Highway Bills Promise County over $300,000

Wayne county and its incorporated municipalities would receive a total of $322,443.91 in highway and street funds, beginning in 1970, if the Legislature approves the highway program introduced in the 1968 session as the result of the Legislative Council Highway Study.

That would be $84,736.37 more than they received from the state in 1967.

Those figures, along with figures for the other counties and municipalities in the state were released last week by Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, one of the principal introducers of the bills and chairman of the study committee.

Many Not Aware of Important Bills

If the results of a spot survey in and around Wayne Tuesday are any indication of the overall familiarity folk have with some extremely important educational bills coming before the Nebraska Legislature, then most Wayne County citizens are not aware of legislation proposed in LB 1339, LB 1341 and LB 1342.

These three bills have been introduced to the Nebraska Legislature by the Committee on Education at the request of Governor Norbert Tiemann. Each of the bills was read for the first time March 11 and referred to the Committee on Education. Not a lot has been said in the daily papers concerning the bills, with the exception of LB 1342, which has received some attention by the press during the last few days.

Allen Attempting to Qualify For $39,000 Federal Grant

Over 90 people in Allen have already signed up for the proposed sanitary sewer system, according to Bill Snyder, village clerk.

Snyder said Thursday afternoon that the city is just short of signing up the necessary 30 per cent of the potential users of the sewer system. He estimated that there are about 140 possible users in the village.

"We shouldn't have too much trouble in signing up the few more that are necessary, and the village board is quite happy about the response from the townspeople. There are several potential users, such as the school, who will have to wait until a regular meeting to decide whether they will sign up, but we're confident enough will sign up," he said.

Small-Scale Glaciers Damage Wayne Lawns

If you wonder what happened to your lawn, now that three months of snow is gone, here is an explanation by Lester Fromm, who teaches geography and meteorology at Wayne State College.

Many lawns reveal patches where soil has been gouged out an inch or more deep.

You had a small-scale glacier in your yard causing such damage, Professor Fromm says. The technical word for it is nivation, and it occurs usually where snow is exceptionally deep.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The editorial department of a weekly newspaper is an important department. Normally it is one person's opinion of topics that concern most of the readers.

You may not agree with an editorial but if you read the editorial and give your own thought to the subject discussed you have gained. You, as a reader, have given careful thought to an important problem and the writer is proud to have called your attention to an important subject that you may have overlooked.

A Well Deserved 'Thank You'

This is really no more than a well deserved "thank you" to our advertisers. Without them this newspaper and thousands more across the nation would never be able to print a line of news.

It is ever paid for printing news. If this ever happens the guarantee you have of receiving unbiased and objective news will no longer exist. And if the free press is every eliminated in this country it will only be a short step to the elimination of representative government. The two go hand in hand.

The advertising director of a large metropolitan newspaper had this to say on the subject: "While the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution guarantees freedom of the press, it is the strength provided by advertising revenues that makes it possible. . . . No subsidized press can hope to be objective and unbiased in news treatment or editorial policy. . . . I believe that America's newspapers, by advertising's vigor-imparting revenues, are the most objective, the most informative and the most reliable newspapers in the world."

That is why the advertisers regularly deserve a thank you. And that is why so many newspaper editors become frustrated when they hear somebody say: "Here's a news item about our coming event." "I'm doing my advertising elsewhere because you are a newspaper."—N.H.H.

It is surprising how many people do not realize this. It is even more surprising how many people think newspapers are paid for printing news. No newspaper which attempts to live up to the ideals inherent in the phrase "the free press"

Taxes and Roads

According to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, employed Americans work two and a half hours every eight-hour working day in 1968 to pay their federal, state and local tax bills. Last year's 10 per cent surtax accounted for a big jump in federal taxes, but state and local levies were also showing a distinct upward trend.

There has been and still is talk of a taxpayers' revolt. Why? Because, after a man has worked two and a half hours of each eight-hour working day (it makes a farmer smile to hear of an eight-hour day!) to pay his tax bills which will average around $1,000 per family member in 1969 throughout the U. S., and continues to take a loss on farm products, continues to be marooned due to heavy snows or deep mud which makes it impossible to get farm products to market, something is going to happen.

