Travis Meyer, one of the organizers of the MayDay STOL event, spoke during Tuesday's council meeting. He shared information on this year's event, which is scheduled for May 20-22.

MayDay STOL on council agenda

By Clara Osten, clara@wayneherald.com

The second MayDay STOL (short take off and landing) event will take place in Wayne May 20-22 and several details of the event were shared with the Wayne City Council during the Tuesday meeting.

Travis Meyer, one of the organizers of the event told the council "last year's event was a success and brought national attention to Wayne. We are moving this year's event to three days and later in the spring to hopefully have less wind."

Meyer also explained what would be happening during the three-day event, including racing on Friday, the finals on Saturday and a Family Fun Day on Sunday. He said plans call for a career aviation panel to share information on all careers available in aviation. "There are 28 competitors scheduled to be here so far, with several more on a wait list. This is considerably more than last year," Meyer said.

is having a housing study that is less than 24 months old. The city approved that document in early March.

City Administrator Wes Blecke explained some of the other requirements and told the council "we have worked with Mike Bacon (who specializes in TIF requirements) and because we have the opportunity to offer TIF for a project, we don't have to use it, but we can allow it."

Following the hearing, the resolution approving the plan was approved by council members.

In other action, the council approved a request from the Wayne County Ag Society to have a fireworks display on Saturday, April 23

Matt Haschke, representing the Ag Society, told the council that the fireworks would be part of this year's 100th annifrom an area near Bomgaars and Herman Chiropractic and the display will be weather-permitting and with approval from the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

Dan Willets with Black Hills explained to the council that work was done last year in the northeast and southeast portions of the city.

He said work is anticipated to begin in the northwest in late April or early May and then move to the southwest quadrant. "Our goal is to get the majority of the work done this year.

Council members approved the request with the change in price from $500 to $1,000 per area of the city.

Wayne Mayor Cale Giese also read a proclamation designating April 29 as Arbor Day in the city of Wayne.

Mayoral re-appointments included the following to the Planning Commission: Pat Melena, Chele Meisenbach and Breck dinator. Giese.

Educator input to provide guidance as northeast Nebraska compact expands

The Northeast Nebraska Agriculture and Natural Resources Education Compact, a first-of-its-kind regional education partnership launched in 2019, expanded its membership at a March 29 signing event, adding 20 school districts and three Educational Service Units in the state's northeast region.

That expansion extended the compact's reach as far west as Ainsworth and includes all of northeast Nebraska's tribal schools. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources was one of the founding member organizations, which aim to enhance K-12 instruction via partnerships and facilitate collaboration among highereducation institutions to expand opportunities for students.

A survey now underway among K-12 educators in northeast Nebraska will provide key input in shaping the compact's priorities and direction, said CASNR Dean Tiffany Heng-Moss.

"Anytime that we are trying to develop a new program or trying to serve the K-12 system, you have to first listen," she said. "You need to listen to what are the needs, what are the gaps, what are the opportunities.'

This initiative, she said, is "really going to be designed around the input from the K-12 partners."

Increased use of expertise and facilities at Nebraska's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources will serve as an important resource for students and teachers. Another priority is strengthening schools' interaction with industry to help students understand the breadth of careers in agriculture and natural resources.

Member organizations will provide supports not only to college-bound students, but to all students in the compact region, said Tammy Mittelstet, CASNR's statewide education and career pathways coor-

"We want all students to be successful," stitutions. "So we're looking at every child, not just the ones who might come to the university, because our land-grant mission is for all Nebraskans."

The compact's original partner organizations were CASNR, Little Priest Tribal College, Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture, Nebraska Indian Community College, Northeast Community College, Wayne Community Schools and Wayne State College.

At the March 29 signing event at Northeast Community College, ESUs 1, 7 and 8 joined the compact, along with the following school districts: Ainsworth, Allen, Battle Creek, Boone Central, Crofton, Elkhorn Valley, Emerson-Hubbard, Homer, Laurel-Concord-Coleridge, Neligh-Oakdale, O'Neill, Ponca, South Sioux City, Stanton Summerland, Umonhon Nation, Walthill, Winnebago, Winside and Wisner-Pilger.

Little Priest Tribal College in Winnebago has participated in the compact's discussions since the partnership began in 2019 and is hoping to begin an ag education program, said Janyce Woodard, the college's director of equity and extension.

Nebraska has "a lot of ag industry, and it is advancing all the time," she said. "So there is a need for students to become interested in agriculture when they're in high school, but even earlier than that. If they find that love for the land and animals and agriculture, then they may decide that might be something they would want to pursue at either a two-year or a four-year college.'

The partner organizations are benefiting from a CASNR newsletter describing resources and events among the compact members, Woodard said.

The expansion of the compact's membership presents an important opportunity for enhanced partnerships and innovative programming, said Tara Smydra, dean of science, technology, agriculture and math at Northeast Community College.

"I really think that having the ESUs The Wayne City Council will next meet she said. "We want all students to find a and additional high schools is going to be Camping will take place at the airport, rather than the fairgrounds as was done last year. Shuttle service will be available from the airport to the downtown area.

In conjunction with the event, a special designated liquor permit for the Wayne Airport Authority for May 19, 20, 21 and 22 was approved.

A public hearing was held in regard to the city's Workforce Housing Incentive Plan.

The hearing is one of the requirements for the city to be eligible to offer Tax Increment Financing (TIF)for workforce housing in the city. An additional requirement

Following a public hearing, council members unanimously approved an application for a Class A Liquor License for Emeratriz Nunez, doing business as Luna's Mexican Restaurant.

Emeratriz Nunez told the council she has been working on obtaining the license for some time and has completed the necessary inspections and is ready to move forward with the application.

A resolution was approved in regard to a community-wide blanket construction permit agreement between the city of Wayne and Black Hills Nebraska Gas, LLC doing business as Black Hills Energy.

More information on the CO2 pipeline discussed at meeting

By Morgan Cardenas editor@wayneherald.com

At Tuesday's meeting, the Wayne County Commissioners heard more from Summit Carbon and discussed employee benefits.

First during the Board of Equalization meeting, Dawn Duffy discussed the Carroll Methodist Church property.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting started off with an update on the Summit Carbon Project. Debbie Borg had Grant Terry speak for her. Terry is the Senior Project Manager at Summit Carbon Solutions. Their goal is to reduce the carbon score with the pipeline covering around 2,000 miles across five states that would tie into several ethanol plants. Many of the questions centered around what would happen if something went wrong with the pipeline, what they plan to use it for, clarification of wording in the contract for landowners and what would happen if a landowner did not sign the contract. Terry said that if a landowner does not want to sign the agreement, they would reroute the pipeline so they are not on the landowner's property.

Then, Highway Superintendent Mark Casey opened the bid for new truck tractors and had received two bids for it. Custom Body Company put in a bid for one 2022 Kenworth and up to three 2022 Internationals were being offered by Cornhusker International.

This was tabled and will be discussed again at the next meeting. Casey also talked about the County Bridge Match Projects. The CBMP #6 project had its agreement signed being box culverts in conjunction with Cedar County while CBMP #5 was being awarded and approved.

After, a resolution was adopted and approved for the execution of the agreement to tie-out and reset land monuments for Project No.STP-98-5 (106). The county surveyor will set the monuments and re-set them from the Hwy 81/98 junction to N-35 as the county will be reimbursed for their work.

Finally, the Commissioners brought up the topic of possibly modifying part-time employee benefits. The courthouse currently has two employees that are working about 32 hours and are taking the cash-in-lieu package while full-time courthouse employees are working 37.5 hours a week. The main point of discussion was about how the part-time employees shouldn't be getting full-time benefits. The Commissioners believe a problem they might see is more employees will want to become part-time over full-time if they received the same benefits. This conversation did not result in a decision and would be brought up again after the election.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Apr 19 at 9 a.m. in the Wayne County Courthouse

Arnold R. Marr

Arnold R. Marr, 95, of Wayne, died Wednesday, March 30, 2022 at his home at Kinship Pointe, Wayne.

> Services with Masonic Rites and military honors will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 9 at First United Methodist Church in Wayne. Visitation will be from 9:30 a.m. until service time at the church. Burial will occur later with the family at the Crown Hill Cemetery in Madison mann Funeral Home in Wayne.

Frederick Volk. They lived on farms in the area and Arnold graduated from Plainview High School in 1943. He joined the Army and reported to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas on Jan. 19, 1945. He was soon in Hawaii preparing to join soldiers in the Pacific Theater of WWII but the war thankfully ended. He was demobilized from Camp Beale, California on Aug. 27, 1946 after earning the grade of Tech-Corporal and being awarded the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal.

Arnold then attended the University of Nebraska in Lincoln on the G.I. Bill and received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture. It was there that he reunited with Joan (Schmer) from their high school days and became engaged. They were married at the First Congregational Church in Plainview on Sept. 4, 1949. The family moved to USDA Soil Conservation Service jobs in Kansas and Nebraska, which led them to Wayne in 1957 where they remained the rest of their lives. He loved working with farmers and one can still see many terraces and ponds engineered by Arnold on farms throughout Wayne County.

Arnold loved his five boys and his wife, Joan. In his younger years he was very involved in the First United Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge, scouting, the Izaak Walton League, hunting, fishing, card games, and teaching the boys a strong work ethic and accountability so they would develop into good young men. Many great memories were made on family vacations that consisted of camping, skiing, and fishing. After his retirement in 1981 he had some part time jobs to stay busy but he and Joan always made time to visit the boys wherever they lived, attend the grandchildren's events when possible, and take friends to the doctor or the airport in Sioux City and Omaha. He also loved going to coffee downtown with other retirees and is one who never met a stranger, he'd talk to anyone about anything.

Arnold loved to walk after a health scare in 1985, and maintained his four-mile per day habit well into his 80's. He hiked to the bottom of the Grand Canyon and back up again the same day four times, the last time at age 70 with two sons and a grandson. As great-grandchildren came along, Arnold was always the one on the floor playing with them until his final days, and again living a joyous life with all who crossed his path.

Survivors include sons Rocci (Chris) Marr of Lincoln, Bill (Elizabeth) Marr of Panama City Beach, Florida and Doug (Megan) Marr of Overland Park, Kansas; 11 grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 71 years Joan, his parents, one sister, one step-brother, and two sons; Michael and Daniel Marr.

