

Crime Commission Seeks Interlocal Aid Agreement

Northwest Nebraska's Regional Crime Commission met in the Taylor Professional Building Thursday night in a 7:30 p.m. meeting at Norfolk to continue preparatory plans for more extensive crime control throughout an eight county area.

Norris Weble is secretary of the commission and reports there were ten commission members from six of the eight counties present. Pierce and Dixon county representatives were absent. Consultant Richard Mering explained the idea of mutual aid between local units of city government related to law enforcement.

Members of the commission voted to have Attorney Mering proceed in preparing a sample draft of an interlocal cooperation agreement to be mailed to the cities and villages throughout the eight counties. Vera Fairchild is also a member of the crime commission and attended a meeting in Lincoln Friday on a state level where application forms for funds were explained and discussed. A project of the Wayne County law enforcement officers is the present investigation into the possibility of a cooperative law enforcement program involving Wayne, Carroll, Walside, Hoskins and the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

The Regional Crime Commission will meet again at 7:30 in the Taylor building at Norfolk on June 19.

Rural Students Have a July 1 Fund Deadline

Wayne County Superintendent of rural schools, Mrs. Gladys Barber, reminded all rural students expecting to attend high school this fall of the necessity to have a parent or guardian make application for nonresident high school tuition if they are to take advantage of the funds. Application cards are available from any city superintendent or from the County Superintendent's office. Such applications must be in the county office by July 1.

Superintendent Barber said Friday that 202 out of 250 students have already made application for the tuition funds and that high school admission certificates will be mailed Aug. 15 to parents who have made application.

Laurel Lady Misses Out on $350 Check

Mrs. W. A. Jeffrey of Laurel might have been at the Dairy Princess banquet in Laurel Thursday evening. But whether she was or wasn't, she missed out on taking home a check for $350 compliments of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce by not being in one of the stores taking part in the weekly Cash Night drawing.

As a result, this week's prize climbs to $400. If nobody collects the prize this week, it will remain at $400 and a reserve pot will begin at $100. Shoppers must be at least 18 years old to take part in the drawing; must register in one of the stores taking part and must be present to collect the prize if their name is announced.

Appoint Young Head

John Young, businessman in Dixon, was selected as chairman of the town board in a meeting Tuesday night.

Young will replace F. C. Tomason, long-time resident of Dixon who died in May. Tomason had been chairman of the town board for about 36 or 37 years in a row.

Woman to Head Action Council

The Golden Rod Hills Community Action Council has recently announced the appointment of Mrs. Jean Copple of Wayne as the Outreach worker for Wayne County.

Operating as a subdivision of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Community Council is designed to lend assistance in various community problems which include housing, welfare, employment, education and family counseling.

Mrs. Copple said Thursday that her temporary office will be in the Wayne Fire Hall and that she is available for information from 8 to 10 a.m. daily.

Mrs. Copple will handle applications for the Neighborhood Youth Corp. Such applicants must be from 16 to 18 years of age, must be in school or plan to return to school, and must meet the poverty guidelines.

Purpose for an Outreach worker in the County is to assist community residents in assessing their own problems, developing an awareness of their own needs, recommending existing public and private resources for assistance in accomplishing their goals; assist in conducting surveys and investigation of the needs of the community; work with community organizations and agencies on improvement projects.

(Continuing to explain the program, Mrs. Copple said her work is to develop a close working relationship with existing health, employment, education and welfare agencies, and acquaint the community residents with their services; provide support and assistance to persons participating in self help programs and using unfamiliar resources, and after initial survey of the community the aides will initiate common interest groups having the same problems and same goals and formulate these interest groups into action units.

Through the outreach program, See ACTION COUNCIL, page 5

JUDGES' CHOICE Ardith Huenink of Hickman won the title of the 1969 Nebraska Dairy Princess during competition at Laurel Thursday.

Rural Hickman Girl Crowned '69 Nebraska Dairy Princess

An 18-year-old native of Hickman was crowned the 1969 Nebraska Dairy Princess in Laurel Thursday night.

Getting the judges' nod following competition all day was Ardith Huenink, an active 4-H member and a candidate for Miss University of Nebraska where she is a freshman.