As a result, the average American's tax load has changed drastically since the beginning of the 20th century. In 1902, all taxes, federal, state and local, came to $17 per capita. In 1941 it was $49 and in 1958, $568. However, for 1968 the estimated tax bill will be $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Living in town is one thing but living on the farm is another when the roads are bad. When the roads are either blocked or bottomless, many thousands of dollars are involved in the mess. Farm folk can't get their products to market, neither can they get into town to buy from the business firms, and it ends in a daily battle to get the youngsters to school. As one man said, "When have we ever spent more and had less?" in referring to rural roads in particular.

W. Ross Thatcher, Premier of Saskatchewan, Canada, has expressed a timely thought on the subject of high and rising taxes. "If we were to take a man's belongings by stealth or violence, it would be theft, an immoral act for which the law would punish us. But, by some strange mental process, we have rationalized a code of ethics which provides that if we vote away a portion of another man's property, and use it for the special benefit of ourselves or others, we have merely to call it 'promoting the general welfare' in order to remove all taint of dishonesty."

The projected budget recommendations allow $35 million for the Department of Public Welfare in the biennium. It's only an unadvised guess but perhaps if a big chunk of the $35 million going to welfare could somehow be spent on building some good roads, not only would more taxpayers believe they were getting their dollars worth, but good roads might keep many another of us in northeast Nebraska from deciding to go on welfare ourselves! To do so is tempting at times, especially upon examining the profit column after taxes.

Writing for advocates of virtually limitless public spending on the theory of getting something "free" from the government is as dishonest as picking your neighbors' pocket.

What really pits the frosting on the cake is having to take a tractor through impassable and impossible roads in order to get to town to mail some more tax money. Just maybe, if you folk who are rightly sick and tired of being mired, would demand that state tax agents come through the incredible road mess to get tax money, there would be some action!—MMW.

A complete published by the State of Nebraska entitled "Revenue and Expenditure" was distributed Wednesday afternoon in the city auditorium at the Town Hall meeting. Though the booklet shows the executive operating budget recommendations for the 1969-1971 biennium to be $264.8 million, there still remains little promise that these dollars will answer the problems of good roads, particularly in northeast Nebraska, and keeping them open during the winter.

Town Hall Meeting

Most know by now that nine State government department heads and Director of the Little Hoover Commission were visitors in Wayne Wednesday afternoon. Over 400 area school youth and local residents gathered at the city auditorium to question the government panel concerning issues relating to respective departments. Phil Gass, executive of Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, is the Director of the Little Hoover Commission which has investigated the efficiency of 70 departments or agencies in State government resulting in 400 recommendations to Gov. Tieemann. The Commission is made up of 42 business executives loaned by their firms to carry out the project of analyzing State government operations.

Director Gass was handed a copy of LB 1342 with the request to read Section 17 and comment as to whether or not the bill, as now worded, would be mandatory if passed.

"There are no farmers on the Little Hoover Commission," Gass explained in response to a question on the subject, "because volunteers for the Commission had to be able to work full time for ten weeks." He went ahead to point out the difficulty for a farmer to be able to spend that much time away from his work.

Section 17 states: "All territory in this state shall be included in a school district providing instruction in kindergarten through grade twelve, on and after July 1, 1973. If any territory is not a part of such district by May 1, 1973, for any reason including the rejection by electors of a plan for reorganization, such territory shall be attached to such a district by the appropriate county committee with approval of the state committee, or by the state committee if a county committee has failed to act."

Among the many questions asked were several addressed to the Hoover Commission Director concerning LB 1342, a bill introduced by Committee on Education at the request of the Governor proposing complete reorganization of school districts in Nebraska.

In his reply Gass said, "It does amount to a mandatory requirement." Wanting to make sure there had been no misunderstanding, following the meeting this writer asked the Director for confirmation of his statement concerning LB 1342 being mandatory if passed. Once again he expressed the viewpoint that if Nebraska is ever to have reorganization there will necessarily have to be some mandatory requirements.

LB 1342 will have a hearing in the Nebraska Legislature tomorrow (Tuesday). There has been considerable said in the newspapers and television commentaries as to whether or not the bill can be said to be "mandatory" or "permissive".

