasn't to be

Wayne State rolls to 38-16 win Saturday

MARSHALL, Minn. — Wayne State blew up Southwest Minneso- ta State early, racing to a 31-3 half- time advantage on their way to an easy 38-16 win Saturday.

The Wildcats took the opening drive of the ball game and marched 71 yards on just five plays with Taurean Grady on the receiving end of a 53-yard scoring pass from redshirt quarterback Nick Bohn to put WSC up early 7-0 at the 12:41 mark of the first quarter.

A rare WSC turnover resulted in the first three points scored by SMSU as Gage Roberson intercept- ed a Bohn pass at the WSC 25 and returned the ball 16 yards to the Wildcat 6. WSC then stopped the Mustangs on a 3 and out forcing a Carter Dicker 23-yard field goal making the score 7-3 with 7:38 to go first quarter.

Wayne State scored on their next three possessions.

The first score a 24-yard scoring pass from Bohn to Anthony Wat- kins giving the 'Cats a 14-3 lead with 5:12 left in the first quarter.

The next score was created by a Rex Becker blocked punt that gave WSC the ball at the SMSU 31. The Wildcats scored again on the first play of the second quarter, a one- yard run by Watkins, to put Wayne State ahead 21-3 with 14:55 to go before halftime.

Another turnover created by the Wildcat defense resulted in another

Wildcat score as Nicholas Joynt in- tercepted an SMSU pass near mid- field and had a 34-yard return to set up the next WSC score.

Bohn rushed seven yards for a score, giving the 'Cats a 28-3 lead.

The Wildcats closed first half scoring on a 42-yard field goal by Alex Powders for a 31-3 lead at in- termission and Southwest could on- ly manage two scoring drives in the second half as the Wildcats got the easy win.

Wayne State finished with a 390-257 advantage in total offense over the Mustangs. The 'Cats had 185 rushing yards and 205 pass- ing. SMSU gained 99 yards on the ground and 158 through the air.

Watkins led the WSC rushing attack with 56 yards on 12 carries and two scores. Bohn added 47 yards on 15 attempts and one score.

Bohn completed 11-of-21 passes for 197 yards and two touchdowns with two interceptions. Grady was the top WSC receiver with 123 yards on five catches and one score.

Defensively, junior linebacker Nicholas Joynt had 12 tackles and one interception followed by fresh- man linebacker Alex Kowalczyk with 10 stops. Kevin Ransom had a first half interception, his fourth of the season.

The Wildcats (6-2) will be on the road again next Saturday, visiting Upper Iowa at 12 p.m.

Wayne senior Brandon Bartos blocks the point-after attempt during the second quarter of Friday's 35-27 loss at Pierce.

Blue Devils come up short in 35-27 loss to Pierce

By MICHAEL CARNES
For The Herald

PIERCE — When two of the top teams in the state play one another, the difference usually comes down to mistakes.

Pierce was able to take advantage of Wayne's miscues and ran the ball well in the second half to come away with a 35-27 win over the Blue Devils Friday at Pierce High School.

"I feel like we had some missed opportunities offensively in the first half and early in the second half that could have changed the momentum of the game, and it kind of snowballed on us," coach Russ Plager said after the game. "They ran the ball well and we couldn't stop their running game and we need to do a better job of that."

Wayne led for a good chunk of the first half, striking first on their opening drive with a two-yard touchdown pass from Tanner Walling to Daniel Judd for a quick 7-0 advantage.

The Bluejays came back and tied the game on a 17-yard pass from Abram Schooling to Ritter Oesterich, but Wayne regained the lead when Blake Bartos broke into the Pierce secondary and sprinted 34 yards for a score to make it 14-7.

The Blue Devils seemed to get a little boost after Pierce scored their next touchdown when Bartos came around the left side and laid out to block the point-after attempt, keeping the Blue Devils in front at 14-13 midway through the second quarter.

That changed later as the Bluejays picked off a Walling pass and converted it into a touchdown, with Matt Christensen scoring on a five-yard run. Pierce converted a two-point conversion to take a 21-14 lead into the locker room.

"We had a couple of turnovers and we keep talking about not making mistakes that stop ourselves and just need to play cleaner if we want to be a good football team," Plager said.

Pierce scored again in the third-quarter on a trick play. Colby Anderson took the pitch from Scholting and found Ben Brahmer in the corner of the end zone, giving the Bluejays a 28-14 advantage.

Wayne kept its hopes alive midway through the fourth when Walling dove over from a yard out, but the Wayne defense couldn't stop Pierce's ground attack, as the Bluejays drove down and scored again with less than two minutes to go. Christensen dove in from two yards out to put the game out of reach, although the Blue Devils did find the end zone on the final play of the game on a 22-yard pass from Walling to Alex Phelps.

Bartos led the Wayne ground game with 136 yards on 22 carries, while Eli Barner added 44 yards on four tries and Walling had 40 yards on 10 carries.

Walling was 16-of-31 passing for 211 yards. Judd was good for 74 yards on seven catches, Phelps had 90 yards on four receptions, Yair Alcantara made three catches for 32 yards and Kaden Keller caught a 22-yard pass.

In spite of the loss, the 5-4 Blue

Devils qualified for the state playoffs and will play Friday in Albion against Boone Central/Newman Grove at 7 p.m.

Plager said that if the Blue Devils can avoid mistakes, they have the opportunity to go a long way in this year's playoffs.

"If we can go into ball games and not hurt ourselves, I think we can beat a lot of people," he said.

Evan Schmitt takes off on a 54-yard touchdown run for the LCC Bears during Thursday's 30-26 win over Exeter-Milligan/Friend in the opening round of the Class D-1 playoffs.

Bears come from behind to nip Bobcats

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge football team opened the Class D-1 playoffs with an exciting matchup at Haskell Field, coming from behind to defeat Exeter-Milligan/Friend, 30-26.

The visiting Bobcats scored first early in the second quarter, but the Bears answered with two scores to take a 14-8 halftime lead.

Evan Schmitt got the Bears on the board after the Bobcat score, scrambling around the left side and running 54 yards for a touchdown.

On their next possession, the Bears marched down the field and scored on a one-yard run by Evan Haisch to make it 14-8 at intermission. The Bears had a chance for a last-second field goal, but the kick sailed wide.

