

Report Shows City is Free From Major Drug Problem

The City of Wayne is free from any major drug problems, Mayor Kent Hall, has learned. During the month of January the city hired an undercover agent to explore the amount of use and sale of drugs in Wayne, both on the college and high school levels.

In a letter to the members of the Wayne City Council, Mayor Hall said the report stated the city "has as small a problem with drugs as it appears, especially among the under-college age." But no "Mr. Big" or pusher is operating in the area.

The report claims that the drug problem in Wayne is not serious. "I can only speak for the city of Wayne," the Mayor said, "but I am relieved to know that no major drug traffic is coming into Wayne."

The cost to hire the agent was $284.44 but Mayor Hall felt that "this is a small price to pay for the results obtained."

Police Chief Vern Fairchild, county Attorney Don Reed and Mayor Hall agreed in December to hire an agent to check on possible drug traffic.

"I'm sure you can understand why the council was not informed of this project," he said, "secrecy was absolutely necessary for the success and personal safety of this special agent."

The mayor explained that he is required by city code, article 5, section 2-502, to submit in writing any use of city funds that has not been okayed by the city council.

The expenditures of city funds for this investigation was submitted to Dan Sherry, clerk-administrator, for inclusion in the bills for the Feb. 8 meeting.

While in Wayne, the agent uncovered the use of amphetamine pills, marijuana and hashish that resulted in a house raid on Jan. 31, two days after the agent left.

Before leaving Wayne, the agent had one comment. Although the city doesn't have any major drug problem, "you sure do have some beer drinkers here."

Voters Given Until Apr. 28 to Register

Wayne residents who have never before voted, never voted in their present wards, or never voted in Wayne, still have two weeks left to register at the office of Norris Weible, County Clerk. Registration closes Apr. 28.

Though registration opens the day following an election, Weible noted that most voters wait until the last few weeks to register. New voters in Wayne this year will include 125 teens in the 18-19 bracket who have registered since last summer when the new age limit was set by a Supreme

Condrey Trial Opens in District Court Tuesday

Trial will begin in Wayne County District Court Tuesday for Danny Gene Condrey, 26, of Schuyler, who is charged with rape, sodomy, kidnapping and assault to commit rape against a Wayne State College coed.

The case will be heard by Judge George Dittich of Norfolk. Swearing-in of the jury will begin at 9:30 a.m.

No trial date has been set as yet for Gale Greenblatt, 24, of Columbus, a co-defendant in the case who is charged with rape, kidnapping and assault to commit rape.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charges and are free on $5,000 bond.

The alleged rape occurred on Nov. 10, 1971.

Farm Facility Loans Storage Solution

Pointing out that many farmers are finding problems last fall in locating storage facilities for grain, a Wayne County farm program official suggested that use of the farm facility loan program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) can help prevent a repetition of this fall.

Five-year term loans up to $95,000 at a current interest rate of approximately 5 1/2 per cent, are available to farmers producing commodities eligible for support. Application should be made at the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) which maintains the record for the term to which the loan application relates, according to Harry Heinemann, chairman of the Wayne ASCS Committee.

The loan interest rate in the program was recently lowered to 4 1/2 cents per $100 fraction thereof per month, or approximately 5 1/2 per cent annually, a decrease from the previous 6 per cent rate. Lower borrowing cost of the Commodity Credit Corporation made it possible to lower the rate.

"On-farm storage has several advantages for producers. To begin with, it gives them more flexibility at harvest time. They can save field losses by harvesting when the crop is ready. With on-farm storage, they can stretch the marketing period for their crops, using a support loan to help carry them through.

"In years of excess production, they can resell their grain under support loan in on-farm storage and, with proper facilities, maintain the grain in good condition. Producers with ample on-farm storage are not completely at the mercy of such events as transportation strikes, boxcar shortages, depressed markets, and scarcity of commercial storage space," Heinemann said.

Eligible structures under the program include new grain storage structures both of conventional design and "wet storage" types provided they are weather-tight and suitable for use for dry storage. Multi-purpose structures also are eligible for loan.

Eligible drying equipment under the facility loan program includes continuous-flow type dryers, drying systems with wagons or trailers as an integral part.

Wayne Will Host Delinquency Meet

The Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee of the Planning Commission for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice in Regions 11 and 25 will hold their regular monthly meeting in Wayne Thursday evening, the 43 high schools in the eight Northeast Nebraska counties have each been invited to send two representatives to the meeting.