Reorganization is a highly controversial subject affecting nearly every home, at least by taxes if no other way. There is bound to be many heated words when legislation starts carrying phrases such as "if any territory is not a part of such district by May 1, 1973, for any reason including the rejection by electors of a plan for reorganization, such territory shall be attached. . . ."

Tomorrow is the hearing for LB 1342. The results should be interesting.—MMW.

"DO YOU HAVE TENURE?"

by Merlin Wright

How many of those "It happens every time" things cause you more than a slight irritation? Why is it that everytime you go to back out of your driveway or a parking place there is always a car coming, though there hasn't been a soul come by for the previous ten minutes? Why is there always something you want to photograph when you left your camera at home, but you had it with you three other trips and there wasn't a picture to be taken? Why is it that no one has called you on the phone for several days, and so, while you're gone from the house just one day, everybody evidently tried to get hold of you and wonders why you don't stay home once in awhile!

ing much luck, was wishing that I was back in the old days selling something nobody had and everybody wanted. Like cash registers, for instance. What a snap that must have been for Patterson's men! Let's look at the facts! Some storekeepers refused to consider the new contraption. After all, their pa's and grandpa's never used such a thing. Some ridiculed the nit-wit merchants who threw away money for a cash register when their clerks were notoriously honest. And the clerks themselves were peeved! When the boss bought one of the registers it looked to them like a deliberate reflection on their honesty, not something to help them keep the cash straight! A few customers even threatened the management with withholding their business if he couldn't trust the employees. They were not going to trade in a store that wouldn't trust its own clerks! There were a good many folk who thought the world was certainly going to the dogs when business houses had to buy cash registers to keep the accounts straight! Yes, sir, selling cash registers was a "soft" job in those good old days when nobody had any and everybody wanted one!

All humans, with few exceptions, are geared to similar habits. For instance, when you are driving your car down a city street, have you or do you ever watch the reflection of your car in the store windows? More than one driver has admitted that they do. Maybe you do too? When looking in a mirror, do you try to sneak a look at yourself to make sure you haven't lost your best appearance? When looking over photographs, isn't it pretty easy to pick out your own likeness first to see what you look like? Why all of this wanting to observe oneself? Because we think that perhaps in a quick glance we maybe see ourselves as others see us. We want to know what others are looking at when they look at us! Our friends and acquaintances have seen what we will never see — our own face. We shall always only see a reflection. And in the morning before coffee and the comb, even that can be too much!

Salesmen aren't the only ones with troubles. How about you? If nothing else perhaps you have a little door-slammer in your office, or home? To get it out he took a bullet from a loaded cartridge and put the shell in the breech of the rifle and fired it off. There is business enough in Carroll to support a good hotel, but a poor landlord will never take in money enough to flag a broad wagon.

Voters in Concord elected three men to the two-year position of the village board in last Tuesday's election and not two as was reported in the last issue of The Wayne Herald. Men selected to the board were Duane Harder, Jack Erwin and Fritz Rieth. Harder and Erwin each received 41 votes, Rieth received 37 votes.

'Snow White' Entertains Thousands

By Merlin Wright

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs visited Ramsey Theatre at Wayne State College last week. About 3000 youngsters can verify the fact that pretty Snow White was nearly killed, but rescued by seven dwarfs and the kiss of a handsome Prince, right in Wayne, Nebraska! Wayne State's drama department, with Dr. Helen J. Russell as director, listed the production as the eleventh annual children's play. Thousands of area youth have found suspense, glee and laughter through the years, from just such productions as this colorful and elaborate adaptation of the Grimm Brothers' story, made famous by Walt Disney's animations. Hundreds of adults also found great delight in watching a favorite childhood story acted out on stage.

W.S.C.'s very capable director commented Wednesday night as to the possibility of adding one more additional performance to the presentation next year in order to accommodate all those wanting to attend.

Opening the play, the eight maids of honor were excellent in their ability to change moods and project to the audience an air of complete enchantment with their court involvements. The image caught by the audience was that the maids would have been playing ball and dancing, giggling and plotting, at 8 p.m. regardless of whether there was an audience or not. For them it seemed the most natural thing in the world to be in swishing dresses and "sh-sh-ing" their dresses.