Marvin Lee Bodlak

Marvin Lee Bodlak, 67, of Emerson, died Friday, April 1, 2022, surrounded by his family at his home.

Judy J. Sherman, Judy J. Sherman, 74, of Wayne, died Friday, April 1, 2022 at Unity Point St. Luke's in Sioux City, Iowa with her husband, Don, by her side. Services will be held Friday, April 8 at 11 a.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. Visitation will be from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, April 7 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. Burial will be in Lime Creek Cemetery at Maskell.

Memorials may be directed to The June E. Nylen Cancer Center Sioux City, Iowa, Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne or the Lime Creek Cemetery Association at Maskell.

Judy Joal Nelson Sherman was born on Aug. 22, 1947 in Newcastle to Elwin and Bessie (Newton) Nelson. Judy was raised on a farm near Maskall and grew up helping out with chores and field work along with learning to cook. She attended a country school until it closed and went to Maskell school through the eighth grade and then graduated from Obert - Maskell in 1965.

After graduating, Judy married Don Sherman Sept. 18, 1965. They live in Ponca, for one year and then moved to Dixon. Judy was employed at Walbaum's in Wakefield for a couple years, until they moved to Wayne in 1972 and Judy began operating an in home daycare for 30 years. She loved taking care of children. When Judy retired from daycare, she went to work for Chartwells at Wayne State College for two years and then was the custodian at Bowen Hall for 10 years. She enjoyed being the dorm mom for many students.

Judy loved gardening and sewing and repaired many jeans for boys and made all of her grandkids keep sack blankets. She spent many evenings on her front port swing with Don, friends and family. She loved watching the birds. Her cooking will be greatly missed by all, especially at family gatherings. She loved Nebraska football.

Survivors include her husband, Don Sherman; their sons, Bob (Cindy) Sherman of Wayne, Brian (Tammy) Sherman of Gretna, Brent (Stacie) Sherman of Wayne; seven grandchildren, Steven (Jenessa) Sherman, Jacque (Ethan) Behmer, Zack Sherman, Caleb Sherman, Sarah Sherman, Jacob Sherman and Justin Sherman; seven brothers and sisters, and many nieces and nephews.

Food Pantry is open by appointment only. Those wishing to make a donation are asked to contact the church via phone or email.

A memorial service was held Tuesday, April 5 at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. Pastor Michael Buchhorn officiated. Inurnment will be in the Rosehill Cemetery of Pender.

Bressler - Munderloh Smith Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

Marvin Lee Bodlak was born in Wakefield on May 21, 1954 to John and Henrietta Bodlak. He grew up on a farm. As a child, he helped his family raise crops, hogs, chickens, cows, and on one occasion, goats. (Goat ownership, in his view, was dubious business; for the rest of his life, he implored anyone willing to listen to avoid them at all costs). After graduating from Wakefield High School, Marvin began farming with his father, John, and brother, Paul. During this period, he applied his mechanical skills by designing and manufacturing forklifts with his brother-in-law. Later, he further used these abilities by establishing and running an auto shop with his cousin.

In 1983 Marvin married Carlene Hoffman. In their first few years of marriage, they kept honeybees and farmed together, splitting time between northeast and central Nebraska. In 1985 Marvin transitioned to farming full-time. He and Carlene established a home in rural Emerson, where Marvin lived and worked the earth with his brother and nephew until the end of his life.

Marvin was quiet, but had a great sense of humor and a quick wit. He enjoyed photography, tinkering with machinery, and outdoor activities like biking and camping. He was a faithful son, husband, father, and friend.

Marvin was a committed follower of Jesus Christ and a confirmed member of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. The fruit of his faith was seen in his generosity, humility, thoughtfulness, and willingness to help others, even when inconvenient. He was a gentle soul. His relationship with Jesus was a source of strength and hope, particularly in the final years of his life as he battled the neurological disease from which he eventually died. He will be greatly missed by his loved ones.

Survivors include his wife, Carlene; children Eric, Aprill (Igor), Tyler (Casey), and Ryan; six grandchildren; siblings Paul (Jean), Helen, Joyce, and David (Tina); and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, John and Henrietta.

"Hound Dog," "Jailhouse Rock," "All Shook Up," and other classics will have audiences dancing in the aisle during the Little Red Hen Theatre's presentation of Joseph Hall: Rock N Roll Remember, a salute to the King of Rock 'n' Roll. It will be led by one of the United States' most lauded tribute artists and a former competitor on America's Got Talent.

A fast-paced production that explores the roots of Elvis Presley and caters to both the young and youngat-heart, Joseph Hall: Rock N Roll Remember finds its internationally touring impersonator supplying the look, voice, charm, and vulnerability of a young Elvis, taking audiences back to a time in which parents were flabbergasted by the man's sultry vocals and flauntingly provocative hip action.

The show achieves a complete and powerful flashback experience, recalling the time in which fans first fell in love with the talented, handsome, high-spirited young man who would top the Billboard charts dozens of times over. As Elvis, Joseph Hall delivers a masterfully produced mixture of rock, country, and gospel hits, multiple costume changes, and a heartfelt tribute to America's veterans.

Born in 1984, Joseph Hall has been paying tribute to the legacy of Elvis Presley since 2006 and began appearing on NBC's America's Got Talent in 2008, eventually making six TV appearances viewed by more than 90 million people and placing as one of the competition's top 10 finalists.

Since then, Hall has performed worldwide in venues ranging from Las Vegas, Nevada, to Porthcawl, Wales, and among the numerous plaudits Hall has received over the past decade is the "Spirit of Elvis Award" award from Elvis Presley Enterprises.

A resident of Branson, Missouri, Hall said, "My goal is to capture the

The Wayne High Blue Devil Power Drive team started off the 2022 race season in West Point on April 2.

Students competed on a 0.55 mile course at Neligh Park for 90 minutes trying to travel as far as possible on two automotive batteries.

Exhibition class car E39, driven Matthew Kufner-Rodriguez, bv completed 75 laps during the day. A late race flat tire slowed down the E39 but quick work in the pits got it back on the track for a second place finish.

Advanced class car A22 began the race with chain issues, but the pit crew was able to get it up and running. Brett Johnson, driver of the A22, pushed hard throughout the remaining time of the rally to come back from a 12 lap deficit to win the Advanced class competition by one lap.

The pit crew of Maria Maturey, Nina Hammer, Braden Adams and Landen Roeber were busy throughout the event, completing two scheduled pit stops for each car, along with making repairs to keep the cars on the track. For their efforts, they were awarded the Best

Sports PERFECTO!!! Kneifl twirls first perfect game in WHS baseball history

By MICHAEL CARNES For The Herald

Never in the long history of Wayne High baseball has a Blue Devil pitcher thrown a perfect game.

Until Monday.

Brooks Kneifl mowed down 13 GACC/S-S batters and kept the Patriots off the basepaths to record the first perfect game in WHS baseball history as the Blue Devils came away with a 1-0 win Monday afternoon at Hank Overin Field.

Kneifl was masterful from the start, throwing 17 first-pitch strikes to the 21 Patriot batters he faced and needed only 85 pitches to record the historic masterpiece.

"We talk a lot about first-pitch strikes and want to get to 60 percent, and he was 17 of 21, which is phenomenal," coach Adam Hoffman said. "That's the thing with pitching. He was working those first-pitch strikes and was able to keep them off balance and really attacked the hitters."

Kneifl, a junior who has already committed to play at Kansas State, was simply masterful on the mound. He threw 66 of his 85 pitches for strikes and was in danger of losing the perfect game only once, coming back from a 3-0 count to the Patriots' Cole Hutchinson to get a strikeout to end the inning.

"We talk to our pitchers about what we want," Hoffman said. "We want less than 20 pitches an inning, and for Brooks it was 12. We want 67 percent on first-pitch strikes and his was 81. We want the strike-ball percentage at 60 percent and he was at 78. You don't see that very often and a lot of that goes to his work in the offseason. He pitches with a lot of confidence and he has an attitude on the mound that he's going to beat you."

Kneifl said that getting ahead of the count was important, as was having a good defense behind him. "Throwing that first-pitch strike is the best pitch in baseball," he said. "It gives me the ability to work my off-speed stuff and get ahead in the count and work from there, and having a defense behind me that I can trust makes me feel better up there and I can throw strikes and pitch to contact. GACC/S-S starter Reese Slecht did his best to keep pace with his Blue Devil counterpart, limiting Wayne to a single hit in 5 2/3 innings and striking out five. Wayne's only run came in the first inning when Gavin Redden led off the inning with a walk and came home on a two-out fly ball by James Dorcey that was mishandled in the outfield, allowing Redden to come around with the only run of the game.

"It's funny, because these two pitched against each other a year ago and they won it 1-0," Hoffman said. "It was one of those games where one mistake made the difference and that was the same with this game. It was huge for Brooks to come out an dkeep attacking their hitters.

Kneifl struck out the first seven batters he faced and had a hand in all of the first nine outs of the game, catching a line drive for the second out of the third inning and coming back from a 3-0 count to get a strikeout to end the third.

"After it got to 3-0, I knew I was missing glove side, so I just stepped off the mound and took a deep breath and reeled it back in," Kneifl said.

Hoffman said that pitching coach Kody Larson called a "great" game with pitch selection, and while Kneifl had a hand in 15 of the 21 outs, he got some great support from his defense.

"It was phenomenal to watch," he said. "When a pitcher can trust his catcher, and Kaleb Moormeier did a great job blocking stuff in the dirt, you can throw an off-speed, a curve ball or slider with confidence and then you have people behind you making plays as well. It all goes together and (Kneifl) was on and he was really good last night." Hoffman said the team was able to keep their wits about them as it became clear Kneifl was chasing his masterpiece in the final inning or two. "I knew it was going that way, and when I was out in the coaches box in the bottom of the sixth I kind of realized we had something going and nobody was saying anything about it," he said. "Sometimes you have some kids who aren't baseball-savvy and will say something, but I didn't hear anything in the dugout and then when we got the last out, everybody was excited and went out to congratulate Brooks, and that was cool to see."

"After the fifth, I knew I had something special going, and that's something you don't talk about in the dugout," Kneifl said. "My teammates were great about that. They knew I had it going and I knew they could make the plays if they needed to.<sup>2</sup>

Wayne's only other offensive threat came in the fifth when Wyatt Heikes recorded the only hit of the game, a single to short right field. He moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Toby Braun, but was left stranded at second.