In the third quarter, the Bobcats' offense turned things up and scored three straight touchdowns, all on short runs, to take a 26-14 lead.

Late in the period, Haisch scored his second touchdown run of the night on a 17-yard gallop, cutting the deficit to 26-22 after the two-point conversion.

Midway through the fourth quarter, the Bears took to the air as Schmitt found Haisch behind the Bobcat secondary. The two connected on the 47-yard pass to make it 30-26, and the Bear defense held the Bobcats on their final possession to seal the victory.

The Bobcats keyed heavily on Haisch throughout the night, but the senior still ran the ball 29 times for 136 yards for the Bears. Schmitt had 13 carries for 87 yards and Sutton Ehlers ran 13 times for 30 yards.

Schmitt was 10-of-18 passing for 137 yards. Deagan Puppe caught five passes for 55 yards, Haisch

Slow start dooms Wildcats in 58-12 loss

JOHNSON — Johnson-Brock slowed down the Winside offense for much of the first half, dooming the Wildcats' playoff hopes in a 58-12 loss Thursday.

The Eagles jumped out to a big lead early and neutralized the Wildcats' top offensive weapon in senior Gabe Escalante, who was held to 39 yards rushing on the night.

Johnson-Brock built a 30-0 lead in the first half when Winside got on the board with a seven-yard pass from Dax Behmer to Austin Nelson.

The Wildcats connected again in the fourth quarter when Art Escalante hit Gabe Escalante on a six-yard scoring pass, but the Wildcats weren't able to do any more damage as they saw their season come to an end with a 5-4 record.

Beamer was 15-of-28 passing for 114 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Gabe Escalante was 2-of-5 passing for eight yards and Art Escalante was 1-of-3 for six yards and a touchdown.

In the rushing department, Art Escalante led the way with 50 yards on six carries. Gabe Escalante had 39 yards on nine tries and Behmer rushed for 22 yards on six carries.

Dean Kruger was the leading receiver with 52 yards on five receptions. Gabe Escalante had 31 yards on three catches, Cayden Ellis caught four passes for 25 yards, Art Escalante had 10 yards on four receptions, Nelson had a seven-yard reception and Maddox Magwire caught a two-yard pass.

Defensively, Magwire and Art Escalante each had seven tackles to lead the Wildcats. Gabe Escalante and Mason Topp both had five tackles and Ellis and Tyler Carlson each had four tackles.

Ryan Andersen goes up in the air to defend a pass during Allen's 42-14 loss to Humphrey St. Francis in the first round of the Class D-2 playoffs Thursday. It was the final game for the Eagles, who will co-op with Emerson-Hubbard next year to form the Tri County Northeast Wolfpack.

Eagles give very good effort in loss to top-seeded HSF

HUMPHREY — The final game for the Allen Eagles came at Humphrey St. Francis on Thursday night. The Flyers downed the Eagles, 42-14.

While the final score was one-sided, it was never a total domination by the top seed over the Eagles. A handful of big plays at inopportune times, as well as three consecutive Eagle drives stalling inside the St. Francis 15-yard line, spelled doom to the Allen squad.

"Our kids played their butts off tonight," coach Dave Ulldrich said after the game. "The team did almost everything the way it had to be done. The team had moments when an assignment not executed correctly allowed St. Francis to keep possession and or finish a drive. On the other hand, we had those errors stop us from finishing in the end zone at least three consecutive times during the second and third period and that changed everything."

St. Francis scored on their opening drive which consumed over half of the first period. Tanner Pfeifer scored from one yard out on a fourth-and-goal to put the Flyers up 6-0.

St. Francis forced the Eagles to punt on the following possession and quickly struck on the following drive to go up 14-0 on a Pfeifer 14-yard run.

Allen could not find the initial first down of the game on the first possession of the second period, and St. Francis quickly struck again on a Pfeifer-to-Kosch pass of 23 yards to expand the lead to 22-0 very early in the second period.

Allen then marched the field with a time consuming drive only to have it die at the 7-yard line. The Eagles then held the Flyers to a three-and-out, and again marched the field inside the Flyer 10-yard line, only to have it die on downs.

St. Francis, up 22-0 with only minimal time left in the period hit a pair of 33-yard passes to increase their lead to 28-0 at intermission.

Allen opened the third period with another lengthy drive, only again to have it stall inside the 15 of St. Francis. St. Francis tacked on a score, when Isaac Classen ran 41 yards. Classen appeared tackled when a second Eagle tackler knocked a second tackler off Classen.

Again, it appeared to be a domination with St. Francis up 34-0, but Allen again drove the field.

Joe Grone hit Ty Krommenhoek from 33 yards and the lead was cut to 34-7 late in the third period. The Eagles and Flyers traded possessions in the latter part of the period into the fourth quarter. Allen forced a three-and-out, but fumbled the punt, allowing St. Francis to score from inside the 10 yard line to go up 42-7.

Allen, playing its' last game before entering a co-op with Emerson-Hubbard next fall ended their storied history with a long drive capped off by a Gabe Reinert three-yard run.

Offensively, the Eagles rolled up 190 yards on the ground compared to 140 for St. Francis, and 41 of St. Francis' yards came on one play in the third period. St. Francis outgained the Eagles in the air 147 to 59, 66 of that total for the Flyers came on two consecutive passes late in the second period.

Reinert and Grone led the Eagle ground game with 60 and 51 respectively. Grone threw a touchdown pass of 33 yards to Krommenhoek.

Defensively, Ryan Anderson led a stout defensive effort with 12 tackles, while Grone added 7, Reinert and McCorkindale added 6.

"The coaching staff was very pleased with the team effort," Ulldrich said. "The team proved that they rightfully belonged in the field of playoff teams. Congratulations to the seniors and balance of the team on staying the course during the season, and giving us their best effort of the season tonight. Finally, to alum, parents, and former players at Allen, thank you for the tremendous support of our program over the past."

The loss, ended the Eagles season at 3-6.

Wakefield advances, LCC falls in C2-7 volleyball

CROFTON — Wakefield advanced to the finals of the C2-7 subdistrict volleyball tournament, while LCC's season came to an end in the semifinals.

The Trojans won a wild five-set match against Ponca, losing the first set before coming back to win, 17-25, 25-23, 25-21, 23-25, 15-7.