The 24 characterizations in the entire production were all well interpreted with only a moment or two when the dialogue might have had a little additional intensity of force. This was so minor, however, as to hardly be worth mentioning.

Dopey, Flappy, Sleepy, Bashful, Sneezy, Grumpy and Doc had superb distinction in characteristics, appearance, gestures, and were exceptional in their complete dependence upon posture control for accurately portraying dwarfs. Their gestures appeared more natural than mechanical, which must have required many hours of rehearsal.

Though each of the cast did well in making their actions appropriate to the demands of imaginative children in the audience,

It was Witch Hex and her three cats who had the technique perfected.

Witch Hex carries the strong lead in the last half of the play to lend suspense, laughter, evil, and the insight into a witch's heart that she too, along with Snow White and Queen Brangomar, wants to be beautiful. Her three "cats" performed flawlessly.

Colorful showmanship, good memorization, a determination to please the audience, and hours of rehearsal produced two hours of fascinating folklore in three dimensions. A lot of applause expressed each audience's appreciation.

Children's plays often have morals in them and Snow White is no exception. Each of the characters seemed to get out of life just what he had put into it. In other words, each got what he deserved.

And if each of the real characters will please stand, here on the other side of the footlights we'll give you even more of what you deserve, a rousing round of congratulations. To Director Russell we say, with an eye on next season, "do it again!"

SNOW WHITE (Susan Smidt, at left) is greeted by several of Queen Brangomar's maids of honor in scene one of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The Wayne State Drama department presented the eleventh annual children's play at 1 p.m. daily Monday through Thursday, with one evening performance Wednesday. Dr. Helen J. Russell directed the production, assisted by Betty Heppburn.

Concord School 'Tickled' About Results of Drive

The students at the Concord Public School were "very tickled" when they recently received three pictures and a letter of thanks from an American lady in South Vietnam.

The thanks was for about 15 pounds of candy, clothing and small toys the youngsters, teachers and cook in the grade school had collected during the holiday season and sent to youngsters in South Vietnam.

The students started collecting the things for an orphanage in that country, but they ended up with several stuffed toys which would have taken up too much space. So they decided to send those toys to the home for retarded children in Astell.

The other things were sent to South Vietnam just before the start of this year.

Phillipe Achener, who is with the United States Aid Mission to Vietnam, received their package and distributed the things to the youngsters in refugee camps.

In her letter to the students and teachers, she said "I was able to put to good use all the things you sent. The candy was especially useful in the medical clinic to soothe the crying children while they were being treated. The medical team also distributed the clothing and toys as they saw fit while they held their clinics in the refugee camps. The recipients of your gifts were very happy to receive them. I want to thank you on the part of the needy refugees for your kind thoughts and gifts."

Helping the children collect the toys, clothing and candy were teachers Mrs. Helen Pearson and Mrs. Phyllis Dirks and Mabel Erwin, cook at the Concord school.

About 100 youngsters from northeast Nebraska attended the annual District III Junior Leader 4-H Conference held at Wayne State College all day Saturday, March 31.

The conference included several workshops for the 4-H youngsters, a tour of the campus and talks by several people closely associated with the 4-H program.

Communication" and "How to Stand Up and Speak Up". Video tapes were made of some of the junior leaders as they gave a short talk so they could see how they looked when speaking.

Larceny, Dogs, Auto Wreck on Police Blotter

Wayne police received a report of larceny Monday. Sid Vlenzsky, who lives on Circle Drive, reported that a tape player and from 25 to 30 tapes were stolen from his parked car.

Later in the day Monday another case of larceny was reported by Al Bahr. Someone took bowling shoes from the bowling alley. A warrant was issued and the Sheriff picked up the thief, according to the police. The goods were recovered.

Officers received a report of a Wayne resident being bitten by a dog in the 500 block on east Fifth street Monday.

The only auto accident on file over the weekend occurred Sunday evening in the 300 block on Main street. Frank Cuckle, driving a 1965 Chevrolet, pulled into a parking stall behind another vehicle, according to police, and let a passenger off. He then swung out from the parking stall and struck the left rear corner of the parked car ahead of him.

