Library, Senior Center celebrates 25 years of service

For the Herald

The Wayne Public Library and Senior Center will hold Chamber Coffee on Friday, Sept. 16 as well as host an open house event to celebrate the 25th anniversary of

The celebration will take place in the conference room of the library from 2 p.m. to Participants in the celebration will engage with memorabilia from the opening of the building including pictures, documentation and videos. The hosts will also have snacks and desserts for all who attend.

Twenty-five years ago, the City of Wayne built a new structure to better suit the needs of the community than the original

The initial library, constructed in 1912. was 2,600 square feet, with a 1,500 square foot addition made in 1950.

In 1979, the City of Wayne proposed a comprehensive plan for the future of the city, which included a call for a new development to accommodate an increasing need for a larger, updated library and a senior

"If Wayne is to continue to be the vibrant, progressive community it always has been and if we are to meet our Library and Senior Center needs now and into the 21st century, then the success of this fund-raising campaign is imperative," the proposal

The building proposal outlined three specific benefits including "to touch and benefit the lives of all of us - parents, children, grandparents; give another vital thrust to the dynamic development of Wayne, which will impact every family and business in the area; and provide our ever-growing Senior population with facilities and space which is easily accessible."

The new structure, at 410 North Pearl Street, opened its 13,000 square feet of space to the public in September of 1997.

Since its opening, the library has had an array of programs available for all ages, with new ones coming out all the time, accirculation, with 62,573 in 2018-2019 movcording to Sharon Carr, who has worked at ing to just 49,621 in 2021-2022. In 2018the library for three years.

end of the summer reading program, which involved a good portion of young readers in the community.

Also, the library has had its Libby services open to anyone with a card. This allows people to download free books and audiobooks to their devices to catch up on their reading from anywhere.

Carr has formulated crafting events, focusing on the recycling of materials. This September, she plans to use recycled books to make little boxes and journals. The library will also start After School Story Time on Wednesdays at 2:15 p.m. to offer a space for students to go after school. In November, they plan to hold a plant swap, inviting people to come and trade propaga-

Additionally, for young people, the Wayne Public Library has worked to create a positive environment that fosters learning and reading. Along with a Youth Services Librarian, they also have a counselor figure on site in case students have anything to discuss with a trusted adult. The computer lab has seen much traction, offering a place to do homework or play games. The library also has snacks readily available.

Recycle your electronics in Wayne on Sept. 24

The Wayne Green Team invites all sur- ers, CD players and CDs, gaming stations, tronics recycling event Saturday, Sept. 24.

The event starts at 8 a.m. and ends at 10 bound Third Street between Lincoln and Green Team member Sandy Brown. Pearl, next to the Wayne City Hall park-

Those taking part are asked to enter from Lincoln Street to unload your electronics and exit onto Pearl Street. This block of Third Street will be closed to traffic.

"Bring your old TVs, computers, laptops, telephones, cell phones, printers, cameras, cords, keyboards and accessories, routers, modems, docking stations, stereos, speak-rounding communities to its annual electronary, VCRs, VHS tapes, and more. You can also bring vacuums, blenders, toasters, and kitchen mixers, but no large apa.m. (or earlier if the truck fills up) on eastpliances or batteries accepted," said Wayne

> See the full list of acceptable items at www.cityofwayne.org/594/Electronics.

The Wayne Green Team suggests a donation of $10 per carload or $50 per business load of reasonable size. Fees are $10 per tube TV and $5 per tube monitor (no charge for flatscreens of any kind). There is also a $15 fee per microwave.

Funding comes from the Nebraska Department of Environment and Energy with electronics recycling services by The Retrofit Companies. Volunteer support comes from the Wayne State College Men's Basketball team and Women's Soccer team.

This is the ninth electronics recycling event hosted by the Wayne Green Team. Since then, the community has recycled over 145,000 pounds of electronics, which means more than 65 tons of harmful materials have been kept out of the landfill.

"Thank you for recycling right by bringing your electronics to the Wayne Green Team's annual event," Brown said.

Wayne Community Schools holds budget hearing

clara@wayneherald.com

No one from the public spoke during a budget hearing that preceded the monthly meeting of the Wayne Community Schools' Board of Education.

Superintendent Dr. Mark Lenihan outlined a number of items from the budget and told the board that the total tax asking for the 2022-2023 fiscal year is $11,221,232.00. This includes $400,000 in the building fund for anticipated projects during the coming year.

The district's levy will be $1.05 per $100 of valuation, a decrease from last year's levy of $1.08. This includes the levy for the General Fund, Bond Funds, Special Building Fund and Qualified Capital Purpose Undertaking Funds.

Dr. Lenihan said the property valuation in the district is up 10% from last year.

A joint tax hearing with the county has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 20 at 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne County Courthouse. Several other school districts within the area will also be a part of the hearing as they are also requesting a budget increase of more than the allowable 2%.

During the regular portion of Monday's meeting, Dr. Lenihan presented information to the board on the potential future uses or disposition of a parcel of land owned by the district. The land is the former site of School District 83 and is located 13 miles west and one mile south of Wayne

In executive session board members discussed the options for the land and no action was taken.

Enrollment numbers were shared with the board. The freshman class for 2022-2023 is the largest, with 92 students, while the third grade class is the smallest with

Total enrollment for preschool through 12th grade is 987 students with 12 additional students enrolled in the district's birth to age two program. This is an increase of five students from this time last

Discussion was held on how to handle out-of-state travel for student activities.

Dr. Lenihan said the issue has been coming up more recently as several groups of students have qualified to attend national events. He asked the board for advice on how the district wants to deal with these instances moving forward.

He shared information from other schools, including paying for half of travel expenses for those who qualify and having the students pay for the event and reimburse them after they return.

Additional discussion will be held at a future meeting.

Written reports were provided by all administrators and included information on Homecoming activities at the high school, the number of students taking each of the classes offered at the junior and senior high school and Parents' Night activities at the Elementary School.

Superintendent Dr. Mark Lenihan discussed options for dealing with district property that is not currently will be available to attend these and by being used. During committee meetings, Foundation Director Brandon Foote reported that $13,000 was raised during the recent Kevin J. Murray Fishing Tournament and more that $17,000 was raised during the Staff Giving event. In addition, the Foundation and Wayne Area Economic Development are hosting a Taste of Victory Tailgate prior to the football game on Sept. 16.

