RAILWAY WATER TANK IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

The water tank in the back yard yards was damaged Monday morning by fire, believed to have been started by sparks from a passing freight engine. Flames were discovered shooting up from the tank at the time the 10:45 train came in. The rest of the fire was not easily reached, but once reached, yielded readily to vigorous water treatment. The damage, mostly to the roof, amounted to about $100. The new roof will be made fire proof.

The motorcycle has its faults, but it never tries to sneak up on anyone.

How the Farmer Makes Twenty Blades Grow Instead of One

"The farmer's business is to grow two blades instead of one"

That was years ago when the farmer never raised over one hundred bushels of wheat a year, that for bread and seed. To grow and harvest a bushel of wheat those days represented over three hours' labor and it was worth 30 to 50 cents per bushel. Now a day it takes but eight minutes time, and he raises a bushel in less than an hour instead of hundreds. He makes twenty blades grow where but one grew.

How does he do it? By scraping a piece of machinery as soon as a better one can be had. He scrapped the scythe for the sickle; he scrapped the reaper for the binder; he scrapped the single plow for the gang plow. Now he is about to scrap horses for tractors.

While he has buying all this machinery some of his advisors criticized his extravagant spending millions of dollars for farm machinery every year. He knew he was justified in buying this machinery and scrapping the old, but couldn't explain it. Now he explains it by pointing to the fact that he is the greatest "per-man producer" the world ever knew.

That is why the Copper-Clad Range is so popular with farmers. They recognize it as a superior cooking machine, the kind of machinery that pays on the farm.

EXEMPTION CLAIMS

IN SELECTIVE DRAFT

In every county in the United States and for every city of over 10,000 there are one or more local exemption boards. Each of such boards is in charge of the registration cards of each person and has jurisdiction of all claims for exemption except those based on industrial grounds. As soon as quotas are assigned each state and each board, the board will call upon persons whose cards are in its jurisdiction instructing them to present themselves for examination. The call will be posted at the office of the local board and the persons will be requested to appear at the office of the board in the list of notice to charge each with the duty of presenting himself. Each must report for physical examination on the day named in the call. If one is found physically disqualified the board will explain further duties. If one is physically disqualified and is a resident alien who has not taken out first papers, he must file a claim within seven days after his call and he will be given ten days to file proof in support of his claim of exemption. If he is found physically qualified and files no claim of exemption or if he does not appear for physical examination his name will be posted to the district board as one who was called for military service and was not exempted or discharged. Exemptions by Local Board. Following are the only grounds for exemption or discharge by a local board: 1. That you are an officer, legislative, executive, or judicial, in the United States, or in the District of Columbia. 2. That you are a regular or duly ordained minister of religion. 3. That you are a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school. 4. That you are in the military or naval service of the United States. 5. That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or not. 6. That you are a resident alien who has not taken out first papers. In addition to claims for exemption claims for discharge may be made on any of the following grounds, which are the only grounds for discharge by a local board. 1. That you are a county or municipal clerk. 2. That you are a "customhouse" clerk. 3. That you are employed by the United States in the transmission of mails. 4. That you are an artificer or workman employed in an armory, arsenal, or navy yard of the United States. 5. That you are employed in the service of the United States (under certain conditions). See paragraph (e) of section 20, Regulations. 6. That you are a licensed pilot regularly employed in the pursuit of your vocation. 7. That you are a mariner actually employed in the sea service of any merchant or merchant within the United States. 8. That you are a married man with a wife or child dependent on you for support. 9. That you have a widowed mother dependent on your labor for support. 10. That you have aged or infirm parents dependent upon your labor

Our Hussmann Refrigerator. Solves the problem. Cuts of fresh meat of all kinds keep perfectly in this new ice box. And isn't it a help to look over the display of meats? TALENT FURNISHED BY MIDLAND PEOPLE

The secretary of the Big Stone City, S. D., chautauqua association, the Midland Chautauqua Circuit, under date of July 10, a very laudatory letter concerning the talent furnished the late assembly held there. The Midland company is one that supplies the talent for the Wayne chautauqua. The letter closes with these two paragraphs: "I might state that we have closed one of our most successful chautauqs. We have paid out for the talent and all incidental expenses and are going to be ahead so that we are very much pleased with the results." "If you desire me to give you an idea of the entire program I will do so if you will write me. However permit me to say at this time that the program was very satisfactory and that you are able to give us as good a program another year or better. I think you can rest assured that we shall be with you the chautauqs work is very satisfactory to us and we wish to thank you for the courtesy you have shown us especially with reference to Lieutenant Nichols." I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

We would more nearly agree if we more fully understood one another.

The intense heat of late has given our wonderful grain, and encourages belief that the crop will mature in time to avoid damage from possible early frost.