About 500 people jammed into the Laurel High School auditorium for the banquet and the crowning. Gifts for the queen included a bouquet of roses, bronze cowbell, $400 scholarship, set of matching luggage, $25 bond and a camera kit.

Bill Norvell and Gerald MacDonald, masters of ceremonies for the evening affair, both commented that the turnout during the whole day was very good.

Miss Huenink was crowned by the 1968 Dairy Princess, Deanna Bond of Avoca. As the new representative of the state's milk industry, the new princess will make numerous trips and appearances on radio and television.

Only area girl selected as a finalist in the competition for the crown was Sandra Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Olson who farm near Coleridge. She was the second runner-up and received a transistor radio and electric scissors as gifts. First runner-up was Marlene Timmermann of rural Papillion. Third runner-up was Janice Vleck of rural Cairo. Other runners-up, in order, included Judy Hays of rural Edison, Julie Olson of rural Brunswick and Patricia Schilt of rural Fullerton.

Awarded the Misses' Congeniality trophy was Annette Wischert of rural Lincoln, giving her the trophy was Mrs. Duane Hunzman of Laurel.

Entertainment during the evening included a baton twirling act by Gay Renee Nlemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nlemann of Ames, former residents of Laurel. Singing during the evening was a girls trio from Coleridge: JoAnne Smith, Janelle Smith and Sharon Hansen.

All 39 contestants in the princess contest, held annually in different towns across the state, received a plaque with her name engraved on it. The plaque was given by the Laurel Chamber of Commerce.

Judges for the princess contest were Helen Burns of the lowa Dairy Council; W. G. McCubbin, state dairy commissioner and T. A. Evans, dairy marketing specialist for the University of Nebraska.

Sponsoring the luncheon for the contestants' mothers was the Dean Cafe in Laurel. Sponsoring the contestants' luncheon was the Security National Bank.

Rev. Keith Cook of Laurel gave the invocation during the evening banquet. Darrell Gowery, president of the Laurel Chamber of Commerce, gave the welcome.

Area girls entered in the contest included Kathy Dilas of Laurel, Suzanne Casal of Belden, Pamela Hansen of Laurel, Linda Wischman of Pilger, Dorla and Vicki Grose of Wakefield, Sandra Olson of Laurel and Susan Hamm of Walside.

Laurel welcomed guests from out of town with free golfing, free swimming and free bowling during the day. Various demonstrations and displays also helped the visitors pass the time before the evening's highlight.

Lions Club to Help Sightless By Broom Sales

Wayne's Lions Club members recently decided to again sponsor a project of selling various types of brooms and brushes in a program designed to assist the blind in supporting themselves.

Lion's President-elect, Willis Johnson, said Friday that the local club will sponsor a broom sale from June 10 through 13. The sale will center at the Wayne Veterinary Clinic in the old Wayne Herald building on Main.

These brooms are made by the blind and proceeds from the sale will go to the blind. The brooms and brushes may be examined or purchased from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at 110 Main June 10-13. Co-chairmen handling the project are Clarence Joling and Willis Johnson who have expressed their appreciation in advance to all who, by making purchases, will encourage the sightless in a self-help program of work.

Suggested Elementary, Junior High Library on Display at Wayne State

What books should an elementary or junior high school library possess?

A suggested collection is on display at the Wayne State College Library. Containing 1,600 books, it is described as "a basic, balanced, recommended library collection."

Head Librarian Yale Kessler said the display, provided by a national organization, Books on Exhibit, answers many questions of interest to anyone concerned with a school library - questions like what books should be in a model library, how many, how much space would they require, how much would they cost?

Every book in the exhibit has been recommended by three or more of a dozen reviewing-evaluating sources that school media personnel look to for guidance in choosing books. Books on Exhibit officials said that 85 per cent of the 1,600 books have been recommended by four or more agencies, 65 per cent by five or more, and 40 per cent by six or more. With the exhibit are complete catalogs listing all the books under 10 main - and more than 65 sub-classifications. These catalogs are available free to anyone visiting the exhibit.

The collection ranges from picture and easy books at the primary level to literature, social studies, science, arts, crafts and hobbies at junior high level.

Kessler said the exhibit is scheduled to stay in Wayne through June 16, but he hopes to arrange a longer period because that day is the first of WSC's summer session.