In the process of impounding two loose dogs Tuesday, a Wayne policeman was bitten on the hand by one of them.

'Little Threat from Corporate Farm In Nebraska,' 1968 Survey Reveals

There is apparently little current justification for concern being expressed about nonfarm corporations buying land and initiating new farming enterprises in Nebraska.

This conclusion has been drawn in a "Business In Nebraska" article reporting a preliminary summary of a 1968 survey on corporate farming undertaken by the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Findings of the survey indicated that in Nebraska only three fourths of one per cent (0.75) of all commercial farms are corporately owned and that only 4.08 per cent of the total land in farms is owned by corporations.

It was also revealed that of the 467 corporation farms in the state, the great majority, 75 per cent, are owned by family corporations, an additional 11 per cent by those classified as individual or one-person corporations, and only 14 per cent by other types of corporate operations.

Even more significant was the finding that of the 1,886,000 acres of Nebraska farm land owned by corporations, 80.4 per cent is held by family corporations, 4.7 by individual corporations and only 12.3 per cent by the non-family corporations.

Expressed numerically, of the 62,000 commercial farms in the state, 341 are owned by family corporations, 65 by other or non-family corporations, 49 by corporations classified as individual, and 12 unclassified.

What about the size of corporate farms in Nebraska? Corporate-owned farms are larger than the average commercial farm, but the average family corporation farm comprises 885 more acres than the average farm classified in the "other corporation" category.

Family corporation farms in this state average 4,453 acres as compared to 3,568 acres for nonfamily corporation farms and with 1,794 acres in the average farm owned by an individual corporation. The average acreage for all commercial farms in the state is 745, whereas the average size of corporate farms is 4,033.

Of the corporations having agricultural operations in Nebraska, 63 per cent are engaged in farming only; 17 per cent are involved also in agribusinesses such as farm supplies, marketing or processing of farm products; 17 per cent are combining farming with business activities unrelated to production of agricultural products, and three per cent combine farming with both agribusiness and other business activities.

The findings for Nebraska are not markedly different from the composite findings for the other 21 Midwest and Mountain states surveyed. In the 22 states there are 6,700 corporate units operating about 40 million acres but such corporate units represent less than one per cent of all commercial farms and only about seven per cent of the land in farms in those states.

Of the total corporate farms, about 40 per cent are in eight Mountain states, which have also 80 per cent of the land operated by corporations in the 22 states. In the Northern Plains states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas, corporations operate only .42 per cent of the commercial farms and 2.18 per cent of the land. In the Corn Belt and Lake states the proportion of corporate farms is less than .25 per cent and acreage is between 1 and 1.5 per cent of the total farmed.

Mrs. Dorothy Switzer, editorial assistant for the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration's Bureau of Business Research, which published the preliminary findings of the survey in its monthly publication Business In Nebraska, notes in conclusion:

"There were many aspects of corporate farming that could not be explored by the techniques employed in the survey. No attempt was made to study such questions as production efficiency of large-scale operations, their impact upon pricing and competition in local markets and possible tax shelter advantages.

"The survey is significant, however, because it provides facts on the current minimal extent of corporation farming in Nebraska and other midwestern states," she reports.

DON'T GUESS - Select Cargill 355
 Raymond Prochaska, Wakefield, Nebr. highly recommends Cargill 355. Increased yields like those of Mr. Prochaska are possible for other corn raisers when high plant populations and balanced fertilizer programs are used with a proven corn variety. 355 dries down fast, picks clean and produces so well some users complain about not being able to complete a round in the field before having to empty the combine tank.

There are other excellent Cargill varieties especially designed for high productivity in this area. Why not call one of these dealers today for more information about them.

It's What's Under the Hood That Counts... You may be impressed by the outward appearance of a car, but what counts is under the hood - performance, economical operation, durability. It's the same with a life insurance policy. Its real worth includes much more than the amount written on the face of the policy. Low cost, greater returns to beneficiaries, and liberal policy features are some of the many "under the hood" values you will find in a Connecticut Mutual life insurance policy.