Alex Arenas led the Trojan net attack with 29 kills and a .273 hitting percentage, while Daveigh Munter-McAfee had 20 kills and hit .333 for the match. Makenna Decker and Jordan Metzler both had seven kills and Alice Brown put down four. Metzler had a career-best 48 assists while Olivia Donner added 20.

Metzler recorded four ace serves, Donner added two and Brown had one. In the digs department, Aishah Valenzuela had 46, Arenas, Metzler and Katie Borg each had 22, Donner had 15 and Munter-McAfee had eight.

Statistics for both matches were not available at press time.

Nebraska's nation-leading pandemic response

Nebraska has come through the pandemic stronger than any other state. We have the third-lowest mortality rate from COVID-19 among states. We have the lowest unemployment rate in the nation at 2.0%, which is tied for the lowest rate any state has ever achieved! Our state's GDP grew 11.8% in the fourth quarter of 2020, which was the biggest increase in America by far. We were the sixth-best state for getting kids back in the classroom, which has given our children a number of learning and social advantages.

While there's lots of credit to go around, one of the secrets to our success has been the State's Center of Operational Excellence (COE). The COE, which is a division of the Nebraska Department of Administrative Services (DAS), spearheads our continuous improvement initiatives. COE training prepared State teammates to adapt quickly to the pandemic.

This enabled the State of Nebraska to secure critical resources like Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and testing reagents at a time when many other states had severe shortages. State teammates trained in process improvement adjusted operations on the fly to meet unexpected challenges. This made our state government more agile and responsive than many of our peers. All of this great work has helped keep people healthy, while also allowing people to live a more normal life.

Prior to the coronavirus pandemic, COE Director Matthew Singh and his team helped the State operate more effectively and efficiently. This culture of continuous improvement has been especially valuable over the past year and a half. Teammates trained by the COE quickly built a system to track key health data after the coronavirus came to Nebraska. The operational expertise of the COE helped the State meet the complex logistical challenges of buying and distributing (PPE). Additionally, the team's focus on continuous improvement has helped agencies nimbly adapt their workflows to meet the needs of Nebraskans. Here are a few examples of how the COE supported Nebraska's nation-leading response to the coronavirus.

Throughout the pandemic, protecting Nebraska's hospitals has been our primary goal. When the pandemic started, there wasn't a readily available measure of state-wide hospital capacity to guide our decision-making. The COE helped Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Chief Data Strategist Ashley Newmyer and her team create a process to quickly and accurately track state-wide hospital capacity. This data has helped us ensure Nebraskans have access to the care they need, when they need it.

Skills taught by the COE enabled State leaders to efficiently acquire and distribute PPE. During the early phase of the pandemic, we recognized the challenges of obtaining PPE like masks and surgical gowns. Rather than having hospitals, emergency response teams, and nursing homes try to find these limited items on their own, we made an executive decision to leverage the buying power of the State to purchase PPE in bulk for statewide use. DAS Chief Procurement Officer Doug Carlson and Incident Commander Angie Ling coordinated between the Nebraska National Guard and DHHS to help build a logistics network to get PPE to frontline healthcare workers and first responders.

According to a National Emergency Management Association report in July of 2020, Nebraska was the first state in the country to accumulate a 120-day supply of critical PPE. Over the course of the pandemic, the State has distributed more than $52.5 million of PPE, including 39 million pairs of gloves, 5 million surgical gowns, 18.6 million masks, 288,000 containers of disinfectant wipes, and over 50,000 gallons of hand sanitizer.

The Nebraska Department of Labor (NDOL) used COE training to help Nebraskans who had lost their jobs. NDOL received four years' worth of unemployment claims in just four months from March to July of 2020. Due to the unforeseen surge of unemployment claims, the agency initially could not process them with their customary timeliness.

COE training helped the NDOL to speed up claims processing. Under normal conditions, NDOL adjudicators attend a six-week, in-person training. The coronavirus created a need to shorten the training from six to three weeks and to offer it remotely. NDOL quickly rethought how to provide the training on an accelerated timeline through virtual training software. The ability to train teammates more efficiently allowed NDOL to work through claims faster and expedite payments. This was a huge benefit to Nebraskans who had lost their job.

I've highlighted a few examples of the COE's work during the pandemic, but the agency's work extends to our normal operations as well. Since May 2016, the COE has facilitated over 575 improvement projects across 18 agencies resulting in over 630,000 hours of teammates' time being freed up to better serve Nebraskans.

To learn more about the COE, visit das.nebraska.gov/coe or contact me at pete.ricketts@nebraska.gov or 402-471-2244.

Thank you to all our State teammates for the work you've done to help our state power through the pandemic. Your dedication to operational excellence has delivered great results for the people of Nebraska.

State launches pandemic relief funded advertising campaign

Commentary by J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

"Nebraska is one big, small town." If you are here now or are from here, you've probably heard that before. Someone who knows where you are from will ask if you know so-and-so or are related to someone they know in that part of the state. If you haven't heard it, at least you understand it.

The Governor said it recently when he announced the launch of a $10 million national marketing campaign funded by federal CARES Act money to attract people to come to Nebraska for jobs and to enjoy "the good life" that the state can provide.