After the final out was caught by Devin Anderson in center field, Kneifl was mobbed by his teammates as they celebrated the historic effort.

"I was kind of in shock," Kneifl said after the game. "I thanked Coach Larson for working his tail off and calling a great game, and Coach Hoffman and Coach (Robbie) Gamble did a phenomenal job with the defense. Kaleb worked his tail off behind the plate and I knew I could trust him to block pitches, and the defense made plays behind me."

The win capped a 2-2 week for the Blue Devils, as they sandwiched Monday's win and a 6-4 win over Douglas County West last Tuesday around losses to Crete/Milford Friday (4-2) and Central City Saturday (13-3).

In the win over Douglas County, Wayne used a four-run fourth inning to build a 6-0 lead, then held on as the visitors scored four in the seventh before coming up short.

Redden and James Dorcey each had three of Wavne's 10 hits in the win while Anderson added two hits. Kneifl had a double and two RBI's and Dorcey added two RBI. Knefil struck out 14 and allowed one hit in six innings to get the win. Redden picked up the save.

In the loss to Crete/Milford, the Blue Devils were limited to one hit

Noah Schutte, center, is congratulated by his Concordia University teammates following his performance in the NAIA National Tournament.

Small school Schutte's big-time game worthy of national attention

By Jake Knabel, Director of Athletic Communications, Concordia University

Things came pretty easy for Noah Schutte. Bigger, stronger and more athletic than most of his competition at the Nebraska High School Class D1 level, Schutte dominated his way to eye-popping numbers.

The Laurel-Concord-Coleridge High School star piled up more than 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in his prep career on the hardwood and moved past 1,000 receiving yards in two separate seasons on the gridiron. He graduated as his high school's all-time leading scorer and all-time leading receiv-

Such exploits that included a basketball state championship run his senior year made Schutte a well-known figure within the small community of Laurel, and the surrounding small towns.

University Says Concordia (Seward, Neb.) Men's Basketball Head Coach Ben Limback, "His athleticism and his skill level stood ter a year ago. But even in the preseason of 2020, Schutte's talents were obvious. As part of his periphery role his first season with the Bulldogs, Schutte would sometimes emerge with a thunderous dunk or strong take inside that would hint at what was to come.

"He came in and had all this potential," Limback said. "He just didn't understand the intensity level. I was joking with him last week. I pulled him in for a meeting like a week into practice his freshman year. I asked Noah, 'What's your goal?' He talked about making varsity. We talked then about being more competitive. At that time, he was on the fringe as far as making varsity, believe it or not. From that day on, he turned it up. He just needed to understand how hard he needed to compete. I told him that day: 'You're going to be an All-American if you figure this thing out because you have all the tools. I think he's on that path."

What's happening now may not be so surprising to those who watched Schutte in high school. out at that point. He was able to As a senior for the Bears, he averscore effortlessly when we saw aged 24.6 points and 13.1 rebounds work. Even the pandemic couldn't 'Schutte' down the LCC state championship run that Noah and his teammates celebrated just before COVID-19 brought the world to a standstill in March 2020. Noah came to Concordia with rave reviews from his high school head coach Todd Erwin, who told the Cedar County News, "With his hard work, dedication and some God-given talent, Noah can do it all. He can play every position and does it calmly and quietly, needing no recognition. He just does it for the team." Noah likely got his work ethic and humility, at least in part, from his upbringing. He carries him self with some of those stereotypical Nebraska farm tough qualities. One day after his basketball days are behind him, Noah expects that he will take over the farm (located 15 miles northeast of Laurel) that has been in his family for generations. Farming is a way of life passed down to Noah's father John, also a 1,000-point scorer for what was then Laurel-Concord High School. Along with farming, there's always been time for sports in the Schutte family. Take for example, Noah's Great Uncle Jim, who played at Concordia and has been a faithful supporter.

praise upon Schutte and he'll do his best to frame his response in the context of team success. There was plenty of that for Concordia Men's Basketball during a wild 2021-22 ride that included GPAC regular season and tournament titles. Coming into this season, outsiders knew about the likes of Carter Kent, Gage Smith and Justin Wiersema, but did anyone have any idea about Schutte's impending breakout stardom?

Quietly, and in his own way, Schutte was growing in confidence. Schutte really burst onto the scene back on Nov. 23 when he went off for 27 points in the 92-76 win over then 10th-ranked Jamestown. Towards the end of the game, Schutte even played with tissue in his nostril to keep from bleeding on the court (we told you he was farm tough). He was beginning to prove that he could compete with anyone.

Said Schutte, "My freshman year was a learning experience for me in adjusting to the college game. My teammates were always there telling me the potential I had. I just kind of took that and put in the Schutte's monster national tournament won't change him one bit. He'll still be the mild-mannered farm boy who gains an edge with his ability to outwork others – and sometimes dunk on top of them. Explained Schutte of his production on the national stage, "My teammates just found me in mismatches. Coach does a great job before the games of telling me things to give me confidence. I think we were playing our best basketball at the end of the season. You could see it in Omaha especially." It makes sense that the community that surrounds Laurel-Concord-Coleridge would beam with pride in claiming Schutte as one of its own. He's no longer merely regionally known or simply a smalltown hero, Schutte has popped on a national level. He won't fly under the radar anymore. "He's probably the most humble kid on the team, which makes him a joy to be around and a joy to coach," Limback said. "The message for him in our end-of-the-year meeting was, this is great, now let's take it to another level with how you're going to influence other guys and be more consistent. I think he's hungry. I'm really excited for the work he's going to put in." Somewhere in a gym, an unsatisfied Schutte is getting shots up. He won't rest on his laurels.

in the game. Wyatt Heikes picked up a hit while Kaleb Moormeier and Aiden Liston scored runs.

Against Central City, Devin Anderson scored two runs and Heikes added a run. Liston pitched 3 1/3 innings and was tagged for seven runs to take the loss.

The 4-4 Blue Devils were scheduled to host South Sioux City Tuesday. They are at St. Paul on Thursday before returning home to host Pender and B-R/L-D next Tuesday and Wednesday.

ing threes. You could tell he was scratching the surface. At that level, he could rely on his athleticism. I'm really impressed with how he's adjusted to the speed and intensity of the college game. He loves basketball and you could see that in high school. Even now, he's always in the gym. He loves to get extra reps. In high school, you could see that he was a gym rat and he loved basketball and he had all this potential."

With at least two collegiate seasons still left (three remaining seasons of eligibility), the 6-foot-4 Schutte is starting to realize his vast potential.

Schutte's profile exploded on a national level as part of the Bulldogs' run to the NAIA National Quarterfinals. So impressive he was on the national stage, it was almost as if Schutte was back inside the gym at 502 Wakefield Street in Laurel. He averaged 20.0 points and 9.8 rebounds and shot 63.4 percent from the floor over four national tourney outings and was chosen to the NAIA Men's Basketball National Championship All-Tournament Team.

If you only knew Schutte from his rookie season as a Bulldog in 2020-21, you may have been taken by surprise by those accomplishments. During that first campaign, Schutte averaged 5.8 minutes played per game in 17 contests. He scored a grand total of 49 points. Humble and soft spoken, Schutte himself will tell you that he wasn't a ready-made college basketball star. There was some adjustment taking place for someone who came out of a graduating class of 25.

"I think the biggest adjustments were being more physical, knowing I would be playing against bigger guys, and a faster pace of play," Schutte said. "Even Coach told me in the preseason before my freshman year that I was going to have to adjust to the game coming from a small school and that the game was going to be a lot different.

As Limback confirms, Schutte was on the bubble as to whether or not he would make the varsity ros-

Comparatively speaking, Concordia and the Seward community are like a sprawling, urban metropolis. No matter how small the high school, Schutte's game was too big to ignore. Several GPAC schools came calling, but Concordia was the one that felt right.

Said Schutte, "Throughout high school when I started getting coaches talking to me and offering me, I realized that's what I wanted to do. I got a few offers here and there and just looked around. I'm just so glad I chose Concordia. The facilities are amazing and just getting to know my teammates here, they were amazing. I couldn't imagine getting on the court with anybody else."

Just go ahead and try to heap

Wildcat women golfers take third

Led by sophomore Jazmine Taylor's seventh-place individual finish, the Wayne State College women's golf team posted a third-place finish at the two-day Holiday Inn Express Classic hosted by Missouri Western in St. Joseph. Mo.

The Wildcats shot rounds of 338 and 326 for a two-day total of 664 to place third out of 13 teams. Rogers State (Okla.) won the tournament with a 627, followed by host Missouri Western at 654.

Taylor was the top Wildcat finisher in a tie for seventh overall out of 76 players after shooting rounds of 83 and 78 for a 161. Mekky Winyarat followed in a tie for 22nd with a 36-hole total of 166 (85-81).

Other Wildcat scores included Abbey Kurmel, tied for 30th at 170 (87-83); Abby Brodersen, tied for 48th with a 175 (83-92); and Paige Peters shot 179 (95-84) and tied for 54th overall.

Wayne State's next meet was Monday and Tuesday at the Newman Invite in Newton, Kan.

Wildcats win series over Bemidji

After dropping a midweek doubleheader to Minot State, the Wayne State baseball team bounced back to win two of three over the weekend against Bemidji State.

Sophomore righthander Brody Sintek's shutout in the opener helped Wayne State salvage a split with Bemidji State Saturday. The Wildcats won the first game 11-0 before falling in the second game 11-6.

Wayne State started off the first game strong, putting up four runs in the top of the first. Chase Douglas singled to start off the game, Alex Logelin walked and Andrew Hanson put down a bunt to the third base side and beat the throw at first to load the bases. WSC used a hit batter, a single and a triple to end the top of the first with four runs on four hits, leading 4-0.

With the bases loaded in the fourth, Hanson hit a bases-clearing RBI triple down the right field line to highlight a six-run inning that made it 10-0. Wayne State would add another run in the sixth to finish off the shutout win.

Sintek (3-2) pitched a complete game for the win, while Logan Barrick (1-4) got the loss for the Beavers. WSC outhit BSU 10-6. WSC drew six walks while allowing just one of their own. Hanson had three RBIs and three runs scored on two hits for the Wildcats while sophomore designated hitter Nick Barnett had two hits with an RBI and a run scored.

Wayne State opened the second game with a 5-0 lead, but the Beavers rallied with a pair of three-run innings and took the lead for the good to salvage a split.