Another Wayne Firm Remodels

Gamble's Store in Wayne has been a familiar sight to shoppers where it has remained in the same location for 26 of the 30 years in business on Main Street. The store has just completed remodeling and will have a grand opening starting June 11.

"We've enjoyed many years of good business here," Larry DeForge, manager, remarked Friday. "The remodeling program is an expression of Gamble's interest in the future of Wayne."

DeForge has been manager of the local Gamble store for over four years. He said that some of the company's executives will be present for the grand opening Wednesday and the firm will have marked down a lot of merchandise for the occasion, plus having a drawing.

"We have completely redone the interior with all new fixtures," DeForge pointed out, "with a new freight elevator in the rear and new storage space upstairs."

The manager noted Gamble's will be open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. both Wednesday and Thursday to get the grand opening underway.

Free Driving Class Scheduled for WSC

The driver education department of Wayne State College will offer free driving instructions to college faculty, college students and area residents during the summer session starting June 16.

Raymond Schreiner, chairman of the applied arts division, said a limited number of openings are available, so preference will be given to beginners (non-drivers).

The instruction will be conducted in a dual-control driver education car under the supervision of a trained instructor. Applicants must have a learner's permit and a Nebraska driver's manual.

Further information and application blanks can be obtained from Schreiner or Arnie Nebraska, driver education instructor.

Soil District Enters Conservation Contest in Sioux City Again

Ross Armstrong, chairman of the Dixon County Soil and Water Conservation District, announced last week that the District will again enter the Sioux City Conservation Contest.

Any farmers interested in entering their farm are asked to contact one of the board members or William Vost, conservationist at Wakefield. Board members in addition to Armstrong include Harold Pansgrau, Harold Fischer, Kenneth Green and Willie Harder.

Farms are judged on conservation practices that have been applied, plus general appearance, feeding program, cropping system, pasture management, fertility program and so on.

The entering farms will be judged in August and will be invited to the recognition program in Sioux City on November 6.

'What? No Final Exam in Class'

Final examination will be different this term for one Wayne State class. Students in oral interpretation of literature won't slave over a test. They will do some oral interpreting - in public, on stage.

Dr. Robert G. Johnson divided his class into three groups to prepare readings for the final examination Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theater. One group will present parts of "Spoon River Anthology," another "The Reluctant Dragon," and the third, readings from Ridd McKuen's poetry.

Another aspect of this examination is really different. There will be an admission charge of 25 cents - to raise funds for speech activities. But to offset the charge, the class will serve free coffee.

Vandal Damages New Police Vehicle

Wayne police filed a variety of complaints into their records during the past few days, one of which was a case of vandalism. The new 1969 police station wagon was parked in the 100 block on west Second street Wednesday when a vandal kicked in a rear fender panel and the fender.

A complaint was filed Thursday when an occupant of a trailer house in the trailer court at 1217 Pearl said someone tried to enter her trailer home. Police investigated an accident Thursday in the LIP Duffer parking lot.

A 1956 Chevrolet owned by Kenneth Austin was parked on the lot when struck in the front end by an unidentified vehicle. The car, inflicting the damage then burned rubber leaving the scene of the accident.

Wayne Farm Equipment's manager reported to police that someone had stolen a tractor Thursday night. It was finally located behind the Wayne Motor Express and undamaged.

Larry Kinder's service station at Eleventh and Main reported a party had broken the door off a 7-1/2 machine.

Officers were called to investigate an accident Friday when a 1967 Dodge driven by Larry Dahlkoetter, Carroll, was backing into the alley from behind Karel's and a 1968 Dodge small truck, driven by Don Schulz, was backing into the alley from behind Hill's Pool Hall. The two drivers failed to see each other and collided.

AWARD FOR PROGRESS. Mel and Ruth Eloffson were presented one of the first Wayne Chamber of Commerce Progress Awards Tuesday afternoon in recognition of work put forth in the modernization of their Coast to Coast Store in recent months. Bob Merchant, at right, president of the Chamber, congratulated the Eloffsons in behalf of the Wayne business organization. The Progress Award is given by the Chamber as a congratulatory program to those merchants putting forth special effort in making Wayne a more modern place to work and shop.