Dates were set for Community Facility Committee meetings. These will be held Sept. 21, Oct. 12, Oct.

26 and Nov. 10. Several board members the Nov. 10 meeting, the committee could bring a recommendation to the board. The timeline moving forward from that point was discussed, leading to the possibility of having an election in February 2023.

In other action, the board approved on second reading Policy 8230 and Policy 8231. Both deal with reimbursement for board members attending events, particularly out-of-state travel expenses.

First reading approval was given for Policy 6212. It deals with assessments and academic content standards for English Language Arts and Math.

Changes to the policy include updating the year the standards were adopted by the State Board of Education and changing the way they align with state standards.

The Wayne Community Schools' Board of Education will next meet in regular session on Monday, Oct. 12 at 5 p.m. in the junior-senior high school library. A special meeting in regard to the proposed budget will take place on Monday, Sept. 26 at 5

Obituaries _

Sally Deanne Wobig

Sally Deanne Wobig, 62, died Wednesday, Sept. 7, 2022 surrounded her A private memorial celebration will be held for immediate family.

Memorials can be made to JDRF, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, or any other cause that would make Sally smile.

Born May 31, 1960, she was the youngest child of Dean and Delores Wobig. She grew up on a farm in Newman Grove, and enjoyed spending time driving tractors with her beloved father. She was baptized and confirmed at Trinity Lutheran Church in Newman Grove. She graduated from Newman Grove High School in 1978. She moved to Lincoln in her adulthood, beginning what would be a successful and versatile career with Southeast Community College. She selflessly volunteered for many years with Big Brothers Big Sisters and Planned Parenthood. She enjoyed spending time outside, gardening and planting flowers. She loved her family and friends more than anything, and never hesitated to help anyone when needed. Her strength and ability to assert her strong-willed opinions paved the way for future generations of courage and strength. She was truly a genuine soul with a beautiful spirit.

She will never be forgotten and will be remembered best as a wonderful sister, kind daughter, caring friend, helpful neighbor, and exceptionally loving aunt. Her final selfless act was to donate her body to others who need help.

Survivors include her mother, Delores; brothers Randy D. Wobig (Beanie) and wife Lynn, Randy C. Wobig (Pit) and wife Karen; her only sister, Jane Wobig; sister-in-law, Mary Wobig, and her many nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews.

She was preceded in death by her brothers, Mic and Jim Wobig, and her daddy, Dean.

Hunters Helping the Hungry meat processors accepting deer donations This includes non-HHH processors.

Hunters may begin donating deer to the Hunters Helping the Hungry program at seven processor locations around the state.

The participating meat processors are: Amherst - Belschner Custom Meats; Norfolk - R&M Meats; North Platte - Kelley's Custom Pack; Table Rock - Den's Country Meats; Franklin – Franklin Locker; Ulysses - The Butchery; and Lindsay – Melcher's Locker.

Due to staffing difficulties, many processors are not accepting deer this year, so hunters should call to check availability before hunting.

Fall shows begin at Wayne State's Planetarium

The fall season of shows at the Fred G. Dale Planetarium at Wayne State College kicks off Sept. 9. The shows will continue every weekend, featuring entertaining and informative full-dome shows like Astronaut. Oasis in Space, and From Earth to the Universe.

WSC planetarium shows also include a discussion of the current night sky and hot astronomy topics like the Webb Space Telescope and the Artemis Project. The planetarium also features many laser shows, including the lights and music of Classic Rock, Laser Country, Laser Beatles, and Pink Floyd.

Please visit www.wsc.edu/planetarium to see the full schedule of planetarium and laser shows, and to learn how to book your own private show.

Doors open 20 minutes prior to the start of a show. All shows last about 45 minutes. The planetarium is located on the lowest level of the Carhart Science Building. Suggested donation for shows is $5 for adults and $3 for children.

For information: Dr. Todd Young, professor of physics, at toyoung1@ wsc.edu or 402-375-7471

Hunters pay no processing costs for deer accepted by processors for this donation-driven program.

The HHH program is funded solely by tax-deductible contributions. Ground venison is distributed by charitable organizations to Nebras kans in need. Hunters should first talk with processors but may keep antlers, head and cape and donate the rest of the deer. Processors accept only whole deer in good condition to ensure a good yield of pure

This murder mystery novel follows the story of five siblings who come back together after much time apart to care for their father in the wake of their mother's death.

Even though they could not have more differences, they work together to purchase an old, rural farm estate for their father in hopes to rejuvenate his vitality for life. After a while, this seemingly innocent action takes a sinister turn.

A couple of nefarious events lead to them being stranded and losing all sorts of communication, including their phones. Then, a building holding their vehicles burns down, leaving them stranded.

certain sibling has extremely chaotic reasonings for their actions. Ossian chose this simple, catchy title in high school and college libraries. because it incites a feeling of impending doom that perfectly encapsulates the unfolding of events. The writing process, Ossian said, began his freshman year of college in a fiction workshop class taught by Professor Stephanie Marcellus. Marcellus had assigned a final paper, giving the students the creative freedom to tell a story about anything they wanted. Ossian's 10-page project acted as a condensed version of his now full-length novel. The author said Marcellus gave him the confidence to pursue this story further after workshopping it in class, saying he could turn the story into a full manuscript someday. He remembered laughing at the time, brushing off the sentiment. Now, three years later, the physical copy can be purchased from Barnes and Noble, Amazon, themes in poetic language that I've seen in some of my other courses that I've taken," Ossian said. "And to build it around the style of language that could be easily placed in like a high school or college library for young adult literature. Keeping the story on track with his envisioned verse became one of his biggest challenges. To remain in the right mindset for writing, he kept to a tight schedule of writing one page, then reading 10. To gain motivation and inspiration, he turned to his favorite author of all time, Agatha Christie. Ossian expressed that Christie

While adding descriptions and backstory to the tale, Ossian also drew inspiration from his own life. He grew up on a rural farm plot with two older sisters and used memories of sibling disagreements to describe the characters in the beginning. His father, also a published author, played a role in the drafting process as well, offering advice and support when needed.