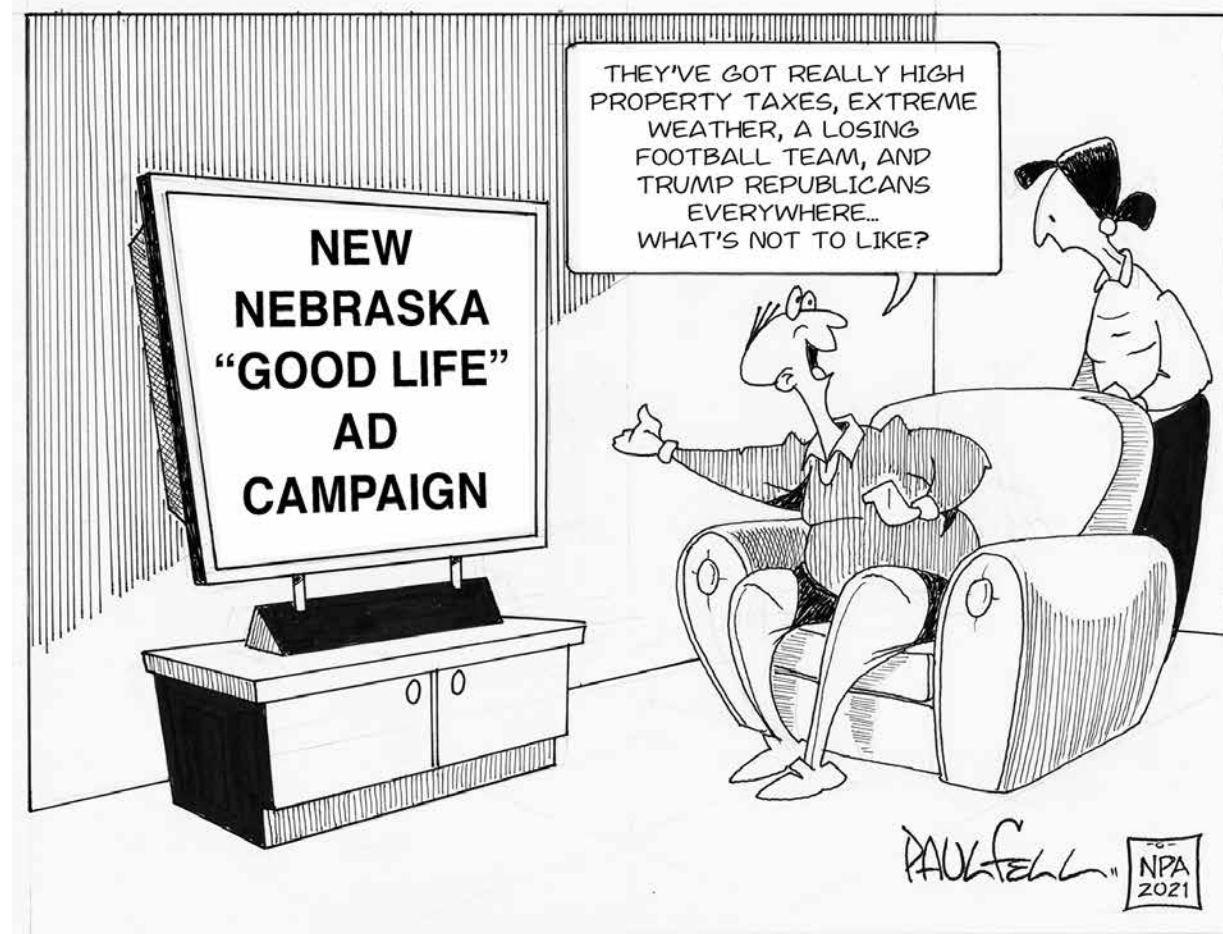

The Return to the Good Life campaign initially will be targeted to audiences in the Kansas City, Denver, Chicago and Minneapolis media markets. Those are major urban areas within 500 miles of Nebraska.

Governor Pete Ricketts said the state would also be testing the campaign in places like Silicon Valley and Austin, Texas.

"The Good Life is Calling" includes commercials and social media videos voiced by Omaha native Adam DeVine. It also includes a website featuring Nebraska stories, statistics and resources. In the latest report from the Nebraska Department of Labor, the state had 22,364 unemployed individuals. Ricketts noted there are currently around 50,000 open jobs on the NEWorks site and it's time to let the world know that.

The commercials, currently available at TheGoodLifeisCalling.com and on YouTube, will be broken into 30-second segments for advertising, Anthony Goins, director of the Department of Economic Development, said. The campaign was developed in partnership with Archival, a creative agency with a national reach that is headquartered in Lincoln.

"We have to keep the economic engine going," Archival CEO and founder Clint Runge said. "We believe Nebraska can be an ideal landing spot for many people looking for business opportunities, to start a family or to relocate for a better cost of living."

But would that necessarily be a small town given concerns about infrastructure such as internet access, distance to medical facilities and shopping, even some basic quality of life things. Yes, the "good life" is an intriguing concept. But define "good."

John Mellencamp romanticized small towns decades ago in a song by that name:

"Well, I was born in a small town
And I live in a small town
Probably die in a small town
Oh, those small communities."

We know those places. Ricketts said he hopes young Nebraskans who may have left will consider coming back to raise their families here. And he said Nebraska should be attractive to people who may be "looking for a better quality of life." Goins said the state is "a welcoming home for all walks of life." That's arguable.

One might naturally assume that major population centers would be more attractive to lure returnees. Mellencamp sang:

"Got nothing against a big town
Still hayseed enough to say
Look who's in the big town
But my bed is in a small town
Oh, and that's good enough for me."

Ricketts, Goins and Runge explained that the good life calling is all about welcoming communities – again, arguable – and work-life balance and widespread opportunities. Then there's lower than national average costs on housing, utilities, transportation and health costs. The commercials tout things such as a smile, a head nod, a wave, and a door held open for you. The small things that make a community. The best state for the middle class.

I'm hopeful that this campaign will meet the expectations of supporters. If there's quantifiable evidence of success, I'd like to see it released to the public.

What I'd really like to see is that $10 million used on tangible projects to revitalize Nebraska's small towns. Helping small businesses to thrive gives me a warmer feeling than inviting ex-pats to come back home.

I will admit that I still like the Nebraska Tourism Commission's self-deprecating 2019 campaign: "Nebraska. Honestly, it's not for everyone."

Legislative Update

Senator gives update from recent summit

Happy Halloween! What a fun time to watch our children choose a costume and trick or treating. Keep a watchful eye on the little one as we go out to celebrate another Fall tradition. Nebraskans are fortunate to live in a state where we have spectacular sunrises and sunsets.

We have a Harvest Moon that our hard working farmers can use as both inspiration and as a guide to bring in yet another bountiful harvest that helps feed the world. We are loyal to our traditions that have existed for generations and finally, we as Nebraskans know that ours is a way paved with the blood, sweat and tears of our forefathers who knew the difference between right and wrong and were never afraid to say so.

This year has shown me that I am representing the finest people in this republic and I am thankful.

Thank You Beverly

Many of you know Beverly Neel who has faithfully served as the Administrative Assistant in the District 17 Legislative office for the last ten years. Beverly is the person who would answer the phone when you called and faithfully helped constituents with any type of question.