PROGRESS AWARD. Bob Merchant, president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce presented Wayne March, at left, with a Progress Award certificate Tuesday afternoon in recognition of the recently completed renovation of the Wayne Book Store. A number of Wayne businessmen have either completed or are in the process of remodeling their business houses. The Chamber of Commerce has instituted the Progress Award program in congratulating local businessmen for helping modernize the business district.

Gift prizes were won by Elmer Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Winter and Mrs. Wayne Thomas.

Your Place in the Stars

THE SOLAR MONTH OF JEMINI THE TWINS (For births between May 22nd and June 22nd). The people born during these dates are quite quick-witted and clever. These people usually love to talk, even to the point of being loquacious. They are quite well informed on current topics and consequently are interesting public speakers. A common detriment is restlessness and worrying. Here's the day-by-day horoscope for everyone:

June 9, favorable; 10, neutral; 11, neutral; 12, favorable; 13, chaotic; 14, chaotic; 15, neutral; 16, favorable; 17, favorable; 18, favorable; 19, chaotic; 20, chaotic; 21, neutral; 22, neutral.

Neutral days should be handled with common sense. Chaotic days are best suited for mental activities.

The June 18th (the Sun squares Jupiter). A tendency for wastefulness and extravagance will result. Temperance in all things is advisable. The sun squares Uranus on the 21st, making your opinions and ideas somewhat peculiar. Remember, these "predictions" are only tendencies which, with a little self-control, can be overcome.

Q. Does the Moon really affect the growth of plants? A. Most astrologers think that the Moon increases the rate of plant growth. I find this assumption rather dubious. If the Moon has any effect on flowers it is quite ephemeral, or small. On the other hand, the Moon seems to influence in some way the growth of a potato plant. Mention this later.

Schultz Proof Top Grades, Athletics Are Compatible

Allen High School's Craig Schultz has proven that brains and athletic prowess can go hand in hand.

The valedictorian for the 1969 graduating class at Allen and the recipient of the school's Athlete of the Year Award, Schultz was singled out by Coach Don Kruse for his fine pitching during the recently completed high school baseball season.

"Although winning two and losing three, Schultz racked up 43 strike outs and gave up only 18 walks in 42 innings of pitching," Kruse said. "He's only 5'8 and 155 pounds, but he's one of the toughest young men I've seen in a long time."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Schultz of rural Martinsburg, Schultz gave up 20 runs in his pitching stints for Allen for an earned run average of only 1.02. Two of his defeats came at the hands of Wayne High, one at the hands of Wakefield in the district baseball semi-finals at Wakefield, Wayne, who beat Allen 5-1 and 6-1, went on to represent the district in the state class B baseball tournament at Lincoln, losing to Valley in the final round. Schultz, who plans on attending Wayne State College in the fall, also scored the most runs for his team, six.

Coach Kruse also singled out Schultz's classmate, short stop Bob Anderson, as playing an important part in the Allen team. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson of rural Martinsburg, was the only member of the team hitting better than .300. He tagged the opposing pitchers for three doubles and one triple while maintaining a .315 average, scored five runs, came up with six stolen bases and gained six free trips to first base.

He and second baseman Kevin Hill, whose .288 batting average was second highest for the team, were tied in both steals and runs scored. Hill racked up the other two doubles for his team.

Three other Allen players, seeing action in about half of the games, hit better than .200; Bruce Trube at .400 in 10 at bats, John Warner and Dennis Gelger both at .285 in seven at bats each. Trube rapped out the other triple for his team.

Leading in the RBI department was Dave Abts. He brought in four RBIs and scored two runs himself while hitting at an even .200 clip. He also came up with five stolen bases.

Allen's Dennis Gelger was credited with one win and one defeat on the mound. He pitched six innings, allowed nine hits and eight walks for an ERA of 3.50. He tallied eight strike outs and allowed four walks.

Allen ended the season with a record of three victories and four defeats. Twenty-nine Allen runners crossed the plate, 30 opposing runners. The team hit at a .207 clip.

Results of Allen's games: Allen 1, Wayne 8; Allen 9, Ponca 4; Allen 4, Wayne 6; Allen 2, Walthill 3; Allen 6, Walthill 1; Allen 7, Hancock 2; Allen 1, Wakefield 6.