After the writing process, the search for a publishing company began. Ossian remembers the nerveracking feeling of sending out work he poured hours into, hoping it would be accepted. After each of the four companies he reached out to said yes, he selected Dorrance Publishing located in Pennsylvania. He had chosen this group because of their direct roles in creating a cover, providing a team to aid in the drafting and revising process and publicizing the book on social me-

"[You need to] recognize some days are going to be good days for writing and some days you won't even want to think about it because you can't even stomach it," Ossian said. "Be able to set those days apart to give yourself that break because you need it, or else you will get writer's block. And then if you are forcing yourself to write, that's not good writing. You should only be writing because you want to."

The book is dedicated to Joey and Deb Ossian, the author's parents, and Stephanie Marcellus, stating "whom without this would have been only a dream."

As a senior in college, Ossian does not intend to jump into another lengthy project amid other final projects and post-graduation plans. However, his creative mind has already begun formulating his next adventure.

State Patrol investigating shooting in

The Nebraska State Patrol continues investigating a shooting Safety is of the utmost priority for death that occurred Wednesday evening (Sept. 7) in rural Wayne County. The Wayne County Sheriff's Office initially responded to the incident at approximately 7:15 p.m. at a residence at 320 Y Road, north of Wisner.

Upon arrival, deputies located a male victim with a gunshot wound The victim, identified as Gerald Ruskamp, 65, was transported to the hospital where he was pronounced deceased. The Sheriff's Office has requested that the State Patrol lead the investigation.

As troopers and deputies from Wayne and Cuming counties worked to secure the scene and surrounding area, a marijuana grow operation was discovered on the property. Two individuals, identified as Carl Ruskamp, 30, and Duane Ruskamp, 64, were both arrested on charges related to the grow operation. Both men were lodged in Thurston County Jail.

At this time, there are no suspects in custody in relation to the shooting investigation. The investigation remains ongoing.

"We just want to make sure these guys are in good equipment that will protect them all around."

Kask manufactures multiple helmets and other safety equipment that are used around the world. When the company entered the market, arborists and tower climbers were its two leading markets. Today, it's safety division produces helmets for the construction, rescue and utility industries while its sports division makes helmets for cycling, skiing, snowboarding, climbing, and equestrian events, many of which have been worn by Olympic and Tour De France athletes among others in their competitions. ic 8-7 comeback win over Tekamah-Herman last Thursday.

After dropping a game on the road last week, the Wayne High softball team came back to win three in a row to improve to 8-3 on the season.

Highlighting the rally was an 8-7 win at home over Tekamah-Herman that saw the Blue Devils come back from a 7-0 deficit to win it with four runs in the bottom of the sev-

It looked grim for Wayne early on, as the Tigers used three hits and took advantage of three Wayne errors to break a scoreless tie and score seven runs. The inning was capped by a grand-slam homer by Sammie Brodersen that gave the visitors their big lead.

Wayne would get a run back in the bottom of the inning when Liberty Titiml scored on a Mackenzie Nissen groundout, then waited until late to stage their comeback.

In the sixth, Nyla Bolles singled, stole second and scored on a Taytem Ellis double Ellis came home on a single by Delaney Kruse, who later scored on a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Rylin Hall to cut the deficit to 7-4.

In the bottom of the seventh, Titiml got the rally started with a oneout walk and moved to third on a double by Nissen. Bolles followed with a single up the middle, scoring both, and stole second to put the tying run in scoring position.

Kruse came up and slapped the first pitch up the middle for a base hit to tie the game. She then stole second to set up the game-winner, which came when Jersi Jensen's hot shot to third was mishandled and trickled into left field, allowing Kruse to come home with the winKruse had three hits, Bolles had

Fishing tournament raises for Wayne Schools Foundation

The 18th annual Kevin J Murray memorial fishing tournament was held Aug. 27 at Lewis and Clark lake again this year.

A record 71 teams were part of this year's event and many teams brought in fish to be weighed by the Nebraska Walleye Association.

Winning the tournament this year with 14.74 pounds of fish were Ken Prokop and Glen Nichols, both of Wayne. A free Fishing is Fun kids clinic was held following the weigh-in. Many children were given tips on fishing, a free rod and reel, T-shirt, certificate and ice cream cone for attending. The banquet, with fisherman awards presented, and the raffle drawings for the many donated prizes, was held at CJ's on the Lake in Crofton. Vel Temme presented a $500 donation from Deb Hammer as a memorial to her husband, Kevin, who passed away last year. Vel and Kevin were champions of the fishing tournament in 2010. A total of $13,000 was raised from the event and will be donated to the Wayne Community Schools Foundation this year. This brings the total donated over these last 18 years at $182,000.

When two of the top five teams in the country meet, one expects a lot of fireworks on both sides of the Fifth-ranked Wayne State was the one blowing things up Friday night, lighting up No. 3 Concordia-St. Paul in a three-set win Friday at Rice Auditorium, giving coach Scott Kneifl his 400th career win with a 26-24, 25-23, 25-16 triumph over the Golden Bears.

The first two sets were hotly contested between the two Northern Sun Conference foes. The first set saw 10 ties and eight lead changes, while the second set had eight deadlocks and five lead changes.

In the first set, Wayne State led 9-8 before CSP went on a five-point run to take a 13-9 lead, but Wayne State rallied and got within 17-16 before the Golden Bears regained the advantage at 21-16. Wayne State came back and were able to reclaim the lead, with Taya Beller providing some key plays that helped WSC take the first set.

CSP led 15-12 in the second before four attack errors by the visitors and a Beller kill gave WSC an 18-16 lead that they would not give up. Kelsie Cada came up big down the stretch with six kills to help WSC take a 2-0 lead.

In the final set, Wayne State pulled away and led by as many as 11 at 20-9 before going on to the three-set win. Cada had five kills and the Wildcats hit .500 in the final set.

The Wildcats would force 23 attacking errors from the Golden Bears behind 14 blocks. Wayne State would also put up a .359 hitting percentage in the win. Cada would lead in kills for the Wildcats with 14 in the match on a .343 hitting percentage. She was followed by Beller with 10 kills with a .588 hitting percentage. Beller added four blocks in the match. Jessie Brandl picked up 10 digs.

In the second set, WSC had to rally to come away with the win, coming back from a 20-16 deficit. Beller had three kills and Havyn Heinz served up an ace in a key rally that turned a 22-19 deficit into a 23-22 advantage. The match was tied at 26 when Cada put away a kill and MSU recorded a hitting error to end the set.

WSC pulled away from a 16-14 lead in the final set, scoring five in a row with the help of consecutive blocks by Brahmer and Taylor Bunjer to come away with the win.