Hanson started the second game with a two out single, scoring on a double from senior third baseman Chris Cornish to take a 1-0 lead in the top of the first. Douglas reached base in the third inning on a single and proceeded to steal second and third base, coming home to score on a throwing error after stealing third. Logelin tripled, scoring on a double by Hanson to make the lead

Hanson came around to score on a single from Cornish. WSC scored one more run, making the score 5-0 on an RBI single from Barnett.

Bemidji State answered in the bottom of the fourth, scoring three runs on two hits and two walks to make the score 5-3, then added four more in the bottom of the fifth to take the lead for good.

Hanson added to his NSIC-leading stolen bases (21), stealing third before scoring in the top of the seventh on a BSU fielding error, cutting the Beaver lead to 8-6 through seven innings before the Beavers scored three in the eighth to put the game out of reach.

Hanson went 3-for-5 in the game with an RBI and three runs scored to go along with a stolen base. Logelin, Cornish and Colin Lynam also had multi-hit games for the Wildcats. Jackson Shelburne (2-4) got the loss for the Wildcats while Jackson Back (1-1) got credit for the win for the Beavers.

Wayne State sealed the series win on Sunday with a solid outing from Keean Allen on the bump. Cornish and Logelin hit home runs to highlight the 7-1 win.

WSC would strike first in the third with a Logelin two-run home run, bringing in Cade Lynam after his one-out walk to make the score 2-0. Wayne State would extend their lead to 3-0 when Cornish drove a long ball to right that hit the top of the fence and carried over for a solo home run.

Wayne State would add on to their lead in the eighth, plating three runs on just one hit, a Noah Roberts single, that would bring in Colin Lynam after a Beaver fielding error. Three walks and a hit batter helped the Wildcats score increase the lead and go on to the win.

Wayne bats were led by Logelin going 1-for-3 with the two-run homer and three RBI in the contest. Noah Roberts was also a big contributor, going 3-for-3 with a double and RBI and run scored while also drawing a walk. Cornish was 1-for-5 with the solo home run in the fourth.

Allen got the nod and recorded the win (2-1) for the Wildcats going six innings, giving up one run, scattering eight hits, two walks and striking out five Beavers. Staebell recorded the nine-out save for his second save of the season.

Minot State rallied late with four runs in the opener for a 5-2 win, then held off a late Wayne State rally in the second game for a 6-4 victory to complete a midweek sweep over the Wildcats Tuesday.

The opener saw the visiting Beavers rally with two runs in the sixth and seventh innings to take the first game.

Colin Lynam finished 2-for-2 with a pair of singles and two runs scored while Alex Logelin went 2-for-4 with a double. Noah Roberts also doubled while Fiene, Chase Douglas and Cade Lynam each singled. Allen suffered the pitching loss.

The second game saw a late Wildcat rally fall just short as Minot State completed the sweep.

Wayne State trailed 6-0 after four innings, but rallied in the seventh to make it a game. Logelin belted a solo homer, Andrew Hanson scored when Cornish reached on an error to make it 6-2, and Logelin hit a two-run homer in the eighth for the final two runs of the game.

Wayne State had six hits in the game, led by Logelin's two homers, going 2-for-5 with three RBL Cornish was 2-for-4 with a pair of singles and RBI. Chase Douglas doubled while Roberts singled to close out Wayne State's six hits. Cade Herrmann was tagged with the pitching loss.

The Wildcats (13-13, 7-6 NSIC) were scheduled to visit Northern State Tuesday afternoon for an NSIC doubleheader. starting at 1:30 p.m. in Aberdeen, S.D. They travel to Minnesota Crookston for a weekend series and will be at Minnesota Duluth for a Tuesday doubleheader.

WSC softball splits at No. 15 Mankato

After dropping a doubleheader by Kim Vidlak and Etmans - and singled and with two outs Kortney back to pick up a split at No. 15 and walk to Mary Krystofiak ter field scoring Krystofiak, while Minnesota State. On Saturday, the Wildcats dropped two at Concordia-St. Paul, losing 4-1 and 3-0 in games that were moved to Mankato's indoor facility due to the weather. The opener saw Golden Bear starter Bryanna Olson fan nine Wildcats while holding WSC to just four hits. The Golden Bears scored three runs in the third inning for a 3-0 lead and scored their final run in the fourth for a 4-0 advantage. WSC got on the board in the sixth as Jenna Etmans singled with two outs and later scored on a Paiton Tornberg single up the middle to close the scoring. All four WSC hits were singles by Kortney Buresh, Etmans, Tornberg and Alle Perea. Hadley Chvatal and Samantha Felt each pitched three innings for the Wildcats with Chvatal suffering the loss. The second game saw WSC held to four hits again as the Golden Bears finished the sweep. CSP scored two runs in the fourth and one more in the sixth for their three runs.

Minnesota State came up with one run in the bottom of the third and threatened in the fifth before leaving the bases loaded. They had two on in the seventh, but Felt got the Mavericks to hit into a gameending double play from third to first to seal the win. Holmberg and Vidlak each had RBI singles for the 'Cats while Krystofiak singled and scored. Felt fired a complete-game win in the circle for her first win of the year, allowing just three hits and one run with five walks and no strikeouts. Wayne State (4-23, 1-5 NSIC) was scheduled to host Upper Iowa Wednesday to start a week-long homestand. They host Minot State and University of Mary for weekend doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday, and will host Southwest Minnesota State on Tuesday.

> The 'Cats had two of their four hits in the fourth inning - singled while Vidlak and Etmans also singled. Callie Carraher (1-3) suffered the pitching loss in four innings of work.

On Sunday, a complete-game three-hitter from freshman Samantha Felt helped Wayne State edge the 15th-ranked Mavericks 2-1 in the second game after the Mavericks captured the opener 8-0 in five innings.

The opener saw MSU starting pitcher Mackenzie Ward hold WSC to just one hit, a first-inning single by Riley Holmberg. Minnesota State jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first inning and added solo runs in the second and fourth innings to record the shutout win. Hadley Chvatal was tagged with the pitching loss while freshman Grace Lucka worked three innings of relief.

The second game was a pitching duel as both teams had just three hits in the game, but WSC had all three hits plus a Maverick error in the third inning to score both runs and Felt fired a complete game three hitter to get the split.

Rearing Station temporarily closing for maintenance

The Grove Trout Rearing Station near Royal, in Antelope County, will close to visitors April 11-15 for maintenance and inspection on the diversion pond.

"While the maintenance takes place, staff will be using heavy equipment, and public safety is taken into consideration for this closure," Fish Production Manager Joe Cassidy said. "While this is a necessary part of the operation of the facility, we want this to be brief and resume public visitation. We thank visitors and anglers for their understanding."

Grove Trout Rearing Station annually stocks approximately 120,000 catchable-size trout in Nebraska's waters.

+ www.thewayneherald.com Wolfpack tracksters medal at Cedar meet

HARTINGTON — Tri County Northeast ran up against some solid competition and came away with some good efforts at the Cedar Catholic Invitational last week.

The TCNE girls finished third and the boys were eighth out of 10 schools competing, and coach Dave Uldrich said they saw some tough competition.

"This truly was a mini state track meet, as Battle Creek and Cedar Catholic girls and boys as well as Crofton girls made scoring very difficult," he said. "We did perform very well though. Many things we did here a year ago, we surpassed today, meaning that we may be slightly ahead of the curve that we finished on in 2021."

Jordvn Carr won two events as part of a four-medal day to lead the Wolfpack girls. She won the long ump and the 100-meter dash and helped lead third-place finishes in the 400 and 1.600-meter relays. Rhyanne Mackling was second in the 3,200 and helped the 3,200 relay to a fifth-place finish. Brianna Bousquet was fourth in the 800 and was on the 1,600 and 3,200 relay teams. Bre Millard placed fourth in the 300 hurdles and was on the 400 and 1,600 relays. Other runners on the medal-winning relays included Shantell Miller (400), Brynn Schock (400, 1,600), Myleah Mackling (3,200) and Elizabeth Sattler (3,200).

In boys action, Ty Krommenhoek led the effort with a fourth in the 110-meter hurdles and a sixth in the 300 hurdles. The 3,200-meter relay team of Caidan Gregg, Bryan Isom, Michael Dickens and Hunter Heikes also finished four.

Joe Grone was fifth in the 100 and sixth in the 200. Gregg was fifth in the 80 and Heikes took fifth in the 1,600. Brock Mackling was sixth in the high jump, Josh Olesen was sixth in the shot put, and the 3,200-meter tandem of Gabe Reinert, Jackson Belt, Brayden McCorkindale and Mackling finished sixth.

WSC summer camps set

Wayne State College will be hosting a variety of camps this summer, including music, art, filmmaking, and crime scene investigation. Registration is open for these camps for those wishing to reserve a spot. The College will also host a variety of sports camps, which are available at www.wscsportscamps.com.

Summer Music Camp

The Wayne State College Summer Music Camp, https://www.wsc. edu/music-camp, is the perfect opportunity to explore musical interests in a fun and positive environment. Campers will get a variety of experiences while learning from professional musicians who are experts in their fields. In addition to taking unique music courses, the camp will include social activities. Attendees will get to make friends with others who share a love for music, with the option to live on campus during the camp.

The camp is open to students who have completed grades 5-12. Camp runs July 18-21.

The cost for resident campers is $300, which includes meals and mer throw and shot put to lead the housing. Commuting campers will pay $250, which includes meals but

The change we need!

"It isn't every day that I get to work on projects like this one. The goal was to create an identity system that was as visually compelling as any restaurant that our students might go to off campus," he said. "After sketching out several ideas, the "L" was one of the early sketches that I kept coming back to. The little flame was next, and it all snowballed from there."

Headlee enjoyed working on the project and is appreciative of the recognition.

"The project was so much fun to work on and the brand really came together nicely with the beautiful job the construction company did on the restaurant itself. I'm really thankful to Northeast for encouraging us to submit work like this. It not only allows us the opportunity to compare our work against other colleges across the country, but we're also able to gain new insights and ideas." As one of the fastest-growing affiliates of the American Association of Community Colleges, NCMPR has more than 1,500 members from nearly 550 colleges across the United States and Canada. The Northeast Community College Marketing Department serves as the clearinghouse for all marketing and promotional materials for the College.