The Northeast Nebraska Editorial association will meet in Wayne on Friday and Saturday of this week, and we believe Wayne will keep up its high reputation for cordial hospitality.

The manager of the Hotel Fontenelle in Omaha, speaking before a meeting of women, urged conservation of food, but not starvation. He thinks people ought to eat enough, but avoid waste.

Simultaneously transmitting by wire to all parts of the country the numbers drawn in the late selective draft was a big success, and it will not be surprising if some errors in the draft when official reports are received from Washington.

The big circus carries out our idea of system. There are no delays or postponements. No one can get any. The gigging and taking is carried out like clockwork. It is an example of promptitude and efficiency well worth imitating.

We would add to the garden supervisor's detailed advice regarding the care of growing tomatoes the need of keeping chickens away from them. Unrestricted chickens mean sure death to the promising hopes of young tomatoes.

The question of voting bonds for drainage will be submitted to popular vote next Tuesday, and a step for the improvement will be a victory. A vote against drainage will be a blow at progress. Civil engineers claim that suitable drainage is indispensable to paving, and therefore if we want to pave we will have to drain.

Some time ago townpeople proposed to take turns going into neighboring fields and helping farmers save the ripened grain. Now is the time to do it. Farmers are in need of more help to prevent loss of their harvest. They are generous and willing to lend assistance to insure greatest possible conservation of the nation's grain. They should make themselves known and get into the harness for actual service.

The drawing of numbers for the selective draft was watched with feverish interest in every county in the United States. Numbers were quickly sought as they came over the wire from the big national lottery. Boys everywhere wanted to know whether they were soon to be called to active service in the army or not. The future for those conscripted was uncertain, and anxiety had been tense.

As we understand the selective draft, men needed to properly handle and safeguard growing crops will be drawn into the army to weaken one highly important branch of the national service for another, and we do not believe the government will intentionally attempt to satisfy the demand for greatest possible food production, farm operations cannot and should not be handicapped by plucking men from the farms.

charge should ever be made unless the person who makes the charge can give positive proof of the charge. It is the worst libel possible. The law of state and nation damages "from any person who publishes a false report regarding his moral or financial standing. How more monstrous can any man do than another in circulating a false report regarding his loyalty to his country in time of war? Impossible!

And yet never a day passes here in Nebraska that does not witness the circulation of such reports. It should not be. It is said that no woman can ever wholly emerge from beneath the cloud which hangs over her name regarding her. Men who lived during the period of the civil war now testify that the copperheads of that period have never been able to live down the charges which were made of them, and that the shame has been carried on down to their children. And so it will be with the copperheads during this present war.

Every average man will resent, even at the cost of blood, the charge of "thief." But how much more hideous is the charge of "traitor" or "copperhead."

Near as the Telegram appeals for greater care in Nebraska regarding the careless circulation of the charge of copperheadism. It is an awful charge to lay on any man, and even a lifetime during the latter years of his life. Prosperity in the latter years will not be able to lift from his pathway the cloud of shame which must follow him to the end of his life. Even the consolation of religion will be denied him, because it is a cardinal tenet of every religion that a copperhead is outside the pale. Instead of committing any man to a course of careful regard regarding the loyalty of our neighbors, let us follow the rule of law which holds all men innocent until proof of guilt is given, but at the same time let us be righteous judges regarding any citizen against whom the charge of copperheadism can be safely lodged.

It has not been given to man to know the nature of the punishments in store for the wicked beyond this life, but we may safely say, and reverently, that the horrors of tradition and history are not the least of any American who shall send his way upon the earth under the blight of even the suspicion that he is not loyal to the flag of our dear republic.

around which we gather together; the tie binding us to one nation; the regulating influence in the daily intercourse of men with often consoling and cheering effect. Compared to a fence which, however high or a party, however strong, we think and act we must not trespass. Any trespass, we consider a crime, with as exacting a regard to our constitution. Therefore constitutions are necessary, wherever people gather together in an organized society.

If that holds true to parties and states, it holds true to an organization of body of people needs in order to regulate the thinking and life of her members such an agreement of her people with regard to the principles as set forth and explained in the only intelligent form of daily intercourse, in human language. This explanation of the truth, we call dogma, is the principle of the republic and democratic parties) have and need their own constitutions, which, however, must be in harmony with the principles of the United States; thus the different denominations have and need their dogmas. And as, in spite of their different ways of thinking, the people and individuals of our people, must feel themselves bound together into one nation by gathering around the principles stated in our constitution—also, they should have their own dogma.

Besides, merely supporting and accepting the benefits of a community, does not render a man a true member of it. He must enter its spirit. When the spirit of the people is expressed in short, formal statements, every foreigner would have to begin a difficult process of analyzing that spirit and finally, perhaps, find himself early in the arms of the American people.

of the south for a longer period. The new national army is the creation of a free people giving effect to their free will through free institutions. It is the free creation of a free people, like the jury and to serve in it.