The group will study the national drug report issued recently. Jim O'Dell, probation officer from Norfolk, will be on hand with films for the group to study to determine their value for showing at their own schools.

The Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee was organized about a year ago for the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency. Each county in regions 11 and 25 is entitled to two voting members in the organization.

Thursday's meeting is the first to be hosted by the Wayne members. The meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. at the high school commons.

Accident Suit Filed

A suit for $1,500 and costs, as a result of an auto-motorcycle accident Sept. 3, 1971, north of Wayne on Highway 15, was filed in Wayne County District Court Tuesday by Timothy J. Thor against Roger D. Schwank, Leonard Schwank and Dorothea Schwank.

Henry Lutt Dies in Car, Truck Crash

Henry A. Lutt, 74, of Wayne was killed Thursday night at Norfolk when the car which he was driving collided with a semi-truck at the junction of Highways 24 and 275 at the southeast edge of Norfolk.

Mr. Lutt was southbound on Business Route 275 at 9:05 p.m. and his car was struck in the side by a westbound semi driven by Ernest F. Fandum, 55, of Norfolk. There is a stop sign at the junction for northbound and southbound traffic, according to Dispatcher Richard Poland of the Norfolk State Patrol.

Mr. Lutt was dead on arrival at a Norfolk hospital. The semi truck driver was not injured. Both men were alone in their vehicles.

Investigating Trooper Don Matzika of Norfolk said Mr. Lutt's car was totaled.

The Wayne man, who was living with a brother, Emil, at 325 S. Main, had moved into town after retiring from the farm.

Mrs. Don Reed who also has been on the publicity committee, has resigned from the See CHEST, page 6

Tough Job Made Much Easier

The best way to enjoy a hobby is to make it as much of the hard work as possible—leaving only the enjoyable aspects to toy with.

That's just what Mike Sievers, Wayne High School senior, did in Vocational Arts.

"Mike likes to work with engines, but as any hobby workshop enthusiast knows, the work and contortions-like positions needed to get at certain spots on the motor sometimes take all the joy out of the hobby.

Mike simplified things immensely with some ingenuity and mechanical capabilities.

He built an engine stand that brings the work up to his level. No more stooping down or reaching up, no necessity for getting underneath a car, hence, fewer headaches and less frequent muscle-busters.

Taking even an easier way out, Mike put a crank on the back of the stand so that he can turn the motor over. Insertion of a pin through a rod running through the middle of the crank can lock the motor in any of four desired positions, depending on the area in which he wants to work.

"I got the basic plans for the bottom of the stand from friends in Wakefield," Mike said, adding that "the idea for the block mount-

Up, Up and Away

The mounds of glass collected for the glass drive are dwindling to molehills as several students from Wayne State College, along with the cooperation of the City Street Commissioner Vern Schutz and a city crew, load a 250-foot stretch of glass into city trucks for dumping at the city landfill. According to John Matson, past president of the Environmental Action Committee, the cost of transporting all the glass would be too expensive since the drive lacks a sizable labor force. Presently, Matson along with city councilman Keith Mosley are planning to take the collection of separated glass to Omaha for recycling with the help of responsible citizens.

Mayor Explains City's Financial Setup During a Meeting of Taxpayers Forum

Mayor Kent Hall spoke on taxes, the city's financial setup and the new hospital location during an appearance before the Taxpayers Forum Wednesday night at City Auditorium.

(Mayor Hall's viewpoints on the new hospital site are given in an editorial in this issue of the Herald.)

The mayor told the newly-organized group that Wayne taxpayers were being assessed 195.7 mills, but that around 67 mills was for the operation of the schools and 23.88 mills as the city's share.

"So," he said, "the person paying $500 tax on real estate would still be assessed in the neighborhood of $400 if there was no city mill levy whatsoever."

"Our budget last fiscal year (which ends July 31) was $1,941,930. With the 23.88 mill levy we realized a total of $175,000, the bulk of the remainder needed coming from electricity, sewer and water revenue.

Six councilmen each attend 24 meetings during the year for a total salary of $3,750. "I think the taxpayers are getting a good bargain for their money," the mayor said.

"Our mill levy is one of the highest in the state," Hall added, revealing that the range of city mill levies is between 13 and 25, "but the main reason is that we have to provide services for Wayne State College, yet the college provides not an every 'bite,' but that most decide to build in Norfolk, which has a commercial airline and 'a number of other things going for them.'"