Bears roll to 48-14 win over Plainview

LAUREL — A big second quarter helped LCC post a 48-14 home win over Plainview in a battle of unbeatens Friday at Haskell Field.

After a scoreless opening stanza, the Bears got on the board with a 10-yard scoring run by Dylan Taylor. Taylor found Sutton Ehlers for the two-point conversion pass for an early 8-0 lead. After Plainview hit paydirt to cut the lead to two, LCC put two more in the end zone in the final six minutes of the first half to build a 24-6 Taylor found Dan Puppe all alone in the Plainview secondary for a 56-yard pass to make it 16-6, and in the final minute of the period, a big pass play set up a two-yard connection between Taylor and Jake Rath to make it 24-6. LCC did their damage on the ground in the second half. After getting a safety on defense, Caleb Erwin scored on a pair of runs and Ehlers added a one-yard sneak to close out the scoring for the 3-0

LCC used a balanced offensive attack with 365 yards of total offense and limited the Pirates to 219 total yards on the night.

Taylor was 8-of-16 passing for 163 yards and two touchdowns at quarterback, and added a teambest 68 yards on 16 carries.

Puppe had three receptions for 89 yards and a score, Carter Kvols caught three for 61 yards and Rath had two for 13 yards and a score. Erwin added 56 yards on seven carries, Puppe had 43 yards on eight carries and Ehlers added 16 yards on six carries.

LCC's Miles Forsberg (15) and Carter Kvols (2) team up to tackle Plainview's Jacson King for a short gain during Friday's action at Haskell Field in Laurel. The Bears beat the visiting Pirates, 48-14.

Defensively, Ehlers recorded 20 total tackles, Kvols added nine, Rath had eight and Kolby Casey and Drew Sohler each had seven.

LCC will go on the road this week for another battle of unbeatens, facing Homer on Friday. LCC 48, Plainview 14

Wakefield wins wild one over Pender WAKEFIELD — More than 900 said. "It's definitely one that we the wild two-point win. as a coaching staff and the players will be talking about and reminiscing about for years to come. I've been talking to the boys about fighting through failure since the beginning of the season. Football is a rough, ugly game and every snap someone wins and someone loses. There isn't time to feel sorry for yourself in the course of a football game when the guy across from you beats you, you have to move on to the next play and keep fighting. I thought the boys embodied that mentality — these are the types of games that you look back on and it just makes you proud as a head coach to have a group that is willing to put it all on the line for four quarters like they did."

WAYNE CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS August 30, 2022

Wayne City Council was called to order in special session at 5:30 p.m. on August 30, 2022, at the Wayne Fire Hall. In attendance: Mayor Giese; Councilmembers Buck, Muir, Dorey, Woehler, Karsky, and Eischeid; Attorney Miller; Administrator Blecke; and City Clerk McGuire. Absent: Councilmembers Pick and Brodersen.

A public hearing was held on the proposed FY 2022-2023 budget.

Finance Director Beth Porter stated these numbers are based on the final numbers set at the budget work session. In addition, she stated because of the passage of LB148, the following changes are being made this year:

- ➤ The budget hearing must be held separately from regularly scheduled
- meetings and cannot be limited by time; > At least 3 copies of the proposed budget must be available to the public;
- > A presentation must be given outlining the key provisions of the proposed budget, including a comparison with the prior year's budget;
- Any member of the public desiring to speak must be allowed to address the governing body and given a reasonable amount of time to do so; and
- > The methods and dates of meeting notices must be recorded in the meeting minutes. The total of the FY 2022-2023 budget is $42,437,986. The property tax proposal for the General Fund operation is $1,009,364.56, which compares to the 2021 tax asking of $983,869.00. Pursuant to State Lax, the maximum levy for a municipality is $0.45 per $100 of property valuation. When per $100 of property valuation. combined with the debt service asking, the combined amount for the proposed budget year is $1,111,864.56 or $0.384371 per $100 of property valuation, which is lower than last year - $0.413148. The valuation in the community, as reported by the County Assessor for 2022, is $289,268,676, which is

The 2022 operating budget is $40,484,352; the 2021 operating budget was $36,174,658. The combined levy from 2021 to 2022 has decreased from $0.4490043 to $0.419053.

up $26,319,499 or 10% from last year.

Attorney Miller gave the Oath of Office to Brittany Webber as Councilmember for Ward

The Council discussed the following retreat

Future Council Priorities:

Housing - should the City be more active in developing property or more active in incentivizing developers to build (e.g. providing water and sewer improvements)? How important is it to incentivize a developer if they are unable to get tax increment financing? Would lot prices be reduced to reflect this incentive? Council consensus was that maybe something could be worked out that would be beneficial to both the City and developers. 4th Street; 21st Street; Centennial Road - The County participated onethird in the engineering costs for these proposed street improvements. The City Administrator was directed to contact the County Commissioners regarding these street improvements and the future thereof.

CRA Funding - Continue to rethink and discuss how the City will fund the CRA (e.g. come before Council every time they would like to do a project; ask for a levy which would generate around $86,000/yr.; implementing a fee for tax increment financing; and discuss wiping their slate clean for a fresh start). At this time, they have a $300,000 loan and a $400,000 line of credit. The City could allocate a portion of sales tax to the CRA for development. Hopefully, their balance sheet will look different a year from now.

Skate Park - David Lindner has inquired whether or not the City has any interest in moving forward with building a skate park. Councilmember Muir has reached out to the City's insurance carrier, and he was advised that the way the State Legislature has rewritten this, a skate park is considered to be more like a park now and would fall under the insurance we have for parks. There are guidelines that would need to be followed with EMC to insure safety and coverage on the liability side. There is no additional cost to the City for adding a skate park to their policy. Possible locations discussed could be at the CAC, old pool area, Prairie Park complex, East Park or Nebraska Street Park. Discussions would continue on the matter, as well as pursuing funding Ameritas Building - Discussions have taken place for several years regarding the current City Hall building and the challenges with the building. Ameritas building is now for sale, along with the parking lot on Logan Street. Consensus was that the Facility Committee consisting of Councilmembers Brent Pick, Matt Eischeid, and Jill Brodersen should look at the building for a possible location to move City Hall.