Pilger Alumni plan banquet is set for 2022

The Pilger High School Alumni has something special planned for 2022. Not only will the event serve as the Pilger Alumni Banquet, but will also mark the first year for the Cardinal Migration, inviting all students who have attended Pilger Elementary and High School, and Wisner-Pilger Middle School, plus former teachers and other interested guests.

The banquet and program will be held on Friday evening, July 22, at the Cooper Family Community Center in Pilger.

Honored classes will include those of Pilger High School 1967, 1962 1957, 1952, 1947 and 1942, plus the Pilger High School football team of the 1962 season.

Serving as hosts for this year's banquet is a committee made up of Rom Siecke, Becky Rennick Frerichs, Dave Tobias, and Allen Andersen, all of Pilger; LaRayne Gemelke Topp of Wisner; Val Frerichs Hruby and Gary Andersen, both of Norfolk; and Leon Hunke of Dodge.

For more information, contact Becky Frerichs at (402) 396-3241. Additional information on ticket sales will be provided at a later date.

+ www.thewayneherald.com The Wayne Herald, Thursday, April 7, 2022 5BSpring watering of your trees may be necessary

When it comes to watering during dry winters, three factors will determine if and when water should be applied to trees and shrubs.

1. Is the ground frozen? If soil temperature is below freezing, then water uptake by tree roots will not occur. Push the shaft of a screwdriver into the soil to help determine if the ground is frozen. If the screwdriver pushes in easily, then soil isn't frozen and the first requirement for winter watering has been met. Read on for other factors to consider.

2. Was last fall and the present winter exceptionally dry with minimal rain or snowfall? If you answer yes, then soils are likely dry too because winds pull moisture from plants and soil. It is a simple task to check the soil for moisture before watering. Push a finger below the mulch layer-if the soil feels moist, then the mulch is acting as a buffer to the drying winds and watering is not necessary. When it comes to soil moisture levels, nothing benefits trees, shrubs, and perennials like a 2-4-inch layer of wood chips spread over the root zone. If the soil is dry, then a second condition has been met for winter watering. 3. Are there plants in the landscape that were planted within the past few years? Newly planted trees and shrubs have not developed an extensive root system and will have a lower tolerance to dry conditions than established plants. Even drought-tolerant plants will need water during the establishment period. Conifers, too, benefit from winter watering when conditions are dry, and soil is not frozen. With all these conditions in place, providing water is the next step. A tree's caliper (diameter at 6 inches above the soil) will help to determine how long the tree needs attention after planting AND the amount of water to provide. For every inch caliper of trunk, a tree requires about 1 1/2 years to establish (University of Minnesota). Thus, a tree that is 2 inches in caliper requires 3 years to establish. Caliper size also serves as a basis for how much water to provide. Newly planted trees require 1 to 1 1/2 gallons of water per inch of stem caliper at each watering (University of Minnesota). A good example: if a 2-inch caliper tree planted two years ago will need 3 years to establish, then the tree is considered newly planted and should be given 2-3 gallons of water in one application, applied slowly enough so it can percolate into the soil. To determine if a repeat application of water is needed during winter months, refer to the conditions enumerated here.

Mulched trees develop more fine feeder roots for water uptake than trees in grassed areas (Watson and Himelick) and more fine feeder roots means trees have a better chance at staying hydrated. Mulching with a 2 - 4-inch layer of wood chips retains soil moisture levels as well as promotes development of these fine feeder roots. If trees haven't been mulched, it is always good to do so.

CONGRATULATIONS Wayne High School on a great performance of your play "The Addams Family School Edition'

THE ADDAMS FAMILY, a comical feast that embraces the wackiness in every family, features an original story and every father's nightmare:

Wednesday Addams (Norah Armstrong) has fallen in love with Lucas (Easton Blecke), a young man from a respectable family – a man her parents have never met. Feeling pulled in two directions, Wednesday confides in her father and begs him not to tell her mother.

Now, Gomez Addams (Kaden Hopkins) must do something he's never done before - keep a secret from his beloved wife, Morticia (Brooklyn Bierbower). Everything will change for Grandma (Laura Hasemann), Pugsley (Madalyn Franta), Lurch (Ethan Wibben) as they host a dinner for Wednesday's boyfriend and his parents Mal (Orion Spieker) and Alice (Riley Haschke). Can Uncle Fester (Carter Hasemann) and a team of Addams ancestors save the day?

Additional cast and crew members include: Ancestors (Abigail Hawthorne, Adrian Klinetobe, Alec Schaffer, Alexandra Harrell, Alondra Vega, Arianna Mulhair, Ashton Brandow, Ben Sandoz, Brayden Woehler, Ceilus Ibarra, Chloe Klug, Corey Rogers, Dakota Spann, Dillon Hanau, Drew Fertig, Eli Barner, Gavin Redden, Jacob Barner, Liberty Titiml, Lindsay Niemann, Maiah Davis, Mar'keidron King, Mason Ley, Nathan McKenna, Olivia Hanson, Parker Kesting, Sydney Redden, and Sophia Reeg).

Tech Crew (Evan Allemann, Andy Wibben, Summer Palu), Stage Crew (Kortney Rees, Maya Spahr. Frantzdie Barner, Riley Durant).

The play is being presented with special arrangement with Theatrical Rights World Wide.

Capitol View Lawmakers log jammed, political intrigue abounds

Commentary by J.L. Schmidt Statehouse Correspondent Nebraska Press Association

AND DESCRIPTION OF THE OWNER OWNER

With lawmakers log jammed nside the State Capitol during the waning days of the short 2022 legislative session, the political intrigue outside is bubbling over.

State senators are trying compromise and downright bullishness to move along big ticket items favored for corporations and the rich; a big ditch in Southwest Nebraska to take a fair share of allocated water from Colorado's stretch of the South Platte River; building an Okoboji-size lake between Lincoln and Omaha: building a new prison

Letters Citizens need to stay informed

Dear Citizens of Wavne.

A group of concerned citizens continues to gather signatures to delay, for one year, the City's plan to sell 7.94 acres of public land to an out-of-state developer. (The land in question includes the current soccer fields and the former community garden.) This is not a move against Wayne growing, but a move to give the City time to work with its citizens and local entities to address and solve the current and future housing needs of Wayne. Here's what you can do:

1. Sign the remonstrance petition. The goal is to gather 700 signatures from registered voters who are City of Wayne residents. You can sign at the Wayne Fire Hall on Sunday, April 10, 6-8 p.m.

2. Join us on Facebook - Wayne Property Tax Payers: Wayne Rental Association

3. Contact us via email – wayne. rental.association@gmail.com

With her permission, I am including Lee Brogie's Facebook response to Mayor Giese's post in this letter. She does a good job explaining the reasoning behind the remonstrance petition.

I was pleased to see our Mavor post information about the highdensity luxury apartment complex that is going to be built on the green space that is adjacent to the Wayne Rugby/Soccer fields. It is extremely important for the citizens of Wayne to stay informed about the future plans for our City to make sure that the needs of all are being addressed. The petition that is being circulated is a remonstrance. Nebraska's Revised Statute 16-202 gives its citizens a sale for $1.00. Citizens voiced their way to challenge a decision to sell public land – called a remonstrance period – to petition the City to delay the sale of public property for one year. This delay will give the City time to work with local entities to meet Wavne's current and future housing needs at all price points for persons and households of all income levels. Below I include information to Mayor Giese's 6 points and summary to provide insight as to why there is a remonstrance peti-Point 1) "Wayne is in a housing crisis." There is no disagreement with this observation. At the Housing Summit Meeting on Feb. 21, Real estate agents, businesses, property owners, contractors, and others in attendance continually voiced the need for affordable work force housing. The R. Perry Construction project, building luxury apartments with a clubhouse, pool and $850-$1250 monthly rents, does not meet the need for workforce housing in Wayne. Point 2) "A unique opportunity for repurposing real estate arose." This definitely is repurposing public land. The property in question, was acquired by the City of Wayne through condemnation and eminent domain on 30 November 1961 to build a municipal sewage disposal plant. The sovereign power of eminent domain does allow the government to take private property for the benefit of the public after paying just compensation, and is legal under Nebraska statute 14-366. However, the Nebraska statute is quite clear on how such property can be used in the future and all uses are for "public uses and purposes." Selling this property for urban development will once again put the City of Wayne in the position of taking this land, not from one property owner but from all the citizens of Wayne who were promised, by the decision made in Case No. 1686, that this land's future use would be for public use and purooses.

to be placed along transportation corridors to limit traffic in residential neighborhoods. Building a highdensity apartment complex at this location will drastically increase traffic on East 4th Street to Main Street, on Jaxon Street to Tomar Drive, and on Tomar Drive to 7th Street. This potential for increased traffic is not in the best interest of predominately single-family residential property owners along those routes.

Point 4) "Proposal Winner. R. Perry's 144 unit, 288 bedroom project was the chosen proposal." There was a second proposal that the city rejected. It was submitted by Heritage Homes, Wayne, and was specifically designed for workforce housing. However, in order to have monthly rent fees in the range affordable for workforce residents, the Heritage Homes project was asking for additional subsidies which the City did not want to fund.

Point 5) "Lake Development." The first time R.Perry had written in its plans constructing and building a 4-acre lake (on the current lagoon property) was in their TIF application presented at the March 29th Community Redevelopment Authority's meeting. The City Council was not aware of the lake plan when they approved the selling of this property. In fact, the City Council has not yet approved how the lagoon property will be redeveloped.

Point 6) "Financing." R. Perry has agreed to pay $100,000 for the property. However, prior to the third reading of selling this land, the City Council had been approving the concern about giving the property away for $1.00 and this change was made at the third and final reading. R. Perry is asking for $4.8 million in Tax Increment Funding of which $2.2 million will be used for the lake project.

On top of all that, is a recent lot in May. by the Governor such as: tax cuts attempt to give Nebraska a total ban on abortion

Just how many of these things are possible with a few days left in the session is the perennial crapshoot that lawmakers face. The bottom line is: somebody's not going to be happy when it's all over.

Meanwhile, folks are both shocked and contemplating the resignation of longtime seated Congressman Jeff Fortenberry for three felony convictions for lying about accepting campaign funds from a foreigner.

Complicating the resignation is the fact that Nebraska's May primary election is scheduled to fall before the special election to replace the congressman. Fortenberry's name also will still be on that bal- Congress will likely be anti-climac- shared by several former Herbster 20 years.