"You were out a mile a baby could see that!"

2 Baseball Boosters Return to Helms at Ponca and Whiting

Gordon Nelson of Ponca and Keith Pithan of Sioux City, longtime area baseball boosters, have ended brief retirements to continue as managers at Ponca and Whiting.

At Ponca Nelson has taken a squad of local athletes and built them into a contender in his third year at the helm. In 1968 the Indians were in the race during the first half of the season and were the spoilers of other play-off hopes.

Pithan directed Whiting to a third-place finish last summer. Using several Morningside College athletes, Whiting also reached the semi-finals of the Iowa semi-pro tournament at Boone before losing to the eventual champion.

Another familiar figure in Northwest Iowa baseball, Jim Klein has been instrumental in the shift of the Kingsley franchise to Remsen. Kingsley was in danger of dropping from the league, but the shift retained the eight-team alignment.

Remsen's hopes will ride with several outstanding high school prospects and the return of several Army Reservists.

In order of frequency of occurrence, dieldrin, endrin, DDT, and DDE were found in all major river basins in the U. S., according to the U. S. Public Health Service.

SOME DAYS CAN BE HECTIC! Larry Dahl koetter was driving an Einung truck loaded with seven yards of cement Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 p.m. when the combination of weight, center of gravity and angle of bank resulted in the truck toppling over on its side. Dahlkoetter was preparing to unload the cement at the site of the new St. Mary's Catholic Church when the incident occurred. He was uninjured. Ivan Creighton, with the help of another fireman, was thinning out the leaking fuel and cement with water from the fire truck when the picture was snapped.

Wayne Midgets, Legion Split Twin Bill With Norfolk Squads in Wednesday Tilts

Wayne's young baseball enthusiasts split a twin bill with visiting Norfolk Wednesday. The Wayne Midgets knocked off the opposition in the non-league game, 13-2, but the Legion squad fell to Norfolk, 5-1.

Wayne Midgets tagged Norfolk's two pitchers for seven hits in the first contest, called after only four and one-half innings because of the 10-run rule. Don Mau gave up five hits, all of them singles, in earning his first win of the season.

First score for Wayne came early in the game, in the bottom of the first, when leadoff batter Creighton got on first base on an error by the center fielder. He came home on Weible's shot to the second baseman.

After getting two more runs in the bottom of the third inning, Wayne exploded for 10 big runs in the fourth as Norfolk's Dider gave up nine free passes to first base, two singles and one double. Getting the hits in the inning were Weible and Ounderson, both singles, and Creighton, a double.

Norfolk tallied its only scores in the top of the fifth inning when Mau ran into control problems—he walked two men in the inning, gave up three singles.

It was a different story in the second game despite extensive substituting by Wayne's coach, Hank Overin.
Wayne fell behind early in the game when pitcher Wayne Magdanz gave up two free passes to first and two singles. That and an error on short stop Helgren gave Norfolk a 2-0 lead before Wayne got a chance at the plate.

Norfolk added one more run in the top of the fourth inning to go in front 3-0 after two straight singles off Magdanz with two out. Another error, this one on Wayne second baseman Dave Tietgen, allowed another run to cross home.

Wayne finally ended the scoring douth in the bottom of the sixth inning, Magdanz opened the inning with a double, Tietgen go on first on an error and Joedy Hoogren drew a walk to load the bases with nobody out, setting

Homer Downs Wakefield, 8-1, Thursday Night

Homer knocked off Wakefield Thursday night, 8-1, keeping Wakefield winless in two outings.

Homer showed his hitting prowess by rapping nine hits off Wakefield's Bill Skippy and Jim Rascoot. Those nine hits included home runs by Gerald Jacobsen, Bob Jacobsen, Brent Longwell and Gary Carrels. Homer tallied one run in the third inning, two in the fourth, three in the sixth and two in the seventh.

Wakefield's lone run came in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Lawton exploded for eight runs the first two times at bat, three of them coming on Merrill McNaughton's bases-loaded triple in the second inning. Lawton rapped out 13 hits while Remsen tallied only two hits off Martinson. | | | |

Low scorer during last week's action was Darrel Faelberth who turned in a round of 36, one stroke in front of Ken Dahl and Ron Jones. Max Henriksen had a round of 38 and Dutch Faelberth had a round of 39.