The American conscript soldier is going to fight by the side of the conscript citizen. The conscript soldiers both, fighting for democracy. Together they will write a shining page in the history of freedom.

TOMATO PLANTS MUST BE WATCHED CLOSELY

Many tomato plants this year show a yellow discoloration, distortion, gradual drying and final dying of the lower leaves. In a few days the upper leaves seem to be attacked in the same way, and as a result, the plant bears only the earliest tomatoes, and then with in a short time the plant withers.

This disease is caused by a very small fungus plant which can be seen only with a microscope. The parasitic plant grows on the underside of the leaf, multiplying and spreading to the other leaves very rapidly.

To check the disease the dead leaves should be removed and burned. At intervals of from seven to ten days the plants should be thoroughly sprayed with a Bordeaux mixture, made as follows: Dissolve four ounces of copper sulphate in three gallons of hot water. Slack four ounces of copper lime in warm water and add enough afterwards so that you will have used about three gallons altogether. Let both liquids cool. Have one person pour the dissolved copper sulphate and another, the lime water into a third container so that the streams of the two liquids will meet. As they meet they reach the third container.

Wooden caddy pails are very good for containers because they are not attacked by the chemicals. This mixture which is enough for three six plants, should be sprayed upon the under sides of the tomato leaves. An atomizer (hand sprayer) which can be bought for 50 cents and which is made of brass and a handle, should be used for this purpose.

Garden Supervisor Herman Stiens announces that if any wish to see the spraying of the tomato plants at the high school at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS

St. Louis City Journal. The uncertainty which for a considerable time has characterized dealings in industrial securities was again evident during the week just ended, and appeared to be continued by a varying degree until the vexatious taxes are definitely disposed of. Peace influences and governmental interference have contributed to the unsettlement of prices, the general trend in industrials, particularly war stocks, being bearish. Motors were affected, and metals were heavy on the market. The reported success of the fighting for peace, the Petrograd disturbances, the checking of the Russian offensive in Austria and the reorganization of the British cabinet all have represented disturbing factors. Ralls formed a conspicuous exception to the trend, however.

Call money went up to 10 per cent after an unfavorable bank statement setting the rate for the highest record needed, but held firm in the region of 6 per cent. Time loans were steady and strong. The feeling in the stock market was for cash for fear of a rise in the rate of stiff rates. Liberty loan bonds sold with some briskness at 99.8 or slightly better. Rubles slumped to 22, within one point of their low mark, on news of the dispatch of a Russian note to the Russian front.

Loans in excess of $20,000,000 have been made by the federal government through the purchase of man-made bonds which had been chartered up to July 15, the average loan 14 each farmer being $2,500.

The output of the Flat River, Mo., lead belt was announced by the American-Union miners' union to be 1,000,000 tons. The American-Union miners' union is avert a strike in the Leadville, Colo., copper district expected to have been vain. Jobbers in the coal and iron industry are being by manufacturers that profits must be cut to reasonable proportions. Government and railroad orders imposed conditions in the steel industry. The rate of 16.26/102 mills of train service as a war economy measure, with further reductions to follow. The coal shortage problem has been announced by the committee of the council of national defense. Distillers showed their alarm over pending legislation by the United States senate Saturday, which would increase the rate of 1,000,000 gallons a day. Revenue collections were stimulated by the withdrawals.

The United States senate Saturday passed the amended food control bill, incorporating at the eleventh hour a clause authorizing a minimum price of $2 a bushel for wheat until July 1, 1919. As the bill will go from the senate to the president, it will confer upon the president great power over foods, feeds and fuels. It would substitute a commission for one-man administration, however, which would eliminate Herbert Hoover as sole food controller.

Foreign affairs, notably the attitude of the reichstag on the peace question and the address of the new president, are the chief items of the day. Dr. Michaelis, president of the reichstag, announced an influence on grain quotations. The steady high price of corn led to the conviction that there is little surplus over 200,000 bushels for immediate delivery went up to $2.04, a new record. Wheat and oats also were strong with only a temporary recession in response to a report that a new wheat bill was announced which will have 144,000,000 bushels of wheat for export. The bears were made uneasy by a Washington report that winter wheat is from all good crops, all are good, and that spring wheat from Montana wheat was suffering from a lack of moisture.

The relative economic value of steel is supposed to have increased after the war, it developed, is one of the factors in the controversy between the shipping board and the head of the emergency fleet corporation as to what kind of steel should be given precedence when production can be given. It is the contention of the shipping board that the wooden ships, while they are in an inferior class, will pay for themselves in only a few trips; with ocean rates on anything like the present basis.