"On the matter of odor from the sanitary sewer, the mayor said that when the lagoon was built it was recommended by the state as the best known."

"Now the state has changed its way of thinking and says now that an acre is needed for each 125 persons, far less than what we have."

"We might not ever have a solution for the odor problem," Hall added, "until we install a primary treatment plant which will cost a quarter-million dollars or more."

Temporary Taxpayers Forum chairman, Wes Pfueger stressed that the group's meetings are open to the public and not by invitation-only as many persons believe.

"We are not a critical group, but an evaluation group," Pfueger reminded those present. He called on persons to report to the school board and city council elections attended the past week by members, Bob Vukoc on the school board and Pfueger on the council.

In the business meeting that ended the three-hour session, Pfueger urged members to contact persons in wards where candidates are unopposed for office to run as a write-in.

Idea Results in Work-Saver

The stand, with four wheels to make it easily movable, has three braces to give it the necessary support for a fully-assembled motor.

The stand not only will accommodate any type block but can be used in repairing transmissions as well.

The "maiden voyage" for the project was made Monday, with a 283-cubic-inch Chevrolet motor used for the big test. The block was then removed from its moorings, the stand was then painted silver and the "second run" conducted Tuesday for the benefit of The Herald photographer.

Mike spent an average of 4 1/2 hours per day for 16 school days to complete the project, plus an estimated 10 hours looking for parts, tubing, pipe and wheels.

He received about 10 hours of assistance from Brian Nelson and Vocational Arts instructor Bill Wilson, most of the help needed for the welding of the supports.

The whole idea was prompted when he blew the motor in his car just before teachers convened. "I and some friends had switched several motors and overhauled one engine."

That's when the mechanical bug really bit Mike—and when the engine stand idea was born.

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sievers of 608 Lincoln plans to work as a body and fender man following graduation this spring, but still plans to "work with motors on the side."

He obviously has the "equipment" for either field, both from the idea standpoint and actual tools.

Two Men Placed On Probation In Drug Case

Jeffrey Modde of Hartington and Blair Thomas Hagman of Omaha were placed on 18-month probation Wednesday in Wayne County District Court by Judge George Dittich after both had pleaded nolo contendere to charges of unlawful sale, delivery or disposition of depressant or stimulant or counterfeit drugs.

In earlier appearances on the January charge, Modde had pleaded nolo contendere while Hagman had made a not guilty plea. Both had waived preliminary hearings and were free on $2,500 bond. The probation lists 17 stipulations.

Hospital Site

It was only one person's opinion, but Mayor Hall brought up some interesting possibilities and viewpoints pertaining to the site of the new hospital to be built north of the Wayne State College campus when he appeared before the Taxpayers Forum Wednesday night in the Women's Club Room of the City Auditorium.

Mayor Hall claimed that supplying the recommended 10-inch water mains to the designated area would cost an estimated $80,000 and installation of sewer lines would result in the neighborhood of a $25,000 expenditure.

"But, the biggest problem will be access to the site. Any route will be costly and possibly not the most effective in every aspect," he said, adding that "anyone who has traveled through the college parking lot during the rush hours knows how congested with vehicle and pedestrian traffic it can be; buying land for an access road is expensive and possibly the best route, a direct link with Highway 55 would necessitate about a half-mile of paving and possibly a $200,000 outlay."

Then, as an alternate site, Mayor Hall produced a map showing an area bordering on Highway 15 with the south line of the golf course as that boundary.

"This area," Hall said, "has private properties taking up 2.1 acres which would have to be purchased at an estimated $200,000. If the State Normal Board, which has deeded eight acres of land for the area now considered, would deed instead 5.9 acres of unused land which it now owns on the east side of those private properties, we would still have an eight-acre area and the price probably would be nearly equivalent to that which would be spent on installation of water mains."

But there would still be a cost for water main installation in that area, right? This had to be a question in everyone's mind.

"Wrong," Mayor Hall countered. "The cost for water mains would be zero. We are sitting directly over a 10-inch water main in that area and the only cost would be tapping in."

"Site No. 2," as Mayor Hall referred to his proposal, "would be near a sanitary sewer lift station, helping to alleviate sewage problems."