She came to Lincoln during Senator Bloomfield's term in December of 2010. Of the many things she did to make a significant difference during her time at the Capitol, Beverly was instrumental in making the reciting of the Pledge of Allegiance a daily practice in the Nebraska Legislature.

This week Beverly retired from her work here in Lincoln and was awarded for her excellence in service by the State. Beverly will be greatly missed by everyone in the Legislature and most importantly in our office. I wish you the best Beverly in your next season of life.

Vaccine Mandates

I am continuing to work with a number of my colleagues to secure a Special Session to address vaccine mandates being put in place by the Federal government. After reaching out to the Department of Labor, I was informed that there are no details as of yet to how the President's statements directed toward employers with over 100 employees facing potential fines of $14000 for non-compliance.

I will keep you posted with the latest developments. We are hearing from many people everyday with personal stories and concerns if this moves forward.

Congressman Smith

Congressman Adrian Smith will be sending a representative from his office to our area next week to hear any thoughts or concerns we may have as his District 3 residents. Now encompasses all of District 17 if you have any questions related to the Federal delegation make time to attend one of these two events.

Legislative Summit

This week the Nebraska Chamber hosted a Manufacturing Summit where my staff had the opportunity to take part in a unique opportunity to connect with Nebraska manufacturers as well as state and national industry speakers. The purpose was to exchange ideas and information and identify emerging trends. Covid has greatly impacted manufacturing at home and around the world. Much of the discussion centered around how to assist with a suffering global supply chain and low numbers in the workforce. It was encouraging to see how well Nebraska ranks in comparison to other states with the 4th lowest unemployment rate in the county. Governor Ricketts also shared that several both in-state and national companies are expanding significantly at their Nebraska locations, adding many attractive jobs to the state.

Congratulations Sheryl Tietz

District 17's own Sheryl Tietz from Jesus Our Savior Lutheran Preschool in Bancroft was awarded Early Childhood Educator of the Year. Mrs. Tietz is special to our family because our three grandchildren; Isaac, Ben and Evelyn have all been blessed by her love and kindness and dedication. Thank you for your service Mrs. Tietz, you are making a difference. District 17 is better because you are here!

I always enjoy hearing from you. If you have any comments or concerns, please contact me at 402-471-2716 or jalbrecht@leg.ne.gov.

Thank you to all

In Nebraska one in three age-eligible youth take part in 4-H, America's largest youth development organization. Through 4-H, youth gain experiences that help them become skilled employees, creative thinkers, and good citizens. Nebraska Extension not only brings 4-H to Nebraska; but also a vast array of University resources and research while partnering with schools, after-school programs, and youth organizations to provide curriculum and educational content. The result is that young Nebraskans are inspired to pursue careers in science, technology, engineering, and math. The youth are also discovering their true passions, talents, and career opportunities. The next generation of Nebraskans are ready to enhance our workforce and become responsible community leaders.

I have the opportunity each year to observe these happenings. Our 4-H year concluded in September and we were able to celebrate the successes at the 2021 4-H Achievement Program. We recognized members, clubs, and volunteer leaders who contributed to the 4-H program. It is always good to take a moment to reflect upon the learnings of the past year. As families came to celebrate, I find it rewarding to learn about their accomplishments. You can see the friendships formed and then hear about the learning moments. It is a true privilege to have the opportunity to work with youth and volunteers in the Nebraska 4-H program, as well as supportive communities who care so much about the youth.

Thank you to our 4-Hers, their families who help provide opportunities for our youth, and our club leaders who help youth learn various life skills. Thank you to our event volunteers who give of their time generously to help make a 4-H event like the fair or a specific training happen.

We appreciate our local Wayne County Agriculture Society who donate many hours to helping provide a learning space for events such as the fair. Thank you to all of our 4-H donors and those who support the 4-H program in any way from the communities in which we live to our surrounding areas. We are fortunate to live in such a caring space for youth and I want to thank everyone for contributing to the Nebraska 4-H Program.

As we close out the 4-H year, we were excited to kick off the coming year on Oct. 19, 2021. Our first event occurred because of the 85 volunteer career presenters who gave of their time and talents at the Northeast Nebraska Career Day that is coordinated by Nebraska Extension. This event has so many contributors and this makes it a success for the 1,050 sophomore students from forty high schools in Northeast Nebraska.

We are also thank to the faculty and staff at Wayne State College who welcome the event to the campus and contribute in numerous ways.

Prayer life gives strength to all LWML Zone Rally is held in Winside

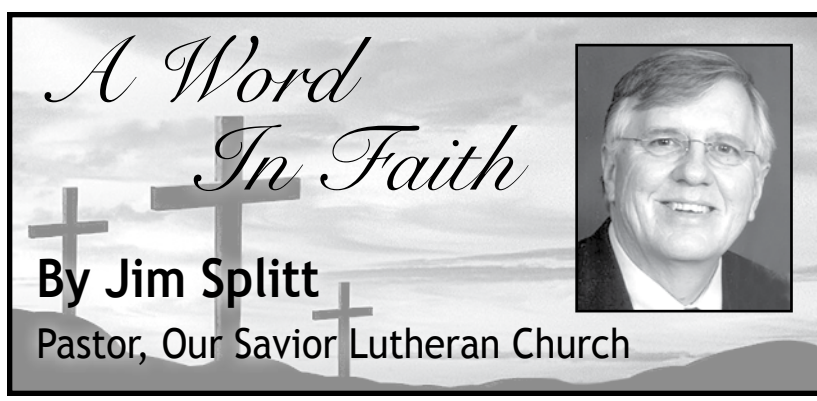

"Devote yourselves to prayer, keeping alert in it with thanksgiving". Colossians 4:2

The prayer life of our faith communities is a spiritual strength to build on. Over the past many months we have faced the challenges of Pandemic in our churches and community.

One important pathway to resilience through times of challenge is to pray. Those with a purpose-full prayer life will experience growth, transformation, and attention to serving Christ by living into the Will of God. Here are some thoughts on how to enhance your prayer life as we enter a season of Thanksgiving and Gratitude.

Always Pray for others first! Intercessory prayer – is when we ask God to intervene with Christ's love, healing Spirit, and joy in the life of another. We may have a time in our worship services for "Prayers of Intercession," when we pray for those we know are in need of God's help. Intercessory prayer works.