Boy Scouts on Nike

Sixteen Wakefield Boy Scouts from Troop 172 met at Wakefield Elementary School Monday for a 5 1/2 mile hike which took them to the Bernal Gustafson farm. They spent the night there in order to earn their camping merit badges, and had returned home by 8:30 the next morning.

Only Two Ponca Hitters Connect In Loss to Wayne

Don Gooden allowed only two hits and two runs as he pitched his way to his first Northeast Nebraska League win Thursday night, a 2-1 victory over visiting Ponca.

Gooden struck out 14 batters and gave up singles in the top of the sixth and top of the seventh as Wayne went about winning their first game of the fresh season. The Wayne-Whitline season-opener of Sunday night had to be called because of poor weather conditions.

Behind 1-0 in the bottom of the second inning, Wayne came up with a single by leadoff batter Randy Olson to set the stage for Wayne's first two runs. An error put Larry Hix on first and Olson on second and then Mark Johnson's sacrifice fly to the outfield drove in Wayne's first run to tie the game at 1-1.

Another Wayne runner crossed the plate when Ponca's Klute walked a run home.

Gooden held Ponca hitless until the top of the sixth inning when he gave up his first single, a harmless tap by Miller with one man out. In the top of the eighth Ponca's leadoff hitter Steve Spang with the last of Wayne's five errors and came home on the second single given up by Gooden.

An error in the first inning put Ponca's Klute on base with one man out. Another error, again on Wayne's third baseman Hix, let the first of Ponca's two runs score.

Wayne scores more action this Sunday when they play host to Haysley on the local diamond. Game time is 8 p.m. Also seeing action the same evening will be Lawton at Ponca, Homer at Remsen (Whiting) and Decatur at Wakefield.

Catfish 'Farming'? Prof Says It Could Be Done in Nebraska

Nebraska farmers with an interest in fish and good quantities of fresh water may want to investigate the possibilities of catfish farming.

Howard Wieggers, professor of poultry science and wildlife specialist at the University of Nebraska, says that catfish farming is developing into a new "agricultural frontier."

Fish farming is not much different from ranching if a pond of water is thought of as a pasture, Wieggers points out. Although fish culture is relatively new in the United States, the Chinese practiced it as early as 500 B. C.

Fish farmers in southeastern United States may have a climatic advantage over Nebraskans because of a longer growing season," he said, "but the idea is catching on in Kansas and southern Nebraska."

The economic aspect of fish farming is especially promising, according to Wieggers. In Arkansas, 10,000 acres of fish paid four million dollars. Fifteen tons of catfish are purchased each week in Georgia by restaurant owners and fish buyers. Modern fish processing plants are being developed to process 30 tons of fish per week.

Further business is stimulated by the need for fish food, soybean oil meal and peanut cake. For each million pounds of catfish commercially produced, almost 15 thousand bushels of soybeans and 700 tons of peanuts are required, Wieggers noted.

Month of May Gets Area Back To Normal Again

Last month was about as normal as most people would want in terms of temperatures which were recorded and the precipitation which fell.

Average temperature during May was 61.5 degrees, just above the long-time average for this part of the state of 61.1. Rain totaling 2.70 inches fell during the month, about one-half inch less than the 3.29 which is considered average.

Records at the State National Bank in Wayne show that the wettest May ever recorded came in 1965 when 9.78 inches of rain fell. Driest May on record was in 1922 when only .73 inch of rain was recorded.

Hottest day during May was Wednesday of last week when the thermometer at Peoples Natural Gas in Wayne climbed to 94 degrees; the only other day the temperature rose above 90 degrees was last Thursday when it

Experimental 2-Way Radio Network Giving NEN Farmers Quick Answers

An experimental two-way radio network in 12 northeastern Nebraska counties is giving farmers quick answers to their questions—and has proved to be "unusually advantageous" in several respects, although there are still a few "bugs" to be worked out, according to the University of Nebraska.

The network, set up by the NE Agricultural Extension Service after an "idea" by University Extension Director Dr. John L. Adams, ties together extension agents in the 12-county area.