Expect an interesting race for the Republican nomination where Mike is the gubernatorial race where Flood is the preferred candidate to date and will face Fortenberry's name still on the ballot even though resident, Jim Pillen, the Norfolk votes cast for him will not count.

On the Democratic side expect of Nebraska regent, and Brett state senator Patty Pansing-Brooks of Lincoln to win the nod there.

Note that Flood and Brook's names could most likely also appear from the fourth candidate Theresa on the June special election ballot. ### Legislative Update Senator talks about advances in the tax cut package

By Joni Albrecht

State Senator, District 17

It has been a week of late nights and crunching numbers but it is my hope and prayer that the traction we have made on tax cuts in the Unicameral will go on to advance out of Select File and that all Nebraskans will benefit.

Tax cut package advances

After three rounds of revenue discussions, I am glad to share with you that corporate, state income, property and Social Security tax cuts have all passed to Select File.

The Legislature gave first-round approval March 30 to a proposal that would cut individual and corporate income tax rates, speed up the phaseout of state taxation of Social Security income and provide credits intended to offset the amount of property taxes paid to community colleges.

The provisions of LB939, introduced by Senator Lou Ann Linehan of Elkhorn, would cut Nebraska's top individual income tax rate in several steps from the current 6.84 percent to 5.84 percent by tax year 2027. Linehan's proposal also would continue the phased-in reduction of the state's top corporate income tax rate, which applies to income in excess of $100,000, approved by the Legislature last year. The committee amendment would cut the rate from the current 7.5 percent to 5.84

the bill and any pending amendments. The motion succeeded on Department of a vote of 43-0. Thirty-three votes were needed. Senators then voted between the start of Interstate 129 44-0 to advance LB873 to Select

Budget Adjustment Package Passed

The Legislature gave final approval March 29 to the Appropriations Committee's mid-biennium budget adjustment package. LB1013, introduced by Speaker Mike Hilgers of Lincoln at the request of Governor Ricketts, changes provisions relating to the state's Cash Reserve Fund, also known as the rainy-day fund. The bill uses $513 million from the cash reserve for a variety of transfers outlined in other bills introduced this session.

lion to be released to the Nebraska Capital Construction Fund for a potential new state penitentiary but does not appropriate those funds until certain conditions are met. Following the 34-3 adoption of a cloture motion to cease debate, offered by Gering Senator John Stinner, lawmakers passed LB1013 on a 33-5 vote. The bill took effect immediately.

Hilgers at the request of Governor Ricketts, is the mainline budget bill. The bill adjusts appropriations Curt Friesen of Henderson, would wind, residents of the Cornhusker for state operations, aid, and con- reduce the matching grants for proj- state know it is vital to be prepared struction in addition to many line item programs in the current and next fiscal year. LB1012, introduced by Hilgers at the request of Governor Ricketts. which authorizes and provides for certain fund transfers, creates funds and changes and eliminates provisions regarding a fund. The bill passed 34-6 and took effect immediately. The governor has five calendar days, excluding Sunday, to sign, veto or line-item veto appropriations within the budget bills. If budget bills are returned to the Legislature with line-item vetoes, the Appropriations Committee must report on the fiscal impact of the vetoes within one day and may offer a motion to override any or all of them. Thirty votes are required to override a veto. ARPA Funding- How it works As I mentioned last week, Nebraska has received $1.04 billion from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) as part of the Covid stimulus package. Maybe you've been watching as many Senators have presented amendments requesting ARPA funds for various projects. I thought it would be valuable to share with you the prerequisites required for a project to qualify for the use of ARPA funds. In order for the Legislature to even consider a request, the following questions must be answered:

Senator Mike Hilgers of Lincoln offered an amendment that would allow the commission to give a provider up to 90 days to submit a challenge to an application. The amendment also would remove a section of the committee amendment stipulating that any provider receiving funds administered by the PSC would be subject to all rules promulgated by the commission and prohibit the commission from adding to provider requirements related to broadband service support after grants have been awarded. The amendment instead would require recipients to commit to maintaining a minimum 100 Mbps of upload and download speeds for all locations for which they've received grant funding. Hilger's amendment addressed concerns that companies would be deterred from applying for grants due to the broad requirements outlined in that portion of the committee amendment. Following the 34-0 adoption of the Hilgers amendment, Senators advanced LB1144 to select file 37-0.

Severe Weather Preparedness

According to the USDA -Nebraska weather often feels like multiple seasons in a day, from drastic temperatures to extreme for the unexpected when it comes to weather. Devastating weather across the nation in the last week provided a reality check for those who witnessed its destruction. In many examples of survival, early warning systems gave Americans the time they needed to escape harm's way. In Nebraska, rural communities in need of updating their warning systems may be eligible for a Community Facilities grant like the one used recently in Lyman to replace their emergency siren. Lyman was awarded \$18,800 to replace an old siren with an updated model. The new siren has the capacity to be remotely turned on by the Emergency Communication Center in the City of Gering, improving safety for the village's 341 residents. Interested communities are encouraged to reach out to their local USDA Rural Development representative to discuss project needs and qualifications. The following specialists are available across the state to take questions and help applicants apply for USDA RD Community Programs funds: Norfolk Office – Anthony Guenther (402) 371-5350 ext. 120 or Marla Ourada (402) 437-5598 Under  $_{\mathrm{the}}$ Biden-Harris Administration, Rural Development provides loans and grants to help expand economic opportunities, create jobs, and improve the quality of life for millions of Americans in rural areas. Summary "Bottom Line. This project is huge ... " The R. Perry proposal exceeds the future housing needs for the City of Wayne and does not meet the future housing needs of our residents. The Wayne, Nebraska Community Housing Study, approved by the Wayne City Council on March 1, 2022 states: The greatest challenge for the City of Wayne, during the next 5 years, will be to develop housing units for workforce persons and families, elderly households, off-campus students, and special populations. Overall, Wayne should, at minimum, develop up to 200 new housing units; 72 owner and 128 rental units, by 2027. The Community Housing Study projects a need for 56 rental units in this luxury price range in the next 5 years, and calls for a variety of units to meet this need, including single family dwellings, duplexes, triplexes, townhomes, and apartments.

Also included are the provisions of LB723, introduced by Albion Senator Tom Briese. The proposal is intended to ensure that a refundable state income tax credit does not fall below its current amount of $548 million. The credit, created in 2020 under the Nebraska Property Tax Incentive Act, is based on property taxes paid to schools. Under the amendment, the credit amount would increase to $560.7 million for tax year 2023 and then increase by an allowable growth percentage of up to 5 percent beginning in tax year 2024. The amendment also would create a refundable tax credit under the Nebraska Property Tax Incentive Act based on the amount of property taxes paid to a community college. The total amount of credits this year would be $50 million. It then would increase annually, reaching $195 million during taxable years that begin during calendar year 2026. After that, the total would increase by the allowable growth percentage.

Finally, the amendment included the provisions of LB825, introduced by Senator Brett Lindstrom of Omaha. His proposal would exempt Social Security income from state income taxation by tax year 2025. Lindstrom said the proposal would benefit Nebraska retirees who live on a fixed income and are hard hit by inflation. Nebraska is one of relatively few states that taxes Social Security income and has high income and property taxes relative to its neighbors, making it less competitive when trying to attract and retain businesses, workers and retirees. We're trying to do transformational things that move our state ahead, to get people to live here ... We need to also have a tax climate that doesn't scare people off.

Norfolk Senator Michael Flood also supported the proposal, saving corporations consider a state's top corporate tax rate when deciding whether to expand or locate there. He said Nebraska's rate is not competitive. After eight hours of first-round debate, Friesen filed a motion to invoke cloture, which Wayne Rental Association ended debate and forced a vote on ects from 50 percent of project costs to 25 percent. The bill also would extend the deadline for applications to be filed with the PSC from July 1 to Oct. 1, with grants being awarded no later than Jan. 31 of the following year, beginning in 2022. The bill focuses on our ongoing effort to expand and improve broadband availability across the state. A Transportation and Telecommunications Committee amendment, adopted 37-0, replaced the bill. Under the amendment, a hearing for a carrier who is replacing copper with fiber would not be required unless deemed necessary by the PSC. Among other provisions, the amendment also would require that a provider receiving support from the Nebraska Telecommunications Universal Service Fund, the Nebraska Broadband Bridge Fund or any federal funds administered by the commission be subject to service quality, customer service and billing rules and regulations adopted by the commission.

 LB761 introduced by Adams Senator Myron Dorn, which would provide up to $2 million in annual grant funding to provide precision agriculture connectivity of at least 100 megabits per second download speed and 20 Mbps upload speed to accelerate rural economic develop ment and provide high-speed internet connectivity to farm sites in unserved areas of the state;

• LB914, introduced by Brainard Senator Bruce Bostelman, which would allow the PSC to create and maintain a Nebraska location fabric broadband access map;

• LB1214, introduced by Lincoln Senator Suzanne Geist, which would would require the PSC's weighted application scoring system to include the ability to offer rates in the project area comparable to rates offered by the applicant outside the project area; and

 LB1234, introduced by Senator Curt Friesen, which would provide for an expedited wire-crossing percompanies wishing to cross railroad

April 4, 2002 Hill receives recognition

Jesse Hill of Wayne has been named a United State National Award Winner in Mathematics.

This award is an honor that very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognized fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Jesse, who attends Wayne Middle School, was nominated for the national award by Joyce Hoskins, a teacher at the school. His name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are student's academic performance, interest, aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher to director.

Jesse is the son of Kevin and Melody Hill of Wayne.

SIN STATE NATIONAL BRIAN BOWERS & MARY JENKINS 1010 N Main Street Suite 110 Wayne, NE 402-375-4888

Twenty-three Wayne-Carroll High School girls, all members of the senior vocational office practice class taught by Mrs. Neil Swanson, have recently issued invitations to a daily open house of their model office.

For an eight-week period, the students will carry out the daily procedures of the Lester Hill Corporation, a mock company which sells cleaning supplies and other materials for motels and institutions.

The class is broken into several departments, and students are reassigned to new areas every two weeks. Partitions divide the classroom into separate areas for management, sales, warehouse, accounting, traffic and tallidata representatives. This is the first year such an endeavor has been attempted in the Wayne school.

Visitors are invited to take part in guided tours of the office during its 10 to 11:30 a.m. working hours, each Monday through Friday.

April 8, 1982 Feeders Banquet the 17th

The Northeast Nebraska Feeders Association Annual Banquet will be held Saturday April 17 at the Student Center at Wayne State College. The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Hall. A coffee and brunch will preceed the banquet at the student center at 7 a.m.