As with all prayer, God may not necessarily respond with the answer we want – to restore the loved one to health, to erase the grief after a loss, to ensure that a friend gets the needed job or grade. Studies of recovery patterns for various categories of patients show that individuals who have been the subject of intercessory prayer get better quicker and live longer. Intercessory prayers apparently have this effect whether or not the patient knows that people are praying on his or her behalf! It's nice to have scientific fact, but greater yet to know this by faith!

Intercessory prayer also has an impact on the person doing the praying. Focusing on the needs of another person often has the effect of making us more aware of the blessings God has bestowed on us. Praying for others – particularly for people that we do not necessarily like! – is a reminder that God's love is boundless. Hard as it is to believe, God loves the maniac who just cut you off in rush-hour traffic or the busy shopper who cut ahead in the grocery store line. Probably the easiest way to let go of anger and resentment toward someone who has hurt you, annoyed you, or angered you is to pray for that person regularly. Try it! Forgive them for they don't know what they are doing!"

Prayer in Silence - Intercessory Imaging Prayer
Although many prayers we raise for other people are the traditional verbal prayers (said either aloud in a group setting or to ourselves in a time of individual prayer), intercessory prayer need not entail words or even conscious thoughts. Another way to pray is to use a visual imaging process, especially when you are concerned about another person but don't know what specific thing you should pray for.

Begin by taking a few moments to calm down and center yourself.

Close your eyes and visualize the individual for whom you are praying, in the most vivid detail possible.

Next visualize the presence of Christ as a halo or blanket of light, which surrounds the person for whom you are praying.

Cover them with the Light of Christ.

End by thanking God for his peace, love, and healing touch.

Having an attitude of Gratitude is a blessing to others, to ourselves and to the God of our understanding.

Thanks to our Wayne fellowship of Faith Partners who bring a variety of worship experiences and religious traditions to so many.

Word in Faith is a collaboration of Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACAM), an organization partially funded by the Wayne Community Chest.

is held in Winside

The LWML Wayne Zone Fall Rally was held at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Winside on Oct. 19. The theme was "The Whole Heart at Prayer - Finding Feelings in the Psalms." Psalm 111:1.

The welcome was given by Claire Brogen and the hymn sing was led by Pastor Blanken of St. Paul, in Winside.

The opening devotion was given by Pastor Blanken. As attendees read the Psalms, they read back from the cross giving a new meaning to the Psalms in which we do not struggle without hope.

The speaker for the day was Pastor Jeff Warner from Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel.

He asked the group how they were. "Are you fine, or good or struggling with very tough things in your lives or in your hearts?"

Incidence of mental illness in children has gone from 8% to 80% since the pandemic. It has been very hard for Pastors to serve without being able to be with us. One-third of congregations are struggling and 40% of people are angry and don't even know why. We categorize feelings as good and bad but all of these feelings are in our spiritual life and we need to bring them with us when we go to the Lord in prayer.

The Bible study was led by Pastor Martin Hill from Trinity Lutheran Church in Martinsburg. Attendees discussed how compassion and mercy bring good works. How we are describes our leader. What the Messiah comes to do shows us how we are to live. In Isaiah 61 Jesus says "This Is Me. I have come to bind up the broken hearted. What has he done for us and what have we done for others? This is the Chosen one. Through Christ we are predestined for salvation. He will build us up again. As the Spirit of the Lord is upon us, we will be characterized by love and mercy. The faithful will be clothed in robes of righteousness and garments of salvation.

The business meeting opened with the recitation of the LWML pledge.

Minutes of the 2019 Fall Rally were read by Eunice Johnson and were approved as read. The books were audited and found to be in order.

Nominees for election were President - Rhona Sebade; Vice President - Mary Lou Erxleben; Secretary - Ellen Heineman; Treasurer - Joleen Kraemer and Pastoral Counselor - Pastor Jeff Warner. No voting was necessary.

Installation of officers was done by Pastor Blanken.

Ingathering for Doxology was $285.00 and society donations for the Zone were $470.00.

The closing devotion was from Luke 18. Attendance was 33 members and four Pastors.

The National Convention will take place in 2023 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The Spring Workshop location will be determined at the January Zone board meeting.

AWG Cares benefits the Food Pantry/Backpack Program

Recently, AWG Cares approved a grant request in the amount of $2,500 to the Wayne County Food Pantry/Backpack Program in Wayne.

The grant request was submitted by Cynthia Puntney, AWG Nebraska employee.

This program began in April 2013 in Wayne. The Wayne County Food Pantry Backpack Program provides a weekend supply of nutritious food for children when school lunch and breakfast is unavailable on a weekend.

Each food bag contains two breakfasts (such as a package of oatmeal or granola bar), two lunches (a can of soup or an easy Mac and Cheese), two snacks (pudding or cheese/crackers), and two servings of fruit (one preserved and one fresh). All food is nonperishable, is able to be prepared by a small child, does not require additional ingredients or use of a stove and is provided to children free of charge.

It is the hope that these resources will support the health, behavior, and achievement of every student that participates. Though the program is intended to help those children whose families find it difficult to have enough food for the entire month, all children are eligible for this program.

The Wayne State College SAAC (Student Athletic Advisory Committee) members and their advisor help pack the backpacks each month for distribution to over 100 children in the area.

AWG Cares focuses its charitable giving efforts in three areas or "pillars" (Disaster Relief, Medical Research and Hunger/Homelessness).

Wayne Area Right to Life of host showing of 'Roe v. Wade'

The Wayne Area Right to Life, along with WSC's Wild for Life, invite the public to attend a free showing of the film Roe v. Wade. It will be held Wednesday, Nov. 3 at 6 p.m. at the Majestic Theatre in Wayne.

This 2020 film is a political legal drama film produced, written and directed by Nick Loeb and Cathy Allyn. The film dramatizes the 1973 Supreme Court landmark decision on the constitutionality of laws that criminalized or restricted access to abortions. The Supreme Court ultimately ruled that the U.S. Constitution protected a woman's right to an abortion prior to the viability of the fetus.

The film stars Jon Voight, Stacey Dash and Robert Davi. Loeb, the film's director, also stars as Bernard Nathanson, a gynecologist who co-founded the National Association for the Repeal of Abortion Laws (NARAL), later becoming an anti-abortion movement advocate.