Also connected with the system are extension specialists at the University's Northeast Station at Concord, specialists at the Hilltop's East Campus (College of Agriculture and Home Economics) in Lincoln and mobile units.

Five radio-equipped state cars operate out of the Lincoln headquarters, these mobile units being assigned to the departments of agronomy, information, entomology, animal science and plant pathology.

Twelve key offices on the East Campus are also tied into the network, making a total of 17 departments involved, with more than 40 specialists available for information.

Director Adams reports the network has proved to be superior to other communication channels in regard to both Experiment Station and County Extension staffs.

Sponsor Contest

The Omaha Stockyards Company and 34 livestock commission firms at the Omaha market are sponsoring a special Stockyards Sweepstakes for livestock men.

The contest features 32 different prizes, including a new automobile, riding mowers, 10 portable color television sets and 20 cameras. A special drawing will be held for livestock truckers, with three cab air conditioners and 10 cameras as prizes. The grand drawing will be held July 18 just before the Friday feeder cattle auctions. Separate drawings for a color television set will be held on June 20, June 27 and July 11.

Vets in School Should Complete Attendance Cards

The Veterans Administration last week urged veterans and servicemen now enrolled in Nebraska colleges and universities under the Post-Retirement VA certification of attendance cards as soon as possible.

The certification was formerly required monthly for the veteran or serviceman to be paid his monthly VA educational assistance allowance. Now it is sent to college-level GI Bill trainees only once during each enrollment period.

The veteran or serviceman is asked to indicate if there has been a change in his enrollment as shown on the card, or if he terminated enrollment, to help the VA assist in his future educational assistance needs. He is also asked to check whether he will enroll in the next program and school for the next period.

On the back of the card is a reminder that if the veteran or serviceman fails to complete and return the card to the VA office indicated on the card he will receive no further payment from the VA.

What is the limit on the amount of a guaranteed home loan a veteran can obtain from a lending institution, and what is the maximum length of time allowed to repay this type of loan?

The amount which may be borrowed with a guaranteed loan. However, there is a limitation on the amount of the VA guaranty to the lender. The guaranty cannot be more than 60 percent of the loan and in no event can it exceed $12,500. GI home loan mortgages may run up to 30 years.

MAKING THINGS is Frank Marten's favorite pastime. "I just make them out of my head," he remarked the 77-year-old Hoskins resident. He is holding some of the items he makes out of craft-sticks. A wagon, horses, Santa and the reindeer are more results of his talent displayed on the table.

Man Says 'Keep Mind Busy'

By Merlin Wright

"Keep your mind busy," replied 77-year-old Frank Marten of Hoskins when asked what his philosophy of life might be. Sitting in the family dining room of his and his wife's modest home, Marten commented about his hand-made creations surrounding him. "It isn't a money-making proposition but it does give you something to do."

Frank and his wife farmed for many years on the "home place" just three miles southeast of Hoskins before retiring to their home in town. The farm is now operated by the Martens' son, Leonard and his wife, who have three children, Kathy, Patricia and Jimmy.

After moving to town the busy couple have had some time to work in the yard, raising a garden and "making things."

Revolvers, wishing wells, card and fruit baskets, necktie holders, hot pad holders and beautiful lamps are just a few of the products created by Marten. Asked for the source of his ideas for things to make, he replied with a twinkle in his eye, "I just make them out of my head."

It all started about six years ago, according to Frank, after he and his wife retired. In his heavy German accent he explained that after seeing the famous team of eight horses and coach used in a TV commercial, he had said to his wife, "I believe I could make those, so the next morning I got to it."

Marten has since made a variety of items from craft-sticks, ordering 14,000 of the sticks last winter. A very unusual lamp made from the sticks is an excellent exhibit of his ingenuity. Other items, such as the Clyde Dale team of six horses, are made out of ordinary sheets of lumber. Although he follows no production schedule, he can make six craft-stick baskets in a day.

Frank's parents came from Germany to settle in America, consequently he can speak both high and low German. "I learned the catechism in German," he recalled. Both he and his wife are active members in the United Church of Christ two miles southwest of Hoskins, attending services regularly.