"And, consider the access road advantages." "We would be next to a highway where snow removal would be no problem, and no property for access roads would have to be purchased. It would be much more convenient and less complicated to get emergency vehicles in and out of the area."

"Another thing we must consider," the mayor said, "is that the new hospital will be here for a long time, so we should stress also its appearance as it relates to Wayne. The present agreed-upon site would give visitors a look at Wayne's and Wayne State College's back door, while a location along Highway 15 would make the hospital an entry to the 'front door' of Wayne and the college."

"Some people say a change in site is too late," Mayor Hall continued. "No doubt the architects are already working on plans for the area but construction is not likely to begin until spring and what work has been done toward planning probably could be changed without any considerable amount of expense."

Others say that a site change would be violating the people's trust, Hall added. "I don't believe this is true since the proposed site is still in the proximity of the area agreed on by the Hospital Foundation. Should the site be changed to a completely different area of town, then it likely would be violating the trust of those persons who have contributed to a medical center."

Hall urged the Taxpayers Forum to contact members of the Hospital Foundation Board to explore possibilities of a site change.

The Wayne Herald's viewpoint is that Mayor Hall brought up some good, sound and feasible points worthy of further investigation, but it is unfortunate that the views were not available for consideration by the Hospital Foundation Board and the public when plans were in their infancy.

A member of the Hospital Foundation said that the Foundation and representatives of the Wayne Hospital Board had met with the mayor and a delegation earlier in the planning stages and, after all factors had been presented and weighed, it was decided to retain the present site.

The Herald invites comments on the pros and cons of the two sites from members of the Hospital Foundation Board.

They, too, may have some interesting revelations.

Meet the Candidates Ley Extols Cooperation Evident in District 17

Editor's note: Mrs. Dorothy Ley, whose term on the District 17 Board of Education expires this year, is running for re-election in the May 9 election. At the Herald's invitation, she prepared the following comments for publication:

"In running for re-election to the Board of Education, I pledge to continue to carry out the commitment to quality education that the people of the Wayne-Carroll community have unselfishly shown time and time again over the past several years.

"While many neighboring districts have been torn by dissension and short-sighted decisions, these years in District 17 have witnessed an inspiring partnership among a committed citizenry, a conscientious board of education, superior administration, and dedicated faculty, all with their eyes and goals fixed firmly on the well-being of children.

"By their support of good education, the citizens of District 17 have indeed demonstrated their belief in the worth of each child and their desire to create a school where each child may grow in wisdom and stature to a self-respecting adulthood. In expecting youth to reach for the highest values in life, the Wayne-Carroll people have first demonstrated a belief in those values themselves.

Double Trouble Hits

Misfortunes happen in bunches at the Ralph Etter home on Route 2.

A nine-month-old Thomas suffered a broken leg in a March 15 accident and still has a cast on the broken limb while recuperating at home.

Sunday, John David, 4, became the second casualty when he was hit in the eye by a tape-covered air gun while playing with a neighbor boy.

Ralph Etter said that it was not believed there was any permanent damage to the eye, but nothing could be assured until bandages were removed, probably over the week end.

Doctors at St. Joseph Hospital in Sioux City, Ia., had stopped the bleeding, she said.

Fourteen were present.

Mrs. Harvey Larsen presented the lesson, "Exalted Notions."

Wayne Hi Joining New Loop

Wayne High School is joining a new conference that will go into effect in the 1973-74 school schedule.

"As yet there isn't a name for the conference," said Athletic Director Harold Maciejewski, "but there are six schools forming one conference at the present time."

Maciejewski said that Madison, Wayne, Stanton, Wisner-Pilger, Wakefield and Emerson-Hubbard high schools comprise the new league.

In the Eastern Division of the Husker Conference will become a separate conference known as the Northeast-Nebraska Conference while the Western Division might become the Cornhusker Conference with the addition of North Bend and Hooper-Logan View replacing Wisner-Pilger and Wakefield, which dropped out.

Wayne is seeking a new league.

"We won't have the final schedule go into effect," he said, "until the contracts with the other schools in the Husker Conference run out."

The Husker Conference, which is composed of eight Eastern and Western Division teams might disband, according to Maciejewski.

"I'm not sure what will become of the present Husker Conference but there is a possibility that it may be dissolved."

Presently it looks like the teams

Former Miss America Bowls to Keep Fit

Every girl can't be a "Miss America," but they can use the same formula to stay slim and trim.