Entertainment for the evening will be the Random IV Barbershop Quartet from Fremont, Nebraska. The Random IV has entertained at numerous banquets, conventions, and chapter shows in the Fremont area. They are appearing in this area as goodwill ambassadors for the dealers of Vigortone Ag Products, the nations largest manufacture of livestock premixes.

Tickets for the banquet are $7.50 and can be purchased from the local directors within the four county area. All interested livestock producers are invited to attend.

Wayne High students selected for Class B All-State Band Concert

The Nebraska 2012 Class "B" All-State Concert Band and Jazz Band were held at Norfolk High School and the Johnny Carson Theatre in Norfolk on March 23-24.

All Class B high school band programs across the state of Nebraska wre able to have students audition for this clinic.

The concert was directed by Dr. David Lambert and Dr. Gary Davis. Dr. Lambert is the Director of Instrumental Jazz and Low Brass at Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa. Dr. Davis is Professor Ermeritus and former Director of Bands at the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

Students from Wayne High School, who auditioned and were accepted to perform in the Class B All-State Band included, Joe Burrows, trombone; Katlin Potter, flute; Lila Goos, alto saxophone; Samantha Bierbower, mallets; and Molly Burbach, clarinet.

Due to the fact that the first chair trumpet player for the Jazz Band was unable to attend, Chad Dean, Band Director at O'Neill High School who was in charge of the Class B All-State Band Clinic called Dr. Dave Bohnert, Director of Bands at Wayne State College to see if another trumpet player could fill that spot.

Dr. Bohnert suggested Ben Bruflat, a 2011 Wayne High School graduate fill the spot and Ben was able to rehearse with the group prior to the final concert.

This year's participating schools included Arlington, Auburn, Boone Central, Central City, Fairbury, Holdrege, Norfolk Catholic, Ogallala, O'Neill, Pierce, Sidney and Wayne,

ACME Club holds March meeting

President Bonnadell Koch called the March 21 meeting of the AMCE Club to order in the Senior Center's group meeting room, following the noon meal for those who were able to attend.

Wittig presented the Betty "thought for the day" as follows: "Success is not final; failure is not fatal. It is the courage that counts."

The secretary's report was not available. Mary Lou Erxleben gave the financial transactions and reported the balance. Roll call was answered with each member telling of their "first jewelry box." Answers varied from those who got theirs from their parents/Santa in answer to a fervent wish to acquire one; or a remembered housewarming gift. One was inherited from her grandparent and one from her mother and both were a wonderful acquisition. Others remembered cherished pieces of precious jewelry - a 4 H necklace, a charm bracelet, pop beads - placed into wooden or fold-up or fold-out boxes or even a beautiful hand-made small chest of drawers received from a husband. All kinds of jewelry could be found inside and sometimes iewelry needed to be untangled before it could be worn. Some were big and some were small, but all were a joy to own.

The Table was chosen as the place for the noon Guest Day on April 4. The meeting adjourned and the no-host afternoon included presentation of many, many wonderful jokes. These included a few listed here:

A friend of mine went bald years ago, but still carries a comb around all the time. He just can't PART with it!

A notice in the bulletin went thus: We're looking for volunteers for our prison ministry. You can help put the "con" in the "congregation."

What's the definition of a bachelor pad? All the plants are dead and.

Pastor says if I could do it I would take all the wine and throw it in the river; I would take all the whiskey and pour it in the river; I would take all the sinful alcohol and dump it into the water at the river's edge. Following the pastor's sermon, the announcement was cautiously given for the congregation to sing the Hymn titled "Shall We Gather at the River."

How did the Lion greet the Zebra? He said, "Very nice to EAT you."

These jokes may not be quite accurate, but I hope I came close to reporting some of them. Enjoy your day.

weight gain of one pound a year, eat ten calories less per day on average. Here's another example. Walk one half mile five days a week for three months to burn the calories found in one pound of body weight.

One small food choice change that improves health is to eat breakfast more regularly. Eating breakfast helps you have energy to start your day.

What is the simple formula? Pair carbs with proteins. The carbs give your body energy to get started and your brain the fuel it needs to take on the day. Protein gives you staying power and helps you feel full until vour next meal.

In addition, adding more whole grains to your diet. Whole grains are packed with nutrients including protein, fiber, B vitamins, antioxidants, and trace minerals (iron, zinc, copper, and magnesium). A diet rich in whole grains has been shown to reduce the risk of heart disease, type 2 diabetes, obesity, and some forms of cancer

Next, you might snack more often on fruits and vegetables instead of selecting foods high in added salt or sugar. You might choose to read the Nutrition Facts labels on foods; replace most soft drinks with fat free milk; add cooked legumes to salads; or replace 80-percent lean ground beef with 95-percent lean.

Similar to making gradual improvements in food selections, being more physically active enhances benefits to your health and quality

Since ancient times, marijuana has been used for medicinal and recreational purposes in many cultures. In the United States, it became illegal during prohibition, like alcohol. Later, under the Controlled Substances Act in the 1970's, the federal government classified marijuana a Schedule 1 drug. This classification includes heroin, LSD, and ecstasy, all deemed to have no safe, effective medical use and a high potential for abuse.

This Schedule 1 status imposes bureaucratic and legal barriers, making it difficult to conduct scientific research on the medical benefits from marijuana. Studies that have been conducted are small and limited. Thus, physicians are less confident recommending marijuana for patients. Not to mention, use or possession remains illegal federally and in many states. The word cannabis refers to all products derived from the plant cannabis sativa. There are hundreds of compounds in this plant, called cannabinoids. Cannabidiol (CBD) is one of them, and tetrahvdrocannabinol (THC) is another. The word marijuana often refers to products from the plant that contain large amounts of THC, which is psychoactive and can alter someone's mental state. Cannabinoids can trigger receptors in the brain to release neurotransmitters to affect mood, sleep, pain, and memory. Drugs with cannabinoids may be helpful in treating nausea and vomiting from cancer treatments, loss of apduring part of your lunch hour, or park a little farther away from your office and stores. Over time, you could increase the minutes per week spent in planned physical activity sessions, such as stretching, using light hand-held weights or bicycling.

Recent research confirms that losing ten pounds of excess body weight and getting 150 minutes a week of moderate exercise, such as walking, greatly reduces the risk of getting type 2 diabetes, or at least postpone the risk.

The first step in this change process: Be aware that you don't have to make lots of changes in food selections and physical activity all at once. That can lead to feeling overwhelmed. Instead, start by improving just one or two of your lifestyle choices. Nudge your food and physical activity habits toward better health. You can expect measurable

Marijuana has been used as a medicine for a very long time in various cultures. Yes, it can be addictive, and it can cause problems. Although, when you consider the harms from alcohol, tobacco, narcotic pain killers, and other medications, perhaps cannabis deserves a chance to be further studied and used when medically appropriate.

We are worth the cost of the cure

During the course of an average week I spend time visiting with people who are ill and their families.

I think one of the most stressful moments in such times is waiting in the cramped consultation room for the doctor to come out following some procedure and not knowing what has been found. It is hard to wait and wonder if the growth is cancerous, if the damaged limb can be saved, or if the disease has a known cure.

Imagine for a moment being in such a situation only to hear the following diagnosis: "Your wounds are incurable, your injuries cannot be healed. There is no one to take care of you, no remedy for your sores, no hope of healing for you." How crushing such news would be! To hear that there is no hope, no one to help. To have a disease that no doctor, no medicine and no amount of money could cure would be devastating.

But the above situation is not made up. The above diagnosis was delivered by God to His people through the prophet Jeremiah in Jeremiah 30:12-13 (TEV). The illness that they suffered from was not a disease like cancer. They were instead sick with sin. God said, "I have attacked you like an enemy; your punishment has been harsh because your sins are many and your wickedness is great" (Jer. 30:15).

By nature, we all suffer from the same disease. The consequence of the disease is untold suffering and ultimately death. It is a disease that is 100% fatal and there is absolutely

AWANA holds April 3 Grand Prix Event

The Concord Awana Clubs were excited to hold their annual Awana Grand Prix on April 3, at the Evangelical Free Church in Concord.

Twenty-five boys and girls, grades 3-6, participated in the car race. Trophy awards were as follows:

Design - First Place, JJ Dangberg; Second Place - Sarah Lipp; Third Place – Lauren Patefield.

Speed - First Place, Easton Gould; Second Place - Jake Lipp; Third Place - Leah Gould.

Participants drew their initial car design on a plain block of wood in early February. Cars were cut out and clubbers finished them off with paint and other detailing in March. Volunteers attached the wheels and also made sure that each car weighed 5 oz.

The Grand Prix began with a welcome from Awana Commander Bill Dickey, followed by a brief message from Pastor Scott Kahn.

Approximately 110 children, parents, grandparents, visitors and Awana volunteers were in attendance. Refreshments were served.

USDA encourages producers to enroll grasslands into special Conservation Reserve Program signup

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) encourages producers and landowners to enroll in the Grassland Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) now through May 13, 2022. Grassland CRP provides a unique opportunity for farmers, ranchers, and agricultural landowners to keep land in agricultural production and supplement their income while improving their soils and permanent grass cover.

The program had its highest enrollment in history in 2021 and is part of the Biden-Harris Administration's broader effort to equip producers with the tools they need to help address climate change and invest in the long-term health of our natural resources.

Grassland CRP is a federally funded voluntary working lands program. Through the program, USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) provides annual rental payments to landowners to maintain and conserve grasslands while allowing producers to graze, hay, and produce seed on that land. Maintaining the existing permanent cover provides several benefits, including reducing erosion, providing wildlife habitat and migration corridors, and capturing and maintaining carbon in the soil and cover.

"Grassland CRP is an important working lands conservation tool that offers a win-win to both our country's producers and the environment by supporting and enabling grazing activities, while at the same time promoting plant and animal biodiversity and stemming rangeland conversion," said John Berge, FSA state executive director in Nebraska. "We had a successful signup last year, and we look forward to broadening our base and working with new producers, particularly our historically underserved producers, to ensure they can access the program and its many benefits."

FSA provides participants with annual rental payments and costshare assistance. The annual rental rate varies by county with a national minimum rental rate of $13 per acre for this signup. Contract duration is 10 or 15 years.