While chatting about his farm-life, Marten pointed out that he and his two brothers had all celebrated golden wedding anniversaries in 1966. "It is a little unusual for three brothers to all have golden wedding anniversaries in the same year," Mrs. Marten noted.

Some of the carpenter's creations on a larger scale are highway signs he has made for various organizations. He has just completed a sign for the Hoskins Saddle Club which brings the total number he has made to 18.

Much of the Marten handicraft is kept upstairs in their home. Accepting the invitation to see it, we went up the stairs and first looked at a miniature reproduction of the Hoskins Saddle Club which features 28 horses, including saddles, riders and even the bleachers. Marten won a $9 prize with this particular display at the Stanton County Fair in 1965.

Perhaps even more detailed is a reproduction layout of the "Sandbrook Farm," the old home place, which obviously necessitated many hours of careful carving, painting and assembly work. Fixed to a board approximately the size of a regulation card table, the miniature farm contains a house detailed to having a flower box at the kitchen window; farm buildings; picnic table; flower bed; grain bin; fences; corn crib; car in the garage; silos; hog feeder; tractor; and even a small light over the loading chute!

As we conversed about his energetic activities, Frank related some of the satisfaction he gets from fixing toys which he gives to the fire department at Norfolk just before Christmas to "Give to kids that ain't got no Christmas." His warm German accent added additional sparkle to the explanation of his "making things."

Returning downstairs we then went out to the garage where numerous toys in need of repair are awaiting the touch of his talented fingers.

Like all grandparents, the Martens find a special satisfaction in doing things for their three grandchildren. Frank pointed out a set of harness which he had painstakingly disassembled, re-upholstered the leather straps, brushed and polished the metal rings and snaps, for the grandchildren's pony.

Quite a few of the things this industrious retired farmer makes are sold, but, as he said, "It isn't a money-making proposition, but it does give you something to do."

As I started the car and prepared to back out of the drive, the Martens went back to work in the yard and garden. They are "retired" and having a great time working at it!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

First, I would like to thank SWAY and all the merchants involved for the gift and also the thoughts and encouragement that came with it. It's nice to know that the people back home are behind us when we hear so much on the news of protest marches, rioting, looting and burning.

As most of you may know, I'm stationed at Phu Cat AFB. It is about 15 to 20 miles from Qui Nhon which is on the coast. The surrounding country, what I can see of it from the base, reminds me of Colorado. The base is almost completely surrounded by mountains. They aren't as high or as pretty as the Rockies, but are much nicer than all the sand at DaNang.

It's quite hot over here. The last few weeks it has been near 100 degrees almost every day. It does cool off a little bit at night though, so with the aid of a fan, it isn't too bad to sleep.

I am a jet aircraft mechanic and I work on the F-4C Phantom II fighter. I work in a phase dock where every 50 flying hours we bring the planes in and take all the access panels off and thoroughly inspect the plane for broken and loose parts. We also grease them and make such repair as are necessary. It gets kind of interesting once in a while when a new problem arises, but as a whole, it's pretty routine work.

This base is real quiet compared to DaNang where I was stationed when I first arrived in Vietnam. We don't have any rocket attacks here and outside of the big guns around the perimeter of the base going off now and then, it is real quiet.

The barracks and the rest of the buildings are far enough away from the runways that the planes taking off are seldom heard.

Again I'd like to thank you all for the gift and the encouragement.

S/Sgt. Richard Stefken

Dear Editor: I would like to sincerely thank all my friends and merchants in the Wayne area for the SWAY check. It was a wonderful surprise when I received it upon returning to my unit from a 15-day leave. Two friends and I visited France, Italy, Austria, Switzerland and Spain on our trip through southern Europe, spending most of our time in Barcelona, Spain. Your consideration and thought makes me appreciate what an outstanding city that I will call home when I return in July. I am proud and thankful of the people of Wayne, and I hope SWAY will continue their service to servicemen.

Russell K. Dill

Satellite Beach, Fla. Dear Editor: Thanks to SWAY for the $10 check. I shall put it to good use. My family and I have just settled at Patrick AFB, Satellite Beach, Fla. We are really enjoying the area.

We received our biggest thrill last Sunday when we viewed the space shot on the beach. It was very clear and beautiful.

Thanks to SWAY again for the $10.