Judi Ford, a green-eyed blonde beauty who earned the Miss America crown in 1969, bowls for fitness and for fun.

"I started bowling when I was nine with kids in the neighborhood," says 22-year-old Judi, "so it's really a habit with me."

Judi credits her bowling exercise with developing the coordination that enabled her to become a skilled gymnast and a trampolinist.

Bowling, however, is Judi's first love.

"I enjoy bowling whenever I can because it allows me to have fun while exercising," she says. Recently married, Judi finds it easy to merge her sports activities with family life.

"Bowling is the ideal family sport," says Judi, "one that can be enjoyed by young and old alike and at the same time, help to keep us fit."

Judi currently is filling a dual role in advocating exercise for fun and health. One assignment is

In addition to demonstrating the exercise advantages of the sport itself Judi uses her bowling ball in a program of exercises designed to emphasize sport recreation and muscle toning.

Judi's travels often take her a long way from the University of Illinois, where she is a senior majoring in physical education.

"I enjoy telling people about bowling," she says. "Anyone can participate in this sport. In addition to having a good time, they are getting good exercise, improving their circulation, and helping to get rid of tensions."

Blue Devils Bounce Bulldogs Behind Pfeiffer's Two-Hitter

The Wayne Blue Devils pushed their season record to 3-Thursday behind the two-hit pitching of Roger Saul to bury the Hancock Bulldogs, 9-2 at Bancroft.

Saul, whose record stands at 2-0, pitched the entire seven innings, striking out seven and walking two. At the plate Saul was two for four.

But defense was only half the game as the Wayne nine offensive machine, led by Second Baseman Terry Pfeiffer with two home runs, opened with a 3-0 first inning lead.

Pfeiffer and Third Baseman Randy Nelson started the scoring drive with two walks followed by a single by Bill Schwartz to score the first run. Center Fielder Randy Nelson knocked in two more runs when he singled.

On the top of the fifth inning Pfeiffer connected for the first of two homers to make the score 4-0.

Bancroft threatened in the last of the fifth as Third Baseman Tim Hornkamp reached base on an error, and scored on a round trip blast by Right Fielder Bob Lutken to make the score 4-2.

Wayne bounced back with three runs in the top of the sixth with Right Fielder Don Hansengetting on via a walk, Charles Roland, Shortstop, singled setting up Pfeiffer's second home run, collecting three of his six RBIs.

Wayne closed the scoring drive in the seventh with two more runs as substitute Center Fielder

Earle Overin walked and Bob Nelson, leftfield, made it to the bag on an error.

A Fielder's choice put substitute Right Fielder Ron Jenke on base as Roland walked. Pfeiffer then connected for a sharp single to score the two runs.

Next week the Blue Devils will face two stiff challenges as they travel to Wakefield for a 3 p.m. game Monday and battle Dodge, an annual powerhouse, at home in a 3 p.m. game Wednesday.

Gun Club Is Building New Rifle Range at Fairgrounds

The members of the Logan Valley Gun Club don't like to waste time. In fact, they are aiming to build two gun ranges.

The newly-organized club has requested permission to set up an indoor range at the National Guard Armory, a range that will be restricted to 22-caliber rifles.

Stacy Swinney, vice-president of the club, said that the goal of the group is to organize an active and competent program of instruction for youths and adults.

At the Wayne County Fairgrounds, the group is building its outdoor trapshoot that is scheduled to be completed sometime in May.

The club is in the process of becoming affiliated with the National Rifle Association. Members have to pass tests conducted by the NRA to become qualified instructors.

The Logan Valley Gun Club, which has grown to 40 members since organizing in March, plans to have a classroom gun safety course, firing sessions and instructions in first aid.

Memberships are open to the public and applications can be obtained from any of the executive officers—President Bill Wilson, Swinney, Treasurer Marvin Bransick and Secretary Mrs. Richard DeSaver.

Dr. Richard DeSaver is the field captain, Alan Van Buskirk of Dixon, the assistant field captain, and Cliff Plinkelman, Howard Kimball of Allen and Lloyd Russell, board of director members.

Fees are $5 for single junior membership, $10 for adult single and $15 for family. There is also a two-year membership plan at a reduced cost.

WSC Honors Athletes of Year

Pat Hughes of Battle Creek and Ann Fulkerson of Council Bluffs, Ia., have won the titles of Intramural Athletes of the Year at Wayne State College.