Area Squads Gear For Sports Action

That short lull in sporting events for the area high schools is about to come to a halt - track, baseball and golf are on their way.

Tuesday afternoon the Wayne High Blue Devils baseball team takes its first step toward attempting to equal the enviable record of 11 wins and no defeats and the state class B championship set by last year's squad. The team travels to Bancroft for its season opener that day.

Thursday afternoon Mike Mallette's squad will play host to the Allen High team at 3 p.m. on the Wayne State college field.

Also scheduled for Thursday are the Midland Relays at Fremont. Among the area towns scheduled to send contingents to the meet are Wayne, Winside, Wakefield and Laurel.

Wayne High's golf specialist will just have to wait for some more of the snow to melt before they begin limbering up for this year's competition.

Rodney L. Reeg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Reeg, graduated in late January from the fuel and electrical repair school at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland. He arrived home Feb. 15 and left Mar. 21 for Oakland, California. He was then transferred to Vietnam Mar. 26 where he works repairing diesel engines. His address: Pfc. Rodney L. Reeg, Co. (M), APO San Francisco, Calif. 96341.

Effective Feb. 1 Sgt. Verdel E. Backstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Backstrom, Wayne, was promoted to Pfc. (E-5) while serving with the 1st Air Force in Korea. Sgt. Backstrom is assigned to 2075th COMM Sq. as a communication's center specialist (flight supervisor).

Shipyard Third Class Larry D. Tambling, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tambling of Handoff, is serving aboard the USS Clarton River operating in the Delta region of South Vietnam.

The Clarton River gives intense rocket-fire support to amphibious landings in Vietnam. The ship recently fired in support of a combined land-sea operation along the banks of the Bach Nang River, 15 miles south of Saigon. As its rockets cleared the way, delivering suppression fire, small "swift" boats progressed through their mission along the River.

Army Staff Sergeant Stacy L. Swinney, 20, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Swinney, and wife, Gerry, live in Wayne, received the Air Medal in Vietnam recently.

Sgt. Swinney earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam.

He is a squad leader in Company D, 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile).

... speak explaining the commission's creation and voluntary duties. He pointed out that the Little Hoover Commission was made up of 42 business executives on loan from business firms. They had investigated 70 departments and agencies in the state government and made 400 recommendations to Gov. Tiegan.

Walter Weaver, director of the Governor's crime commission stated that from three to four million dollars will be spent in an attempt to control crime in Nebraska next year.

T. G. Koster, district engineer of Department of Roads, Norfolk, fielded numerous questions concerning roads. Assisted by Jerry Strobel, Koster outlined the Nebraska road planning program. Among other things, he said that in the six-year plan, Highway 98 went from Carroll to 91, Highway 15 south of Wayne to 275 and Highway 57 from Carroll north to 20 will be resurfaced with hardtop.

Tax commissioner McNeill was asked if a lady living on social security sold garden products amounting to only about $50 a year, would she have to get a sales tax permit and ask customers to pay the sales tax. His answer was "yes".

Phil Gass was questioned as to whether or not Section 17 in L.B. 1342 would make school district reorganization "mandatory" if the bill was passed. He stated, "It does amount to a mandatory requirement."

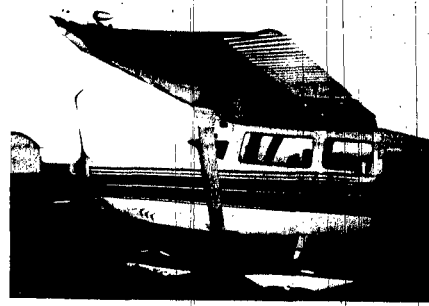

Arrangements for the meeting were worked out by the legislative committee of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Members of the Committee are Chairman Charles McDermott, Adon Jeffrey, Leland Ilerman, Kenneth Olds, Willard Wilste, Calvin Comstock and Henry Lev.

To prove the point, Warner used an example of a person driving a car 100,000 miles and averaging 15 miles to a gallon of gas.

"If that driver has air conditioning, a heavy duty battery and tinted glass, it costs him about eight and one-half cents a gallon," Warner said. On the same basis, he said, power steering and power brakes add two cents a gallon on a 100,000-mile, 15 gallons to the mile basis.