HONOR THE DRAFTED MAN

Chicago Tribune. The highest honor that can be conferred upon a citizen is to be chosen to defend his country.

This truth has been obscured by our use of the volunteer system parallel with the compulsory system. A comparison is inevitable between the men who voluntarily have made the great sacrifice and those who are waited to be designated to serve under the new law. This is one of the evil effects of the volunteer system as we employ it. When a universal service we shall have no comparisons. All who are called to service will enter on the same terms.

But now we have the volunteer system. Let us honor the drafted man for the same reasons as we honor the volunteer. We all honor the volunteer. He is of the flower of our nation. But it does not follow that the drafted man is of the same flower. They are honorable considerations which have held men back from volunteering. There are duties at home as well as abroad, and the conscientious citizen, kept at home, would be designated to serve under the new law. This is one of the evil effects of the volunteer system as we employ it. When a universal service we shall have no comparisons. All who are called to service will enter on the same terms.

WATCHDOG GLOBE SIGHTS

Most watchmakers work overtime.

When they can't say much else about a man they say he is good-hearted.

When a man wants to make a fool of himself he selects a woman as an assistant.

There is lots of talk about brotherly love, but really there is very little of it.

COMMUNICATION ON THE "DOGMA"

Mr. Editor: Your editorial on "Dogma—Materiality" that appeared in the Wayne Herald two weeks ago, was, as we learned from a short but scholarly communication received by the people of this community with much interest. Since you, however, frequently claim dogma to be unnecessary and not in harmony with 20th-century thinking, the readers of your paper will be interested to know the views of a member of the church mentioned in said editorial. Your method of pronouncing dogma simply an outgrowth of materialistic tendencies and therefore frequently contradictory to 20th-century thinking, or your way of ridiculing part of the dogma, as that of hell, does not adduce sufficient evidence for a thorough refutation of the dogma. Neither do our opponents prove the dogma indispensable by merely stating so. Dr. House in his able communication well says: "The great advantage of dogma is that opinions as if they were established truth, cannot command the respect of a thinking world."

Permit me, first of all, to present to you an established thought of the "indispensability of the Dogma."

The church is an organized body of people. Whenever we organize a corporation or a society, we enter into a compact with certain laws as to how to accomplish our purpose. If there are but few people, such mutual understanding will be expressed orally in an informal way. But there are many such agreements will be written and expressed in formal statements, hence, clubs, parties, communities have their constitutions. The United States has a constitution. The members of our union joining together as citizens, our ideas of government, our ideas of daily intercourse. No matter what the opinions of the individual, we all agree with the principles stated in our constitution or our place would not be within the limits of our country. Why? If every state of the union would make laws for itself in an individual and down in the constitution of the United States, the "United States" would be a mere term without meaning. If the republic and democratic parties were to be established, they would themselves to the principles expressed in this constitution; if everybody would have his own way of doing things, our beloved country would be a mere term without meaning, and anarchy. Our constitution, made, is certainly not above the truth of which it is an expression; nevertheless, it is the representation of the truth. The constitution, however, proves it a correct statement about the truth as we see it, to us it is "truth itself." Therefore this constitution is made the center

ADJUSTMENTS RESTORE HEALTH QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY

GOING DIRECTLY TO THE CAUSE of the majority of so-called diseases is the reason of Chiropractic efficiency as a drug-less health agent; that is why adjustments benefit you. All so-called "disease" is but bodily incoordination. One hundred per cent nerve impulse—there is no disease. The "diseases" here named are called such to educate the reader.

- 1 Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, incontinence, wry neck, facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.
- 2 A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arm, edginess, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from the nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.
- 3 The arrow marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxation will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writer's cramp, etc.
- 4 A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.
- 5 Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy, and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine.
- 6 Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccough, worms, etc.
- 7 Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin diseases, boils, eruptions, and other diseases so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings here.
- 8 Regulation of other troubles, as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.
- 9 Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?
- 10 A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "diseases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

Equip Your Car For Real Service

You can't afford not to have your car fitted out with the very best battery on the market—Prest-O-Lite.

Your car is blazing its way through the heat of the midsummer sun. In a few months the same car will be battling through the grip of winter's worst storm. Always your car must meet new conditions. Roads, speed, traffic, and many other causes are constantly tearing down or building up the storage battery of your car.

Whether your battery endures all these changing conditions depends not only on the kind of battery, but also upon the service behind it. Any battery, no matter how good, may easily be ruined by neglect.

Prest-O-Lite SERVICE

No matter what conditions you encounter—no matter where you may be—you'll find Prest-O-Lite Service waiting to keep your battery in good condition and insure your car satisfaction. Have your batteries regularly "supervised" by our Prest-O-Lite Service and avoid the greater part of your battery troubles.

When you need a new battery, remember—there is a Prest-O-Lite just the size for your car.