Emergency Vehicle Parking Consensus was to not modify the parking restrictions to allow emergency vehicles to park overnight on the street. Lagoon/Lake Conceptual Plan - The Council was updated on the project. The engineer is working on the grading design/plan. They have until December 31st to complete the same. Allowing chickens inside city limits

Council was provided excerpts minutes of previous Council regarding being allowed in city limits. Several communities in Nebraska allow chickens and there are stipulations and requirements for the same. would resurrect the previous proposed ordinance for Council. After discussion, consensus was to continue conversations on this matter.

Remembering Jan with humor

I remember the first time I heard an officiant at a funeral refer to a funny side of the deceased. Some of his relatives were shocked! They just did not believe that a funeral was a time for levity. I, on the other hand, as you can imagine, found it wonderful!

After giving about a thousand talks on the power of Humor, I could not imagine why we would not want to employ it when eulogizing a loved one. And, goodness knows, our pastor had us chuckling several times in the course of the sermon for my friend, Jan.

We saw it first in the obituary, when it referenced the fact that Jan enjoyed a gin and tonic. I knew that about Jan, but had never shared one with her, so had no idea how to make one. I was having leg cramps at night and quinine is a known source of relief for that. We can no longer buy quinine over the counter, so I bought a large bottle of tonic water which contains quinine. I drank some and almost spit it out, it tastes so bad. Well, I thought, Jan drinks it with gin. I'll try that; ugh! Her daughter-in-law informed me

Therefore, when he first called on Jan in the facility she lived in while receiving cancer treatment, she told him she was glad he had come to visit because "she didn't know what she thought of him yet!" He informed her he did not know what he thought of her, either, so they needed to get to know each other. And he had plenty of opportunity for that, as she dealt with the cancer treatment, and then, this past long summer when she was in and out of the hospital and a rehab facility.

And he came to appreciate Jan, too, for her steadfast faith as well as her sense of humor. As he told us, "Jan loved this congregation and this congregation loved Jan." At one time, before the virus, several of the early risers in the Thursday AM Bible study group would fix a large jug of coffee and hand it out to the equally early rising parents delivering their little ones to our day care. They called it "coffee "well, bless your heart!" (I've heard bar" and Jan loved getting to know those precious pre-schoolers and their parents. As with a lot of good moms greeted Jan and her buddies with smiles and warm regards!

Sometimes, Pastor Will would visit with our vicar, Pastor Dan, in tow. After they had been there, Jan would inform us she had a visit from "the boys". Well, when you are 84, as Jan and I are, they do seem like boys. Mature ones, but boys, just the same.

Jan had only two grandchildren, and they were very precious to her. McKenzie played softball all through high school and in college, and Grandma Jan was often in the stands. Kyle played soccer, so she saw a lot of that, too. She stayed in contact with dear friends from Gibbon, where she graduated from high school, and with those in Columbus, where she lived for thirty-seven years before retiring to Lincoln.

All in all, a life well lived, even though we who loved her feel it was too short. And we found plenty of things to smile at in our rememberances of her. Here's hoping you do the same for me! I will be trying to get Sts. Peter and Paul to laugh

Fall Fest to be held at Haskell Ag Lab

Are you looking for a fun fall family event? If so, make plans to attend Fall Fest at the Haskell Ag Lab on Saturday, Sept. 24.

The free event will run from 1:30 to 4:30 pm. Crafts and activities for kids will be available all afternoon.

In addition, there will be sessions on honey extracting, fall gardening, pollinator garden, monarch butterflies and beeswax products. A tour of the Northeast Arboretum and Hazelnut Project will also be offered. A photo booth will be available to take photos and there will be fun and educational activities for kids.

Snacks and bottled water will be available.

There is no registration needed to attend.

Plan to bring your friends and enjoy Fall Fest at the Haskell Ag Lab. The complete schedule and any weather-related announcements can be found at: hal.unl.edu/fallfest2022.

For more information call (402) 584-2261. Organizers look forward to seeing everyone on Sept. 24.

good. Many weeds are too large to kill. On both annual and perennial species that produce seed, herbicides might only reduce some seed production. If the goal is to improve appearance, shredding areas that have an abundance of weeds might actually be the best option, and may reduce some seed production too, if it's not already too late.

Two other approaches are better for long-term weed control. First, focus on the grazing management of your pastures. This includes using the proper stocking rate and developing a good rotational grazing plan. An important objective is to increase the health, vigor, and density of your grass. Healthy, competitive grass stands are essential to reduce weed populations economically over time.

Second, target herbicide applications for when they will do the most good. Both perennial and annual species can be better targeted with a spring application when plants are smaller and able to be controlled. For perennials, if a second application is needed, waiting closer to a killing frost is best. This provides the double whammy of stressing the plant heading into winter and allows more product to be translocated down to the shoots and roots as nutrients are pulled down for winter storage. Getting a good ID on your problem weeds is crucial when making these applica- the temptation to force the livestock tion timing decisions.

Pasture weeds may look unsightly now but hold off on spraying. Improve grazing management and time herbicides for the best window of control so herbicides won't be needed as often in the future.

Grazing High Nitrate Corn Stalks By Todd Whitney

Extended drought is challenging livestock producers to carefully manage their fall cornstalks grazing. High nitrate levels may be not only in rainfed (dryland) fields, but also in pivot corners or field edges where plants have been severely moisture stressed.

As row crop harvest begins, wheat and rye forages may be interseeded into potentially higher nitrate corn stalks. If these late seeded forages receive enough moisture for good fall grazing, can these forages and stalks be co-grazed safely?

Even high nitrate forages can be utilized if the livestock are stepped up on their exposure to consuming higher nitrate feeds. First, don't turn cattle into drought stressed cornstalks when they are hungry. For example, feed lower nitrate forages earlier in the day until the animals become full; then provide access to the higher nitrate corn stalks later in the day. Second, collect stalk samples from potential high nitrate 'hot spot' zones and test for nitrogen levels. If the levels exceed 6,000 ppm nitrate, it may be wise to fence out pivot corners, field edges or zones where the stress is Generally, cattle prefer grazing corn leaves and husk, which usually are lower in nitrate than the lower one-third of plant stalks. So, resist provide increased access to higher nitrate forages while allowing free choice lower nitrate baled alternative forages. Gradually over time, the rumen microbes can adjust to higher nitrate content. In some cases, nitrate levels that might have caused death with a one-time feeding might be tolerated if introduced into the grazing system over 2-3 More information on "Safely Grazing Stalks" is available on our UNL beefwatch.unl.edu and cropwatch.unl.edu websites.