According to Loeb, in a 2018 Vanity Fair interview, the film is about "the women's rights movement versus the pro-life movement. It's a social war movie where we take both sides of the argument and hopefully let the audience decide."

According to the same VF article, the movie follows key characters on both sides of the abortion issue. On the pro-life side is attorney Robert Byrn, who is played by Joey Lawrence, and former National Right to Life president Mildred Jefferson, played by former Fox News commentator and brief Congressional candidate Stacey Dash. On the pro-choice side is Feminine Mystique author Betty Friedan, played by Lucy Davenport of Dinner for Schmucks, and writer Lawrence Lader, played by Jamie Kennedy.

Loeb is an actor (perhaps) best known for his legal battle with ex-fiancée Sofia Vergara over the rights to their frozen embryos (ultimately losing earlier this year). The film reportedly received push-back from major Hollywood stakeholders over the subject matter, including two agencies that discouraged their clients from participating for ideological reasons. The cast includes actors who personally profess from both sides of the issue.

The Wayne Area Right to Life organization will hold its fall meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 16 from 6-8 p.m. at Journey Christian Church, located at 1110 E 7th Street. Soups and crackers will be offered for a free will donation. All who are interested in advocating for the right to life are invited to attend.

Book defends meat consumption

I had 3.5 inches of wet stuff in the rain gauge on Sunday, and it came down hard, all at once, even cleaning the gutters of the little things the Linden trees give off in the fall. I'm told there have been combine fires in Wayne county; I know of at least two in Lancaster county. Hopefully, if this dries off enough to continue harvest, it will also have settled the dust.

In my continuing effort to provide book reviews, I must tell you about the one I pick up and read for a while, and then put it back down because it gets very technical. There is a lot to think about in it, and I will only be able to do some bullet points.

The writers, registered dietitian Diana Rodgers and research biochemist Robb Wolf are exploring the problems beef producers face in the continuing onslaught to their business. The name of the book is Sacred Cow, the most maligned of farm animals.

They point out: meat and animal fat are essential for our bodies.

By: Pat Meierhenry

A sustainable food system cannot exist without animals. A vegan diet may destroy more life than sustainable cattle farming. Regenerative cattle ranching is one of our best tools for mitigating climate change.

In the reviews alone, it is pointed out that current war against meat eaters promises ethical, ecological, and health benefits from fake lab meat and plant only diets. This book debunks every promise.

"The shift in agriculture from one based in biology to one based on chemistry, and the resulting shift in our diets from whole foods to highly processed foods have resulted in nutrition-related disease, obesity, and environmental destruction."

Some of the things I have highlighted start with the fact that red meat is one of the most nutrient rich foods available. It says that on a calorie by calorie basis, animal products provide far more nutrients than any plant material. Furthermore, meat has the perfect balance of amino acids plants don't have.

They point out something that really gets my goat. The pet food industry uses quite a large percentage of meat. In fact, they rank fifth in meat consumption. When I see ads for real beef in dog food and salmon for cats, I have a huge problem with that. I think they eat better than many folks who are having trouble affording good meat these days. And I won't bother you with what the totals are for spending on pets in this country!

Another point the authors make is about the raising of almonds. Almond milk has become quite popular. I do order it at Scooter's in my lattes. BUT, it takes thousands of gallons of irrigation to raise almonds, and in the towns nearby, drinking water arrives in plastic bottles. Because of severe drought in California, the almond trees are done for this year.

Finally, and I'm only to page 46, it has been found that there is NO connection between dietary cholesterol and fat intake and heart disease. This did not make many headlines, but it should have interested us all. Especially those who are taking statins. And that leads to another subject this column is too short to tackle; the side effects of those statins.

Hopefully, you will get hold of the book or of the film by the same name, Sacred Cow.

Funding available from USDA to protect groundwater

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service has funding available to assist landowners in source water protection priority areas to install conservation practices. Interested landowners have until Nov. 19, 2021, to apply.

John Wilson, acting state conservationist for NRCS in Nebraska said, "Since nearly all Nebraskans get their drinking water from groundwater, it's important we work together to help protect this resource from contamination."

Agricultural land located in the source water protection priority areas (see map) may be eligible to receive financial assistance.

Nebraska NRCS is now accepting applications for source water protection funding. Approved applicants can receive funding to install conservation practices used to address water quality that include:

- Nutrient management
- Irrigation water management
- Cover crops
- Conversion of flood to pivot or subsurface drip irrigation systems.

NRCS field office staff can determine if applicants are eligible for source water protection priority area financial assistance.

Applications are accepted anytime, but to be considered for funding in 2022, applications must be received by Nov. 19, 2021. Visit your local NRCS field office to learn more.

Benefits of crop residue for water conservation explained

Crop residues are stalks, straw, leaves and other plant material that are left on the land after the crops have been harvested.

Although it is impossible to put a dollar amount on the value of crop residues, unless residues are baled and sold, their benefits for the success of crop production are numerous. With harvest in progress, it is timely for producers to make decisions about how to effectively utilize crop residues.

The most important function lands where it stays longer during spring causing delays in field activities.

Crop residue also contains significant amount of nutrients. When residue decomposes, nutrients are released to be available for the next crop resulting in reduced use of synthetic fertilizer. Considering current fertilizer prices, it is an opportunity for farmers to reevaluate the practice of removing residue.

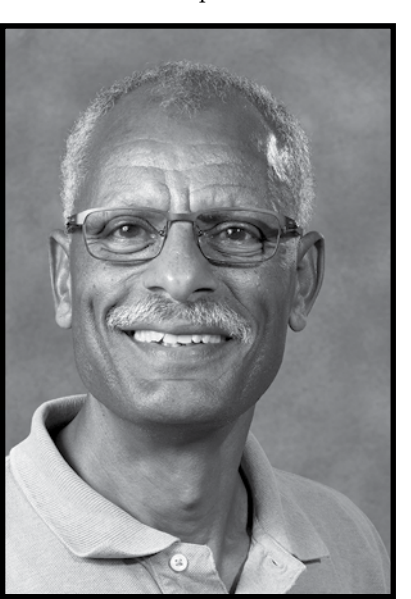

It may be tempting for producers to bale wheat straw and corn stalks, especially in years when livestock feed or bedding is in short supply. However, producers should weigh all the benefits of leaving crop residue in its place against baling. This is especially important for producers that farm dryland grounds.

be readily available to be transported away from the site of the impact by runoff water or wind. Wind and rainstorms remove topsoil that is high in organic matter and nutrients. This will result in surface soil depleted of plant-available nutrients with low infiltration and low water holding capacity. Once left the field, the sediment and nutrient laden runoff water flows into nearby ponds, streams, and lakes where it becomes a water quality problem.