DAMAGED PROP AND WING. This Cessna Super Skylane suffered damage to its propeller and left wing shortly after noon Thursday when attempting to land at the Wayne Municipal Airport. The accident occurred when Bob Brown, Jr., of Des Moines brought the plane in for a landing and the wheels became mired in the muddy runway. Brown gave the plane full throttle in an attempt to avoid a crash and the strong crosswind flipped the plane over on its left side. Neither the pilot nor his father suffered any injuries in the accident. The Browns were coming to Wayne to visit relatives.

Warner said the 16 proposed bills and the cost of financing them would average an additional 1.6 cents per gallon on the same basis. He emphasized that car maintenance costs due to poor roads is another consideration. The better the roads, the less it will cost a driver to keep his car in good condition, he pointed out.

Under the revenue measures proposed within the bills, funds would be provided to permit the allocation of $21,656,460.50 to the 93 counties, with an equal amount slated for the 537 cities.

The proposed legislation also calls for a revision in the formula for distributing the funds between counties, and a formula revision for cities as well.

Under the proposed formula for the counties, the funds will be distributed to each county on the basis of its relationship to all other counties on rural population, total county population, miles of county roads, lineal feet of bridges, total county motor vehicle registrations and value of farm products sold as determined by the most recent federal agricultural census.

The money will be distributed to each city on the basis of its relationship to all other cities in municipal population and miles of city streets.

There is also a proposal pending to create a special "make-up" fund for counties during the initial two-year transitional period which would provide sufficient revenue to enable each county to get no less revenue than it received in 1967, Warner emphasized that this will only be possible if all revenue changes are approved by the Legislature.

Dixon County would be one of the counties affected by the "make-up" proposal.

Dixon County and its incorporated municipalities would receive a total of $272,652.43 without the proposal, $277,133.41 with the proposal.

The distribution in Dixon County would be as follows, with the 1967 distribution in parentheses:

County: $195,804.44, or $200,285.42 with the "make-up" proposal ($200,285.42); Allen: $8,986.80 ($2,282.35); Comrod: $3,817.74 ($97.29); Dixon: $4,301.38 ($909.82); Marlinsburg: $1,802.40 ($438.42); Maskell: $1,915.64 ($306.95); Newcastle: $8,162.62 ($2,072.88); Wakefield: $23,645.10 ($6,740.42); Waterbury: $2,783.26 ($494.02).

... electors of a plan for reorganization...

Ten out of the fourteen questioned as to passing such legislation were against it, one was for it and three didn't care to express their opinion as they felt they were not well enough acquainted with the bill.

L.B. 1341 also relates to education, "to change the number of educational service units as prescribed; to prescribe the geographical boundaries thereof; to redefine the procedure for filing for board membership of the reorganized educational service unit; to provide for the registration of warrants during an interim period; to provide for the transfer of assets and liabilities from existing educational service units to reorganized ones; to provide for the termination of contracts and leases of existing educational service units; to provide for the appointment of a treasurer; and to repeal the original sections."

The bill is designed to reduce the number of educational service units from 19 to 13. This naturally means larger units. Educational Service Unit One would drop Knox Co. and have added to it Cumby and Burr counties.

L.B. 1339 relates to education, "to provide that no county superintendent shall be elected in those counties which are a part of an educational service unit as prescribed; and to repeal the original section..."

In other words L.B. 1339 would eliminate county superintendents and the educational service unit would take over that office's functions as it acted between the State Board of Education and the local Board of Education. This would mean eliminating some county superintendents (if L.B. 1342 was passed) in Educational Service Unit One area with their office responsibilities being taken over by an administrator of the service unit and his staff.

Eleven of the fourteen Wayne County residents questioned in the spot survey said they were unaware of any such legislation as L.B. 1341 and L.B. 1339.

As nearly 1350 bills have been introduced in the Nebraska Legislature it is difficult for anyone to keep tabs on even a majority of them. State Senators will consider them one at a time, however, and they will want to know your opinion. Senator Elmer Wallwey, 17th district legislator may be reached by addressing your mail to him, Nebraska Legislature, State Capitol Building, Lincoln, Nebr. 68509.