Strengthening Nebraska's Capitol View presence abroad

As governor, I've prioritized strengthening Nebraska's presence abroad. Ninety-five percent of the world's population lives outside of America's borders. We must reach these international customers to grow Nebraska and create opportunities for our kids and grandkids.

Last month, I led a successful trade mission to the United Kingdom (UK) and Ireland. It's an opportune time to engage both countries. As the UK navigates their exit from the European Union (commonly known as Brexit), they are looking to strengthen relationships in the US. At the same time, Ireland's economy is booming. In 2021, its Gross Domestic Product grew 13.5%. Ireland is home to a number of inventive ag tech companies looking to grow their presence internationally.

Nebraska has a lot to offer both countries as they look to grow trade with the United States. In particular, we highlighted our reputation as a great home for insurers and our global leadership in agriculture—especially in beef and ethanol production. We also met with top government ministers to explore ways to reduce barriers to trade. Our trade delegation included insurance experts, farmers, ranchers, and ethanol producers. They shared Nebraska's story with British and Irish leaders and were great ambassadors for our state.

The potential to grow Nebraska's insurance industry was a primary reason why we chose the UK as a trade mission destination. The UK has Europe's largest insurance industry. Following Brexit, insurers there are looking to develop relationships in the US. Our state punches far above its weight in insurance—ranking first nationally in surplus and third in total assets. Nebraska's reputation for fair, consistent, and transparent insurance regulation is highly attractive to companies looking to invest.

While in London, we met with the Association of British Insurers. It represents 200+ member companies that collectively manage investments of nearly £1.7 trillion. We made the case for Nebraska as an ideal place for these companies to get started as they seek to roll out products and services nationgreat connections with insurers and regulators in the UK during our mission. These relationships are very promising as we seek to recruit investment in insurance.

Growing opportunities for Nebraska agriculture was another top goal of our trade mission. It was especially timely for us to be in the UK to promote Nebraska ethanol. Last year, the UK upped its ethanol blending requirement for all gasoline from 5% to 10%, generating demand for biofuels. Right now, there's also a lot of concern in the UK about rising fuel prices and their impact on families struggling to deal with inflation.

As America's #2 ethanol-producing state, we're well positioned to meet the UK's need for clean, affordable fuel. Our trade delegation met with the UK's Department for Environment, Food, and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) to tout the benefits of ethanol. We highlighted its cost-effectiveness and the steps we're taking to help ethanol plants capture and store carbon to reduce their environmental footprint.

On the trade mission, we also highlighted Nebraska's premium beef products. Our state is the top provider of U.S. beef to the European Union. Through the first beef exports to Europe are double what they were last year at this point. While in the UK and Ireland, we sought to build on this momen-

Consumers in the UK want to know where their food comes from, and they are very conscious of the environment. Our cattlemen were able to tell the story of their multigenerational family ranches, and the great work they're doing to care for their land and animals. For instance, our ag delegation shared the success of the U.S. cattle industry producing 66% more beef while reducing its carbon footprint by 40% since the 1960s. They also highlighted that U.S. beef production has some of the lowest greenhouse gas emissions in the world— 10-50 times lower than in many other parts of the globe.

In Ireland, we had great meetings to discuss technological advances in agriculture. Ireland specializes in food production and has a thriving ag tech sector. We met with ag startups to discuss all that ing the sentence calculation issue, Nebraska has to offer as a hotbed of agricultural innovation: businessfriendly state; and great place to live, work, and raise a family.

We also had high-level discussions with government leaders about reducing barriers to trade. In the UK, we met with Penny Mordaunt, Minister of State for Trade Policy. The UK is looking to connect directly with individual states with bilateral trade talks wide in the United States. Eric stalled at the national level. In Dunning, Director of the Nebraska Ireland, we met with Taoiseach four more injured. Frakes also inmate activities — remain. Department of Insurance, made Micheál Martin, Ireland's prime minister and head of government to talk about economic development.

> This month, I'm continuing my work to grow international trade. Last weekend, I attended the Midwest-US Japan Association conference to meet with key leaders from Japan—our state's second largest export market. I'll also be attending Husker Harvest Days (HHD) this week. Since 2019, HHD has had an International Visitors Center to give guests an up-close look at the farm equipment, machinery, and technologies that are made here and used all over the world. Additionally, I'll spend time this week with leaders from VDMA the biggest association for manufacturing in Germany. During those meetings, I'll be able to highlight the great success German companies like CLAAS and Graepel have had growing their businesses in Nebraska.

State Corrections Director steps down, overcrowding problem lingers

EDUCATION NEEDS

Commentary by J.L. Schmidt Statehouse Correspondent

The Governor said his new Department of Corrections director was going to turn around Nebraska's troubled prison system. Now, seven years later, Director Scott Frakes is stepping down, a few months before Governor Pete Ricketts leaves office. Did he turn the system around or did he just throw some money and bricks and iron at the problem?

I met Frakes shortly after he arrived in 2015. I liked the guy because we shared some values. I thought he might stand a chance at being the guy to champion true prison reform such as alternative sentencing and other ideas that have been tossed around by more progressive members of the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

Finally, somebody was going to address the overcrowding problem, which has now left Nebraska in first place as the most overcrowded prison system in the country with 5,322 incarcerated people and facilities running at 158 percent of design capacity.

Nope. I misjudged that one. This guy with years of experience in the Washington state prison system, was just another "lock 'em up" law and order thinker. He danced only with the people who brought him to the party - the Republican Party. I suspect he did it to keep his $255,000-a-year-job.

Now, those same proud politicians are lauding him for correctwhich had embarrassingly caused the department to release some inmates before their time. Trading pen and paper records managed by a couple people for computer-driven record keeping is apparently a big deal. To his credit, he did reform the state's use of solitary confinement for inmates

Then came more problems. Deadly riots (including one on Mother's Day) at the Tecumseh State Prison in 2015 and 2017 left housing units received criticism from state law- Gary Young, a Lincoln attorney

But the director did as he was told and threw money at it. Significant salary increases were granted to employees to ease staffing shortages at state prisons in Lincoln and Tecumseh and to help the prison system better compete for workers in Nebraska's tight labor market. Here are a few infrastructure improvements during the Frakes' era: A new women's housing unit was built at the Lincoln work problems simply exacerbated the release center; a 384-bed addition to the Reception and Treatment Center in Lincoln will house the state's most difficult inmates and those suffering from mental illnesses; initiation of a project for a new $270 million 1,500-bed prison to replace the state penitentiary. Ricketts lauded Frakes because

Nothing has been done about diversion programs, which can help communities address mental illness, substance abuse disorders and homelessness outside the criminal justice system. More emphasis needs to be placed on these alternatives, which are more cost-effective than mass incarceration.