Both competed in numerous intramural sports—Hughes in 15, Miss Fulkerson in 17. Hughes played with Tau Kappa Epsilon teams that won six championships and other TKE teams that finished high in standings.

Miss Fulkerson, competing with the Phi Hall III Spikers team, won individual championships in badminton singles and doubles, the punt-pass-kick contest, and padelball, plus high finishes in two swimming events.

Intramural Director Ernie Teach also announced that Gary Frisch of Atkinson, and Shirley Schinz of Danbury, Ia., were chosen for the title of Intramural Representative. Annually the Intramural Council, which governs Wayne's busy program, chooses the two who have done most to promote intramural sports in their organizations.

Teach said more than 60 percent of Wayne students participated in at least one of the two dozen individual or team sports. As a result, he said, Wayne ranks among the top few college intramural programs in the country.

Proper Summer Storage Essential To Keeping Snowmobile in Top Shape

Last winter your snowmobile gave you faithful and dependable service. Ensure that service is retained with proper storage during summer.

Many snowmobile dealers offer a storage plan that includes storage preparation plus a pre-season checkup for next year.

Whether you choose to prepare the snowmobile yourself, or have your dealer do the job, here are some guidelines.

Completely drain the fuel system. This will prevent gum varnish formation and eliminate fire hazards.

Oil the cylinders with oil and apply rust preventative over pulley surfaces. Remove drive belt.

Grease the suspension thoroughly.

Top-up and recharge the battery. Store in a cool, dry place. Periodically recharge.

Raise the track off the ground.

If you must store your vehicle outdoors, make sure it is protected with a water-resistant cover which will keep rain and dirt from marring the finish.

It is preferable to store the vehicle indoors and many dealers can allocate space at reasonable rates.

Workman Paces Wayne Junior High to Win

Wayne's junior high team played nip and tuck with Hartington Central Catholic before Wayne emerged out a win in a triangular meet at WSC track.

The junior high team, led by two-time winner Rich Workman, scored 91 points to Hartington's 88; and Laurel's 28.

Workman, who set a school pole vault record with a vault of 9-1, broke the old school record of 8-7 set by Lonnie Bilfitt in 1968.

The results: 60-yard low hurdles—Won by Paul Mallette (W); second (le) Tim Laise (HCC) and Jeff Follers (C); third, Bob Noecker (HCC); fifth, Mike Weisler (W). Time—39.7.

Boat Registrations Could Hit 30,000 Mark for '72

LINCOLN—Nebraska already has registered more than 20,000 boats for 1972, and the total for the year should approach 30,000, reports Dudley Osborn, the Game and Parks Commission's boating director.

"Past experience tells me that a few of these craft will be involved in traffic accidents this year, and their skippers or members of their families will not be with us in 1973," he said.

Osborn was referring to the fact that Nebraska has averaged about six boating fatalities each year since boating records were started in 1960. From 1960 through 1971, 71 deaths and 95 injuries occurred in the 216 accidents reported to the Game and Parks Commission.

While these are grim statistics, they show that Nebraskans are slowly learning boating safety. Boat registrations have doubled since 1960, when there were 14,000 craft licensed in Nebraska. Although, the trend has been toward fewer accidents and injuries each year, and the number of fatalities has remained fairly constant.

"Even these comparatively few accidents could be avoided in most cases," according to Osborn. "Past experience shows that most of these unfortunate incidents stem either directly or indirectly from the violation of a boating law, failure to follow a simple safety rule, or from lack of common sense," he noted.

The need for awareness of these factors will be stressed during National Safe Boating Week from July 2-8.

Nebraska's boating laws are summarized in the 1972 Boating Guide, along with safety rules and nautical rules of the road. A copy is sent to each boater with his new boat registration, and additional copies are available from Game and Parks Commission offices, conservation officers, and permit vendors across the state.

Incumbent Eddie Says: Curb Taxes; Fix Roads

Editor's Note: Kenneth Eddie of Carroll is running unopposed for county commissioner in the second district. At The Herald's request he submitted the following comments for publication:

"I am opposed to any higher taxes, but would like to see Wayne County roads put in better condition each year. Good roads are not a luxury today; they are a must.

"With all the livestock trucks, feed trucks, milk trucks, school buses, mail carriers and a big percentage of farm people working on the farm, there is an increased demand for better roads. I believe we can have better roads without too much of an increase in taxes as far as the road building expenses are concerned.