Availability of water is one of the limiting factors for dryland crop production. In Nebraska, we receive some percentage of our yearly precipitation in the form of snow. Storing as much of the snow precipitation as possible, in the soil, so that it can be available for the summer crops is very important. Keeping crop residues upright play a critical role in trapping and keeping more of the snow in the field.

In addition to trapping snow, residues create a more uniform snow distribution resulting in a more uniform water distribution, slower surface water movement, and increased water recharge. On soybean or corn fields that have crop residues removed, snow just blows off the field and accumulates as large drifts on slopes and bottom-of crop residues is protecting soil from wind and water erosion. Soil erosion by water occurs when rain drop impact breaks soil aggregates, causing soil detachment and displacement from the soil surface. Once dislodged, soil particles will

Protecting our natural resources for the future

A buzz word in today's agricultural world is sustainability. The agriculture industry depends on clean water, healthy soil, and pure air to supply a growing world with food, fuel, feed, and fiber. Farmers meet daily challenges as they work to protect our resources for future generations.

Nebraska's farmers are growing more with less water and fewer chemicals than ever before. And yet, we still struggle with the quality of our water in some areas.

Working together, we can make an impact in the health of our soils and the quality of our groundwater.

Utilizing Nitrogen and Nitrate

The grim reality of the situation is that it is not a "one size fits all" scenario when dealing with different land uses, soil type, or availability of labor and equipment resources from one farm to the next. However, what every producer can do is to take advantage of the environmental nitrogen sources that are readily available on their land, such as, residual soil nitrogen, irrigation water, legume credits, and organic matter. Comprehensive management of these available credits make it possible to make reductions to their purchased nitrogen applications, saving time and money, all while maintaining yields.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln recommendations for applying nitrogen fertilizer is, on average, a ratio of 1 to 1: 1 lb. of N per 1 bushel of corn. In some areas, producers can get by with much less, even as low as 60-70% of the recommended amounts. This equates to big savings for the producer and less opportunity for nitrogen to leach into the groundwater.

The timing of nitrogen fertilizer application can also help prevent nitrogen loss. If fertilizer or manure is applied sooner than the crop can use it, a large portion of the nitrate can be lost by leaching. Nitrogen sources should always be applied as near as possible to the time of most rapid plant growth. On coarse-textured, highly permeable soils, split or side-dress applications of nitrogen generally result in increased profits, nitrogen efficiency and decreased potential for nitrogen loss because of the shorter time between fertilizer application and crop uptake.

Best Management Practices for reducing excess nitrate

- Cover crops
- Strip cropping
- Soil testing
- Fertilizer management
- Rain sensors for lawn and crop irrigation
- Domestic and stock well analysis
- Seasonal application restrictions
- Manure application restrictions
- Alternative cropping methods
- No-till farming
- Nutrient management program
- Crop tissue analysis
- Variable rate application and precision farming (UNL recommendations)
- Incorporate realistic yields goals
- Water well flow meters
- Soil moisture sensors
- Terraces

There are safer and better ways to save money and increase yields.

Cover crops are an excellent way to keep nitrate from leaching into groundwater.

Follow fertilizer and pesticide application directions on packaging and consider soil sampling to help you refine how much and when to apply.

Prevention is always more effective than waiting for the cure. Contact your local NRD or NRCS office for guidance and recommendations for more effective nitrate use.

Allen Consolidated Schools State Land Judging Competition Students and instructors from 39 high schools met at the Bertrand Community Building to compete in State Land Judging Oct. 20.

The Tri-Basin Natural Resources District (NRD) partnered with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to host the annual competition. The students judged at the Platte Republican Diversion (PRD) pasture west of Smithfield.

The land is on the Platte-Republican divide. On the north side, runoff water flows toward the Platte River and on the south toward the Republican River. "We are honored to host the State Land Judging contest," said John Thorburn, Tri-Basin NRD general manager. "It is critical that young people learn about the value of our soil resources. Holdrege Silt Loam is Nebraska's official state soil, so this area is ideal for a land judging event. I'm so thankful for the many volunteers and partnering agencies who helped make this contest a tremendous success."

Land Judging is a high school competition that challenges students to gain a better understanding of soil structure and land evaluation. Teams consist of four students from the same FFA chapter, and a few individuals who qualified separate from a team. Each participant learns how to recognize the physical features of the soil, determine land capability for crop production, and evaluate management practices needed for proper stewardship.

During the competition, students judge four soil pits using an evaluation card to make assessments on: soil depth, surface texture, permeability, slope, thickness of surface and erosion. Each evaluation card is scored and added together to determine overall scores for two individuals and the team. In order to compete in the state contest, teams advance from one of the seven regional competitions hosted across the state in October.

Fort Robinson Christmas dinner canceled

Fort Robinson State Park has canceled its annual historical Christmas dinner because of coronavirus concerns, but two other holiday events that take place completely outdoors will continue.

The park will host its outdoor Haunted Halloween festivities from 4:30-7 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 30. The event, based at the Soldier Creek Campground near U.S. Highway 20, will have wagon rides through the "haunted campground," a chili feed and trick-or-treating.

The park also will host its annual "Light Up the Fort," in which community groups and volunteers decorate the park's buildings for the holiday season. For more information about that activity, which will occur in early December, contact the park at 308-665-2900 or ngpc.fortrobinson@nebraska.gov.

The annual Christmas dinner would have been in its 26th year at the Buffalo Soldiers Barracks and usually helped kick off the holiday season in early December.

The dinner treated ticketholders to the same menu from a selected year of the park's past as U.S. Cavalry post, with many attendees dressing in period attire. Challenges related to masking and socially distancing, recommendations that limit the potential spread of coronavirus, prompted the cancellation.