It's a shame they were left on the plate, but it's doubtful that a new administration and new department heads will think any differently and chart a new course. That just doesn't happen in red states like Nebraska.

And you thought "Go Big Red" was a football term.

Northeast Community College is reporting its largest enrollment in the last 10-years.

"The beginning of the Fall 2022 semester shows that Northeast Community College has experienced its highest 10th day enrollment numbers in the last ten years," said Amanda Nipp, vice president of student services. "Compared with Fall 2021, which was Northeast's second highest enrollment on record, we are up 3% in headcount and up 5% in credit hours."

The 10th day Enrollment Report is a standard among the higher education community that captures opening enrollment data each semester. It is prepared by Northeast's Institutional Research and Analytics Office.

Northeast reports 5,219 students were enrolled as of the 10th day of the Fall 2022 semester. Compared to Fall 2021, headcount is up 160 demic year. Northeast also saw a 4.4% rise in freshmen students and a 1.3% jump in the number of continuing students.

Nipp said enrollment numbers at Northeast took a "serious hit" in 2020 as the pandemic continued to wreak havoc on society, "but the numbers have bounced back and are now at the highest freshmen enrollment we have seen in the last ten-years."

Moreover, several hundred high school students from the region have begun their journey to a career by enrolling in Northeast. The 10th day Enrollment Report confirms that 1,748 Early College students have registered at Northeast this fall, up 9% or 147 students from Fall 2021. Early College credit hours are up nearly 13% over a year

"Early College numbers are also the highest 10th day ever at Northeast and play a significant role in both overall headcount and credit hours this fall," Nipp said. The number of freshmen international students has increased as well. At the beginning of the semester, 31 new international students were enrolled at Northeast, making it the largest incoming class of international students at the College in the last 10-years.

"We are definitely bucking the trend in being steady or to be up in community college enrollment nationally. When we talk with our peers about it, they're blown away when we say that our enrollment is up; because that's not what they're experiencing. We are unique and I'm very grateful for that."

a service learning project: youth involvement, meaningful service, and reflection. Youth will be able to learn valuable skills as they plan, organize, and implement the project. They may see a need in a community that adults have not addressed before, and adults play a critical role in helping youth prioritize the community needs.

A key component of service learning is reflection which occurs before, during, and following the project. They are able to reflect on the experience to discuss the "What", "So What", and "Now What". Youth are able to make the connections of the service project and how it will influence lifelong learning.

Service learning ties in well with citizenship and leadership develdoes citizenship mean to you? The definition of citizenship is the character of an individual viewed as a member of society. This definition happens to follow the mission of the National 4-H program to empower young people to be well-informed citizens who are actively engaged in their communities and the world.

4-H is a valuable program to teach all youth about using positive character traits to help within the community. The service learning projects that youth are able to address can fall into the 150 different 4-H projects offered in Nebraska 4-H.

4-H youth can challenge themselves to try new service activities within their projects to develop of sense of volunteerism for their community.

Learning about service learning, citizenship and leadership happens

all the time within 4-H activities.

Youth might serve as an officer of a club to learn about parliamentary procedure, join a committee to plan out an event for the club, or be a part of the service learning project.

miliar to many is the 4-H CWF

It is time for your annual heart check-up

Getting an annual physical is a good idea. A regular visit to your primary care provider can help identify potential health risks in your life and offer pro-active solutions. As we age, those check-ups become more important in maintaining our overall health.

As Christians, having a regular spiritual heart check is just as important. Doing so can help us identify things that are damaging our spiritual health and pushing God out of our lives.

The Bible calls these things idols. An idol is anything other than God that we believe is essential to our peace, our self-image, our contentment, or our sense of control. An idol is any heart-level substitute for what only God can give.

With that understanding in mind we can see that our modern world is infested with idols. It's not regulated only to the ancient cultures we read about the Bible. Idolatry is more than a pagan problem. It's a human problem. It's a modern problem. It's a matter of the heart.

As humans we inevitably gravitate toward whatever we think will make us happy. A root problem in life is that we keep going to false gods for their false offers of contentment and happiness. We keep running to our own personal idols and nothing grieves God more. One of the prevailing messages throughout the entire Bible is that our God has a zero tolerance for idol worship. This led me to ask myself a hard question; am I an idol worshipper?

This question was presented to me as I studied and read the Old Testament book of Isaiah. Isaiah lived around the year 740 B.C during a time when the nation of Israel was feeling pretty beat up. They were in living in exile, controlled by foreign rulers, and surrounded by foreign idol worshippers. They felt alone, deserted, forsaken, and hopeless. It the midst of this, Isaiah brings a message of hope and redemption that will come through a new kind of servant and king. In Isaiah we read, "Here is my servant, whom I uphold; my chosen one in whom I delight; I will put my Spirit on him, and he will bring justice to the nations" (Isaiah 42:1, NIV). The Hebrew word used for "justice" in Isaiah carries a much larger meaning than the civil or legal justice that our 21st century Western minds think of. It's about putting God's plan and purpose for His people into full effect. It's bringing about God's order and what is right in His eyes. It's all about Him and not us. That's what the coming servant will do.

God carries out this plan through His Son Jesus Christ, the servant Isaiah is referring to. Jesus accomplished God's plan through his sacrifice on the cross. The cross brings about hope and redemption as it breaks the chains of idols in our

Today let me encourage you to allow Jesus to remove any idol found in your heart. Let Jesus give you a true self-image, fill you with contentment, and remind you that all we really need is to be accepted by

It's time to schedule your annual spiritual heart check up. Delaying this appointment is truly a matter of life or death.

Bill Schulz ends 42 years with telephone company this month

There are many measures of a man's career, but 1,300 telephones make up one measure for W. C. "Bill" Schulz, who retired this month as manager of the Wayne office of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Schulz, who came to Wayne in 1943, noted that during his almost 19 years here, the Wayne office has added three exchanges going from 1.000 to 2,3000 telephones

The progress in the telephones business has been phenomenal Schulz said as he reminisced.