Grassland CRP National Priority Zones

Because Grassland CRP supports not only grazing operations but also biodiversity and conserving environmentally sensitive land such as that prone to wind erosion, FSA created two National Priority Zones in 2021: the Greater Yellowstone Migration Corridor and Dust Bowl Zone.

As part of the Biden-Harris Administration's focus on conservation in important wildlife corridors and key seasonal ranges, for this year's signup, FSA is expanding the Greater Yellowstone Wildlife Migration Corridor Priority Zone to include seven additional counties across Montana, Wyoming, and Utah, to help protect the big-game animal migration corridor associated with Wyoming elk, mule deer, and antelope.

"Over the past year, we have continued to make improvements to Grassland CRP to improve its effectiveness and help local communities meet their conservation goals, including preserving critical wildlife habitat. The addition of seven counties to the Greater Yellowstone Wildlife Migration Corridor Priority Zone will help us do just that," Berge added.

Offers within one of these National Priority Zones will receive an additional 15 ranking points and $5 per acre if at least 50% of the offer is located in the zone.

Alongside Grassland CRP, producers and landowners can also enroll acres in Continuous CRP under the ongoing sign up, which includes projects available through the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) and State Acres for Wildlife Enhancement (SAFE). Nebraska has the Platte-Republican Resources Area CREF and the Migratory Birds, Butterflies and Pollinators SAFE, both of which currently are open for enrollment.

Broadening Reach of Program

As part of the Agency's Justice40 efforts, producers and landowners who are historically under-served, including beginning farmers and military veterans, will receive 10 additional ranking points to enhance their offers.

Additionally, USDA is working to broaden the scope and reach of Grassland CRP by leveraging the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) to engage historically underserved communities. CREP is a partnership program that enables states, Tribal governments, non-profit, and private entities to partner with FSA to implement CRP practices and address high priority conservation and environmental objectives. Interested entities are encouraged to contact FSA.

More Information on CRP

Landowners and producers interested in Grassland CRP should contact their local USDA Service Center to learn more or to apply for the program before the May 13 deadline. Additionally, fact sheets and other resources are available at fsa.usda.gov/crp.

Signed into law in 1985, CRP is one of the largest voluntary privatelands conservation programs in the United States. The working lands signup announced today demonstrates how much it has evolved from the original program that was primarily intended to control soil erosion and only had the option to take enrolled land out of production. The program has expanded over the years and now supports a greater variety of conservation and wildlife benefits, along with the associated economic benefits.

Many are offering assistance to Ukraine

You know, there are mass shootings, Covid is still around, the western part of the US is in a major drought, while the eastern half has had lots of snow and now, tornadoes; and there is a war going on in Ukraine. Also, girls in Afghanistan are not being allowed to go back to school. So, what has been on the news for over a week? A slap at the Academy Awards, which I have not watched now for years.

Benefits of prescribed burning, grass tetany discussed

Prescribed Burning By Jerry Volesky

Spring is a key time when prescribed burning of pasture and CRP lands occurs. Within this time period, there are a limited number of days when weather conditions such as wind speed, direction, and humidity meet the required prescription for the unit that is being burned. With this, having a detailed burn plan is needed to make sure the work is done safely. One should also consider the very dry conditions this year and the possibility of a continuing drought.

The primary objective of most prescribed burns in Nebraska is to control eastern red cedar trees. However, prescribed burns can also improve grass stands, prepare them for interseeding, reduce annual grassy and broadleaf weeds, enhance wildlife habitat, and improve forage quality.

Safe and controlled prescribed burns don't just happen. It takes preparation, planning, and an understanding of how fire reacts in certain weather conditions, with particular fuel loads, and on various types of topography. Many times, the preparation will begin a year in advance.

Plan your prescribed burn carefully and be aware of the topography and other factors that will affect how the fire behaves. Never burn unless weather conditions are within your burn prescription. Plus, make sure your burn is legal. You must obtain a burn permit from your local fire chief. And finally, it is always a great benefit to have experienced people leading and being part of the prescribed burning crew.

Grass Tetany By Ben Beckman

Fresh spring growth is a welcome site for producers looking for animal forage. However, lush spring growth may be the perfect condition for a case of grass tetany. While turn out may be a ways off, mitigating this risk starts now.

Grass tetany is the result of low levels of magnesium in an animal's blood stream. Low magnesium levels in lush, newly growing grass are often a main cause. In lactating animals, low dietary magnesium paired with a drain on calcium from milk production increases risk even more. Calcium aids in magnesium absorption. This means, high milk producing and older animals are most at risk for developing tetany.

To prevent tetany problems this spring, it's best to wait till grass in pastures has grown to at least 6 inches high before grazing. Legumes like alfalfa or clover, are a good source of magnesium, so grazing mixed grass and legume pastures can help balance mineral demands.

While cultural practices can reduce risk, providing correct and adequate mineral supplementation may be the most certain remedy. Cattle should be consuming 3-4 ounces daily of mineral containing supplemental calcium and 10-13% magnesium oxide. This should start at least 30 days before grazing begins, to ensure proper intake has been established.

utilize magnesium oxide, which is bitter tasting and can reduce animal consumption. Mix magnesium fortified mineral with salt into a complete package or feed with a highly palatable protein or energy supplement to improve intake are reduced, around mid-May.

brome, mustards, cheatgrass, and shepherd's purse. They often can make up a significant portion of our first cutting of alfalfa and reduce the quality and palatability of that hay. Excessive weeds will also increase dry-down time, lengthening harvest time, and increasing the chance for precipitation on cut hay.

Before applying any herbicide, check to make sure these weeds are actually causing economic damage to the alfalfa. A field that looks full of weeds from the road may not actually be as bad as you may think.

If you walk into an alfalfa field today, most anything growing will be unwanted plants that may need to be sprayed. However, alfalfa shoots that have started to grow and are green may be set back several weeks if they are sprayed incorrectly. Depending on your herbicide, spray before the alfalfa shoots green up or meet the alfalfa height recommendations

If alfalfa is growing, fields needing control may need herbicide options that can be applied to new alfalfa growth. Some of the herbicides that can be used include Velpar, Karmex, Sinbar/Pursuit, and Raptor. EC 130, Guide for Weed, Disease, and Insect Management in Nebraska (Weed Guide) may provide some additional options When selecting herbicides, make sure they are effective on the weed species you seek to control. Winter annuals can quickly take over portions of a hay field and once that happens more labor-intensive drastic measures will have to be taken in order to reclaim the alfalfa potential. Know the purpose of your alfalfa. If quality is not needed, herbicides may not be needed either.

Public Speaking Contest held in Wayne

Two 4-H members participated in the 4-H Public Speaking Contest held at the Wayne County Courthouse on, April 4.

Youth ages 5-18 have an opportunity to participate in the 4-H Public Speaking program from county to state levels. 4-H members in three divisions, Junior (8-9 years of age), Intermediate (10-13 years of age) and Senior (ages 14 and older) were required to prepare an original speech about 4-H.

In addition, Clover Kids (ages 5-7) and Novice (8-9 years of age who have never competed in the speech contest) participants may read a poem, story, or talk to the audience about any topic they choose. 4-Hers also have the opportunity to prepare public service announcement relating to 4-H. Public Speaking allows the 4-Hers to increase their confidence of public speaking which is a valuable life skill.

Claire Sievers, daughter of Layne and Jacqualine Sievers of Randolph, competed in the Novice Speech Division. She read the poem, "Counting the Babies," by Edgar A Guest. She received a purple ribbon and was named champion in the speech division.

Ellie Topp, daughter of Trevor and Amy Topp of Winside, prepared a 60 second Public Service Announcement (PSA) around the 2022 Theme, "Opportunity 4 All.' She earned a purple ribbon, was named champion of the PSA division, and will have the opportunity to represent Wayne County at the State Public Speaking Contest held in June at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Judging the 2022 Public Speaking Contest was Stacey Keys of Wayne. Award sponsor is Beck Ag Inc (Stephanie Liska, Wayne). Ribbons and rosettes are sponsored by

Prescribed burns planned for several WMAs, state park areas this spring

Prescribed burns are planned this spring on many Nebraska Game and Parks Commission wildlife management areas, state parks and state recreation areas where weather allows.

Historically, wildlife habitats were shaped by wildfires that occurred throughout the year. Burns can help set back undesirable plants that invade native woodlands and prairies, as well as other grass and wooded areas.

Prescribed burning, if used with grazing, can set back smooth brome and Kentucky bluegrass, increase diversity in grasslands and improve habitat for wildlife. Burned acres often become more attractive to wildlife. Acres managed by prescribed burning has better longterm effects on wildlife habitat compared to acres not burned.

Burns will take place spring through fall at the following areas in Game and Parks districts:

Southeast District: Butler County – Larkspur WMA, Redtail WMA; Cass County – Eugene T. Mahoney SP, Louisville WMA/SRA, Platte River SP, Rakes Creek WMA, Randall W. Schilling WMA; Douglas County - Two Rivers WMA; Fillmore County - Sandpiper WMA, Sora WMA; Gage County – Arrowhead WMA, Diamond/Donald Whitney WMA; Jefferson County – Alexandria WMA, Alexandria SW WMA, Flathead WMA, Rock Glen WMA, Rose Creek WMA; Johnson County - Osage WMA, Twin Oaks WMA;

Northeast District: Antelope County – Hackberry Creek WMA, Brown County - Keller Park WMA; Custer and Loup counties – Myrtle Hall WMA; Dawson County – Plum Creek WMA; Dixon County - Buckskin Hills WMA; Elk Point Bend WMA, Powder Creek WMA; Garfield and Loup counties – Calamus Reservoir SRA; Greeley and Valley counties - Davis Creek WMA; Holt County - Goose Lake WMA; Dry Creek WMA; Keya Paha – Thomas Creek WMA;

Madison County - Oak Valley WMA, Nance County - Don Dworak WMA; Platte County – George D. Syas WMA, Wilkinson WMA; Stanton County - Red Fox WMA, Wood Duck WMA.

Dealing with grass tetany in the spring doesn't have to negatively impact your herd. Plan now to adjust grazing management or mineral supplementation for a tetanyfree spring.

Controlling Winter Annual Weeds

By Brad Schick

When even a little moisture is available, weeds in our alfalfa fields take off.

Before our alfalfa greens up and breaks being in a dormant state, try and eliminate those weeds. The weeds that really seem to get ahead of us in the spring are winter annuals; pennycress, downy