"But the taxpayer is asked not to blame the commissioners entirely for tax increases. Watch your education end of the tax which we have no control over."

Roberts was one of the 22 directors selected to attend the series of conferences, all of which were aimed at improving the country's posture in providing relief in the event of any kind of natural disaster.

While the Office of Civil Defense nationally still has a mission of preparing for protection against a nuclear disaster, the trend in all areas of the country is now to increase readiness in the event of natural disasters.

The April 10-12 meeting was attended by representatives of the Office of Emergency Preparedness in Kansas City, a group from the Office of Civil Defense Headquarters in Denver, plus Nebraska CD staff members. Preparations of plans and check lists to insure complete and consistent actions in such typical Nebraska hazards as tornadoes, blizzards and floods were emphasized during the seminar.

Two Attend Drug Workshop in Norfolk

Wayne Middle School Principal Loren Park and sixth grade teacher Mrs. Pauline Lutt, representing the Wayne Public School system, attended a drug education workshop in Norfolk Thursday and Friday. The program was sponsored and conducted by the State Department of Education.

Purpose of the workshop was to focus on information in pharmacology and physiology of drugs and drug use, psychological and sociological aspects of drug use and legal aspects of drug use. A portion of the workshop dealt with implementation of this information into classroom curriculum.

Workshops of this type are set up to help schools comply with Comprehensive Health Education Bill 1951 passed by the last legislature. The bill states that "provisions shall be made by the proper local school authorities for instructing pupils in all schools in a comprehensive health education program which shall include instruction as to the physiological, psychological and sociological aspects of drug use, misuse and abuse."

Jazz to Rodeo on Educational TV

Midwesterners tuning in Nebraska ETV Network stations this week (Apr. 16-22) will discover a wide variety of programs ranging from an innovative jazz concert to an exciting collegiate rodeo.

A bright new face in the entertainment world—jazzman Chuck Mangione—will be featured in a concert Monday at 7 p.m. on the "PBS Special of the Week," Mangione, who has performed throughout the country, will conduct the Rochester Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, lead his own quartet and performed on the flugelhorn, piano and electric organ.

Midwesterners will be transported from the calm of the concert hall to the hustle of a rodeo—without leaving their favorite arm chairs. On Wednesday at 9 p.m., the Nebraska ETV Network will cover the finals of the 1972 University of Nebraska Intercollegiate Rodeo.

The rodeo, held annually at the State Fair Grounds Coliseum, attracts competitors from colleges throughout the Great Plains.

Other programs of particular interest to midwest outdoorsmen are the popular "Back Yard Farmer" series. On Monday at 9 p.m., University of Nebraska extension specialists will answer phone-in questions on lawn, houseplant and garden care. They'll follow on Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. with answers to mail-in questions.

Public television viewers will take an arm chair trip through time to the late 18th century Thursday at 7:30 p.m. as the "NET Playhouse Biography" presents "The Rise of Louis XV." Jean Marie Pette stars in Roberto Rossellini's film of the colorful ruler who dominated Europe during his lifetime.

Modern France will be the setting of an updated Greek myth on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. "The Advocates" will debate an issue of current controversy in leading government circles. Their topic is "Should the press be prohibited from publishing classified material?"

Rural communities in Nebraska seeking physicians attend the program and are given the opportunity to present exhibits on their community, and to discuss their physician needs with medical students and members of the Rural Medical Service Committee of the NMA.

Dr. Robert B. Bentback, Wayne, chairman of the committee, said that 45 communities participated in the 1971 program. Medical students from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and the Creighton University School of Medicine participate in the program.

The program will feature an address by an authority on family practice, a community orientation session, and an exhibiting-conference session in which representatives of communities can talk with medical students. Comments received from both students and community representatives who participated in the 1971 program were most cordial, Dr. Bentback said. "We feel the exchange of information such as this can only enhance the combined effort to attract more physicians to a Nebraska practice."

CAA Planning Council To Meet on Tuesday

A meeting of the Wayne County Planning Council will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The Planning Council's purpose is to involve area persons with the planning of Community Action Agency programs in the county. Pat Dahl, outreach worker, said the group was formed to provide an opportunity for all residents of the area to present their ideas and express needs that the CAA can include in long-range planning for the five-county area served by Goldenrod Hills.

The initial meeting was held Apr. 5 at the Chamber office, with a number of public officials, groups and low-income persons present.