"I remember when an operator taking a long distance call would say thank you, I'll call you back when the call is completed, Schulz said." Now, long distance calls go through in seconds."

Schulz said retirement will give him more time for his hobbies which include fishing, hunting, watching baseball and football and golfing. Schulz is also a Kiwanian, belongs to the Wayne Fire Department and the Chamber of Commerce, in which he has been a director and officer. He is also past president of the R. Y. Hyde Council of Telephone Pioneers, an organization in which 21 years of service is a requirement for membership.

Weight machine adds 'lift' to WHS

The sixth period bell just rang and the halls at Wayne High School quickly filled with bustling students.

The gymnasium was quiet, for a while, until the boy's physical education class exploded onto the scene.

Why were the boys so anxious to start their P.E. class? Many people today are concerned with watching their weight. But the students at Wayne High School are mostly concerned with how much weight they can lift in the boy's physical education classes, Why the keen interest? The high school recently purchased, on a trial basis, a new weight machine that can accommodate 14 students at

The exerciser, which weights 2,500 pounds cost $2,650 including delivery.

A few boys using the machine included Scott Johnson, Rick Gathje, Roger Niemann and Virgil Kardell.

Mud in your eye?

The second annual Berry Hall women's Mud Wrestling tournament drew nearly 20 contestants.

Trophies were awarded to the top two finishers in each of three weight classes. Mud covered contestants from face to toe as the action was wild in front of hundreds of spectators.

Following the mud wrestling, contestants competed in a hog chase. Teams consisting of one male and one female raced against the clock to catch a greased pig and tie a ribbon on its tail.

An outdoor barbecue also was held with the activities taking place north of the Rice parking lot at WSC.

The activities were part of "Hogwild Weekend." A football game between WSC and Chadron State was followed by a dance Saturday night o cap the weekend.

Wayne team brings home trophy

Residents of Wayne Care Centre captured the trophy for the most medals per number of participants during the annual Olympiatrics held Sept. 4 at Lyons.

Team members include Erma Koester (who received second place in the cow pie toss), Ora Shove (second in bowling), Ellen Hansen, Jim Thordsen, Mary Ambroz (third in bead threading), Alma Splittgerber and Loyal Kee (second in Frisbee toss).

Other events included nail driving, pancake flipping, football throw, egg peeling, darts, basketball, can stacking, pillow stuffing, wheelchair races, rod and reel casting, guessing games and a volleyball tournament.

The Olympiatrics began as one care center's idea for an area activity and now involved care centers throughout most of the Northeast District. The care centers take turns volunteering to host the event.

Wayne residents traveled to Tanzania

Five members of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne recently returned from a mission trip to Tanzania. Pastor Kevin Ruffcorn, Senior Pastor of the church, Dreama Anderson, Darrel and Byron Heier and Debbie Peschel traveled as part of a tour arranged by the Nebraska Lutheran Outdoor Ministries, Nebraska Synod.

The group left Wayne on Aug. 10. Pastor Ruffcorn and Debbie returned Aug. 25 and the other three members of the party arrived back in Wayne on Sept. 1.

They traveled to Moshi, Tanzania, which is the city where the diocese office is located and stayed in the Uhura Hostel. The group did a lot of touring with the diocese ministry sponsors and went to Our Savior's partner congregation in Kotela which is located on the lower slopes of Mount Kilimanjaro.

Scholarship Tips for juniors

By EducationQuest Foundation

Tips for finding scholarships Start looking in the spring of your junior year.

•Organize scholarships in deadline order, and set aside time each week to work on scholarship essays and applications. •If requested on the applicaors classes, leadership positions, and volunteer or paid jobs. Track them using the Activities Resume at EducationQuest.org. •If an application requires a letter of recommendation, give the person writing the letter sufficient notice, a specific deadline, and a copy of your Activities Resume. •After writing an essay, ask an adult (preferably an English teacher) to review the document for spelling, grammar, and sentence structure. •Follow all directions, and make sure the application is complete and submitted by the deadline or it will be disqualified. This

Finding the Right College for you can talk to college representatives.

By EducationQuest Foundation

These steps will help juniors narrow their college choices, and will help seniors prepare for the college application process.

Step 1: Research colleges.

Start by asking your school counselor for college-search advice and resources. Here are other things you can do:

Learn about the types of colleges and their degrees.

Talk to admission representatives when they visit your high school. Attend a College Fair where you colleges with your interests.

Use our College Profiles to match ACT. Another good resource is BigFuture from the College Board.

Explore the websites of colleges that interest you.

Step 2: Go on campus visits. This is the most important step you can take to determine if a school is the right fit for you!

Start your visits in the spring of your junior year and revisit your to your top 3-4 colleges in the fall of top choices in the fall of your senior

Contact the admissions office at least two weeks in advance to schedule a campus visit.

Visit while school is in session. You won't get the full campus experience during school breaks, finals week, or summer.

Meet with an admissions representative and financial aid counselor to discuss how to apply and pay for college.

Ask to meet with faculty in your areas of interest.

Ask a lot of questions!

Step 3. Narrow your college

Now that you've done your research and gone on campus visits, it's time to compare notes and pick your top college choices. Compare schools based on academic programs, size, location, career preparation, internships, and social cli-test-prep options. If you attend a community college, you may be required to take the Accuplacer or Companion placement tests.

Step 4. Take college entrance student account or portal.

Step 5. Apply for admission.

Be aware of deadlines and apply your senior year. Most will require:

The application and fee

Official high school transcripts which will show:

Your grade point average and/or class rank

That you completed high school coursework

ACT/SAT test scores

If your school conducts an Apply2College event, you'll get help with your applications during the school day. If not, use our college application checklist and other resources in the sidebar.

Step 6: Create a student portal.

Once you're accepted for admission, the college will instruct you to create an online student account/ portal for communications about financial aid, admissions, or other college-related matters.

Step 7: Select a college.

In the spring of your senior year, compare your top colleges and make your final decision. Then, complete these tasks:

Sign up for your college's online

Submit the application form and deposit for campus housing.

Register for new-student orienta-

Notify the other schools of your decision and decline their awards.

Apply for student and/or parent decisions. You also have the option loans, if needed.
